9 Then Eliphaz, the Temanite, and Bildad, the Shuhite, and Zophar, the Naamathite, went and did as the LORD had told them; and the LORD accepted the plea of Job.

10 Then the LORD turned the fortune of Job when he interceded for 11 his friends; and the LORD doubled all Job's possessions. And all his brothers and all his sisters and all his friends came to him as of old, and they did eat food with him in his house; and they consoled him and comforted him for all the misfortune that the LORD had brought upon him. And they gave him each a piece of gold and each a golden ring.

12 So the LORD blessed the end of Job more than his beginning; for 13 he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses. And he had seven sons
14 and three daughters. He named the first Jemimah, the second Kezia, 15 and the third Keren-happuch. There were not found women as fair as the daughters of Job in all the land. And their father gave them a heritage among their brothers.

16 Thereafter Job lived one hundred and forty years; and he saw his sons and his sons' sons, four generations. So Job died, old and sated with age.

THE PSALMS

BOOK I, PSS. 1-41

THE PROSPERITY OF THE PIOUS

- 1 How happy is the man who has not walked in the counsel of the wicked,
Nor stood in the way of sinners,
Nor sat in the seat of scoffers!
- 2 But his delight is in the law of the LORD,
And in his law does he study day and night.
- 3 For he is like a tree planted by streams of water,
That yields its fruit in its season,
And its leaf does not wither;
And whatsoever he does he brings to success.
- 4 The wicked are not so;
But are like the chaff which the wind drives away.
- 5 Therefore the wicked will not stand in the judgment,
Nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.
- 6 For the LORD knows the way of the righteous;
But the way of the wicked will perish.

A WARNING TO THE NATIONS

- 2 Wherefore do the nations rage,
And the peoples plot in vain?
- 2 The kings of the earth stand up,
And the princes also take counsel,
Against the LORD and against his anointed:
- 3 "Let us burst their bonds asunder,
And cast their cords from us."
- 4 He that sits in the heavens laughs;
The Lord makes sport of them.
- 5 Then will he speak to them in his wrath,
And terrify them in his fury:
- 6 "I, indeed, have anointed my king,
On Zion, my holy hill."

- 7 Let me tell of the decree of the LORD:
He said to me, "You are my son;
Today have I begotten you.
- 8 Ask of me, and I will make the nations your inheritance,
And the ends of the earth your possession.
- 9 You shall break them with an iron rod;
You shall crush them like a potter's vessel."
- 10 Be cautious, therefore, O kings;
Take warning, O rulers of the earth.
- 11 Serve the LORD with fear,
12 Kiss his feet with trembling,
Lest he be angry and you perish in the way;
For his wrath is soon kindled.
How happy are they who take refuge in him!

AN ASSURANCE OF DIVINE DELIVERANCE

[A PSALM OF DAVID WHEN HE FLED FROM BEFORE HIS SON ABSALOM]

- 3 How many are my foes, O LORD!
Many are rising up against me.
- 2 Many are saying concerning me:
"There is no help for him in God." Selah
- 3 But thou, O LORD, art a shield about me,
My glory, and the one who raises my head.
- 4 I cry aloud to the LORD,
And he answers me from his holy hill. Selah
- 5 I lay me down and sleep;
I awake, for the LORD sustains me.
- 6 I am not afraid of the myriads of people
That have set upon me round about.
- 7 Arise, O LORD; deliver me, O my God.
Verily, thou wilt smite all my foes upon the cheek;
Thou wilt break the teeth of the wicked.
- 8 Salvation belongs unto the LORD.
Upon thy people be thy blessing! Selah

A HYMN OF FAITH

[TO THE DIRECTOR: WITH HARPS. A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 4 When I call, answer me, O God of my righteousness,
Thou who didst give me room when I was in distress;

Be gracious unto me and hear my prayer.

- 2 O sons of men, how long is my glory to be a shame,
While you love a thing of nought
And seek a fter lies?

Selah

- 3 But know that the LORD has set apart the godly for himself.
The LORD will hear when I cry unto him.

- 4 Tremble, and do not sin.
Commune with your own hearts upon your bed and be still.

Selah

- 5 Offer righteous sacrifices,
And trust in the LORD.

- 6 There are many who say, "Oh, that we might see some good!"
Lift up upon us the light of thy countenance, O LORD.

- 7 Thou hast put joy in my heart,
More than in the time that their corn and new wine increase.

- 8 In peace will I both lay me down and sleep;
For thou alone, O LORD, makest me dwell in safety.

A PRAYER FOR DIVINE AID

[TO THE DIRECTOR: FOR THE FLUTES. A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 5 Give ear to my words, O LORD;
Attend to my sighing.

- 2 Give heed to the sound of my cry,
My king and my God;
For unto thee do I pray, O LORD.

- 3 In the morning thou wilt hear my voice;
In the morning I will lay it before thee and wait.

- 4 For thou art not a God that takes pleasure in wickedness;
Nor may evil dwell with thee.

- 5 The boastful may not stand before thine eyes.
Thou hatest all that do wrong.

- 6 Thou destroyest those who tell lies.
The LORD abhors the bloody and deceitful man.

- 7 But I shall enter thy house by thine abundant grace;
I shall bow down toward thy holy temple in awe of thee.

- 8 O LORD, lead me in thy righteousness, because of my enemies;
Make thy way straight before me.

- 9 For there is nothing trustworthy in their mouth, their heart is treacherous.
Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongue they flatter.
- 10 Condemn them, O God, that they may fall by their own devices;
Because of their many transgressions cast them out because they have rebelled against thee;
- 11 That all who take refuge in thee may rejoice and shout for joy forever;
And do thou protect them, that those who love thy name may exult in thee.
- 12 For thou dost bless the righteous, O LORD;
Thou dost surround him with favor as with a shield.

A PRAYER FOR RELIEF FROM FOES

[TO THE DIRECTOR: WITH STRINGED INSTRUMENTS; ACCORDING TO THE sheminith. A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 6 Chide me not in thine anger, O LORD,
Neither chasten me in thy wrath.
- 2 Pity me, O LORD, for I am faint;
Heal me, O LORD, for my bones are shaken,
- 3 And my being is sore shaken.
And thou, O LORD—how long?
- 4 Return, O LORD, and deliver me,
Save me because of thy grace;
- 5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee.
In Sheol who praises thee?
- 6 I am worn out with my moaning;
Every night I flood my bed with tears.
With my weeping I water my couch.
- 7 My eye is dimmed because of trouble,
It grows old because of all my foes.
- 8 Depart from me, all evildoers;
For the LORD has heard the sound of my weeping.
- 9 The LORD has heard my entreaty;
The LORD receives my prayer.
- 10 All my foes shall be ashamed and sore terrified;
They shall turn back; they shall be suddenly ashamed.

A PLEA FOR JUSTICE

[A dithyramb OF DAVID WHICH HE SANG TO THE LORD CONCERNING CUSH, A BENJAMINITE]

- 7 I have taken shelter in thee, O LORD, my God.
Save me from all who pursue me, and deliver me;
2 Lest like a lion they tear me,
Dragging me away, with none to rescue.
3 O LORD, my God, if I have done this,
If there is guilt on my hands,
4 If I have requited evil to my friend,
Or plundered him that was my enemy without cause,
5 May the enemy pursue me,
And overtake, and trample my life to the earth;
May he lay my honor in the dust. Selah
- 6 Arise, O LORD, in thine anger,
Lift up thyself in wrath against my foes,
And rise up for me to the judgment thou hast appointed.
7 And surround thyself with the assembly of the peoples,
And return thou thereon to the heights.
8 The LORD judges the peoples: do me justice, O LORD,
In accordance with my righteousness and my integrity.
- 9 May the evil of the wicked come to an end, and establish thou the righteous.
He who tries heart and mind is the righteous God.
10 My shield is upon God,
Who saves the upright in heart.
11 God is a just judge,
And a God who is angry daily.
- 12 Certainly he will again whet his sword;
He has bent his bow and aimed it.
13 And he has got ready his deadly weapons;
His arrows he turns into fiery shafts.
14 Behold, he conceives wrong,
And he is pregnant with mischief and brings forth lies.
15 He digs and excavates a pit;
But falls into the hole that he makes.
16 His mischief recoils upon his own head;
And upon his own pate his villainy descends.

- 17 I will praise the LORD for his righteousness,
And sing praises to the name of the LORD most high.

THE DIGNITY OF MAN AND THE GLORY OF GOD

[TO THE DIRECTOR: UPON gittith. A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 8 O LORD, our Lord,
How glorious is thy name in all the earth!
I will sing thy praise to the heavens,
2 From the mouths of babes and infants.
Thou hast established strength because of thine enemies,
To still the enemy and the revengeful.
- 3 When I see thy heavens, the work of thy fingers,
The moon and the stars which thou hast formed;
4 What is man that thou shouldst think of him,
And the son of man that thou shouldst care for him?
- 5 Yet thou hast made him but little lower than God,
And dost crown him with glory and honor!
6 Thou makest him ruler over the works of thy hands,
Thou hast put all things under his feet;
- 7 All sheep and oxen,
And also the beasts of the field;
8 The birds of the heavens and the fish of the sea,
That traverse the paths of the seas.
- 9 O LORD, our Lord,
How glorious is thy name in all the earth.

THE WICKED SHALL BE OVERTHROWN

[TO THE DIRECTOR: UPON muth-labben. A PSALM OF DAVID]

Ⲛ

- 9 I will praise the LORD with all my heart;
I will tell of all thy wonders.
2 I will rejoice and exult in thee,
I will praise thy name, O most High;

ⲛ

- 3 Because my enemies turn back,
They stumble and perish from before thee.

4 For thou hast maintained my just cause;
Thou hast sat upon the throne giving righteous judgment.

י

5 Thou hast rebuked the nations, thou hast destroyed the wicked,
Their name thou hast blotted out forever and ever.
6 The foe—they are destroyed;
Perpetual ruins are the cities which thou hast rooted up;
Their memory has perished.

י

7 Behold the LORD abides forever.
He has established his throne for judgment.
8 And he judges the world in righteousness;
He passes sentence on peoples with equity.

י

9 And the LORD is a stronghold for the oppressed,
A stronghold in times of need.
10 And those who know thy name trust in thee,
For thou hast not forsaken those who seek thee, O LORD.

י

11 Chant praises to the LORD who dwells in Zion;
Make known among the peoples his deeds!
12 For as an avenger of blood he has remembered them;
He has not forgotten the cry of the poor.

י

13 Have pity on me, O LORD; see my trouble from those who hate me,
O thou my deliverer from the gates of death,
14 That I may recount all thy praises,
That in the gates of the daughter of Zion I may rejoice in thy deliverance.

י

15 The nations are plunged into the pit which they have made;
Their foot is caught in the net which they have hidden.
16 The LORD is made known; he has executed judgment.
In his own handiwork the wicked is snared. Higgaion. Selah

17 The wicked will return to Shcol,
All the nations that forget God.

18 For the poor shall not be always forgotten,
Nor shall the hope of the meek perish forever.
19 Arise, O LORD, let not man prevail;
Let the nations be judged in thy presence.
20 Put them in terror, O LORD,
That the nations may know they are but men. Selah

10 Why dost thou stand afar off, O LORD,
And hide thyself in times of need?
2 The wicked in his arrogance consumes the poor.
May they be caught in the schemes which thy have devised!

3 The wicked sings the praises of his own desires,
And the robber curses, and rejects God;
4 The wicked in the pride of his countenance does not seek him;
All his thought is, "There is no God."
5 His ways prosper at all times.
Thy judgments are on high, far from him.
As for all his foes,—he blows at them.
6 He says to himself, "I shall not be moved;
From one generation to another my steps will not be in distress."
7 His mouth is filled with curses and deceit and violence.
Mischievous and wrong are under his tongue.
8 He sits in the lurking-places of villages;
In hiding-places he murders the innocent.
His eyes lie in wait for the unfortunate.
9 He lurks in secret like a lion in a thicket;
He lurks that he may rob the weak;
He robs the weak when he draws him into his net.
10 And he bends over, he crouches;
And the unfortunate fall by his mighty men.
11 He says to himself, "God has forgotten;
He has hidden his face; he will never see it."

P

- 12 Arise, O LORD; O God, lift up thy hand.
Do not forget the poor.
- 13 Why has the wicked despised God,
And said to himself, "Thou wilt not search out?"

ר

- 14 Thou seest; for thou dost look upon trouble and vexation,
To give them into thy power.
The unfortunate leaves himself to thee;
Thou hast been a helper to the fatherless.

ש

- 15 Break thou the arm of the wicked and the evildoer,
Let his wickedness be sought and not found.
- 16 The LORD is king forever and ever.
The nations will perish from his land.

ת

- 17 Thou hast heard the desire of the meek, O LORD,
Thou dost set thy mind, thou dost pay close heed,
So as to do justice to the fatherless and the oppressed,
That man who is of the earth may never again strike terror.

THE COMING JUDGMENT

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF DAVID]

- 11 I have taken refuge in the LORD;
How then do you say to me:
"Flee like a bird to your mountain?"
- 2 For, lo, the wicked bend the bow,
They fit their arrow to the string,
To shoot in the dark at the upright in heart.
- 3 When the foundations are torn down,
What has the righteous done?
- 4 The LORD is in his holy temple,
The LORD, whose throne is in the heavens;
His eyes behold, his eyelids test the sons of men.
- 5 The LORD tests the righteous and the wicked,
And he hates the lover of violence.

- 6 On the wicked he will rain coals of fire;
Brimstone and scorching wind will be the portion of their cup.
- 7 For the LORD is righteous; he loves righteousness,
The upright will behold his face.

A PLEA FROM THOSE IN DISTRESS

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: ACCORDING TO THE sheminith. A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 12 Save, LORD, for the godly cease to be,
For the faithful disappear from the sons of men.
- 2 They speak lies each with his neighbor;
With false lip and double heart they speak.
- 3 May the LORD cut off all false lips,
And the tongue that makes great boasts,
- 4 Those who say, "We will make ourselves great by our tongue,
Our lips are with us; who is our master?"
- 5 "Because the poor are exploited, because the needy groan,
I will now arise," says the LORD;
"I will place him in the safety for which he longs."
- 6 The words of the LORD are pure words,
Silver refined in a furnace on the ground,
Purified sevenfold.
- 7 Do thou protect us, O LORD;
Guard us from this generation forever.
- 8 The wicked parade to and fro,
When baseness is exalted among the sons of men.

A PRAYER IN FAITH

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 13 How long, O LORD—wilt thou continually forget me?
How long wilt thou hide thy face from me?
- 2 How long am I to lay cares upon myself,
And trouble in my heart daily?
How long shall my enemy triumph over me?
- 3 Look upon me and answer me, O LORD, my God.
Lighten my eyes, lest I sleep in death;
- 4 Lest my enemy say, "I have overcome him,"
And my foes exult because I am shaken.

- 5 But I have trusted in thy grace;
My heart shall rejoice in thy deliverance.
I will sing unto the LORD,
Because he has treated me kindly.

THE VINDICATION OF GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF DAVID]

- 14 The fool said in his heart, "There is no God."
They acted basely, they did abominable things.
There was none that did good.
- 2 The LORD looked forth from the heavens upon the children of men,
To see if there were any that acted wisely,
That sought after God.
- 3 They had all gone astray and all of them had done wrong.
There was none that did good,
No, not even one.
- 4 Do they know nothing, all the evildoers,
Who eat up my people as they eat bread,
But do not call upon the LORD?
- 5 Then were they in great terror;
For God was with the righteous generation.
- 6 You would put to shame the plans of the poor;
But the LORD is his refuge.
- 7 Oh, that the deliverance of Israel would come from Zion!
When the LORD restores the fortune of his people,
Jacob shall exult; Israel shall rejoice.

THE FRIEND OF GOD

[A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 15 Who may sojourn in thy pavilion, O LORD?
Who may dwell upon thy holy hill?
- 2 "He who walks blamelessly, and does right,
And speaks truth from his heart.
- 3 He is not hasty with his tongue.
He does no wrong to his fellows;
Nor does he take blame upon himself because of his neighbor.

- 4 In his eyes a bad man is despised;
But he honors those who fear the LORD.
He swears to his own hurt and does not retract.
- 5 He does not put out his money on interest,
Nor take a bribe against the innocent.
He who does such things will never be moved.”

FAITH AND HOPE

[A miktam OF DAVID]

- 16 Preserve me, O God, for I have sought refuge in thee.
2 I have said to the LORD, “O Lord, thou art my welfare;
There is none besides thee.”
- 3 As to the gods who are in the land
And the lofty ones, I have no pleasure in them.
4 Their images are many; others praise them;
But I will not pour out their libations of blood,
Nor will I take their names upon my lips.
5 The LORD is my portion, my share, and my cup.
Thou holdest my lot.
- 6 The lines have fallen for me in pleasant places;
My inheritance indeed pleases me.
7 I will bless the LORD who has counseled me;
In the night also my thoughts instruct me.
8 I have kept the LORD continually before me.
For, with him at my right, I shall not be moved.
- 9 Therefore my heart is glad and my spirit rejoices;
My flesh also dwells in security;
10 For thou wilt not abandon me to Sheol;
Thou wilt not let thy godly one see the pit.
11 Thou wilt show me the path of life.
Fulness of joy is in thy presence;
Pleasures are always in thy right hand.

A PRAYER FOR VINDICATION

[A PRAYER OF DAVID]

- 17 Hear the right, O LORD;
Give heed to my cry;
Listen to my prayer,
Which is not from deceitful lips.

- 2 From before thee may my judgment proceed;
May thine eyes see the right.
- 3 Thou hast tried my heart; thou hast visited me by night;
Thou hast purified me by fire;
Thou dost not find iniquity in me;
My mouth does not transgress.
- 4 According to the deeds of man, through the word from thy lips,
I have kept the prescribed ways.
- 5 My steps have held fast to thy tracks;
My footsteps have not faltered.
- 6 I call upon thee, for thou wilt answer me, O God.
Incline thine ear to me; hear my speech.
- 7 Show the wonders of thy mercy, O savior of those who seek shelter
From their adversaries at thy right hand.
- 8 Protect me like the pupil, the daughter of the eye;
Hide me in the shadow of thy wings,
9 From the wicked who despoil me,
My deadly enemies who surround me.
- 10 They have closed their hearts;
With their mouths they speak in pride.
- 11 I see them: they have now encompassed me;
They set their eyes to cast me to the ground.
- 12 He is like a lion that is eager for prey,
And a young lion that lurks in ambush.
- 13 Arise, O LORD, confront him, bring him low.
Deliver me from the wicked by thy sword,
14 From men by thy hand, O LORD,
From men whose portion in life is fatness,
15 And their belly is filled with thy treasures;
Their children are satiated;
And they leave the rest for their babes.
- 16 But I in justification shall behold thy face;
I shall be satisfied when thy form awakes.

A VICTOR'S HYMN OF PRAISE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF THE SERVANT OF THE LORD, DAVID, WHO ADDRESSED THE WORDS OF THIS SONG TO THE LORD, IN THE DAY THAT THE LORD RESCUED HIM FROM THE HAND OF ALL HIS FOES AND FROM THE HAND OF SAUL. AND HE SAID:]

- 1 I love thee, O LORD, my strength!
2 The LORD is my rock, my fortress, and my deliverer;
My God, my rock in whom I take refuge;
My shield, and the horn of my deliverance, my tower.
3 I call upon the LORD, the praiseworthy one,
That from my enemies I may be delivered.
- 4 Breakers of death encompassed me,
Torrents of ruin terrified me.
5 The cords of Sheol surrounded me,
Snares of death confronted me.
- 6 In my distress I called upon the LORD,
And unto my God I cried for help;
7 He heard my voice from his palace,
And my cry unto him reached his ears.
- 8 Then the earth quaked and rocked,
And the foundations of the hills trembled
And rocked, when he was angry.
9 Smoke rose from his nostrils,
And fire from his mouth devoured;
Coals were kindled by it.
- 10 He bowed the heavens and came down,
Thick darkness was under his feet.
11 He rode upon a cherub and flew,
And he sped on with the wings of the wind.
- 12 He made darkness his covert;
Round about him as his pavilion was the darkness of the heavens,
Thick clouds without brightness;
13 Before him passed his thick clouds,
Hailstones, and coals of fire,
14 And the LORD thundered from the heavens,
The Most High uttered his voice;
Hailstones and coals of fire.

- 15 He let fly his arrows and scattered them;
Lightnings he hurled and routed them.
- 16 And the bed of the sea was seen,
And the foundations of the world were bared
At thy rebuke, O LORD,
At the fierce breath of thy wrath.
- 17 He sent from on high, he took me,
He drew me out of many waters;
- 18 He delivered me from my strong enemy,
From my foes; for they were too strong for me.
- 19 They confronted me in the day of my calamity,
But the LORD became my stay.
- 20 He led me forth into a broad place;
He set me free, for he was pleased with me.
- 21 The LORD rewarded me in accordance with my righteousness;
He requited me in accordance with the cleanness of my hands.
- 22 For I have kept the ways of the LORD,
And have not transgressed against my God.
- 23 For all his judgments are before me,
And his decrees I do not put away from me.
- 24 And I was blameless toward him,
And guarded myself from my guilt.
- 25 So the LORD requited me in accordance with my righteousness,
And according to the cleanness of my hands in his sight.
- 26 Toward the godly thou dost act graciously;
Toward the blameless man thou dost act blamelessly;
- 27 Toward the pure thou dost act purely;
And toward the crooked thou dost act craftily.
- 28 For thou wilt deliver an humble people,
But haughty eyes thou wilt bring low.
- 29 For thou dost light my lamp, O LORD,
My God lightens my darkness.
- 30 For through thee I can break down a rampart,
And through my God I can scale a wall.
- 31 The way of God is blameless,
The speech of the LORD is sincere;
A shield is he to all who take refuge in him.

- 32 For who is God but the LORD?
And who is a rock save our God?
- 33 The God who girds me with might,
And makes my way blameless,
34 Making my feet like a doe's feet,
And making me stand securely on my heights;
35 The one who trains my hands for battle,
So that my arms can bend a bow of bronze.
36 And thou dost give me thy saving shield,
And thy right hand supports me;
And thy help makes me great.
37 Thou dost enlarge the range of my steps,
And my ankles do not give way.
- 38 I pursue my foes and overtake them,
And do not turn back until they are destroyed.
39 I smite them so that they are unable to stand;
Beneath my feet they fall.
- 40 And thou dost gird me with strength for the battle,
Thou dost subdue my opponents under me;
41 And thou dost make my enemies show me the back;
And those that hate me I destroy.
- 42 They cry for help, but there is none to deliver;
To the LORD, but he does not answer them.
43 And I pulverize them, like dust before the wind;
I crush them like the dirt of the streets.
44 And thou dost rescue me from the feuds of the people;
Thou dost establish me as head of the nations;
People that I have not known serve me;
45 As soon as they hear of me they submit to me;
Aliens fawn upon me;
46 Aliens fade away,
And come forth trembling from their forts.
47 All hail to the LORD! And blessed be my Rock!
And may the God of my deliverance be exalted!
48 The God who gives me vengeance,
And puts peoples in subjection under me;
49 Who frees me from my foes.

And thou dost exalt me above my adversaries;
From violent men thou dost rescue me.

- 50 Therefore I shall praise thee among the nations, O LORD,
And sing praises to thy name;
51 To him who gives great victories to his king,
And shows kindness to his anointed,
To David and his seed forever.

GOD'S PRAISE IN THE PHYSICAL AND MORAL UNIVERSE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 19 The heavens are telling the glory of God,
And the sky shows forth the work of his hands.
2 Day unto day pours forth speech,
And night unto night declares knowledge.
3 There is no speech, nor are there words; -
Their voice is not heard;
4 Yet their voice goes forth through all the earth,
And their words to the ends of the world.
In them he has pitched a tent for the sun
5 Who is like a bridegroom coming forth from his chamber,
And rejoices like a strong man to run the course;
6 From one end of the heavens is his starting-point,
And his circuit is to the other end;
And nothing is hid from the heat thereof.
7 The law of the LORD is perfect, renewing the life;
The testimony of the LORD is trustworthy,
making wise the simple;
8 The precepts of the LORD are right,
rejoicing the heart;
The commandment of the LORD is pure,
enlightening the eyes;
9 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring forever.
The judgments of the LORD are true,
and they are also right;

- 10 They are more valuable than gold,
and much fine gold;
And sweeter than honey,
and the droppings of the honeycomb.
- 11 Thy servant also is instructed by them,
In keeping them there is great reward.
- 12 Who can discern his errors?
Of unconscious ones, hold me guiltless!
- 13 Moreover, restrain thy servant from wilful ones,
May they not rule over me!
Then I shall be blameless, and I shall be acquitted of much transgression.
- 14 May the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart
Be acceptable before thee,
O LORD, my rock and my avenger!

A PRAYER FOR VICTORY

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 20 The LORD answer you in the day of trouble!
The name of the God of Jacob set you on high!
- 2 May he send you help from the holy place,
And give you support from Zion!
- 3 May he keep in mind all your gifts,
And your burnt-offerings may he accept. Selah
- 4 May he grant you your heart's desire,
And fulfil all your plans!
- 5 May we shout with joy over your victory,
And in the name of our God set up our standards!
May the LORD fulfil all your requests!
- 6 Now I know that the LORD will give victory to his anointed,
That he will answer him from his holy heavens,
Through the saving strength of his right hand.
- 7 Some are strong through chariots and some through horses,
But we, through the name of the LORD, our God.
- 8 They will bow down and fall;
But we shall arise and stand upright.
- 9 O LORD, give the king victory;
Do thou answer us when we call.

A HYMN OF PRAISE AND GRATITUDE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 21 In thy strength the king rejoices, O LORD;
And in thy victory how greatly he exults!
- 2 Thou hast given him the desire of his heart;
And the petition of his lips thou hast not withheld. Selah
- 3 For thou dost send goodly blessings to meet him,
Thou dost place upon his head a crown of gold.
- 4 He asked life of thee—thou hast given it to him,
Long life, forever and ever.
- 5 His glory is great through thy help;
Praise and honor thou layest upon him.
- 6 Thou dost make him blessed forever;
Thou dost gladden him with joy in thy presence.
- 7 For the king trusts in the LORD;
And, through the goodness of the Most High, he will never be moved.
- 8 Your hand will find all your foes.
Your right hand will find those that hate you.
- 9 You will put them in an oven of fire,
When you show your face.
- 10 The LORD in his anger will destroy them,
And fire will consume them.
- 11 Their offspring you will destroy from the earth,
And their progeny from among the sons of men.
- 12 When they plan evil against you,
And devise malice, they shall not succeed.
- 13 You will make them turn their backs with your bowstrings,
You will aim at their faces.
- 14 Arise, O LORD, in thy strength,
That we may play and sing of thy power.

THE CRY OF A DESOLATE SPIRIT

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: UPON aijeleth hash-shahar. A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 22 My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
And why art thou far from helping me, at the words of my wailing?

- 1 My God, I cry by day, but thou dost not answer;
And by night, and get no rest.
- 3 Yet thou art holy;
The praise of Israel will endure.
- 4 In thee our fathers trusted;
They trusted and thou didst deliver them.
- 5 Unto thee they cried and were set free;
In thee they trusted and were not disgraced.
- 6 But I am a worm and not a man,
A shame to mankind, and despised of the people.
- 7 All who see me make sport of me;
They make mouths at me and toss their heads:
- 8 "Let him rejoice in the LORD; let him deliver him;
Let him rescue him; for he is pleased with him."
- 9 Yet thou didst bring me forth from the womb;
Thou didst give me security on my mother's breast.
- 10 Upon thee was I cast from birth;
From my mother's womb thou hast been my God.
- 11 Do not stay far from me;
For trouble is near;
For there is none to help.
- 12 Strong bulls surround me;
Mighty ones of Bashan encircle me.
- 13 They open wide their mouths at me,
Like a ravening and roaring lion.
- 14 I am poured out like water,
And all my bones are disjointed.
My heart is like wax,
Melted in the midst of my bosom.
- 15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd,
And my tongue cleaves to my palate;
And they lay me in the dust of death.
- 16 For dogs have surrounded me,
A gang of villains encircles me.
My hands and my feet are crippled.
- 17 I can count all my bones;
They look, they stare at me.

- 18 They distribute my garments among them,
And over my robe they cast lots.
- 19 But, thou, O LORD, be not far off;
O my strength, hasten to my aid.
- 20 Deliver my life from the sword,
My only one from the power of the dog.
- 21 Save me from the lion's mouth,
And my afflicted self from the horns of the wild ox.
- 22 Then will I publish thy name to my brethren;
In the midst of the assembly I will praise thee.
- 23 You who fear the LORD praise him!
All you children of Jacob honor him!
Stand in awe of him all you children of Israel;
- 24 Because he has not despised, nor has he loathed the affliction of the afflicted;
Nor has he hidden his face from him;
But he has listened when he cried to him for aid.
- 25 From thee is my praise in the great assembly;
In the presence of those who fear him I will pay my vows.
- 26 The humble will eat and be satisfied;
Those who seek the LORD will praise him.
May your heart live forever!
- 27 All the ends of the earth will remember and turn unto the
LORD;
All the clans of the nations will worship before him.
- 28 For the kingdom belongs to the LORD;
And he rules over the nations.
- 29 Him alone will all the fat ones of the earth worship;
Before him all those who go down to the dust will bow;
For none keeps himself alive.
- 30 The descendants will serve him.
May it be told of the Lord to the coming generation,
And may they tell of his righteousness to the people that shall be born,
That he has wrought it.

THE GOOD SHEPHERD

[A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 23 The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want;
 2 In green meadows he makes me lie down;
 To refreshing waters he leads me.
 3 He gives me new life.
 He guides me in safe paths, for his fame's sake.
 4 Even though I walk in the darkest valley,
 I fear no harm; for thou art with me.
 Thy rod and thy staff—they comfort me.
 5 Thou layest a table before me in the presence of my enemies.
 Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup overflows.
 6 Only goodness and grace shall follow me all the days of my life;
 And I shall dwell in the house of the LORD down to old age.

THE GLORY OF GOD AND THE GOOD MAN

[A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 24 The earth is the LORD's and its fulness,
 The world and those who dwell therein.
 2 For he founded it upon the seas,
 And established it upon the ocean-currents.
 3 Who can ascend into the hill of the LORD?
 And who can stand in his holy place?
 4 He who has clean hands and a pure heart,
 Who has had no desire for falsehood,
 And has not sworn to a lie.
 5 He will receive a blessing from the LORD,
 And justification from the God of his deliverance.
 6 This is the generation of those who search for him,
 Who seek the face of the God of Jacob.
- 7 Lift up your heads, O gates!
 And lift up yourselves, O ancient doors,
 That the king of glory may come in!
 8 Who, then, is the king of glory?
 The LORD strong and mighty,
 The LORD mighty in battle!

Selah

- 9 Lift up your heads, O gates!
 And lift up yourselves, O ancient doors,
 That the king of glory may come in!
 10 Who, then, is the king of glory?
 The LORD of hosts,
 He is the king of glory!

Selah

A PRAYER FOR DIVINE HELP

[OF DAVID]

N

- 25 Unto thee, O LORD, do I lift up my desire.

ב

- 2 My God, in thee have I trusted; let me not be put to shame.
 Let not my foes exult.

ג

- 3 Indeed, let none that wait upon thee be put to shame;
 May they be put to shame who have been deceitful without cause.

ד

- 4 Thy ways, O LORD, make me know;
 Teach me thy paths.

ה, ה

- 5 Lead me in thy truth, and teach me;
 For thou art the God of my help;
 Upon thee do I hope continually.

ו

- 6 Remember thy mercy, O LORD, and thy kindness,
 For they have been from of old.

ז

- 7 The sins of my youth and my offenses do not remember;
 In accordance with thy kindness, do thou remember me,
 For thy goodness' sake, O LORD.

ח

- 8 Good and upright is the LORD,
 Therefore he instructs sinners in the way.

9 He leads the meek in justice,
And he teaches the meek his way.

כ

10 All the paths of the LORD are kindness and truth,
For those who observe his covenant and his commands.

כ

11 For thy name's sake, O LORD,
Pardon my guilt, though it is great.

כ

12 What man is there that fears the LORD?
He will teach him in the way that he must choose.

כ

13 He will dwell in good times,
And his descendants will possess the land.

כ

14 The secret of the LORD is for those who fear him,
And his covenant, that he may teach them.

כ

15 My eyes are constantly with the LORD,
That he may bring forth my feet from the net.

כ

16 Turn unto me and have mercy upon me,
For I am lonely and afflicted.

כ

17 Enlarge the straits of my heart,
And lead me forth from my distresses.

כ

18 See my affliction and my trouble,
And forgive all my sins.

כ

19 See my foes, that they are many,
And they hate me with a violent hatred.

ט

- 20 Preserve me and rescue me;
Let me not be put to shame; for I take refuge in thee.

ח

- 21 Let blamelessness and uprightness protect me,
For I hope in thee.
- 22 Redeem Israel, O God,
From all its troubles.

THE CLAIMS OF THE RIGHTEOUS

[OF DAVID]

- 26 Give me justice, O LORD, for I have walked in my integrity.
And I have trusted in the LORD, without wavering.
- 2 Try me, O LORD, and test me,
Examine my mind and my heart.
- 3 For thy kindness is before my eyes,
And I have walked in thy truth.
- 4 I do not sit with faithless men,
Nor with dissemblers do I go in.
- 5 I hate the company of evildoers,
And with reprobates I will not sit down.
- 6 I wash my hands in innocence,
And encircle thy altar, O LORD,
- 7 To proclaim with a voice of praise,
And to recount all thy wonders.
- 8 O LORD, I have loved the habitation of thy house,
And the place where thy glory dwells.
- 9 Take me not away along with sinners,
Nor my life along with men of blood,
- 10 In whose hands is an evil purpose,
And whose right hand is full of bribes.
- 11 But as for me, I walk in my integrity.
Deliver me and be gracious to me.
- 12 My foot stands upon level ground.
In the congregations I bless the LORD.

A SONG OF ASSURANCE

[OF DAVID]

- 27 The LORD is my light and my salvation;
whom shall I fear?
The LORD is the refuge of my life;
of whom shall I be afraid?
- a When evildoers pressed in upon me,
to eat up my flesh,
My adversaries and my foes,
they stumbled and fell.
- 3 Though a host encamp against me,
my heart will not fear;
Though war arise against me,
in this will I be confident.
- 4 One thing I ask from the LORD,
that do I seek;
That I may dwell in the house of the LORD
all the days of my life,
To gaze upon the grace of the LORD,
and to inquire in his temple.
- 5 For he will hide me in his pavilion,
in the day of trouble;
He will conceal me in his secret tent,
he will set me up upon a rock.
- 6 And now my head is high above my foes on every side;
And I will sacrifice in his tent sacrifices with shouts.
I will sing and make music to the LORD.
- 7 Hear, O my LORD, my voice with which I cry;
be gracious to me and answer me.
- 8 Concerning thee my heart says,
"Seek you my face!"
Thy face, O LORD, do I seek;
hide not thy face from me.

- 9 Turn not thy servant away in anger;
thou hast been my help.
Cast me not off, neither forsake me,
O God of my salvation!
- 10 If my father and my mother forsake me,
then the LORD will take me up.
- 11 Teach me thy way, O LORD,
And guide me in a level path,
because of my enemies.
- 12 Yield me not to the desire of my foes;
For false witnesses are risen up against me,
and such as breathe forth violence.
- 13 I believe that I shall see the goodness of the LORD
in the land of the living.

- 14 Hope thou upon the LORD.
Be strong and keep a stout heart;
And hope thou upon the LORD.

A PRAYER FOR THE PUNISHMENT OF THE WICKED

[OF DAVID]

- 28 Upon thee, O LORD, do I call;
O my rock, be not deaf to me;
Lest, because thou payest no heed to me,
I become like those who go down to the pit.
- 2 Hear the voice of my supplication,
when I cry to thee for help,
When I lift up my hands unto thy holy shrine.
- 3 Snatch me not away with the wicked,
and with those who do wrong,
Who offer friendly greetings to their neighbors,
while evil is in their hearts.
- 4 Render to them according to their work,
and according to their evil deeds.
According to the work of their hands render to them;
pay back to them what they have done.
- 5 Because they do not give heed to the works of the LORD,

- and to the work of his hands,
He will tear them down and not build them up.
- 6 Blessed be the LORD! For he has heard the voice of my supplications.
- 7 The LORD is my strength and my shield;
in him my heart has trusted;
And I have been helped and my heart exults,
and with my song I praise him.
- 8 The LORD is the strength of his people and a refuge;
the victory of his anointed is he.
- 9 Give victory to thy people,
and bless thy inheritance;
And shepherd them and carry them evermore.

THE GOD OF THE STORM

[A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 29 Ascribe unto the LORD, O sons of the gods,
Ascribe unto the LORD glory and strength.
- 2 Ascribe unto the LORD the glory of his name;
Worship the LORD in holy array.
- 3 The voice of the LORD is above the waters;
The God of glory thunders.
The LORD is over the great waters,
- 4 The voice of the LORD is mighty,
The voice of the LORD is majestic.
- 5 The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars,
And the LORD shatters the cedars of Lebanon.
- 6 He makes them skip like a calf,
Lebanon and Sirion like a young wild-ox.
- 7 The voice of the LORD hews out flames of fire.
- 8 The voice of the LORD makes the desert whirl,
The LORD whirls the desert of Kadesh.
- 9 The voice of the LORD whirls the terebinths,
And causes bleating kids to be born in haste.
While in his palace everything says, "Glory!"

- 10 The LORD sits over the flood,
The LORD sits as king forever.
11 The LORD gives strength to his people;
The LORD blesses his people with peace.

PRAISE FOR THE HELP OF THE LORD

[A PSALM; SONG OF THE DEDICATION OF THE HOUSE; OF DAVID]

- 30 I will extol thee, O LORD, for thou hast drawn me forth,
And hast not let my foes rejoice over me.
2 O LORD, my God, I cried for help unto thee,
And thou didst heal me.
3 O LORD, thou hast brought me up from Sheol, Thou hast revived me from among those who go down to the pit.
4 Sing praises to the LORD, O you his godly ones,
And praise his holy name.
5 For though there be a moment in his wrath, there is life in his favor.
Weeping may lodge with us at evening, but in the morning there is a shout of joy.
6 But I said in my security,
"I shall never be moved."
7 O LORD, by thy favor thou hast made my mountain to stand strong;
Thou didst hide thy face; I was dismayed.
8 Unto thee, O LORD, I called;
And unto the Lord I made supplication:
9 "What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit?
Will the dust praise thee? Will it declare thy faithfulness?
10 Hear, O LORD, and be gracious to me.
O LORD, be thou my helper."
11 Thou hast turned my mourning into dancing.
Thou hast put off my sackcloth and girded me with gladness.
12 In order that my honor may praise thee and not be silent,
O LORD, my God, I will evermore praise thee.

MINGLED PRAYER AND PRAISE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 31 In thee, O LORD, I have taken refuge;
 Let me nevermore be put to shame;
 Through thy justification, deliver me!
- 2 Bow down thy ear to me,
 Quickly rescue me!
 Become for me a rock of refuge,
 A mountain-fort to save me!
- 3 For thou art my rock and my fortress;
 And for thy name's sake thou wilt lead me and guide me.
- 4 Thou wilt bring me forth from the net which they have laid for me;
 For thou art my refuge.
- 5 Into thy hand I commit my spirit.
 Thou wilt redeem me, O LORD, thou faithful God.
- 6 I hate them that pay regard to false futilities.
 But I myself have trusted in the LORD.
- 7 I will exult and rejoice in thy grace,
 For thou hast seen my affliction,
 Thou hast taken heed of my straits.
- 8 And thou hast not delivered me into the hand of the foe;
 But hast established my feet upon a broad place.
- 9 Be gracious unto me, O LORD, for I am in trouble;
 Through grief my eye is weakened,
 myself and my body.
- 10 For my life is consumed in sorrow,
 and my years in groaning.
 My strength has failed through my affliction,
 and my bones have wasted away.
- 11 I am become an object of reproach from all my foes,
 A thing of dread to my neighbors,
 A terror to my acquaintances who see me on the street;
 they flee from me.
- 12 I am forgotten like a dead man; out of mind,
 like a lost article am I;

- 13 For I hear the remark of many,
 "terror on every side,"
When they counsel together against me.
They plan to take my life.
- 14 But I have trusted in thee, O LORD;
I have said, "Thou art my God;
15 My times are in thy hand.
Rescue me from the hand of my foes and those who pursue me;
16 Let thy face shine upon thy servant;
Deliver me through thy grace.
- 17 "O LORD, let me not be put to shame,
 for I have called upon thee;
Let the wicked be put to shame;
 let them wait for Sheol.
18 May lying lips be made dumb,
Those that speak insolence against the righteous,
 in pride and scorn.
- 19 "How great is thy goodness which thou hast in store for those who fear thee,
Which thou hast wrought for those relying upon thee, in the presence of the sons of men.
20 Thou dost secrete them in the secret of thy presence from the plottings of man.
Thou dost shelter them in thy pavilion from the strife of tongues."
- 21 Blessed be the LORD! For he showed me his wonderful kindness in a besieged city.
22 I said in my alarm,
"I am cut off from before thy eyes."
But thou didst hear the voice of my supplication,
 when I cried to thee for aid.
- 23 Love the LORD, O all you his godly ones;
The LORD preserves the faithful;
But he requites to excess him who acts haughtily.
24 Be strong, and let your heart be firm,
All you who wait for the LORD.

THE BLESSED LOT OF THE PIOUS

[OF DAVID. A maskil]

- 32 Oh, the happiness of him whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered!
- 2 Oh, the happiness of the man to whom the LORD charges no guilt,
And in whose spirit there is no guile!
- 3 When I kept silent my bones wasted away
Through my groaning all day long.
- 4 For, day and night, thy hand lay heavy upon me;
My sap was turned into the drought of summer. Selah
- 5 My sin I declared to thee, and my guilt I have not concealed.
I said, "I will confess my transgressions to the LORD."
And thou didst forgive the guilt of my sin. Selah
- 6 Therefore let every godly man pray to thee:
That in the time of distress, in the rush of great waters,
They may not reach him.
- 7 Thou art my hiding-place; from the foe thou guardest me;
Thou dost surround me with deliverance.
- 8 I will instruct thee and show thee the way which thou must go;
I will counsel thee, with my eye upon thee.
- 9 Be not like a horse or a mule, without sense,
With bridle and bit must his temper be restrained
That he come not near to you.
- 10 The wicked has many sorrows,
But him who trusts in the LORD he surrounds with kindness.
- 11 Rejoice in the LORD and exult, O righteous,
And shout for joy, all you who are right-minded.

THE LORD OF ALL CREATION

- 33 Rejoice in the LORD, O righteous ones;
Praise befits the upright.
- 2 Praise the LORD with the harp;
Play to him on the ten-stringed lute.
- 3 Sing unto him a new song;
Play skilfully with glad shouts.

- 4 For the word of the LORD is right,
And all his work is faithful.
- 5 He loves righteousness and justice.
The earth is full of the goodness of the LORD.
- 6 By the word of the LORD the heavens were made,
And by the breath of his mouth all their host.
- 7 He gathers the waters of the sea as in a waterskin,
He puts the deeps in storehouses.
- 8 Let all the earth fear the LORD;
Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.
- 9 For he spoke and it was!
He commanded and it stood fast!
- 10 The LORD annuls the counsel of the nations,
He frustrates the plans of the peoples.
- 11 But the counsel of the LORD stands forever,
The plans of his heart for age upon age.
- 12 How happy is the nation whose God is the LORD,
The people that he has chosen as his heritage.
- 13 The LORD looks down from the heavens,
He sees all the children of men.
- 14 From the place of his dwelling he looks forth
Upon all the inhabitants of the earth;
- 15 He who fashions the hearts of them all,
Who considers all their deeds.
- 16 The king is not saved by the size of his army;
A warrior is not rescued by his great strength.
- 17 The horse is a delusion for victory;
And he does not deliver by his great strength.
- 18 So the eye of the LORD is upon those who fear him,
Those who wait for his goodness,
- 19 To rescue them from death,
And to keep them alive in famine.
- 20 We wait upon the LORD;
He is our help and our shield;
- 21 For our heart rejoices in him,
For in his holy name we trust.

- 22 May thy goodness, O LORD, be over us,
According as we hope in thee.

THE GOODNESS OF GOD

[OF DAVID; WHEN HE CHANGED HIS BEHAVIOR BEFORE ABIMELECH, SO THAT HE DROVE HIM OUT AND HE DEPARTED]

כ

- 34 I bless the LORD at all times,
His praise is constantly in my mouth.

כב

- 2 I glory in the LORD;
Let the godly hear and rejoice.

כג

- 3 Magnify the LORD with me,
And let us all exalt his name.

כד

- 4 I sought the LORD and he answered me,
And delivered me from all my terrors.

כה, כו

- 5 Look at me, and so be jubilant,
And let not your faces be abashed.

כז

- 6 This poor man called and the LORD heard,
And delivered him from all his troubles.

כח

- 7 The angel of the LORD encamps
Around those who fear him, and rescues them.

כט

- 8 Taste and see that the LORD is good.
How happy is the man who takes refuge in him!

ל

- 9 Fear the LORD, you his holy ones,
For those who fear him feel no lack.

לא

- 10 Young lions do lack, and suffer hunger;
But those who seek the LORD lack no good thing.

ב

- 11 Come, children, listen to me,
And I will teach you reverence for the LORD.

ג

- 12 What man is there who desires life,
Who loves length of days that he may see good?

ד

- 13 Keep your tongue from evil
And your lips from telling lies.

ה

- 14 Depart from evil and do good;
Seek peace, and pursue it.

ו

- 16 The face of the LORD is against those who do evil,
That he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

ז

- 15 The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous,
And his ears are open to their cry.

ח

- 17 They call and the LORD hears,
And he rescues them from all their troubles.

ט

- 18 The LORD is near to the broken-hearted,
And he delivers those who are crushed in spirit.

י

- 19 Many are the ills of the righteous,
But from them all the LORD delivers him.

יא

- 20 He guards all his bones,
So that not one of them is broken.

יב

- 21 Evil will slay the wicked;
And those who hate the righteous will be held guilty.
22 The LORD will redeem the life of his servants,
And none who take refuge in him will be held guilty.

A PRAYER FOR VENGEANCE

[OF DAVID]

- 35 Oppose, O LORD, my opponents;
Fight those who fight me.
- 2 Lay hold of buckler and shield,
And rise up to my help.
- 3 Draw the spear and battle-axe to meet my pursuers;
Say to me, "I am thy deliverance."
- 4 May they be put to shame and confusion that seek my life;
May they be turned back and disgraced who plan evil against me.
- 5 May they be like chaff before the wind,
With the angel of the LORD chasing them.
- 6 May their road be darkness and slipperiness,
With the angel of the LORD pursuing them.
- 7 For without cause they hid their net for me;
Without cause they dug a pit for me.
- 8 May destruction come upon him unawares;
And may the net which he has hidden catch him himself;
In destruction may he fall therein!
- 9 But I shall exult in the LORD,
And rejoice in his deliverance.
- 10 All my bones will say,
"O LORD, who is like thee,
Saving the poor from him that is too strong for him,
The poor and the needy from him that would rob him?"
- 11 Malicious witnesses rise up,
Who ask me regarding that of which I know nothing.
- 12 They requite me evil for good,
To my personal bereavement.
- 13 For I, when they were sick—my clothing was sackcloth,
I afflicted myself by fasting,
And my prayer returned to my own lap.
- 14 As though it were my friend or brother I went about;
As in sorrow for a mother I bowed down mourning.
- 15 But at my fall they rejoice and gather together,
Smiters gather together against me and I know not;
They rend without ceasing.

- 16 When I assert my friendship they jeer scornfully, Gnashing at me with their teeth.
- 17 O Lord, how long wilt thou look on?
Draw me back from the roaring ones,
My solitary self from the young lions.
- 18 I will thank thee in the great assembly;
Among a mighty people will I praise thee.
- 19 Let not those who are wrongfully my foes rejoice over me,
Nor those who hate me without cause wink the eye.
- 20 For they do not speak peace;
But against those who are at ease in the land
They devise treacherous things.
- 21 And they open wide their mouths against me.
They say, "Aha, Aha, our eye sees it!"
- 22 Thou hast seen, O LORD; be not silent!
O Lord; remove not far from me!
- 23 Bestir thyself and rise up to do me justice,
My God and my Lord, to plead my cause!
- 24 Do me justice in accordance with thy righteousness, O LORD, my God!
And let them not rejoice over me!
- 25 May they not say to themselves, "Aha, our desire!"
May they not say, "We have swallowed him up."
- 26 May they be put to shame and disgraced
Who rejoice over my calamity;
May they be clothed with shame and disgrace
Who magnify themselves against me.
- 27 May they shout for joy and be glad who are pleased at my vindication.
And may they continually say, "The LORD is great,
Who desires the welfare of his servant."
- 28 Then my tongue will proclaim thy righteousness,
And thy praise all the day long.

THE GOODNESS OF GOD AND THE SIN OF THE WICKED

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF THE SERVANT OF THE LORD, OF DAVID]

- 36 Rebellion is delightful to the wicked within his heart;
There is no dread of God before his eyes.

- 2 For it deceives him in his own eyes,
Concerning the finding out of his guilt and the hatred of it.
- 3 The words of his mouth are wrong and deceit;
He has ceased to be wise and to do good.
- 4 He plans wrongdoing while in bed;
He takes his stand on a way that is not good.
He does not despise wickedness.
- 5 O LORD, thy goodness extends to the heavens,
Thy faithfulness unto the clouds.
- 6 Thy righteousness is like the highest mountains,
Thy judgments are a great deep.
Thou savest man and beast, O LORD.
- 7 How precious is thy goodness, O God!
And the children of men take refuge under the shadow of thy wings.
- 8 They drink their fill of the fatness of thy house,
And thou givest them drink of the stream of thy pleasures.
- 9 For with thee is the fountain of life;
Through thy light do we see light.
- 10 Continue thy goodness to those that know thee,
And thy justification to the right-minded.
- 11 May the foot of pride not come upon me,
Nor the hand of the wicked drive me out.
- 12 There the workers of wrong are fallen;
They are overthrown and cannot rise up.

GOD'S CARE FOR THE PIOUS

[OF DAVID]

N

- 37 Fret not yourself because of evildoers,
Be not incensed because of wrongdoers;
- 2 For they will soon wither like grass,
And fade away like the green herb.

ב

- 3 Trust in the LORD and do good;
Inhabit the land and feed in security.
Take your delight in the LORD,
And he will give you the desire of your heart.

א

- 4 Commit your way unto the LORD,
And trust in him; and he will act.
5 He will bring forth your right like the light,
And your just cause like the noonday.

ב

- 6 Wait patiently for the LORD and hope in him;
Fret not yourself because of him who makes his way prosper,
Him who succeeds in his plans.

ג

- 7 Cease from anger, and forsake wrath.
Fret not yourself; it does nothing but harm;
8 For evildoers shall be cut off;
While those who wait upon the LORD shall possess the land.

ד

- 9 Yet a little while and the wicked shall be no more;
Though you look hard at his place, he will not be there.
10 But the meek shall possess the land,
And rejoice in abundant prosperity.

ה

- 11 Though the wicked plot against the innocent,
And gnash his teeth at him,
12 The Lord laughs at him;
For he sees that his day will come.

ו

- 13 The wicked draw the sword and bend their bow,
To bring down the poor and needy,
To slay those whose way is right.
14 Their sword shall enter their own hearts,
And their bows shall be broken.

ז

- 15 Better is the little of the righteous
Than the wealth of many wicked.
16 For the resources of the wicked shall be broken,
But the LORD supports the righteous.

17 The LORD knows the days of the innocent,
 And their possession abides forever.
 18 They shall not be put to shame in bad times,
 And in the time of famine they shall be satisfied.

19 For the wicked shall perish;
 And the enemies of the LORD, like a brand in the furnace,
 Shall vanish in smoke.

20 If the wicked borrows, he does not pay back;
 But the righteous is generous and gives.
 21 Those who bless him shall possess the land,
 But those who curse him shall be cut off.

22 The steps of a man are from the LORD,
 And he establishes him with whose way he is pleased.
 23 Though he fall, he shall not lie prostrate,
 For the LORD holds his hand.

24 I have been young, and now I am old;
 But I have not seen the righteous forsaken,
 Nor his descendants begging their bread.
 25 He is always generous and ever lending,
 And his offspring becomes a blessing.

26 Shun evil and do good,
 So shall you abide forever.
 27 For the LORD loves the right,
 And he does not desert his saints.

They are kept forever,
 But the offspring of the wicked is cut off.
 28 The upright shall possess the land,
 And shall dwell therein forever.

D

- 29 The mouth of the upright utters wisdom,
And his tongue speaks justice.
30 The law of his God is in his heart;
His steps do not slip.

Z

- 31 When the wicked spies upon the upright,
And seeks to kill him,
32 The LORD will not deliver him into his hand,
Nor will he declare him guilty when he is brought to trial.

P

- 33 Wait for the LORD, and keep his way;
And he will exalt you to possess the land.
You shall gaze upon the destruction of the wicked.

K

- 34 I saw the wicked triumphing,
And towering aloft like the cedar of Lebanon;
35 But I passed by and lo, he was not!
And when I sought for him he was not to be found.

W

- 36 Watch integrity and look upon right;
For there is a posterity for the man of peace.
37 But lawbreakers are wholly destroyed.
The posterity of the wicked is cut off.

N

- 38 The help of the innocent comes from the LORD;
Their strength is he in time of need.
39 The LORD helps them and rescues them;
He rescues them from the wicked and makes them victorious,
Because they trust in him.

A PRAYER OF ONE IN GREAT TROUBLE

[A PSALM OF DAVID. TO MAKE A MEMORIAL]

- 38 Do not reprove me in thy wrath, O LORD,
Nor correct me in thy fury.
2 For thy arrows have sunk deep into me,
And thy hand has come down upon me.

- 3 There is no soundness in my flesh because of thy anger;
There is no health in my bones because of my sin.
- 4 For my guilt has passed over my head,
Like a heavy load it is too heavy for me.
- 5 My wounds are fetid, they fester,
Because of my folly.
- 6 I am bent, I am bowed down exceedingly;
I go about mourning all day long.
- 7 For my loins are full of inflammation,
And there is no soundness in my flesh.
- 8 I am benumbed and badly crushed;
I groan because of the moan of my heart.
- 9 O LORD, all my desire is before thee,
And my sighing is not hidden from thee.
- 10 My heart palpitates; my strength has left me;
Even the light of my eyes is not with me.
- 11 Those who love me and my friends stand back from my plague,
And my kinsmen stand afar off.
- 12 They that seek my life lay snares for me,
And those who desire my harm speak of ruin,
And they meditate deceit all day long.
- 13 But I, like a deaf man, hear not;
And I am like a dumb man who does not open his mouth.
- 14 I am like a man that does not hear,
And one in whose mouth there are no arguments.
- 15 But for thee, O LORD, do I wait;
Thou wilt answer, 'O Lord, my God!
- 16 For I think, "Else will they rejoice over me;
When my foot slips, they will magnify themselves against me."
- 17 For I am ready for a fall,
And my grief is ever before me.
- 18 I am in horror of my guilt;
I am sorry for my sin.
- 19 My foes without reason are numerous;
Many are those that hate me falsely,

20 And render me evil for good;
They oppose me because I follow after good.

21 Do not forsake me, O LORD;
My God, be not far from me!
Hasten to my assistance;
O Lord, to my rescue!

A PLEA FOR MERCY TOWARD A MAN OF FLEETING EXISTENCE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: FOR Jeduthun. A PSALM OF DAVID]

39 I said, "I will watch my ways
That I may not sin with my tongue;
I will put a muzzle on my mouth,
As long as the wicked is before me."
2 I was dumb in silence;
I refrained from good,
And my pain was aroused.
3 My heart burned within me;
While I meditated, a fire kindled;
I spoke with my tongue:
4 "O LORD, teach me my end,
And what is the extent of my days;
Let me know how I shall end.
5 Lo, thou hast fixed my days but as handbreadths,
And my lifetime is as nothing before thee;
As a mere breath every man stands. Selah
6 As but a shadow a man walks;
As but a breath he bestirs himself.
He heaps up and knows not who will gather it in.
7 "And now for what do I wait, O LORD?
My hope is in thee!
8 From all my transgressions deliver me!
Make me not the scorn of the reprobate.
9 I am dumb; I do not open my mouth;
For it is thou who hast done it.
10 Remove thy plague from me;
By the blows of thy hand I perish.
11 With corrections for guilt thou dost chastise a man.

And thou dost wipe out his desire like a cobweb.
Verily, all men are but a breath.

Selah

- 12 “Hear my prayer, O LORD,
And give heed to my cry!
Be not unresponsive to my tears;
For I am a guest with thee,
A sojourner, like all my ancestors.
13 Turn thy gaze away from me, that I may be glad,
Before I go away and be no more.”

A PRAYER FOR SPEEDY RELIEF FROM TROUBLE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 40 I waited patiently for the LORD,
And he paid heed to me and heard my plea.
2 So he drew me up from the pit of ruin,
from the miry swamp;
And he set my feet upon a rock,
establishing my steps.
3 And he put a new song in my mouth,
praise to our God.
Many will see and be afraid,
and will trust in the LORD.
4 How happy is the man who has made the LORD his trust,
And has not returned after idolaters,
and lying apostates.
5 Thou hast done great things,
O LORD my God;
Wonderful are thy thoughts toward us;
there is none to compare with thee.
Were I to declare and tell them,
they are too many to enumerate.
6 Sacrifice and offering thou dost not desire
(Thou hast opened my ears);
Burnt-offering and sin-offering thou dost not demand.
7 Then said I, “Lo, I come
(In the roll of a book which was written for me).

- 8 I delight to do thy will, O my God;
And thy law is in my very heart.
- 9 "I have proclaimed thy vindication in the great assembly.
Lo, I do not close my lips;
O LORD, thou knowest.
- 10 Thy vindication I have not concealed within my heart;
Thy faithfulness and thy victory I have told.
I have not withheld thy grace and thy fidelity from the great assembly.
- 11 Do thou, O LORD, not restrain thy mercy from me.
May thy grace and thy fidelity always protect me.
- 12 "For sins beyond number beset me,
My offenses have overtaken me, so that I cannot see.
They are more numerous than the hairs of my head;
And my heart has failed me.
- 13 Be pleased, O LORD, to rescue me;
O LORD, haste to my help.
- 14 "May they be both ashamed and abashed who seek to take away
my life;
May they be turned back and routed who desire my ruin.
- 15 May they be appalled by reason of their shame,
Who say to me, 'Aha, Aha!'
- 16 "May all those who seek thee rejoice,
and be glad in thee.
May those who love thy deliverance continually say,
'Great is the LORD.'
- 17 Since I am poor and needy,
Hasten to me, O Lord!
Thou art my help and my deliverer;
O my God, do not tarry."

A PRAYER FOR VENGEANCE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 41 How happy is he who is considerate of the weak;
In the day of trouble the LORD delivers him.
- 2 The LORD protects him and keeps him alive;
He is called happy in the land.

Thou wilt not give him over to the rage of his foes;
 3 The LORD sustains him upon his sickbed.
 All his bed thou hast changed in his illness.

4 I say, "Have mercy on me, O LORD!
 Heal me; for I have sinned against thee!"
 5 My foes say evil of me,
 "How long till he die, and his name perish?"

6 If he comes to see me, he speaks lies;
 His heart lays up malice;
 He goes outside and talks.
 7 All who hate me whisper together against me.
 They devise evil against me.

8 An evil thing is devised against him,
 That when he lies down, he may not rise up again.
 9 Even my friend in whom I trusted,
 He who ate my bread, has acted deceitfully against me.

10 But thou, O LORD, be gracious to me and raise me up,
 That I may repay them!

11 By this I shall know that thou art pleased with me,
 In that my foe does not triumph over me.

12 But as for me, because of my integrity thou dost maintain me,
 And thou dost set me before thee evermore.

13 Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel,
 From everlasting to everlasting.
 Amen and amen.

BOOK II, PSS. 42-72

A SONG OF ASSURANCE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A maskil OF THE SONS OF KORAH]

42 As a deer longs for the water-courses,
 So my whole being longs for thee, O God.

2 My whole being thirsts for God, for the living God:
 How long till I come and see the face of God?

3 My tears have been my food day and night,
 While men say to me all day long, "Where is your God?"

4 These things I ponder upon and pour out my very self:
 That I went in the company of the nobles to the house of God,

- With the sound of jubilation and praise—a festal crowd.
- 5 Why art thou brought low, O my spirit?
And why dost thou murmur within me?
Wait thou for God; for I shall again praise him,
The salvation of my countenance and my God.
- 6 My spirit is brought low within me;
Therefore do I think of thee from the land of the Jordan,
And the Hermons, from the hill Mizar.
- 7 Deep calls to deep to the sound of thy waterfalls;
All thy waves and thy billows pass over me.
- 8 By day the LORD orders his grace,
And by night his song is with me,
A prayer to the God of my life.
- 9 I say to God, my rock, "Why hast thou forgotten me?
Why do I go mourning because of oppression by the foe?"
- 10 With piercing pain my enemies reproach me,
While they say unto me all day long, "Where is your God?"
- 11 Why art thou brought low, O my spirit,
And why dost thou murmur within me?
Wait thou for God; for I shall again praise him,
The salvation of my countenance and my God.
- 43 Do me justice, O God, and plead my case!
From a godless people, from deceitful and wicked men do thou release me.
- 2 For thou, O God of my fortress, why hast thou cast me off?
Why do I walk in mourning because of the oppression of the foe?
- 3 Send forth thy light and thy faithfulness; may they guide me,
May they bring me to thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling-place.
- 4 May I go to the altar of God, to God my highest joy;
And may I praise thee with the lute, O God my God.
- 5 Why art thou brought low, O my spirit;
And why dost thou murmur within me?
Wait thou for God; for I shall again praise him,
The salvation of my countenance and my God.

AN APPEAL TO THE JUSTICE OF GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF THE SONS OF KORAH; A maskil]

- 44 O God, we have heard with our ears,
 Our fathers have told us,
 The work that thou didst in their days, in days of old.
 2 Thou didst dispossess the nations by thy hand, but them thou didst implant.
 Thou didst break up the peoples, but them thou didst spread abroad.
 3 For not by their sword did they seize the land,
 Nor did their own arm give them victory,
 4 But thy right hand and thy arm,
 And the light of thy countenance; for thou wast gracious to them.
- 5 It is thou, my king, O God,
 Who orderest victory for Jacob.
 6 Through thee we push down our foes;
 Through thy name we trample upon our adversaries.
 7 For not in my bow do I trust,
 Nor does my sword bring me victory;
 8 But thou hast saved us from our foes,
 And hast put to shame those that hate us.
 9 In God we have made our boast continually,
 And thy name we will praise forever. Selah
- 10 Yet thou hast spurned and brought us to shame,
 And thou dost not go forth with our armies.
 11 Thou dost turn us back from the foe,
 And those who hate us have taken spoil for themselves.
 12 Thou dost make us food like sheep;
 And among the nations thou hast dispersed us.
 13 Thou sellest thy people for nothing,
 And dost not make much by their price.
 14 Thou makest us a taunt to our neighbors,
 A scorn and a derision to those around us.
 15 Thou makest us a byword among the nations.
 A laughingstock among the peoples.
 16 All day long my disgrace is before me,
 And shamefacedness covers me,

- 17 Because of the voice of the scoffer and the scorner,
Because of the enemy and the vengeful one.
- 18 All this has come upon us, though we have not forgotten thee,
Nor have we been false to thy covenant.
- 19 Our heart has not turned back,
Nor our step swerved from thy path.
- 20 Yet thou hast crushed us in the region of the jackals,
And covered us with thick darkness.
- 21 If we have forgotten the name of our God,
Or have spread forth our hands to a foreign god,
22 Does not God search this out?
For he knows the secrets of the heart.
- 23 But because of thee we are slain the whole day long,
We are counted as sheep for the slaughter.
- 24 Awake! Why sleepest thou, O Lord?
Arouse thyself; do not spurn us forever!
- 25 Wherefore dost thou hide thy face,
Forgetting our affliction and oppression?
26 For we are sunk down to the dust;
Our body cleaves to the earth.
- 27 Arise to our help;
And release us for thy goodness' sake.

A ROYAL MARRIAGE SONG

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: UPON LILIES; OF THE SONS OF KORAH; A maskil; A LOVE-SONG]

- 45 My heart is stirred by a good theme;
I say, "My work concerns a king;
My tongue is the pen of a rapid writer."
- 2 You are the most fair of the sons of men;
Grace is poured out through your lips;
Therefore God has blessed you evermore.
- 3 Gird your sword upon your thigh, O warrior;
Success to your praise and your majesty!
- 4 Ride on for the cause of truth and to hear the right;
And may your right hand show you wonders!
- 5 May your sharp arrows be in the midst of the king's foes!
May peoples fall under you!

- 6 Thy throne, O God, is forever and ever!
A righteous scepter is the scepter of your kingdom.
- 7 You love righteousness and hate wickedness;
Therefore has God, your God, anointed you
With the oil of gladness above your companions.
- 8 Myrrh and aloes and cassia are on all your garments;
From ivory palaces stringed instruments delight you.
- 9 Kings' daughters are among your treasures.
A princess stands at your right hand with gold from Ophir.
- 10 Hear, O daughter, and see; and incline your ear;
And forget your people and your father's house.
- 11 For the king desires your beauty;
He indeed is your lord—bow yourself before him!
- 12 The daughter of Tyre with an offering is before you;
The richest of the peoples court you.
- 13 All glorious is the king's daughter within;
Her clothing is embroidered with gold.
- 14 In brilliant colors she is brought to the king;
The virgins in her train, her companions, are brought to you.
- 15 With gladness and joy are they brought in;
They enter the palace of the king.
- 16 Instead of your fathers shall be your sons;
You shall make them princes throughout the land.
- 17 I will extol your name through all generations;
Therefore peoples shall praise you forever and ever.

THE MIGHTY GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF THE SONS OF KORAH. UPON alamoth. A SONG]

- 46 God is our refuge and strength,
A well-proved help in trouble.
- 2 Therefore we will not fear though the earth totter,
And the mountains topple into the heart of the sea;
- 3 Though its waters roar and foam,
Though the mountains quake at its uproar. Selah
- 4 There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God,
The holiest habitation of the Most High;

- 5 God is in the midst of her; she will not totter.
God will help her at break of dawn.
- 6 The nations roar; the kingdoms totter;
He utters his voice—the earth melts.
- 7 The LORD of Hosts is with us;
The God of Jacob is our high tower. Selah
- 8 Come, see the deeds of the LORD,
How he has wrought ruin in the earth!
- 9 He makes wars to cease to the end of the earth.
He breaks the bow and cuts off the lance;
The chariots he burns with fire.
- 10 Be still, and know that I am God.
I am exalted among the nations; I am exalted in the earth.
- 11 The LORD of Hosts is with us;
The God of Jacob is our high tower. Selah

THE VICTORIOUS GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF THE SONS OF KORAH; A PSALM]

- 47 O all peoples, clap your hands!
Shout to God with a glad voice!
- 2 For the LORD, most high, is terrible,
A great king over all the earth.
- 3 He subjected peoples under us,
And put nations under our feet.
- 4 He chose our possession for us,
The pride of Jacob whom he loved. Selah
- 5 God went up with a shout,
The LORD with the sound of the trumpet.
- 6 Sing praises to God, sing praises!
Sing praises to our king, sing praises!
- 7 For God is king over the whole earth.
Sing praises with a maskil.
- 8 God rules over the nations;
God sits upon his holy throne.
- 9 The nobles of the peoples are assembled
With the people of the God of Abraham.
- 10 For the shields of the earth belong to God;
He is highly exalted.

THE FAITHFUL GOD

[A SONG: A PSALM OF THE SONS OF KORAH]

- 48 Great is the LORD and greatly to be praised,
In the city of our God, his holy hill.
- 2 Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth
Is the hill of Zion in the far north,
The city of the great king.
- 3 God, in her palaces,
Has shown himself a tower of strength.
- 4 For lo, the kings conspired together,
And they became enraged.
- 5 They saw; thereupon they were amazed;
They were overwhelmed, they fled in terror.
- 6 Panic seized them there,
Anguish as of one in travail.
- 7 By an east wind
Thou didst shatter the ships of Tarshish.
- 8 As we have heard, so have we seen,
In the city of the LORD of Hosts,
In the city of our God—
God establishes her forever.
- 9 We have pondered upon thy grace, O God,
In the midst of thy temple.
- 10 As thy name, O God, so also thy praise
Reaches the ends of the earth.
Thy right hand is full of righteousness.
- 11 Let Mount Zion rejoice,
Let the daughters of Judah exult,
Because of thy judgments.
- 12 Encircle Zion and walk around her;
Count her towers;
- 13 Set your mind upon her wall;
Go through her palaces;
That you may tell the next generation
- 14 That such is God,
Our God forever and ever.
He will guide us until death.

Selah

THE END OF ALL FLESH

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF THE SONS OF KORAH; A PSALM.]

- 49 Hear this, all you peoples;
Give heed, all you dwellers in the world,
2 Sons of men, and all mankind,
Both rich and poor.
3 My mouth speaks wisdom,
And my heart's meditation is insight.
4 I incline my ear to a proverb;
I solve my riddle on the lyre.
- 5 Why should I fear in days of trouble,
When the guilt of my foes surrounds me,
6 Those who trust in their wealth,
And boast of the abundance of their riches.
7 But no man can at all ransom himself,
Or give a price for himself to God;
8 For the ransom of the person is too costly,
That he should let go forever;
9 And that one should again live forever,
Not seeing the pit.
- 10 Indeed, he sees it! Wise men die;
Both fool and brutish perish;
And they leave their wealth to others.
11 Their graves are their houses forever,
Their dwellings for one generation after another.
They call lands by their own names.
12 But man is an ox without understanding,
He is like the beasts that perish.
- 13 This is the fate of those who are self-sufficient,
And the end of those who are satisfied with their own words:
14 Like sheep they are appointed to Sheol;
Death shall shepherd them;
The upright shall rule over them in the morning.
Soon their form must decay;
Sheol is their dwelling.
15 But God will ransom me
From the power of Sheol, when it seizes me.

Selah

- 16 Fear not when a man gets rich,
When the splendor of his house increases;
17 For he will take nothing with him when he dies;
His splendor will not go down after him.
18 For he would count himself fortunate with bare life,
And would congratulate you because things are going well with
you,
19 Because you come up to the generation of his fathers,
While he will never more see light.
20 Man is an ox without understanding,
He is like the beasts that perish.

THE ESSENCE OF WORSHIP

[A PSALM OF ASAPH]

- 50 The God of gods, the LORD, spoke,
And called the earth from the rising of the sun unto its setting.
2 From Zion, the perfection of beauty, God shone forth.
3 May our God come and not be silent!
Fire devours before him;
And round about him the storm rages terribly.
4 He called to the heavens above,
And to the earth, to judge his people.
5 "Gather to me my saints,
Who have made a covenant with me by sacrifice."
6 Then the heavens declared his righteousness,
That God was giving judgment. Selah
- 7 "Hear, O my people, and let me speak,
Hear, O Israel, and let me witness against you.
I am God, your God.
8 Not because of your sacrifices do I rebuke you,
For your burnt-offerings are constantly before me.
9 I will take no yearling from your house,
Nor ram from your folds.
10 For all the beasts of the forests are mine,
The cattle upon a thousand hills.
11 I know every bird of the mountains,
And whatsoever moves in the field is mine.
12 If I were hungry I would not tell you;
For mine is the world and everything therein.

- 13 Will I eat the flesh of oxen,
And drink the blood of goats?
- 14 Sacrifice to God a thank-offering,
And fulfil your vows to the Most High;
- 15 And call upon me in the time of trouble;
Then I will deliver you and you will honor me!"
- 16 But to the wicked God says:
"What right have you to recount my statutes,
And to take my covenant upon your lips?
- 17 For you hate instruction,
And you cast my words behind you!
- 18 If you see a thief, you are friendly with him;
And you make common cause with adulterers.
- 19 You charge your mouth with evil,
And your tongue frames up deceit.
- 20 You sit down and speak against your brother,
Against the son of your mother you utter slander.
- 21 These things you have done—and am I to be silent?
You thought that I was just like yourself!
I will correct you and set it forth in your sight.
- 22 Consider this then, O you who forget God;
Lest I rend and there be no one to the rescue.
- 23 He who offers thanksgiving honors me;
And him who heeds the way, I will show God's deliverance."

THE PLEA OF A PENITENT

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID, WHEN NATHAN, THE PROPHET, CAME TO HIM, AFTER HE HAD VISITED BATHSHEBA]

- 51 Have pity on me, O God, in accordance with thy grace;
In thy abundant mercy, wipe out my transgressions.
- 2 Wash me thoroughly from my guilt,
And cleanse me from my sin.
- 3 For I know my transgressions,
And my sin is ever before me.
- 4 Against thee, thee only, have I sinned,
And done that which is evil in thy sight.
- Inasmuch as thou art in the right when thou speakest,
And pure when thou givest judgment;

- 5 So in guilt was I begotten,
And in sin did my mother conceive me.
- 6 Verily thou dost delight in faithfulness,
The confidence of wisdom thou dost make me know.
7 Purge me with hyssop, that I may be clean;
Wash me, that I may be whiter than snow.
- 8 Let me hear joy and gladness;
Let the bones which thou hast crushed rejoice.
9 Hide thy face from my sins,
And wipe out all my guilt.
- 10 Create for me a clean heart, O God,
And renew a steadfast spirit within me.
11 Cast me not away from thy presence,
And take not thy holy spirit from me.
- 12 Restore to me the joy of thy deliverance,
And sustain me with a willing spirit.
13 Let me teach transgressors thy ways,
That sinners may return unto thee.
- 14 Rescue me from blood-guiltiness, O God,
The God of my deliverance;
That my tongue may sing aloud thy righteousness.
15 O Lord, open thou my lips,
That my mouth may declare thy praise.
- 16 For thou desirest not sacrifice,
And should I give burnt-offering thou wouldst not be pleased.
17 The sacrifice of God is a broken spirit;
A broken and a contrite heart,
O God, thou wilt not despise.
- 18 Do good in thy good will unto Zion;
Build thou the walls of Jerusalem.
19 Then shalt thou be pleased with right offerings,
Burnt-offering and whole burnt-offering;
Then shall bullocks come up upon thy altar.

THE FATE OF THE WICKED

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A maskil OF DAVID, WHEN DOEG, THE EDMITE, CAME AND TOLD SAUL AND SAID TO HIM: "DAVID HAS ENTERED THE HOUSE OF ADI-MELECH"]

- 52 Why do you boast of evil, O mighty man?
The grace of God is all day long.
- 2 Your tongue contrives guile,
Like a sharp razor it works deceit.
- 3 You love the bad better than the good,
You would rather lie than tell the truth. Selah
- 4 You love destructive words, the deceitful tongue.
5 But God will crush you forever;
He will seize you and pluck you out of your tent,
And uproot you from the land of the living. Selah
- 6 The righteous will behold and be reverent;
But at him they will laugh, saying,
7 "See the man who would not make God his stronghold,
But trusted in the abundance of his riches, and was strong in his guile."
- 8 But I am like a green olive-tree in God's house.
I trust in the grace of God forever and ever.
- 9 I will praise thee forever because thou hast done it;
And in the presence of thy saints I will proclaim that thy name is good.

THE VINDICATION OF GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: UPON mahalath; A maskil OF DAVID]

- 53 The fool said in his heart: "There is no God."
They acted basely; they did abominable things.
There was none that did good.
- 2 God looked forth from the heavens upon the children of men,
To see if there were any that acted wisely,
That sought after God.
- 3 They had all gone astray and all of them had done wrong.
There was none that did good,
No, not even one!

- 4 "Do they know nothing, all the evildoers,
Who eat up my people as they eat bread,
But do not call upon God?"
- 5 There were they in great terror,
Where no terror had been.
For God scattered the bones of him who besieged you.
You brought them to shame, for God rejected them.
- 6 Oh, that the deliverance of Israel would come from Zion!
When God restores the fortune of his people,
Jacob shall exult; Israel shall rejoice.

THE TRIUMPH OF THE PIOUS

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: WITH STRINGED INSTRUMENTS. A maskil OF DAVID, WHEN THE ZIPHITES CAME AND SAID TO SAUL, "SURELY, DAVID IS IN HIDING WITH US"]

- 54 O God, deliver me by thy name,
And by thy power do me justice.
- 2 O God, hear my prayer;
Give heed to the words of my mouth!
- 3 For aliens have risen against me,
And men of violence seek my life.
They do not keep God before them. Selah
- 4 Behold, God is my helper;
The Lord is my supporter.
- 5 He will requite the evil to my foes;
In thy faithfulness, destroy them!
- 6 With enthusiasm I will sacrifice to thee.
I will praise thy name, O LORD, that it is good.
- 7 For he has delivered me from every trouble;
My eye has gloated over my foes.

A PROTEST TO GOD AGAINST THE WICKED

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: WITH STRINGED INSTRUMENTS. A maskil OF DAVID]

- 55 Hear my prayer, O God;
And do not hide thyself from my entreaty.
- 2 Give heed to me, and answer me!
I am burdened with my complaint, and I am distracted,
- 3 Because of the voice of the foe,
Because of the oppression of the wicked.

- For they bring trouble upon me,
And they attack me with fury.
4 My heart is in anguish within me,
And the terrors of death have fallen upon me.
5 Fear and trembling come upon me,
And shudders overwhelm me.
6 And I say, "Oh, that I had wings like a dove,
That I might fly away and dwell in peace!"
7 Lo, I would flee far away;
I would lodge in the wilderness.
8 I would haste to my shelter,
Faster than the stormy wind and the tempest.
9 Confuse, O Lord, and divide their tongues!
For I have seen violence and strife in the town;
10 Day and night they encircle her upon her walls,
And trouble and toil are within her;
11 Ruin is within her.
Oppression and fraud do not depart from her market-place.
12 For it is not an enemy who reviles me—so I could bear it;
Nor does he who hates me magnify himself against me—
So I could hide myself from him;
13 But you, my equal, my intimate friend.
14 We held sweet converse together;
We entered the house of God in the procession.
15 Destruction will come upon them!
They shall go down alive to Sheol!
For wickedness is in their habitation, within them.
16 But I shall call upon God,
And the LORD will deliver me.
17 Evening, morning, and at noon
I will sigh and moan; and he will hear my voice.
18 He will deliver me safely from my foes,
Though many there be against me.
19 God will hear me and answer them,
He who has been enthroned from of old,
With whom there is no change;
Yet they fear not God.
20 He put forth his hand with his allies,

SelahSelah

- But violated his treaty!
 21 His mouth was smoother than butter,
 While war was in his heart;
 Softer than oil were his words,
 But they were drawn swords.
- 22 Cast your burden upon the LORD,
 And he will sustain you.
 He will never let the righteous totter.
- 23 But thou, O God, wilt bring them down into the pit of destruction;
 Men of blood and fraud will not live out half their days.
 So I will trust in thee.

THE ALL-SUFFICIENT GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: ACCORDING TO THE DOVE OF DISTANT TEREBINTHS; A miktam OF DAVID, WHEN THE PHILISTINES SEIZED HIM IN GATH]

- 56 Pity me, O God, for man tramples upon me;
 All day long the adversary oppresses me;
 2 My foes are trampling upon me all day long.
 For many there be fighting against me.
 3 Far away is the day when I fear,
 For I trust in thee.
- 4 In God—I praise his word—
 In God I trust without fear.
 What can flesh do unto me?
- 5 All day long they trouble my affairs;
 All their purposes are against me for evil.
- 6 They make attacks, they lie in wait, they watch my steps,
 Inasmuch as they wait for my life.
- 7 For their crimes recompense them;
 In wrath cast down the peoples, O God!
- 8 My misery thou hast reckoned;
 Put thou my tears in thy bottle!
 Are they not in thy book?
- 9 Then my enemies will be turned backward,
 In the day when I call.
 This I know, that God is for me.
- 10 In God—I praise his word—

- In the LORD—I praise his word—
 11 In God I trust without fear.
 What can man do unto me?
- 12 Upon me, O God, are thy vows;
 I will fulfil them with praises to thee.
- 13 For thou hast rescued me from death;
 Hast thou not saved my feet from stumbling,
 So that I walk before God in the light of life?

TRUST IN THE MIDST OF TROUBLES

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: "DESTROY NOT." A miktam OF DAVID, WHEN HE FLED FROM SAUL INTO THE CAVE]

- 57 Have pity on me, O God; have pity on me;
 For in thee I am taking refuge;
 And in the shadow of thy wings I take refuge,
 Until ruin pass over.
- 2 I shall cry unto God, Most High,
 To the God who rewards me.
- 3 He will send forth from the heavens and deliver me.
 He will bring to shame him who tramples upon me. Selah
 God will send forth his grace and his faithfulness.
- 4 In the midst of lions that devour I must dwell,
 Men whose teeth are a spear and arrows,
 And their tongue a sharp sword.
- 5 Exalt thyself above the heavens, O God;
 Let thy glory be over all the earth.
- 6 They have spread a net for my footsteps;
 I am bowed down;
 They dug a pit before me;
 They fell into the midst of it. Selah
- 7 My heart is steadfast, O God,
 My heart is steadfast.
 I will play and sing.
- 8 Awake, my glory!
 Awake, lute and lyre!
 I will awaken the dawn!
- 9 I will praise thee among the peoples, O Lord;
 I will play to thee among the nations.

- 10 For thy grace is great unto the heavens,
And thy faithfulness unto the clouds.
11 Arise above the heavens, O God!
Let thy glory be over all the earth!

THE WICKED AND THEIR DESTRUCTION

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: "DO NOT DESTROY." A miktam OF DAVID]

- 58 Do you really speak what is right, O gods?
Do you judge mankind impartially?
2 Nay, but in the heart you work wickedness,
And on earth your hands weave violence.
3 The wicked go astray from the womb;
They wander from birth, speakers of lies.
4 Their venom is like a serpent's venom,
Like a deaf adder that stops its ear,
5 So that it hears not the voice of the charmer,
The most skilful weaver of spells.
6 O God, break their teeth in their mouth!
Knock out the fangs of the lions, O LORD!
7 May they disappear like water which runs off,
Like tender grass which wilts away,
8 Like the snail which passes away in slime;
Like the untimely birth of a woman, not seen by the sun.
9 Before your pots feel the thorns,
Whether green or burning, may he blow it away.
10 The righteous shall rejoice that he has seen vengeance;
He shall wash his footsteps in the blood of the wicked.
11 And men shall say, "There certainly is a reward for the righteous;
There certainly is a God who judges on earth."

A PRAYER FOR RESCUE FROM THE WICKED

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: "DO NOT DESTROY." A miktam OF DAVID, WHEN SAUL SENT FORTH AND THEY WATCHED THE HOUSE TO PUT HIM TO DEATH]

- 59 Rescue me from my enemies, O my God!
Protect me from those who rise up together against me.
2 Rescue me from malefactors,
And from bloodthirsty men deliver me.

- 3 For lo, they lie in wait for me,
Mighty men are making attack upon me,
Without transgression or sin of mine, O LORD;
4 For no guilt of mine, they run and get themselves ready.

Arise to meet me, and see!

- 5 Do thou, O LORD, God of Hosts, God of Israel,
Awake, to visit all the nations!
Have no pity upon any of the wicked deceivers.

Selah

- 6 They keep howling like dogs in the evening;
And they encircle the city.
7 Behold, they bark with their mouths;
Swords are in their lips;
But who hears them?

- 8 For thou, O LORD, dost laugh at them,
Thou dost hold all the nations in scorn.
9 My Strength, for thee do I watch;
For God is my fortress.

- 10 My God will let his grace go before me.
God will let me gloat over my foes.
11 Slay them not, lest my people forget.
Shake them by thy power, and bring them down,
O Lord, our shield.

- 12 By the sin of their mouth, the word of their lips,
May they be caught in their pride.
And for the curses and lies which they utter,
13 Destroy them in wrath, destroy them that they be no more,
That they may know that God is ruling in Jacob,
Unto the ends of the earth.

Selah

- 14 They keep howling like dogs in the evening,
And they encircle the city.
15 They wander about to devour;
If they are not satisfied, they grumble.
16 But I will sing of thy strength;
I will extol thy grace in the morning.
For thou hast been a fortress for me,

And a refuge in the day of my danger.

- 17 My Strength, I will sing praises unto thee;
For God is my fortress, my gracious God.

A PRAYER FOR DELIVERANCE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: UPON shushan eduth; A miktam OF DAVID, TO TEACH;
WHEN HE STROVE WITH ARAM OF THE TWO RIVERS AND ARAM-ZOBAB, AND JOAB RETURNED AND SMOTE OF EDOM IN THE VALLEY OF SALT TWELVE THOUSAND]

- 60 O God, thou hast spurned us, thou hast broken us;
Thou hast been angry, and hast turned against us.
2 Thou hast made the earth quake, thou hast rent it.
Heal its wounds; for it staggers.
3 Thou hast made thy people see hardship;
Thou hast made us drink intoxicating wine.
4 Thou hast given a standard to those who fear thee,
To which they may flee from before the bow, Selah
5 That thy loved ones may be rescued;
Give victory by thy right hand and answer us.
6 God has spoken in his sanctuary:
"I will exult; I will divide Shechem,
And measure off the valley of Succoth.
7 Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine,
And Ephraim is the defense of my head;
Judah is my scepter.
8 Moab is my washbowl;
Upon Edom I cast my sandal;
Over Philistia I raise the shout of victory.
9 Who will bring me to the fortified city?
Who will lead me to Edom?"
10 Hast not thou, O God, rejected us?
And thou goest not forth, O God, with our armies.
11 Give us aid against the foe,
For futile is the help of man.
12 Through God we shall do valiantly,
For he will tread down our foes.

A PRAYER OF ASSURANCE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: WITH STRINGED INSTRUMENTS. OF DAVID]

- 61 Hear my cry, O God!
Give ear to my prayer!
- 2 From the end of the earth I cry unto thee,
When my heart faints.
Upon a rock that is too high for me thou wilt set me.
- 3 For thou hast been my refuge,
A tower of strength against the foe.
- 4 Let me dwell in thy tent forever;
Let me find refuge in the covert of thy wings.
- 5 For thou, O God, hast heard my vows;
Thou hast granted the wish of those who fear thy name.
- 6 Thou wilt add days unto the king's days;
His years will be as generation on generation.
- 7 He will dwell forever before God.
Charge Grace and Fidelity that they protect him.
- 8 So shall I sing praises to thy name forever,
Fulfilling my vows day by day.

AN UNSHAKEN FAITH

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: UPON Jeduthun; A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 62 To God alone would I silently submit myself;
From him is my deliverance.
- 2 He only is my rock and my deliverance,
My fortress; I shall not be roughly shaken.
- 3 For how long will you set upon a man
That you may murder him, all of you,
Like a leaning fence, like a fallen wall?
- 4 From his height they plan but to hurl him down;
They delight in lies; with their mouths they bless,
But in their hearts they curse.
- 5 To God alone would I silently submit myself;
For from him is my hope.
- 6 He alone is my rock and my deliverance,
My fortress; I shall not be shaken.
- 7 Upon God rests my salvation and my glory;
My mighty rock, my refuge is in God.

Selah

- 8 Trust in him at all times, O people;
 Pour out your heart before him.
 God is our refuge. Selah
- 9 A mere illusion are the sons of Adam,
 The sons of men are untrustworthy;
 If put in scales they are lighter than a mere breath.
- 10 Trust not in oppression, and put no vain hope in robbery.
 If wealth increase, set not your heart upon it.
- 11 One thing has God said;
 Two things are those that I have heard:
 That power belongs to God;
- 12 And grace, O Lord, is thine;
 For thou dost requite a man according to his work.

FAITH AND FELLOWSHIP

[A PSALM OF DAVID, WHEN HE WAS IN THE WILDERNESS OF JUDAH]

- 63 O God, thou art my God; I seek for thee;
 My spirit thirsts for thee; my flesh yearns for thee,
 As in a dry and parched land where no water is;
- 2 So have I beheld thee in the sanctuary,
 While seeing thy power and thy glory.
- 3 Because thy grace is better than life,
 My lips do praise thee.
- 4 So shall I bless thee as long as I live;
 In thy name I shall raise my hands.
- 5 As with marrow and fatness my desire is satisfied,
 And my mouth praises thee with jubilant lips,
- 6 When I remember thee upon my couch,
 And meditate on thee in the night-watches.
- 7 For thou hast been my help;
 And in the shadow of thy wings I shout for joy.
- 8 I have clung close to thee,
 Thy right hand has sustained me.
- 9 And they who seek my life to destroy it,
 Shall go into the lowest depths of the earth;
- 10 They shall be given over to the edge of the sword;
 They shall become the portion of jackals.
- 11 But the king shall rejoice in God;

Everyone who swears by him shall sing praises;
For the mouth of liars shall be closed.

THE WAYS OF THE WICKED AND THE WAY OF GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 64 Hear my voice, O God, when I complain;
From terror of the foe, protect my life.
- 2 Hide me from the council of evildoers,
From the commotion of wrongdoers,
3 Who whet their tongue like a sword;
They fit their arrow, a bitter word,
4 To shoot, in concealment, at the innocent.
Suddenly, they shoot him and are not afraid.
5 They strengthen for themselves a wicked scheme;
They talk of laying snares secretly;
They say, "Who will see them?"
6 They search out wicked plans;
They conceal a well-devised device;
For the inner man and the heart are deep.
- 7 Then God shoots them with his arrow;
Suddenly their wounds are there;
8 And they cause their tongue to stumble for them.
All who look at them wag the head;
9 And all men fear,
And tell of the deed of God,
And understand his work.
- 10 The righteous rejoices in the LORD and takes refuge in him;
And all the upright in heart sing praises.

THE GOD OF THE UNIVERSE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID; A SONG]

- 65 Praise befits thee, O God, in Zion;
And unto thee is the vow fulfilled.
- 2 O thou that hearest prayer,
Unto thee do all flesh come.
- 3 If deeds of guilt are too strong for me,
Thou dost wipe out our transgressions.
- 4 How happy is he whom thou dost choose and permit to dwell in thy courts.

We are satisfied with the goodness of thy house,
 thy holy temple.
 5 Through terrible deeds thou dost answer us in vindication,
 O God of our deliverance,
 Thou confidence of all the ends of the earth,
 and the faraway islands.
 6 He who prepared the mountain by his strength is girded with power.
 7 O thou who dost assuage the roar of the seas,
 The roar of their waves and the uproar of peoples,
 8 Those who dwell in the far regions are afraid of thy tokens;
 Thou makest the dawn and the sunset to shout with joy.
 9 Thou visitest the land and makest it overflow;
 Thou greatly enrichest it.
 Through the brook of God, which is full of water,
 Thou preparest their grain; for thus dost thou prepare it:
 10 Thou dost saturate its furrows; thou dost settle its ridges;
 With showers thou dost soften it;
 Its young growth thou dost bless.
 11 Thou crownest the year with thy goodness,
 And thy paths drip fatness.
 12 The meadows of the plain drip,
 And the hills gird themselves with joy.
 13 The pastures are clothed with flocks;
 And the valleys are covered with grain;
 They shout for joy; indeed, they sing!

A HYMN OF GRATITUDE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A SONG, A PSALM]

66 Make a joyous shout to God, all the earth;
 2 Praise the glory of his name;
 Make his praise glorious!
 3 Say to God: "How awful is thy work!
 Because of thy great power thy foes fawn upon thee!
 4 All the earth worships thee,
 And sings praises to thee, singing the praises of thy name." Selah
 5 Come and see the works of God,
 Awful in deeds against mankind.

- 6 He changed the sea into dry land,
So they passed through the river on foot.
There we rejoiced in him.
- 7 He rules by his power forever;
His eyes watch over the nations.
Let not the adversaries exalt themselves.
- 8 Bless our God, O peoples;
And sound abroad the praise of him
- 9 Who has kept us among the living,
And has not suffered our feet to stumble.
- 10 For thou hast tested us, O God;
Thou hast refined us as silver is refined.
- 11 Thou didst bring us into the net;
Thou didst lay a heavy load upon our loins.
- 12 Thou didst let men ride over our heads;
We went through fire and water;
But thou hast brought us forth to a spacious place.
- 13 I will enter thy house with offerings,
I will fulfil to thee the vows
14 Which my lips have expressed,
And my mouth has spoken when I was in trouble.
- 15 Burnt-offerings of fatlings I will offer to thee,
Together with the savory smoke of rams.
I will prepare an ox and he-goats.
- 16 Come, listen, all you who revere God,
While I tell what he has done for me:
17 Unto him did I cry with my mouth,
And I was raised from under my foes.
- 18 Had I cherished deceit in my heart,
The Lord would not have heard.
- 19 But God did hear:
He gave heed to my prayerful voice.
- 20 Blessed be God,
Who did not reject my prayer,
Nor turn away his grace from me.

Selah

A PRAYER FOR GOD'S BLESSING

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: WITH STRINGED INSTRUMENTS; A PSALM, A SONG]

- 67 May God be merciful unto us and bless us,
 And cause his face to shine upon us! Selah
- 2 That thy way may be known in the earth,
 Thy salvation among all nations,
- 3 Let the peoples praise thee, O God,
 Let all the peoples praise thee.
- 4 Let the nations be glad and sing for joy,
 Because thou judgest the peoples justly,
 And ledest the nations in the earth. Selah
- 5 Let the peoples praise thee, O God;
 Let all the peoples praise thee!
- 6 Earth has yielded her increase.
 May God, our own God, bless us!
- 7 May God bless us;
 And may all the ends of the earth fear him!

THE MIGHT AND GLORY OF GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF DAVID; A PSALM, A SONG]

- 68 Let God arise! Let his foes be scattered!
 And let those that hate him flee before him!
- 2 As smoke is driven away by the wind,
 As wax melts before the fire,
 So do the wicked perish from before God.
- 3 But the righteous rejoice;
 They exult before God;
 And they are jubilant with joy.
- 4 Sing unto God; praise his name!
 Extol him who rides upon the storm-clouds,
 Whose name is Yah, and exult before him!
- 5 A father to the fatherless and the judge of widows
 Is God in his holy dwelling.
- 6 God brings home the desolate;
 He leads prisoners forth into prosperity.
 Only the rebellious dwell in a parched land.

- 7 O God, when thou didst go forth before thy people,
When thou didst march through the desert, Selah
- 8 The earth quaked, the heavens also poured down at the presence of God;
Even yon Sinai, at the presence of God, Israel's God.
- 9 A copious rain didst thou pour down, O God;
Thy exhausted and worn-out land thou didst re-establish.
- 10 Thy flock dwelt therein.
Thou didst prepare it in thy goodness for the poor, O God.
- 11 The Lord gave the command:
The messengers were a great host.
- 12 Kings of hosts fled, they fled!
The women divided the spoil:
- 13 (Did you lie among the sheepfolds?)
The wings of a dove covered with silver,
And its pinions with glittering gold.
- 14 When the Almighty made kings fly therein,
It was snowing in Zalmon.
- 15 O mighty mountain, O Mount Bashan;
O many-peaked mountain, O Mount Bashan;
- 16 Why, O many-peaked mountains, do you envy
The mountain that God has desired for his abode?
Yet the LORD will dwell there forever.
- 17 The chariots of God are myriads, thousands upon thousands.
The Lord came from Sinai into the sanctuary.
- 18 Thou hast ascended on high; thou hast carried away captives;
Thou hast taken tribute of men,
And, indeed, rebels, that the LORD God may dwell there.
- 19 Blessed be the Lord, who daily bears our burden; Selah
The God who is our salvation;
- 20 The God who is our saving God;
And unto GOD, the Lord, belong the exits to death.
- 21 God will surely crush the head of his foes,
The skull of Seir who goes on in his guilt.
- 22 The Lord said, "I will bring them back from Bashan,
I will bring them back from the depths of the sea;
- 23 That your foot may bathe in blood,
And the tongue of your dogs have its share of your foes."

- 24 Thy processions are seen, O God,
The processions of my God, my King, in the sanctuary.
- 25 Singers lead; at the rear, the stringed instruments;
In the middle, maidens playing timbrels.
- 26 In choirs, they bless God,
The Lord, those from Israel's fountain.
- 27 There is Benjamin, the youngest, ruling them;
The princes of Judah in a throng,
The princes of Zebulon, and the princes of Naphtali.
- 28 Command thy strength, O God;
Be strong, O God, thou who hast wrought for us.
- 29 From thy temple, for Jerusalem,
When kings bring gifts to thee,
30 Threaten the beasts bearing cane,
The herd of bulls, with calves of the peoples.
Let thyself down among those who rejoice in thy threshold;
Scatter the peoples that delight in wars.
- 31 Let envoys come from Egypt;
Let Ethiopia eagerly stretch forth her hands to God.
- 32 Sing to God, O kingdoms of the earth.
Make music to the Lord,
- Selah
- 33 To him who rides upon the most ancient heavens.
Lo, he utters his voice, a mighty voice!
- 34 Ascribe power unto God!
Over Israel is his majesty,
And his power is in the clouds.
- 35 Terrible art thou, O God, from thy sanctuary.
Unto Israel he gives power,
And strength to the people.
Blessed be God!

AN IMPRECATORY PSALM

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: UPON LILIES; OF DAVID]

- 69 Save me, O God,
For the water mounts to my chin,
2 I am sunk in deep mire,
where there is no foothold.
- 3 I have got into deep water,
and the flood overwhelms me.

- 4 I am worn out by my crying, my throat is parched.
My eyes fail with waiting for my God.
- 5 More numerous than the hairs of my head
are they that hate me without cause.
Many are they that would destroy me,
my enemies wrongfully.
What I did not steal, forsooth, I must restore!
- 6 O God, thou knowest my foolishness;
And my guilt is not hidden from thee!
- 7 May they who hope in thee not be put to shame through me,
O Lord, GOD of hosts.
May they who seek thee not be brought to disgrace through me,
O God of Israel.
- 8 For because of thee I bear reproach,
Dishonor covers my face.
- 9 I have become a stranger to my brothers,
An alien to my mother's sons.
- 10 For zeal for thy house has eaten me up;
And the abuse of them that abuse thee has fallen on me.
- 11 When I afflict myself by fasting,
It becomes my reproach.
- 12 If I assume sackcloth as my clothing,
I become a joke to them.
- 13 They who sit in the gate talk of me;
And I have become the song of the drunkards.
- 14 But my prayer unto thee, O LORD, is for an acceptable time;
O God, in thy plenteous grace,
Answer me with thy saving faithfulness.
- 15 Rescue me from the mire that I sink not;
Let me be delivered from my enemies and from the deep water;
- 16 Let not the flood of water overwhelm me;
Let not the depths swallow me up;
And let not the pit close its mouth upon me.
- 17 Answer me, O LORD, for thy grace is good;
In accordance with thy plenteous mercy turn to me!
- 18 And do not hide thy face from thy servant,

- For I am in trouble; answer me quickly!
19 Fight for me and deliver me;
Because of my enemies, release me.
- 20 Thou knowest my abuse,
And my shame and disgrace;
All my foes are before thee.
- 21 Abuse breaks my heart and I am sick;
And I look for sympathy, but there is none;
And for comforters, but I find none.
- 22 And they put poison in my food,
And give me vinegar to drink for my thirst.
- 23 May their table become a snare before them,
And their peace-offerings a trap.
- 24 May their eyes be so darkened that they cannot see,
And make their loins tremble constantly.
- 25 Pour out upon them thy wrath,
And let thy hot anger overtake them.
- 26 May their encampment be a waste;
In their tents may there be no inhabitant.
- 27 For him whom thou hast smitten they persecute,
And unto the pain of thy victims they add.
- 28 Add guilt to their guilt,
And let them not enter into thy justification.
- 29 May they be blotted out from the book of life,
And not be inscribed among the righteous.
- 30 But as for me, though afflicted and in pain,
Thy salvation, O God, will set me on high.
- 31 I will praise the name of God in song,
And I will magnify him with thanksgiving;
32 And that will please the LORD more than an ox,
Or a bullock with horns and hoofs.
- 33 Behold, O you humble, and be glad!
O you who seek God, let your heart revive!
34 For the LORD listens to the needy,
And does not despise his prisoners.
- 35 The heavens and the earth will praise him,

- The sea and all that stirs therein;
 16 Because God delivers Zion,
 And rebuilds the cities of Judah;
 So that they dwell there and take possession;
 17 And the descendants of his servants inherit it,
 And those loving his name shall dwell therein.

A PRAYER FOR THE HELP OF GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF DAVID; TO MAKE A MEMORIAL]

- 70 Be pleased, O God, to rescue me!
 Hasten to my help, O LORD!
 2 May they be put to shame and disgraced who seek my life!
 May they be driven back and routed who wish me evil!
 3 May they be appalled because of their shame,
 Who say, "Aha! Aha!"
 4 May they rejoice and be glad in thee,
 all who seek thee!
 And may they constantly say, "Great is God,"
 who love thy deliverance.
 5 But I am afflicted and needy;
 O God, hasten to me!
 Thou art my help and my deliverer;
 O LORD, do not tarry!

A PRAYER FOR AID AGAINST THE FOE

- 71 In thee, O LORD, have I found refuge;
 May I never be put to shame!
 2 In thy righteousness, rescue me and deliver me!
 Incline thy ear unto me and save me!
 3 Become unto me a rock of refuge,
 To which I may always resort.
 Thou hast given command to save me;
 For thou art my rock and my fortress.
 4 O my God, deliver me from the hand of the wicked,
 From the fist of the evildoer and the violent!
 5 For thou hast been my hope, O Lord God,
 my confidence from my youth:
 6 Upon thee have I leaned from birth;

- From my mother's womb thou hast been my stay.
In thee is my hope continually.
- 7 Like a portent have I been to many;
But thou art my strong refuge.
- 8 My mouth is filled with thy praise
And thy beauty all day long.
- 9 Do not cast me off in my old age;
When my strength fails, do not forsake me!
- 10 For my foes say concerning me,
And those who watch for my life make plans also,
- 11 Saying, "God has abandoned him.
Pursue and seize him; for there is no one to rescue him."
- 12 O God, be not far from me!
Hasten, O my God, to my help!
- 13 May they be put to shame and destroyed who are hostile to me;
May they be covered with abuse and shame who seek to injure me.
- 14 But I will hope continually,
And will add more to all thy praise.
- 15 My mouth will relate thy righteousness,
And thy deeds of deliverance all day long;
For were I skilled in writing,
- 16 And should I reach an advanced age, O Lord God,
I could record thy righteousness only.
- 17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth until now;
I declare thy wonders.
- 18 Even up to old age and grey hairs do not forsake me, O God;
So that I may tell of thy mighty arm to the generations,
To all that are to come.
- 19 Thy power and thy righteousness
Extend, O God, unto the high heavens.
Thou who hast done great things,
O God, who is like thee?
- 20 O thou who hast made us see many dangers and disasters,
Do thou quicken us again,
And from the depths of the earth bring us up again.

- 21 Do thou increase my greatness,
And turn and comfort me!
- 22 I also will praise thee with the lyre,
I will chant thy faithfulness, O my God, with the harp,
O thou holy one of Israel.
- 23 My lips shall joyfully shout when I make music unto thee,
And my life which thou hast redeemed.
- 24 My tongue, too, shall tell of thy righteousness all day long;
For they shall be put to shame, they shall be disgraced, who sought to do me harm.

LONG LIVE THE KING!

[OF SOLOMON]

- 72 Give the king thy justice, O God,
And thy righteousness to the king's son,
2 That he may judge thy people with right,
And thine afflicted with justice!
- 3 May the mountains bring the people peace,
And the hills righteousness!
- 4 May he judge the afflicted of the people,
And give deliverance to the poor,
And crush the oppressor!
- 5 May he live as long as the sun,
And as long as the moon, for one generation after another!
- 6 May he descend like rain upon the mown grass,
Like showers that water the earth.
- 7 May the righteous flourish in his days,
And may peace abound, till the moon be no more!
- 8 May he rule from sea to sea,
And from the river to the ends of the earth!
- 9 Before him may foes bend low,
And his enemies lick the dust!
- 10 May the kings of Tarshish and the isles
return tribute,
The kings of Sheba and Seba
bring gifts!

- 11 And may all kings do obeisance to him,
All nations serve him!
- 12 For he rescues the needy when he calls for help,
And the afflicted who has no helper.
- 13 He takes pity upon the poor and needy,
And saves the life of the poor.
- 14 From oppression and violence he ransoms them;
And precious is their blood in his eyes.
- 15 So, may he live and be given of the gold of Sheba;
And may men pray for him constantly;
All day long may they bless him!
- 16 May there be abundance of grain in the land;
On mountain tops may its fruit shake like Lebanon;
And may those from the cities blossom like the grass of the earth!
- 17 May his name endure forever!
As long as the sun may his name abide!
May men bless themselves in him!
May all nations call him blessed!
- 18 Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel,
Who alone does great wonders!
And blessed be his glorious name forever!
And may the whole earth be filled with his glory!
Amen and amen!
The prayers of David, the son of Jesse, are ended.

BOOK III, PSS. 73-89

FELLOWSHIP WITH GOD

[A PSALM OF ASAHI]

- 73 Surely, God is good to Israel,
To those who are pure in heart.
- 2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone,
My steps had well-nigh slipped.
- 3 For I was incensed at fools,
As I saw the prosperity of the wicked.
- 4 For they have no pangs;
Sound and healthy is their body.

- 5 In trouble, like other men, they are not;
Nor are they plagued like others.
- 6 Hence pride is their necklace;
A robe of violence covers them.
- 7 Their eye goes forth beyond the best,
They transcend the imaginations of the heart.
- 8 They mock and speak in wickedness;
Oppression from on high they speak.
- 9 They have set their mouth in the heavens,
And their tongue ranges the earth.
- 10 Therefore the people turn to them,
And find no fault in them.
- 11 And they say, "How can God know?
And is there knowledge in the Most High?"
- 12 Lo, such are the wicked!
And in perpetual ease they amass wealth.
- 13 All to no purpose have I kept my heart pure,
And washed my hands in innocence.
- 14 For I have been smitten all day long,
And chastened every morning.
- 15 If I had said, "I will speak thus,"
I should have, indeed, betrayed the generation of thy children.
- 16 But when I thought in order to understand this,
It was in my sight a troublesome task,
- 17 Until I came into the sanctuary of God;
Then I perceived their future lot.
- 18 Surely thou settest them in slippery places;
Thou dost hurl them down to ruin.
- 19 How they become a desolation as in a moment,
Are swept away, are destroyed through horrors!
- 20 As a dream when one awakes, O Lord,
So, when thou dost bestir thyself, thou wilt set at nought their fancies.
- 21 When my heart was stirred up,
And my feelings were aroused,

- 22 Then I was stupid and knew nothing;
A brute was I toward thee!
- 23 Yet I am always with thee;
Thou holdest my right hand.
- 24 By thy counsel thou leadest me;
And by the hand thou dost take me after thee.
- 25 Whom have I in the heavens but thee?
And having thee, I wish nought else on earth.
- 26 My flesh and my heart fail;
But my heart's rock and my portion is God forever.
- 27 For lo, those far from thee will perish.
Thou destroyest all that are unfaithful to thee.
- 28 But as for me, the nearness of God is my good;
I put my reliance upon the Lord God;
That I may recount all thy wonders.

AN APPEAL TO GOD AGAINST VANDALS

[A maskil OF ASAPH]

- 74 Wherefore, O God, hast thou cast us off forever?
Wherefore does thy anger smoke against the flock of thy pasture?
- 2 Remember thy community which thou didst obtain of old,
Which thou didst redeem as the tribe of thy inheritance,
Mount Zion wherein thou hast dwelt.
- 3 Lift up thy footsteps unto the perpetual ruins.
The enemy has destroyed everything in the sanctuary.
- 4 Thy foes roar in the midst of thy assembly.
They set up their own signs as signs.
- 5 Let it be known; in the passage upward,
The wooden trellis work with axes,
6 And now its carvings also,
With hatchet and adzes they smash.
- 7 They have set thy sanctuary on fire;
They have defiled to the ground the dwelling-place of thy name.
- 8 They said in their heart, "We will Hellenize them also."
They burned all the synagogues of God in the land.

- 9 Our signs we did not see.
There was no longer a prophet.
There was nobody among us that knew how long.
- 10 How long, O God, shall the foe blaspheme?
Shall the enemy revile thy name forever?
- 11 Wherefore dost thou withdraw thy hand,
And restrain thy right hand within thy bosom?
- 12 God is my king from of old,
Who wrought victory in the midst of the earth.
- 13 Through thy power thou didst divide the sea;
Thou didst crush the heads of the dragons upon the waters.
- 14 Thou didst shatter the heads of Leviathan;
Thou didst give him as food to the beasts of the desert.
- 15 Thou didst cleave out fountain and brook;
Thou didst dry up unfailing rivers.
- 16 Day and night are both thine.
Thou didst establish sun and moon.
- 17 Thou didst fix all the bounds of the earth.
Thou didst make both summer and winter.
- 18 Recall this: the enemy blasphemed the LORD,
And a reprobate people reviled thy name.
- 19 Do not give to the wild beasts the life of thy turtle-dove.
Do not forget the life of thy afflicted one forever.
- 20 Have regard to the covenant;
For the dark places of the land are full of the habitations of violence.
- 21 Let not the crushed be again put to shame.
May the poor and the needy praise thy name!
- 22 Arise, O God; plead thine own cause;
Remember thy reproach from the reprobate all the day long.
- 23 Do not forget the voice of thy foes,
The uproar of thy adversaries which continually ascends.

GOD AS JUDGE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: "DO NOT DESTROY." A PSALM OF ASAPH, A SONG]

- 75 We give thanks to thee, O God; we give thanks.
And they who call upon thy name recount thy wonders.

2 "When I take the appointed time,
I shall judge with equity.
3 The earth with all its inhabitants will melt away.
It was I who established its pillars.

Selah

4 "I say to the boasters, 'Do not boast';
And to the wicked, 'Do not lift up the horn;
5 Do not lift up your horn on high,
Nor speak with an insolent neck.' "

6 For not from the East, nor from the West,
Nor yet from the steppe nor from the mountains—
7 But God is the judge!
He humbles one and exalts another.

8 For the cup is in the hand of the LORD,
With foaming wine, thoroughly mixed;
And he pours out to one and another.
Surely all the wicked of the earth
Must drink and drain its dregs.

9 But I will forever rejoice,
And sing the praise of the God of Jacob.
10 For all the horns of the wicked he will break off,
That the horns of the righteous may be exalted.

THE TERRIBLE ONE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: WITH STRINGED INSTRUMENTS. A PSALM OF ASAPH, A SONG]

76 In Judah is God known,
His name is great in Israel.
2 And his tent is in Salem,
His dwelling in Zion.
3 There did he break the fiery shafts of the bow,
Shield, and sword, and battle.
4 Terrible art thou, mightier than a devouring lion;
5 Devastated are the stout-hearted,
They sleep their sleep.
And none of the men of war have found their hands.
6 At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob,
Chariots and horsemen are sunk in deep sleep.

Selah

- 7 Thou thyself art terrible;
And who can stand before thee, because of the intensity of thy anger?
- 8 From the heavens thou didst pronounce sentence;
Earth feared and was still,
- 9 When God arose to judgment,
To save all the humble of the earth. Selah
- 10 Surely, the most violent of men will give thanks to thee,
The most persistently violent will put on sackcloth.
- 11 Make vows and pay them to the LORD, your God.
Let all who are around him bring gifts to him that is terrible.
- 12 He cuts off the breath of princes;
He is terrible to the kings of the earth.

THE MIGHTY GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: UPON Jeduthun. A PSALM OF ASAPH]

- 77 I will raise my voice to God and cry aloud;
I will raise my voice to God, that he may hear me.
- 2 In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord.
My hand was stretched out by night without ceasing;
My mind refused consolation.
- 3 When I recall this, O God, I groan;
When I ponder upon it, my spirit faints. Selah
- 4 Thou holdest the lids of my eyes;
I am restless and cannot speak.
- 5 I have thought upon the days of old,
The years of ancient times.
- 6 By night I recall my song,
I commune with my heart and search my spirit:
- 7 "Will the Lord cast us off forever,
And never again be gracious?
8 Is his grace at an end forever?
Has his word ceased for all generations?
9 Has God forgotten how to be gracious?
Or has he shut up his mercy in anger?" Selah
- 10 Then I say, "This is my disaster:
That the right hand of the Most High has changed."

- 11 I will recall the words of the LORD;
I will remember thy wonders of old;
12 And I will ponder upon all thy work,
And meditate upon thy doings.
- 13 O God, thy way is in holiness.
What deity is as great as God?
14 Thou art the God that does wonders.
Thou hast made thy strength known among the peoples.
15 Thou didst by thy power redeem thy people,
The sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah
- 16 The waters saw thee, O God;
The waters saw thee; they suffered pangs;
The very deeps were convulsed.
17 The clouds poured down water;
The skies gave forth their voice;
Thy arrows flashed hither and thither.
- 18 The sound of thy thunder was in the cyclone;
Lightning lit up the world.
The land trembled and quaked.
19 Thy way was in the sea,
And thy path on the great waters;
But thy footsteps were not traced.
20 Thou didst lead thy people like a flock,
By the hand of Moses and Aaron.

A RELIGIOUS BALLAD

[A maskil OF ASAPH]

- 78 Hearken, my people, to my teaching;
Bend your ear to the words of my mouth!
2 I will open my mouth in a parable;
I will utter riddles from of old,
3 What we have heard and known,
And our fathers told us.
- 4 We will not conceal it from their children,
Telling to the coming generation the praises of the LORD,
And his might and his wonders which he wrought,
5 When he established a decree in Jacob,
And gave Israel a law,

- Which he commanded our fathers
To teach unto their children,
6 That the coming generation should know,
That children yet unborn should arise,
And tell to their children,
7 That they should set their trust in God,
And not forget the works of God;
But keep his commandments,
8 And not be like their fathers,
A stubborn and rebellious generation,
A generation that did not set its heart aright;
Nor was its spirit loyal to God.
- 9 The Ephraimites—archers, equipped with the bow—
Turned back in the day of battle.
10 They did not keep the covenant of God,
And refused to walk in accordance with his law;
11 But forgot his works,
And his wonders which he had showed them.
12 Before their fathers he did wonders
In the land of Egypt, on the fields of Zoan.
13 He cleft the sea and led them through,
And made the waters stand like a wall.
14 And he led them with a cloud by day,
And all night through by the light of a fire.
15 He split rocks in the desert,
And gave them drink abundantly as from the great depths
16 And he brought forth streams from the rock,
And made water run down like rivers.
- 17 But they sinned still more against him,
Rebelling in the desert against the Most High.
18 Then they tried God in their hearts,
By demanding food according to their desire.
19 And they spoke against God and said,
“Can God spread a table in the desert?
20 He did, indeed, smite the rock, so that the water flowed,
And streams poured forth;
Can he also give bread,
Or provide meat for his people?”

- 21 Therefore the LORD heard and became angry,
And fire blazed forth against Jacob,
And wrath mounted against Israel;
22 Because they did not believe in God,
And put no confidence in his deliverance.
- 23 So he commanded the skies from above,
And opened the doors of the heavens;
24 And he rained manna upon them for food,
And gave them of the grain of the heavens.
25 The bread of the mighty did a man eat;
Provisions he furnished them in abundance,
26 He let loose the east wind in the heavens;
And in his might he guided the south wind;
27 And he rained flesh upon them like dust,
And winged birds like the sand of the seas.
28 And he let them fall in the midst of their camp,
Round about their dwellings.
29 So they did eat and were completely satisfied;
He brought them their desire.
30 They were not yet tired of their craving,
Their food was yet in their mouths,
31 When the anger of God mounted against them,
And he slew the stoutest among them,
And laid low the choicest in Israel.
- 32 Notwithstanding all this, they sinned still more,
And believed not in his wondrous works,
33 So he brought their days to an end in a breath,
And their years in sudden ruin.
34 When he smote them, then they sought him,
And again they inquired of God.
35 And they remembered that God was their rock,
And that the most high God was their avenger.
36 So they beguiled him with their mouth,
And lied to him with their tongue;
37 But their heart was not steadfast with him,
Nor were they loyal to his covenant.
38 But he is merciful.
He pardons guilt and does not destroy.

And frequently he restrains his anger,
And does not arouse all his rage.

- 39 So he remembered that they were flesh,
A breath that passes and does not come back.
- 40 How often did they oppose him in the wilderness,
And grieve him in the desert!
- 41 They tried God again and again,
And vexed the holy one of Israel.
- 42 They did not remember his power:
The day that he delivered them from the foe;
- 43 How he set his wonders in Egypt,
And his portents in the fields of Zoan;
- 44 And turned their rivers to blood,
So that they could not drink of their streams!
- 45 How he sent forth among them swarms of insects and devoured
them,
And frogs, which destroyed them;
- 46 And how he gave their increase to the caterpillar,
And the fruit of their labor to the locust;
- 47 How he destroyed their vines with hailstones,
And their sycamore trees with frost;
- 48 And he gave their cattle over to the plague,
And their flocks to the pestilence.
- 49 He sent upon them his hot anger,
Wrath and fury and trouble,
An embassy of messengers of woe.
- 50 He made a smooth path for his anger,
He did not restrain them from death,
But handed over their life to the plague.
- 51 He smote all the first-born in Egypt,
The first-fruits of virile strength in the tents of Ham;
- 52 And he sent forth his people like a flock,
Guided them like a herd in the wilderness,
And led them safely so that they were not afraid;
But their foes the sea did overwhelm.
- 53 So he brought them to his holy region,
To this mountain which his right hand had won.
- 54 And he drove out the nations from before them,

And distributed them as a possession,
And gave the tribes of Israel dwellings in their tents.

56 But they tried and vexed God, the Most High,
And did not keep his injunctions.
57 And they turned back and were faithless like their fathers;
They turned around like a treacherous bow.
58 They provoked him with their sanctuaries;
And with their idols, they aroused his hot wrath.
59 God heard and became furious,
And utterly rejected Israel,
60 And spurned the sanctuary at Shiloh,
The tent which he had occupied among men.
61 He surrendered his strength to captivity,
And his splendor into the hand of the foe.
62 He delivered his people to the sword,
And raged against his heritage.
63 Fire devoured his youths,
And his maidens had no wedding songs.
64 His priests fell by the sword,
And his widows could not weep.

65 Then the Lord awoke like one asleep,
Like a strong man overcome of wine.
66 And he smote his foes backward,
And he inflicted upon them a perpetual disgrace.
67 He rejected the house of Joseph,
And chose not the tribe of Ephraim.
68 But he chose the tribe of Judah,
Mount Zion, which he loved.
69 He built his sanctuary like the heights,
Like the earth which he has founded forever.
70 He chose David, his servant,
And took him from the sheepfolds.
71 From behind the ewes he brought him,
To be the shepherd of Jacob, his people,
And Israel, his heritage.
72 He tended them in accordance with the integrity of his heart,
And by the skill of his hands he led them.

A PRAYER FOR VENGEANCE

[A PSALM OF ASAPH]

- 79 O God, the nations have come into thy inheritance;
They have defiled thy holy temple;
They have laid Jerusalem in ruins.
- 2 They have given the corpses of thy servants
As food to the fowl of the heavens;
The flesh of thy saints to the beasts of the land.
- 3 They have poured out their blood like water
Round about Jerusalem, and there is none to bury them.
- 4 We are become a taunt for our neighbors,
Derision and mockery for those around us.
- 5 How long, O LORD? Wilt thou be angry forever?
Will thy jealousy burn like fire?
- 6 Pour out thy wrath upon the nations who do not acknowledge thee,
And upon the kingdoms that do not invoke thy name;
- 7 For they have devoured Jacob,
And have laid waste his habitation.
- 8 Do not remember against us our early sins;
May thy mercies quickly meet us,
For we are brought very low.
- 9 Help us, O God of our salvation,
Because of the glory of thy name;
And deliver us and forgive our sins for thy name's sake.
- 10 Wherefore should the nations say, "Where is their God?"
May there be known among the nations, in our sight,
Vengeance for the blood of thy servants that has been shed!
- 11 May the groan of the prisoner come before thee!
According to thy great power make those doomed to death survive;
- 12 And requite to our neighbors, seven fold into their bosom,
The reproach wherewith they reproached thee, O Lord.
- 13 Then we, thy people, and the flock of thy pasture,
Will praise thee forever;
To all generations we will recount thy praise.

A PRAYER FOR RESTORATION

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: TO THE LILIES; A TESTIMONY OF ASAPH; A PSALM]

- 80 O Shepherd of Israel, give ear;
 Thou that ledest Joseph like a flock,
 Thou that art seated upon the cherubs, shine forth.
 2 Before Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh,
 Stir up thy might,
 And come to our deliverance.
- 3 O God, restore us;
 And let thy face shine, that we may be delivered.
- 4 O LORD, God of hosts,
 How long thou hast been enraged at the prayer of thy people!
 5 Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears.
 Thou hast made them drink tears beyond reason.
 6 Thou dost make us a butt for our neighbors,
 And our foes make mock of us.
- 7 O God of hosts, restore us;
 And let thy face shine that we may be delivered.
- 8 Thou didst remove a vine from Egypt;
 Thou didst expel the nations and replant it;
 9 Thou didst smooth the way for it,
 So that it struck root and filled the land.
 10 The mountains were covered with its shade,
 And the cedars of God with its branches.
 11 It sent forth its boughs to the sea,
 And its tendrils to the river.
- 12 Why, then, hast thou broken down its walls,
 So that all who pass by pluck its fruit?
 13 The wild boar devours it,
 And the beasts of the field feed upon it.
- 14 O God of hosts, restore us;
 And let thy face shine that we may be delivered.
- 15 Look forth from the heavens and see,
 And watch over this vine,
 16 And the garden which thy right hand planted,
 And the son thou didst raise up for thyself.
 17 It is burned with fire; it is cut down.

- May they perish at the rebuke of thy presence.
 18 May thy hand be over the man,
 Thy right hand over the man whom thou didst raise up for thyself!
 19 He has not turned back from thee.
 Revive us, and upon thy name we will call.
 O LORD, God of hosts, restore us!
 Let thy face shine upon us that we may be delivered!

AN APPEAL TO EXPERIENCE

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: ON Gittith; OF ASAPH]

- 81 Sing joyously of God our strength;
 Shout aloud of Jacob's God.
 2 Raise the chant and beat the drum,
 Both the sweet harp and the lute.
 3 Blow the trumpet at the new moon,
 At the full moon on our festal day.
 4 For it is a statute in Israel,
 An ordinance of Jacob's God.
 5 He made it a law in Joseph,
 When he went forth against the land of Egypt.
 I heard an unknown tongue saying,
 6 "I removed the burden from upon his shoulder;
 His hands were freed from the heavy basket.
 7 In trouble you called and I rescued you.
 I answered you in the secret place of thunder.
 I tested you by the waters of Meribah. Selah
- 8 "Listen, O my people, while I warn you;
 If you would but listen to me, O Israel!
 9 There would be no strange god among you;
 Nor would you bow down to a foreign god.
 10 I, the LORD, am your God;
 He who brought you up from the land of Egypt.
 Open wide your mouth that I may fill it.
 11 But my people did not listen to my voice.
 Israel would have none of me.
- 12 "So I gave them over to their own self-will,
 That they might follow their own devices.

- 13 If my people would but listen to me,
 If Israel would only walk in my ways,
 14 I would quickly humble their foes,
 And turn my hand against their enemies.
 15 Those who hate the LORD would fawn upon him,
 And terror would be upon them forever;
 16 But he would be fed with the finest of the wheat,
 And with honey from the rock would I satisfy you."

A HOMILY FOR "DIVINE" RULERS

[A PSALM OF ASAPH]

- 82 God takes his stand in the divine assembly;
 In the midst of the gods he gives judgment.

2 "How long will you judge unjustly,
 And show partiality toward the wicked?

Selah

- 3 "Give justice to the weak and the fatherless;
 Do right by the afflicted and wretched;
 4 Set free the weak and needy;
 Rescue them from the hand of the wicked."

- 5 They have neither knowledge nor sense;
 They wander about in darkness;
 All the foundations of the earth shake.

- 6 I say, "You are gods,
 And all of you sons of the Most High!
 7 Yet you will die as men do,
 And fall like any prince."

- 8 Arise, O God, judge the earth!
 For thou wilt take possession of all the nations.

A PRAYER FOR THE OVERTHROW OF NATIONS

[A SONG. A PSALM OF ASAPH]

- 83 Keep not silence, O God;
 Be not still; and be not quiet, O God!
 2 For lo! thine enemies roar,
 And those who hate thee carry a high head.
 3 Against thy people they make crafty plans,
 And take counsel together against thy hidden ones.

- 4 They say, "Come and let us destroy them that they be no more a people,
And that the name Israel be remembered no more."
- 5 For they conspire with one mind;
Against thee do they make an alliance,
- 6 The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites,
Moab and the Hagarenes,
- 7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek,
Philistia, with the inhabitants of Tyre;
- 8 Assyria also is leagued with them;
They are the strength of the children of Lot. Selah
- 9 Deal with them as with Midian,
As with Sisera and Jabin by the brook Kishon,
10 Who were destroyed at Endor;
They became dung for the ground.
- 11 Make their chieftains like Oreb and Zeeb,
All their princes like Zebah and Zalmunnah,
12 Who said, "We will seize for ourselves
The very finest meadows."
- 13 My God, make them like a tumbleweed,
Like chaff before the wind.
- 14 Like a fire that burns up a wood,
And like the flame that sets mountains afire;
15 So do thou pursue them with thy tempest,
And terrify them with thy hurricane.
- 16 Fill their faces with shame,
That they may seek thy name, O LORD!
- 17 Let them be disgraced and terrified forever,
And may they be put to shame and perish;
- 18 That they may know that it is thou alone whose name is the
LORD,
That art Most High over all the earth.

THE JOY OF THE GODLY

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: ON Gittith; OF THE SONS OF KORAH; A PSALM]

- 84 How lovely is thy dwelling-place, O LORD of hosts!
2 My spirit longs and pines
for the courts of the LORD.

My heart and my flesh give a shout of joy
for the living God!

- 3 Even the wren has found a house,
And the swallow a nest for herself,
Where she may put her young,
Thy altars, O LORD of hosts,
My king, and my God.
- 4 How happy are those who dwell in thy house,
Ever praising thee!
- 5 How happy the man whose strength is in thee!
The highways are in their minds!
- 6 Those who pass through the valley of Baca
Make it a region of springs;
The early rain covers it with blessings.
- 7 They go from strength to strength.
The God of gods is seen in Zion.
- 8 O LORD, God of hosts, hear my prayer;
Give heed, O God of Jacob!
- 9 O God, our shield, behold
And look upon the face of thy anointed!
- 10 For better is one day in thy courts than a thousand elsewhere;
I would rather stand outside the door of the house of my God
Than dwell in the tents of wickedness.
- 11 For the LORD God is a sun and shield.
Favor and honor the LORD bestows;
He does not withhold prosperity from them that walk in integrity.
- 12 O LORD of hosts,
How happy the man who trusts in thee!

A PLEA FOR GOD'S PARDON

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF THE SONS OF KORAH; A PSALM]

- 85 Thou wast favorable to thy land, O LORD;
Thou didst restore the fortune of Jacob;
- 2 Thou didst pardon the guilt of thy people;
Thou didst cover up all their sin.

Selah

- 3 Thou didst withdraw all thy wrath;
Thou didst turn away from thy hot anger.
- 4 Restore us, O God of our deliverance,
And break off thy vexation against us!
- 5 Wilt thou be angry with us forever?
Wilt thou prolong thy anger for generations?
- 6 Wilt thou not revive us again,
That thy people may rejoice in thee?
- 7 Show us thy grace, O LORD;
And grant us thy salvation.
- 8 I would hear what God the LORD will speak.
Surely he will speak prosperity unto his people and his saints,
And those who turn their hearts to him.
- 9 For his salvation is close to them that fear him,
That honor may dwell in our land.
- 10 Grace and Fidelity are met together;
Righteousness and Peace have kissed each other.
- 11 Fidelity springs up from the earth,
And Righteousness looks forth from the heavens.
- 12 The LORD will give prosperity,
And our land will yield its increase.
- 13 Righteousness will go before it,
And mark the way with its footsteps.

A PLEA FOR GOD'S HELP

[A PRAYER OF DAVID]

- 86 Incline thy ear, O LORD, answer me,
For I am afflicted and needy.
- 2 Preserve me, for I am a godly man.
O thou, my God, deliver thy servant who trusts in thee.
- 3 Be gracious unto me, O Lord;
For unto thee do I call all day long.
- 4 Gladden the heart of thy servant,
For I lift up my heart unto thee.
- 5 For thou, O LORD, art good and forgiving;
And rich in grace to all that call upon thee.

- 6 Listen to my prayer, O LORD;
And heed my supplicating voice!
- 7 In my day of trouble I call upon thee,
For thou wilt answer me.
- 8 There is none like thee among the gods, O Lord;
Nor are there any works like thine.
- 9 All the nations which thou hast made,
Will come and bow down before thee, O Lord,
And will honor thy name;
10 For thou art great and doest wonders;
Thou alone art God.
- 11 Teach me thy way, O LORD,
That I may walk in fidelity to thee,
That my heart may rejoice in the fear of thy name.
- 12 I will thank thee, O Lord, my God, with all my heart;
And I will honor thy name forever.
- 13 For thy grace toward me is great,
In that thou hast rescued me from the depths of Sheol.
- 14 O God, the proud have risen up against me,
And a gang of bandits seeks my life,
And does not keep thee in mind.
- 15 But thou, O Lord, art a merciful and gracious God,
Slow to anger and rich in grace and fidelity.
- 16 Turn to me and pity me;
Grant thy servant thy strength,
And deliver the son of thy handmaid.
- 17 Work in my behalf a sign for good,
That those who hate me may see it and be put to shame,
Because thou, O LORD, hast helped me and comforted me.

ZION GLORIES IN HER CHILDREN

[OF THE SONS OF KORAH; A PSALM; A SONG]

- 87 His foundation is in the holy mountains.
2 The LORD loves the gates of Zion
More than all other dwellings of Jacob.
3 Glorious things he speaks of you,
O city of God.

Selah

- 4 I may mention Rahab and Babylon on account of their famous
men,
Philistia, Tyre, and also Ethiopia;
"Such a one was born there!"
- 5 But of Zion it will be said,
"This one and that one were born in her!"
And that will place her in the highest rank.
- 6 The LORD, when he lists the nations, will record,
"Such a one was born there."
- 7 Those who behold will be like men dreaming, Selah
All who closely watch you.

LAMENTATION OF ONE IN TROUBLE

[A SONG; A PSALM OF THE SONS OF KORAH. FOR THE DIRECTOR: UPON mahalat:
leannoth; A maskil OF HEMAN THE EZRACHITE]

- 88 I call for help by day, O LORD, my God;
I cry before thee at night;
2 Let my prayer come before thee;
Incline thy ear to my call!
- 3 For I am surfeited with troubles,
And my life verges on Sheol.
- 4 I am reckoned among those that go down to the pit;
I am become like a man without help,
5 Separated among the dead;
Like the slain that lie in the grave,
Whom thou dost no more remember,
For they are cut off from thy hand.
- 6 Thou hast put me in the deepest pit,
In darkest regions, in the depths.
- 7 Thy wrath rests upon me,
And thou dost press down upon me all thy breakers.
- 8 Thou hast removed my acquaintances far from me;
Thou hast made me a horror to them;
I am shut in and cannot go out.
- 9 My eye wastes away with sorrow;
I have called upon thee, O LORD, all day long;
I have spread out my hands toward thee.

- 10 Is it for the dead that thou wilt do wonders?
Will the ghosts arise to thank thee? Selah
- 11 Will thy grace be recounted in the grave?
Or thy faithfulness in Hades?
- 12 Will thy wonders be made known in the darkness?
Or thy righteousness in the land of oblivion?
- 13 But I, O LORD, call unto thee for help,
And in the morning my prayer comes before thee.
- 14 Wherefore, O LORD, dost thou reject me,
And hide thy face from me?
- 15 I have been afflicted and at the point of death from my youth up;
I have borne thy terrors; I am overcome.
- 16 Thy fury has gone over me;
Thy terrors have destroyed me;
- 17 They surround me like water all day long;
They encircle me completely.
- 18 Thou hast put friend and companion far from me,
And my acquaintances are in the place of darkness.

THE SORROWS OF JUDAH

[A maskil OF ETHAN THE EZRACHITE]

- 89 The gracious deeds of the LORD I will sing forever;
Throughout the generations I will proclaim thy faithfulness with my mouth.
- 2 For I say, "Grace will be renewed forever;
In the heavens thou dost establish thy faithfulness."
- 3 I made an agreement with my chosen one,
I swore to David, my servant,
- 4 "I will establish thy descendants forever;
And I will build thy throne for generations." Selah
- 5 The heavens praise thy wonders, O LORD,
And thy faithfulness in the divine assembly.
- 6 For who in the heavens can be compared to the LORD?
Who is like the LORD among the gods?
- 7 A God to be feared in the divine council,
Great and terrible over all around him;

- 8 O LORD, God of hosts,
Who is strong like thee, O LORD?
And thy faithfulness is round about thee.
- 9 Thou rulest over the raging of the sea;
When its waves rise thou stillest them.
- 10 Thou hast crushed Rahab like one who is slain;
With thy strong arm thou hast scattered thy foes.
- 11 The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine;
The world and its contents thou hast founded.
- 12 The north and the south thou didst create.
Tabor and Hermon celebrate thy name.
- 13 Thine is an arm with power.
Thy hand is strong; thy right hand is high.
- 14 Righteousness and justice are the foundation of thy throne.
Grace and faithfulness go before thee.
- 15 How happy are the people who know the festal trumpet-call!
O LORD, they walk in the light of thy face.
- 16 In thy name they rejoice all day long;
And through thy righteousness are they exalted.
- 17 For thou art the glory of their strength,
And through thy favor our horn is exalted.
- 18 For the LORD is our shield,
And the holy one of Israel our king.
- 19 Once thou didst speak in vision to thy faithful one,
And didst say, "I have placed a diadem upon a warrior;
I have raised up a chosen one from the people.
- 20 I have found David my servant,
With my holy oil I have anointed him,
Whom my hand holds firm,
And my arm strengthens.
- 21
- 22 "The enemy shall not overcome him;
Nor the wicked man afflict him;
- 23 For I will crush his foes before him,
And those who hate him I will smite.

- 24 "My faithfulness and my grace shall be with him;
And through my name his horn shall be exalted.
- 25 I will set his hand upon the sea,
And his right hand upon the river.
- 26 "He shall call unto me, 'Thou art my father,
My God, and the rock of my deliverance.'
- 27 And I will make him the first-born,
The highest of the kings of the earth.
- 28 "I will always keep my grace for him;
And my covenant shall stand firm for him;
- 29 And I will give him posterity forever,
And his throne shall be like the days of the heavens.
- 30 "If his sons forsake my law,
And do not walk in my judgments;
- 31 If they violate my decrees,
And observe not my commands,
- 32 "Then I will punish their offense with the rod,
And their guilt with blows;
- 33 But my grace I will not withdraw from them;
Nor will I be false to my fidelity.
- 34 "I will not violate my covenant,
Nor will I alter what my lips have uttered.
- 35 Once I swore by my holiness,
(And I would not lie to David)
- 36 "That his posterity should be forever,
And his throne be like the sun before me,
37 Like the moon it should be established forever,
And should stand firm as long as the skies."
- 38 But thou hast rejected and cast off,
Thou hast raged against thine anointed.
- 39 Thou hast broken the covenant with thy servant;
Thou hast defiled his diadem in the dust.
- 40 Thou hast broken down all his walls;
Thou hast laid his forts in ruin.

Selah

- 41 All that pass by plunder him;
He has become a jest to his neighbors.
- 42 Thou hast raised up the right hand of his enemies;
Thou hast made all his foes glad.
- 43 Moreover thou hast turned the edge of his sword,
And hast not supported him in battle.
- 44 Thou hast put an end to his splendor,
And hurled his throne to the ground.
- 45 Thou hast cut off the days of his prime,
And covered him over with shame. Selah
- 46 How long, O LORD? Wilt thou hide thyself forever?
Will thy wrath burn on like a fire?
- 47 Remember, O LORD, what our span of life is;
For what frailty thou hast created all the sons of men.
- 48 What man can live and not see death,
Can deliver himself from the power of Sheol? Selah
- 49 Where are thy former deeds of grace, O Lord,
Which thou didst swear to David by thy faithfulness?
- 50 Remember, O Lord, the disgrace of thy servant,
How I carry in my bosom the reproach of the peoples;
- 51 How thy foes insult, O LORD,
How they insult the footsteps of thy anointed!
- 52 Blessed be the LORD forever,
Amen and amen.

BOOK IV, PSS. 90–106

A PLEA FOR GOD'S MERCY

[A PRAYER OF MOSES, THE MAN OF GOD]

- 90 O LORD, thou hast been our dwelling-place in all generations.
2 Before the mountains were born,
Or ever thou hadst brought forth the earth and the world,
Even from everlasting to everlasting thou art, O God.
- 3 Thou turnest man back to dust,
And sayest, "Return, O sons of man."
4 For a thousand years in thy sight

Are but as yesterday when it is past,
And as a watch in the night.

5 Thou cuttest them off; they are as a dream;
They are like grass which renews itself in the morning;
6 In the morning it flourishes and shoots up,
At evening it is cut down and withers.

7 For we are destroyed by thy anger,
And by thy wrath we are ruined.
8 Thou dost place our crimes before thee,
Our unconscious sins in the light of thy face.

9 For all our days vanish in thy wrath;
We come to an end; our years are like a cobweb wiped away.
10 The length of our life is seventy years,
Perchance through strength eighty years;
And their whole extent is trouble and travail.
For it is quickly cut off and we fly away.

11 Who knows the power of thy anger?
Or thy wrath according to the fear due thee?
12 So teach us to number our days
That we may obtain an understanding heart.

13 Return, O LORD; how long?
And relent thyself as to thy servants.
14 Satisfy us in the morning with thy mercy,
That we may shout with joy and be glad throughout our days.
15 Gladden us in proportion to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us,
And the years wherein we have seen disaster.

16 May thy work appear unto thy servants,
And thy splendor be upon their children.
17 May the favor of the Lord our God be upon us,
And the work of our hands do thou establish upon us;
The work of our hands establish thou it.

THE FAVOR OF GOD UPON THE FAITHFUL

91 He who dwells under the shelter of the Most High,
Who abides under the shadow of the Almighty,

- 2 Says of the LORD, "My refuge and my fortress,
My God, in whom I trust."
- 3 For he rescues you from the snare of the fowler,
From the deadly pestilence;
4 With his pinions he covers you,
And under his wings you find refuge.
5 His faithfulness is a shield and buckler.
- 6 You will not be afraid of the terror by night,
Nor the arrow that flies by day,
7 Nor the pestilence that stalks in darkness,
Nor the plague that wastes at noonday.
- 8 A thousand may fall at your side,
And ten thousand at your right hand;
But it will not come near you.
9 You will but gaze upon with your eyes
And see the reward of the wicked.
- 10 Because you have made the LORD your refuge,
And the Most High your habitation,
11 No disaster will befall you,
Nor calamity come near your tent.
- 12 For he will give his angels charge over you,
To guard you in all your ways.
13 They will bear you up upon their hands,
Lest you strike your foot upon a stone.
14 Upon the lion and the adder you may tread;
Upon the young lion and the dragon you may trample.
- 15 Because he clings fast to me in love, I will deliver him;
I will set him on high because he knows my name.
16 When he calls upon me, I will answer him;
I will be with him in trouble;
I will set him free and honor him.
17 With long life will I satisfy him,
And show him my salvation.

A HYMN OF GRATITUDE

[A PSALM; A SONG FOR THE SABBATH DAY]

- 92 It is good to give thanks to the LORD,
And to sing praises to thy name, O Most High;
- 2 To proclaim thy grace in the morning,
And thy faithfulness every night,
- 3 Upon the ten-stringed lyre and the lute,
To a melody with the harp.
- 4 For thou hast made me glad, O LORD, by thy works;
Of the deeds of thy hands I joyfully sing.
- 5 How great are thy doings, O LORD;
How very deep thy designs!
- 6 A stupid man cannot know,
A senseless one cannot understand this.
- 7 When the wicked shoot up like grass,
And all wrongdoers flourish,
It is that they may be destroyed forever.
- 8 But thou art on high forever, O LORD!
For lo, thine enemies, O LORD;
For lo, thine enemies will perish!
All wrongdoers will be scattered.
- 10 But thou hast exalted my horn like that of the wild ox;
I am anointed with fresh oil.
- 11 And my eye looks upon them that lie in wait for me;
My ears hear the wicked that rise up against me.
- 12 The righteous will flourish like the palm tree;
He will grow high like a cedar in Lebanon.
- 13 Planted in the house of the LORD,
They will flourish in the courts of our God.
- 14 They will still yield fruit in old age;
Full of sap and green will they be;
- 15 To proclaim that the LORD is right,
My rock, in whom there is no wrong.

THE RULER OF THE UNIVERSE

- 93 The LORD is king; he is clothed with majesty.
The LORD is clothed, he is girded with strength.

- Indeed, the world is established immovable.
2 Thy throne has been established from of old;
Thou art from remotest antiquity.
- 3 The floods have lifted up, O LORD,
The floods have lifted up their voice;
The floods lift up their roar
4 Above the sound of many waters.
Mightier than the breakers of the sea,
The LORD on high is mighty!
- 5 Thy testimonies are very sure.
Holiness befits thy house,
O LORD, for all time.

DESTRUCTION TO THE WICKED!

- 94 O LORD, thou avenging God,
O thou avenging God, shine forth!
2 Rise up, O judge of the earth;
Render to the proud their deserts.
- 3 How long shall the wicked, O LORD,
How long shall the wicked exult,
4 Shall they bubble over speaking insolence,
Shall all wrongdoers brag?
- 5 They crush thy people, O LORD,
And they afflict thy heritage.
6 The widow and the stranger they slay,
And the fatherless they murder.
7 And they say, "The LORD does not see;
And the God of Jacob does not observe."
- 8 Ponder, O stupid ones among the people,
When will you become wise, O fools?
9 Does he who planted the ear not hear?
Or he who formed the eye not see?
10 Will he who instructs the nations not punish them,
He who teaches man knowledge?
11 The LORD knows the devices of men,
That they are but a breath.

- 12 Happy the man whom thou chastenest,
 And teachest of thy law, O LORD;
 13 That he may have relief from times of trouble,
 Until the pit be dug for the wicked!
 14 For the LORD will not spurn his people,
 Nor abandon his heritage.
 15 For judgment will return to the righteous,
 And after him all the upright in heart will go.
 16 Who rises up for me against the doers of evil?
 Who takes his stand for me against the wrongdoers?
 17 Had not the LORD been my help,
 I should soon have lain down in silence!
 18 If I think, "My foot is slipping,"
 Thy grace, O LORD, sustains me!
 19 When my cares are many within me,
 Thy comforts give me cheer.
 20 Can the throne of wickedness be allied with thee,
 That frames wickedness by statute—
 21 They who make assaults upon the life of the righteous,
 And pronounce condemnation upon innocent blood?
 22 But the LORD is my high tower;
 My God is the rock of my refuge.
 23 And he requites them for their guilt,
 And for their wickedness destroys them.
 The LORD, our God, destroys them!

A PAEAN OF PRAISE

- 95 Come, let us sing unto the LORD,
 Let us raise joyful shouts to the rock of our deliverance!
 2 Let us come before his face with thanksgiving;
 Let us raise joyful shouts to him in psalms.
 3 For the LORD is a great God,
 And a great king over all gods.
 4 In his hand are the depths of the earth;
 The summits of the hills are his also.
 5 The sea is his, for he made it;
 And his hands formed the dry land.

- 6 Come, let us worship and bow down;
Let us kneel before the LORD, our maker!
- 7 For he is our God;
And we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.
- Today, if you obey his voice,
8 Harden not your hearts as at Meribah,
As in the day at Massah in the wilderness,
9 When your fathers tried me,
Tested me, and saw my works.
- 10 For forty years I loathed that generation,
And I said, "They are a people who err in their hearts,
And do not know my ways."
So that I swore in my anger,
That they should not enter into my rest.

THE GLORY OF GOD

- 96 Sing to the LORD a new song;
Sing to the LORD, all the earth;
2 Sing to the LORD, bless his name;
Publish his deliverance abroad from day to day.
3 Tell among the nations his glory,
Among all the peoples, his wonders.
- 4 For great is the LORD and greatly to be praised.
Fearful is he above all gods.
5 For all the gods of the peoples are nonentities,
But the LORD made the heavens.
6 Honor and majesty are before him;
Strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
- 7 Ascribe to the LORD, O families of peoples,
Ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
8 Ascribe to the LORD the glory of his name;
Bring an offering and come into his courts.
9 Worship the LORD in holy array,
Tremble before him all the earth.
- 10 Tell among the nations that the LORD is king;
The world also is established that it cannot be moved.
11 He judges the peoples in equity.

Let the heavens rejoice and the earth exult,
 The sea roar, and its fulness.
 12 Let the field exult and all that is therein.
 Then let all the trees of the wood shout for joy
 13 Before the LORD, for he comes,
 For he comes to judge the earth.
 He will judge the world with righteousness,
 And peoples with his faithfulness.

THE MAJESTY OF GOD

97 The LORD reigns; let the earth rejoice!
 Let many shores be glad!
 2 Clouds and darkness are around him;
 Righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.
 3 Fire goes before him,
 And blazes around his steps.
 4 His lightnings illuminate the world;
 The earth beholds and trembles.
 5 The mountains melt like wax before the LORD,
 Before the Lord of all the earth.
 6 The heavens proclaim his righteousness,
 And all the peoples see his glory.
 7 All who serve wrought images are put to shame,
 They who prided themselves on their nonentities.
 Worship him, all you gods!
 8 Zion hears and rejoices,
 And the daughters of Judah exult,
 Because of thy judgments, O LORD.
 9 For thou, O LORD, art the highest over all the earth;
 Thou art exalted high above all gods.
 10 The LORD loves those who hate evil;
 He preserves the lives of his saints;
 From the hand of the wicked he rescues them.
 11 Light is sown for the righteous,
 And joy for the upright in heart.
 12 Rejoice in the LORD, O righteous,
 And praise his holy name.

A SONG OF TRIUMPH

[A PSALM]

- 98 Sing to the LORD a new song,
For he has done wonderful things!
His right hand and his holy arm have brought him victory.
2 The LORD has made known his victory;
In the sight of the nations he has revealed his righteousness.
3 He has remembered his grace and his faithfulness to the house of Israel.
All the ends of the earth have seen the triumph of our God.
- 4 Shout aloud to the LORD, all the earth;
Rejoice, be jubilant, and sing praises;
5 Sing praises to the LORD with the lyre,
With the lyre and sound of song.
6 With trumpets and the sound of the horn,
Shout aloud before the king, the LORD!
- 7 Let the sea roar and all that is in it;
The world and those living in it!
8 Let the rivers clap their hands;
Let the mountains also sing,
9 Before the LORD, for he is coming to judge the earth!
He will judge the world with righteousness,
And the peoples with equity.

THE HOLY GOD

- 99 The LORD is king; let the peoples tremble!
He sits upon the cherubs; let the earth quake!
2 The LORD is great in Zion,
And high is he over all the peoples.
3 Let them praise thy great and terrible name!
Holy is he and strong!
- 4 O King, who lovest justice,
Thou hast established equity;
Thou hast wrought justice and righteousness in Jacob.
5 Exalt the LORD, our God!
And prostrate yourselves at his footstool!
Holy is he!

- 6 Moses and Aaron were among his priests;
And Samuel was among those calling upon his name.
They called upon the LORD and he answered them.
- 7 Through the pillar of cloud he spoke to them.
They kept his testimonies and the law which he gave them.
- 8 O LORD, our God, thou didst answer them!
Thou wast a forgiving God to them;
But one taking vengeance for their sins.
- 9 Exalt the LORD, our God,
And prostrate yourselves at his holy mountain!
For holy is the LORD, our God!

THE FAITHFUL GOD

[A PSALM FOR THE THANK-OFFERING]

- 100 Hail the LORD joyously, all the earth!
2 Serve the LORD with gladness!
Come before him with joyful song!
- 3 Know that the LORD is God!
He made us, and his we are,
His people and the sheep of his pasture.
- 4 Come into his gates with thanksgiving,
And into his courts with praise!
Give thanks to him; bless his name!
- 5 For the LORD is good; his grace is forever;
And his faithfulness for all generations.

THE MORAL CODE OF A KING

[OF DAVID. A PSALM]

- 101 I will sing of grace and justice;
Of thee, O LORD, will I sing praises.
- 2 I will give heed to the path of the perfect.
How long till thou wilt come to me?
- I will walk in the integrity of my heart,
within my own home.
- 3 I will set before my eyes no base thing;
I loathe the doing of transgression;
it shall not cling to me.

- 4 A perverse heart is far from me;
I know no evil.
- 5 If a man slanders his neighbor in secret,
I destroy him.
The supercilious and high-minded
I cannot endure.
- 6 My eye is upon the faithful in the land,
that they may dwell with me.
If a man walks in the perfect way,
he shall serve me.
- 7 He shall not dwell within my house
who practices deceit.
He who tells lies shall not be established before my eyes.
- 8 Every morning I will destroy
all the wicked of the land,
Cutting off from the city of the LORD
all the malefactors.

THE EVERLASTING GOD

[A PRAYER OF THE AFFLICTED WHEN HE IS OVERWHELMED AND POURS OUT HIS PLAINT BEFORE THE LORD]

- 102 Hear my prayer, O LORD,
And let my cry for help come before thee!
- 2 Do not hide thy face from me in my day of trouble;
Incline thine ear unto me;
In the day when I call answer me speedily.
- 3 For my days vanish like smoke,
And my bones are charred like a hearth.
- 4 My heart is stricken and withered like grass;
For I forget to eat my food.
- 5 Because of the sound of my moaning,
My bone cleaves to my flesh.
- 6 I resemble a pelican of the wilderness;
I have become like an owl of the ruins.
- 7 I am sleepless and I have become
Like a solitary bird upon the roof.
- 8 All day long my foes insult me.

Those who deride me curse by me.
9 For I eat ashes like bread;
And my drink do I mingle with tears;
10 Because of thine anger and thy wrath;
For thou hast lifted me up and cast me off.
11 My days are like a lengthened shadow;
And I am withered like grass.

12 But thou, O LORD, abidest forever,
And thy name is for countless generations.
13 Thou wilt arise; thou wilt have pity on Zion.
For it is time to be gracious to her; for the fixed time has come.
14 For thy servants delight in her stones,
And her dust they commiserate.
15 And the nations will fear the name of the LORD,
And all the kings of the earth thy glory,
16 When the LORD rebuilds Zion,
When he is seen in his glory,
17 When he turns himself toward the prayer of the destitute,
And does not despise their prayer.

18 Let this be written for coming generations,
That people yet unborn may praise the LORD:
19 That he looked forth from his holy height,
The LORD looked from the heavens toward the earth,
20 To hear the groans of the prisoner,
To set free those doomed to death,
21 That they may recount in Zion the renown of the LORD,
And his praise in Jerusalem,
22 When peoples gather together,
And kingdoms to serve the LORD.

23 He has weakened my strength,
He has cut short my days.
24 I say, "O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days;
Thou whose years are for countless generations!
25 Of old thou didst lay the foundation of the earth;
And the heavens are the work of thy hands.
26 They may perish, but thou wilt endure;
All of them may wear out like a garment;

- Thou mayest change them like clothing and they will change;
27 But thou art always the same,
And thy years have no end.
28 The children of thy servants will abide;
And their posterity will be established before thee."

THE GOODNESS OF GOD

[OF DAVID]

- 103 Let my whole being bless the LORD;
And all that is within me bless his holy name!
2 Let my whole being bless the LORD,
And forget not all his benefits,
3 Who forgives all my guilt,
Who heals all my sicknesses,
4 Who rescues my life from the pit,
Who crowns me with grace and mercy,
5 Who satisfies my desires with good,
So that my youth renews itself like an eagle.
6 The LORD executes righteousness
And justice for all that are oppressed.
7 He made known his ways to Moses,
His deeds to the children of Israel.
8 The LORD is merciful and compassionate,
Long-suffering, and abounding in grace.
9 He will not always chide,
Nor hold his anger forever.
10 He has not treated us according to our sins,
Nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.
11 But high as the heavens are above the earth,
So great is his grace toward them that revere him;
12 Far as the east is from the west,
So far has he removed our offenses from us.
13 As a father is kind to his children,
So the LORD is kind to those who revere him.
14 For he knows our frame;
He remembers that we are but dust.
15 A man's days are like the grass.
Like a flower of the field, so he blossoms;

- 16 For the wind passes over it, and it is not,
And its place knows it no more.
- 17 But the grace of the LORD is from age to age upon those who revere him,
And his righteousness to children's children,
- 18 For those who keep his covenant,
And remember to do his commands.
- 19 The LORD has established his throne in the heavens,
And his kingdom rules over all.
- 20 Bless the LORD, O his angels,
Mighty beings, who do his bidding,
Obeying his spoken word!
- 21 Bless the LORD, all his hosts,
His ministers who carry out his will!
- 22 Bless the LORD, all his works,
In all parts of his dominion!
Let my whole being bless the LORD!

THE CREATOR AND SUSTAINER OF THE UNIVERSE

- 104 Let my whole being bless the LORD!
O LORD, my God, thou art very great;
Thou art robed with majesty and honor;
- 2 Who veilest thyself in light as in a garment;
Who stretches out the heavens like a tent;
- 3 Who lays the beams of his upper chambers in the waters;
Who makes the clouds his chariot;
Who walks upon the wings of the wind;
- 4 Who makes the winds his messengers;
His ministers, flames of fire.
- 5 He founded the earth upon its pillars,
That it might not be moved forever and ever.
- 6 Thou didst cover it with the deep as with a garment;
The waters stood upon the mountains.
- 7 At thy rebuke they fled;
At the sound of thy thunder they fled in terror.
- 8 Thou didst set a limit which they should not cross over,
So that they should not again cover the earth.
- 9 The mountains rose, the valleys sank down,
To the place which thou hadst founded for them.

- 10 He causes fountains to flow in the valleys;
Between mountains they run.
- 11 They furnish drink for all the beasts of the field;
Wild asses quench their thirst there.
- 12 Beside them the birds of the heavens dwell,
From among the branches they send forth song.
- 13 Thou waterest the mountains from thy upper chambers;
The earth is filled full of the fruit of thy works.
- 14 He makes grass grow for the cattle,
And fodder for the working animals of man,
So that bread may come forth from the earth;
- 15 And wine may cheer man's heart,
Making his face brighter than oil;
And bread to stay man's heart.
- 16 The trees of the LORD are satisfied,
The cedars of Lebanon which he planted;
- 17 Wherein the birds build their nests,
And the stork, whose home is the cypress.
- 18 The high mountains are for the wild goats;
The rocks are a refuge for the marmots.
- 19 He made the moon for fixed seasons;
The sun knows its time of setting;
- 20 Thou makest darkness and it becomes night,
In which all the beasts of the forest prowl,
- 21 The young lions roaring after prey,
And seeking their food from God.
- 22 When the sun rises, they withdraw,
And crouch in their dens.
- 23 Man goes forth to his work,
And to his labor until evening.
- 24 How many are thy works, O LORD!
In wisdom hast thou made them all.
The earth is full of thy creations.
- 25 There is the sea, great and broad,
Where are creeping things innumerable,
Creatures small and great;
There go the sea-monsters,

- 26 The Leviathan whom thou didst form to frolic therein.
 27 They all wait upon thee,
 To give them their food in due season.
 28 What thou givest them, they gather up;
 When thou openest thy hand, they are satisfied with good things.
 29 When thou hidest thy face, they are worried;
 When thou takest away their breath they die,
 And turn again into dust.
 30 When thou sendest forth thy breath, they are created;
 And thou renewest the face of the earth.
 31 May the glory of the LORD be forever!
 May the LORD rejoice in his works!
 32 He looks at the earth and it quakes;
 He touches the mountains and they smoke!
 33 I will sing of the LORD as long as I live;
 I will chant praises to my God as long as I breathe.
 34 May my meditation please him!
 I will rejoice in the LORD.
 35 Let sinners vanish from the earth!
 And may the wicked be no more!
 Let my whole being bless the LORD!
 Hallelujah!

THE WONDERS OF GOD

- 105 Give thanks to the LORD; call upon his name!
 Make known his deeds among the peoples!
 2 Sing to him; chant praises to him!
 Tell of all his wonders!
 3 Glory in his holy name!
 May the heart of those who seek the LORD rejoice!
 4 Inquire of the LORD and his might!
 Seek his face continually!
 5 Remember the wonders that he has done,
 His portents, and the judgments of his mouth,
 6 O descendants of Abraham, his servant,
 Children of Jacob, his chosen!
 7 He is the LORD, our God;
 His judgments are in all the earth.

- 8 He remembers his covenant forever,
The word he has given, for a thousand generations;
9 The covenant he made with Abraham,
And his oath to Isaac.
- 10 For he confirmed it to Jacob as a statute,
To Israel as an eternal covenant;
11 Saying, "To you I give the land of Canaan,
As your portion and inheritance."
12 When they were but few in number,
Of slight importance and but strangers therein;
13 When they went back and forth from one nation to another,
And from one kingdom to another people,
14 He permitted no man to oppress them,
And warned kings concerning them,
15 "Touch not my anointed,
And do my prophets no harm!"
- 16 Then he called a famine upon the land.
He broke every staff of bread.
17 He sent forth a man before them;
Joseph was sold as a slave.
18 They forced his feet into fetters;
He himself was laid in irons.
19 Until what he had said came about,
The word of the LORD tested him.
- 20 The king sent and released him,
The ruler of peoples, and set him free.
21 He made him overseer of his house,
And ruler over all his possessions;
22 That he might give orders to his officers as he pleased,
And might instruct his elders.
- 23 Then Israel went into Egypt,
And Jacob dwelt in the land of Ham.
24 And he made his people very prolific,
And made them more numerous than their foes.
25 He changed their heart so that they hated his people,
So that they dealt treacherously with his servants.
26 He sent forth Moses, his servant,
And Aaron, whom he had chosen.

27 They wrought among them wondrous signs,
And portents in the land of Ham.
28 He sent forth darkness so that it became dark;
But they rebelled against his words.
29 He turned their water into blood,
And so killed their fish.
30 Their land swarmed with frogs;
They were in the chambers of their kings.
31 He spoke and a swarm of flies came,
Mosquitoes throughout their country.
32 He gave them hail for rain;
Flaming fire was in their land.
33 He smote their vine and fig tree,
And broke down the trees of their country.
34 He spoke, and the locust came,
And insects innumerable.
35 They ate up all the fodder in their land;
They ate up all the products of their soil.
36 Then he smote all the first-born in their land,
The first-fruits of all their virile strength.
37 And he sent them forth with silver and gold,
And there was no straggler in their ranks;
38 Egypt was glad when they went forth,
For terror had fallen upon them.
39 He spread out a cloud as a screen,
And fire to give light by night.
40 They asked, and he brought in quails;
And with bread from the heavens he satisfied them.
41 He split the rock and water flowed forth;
There ran a river in the sands.
42 For he remembered his sacred word
To Abraham, his servant.
43 And he brought forth his people with joy,
His chosen ones with joyous song.
44 And he gave them the lands of the nations;
Of the toil of the peoples they took possession.
45 That they might keep his statutes
And observe his laws.
Hallelujah!

THE LONG-SUFFERING GOD

- 106 Hallelujah!
Oh, give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;
For his grace is everlasting.
- 2 Who can tell the mighty deeds of the LORD?
Or publish all his praise?
- 3 Happy are they who observe justice,
Who do right at all times!
- 4 Remember me, O LORD, in thy favor toward thy people;
Visit me when thou deliverest them;
- 5 That I may look upon the welfare of thy chosen,
That I may rejoice in the joy of thy nation,
That I may glory with thine inheritance.
- 6 We have sinned like our fathers;
We have done evil; we have acted wickedly.
- 7 Our fathers in Egypt disregarded thy wonders;
They remembered not the abundance of thy grace;
But rebelled against the Most High at the Sea of Reeds.
- 8 Yet he delivered them for the sake of his reputation,
In order to make known his might.
- 9 So he rebuked the Sea of Reeds and it became dry,
And he led them through the deeps as through a meadow.
- 10 He rescued them from hostile hands,
And delivered them from the power of the foe.
- 11 And the water covered their enemies;
Not one of them survived.
- 12 Then did they believe his word;
They sang his praise.
- 13 But they soon forgot his deeds;
They waited not for his advice.
- 14 They felt a craving in the wilderness,
And they tried God in the waste.
- 15 And he granted their request,
But sent disease upon them.
- 16 When they were envious of Moses in the camp,
And of Aaron, the holy one of the LORD,
- 17 The earth opened and swallowed Dathan,
And engulfed the company of Abiram.

- 18 Fire burned up their company;
Fire consumed the wicked.
- 19 They made a calf in Horeb,
And worshiped a molten image.
20 Thus they exchanged their glory
For the image of an ox that eats fodder!
21 They forgot God who had delivered them,
Who had done great things in Egypt,
22 Wonderful things in the land of Ham,
Terrible things at the Sea of Reeds.
23 So he threatened to destroy them,
Had not Moses, his chosen one,
Stood in the breach before him
To turn back his wrath from destruction.
- 24 Then they rejected the pleasant land,
They did not believe his promise;
25 But grumbled in their tents.
They did not listen to the voice of the LORD.
26 So he swore to them with uplifted hand,
That he would let them perish in the desert,
27 And that he would scatter their descendants among the nations,
And strew them through the lands.
28 They allied themselves with Baal of Peor,
And ate sacrifices offered to the dead.
29 They offended him by their deeds,
And plague broke out among them.
30 But Phinehas stood up and executed judgment,
And the plague was checked.
31 That has been credited to him as righteousness
Throughout the generations' forever.
- 32 They stirred him to anger also at the waters of Meribah,
And it went hard with Moses on their account,
33 Because they embittered his spirit,
And he spoke rashly with his lips.
34 They did not destroy the peoples,
As the LORD had commanded them;
35 But mingled with the nations,
And learned their works.

- 36 So they served their idols,
Which became a snare to them.
- 37 And they sacrificed their sons
And their daughters to demons.
- 38 And they shed innocent blood,
The blood of their sons and their daughters,
Whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan;
And the land was polluted with bloodshed.
- 39 They became unclean through their acts,
And played the harlot by their deeds.
- 40 So the anger of the LORD was hot against his people,
And he loathed his heritage.
- 41 And he gave them over to the power of the nations,
And those who hated them ruled over them.
- 42 Their enemies oppressed them,
And they were subdued under their hand.
- 43 Many times did he deliver them,
But they followed their own stubborn counsel,
And were brought low by their guilt.
- 44 But he saw when they were in trouble,
When he heard their cry for help;
- 45 And he recalled for them his covenant,
And had compassion in accord with his plenteous grace.
- 46 He made them objects of compassion, also,
On the part of all their captors.
- 47 Deliver us, O LORD, our God,
And gather us from among the nations,
That we may give thanks to thy holy name,
That we may glory in thy praise.
- 48 Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel,
From age unto age;
And let all the people say, "Amen."
Hallelujah!

BOOK V, PSS. 107-150

GOD IN HISTORY

- 107 "Oh, give thanks to the LORD, for he is good,
For his grace is everlasting."

- 2 So may they say, whom the LORD has rescued,
 Whom he has rescued from the hand of the foe;
3 Those whom he has gathered in from the lands,
 From east and west,
 From north and south.
- 4 They wandered in the wilderness, in the waste,
 They found no way to an inhabited town.
5 They were hungry and thirsty,
 Their courage collapsed within them.
6 When they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
 He delivered them from their distress,
7 And guided them in the right way,
 So that they came to an inhabited town.
8 Let them thank the LORD for his grace,
 And his wonders toward the sons of men.
9 For he satisfied the thirsty spirit,
 And the hungry heart he filled with good.
- 10 Those who dwelt in darkness and in deepest gloom,
 Bound in misery and iron;
11 Because they opposed the orders of God,
 And spurned the counsel of the Most High;
12 He bowed down their heart with labor;
 They stumbled, with none to help.
13 When they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
 He delivered them from their distress.
14 He brought them out of darkness and deepest gloom,
 And burst their bonds asunder.
15 Let them thank the LORD for his grace,
 And his wonders toward the sons of men.
16 For he shattered bronze doors,
 And broke down iron bars.
- 17 Fools, because of their wicked ways
 And because of their guilty deeds, were afflicted.
18 They loathed every kind of food,
 And they drew near to the gates of death.
19 When they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
 He delivered them from their distress.
20 He sent forth his word to heal them,

- And to free them from their graves.
21 Let them thank the LORD for his grace,
And his wonders toward the sons of men.
22 And let them offer sacrifices of thanksgiving,
And tell of his works with song.
- 23 Those who go down to the sea in ships,
And do business in the great waters,
24 They saw the works of the LORD,
And his wonders in the deep.
25 For he spoke and raised up the storm-wind,
Which lifted its billows on high.
26 They mounted to the heavens, they descended to the depths.
They were dissolved in their distress.
27 They reeled and staggered like a drunken man,
And were at their wits' end.
28 When they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
He delivered them from their distress.
29 He stilled the storm to a whisper,
And the waves were hushed.
30 Then they rejoiced because they were quiet,
And he brought them to their desired haven.
31 Let them thank the LORD for his grace,
And his wonders to the children of men.
32 And let them exalt him in the assembly of the people,
And praise him in the company of the elders.
- 33 He turned rivers into a desert,
And springs of water into parched ground;
34 A fruitful land into a salt-marsh,
Because of the wickedness of those who dwelt therein.
35 He turned a desert into pools of water,
And dry land into springs of water;
36 And he settled the hungry there,
So that they established an inhabited town.
- 37 They sowed fields and planted vineyards,
Which yielded fruits for harvest.
38 Then he blessed them and they multiplied greatly,
And he suffered not their cattle to decrease.
39 When they themselves decreased and were brought low

- Through oppression, adversity, and sorrow,
 40 He poured contempt upon the princes,
 And made them wander in the trackless waste.
 41 But he exalted the needy above affliction,
 And made his families like a flock.
- 42 Let the righteous see and rejoice,
 And all wickedness shut its mouth.
 43 Whoso is wise, let him heed such things,
 And consider the gracious acts of the LORD.

A PRAYER FOR GOD'S HELP

[A SONG; A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 108 My heart is steadfast, O God;
 I will play and sing.
- 2 Awake, then, my glory!
 Awake, lute and lyre!
 I will awaken the dawn!
- 3 I will praise thee among the peoples, O LORD,
 I will sing praises to thee among the nations.
- 4 For thy grace is great even unto the heavens,
 And thy faithfulness extends to the skies.
- 5 Arise above the heavens, O God!
 Let thy glory be over all the earth!
- 6 That thy loved ones may be rescued,
 Give victory by thy right hand and answer us!
- 7 God has spoken in his sanctuary:
 "I will exult; I will divide Shechem;
 And measure off the valley of Succoth.
- 8 Gilead is mine; Manasseh is mine;
 Ephraim is the defense of my head;
 Judah is my scepter.
- 9 Moab is my washbowl;
 Upon Edom I cast my sandal;
 Over Philistia I raise the shout of victory.
- 10 Who will bring me to the fortified city?
 Who will lead me to Edom?"
- 11 Hast thou not rejected us, O God?
 And thou goest not forth with our armies, O God!

- 12 Give us aid against the foe;
For futile is the help of man.
13 Through God we shall do valiantly;
For he will tread down our foes.

A MALEDICTION

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: OF DAVID; A PSALM]

- 109 God whom I praise, be not silent!
2 For they have opened wicked and deceitful mouths against me.
They talk about me with a lying tongue,
3 With malicious words do they encircle me,
And they attack me for no cause.
4 In return for my love, they are my enemies;
While I rescued them.
5 So they return me evil for good,
And hatred for my love.
6 Appoint thou a wicked man over him;
And may Satan stand at his right hand!
7 When he is put on trial may he come forth guilty;
And may his prayer become a sin!
8 May his days be few!
Let another take his office!
9 May his children be fatherless
And his wife a widow!
10 May his children wander about and beg;
And may they be expelled from their hovels!
11 May his creditor levy upon all that he has,
And may strangers plunder his earnings!
12 May there be none to show him kindness,
Nor any to pity his fatherless children!
13 May his posterity be cut off;
In the next generation may their name be blotted out!
14 May the guilt of his fathers be remembered of the LORD;
And may the sin of his mother not be blotted out!
15 May they be before the LORD continually;
And may the memory of them be cut off from the earth!
16 Because he remembered not to show kindness,
But pursued the poor man, the needy,

- And the broken-hearted to kill him;
 17 Because he loved cursing and it entered into him;
 Because he disliked blessing and it remained far from him;
 18 And because he clothed himself with cursing as with a garment,
 And it entered into him like water,
 And was like oil in his bones;
 19 May it be unto him like a garment which enfolds him,
 And a girdle that he always wears.
 20 May this be the reward of my accusers from the LORD,
 And of those who speak evil against me!
 21 But thou, O GOD, my Lord,
 Deal with me, for the sake of thy reputation!
 Since thy grace is good, rescue me!
 22 For I am weak and needy,
 And my heart is dead within me!
 23 Like a lengthening shadow I am passing away;
 I am shaken off like a locust.
 24 My knees give way from fasting;
 My flesh is wasting away and unanointed with oil.
 25 And I am become a taunt to them;
 All that see me wag their heads.
 26 Help me, O LORD, my God!
 Deliver me in accordance with thy grace!
 27 And let them know that this is thy hand;
 That thou, O LORD, hast done it!
 28 They may curse, but do thou bless!
 Let my adversaries be ashamed, but thy servant rejoice!
 29 May my accusers be clothed with dishonor;
 May they wrap themselves in their shame as a robe.
 30 I will thank the LORD much with my mouth;
 And in the midst of many I will praise him.
 31 For he stands at the right hand of the poor,
 To save him from those who would condemn him.

A PROMISE OF GOD'S AID TO THE KING

[OF DAVID; A PSALM]

- 110 An oracle of the LORD to my lord:
 "Sit at my right hand,
 Till I make your enemies your footstool."

- 2 The sceptre of your strength the LORD sends forth from Zion.
Reign in the midst of your enemies.
- 3 Your people will volunteer freely in your day of war.
In holy array, from the womb of dawn,
The dew of your youth is yours.
- 4 The LORD has sworn and he will not retract:
"You shall be a priest for life,
A Melchizedek, because of me."
- 5 The Lord is at your right hand.
He has shattered kings in the day of his wrath.
- 6 He will sit in judgment upon the nations; he will fill the valleys.
He has shattered the chief over a broad land.
- 7 From a brook by the wayside he will drink;
Therefore he will lift up his head.

THE WONDERFUL WORKS OF GOD

111 Hallelujah!

N

I give thanks to the LORD with all my heart,

N

In the council of the upright and in the assembly.

N

2 Great are the works of the LORD,

N

To be studied by all who delight in them.

N

3 Majestic and glorious is his work,

N

And his righteousness stands fast forever.

N

4 He has made his wonders an enduring memory.

N

Gracious and merciful is the LORD.

N

5 He has provided nourishment for those who fear him.

He remembers his covenant forever.

6 His powerful deeds he has made known to his people,

In giving them possession of the nations.

7 The works of his hands are faithfulness and justice;

Trustworthy are all his precepts;

8 Sure are they forever and ever;

Done in faithfulness and uprightness.

9 He has sent forth release for his people.

His covenant he has ordained forever.

Holy and terrible is his name.

10 The beginning of wisdom is reverence for the LORD;

It is good judgment in all who practice it.

His praise stands fast forever.

THE LOT OF THE PIOUS

112 Hallelujah!

Oh, the happiness of the man who reverences the LORD,

Who greatly delights in his commandments!

- 2 His posterity will be mighty in the land;
The generation of the upright will be blessed.
- 3 Prosperity and riches will be in his house,
And his righteousness will endure forever.
- 4 Unto the upright he arises as a light in the darkness,
Gracious, merciful, and righteous.
- 5 It is well with the man who is a gracious lender,
Who conducts his business with justice;
- 6 For he will never be shaken.
The righteous man will be an abiding memory.
- 7 He will not be frightened by evil tidings,
His heart is firm, trusting in the LORD,
- 8 His heart is supported, he will not be a afraid,
Until he gaze upon his foes.
- 9 He has scattered abroad; he has given to the needy;
His righteousness will endure forever.

פ

His horn will be exalted in honor.

ו

10 The wicked will see and be vexed.

ש

He will gnash his teeth and melt away.

ח

The desire of the wicked will perish.

THE GENEROUS DEEDS OF GOD

113 Hallelujah!

Praise, O servants of the LORD,

Praise the name of the LORD!

2 Blessed be the name of the LORD,

From henceforth even forever.

3 From the rising of the sun unto its setting,

Let the LORD's name be praised.

4 High above all nations is the LORD,

Above the heavens is his glory.

5 Who is like the LORD, our God,

Seated on high,

6 Seeing far below,

In the heavens and on earth?

7 He lifts up the poor from the dust;

He raises the needy from the refuse heap,

8 To make them sit with princes,

With the princes of his people.

9 He makes the childless woman abide in the household

As the happy mother of its children.

Hallelujah!

THE WONDERS OF THE EXODUS

114 When Israel went forth from Egypt,

The house of Jacob from a people of alien speech,

2 Judah became his sanctuary,

Israel his domain.

- 3 The sea saw it and fled;
The Jordan turned back;
4 The mountains skipped like rams,
The hills like lambs.
5 What ailed you, O sea, that you fled?
Jordan, that you turned back?
6 Mountains, that you skipped like rams?
Hills, like lambs?
7 Tremble, O earth, before the Lord,
Before the God of Jacob;
8 Who turned the rock into a pool of water,
The flint into a fountain of water.

GOD AND THE IDOLS

- 115 Not unto us, O LORD, not unto us,
But to thy name, give honor;
Because of thy grace, because of thy faithfulness!
2 Wherefore should the nations say,
"Where, now, is their God?"
3 Verily, our God is in the heavens;
He does whatever he pleases.
4 Their idols are but silver and gold,
The product of men's hands.
5 They have mouths, but cannot speak;
Eyes have they, but cannot see;
Ears have they, but cannot hear;
Noses have they, but cannot smell;
7 They have hands, but they cannot handle;
Feet have they, but cannot walk;
Nor can they make a sound in their throat.
8 Those who make them will become like them,
Everyone who trusts in them.
9 O Israel, trust in the LORD!
He is their help and their shield.
10 O house of Aaron, trust in the LORD!
He is their help and their shield.

- 11 You who reverence the LORD, trust in the LORD!
He is their help and their shield.
- 12 The LORD has remembered us; he will bless,
He will bless the house of Israel;
He will bless the house of Aaron;
13 He will bless those who reverence the LORD,
Both small and great.
- 14 May the LORD give you increase,
Both you and your children.
15 Blessed be you of the LORD,
Who made heaven and earth.
- 16 The heavens are the heavens of the LORD,
But the earth has he given to mankind.
- 17 The dead will not praise the LORD,
Nor any who go down into silence.
18 But we, we will bless the LORD,
From this time forth and forever.
Hallelujah!

A SONG OF THANKSGIVING

- 116 I love the LORD, because he hears
The voice of my supplication;
2 Because he inclines his ear to me;
And I will call upon him as long as I live.
- 3 The cords of death encircled me;
And the tortures of Sheol found me;
I found trouble and sorrow;
4 But I called upon the name of the LORD,
"O LORD, deliver me!"
- 5 Gracious is the LORD and righteous;
And our God is merciful.
6 The LORD guards the simple.
When I am brought low, he delivers me.
7 Return to your rest, O my heart,
For the LORD has dealt well with you;
8 For thou hast delivered me from death,

My eyes from tears,
And my foot from stumbling.

9 I shall walk before the LORD
In the lands of the living.

10 I believe what I say;
I am fully responsible for it;

11 I say in my distress,
"All mankind is unreliable."

12 How can I repay the LORD
All his benefits to me?

13 I will take the cup of deliverance,
And will call upon the name of the LORD.

14 I will pay my vows to the LORD,
In the very presence of all his people.

15 Precious in the eyes of the LORD
Is the death of his saints.

16 Ah, LORD, because I am thy servant,
I am thy servant, the son of thy handmaid,
Thou hast loosened my bonds.

17 I will offer to thee the thank-offering,
And will call upon the name of the LORD.

18 My vows to the LORD I will pay,
In the very presence of all his people;
19 In the courts of the house of the LORD,
In the midst of you, O Jerusalem.
Hallelujah!

A SHOUT OF PRAISE

117 Praise the LORD, all nations;
Laud him, all peoples;
2 For his grace is mighty over us;
And the faithfulness of the LORD is forever.
Hallelujah!

EVERLASTING GRACE

118 Give thanks to the LORD; for he is good,
For his grace is everlasting.

- 2 Let Israel now say,
That his grace is everlasting.
- 3 Let the house of Aaron now say,
That his grace is everlasting.
- 4 Let those that reverence the LORD now say,
That his grace is everlasting.
- 5 When in straits, I called upon the LORD;
He answered me with abundant room.
- 6 With the LORD for me, I do not fear
What man may do to me.
- 7 With the LORD for me as my helper,
I shall gaze in triumph on those who hate me.
- 8 It is better to seek refuge in the LORD
Than to trust in man.
- 9 It is better to seek refuge in the LORD
Than to trust in princes.
- 10 Though all nations surround me,
In the name of the LORD I will destroy them.
- 11 Though they encompass, yea, surround me,
In the name of the LORD I will destroy them.
- 12 Though they surround me like bees,
Though they burn like a fire of thorns,
In the name of the LORD I will destroy them.
- 13 I was sore beset, about to fall,
But the LORD helped me.
- 14 The LORD is my strength and song,
And he is become my deliverance.
- 15 Hark, the joyous shout of triumph among the tents of the righteous!
The right hand of the LORD works victoriously.
- 16 The right hand of the LORD is exalted.
The right hand of the LORD works victoriously.
- 17 I shall not die, but live
To tell of the deeds of the LORD.
- 18 The LORD has disciplined me severely;
But he has not given me up to death.

- 19 Open for me the gates of victory,
That I may enter through them to give thanks to the LORD.
- 20 This is the gate of the LORD,
Through which the victors may enter.
- 21 I thank thee that thou hast answered me,
And hast become my deliverance.
- 22 The stone that the builders rejected
Has become the chief cornerstone.
- 23 From the LORD has this come,
It is wonderful in our eyes.
- 24 This is the day that the LORD has made;
Let us rejoice and be glad therein!
- 25 O LORD, deliver, I pray;
O LORD, give success, I pray!
- 26 Blessed be he who enters in the name of the LORD;
We will bless you from the house of the LORD!
- 27 The LORD is God and he has given us light.
Arrange the festal dance with branches,
Up to the horns of the altar.
- 28 Thou art my God, and I thank thee;
My God, I exalt thee.
- 29 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good,
For his grace is everlasting.

THE LAW OF THE LORD

N

- 119 How happy are they whose way is blameless,
Who walk in the law of the LORD!
- 2 How happy are they who keep his commands,
Who seek him with the whole heart!
- 3 Surely they do no wrong,
But they walk in his ways.
- 4 Thou hast ordained thy precepts
That we should keep them diligently.
- 5 O that my ways were firmly set
To keep thy precepts!

6 Then I should not be put to shame
 When I look upon all thy commandments.
 7 I thank thee with a right heart
 When I learn thy righteous judgments.
 8 I will observe thy precepts;
 Do not wholly abandon me!

2

9 How can a young man keep his path pure?
 By heeding thy word.
 10 I seek thee with my whole heart;
 Let me not wander from thy commandments!
 11 I have stored thy message in my heart,
 That I may not sin against thee.
 12 Blessed be thou, O LORD;
 Teach me thy statutes!
 13 With my lips I recount
 All the judgments of thy mouth.
 14 In the way of thy commands I delight,
 As much as in all wealth.
 15 I meditate upon thy precepts,
 And I observe thy paths.
 16 I find joy in thy statutes;
 I will not forget thy word.

3

17 Deal generously with thy servant, that I may live,
 And may keep thy word.
 18 Unveil my eyes, that I may behold
 Wonderful things out of thy law.
 19 I am but a guest in the land;
 Hide not thy commandments from me!
 20 I study with eagerness
 Upon thy commandments all the time.
 21 Thou dost rebuke the arrogant, the accursed,
 Who go astray from thy commandments.
 22 Take away from me disgrace and scorn,
 For I have kept thy commands.
 23 Though princes sit and talk with me,
 Thy servant meditates upon thy statutes.

- 24 Thy commands are my delight,
They are my counselors.
- 7
- 25 My spirit clings to the dust;
Revive me according to thy word.
- 26 I have told of my ways and thou didst answer me;
Teach me thy statutes.
- 27 Make me understand the way of thy precepts,
That I may meditate upon thy wonders.
- 28 I am downcast because of sorrow;
Raise me up according to thy word.
- 29 False ways put far from me;
And graciously grant me thy law.
- 30 I have chosen the way of trustworthiness,
Thy judgments I crave.
- 31 I have clung to thy commands;
O LORD, put me not to shame!
- 32 I run in the way of thy commandments,
For thou dost enlarge my heart.

7

- 33 Teach me, O LORD, the way of thy statutes,
That I may keep it to the end.
- 34 Make me to understand, that I may keep thy law,
And observe it with my whole heart.
- 35 Let me walk in the path of thy commandments;
For therein do I delight.
- 36 Incline my heart toward thy commands,
And not toward profits.
- 37 Turn my eyes away from looking upon unreality;
Revive me in thy way.
- 38 Establish thy promise for thy servant,
Which is for those who revere thee.
- 39 Turn away from me the disgrace which I fear;
For thy judgments are good.
- 40 Lo, I have longed for thy precepts;
Revive me through thy righteousness.

7

- 41 May thy gracious deeds come to me, O LORD,
Thy deliverance according to thy promise;

42 That I may answer those who insult me;
 For I have trusted in thy word.
 43 Do not snatch the word of truth utterly out of my mouth;
 For I have waited for thy judgment,
 44 That I may observe thy law continually,
 Forever and ever.
 45 May I walk at large,
 Because I have sought thy precepts.
 46 I will speak of thy commands in the presence of kings,
 And I shall not be put to shame.
 47 I delight myself in thy commandments
 Which I love.
 48 I raise my hands to thy commandments which I love;
 And I meditate upon thy statutes.

49 Remember the word to thy servant,
 Upon which thou hast led me to hope.
 50 This is my comfort in my trouble,
 That thy promise revives me.
 51 The arrogant have scoffed at me bitterly,
 But I have not turned away from thy law.
 52 I remember thy judgments from of old, O LORD,
 And am comforted.
 53 Burning rage lays hold of me because of the wicked,
 Who abandon thy law.
 54 Thy statutes are my songs of praise,
 In my house of pilgrimage.
 55 I remember thy name in the night, O LORD,
 And I observe thy law.
 56 This is mine,
 That I keep thy precepts.

57 The LORD is my portion;
 I have said that I would observe thy words.
 58 I beseech thee with my whole heart:
 Be gracious to me according to thy promise.
 59 I have considered my ways,
 And turned my feet toward thy commands.
 60 I have hastened, and not delayed

- In the observance of thy commandments.
61 The cords of the wicked have encircled me,
But I have not forgotten thy law.
62 At midnight I rise up to give thee thanks,
Because of thy righteous judgments.
63 I am the companion of all who revere thee,
And observe thy precepts.
64 The earth is full of thy grace, O LORD;
Teach me thy statutes.

- 65 Thou hast treated thy servant well,
O LORD, according to thy word.
66 Teach me good judgment and knowledge,
For I have trusted in thy commandments.
67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray;
But now I keep thy sayings.
68 Thou art good, and doest good;
Teach me thy statutes.
69 The arrogant have told lies about me;
But I keep thy precepts with all my heart.
70 Their heart is gross, like fat;
But I delight in thy law.
71 It is good for me that I was afflicted,
That I might learn thy statutes.
72 The law of thy mouth is worth more to me
Than thousands in gold and silver.

- 73 Thy hands made me and fashioned me;
Give me understanding that I may learn thy commandments.
74 May they who revere thee see me and rejoice,
Because I wait upon thy word.
75 I know, O LORD, that thy judgments are right,
And that in good faith thou hast afflicted me;
76 But now let thy grace comfort me,
According to thy promise to thy servant.
77 Let thy mercies come to me that I may live;
For my delight is in thy law.
78 Let the arrogant be put to shame, for they have falsely traduced
me;

But I will meditate upon thy precepts.
 79 Let those who revere thee turn to me,
 And those who know thy commands!
 80 Let my heart be blameless in thy statutes,
 That I be not put to shame.

81 I pine for thy deliverance;
 I wait for thy word.
 82 My eyes fail for thy promise,
 Saying, "How long till thou comfort me?"
 83 Though I have become like a wine skin in the smoke,
 I have not forgotten thy statutes.
 84 How many are thy servant's days?
 How long till thou execute judgment upon my pursuers?
 85 Pits have been dug for me by the arrogant,
 Who are not in accord with thy law.
 86 All thy commandments are sure.
 They persecute me on false charges; help me!
 87 They have nearly destroyed me in the land;
 But I have not forsaken thy precepts.
 88 In accordance with thy grace revive me,
 That I may observe the commands of thy mouth.

↳

89 Forever, O LORD,
 Thy word stands fast in the heavens.
 90 Thy faithfulness is for generation after generation;
 Thou didst establish the earth and it stood fast.
 91 By thy judgments they stand today;
 For all things are thy servants.
 92 Had not thy law been my delight,
 Then I had perished in my affliction.
 93 I shall never forget thy precepts;
 For by them thou didst keep me alive.
 94 I am thine, save me;
 For I have sought after thy precepts!
 95 The wicked lie in wait to ruin me;
 I consider thy commands.
 96 I have seen a limit to all perfection;
 Thy commandment is exceedingly broad.

- 97 Oh, how I love thy law!
It is my meditation all day long.
- 98 Thy commandment makes me wiser than my foes;
For it is always mine.
- 99 I am wiser than all my teachers;
For thy commands are my meditation.
- 100 I have more discretion than the aged;
For I have kept thy precepts.
- 101 I have withheld my feet from every wicked path,
That I might observe thy word.
- 102 I have not turned aside from thy judgments;
For thou thyself hast taught me.
- 103 How sweet are thy promises to my palate,
Sweeter than honey to my mouth!
- 104 From thy precepts I get discretion;
Therefore I hate every false way.

- 105 Thy word is a lamp to my feet,
And a light on my path.
- 106 I have sworn, and I will perform it,
To observe thy righteous judgments.
- 107 I am sorely afflicted;
O LORD, revive me in accordance with thy word.
- 108 Accept, now, O LORD, the voluntary offerings of my mouth,
And teach me thy judgments.
- 109 I carry my life in my hand continually,
But I have not forgotten thy law.
- 110 The wicked set a trap for me,
But I have not strayed from thy precepts.
- 111 I have thy commands as a heritage forever;
For they are the joy of my heart.
- 112 I incline my heart to execute thy statutes,
Henceforth forever.

- 113 I hate dissemblers;
But I love thy law.
- 114 Thou art my shelter and my shield;
I wait for thy word.

115 Depart from me, O doers of evil,
 That I may keep the commandments of my God.
 116 Sustain me according to thy promise that I may live;
 And make me not ashamed of my hope.
 117 Strengthen me that I may be delivered;
 And let me constantly contemplate thy statutes.
 118 Thou dost despise all who swerve from thy statutes,
 For their deceit is useless.
 119 Like dross, thou puttest an end to all the wicked of the earth;
 Therefore I love thy commands.
 120 My flesh creeps in awe of thee,
 And I am afraid of thy judgments.

121 I have done what is just and right;
 Leave me not to my oppressors.
 122 Pledge me thy word for good;
 Let not the arrogant oppress me.
 123 My eyes fail with longing for thy deliverance,
 And for thy righteous promise.
 124 Deal with thy servant according to thy grace;
 And teach me thy decrees.
 125 I am thy servant; give me understanding,
 That I may know thy commands.
 126 It is time for the LORD to act;
 They have broken thy law.
 127 Therefore I love thy commandments,
 More than gold or beaten gold.
 128 Therefore I declare all thy precepts to be right;
 I hate every false path.

129 Thy commandments are wonderful;
 Therefore will I keep them.
 130 The exposition of thy words gives light,
 Giving understanding to the open-hearted.
 131 I have opened wide my mouth and panted;
 For I long for thy commandments.
 132 Turn toward me and be gracious to me,
 As is the right of those who love thy name.
 133 Establish my footsteps by thy saying,

And let no wrong have power over me.

- 134 Free me from man's oppression,
That I may observe thy precepts.
135 Let thy face beam upon thy servant,
And teach me thy decrees.
136 With streams of water my eyes run down,
Over those who have not kept thy law.

2

- 137 Thou art righteous, O LORD,
And thy judgment is right.
138 Thou hast issued thy commands in righteousness,
And in exceeding faithfulness.
139 My zeal consumes me,
Because my foes forget thy words.
140 Thy promise has been tried to the utmost,
And thy servant loves it.
141 Little am I, and insignificant,
But I have not forgotten thy precepts.
142 Thy righteousness is right forever;
And thy law is truth.
143 Trouble and anguish befall me;
But thy commandments are my delight.
144 Thy commands are eternally right;
Give me understanding that I may live.

P

- 145 I call with all my heart; answer me, O LORD!
I will keep thy decrees.
146 I call upon thee; deliver me,
That I may keep thy commands.
147 I arise at dawn, and call for help;
I wait for thy word.
148 My eyes anticipate the night-watches,
In meditation upon thy promise.
149 Hear my voice according to thy grace;
O LORD, revive me, according to thy justice.
150 My pursuers are in close touch with malice;
But they are far from thy law.
151 Thou art near, O LORD;
And all thy commandments are true.

152 Long ago I knew from thy commands,
That thou hadst founded them forever.

7

153 Behold my affliction, and rescue me;
For I have not forgotten thy law!
154 Plead thou my case, and avenge me;
Revive me in accordance with thy promise.
155 Deliverance is far from the wicked;
For they have not sought thy statutes.
156 Thy mercies are many, O LORD;
Revive me according to thy justice.
157 Many are my pursuers and my foes,
But I have not turned away from thy commands.
158 I see apostates and loathe them,
Because they do not keep thy word.
159 See how I love thy precepts!
O LORD, revive me according to thy grace.
160 The sum of thy word is truth;
And all thy righteous judgments are forever.

8

161 Princes persecute me without cause;
But my heart is in awe of thy word.
162 I delight in thy promise,
Like one who finds abundant spoil.
163 Falsehood I hate and loathe;
Thy law do I love.
164 Seven times daily I praise thee,
Because of thy righteous judgments.
165 Great prosperity have they who love thy law,
And no obstacles confront them.
166 I hope for thy deliverance, O LORD,
And I do thy commandments.
167 I keep thy commands,
And I love them dearly.
168 I observe thy precepts and thy commands;
For all my ways are before thee.

9

169 Let my cry come before thee, O LORD;
Give me understanding according to thy word.

- 170 Let my entreaty come before thee;
Rescue me according to thy promise.
- 171 Let my lips speak forth praise,
Because thou dost teach me thy statutes.
- 172 May my tongue sing of thy word,
For all thy commandments are right.
- 173 May thy hand come to my help,
For I have chosen thy precepts.
- 174 I long for thy deliverance, O LORD,
And thy law is my delight.
- 175 May I live to praise thee,
And may thy justice help me.
- 176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek thy servant;
For I have not forgotten thy commandments.

A WARNING TO LIARS

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS]

- 120 To the LORD in my distress
I call, and he answers me.
- 2 O LORD, deliver me from lying lips,
From the deceitful tongue.
- 3 What will he give you, and what more,
O deceitful tongue?
- 4 The sharpened arrows of the warrior,
With live broom coals!
- 5 Alas that I sojourn in Meshech,
That I dwell with the clans of Kedar!
- 6 Too long a time have I dwelt with the haters of peace.
- 7 I am for peace, but when I speak,
they are for war!

THE GUARDIAN GOD

[A SONG FOR THE ASCENTS]

- 121 I raise my eyes to the hills;
Whence does my help come?
- 2 My help is from the LORD,
Who made the heavens and earth.

- 3 He will not let your foot slip,
your guardian will not slumber.
- 4 He will neither slumber, nor sleep,
that guards Israel.
- 5 The LORD is your guardian;
The LORD is your shade upon your right hand.
- 6 By day the sun will not smite you,
nor the moon by night.
- 7 The LORD will guard you from all evil;
the LORD will guard your life.
- 8 The LORD will guard your goings and comings henceforth and forever.

A PRAYER FOR JERUSALEM
[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS. OF DAVID]

- 122 I was glad when they said to me,
“Let us go to the house of the LORD.”
- 2 Our feet are standing within your gates, O Jerusalem;
- 3 Jerusalem that is rebuilt like a city, with which, moreover, the law of Israel is united;
- 4 Whither the tribes go up,
the tribes of the LORD,
To give thanks to the name of the LORD;
5 For there were set thrones of judgment,
The thrones of the house of David.
- 6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem;
They will prosper who love you.
- 7 Peace be within your walls,
Tranquillity in your palaces!
- 8 For the sake of my brothers and my friends,
I will say, “Peace be with you!”
- 9 For the sake of the house of the LORD, our God,
I will seek your good.

A SONG OF SIGHS

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS]

- 123 Unto thee I raise my eyes,
O thou, who dwellest in the heavens!
- 2 Lo, as the eyes of slaves are to the hand of their master,
As the eyes of a maid are to the hand of her mistress,
So our eyes are toward the LORD, our God,
Till he take pity upon us.
- 3 Have pity on us, O LORD, have pity on us!
For we are abundantly sated with contempt.
- 4 We are abundantly sated with it,
With the scorn of the arrogant,
The contempt of the insolent.

A SONG OF GRATITUDE

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS. OF DAVID]

- 124 "Had it not been the LORD who was on our side,"
Let Israel say,
- 2 "Had it not been the LORD who was on our side,
When men rose up against us,
3 Then had they swallowed us up alive,
When their anger blazed forth against us;
4 Then had the waters swept us away,
The torrent had gone over us;
5 Then had gone over us
The seething waters.
- 6 "Blessed be the LORD,
Who did not yield us a prey to their teeth.
7 We are like a bird escaped from the fowler's snare;
The snare is broken and we have escaped.
8 Our help is in the name of the LORD,
Who made the heavens and the earth."

UNSHAKABLE FAITH

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS]

- 125 They who trust in the LORD
Are like Mount Zion which cannot be moved,
But abides forever.

- 2 Even as the mountains encircle Jerusalem,
So the LORD encircles his people,
From henceforth and forever.
- 3 For the wicked scepter will not rest upon the lot of the righteous,
That the righteous may not put forth their hands unto wrong.
- 4 Do good, O LORD, to the good,
And to them that are upright in heart.
- 5 But those who make their ways crooked—
May the LORD make them go with malefactors!
Peace be upon Israel!

SHOUTS OF JOY

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS]

- 126 When the LORD brings back captive Zion
We shall be like dreamers!
- 2 Then will our mouth be filled with laughter,
And our tongue with shouts of joy.
Then will they say among the nations,
"The LORD has done great things for them."
- 3 The LORD has done great things for us;
We are glad.
- 4 Restore our fortune, O LORD,
Like torrents in the southland.
- 5 May those who sow in tears
Reap with shouts of joy!
- 6 He who goes forth weeping, bearing seed for sowing,
Will indeed come back with joyful shouts, bearing his sheaves

THE SUSTAINING GOD

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS. OF SOLOMON]

- 127 Unless the LORD build the house,
Its builders toil thereon in vain.
Unless the LORD keep the city,
The watchman keeps awake in vain.
- 2 In vain do you rise up early,
And stay up late,
And eat hard-earned bread;
So he gives his loved ones sleep.

- 3 Lo, children are a heritage from the LORD;
The fruit of the womb is a reward.
- 4 Like arrows in the hand of a warrior,
So are the children of one's youth.
- 5 How happy is the man whose quiver is filled with them!
They will not be put to shame when they speak with their enemies in the gate.

THE TRULY HAPPY MAN

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS]

- 128 How happy is everyone who reveres the LORD,
Who walks in his ways!
- 2 Of the toil of your hands you shall eat;
Happy and prosperous shall you be!
- 3 Your wife shall be like a fruitful vine,
In the interior of your house;
Your children like young olive-trees,
Around your table.
- 4 For lo, thus shall the man be blessed,
Who reveres the LORD.
- 5 The LORD bless you from Zion!
And may you look upon the welfare of Jerusalem
All the days of your life!
- 6 And may you look upon your children's children!
Peace be upon Israel!

THE FLEETING FORTUNE OF THE WICKED

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS]

- 129 "Grossly have they abused me from my youth up,"
May Israel, indeed, say;
- 2 "Grossly have they abused me from my youth up,
But they have not prevailed against me.
- 3 The plowers plowed upon my back,
They made their furrows long,"
- 4 But the LORD is righteous;
He has cut the cords of the wicked.
- 5 They are put to shame and turned back,
All who hate Zion.

- 6 They will be like the grass on the roofs,
That withers before it has shot up,
7 With which the reaper does not fill his hands,
Nor the binder of sheaves his bosom.
8 Those passing by will not say to them,
"The blessing of the LORD be upon you;
We bless you in the name of the LORD!"

DE PROFUNDIS

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS]

- 130 Out of the depths I cry to thee, O LORD!
2 O LORD, hear my voice!
Let thine ears be attentive
To my supplicating voice.
3 If thou, O LORD, shouldst record iniquities,
O Lord, who could stand?
4 But with thee there is forgiveness,
That thou mayest be revered.
5 I wait for the LORD, my whole being waits,
And for his word I hope.
6 I wait for the LORD,
More than watchmen for the dawn,
Watchmen for the dawn.
7 Hope, O Israel, in the LORD,
For with the LORD is grace,
And with him is plenteous redemption.
For he will redeem Israel
From all its guilt.

A PATIENT SAINT

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS. OF DAVID]

- 131 My heart is not proud, O LORD,
Nor are my eyes lofty;
Nor do I deal with things
Too great and too wonderful for me.
2 I have certainly calmed and stilled my spirit,
Like a weaned child with its mother;
My spirit is with me like a weaned child.

- 3 Wait, O Israel, for the LORD,
From henceforth and forever!

THE ANCIENT PROMISE

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS]

- 132 Remember, O LORD, for David's sake,
All his affliction:
- 2 How he swore to the LORD,
And vowed to the Mighty One of Jacob:
- 3 "I will not enter my dwelling-house,
Nor will I mount my bed to lie down,
4 Nor permit sleep to mine eyes,
Nor slumber to mine eyelids,
5 Until I find a place for the LORD,
A dwelling for the Mighty One of Jacob."
- 6 Lo, we heard that it was in Ephrathah;
We found it in the fields of Jaar.
- 7 Let us go to his dwelling,
Let us worship at his footstool.
- 8 Arise, O LORD, to thy resting-place,
Thou and the ark of thy strength.
- 9 Let thy priests robe themselves in righteousness,
And thy saints shout with joy.
- 10 Because of David, thy servant,
Turn not away the face of thine anointed.
- 11 The LORD swore to David
An inviolable oath from which he will not swerve:
"Of the fruit of your body,
I will establish a dynasty for you.
- 12 If your sons keep my covenant,
And my commands which I teach them,
Then their sons, forever,
Shall sit upon your throne."
- 13 For the LORD has chosen Zion;
He has desired it for his dwelling-place:
- 14 "This is my resting-place forever;
Here will I dwell, for I desired it.
- 15 I will richly bless its food supply,

- Its needy I will satisfy with bread.
 16 Its priests will I clothe with salvation,
 And its saints shall shout aloud with joy.
 17 There will I cause a horn to spring forth for David;
 I will set in order a lamp for mine anointed,
 18 His enemies I will clothe with shame;
 But upon him his diadem shall shine.”

ZION'S PERPETUAL BLESSING

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS. OF DAVID]

- 133 Lo, how good and lovely it is
 When brethren dwell together as one.
 2 Like the goodly oil upon the head,
 Which flows down upon the beard, Aaron's beard,
 That flows down upon the edge of his robes,
 3 So is the dew of Hermon that flows down upon the mountains of Zion;
 For there has the LORD commanded the blessing:
 Life for evermore.

A CALL TO WORSHIP

[THE SONGS OF ASCENTS]

- 134 Lo, bless the LORD, all you servants of the LORD,
 Who stand in the house of the LORD by night!
 2 Lift up your hands toward the sanctuary,
 And bless the LORD!
 3 May the LORD, maker of the heavens and the earth,
 Bless you from Zion.

A SONG OF PRAISE

- 135 Hallelujah!
 Praise the name of the LORD!
 Praise him, O you servants of the LORD,
 2 Who stand in the house of the LORD,
 In the courts of the house of our God!
 3 Praise the LORD, for the LORD is good!
 Sing praises to his name, for he is praiseworthy.
 4 For the LORD has chosen Jacob as his own,
 And Israel as his own treasure.

- 5 I know, indeed, that the LORD,
And our Lord, is greater than all the gods.
- 6 The LORD does whatsoever he pleases,
Whether in the heavens or on earth,
In the seas and in all deeps;
- 7 Raising clouds from the ends of the earth.
He makes the lightning flashes for the rain,
Bringing forth the wind from his treasures.
- 8 It was he who smote the first-born of Egypt,
Both of man and beast.
- 9 He sent forth wonders and portents
Into the midst of thee, O Egypt,
Upon Pharaoh and upon all his servants!
- 10 It was he who smote many nations,
And slew mighty kings,
- 11 Sihon, the king of the Amorites,
Og, the king of Bashan,
And all the kingdoms of Canaan.
- 12 And he gave their land as a possession,
A possession of his people Israel.
- 13 O LORD, thy name is forever;
O LORD, thy memorial is for all generations.
- 14 For the LORD will give his people justice,
And will have compassion upon his servants.
- 15 The idols of the nations are but silver and gold,
The product of men's hands.
- 16 They have mouths, but cannot speak;
Eyes have they, but cannot see;
Ears have they, but cannot hear;
- 17 Neither, indeed, is there any breath in their mouth.
18 Those who make them will become like them,
Everyone who trusts in them.
- 19 O house of Israel, bless the LORD;
O house of Aaron, bless the LORD;
20 O house of the Levites, bless the LORD;
You who revere the LORD, bless the LORD!
- 21 Blessed from Zion be the LORD,

Who dwells at Jerusalem!
Hallelujah!

THE GRACE OF GOD

- 136 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good,
For his grace is everlasting.
- 2 Give thanks to the God of gods,
For his grace is everlasting.
- 3 Give thanks to the Lord of lords,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 4 To him who did great wonders alone,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 5 To him who made the heavens with skill,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 6 To him who spread out the earth upon the waters,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 7 To him who made the great lights,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 8 The sun to rule by day,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 9 The moon and the stars to rule by night,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 10 To him who smote the Egyptians in their first-born,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 11 And brought forth Israel from the midst of them,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 12 With a strong hand and an outstretched arm,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 13 To him who divided the Sea of Sedge into two parts,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 14 And led Israel over through the midst of it,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 15 And shook Pharaoh and his army into the Sea of Sedge,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 16 To him who led his people through the wilderness,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 17 To him who smote great kings,
For his grace is everlasting;
- 18 And slew mighty kings,
For his grace is everlasting;

- 19 Sihon, the king of the Amorites,
For his grace is everlasting;
20 And Og, the king of Bashan,
For his grace is everlasting;
21 And gave their land as a possession,
For his grace is everlasting;
22 A possession to Israel, his servant,
For his grace is everlasting;
23 Who remembered us in our abasement,
For his grace is everlasting;
24 And rescued us from our foes,
For his grace is everlasting;
25 Who gives food to all flesh,
For his grace is everlasting.
26 Give thanks to the God of the heavens,
For his grace is everlasting.

REVENGE UPON ISRAEL'S FOES

- 137 By the rivers of Babylon,
There we sat down, and wept, indeed,
When we remembered Zion.
2 Upon the poplars, in the midst of her,
We hung up our harps.
3 For there our captors
Demanded of us songs,
And our tormentors, mirth:
"Sing us some of the songs of Zion."
4 How could we sing the songs of the LORD
In a foreign land?
5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem,
May my right hand fail me!
6 May my tongue cleave to my palate,
If I do not remember thee;
If I set not Jerusalem
Above my highest joy!
7 Remember, O LORD, against the Edomites,
The day of Jerusalem!
They who said, "Raze it, raze it,
To its very foundations!"

- 8 O daughter of Babylon, destructive one,
 Blessed be he who requites to you
 The treatment that you dealt out to us!
- 9 Blessed be he who seizes your little ones,
 And dashes them to pieces upon a rock!

THE HELP OF GOD

[OF DAVID]

- 138 I give thee thanks with all my heart.
 In the presence of the gods, I sing praises to thee!
- 2 I prostrate myself toward thy holy temple;
 And give thanks to thy name for thy grace and thy faithfulness.
 For thou hast magnified thy name over all.
- 3 In the day when I called thou didst answer me;
 Thou didst increase thy power in me.
- 4 All the kings of the earth will give thanks to thee, O LORD,
 When they have heard the words of thy mouth.
- 5 And they will sing of the ways of the LORD,
 That the glory of the LORD is great.
- 6 The LORD looks upon the high and the low,
 But the haughty he knows from afar.
- 7 Though I walk in the midst of hostility, thou dost preserve my life;
 Against the wrath of my foes, thou dost stretch forth thy hand,
 And thy right hand delivers me.
- 8 The LORD rewards me.
 O LORD, thy grace is everlasting.
 Forsake not the work of thine own hands!

THE OMNIPRESENT AND OMNISCIENT GOD

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 139 Thou hast searched me and known me, O LORD.
- 2 Thou knowest when I sit down and when I stand up.
 Thou discernest my thought from afar.
- 3 Thou dost measure out my course and my camp,
 And art intimately acquainted with all my ways.
- 4 For there is not a word on my tongue,
 But, LORD, thou knowest it all.

- 5 Thou dost enfold me behind and before,
And dost put thy hand upon me;
6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me;
It is too lofty—I am not equal to it.
- 7 Whither shall I go from thy spirit?
And whither shall I flee from thy presence?
8 If I ascend to the heavens, thou art there!
If I make Sheol my bed, thou art there also!
9 If I take up the wings of the dawn,
And dwell at the back of the sea,
10 Even there thy hand will guide me,
And thy right hand will hold me.
11 If I say, "Darkness will surely cover me,"
Then the night becomes light about me.
12 Darkness makes it not too dark for thee;
But the night is as bright as the day.
Darkness and light are both alike to thee.
- 13 For thou didst create my vitals,
Thou didst fashion me in my mother's womb.
14 I praise thee because thou art fearfully wonderful;
Wondrous are thy works,
And I myself know it well.
15 My bones were not hidden from thee,
When I was made in secret,
And molded in the lowest parts of the earth.
16 Thine eyes saw the sum total of my days,
And in thy book they were all written;
They were formed, when there was not one among them.
17 How precious are thy thoughts to me, O God!
How great the sum of them!
18 Were I to count them—they would outnumber the sands!
Were I to come to the end of them, my life-span must be like thine!
- 19 If thou wouldst but slay the wicked, O God,
And the men of blood would depart from me,
20 Who oppose thee in their thoughts,
Who utter thy name to a lie!
21 Do I not hate them that hate thee, O LORD?

- And do I not loathe them who oppose thee?
 22 With the deadliest hatred, I hate them;
 They are my own enemies.
 23 Search me, O God, and know my heart;
 Try me, and know my thoughts;
 24 And see if there be any false way in me;
 And lead me in the ancient way.

A PRAYER FOR VINDICATION

[FOR THE DIRECTOR: A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 140 Free me, O LORD, from wicked men!
 Rescue me from violent men,
 2 Who plan evil things in their heart,
 Who constantly stir up wars!
 3 They have a sharp tongue like a serpent;
 The venom of adders is under their lips. Selah
- 4 Keep me, O LORD, from the hand of the wicked;
 Rescue me from violent men,
 Who plan to trip my steps.
 5 The arrogant have laid a snare for me, and lines;
 They have spread a net for me by the wayside;
 They have set traps for me. Selah
- 6 I say to the LORD, "Thou art my God;
 Listen, O God, to my supplicating cry.
 7 O GOD, the Lord, my strong deliverer,
 Thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.
 8 Grant not, O LORD, the desires of the wicked;
 Let not his purpose succeed! Selah
- 9 "Let not those who encompass me raise their heads;
 May the mischief of their own lips cover them!
 10 May coals of fire fall down upon them!
 May they be cast into pits whence they cannot rise up again!
 11 May the slanderer have no standing in the land!
 May disaster pursue the violent man with blow upon blow!"
- 12 I know that the LORD will maintain
 The cause of the wretched, the rights of the poor.
 13 Certainly, the righteous shall give thanks to thy name;
 The upright shall dwell in thy presence.

A PRAYER FOR PROTECTION

[A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 141 I call upon thee, O LORD; make haste to me;
Listen to my voice, when I call upon thee!
- 2 Let my prayer rise like incense before thee,
The lifting of my hands like the evening offering!
- 3 Set a guard, O LORD, over my mouth;
Keep watch at the door of my lips.
- 4 Incline not my heart to any evil thing,
To participate in wicked deeds,
With men who do wrong;
And let me not eat of their dainties.
- 5 If the righteous smite me—it is a favor,
And if he rebuke me—it is the finest oil;
Let not my head refuse it!
Indeed, my prayer is ever for them in trouble.
- 6 They will be hurled into the hands of their chieftains;
And they will learn that the word of the LORD is true.
- 7 Like a rock, split and crushed on the land,
Their bones will lie scattered at the jaws of Sheol.
- 8 But my eyes are toward thee, O Lord God;
In thee I seek refuge; leave me not defenseless!
- 9 Keep me from the hold of the snare which they have set for me,
And the traps of wrongdoers!
- 10 May the wicked fall into their own pits,
While I, indeed, pass by.

A PRAYER FOR SAFETY FROM FOES

[A maskil OF DAVID WHEN HE WAS IN THE CAVE. A PRAYER]

- 142 I cry aloud to the LORD;
I make supplications aloud to the LORD!
- 2 I pour out my complaint before him;
I tell my trouble before him.
- 3 When my spirit faints,
Thou knowest my way.
- In the path where I must walk,
They lay a snare for me.
- 4 Look to the right, and see
That I have no friend.

Escape is cut off from me;
 Nobody cares for my life.

- 5 I cry unto thee, O LORD;
 I say, "Thou art my refuge,
 My portion in the land of the living.
 6 Give heed unto my cry;
 For I am brought very low.
 Rescue me from my pursuers;
 For they are too strong for me.
 7 Bring me forth from prison,
 That I may give thanks to thy name.
 The righteous will throng around me,
 When thou dealest well with me."

A PRAYER FOR DELIVERANCE

[A PSALM OF DAVID]

- 143 Hear my prayer, O LORD;
 Listen to my supplications!
 In thy fidelity answer me, and in thy righteousness!
 2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant;
 For in thy sight can no man living be innocent.
 3 For the enemy has pursued me;
 He has crushed my life to the earth,
 He has made me dwell in dark regions, like those long dead.
 4 And my spirit faints within me;
 My heart within me is appalled.
 5 I recall the days of old;
 I meditate upon all thy deeds;
 I ponder the work of thy hands.
 6 I spread forth my hands to thee;
 I long for thee like a parched land. Selah
 7 Answer me quickly, O LORD; my spirit fails.
 Hide not thy face from me,
 Lest I become like those that have gone down to the pit.
 8 Let me hear thy grace speedily;
 For I have trusted in thee!

Teach me the way that I should go,
For unto thee I lift my desire.

- 9 Deliver me from my enemies, O LORD;
I seek refuge in thee.
- 10 Teach me to do thy will,
For thou art my God;
Let thy good spirit guide me in a straight path.
- 11 For thy name's sake, O LORD, save my life!
In the vindication of thyself bring me out of trouble!
- 12 In thy grace cut off my enemies,
And destroy all my adversaries;
For I am thy servant.

A PRAYER FOR DIVINE REINFORCEMENTS

[OF DAVID]

- 144 Blessed be the LORD, my rock,
Who trains my hands for war,
My fingers for battle;
- 2 My refuge, and my fortress,
My precipice, and my deliverer,
My shield, and him with whom I seek refuge;
The one who subdues the peoples under him.
- 3 O LORD, what is man that thou shouldst know him,
The son of man that thou shouldst take thought of him?
- 4 Man is like a breath,
His days are like a passing shadow.
- 5 O LORD, bow thy heavens and come down!
Touch the mountains that they smoke!
- 6 Hurl the lightning and scatter them;
Send forth thy arrows and rout them.
- 7 Send forth thy hand from on high!
Deliver me and rescue me from the mighty waters,
From the hand of aliens,
- 8 Whose mouths speak lies,
And their right hand is one of falsehood!
- 9 O God, I will sing thee a new song;
Upon a ten-stringed lute will I play to thee,

- 10 Who makest kings victorious,
Who delivered David, his servant, from the wicked sword.
11 Deliver me, and rescue me from the hand of aliens,
Whose mouths speak lies,
And their right hand is one of falsehood!

A CONTENTED PEOPLE

- 12 Our sons are like plants grown large in their youth;
Our daughters are like cornices carved after the fashion of a palace.
13 Our garners are filled to overflowing, garners of all sorts.
Our flocks increase by thousands and tens of thousands in our fields.
14 Our oxen are heavily laden.
There is no riot and no alarm,
And no outcry in our streets.
15 How happy the people that are in such a state!
How happy the people whose God is the LORD!

AN ALPHABETIC DOXOLOGY

[A PRAYER OF DAVID]

א

- 145 I will exalt thee, my God, O King;
And bless thy name forever and ever.

ב

- 2 All day long will I bless thee,
And praise thy name forever and ever.

ג

- 3 Great is the LORD; and highly to be praised,
And his greatness is unlimited.

ד

- 4 One generation will praise thy works to another,
And will declare thy mighty acts.

ה

- 5 They will speak of the splendor of thy glorious majesty;
And I will tell of thy wonders.

ג

- 6 They will talk of thy terrible might;
And I will narrate thy greatness.

ד

- 7 They will publish the memory of thy great goodness,
And they will joyously proclaim thy righteousness.

ה

- 8 Gracious and merciful is the LORD,
Slow to anger and great in grace.

ו

- 9 The LORD is good to all,
And his mercy is over all his works.

ז

- 10 All thy works give thanks to thee, O LORD;
And thy saints bless thee.

ח

- 11 They declare the glory of thy kingdom,
And tell of thy might;

ט

- 12 To make known his mighty deeds to the sons of man,
And the glorious splendor of his kingdom.

י

- 13 Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom,
And thy dominion is over all the generations.

יא

- 14 The LORD supports all who fall,
And raises up all who are bowed down.

יב

- 15 The eyes of all wait upon thee,
And thou givest them their food in due season.

יג

- 16 Thou openest thy hand,
And completely satisfiest every living thing.

ז

17 The LORD is righteous in all his ways,
And gracious in all his works.

פ

18 The LORD is near to all who call upon him,
To all who call upon him sincerely.

ר

19 He fulfils the desire of those who revere him;
He hears their cries for help and delivers them.

ש

20 The LORD preserves all those who love him;
But all the wicked he destroys.

ת

21 May my mouth speak the praise of the LORD,
And let all flesh bless his holy name,
Forever and ever!

THE PRAISEWORTHY GOD

146 Hallelujah!
Let my whole being praise the LORD!
2 I will praise the LORD as long as I live;
I will sing praises to my God as long as I exist.
3 Put no trust in princes,
In a mere man, in whom is no help.
4 When his breath departs he returns to his earth;
In that selfsame day his plans perish.
5 How happy is he whose help is the God of Jacob!
Whose hope is upon the LORD, his God,
6 Who made the heavens and the earth,
The sea and all that is therein;
Who preserves fidelity forever;
7 Who renders justice to the oppressed;
Who gives bread to the hungry.
The LORD releases the prisoners;
8 The LORD opens the eyes of the blind;
The LORD lifts up them that are bowed down;

- The LORD loves the righteous;
9 The LORD watches over the strangers;
The fatherless and the widow he supports;
But the way of the wicked he thwarts.
- 10 The LORD reigns forever,
Thy God, O Zion, for all generations!
Hallelujah!

THE WORKS OF GOD ALMIGHTY

- 147 Hallelujah!
Praise the LORD, for he is good,
For he is gracious; praise befits him.
- 2 The LORD restores Jerusalem.
He assembles the outcasts of Israel.
- 3 He heals the broken-hearted,
And binds up their wounds.
- 4 He determines the number of the stars;
He gives names to all of them.
- 5 Great is our Lord, and abounding in strength;
There is no limit to his understanding.
- 6 The LORD upholds the humble;
But he casts the wicked down to the ground.
- 7 Sing to the LORD with thanksgiving;
Sing praises to our God upon the lute!
- 8 For he covers the heavens with clouds;
He prepares rain for the earth;
He makes grass spring forth upon the hills.
- 9 He gives the cattle their food,
And to the young ravens when they cry.
- 10 He has no pleasure in the strength of a horse;
He has no delight in the legs of a man!
- 11 The LORD is pleased with those who revere him;
With those who wait for his grace.
- 12 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem!
Praise thy God, O Zion!
- 13 For he strengthens the bars of thy gates;
He blesses thy children within thee.
- 14 He makes thy boundary peace;

He satisfies thee with the finest of the wheat.
 15 He sends forth his command to the earth;
 His word runs with utmost speed.
 16 He gives snow like wool,
 He scatters hoarfrost like ashes.
 17 He casts forth his ice like crumbs;
 Who can stand before his cold?
 18 He sends forth his word and melts them;
 He makes his wind blow; the water flows.
 19 He declares his word to Jacob,
 His statutes and judgments to Israel.
 20 He has not acted thus with any other nation;
 Nor do they know his judgments.
 Hallelujah!

A HALLELUJAH CHORUS

148 Hallelujah!
 Praise the LORD from the heavens;
 Praise him in the heights!
 2 Praise him, all his angels;
 Praise him, all his host!
 3 Praise him, sun and moon;
 Praise him, all you stars of light!
 4 Praise him, highest heavens,
 And waters that are above the heavens!
 5 Let them praise the name of the LORD!
 For he commanded and they were created.
 6 And he fixed them fast forever and ever;
 He gave a statute that they should not transgress.
 7 Praise the LORD from the earth;
 Sea-monsters and all deeps!
 8 Fire and hail, snow and fog,
 Stormy wind, fulfilling his word!
 9 Mountains and all hills,
 Fruit-trees and all cedars!
 10 Wild beasts and all cattle,
 Creeping things and winged birds!
 11 Kings of the earth and all peoples,
 Princes and all rulers of the earth!

- 12 Young men and maidens, too,
Old men and boys!
- 13 Let them praise the name of the LORD;
For his name alone is exalted;
His majesty is over the earth and the heavens.
- 14 And he has raised up a horn for his people.
The praise is he of all his saints,
The sons of Israel, the people which is near him.
Hallelujah!

PRAISE TO THE CONQUERING GOD

- 149 Hallelujah!
Sing to the LORD a new song,
His praise in the assembly of the pious.
- 2 Let Israel rejoice in his maker;
Let the sons of Zion triumph in their king.
- 3 Let them praise his name with dancing;
Let them make music to him on drum and lute.
- 4 For the LORD is pleased with his people.
He adorns the humble with victory.
- 5 Let the pious exult in honor;
Let them shout with joy upon their beds,
6 With exaltations of God in their throats,
And double-edged swords in their hands,
7 To execute vengeance upon the nations,
Punishment upon the peoples;
8 To bind their kings with chains,
And their nobles with fetters of iron;
9 To execute upon them the verdict that is written:
Such honor have all his saints.
Hallelujah!

THE CLOSING DOXOLOGY

- 150 Hallelujah!
Praise God in his sanctuary!
Praise him in his mighty firmament!
- 2 Praise him for his mighty deeds!
Praise him for his abundant greatness!

- 3 Praise him with the blast of the horn!
Praise him with lyre and lute!
- 4 Praise him with drum and dance!
Praise him with strings and pipe!
- 5 Praise him with clanging cymbals!
Praise him with crashing cymbals!
- 6 Let everything that breathes praise the LORD!
Hallelujah!

THE BOOK OF PROVERBS

INTRODUCTION, 1:1-6

- 1 The proverbs of Solomon, the son of David, king of Israel:
2 That men may gain wisdom and instruction,
May understand words of intelligence;
3 That they may receive instruction in wise conduct,
In rectitude, justice, and honesty;
4 That sense may be imparted to the simple,
Knowledge and discretion to the inexperienced;
5 (The wise man also may hear and increase his learning,
The man of intelligence acquire sound principles;)
6 That they may understand proverb and parable,
The words of the wise and their epigrams.

THE FIRST PRINCIPLE OF WISDOM, 1:7

- 7 Reverence for the LORD is the beginning of knowledge;
Fools despise wisdom and instruction.

EXHORTATION AND WARNING, 1:8-19

- 8 Hear, my son, your father's instruction,
And reject not your mother's teaching;
9 For a graceful garland will they be for your head,
And a chain for your neck.
- 10 My son, if sinners entice you, consent not.
11 If they say, "Come with us, let us lie in wait for the honest,
Let us lurk for the innocent without danger to ourselves;
12 Let us swallow them up alive and sound in health,
As Sheol swallows up those who go down to the Pit!
13 All kinds of precious wealth shall we find,
We shall fill our houses with spoil:
14 Cast in your lot among us,
We will all have one purse"—
15 My son, walk not in the way with them,
Keep your foot clear of their path;
16 For their feet run to evil,

They hasten to shed blood.
 17 As the net is baited without sense of danger
 In the eyes of any bird,
 18 While men lie in wait for their blood,
 And lurk for their lives,
 19 So is it with every one who traffics in ill-gotten gain:
 It takes away the life of its owners.

THE APPEAL OF WISDOM, 1:20-33

20 Wisdom cries aloud in the streets,
 She lifts up her voice in the squares;
 21 At the head of noisy thoroughfares she calls,
 At the openings of the city gates she utters her words:
 22 "How long, you simple ones, will you love simplicity,
 And scoffers delight in scoffing,
 And fools hate knowledge?
 23 If you but turn and pay heed to my admonition,
 Lo! I will open my mind to you,
 I will acquaint you with my thoughts:
 24 Because I called and you refused to listen,
 I stretched out my hand and no one paid heed;
 25 You ignored all my counsel,
 And would not have my admonition—
 26 I in my turn will laugh in the hour of your doom,
 I will mock when your terror comes;
 27 When your terror comes like a storm,
 And your doom descends like a whirlwind,
 When distress and anguish befall you.
 28 Then they may call me, but I will not answer;
 They may seek me, but they shall not find me.
 29 Because they hated knowledge,
 And chose not reverence for the LORD;
 30 They would not have my counsel,
 They spurned all my admonition—
 31 Now shall they eat of the fruit of their conduct,
 And shall have their fill of what they purposed.
 32 For the waywardness of the simple shall slay them,
 And the complacency of fools shall destroy them;
 33 While he who listens to me shall live in security,
 And shall enjoy peace of mind unruffled by dread of evil."

THE BLESSINGS OF WISDOM, 2:1-22

- 2 My son, if you receive my words,
And store my commandments within you,
2 Bending your ear to wisdom,
And applying your mind to reason;
3 If you appeal to intelligence,
And lift up your voice to reason;
4 If you seek her as silver,
And search for her as for hidden treasures—
5 Then will you understand reverence for the LORD,
And will discover the knowledge of God;
6 For the LORD gives wisdom,
Out of his mouth come knowledge and reason;
7 He has help in store for the upright,
He is a shield to those who walk honestly;
8 He guards the paths of justice,
And protects the way of his pious ones;
9 Then will you understand rectitude and justice,
And will keep to every good course;
10 For when wisdom finds a welcome within you,
And knowledge becomes a pleasure to you,
11 Discretion will watch over you,
Reason will guard you—
12 Saving you from the way of bad men,
From men who use perverse speech;
13 Who leave the paths of uprightness,
To walk in ways of darkness;
14 Who delight in doing evil,
Exult in wanton wickedness;
15 Who are crooked in their ways,
And tortuous in their paths—
16 Saving you from the wife of another,
From the adulteress who plies you with smooth words,
17 Who forsakes the companion of her youth,
And forgets her pledge to her God;
18 For her paths lead down to death,
And her tracks descend to the Shades;
19 None who go to her come back again,
Or reach the paths of life—
20 Helping you to walk in the way of good men,

- And to keep to the paths of the righteous;
 21 For the upright will live in the land,
 And the honest will remain in it;
 22 While the wicked will be cut off from the land,
 And the faithless will be rooted out of it.

THE FEAR OF THE LORD, 3:1-12

- 3 My son, forget not my teaching,
 But keep my commandments in mind;
 2 For a long and happy life,
 With abundant prosperity, will they bring to you.
 3 Let not kindness and good faith leave you:
 Fasten them round your neck,
 Write them on the tablet of your mind;
 4 So will you find favor and good will
 In the eyes of God and man.
 5 Trust in the LORD with all your heart,
 And rely not on your own understanding;
 6 In all your ways acknowledge him,
 And he will make straight your paths.
 7 Be not wise in your own eyes,
 Revere the LORD, and withdraw from evil;
 8 This will be health to your flesh,
 And refreshment to your bones.
 9 Honor the LORD with your substance,
 With the firstfruits of all your produce;
 10 So will your barns be filled with grain,
 And your vats will be bursting with wine.
 11 My son, despise not the discipline of the LORD,
 And resent not his correction;
 12 For whom the LORD loves he corrects,
 Even as a father the son in whom he delights.

THE WORTH OF WISDOM, 3:13-26

- 13 How happy is the man who finds wisdom,
 The man who gains understanding!

- 14 For her income is better than income of silver,
And her revenue than gold.
- 15 She is more precious than corals,
And none of your heart's desires can compare with her.
- 16 Long life is in her right hand,
In her left are riches and honor.
- 17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness,
And all her paths are peace.
- 18 She is a tree of life to those who grasp her,
And happy is every one who holds her fast.
- 19 The LORD by wisdom founded the earth,
By reason he established the heavens;
20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up,
And the clouds drop down dew.
- 21 My son, keep guard on wisdom and discretion,
Let them not slip from your eyes;
22 They will be life to you,
And an ornament round your neck.
- 23 Then you may go your way in security,
Without striking your foot on a stone;
24 When you rest, you will not be afraid,
When you lie down, your sleep will be sweet;
25 You will fear no sudden terror,
Nor the storm that falls on the wicked;
26 For the LORD will be your confidence,
And will keep your foot from the snare.

WISE COUNSELS, 3:27-35

- 27 Withhold not help from the needy,
When it is in your power to render it.
- 28 Say not to your neighbor, "Go, and come again;
Tomorrow I will give," when you have it beside you.
- 29 Plot no mischief against your neighbor,
When he lives in confidence beside you.
- 30 Start no unprovoked quarrel with a man,
If he have done you no harm.
- 31 Envy not the lawless man,
And choose none of his ways;

- 32 For the crooked man is an abomination to the LORD,
While the upright enjoy his confidence.
- 33 The curse of the LORD is on the house of the wicked,
But the home of the righteous he blesses;
- 34 The scoffers he scoffs at,
But to the humble he shows favor;
- 35 Wise men come to honor,
But fools gain nothing but shame.

A FATHER'S INSTRUCTIONS, 4:1-27

- 4 Hear, my son, a father's instruction,
And attend, that you may gain understanding;
- 2 Because I give you sound learning,
Forsake not my teaching!
- 3 When as a boy I was tender in my father's sight,
And dearly beloved in the eyes of my mother,
- 4 He taught me, and said to me:
"Hold fast my words in your mind,
Keep my commandments, and live—
- 5 Forget not, and swerve not from the words of my mouth—
Get wisdom, get understanding;
- 6 Forsake her not, and she will watch over you;
Love her, and she will safeguard you.
- 7 Above all things get wisdom;
Whatever else you get, get understanding.
- 8 Cling to her, and she will promote you;
Embrace her, and she will bring you to honor.
- 9 A graceful garland will she place upon your head;
A glorious crown will she bestow upon you."
- 10 Hear, my son, and receive my sayings,
That the years of your life may be many.
- 11 I teach you the way of wisdom;
I lead you in paths of uprightness.
- 12 When you walk, your steps will not be hampered;
And if you run you will not stumble.
- 13 Keep fast hold of instruction, let her not go;
Guard her, for she is your life.
- 14 Enter not the path of the wicked,
And walk not in the way of bad men;

- 15 Avoid it, traverse it not,
Shun it, and pass on.
- 16 For they sleep not unless they have done mischief to someone,
Their slumber is broken unless they have caused someone to stumble;
- 17 The bread they eat is won by crime,
And the wine they drink is won by lawlessness.
- 19 The way of the wicked is dark as pitch—
They know not at what they stumble.
- 18 But the path of the righteous is like the light of the dawn,
That shines ever more brightly till the day is full.
- 20 My son, attend to my words,
Bend your ear to my sayings;
- 21 Let them not slip from your eyes,
Keep them fixed in your mind;
- 22 For they are life to those who find them,
Health to all their flesh.
- 23 Guard your heart with all vigilance,
For thence are the well-springs of life.
- 24 Perverse words remove from you,
And crooked speech put far from you.
- 25 Let your eyes look right in front,
And your eyelids be directed straight ahead of you.
- 26 Keep level the track for your foot,
And let all your ways be firm.
- 27 Turn not to right nor left,
Remove your foot from evil.

PURE AND IMPURE LOVE, 5:1-23

- 5 My son, attend to wisdom,
Bend your ear to reason;
- 2 That you may be kept from vile counsels,
And be preserved from evil lips.
- 3 For the lips of the adulterous woman drop honey,
And her mouth is smoother than oil;
- 4 But the end of her is bitter as wormwood,
Sharp as a two-edged sword.
- 5 Her feet go down to death,
Her steps lead straight to Sheol;

- 6 No level path of life she treads,
Her tracks wander—she knows not whither.
- 7 So now, my son, listen to me,
And swerve not from the words of my mouth.
- 8 Keep far away from her,
And approach not the door of her house;
- 9 Lest you give up your wealth to others,
The earnings of your life to aliens;
- 10 Lest strangers have their fill of your substance,
And the produce of your labors go to an alien's house;
- 11 Then you groan when the inevitable end comes upon you,
When your flesh and blood fail you;
- 12 And you say, "Ah me! that I hated instruction,
And scorned admonition;
- 13 That I listened not to the voice of my teachers,
Nor bent my ear to my instructors!
- 14 I had well-nigh come to utter destruction
In the midst of the assembled community."
- 15 Drink water from your own cistern,
Running water from your own well.
- 16 Why should your springs be scattered abroad,
Your streams of water in the streets?
- 17 Let them be for yourself alone,
And not for strangers along with you.
- 18 Let your fountain be blessed to you,
And get your enjoyment from the wife of your youth.
- 19 A lovely hind, a graceful doe—
Let her breasts intoxicate you always,
With her love be continually ravished.
- 20 Why, my son, should you be ravished with the wife of another,
And embrace the bosom of an adulteress?
- 21 For the ways of a man are before the eyes of the LORD,
And all his paths he weighs in the balance;
- 22 The wicked will be caught by his own misdeeds,
He will be held in the toils of his own sin;
- 23 He will die for want of instruction,
He will stagger to ruin through the greatness of his folly.

WARNINGS AGAINST FOOLISH WAYS, 6:1-19

- 6 My son, if you have become surety for your neighbor,
Have pledged yourself for another;
2 If you have been snared by your lips,
Have been caught by the words of your mouth;
3 Do this now, my son, and free yourself—
Since you have fallen into your neighbor's power—
Go in hot haste, and lay siege to your neighbor;
4 Give no sleep to your eyes,
Nor slumber to your eyelids;
5 Free yourself like a roe from the snare,
Like a bird from the hand of the fowler.
- 6 Go to the ant, O sluggard,
Study her ways, and learn wisdom,
7 For though she have no chief,
No officer, nor ruler,
8 She secures her food in the summer,
She gathers her provisions in the harvest.
9 How long will you lie, O sluggard?
When will you rise from your sleep?
10 "A little sleep, a little slumber,
A little folding of hands to rest"—
11 So will poverty come upon you like a footpad,
And want like an armed man.
- 12 A knave, a villain,
Is he who deals in crooked speech,
13 Winks with his eyes, shuffles with his feet,
Signs with his fingers,
14 Plots mischief in his mind,
And is always sowing discord.
15 Therefore his doom will come suddenly,
In an instant he will be crushed beyond hope of healing.
- 16 Six things the LORD hates,
Seven are an abomination to him:
17 Haughty eyes, a lying tongue,
And hands that shed innocent blood;
18 A mind that plots mischievous schemes,
Feet that are quick to run after evil;

19 A false witness who utters lies,
And he who sows discord among brothers.

WARNINGS AGAINST THE ADULTERESS, 6:20—7:27

20 Keep, my son, your father's commandment,
And reject not your mother's instruction;
21 Fasten them forever on your mind,
Hang them round your neck.
22 When you walk, she will guide you;
When you lie down, she will watch over you;
When you awake, she will talk with you.
23 For the commandment is a lamp, and the instruction a light;
The admonitions of discipline are the way of life—
24 Keeping you safe from the bad woman,
From the smooth tongue of the adulteress.
25 Lust not in your heart after her beauty,
Nor let her catch you with her eyelids!
26 For the price of a harlot is but a piece of bread,
But the adulteress hunts for the precious life.
27 Can a man take fire in his bosom,
And his clothes not be burned?
28 Or can a man walk on red-hot coals,
And his feet not be scorched?
29 So is it with him who goes in to his neighbor's wife—
None who touches her will go unpunished.
30 Do not men despise a thief even if he steal
To satisfy his appetite when he is hungry?
31 And if he be caught he must pay back sevenfold,
He must give up all the goods in his house.
32 But he who commits adultery with a woman is devoid of sense,
Only he who would bring ruin on himself does such a thing.
33 Ignominious blows will he get,
And his disgrace will not be wiped out.
34 For jealousy maddens a man,
So that he has no mercy on the day of vengeance;
35 He will accept no ransom,
Nor will he be satisfied though you bring him many a gift.

7 My son, keep my words,
And store my commandments within you;

- 2 Keep my commandments, and live—
My teaching as the apple of your eye;
3 Fasten them on your fingers,
Write them on the tablet of your mind.
4 Say to Wisdom, "Thou art my sister,"
And call Intelligence your friend,
5 That they may keep you from the wife of another,
From the adulteress who plies you with smooth words.
6 For at the window of my house
Through my lattice I looked out;
7 I saw among the simple ones,
I observed among the youths,
A lad devoid of sense,
8 Passing through the street near her corner,
Stepping along the way to her house,
9 In the evening twilight,
In the darkness at the dead of night;
10 And lo! the woman comes to meet him,
In harlot's dress, and with treacherous mind.
11 (She is boisterous and unruly,
Her feet cannot rest at home;
12 Now she is in the street, now in the square,
By every corner she lies in wait.)
13 She catches him, and kisses him,
She puts on a bold face, and says to him:
14 "I was due to hold a thanksgiving feast,
And today I am paying my vows;
15 So I came out to meet you,
To look for you—and I have found you!
16 I have spread my couch with coverlets,
With striped sheets of Egyptian yarn;
17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh,
With aloes, and with cinnamon;
18 Come, let us take our fill of love till morning,
Let us revel in caresses!
19 For the goodman is not at home,
He has gone a far journey;
20 A bag of money he took with him,
He will not come home till full moon."
21 With her much fair speech she beguiles him,

With her smooth lips she carries him away;
 22 He follows her bewitched,
 Like an ox that goes to the slaughter,
 Or a bird that speeds to the snare,
 23 Or a stag that is lured to the net,
 And knows not that its life is in danger,
 Till an arrow pierces its liver.
 24 So now, my son, listen to me,
 And attend to the words of my mouth;
 25 Swerve not toward her ways,
 Stray not into her paths;
 26 For many are the dead she has laid low,
 A mighty host has she slain;
 27 The ways to her house are ways to Sheol,
 Leading down to the chambers of death.

THE INVITATION OF WISDOM, 8:1-36

8 Does not Wisdom call,
 And Reason lift up her voice?
 2 At the head of the highways, on the road,
 Between the streets she takes her stand;
 3 By the gates that enter the city,
 At the doorways she cries aloud:
 4 "To you, O men, I call,
 And my appeal is to the sons of men.
 5 You simple ones, learn sense,
 You foolish ones, learn wisdom.
 6 Listen! for noble things I shall speak,
 With right things my lips will open;
 7 My mouth will utter truth,
 While wickedness is an abomination to my lips;
 8 Sincere are all the words of my mouth,
 There is nothing tortuous or perverse in them;
 9 They are all of them straightforward to the man of understanding,
 And right to those who find knowledge.
 10 Receive instruction instead of silver,
 And knowledge rather than choice gold;
 11 For wisdom is better than corals,
 With her no treasures can compare.

- 12 "I, Wisdom, have my home with good sense,
So I obtain knowledge of evil devices.
- 13 Reverence for the LORD is hatred of evil—
Pride and arrogance, evil ways,
And perverse speech I hate.
- 14 Mine are counsel and skill,
Mine are reason and might.
- 15 By me kings reign,
And rulers administer justice;
- 16 By me princes hold sway,
And nobles govern the earth.
- 17 I love those who love me,
And those who seek me will find me.
- 18 Riches and honor are with me,
Dazzling wealth and prosperity.
- 19 My fruit is better than gold, even the finest of gold,
And my produce than choice silver.
- 20 I walk in the way of rectitude,
In the midst of the paths of justice,
21 Endowing my friends with wealth,
And filling their treasures.
- 22 "The LORD formed me as the first of his works,
The beginning of his deeds of old;
- 23 In the earliest ages was I fashioned,
At the first, when the earth began.
- 24 When there were no depths was I brought forth,
When there were no fountains brimming with water;
- 25 Before the mountains were sunk,
Before the hills was I brought forth;
- 26 While as yet he had not made the earth and the fields,
Nor the first clods of the world.
- 27 When he established the heavens I was there,
When he traced the vault over the face of the deep;
- 28 When he made firm the skies above,
When he fixed the fountains of the deep;
- 29 When he set for the sea its bound,
So that the waters should not transgress his commandment;
When he traced the foundations of the earth,
- 30 I was beside him as a ward of his;

And daily was I filled with delight,
 As I sported before him all the time—
 31 Sported over this world of his—
 Finding my delight in the sons of men.
 32 “So now, O children, listen to me;
 For happy are those who keep my ways.
 33 Hear instruction, and be wise—
 Reject it not!
 34 Happy is the man who listens to me,
 Watching daily at my gates,
 Waiting at my door-posts;
 35 For he who finds me finds life,
 And wins favor from the LORD;
 36 But he who misses me wrongs himself,
 All who hate me love death.”

WISDOM AND FOLLY, 9:1-6¹, 13-18

9 Wisdom has built her house,
 She has set up her seven pillars;
 2 She has slain her beasts, she has mingled her wine,
 She has spread her table.
 3 She has sent out her maidens, and calls
 On the crests of the city highways:
 4 “He who is simple, let him turn in here,”
 While to him who is senseless she says:
 5 “Come, eat of my bread,
 And drink of the wine I have mingled;
 6 Forsake your folly, and live—
 Keep the straight path of reason.”
 13 Folly is boisterous and wanton,
 She has no sense of shame.
 14 She sits at the door of her house,
 On a seat by the city highways,
 15 Calling to those who pass by,
 Who are keeping straight on their ways:
 16 “He who is simple, let him turn in here,”
 While to him who is senseless she says:
 17 “Stolen water is sweet,

And bread eaten in secret is pleasant.”

- 13 But he knows not that the Shades are there,
That her guests are in the depths of Sheol.

THE FRUITS OF WISDOM AND FOLLY, 9:7—12

- 7 He who corrects a scoffer draws insult on himself;
And he who reproves a wicked man is reviled for it.
8 Reprove not a scoffer, lest he hate you;
Reprove a wise man, and he will love you.
9 Instruct a wise man, and he will become still wiser;
Teach a righteous man, and he will learn the more.
10 The beginning of wisdom is reverence for the LORD,
And the knowledge of the Holy One is true reason;
11 For through me your days will be multiplied,
And the years of your life will be increased.
12 If you are wise, your wisdom will turn to your profit;
And if you are a scoffer, you must bear the consequences alone.

THE PROVERBS OF SOLOMON, 10:1—22:16

- 10 A wise son makes a glad father;
But a foolish son is a grief to his mother.
2 Treasures unjustly acquired are of no avail;
But honesty saves from death.
3 The LORD will not suffer the righteous to hunger;
But he will thwart the desire of the wicked.
4 A slack hand brings poverty;
But the hand of the diligent brings wealth.
5 He who reaps in summer acts wisely;
He who sleeps in harvest acts shamefully.
6 Blessings are upon the head of the righteous;
But sorrow will cover the face of the wicked.
7 The memory of the righteous is a blessing;
But the name of the wicked will rot.

- 8 A wise man obeys the laws;
But a prating fool will fall.
- 9 He who walks honestly walks safely;
But he who walks crookedly will come to grief.
- 10 He who winks with the eye makes trouble;
He who frankly reproves makes peace.
- 11 The mouth of the righteous is a fountain of life;
But the mouth of the wicked is filled with violence.
- 12 Hatred stirs up strife;
But love draws a veil over all transgressions.
- 13 On the lips of a sensible man wisdom is found;
But a man without sense needs a rod for his back.
- 14 Wise men repress mischief;
But the mouth of a fool precipitates ruin.
- 15 A rich man's wealth is his fortress;
The ruin of the poor is their poverty.
- 16 The earnings of the righteous conduce to life;
The income of the wicked to death.
- 17 He who pays heed to instruction is on the way of life;
But he who rejects admonition goes astray.
- 18 Righteous lips cover up hatred;
But he who lets out slander is a fool.
- 19 Where words abound, sin will not be wanting;
But he who holds his tongue acts wisely.
- 20 The tongue of the righteous is choice silver;
The mind of the wicked is little worth.
- 21 The lips of the righteous are a sustenance to many;
But fools die for want of sense.
- 22 The blessing of the LORD makes rich;
Toil yields no increase like it.

- 23 To a fool it is as sport to do wrong;
But it is hateful to a man of sense.
- 24 What the wicked man dreads will befall him;
But the desire of the righteous will be granted.
- 25 As the whirlwind passes, so the wicked man vanishes;
But the righteous is rooted forever.
- 26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes,
So is the sluggard to those who send him on an errand.
- 27 Reverence for the LORD prolongs life;
But the years of the wicked will be shortened.
- 28 The hope of the righteous will end in gladness;
But the expectation of the wicked will come to nought.
- 29 The LORD is a stronghold to him who walks honestly;
But ruin to those who do evil.
- 30 The righteous will never be moved;
But the wicked will have no foothold in the land.
- 31 The mouth of the righteous buds with wisdom;
But the perverse tongue will be cut off.
- 32 The lips of the righteous bubble over with good will;
But the mouth of the wicked with malice.
- 11 False scales are an abomination to the LORD;
But a just weight is his delight.
- 2 When pride comes, scorn comes;
But with the modest is wisdom.
- 3 Upright men are guided by their honesty;
But faithless men are ruined by their crookedness.
- 4 Wealth is of no avail on the day of wrath;
But righteousness saves from death.
- 5 The honest man's path is kept straight by his righteousness;
But the wicked will fall by his wickedness.

- 6 The upright are saved by their righteousness;
But the faithless are caught by their lusts.
- 7 When a wicked man dies, his expectation perishes;
All hope of success is lost.
- 8 The innocent man is rescued from trouble;
And the guilty takes his place.
- 9 With his mouth would the godless man ruin his neighbor;
But through knowledge the righteous are saved.
- 10 When righteous men prosper, the city exults;
And when wicked men perish, there is jubilation.
- 11 Through the blessing of the upright the city is exalted;
But through the mouth of the wicked it is overthrown.
- 12 The senseless man pours contempt on his neighbor;
But the intelligent man keeps silent.
- 13 A talebearer reveals secrets;
But a trustworthy man keeps a confidence.
- 14 For want of guidance a people will fall;
But safety lies in a wealth of counsellors.
- 15 He who becomes surety for a stranger will suffer for it;
But he who hates giving pledges is secure.
- 16 A gracious woman wins respect;
And diligent men win riches.
- 17 A kindly man does good to himself;
But a cruel man does harm to himself.
- 18 The wicked man earns illusive wages;
But he who sows righteousness has a true reward.
- 19 He who devotes himself to righteousness takes the road to life;
But he who pursues wickedness the road to death.
- 20 Wrong-headed men are an abomination to the LORD;
But those who walk honestly are his delight.

- 21 My hand upon it! the bad man will not go unpunished;
But the race of the righteous will escape.
- 22 Like a golden ring in the snout of a sow
Is a beautiful woman lacking in taste.
- 23 The desire of the righteous can end only in good;
The expectation of the wicked in wrath.
- 24 One man spends, and grows still richer;
Another holds back his due share, only to bring himself to want.
- 25 The generous man will be enriched;
And he who waters will himself be watered.
- 26 He who holds up corn will be cursed by the people;
But blessing will be upon the head of him who sells it.
- 27 He who seeks what is good will win favor;
But he who aims at what is harmful will bring it upon himself.
- 28 He who trusts in his riches will wither;
But like green leaves will the righteous flourish.
- 29 He who stints his household will reap nothing but wind;
A wise man's slave will such a fool become.
- 30 The fruit of righteousness is a tree of life;
But lawlessness destroys men.
- 31 If the most righteous in the land are punished,
How much more the wicked and the sinner!
- 12 He who loves instruction loves knowledge;
But he who hates admonition is stupid.
- 2 A good man will win favor from the LORD;
But a schemer will he condemn.
- 3 By wickedness no man can stand;
But the root of the righteous will never be moved.
- 4 A good wife is a crown to her husband;
But one who acts shamefully is like rot in his bones.

- 5 The plans of the righteous are honest;
The designs of the wicked are treacherous.
- 6 The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood;
But the speech of the upright saves men.
- 7 When the wicked are overthrown, and cease to be,
The house of the righteous will stand.
- 8 A man is praised according to his intelligence;
But a wrong-headed man is despised.
- 9 Better a man of low rank, who works for himself,
Than he who assumes honor, yet has nothing to eat.
- 10 A righteous man cares for his beast;
But the mercy of the wicked is cruel.
- 11 He who tills his ground will have plenty of food;
But he who follows empty pursuits will have none.
- 12 Bad men will be caught in the toils of their wickedness;
But the root of the righteous will remain forever.
- 13 By the sin of his lips is the guilty man ensnared;
While the innocent escapes from trouble.
- 14 From the fruit of his mouth will the good man enjoy good in abundance;
And the work of a man's hands will come back to him.
- 15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes;
But a wise man listens to advice.
- 16 A fool's anger is shown at once;
But a sensible man ignores an affront.
- 17 He who utters the truth affirms that which will stand;
But a lying witness that which will bring disappointment.
- 18 There are those whose prating is like the thrusts of a sword;
But the tongue of the wise brings healing.
- 19 The truthful lip will endure forever;
But the lying tongue is only for a moment.

- 20 Disappointment comes to those who plot evil;
But happiness to those who plan good.
- 21 No harm can befall the righteous;
But the lives of the wicked are full of misfortune.
- 22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD;
But those who deal truthfully are his delight.
- 23 A man of sense conceals what he knows;
But fools proclaim their folly.
- 24 The hand of the diligent will bear rule;
But the slack hand will be enslaved.
- 25 If there be anxiety in a man's heart, it makes it melt,
But a kindly word will turn it into gladness.
- 26 Even through misfortune the righteous man will reach his goal;
But the way of the wicked leads them astray.
- 27 The slothful man will not secure his prey;
But the diligent man wins precious wealth.
- 28 In the path of righteousness there is life;
But the way of wickedness leads to death.
- 13 A wise son pays heed to his father's instruction;
But a scoffer listens to no rebuke.
- 2 From the fruit of his mouth will the good man enjoy what is good;
But the appetite of the faithless will be fed on violence.
- 3 He who guards his mouth preserves his life;
He who opens wide his lips brings ruin on himself.
- 4 The sluggard craves, but gets nothing;
The desire of the diligent is richly supplied.
- 5 The righteous man hates a lie;
But the wicked acts foully and shamefully.

- 6 Righteousness safeguards the man of integrity;
But wickedness overthrows the sinner.
- 7 One man pretends to be rich, yet has nothing;
Another man pretends to be poor, yet has great wealth.
- 8 A man's riches provide ransom for his life;
But the poor man finds no means of redemption.
- 9 The light of the righteous will shine brightly;
But the lamp of the wicked will be put out.
- 10 Pride causes nothing but strife;
But with the modest there is wisdom.
- 11 Wealth gotten in haste will diminish;
But he who gathers little by little will increase his store.
- 12 Hope deferred makes the heart sick;
But desire fulfilled is a tree of life.
- 13 He who despises the word will pay for it;
But he who fears the commandment will be rewarded.
- 14 The teaching of the wise is a fountain of life,
By which to avoid the snares of death.
- 15 Good conduct wins favor;
But faithless conduct disfavor.
- 16 In all things the sensible man acts with intelligence;
But the fool displays his folly.
- 17 A faithless messenger falls into trouble;
But a trustworthy envoy insures success.
- 18 He who rejects instruction will have poverty and shame;
But he who pays heed to admonition will be honored.
- 19 Desire fulfilled is sweet;
But fools hate to turn from evil.
- 20 He who walks with wise men will become wise;
But the companion of fools will smart for it.

- 21 Ill fortune will dog sinners;
But good fortune will overtake the righteous.
- 22 The good man leaves an inheritance to his children's children;
But the wealth of the sinner is laid in store for the righteous.
- 23 The fallow land of the proud yields food in abundance;
But it is swept away through injustice.
- 24 He who spares his rod hates his son;
But he who loves him seeks to discipline him.
- 25 The righteous man eats to his heart's content;
But the appetite of the wicked is never satisfied.
- 14 The wise woman builds up her house;
But with her own hands the foolish one tears down her house.
- 2 He who reveres the LORD walks uprightly;
But he who despises him is crooked in his ways.
- 3 In the mouth of the foolish is a rod for his back;
But the lips of the wise will preserve them.
- 4 Where there are no oxen, there is no grain;
But abundance of produce comes through the strength of the ox.
- 5 A truthful witness will not lie;
But a dishonest witness breathes out lies.
- 6 The scoffer seeks wisdom, and finds it not;
But to the man of intelligence, knowledge is easy.
- 7 Go from the presence of a fool;
You will gain no knowledge from his talk.
- 8 The wisdom of a man of sense enables him to understand his way;
But the folly of fools misleads them.
- 9 Guilt harbors among fools;
Good will among the upright.

- 10 Every man knows his own bitterness;
And in his joy no stranger can share.
- 11 The house of the wicked will be destroyed;
But the tent of the upright will flourish.
- 12 There is a way that seems straight to a man;
But the end of it leads to death.
- 13 Even in laughter the heart may be aching;
And the end of joy may be sorrow.
- 14 The perverse man will reap the full fruit of his ways;
And the good man the full fruit of his deeds.
- 15 The simple man trusts everything;
But the sensible man pays heed to his steps.
- 16 The wise man is cautious, and keeps away from trouble;
But the fool is blustering, and confident in himself.
- 17 A man of quick temper acts foolishly;
But a man of discretion is patient.
- 18 The simple gain possession of folly;
But men of sense win the crown of knowledge.
- 19 Bad men must bow before the good,
And wicked men stand suppliant at the gates of the righteous.
- 20 The poor man is hated even by his neighbor;
But the rich has many friends.
- 21 He who despises his neighbor sins;
But happy is he who is kind to the poor!
- 22 Do not those go astray who plan evil,
While those who plan good meet with kindness and good faith?
- 23 In all labor there is profit;
But mere talk tends only to penury.
- 24 The crown of wise men is wisdom;
The garland of fools is folly.

- 25 A truthful witness saves lives;
But he who utters lies destroys them.
- 26 He who reveres the LORD has a strong ground of confidence,
In which his children also will find a refuge.
- 27 Reverence for the LORD is a fountain of life,
By which to avoid the snares of death.
- 28 In a wealth of people there is glory for a king;
In a dearth of people there is ruin for a prince.
- 29 A forbearing man shows much intelligence;
A quick-tempered man shows great folly.
- 30 A tranquil mind is health for the body;
But passion is a rot in the bones.
- 31 He who oppresses the poor insults his Maker;
But he who is kind to the needy honors him.
- 32 The wicked man is brought down by his wrongdoing;
But the righteous man finds a refuge in his integrity.
- 33 In the mind of a man of intelligence wisdom takes up its abode;
But folly in the heart of fools.
- 34 Righteousness exalts a nation;
But sin is a people's ruin.
- 35 A capable servant will enjoy the king's favor;
But a worthless one will incur his wrath.
- 15 A gentle answer turns away wrath;
But harsh words stir up anger.
- 2 The tongue of the wise drops knowledge;
But the mouth of fools pours out folly.
- 3 The eyes of the LORD are in every place,
Keeping watch on the bad and the good.
- 4 A soothing tongue is a tree of life;
But wild words break the spirit.

- 5 A fool scorns his father's instruction;
But he who pays heed to admonition shows good sense.
- 6 In the house of the righteous there is ample wealth;
But the revenue of the wicked will be cut off.
- 7 The lips of the wise diffuse knowledge;
Not so the mind of fools.
- 8 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD;
But the prayer of the upright is his delight.
- 9 The way of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD;
But he loves the man who follows after righteousness.
- 10 Stern discipline awaits the man who leaves the right way;
He who hates admonition will die.
- 11 Sheol and Abaddon lie open before the LORD;
How much more the minds of men!
- 12 A scoffer loves not to be admonished;
To wise men he will not go.
- 13 A glad heart makes a bright face;
But through sadness of heart the spirit is broken.
- 14 The mind of the intelligent man seeks knowledge;
But the mouth of fools feeds on folly.
- 15 For the miserable man every day is unhappy;
But the cheerful man enjoys a continual feast.
- 16 Better a little, with reverence for the LORD,
Than much treasure, and anxiety with it.
- 17 Better a dish of herbs, where love is,
Than a fatted ox, and hatred with it.
- 18 A passionate man stirs up discord;
But a patient man allays strife.
- 19 The way of the wicked is hedged with thorns;
But the path of the upright is paved like a highway.

- 20 A wise son makes a glad father;
But a foolish man despises his mother.
- 21 Folly is joy to a man without sense;
But a man of intelligence keeps a straightforward course.
- 22 When no counsel is taken, plans miscarry;
But when there are many advisers, they succeed.
- 23 An apt utterance is a joy to a man;
And a word in season—how good it is!
- 24 The wise man's path leads upward to life,
Carrying him away from Sheol beneath.
- 25 The LORD will uproot the house of the proud;
But he will establish the widow's landmark.
- 26 A bad man's thoughts are an abomination to the LORD;
But the words of the pure are pleasing in his sight.
- 27 He who traffics in ill-gotten gain wrecks his own household;
But he who hates a bribe will prosper.
- 28 The righteous man studies what he should answer;
But the mouth of the wicked pours out evil.
- 29 The LORD is far from the wicked;
But he hears the prayer of the righteous.
- 30 Bright eyes gladden the heart;
Good news fattens the bones.
- 31 He who listens to wholesome admonition
Will dwell among the wise.
- 32 He who rejects instruction despises himself;
But he who listens to admonition gains understanding.
- 33 Reverence for the LORD is the basis of wisdom,
And humility leads to honor.
- 16 A man may arrange his thoughts;
But the utterance of the tongue is from the LORD.

- 2 All the ways of a man are pure in his own eyes;
But the LORD weighs the motives.
- 3 Commit your business to the LORD;
And your plans will prosper.
- 4 The LORD has made everything for its own end,
Even the wicked for the day of calamity.
- 5 Every proud-minded man is an abomination to the LORD;
My hand upon it! he will not go unpunished.
- 6 By kindness and good faith guilt is atoned for;
And by reverence for the LORD one avoids calamity.
- 7 When a man's ways are pleasing to the LORD,
He makes even his enemies to be friends with him.
- 8 Better a little, with righteousness,
Than great revenues, with injustice.
- 9 A man may plan his course;
But the LORD directs his steps.
- 10 On the lips of the king is an oracle;
His mouth cannot go wrong in judgment.
- 11 Balance and scales are set by the LORD;
All the weights in the bag are his concern.
- 12 Wrong-doing is an abomination to kings;
For a throne is established by righteousness.
- 13 Honest lips are the delight of a king;
He loves the man who speaks aright.
- 14 The king's wrath is a forerunner of death;
But a wise man can appease it.
- 15 In the light of the king's countenance is life;
And his favor is like a spring rain-cloud.
- 16 It is better to get wisdom than gold,
And more desirable to get understanding than silver.

- 17 The path of the upright avoids calamity;
He who pays heed to his way safeguards his life.
- 18 Pride goes before destruction,
And a haughty spirit before a fall.
- 19 It is better to be humble with the lowly
Than to share spoil with the proud.
- 20 He who pays heed to the word will prosper;
And happy is he who trusts in the LORD!
- 21 The wise man is counted intelligent;
And sweetness of speech adds persuasiveness to his teaching.
- 22 Wisdom is a fountain of life to him who has it;
But folly brings chastisement to fools.
- 23 The mind of the wise man imparts intelligence to his speech,
And adds persuasiveness to the teaching of his lips.
- 24 Pleasant words are a honeycomb,
Sweet to the spirit, and healthful to the body.
- 25 There is a way that seems straight to a man;
But the end of it leads to death.
- 26 The laboring man's appetite labors for him;
For his hunger urges him on.
- 27 A knavish man's thoughts are ice-cold;
But the words on his lips are like a scorching fire.
- 28 A tortuous man sows discord;
And a whisperer separates friends.
- 29 A lawless man entices his neighbor,
And leads him into a way that is not good.
- 30 He who shuts his eyes is hatching some crooked scheme;
He who tightens his lips concocts some mischief.
- 31 Grey hairs are a glorious crown,
Which is won by a righteous life.

- 32 A forbearing man is better than a warrior,
He who rules his temper than he who takes a city.
- 33 The lot is cast into the lap;
But the decision rests wholly with the LORD.
- 17 Better a morsel of dry bread, and peace with it,
Than a house full of feasting, with strife.
- 2 A capable servant will rule over a dissolute son,
And will share the inheritance among the brothers.
- 3 Like the smelter for silver, and the furnace for gold,
The LORD is a tester of hearts.
- 4 A bad man pays heed to wicked words;
A false man gives ear to mischievous speech.
- 5 He who mocks the poor insults his Maker;
He who rejoices at their calamity will not go unpunished.
- 6 Children's children are the crown of old men;
And fathers are the pride of their children.
- 7 Lordly words are not fitting for a fool;
Much less are lying words for a nobleman.
- 8 A bribe is a precious gem in the eyes of him who has it;
Wherever he turns, he prospers.
- 9 He who overlooks an offense promotes good will;
He who repeats a matter separates friends.
- 10 A single rebuke is more for a man of intelligence
Than a hundred lashes for a fool.
- 11 A rebellious man is set on mischief;
But a ruthless messenger will be sent to him.
- 12 Better be met by a bear robbed of her whelps
Than by a fool in his folly.
- 13 He who returns evil for good—
Evil will never remove from his house.

- 14 The beginning of strife is like one letting out water;
Leave off contention before a quarrel break out!
- 15 He who acquits the guilty, and he who condemns the innocent—
Both of them are an abomination to the LORD.
- 16 Of what use is money in the hand of a fool
To buy wisdom, when he has no sense? ✠
- 17 A friend may be friendly at other times;
But a brother is born for adversity.
- 18 A man devoid of sense is he who pledges himself,
And becomes security in the presence of his neighbor.
- 19 He loves punishment who loves strife;
He courts destruction who indulges in insolent speech.
- 20 He who is perverse in mind will meet with no good;
And he who is crooked in speech will fall into trouble.
- 21 He who begets a fool does it to his sorrow;
And the father of a dolt will have no joy of him.
- 22 A happy heart is a healing medicine;
But a broken spirit dries up the bones.
- 23 A wicked man will accept a bribe from the bosom
To divert the course of justice.
- 24 The man of intelligence has his face set on wisdom;
But the eyes of a fool are on the ends of the earth.
- 25 A foolish son is a grief to his father,
And a bitter sorrow to her who bore him.
- 26 Even to fine the innocent is not right,
While to scourge the noble is beyond bearing.
- 27 He who spares his words has true wisdom;
And he who keeps cool in temper is a man of intelligence.
- 28 Even a fool is counted wise, if he keep silent—
Intelligent, if he close his lips.

- 18 An unsocial man seeks his own selfish interests;
He quarrels with every sound principle.
- 2 A fool has no pleasure in what is reasonable,
But only in self-display.
- 3 With wickedness comes contempt;
And with dishonor comes disgrace.
- 4 The words of a man's mouth are deep waters;
The fountain of wisdom is a bubbling brook.
- 5 It is not right to favor the guilty,
Nor to put the innocent in the wrong.
- 6 A fool's lips make for strife;
And his mouth calls for blows.
- 7 A fool's mouth is his ruin;
And his lips are a snare to him.
- 8 The words of a whisperer are like dainty morsels;
They go down to the innermost chambers of the being.
- 9 He who is slack at his work
Is brother to him who destroys.
- 10 The LORD is a strong tower,
To which the righteous man runs and is safe.
- 11 A rich man's wealth is his fortress;
And like a high wall are his riches.
- 12 Haughtiness goes before destruction;
And humility before honor.
- 13 To answer before one hears
Is one's folly and shame.
- 14 A brave spirit will sustain a man in his infirmity;
But a broken spirit who can bear?
- 15 The mind of the intelligent acquires knowledge;
And the ear of the wise seeks wisdom.

- 16 A gift from a man makes room for him,
And brings him before the great.
- 17 He who pleads first in a case appears to be in the right;
Then his rival comes and tests him.
- 18 The lot puts an end to disputes,
And decides between powerful rivals.
- 19 A brother helped by a brother is like a fortified city;
He holds firm as the bar of a castle.
- 20 Of the fruit of his mouth a man will have his fill;
With the outcome of his lips will he be satisfied.
- 21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue;
Those who indulge it must eat the fruit of it.
- 22 He who finds a wife finds good fortune;
He wins a favor from the LORD.
- 23 The poor man speaks entreatingly;
But the rich man answers roughly.
- 24 There are friends who play at friendship;
And there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.
- 19 Better a poor man, who walks in his integrity,
Than one who is crooked in his ways, although he be rich.
- 2 To act without reflection is not good;
And to be over-hasty is to miss the mark.
- 3 A man's folly ruins his business;
Then he rages against the LORD.
- 4 Wealth adds many friends;
But the poor man is estranged from his friend.
- 5 A false witness will not go unpunished;
He who utters lies will not escape.
- 6 Many pay court to the noble;
Everyone is a friend to him who gives gifts.

- 7 A poor man's brothers all hate him;
How much more do his friends stand aloof from him!
When he pursues them with words, they are gone.
- 8 He who acquires wisdom is a friend to himself;
He who pays heed to reason will find good fortune.
- 9 A false witness will not go unpunished;
He who utters lies will perish.
- 10 Luxury is not fitting for a fool,
Much less so for a servant to rule over princes.
- 11 It is good sense in a man to be forbearing,
And it is his glory to pass over an offense.
- 12 A king's wrath is like a lion's roar;
But his favor is like dew on the grass.
- 13 A foolish son is his father's ruin;
And a quarrelsome wife is like a constant drip.
- 14 House and wealth are an inheritance from fathers;
But a sensible wife is a gift from the LORD.
- 15 Slothfulness casts into a deep sleep;
And an idle man will suffer hunger.
- 16 He who keeps the commandment keeps his life;
He who despises the word will die.
- 17 He who is kind to the poor lends to the LORD;
And he will repay him his deed.
- 18 Correct your son while yet there is hope;
And set not yourself on destroying him.
- 19 A man who gives way to anger must pay for it;
And if you come to his rescue, you will only add to his anger.
- 20 Hear counsel, and accept instruction,
That you may be wise in the days to come.
- 21 A man may have many plans in his mind;
But the purpose of the LORD—that will stand.

- 22 Goodness is the most desirable thing for a man;
Better a poor man than a liar.
- 23 Reverence for the LORD conduces to life;
He who is satisfied with that will abide unvisited by misfortune.
- 24 The sluggard buries his hand in the dish;
He will not so much as raise it to his mouth again.
- 25 Smite a scoffer, and the simple will learn sense;
Admonish a man of intelligence, and he will gain knowledge.
- 26 He who maltreats his father, and drives away his mother,
Is a shameful and despicable son.
- 27 If you cease, my son, to hear instruction,
You will wander from words of knowledge.
- 28 An unprincipled witness scoffs at justice;
And the mouth of the wicked gulps down falsehood.
- 29 Punishments are prepared for scoffers;
And blows for the back of fools.
- 20 Wine is a mocker, strong drink a brawler;
None who reels under it is wise.
- 2 A king's rage is like a lion's roar;
He who provokes him to anger forfeits his life.
- 3 It is an honor for a man to keep aloof from strife;
But every fool is quarrelsome.
- 4 The sluggard will not plow in autumn;
So in harvest he looks for a crop in vain.
- 5 The purpose in a man's mind may be deep water;
But a man of intelligence will draw it out.
- 6 Many a man will make profession of his goodness;
But a faithful man who can find?
- 7 The just man who walks in his integrity—
Happy are his children after him!

- 8 A king seated on the judgment throne
Sifts every bad man with his eyes.
- 9 Who can say, "I have cleansed my heart,
I am pure from my sin?"
- 10 Diverse weights, diverse measures—
Both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD.
- 11 Even a child is known by his deeds,
According as his conduct is crooked or straight.
- 12 The hearing ear, and the seeing eye—
Both of them alike the LORD has made.
- 13 Love not sleep, lest you come to poverty;
Keep your eyes open, and you will have plenty of food.
- 14 "Bad, bad!" says the buyer;
But when he has gone, then he boasts.
- 15 Wise lips are a store of gold,
A wealth of corals, and precious gems.
- 16 Take a man's garment if he become surety for a stranger;
Hold him to account for the other.
- 17 Bread won by fraud tastes sweet to a man;
But afterward his mouth will be filled with gravel.
- 18 Form plans under advice;
And under wise guidance make war.
- 19 A talebearer reveals secrets;
So have nothing to do with a gossip.
- 20 He who curses his father or mother—
His light will go out in utter darkness.
- 21 An estate won hastily at the outset
Will in the end be unblessed.
- 22 Say not, "I will pay back evil!"
Wait for the LORD to help you.

- 23 Diverse weights are an abomination to the LORD;
And false scales are not good.
- 24 A man's steps are directed by the LORD;
How, then, can any man understand his way?
- 25 It is a snare for a man rashly to say, "This is sacred!"
And after his vows to make inquiry.
- 26 A wise king sifts the wicked,
And requites them for their guilt.
- 27 The conscience of a man is the lamp of the LORD,
Searching all the innermost chambers of the being.
- 28 Kindness and good faith are the safeguards of a king;
And by justice his throne is established.
- 29 The glory of young men is their strength;
And the beauty of old men is grey hair.
- 30 Bruises and blows purify the wicked;
And wounds cleanse the innermost chambers of the being.
- 21 The mind of a king is like a watercourse in the hand of the
LORD;
He turns it whither he will.
- 2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes;
But the LORD weighs the motives.
- 3 The doing of right and justice
Is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.
- 4 Haughty eyes, and an ambitious mind—
The tillage of the wicked is sin.
- 5 The plans of the diligent lead surely to profit;
But everyone that is over-hasty comes surely to want.
- 6 He who gains treasures by a lying tongue
Is chasing a vapor to snares of death.
- 7 The lawlessness of the wicked will sweep them away,
Because they refuse to deal justly.

- 8 The way of the vicious is crooked;
 But the conduct of the pure is straight.
- 9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the roof
 Than to share a spacious house with a quarrelsome wife.
- 10 The wicked man is bent on doing harm;
 His neighbor finds no pity in his eyes.
- 11 When a scoffer is punished, the simple learns wisdom;
 When a wise man receives a lesson, he gains knowledge.
- 12 The Lord has regard for the household of the righteous;
 But he hurls down the wicked to ruin.
- 13 He who closes his ear against the cry of the poor
 Will himself also call and not be answered.
- 14 A gift in secret pacifies anger,
 And a bribe in the bosom, violent wrath.
- 15 The execution of justice is a joy to the righteous,
 But ruin to those who do evil.
- 16 The man who wanders from the way of wisdom
 Will rest in the assembly of the Shades.
- 17 The lover of pleasure will come to want;
 The lover of wine and oil will not grow rich.
- 18 The wicked man becomes ransom for the righteous;
 And the faithless man takes the place of the upright.
- 19 It is better to dwell in a desert
 Than with a quarrelsome and nagging wife.
- 20 In the wise man's house there is precious treasure and oil;
 But the fool will swallow it up.
- 21 He who follows after justice and kindness
 Will find life, prosperity, and honor.
- 22 A wise man scales the city of the mighty,
 And brings down the stronghold in which it trusted.

- 23 He who keeps his mouth and his tongue
Keeps himself from trouble.
- 24 Scoffer is he called who is haughty and arrogant,
Who acts with insolent pride.
- 25 The sluggard's craving for ease will slay him;
For his hands refuse to work.
- 26 The wicked man is greedy all day long;
But the righteous man gives without stint.
- 27 Sacrifice from wicked men is an abomination,
The more when they offer it as an atonement for crime.
- 28 A lying witness will perish;
But a truthful witness will stand forever.
- 29 A wicked man puts on a bold face;
But an upright man pays heed to his ways.
- 30 No wisdom, no intelligence,
No counsel can avail against the LORD.
- 31 The horse may be harnessed for the day of battle;
But victory comes from the LORD.
- 22 A good name is more desirable than great riches,
A good reputation than silver and gold.
- 2 The rich and the poor meet face to face—
The LORD is the maker of them both.
- 3 A sensible man foresees danger, and hides from it;
But the simple pass on, and are punished.
- 4 The reward of humility and reverence for the LORD
Is riches, honor, and life.
- 5 Traps and snares are on the way of the crooked;
He who would safeguard his life will keep far from them.
- 6 Train up a child in the way he is to go;
And even when he is old, he will not depart from it.

- 7 The rich rules over the poor;
And the borrower is a slave to the lender.
- 8 He who sows crime will reap calamity;
The result of his work will be ruin.
- 9 The kind-eyed man will be blessed;
For he gives of his bread to the poor.
- 10 Expel a scoffer, and discord will vanish;
Strife and insult will cease.
- 11 The LORD loves the pure in heart;
And he who is gracious in speech—the king is his friend.
- 12 The eyes of the LORD keep watch on him who has knowledge;
But he upsets the plans of the faithless.
- 13 The sluggard says, “There is a lion outside—
I shall be murdered in the streets.”
- 14 The mouth of an adulterous woman is a deep pit;
He with whom the LORD is angry will fall into it.
- 15 Folly is bound to the mind of a child;
The rod of correction will remove it far from him.
- 16 He who oppresses the poor will only enrich him;
He who gives to the rich will come only to want.

WORDS OF THE WISE, 22:17—24:22

- 17 Bend your ear, and hear the words of the wise,
And apply your mind to know them;
18 For it is well that you should keep them within you,
That you should fix them as a stake upon your lips.
19 Words of life I teach you this day,
That your trust may be in the LORD.
20 Yes, I have written for you these thirty sayings,
Respecting counsel and knowledge,
21 To acquaint you with the reality of true words,
That you may bring back a true report to him who sends you on a mission.

- 22 Rob not the poor because he is poor,
And crush not the needy in the gate;
23 For the LORD will defend their cause,
And will rob their robbers of life.
- 24 Form no friendship with a hot-tempered man,
And with a passionate man go not;
25 Lest you learn his ways,
And get yourself into a snare.
- 26 Be not one of those who pledge themselves,
Of those who become surety for debts;
27 For if you have nothing to pay with,
Your bed will be taken from under you.
- 28 Remove not the ancient landmark,
Which your fathers set up.
- 29 You see a man skilled at his work?
He will stand in the presence of kings;
He will not stand in the presence of obscure men.
- 23 When you sit down to dine with a ruler,
Bear in mind who is before you;
2 And put a knife to your throat,
If you be a man of keen appetite;
3 Lust not after his dainties,
For they are larded with deceit.
- 4 Toil not to become rich,
Seek not superfluous wealth!
5 Scarcely have you set your eye upon it, when it is gone;
For riches make themselves wings,
Like an eagle that flies toward the heavens.
- 6 Dine not with a miserly man,
And lust not after his dainties;
7 For they will be like a storm in the throat and nausea in the gullet.
"Eat and drink," he says to you,
But in his heart he begrudges you;
8 You must spit out the morsel you have eaten,
And lose your good things.

- 9 Speak not in the ears of a fool;
For he will despise your words of wisdom.
- 10 Remove not the widow's landmark,
Nor enter the fields of the fatherless;
11 For their Champion is strong,
And he will defend their cause against you.
- 12 Apply your mind to instruction,
And your ear to words of knowledge.
13 Withhold not chastisement from a child;
For if you beat him with the rod, he will not die.
14 Beat him with the rod,
And you will save him from Sheol.
- 15 My son, if you are wise,
I also shall be glad;
16 And my heart will rejoice,
If your lips speak that which is right.
- 17 Be not envious of sinners,
But revere the LORD always;
18 For then will you have a future,
And your hope will not be cut off.
- 19 Listen, my son, and be wise,
And keep straight on the way.
20 Be not found among winebibbers,
Or gluttonous eaters of flesh;
21 For the winebibber and the glutton will come to poverty,
And sottishness will clothe you in rags.
- 22 Listen to the father who begot you,
And despise not your mother when she is old.
23 Get truth, and sell it not;
Get wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.
24 The father of a righteous man will greatly rejoice,
He who has begotten a wise son will be glad of him.
25 Therefore let your father and your mother be glad,
Let her who bore you rejoice.
- 26 My son, give heed to me,
And let your eyes take note of my ways.

- 27 For the harlot is a deep pit,
And the adulteress a narrow well;
28 She lies in wait like a robber,
And many a man she plunders.
- 29 Who have woe? who have pain?
Who have strifes? who complaints?
Who have wounds without cause?
Who have redness of eyes?
30 Those who stay long over wine,
Who go often to test the mixture!
31 Look not on wine when it is red,
When it sparkles in the cup.
It may go down smoothly;
32 But at the end it bites like a serpent,
And stings like an adder.
33 You will see strange sights,
And will utter weird words;
34 You will be like a man asleep at sea,
Asleep in the midst of a violent storm.
35 "They may strike me, but I feel no pain;
They may beat me, but I know it not.
When shall I awake from my wine,
That I may seek it again?"
- 24 Be not envious of evil men,
Nor desire to be with them;
2 For their thoughts turn on robbery,
And their lips talk of mischief.
- 3 By wisdom a house is built,
By intelligence it is established;
4 And by knowledge its chambers are filled
With all precious and pleasant things.
- 5 A wise man is better than a strong man,
And a man of knowledge than a man of might;
6 For by wise guidance you wage war,
And victory lies in a wealth of counsellors.
- 7 Wisdom is unattainable for a fool;
So he opens not his mouth in the gate.

- 8 He who plans to do evil—
Men call him a schemer.
- 9 The scheming of the foolish is sin;
And the scoffer is an abomination to men.
- 10 If you have been slack when times are hard,
Your means will be scanty.
- 11 Rescue those who are being taken away to death,
And hold back those who are tottering to the slaughter.
- 12 If you say, "We knew nothing of this,"
Does not he who weighs the thoughts perceive it,
And is not he who keeps watch upon your life aware of it,
And will not he requite each man according to his work?
- 13 My son, eat honey, because it is good,
And the honeycomb, because it is sweet to your taste.
- 14 So, be assured, is wisdom to your mind—
If you find it, you will have a future,
And your hope will not be cut off.
- 15 Lie not in wait, O wicked man, against the home of the righteous,
Nor assail his dwelling-place;
16 For seven times will the righteous man fall and rise again,
While the wicked will stumble to ruin.
- 17 Rejoice not when your enemy falls,
Nor exult when he stumbles;
- 18 Lest the LORD see it, and be displeased,
And turn back his anger from him.
- 19 Fret not over evil-doers,
Nor be envious of the wicked;
- 20 For the evil man will have no future,
The lamp of the wicked will be put out.
- 21 My son, reverence the LORD and the king,
Anger not either of them;
- 22 For suddenly comes ruin at their hands,
And who knows the doom that both of them bring?

- 23 THESE ALSO ARE WORDS OF THE WISE, 24:23-34
Partiality in judgment is not good.
- 24 He who says to the guilty man, "You are in the right"—
Men will curse him, people will execrate him;
25 But those who judge honestly will fare pleasantly,
On them will rest the blessing of prosperity.
- 26 He who gives a straight answer
Is like one who kisses the lips.
- 27 Set your business in order,
Arrange your work in the fields;
Afterward you may build up your house.
- 28 Bear not unfounded witness against your neighbor,
Nor deceive with your lips;
29 Say not, "I will do to him as he has done to me,
I will requite the man according to his work."
- 30 I passed by the field of the sluggard,
By the vineyard of the man without sense;
31 And lo! it was all overgrown with thistles,
Its surface was covered with nettles,
And its stone wall was broken down.
- 32 I looked, and reflected upon it;
I saw, and learned a lesson.
- 33 "A little sleep, a little slumber,
A little folding of hands to rest"—
34 So will poverty come upon you like a footpad,
And want like an armed man.
- 25 THESE ALSO ARE THE PROVERBS OF SOLOMON, WHICH
THE MEN OF HEZEKIAH, KING OF JUDAH,
EDITED, 25:1—29:27
- 2 It is the glory of God to conceal a matter,
But the glory of kings to fathom a matter.
- 3 Like the heavens for height, and the earth for depth,
The mind of kings is unfathomable.
- 4 Remove the dross from silver,
And it comes forth wholly pure;

- 5 Remove a wicked man from the presence of the king,
And his throne will be established by righteousness.
- 6 Claim not honor in the presence of the king,
Nor stand in the place of great men;
- 7 It is better for you to be told, "Come up hither!"
Than to be humbled before the noble.
- What your eyes have seen
- 8 Report not hastily to the multitude;
Else what will you do in the outcome of the matter,
When your neighbor puts you to the blush for it?
- 9 Discuss the case with your neighbor,
And reveal not the secret to another;
- 10 Lest he who hears it reproach you,
And your infamy pass not away.
- 11 Like apples of gold in a setting of carved silver
Is a word that is aptly spoken.
- 12 Like an earring of gold, or a necklace of fine gold,
Is a wise man's reproof on a listening ear.
- 13 Like a draught of snow-cooled water in the time of harvest
Is a faithful messenger to those who send him:
He refreshes the spirit of his master.
- 14 Like clouds with wind that bring no rain
Is the man who boasts of gifts that are not given.
- 15 By forbearance an angry man is pacified,
And a soft tongue breaks the bones.
- 16 If you find honey, eat no more than you need;
Lest you be sated with it, and vomit it up.
- 17 Set your foot but sparingly in your neighbor's house;
Lest he be sated with you, and give you a cool reception.
- 18 Like a club, a sword, or a sharp-pointed arrow,
Is a man who bears false witness against his neighbor.
- 19 Like a crumbling tooth, or a palsied foot,
Is a faithless man's ground of confidence in the time of trouble.
- 20 Like one who drops vinegar upon a wound
Is he who sings songs to a sorrowful heart.

- 21 If your enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat,
And if he be thirsty, give him water to drink;
22 For coals of fire will you heap on his head,
And the LORD will reward you.
- 23 The north wind brings forth rain,
And a slandering tongue an angry face.
- 24 It is better to dwell in a corner of the roof
Than to share a spacious house with a quarrelsome wife.
- 25 Like cold water to a weary man
Is good news from a far country.
- 26 Like a trampled fountain, or a polluted spring,
Is a righteous man who gives way before the wicked.
- 27 To eat much honey is not good;
Therefore be sparing of your compliments.
- 28 Like a city breached and defenseless
Is a man who has no control of his temper.
- 26 Like snow in summer, or rain in harvest,
Honor is unseasonable for a fool.
- 2 Like a sparrow fitting, a swallow fluttering,
The curse that is groundless will not reach home.
- 3 A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass,
And a rod for the back of fools.
- 4 Answer not a fool according to his folly,
Lest you also become like him.
- 5 Answer a fool according to his folly,
Lest he become wise in his own eyes.
- 6 He cuts off his feet, drinks in disaster,
Who sends a message by a fool.
- 7 Like legs hanging helpless from the lame
Is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- 8 Like one who buries a stone in a heap
Is he who gives honor to a fool.

- 9 Like a thorn-stick brandished by a drunkard
Is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- 10 The master workman does everything himself;
But the fool hires a passer-by.
- 11 Like a dog returning to his vomit
Is a fool repeating his folly.
- 12 You see a man wise in his own eyes?
There is more hope for a fool than for him.
- 13 The sluggard says, "There is a roaring beast on the road,
A lion in the streets."
- 14 As a door turns on its hinges,
The sluggard turns on his bed.
- 15 The sluggard buries his hand in the dish;
He is too weary to raise it to his mouth again.
- 16 The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes
Than seven men who can give an apt answer.
- 17 Like a man who seizes a dog by the ears
Is the passer-by who meddles with a quarrel not his own.
- 18 Like a madman who hurls
Deadly firebrands and arrows
19 Is he who deceives his neighbor
And says, "Was I not joking?"
- 20 Where there is no wood, a fire goes out;
And where there is no whisperer, a quarrel dies down.
- 21 As charcoal to embers, and wood to fire,
Is a quarrelsome man to set strife in a blaze.
- 22 The words of a whisperer are like dainty morsels;
They go down to the innermost chambers of the being.
- 23 Like a pot overlaid with silver slag
Are flattering lips with a wicked mind.

- 24 Your enemy may dissemble with his lips,
But in his mind he harbors deceit;
- 25 When he speaks fair, believe him not,
For seven abominations are in his mind;
26 Though his hatred be craftily concealed,
His wickedness will be revealed in public assembly.
- 27 He who digs a pit will fall into it;
And he who rolls a stone—it will come back upon him.
- 28 A lying tongue brings destruction to itself;
And a flattering mouth works its own ruin.
- 27 Boast not of tomorrow;
For you know not what a day may bring forth.
- 2 Let another man praise you, and not your own mouth—
A stranger, and not your own lips.
- 3 A stone is heavy, and sand is weighty;
But the annoyance caused by a fool is heavier than both.
- 4 Wrath is ruthless, and anger a torrent;
But before jealousy who can stand?
- 5 Better is open rebuke
Than hidden love.
- 6 Sincere are the wounds of a friend;
But deceitful are the kisses of an enemy.
- 7 He who is sated with food disdains the honeycomb;
But to the hungry man every bitter thing is sweet.
- 8 Like a bird that strays from her nest
Is a man that strays from his home.
- 9 Oil and perfume gladden the heart;
So a man's counsel is sweet to his friend.
- 10 Your friend and your father's friend forsake not,
And in your time of calamity go not to your brother's house:
Better is a neighbor near at hand than a brother far away.

- 11 Be wise, my son, and gladden my heart;
That I may answer the man who would taunt me.
- 12 A sensible man foresees danger, and hides from it;
But the simple pass on, and are punished.
- 13 Take a man's garment if he become surety for a stranger;
Hold him to account for the other.
- 14 If a man rise early in the morning, and bless his neighbor with a loud voice,
It will be counted a curse to him.
- 15 A constant drip on a rainy day
And a quarrelsome wife are alike:
- 16 He who would restrain her would restrain the wind,
Or grasp oil with his right hand.
- 17 As iron sharpens iron,
A man sharpens the face of his friend.
- 18 He who takes care of his fig tree will eat the fruit of it;
And he who attends to his master will be honored.
- 19 As the face reflects face in water,
So the mind of man reflects man.
- 20 Sheol and death are never satisfied;
So the eyes of man are never satisfied.
- 21 As the smelter is for silver, and the furnace for gold,
So a man is tested by his praise.
- 22 Though you pound a fool with a pestle,
Among grit in a mortar,
His folly will not leave him.
- 23 Look well to the state of your flocks,
And pay good heed to your herds;
- 24 For riches last not forever,
Nor wealth to all generations.
- 25 When the hay is reaped, and the aftermath appears,
And the herbs of the mountains are gathered,

- 26 Lambs will supply you with clothing,
 And goats with the price of a field;
- 27 Goats' milk enough will you have for your food,
 For the food of your household,
 And as maintenance for your maidens.
- 28 The wicked flee when no man pursues;
 But the righteous are as bold as a lion.
- 2 When rebellion breaks out in a land, there arise many rulers:
 But through men of wisdom and intelligence, order will long prevail.
- 3 A man who is proud and oppresses the poor
 Is like a lashing rain that leaves no food.
- 4 Lawbreakers praise the wicked;
 But the law-abiding are zealous against them.
- 5 Bad men have no understanding of justice;
 But those who seek the LORD understand it completely.
- 6 Better is a poor man who walks in his integrity
 Than he who is crooked in his ways, although he be rich.
- 7 He who pays heed to instruction is a wise son;
 But the companion of profligates brings disgrace on his father.
- 8 He who increases his wealth by interest and usury
 Gathers it for him who is kind to the poor.
- 9 He who turns a deaf ear to instruction—
 His very prayer is an abomination.
- 10 He who seduces the upright into evil ways
 Will himself fall into the pit he has dug;
 But men of integrity will attain good fortune.
- 11 The rich man is wise in his own eyes;
 But a poor man possessed of intelligence will test him.
- 12 When the righteous triumph, there is a great celebration;
 But when the wicked rise to power, men hide themselves.

- 13 He who conceals his transgressions will not prosper;
But he who confesses and forsakes them will obtain mercy.
- 14 Happy is the man who lives always in awe;
But he who hardens his conscience will fall into misfortune.
- 15 Like a roaring lion, or a ravenous bear,
Is a wicked ruler over a poor people.
- 16 A prince who is an oppressor is devoid of intelligence;
But he who hates ill-gotten gain will prolong his life.
- 17 A man laden with another man's blood makes tracks for the grave;
None will support him.
- 18 He who walks honestly will be kept in safety;
But the man of crooked ways will fall into a pit.
- 19 He who tills his ground will have plenty of food;
But he who follows empty pursuits will have plenty of poverty.
- 20 A trustworthy man will be amply blessed;
But he who makes haste to be rich will not go unpunished.
- 21 To be partial in judgment is not good—
Even for a morsel of bread a man may fall into sin.
- 22 The avaricious man rushes after wealth,
Not knowing that want will befall him.
- 23 He who reproves a man will get more thanks in the end
Than he who flatters with the tongue.
- 24 He who robs his father or his mother,
Saying, "There is no wrong in it,"
Is companion to him who destroys.
- 25 A greedy man stirs up strife;
But he who trusts in the LORD will flourish.
- 26 He who trusts in himself is a fool;
But he who walks wisely will be kept safe.
- 27 He who gives to the poor will not come to want;
But he who shuts his eyes against them will have many a curse.

- 28 When the wicked rise to power, men hide themselves;
But when they perish, the righteous flourish.
- 29 He who stiffens his neck against many reproofs
Will suddenly be broken beyond repair.
- 2 When the righteous are in power, the people rejoice;
But when the wicked bear rule, the people groan.
- 3 He who loves wisdom gladdens his father;
But he who keeps company with harlots wastes his substance.
- 4 A king by justice gives stability to a land;
But he who makes heavy exactions brings it to ruin.
- 5 A man who flatters his neighbor
Is spreading a net for his steps.
- 6 A bad man strikes on danger at every step;
But a righteous man runs his way with joy.
- 7 A good man respects the rights of the poor;
A wicked man knows no respect.
- 8 Unprincipled men set the city in a blaze;
But wise men turn back anger.
- 9 If a wise man go to law with a fool,
Whether he storm or laugh, there will be no peace.
- 10 Bloodthirsty men hate the innocent,
And seek the life of the upright.
- 11 A fool gives vent to his temper;
But a wise man restrains his anger.
- 12 If a ruler listen to lies,
All his servants become depraved.
- 13 The poor man and the oppressor meet face to face;
The LORD gives light to the eyes of them both.
- 14 The king who judges the poor with equity—
His throne will be established forever.

- 15 The rod of correction gives wisdom;
But a child who is left to himself brings disgrace on his mother.
- 16 When the wicked are in power, crime increases;
But the righteous will see their downfall.
- 17 Correct your son, that he may give you peace of mind,
And bring delight to your heart.
- 18 Where there is no vision, the people break loose;
But those who obey law—happy are they!
- 19 Not by mere words can a servant be trained;
For he understands, but will not pay heed.
- 20 You see a man who is hasty in his words?
There is more hope for a fool than for him.
- 21 He who pampers his servant from childhood
Will in the end gain nothing but ingratitude.
- 22 A passionate man stirs up discord;
And a hot-tempered man is the cause of much mischief.
- 23 A man's pride will bring him low;
But the humble will attain to honor.
- 24 He who is partner with a thief is an enemy to himself;
He hears the curse, but discloses nothing.
- 25 The fear of man leads one into a snare;
But he who trusts in the LORD will be placed in safety.
- 26 Many court the ruler's favor;
But a man's case is decided by the LORD.
- 27 A bad man is an abomination to the righteous;
And an upright man is an abomination to the wicked.
- 30 THE WORDS OF AGUR THE SON OF JAKEH,
FROM MASSA, 30:1-33
- The oracle of the man: "I am wearied, O God,
I am wearied, O God, and spent;
2 For I am but a brute beast, and no man—

- I have nought of human intelligence;
3 No wisdom have I learned,
No knowledge have I of the Holy One.
4 Who has scaled the heavens and come down?
Who has gathered the wind in his fists?
Who has wrapped the waters in a garment?
Who has established all the bounds of the earth?
What is his name, and what is his son's name?
For surely you know!"
- 5 Every word of God is tested;
He is a shield to those who take refuge in him.
6 Add not to his words;
Lest he call you to account, and you be proved a liar.
- 7 Two things I ask of thee,
Deny them not to me before I die:
8 Put falsehood and lying far from me,
Give me neither poverty nor riches—
Provide me with food sufficient for my needs—
9 Lest I be full, and disown thee,
Saying, "Who is the LORD?"
Or lest I be in want, and steal,
And profane the name of my God.
- 10 Slander not a servant to his master,
Lest he curse you, and you have to pay for it.
- 11 There is a class of people who curse their father,
And do not bless their mother.
12 There is a class of people who are pure in their own eyes,
Yet are not cleansed of their filthiness.
13 There is a class of people with O! such haughty eyes,
And such uplifted eyelids.
14 There is a class of people whose teeth are swords,
And whose fangs are knives—
To devour the poor from the earth,
And the needy from among men.
- 15 The leech has two daughters:
"Give, give!" they cry.

- There are three things that are unsated,
Four that never say, "Enough":
16 Sheol, and the barren womb,
The earth unsated with water,
And fire that never says, "Enough."
- 17 The eye that mocks a father,
And scorns an aged mother—
The ravens of the valley will pick it out,
And the vultures will devour it.
- 18 There are three things too wonderful for me,
Four that I cannot understand:
19 The way of a vulture in the air,
The way of a serpent on a crag,
The way of a ship in the heart of the sea,
And the way of a man with a woman.
- 20 This is the way of an adulterous woman:
She eats, and wipes her mouth,
And says, "I have done no wrong."
- 21 Under three things the earth quakes,
Under four it cannot bear up:
22 A slave when he becomes a king,
A fool when he is sated with food,
23 An unpopular woman when she is married,
And a maidservant when she supplants her mistress.
- 24 There are four things on earth that are small,
And yet are exceedingly wise:
25 The ants—they are no strong folk,
Yet they lay up their food in the summer;
26 The marmots—they are no mighty folk,
Yet they make their home in the crags;
27 The locusts—they have no king,
Yet they march all in ranks;
28 The lizard—she holds on by her forefeet,
Yet she finds her way into the king's palace.
- 29 There are three things that are stately in step,
Four that are stately in gait:

- 30 The lion, which is mightiest among beasts,
And turns not back before any;
- 31 The strutting cock, and the he-goat,
And the king at the head of his people.
- 32 If you have been foolish in exalting yourself,
Or if you have hatched some senseless scheme,
Lay your hand upon your mouth!
- 33 For, as the pressing of milk brings forth curds,
And the pressing of the nose brings forth blood,
So the pressing of anger brings forth strife.

31 THE WORDS OF LEMUEL, KING OF MASSA, WHICH HIS MOTHER TAUGHT HIM, 31:1-9

- 2 What, O my son? what, O son of my womb?
What, O son of my vows?
- 3 Give not your strength to women,
Your heart to those who are the ruin of kings.
- 4 Nor be it for kings, O Lemuel,
For kings to drink wine,
For princes to quaff strong drink;
- 5 Lest as they drink they forget the law,
And violate the rights of any in trouble.
- 6 Give strong drink to him who is perishing,
And wine to the bitter in heart;
- 7 That as he drinks he may forget his poverty,
And think no more of his misery.
- 8 Open your mouth on behalf of the dumb,
In defense of the rights of all who are suffering;
- 9 Open your mouth on the side of justice,
And defend the rights of the poor and the needy.

THE GOOD WIFE, 31:10-31

כ

- 10 If one can find a good wife,
She is worth far more than corals.

כ

- 11 Her husband puts his trust in her,
And finds no lack of gain.

- ג
- 12 She brings him good, and not harm,
All the days of his life.
- ד
- 13 She sorts out wool and flax,
And works it up as she wills.
- ה
- 14 She is like the ships of the merchant—
She brings her food from a far.
- ו
- 15 She rises while yet it is night,
And gives her household food,
With a portion for her maidens.
- ז
- 16 She examines a field, and buys it—
With her earnings she plants a vineyard.
- ח
- 17 She girds her loins with strength,
And she braces her arms.
- ט
- 18 She perceives that her work is profitable,
So her lamp goes not out at night.
- י
- 19 She lays her hand on the distaff,
Her fingers grasp the spindle.
- יא
- 20 She stretches her hand to the poor,
She extends her arms to the needy.
- יב
- 21 She is not afraid of the snow for her household,
For her household are all clothed in doublets.
- יג
- 22 She makes coverlets for herself,
Her clothing is linen and purple.

ז

- 23 Her husband is known at the gates,
As he sits among the elders of the land.

ח

- 24 She makes linen vests, and sells them,
She supplies the merchants with girdles.

ט

- 25 She is clothed with strength and dignity,
And she laughs at the days to come.

י

- 26 She opens her mouth in wisdom,
And kindly counsel is on her tongue.

יא

- 27 She looks well after her household,
And eats not the bread of idleness.

יב

- 28 Her children rise up, and bless her—
Her husband also, and praises her:

יג

- 29 "Many women have done well,
But you have excelled them all."

יד

- 30 Charms are deceptive, and beauty is a breath;
But a woman who reveres the LORD—she will be praised.

טו

- 31 Give her the due reward of her work;
And let her deeds bring her praise at the gates.

THE BOOK OF ECCLESIASTES

THE ENDLESS ROUND OF NATURE, 1:1-11

- 1 The sayings of Koheleth, the son of David, who was king in Jerusalem.
- 2 "Futility of futility," says Koheleth,
"Futility of futilities, all is futility!
- 3 What does a man gain from all his toil
Wherein he toils beneath the sun?
- 4 One generation goes, and another comes,
While the earth endures perpetually.
- 5 The sun rises and the sun sets,
And hastens to the place where he arose.
- 6 The wind blows toward the south
And returns to the north.
Turning, turning, the wind blows,
And returns upon its circuit.
- 7 All rivers run to the sea,
But the sea is never full;
To the spot where the rivers flow,
There they continue to flow.
- 8 All cases would weary;
One may not tell them;
Lest the eye be sated with seeing,
And the ear be filled with hearing.
- 9 Whatsoever has been is that which will be;
And whatsoever has been done is that which will be done;
And there is nothing new under the sun.
- 10 Is there a thing of which it is said, 'Lo, this is new'?
It was already in existence in the ages
Which were before us;
- 11 But there is no record of former things;
Likewise of future things there will be no record
For those who live later still."

THE FUTILITY OF LEARNING, 1:12-18

- ¹² “I, Koheleth, was king over Israel in Jerusalem; and I set my mind
¹³ to search and to investigate in wisdom everything that is done beneath the heavens. It is a wretched business that God has given the sons of ¹⁴ men with which to occupy themselves. I have seen everything that has been done under the sun; and lo, everything is futility and striving for the wind.
- ¹⁵ “The crooked cannot be made straight,
And that which is lacking cannot be counted.
- ¹⁶ “I thought within myself thus: I am great and have increased in wisdom above all that were before me over Jerusalem; and my mind ¹⁷ has seen abundant wisdom and knowledge. And I set my mind to knowing wisdom and to knowing madness and folly. I know that this too is striving for the wind.
- ¹⁸ “For more wisdom is more worry,
And increase of knowledge is increase of sorrow.”

THE FUTILITY OF ALL HUMAN EFFORT, 2:1-26

- ² “I said to myself: ‘Come now, let me test you with mirth; so enjoy
² yourself.’ But this also was futility. Of laughter I said, ‘It is mad’;
³ and of mirth, ‘What has this done?’ I searched in my mind how to stimulate my flesh with wine, and, while my mind conducted itself with wisdom, how to lay hold upon folly, until I might see which is better for men to practice under the heavens all the days of their life.
- ⁴ I made myself great works; I built myself houses; I planted vine-
⁵ yards for myself; I made me gardens and parks, and I planted therein
⁶ all sorts of fruit trees. I made me pools of water with which to irri-⁷ gate a young forest. I bought male and female slaves and had a household of dependents, besides having possessions in cattle and sheep in far greater numbers than any who had been in Jerusalem before ⁸ me. I gathered for myself silver and gold, the treasure of kings and provinces. I trained singing men and women for myself and the ⁹ luxuries of the sons of men, women of all sorts. And I became great and increased more than all who were before me in Jerusalem; yet ¹⁰ my wisdom stood by me. And nothing that my eyes desired did I withhold from them. I did not withhold my mind from any mirth, but my mind found joy in all my toil; for this was my share of all ¹¹ my toil. And I reviewed all my works which my hands had made and the toil which I had expended in making them, and lo; everything was a futility and striving after wind, and there was no profit under 12 the sun. So I turned again to look upon wisdom, madness, and folly; for what can the man do who comes after the king? That which has 13 already been done! And I saw that wisdom is more profitable than 14 folly, even as light is preferable to darkness. The wise man's eyes are in his head; but the fool walks in darkness. But I realized that 15 the same fate overtakes them all. And I said to myself, 'As it befalls the fool, so will it befall me; why, then, should I be overwise?' And 16 I said to myself, 'This too is futility!' For there is no permanent record for either wise man or fool, inasmuch as in the course of the days to come everything is forgotten. How the wise and the fool alike die!

 17 And I hated life; for everything that is done under the sun seemed to 18 me wrong, for everything is futility and striving for the wind. And I hated all my toil wherewith I had toiled under the sun, seeing that I must 19 leave it to the man who shall follow me. And who knows whether he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will have control of all the product of my toil at which I have toiled and of the wisdom which I 20 have won under the sun. This too is futility. So I turned my mind to 21 despair of all the toil at which I had toiled under the sun. For there is a man whose toil has been done with wisdom, knowledge, and success, but to a man who has not toiled for it he gives it as his portion.
 22 This too is futility and a great evil. For what does a man get for all his toil and the striving of his mind wherewith he has toiled under the 23 sun. For all his days are sorrowful and his task is full of trouble, and at night his mind finds no rest. This too is futility.
 24 "There is nothing good for a man but that he eat and drink and find satisfaction in his work. This too have I seen, that it is from the 25 hand of God. For who can eat and who can enjoy apart from him?
 26 For to a man who is good in his sight he gives wisdom, knowledge and joy; but to the sinner he gives the task of gathering and collecting that he may give it to the one who is good in God's sight. This too is futility and striving for the wind."

AN ORDERLY WORLD, 3:1-8

3 "For everything there is an appointed time;
 And there is a time for every purpose under the heavens:
 2 A time to be born, and a time to die;
 A time for planting, and a time for uprooting;
 3 A time to slay, and a time to heal;
 A time to tear down, and a time to rebuild;
 4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh;

- A time to mourn, and a time to dance;
5 A time to scatter stones, and a time to gather stones;
A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;
6 A time to seek, and a time to count as lost;
A time to keep, and a time to throw away;
7 A time to tear, and a time to sew;
A time to keep quiet, and a time to talk;
8 A time to love, and a time to hate;
A time for war, and a time for peace.”

MAN'S LIMITATIONS, 3:9-15

- 9 “What does the maker gain from the work which he has done?
10 I see the task which God has assigned to men with which to occupy 11 themselves. He has made everything beautiful in its season; but he has also implanted ignorance in their mind, so that man cannot discover 12 the work which God has done from beginning to end. I know that there is nothing good for man but to be glad and to enjoy himself 13 while he lives. Indeed, if any man eats and drinks and enjoys himself 14 in all his work, it is a gift from God. I know that whatsoever God does will be forever; nothing may be added to it and nothing may be withdrawn from it; God has made it so that they shall be in awe 15 before him. Whatever is has been long ago and what is to be has been long ago; and God seeks him who has been persecuted.”

MAN AND BEAST UPON THE SAME LEVEL, 3:16-22

- 16 “Furthermore, I saw under the sun that wickedness took the place of justice and wickedness took the place of righteousness.
17 “I said to myself, ‘God judges both the righteous and the wicked, 18 for he has set a time for every purpose and for every deed.’ I said to myself regarding the human family, ‘It is that God may test them 19 and see that they are beasts.’ For there is one fate for both man and beast—the same fate for them; as the one dies, so dies the other; the same breath is in all of them, and man has no advantage over the 20 beast; for everything is futility. All go to one place; all are from the 21 dust, and all return to the dust. Who knows whether the spirit of men goes upward and the spirit of the beast goes downward to the 22 earth? And I saw that there is nothing better than that man should rejoice in his work, since that is his portion; for who can bring him to see what shall be after him?”

THIS TRANSITORY LIFE, 4:1-16

4 "So I beheld once more all the oppressions that are practiced under the sun; and there were the tears of the oppressed who had no one to comfort them, and the strength of their oppressors, but they had none
 2 to comfort them. And I congratulated the dead who were already
 3 dead, rather than the living who are yet alive; and as happier than both of them did I regard him who had never been, who had not seen
 4 the wicked work which is done under the sun. And I saw that all the labor and all the hard work is due to men's jealousy of one another.
 5 This too is futility and striving after the wind. The fool folds his 6 hands and devours his own flesh. Better is one handful with quiet,
 7 than two handfuls with trouble and striving after the wind. Further-
 8 more, I saw a case of futility under the sun: It is an individual without a companion; he has neither son, nor brother; and yet there is no end to all his toil, nor is his eye ever satisfied with riches. For whom then should I toil and deny myself happiness? This too is futility
 9 and an evil task. Two are better than one, for they get a good wage 10 for their toil; and if they fall, the one can lift up his companion, but 11 if a solitary person falls there is no partner to lift him up. Likewise, if two sleep together, they keep warm, but how can one alone keep 12 warm? And if somebody attacks one, two can withstand him, and a 13 threefold cord is not quickly broken. Better is a youth poor and wise, than a king that is old and foolish who no longer knows how to take 14 care of himself. For from a household of rebels he came forth to be 15 king, even though in his own kingdom he was born poor. I saw all the living under the sun running with the youth who was to stand in 16 his place. There was no end to all the people, to all at whose head he was; yet those who come later will not rejoice in him. For this too is futility and a striving for the wind."

REGARDING VOWS, 4:17—5:8

17 "Guard your steps when you go to the house of God; and to draw near to obey is better than that fools should offer sacrifice, for they
 5 know nothing but to do wrong. Be not rash with your mouth and let not your mind be in haste to utter a word before God; for God is in
 2 the heavens and you are on the earth; so let your words be few. For a dream comes through a mass of business, and the voice of a fool
 3 through a multitude of words. When you make a vow to God do not delay in fulfilling it; for he has no pleasure in fools! What you vow,
 4 fulfill! It is better that you should not vow than that you should vow

5 and not fulfill it. Let not your mouth bring you into sin, and say not before the messenger, 'It was a mistake.' Why should God be angered 6 at your voice and destroy the work of your hands? For through many 7 futile dreams come many vows. But do you fear God! If you see the oppression of the poor, and justice and right exploited in the province, be not amazed at the situation, for one high official watches 8 over another, and there are those higher than both. The ruthless has an advantage in everything; he is king over the cultivated land."

ABIDING SATISFACTION, 5:9-19

- 9 "He who loves money will not be satisfied with money;
Nor he who loves riches with gain.
This too is futility.
- 10 When goods increase those who eat of them increase;
And what profit has their owner, but in looking at them?
- 11 Sweet is the sleep of the laborer, whether he eat little or much;
But the surfeit of the rich allows him no sleep.
- 12 There is a sore evil that I have seen under the sun—
Wealth kept by its owner to his own hurt.
- 13 And that wealth was lost in an unfortunate enterprise;
And he became the father of a son, without a thing in his hand.
- 14 Just as he emerged from his mother's womb,
Naked does he return, going even as he came;
And he carries away nothing of his toil which he can carry in his hand.
- 15 This, indeed, is a sore evil: just as he came, so will he go;
And what profit has he in that he toiled for the wind,
16 And spent all his days in darkness and mourning,
And in much trouble, sickness, and anger?
- 17 "So, the good which I see to be worth while is that one should eat and drink and get enjoyment out of all his toil at which he toils under the sun during the course of his life which God grants him; for that 18 is his portion. Every man to whom God gives riches and wealth and has enabled him to eat of it and to bear his portion and to be glad in 19 his toil—this is the gift of God; for he will not recall much the days of his life, because God responds to the joy of his heart."

FRUSTRATED DESIRE, 6:1-8

- 6 "There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy 2 upon mankind: a man to whom God gives riches, wealth and honor and he lacks nothing of all which he desires, yet God does not permit him to partake of it; but a stranger partakes of it. This is futility and a sore affliction. If a man become father of a hundred children and live many years and many be the days of his years, but he is not satisfied with good, nor does he obtain burial, I say that the prematurely born is happier than he. Even though it comes in futility and goes out in darkness and its name is covered with darkness, and it does not see the sun or know it, this finds rest rather than the former. Even though he lives a thousand years twice over and gets no enjoyment—do not all go to one place?

7 "All a man's toil is for his mouth,
And yet his appetite is not satisfied.
8 For what advantage has the wise man over the fool,
And what has the poor man who knows how to walk before the living?
9 Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of desire;
This too is futility and a striving for the wind."

MAN HELPLESS BEFORE FATE, 6:10-12

10 "Whatever its name is, it was called long ago, and what man is has 11 been known; and he is unable to contend with him that is stronger
12 than he. For there are many words which increase futility. What advantage has man? For who knows what is good for man in life, during the course of his futile life, for he spends them like a shadow? Who can tell a man what will be after him under the sun?"

A MEDLEY OF PROVERBS, 7:1-14

7 "A good name is better than good ointment,
And the day of death better than the day of one's birth.
2 It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the banquet-hall.
Inasmuch as that is every man's end, and the living will lay it to heart.
3 Better is sorrow than laughter,
For through a sad face the mind is improved.
4 The mind of the wise is in the house of mourning,
But the mind of fools is in the house of mirth.
5 It is better that a man should hear the rebuke of the wise,
Than that he should hear the song of fools.
6 For like the sound of thorns under the pot

- So is the laughter of the fool. This too is futility.
7 For oppression makes the wise man mad,
And a gift destroys the mind.
8 Better is the end of a thing than its beginning;
Better is a patient spirit than a proud spirit.
9 Do not make haste in your spirit to be angry,
For anger rests in the bosom of fools.
10 Do not say, 'Why were the former days better than these?'
For not out of wisdom have you asked about this.
11 Wisdom with an inheritance is good,
And an advantage to those who see the sun;
12 For in the protection of wisdom is the protection of money.
And the advantage of knowledge is that wisdom preserves the life of its owner.
13 Behold the work of God;
For who can straighten out what he has made crooked.
14 In the day of prosperity, be joyful,
And in the day of adversity, consider:
God has made one thing to correspond to another,
That man may not find anything that is to be after him."

WORLDLY WISDOM, 7:15-29

- 15 "I have seen everything in my futile life:
For example, the righteous man perishing in his righteousness,
And the wicked prolonging his life in his wickedness.
16 Do not be over-righteous,
And be not excessively wise;
Why should you ruin yourself?
17 Be not over-wicked,
Nor play the fool;
Why should you die before your time?
18 It is well that you lay hold of one thing,
And also that your hand let not go of another;
For he who fears God will come forth with both.
19 Wisdom makes a wise man stronger
Than the ten rulers who are in the city.
20 For there is no man on earth so righteous
That he does good and never fails.
21 Do not give heed to all things that men say,
Lest you hear your servant cursing you.

- 22 For you know that many times
 You yourself have cursed others.
- 23 "All this I have tested by wisdom; I said, 'I will be wise,' but it 24 was far from me. Whatever is is far off and very deep; who can find it?"
- 25 "I gave my mind to knowledge and to searching and seeking wisdom and substance and to the knowledge that wickedness is folly and 26 foolishness is madness. And one thing I find more bitter than death:
 the woman whose mind is snares and nets and her hands fetters. He who is good in God's sight will escape from her; but he who sins will be caught by her.
- 27 "See, this is what I have found," says Koheleth, "adding one to one 28 to find the total, which I have sought repeatedly, but not found; one man out of a thousand have I found, but not a woman have I found 29 among all these. Only see this which I have found, that God made mankind upright, but they have discovered many contrivances."

THE CAPRICE OF RULERS, 8:1-9

- 8 "Who is like the wise man?
 And who knows the explanation of a thing?
 A man's wisdom illumines his face,
 And his hard face is changed.
- 2 I obey the order of a king, because of the oath of God.
- 3 Do not be in a hurry to leave his presence;
 Do not stand firm in a bad cause,
 For he does whatsoever he will;
- 4 Inasmuch as the word of a king is final;
 And who can say to him, 'What are you doing?'
- 5 "He who keeps the commandment knows nothing bad; and a wise
 6 mind knows the time and judgment. For there is a time and judg-7 ment for every matter; for man's wickedness is heavy upon him. For there is nobody who knows what is to be, for who can tell him how it 8 shall be? There is nobody in authority over the wind to restrain the wind. Nor is there anybody in control of the day of death, nor is 9 there release in war, nor can wickedness deliver its possessors. All this have I seen, and have devoted my attention to all the work which is done under the sun in which one man has power over another to injure him.

THE LACK OF MORAL DISCRIMINATION IN HUMAN AFFAIRS,

8:10—9:6

- 10 “And so I have seen wicked men carried to the tomb and praised 11 from the holy place and lauded in the city where they had acted thus.
This too is futility. Because the sentence upon an evil deed is not 12 quickly executed, therefore the minds of men are fully determined to do evil. Even though a sinner does wrong a hundred times and still 13 continues living, yet I know that it shall be well with those who fear God, who are in awe before him; but it shall not be well with the wicked, nor shall he prolong his life like a shadow, since he is not awed in the presence of God.
- 14 “There is a futility which is wrought upon the earth, namely that there are righteous men to whom it happens in accordance with what should be done to the wicked, and there are wicked men to whom it happens in accordance with what should be done to the righteous. I say that this too is futility.
- 15 “So I commend mirth; for there is nothing good for man under the sun except to eat, drink, and be merry; for this will stay by him in his toil during the course of his life which God gives him under the sun.
- 16 When I devoted my mind to the knowledge of wisdom and to consideration of the work which is done upon the earth—for both day and 17 night his eyes see no sleep—then I saw all God’s work, that man is unable to discover the work which is done under the sun, inasmuch as man may labor in research, but he will not find; and even if the 9 wise man thinks that he knows, he will be unable to find out. For all this I laid upon my mind and my mind considered all this, namely, that the righteous and the wise and their works are in the hand of God; no 2 man knows whether it will be love or hatred. Everything in the past is futility, inasmuch as there is one fate for all, for the righteous, for the wicked, and for the good; for the clean and the unclean, for him who offers sacrifice and for him who does not; as is the good, so is the 3 sinner; he who takes an oath is as he who fears an oath. This is evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one fate for all; and also that the mind of men is full of wickedness, and madness is in their 4 minds while they are alive, and after that—to the dead! For whosoever is joined to all the living has hope, for as a living dog he is bet-5 ter than the dead lion. For the living know that they will die; but the dead know nothing at all, nor have they any longer any remem-6 brance; for the memory of them is forgotten. Not only the love of them, but the hatred of them, and the envy of them have already perished, and they no longer have any share in anything that is done under the sun."

THE WRITER'S VIEW OF LIFE, 9:7—10:3

- 7 "Go, eat your food with gladness
 And drink your wine with a happy mind,
 For God has already accepted your deeds.
 8 At all times let your garments be white
 And let not oil be lacking upon your head.
 9 Enjoy life with the wife whom you love
 All the days of your futile life
 Which he has given you under the sun;
 All your futile days.

"For that is your portion in life and in your toil at which you toil 10 under the sun. Whatsoever your hand finds to do, do it with your might; for there is no work or substance or knowledge or wisdom in 11 Sheol whither you are going. And again I saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong; nor is there bread for the wise, nor riches for the intelligent, nor favor for scholars; 12 but time and chance happen to all of them. For man does not know his time; like fish that are caught in an evil net, or like birds caught in a snare, so are the sons of men snared in an evil time as it falls upon 13 them suddenly. Also this have I seen as wise under the sun and it 14 seemed great to me. There was a small city, with few men in it, and there came against it a great king and surrounded it and built great 15 siege-works against it. But there was found therein a poor, wise man, and he rescued the city by his wisdom; yet nobody remembered that 16 poor, wise man. And I say that wisdom is better than strength, though the wisdom of the poor man was despised and his words were not 17 heeded. The words of the wise spoken quietly are heeded more than 18 the cry of a prince among fools. Wisdom is better than weapons of 19 war, but one sinner destroys much good. A dead fly makes the perfumer's precious ointment stink; and a little folly annuls great wis-20 dom. The wise man's mind makes for his success; the fool's mind 21 makes for his failure. When a fool walks in the way his mind is 22 lacking, and tells everybody that he is a fool."

MISCELLANEOUS MAXIMS, 10:4-20

- 4 "If the anger of the ruler rises against you, do not forget your 5 place, for soothing pacifies great offences. There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, like an accidental error which comes forth from before a ruler.
- 6 "The fool is often set in high positions;
While the nobles dwell in low estate.
- 7 I have seen slaves upon horses,
While princes walked on the ground like slaves.
- 8 He who digs a pit will fall therein,
While him who breaks through a wall a serpent will bite.
- 9 He who quarries stones will be hurt by them,
While he who splits logs is endangered by them.
- 10 If the axe be dull,
And he do not sharpen its edge,
Then he must exert greater strength;
But wisdom is advantageous for winning success.
- 11 If the serpent bite before being charmed,
Then there is no profit to the charmer.
- 12 The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious,
But the lips of the fool destroy him.
- 13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is folly,
And the end of his utterance is wicked madness.
- 14 The fool multiplies words—
But man knows not what will be,
And who can tell him what will be after him?
- 15 When will the toil of the fool weary him
Who does not know enough to go to an interpreter?
- 16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a boy,
And thy princes feast in the morning!
- 17 Happy art thou, O land, when thy king is a free man,
And thy princes feast at the right time,
For strength and not for drinking!
- 18 Because of sloth the woodwork sinks,
And because of laziness the house leaks.
- 19 With mirth they make bread,
And wine gladdens life,
And money answers for everything.
- 20 Even on your couch do not defame a king,
Nor in your bed-chamber defame a rich man;

For a bird of the heavens will carry the sound,
And some winged creature will tell the thing."

THE UNCERTAINTY OF LIFE, 11:1-8

- 11 "Cast your bread upon the surface of the water,
For after many days you will find it.
2 Give one portion to seven or even to eight,
For you know not what evil shall happen on the earth.
3 If the clouds be filled with rain,
They will pour it out upon earth;
And if a tree fall to the south or to the north,
In whatsoever place the tree falls, there shall it be.
4 He who watches the wind will not sow,
And he who observes the clouds will not reap.
5 Even as you know not what is the way of the spirit
Into the bones in the pregnant womb,
So you know not the work of God,
Who makes everything.
6 In the morning sow your seed,
And till the evening give your hand no rest;
For you know not which shall prosper, this or that,
Or whether both alike shall be good.
7 "Light is sweet, and it is good for the eyes to see the sun. For if a man live many years, and rejoice in them all, let him remember that the days of darkness will be many. Whatsoever may come is futility."

ADVICE TO THE YOUNG, 11:9—12:8

- 9 "Rejoice, O young man, in your youth,
And let your mind be glad in the days of your vigor,
And walk in the ways of your mind and in the sight of your eyes;
But know that for all these things God will bring you into judgment.
10 And put away worry from your mind,
And remove evil from your flesh;
For youth and the prime of life are futility.
12 Remember your Creator in the days of your vigor,
Before the evil days come
And the years approach of which you will say,
'I have no pleasure in them;'

- 2 Before the sun become dark,
And the light, and the moon, and the stars;
And the clouds return after the rain;
- 3 In the day when the guardians of the house tremble,
And the strong men are bent,
And the grinding-maids cease because they are few,
And the ladies peering through the windows be darkened,
- 4 And the doors into the street are closed;
When the sound of the mill is low,
And one rises at the sound of the bird,
And all songs sound low even when in high tones;
- 5 They fear and terrors are on the road;
And the almond tree blossoms, and the grasshopper is burdensome,
And the caper-berry becomes ineffectual;
Because man goes to his final home,
And the mourners go around in the street;
- 6 While the silver cord is not severed,
Nor the golden bowl broken,
Nor the jar shattered at the spring,
Nor the wheel broken at the cistern;
- 7 Nor the dust return to the earth as it was,
Nor the spirit return to God who gave it.
- 8 Futility of futilities," says Koheleth, "all is futility."

CONCLUDING COMMENTS, 12:9-13

- 9 In addition to the fact that Koheleth was wise, he still taught the people knowledge, and he composed, and sought out, and arranged
- 10 many proverbs. Koheleth sought to find pleasing words, and what is
- 11 written correctly, namely, true things. The words of the wise are like goads; but collections which are given by one teacher are like nails
- 12 driven with a sledge. Furthermore, my son, take warning; of the making of many books there is no end, and much study is weariness of the flesh.
- 13 The conclusion of the matter. Let us hear all: Fear God and keep his commandments; for this concerns every man, that God brings every work into judgment with regard to everything concealed, whether it be good or bad.

THE SONG OF SONGS

1 The Song of Songs, which is Solomon's.

THE MAIDEN TO THE YOUTH, 1:2-4

2 "Kiss me with kisses from your mouth,
For your love is better than wine;
3 The fragrance of your ointments is sweet;
Your very self is a precious ointment;
Therefore do the maidens love you.
4 Take me along with you, let us hasten;
Bring me, O king, into your chamber,
That we may exult and rejoice in you,
That we may praise your love more than wine;
Rightly are you loved."

THE MAIDEN TO THE CHORUS, 1:5, 6

5 "Blackened am I, but comely,
O maidens of Jerusalem,
Like the tents of Kedar,
like the hangings of Solomon.
6 Do not notice that I am blackened, that the sun has scorched me,
my mother's son has burned me.
I was made keeper of the vineyards,
but my own vineyard I have not kept."

THE MAIDEN TO THE YOUTH, 1:7

7 "Tell me, you whom I love,
where you are pasturing your flock,
where you are making your fold at noon;
For why should I be like one veiled,
beside the flocks of your companions?"

THE CHORUS TO THE MAIDEN, 1:8

8 "If you do not know,
O most beautiful of women,

Follow in the tracks of the flock,
 And pasture your kids,
 beside the tents of the shepherds."

THE YOUTH TO THE MAIDEN, 1:9-11

9 "To a steed in Pharaoh's chariots,
 I compare you, my love.
 10 Your cheeks are comely with bangles,
 your neck with beads.
 11 Bangles of gold we will make for you,
 with studs of silver."

THE MAIDEN TO THE CHORUS, 1:12-14

12 "While the king was on his couch,
 his nard gave forth its fragrance.
 13 A bunch of myrrh is my beloved to me,
 as he lies at night between my breasts;
 14 A cluster of henna is my beloved to me,
 from the gardens of Engedi."

THE YOUTH TO THE MAIDEN, 1:15

15 "Ah, you are beautiful, my love;
 ah, you are beautiful;
 Your eyes are doves."

THE MAIDEN TO THE YOUTH, 1:16, 17

16 "Ah, you are beautiful, my beloved, yea, lovely.
 Yea, our couch is leafy,
 17 The beams of our house are cedars,
 our rafters cypresses."

THE MAIDEN, 2:1

2 "I am a saffron of the plain,
 a hyacinth of the valleys."

THE YOUTH, 2:2

2 "Like a hyacinth among thistles,
 so is my loved one among the maidens."

THE MAIDEN TO THE CHORUS, 2:3—3:5

- 3 "Like an apple tree among the trees of the forest,
so is my beloved among the youths.
In his shadow I long to sit,
and his fruit is sweet to my taste.
- 4 Bring me to the house of wine, and look upon me with love.
- 5 Stay me with raisin-cakes,
refresh me with apples;
for I am sick with love.
- 6 Let his left hand be under my head,
and his right hand embrace me.
- 7 "I adjure you, O maidens of Jerusalem,
by the gazelles or by the hinds of the field,
That you rouse not, nor awaken love,
until it please.
- 8 "Hark! my beloved!
ah, here he comes,
Leaping over the mountains,
skipping over the hills.
- 9 My beloved is like a gazelle,
or a young stag.
Ah, here he stands,
behind our wall,
Looking through the windows,
peering through the lattices!
- 10 My beloved spoke up, and said to me,
'Rise, my love,
my beautiful one, come away;
- 11 For, see, the winter is past,
the rain is over and gone;
- 12 The flowers have appeared on the earth,
the time of song has come;
And the call of the turtle dove
is heard in our land;
- 13 The fig tree is putting forth its figs,
and the blossoming grapevines give forth fragrance.

- Rise, my love,
my beautiful one, come away.
- 14 O my dove in the clefts of the rocks,
in the recesses of the cliffs,
Let me see your form,
let me hear your voice;
For your voice is sweet,
and your form is comely.’
- 15 “Catch for us the foxes,
the little foxes,
That are despoiling the vineyards,
since our vineyards are in bloom.
- 16 “My beloved belongs to me, and I to him,
who is pasturing his flock among the hyacinths.
- 17 Until the day blows,
and the shadows flee,
Gambol, my beloved,
like a gazelle or a young stag upon the craggy mountains.
- 3 “Upon my bed at night,
I sought him whom I love;
I sought him, but could not find him;
I called him, but he did not answer me.
- 2 I will rise then, and go about the city,
in the streets and in the squares,
To seek him whom I love;
I sought him, but could not find him.
- 3 The watchmen who go about the city found me,
‘Have you seen him whom I love?’
- 4 Scarcely did I get by them,
when I found him whom I love.
I held him and would not let him go,
until I brought him to my mother’s house,
to the chamber of her who bore me.
- 5 “I adjure you, O maidens of Jerusalem,
by the gazelles or by the hinds of the field,
That you rouse not, nor awaken love,
until it please.”

THE CHORUS, 3:6-11

- 6 "What is this coming up from the wilderness,
 like columns of smoke,
 Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
 made from all kinds of merchants' spices?
- 7 Ah, it is the litter of Solomon.
 Sixty warriors are around it,
 of the warriors of Israel,
- 8 All of them armed with swords,
 trained in war,
 Each with his sword upon his hip,
 against danger at night.
- 9 King Solomon made himself a palanquin,
 from the woods of Lebanon.
- 10 He made its columns of silver,
 its seat of gold,
 Its body of purple,
 its interior inlaid with ebony.
- 11 O maidens of Jerusalem, go forth,
 and gaze upon King Solomon,
 On the crown with which his mother crowned him,
 on the day of his nuptials,
 on the day of his gladness of heart."

THE YOUTH TO THE MAIDEN, 4:1-15

- 4 "Ah, you are beautiful, my love;
 ah, you are beautiful!
 Your eyes are doves,
 behind your veil.
 Your hair is like a flock of goats,
 streaming down from Mount Gilead.
- 2 Your teeth are like a flock of ewes ready for shearing,
 that have come up from the washing,
 All of which bear twins,
 and none of which loses its young.
- 3 Your lips are like a thread of scarlet,
 and your mouth is comely.
 Your temple is like a slice of pomegranate,
 behind your veil.
- 4 Your neck is like the tower of David,

- built as an armory,
With a thousand bucklers hung upon it,
all kinds of warriors' shields.
- 5 Your two breasts are like two fawns,
twins of a gazelle,
that pasture among the hyacinths.
- 6 Until the day blows,
and the shadows flee,
I will betake myself to the mountain of myrrh,
and to the hill of frankincense.
- 7 You are altogether beautiful, my love,
and there is no blemish in you.
- 8 "Come from Lebanon, my bride;
come from Lebanon, come!
Descend from the top of Amana,
from the top of Senir (that is, Hermon),
From the dens of lions,
from the mountains of leopards.
- 9 You have heartened me, my sister, my bride,
you have heartened me,
With one glance of your eyes,
with one turn of your neck.
- 10 How beautiful is your love,
my sister, my bride!
How much better is your love than wine,
and the fragrance of your ointments than all kinds of perfume!
- 11 As for your lips, my bride,
they distil sweetness;
Honey and milk are under your tongue,
and the fragrance of your garments is like the fragrance of Lebanon.
- 12 A garden inclosed is my sister, my bride,
a garden inclosed, a fountain sealed,
- 15 A garden fountain, a well of fresh water,
and flowing streams from Lebanon.
- 13 Your products are a park of pomegranates,
together with choice fruits,
henna with nard,

- 14 Nard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon,
together with all kinds of frankincense woods,
Myrrh and aloes,
together with all the finest perfumes.”

THE MAIDEN, 4:16

- 16 “Awake, northwind,
and come, southwind!
Blow upon my garden,
that its perfumes may distil,
That my beloved may come to his garden,
and eat its choice fruits.”

THE YOUTH TO THE MAIDEN, 5:1a

- 5 “I have come to my garden, my sister, my bride,
To gather my myrrh with my spice,
To eat my honeycomb with my honey,
To drink my wine with my milk.”

THE CHORUS, 5:1b

- “Eat, lovers, drink, and be drunk with your lovers.”

THE MAIDEN, 5:2-8

- 2 “I was asleep, but my fancy was alert;
hark! my beloved is knocking:
‘Open to me, my sister, my love,
my dove, my perfect one;
For my head is filled with dew,
my locks with the mist of the night.’
- 3 ‘I have taken off my garments;
why should I put them on again?
I have washed my feet;
why should I soil them?’
- 4 My beloved took his hand from the doorway,
and my heart yearned for him.
- 5 I rose to open to my beloved,
and my hands dripped myrrh,
And my fingers flowing myrrh,
upon the handles of the bar.

- 6 I opened to my beloved,
 but my beloved had turned away, had gone.
 I sought him, but he turned his back;
 I sought him, but could not find him;
 I called him, but he did not answer me;
- 7 The watchmen who go about the city found me;
 they smote me, they wounded me;
 They stripped me of my mantle,
 the guardians of the walls.
- 8 "I adjure you, O maidens of Jerusalem,
 if you find my beloved,
 That you tell him,
 that I am sick with love."

THE CHORUS TO THE MAIDEN, 5:9

- 9 "What is your lover but a lover,
 O most beautiful of women?
 What is your lover but a lover,
 that you do so adjure us?"

THE MAIDEN TO THE CHORUS, 5:10-16

- 10 "My beloved is fair and ruddy, distinguished among myriads.
- 11 His head is fine gold,
 his locks palm branches,
 as black as a raven.
- 12 His eyes are like doves,
 by streams of water,
 Bathing in milk,
 sitting by a pool.
- 13 His cheeks are like beds of spices,
 exhaling perfumes.
 His lips are hyacinths,
 dropping flowing myrrh.
- 14 His hands are rods of gold,
 studded with Tarshish-stones.
 His body is a column of ivory,
 adorned with sapphires.

- 15 His legs are pillars of marble,
 set on bases of gold.
 His form is like Lebanon,
 as choice as cedars.
- 16 His mouth is sweet,
 and he is altogether lovely.
 Such is my beloved, and such my lover,
 O maidens of Jerusalem."

THE CHORUS TO THE MAIDEN, 6:1

- 6 "Whither has your beloved gone,
 O most beautiful of women?
 Whither has your beloved turned,
 that we may seek him with you?"

THE MAIDEN TO THE CHORUS, 6:2, 3

- 2 "My beloved has gone down to his garden,
 to the beds of spices,
 To pasture his flock in the gardens,
 and gather hyacinths.
- 3 I belong to my beloved, and my beloved to me,
 who pastures his flock among the hyacinths."

THE YOUTH TO THE MAIDEN, 6:4-10

- 4 "You are as beautiful as Tirzah, my love,
 as comely as Jerusalem,
 as august as the most distinguished.
- 5 Turn your eyes away from me,
 for they dazzle me.
 Your hair is like a flock of goats,
 streaming down from Gilead.
- 6 Your teeth are a flock of ewes,
 that have come up from the washing,
 All of which bear twins,
 and none of which loses its young.
- 7 Your temple is like a slice of pomegranate,
 behind your veil.
- 8 Sixty are the queens, and eighty the concubines,
 and the maidens are numberless.

- 9 The only one is she,
 my dove, my perfect one;
 She is the only one of her mother;
 she is the darling of her who bore her.
 The maidens look upon her and bless her,
 the queens and concubines praise her:
 10 'Who is she that breaks forth like the dawn,
 as beautiful as the moon,
 As bright as the sun,
 as august as the most distinguished?' "

THE MAIDEN, 6:11, 12

- 11 "I went down to the nut garden,
 to look at the verdure of the valley,
 To see whether the grapevine had budded,
 whether the pomegranates had bloomed.
 12 Before I knew it, my fancy set me in the chariot of my ardent lover."

THE CHORUS TO THE MAIDEN, 6:13—7:6

- 13 "Turn, turn, O Shulammitte;
 turn, turn, that we may gaze on you.
 Ah, gaze on the Shulammitte,
 in the Mahanaim dance.
 7 How beautiful are your steps in sandals,
 O rapturous maiden!
 The curves of your hips are like necklaces,
 the handicraft of an artist.
 2 Your navel is a round bowl,
 in which liquor is never lacking.
 Your belly is a heap of wheat,
 fenced in with hyacinths.
 3 Your two breasts are like two fawns,
 twins of a gazelle.
 4 Your neck is like a tower of ivory,
 your head upon it is like Carmel.
 Your eyes are pools in Heshbon,
 at the gate of Bath-rabbim.
 Your nose is like a peak of Lebanon, overlooking Damascus.

- 5 And the hair of your head is like purple,
in whose tresses a king is caught.
6 How beautiful, yea, how lovely you are,
beloved one, joyous maiden!"

THE YOUTH TO THE MAIDEN, 7:7-9

- 7 "Your very stature is like a palm tree,
and your breasts like clusters.
8 I said, 'Let me climb the palm tree,
let me take hold of its clusters,
And let your breasts be like clusters of the vine,
and the breath of your nose like apples,
9 And your palate like finest wine, flowing pleasantly into my mouth,
stirring my lips and teeth.'"

THE MAIDEN, 7:10—8:4

- 10 "I belong to my beloved,
and his longing is for me.
11 Come, my beloved, let us go into the field,
let us rest among the henna flowers;
12 Let us go early to the vineyards,
to see whether the grapevine has budded,
Whether the vine blossoms have opened,
the pomegranates bloomed.
There I will give my love to you.
13 The mandrakes give forth fragrance,
and at our doors are all kinds of choice fruits,
Both new and old,
which I have treasured for you, my beloved.
8 "O that you were really my brother,
who had sucked the breasts of my mother,
That I might find you in the street, kiss you,
and no one then despise me;
2 That I might lead you, bring you to the house of my mother,
to the chamber of her who bore me;
That I might give you some spiced wine to drink,
some pomegranate juice;

3 That your left hand might be under my head,
and your right hand embrace me.

4 "I adjure you, O maidens of Jerusalem,
That you rouse not, nor awaken love,
until it please."

THE CHORUS, 8:5a

5 "Who is this coming up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved?"

THE MAIDEN TO THE YOUTH, 8:5b-7

"Under the apple tree I awakened you,
where your mother was in travail with you,
where she that bore you was in travail.

6 Place me like a seal upon your heart,
like a seal upon your arm;
For love is as mighty as death,
as strong as Sheol;
As for passion, its bolts are bolts of fire,
furious flames;

7 Many waters cannot quench love,
nor rivers overcome it.
If one were to offer all the substance of his house for love,
it would be utterly contemned."

THE CHORUS, 8:8, 9

8 "Our sister is young,
and has no breasts.
What shall we do for our sister,
against the day when she will be spoken for?

9 If she is a wall,
we shall build a silver turret on her;
But if she is a door,
we shall secure her with cedar boards."

THE MAIDEN, 8:10-14

10 "If I were a wall,
and my breasts like towers,
Then would I be in his eyes,
like one who finds favor.

- 11 "Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon;
He let the vineyard to caretakers.
Each was to bring a thousand shekels of silver for its fruit,
12 While my vineyard is my own.
The thousand shekels are yours, O Solomon,
While two hundred belong to the caretakers of the fruit.
- 13 "O you who sit in the gardens,
with companions listening,
let me hear your voice!
- 14 Hasten, my beloved,
be like a gazelle,
Or a young stag,
upon the mountains of spices!"

PART IV
THE BOOKS OF THE PROPHETS

THE MAJOR PROPHETS; Translated by ALEX. R. GORDON

LAMENTATIONS; Translated by THEOPHILE J. MEEK

THE MINOR PROPHETS; Translated by J. M. POWIS SMITH

THE BOOK OF ISAIAH

SUPERScription, 1:1

- 1 The vision of Isaiah, the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

FAITHLESS CHILDREN, 1:2-3

- 2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth,
For the LORD has spoken:
"Sons have I reared and brought up,
And they have rebelled against me!
3 The ox knows its owner,
And the ass its master's crib;
But Israel does not know,
My people shows no understanding."

THE DESOLATION OF JUDAH, 1:4-9

- 4 Ah! sinful nation, guilt-laden people;
Brood of evil-doers, children who deal corruptly;
Who have forsaken the LORD, and spurned the Holy One of Israel,
And gone back in estrangement from him!
5 Where will you still be smitten, that you revolt again and again?
The whole head is ailing, and the whole heart sick;
6 From the sole of the foot to the head there is no health in it—
Nought but blows and bruises and bleeding wounds,
That have not been pressed nor bound up nor softened with oil.
7 Your land is a desolation, your cities are burned with fire;
Your soil—in your presence aliens devour it:
It is a desolation like the overthrow of Sodom.
8 And the daughter of Zion is left like a booth in a vineyard,
Like a hut in a cucumber-field, like a watchman's tower.
9 Unless the LORD of hosts had left us a handful of survivors,
We should have become like Sodom, we should have resembled Gomorrah.

TRUE AND FALSE WORSHIP, 1:10-17

- 10 Hear the word of the LORD,
 You rulers of Sodom;
 Give ear to the instruction of our God,
 You people of Gomorrah!
- 11 "Of what use is the multitude of your sacrifices to me,"
 Says the LORD;
 "I am sated with burnt-offerings of rams
 And the fat of fed beasts;
 In the blood of bullocks and lambs and he-goats
 I take no delight.
- 12 When you come to see my face,
 Who demands this of you—
 The trampling of my courts?
- 13 Bring no more worthless offering!
 Foul smoke it is to me.
 New moon and sabbath, the holding of assemblies—
 Fasting and festival I cannot endure.
- 14 Your new moons and your appointed seasons I hate;
 They are a burden upon me, which I am weary of bearing.
- 15 So, when you spread out your hands,
 I will hide my eyes from you;
 Though you make many a prayer,
 I will not listen.
 Your hands are full of bloodshed—
- 16 Wash yourselves clean;
 Put away the evil of your doings
 From before my eyes;
- 17 Cease to do evil, learn to do good;
 Seek justice, restrain the oppressor;
 Uphold the rights of the fatherless, defend the cause of the widow!"

THE WAGES OF SIN, 1:18-20

- 18 "Come now, and let us reason together,"
 Says the LORD:
 "If your sins be like scarlet,
 Can they become white as snow?
 If they be red like crimson,

- Can they become as wool?
 19 If you prove willing and obedient,
 You shall eat the good of the land;
 20 But if you refuse and rebel,
 You shall taste the sword";
 For the mouth of the LORD has spoken.

THE PURIFYING OF ZION, 1:21-31

- 21 Ah! how has the faithful city
 Become a harlot—
 She that was full of justice, in whom righteousness lodged,
 But now murderers!
 22 Your silver has become dross,
 Your wine is diluted with water:
 23 Your rulers are unruly,
 And associates of thieves;
 Every one of them loves a bribe,
 And runs after gifts;
 They uphold not the rights of the fatherless,
 And the cause of the widow comes not to them.
 24 Therefore this is the oracle of the Lord, the LORD of hosts,
 The Mighty One of Israel:
 "Ah! I will appease me of my enemies,
 And avenge me on my foes.
 25 I will turn my hand against you;
 And will smelt out your dross in the furnace,
 And remove all your alloy.
 26 Then will I restore your rulers as at first,
 And your counsellors as in the beginning;
 And afterwards you shall be called, 'The stronghold of justice,
 The faithful city.'"
 27 Zion shall be redeemed by justice,
 And her converts by righteousness;
 28 But doom shall fall on rebels and sinners together—
 Those who forsake the LORD shall perish.
 29 For you shall be brought to shame through the terebinths in which you took pleasure,
 And shall be put to the blush through the gardens of which you made choice:

- 30 You shall become like a terebinth whose leaves are withering,
Like a garden that has no water;
31 The strong one shall become tow,
And his work a spark;
And both of them shall burn together,
With none to quench the flame.

THE MOUNTAIN OF THE LORD'S HOUSE, 2:1-4

- 2 The word that Isaiah, the son of Amoz, received concerning Judah and Jerusalem.
2 Now in the end of the days
The mountain of the LORD's house will be Established on the top of the mountains,
And lifted above the hills.
And all the nations will stream to it,
3 Many peoples will go and say:
"Come! let us go up to the mountain of the LORD,
To the house of the God of Jacob;
That he may instruct us in his ways,
And that we may walk in his paths;
For out of Zion goes forth instruction,
The word of the LORD out of Jerusalem."
4 Then will he judge between the nations,
And will arbitrate for many peoples;
And they will beat their swords into plowshares,
And their spears into pruning-hooks:
Nation will not lift up sword against nation,
And they will learn no more the art of war.

THE DAY OF THE LORD, 2:5-22

- 5 O house of Jacob, come and let us walk
In the light of the LORD!
6 For he has forsaken his people,
The house of Jacob;
Because they are full of diviners from the east,
And they practice soothsaying like the Philistines,
And clasp hands with aliens:
7 Their land is filled with silver and gold,
And there is no end to their treasures;
Their land is filled with horses,

- And there is no end to their chariots;
8 Their land is filled with idols,
They worship the work of their hands,
That which their fingers have made.
9 So mankind is humbled, and man is brought low—
Forgive them not!
- 10 Go into the rock, and hide in the dust,
From before the dread presence of the LORD,
And from his glorious majesty!
11 The haughty looks of man will be brought low,
And the pride of man will be humbled,
And the LORD alone will be exalted on that day.
12 For the LORD of hosts has a day
Against all that is proud and high,
And against all that is lofty and tall:
13 Against all the cedars of Lebanon, high and lofty,
And against all the oaks of Bashan;
14 Against all the high mountains,
And against all the lofty hills;
15 Against every tall tower,
And against every fortified wall;
16 Against all the ships of Tarshish,
And against all the gallant barks.
17 Then the haughtiness of man will be humbled,
And the pride of man will be brought low;
And the LORD alone will be exalted on that day.
- 18 The idols will one and all vanish;
19 And men will go into the caves of the rock,
And into the holes of the dust,
From before the dread presence of the LORD,
And from his glorious majesty,
When he rises to strike terror on the earth.
20 On that day will a man cast away,
To the moles and to the bats,
His idols of silver and his idols of gold,
Which he made for himself to worship—
21 To go into the rifts of the rocks,
And into the clefts of the crags,

From before the dread presence of the LORD,
 And from his glorious majesty,
 When he rises to strike terror on the earth.

- 22 Cease trusting man, in whose nostrils is breath;
 For of what account is he?

THE REIGN OF ANARCHY, 3:1-12

- 3 See! the Lord, the LORD of hosts,
 Is removing from Jerusalem and from Judah both stay and staff—
 All stay of bread and all stay of water—
- 2 Soldier and warrior, judge and prophet, diviner and elder,
 3 Captain of fifty, and man of rank,
 Counsellor, skilful magician, and expert enchanter.
 4 And boys will I give them for princes,
 And children shall rule them;
 5 And the people shall play the tyrant over each other,
 Everyone over his neighbor;
 And rudely shall they behave, the boy toward the old man,
 And the base man toward the honorable.
- 6 When a man lays hold of his fellow in his father's house:
 "You have a mantle—you shall be our leader,
 And this heap of ruins shall be under your hand";
 7 On that day will he protest, saying,
 "I will not be a healer;
 For in my house there is neither bread nor mantle—
 You shall not make me leader of this people!"
- 8 For Jerusalem has stumbled,
 And Judah has fallen;
 9 Because their words and their deeds are against the LORD,
 Provoking his glorious eyes.
- Their partiality in judgment bears witness against them,
 And like the men of Sodom they publish their sin—
 Without any concealment.
 Woe to them! for ill have they done to themselves.
- 10 Happy the righteous! for well shall they fare;
 For the fruit of their deeds they shall eat.
 11 Woe to the wicked! ill shall they fare;
 For the work of their hands shall be paid back to them.

- 12 My people! babes are their masters,
 And women rule them.
 My people! your leaders mislead you,
 And confuse the tracks you should follow.

A JUDGMENT SCENE, 3:13-15

- 13 The LORD comes forward to plead,
 He stands up to arraign his people;
 14 The LORD will bring an indictment Against the elders and princes of his people:
 "It is you that have ravaged the vineyard—
 The plunder of the poor is in your houses.
 15 What mean you by crushing my people,
 And grinding the face of the poor?"
 Is the oracle of the Lord, the GOD of hosts.

THE DOOM OF THE DAUGHTERS OF ZION, 3:16-4:1

- 16 The LORD says:
 "Because the daughters of Zion
 Have grown haughty,
 And walk with outstretched necks,
 And ogling with their eyes,
 Mincing along as they walk,
 And jingling with their feet—
 17 The Lord shall smite with a scab
 The crown of the head of the daughters of Zion,
 And the LORD shall lay bare their brow.
 18 [On that day will the Lord remove the finery of the anklets and 19 fillets and crescents, the eardrops and bracelets and veils, the head-20 bands and armlets and sashes, the perfume boxes and amulets, the 21 signet rings and nose rings, the festival robes, the mantles and shawls
 22 and satchels, the lace gowns and linen vests, the turbans and capes.]
 24 Instead of perfume there shall be rottenness,
 And instead of a girdle, a rope;
 Instead of curls, baldness,
 And instead of a stately robe, a wrapping of sackcloth—
 Branding instead of beauty.
 25 Your men shall fall by the sword,
 And your warriors in battle;

- 26 And the gates of Zion shall sorrow and sigh,
As she sits despoiled on the earth.
- 4 On that day shall seven women lay hold
On a single man,
Saying, 'We will provide our own food,
And will buy our own clothes;
Only let us be called by your name—
Take away our disgrace!' "

THE COMING GLORY OF ZION, 4:2-6

- 2 On that day will the vegetation of the LORD be fair and glorious;
and the fruit of the land will be a pride and adornment to the sur-
3 vivors of Israel. And those who remain in Zion and are left in Jerusalem will be called holy—even everyone who is enrolled among those 4 destined for life in Jerusalem—once the Lord has washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and has wiped out the bloodstains of Jerusalem from the midst of it, by the spirit of judgment and the 5 spirit of destruction. Then will the LORD create over the whole site of Mount Zion, and over her worshipping assemblies, a cloud of smoke
6 by day and the glow of a flaming fire by night; for the glory of the LORD will be a canopy and a bower over all, serving as a shade from the heat by day, and as a refuge and shelter from storm and from rain.

THE SONG OF THE VINEYARD, 5:1-7

- 5 Let me sing for my Loved One
My love song of his vineyard.
- My Loved One had a vineyard
On a fertile hill;
- 2 He trenched it, and cleared it of stones,
And planted it with choice vines;
He built a watchtower in the midst of it,
And hewed out a winevat;
And he looked for it to yield grapes,
But it yielded wild grapes.
- 3 Now, O citizens of Jerusalem, and men of Judah,
Judge, I pray, between me and my vineyard!
- 4 What more could have been done for my vineyard
Than that which I have done for it?

Why, then, when I looked for it to yield grapes,
Did it yield wild grapes?

- 5 So now, I pray, let me tell you
What I will do to my vineyard:
I will remove its hedge, and it shall be ravaged;
I will break down its wall, and it shall be trampled under foot;
6 I will make it a waste, unpruned and unhoed,
That shall spring up with briars and thorns;
And the clouds will I command
That they rain no rain upon it.
- 7 For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel,
And the men of Judah are his cherished plantation;
And he looked for justice, but lo! bloodshed,
For righteousness, but lo! a cry.

THE SIXFOLD WOE, 5:8-24

- 8 Ah! you who join house to house,
And lay field to field,
Till there is no more room,
And you are left to dwell alone
In the midst of the land!
- 9 Therefore the LORD of hosts has sworn in my hearing:
"Of a truth shall many a house become a desolation,
Houses great and goodly, without an inhabitant;
10 For ten acres of vineyard shall yield but a bath,
And a homer of seed shall yield but an ephah."
- 11 Ah! those who rise up early in the morning,
To run after strong drink;
Who sit late into the twilight,
Till wine inflames them;
12 Whose feasts are lyre and harp,
Timbrel and flute and wine;
But the doing of the LORD they heed not,
And the work of his hands they see not!
- 13 Therefore my people are gone into exile,
For want of knowledge;
Their nobility is famished with hunger,
And their rabble is parched with thirst.

- 14 Therefore Sheol has enlarged her appetite,
And opens her mouth without limit;
And down go the rank and the rabble of Zion,
And all who rejoice in her.
- 15 [Mankind is humbled, and man is brought low,
The eyes of the exalted are brought low;
16 And the LORD of hosts is exalted through justice,
The Holy God shows himself holy through righteousness.]
17 And there lambs will graze as on their pasture,
And fat kids will feed among the ruins.
- 18 Ah! those who draw guilt on themselves with cords of ungodliness,
And the penalty of their sin as with cart-ropes;
19 Who say, "Let his work speed on, make haste,
That we may see it;
Let the purpose of the Holy One of Israel draw near and come,
That we may know it!"
- 20 Ah! those who call evil good,
And good evil;
Who count darkness as light,
And light as darkness;
Who count bitter as sweet,
And sweet as bitter!
- 21 Ah! those who are wise in their own eyes,
And in their own sight intelligent!
- 22 Ah! the heroes at drinking wine,
And the warriors at blending liquor;
23 Who acquit the guilty for a bribe,
And wrest the rights of the innocent from him!
24 Therefore, as a tongue of fire licks up stubble,
And hay sinks down in the flame,
Their root will become like rottenness,
And their blossom will go up like dust—
Because they have scorned the instruction of the LORD of hosts,
And have spurned the word of the Holy One of Israel."¹

THE VISION OF THE LORD, 6:1-13

- 6 In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and uplifted, the skirts of his robe filling the temple.
- 2 Over him stood seraphs, each having six wings, with two of which he covered his face, with two he covered his loins, and with two he hovered in flight. And they called one to another, and said,
- 3 "Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts;
The whole earth is full of his glory."
- 4 And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the sound of those who called, and the house filled with smoke.
- 5 Then said I,
"Ah me! I am lost—
For I am a man of unclean lips,
And I dwell among a people of unclean lips—
For my eyes have seen the King,
The LORD of hosts."
- 6 Then flew one of the seraphs to me, with a red-hot stone in his hand, which he had taken with tongs from the altar; and he touched my mouth with it, and said,
- 7 "See! this has touched your lips;
And your guilt is removed, and your sin forgiven."
- 8 And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying,
"Whom shall I send,
And who will go for us?"
- And I said,
"Here am I! send me."
- 9 Then said he,
"Go and say to this people:
'Keep on hearing, but understand not;
And keep on seeing, but know not!'
10 Make the mind of this people gross,
Dull their ears, and besmear their eyes;
Lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears,
And have a mind to understand, and turn, and be healed."
- 11 And I said,
"Lord, how long?"
- And he said,
"Till cities lie waste, without inhabitant,

- And houses without man;
 And the soil be left a desolation,
 12 And the LORD have removed man far away,
 And many be the forsaken places in the midst of the land.
 13 Even if a tenth remain in it,
 This must pass through the fire again,
 Like a terebinth, or an oak,
 Whose stump remains when it is felled.”
 [A holy race is the stump of it.]

THE CHALLENGE OF FAITH, 7:1-9

- 7 Now in the days of Ahaz, the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, Rezin, the king of Syria, and Pekah, the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it, though they
 2 were not able to conquer it. And when the House of David was told, “The Syrians lie encamped on Ephraimite territory,” his heart and the heart of his people shook as the trees of the forest shake before the wind.
 3 Then said the LORD to Isaiah,
 “Go out now to meet Ahaz, you and your son ‘A Remnant will return,’ at the end of the aqueduct from the upper pool, on the high-
 4 way to the fuller’s field; and say to him, ‘Take care, and keep calm! Do not be afraid nor downhearted because of these two tails of smoking firebrands, the fierce anger of Rezin (with Syria) and the son
 5 of Remaliah. As Syria has plotted mischief against you, with Ephraim and the son of Remaliah, saying, “Let us go up against Judah, and
 6 throw it into a panic, and make a schism in it to our interest, and set
 7 up the son of Tabeel as king in the midst of it,” thus says the Lord God:
 “It shall not stand, and it shall not be!
 8 For the head of Syria is Damascus,
 And the head of Damascus is Rezin;
 [And within sixty-five years Ephraim shall be broken in pieces, so as to be no longer a people.]
 9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria,
 And the head of Samaria is the son of Remaliah.
 If you do not believe,
 Surely you shall not be established.” ’ ’ ”

THE SIGN OF "GOD IS WITH US," 7:10-25

- 10 Once more the LORD spoke to Ahaz, saying,
11 "Ask a sign of the LORD your God; make it deep as Sheol, or high as the heavens!"
12 And Ahaz said,
"I will not put the LORD to the test by asking such a thing."
13 And he said,
"Hear now, O House of David! Is it too slight a thing for you to 14 weary men, that you must weary my God also? Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign: Behold! a young woman is with child, and is about to bear a son; and she will call him 'God is with us.'
15 Curds and honey will be his food when he knows how to refuse the 16 bad and choose the good. For before the child knows how to refuse the bad and choose the good, the land before whose two kings you
17 stand in dread will be forsaken. The LORD will bring upon you, and upon your people, and upon your father's house, such days as have not come since the day that Ephraim parted from Judah, even the king of Assyria."
- 18 On that day will the LORD whistle for the fly
That is beyond the streams of Egypt,
And for the bee that is in the land of Assyria;
19 And they will come and settle, all of them,
In the precipitous ravines, and in the clefts of the crags,
And on all the thorn bushes, and on all the pasture grounds.
- 20 On that day will the Lord shave off,
With a razor hired from beyond the River,
Even the king of Assyria,
The hair of the head and the body—
The beard also will he sweep away.
- 21 And on that day will a man keep alive
A single cow and a couple of sheep;
22 And because of the abundant supply of milk
He will have curds for his food;
For curds and honey will be the food of everyone
Who is left in the midst of the land.
- 23 And on that day will every place
Where there grew a thousand vines,

- At a thousand silver shekels,
 Run to briers and thorns—
 24 With arrows and bow will one go there,
 For all the land will be briers and thorns.
- 25 And as for all the hills that were hoed with the hoe,
 You will not be able to go there for fear of briers and thorns;
 But they will be left as a place where oxen may be sent,
 And where sheep may trample.

THE SIGN OF "SPEEDING TO THE SPOIL, HASTENING TO THE PREY," 8:1-10

- 8 Then said the LORD to me,
 "Take a great tablet, and write upon it in easily legible characters, 2 'Speeding to the spoil, Hastening to the prey.' And get me reliable witnesses to attest the writing, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah, the son of Jeberechiah."
 3 And I went in to the prophetess, and she conceived, and bore a son. And the LORD said to me, 4 "Call him 'Speeding to the spoil, Hastening to the prey'; for before the child knows how to cry, 'My father!' and 'My mother!' the wealth of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be carried away before the king of Assyria."
- 5 Once more the LORD spoke to me, saying,
 6 "Because this people have spurned
 The waters of Shiloah, that flow gently,
 And melt in fear before Rezin and the son of Remaliah,
 7 Behold! the Lord is bringing up against them
 The waters of the River, mighty and many,
 Even the king of Assyria and all his glory;
 And it shall rise over all its channels,
 And shall pass over all its banks,
 8 And shall sweep on through Judah, in an overwhelming flood,
 And shall reach as high as the neck."
 Yet his outspread wings shall fill the breadth of your land, O "God is with us!"
- 9 Take knowledge, you peoples afar;
 Give ear, all you distant parts of the earth!
 Gird yourselves, and be dumbfounded;

- Gird yourselves, and be dumbfounded!
 10 Plan a plan—it shall come to nought;
 Speak a word—it shall not stand!
 For God is with us.

THE TEACHING AND THE TESTIMONY, 8:11-22

- 11 Thus spoke the LORD to me, while he grasped me by the hand, and warned me not to walk in the way of this people:
 12 “Nought that this people call holy Shall you call holy;
 And what they fear you shall not fear,
 Nor shall you dread!
 13 But the LORD of hosts—him shall you call holy;
 He shall be your fear, and he your dread!
 14 For to both the houses of Israel shall he prove a holy place,
 A stone to strike against, and a rock to stumble upon,
 A trap and a snare to the citizens of Jerusalem;
 15 And many shall stumble thereon, and shall fall,
 Shall be broken, and snared, and taken.”

16 I will bind up my testimony, and seal my teaching in the heart of 17 my disciples. And I will wait for the LORD, who is hiding his face
 18 from the house of Israel: I will set my hope on him, while I and the children whom the LORD has given me remain as signs and symbols in Israel from the LORD of hosts, who dwells on Mount Zion.

- 19 And when men say to you, “Consult the ghosts and spirits that squeak and gibber! Should not a people consult its gods? On behalf 20 of the living should they not consult the dead?”—to the teaching and the testimony! Surely they shall repeat this watchword, without any 21 ray of hope in it. And they shall pass through the land, hard pressed and hungry, and in their hunger they shall become mad with rage, and shall curse their king and their God, and shall look up to the 22 heavens and down again to the earth, but lo! nought but distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish, and impenetrable murk.

THE PRINCE OF PEACE, 9:1-7

- 9 But there will be no more gloom to her that was in anguish. As in days gone by he brought contempt upon the land of Zebulon and the land of Naphtali, so in the time to come will he bring glory upon the land along the Sea Road, beyond Jordan—the Circle of the Nations.

- 2 The people that walked in darkness
Have seen a great light;
Those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness—
On them has light shone.
- 3 Thou hast multiplied the nation, thou hast increased its joy:
They rejoice before thee as with the joy in harvest,
As men exult when they divide the spoil.
- 4 For the yoke that was their burden,
And the bars upon their shoulder,
The rod of their master,
Thou hast broken in pieces as on the day of Midian.
- 5 For every boot worn by booted warrior in the fray,
And war cloak stained with blood,
Will be for burning—food for the fire.
- 6 For a child is born to us, a son is given to us;
And the government will be upon his shoulder;
And his name will be “Wonderful counsellor, Godlike hero,
Father forever, Prince of peace.”
- 7 Of the increase of his government, and of peace,
There will be no end,
Upon the throne of David, and over his kingdom,
To establish it, and to uphold it,
In justice and in righteousness,
From henceforth, even forever.
The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this.

THE LORD'S OUTSTRETCHED HAND, 9:8—10:4; 5:25—30

- 8 A word has the Lord sent into Jacob,
And it will light upon Israel;
9 And all the people will know it,
Ephraim and the citizens of Samaria,
Who have spoken in pride and boldness of heart, saying,
10 “Bricks have fallen, but with hewn stone will we rebuild;
Sycamores have been cut down, but with cedars will we replace
them.”
- 11 Therefore the LORD raised up their adversaries against them,
And spurred on their enemies,
12 The Syrians on the east, and the Philistines on the west,
Who devoured Israel with open mouth.

For all this his anger has not turned back,
But his hand is stretched out still.

- 13 The people turned not to him who smote them,
Nor sought the LORD of hosts;
14 Therefore the LORD cut off from Israel head and tail,
Palm-branch and reed in a single day.
15 (The elder and the man of rank is the head,
And the prophet who teaches lies is the tail.)
16 The leaders of this people were misleaders,
And those who were led by them were swallowed up;
17 Therefore the LORD will spare not their choice young men,
Nor will he have pity upon their orphans and widows;
Inasmuch as every one of them is godless and an evil-doer,
And every mouth speaks impiety.
For all this his anger has not turned back,
But his hand is stretched out still.

- 18 Because wickedness burns like a fire,
Which devours briars and thorns,
Then kindles the thickets of the forest,
And they roll up in columns of smoke—
19 Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts the land was burned black,
And the people were as food for the fire.
No man spared his brother;
20 They carved on the right hand, but were hungry still,
They devoured on the left hand, but were not satisfied;
Each one devoured his neighbor's flesh,
21 Manasseh Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasseh,
While together they fell upon Judah.
For all this his anger has not turned back,
But his hand is stretched out still.

- 10 Ah! those who decree unrighteous decrees,
And the recorders who make mischievous records,
2 To thrust aside the needy from their rights,
And to rob my poor ones of justice,
That widows may become their spoil,
And that on orphans they may prey.
3 What will you do on the day of judgment,

- In presence of the storm which will come from afar?
To whom will you flee for help,
And where will you leave your wealth?
4 They can but crouch beneath the prisoners,
And fall beneath the slain!
For all this his anger has not turned back,
But his hand is stretched out still.
- 5²⁵ Therefore the anger of the LORD was hot against his people,
And he stretched out his hand against them, and smote them,
So that the mountains quaked;
And their dead bodies were like offal in the midst of the streets.
For all this his anger has not turned back,
But his hand is stretched out still.
- 26 So he will raise a signal to a nation afar,
He will whistle for him at the end of the earth;
And lo! speedily, swiftly will he come,
27 None weary, none stumbling in his ranks—
He will neither slumber nor sleep.
No loin-girdle of his is loosed,
No sandal-thong is snapped;
28 His arrows are sharpened,
His bows are all bent;
His horses' hoofs are counted like flint,
His wheels like the whirlwind.
29 His roar is like that of a lioness,
Like young lions will he roar and growl;
He will seize the prey, and will carry it off,
With none to deliver.
- 30 He will growl over them on that day like the growling of the sea;
And if one look to the earth, lo! darkness full of distress,
The light is darkened in storm-clouds.

THE DOWNFALL OF ASSYRIA, 10:5-34

- 5 Oh! Assyria, rod of my anger,
And staff of my fury!
6 Against a godless nation I send him,
And against the people of my wrath I charge him,

- To spoil them, and to prey on them,
 And to trample them down like mire of the streets.
- 7 But not so does he think,
 And not so does he plan;
 For destruction is in his mind,
 And to cut off nations not a few.
- 8 For he says,
 "Are not my captains all of them kings?
 9 Is not Calno like Carchemish?
 Is not Hamath like Arpad?
 Is not Samaria like Damascus?"
- 10 Inasmuch as my hand has reached to the kingdoms of the idols,
 Whose carved images were more than those of Jerusalem and Samaria,
 11 Shall I not do to Jerusalem and its images,
 As I have done to Samaria and its idols?"
- 12 But when the Lord has finished all his work on Mount Zion and Jerusalem, he will punish the arrogant boasting of the king of As-13 syria, and his vainglorious pride. For he says,
 "By the strength of my hand have I done it,
 And by my wisdom, for I have understanding;
 I have removed the boundaries of peoples,
 And have plundered their treasures;
 I have brought down to the dust
 Cities and their inhabitants.
- 14 My hand has seized like a nest
 The wealth of the peoples;
 And as one gathers eggs that are left,
 All the earth have I gathered;
 And there was none that moved a wing,
 Or opened the mouth, or chirped."
- 15 Shall an axe boast over the man that hews with it,
 Or a saw lord itself over the man that plies it?
 As though a rod were to sway the man that wields it,
 Or a staff were to wield what is not wood!
- 16 Therefore the Lord, the LORD of hosts,
 Will send wasting sickness into his fat,
 And under his glory there will be kindled a kindling

- Like the kindling of fire—
- 17 The Light of Israel will become a fire,
The Holy One of Israel a flame—
- 18 And the glory of his forest and garden land
It will consume, both body and soul,
As when a sick man wastes away;
- 19 And the remnant of his forest trees will be few,
So that a child may write them down.
- 20 On that day the remnant of Israel, and the survivors of the house of Jacob, will no more lean for support on the enemy that smote them, but will lean in loyal trust on the LORD, the Holy One of
- 21 Israel. A remnant will return—the remnant of Jacob—to the Mighty
- 22 God. For though your people, O Israel, be like the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will return. Destruction is decided upon,
- 23 overwhelming in the force of righteousness. For an act of destruction, complete and decisive, is the Lord, the God of hosts, about to execute in the midst of all the earth.
- 24 Therefore thus says the Lord, the God of hosts:
“O people of mine who dwell in Zion, be not afraid of Assyria, when he smites you with the rod, and lifts up his staff against you, as
- 25 did the Egyptians! For in a very little while my fury shall cease, and
- 26 my anger shall come to an end. Then shall the LORD of hosts brandish over him a scourge like that with which he smote Midian at the Rock of Oreb; and his staff that was over the Sea shall he lift up
- 27 against him, as he did against the Egyptians. And on that day shall his burden pass from your shoulder, and his yoke be removed from your neck.”
- He has gone up from Pene Rimmon,
28 He has come to Aiath;
He has passed through Migron,
At Michmash he stores his baggage;
- 29 He has crossed the Pass,
Geba is his bivouac;
Panic-stricken is Ramah,
Gibeah of Saul has fled.
- 30 Shriek aloud, O daughter of Gallim!
Hearken, O Laishah! Answer her, O Anathoth!
- 31 Madmenah has taken to flight,

- The inhabitants of Gebim seek refuge.
 32 This very day will he halt at Nob,
 He will shake his fist at the mount of the daughter of Zion,
 The hill of Jerusalem.
- 33 But see! the Lord, the LORD of hosts,
 Is lopping his boughs with a terrible crash;
 And the lofty of stature will be hewn down,
 And the tall ones will tumble:
- 34 He will strike down the thickets of the forest with iron axe,
 And Lebanon will fall beneath the blows of a Mighty One.

THE AGE OF GOLD, 11:1-9

- 11 A shoot will spring from the stem of Jesse,
 And a sprout from his roots will bear fruit.
 2 And the spirit of the LORD will rest upon him—
 The spirit of wisdom and understanding,
 The spirit of counsel and might,
 The spirit of knowledge and the fear of the LORD—
 3 And his delight will be in the fear of the LORD.
 He will not judge by that which his eyes shall see,
 Nor decide by that which his ears shall hear;
 4 But with justice will he judge the needy,
 And with fairness decide for the poor of the land;
 He will smite the ruthless with the rod of his mouth,
 And with the breath of his lips will he slay the wicked.
 5 Righteousness will be the girdle round his loins,
 And faithfulness the girdle round his waist.
 6 Then the wolf will lodge with the lamb,
 And the leopard will lie down with the kid;
 The calf and the young lion will graze together,
 And a little child will lead them.
 7 The cow and the bear will be friends,
 Their young ones will lie down together;
 And the lion will eat straw like the ox.
 8 The suckling child will play on the hole of the asp,
 And the weaned child will put his hand on the viper's den.
 9 They will do no harm nor destruction
 On all my holy mountain;

For the land will have become full of the knowledge of the
LORD,

As the waters cover the sea.

THE TRIUMPHANT RETURN OF THE EXILES, 11:10-16

- 10 On that day the root of Jesse,
Who will be standing as a signal to the peoples—
To him will the nations resort,
And his resting-place will be glorious.
- 11 On that day will the LORD once more raise his hand to recover the remnant that remains of his people, from Assyria and from Egypt, from Pathros and from Ethiopia, from Elam and from Shinar, from Hamath and from the lands by the sea.
- 12 He will raise a signal to the nations,
And will gather the outcasts of Israel; -
And the scattered daughters of Judah will he assemble
From the four corners of the earth.
- 13 Then all jealousy against Ephraim will cease,
And those who are hostile to Judah will be cut off;
Ephraim will not be jealous of Judah,
And Judah will not be hostile to Ephraim.
- 14 But they will swoop down on the shoulder of the Philistines on the west,
Together they will plunder the sons of the east;
Edom and Moab will be brought under their power,
And the sons of Ammon will become subject to them.
- 15 Then the LORD will cut off the tongue of the Sea of Egypt,
With the glowing heat of his breath;
And he will shake his hand over the River,
And will smite it into seven brooks,
And will enable men to cross it with sandals.
- 16 So there will be a highway from Assyria,
For the remnant that remains of his people,
As there was for Israel
On the day that it went up from the land of Egypt.

SONGS OF THANKSGIVING, 12:1-6

- 12 You shall say on that day:
"I will give thanks to thee, O LORD,

For thou wast angry with me,
 But thine anger has turned back,
 And thou hast comforted me.

- 2 See! God is my salvation—
 I will trust, and will not be afraid;
 For the LORD is my strength and my song,
 And he has become my salvation.”

- 3 And you shall draw water with joy from the wells of salvation,
 4 and shall say on that day:

“Give thanks to the LORD, acclaim his name!

Make known his doings among the peoples,
 Bear record that his name is exalted!

- 5 Make melody to the LORD, for proudly has he wrought;
 Let this be known through all the earth!

- 6 Cry aloud, and sing for joy, O inhabitants of Zion!
 For great in your midst is the Holy One of Israel.”

13 A PROPHECIC UTTERANCE ON BABYLON, WHICH ISAIAH
 THE SON OF AMOZ RECEIVED, 13:1-22

- 2 On a bare hill raise a signal,
 Call aloud to them;
 Wave the hand for them to enter
 The gates of the nobles!
- 3 For I have commanded my consecrated ones,
 I have summoned my warriors, my proudly exulting ones,
 To execute my anger.

- 4 Hark! a tumult on the mountains,
 Like that of a multitude of people;
 Hark! the uproar of kingdoms,
 Of nations assembled!
 The LORD of hosts is mustering
 A battle host.

- 5 They come from a distant land,
 From the end of the heavens—
 The LORD and his weapons of wrath,
 To destroy the whole earth.

- 6 Wail! for the day of the LORD is at hand,

- As destruction from the Almighty will it come,
7 Therefore all hands will fall helpless,
And every man's heart will melt,
8 And they will be confounded;
Pangs and throes will seize them,
They will writhe like a woman in travail;
They will look aghast at each other,
Their faces aflame.
- 9 See! the day of the LORD comes,
Pitiless, with wrath and glowing anger,
To make the earth a desolation,
And to destroy its sinners from off it.
10 For the stars of the heavens will veil themselves.
And their constellations will not flash out their light;
The sun will be dark when he rises,
And the moon will not shed her light.
11 I shall punish the world for the evil thereon,
And the wicked for their guilt;
I shall still the pride of the arrogant,
And shall bring low the haughtiness of tyrants;
12 I shall make man rarer than fine gold,
Mankind more rare than gold of Ophir.
- 13 Therefore the heavens will tremble,
And the earth will shake out of its place,
Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts,
On the day of his glowing anger.
14 And then, like a hunted gazelle,
Or a flock with none to gather it,
They will turn everyone to his people,
And will flee everyone to his land.
15 All who are found will be thrust through,
And all who are caught will fall by the sword;
16 Their babes will be dashed in pieces before their eyes,
Their houses will be spoiled, and their wives will be ravished.
- 17 See! I am stirring up the Medes against them,
Who pay no regard to silver,
And take no pleasure in gold.
18 Their bows will dash the young men in pieces,

And on the fruit of the womb will they have no mercy,
Nor on children will their eye look with pity.

- 19 And Babylon, the beauty of kingdoms,
The proud glory of the Chaldeans,
Will be as when God overthrew
Sodom and Gomorrah.

- 20 She will never more be inhabited,
Nor dwelt in to all generations:
No Arab will pitch his tent there,
No shepherds will fold their flocks there;
21 But there wild cats will make their lair,
And the houses will be full of jackals;
There ostriches will dwell,
And satyrs will dance there;
22 Hyenas will howl in her palaces,
And wolves in her pleasant mansions;
And her time is nearly come,
Her days will not be prolonged.

THE RESTORATION OF ISRAEL, 14:1-2

- 14 For the LORD will have pity upon Jacob, and will once more choose
Israel, and will settle them upon their own soil; and aliens will join 2 them, and will become members of the household of Jacob. For they will take them along with them, and will bring them to their place;
and the household of Israel will give them a foothold upon the LORD's soil as menservants and maidservants, thus making captives of those who took them captives, and ruling over those who were their masters.

SATIRE AGAINST THE KING OF BABYLON, 14:3-23

- 3 On the day that the LORD gives you rest from your trouble and turmoil, and from the hard service at which you were made to serve, 4 you will take up this satire against the king of Babylon:
"How still has the tyrant become,
How still the terror!
5 The LORD has broken the staff of the wicked,
The scepter of rulers,
6 Who smote the peoples in wrath
With smiting incessant,

- And trampled the nations in anger
With trampling unchecked.
- 7 All the earth is at rest, is quiet,
They break into singing;
- 8 Even the cypresses rejoice at your fate,
The cedars of Lebanon:
'Since you were laid low, there comes up
No woodman against us.'
- 9 "Sheol beneath is thrilled
To greet your coming;
She stirs up for you the Shades,
All the rams of the earth;
She lifts from their thrones
All the kings of the nations.
- 10 All of them will answer,
And will say to you,
'So you too have become weak as we are,
Have been made like to us!'
- 11 Brought down to Sheol is your pomp,
The noise of your harps;
Beneath you maggots are spread,
Worms are your covering.
- 12 "How are you fallen from heaven,
O Lucifer, son of the dawn!
How are you hewn to the earth,
Who laid waste all the nations!
- 13 You said to yourself,
'The heavens will I scale;
Above the stars of God
Will I set up my throne;
I will sit on the Mount of Assembly,
In the recesses of the north;
- 14 I will scale the heights of the clouds,
I will match the Most High.'
- 15 But down to Sheol are you brought,
To the recesses of the Pit.
- 16 "Those who see you will gaze at you,
They will scan you closely:

- 'Is this the man who caused the earth to quiver,
 Caused kingdoms to quake;
 17 Who made the world like a desert,
 And tore down its cities;
 Who set not his prisoners free,
 To return to their homes?'
- 18 All the kings of the nations, all of them,
 Have lain down in glory, each in his house;
 19 But you are cast forth, tombless,
 Like a hateful abortion,
 Clothed with slain men gashed by the sword,
 Who go down to the stones of the Pit—
 Like a trampled corpse.
- 20 "With them will you not be united in burial;
 Because you have ruined your land,
 You have slain your people.
 And never more will be named
 The race of evil-doers;
- 21 So prepare for his sons a shambles
 Because of their fathers' guilt,
 Lest they rise and possess the earth,
 And fill the face of the world with cities!"
- 22 "I will rise up against them," is the oracle of the LORD of hosts,
 "and will cut off from Babylon race and remnant, offspring and off-23 shoot," is the oracle of the LORD. "And I will make it the possession of the bittern—marshes of water. And I will sweep it with the broom of destruction," is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.

THE PLAN OF THE LORD AGAINST ASSYRIA, 14:24-27

- 24 The LORD of hosts has sworn, saying,
 "Surely as I have planned, so shall it be;
 And as I have purposed, so shall it stand—
 25 That I will break Assyria in my land,
 And will tread him down on my mountains;
 Then his yoke shall remove from off them,
 And his burden shall remove from off their shoulder.
- 26 This is the purpose that is formed Against all the earth;

- And this is the hand that is stretched out
 Against all the nations.
 27 For the LORD of hosts has formed a purpose,
 And who can annul it?
 And his hand is that which is stretched out,
 And who can turn it back?"

THE FATE OF PHILISTIA, 14:28—32

- 28 In the year that king Ahaz died, came this prophetic utterance:
 29 "Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of you,
 Because the rod that smote you is broken!
 For out of the root of the snake shall come forth a viper,
 And its fruit shall be a flying serpent.
 30 The poor shall feed unmolested,
 And the needy shall lie down in safety;
 But your race will I kill by famine,
 And your remnant will I slay.
 31 "Wail, O gates; cry, O cities;
 Melt with fear, O Philistia, all of you!
 For out of the north comes the smoke of a war host,
 With no straggler in its ranks.
 32 What answer, then, shall one give
 To the messengers of the nation?
 'That the LORD has founded Zion,
 And in her shall his afflicted people find refuge.' "

A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE ON MOAB, 15:1—16:14

- 15 Because in a night Ar-Moab
 Has been spoiled, has been ruined;
 Because in a night Kir-Moab
 Has been spoiled, has been ruined—
 2 The daughter of Dibon has scaled
 The heights to weep;
 On Nebo, and on Medeba,
 Moab wails.
 On every head is baldness,
 Every beard is shaved;
 3 In their streets have they girt on sackcloth,
 On their roofs is lamentation;

And in their squares does every one wail,
 With tears running down.

- 4 Heshbon and Elealeh cry out,
 As far as Jahaz their voice is heard;
 Therefore the loins of Moab quiver,
 The heart of him quivers.
 5 My heart cries out for Moab,
 As his fugitives press to Zoar, to the third Eglath;
 For up the ascent of Luhith weeping they go,
 And along the way to Horonaim the cry of ruin they raise;
 6 For the waters of Nimrim are a desolation,
 The grass has withered, the herbage has failed,
 There is no green thing.

- 7 Therefore the gain they have gotten, and that which they have stored,
 Over the Brook of the Willows they carry away;
 8 For the cry of distress has gone round the border of Moab;
 The wail of it reaches Eglaim, the wail of it reaches Beer-elim;
 9 For the waters of Dimon are full of blood,
 And I shall bring yet more upon Dimon—
 A lion for the survivors of Moab,
 For the remnant of the land.

- 16 Then will the rulers of the land send tribute of lambs,
 From Selah, by way of the wilderness, to the mount of the daughter of Zion;
 2 And like fluttering birds, like scattered nestlings,
 The daughters of Moab will gather at the fords of the Arnon:
 3 "Bring counsel, give decision;
 Make your shade deep as night in the height of noon!
 Shelter the outcasts, betray not the fugitives;
 4 Let the outcasts of Moab sojourn among you;
 Be a shelter to them from the face of the spoiler!"

- When the oppressor has come to an end, the spoiler has ceased,
 The trampler down has vanished out of the land,
 5 A throne will be established by kindness,
 And on it will sit in faithfulness,
 In the tent of David,

- A judge who seeks what is right,
And is swift to do justice.
- 6 We have heard of the pride of Moab,
How very proud he is—
Of his haughtiness and pride and insolence,
How baseless are his boastings!
- 7 Therefore Moab wails to Moab,
He wails altogether;
For the raisin-cakes of Kir-heres they moan,
Utterly stricken;
- 8 For the vineyards of Heshbon languish,
And the vine of Sibmah,
The red clusters of which laid prostrate
The lords of nations.
As far as Jazer they reached,
They strayed to the desert;
Her tendrils spread forth,
They passed over the sea.
- 9 Therefore I weep with Jazer
For the vine of Sibmah;
With my tears I drench you,
O Heshbon and Elealeh!
For the battle shout has fallen
On your fruits and on your harvest.
- 10 And joy and gladness vanish
Out of the garden land;
No singing is heard in the vineyards,
No shout of joy is raised;
No grape-treader treads wine into the vats,
The vintage-shout is stilled.
- 11 Therefore my bowels for Moab
Moan like a harp,
And my heart for Kir-heres
Wails like a flute.
- 12 And even though Moab appear and weary himself with devotions on the high place, or enter into his sanctuary to pray, he will avail nothing.
- 13 This is the word that the LORD spoke concerning Moab in days gone
14 by. But now the LORD has spoken, saying,

“In three years, counting by the years of a hireling, the glory of Moab will be brought into contempt, in spite of all its teeming multitude; and the remnant will be very few and feeble.”

17 A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE ON DAMASCUS, 17:1-11

“Lo! Damascus is removed from her place among cities,
And will become a heap of ruins, deserted forever.

2 Her daughter cities will be given over to flocks,
Which will lie down in them, with none to make them afraid.

3 So the bulwark will be stripped from Ephraim,
And the sovereign power from Damascus;
And the remnant of Syria will perish—
They will be like the glory of the sons of Israel,”
Is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.

4 “On that day will the glory of Jacob wane,
And the fat of his flesh will grow lean;
5 It will be as when a reaper gathers the standing corn,
And his arm reaps the ears—
As when one gathers ears in the valley of Rephaim—
6 Or as when an olive tree is beaten, and gleanings are left on it,
Two or three berries on the uppermost branch,
Four or five on the boughs,”
Is the oracle of the LORD, the God of Israel.

7 On that day will a man look to his Maker,
And his eyes will turn to the Holy One of Israel;
8 He will look no more to the altars,

The work of his hands,
Nor turn to the sacred poles and sun-pillars,
Which his fingers have made.

9 On that day will your cities be deserted,
Like the deserted cities of the Hivvites and Amorites,
Which they deserted before the children of Israel,
And they will become a desolation.

10 Because you have forgotten the God of your salvation,
And have not been mindful of the Rock of your refuge—
Though you plant your gardens of Adonis,
And stock them with vine-slips of an alien god;
11 Though you make them grow on the day that you planted them,

And next morning bring your seedlings to blossom—
 Yet the harvest will vanish on a day of sickness,
 And incurable pain.

THE ROARING OF THE PEOPLES, 17:12-14

- 12 Ah! the roaring of many peoples,
 That roar like the roaring of seas;
 And the surging of nations, that surge
 Like the surging of mighty waters!
- 13 The nations may surge like the surging of many waters,
 But he will rebuke them, and they will flee far away,
 And will be chased like chaff of the mountains before the wind,
 Or like whirling dust before the hurricane.
- 14 At eventide, lo! terror;
 Before morning, it is gone.
 Such is the fate of those who spoil us,
 And the lot of those who prey on us.

A MESSAGE TO ETHIOPIA, 18:1-7

- 18 Ah! land of the buzzing of wings,
 Which lies beyond the rivers of Ethiopia,
 2 That sends ambassadors by sea,
 In papyrus vessels on the face of the waters!
 Go, you swift messengers,
 To a nation tall and sleek,
 To a people dreaded near and far,
 A nation strong and triumphant,
 Whose land the rivers divide!
- 3 All you inhabitants of the world, and you dwellers on earth
 When a signal is raised on the mountains, look!
 When a trumpet is blown, hark!
- 4 For thus says the LORD to me:
 "I will look on quietly in my dwelling-place,
 Like shimmering heat in sunshine,
 Like a cirrus cloud in the heat of harvest.
- 5 For before the harvest, when the blossom is over,
 And the bud becomes a ripening grape,
 The branches shall be lopped off with pruning-hooks,
 And the tendrils shall be cut away;

- 6 They shall be left altogether to the mountain birds of prey,
 And to the wild beasts of the land;
 And the birds of prey shall summer upon them,
 And all the wild beasts of the land shall winter upon them.”
- 7 At that time shall a gift of homage be brought to the LORD of hosts from a people tall and sleek—from a people dreaded near and far, a nation strong and triumphant, whose land the rivers divide—to Mount Zion, the place where is the name of the LORD of hosts.
- 19 A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE ON EGYPT, 19:1-25
- See! the LORD is riding on a swift cloud,
 And will come to Egypt;
 And the idols of Egypt will quake before him,
 And the heart of Egypt will melt within her.
- 2 “I will spur on Egypt against Egypt,
 And they shall fight, brother against brother, and neighbor against neighbor,
 City against city, and kingdom against kingdom.
- 3 And the spirit of Egypt shall be emptied out of her,
 And her counsel will I confuse;
 And they shall resort to idols and to mediums,
 To ghosts and to spirits;
- 4 And I will hand over Egypt
 To the power of a stern master;
 And a ruthless king shall rule them,”
 Is the oracle of the Lord, the LORD of hosts.
- 5 Then the waters will be drained from the sea,
 And the river will be parched and dried up;
- 6 Its channels will become foul,
 The Nile-arms of Egypt will dwindle and dry up;
 Reed and rush will wither,
- 7 All the sedge-grass on the brink of the Nile will shrivel;
 And all that is sown by the Nile
 Will be dried up and driven into nothingness.
- 8 The fishermen also will mourn and lament,
 Even all who cast hook in the Nile,
 While those who spread nets on the water will languish.
- 9 The workers in flax will be put to shame—

- The women who card and the men who weave cotton—
10 Her weavers will be crushed with grief,
All her workers for hire will be heart-broken.
- 11 Sheer fools are the princes of Zoan,
The wisest of Pharaoh's counsellors are a senseless council;
How can you say to Pharaoh,
12 "A son of wise men am I, a son of ancient kings"?
Where, now, are your wise men,
That they may tell you,
And show what the LORD of hosts
Has planned against Egypt?
- 13 Befooled are the princes of Zoan,
Deluded are the princes of Memphis;
The cornerstones of her tribes have made Egypt reel.
14 The LORD has mingled within them a spirit of dizziness;
And they have made Egypt reel in all her work,
As a drunkard reels in his vomit;
15 And Egypt will have no work
Which head or tail can accomplish,
Palm-branch or reed.
- 16 On that day will Egypt be weak as a woman, and she will tremble with dread before the hand of the LORD of hosts, which he will sway 17 over her. And the land of Judah will become a terror to Egypt:
whenever one mentions to her the name of Judah, she will be filled with dread because of the plan which the LORD of hosts has formed against her.
- 18 On that day will there be five cities in the land of Egypt speaking the language of Canaan, and swearing allegiance to the LORD of hosts
—the name of one of them being "The city of the sun."
- 19 On that day will there be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the 20 land of Egypt, and a pillar to the LORD near its border. And they will be a sign and witness to the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt, so that when men cry to the LORD because of oppressors, and beseech him 21 to send them a deliverer, he will intervene and save them. And the LORD will reveal himself to the Egyptians, and the Egyptians will acknowledge the LORD on that day, and will worship him with sacrifice and offering; they will also make vows to the LORD, and will 22 perform them. And though the LORD may smite the Egyptians, he will smite only to heal: when they turn to the LORD, he will listen to their entreaties, and will heal them.

- 23 On that day will there be a highway from Egypt to Assyria; and the Assyrians will pass along it to Egypt, and the Egyptians to Assyria; and the Egyptians will worship the LORD along with the Assyrians.
- 24 On that day will Israel be a third with Egypt and Assyria as a
- 25 blessing in the midst of the earth, which the LORD of hosts has blessed in these terms, "Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel my heritage!"

THE SIGN OF THE CAPTIVITY OF EGYPT AND ETHIOPIA, 20:1-6

- 20 In the year that the Field Marshal came to Ashdod, when he was sent by Sargon, king of Assyria, and fought against Ashdod, and took
- 2 it (now at that time the LORD had commanded Isaiah, the son of Amoz, saying, "Go and untie the sackcloth from your loins, and put off your sandals from your feet," and he had done so, going naked and
- 3 barefoot) the LORD said, "As my servant Isaiah has gone for three years naked and barefoot, as a sign and symbol against Egypt and
- 4 Ethiopia, so will the king of Assyria lead off the captives of Egypt and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, with but-
- 5 tocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt. And men will be dismayed and ashamed because of Ethiopia their hope and Egypt their pride.
- 6 And the inhabitants of this coast-land will say on that day, 'See! this is the fate of those on whom we set our hope, and to whom we fled for help to save us from the king of Assyria; how then can we escape?'"

21 A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE ON THE DESERT OF THE SEA, 21:1-10

Like whirlwinds as they sweep through the Negeb,
It comes from the desert, from a terrible land.

- 2 A stern vision has been shown to me:
The robber robs, and the spoiler spoils.
"Go up, O Elam; lay siege, O Media!
All her groaning I bring to an end."
- 3 Therefore my loins are filled with anguish;
Pangs have seized me like those of a woman in travail.
I am tortured so that I cannot hear,
I am terror-stricken so that I cannot see.
- 4 My mind reels, shuddering assails me;
The twilight I delight in has been turned for me into trembling.

5 They lay out the tables, they spread the mats;
They eat, they drink.

“Arise, O princes, anoint the shields!”

6 For thus has the LORD spoken to me:

“Go, station the watchman,
Let him tell what he sees!

7 If he see a troop, horsemen in pairs,
A troop of asses, a troop of camels,
Let him pay close heed, much close heed!”

8 Then he cried,

“Alas! on my watch-tower, O Lord,
I stand continually by day;
And at my guard-post I am stationed
Night after night.”

9 When lo! there came a troop of men,
Horsemen in pairs.

And he answered and said,
“Fallen, fallen is Babylon;
And all the images of her gods are shattered to the earth.”

10 O my threshed one, my child of the threshing-floor!
What I have heard from the LORD of hosts,
The God of Israel, I have made known to you.

11 A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE ON DUMAH, 21:11-12

Some one is calling to me from Seir:
“Watchman, what hour of the night is it?
Watchman, what hour of the night is it?”

12 The watchman says:
“Morning comes, but also night;
If you wish to know more, come again.”

13 A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE, “IN THE ARABIAN DESERT,” 21:13-17

Among the thickets in the Arabian desert must you lodge,
O caravans of Dedanites!
14 Bring water to meet the thirsty,
Welcome the fugitives with bread,
O inhabitants of the land of Tema!

- 15 For before the sword have they fled,
 Before the drawn sword;
 And before the bent bow,
 Before the stern press of battle.
- 16 For the LORD has said to me:
 "In one more year, counting by the years of a hireling, all the glory 17 of Kedar will come to an end; and the number that is left of the warlike archers of the sons of Kedar will be few." For the LORD, the God of Israel, has spoken.

22 A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE ON THE VALLEY OF VISION, 22:1-14

- What is the matter with you, now, that you have gone up,
 All of you to the housetops,
 2 You who are full of shoutings, a city tumultuous,
 A frenzied town?
 Your slain are not slain by the sword,
 Nor dead in battle.
- 3 All your leaders fled together,
 But were caught by the bowmen;
 All your strong men were caught together,
 Though they fled a far.
- 4 Therefore I say, "Look away from me,
 Bitter tears let me shed;
 Strive not to comfort me
 For the ruin of the daughter of my people!"
- 5 For a day of tumult and trampling and confusion
 Has the Lord, the GOD of hosts,
 In the Valley of Vision—a crashing of walls,
 And a cry to the mountains.
- 6 Elam took up the quiver,
 And Kir uncovered the shield;
 7 Your choicest valleys were filled with chariots,
 And horsemen set themselves in array against the gates;
 8 And the defences of Judah were laid bare.

On that day you looked to the weapons of war in the House of 9 the Forest, and paid attention to the many breaches in the City of Da-10 vid; and you collected the waters of the lower pool. You also counted the houses of Jerusalem, and broke down a number of them to fortify

- 11 the walls; and you made a reservoir between the two walls for the waters of the old pool. But you looked not to him who brought it about, nor paid attention to him who planned it long ago.
- 12 The Lord, the LORD of hosts, called on that day
For weeping and wailing, for baldness and girding with sack-cloth;
- 13 But lo! joy and gladness,
Slaying cattle and killing sheep,
Eating flesh and drinking wine—
Eating and drinking, "for tomorrow we may die."
- 14 And the LORD of hosts has revealed himself in my hearing:
"Surely this guilt shall not be expiated by you until you die!"
So says the Lord, the GOD of hosts.

SHEBNA AND ELIAKIM, 22:15-25

- 15 Thus says the Lord, the GOD of hosts:
"Come! go and say to this steward,
To Shebna, who is over the palace,
- 16 'What have you here, and whom have you here,
That you have hewn for you here a tomb,
Hewing your tomb on the height,
And carving for you a home on the rock?
- 17 See! the LORD will toss you away, O mighty man—
Gripping you fast,
And spinning you round and round—
Like a ball into a spacious land.
There shall you die,
And there shall your splendid chariots go,
You disgrace of your master's house!'
- 19 "I will thrust you from your post,
And will pull you down from your station.
20 And on that day will I call for my servant,
Eliakim, the son of Hilkiyah;
- 21 And I will invest him with your robe,
And will gird him with your sash;
And I will hand over your authority to him,
And he shall become a father to the citizens of Jerusalem
And to the house of Judah;

- 22 And I will place the key of the House of David upon his shoulder,
And he shall open and no man shut, and shall shut and no man open;
- 23 And I will fasten him like a peg in a firm place,
And he shall become a throne of honor to his father's house;
- 24 And they shall hang upon him the whole weight of his father's house,
The offshoots and the offscourings, even the meanest vessels,
Both bowls and pitchers of every kind."
- 25 "On that day," is the oracle of the LORD of hosts, "the peg that was fastened in a firm place shall give way and be hewn down, and the weight that was upon it shall be cut off." For the LORD has spoken.

23 A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE ON TYRE, 23:1-18

Wail, O ships of Tarshish!

For your stronghold has been spoiled.

(On their way from the land of Cyprus

The news was told to them.)

- 2 Perished are the people of the coast land,
The merchants of Zidon,
Who traversed the sea, whose business lay

- 3 On many waters,
Whose harvest was grain from the Nile,
Whose revenue was trade with the nations.

- 4 Lament in shame, O Zidon, mother of cities,
Stronghold of the sea, saying,

"I am as one who has not travailed nor given birth to children,
I am as one who has reared no young men nor brought up maidens."

- 5 [When the news reaches Egypt, the news of Tyre,
They will writhe in pain.]

- 6 Pass over to Tarshish, wail,
You inhabitants of the coast land!

- 7 Is this your exultant city,
Whose origin is of old,
Whose feet used to carry her
To settle afar?

- 8 Who has planned such a thing
Against Tyre the crown-giver,
Whose merchants were princes,
Whose traders were the honored of the earth?
- 9 The LORD of hosts has planned it,
To desecrate all the pride,
To dishonor all the glory
Of the honored of the earth.
- 10 Overflow your land like the Nile, O daughter of Tarshish!
There is no more a barrier.
- 11 His hand has he stretched out over the sea,
He has shaken the kingdoms;
The LORD has given a command touching Canaan,
To destroy her strongholds.
- 12 He has said, "You shall no more exult,
O ravished one, virgin daughter of Zidon!
Arise, pass over to Cyprus;
Even there shall you find no rest."
- 13 [It was, however, the Chaldeans, and not the Assyrians, who gave her over to the wild beasts. They set up their siegeworks, they razed her palaces, they made her a ruin.]
- 14 Wail, O ships of Tarshish!
For your stronghold has been spoiled.
- 15 On that day will Tyre pass into oblivion for seventy years, like the days of a certain king; but at the end of seventy years will Tyre fare like the harlot in the song:
- 16 "Take a harp, go round the city,
O harlot forgotten!
Play well, sing many a song,
That you may be remembered!"
- 17 For at the end of seventy years will the LORD visit Tyre, and she will return to her hire, and will play the harlot with all the kingdoms
- 18 of the world on the face of the earth. But her gain from her hire will then be dedicated to the LORD: it will not be stored up nor hoarded, but will be given over to those who dwell in the presence of the LORD, to supply them with abundant food and stately clothing.

A VISION OF JUDGMENT, 24:1—27:13

- 24 See! the LORD is about to plow up the earth, and lay it waste,
 Its surface he will distort, and its inhabitants he will disperse:
 2 Priest will share the fate of people, master of servant,
 Mistress of maid, seller of buyer,
 Borrower of lender, creditor of debtor.
 3 The earth will be plowed bare,
 The world will be spoiled bare,
 For the LORD has spoken this word.
 4 The earth mourns, fades,
 The world languishes, fades;
 The high heavens languish with the earth.
 5 The earth is polluted through the touch of its inhabitants,
 Because they have transgressed laws, violated ordinances,
 Broken the everlasting covenant.
 6 Therefore a curse has devoured the earth,
 And its inhabitants have paid the penalty;
 Therefore the inhabitants of the earth waste away,
 And few are the mortals that are left.
- 7 The wine mourns, the vine languishes;
 All the merry-hearted sigh.
 8 The mirth of the timbrels is still,
 The noise of the joyful has ceased,
 The mirth of the harp is still.
 9 With song will they no more drink wine;
 Strong drink will be bitter to those who drink it.
 10 Broken down is the city of chaos—
 Every house is shut up, so that no one can enter;
 11 In the streets there is outcry for wine.
 All joy has reached its eventide,
 The mirth of the world has gone;
 12 Desolation is left in the city,
 And its gates are battered to ruins.
 13 For so will it be in the midst of the earth,
 Among the peoples,
 As when an olive tree is beaten, or at the gleaning of grapes,
 When the vintage is over.

- 14 Yonder, men lift up their voice, they sing for joy,
At the majesty of the LORD they shout more loudly than the sea:
- 15 "Therefore glorify the LORD throughout the east,
Along the seacoasts praise the name of the LORD,
The God of Israel!"
- 16 From the end of the earth have we heard songs of praise:
"Glory for the righteous!"
But I said, "Ah me! I pine away, I pine away;
The robbers rob,
The robbers run riot in robbery."
- 17 Terror and pit and snare
Are upon you, O dwellers on the earth!
- 18 And he who flees from the noise of the terror
Will fall into the pit;
And he who escapes from the midst of the pit
Will be caught in the snare;
For windows on high are opened,
And the foundations of the earth tremble.
- 19 The earth breaks asunder,
The earth cracks asunder,
The earth shakes asunder;
- 20 The earth reels like a drunkard,
And sways like a hammock:
Its rebellion lies heavily upon it,
And it will fall, to rise no more.
- 21 On that day will the LORD punish
The host of the heights on high,
And the kings of the earth on the earth;
- 22 They will be gathered together like prisoners in a dungeon,
And will be imprisoned in a prison,
Until after many days they are punished.
- 23 Then will the moon turn pale with confusion,
And the sun will hide his face in shame;
For the LORD of hosts will be king on Mount Zion,
And will reveal his glory before his elders in Jerusalem.
- 25 O LORD, thou art my God,
I will exalt thee, I will give thanks to thy name;
For thou hast accomplished wonders—

- Plans formed long ago, fulfilled in perfect faithfulness.
- 2 For thou hast made of a city a heap,
Of a fortified town a ruin;
The stronghold of the proud is a city no more,
It will not be rebuilt forever.
- 3 Therefore will barbarous peoples honor thee,
The cities of ruthless nations will reverence thee;
- 4 For thou hast been a stronghold to the weak,
A stronghold to the needy in his distress,
A refuge from the storm, a shade from the heat—
When the breath of the ruthless is like a storm in winter,
5 Like heat in a dry place, heat in the shade of a cloud.
The noise of the proud thou quellest,
The song of the ruthless thou stillest.
- 6 Then the LORD of hosts will prepare,
On this mountain for all the peoples,
A feast of fat things, a feast of wine on the lees,
Of fat things full of marrow, of wine on the lees well refined.
- 7 And he will destroy on this mountain
The veil that veils all the peoples,
And the web that is woven over all the nations—
- 8 He will destroy death forever.
So the Lord GOD will wipe away tears
From every face,
And will remove from all the earth
The reproach that lies on his people;
For the LORD has spoken.
- 9 And it will be said on that day,
"Lo! this is our God,
For whom we waited that he might save us;
This is the LORD for whom we waited—
Let us rejoice and be glad in his salvation!"
- 10 For the hand of the LORD will rest on this mountain,
But Moab will be trampled down where he stands,
As straw is trampled down in the water of a dung-pit;
- 11 And though he spread out his hands in the midst of it,
As a swimmer spreads out his hands to swim,
His pride will be laid low despite all the tricks of his hands.

- 12 The high fortress of his walls will 'be brought down,
Laid low, levelled to the earth, even to the dust.
- 26 On that day will this song be sung
In the land of Judah:
"A strong city is ours; for safety he sets up
Walls and bulwarks.
2 Open the gates, that the righteous nation may enter—
Those who keep faith.
3 The steadfast mind thou keepest in perfect peace,
For it trusts in thee.
4 Trust in the LORD forever! for Jah the LORD
Is a rock everlasting.
5 For he has brought down the dwellers on high,
The lofty city.
He lays it low, lays it low to the earth,
He levels it to the dust.
6 The foot will trample it, the feet of the poor,
The steps of the needy."
- 7 The path of the upright is even,
The track of the righteous thou levellest;
8 In the path of thy judgments, O LORD, we have waited for thee—
Our heart's desire is for thy name and thy memorial.
9 I have yearned for thee in the night,
With all my heart I seek thee;
For when thy judgments come down to the earth,
The inhabitants of the world learn righteousness.
10 Though favor be shown to the wicked,
Yet will he not learn righteousness;
Even in the land of uprightness will he deal wrongfully,
And will not see the majesty of the LORD.
- 11 O LORD, thy hand is uplifted, but they see it not;
Now let them see to their shame thy zeal for thy people—
Let fire consume thine enemies!
- 12 O LORD, establish peace for us;
Since all our works thou hast wrought for us.
- 13 O LORD our God, other lords than thee have been our lords;
But thy name alone will we celebrate.

- 14 Dead men do not live, the Shades do not rise—
So hast thou visited them with destruction,
And wiped out all remembrance of them—
- 15 But the nation hast thou increased, O LORD,
The nation hast thou increased, and hast shown forth thy glory;
Thou hast enlarged all the bounds of the land.
- 16 In distress, O LORD, we sought thee;
We cried out because of oppression, when thy chastening was on us.
- 17 Like a woman with child, as she draws near to give birth,
As she writhes and cries out in her pangs,
So were we in thy presence, O LORD:
- 18 We were with child, we writhed in pain,
But we gave birth only to wind;
No deliverance we wrought for the land,
No inhabitants of the world came to birth through us.
- 19 But thy dead will live, their bodies will rise,
Those who dwell in the dust will awake, and will sing for joy;
For thy dew is a dew of light,
And the earth will bring the Shades to birth.
- 20 Go, my people, enter your chambers,
And shut your doors behind you;
Hide yourselves for a little moment,
Till the time of wrath go by.
- 22 For see! the LORD is coming out of his place,
To punish the inhabitants of the world for their guilt;
And the earth will uncover her blood,
And will no more conceal her slain.
- 27 On that day will the LORD punish,
With his sword which is hard and great and strong,
Leviathan the fleeing serpent, Leviathan the coiled serpent;
And he will slay the dragon that is in the sea.
- 2 On that day will it be said:
"A vineyard of delight—sing you of it!
- 3 I the LORD am its keeper,
Every moment I water it;
Lest anyone harm it,
I guard it night and day.

- 4 Wrath have I none;
But should I find briars and thorns,
In war would I march against them,
I would burn them altogether;
- 5 Or else let them cast themselves on my protection,
And make peace with me, make peace with me!"
- 6 On that day will Jacob take root,
Israel will blossom and bud;
And they will fill the face of the earth with fruit.
- 7 Has he smitten them as he smote those who smote them;
Or have they been slain like those who slew them?
- 8 By expulsion and exile did he proceed against them;
By his rough blast he swept them away on the day of the east wind.
- 9 Therefore on this condition may the guilt of Jacob be expiated—
This is all the return he expects for taking away their sin—
That they make all their altar stones like pounded chalkstones,
That their sacred poles and sun pillars raise their heads no more.
- 10 For the fortified city is desolate,
A homestead forlorn and forsaken like the steppe;
There browses the calf,
There he lies down, and crops its branches;
- 11 And when its boughs are withered, they are broken off,
And women come, and make a fire of them.
For this is a people without understanding;
Therefore their Maker will show them no pity,
Their Creator will show them no favor.
- 12 On that day will the LORD thresh out the ears of corn,
From the River Euphrates to the Brook of Egypt;
And you will be picked up one by one,
O children of Israel!
- 13 On that day will a blast be blown on a great trumpet;
And those who were lost in the land of Assyria,
And those who were outcasts in the land of Egypt,
Will come and worship the LORD
On the holy mountain in Jerusalem.

THE FATE OF SAMARIA, 28:1-6

- 28 Ah! the proud crown of the drunkards of Ephraim,
 And the fading flower of his glorious beauty,
 That rests on the head of a fertile valley.
- 2 See! the LORD has a mighty and strong one,
 Like a storm of hail, or destroying tempest,
 Like a storm of mighty, overwhelming waters,
 That beats down to the earth with violence.
- 3 And the proud crown of the drunkards of Ephraim
 Will be trampled under foot;
- 4 And the fading flower of his glorious beauty,
 That rests on the head of a fertile valley,
 Will be like the early fig before summer,
 Which, as soon as a man sees it,
 While it is yet in his hand, he swallows.
- 5 On that day will the LORD of hosts be a beautiful crown
 And a glorious diadem to the remnant of his people—
- 6 A spirit of justice to those who preside over justice,
 And of might to those who turn back the tide of battle to the gate.

A WARNING TO JUDAH, 28:7-22

- 7 But these also reel with wine,
 And stagger with strong drink;
 Priests and prophets reel with strong drink,
 They are dazed with wine;
 They stagger with strong drink, they reel amid their visions,
 They stumble while giving judgment;
- 8 For all tables are full of filthy vomit,
 No place is clean.
- 9 "To whom would he impart knowledge,
 To whom explain the message?
 Babes just weaned from the milk,
 Just drawn from the breasts?"
- 10 For it is rule by rule, rule by rule,
 Line by line, line by line,
 A little here, a little there!"

- 11 Yes, through barbaric lips,
 And an alien tongue,
 Will he speak to this people,
 12 Who said to them,
 "This is the rest you shall give to the weary,
 And this the refreshment"—
 But they would not listen.
- 13 So the word of the LORD will be to them
 Rule by rule, rule by rule,
 Line by line, line by line,
 A little here, a little there—
 That they may go on their way, and stumble backward,
 And be broken, and snared, and taken.
- 14 Therefore hear the word of the LORD,
 You scoffing men,
 You satirists among this people
 Who are in Jerusalem!
- 15 Because you say,
 "We have struck a covenant with Death,
 And have formed a compact with Sheol;
 So, when the overwhelming scourge passes,
 It will not reach us;
 For lies have we made our refuge,
 And under falsehood have we hidden"—
- 16 Therefore thus says the Lord God,
 "Behold! I am laying in Zion a stone,
 A well-tested stone,
 A precious stone, as the cornerstone of a sure foundation:
 He who believes shall not be worried.
- 17 And I will make justice the measuring-line,
 And righteousness the plummet."
- Then hail will sweep away the refuge of lies,
 And water will overwhelm the hiding-place;
 18 Your covenant with Death will be annulled,
 And your compact with Sheol will not stand.
 When the overwhelming scourge passes,
 You shall be battered down by it:
- 19 As often as it passes, it will bear you away—
 For morning by morning will it pass,

Both day and night;
 And sheer terror will it be
 To understand the message.

- 20 For the bed is too short to stretch oneself in,
 And the covering is too narrow to wrap oneself in.
 21 For the LORD will rise up as on Mount Perazim,
 He will blaze out in wrath as in the valley of Gibeon,
 To do his deed—strange is his deed!—
 And to work his work—alien is his work!
 22 Now, therefore, scoff no more,
 Lest your bands be made firm;
 For a sentence of doom, complete and decisive,
 Have I heard from the Lord, the LORD of hosts,
 Against all the land.

PLOWING AND THRESHING, 28:23—29

- 23 Give ear, and hear my voice;
 Attend, and hear my speech!
 24 Does the plowman keep plowing all the time,
 Is he forever opening and harrowing his ground?
 25 Does he not, after leveling its surface,
 Scatter dill, and sow cummin,
 And put in wheat and barley,
 With spelt as their border?
 26 For his God instructs and teaches him aright.
 27 Dill is not threshed with a threshing-sledge,
 Nor is the wagon-wheel turned on cummin;
 But dill is beaten with a staff,
 And cummin with a flail.
 28 Is wheat crushed?
 Nay! one does not thresh it forever,
 But when he has rolled his wagon-wheel over it,
 He spreads it out, and does not crush it.
 29 This also comes from the LORD of hosts,
 Whose counsel is wonderful, whose wisdom is great.

THE FATE OF "ALTAR-HEARTH," 29:1-8

- 29 Oh! "Altar-hearth," "Altar-hearth,"
 The city against which David encamped!

- Add year to year,
 Let the cycle of festivals go round!
- 2 Then will I bring distress upon "Altar-hearth,"
 And there shall be moaning and bemoaning,
 And she shall be to me like an altar-hearth.
- 3 I will encamp against you round about,
 And will hem you in with siegeworks,
 And will set up forts against you.
- 4 Then low from the earth shall you speak,
 Deep from the dust shall your words come;
 Like the voice of a ghost from the earth shall be your voice,
 From the dust shall your words rise twittering.
- 5 But the horde of your enemies shall become like fine dust,
 The horde of the ruthless like passing chaff.
 In an instant, suddenly,
- 6 From the LORD of hosts shall you be visited
 With thunder and earthquake and mighty noise,
 With whirlwind and tempest and flame of devouring fire.
- 7 And all the horde of nations that war against "Altar-hearth,"
 With all their siegeworks and forts and storming parties,
 Shall be like a dream, a vision of the night.
- 8 As when a hungry man dreams that he is eating,
 And awakes with his craving unsatisfied—
 Or when a thirsty man dreams that he is drinking,
 And awakes faint, with his craving unquenched—
 So shall it be with all the horde of nations
 That war against Mount Zion.

SPIRITUAL BLINDNESS AND PERVERSITY, 29:9-16

- 9 Daze yourselves, and be dazed,
 Blind yourselves, and be blind,
 You who are drunk, though not with wine,
 You who reel, though not with strong drink!
- 10 For the LORD has poured upon you a spirit of deep slumber, 11 He has tightly closed your eyes, and has muffled your heads;
 so that the revelation of all these things has become to you like the words of a scroll that is sealed, which if one hand to a scholar with the 12 request, "Pray read this," he will say, "I cannot, for it is sealed"; or if the scroll be handed to one who is not a scholar, with the request, "Pray read this," he will say, "I am not a scholar."

- 13 The Lord says:
 "Because this people draw near me with their mouth,
 And honor me with their lips,
 While their thoughts are far from me,
 And their reverence for me is a commandment of men,
 That is learned by rote,
 14 Therefore, behold! I will once more deal with this people
 In a wonderful way—
 In a wonderful and wondrous way—
 And the wisdom of their wise men shall perish,
 And the intelligence of their intelligent men shall vanish."
 15 Ah! you who make your plans deep,
 To hide them from the LORD,
 You whose works are done in the dark,
 And who say,
 "Who sees us? Who knows us?"
 16 O the perversity of you!
 Is the potter of no more account than the clay?
 Shall the thing that is made say of its maker,
 "He made me not";
 Or the thing that is moulded say of its moulder,
 "He has no intelligence?"

THE REDEMPTION OF ISRAEL, 29:17-24

- 17 Assuredly in a while, a very little while,
 Lebanon shall be turned into garden land,
 And the garden land shall be counted a forest;
 18 And on that day shall the deaf hear the words of a book,
 And out of gloom and darkness shall the eyes of the blind see;
 19 And the humble shall find new joy in the LORD,
 And the poorest shall exult in the Holy One of Israel.
 20 For the tyrant shall have vanished, and the scoffer shall have ceased,
 And all who are on the outlook for evil shall have been cut off—
 21 Those who bring condemnation upon a man by a word,

Those who lay traps for the upholder of justice at the gate,
And those who thrust aside the innocent on an empty plea.

- 22 Therefore thus says the LORD,
The God of the house of Jacob,
Who redeemed Abraham:
“Jacob shall never more be put to the blush,
And never more shall his face grow pale;
23 For when his children see what my hands have done in their midst,
They shall reverence my name;
They shall reverence the Holy One of Jacob,
And shall stand in awe of the God of Israel;
24 Those who have erred in judgment shall arrive at understanding,
And those who murmured shall learn instruction.”

DENUNCIATION OF THE EGYPTIAN ALLIANCE, 30:1-5

- 30 “Ah, you rebellious children,” is the oracle of the LORD,
“Who carry out a purpose that comes not from me,
And who form an alliance that is not according to my mind—
Adding sin to sin—
2 Who set out on the way to Egypt,
Without asking my advice,
To take refuge in the protection of Pharaoh,
And to take shelter in the shadow of Egypt!
3 Therefore the protection you seek in Pharaoh shall turn to your shame,
And the shelter you seek in the shadow of Egypt to your confusion.
4 For though his princes be at Zoan,
And his messengers arrive at Hanes,
5 All shall come to shame through a people that cannot profit
them,
That bring no help nor profit,
But only shame and disgrace.”

6 A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE ON THE BEASTS
OF THE NEGEB, 30:6-7

Through a land of trouble and anguish,
Of lioness and roaring lion,

Of viper and flying serpent,
 They carry their wealth on the shoulders of young asses,
 Their treasures on the humps of camels,
 To a people that cannot profit—
 7 To Egypt, whose help is empty and vain,
 Wherefore I have called her "Rahab Sit-still."

REBELLION AND RUIN, 30:8-17

8 Go now, write it on a tablet before them,
 Inscribe it in a scroll,
 That it may serve in days to come
 As a witness forever;
 9 For this is a rebellious people,
 Faithless children,
 Children who will not hear
 The instruction of the LORD—
 10 Who say to the seers, "You shall not see!"
 And to the prophets, "You shall not prophesy to us right things!
 Speak to us smooth things; prophesy delusions!
 11 Get you out of the way; turn aside from the path!
 Trouble us no more with the Holy One of Israel!"
 12 Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel:
 "Because you have spurned this word,
 And have trusted in cunning and crookedness,
 And rely on them—
 13 Therefore this guilt shall be to you like a descending rift,
 Bulging out in a lofty wall,
 Whose crash comes suddenly, in a moment,
 14 And its crash is like that of a potter's vessel,
 Shattered beyond repair,
 So that there cannot be found among the fragments a sherd,
 To bring fire from the hearth,
 Or to draw water from the cistern."
 15 For thus said the Lord God,
 The Holy One of Israel:
 "By returning and resting shall you be saved,
 In quietness and confidence shall be your strength."

- 16 But you refused to listen, and said,
"No! upon horses will we flee,"
Therefore you shall flee!
"And upon swift steeds will we ride,"
Therefore swift shall be your pursuers!
- 17 At the challenge of one a thousand shall flee,
At the challenge of five you shall flee,
Till you are left like a flagstaff on the top of a mountain,
Like a beacon on a hill.

FORGIVENESS AND PROSPERITY, 30:18-26

- 18 Therefore the LORD waits to be gracious to you,
And therefore he will arise to have pity upon you;
For the LORD is a God of justice—
Happy are all those who wait for him!
- 19 O people in Zion, who dwell at Jerusalem,
No more will you weep;
He will be gracious to you at the sound of your crying—
As soon as he hears, he will answer you.
- 20 Even though the Lord may have given you
Bread in short measure and water in scanty allowance,
Your Teacher will no more hide himself,
But your eyes will behold your Teacher.
- 21 And when you turn to right or to left,
Your ears will hear a voice behind you, saying,
"This is the way; walk in it!"
- 22 And you will defile your carved images overlaid with silver,
And your molten images plated with gold;
You will scatter them to the winds like an unclean thing,
You will say to them, "Begone!"
- 23 Then will he give you rain for your seed,
With which you sow the soil,
And wheat as the produce of the soil,
Which will be rich and nourishing.
On that day will your cattle graze in broad pastures,
- 24 And the oxen and young asses that till the soil
Will feed on salted fodder,
Which has been winnowed with shovel and fork.
- 25 And on every lofty mountain and on every high hill

There will be streams brimming with water,
 On the day of the great slaughter,
 When the towers fall.

- 26 And the light of the moon will be as the light of the sun,
 And the light of the sun will be sevenfold,
 As the light of seven days,
 On the day when the LORD binds up the bruises of his people,
 And heals the wounds with which they were smitten.

THE GLORIOUS TRIUMPH OF THE LORD, 30:27-33

- 27 See! the LORD comes from afar,
 In blazing anger, and amid heavily rising banks of cloud,
 His lips filled with fury,
 And his tongue like devouring fire,
 28 His breath like a sweeping torrent,
 That reaches to the neck—
 To sift the nations with the sieve of destruction,
 And to place in the jaws of the peoples
 A bridle that leads them to ruin.
- 29 But for you will there be a song,
 As in the night when a sacred festival is held,
 And gladness of heart, as when one sets out with a flute,
 To go to the mount of the LORD, to the Rock of Israel.
- 30 For the LORD will cause his glorious voice to be heard,
 And the descent of his arm to be seen,
 In furious anger, and flame of devouring fire,
 Amid cloud-burst, and rain-storm, and hail.
- 31 Assyria will be stricken with terror at the voice of the LORD,
 When he smites with the rod;
 32 And every stroke of the rod of chastisement,
 Which the LORD lays upon them,
 Will be accompanied by the strains of timbrel and harp,
 As he assails them with brandished arm.
- 33 For a pyre is already laid out,
 For the king it is prepared—
 It is made both deep and wide—
 It is piled up with fire and logs in abundance;
 And the breath of the LORD, like a torrent of brimstone,
 Is setting it on fire.

THE FOLLY OF RELIANCE ON EGYPT, 31:1-3

- 31 Ah! those who go down to Egypt for help,
 And rely on horses;
 Those who trust in chariots, because they are many,
 And in horsemen, because they are very numerous;
 But look not to the Holy One of Israel,
 Nor consult the LORD!
- 2 Yet he is the wise one, and brings calamity,
 And does not recall his words.
 He will rise against the house of those who do evil,
 And against the helpers of those who work mischief.
- 3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God;
 And their horses are flesh, and not spirit.
 So, when the LORD stretches out his hand,
 The helper will stumble, and the helped one will fall—
 They will all of them perish together. -

THE SALVATION OF JERUSALEM, 31:4-5

- 4 Thus says the LORD to me:
 "As a lion or a young lion growls over his prey—
 And, though a full band of shepherds be called out against him,
 Is not dismayed at their shouting, nor pays any heed to their noise—
 So will the LORD of hosts come down
 To fight against Mount Zion, and against its hill.
- 5 Like hovering birds
 [So will the LORD of hosts protect Jerusalem,
 Protecting and delivering, sparing and saving.]"

THE DOWNFALL OF ASSYRIA, 31:6-9

- 6 Return, O children of Israel,
 To him against whom you have plunged deep in revolt!
- 7 For on that day will each one of you cast away in contempt
 The idols of silver and the idols of gold,
 Which your hands made you as a sin.
- 8 Then Assyria will fall by the sword, not of man—
 A sword, no human one, will devour him.
 He will flee before the sword,
 And his young warriors will be put to hard labor;

- 9 The rock of his strength will slip away through terror,
 And his officers will desert the standard in panic.
 This is the oracle of the LORD, whose fire is in Zion,
 And whose furnace is in Jerusalem.

THE KINGDOM OF RIGHTEOUSNESS, 32:1-8

- 32 Behold! a king will reign in righteousness,
 And princes will rule with justice;
 2 And each one of them will be like a hiding-place from the wind,
 And a shelter from the storm,
 Like streams of water in a dry place,
 Like the shade of a great rock in a wearisome land.
 3 Then the eyes of those who see will not be closed,
 And the ears of those who hear will be attentive;
 4 The mind of the hasty will have judgment to apprehend,
 And the tongue of the stammering will be quick to speak plainly.
 5 No more will the fool be called noble,
 Nor the knave be counted princely.
 6 For the fool will speak folly,
 And his mind will plot mischief,
 So as to practice ungodliness,
 And to utter falsehood regarding the LORD,
 To leave the hungry unsatisfied,
 And to hold back drink from the thirsty.
 7 The arts also of the knave are evil—
 He hatches plans
 To ruin the needy with lying words,
 Even when the poor man's plea is right.
 8 But the noble man plans noble things,
 And on noble things he takes his stand.

THE THOUGHTLESS WOMEN OF JERUSALEM, 32:9-14

- 9 You thoughtless women, rise up, hear my voice;
 You complacent daughters, give ear to my words!
 10 In little more than a year you will tremble, you complacent ones;
 For the vintage will fail, the ingathering will not come.
 11 Quake with fear, you thoughtless ones; tremble, you complacent ones;
 Strip, and make yourselves bare; gird sackcloth upon your loins!

- 12 Beat upon your breasts for the pleasant fields,
For the fruitful vines;
13 For the soil of my people, that will spring up with thorns and briers,
And for all the houses of mirth in the joyous city!
14 For the palace will be forsaken, the bustling city deserted;
Rampart and watchtower will become dens forever,
A joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks.

RIGHTEOUSNESS AND PEACE, 32:15-20

- 15 Until the spirit be poured upon us from on high;
Then will the steppe become garden land,
And the garden land be counted an orchard.
16 And justice will dwell in the steppe,
And righteousness abide in the garden land;
17 And the effect of righteousness will be peace,
And the product of justice quietness and confidence forever.
18 My people will dwell in peaceful homes,
In secure abodes, and in quiet resting-places,
19 Even when the forest comes down with a crash,
And the city is laid in ruins.
20 Happy are you who sow beside all waters,
And let out freely the ox and the ass!

DISTRESS AND DELIVERANCE, 33:1-24

- 33 Ah! spoiler, though you have not been spoiled;
And robber, though none has robbed you!
When you have made an end of spoiling, you will be spoiled;
And when you are weary of robbing, you will be robbed.
- 2 O LORD, be gracious to us!
We have waited for thee.
Be our arm of strength every morning,
Our salvation in time of distress!
- 3 At the sound of tumult the peoples flee,
When thou liftest thyself up the nations are scattered;
4 And thy people will gather the spoil as the locust gathers,
They will swarm upon it as grasshoppers swarm.

- 5 The LORD is exalted, for he dwells on high;
Zion he has filled with justice and righteousness—
- 6 Her fortune therefore will be secure—
With wealth of salvation, wisdom and knowledge,
With reverence for the LORD, which is her treasure.
- 7 Lo! the heroes of "Altar-hearth" cry without,
The ambassadors of peace weep bitterly;
- 8 The highways lie waste, the travellers have ceased,
For the covenant has been broken, its witnesses have been mocked at;
No regard has been paid to man.
- 9 The earth languishes in mourning,
Lebanon withers in shame;
Sharon has become like the wilderness,
Bashan and Carmel are leafless.
- 10 "Now will I arise," says the LORD;
"Now will I mount on high, now will I lift myself up!
- 11 You are pregnant with chaff, you shall bring forth stubble;
Your breath is a fire that shall devour you.
- 12 And the peoples shall be like brands that are burned to a cinder, Like thorns cut down, that are kindled with fire."
- 13 Hear what I have done, you who are afar;
And acknowledge my might, you who are near at hand!
- 14 The sinners in Zion are filled with dread,
Trembling has seized the godless:
"Who among us shall dwell with devouring fire,
Who among us shall dwell with eternal flames?"
- 15 He who walks uprightly, and speaks sincerely,
Who scorns the gain that is won by oppression,
Who keeps his hand free from the touch of a bribe,
Who stops his ears against hearing of bloodshed,
And closes his eyes against looking on evil—
- 16 He will dwell on the heights,
His stronghold will be rocky fastnesses;
His bread will be given to him, his water will be sure.
- 17 Your eyes will behold the King in his beauty,
They will see a land that stretches afar.

- 18 You will muse on the terror that is past:
"Where is he who counted, where is he who weighed,
Where is he who marked down the towers?"
- 19 You will see no more the savage people,
The people of obscure speech, which you cannot grasp,
Of barbaric tongue, which you cannot understand.
- 20 You will behold Zion, the city of our festal assemblies;
Your eyes will see Jerusalem,
A quiet home, an immovable tent,
Whose pegs will never be plucked up,
And none of whose cords will be snapped.
- 21 For there, in place of broad rivers and streams,
We shall have the River of the LORD,
On which no ship with oars will go,
No stately bark will pass.
- 22 For the LORD is our judge, the LORD our commander;
The LORD is our king, he will save us.
- 23 [Your tacklings hang loose: they cannot hold the mast in its socket, nor keep the sail spread out.]
Then will the blind share spoil in abundance,
And the lame will seize rich prey;
- 24 None who dwells there will say, "I am sick,"
For all her citizens will have had their sins forgiven.

THE DAY OF VENGEANCE, 34:1-17

- 34 You nations, draw near to listen;
You peoples, attend!
Let the earth hear, and that which fills it;
The world, and all that springs from it!
- 2 For the LORD is in anger against all the nations,
And in fury against all their host;
He has doomed them to utter destruction, he has given them up to the slaughter,
- 3 And their slain will be cast out;
The stench of their corpses will rise up,
The mountains will run with their blood,
- 4 And all the hills will flow with it.
The heavens will roll up like a scroll,
And all their host will fade,

As the foliage fades from the vine,
The falling leaf from the fig tree.

- 5 For in the heavens my sword has drunk its fill;
And see! it descends upon Edom,
For judgment upon the people whom I have doomed.
- 6 The sword of the LORD is glutted with blood,
It is gorged with fat,
With the blood of lambs and he-goats,
With the fat of the kidneys of rams.
For the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah,
A great slaughter in the land of Edom;
- 7 And wild oxen will fall down with fatlings,
And bullocks with steers;
And their land will be glutted with blood,
And their dust will be gorged with fat.
- 8 For the LORD has a day of vengeance,
A year of requital for the feud against Zion;
9 And the rivers of Edom will be turned into pitch,
And her dust into brimstone;
Her land will become burning pitch,
10 That will not be quenched night nor day,
But whose smoke will rise forever:
It will lie waste from generation to generation,
None will pass through it forever and ever.
- 11 The pelican and the bittern will take possession of it,
The owl and the raven will make their home in it;
And the LORD will stretch over it
The measuring-line of chaos and the plummet of emptiness;
12 And satyrs will dwell there,
While her nobles will be no more:
No kingdom will be proclaimed there—
All her princes will be gone.
- 13 Thorns will spring up in her palaces,
Nettles and thistles in her fortresses;
She will become a haunt of jackals,
An inclosure for ostriches;
- 14 Wild cats will join hyenas,

- And satyrs will meet one another;
There will the night hag repose,
And will find her a place of rest.
15 There will the screech owl nestle and lay,
Brood and hatch her eggs;
There will the vultures gather,
None without her mate.
16 Search and read it out of the book of the LORD—
None of these will be missing;
For the mouth of the LORD has commanded,
And his spirit has gathered them.
17 He has cast the lot for them,
His hand has portioned it out to them by line;
That they may possess it forever,
And may dwell in it generation after generation.

THE JOY OF THE REDEEMED, 35:1-10

- 35 The wilderness and the parched land shall be glad,
And the desert shall rejoice and blossom;
2 Like the crocus shall it blossom abundantly;
It shall rejoice with joy and singing.
The glory of Lebanon shall be given to it,
The splendor of Carmel and Sharon;
They shall see the glory of the LORD,
The splendor of our God.
3 Strengthen the feeble hands,
And the tottering knees make firm;
4 Say to those whose hearts beat wildly,
"Courage, fear not!
See! your God—with vengeance will he come,
With the recompense of God will he come to save you."
5 Then shall the eyes of the blind be opened,
And the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped;
6 Then shall the lame man leap like a hart,
And the tongue of the dumb shall sing.
For waters shall break out in the wilderness,
And streams in the desert;
7 The glowing sand shall become a pool,
And the thirsty ground springs of water;

In the haunt of jackals your flocks shall lie down,
And the inclosure of ostriches shall be filled with reeds and rushes.

- 8 And a highway shall be there,
Which shall be called the Holy Way;
No unclean one shall pass over it—
But it shall be for his people as they go along the way—
And no fools shall wander there.
- 9 No lion shall be there,
No ravenous beast shall go up it—
They shall not be found there.
But the redeemed shall walk in it,
- 10 The ransomed of the LORD shall return by it;
They shall come to Zion with singing,
And with everlasting joy upon their heads;
They shall attain to joy and gladness,
And sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

THE INVASION OF SENNACHERIB, 36:1—37:38

- 36 Now in the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah's reign, Sennacherib, king of Assyria, went up against all the fortified cities of 2 Judah, and took them. And the king of Assyria sent his Commander from Lachish to Jerusalem, against King Hezekiah, with a strong army. And he took up his position near the conduit from the upper 3 pool, on the highway to the fuller's field. Then Eliakim, the son of Hilkiah, who was steward of the palace, and Shebna, the secretary, 4 and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder, went out to meet him. And the Commander said to them,

"Say now to Hezekiah, 'Thus says the great king, the king of 5 Assyria: "What sort of confidence is this which you cherish? Do you suppose that a mere word of the lips can pass for warlike counsel and strength? Now in whom do you trust, that you have rebelled against 6 me? You trust, forsooth, in the support of this broken reed, Egypt, on which if a man lean, it will run into his hand, and pierce it—for 7 such is Pharaoh, king of Egypt, to all who trust in him! Or if you say to me, 'We trust in the LORD our God;' is not he the one whose sanctuaries and altars Hezekiah has removed, saying to the people of 8 Judah and Jerusalem, 'Before this altar shall you worship'? And now, pray, make a wager with my lord, the king of Assyria: I will supply you with two thousand horses, if you are able to supply them 9 with riders! How then will you repel the attack of one of the least of my lord's officers? Yet you trust in Egypt for chariots and horse-10 men! Or is it without the sanction of the LORD that I have come up against this land to destroy it? The LORD himself said to me, 'Go up against this land and destroy it!' " " "

11 Then Eliakim, Shebna and Joah said to the Commander,
"Pray speak to your servants in Aramaic—for we understand it—and do not speak to us in Hebrew in the hearing of the people on the wall."

12 But the Commander said,
"Was it to your lord, and to you, that my lord sent me to speak these words? Was it not to the men who are sitting on the wall, doomed with you to eat their own filth and to drink their own water?"

13 Then the Commander came forward, and called aloud in Hebrew, saying,

14 "Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria! Thus says the king: 'Do not let Hezekiah delude you—for he will not be 15 able to save you—nor let Hezekiah persuade you to put your trust in the LORD, saying, "The LORD will certainly save us: this city will not 16 be given over to the king of Assyria!" Do not listen to Hezekiah; for thus says the king of Assyria: "Make terms with me, and surrender to me; then you may eat every one of his own vine and fig tree, and 17 drink every one the water of his own cistern, until I come and take you away to a land like your own, a land of corn and wine, a land of 18 wheat-fields and vineyards. Beware lest Hezekiah deceive you, saying, 'The LORD will save us!' Has the god of any of the nations 19 saved his land from the hand of the king of Assyria? Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim?
Where are the gods of the land of Samaria? Did they save Samaria 20 from my hand? Which of all the gods of these lands was able to save his land from my hand, that the LORD should save Jerusalem from my hand?' " " " "

21 But they kept silent, and answered him not a word; for the king's command was, "You shall not answer him!"

22 Then Eliakim, the son of Hilkiyah, who was steward of the palace, and Shebna, the secretary, and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and reported to him the 37 words of the Commander. And when King Hezekiah heard the report, he rent his clothes, wrapped himself in sackcloth, and went to

2 the house of the LORD. He likewise sent Eliakim, the steward of the palace, and Shebna, the secretary, with the elders of the priests, all
3 wrapped in sackcloth, to the prophet Isaiah, the son of Amoz, with this message,

“Thus says Hezekiah: ‘This is a day of distress and sore discipline and dishonor; for children have come to the birth, and there is no
4 strength to bear them. But perhaps the LORD your God will hear the words of the Commander, whom his lord the king of Assyria has sent to insult the living God, and will punish him for the words which the LORD your God has heard. Therefore lift up a prayer on behalf of the remnant that is left!’ ”

5 And when the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah, he said to them,

“Say to your lord, ‘Thus says the LORD: “Do not be afraid of the words you have heard, those blasphemous words which the menials of 7 the king of Assyria have spoken against me. Behold! I am putting a spirit of panic into him, so that when he hears a certain rumor he shall return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.” ’ ”

8 Then the Commander returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah; for he had heard that he had moved his
9 camp from Lachish. And the king of Assyria heard news of Tirhakah, king of Ethiopia, “He has come out to fight with you.” And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 “Speak to Hezekiah, king of Judah, saying, ‘Do not let your God in whom you trust delude you, saying, “Jerusalem will not be given
11 over to the king of Assyria!” You have surely heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all the lands—how they have utterly destroyed them—and will you escape? Did the gods of the nations which my fathers destroyed, Gozan and Haran and Rezeph and the 12 Edenites in Telassar, save them? Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and of Ivvah?’ ”

14 And when Hezekiah had received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and had read it, he went up to the house of the LORD;
15 and Hezekiah spread the letter before the LORD, and prayed to the LORD, saying,

16 “O LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, who sittest enthroned upon the cherubs, thou alone art God over all the kingdoms of the earth; 17 thou madest the heavens and earth. Bend thine ear, O LORD, and hear; open thine eyes, O LORD, and see; give heed to all the words 18 of Sennacherib, which he has sent to insult the living God! Of a truth, O LORD, the kings of Assyria have utterly destroyed all the 19 nations and their lands, and have cast their gods into the fire—because they were no gods, but only the work of men's hands, made of wood 20 and stone—and so they have destroyed them. But now, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou, O LORD, art God alone!"

21 Then Isaiah, the son of Amoz, sent to Hezekiah, saying,

"Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Because you have prayed 22 to me concerning Sennacherib, king of Assyria, this is the word which the LORD has spoken against him:

"The virgin daughter of Zion

Scorns you and mocks you;

The daughter of Jerusalem

Shakes her head at you.

23 Whom have you insulted and blasphemed?

And against whom have you raised your voice,

And lifted your eyes on high?

The Holy One of Israel!

24 By the mouth of your servants you have insulted the Lord,

And have said, 'With the multitude of my chariots

I have scaled the height of the mountains,

The recesses of Lebanon;

I have cut down its tallest cedars,

Its choicest cypresses;

I have pierced to its farthest retreat,

Its densest thicket;

25 I have dug and drunk

Foreign waters;

With the sole of my foot have I dried up

All the streams of Egypt!

26 Have you not heard how I planned this

Long ago,

How I prepared it in days gone by,

And now have brought it about—

That you should be able to lay fortified cities

Into ruinous heaps,

- 27 While their inhabitants, shorn of their strength,
 Are dismayed and confounded,
 Are become like grass of the field,
 Like tender green grass,
 Like grass on the housetops,
 Blasted before it is grown up.
- 28 I know your rising and sitting,
 Your going and coming, and your raging against me.
- 29 Because you have raged against me
 And your rioting has come up to my ears,
 I will put my hook in your nose,
 And my bridle in your lips,
 And will turn you back by the way
 By which you came.”
- 30 “ ‘And this is the sign to you: This year you shall eat what grows of itself, and next year what springs from it; but in the third year you 31 shall sow and reap, plant vineyards and eat the fruit of them. And the remnant that survives of the house of Judah shall once more 32 strike root downward and bear fruit upward; for a remnant shall escape from Jerusalem, and a body of survivors from Mount Zion.
 The zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.’ ”
- 33 “Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria:
 ‘He shall not come to this city,
 Nor shoot an arrow there;
 He shall not bring a shield before it,
 Nor cast up a mound against it.
- 34 By the way that he came,
 By the same shall he return;
 And to this city shall he not come,’
 Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 35 ‘For I will shield and save this city,
 For my own sake, and for my servant David’s sake.’ ”
- 36 Then the angel of the LORD went forth, and slew in the camp of the Assyrians one hundred and eighty-five thousand; and when men rose early in the morning, lo! they were all dead bodies.
- 37 So Sennacherib, king of Assyria, broke up his camp, and returned 38 home, and dwelt at Nineveh. And one day, as he was worshipping in the temple of Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sarezer, his sons, smote him with the sword, and made good their escape to the land of Ararat. And Esarhaddon, his son, reigned in his place.

HEZEKIAH'S SICKNESS AND RECOVERY, 38:1-9

38 In those days Hezekiah was seized with a mortal sickness. And the prophet Isaiah, the son of Amoz, came and said to him,

"Thus says the LORD: 'Set your affairs in order; for you shall die, and not recover.'"

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the 3 LORD, saying,

"Ah, LORD! remember, I pray thee, how I have walked before thee with loyalty and sincerity of heart, and have done that which was pleasing in thy sight."

And Hezekiah wept aloud.

4 Then the word of the LORD came to Isaiah, saying,

5 "Go and say to Hezekiah, 'Thus says the LORD, the God of David your father: "I have heard your prayer, I have seen your tears; be-
6 hold! I will add fifteen more years to your life. And I will save you and this city from the hand of the king of Assyria, and will throw my shield over this city."'"

21 And Isaiah said,

"Let them take a cake of figs, and rub it over the boil, so that he may recover."

22 And Hezekiah said,

"What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?"

7 And he said,

"This is the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do this 8 thing which he has promised: Behold! I will turn back the shadow cast by the sun on the step-dial of Ahaz the ten steps which it has gone down."

So the shadow of the sun turned back the ten steps which it had gone down.

9 A PSALM OF HEZEKIAH KING OF JUDAH, 38:9-20

(Composed after he had been sick, and had recovered from his sickness.)

10 I said, "I must go hence

In the noontide of my days,

And be consigned to the gates of Sheol

For the rest of my years."

- 11 I said, "I shall no more see the LORD
 In the land of the living;
 I shall no more look upon man
 Among the inhabitants of the world."
- 12 My dwelling is plucked up and stripped from me
 Like a shepherd's tent;
 Like a weaver has he rolled up my life,
 He cuts me from the loom.
 Day and night am I given over to suffering,
 Till morning I cry out in pain—
 Like a lion he breaks all my bones—
 Day and night am I given over to suffering,
- 14 Like a swift or a crane I twitter,
 Like a dove I moan.
 My eyes look languishing upward:
 O LORD, pay heed to me, become surety for me!
- 15 But what can I speak or say to him,
 Since he has done it?
 I must go softly all my years
 Because of my bitterness of heart.
- 16 O LORD, by these things men live,
 And through all of them is the life of my spirit sustained;
 Therefore do thou restore me, and bring me to life again!
- 17 Lo! it was for my welfare that I had great bitterness;
 And thou hast held me back from the pit of destruction,
 For thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.
- 18 Sheol cannot thank thee, death cannot praise thee;
 Those who go down to the Pit cannot hope for thy love.
- 19 The living, the living man thanks thee, as I do this day;
 The father to the children makes known thy faithfulness.
- 20 Be pleased, O LORD, to save me!
 And we will play on stringed instruments all the days of our life,
 Before the house of the LORD.¹

ON THE EMBASSY FROM MERODACH-BALADAN, 39:1-8

- 39 At that time Merodach-baladan, the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent ambassadors with a present to Hezekiah; for he had heard that he had been sick and had recovered. And Hezekiah was pleased with them, and showed them his treasure-house, the silver, the gold, the spices, the fine oil, and all his armoury—all that was found among his treasures: there was nothing in his palace or in all his kingdom that Hezekiah did not show them.

¹ Vss. 21 f. will be found following v. 6 on p. 1200.

3 Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezekiah, and said to him, "What did these men say, and whence have they come to you?"

4 And Hezekiah said,
"They have come to me from a distant land—from Babylon."
And he said,
"What have they seen in your house?"

And Hezekiah said,
"They have seen all that is in my house: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them."

5 And Isaiah said to Hezekiah,

6 "Hear the word of the LORD of hosts: 'Behold! days are coming when all that is in your house, and the treasures which your fathers have stored up till this day, shall be carried away to Babylon: there shall be nothing left,' says the LORD. 'And some of your sons who shall spring from you, the sons whom you shall beget, shall be taken and made eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.'"

8 And Hezekiah said to Isaiah,
"Good is the word of the LORD, which you have spoken."
For he thought,
"At least there will be peace and security in my time."

VOICES FROM THE HEAVENS, 40:1-11

40 "Comfort, O comfort my people,"
Says your God;

2 "Speak to the heart of Jerusalem,
And call to her—
That her time of service is ended,
That her guilt is paid in full,
That she has received of the LORD's hand
Double for all her sins."

3 Hark! one calls:
"In the wilderness clear you the way of the LORD,
Make straight in the desert a highway for our God.
4 Let every valley be raised up,
And every mountain and hill brought low;

Let the uneven ground become a plain,
 And the rugged heights a valley.
 5 Then shall the glory of the LORD be revealed,
 And all flesh shall see it together;
 For the mouth of the LORD has spoken."

6 Hark! one says, "Call!"
 And I said, "What shall I call?"
 "All flesh is grass,
 And all its beauty is like the flower of the field.
 7 The grass withers, the flower fades,
 When the breath of the LORD blows upon it—
 Truly the people is grass—
 8 The grass withers, the flower fades,
 But the word of our God shall stand forever."

9 On a high mountain get you up,
 O heralds of good news to Zion!
 Lift up your voice with strength,
 O heralds of good news to Jerusalem!
 Lift it up, fear not;
 Say to the cities of Judah,
 "Behold your God!"
 10 See! the Lord GOD is coming with might,
 His own arm having won him the kingdom;
 See! his reward is with him,
 And his recompense before him.
 11 Like a shepherd he tends his flock,
 With his arm he gathers them;
 The lambs he carries in his bosom,
 And gently leads those who give suck.

THE GREATNESS AND GOODNESS OF THE LORD, 40:12-31

12 Who has measured the waters in the hollow of his hand,
 And ruled off the heavens with a span?
 Who has held the dust of the earth in a peck,
 And weighed the mountains with a balance,
 And the hills in scales?
 13 Who has directed the mind of the LORD,
 And instructed him as his counsellor?

- 14 With whom took he counsel for his enlightenment,
And who taught him the right path?
Who taught him true knowledge,
And showed him the way of intelligence?
- 15 Lo! the nations are like a drop from a bucket,
Like fine dust in the scales are they counted.
Lo! the coast-lands weigh no more than a grain;
16 And Lebanon is not enough as fuel for sacrifice,
Nor are its beasts enough for burnt-offering.
- 17 All the nations are as nothing before him,
Blank ciphers he counts them.
- 18 To whom, then, would you liken God,
Or what likeness would you place over against him?
- 19 An idol! the smelter casts it,
And the goldsmith overlays it with gold,
And fastens it with silver links.
- 416 Each one helps his fellow,
And says to his comrade, "Have courage!"
- 7 The smelter cheers on the goldsmith,
He that smooths with the hammer him that strikes with the mallet,
Saying of the rivetting, "It is good!"
As he fastens it with nails so that it cannot move.
- 4020 He who would provide himself with an image of wood
Chooses a tree that will not rot,
Then seeks out a skilful workman
To set up an image that cannot move.
- 21 Do you not know? do you not hear?
Has it not been told you from the beginning?
Have you not understood since the foundation of the earth?
- 22 It is he who sits enthroned above the circle of the earth,
So high that its inhabitants are like grasshoppers;
Who stretches out the heavens like a curtain,
And spreads them like a tent to dwell in;
- 23 Who brings princes to nothing,
And makes the rulers of the earth like a cipher—
- 24 Hardly have they been planted, hardly have they been sown,
Hardly has their stock taken root in the earth,

- When he blows upon them, and they wither,
 And the whirlwind carries them away like stubble.
- 25 "To whom, then, would you liken me,
 That I should be equal," says the Holy One.
- 26 Lift up your eyes on high,
 And see! who created these,
 Leading out their host by-number,
 And calling them all by name—
 Through the greatness of his might,
 And the strength of his power,
 Not one is missing?
- 27 Why should you say, O Jacob,
 And speak, O Israel:
 "My way is hidden from the LORD,
 And my rights are passed over by my God?"
- 28 Have you not known? have you not heard?
 The LORD is a God everlasting,
 The Creator of the ends of the earth.
 He does not faint, nor grow weary;
 His insight is unfathomable.
- 29 He gives power to the fainting,
 And to him that has no might he increases strength.
- 30 Though the young men faint and grow weary,
 Though the choice young men fall prostrate,
 31 They that wait on the LORD shall renew their strength,
 They shall put forth wings like eagles,
 They shall run and not be weary,
 They shall walk and not faint.

AN APPEAL TO THE NATIONS, 41:1-4

- 41 Listen to me in silence, you coast-lands,
 And let the nations await my argument;
 Then let them approach, then let them speak,
 And together let us draw near for judgment!
- 2 Who has roused one from the east,
 Whom victory meets at every step—
 Giving up nations before him,
 And bringing down kings?
 His sword makes them like dust,

- Like driven stubble his bow;
 3 He pursues them, and passes on safely,
 By paths his feet have not trodden.
 4 Who has wrought and done this?
 He who called the generations of men from the beginning—
 I, the LORD, who am the first,
 And am also with the last.

THE APPEAL TO ISRAEL, 41:5, 8-20

- 5 The coast-lands saw it, and were afraid;
 The ends of the earth trembled,
 They drew near, and came.¹
 8 But you, Israel my servant,
 Jacob, whom I have chosen,
 The offspring of Abraham my friend,
 9 Whom I fetched from the ends of the earth,
 And called from its corners—
 To whom I said, "You are my servant;
 I have chosen you, and have not spurned you"—
 10 Fear not, for I am with you;
 Be not dismayed, for I am your God!
 I will strengthen you, I will help you,
 I will uphold you with my victorious right hand.
 11 Behold! they shall all be ashamed and confounded
 Who are inflamed against you;
 They shall perish like a thing of nought
 Who strive against you;
 12 You shall seek but shall not find those
 Who contend against you;
 They shall become like an empty cipher,
 Who war against you.
 13 For I, the LORD your God,
 Have hold of your right hand,
 I who say to you, "Fear not!
 I am your helper."
 14 "Fear not, O worm Jacob,
 O insect Israel!
 I am your helper," is the oracle of the LORD,

¹ Vs. 6-7 will be found after 40:19 on p. 1204.

- Do good, or do evil,
 That, when we see it, we may all be dismayed.
 24 But lo! you are nought,
 And your work is a blank;
 An abomination is he who chooses you."
- 25 I have roused one from the north, and he comes—
 From the east he calls on my name;
 He shall tread down rulers like mortar,
 As the potter tramples clay.
- 26 But who foretold it from the first, that we might know,
 And beforehand, that we might say, "Right"?
 There was none that foretold, none that announced,
 None that heard words from you.
- 27 I first told it to Zion,
 And sent heralds of good news to Jerusalem;
- 28 But of these there was no one, of these no counsellor,
 That, when I asked them, could answer a word.
- 29 Lo! they are all of them nought, their deeds a blank,
 Their molten images wind and waste.

THE MISSION OF THE SERVANT OF THE LORD, 42:1-4

- 42 See! my servant, whom I uphold;
 My chosen one, in whom I delight.
 I have put my spirit upon him,
 He shall bring forth right to the nations.
- 2 He shall not cry, nor shout,
 Nor make his voice heard in the streets;
- 3 A bending reed shall he not break,
 And a flickering wick shall he not quench—
 Faithfully shall he bring forth right.
- 4 He shall not flicker nor bend,
 Till he establish right in the earth,
 And the coast-lands wait for his teaching.

THE LIGHT OF THE NATIONS, 42:5-9

- 5 Thus says the LORD, the God,
 Who created the heavens, and stretched them out,
 Who made the earth and its fruits,
 Who gives breath to the people upon it,

- And spirit to those who walk in it:
 6 "I the LORD have called you of set purpose,
 And have grasped you by the hand;
 I have kept you, and have made you a pledge to the people,
 A light to the nations—
 7 In opening blind eyes,
 In bringing prisoners out of the dungeon,
 Those who sit in darkness out of the prison.
 8 I am the LORD, that is my name;
 And my glory will I not give to another,
 Nor my praise to carved images.
 9 The former things, lo! they have come,
 And new things I foretell—
 Before they spring into being,
 I announce them to you."

A NEW SONG, 42:10-13

- 10 Sing to the LORD a new song,
 His praise from the end of the earth;
 Let the sea roar, and that which fills it,
 The seacoasts, and those who dwell in them!
 11 Let the desert rejoice, and her cities,
 The villages that Kedar inhabits;
 Let the crag-dwellers sing for joy,
 Let them shout from the top of the mountains;
 12 Let them give glory to the LORD,
 And tell forth his praise through the coast lands!
 13 For the LORD will go forth like a warrior,
 He will stir up his rage like a soldier;
 He will shout, he will send forth the battle cry,
 He will show himself a hero against his enemies.

THE INTERVENTION OF THE LORD, 42:14-17

- 14 I have long been silent,
 I have kept still, and have restrained myself;
 Now will I cry like a woman in travail,
 I will gasp and pant together.
 15 I will lay waste mountains and hills,
 And will dry up all their herbage;
 I will turn the rivers into deserts,

And will dry up the pools.

- 16 And I will lead the blind by a way that they know not,
By paths that they know not will I guide them;
I will make the darkness light before them,
And the rugged places a plain.
These are the things I will do,
And will not leave undone;
17 But they shall be turned backward, in utter shame,
Who trust in idols,
Who say to molten images,
"You are our gods."

THE BLINDNESS OF THE SERVANT, 42:18-25

- 18 Hear, you deaf ones,
And look, you blind ones, that you may see!
19 Who is blind but my servant,
And deaf like my messenger whom I send?
Who is as blind as my devoted one,
And as deaf as the servant of the LORD?
20 Many things have you seen, but you observe not;
With ears open, you hear not.
21 The LORD was pleased, in loyalty to his purpose,
To make his instruction great and glorious;
22 But this is a people preyed upon and spoiled,
All of them snared in holes,
And hidden away in prisons—
They have become a prey, with none to deliver,
A spoil, with none to say, "Restore!"
23 And who among you pays heed to this,
Attends and hears for the time to come?
24 Who gave up Jacob to spoilers,
Israel to plunderers?
Was it not the LORD, against whom they sinned,
And in whose ways they would not walk,
And to whose instruction they did not listen?
25 So he poured upon them the glow of his anger,
And the fierceness of war,
Which wrapped them round in flames, although they understood it not,
And burned them, although they laid it not to heart.

REDEMPTION AND RESTORATION, 43:1-21

- 43 But now thus says the LORD,
 Who created you, O Jacob, and formed you, O Israel:
 "Fear not, for I have redeemed you,
 I have called you by your name—you are mine!
 2 When you pass through the waters, I will be with you,
 And through the rivers, they shall not overwhelm you;
 When you walk through the fire, you shall not be scorched,
 Nor shall the flame burn you:
 3 For I the LORD am your God,
 I the Holy One of Israel am your savior.
 Egypt I give as your ransom,
 Ethiopia and Seba in exchange for you;
 4 Because you are precious in my sight,
 Honored and loved by me,
 Lands I give in exchange for you,
 And peoples instead of you.
 5 Fear not, for I am with you;
 From the east will I bring your offspring,
 And from the west will I gather you.
 6 I will say to the north, 'Give up!'
 And to the south, 'Hold not back!
 Bring my sons from afar,
 And my daughters from the end of the earth—
 7 Every one who is called by my name,
 Whom I have created and formed
 And made for my glory.' "
- 8 Bring forth the people that are blind, yet have eyes,
 And are deaf, yet have ears!
 9 All the nations are gathered together,
 And the peoples are assembled;
 Yet who among them could foretell this,
 Could announce it to us beforehand?
 Let them bring their witnesses, to prove them in the right,
 To hear their plea, and say, "It is true."
 10 "You are my witnesses," is the oracle of the LORD,
 "My servants, whom I have chosen—
 That they may know and believe me,
 And understand that I am he.

- Before me was no God formed,
And after me there shall be none:
- 11 I, I, am the LORD,
And apart from me there is no savior.
- 12 I foretold, and I saved,
I announced—I, and no alien god among you;
And you are my witnesses," is the oracle of the LORD.
"I am God from of old,
13 And from now onward the same.
There is none that can deliver out of my hand;
When I work, who can reverse it?"
- 14 Thus says the LORD,
Your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel:
"For your sake will I send to Babylon,
And will break down all its bars;
The Chaldeans will I destroy,
And will turn their joyful songs into dirges:
15 For I the LORD am your Holy One,
I the Creator of Israel am your King."
- 16 Thus says the LORD,
Who made a way through the sea,
A path through mighty waters;
17 Who led forth chariot and horse,
Army and warrior together—
And they lay down, and could not rise up,
They were extinguished and quenched like a wick:
- 18 "Remember not former things,
Nor pay heed to things long past.
19 Behold! I am doing a new thing,
Even now it is springing to light—
Do you not perceive it?
A way will I make in the wilderness,
And rivers in the desert;
- 20 The beasts of the field shall honor me,
The jackals and the ostriches,
Because I provide waters in the wilderness,
And rivers in the desert,
To give drink to my chosen people,

21 The people whom I formed for myself,
That they might recount my praise.”

GRACE AND GLORY, 43:22—44:8

22 You have not called upon me, O Jacob,
Nor have you wearied yourself with me, O Israel;
23 You have brought me no sheep for your burnt-offerings,
Nor have you honored me with your sacrifices.
Though I burdened you not with offerings,
Nor wearied you with frankincense,
24 You have bought me no sweet cane with your money,
Nor have you sated me with the fat of your sacrifices,
But you have burdened me with your sins,
You have wearied me with your iniquities.
25 I, I, am he who for my own sake blots out your transgressions,
And will remember your sins no more:
26 Recall your case to me, and let us argue it out together;
Recount your plea to me, that you may be proved in the right!
27 Your first father sinned,
And your prophets rebelled against me;
28 Your princes also profaned my sanctuary,
Therefore I gave up Jacob to utter destruction,
And Israel to revilings.

44 Yet now hear, O Jacob my servant,
Israel, whom I have chosen!
2 Thus says the LORD, your Maker,
Who formed you from the womb, and will help you:
“Fear not, O Jacob my servant,
Jeshurun, whom I have chosen!
3 For I will pour water on the thirsty land,
And streams on the dry ground;
I will pour my spirit upon your children,
And my blessing upon your offspring;
4 And they shall grow up like grass in a swamp,
Like willows by running streams.
5 One shall say, ‘I am the LORD’s,’
And another shall call himself by the name of Jacob;
Another shall inscribe on his hand, ‘The LORD’s,’
And shall surname himself by the name of Israel.”

- 6 Thus says the LORD, the King of Israel,
His Redeemer, the LORD of hosts:
"I am the first, and I the last—
Apart from me there is no God.
7 Who is like me? let him proclaim it,
Let him declare it, and lay out his case before me!
Who has announced from of old the things to come?
Let them tell them the things that are still to be!
8 Fear not, nor be disquieted!
Did I not of old announce and foretell it to you?
And you are my witnesses,
To prove whether there be a God or Rock apart from me—
I know not any."

THE FOLLY OF IDOLATRY, 44:9-20

- 9 The makers of idols are all of them a mockery, their beloved images are good for nothing, and their devotees are without sight or 10 sense—that they may be put to shame! Whoever, then, fashions a god
11 or casts an image that is good for nothing, all his associates will be put to shame; for workmen are but human beings. Let all of them assemble and take their stand, they will be put to terror and shame together.
- 12 The workman in iron works it over the coals, and forges it with hammers, working it with his strong arm. Then he becomes hungry, and loses his strength; he drinks no water, and grows faint.
- 13 The workman in wood draws a measuring-line over it, shapes it with a pencil, works it with planes, shapes it with compasses, and makes it into the likeness of a man, with a beauty like that of the human form—to sit in a house!
- 14 A man cuts him down a cedar, or takes a plane or an oak, or lays hold of some other tree of the forest, which the LORD planted and the 15 rain has nourished for man to use as fuel. He takes part of it and warms himself, he kindles a fire and bakes bread; then he makes a god and worships it, he molds an image and prostrates himself before it.
16 Half of it he burns in the fire, and on its embers he roasts flesh; he eats the roast till he is satisfied; he also warms himself, and says, "Ha!
17 ha! I am warm, I feel the glow." And the rest of it he makes into a god—his idol!—prostrates himself before it, worships it, and prays to it, saying, "Save me, for thou art my god!"
- 18 They have no knowledge and no intelligence; for their eyes are

- besmeared so that they cannot see, and their minds are dulled so that 19 they cannot understand. No one has sense or knowledge or intelligence to say, "Half of it have I burned in the fire, and on its embers have I baked bread, and am roasting flesh and eating it; and the rest of it shall I make into an abomination, and prostrate myself before a block of wood?"
- 20 Truly, the man who feeds on ashes has been led astray by a deluded mind, so that he cannot save himself, nor confess, "Am not I holding to a delusion?"

JOY OVER ISRAEL'S REDEMPTION, 44:21-23

- 21 Remember these things, O Jacob,
 Israel, for you are my servant!
 I formed you, my servant you are,
 O Israel, who will not be forgotten by me.
- 22 I have blotted out your transgressions like a mist,
 Your sins like a cloud;
 Return to me, for I have redeemed you.
- 23 Sing, O heavens, for the LORD has done it,
 Shout, O depths of the earth;
 Break into singing, O mountains,
 O forest, and every tree in it!
 For the LORD has redeemed Jacob,
 And is revealing his glory in Israel.

THE CALL OF CYRUS 44:24—45:13

- 24 Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer,
 Who formed you from the womb:
 "I, the LORD, the maker of all,
 Who stretched out the heavens alone,
 Who laid out the earth—who was with me?"
- 25 Who frustrates the omens of soothsayers,
 And makes diviners like madmen;
 Who turns wise men backward,
 And makes their knowledge folly;
- 26 But confirms the word of his servants,
 And fulfils the predictions of his messengers—
 I am he who says of Jerusalem, 'She shall be inhabited,'
 And of the cities of Judah, 'They shall be built,

Let her cause deliverance also to spring up—
I the LORD have created it.

- 9 “Woe to him who strives with his Maker—
A pot with the Potter!
Does the clay ask its potter, ‘What are you making?’
Or a man’s work say to him, ‘You have no hands!’?
10 Woe to him who asks a father, ‘What are you begetting?’
Or a woman, ‘With what are you in labor?’ ”

- 11 Thus says the LORD,
The Holy One of Israel, who formed it:
“Will you question me concerning my children,
Or give me orders regarding the work of my hands?
12 I made the earth,
And created man upon it;
My hands stretched out the heavens,
And all their host I marshalled;
13 I have roused one up in victory,
And all his ways will I level;
He shall build my city,
And shall set my exiles free,
Not for price nor reward,”
Says the LORD of hosts.

THE SALVATION OF THE WORLD, 45:14-24

- 14 Thus says the LORD:
“The laborers of Egypt, and the merchants of Ethiopia,
And the stalwart men of Seba,
Shall pass over to your service,
And shall walk behind you in fetters;
They shall pass over, and shall bow down to you,
And shall pray to you,
“With you alone is God, and there is no other—
No God besides;
15 Truly with you God hides himself,
The God of Israel is a savior.’
16 Ashamed and confounded are all who have risen up against him,
The makers of idols are driven to confusion;
17 But Israel is saved by the LORD
With an everlasting salvation;

You shall not be ashamed nor confounded
Forever and ever."

- 18 For thus says the LORD who created the heavens—
He is the true God—
Who formed the earth and made it—
He established it—
He created it not a chaos,
He formed it for a dwelling-place:
"I am the LORD,
And there is no other.
- 19 I spoke not in secret,
In a land of darkness;
I said not to Jacob's offspring,
'Seek me in chaos!'
I the LORD speak what is right,
Tell what is true.
- 20 Assemble and come, draw near together,
You survivors of the nations!
No knowledge have those who carry about
Their carved images of wood,
And offer their prayers to a god
That cannot save.
- 21 Let them take counsel together, then let them show us,
And bring forward proof of it!
Who announced this of old,
Foretold it long ago?
Was it not I the LORD—
No other God than I—
A victorious and a saving God—
None apart from me?
- 22 Turn to me, and be saved,
All ends of the earth!
- 23 For I am God, and there is no other—
By myself have I sworn—
Truth has gone out of my mouth,
A word that shall not return,
That to me every knee shall bow,
Every tongue shall swear,

- 24 Saying, 'Only in the LORD
 Is victory and strength.'
 To him shall come in confusion
 All who were inflamed against him;
 But in the LORD shall all the offspring of Israel
 Triumph and glory."

THE DOWNFALL OF THE GODS OF BABYLON, 46:1-13

- 46 Bel crouches, Nebo cowers;
 Their idols are consigned to beasts,
 They are laid as a load upon weary cattle.
 2 They cower, they crouch together;
 They cannot rescue the load,
 But themselves go into captivity.
 3 Listen to me, O household of Jacob,
 All the remnant of Israel's house,
 Whom I have carried as a load from birth,
 Whom I have borne as a burden from the womb—
 4 And to old age I am still the same,
 Till you are gray-headed will I carry you;
 I have borne, and I will bear,
 I will carry, and I will save:
 5 "To whom will you liken me, to whom make me equal,
 With whom will you compare me, that we should be like one another?
 6 Those who pour gold from a bag,
 And weigh out silver in a balance—
 They hire a goldsmith to make a god of it,
 Prostrate themselves before it, and worship it;
 7 They bear it upon their shoulder,
 Carry it, and set it down upon its feet,
 Where it stands without moving from its place—
 Though one cry to it, it will not answer,
 Nor save him from his distress.
 8 Think of this, and ponder over it,
 Lay it well to heart, you rebels!
 9 Remember the former things of old,
 And know that I am God—and there is no other—
 The true God—and none like me—

- 10 Who tells the end from the beginning,
And from days of old that which is still undone;
Who says, 'My purpose shall stand,
And all my pleasure will I do';
- 11 Who calls from the east an agent of mine,
From a distant land the man of my purpose.
I have spoken, and I will bring it about;
I have purposed, and I will do it."
- 12 Listen to me, you downhearted ones,
Who count yourselves far from deliverance:
- 13 "My deliverance have I brought near, it lies not far off,
And my salvation shall not lag;
I will put salvation in Zion,
For Israel my glory."

THE DOWNFALL OF BABYLON, 47:1-15

- 47 "Come down, and sit in the dust,
O virgin daughter of Babylon;
Sit throneless on the earth,
O daughter of the Chaldeans!
For no more shall you be called
Tender and delicate.
- 2 Take millstones, and grind meal;
Remove your veil,
Strip off the skirt, lay bare the leg,
Pass through rivers;
- 3 Let your nakedness be laid bare,
Your shame be seen!
For vengeance inexorable will I take,"
Says our Redeemer,
Whose name is the LORD of hosts,
The Holy One of Israel.
- 5 "Get into darkness, and sit silent,
O daughter of the Chaldeans!
For no more shall you be called
The mistress of kingdoms.
- 6 I was angry with my people,
I profaned my heritage;

- I gave them into your hand,
 You showed them no pity;
 On the aged you made your yoke
 To press very heavily.
- 7 And you said, 'I shall remain forever,
 Mistress for all time';
 But you laid not these things to heart,
 Nor thought what their end would be.
- 8 "Now hear this, O voluptuous one,
 You who sit complacently,
 And say to yourself,
 'I am, and there is none but me;
 I shall not sit as a widow,
 Nor know loss of children!'
- 9 'These two things shall come to you in an instant,
 In a single day;
 Loss of children and widowhood, in their full measure,
 Shall come upon you—
 In spite of your many spells,
 And your numerous enchantments—
- 10 Though you have trusted in your skill,
 And have said, 'None sees me.'
- "Your wisdom and your skill
 Have led you astray,
 So that you said to yourself,
 'I am, and there is none but me.'
- 11 Therefore disaster shall come upon you,
 Which you shall not know how to charm
 away;
 And destruction shall fall upon you,
 Which you shall not be able to appease;
 And ruin shall swoop upon you,
 Which you shall not know how to avert.
- 12 Stand, then, by your enchantments,
 And your many spells,
 With which you have wearied yourself from your youth;
 Perhaps you may yet avail,
 Perhaps you may strike terror!

- 13 "You have wearied yourself with your many counsellors,
 Now let them stand and save you—
 Those who map out the heavens,
 And gaze at the stars,
 And tell you month by month
 What fortune will come to you.
- 14 Lo! they have become like stubble,
 The fire burns them;
 They cannot save themselves
 From the power of the flame;
 For it is no glowing coal to warm oneself at,
 No fire to sit before.
- 15 Such is the fate of those with whom you have wearied yourself,
 With whom you have trafficked from your youth—
 They stagger each his own way,
 With none to save them."

PROPHECIES OLD AND NEW, 48:1-16

- 48 Hear this, O house of Jacob,
 Who are called by the name of Israel,
 And are sprung from the loins of Judah;
 Who swear by the name of the LORD,
 And invoke the God of Israel,
 But not in truth nor sincerity;
- 2 'Though they call themselves after the holy city,
 And lean on the God of Israel,
 Whose name is the LORD of hosts:
- 3 "The former things I foretold of old,
 They went out of my mouth, and I announced them,
 Then suddenly I did them, and they came—
- 4 Because I knew that you were obstinate,
 That your neck was an iron band,
 And your forehead bronze,
- 5 I foretold them to you of old,
 I announced them to you before they came,
 Lest you should say, 'My idol did them,
 My carved image and my molten image commanded them';
- 6 You heard this, and now that it is all fulfilled.
 Will you not bear witness to it?—

- So from this time forth I announce to you new things,
 Hidden things, which you have not known;
 7 Only now have they been created, and not of old,
 Before this day you have not heard of them,
 Lest you should say, 'Lo! I knew them';
 8 You have neither heard nor known of them,
 Nor till now has your ear been opened to them;
 For I knew how treacherous you were,
 How you had been known as a rebel from your birth.
 9 For my name's sake have I been patient with you,
 For my honor's sake have I bridled my anger against you,
 So as not to cut you off;
 10 Lo! I refined you, but not like silver,
 I tested you in the furnace of suffering.
 11 For my own sake, my own sake, I do this—
 For how should my name be profaned!—
 And my glory I yield to no other.
 12 Listen to me, O Jacob,
 Israel, my called one!
 I, I, am the first,
 I also am the last:
 13 My hand laid the foundations of the earth,
 My right hand spread out the heavens—
 When I call to them, they stand up together.
 14 Assemble, all of you, and listen!
 Who among you foretold this,
 That the LORD would bring one to perform his pleasure
 On Babylon and the race of the Chaldeans?
 15 I myself spoke, and called him;
 I brought him, and made his way prosperous.
 16 Draw near to me, listen to this!
 From the first I spoke not in secret,
 From the time that it happened I was there;
 And now I the Lord GOD have sent him,
 Endowed with my spirit."

THE FRUITS OF OBEDIENCE, 48:17-19

- 17 Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer,
 The Holy One of Israel:
 "I the LORD am your God,

Who teaches you for your profit,
 And who leads you in the way by which you should go.
 18 If only you had hearkened to my commandments,
 Then would your welfare have been like a river,
 And your prosperity like the waves of the sea;
 19 Your race would have been like the sand,
 Your offspring like the dust of the earth;
 And your name would not be cut off,
 Nor destroyed from before me."

THE SUMMONS TO DEPART FROM BABYLON, 48:20-22

20 Go out from Babylon, flee from the Chaldeans!
 With voice of singing tell, announce this—
 Send forth the news to the end of the earth!
 Say, "The LORD has redeemed his servant Jacob."
 21 They thirsted not when he led them through deserts;
 Water from the rock he caused to flow for them:
 He cleft the rock, and water gushed out.
 22 "There is no peace," says the LORD, "for the wicked."

THE DESTINY OF THE SERVANT, 49:1-6

49 Listen, you coast lands, to me;
 Hearken, you peoples afar!
 The LORD called me from birth,
 From my mother's womb he gave me my name.
 2 He made my mouth like a sharp sword,
 In the shadow of his hand he hid me;
 He made me a polished arrow,
 In his quiver he concealed me.
 3 He said to me, "You are my servant,
 Israel, through whom I will show forth my glory."
 4 But I said, "In vain have I labored,
 Idly and for nought have I spent my strength;
 Nevertheless, my right is with the LORD,
 And my reward with my God."
 5 And now the LORD,
 Who formed me from the womb to be his servant,
 Says that he will bring back Jacob to himself,
 And that Israel shall be gathered to him—
 For I am honored in the eyes of the LORD,

And my God has become my strength—

- 6 He says, "It is too slight a thing for your being my servant
That I should but raise up the tribes of Jacob,
And restore the survivors of Israel;
So I will make you a light of the nations,
That my salvation may reach to the end of the earth."

THE RESTORATION OF ISRAEL, 49:7-13

- 7 Thus says the LORD,
The Redeemer and the Holy One of Israel,
To him who is despised by men, abhorred by people—

The slave of rulers:

"Kings shall see, and rise up,
Princes, and they shall bow down,
Because of the LORD, who is faithful,
The Holy One of Israel, who has chosen you."

- 8 Thus says the LORD:

"In a time of favor have I answered you,
On a day of salvation have I helped you;
I have kept you, and have made you

A pledge to the people—

In restoring the land,

Allotting the desolate heritages,

- 9 Saying to the prisoners, 'Go forth!'
And to those in darkness, 'Show yourselves!'
On all roads shall they feed,
And on all bare heights shall be their pasture;
10 They shall not hunger nor thirst,
And no hot wind nor sun shall smite them;
For their merciful Friend shall lead them,
And shall guide them by fountains of water.
11 I will make all mountains a road,
And highways shall be raised for them.
12 Behold! these shall come from afar,
And these from the north and the west,
And these from the land of Syene."

- 13 Sing, O heavens, and exult, O earth;
Break into singing, O mountains!

For the LORD has comforted his people,
And has had pity upon his afflicted ones.

THE CONSOLATION OF ZION, 49:14—50:3

- 14 But Zion says, "The LORD has forsaken me,
The Lord has forgotten me!"
- 15 "Can a woman forget her sucking child,
So as not to have pity upon the son of her womb?
Even should these forget,
I will not forget you.
- 16 See! I have carved you upon the palms of my hands;
Your walls are continually before me.
- 17 Already your builders make haste,
While those who destroyed you and laid you waste go out of you.
- 18 Lift up your eyes round about, and see!
All of them gather, they come to you.
As I live," is the oracle of the LORD,
"All of them shall you put on as an ornament,
And shall gird about you like a bride.
- 19 For your waste and desolate places shall be restored,
And your land that was ravaged shall be filled with inhabitants;
So now shall you be too narrow for your inhabitants,
Though those who swallowed you up be far away.
- 20 The children that were born to you in your time of bereavement Shall yet say in your ears,
'The place is too narrow for us;
Make room for us to dwell in!'
- 21 And you shall say to yourself,
'Who can have borne me these?
I am bereaved and barren, exiled and banished,
So these—who can have reared them?
See! I have been left alone,
So these—whence can they have come?'"
- 22 Thus says the Lord God:
"Behold! I will lift up my hand to the nations,
And to the peoples will I raise my signal;
And they shall bring your sons in their bosom,
And your daughters shall be carried on their shoulders.
- 23 And kings shall be your foster fathers,

And their queens your nursing-mothers;
 With their faces to the earth shall they bow down to you,
 And shall lick the dust of your feet;
 And you shall know that I am the LORD,
 In whom none that trust shall be put to shame."

- 24 Can prey be taken from a warrior,
 Or a tyrant's captives be rescued?
 25 But thus says the LORD:
 "Even should a warrior's captives be taken,
 And a tyrant's prey be rescued,
 Your opponents will I oppose,
 And your children will I save.
 26 I will cause your oppressors to eat their own flesh,
 And they shall be drunk with their own blood as with sweet wine;
 Then all flesh shall know that I the LORD am your savior,
 And that I the Mighty One of Jacob am your redeemer."

- 50 Thus says the LORD:
 "Where is your mother's writ of divorce,
 With which I put her away?
 Or who is the creditor of mine,
 To whom I sold you?
 Lo! it was for your sins that you were sold,
 And for her transgressions that your mother was put away.
 2 Why, then, was there no man, when I came, to greet me—
 None, when I called, to answer?
 Is my hand too short to redeem,
 Or have I no strength to save?
 Lo! by my rebuke I dry up the sea,
 I turn rivers into a desert;
 Their fish are in distress for want of water,
 And die of thirst.
 3 I clothe the heavens in mourning,
 And sackcloth I make their covering."

THE DISCIPLINE OF THE SERVANT, 50:4-9

- 4 The Lord God has given me
 A disciples' tongue,

- That I may know how to succor
 The weary with a word.
 Each morning he wakens, he wakens my ear
 To hear as disciples do—
- 5 The Lord GOD has opened my ear—
 And I have not been rebellious,
 I have not turned backward.
- 6 I gave my back to the smiters,
 And my cheeks to the pluckers of hair;
 My face I hid not
 From shame and spitting.
- 7 But the Lord GOD helps me,
 Therefore I have not been confounded;
 I have set my face like a flint,
 And I know that I shall not be ashamed.
- 8 Near is my Vindicator; who will take issue with me?
 Let us stand up together!
 Who will challenge my rights?
 Let him draw near to me!
- 9 Behold! the Lord GOD helps me;
 Who will put me in the wrong?
 Behold! they will all wear out like a garment,
 The moth will devour them.

THE FAITHFUL AND THE TREACHEROUS; 50:10-11

- 10 "Whoever among you fears the LORD,
 And listens to the voice of his servant—
 Though he walk in darkness,
 Without a gleam of light,
 Let him trust in the name of the LORD,
 And rely on his God!
- 11 But all you who kindle a fire,
 And set brands aflame,
 Begone to the flame of your fire,
 And the brands you have kindled!
 This is your fate at my hand—
 To lie down in the place of torment."

THE NEARNESS OF DELIVERANCE, 51:1—52:12

- 51 "Listen to me, you who press after deliverance,
 You who seek the LORD!
Look to the rock from which you were hewn,
And the quarry from which you were dug—
2 Look to Abraham your father,
And to Sarah who bore you!
For when he was but one man, I called him,
I blessed him, and multiplied him.
3 Even so shall the LORD comfort Zion,
He shall comfort all her ruins;
He shall make her wilderness like Eden,
Her desert like the garden of the LORD;
Joy and gladness shall be found in her,
 Thanksgiving and melody.
- 4 "Hearken to me, O peoples,
O nations, give ear to me!
For instruction shall go forth from me,
And my truth as a light to the peoples.
5 My deliverance shall draw near in a moment,
My salvation is on its way;
My arms shall rule the peoples,
The coast-lands shall wait for me,
And on my arm shall they put their trust.
- 6 "Lift up your eyes to the heavens,
And look on the earth beneath!
For the heavens shall vanish like smoke,
And the earth shall wear out like a garment,
While its inhabitants shall die like gnats;
But my salvation shall be forever,
And my deliverance shall be unbroken.
- 7 "Listen to me, you who know what is right,
You people in whose hearts is my teaching!
Fear not the reproaches of mortal men,
Nor be dismayed at their revilings;
8 For the moth shall devour them like a garment,
And the worm shall devour them like wool;

But my deliverance shall be forever,
And my salvation to all generations.

- 9 "Awake, awake, put on strength,
O arm of the LORD!
Awake, as in days of old,
As in generations long gone!
Was it not thou that didst hew Rahab in pieces,
That didst pierce the dragon?
- 10 Was it not thou that didst dry up the sea,
The waters of the mighty deep—
That didst make the depths of the sea a way
For the redeemed to pass over?
- 11 And the ransomed of the LORD will return by it,
And will come to Zion with singing,
And with everlasting joy upon their heads;
They will attain to joy and gladness,
And sorrow and sighing will flee away.
- 12 "I, I, am your comforter;
Why should you be afraid
Of man that dies, of mortal man,
That becomes like grass?
- 13 Why should you forget the LORD your Maker,
Who stretched out the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth—
So that you live in continual dread
Of the fury of the oppressor, when he aims to destroy?
Where is the fury of the oppressor?
- 14 Soon shall the crouching captive be set at liberty;
He shall not sink down dead to the Pit,
Nor shall his bread fail.
- 15 For I the LORD am your God,
Who stirs up the sea, so that its billows roar—
The LORD of hosts is his name—
- 16 And I put my words in your mouth,
And hid you in the shadow of my hand,
When I stretched out the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth,
And said to Zion, 'You are my people.' "

- 17 Rouse you, rouse you,
 Rise up, O Jerusalem,
 Who have drunk at the hand of the LORD
 The cup of his fury,
 And have drained to the dregs
 The bowl of intoxication!
- 18 There is none to guide her
 Of all the sons she has borne,
 And there is none to take her by the hand
 Of all the sons she has reared.
- 19 These two things have befallen you—
 Who shall condole with you?—
 Wreck and ruin, famine and sword—
 Who shall comfort you?—
- 20 Your sons lie swooning at all the street corners,
 Like an antelope in a net,
 Filled with the fury of the LORD,
 With the rebuke of your God.
- 21 Hear this, then, you afflicted one,
 Who are drunk, though not with wine!
- 22 Thus says your Lord, the LORD,
 Your God, who defends the cause of his people:
 "See! I have taken from your hand
 The cup of intoxication,
 And you shall drink no more
 Of the bowl of my fury;
- 23 I will put it into the hand of those who tormented you,
 Who said to you, 'Bow down, that we may pass over!'
 And you made your back like the earth,
 Like a street for men to pass over."
- 52 Awake, awake, put on
 Your strength, O Zion;
 Put on your beautiful garments,
 O Jerusalem, the holy city!
 For no more shall there come to you
 An uncircumcised or unclean one.
- 2 Shake yourself from the dust, arise,
 O captive Jerusalem;

- Free yourself from the bonds on your neck,
O captive daughter of Zion!
- 3 For thus says the LORD:
"For nought were you sold,
And without money shall you be redeemed."
- 4 For thus says the Lord GOD:
"To Egypt went down my people at the first to sojourn there,
And the Assyrians oppressed them without cause;
5 But now what find I here?" is the oracle of the LORD,
"That my people have been taken captive for nought,
That their rulers howl over them," is the oracle of the LORD,
6 "And that all day long my name is despised!
Therefore my people shall know my name,
They shall know on that day that it is I who have spoken—
See! here I am."
- 7 How beautiful upon the mountains
Are the feet of the heralds,
Who bring good news of peace,
News of salvation—
Who say to Zion,
"Your God has become king."
- 8 Hark! your watchmen lift up the voice,
Together they sing;
For eye to eye they see
The return of the LORD to Zion.
- 9 Break into singing together,
You waste places of Jerusalem!
For the LORD has comforted his people,
He has redeemed Jerusalem.
- 10 The LORD has made bare his holy arm
In the eyes of all the nations;
And all the ends of the earth shall see
The salvation of our God.
- 11 Away! away! go out thence;
Touch nothing unclean!
Go out of the midst of her; keep yourselves pure,
You who bear the vessels of the LORD!

- 12 For you shall not go out in haste,
 Nor depart in flight;
 For the LORD shall go before you,
 And the God of Israel shall be your rearguard.

THE SUFFERINGS AND THE TRIUMPH OF THE SERVANT,
 52:13—53:12

- 13 Lo! my servant shall prosper,
 He shall be exalted, and lifted up, and shall be very high.
 14 As many were amazed at him—
 So marred was his appearance from that of a man,
 And his form from that of the sons of men—
 15 So shall he startle many nations,
 On account of him kings shall shut their mouths;
 For what has not been told them shall they see,
 And what they have not heard shall they contemplate.
- 53 “Who could have believed what we have heard?
 And the arm of the LORD—to whom has it been revealed?
 2 For he grew up like a sapling before us,
 Like a root out of dry ground;
 He had no form nor charm, that we should look upon him,
 No appearance, that we should desire him.
 3 He was despised, and avoided by men,
 A man afflicted by pains, and familiar with sickness;
 And like one from whom men hide their faces,
 He was despised, and we took no account of him.
- 4 “Yet it was our sicknesses that he bore,
 Our pains that he carried;
 While we accounted him stricken,
 Smitten by God, and humbled.
 5 He was pierced for our transgressions,
 He was crushed for our iniquities;
 The chastisement of our welfare was upon him,
 And through his stripes we were healed.
 6 All we like sheep had gone astray,
 We had turned everyone to his own way;
 And the LORD made to light upon him
 The guilt of us all.

- 7 "When he was oppressed, he humbled himself,
And opened not his mouth—
Like a sheep that is led to the slaughter,
Or like a ewe that is dumb before her shearers,
He opened not his mouth.
- 8 Through violence in judgment was he taken away,
And who gave thought to his fate—
How he was cut off from the land of the living,
For our transgressions he was stricken to death?
- 9 They made his grave with the wicked,
His tomb with evil-doers;
Although he had done no violence,
Nor was any deceit in his mouth."
- 10 Yet the LORD was pleased to crush him by sickness,
That when he had made himself a guilt-offering,
He might see posterity, might prolong his life,
And the pleasure of the LORD might prosper in his hand.
- 11 Now through his suffering shall he see it, and be satisfied;
Through his affliction shall my servant, the Righteous One,
bring righteousness to many,
And shall carry the burden of their guilt.
- 12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great,
And with the strong shall he share the spoil;
Because he poured out his lifeblood,
And was numbered with transgressors,
While he bore the sin of many,
And for transgressors he interposed.

THE FUTURE GLORY OF JERUSALEM, 54:1-18

- 54 "Sing, O barren one, you who have borne no children;
Break into singing, and cry aloud, you who have not travailed!
For more are the children of her that is desolate
Than the children of her that is married," says the LORD.
- 2 "Enlarge the site of your tent,
And stretch without limit the curtains of your home;
Lengthen your cords, and make fast your pegs!
- 3 For to right and to left shall you spread abroad,
And your children shall take over the heritage of the nations,
And shall people the desolate cities.

- 4 "Fear not! for you shall not be put to shame;
And be not confounded! for you shall not be put to the blush.
The shame of your youth shall you forget,
And the reproach of your widowhood shall you remember no more;
- 5 For your husband is your Maker,
Whose name is the LORD of hosts;
And your redeemer is the Holy One of Israel,
Who is called the God of all the earth;
- 6 For like a wife forsaken, and embittered in spirit,
The LORD has regarded you—
Like a wife of one's youth, when she is cast off,"
Says your God.
- 7 "For a little moment did I forsake you,
But with great pity will I bring you back to me;
- 8 In an outburst of wrath I hid my face
For a moment from you,
But with everlasting love will I have pity upon you,"
Says the LORD, your Redeemer.
- 9 "For like the days of Noah is this to me:
As I swore that the waters of Noah
Should no more pass over the earth,
So have I sworn no more to be angry with you,
Nor to rebuke you.
- 10 Though the mountains should remove,
And the hills should waver,
My love shall not remove from you,
And my covenant of peace shall not waver,"
Says the LORD, who has pity upon you.
- 11 "O you afflicted one, storm-tossed, uncomforted,
Behold! I am setting your stones in emeralds,
And will lay your foundations in sapphires;
- 12 I will make your pinnacles of rubies,
Your gates of carbuncle stones,
And all your encircling wall of jewels.
- 13 All your sons shall be taught by the LORD,
And great shall be the prosperity of your children—
- 14 By righteousness shall you be established.

You shall be far from oppression, for you shall have nothing to fear,
And far from destruction, for it shall not come near you.

- 15 "If anyone stir up strife, it comes not from me;
He who stirs up strife with you shall fall to ruin upon you.
16 Behold! I have created the smith,
Who blows a fire of coals,
And brings forth a weapon that is suited to its work;
I have created also the destroyer to make havoc,
17 And every weapon that is forged against you shall fail,
And every tongue that is raised against you shall you put in the wrong.
This is the lot of the servants of the LORD,
And this their vindication at my hand," is the oracle of the LORD.

A CALL TO THE NEEDY, 55:1-13

- 55 "Ho! everyone that is thirsty, come to the waters,
And he that has no money, come, buy, and eat!
Come, buy grain without money,
And wine and milk without price!
2 Why should you spend money for what is not bread,
And your earnings for what does not satisfy?
If you but listen to me, you shall eat what is good,
And shall delight yourselves with rich nourishment.
3 "Bend your ear, and come to me;
Listen, that you may live!
For an everlasting covenant will I make with you,
The covenant of love which I faithfully promised to David.
4 As once I made him a witness to peoples,
A leader and commander of peoples,
5 So you shall call nations you know not,
And nations that know you not shall run to you,
For the sake of the LORD your God,
The Holy One of Israel, because he has shed glory on you.
6 "Seek the LORD while he may be found,
Call upon him while he is near!
7 Let the wicked forsake his way,
And the unrighteous man his thoughts;

- And let not the eunuch say,
 "Lo! I am a dry tree."
 4 For thus says the LORD:
 "The eunuchs who keep my sabbaths,
 And choose the things that I delight in,
 And hold fast by my covenant—
 5 To them will I give in my house and within my walls
 A monument and a name better than sons and daughters;
 I will give them an everlasting name
 That shall not be cut off.
 6 And the aliens who attach themselves to the LORD, to minister to him,
 To love the name of the LORD, and to be his servants,
 Even everyone who keeps the sabbath from profaning it,
 And holds fast by my covenant—
 7 I will bring them to my holy mountain,
 And will make them joyful in my house of prayer;
 Their burnt-offerings and their sacrifices shall be welcome upon my altar,
 For my house shall be called a house of prayer for all the peoples."
 8 This is the oracle of the Lord God,
 Who gathers the outcasts of Israel:
 "I will yet gather to them
 Those who were gathered against them."

THE FAITHLESS RULERS OF ISRAEL, 56:9-12

- 9 All you beasts of the field,
 Come to devour—
 All you beasts in the forest!
 10 My watchmen are all of them blind,
 Without any sense;
 They are all of them dumb dogs,
 That cannot bark,
 But lie down dreaming,
 Loving to slumber.
 11 And the dogs are greedy,
 They cannot be satisfied—
 Such are shepherds who have no intelligence—

They have turned all of them to their own way,
Each one without exception to his own gain:

- 12 “Come, let me fetch wine,
And let us fill ourselves with strong drink!
And tomorrow shall be as today,
A right royal day!”

THE UNTIMELY FATE OF THE RIGHTEOUS, 57:1-2

- 57 The righteous man perishes,
And none lays it to heart;
And godly men are swept away,
With none to give it a thought.
Before the evil that prevails the righteous man is swept away,
2 He enters into peace;
The honest man rests upon his bed,
He who has walked straightforwardly.

A WARNING TO THE IDOLATROUS, 57:3-13

- 3 But you—come hither,
You sons of a sorceress,
Offspring of an adulterer and a harlot!
4 Against whom are you making merry?
Against whom are you opening the mouth wide,
And putting out the tongue?
Are you not apostate children,
A faithless brood—
5 You who inflame yourselves with lust among the terebinths,
Under every green tree,
Who slaughter children in the valleys,
Among the clefts of the crags?
6 With the smooth stones of the valley your lot is cast;
They, they are your portion:
To them have you poured libations,
And offered cereal-offerings;
And for these things can I be appeased?
7 On a high and lofty mountain
You have set up your bed;
And thither have you climbed
To offer sacrifice.
8 Behind the door and the side posts

- You have set up your symbol;
And apart from me have you stripped and gone up,
You have made wide your bed;
You have bargained for those Whose embraces you love;
And with them have you multiplied your harlotries,
While gazing on the symbol.
9 You have journeyed to Molech with oil,
And have offered many perfumes;
And you have sent your envoys afar,
Even as deep as Sheol.
10 You have wearied yourself with your many wanderings,
Yet have not said, "It is hopeless!"
You found your strength renewed,
Therefore you did not give up.
11 And of whom were you in such fear and dread
That you played the traitor,
And gave no thought to me,
Nor paid any heed?
Was it not because I held my peace and closed my eyes
That you ceased to reverence me?
12 But I will expose this righteousness of yours,
These doings of yours;
13 And your loathsome idols shall not avail you when you cry for help,
Nor save you in your time of distress:
The wind shall lift them all up,
A breath shall bear them away;
But he who takes refuge in me shall inherit the land,
And shall enter into possession of my holy mountain.

HEALING FOR THE WOUNDED SPIRIT, 57:14-21

- 14 One says:
"Grade up, grade up, clear the way;
Remove every obstacle from the way of my people!"
15 For thus says the high and exalted One,
Who dwells enthroned for ever, and whose name is Holy:
"I dwell enthroned on high, as the Holy One,
But with him also that is contrite and humble in spirit,

- To revive the spirit of the humble,
 And to revive the heart of the contrite ones.
- 16 For I will not contend for ever,
 Nor be angry for all time;
 For through me the spirit wraps itself in flesh,
 And every living being have I made.
- 17 Because of their sin I was angry for a moment,
 And I smote them, while I hid my face in wrath;
 They went on rebelliously in the way of their own desires,
 18 And I saw their doings," says the LORD.
- "But now will I heal them, and guide them,
 And will requite them with full consolation;
 19 For the mourners among them I am creating the fruit of the lips,
 Perfect peace to the far and the near.
- 20 But the wicked are like the uptossed sea,
 For it cannot rest,
 But its waters toss up mire and filth.
- 21 There is no peace," says my God, "for the wicked."

TRUE AND FALSE FASTING, 58:1-12

- 58 "Call aloud, hold not back,
 Lift up your voice like a trumpet;
 Show my people their transgression,
 The house of Jacob their sins!
- 2 Daily, indeed, they consult me,
 And delight to know my ways,
 Like a nation that does what is right,
 And forsakes not the law of its God.
 They ask me for righteous ordinances,
 They delight to draw near to God:
- 3 "Why have we fasted, and thou seest not;
 Why have we humbled ourselves, and thou heedest not?"
- "See! on your fast day you pursue your own business,
 And press on with all your labors;
- 4 See! you fast for the sake of strife and contention,
 And smiting with godless fist;
 You fast not in such a way
 As to make your voice heard on high.

- 5 Can such be the fast I choose—
A day for a man to humble himself,
To bow down his head like a bulrush,
To grovel in sackcloth and ashes?
Will you call this a fast,
A day of pleasure to the LORD?
- 6 “Is not this the fast I choose—
To loose the bonds of wickedness,
To undo the knots of the yoke,
To let the oppressed go free,
And every yoke to snap?
- 7 Is it not to share your bread with the hungry,
And the homeless poor to bring home;
When you see the naked, to cover him,
And to hide not yourself from your own flesh and blood?
- 8 “Then shall your light break out as the dawn,
And your healing shall spring forth speedily;
Your vindication shall go before you,
And the glory of the LORD shall be your rearguard.
- 9 You shall call, and the LORD will answer;
You shall cry, and he will say, ‘Here I am!’
- “If you remove from your midst the yoke,
The finger of scorn, and mischievous speech,
10 And share your bread with the hungry,
And satisfy the prostrate spirit,
Then shall your light shine out in darkness,
And your gloom shall be as noonday;
11 And the LORD shall guide you continually,
And shall satisfy you with rich nourishment;
And your strength shall he renew,
And you shall be like a well-watered garden,
Or like a spring of water,
Whose waters fail not;
- 12 And your people shall rebuild the ancient ruins,
You shall raise up the foundations of many generations;
And you shall be called, ‘The builder of broken walls,
The restorer of streets to dwell in.’ ”

THE KEEPING OF THE SABBATH, 58:13—14

- 13 "If you turn back your foot from the sabbath,
 Not doing your own business on my holy day;
 If you call the sabbath a delight,
 And the holy day of the LORD honorable;
 If you honor it by not following your accustomed ways,
 Nor doing your own business, nor indulging in idle talk—
 14 Then shall you find your delight in the LORD,
 And I will make you ride in triumph over the heights of the earth,
 And will give you the heritage of Jacob your father to enjoy;"
 For the mouth of the LORD has spoken.

SIN, SORROW, CONFESSION, AND REDEMPTION, 59:1—21

- 59 See! the LORD's hand is not too short to save,
 Nor his ear too dull to hear;
 2 But your iniquities have been a barrier
 Between you and your God,
 And your sins have hidden his face,
 So that he could not hear you.
 3 For your hands are stained with blood,
 And your fingers with iniquity;
 Your lips have spoken lies,
 And your tongue utters untruth.
 4 There is none who sues honestly,
 None who pleads his case truthfully;
 But each one trusts in vanity, and speaks lies,
 Conceives wrong, and brings forth mischief.
 5 Vipers' eggs they hatch,
 And spiders' webs they weave;
 He who eats of their eggs will die,
 And the egg that is left uneaten will hatch out into an adder.
 6 Their webs are useless for clothing,
 With their products no man can cover himself;
 Their works are works of mischief,
 And deeds of violence are in their hands.
 7 Their feet run to evil,
 They make haste to shed innocent blood;
 Their thoughts are thoughts of mischief,

- Wreck and ruin are in their paths.
8 The way of peace they know not,
And no justice is in their tracks;
Their paths have they made crooked,
He who walks in them knows nothing of peace.
- 9 Therefore is redress far from us,
And deliverance does not reach us;
We look for light, but lo! darkness,
For the rays of dawn, but we walk in gloom.
- 10 We grope like blind men along a wall,
Like men without eyes we grope;
We stumble at noonday as in the twilight,
In the strength of manhood we are like the dead.
- 11 All of us growl like bears,
And sadly moan like doves;
We look for redress, but it comes not,
For salvation, but it remains far from us.
- 12 For many are our transgressions before thee,
And our sins bear witness against us;
Our transgressions are ever with us,
And our iniquities we know—
- 13 Rebellion, and unfaithfulness to the LORD,
Turning our backs on our God,
Speaking cruel and defiant words,
Conceiving and uttering lies from the heart.
- 14 Justice has been driven back,
And righteousness stands afar;
Truth stumbles in the public place,
And honesty can find no entrance;
- 15 Truth is not to be found,
And he who shuns evil makes himself an easy mark.
- “The LORD saw with displeasure
That there was no justice;
16 And when he saw that there was no man—
When he saw with amazement that there was none to interpose—
His own arm helped him,
His righteous might upheld him.

- 17 He put on righteousness as a coat of mail,
 With the helmet of salvation on his head;
 He put on garments of vengeance for clothing,
 And wrapped himself in fury as a cloak.
- 18 According to men's deserts shall he make recompense to them—
 Wrath to his enemies, shame to his foes—
- 19 That men may see the revelation of the LORD from the west,
 And his glory from the east;
 For he shall come like a pent-up stream,
 Which the breath of the LORD drives on;
 But to Zion shall he come as redeemer,
 And shall remove transgression from Jacob,"
- Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 21 As for me, "this is my covenant with you," says the LORD: "My spirit which is upon you, and my words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart from your mouth, nor from the mouth of your children, nor from the mouth of your children's children," says the LORD, "from henceforth, even forever."

THE GLORY OF THE NEW JERUSALEM, 60:1-22

- 60 Arise, shine! for your light has come,
 And the glory of the LORD has risen upon you.
- 2 For lo! darkness shall cover the earth,
 And thick darkness the peoples;
 But upon you the LORD shall rise,
 And upon you his glory shall appear;
- 3 And nations shall walk by your light,
 And kings by the brightness of your rising.
- 4 Lift up your eyes round about, and see!
 All of them gather, they come to you—
 Your sons shall come from afar,
 And your daughters shall be borne on the hip.
- 5 When you see it, you shall be radiant,
 And your heart shall throb and swell;
 For the riches of the sea shall be turned to you,
 The wealth of the nations shall come to you.
- 6 A flood of camels shall cover you,
 The young camels of Midian and Ephah;

- All those of Sheba shall come—
Gold and frankincense shall they bring,
And shall herald the praises of the LORD.
- 7 All the flocks of Kedar shall gather to you,
The rams of Nebaioth shall minister to you;
They shall mount my altar as a well-pleasing sacrifice,
And my glorious house will I glorify.
- 8 Who are these that fly like a cloud,
Or like doves to their windows?
- 9 It is the ships which are gathering for me,
With the vessels of Tarshish in the van,
To bring your sons from afar,
Their silver and their gold with them,
In honor of the LORD your God,
The Holy One of Israel, because he has glorified you.
- 10 And aliens shall build your walls,
And their kings shall minister to you;
For though in my wrath I smote you,
In my favor will I have pity upon you.
- 11 And your gates shall be open continually,
Day and night shall they not be closed,
That men may bring to you the wealth of the nations,
Their kings leading the way.
- 12 For the nation and the kingdom that will not serve you shall perish—
Utterly waste shall those nations be laid.
- 13 The glory of Lebanon shall come to you,
The cypress, the pine, and the larch together,
To glorify the place of my sanctuary,
And that I may do honor to my footstool.
- 14 Then the sons of those who oppressed you shall come bending to
you,
And all those who scorned you shall bow down at the soles of your feet;
And they shall call you, "The city of the LORD,
The Zion of the Holy One of Israel."
- 15 Instead of your being forsaken and hated,
With none passing through you,

- I will make you a pride forever,
 A joy for all generations.
- 16 You shall suck the milk of the nations,
 The breast of kings shall you suck;
 And you shall know that I the LORD am your savior,
 That your redeemer is the Mighty One of Jacob.
- 17 Instead of bronze will I bring gold,
 And instead of iron will I bring silver;
 And instead of wood, bronze,
 And instead of stones, iron;
 And Peace will I make your government,
 And Righteousness your ruler.
- 18 No more shall news of violence be heard in your land,
 Nor of wreck and ruin within your borders,
 But you shall call your walls Salvation,
 And your gates Praise.
- 19 No more shall the sun be your light by day,
 Nor the moon by night shine upon you;
 But the LORD shall be your unfailing light,
 And your God your glory.
- 20 No more shall your sun set,
 Nor shall your moon wane;
 For the LORD shall be your unfailing light,
 And your days of mourning shall be ended.
- 21 Your people shall be all of them righteous,
 And shall possess the land forever,
 As the shoot of my planting, the work of my hands,
 With which I may glorify myself.
- 22 The least one shall become a tribe,
 The smallest a mighty nation—
 I the LORD will hasten it
 In its proper time.

THE YEAR OF THE LORD'S FAVOR, 61:1—62:12

- 61 The spirit of the Lord God is upon me,
 For the LORD has anointed me;
 He has sent me to bring good news to the miserable,
 To bind up the broken-hearted,

- To proclaim liberty to the captives,
And release to the prisoners—
- 2 To proclaim the year of the LORD's favor,
And the day of our God's vengeance—
To comfort all mourners,
- 3 To provide for the mourners of Zion,
To give them a crown instead of ashes,
Oil of joy instead of a garment of mourning,
A song of praise instead of a drooping spirit,
That they may be called oak trees of righteousness,
The planting of the LORD, with which he may glorify himself.
- 4 Then shall they rebuild the ancient ruins,
They shall raise up the desolations of former generations;
They shall renew the wasted cities,
The desolations of many generations.
- 5 And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks,
Aliens shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers;
- 6 But you shall be called the priests of the LORD,
The ministers of our God shall you be named.
You shall enjoy the wealth of the nations,
And in their glory shall you revel.
- 7 Because their shame was in double measure,
And contempt was the lot they inherited,
Therefore in their land shall they inherit a double measure,
Everlasting joy shall be theirs.
- 8 For I the LORD love justice,
I hate robbery and crime;
So I will faithfully give them their recompense,
And an everlasting covenant will I make with them.
- 9 Their sons shall be known among the nations,
Their offspring in the midst of the peoples;
All who see them shall acknowledge them
As a race which the LORD has blessed.
- 10 I will greatly rejoice in the LORD,
I will exult in my God;
For he has clothed me in garments of salvation,
He has arrayed me in the robe of redemption,

- As a bridegroom puts on his crown,
 And as a bride adorns herself with her jewels.
 11 For as the earth puts forth her shoots,
 And as a garden makes the seed that is sown in it to spring up,
 So the Lord GOD shall make redemption and praise
 To spring up before all the nations.
- 62 For Zion's sake will I not keep silent,
 And for Jerusalem's sake will I not rest,
 Until her vindication come forth clear as light,
 And her salvation as a burning torch.
- 2 Then the nations shall see your vindication,
 And all kings your glory;
 You shall be called by a new name,
 Which the mouth of the LORD shall determine;
 And you shall be a glorious crown in the hand of the LORD,
 A royal diadem in the hand of your God.
- 4 No more shall you be named "Forsaken,"
 Nor your land be named "Desolate";
 But you shall be called "My delight is in her,"
 And your land "Married";
 For the LORD delights in you,
 And your land shall be married.
- 5 As a young man marries a maiden,
 So shall your Builder marry you;
 And as a bridegroom rejoices over his bride,
 So shall your God rejoice over you.
- 6 Over your walls, O Jerusalem,
 I have appointed watchmen,
 Who never keep silent
 By day or by night.
 You who are the LORD's remembrancers,
 Take no rest for yourselves,
- 7 And give him no rest,
 Until he establish
 And make Jerusalem
 A praise in the earth!
- 8 The LORD has sworn by his right hand,
 And by his strong arm:

- “No more will I give your grain
 To be food for your enemies,
 Nor shall aliens drink your vintage
 For which you have labored;
 9 But those who have garnered the grain shall eat it,
 And shall praise the LORD,
 And those who have gathered the vintage shall drink it
 In my holy courts.”
- 10 Pass through, pass through the gates,
 Prepare the way of the people;
 Grade up, grade up the highway,
 Clear it of stones;
 Raise a signal over the peoples—
- 11 See! the LORD has made proclamation
 To the end of the earth:
 “Say to the daughter of Zion,
 ‘See! your salvation has come;
 See! his reward is with him,
 And his recompense before him.’”
- 12 They shall be called, ‘The holy people,
 The redeemed of the LORD’;
 And you shall be called, ‘Sought out,
 The city unforsaken.’”

THE DAY OF THE LORD'S VENGEANCE, 63:1-6

- 63 “Who is this that comes all reddened,
 In garments more crimson than those of a vine-treader;
 This that is clogged by his clothing,
 As he strides along in his strength?”
- “It is I, who have promised deliverance,
 And am mighty to save.”
- 2 “Why is thy clothing red,
 Thy garments like his who treads in the wine press?”
- 3 “The wine trough I trod alone—
 Of the peoples no man was with me:
 I trod them in my anger,

- And trampled them in my fury;
 Their lifeblood besprinkled my garments,
 And all my clothing I stained.
- 4 For a day of vengeance was in my heart,
 And my year of redemption had come.
- 5 I looked, but there was none to help,
 I looked in amazement, but there was none to uphold;
 So my own arm helped me,
 And my fury upheld me.
- 6 I trod down the peoples in my anger,
 And shattered them in my fury;
 And I poured out their lifeblood on the earth."

PRAISE AND PRAYER, 63:7—64:11

- 7 The LORD's gracious acts will I celebrate,
 The LORD's praiseworthy deeds,
 As befits all that the LORD has done for us,
 Even the great goodness he has shown to the household of Israel,
 According to his pity, according to the fulness of his love.
- 8 He said, "Surely they are my people,
 Sons who will not play me false";
 So he became their savior
- 9 In all their distress.
 It was no messenger nor angel,
 But his own presence that saved them—
 In his love and in his pity he redeemed them;
 He took them up and carried them all the days of old.
- 10 But they rebelled, and grieved his holy spirit;
 So he turned to be their enemy,
 He fought against them.
- 11 I recall the days of old,
 The days of Moses and his people:
 Where is he who brought up from the sea
 The shepherd of his flock?
 Where is he who put within him
 His holy spirit;
- 12 He who caused his glorious arm to go
 At Moses' right hand;
 He who cleft the waters before them,

- 13 To make himself an everlasting name;
He who led them through the depths,
Without their stumbling,
Like a horse through the steppe,
14 Or like cattle going down to the valley?
So did the spirit of the LORD guide them,
So didst thou lead thy people,
To make thyself a glorious name.
- 15 Look down from the heavens, and see,
From thy holy and glorious abode!
Where are thy zeal and thy might,
Thy yearning pity and mercy?
Restrain thyself not!
16 For thou art our Father.
Though Abraham know us not,
And Israel acknowledge us not,
Thou, O LORD, art our Father,
Our Redeemer from of old is thy name.
- 17 Why, O LORD, dost thou leave us to wander from thy ways;
Why dost thou harden our heart against reverence for thee?
Return, for the sake of thy servants,
The tribes of thy heritage!
- 18 Why have wicked men trampled upon thy holy hill;
Why have our enemies trodden down thy sanctuary?
19 We have become like those over whom thou hast not ruled from
of old,
Like those who have not been called by thy name.
- O that thou wouldst rend the heavens and come down,
That the mountains might quake at thy presence—
64 As when fire kindles brushwood,
And fire makes water to boil—
To make known thy name to thine enemies,
That the nations might tremble at thy presence,
2 While thou doest terrible things which we looked not for,
3 And which men have not heard from of old!
No ear has heard, no eye has seen,
A god apart from thee, who works for those who wait for him.

- 4 But thou hast thwarted those who do right,
 Who remember thy ways;
 Thou wast angry, and we sinned—
 Through our doings we fell into guilt.
- 5 We have all of us become like an unclean man,
 And all our righteous deeds like a garment defiled;
 We all of us fade like a leaf,
 And our guilt bears us away like the wind.
- 6 There is none who calls on thy name,
 Nor rouses himself to lay hold on thee;
 For thou hast hidden thy face from us,
 And hast delivered us into the power of our sins.
- 7 Yet now, O LORD, thou art our Father;
 We are the clay, and thou art our potter—
 We are all of us the work of thy hand.
- 8 Be not angry, O LORD, beyond measure,
 Nor remember our guilt forever.
 Look! we beseech thee—for we are all thy people—
- 9 Thy holy cities have become a wilderness,
 Zion has become a wilderness,
 Jerusalem a desolation;
- 10 Our holy and beautiful house,
 Where our fathers praised thee,
 Has been burned with fire,
 And all that we cherished has been laid waste.
- 11 For these things, O LORD, wilt thou restrain thyself;
 Wilt thou keep silent, and afflict us beyond measure?

JUDGMENT AND SALVATION, 65:1–25

- 65 I was ready to be consulted by those who asked me not,
 I was ready to be found by those who sought me not;
 I said, "Here am I! Here am I!"
 To a nation that called not upon my name.
- 2 I spread out my hands all day long
 To a rebellious people,
 Who walk in a way that is not good,
 After their own devices—
- 3 A people who provoke me
 To my face continually,

- Offering sacrifice in gardens,
And burning incense on tiles—
- 4 Who sit in graves,
And pass the night in caves,
Who eat the flesh of swine,
And in whose vessels is broth of unclean meats—
- 5 Who say, "Stand off;
Come not near me, lest I make you taboo!"
These men are a smoke in my nostrils,
A fire that burns continually.
- 6 See! it stands written before me:
"I will not keep silent, until I have requited
7 Their sins and their fathers' sins together," says the LORD,
"Who have offered sacrifice upon the mountains,
And have dishonored me upon the hills.
First I will measure their recompense,
Then I will requite it on their bosom."
- 8 Thus says the LORD:
"As when vintage is found in the cluster,
And one says, 'Destroy it not,
For a blessing is in it,'
So will I do for my servants' sake,
That I may not destroy the whole.
- 9 I will bring out of Jacob a scion,
Out of Judah an heir to my mountains;
And my chosen ones shall inherit the land,
My servants shall dwell in it.
- 10 And Sharon shall become a fold for flocks,
And the valley of Achor a pasture for herds,
To my people who have sought me.
- 11 But as for you who forsake the LORD,
And forget my holy mountain,
Who spread a table for Fortune,
And fill cups of mixed wine for Destiny,
- 12 I will destine you for the sword,
And you shall all bow down to the slaughter;
Because, when I called, you did not answer,
When I spoke, you did not listen;

But you did what was evil in my eyes,
And chose what displeased me."

- 13 Therefore thus says the Lord God:
"Behold! my servants shall eat,
But you shall be hungry;
Behold! my servants shall drink,
But you shall be thirsty;
Behold! my servants shall rejoice,
But you shall be put to shame;
14 Behold! my servants shall sing for gladness of heart;
But you shall cry for sorrow of heart,
And shall wail for breaking of spirit;
15 And you shall leave your name as a curse for my chosen ones:
'So may the Lord God slay you!'
But my servants shall be called by another name.
16 Then he who prays for a blessing in the land shall pray
By the God of truth,
And he who swears an oath in the land shall swear
By the God of truth;
Because the former troubles shall have been forgotten,
And hidden from my eyes.
17 For behold! I am creating new heavens,
And a new earth;
And the former things shall not be remembered,
Nor brought to mind;
18 But men shall rejoice and exult forever
In what I create;
For behold! I am creating Jerusalem an exultation,
And my people a joy;
19 And I will exult over Jerusalem,
And rejoice in her people.
There shall no more be heard in her the sound of weeping,
Nor the sound of crying;
20 And there shall no more pass from her young or old,
Without completing his full length of life;
But the youngest shall die a hundred years old,
While he who falls short of a hundred shall be counted accursed.
21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them;

- And they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them—
 22 They shall not build, and another inhabit;
 Nor shall they plant, and another eat—
 For as the days of a tree shall be the days of my people,
 And the work of their hands shall my chosen ones enjoy to the end.
- 23 They shall not labor in vain,
 Nor bring forth children for destruction;
 For they are a race of the LORD's blessed ones,
 And their offspring shall remain with them.
- 24 Then, before they call, I will answer;
 While they are yet speaking, I will hear.
- 25 The wolf and the lamb shall feed together,
 And the lion shall eat straw like the ox;
 But the serpent—its food shall be dust!
 They shall do no harm nor destruction
 On all my holy mountain," says the LORD.

THE NEW HEAVENS AND THE NEW EARTH, 66:1-24

- 66 Thus says the LORD:
 "The heavens are my throne,
 And the earth is my footstool;
 What manner of house, then, would you build for me,
 What manner of place as my residence?
 2 My hand made all these things,
 And all these things are mine," is the oracle of the LORD;
 "Yet to this man will I have regard—
 The man who is humble and contrite in spirit,
 And who trembles at my word.
- 3 But he who slaughters an ox, as well as he who slays a man,
 He who sacrifices a sheep, as well as he who strangles a dog,
 He who brings an oblation, as well as he who sheds the blood of swine,
 He who makes a memorial offering of frankincense, as well as he who blesses an idol—
 These men choose their own ways,
 And delight in their abominations;
- 4 So will I also choose the outrages they are to endure,
 And will bring upon them the terrors they dread;

Because, when I called, no one answered,
 When I spoke, they did not listen;
 But they did what was evil in my eyes,
 And chose what displeased me."

5 Hear the word of the LORD,
 You who tremble at his word:

"Your brothers who hate you
 And cast you from their midst
 For my name's sake have said,
 'Let the LORD show forth his glory,
 That we may look on your joy!';
 But they shall be put to shame.

6 Hark! an uproar from the city,
 Hark! it comes from the temple;
 Hark! it is the LORD who is dealing out
 Recompense to his enemies.

7 But before she travailed,
 She gave birth;
 Before her pains came on her,
 She was delivered of a son.

8 Who has heard the like of this,
 Who has seen the like?
 Can a land pass through travail
 In a single day?
 Can a nation be brought to the birth
 All at once?
 But as soon as Zion travailed,
 She gave birth to her children.

9 Shall I bring to the birth and not give delivery?"
 Says the LORD.

"Or shall I who give delivery shut up the womb?"
 Says your God.

10 "Rejoice with Jerusalem, and exult on her account,
 All you who love her;
 Be very joyful with her,
 All you who mourn for her;

11 That you may suck till you are satisfied
 From her soothing breast,

And drink to your heart's delight
From her rich bosom!"

- 12 For thus says the LORD:
"Behold! I am extending to her prosperity like a river,
And the wealth of the nations like a sweeping torrent;
And her sucklings shall be carried on the hip,
And dandled on the knees.
- 13 Like one whom his mother comforts,
So will I comfort you—
Through Jerusalem shall you be comforted.
- 14 And when you see it, your heart shall rejoice,
And your bones shall flourish like young grass.
So shall the power of the LORD be revealed toward his servants,
And his indignation toward his enemies.
- 15 For behold! the LORD shall come like fire,
His chariots like a whirlwind,
To bring home his anger with fury,
His rebuke with flames of fire;
- 16 For the LORD shall hold judgment upon all flesh
By fire and by his sword,
And the LORD's slain shall be many.
- 17 Those who consecrate and purify themselves for worship in the gardens,
After someone in the midst,
Who eat the flesh of swine,
Of vermin and of mice,
Shall come to an end together,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 18 "For I know their works and their thoughts,
And am coming to gather all nations and tongues;
They shall come, and shall see my glory,
And through them will I set up a sign:
Such of them as escape will I send to the nations,
To Tarshish, Put, and Lydia, to Meshech and Rosh,
To Tubal and Javan, the distant coasts,
Which have not heard my fame, nor seen my glory.
They shall proclaim my glory among the nations,
And men shall bring all your brothers from all the nations,
- 20

On horseback, in chariots and covered wagons,
On mules and dromedaries,
For an offering to the LORD on my holy mountain Jerusalem,"
Says the LORD,

"As the children of Israel bring an offering
In a clean vessel to the house of the LORD.

21 And some of these also will I take for priests, for Levites,"
Says the LORD.

22 "For as the new heavens and the new earth
Which I am making shall continue before me,"

Is the oracle of the LORD,

"So shall your race and your name continue.

23 And from new moon to new moon, and from sabbath to sabbath,
All flesh shall come to worship before me,"

Says the LORD.

24 "And they shall go out and gaze on the dead bodies of the men
Who have rebelled against me;
For their worm shall not die, nor shall their fire be quenched,
But they shall be an abhorrence to all flesh."

THE BOOK OF JEREMIAH

INTRODUCTION, 1:1-3

- 1 The words of Jeremiah, the son of Hilkiah, a member of the 2 priestly family that was at Anathoth in the land of Benjamin, to whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah, the son of 3 Amon, king of Judah, in the eighteenth year of his reign, and continued to come during the reign of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, till the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, when Jerusalem was carried into exile in the fifth month.

THE CALL OF THE PROPHET, 1:4-19

- 4 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
5 "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you,
And before you were born I set you apart for my service—
I appointed you a prophet to the nations."
6 Then said I,
"Ah, Lord GOD! I cannot speak;
For I am only a boy."
7 But the LORD said to me,
"Do not say, 'I am only a boy;'
For to all to whom I send you shall you go,
And all that I command you shall you speak.
8 Do not be afraid of them;
For I am with you to deliver you,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
9 Then the LORD stretched forth his hand, and touched my mouth.
And the LORD said to me,
"See! I put my words in your mouth;
10 This moment I give you authority over the nations and kingdoms,
To root up and to pull down, to wreck and to ruin,
To build and to plant."
11 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
"What do you see, Jeremiah?"

- I answered,
 "I see a twig of an almond tree."
 12 Then the LORD said to me,
 "You have seen well; for I am watching over my word, to carry it into effect."
 13 A second time the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 "What do you see?"
 I answered,
 "I see a boiling pot, facing from the north."
 14 Then the LORD said to me,
 "Out of the north shall trouble boil over all the inhabitants of the 15 land. For behold! I am summoning all the kingdoms of the north," is the oracle of the LORD; "and they shall come and set up their several thrones at the entrances of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all her 16 walls round about, and against all the cities of Judah. And I will pronounce my judgments against them for all the wickedness they have done in forsaking me, and offering sacrifice to other gods, and 17 worshipping the works of their own hands. You, then, gird up your loins, and arise, and speak to them all that I command you. Do not be 18 dismayed before them, lest I dismay you before them. For behold!
 I make you this moment a fortified city, an iron pillar, and a bronze wall, against the whole land—the kings of Judah, its princes and 19 priests, and its common people. They shall fight against you, but they shall not overcome you; for I am with you to deliver you," is the oracle of the LORD.

ISRAEL'S APOSTASY, 2:1—4:4

- 2 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 "Go and proclaim in the hearing of Jerusalem, 'Thus says the
 LORD:
 "I recall your youthful devotion,
 Your bridal love,
 How you followed me through the desert,
 Through a land unsown."
 3 Israel was sacred to the LORD,
 His firstfruits of harvest;
 All who ate of it were held guilty—
 Trouble overtook them,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD.'"

- 4 Hear the word of the LORD, O household of Jacob, even all the 5 families of the household of Israel. Thus says the LORD:
 “What offense did your fathers find in me,
 That they went far from me,
And followed a thing of nought,
 Till they became nought?”
- 6 They asked not, ‘Where is the LORD that brought us up
 From the land of Egypt,
That led us through the desert,
Through a land of steppes and pits,
Through a land of drought and deep darkness,
Through a land that no man traversed,
Where no man dwelt?’
- 7 I brought you to a garden land,
To eat its fruits and its good things;
But you came and defiled my land,
And made my heritage an abomination.
- 8 The priests asked not, ‘Where is the LORD?’
Those who handled the law cared nothing about me;
The rulers rebelled against me,
And the prophets prophesied by Baal,
And followed things that were useless.
- 9 Yet against you too must I bring an indictment,”
 Is the oracle of the LORD,
“And against your children’s children.
- 10 For pass over to the coasts of Cyprus, and see,
Or send to Kedar, scan closely, and see,
If ever there has been such a thing as this!
- 11 Has a nation changed its gods,
 Which are no gods?
Yet my people have changed their Glory
 For that which is useless.
- 12 Be aghast, O heavens, at this;
Be shocked, O earth, beyond words,”
 Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 13 “For my people have committed two crimes:
They have forsaken me, the fountain of living water,
To hew for themselves cisterns, broken cisterns,
That can hold no water.

- 14 "Is Israel a slave, or a home-born serf?
Why, then, has he fallen a prey?
15 Against him the young lions have roared,
They have lifted up their voice;
His land have they made a desolation,
His cities are destroyed and left without inhabitant.
16 The sons also of Memphis and Daphne break the crown of your head;
17 But have you not brought this upon you through your neglect of the LORD your God,
At the time when he led you on the way?
18 Now what business have you on the road to Egypt,
To drink the water of the Nile?
Or what business have you on the road to Assyria,
'To drink the water of the River?
19 Your own wickedness will teach you,
And your own apostasy will convict you;
You will know and see how bad and bitter a thing it is
'To forsake the LORD your God, and to cherish no reverence for me,"
Is the oracle of the Lord, the GOD of hosts.
- 20 "Long since you broke your yoke, and burst your bonds,
Saying, 'I will not serve';
And on every high hill, and under every green tree,
You reclined and played the harlot.
21 I planted you a noble vine,
All true seed;
How, then, are you changed to a rank vine,
A wild plant?
22 Though you wash yourself with lye,
And use much soap,
Your guilt stands ingrained in my sight,"
Is the oracle of the Lord GOD.
- 23 "How can you say, 'I am not defiled,
Nor have I gone after the Baals'?
Look at your course in the Valley,
See what you have done!
You are a light young camel, doubling on her tracks,
24 A wild ass trained to the desert,

- Snuffing the wind in her passion—
Who can restrain her lust?
None that seek her need weary themselves;
In her month will they find her.
- 25 Keep your feet from running bare,
Your throat from going dry;
But you say, 'It is hopeless! for I love alien gods,
And after them will I go.'
- 26 "As a thief is put to the blush when he is found out,
So shall the household of Israel be put to the blush—
They, their kings, and their princes,
Their priests, and their prophets,
- 27 Who say to a stock, 'You are my father,'
And to a stone, 'You have borne me'—
For they have turned to me their back,
And not their face;
Yet in their time of trouble they say,
'Arise, and save us!'
- 28 Where are your gods whom you made for yourself?
Let them arise, and save you—if they can!—
In your time of trouble;
For as many in number as your cities
Are your gods, O Judah!
- 29 "Why should you find fault with me,
Since all of you have rebelled against me?"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 30 "In vain did I smite your children,
You took no warning;
The sword devoured your prophets
Like a ravening lion;
- 31 But you neither revered nor listened to
The word of the LORD.
Have I been a desert to Israel,
Or a land of late harvests?
Why, then, do my people say, 'We are our own masters,
We will come no more to thee'?
- 32 Can a girl forget her ornaments,
A bride her sash?

Yet my people have forgotten me
Days without number.

- 33 “How finely you trim your way
To seek after love,
Teaching even the vilest women
The secret of your ways!
34 On your hands is found the blood
Of the innocent poor—
Not breaking into houses did you find them,
But opposed to all such things.
35 Yet you say, ‘I am innocent,
Surely his anger has turned back from me.’
But behold! I am bringing an indictment against you,
Because you say, ‘I have not sinned.’
36 Why do you change your course
With so light a heart?
You shall be put to the blush through Egypt also,
As you were through Assyria.
37 Thence also shall you go forth,
With your hands upon your head;
For the LORD has rejected those in whom you trust,
And you shall have no success with them.
- 3 “If a man divorce his wife,
And she leave him, and become the wife of another man,
Can she return to him again?
Is not that woman wholly polluted?
But you have played the harlot with many lovers,
And would fain return to me!” is the oracle of the LORD.
2 “Lift up your eyes to the bare heights, and see—
Where have you not been lain with?
By the waysides have you sat waiting for your lovers,
Like an Arab in the desert;
And you have polluted the land with your harlotries
And with your vices;
3 So that the showers have been withheld,
And the spring rain has not come.
You have a harlot’s brow,
And will not blush for shame:

- 4 Have you not now been calling to me,
 ‘My father! the comrade of my youth?
- 5 Will he keep up his anger for ever,
 Will he retain it to the end?’
 Thus have you spoken, but have done
 All the evil that you could.”
- 6 The LORD said to me in the days of Josiah the king:
 “Have you seen what apostate Israel did, how she went up every high mountain and under every green tree, and played the harlot
7 there? I thought, ‘After she has done all these things, she will return 8 to me’; but she did not return. And though her faithless sister Judah saw that, for all the adulteries that apostate Israel had committed, I put her away, and gave her a writ of divorce, yet her faithless sister 9 Judah was not afraid, but likewise went and played the harlot, polluting the land with her wanton harlotry, and committing adultery 10 with stocks and stones. In spite of all that happened, her faithless sister Judah did not return to me in sincerity, but in sheer hypocrisy,” is 11 the oracle of the LORD. So the LORD said to me, “Apostate Israel has 12 proved herself more in the right than faithless Judah. Go, then, and proclaim these words toward the north:
 ‘Return, apostate Israel,’ is the oracle of the LORD;
 ‘I will frown no more upon you.
 For I am full of kindness,’ is the oracle of the LORD;
 ‘I will not keep up anger forever.
- 13 Only acknowledge your guilt,
 How you have rebelled against the LORD your God,
 And have lavished your love upon alien gods under every green tree,
 And have not listened to my voice,’ is the oracle of the LORD.
- 14 “Return, apostate children,” is the oracle of the LORD, “for I am your Lord; and I will take you one from a city, and two from a fam-15 ily, and will bring you to Zion, and will give you shepherds after my 16 own mind, who shall shepherd you with wisdom and skill. And in those days, when you have multiplied and increased in the land,” is the oracle of the LORD, “men shall no more speak of ‘The ark of the covenant of the LORD’—it shall be neither remembered, nor men-17 tioned, nor sought after, nor made anew—but at that time they shall call Jerusalem ‘The throne of the LORD,’ and all the nations shall gather there, to celebrate the name of the LORD in Jerusalem, and shall no more follow the stubborn promptings of their evil minds. In those days the household of Judah shall join the household of Israel, and they shall come together from the land of the north to the land that I gave your fathers for a heritage.

19 "I thought, 'Gladly will I rank you among the sons,
And give you a pleasant land,
The goodliest heritage of all the nations.'
And I thought, 'Surely you will call me "Father,"
And will not turn back from me.'

20 But as a woman is faithless to her lover,
So were you faithless to me, O household of Israel,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.

21 "Hark! on the bare heights is heard
The suppliant weeping of the children of Israel;
For they have perverted their ways,
They have forgotten the LORD their God.

22 Return, apostate children!
I will heal your apostasy."

"See! we come to thee;
For thou art the LORD our God.

23 Truly in vain is the clamor from the hills,
The tumult on the mountains;
Truly on the LORD our God
Rests the safety of Israel.

24 From our youth has the shameful thing devoured the fruits of our fathers' toil,
Their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters;
25 So let us lie down in our shame, and let our dishonor enfold us,
For against the LORD our God have we sinned, both we and our fathers,

From our youth even till now,
And we have not listened to the voice
Of the LORD our God."

4 "If you return, O Israel," is the oracle of the LORD,
"Return to me;
If you put your detestable things out of my sight,
And waver not;

- 2 If you swear, 'As the LORD lives,' in truth,
 In honesty, and in uprightness;
 Then shall the nations bless themselves in him,
 And in him shall they glory."
- 3 Thus says the LORD to the men of Judah and to the citizens of Jerusalem:

- "Break up your fallow ground,
 And sow not among thorns;
 4 Circumcise yourselves to the LORD,
 And remove the foreskin of your heart,
 You men of Judah and citizens of Jerusalem;
 Lest my fury break out like fire,
 And burn with none to quench it,
 Because of your evil deeds."

THE FOE FROM THE NORTH, 4:5—6:26

- 5 Declare in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem, saying,
 "Blow the trumpet through the land,
 Proclaim aloud, saying,
 'Gather and let us go
 To the fortified cities!'
 6 Raise a signal toward Zion,
 Seek refuge, stay not;
 For trouble I bring from the north,
 Even dire destruction.
 7 A lion has gone up from his thicket,
 A destroyer of nations—
 He has broken loose from his place,
 To make your land a desolation,
 That your cities may be ravaged,
 And left without inhabitant.
 8 Gird on sackcloth for this,
 Lament, and wail;
 For the glowing anger of the LORD
 Has not turned back from us."
- 9 "On that day," is the oracle of the LORD, "the courage of the king and the princes shall fail, the priests shall stand aghast, and the proph-10 ets shall be dazed with horror. They shall say, 'Ah, Lord God!

thou hast certainly deceived this people, and Jerusalem, saying, "All shall be well with you," when the sword was reaching the heart.'

11 "At that time shall it be said of this people, and of Jerusalem, 'A 12 scorching wind from the desert heights—no wind to fan or cleanse, but one too full for this—comes at my command against the daughter of my people; for now I too pronounce judgment against them.' "

13 See! he comes up like a cloud,
His chariots like a whirlwind;
His horses are swifter than eagles—
Ah me! we are ruined.

14 O Jerusalem! wash your heart of wickedness,
That you may be saved!
How long shall your evil thoughts
Find a lodgment within you?

15 For hark! a messenger from Dan,
A bearer of bad news from Mount Ephraim!

16 Make it known through the nations,
Announce it to Jerusalem:
"Leopards are coming from a distant land,
They lift up their voice against the cities of Judah;
17 Like keepers of a field, they ring her about,
For she has rebelled against me," is the oracle of the LORD.
18 "Your ways and your doings have brought this upon you,
This is the fruit of your wickedness—
It is bitter, it reaches the heart."

19 O my bowels, my bowels! I writhe in anguish!
O the walls of my heart!
My heart beats wildly within me—
I cannot keep silent!
For I hear the sound of the trumpet,
The alarm of war.

20 Crash follows crash,
For the whole land is ruined;
In a moment my tents are ruined,
In an instant my curtains.

21 How long must I see the signal,
Hear the sound of the trumpet?

- 22 "It is because my people are stupid,
And know me not;
They are sottish children,
And have no understanding;
They have skill to do evil,
But know not how to do good."
- 23 I looked at the earth, and lo! it was chaos;
At the heavens, and their light was gone.
- 24 I looked at the mountains, and lo! they were quaking;
And all the hills swayed to and fro.
- 25 I looked, and lo! there was no man,
And all the birds of the air had flown.
- 26 I looked, and lo! the garden land was desert,
And all its cities were ravaged before the LORD,
Before his glowing anger.
- 27 For thus says the LORD:
"The whole land shall be a desolation,
Though I make not a full end.
- 28 For this shall the earth mourn,
And the heavens above put on black;
Because I have spoken, and will not retract,
I have purposed, and will not turn back."
- 29 At the rumor of horsemen and archers
The whole land is in flight;
They crawl into caves, they huddle in thickets,
They scale the crags;
Every city is forsaken,
And no man dwells in them.
- 30 And you, O ruined one, what mean you by dressing in scarlet,
And decking yourself with ornaments of gold,
And enlarging your eyes with paint?
In vain do you beautify yourself!
Your lovers scorn you—
They seek your life.
- 31 Hark! I hear a cry as of a woman in travail,
A cry of distress as of one who brings forth
her first-born child.

It is the cry of the daughter of Zion, as she gasps for breath,
 And spreads out her hands,
 Saying, "Oh, help me! for I faint away
 Before the slaughterers."

5 Range through the streets of Jerusalem,
 Look and see!
 Search her squares,
 If you can find a man,
 One who does justice, and aims at honesty—
 That I may pardon her!
 2 Even though they say, "As the LORD lives,"
 Yet they swear falsely.
 3 O LORD, are not thine eyes set upon the truth?
 Thou didst smite them, but they smarted not;
 Thou didst consume them, but they would not take warning;
 They made their faces harder than rock,
 They would not return.

4 I said, "These are only the poor folk,
 Who are without sense;
 For they know not the way of the LORD,
 The rights of their God.
 5 I will go to the great ones,
 And will speak with them;
 For they know the way of the LORD,
 The rights of their God."
 But they too had broken the yoke,
 Had burst the bonds.

6 Therefore a lion from the forest will slay them,
 A wolf from the desert will make havoc of them;
 A leopard will prowl round their cities,
 So that all who go out of them will be torn in pieces;
 Because their transgressions are many,
 Their apostasies are innumerable.

7 "How can I pardon you?" is the oracle of the LORD;
 "For your children have forsaken me, and have sworn by them that are no gods.
 When I fed them to the full, they committed adultery,
 And trooped to the houses of harlots.

- 8 They are pampered horses, lusty stallions,
Neighing each for his neighbor's wife.
- 9 For these things shall I not punish them?" is the oracle of the
LORD;
"And on a nation such as this shall I not take vengeance?"
- 10 "Go up through her vine-rows, and ravage,
And make a full end;
Lop off her tendrils,
For they are not the LORD's.
- 11 For the household of Israel and the household of Judah have played the traitor to me,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 12 "They have belied the LORD,
Saying, 'Not he!
No harm shall befall us,
No sword nor famine shall we see;
- 13 The prophets are mere wind,
And the word is not in them;
As they have spoken to us,
So let it be done to them!'"
- 14 Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts:
"Because you have spoken this word,
Behold! I am making my words in your mouth a fire,
And am making this people wood, and the fire shall devour
them.
- 15 Behold! I am bringing upon you a nation from a far,
O household of Israel," is the oracle of the LORD—
"An ancient nation,
A very ancient nation,
A nation whose language you know not,
Whose speech you understand not.
- 16 Their quiver is like an open grave,
They are all men of war;
- 17 They shall eat up your harvest and your food,
They shall eat up your sons and your daughters;
They shall eat up your flocks and your herds,
They shall eat up your vines and your fig trees;

They shall batter down with the sword
Your fortified cities in which you trust."

18 "But even in those days," is the oracle of the LORD, "I will not 19 make a full end of you. And when men ask, 'Why is it that the LORD our God has done all these things to us?' you shall say to them,
'Thus says the LORD: As you have forsaken me, and served alien gods in your land, so shall you serve aliens in a land that is not yours.' "

20 Proclaim this in the household of Jacob,
And publish it in Judah:

21 "Hear this, O foolish and senseless people,
Who have eyes, but see not,
Ears, but hear not!

22 "Do you not revere me?" is the oracle of the LORD,
"Do you not tremble before me?

I set the sand as a bound for the sea,
As an everlasting barrier, which it may not pass over—

Its waves may toss, but they cannot prevail,

Its billows may roar, but they cannot pass over—

23 Yet this people has a restive and rebellious mind,
They have swerved and gone off.

24 Nor do they say to themselves,

'Let us reverence the LORD our God,

Who gives us both autumn and spring rain in its season,

And keeps for us the weeks appointed for harvest!'

25 Your crimes have upset this order,

And your sins have withheld the blessing from you.

26 For knaves are found among my people,

Who lie in wait as fowlers do,

And set a trap to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds,

Their houses are full of fraud;

So they become great and rich,

28 They grow fat and sleek.

They pass all bounds in wickedness,

They uphold not the cause of the orphan, to carry it to success,

And the rights of the needy they do not defend.

- 29 For these things shall I not punish them?" is the oracle of the
LORD;
"And on a nation such as this shall I not take vengeance?"
- 30 An awful and appalling thing has happened in the land:
31 The prophets prophesy by false gods,
And the priests make profit through them;
My people love to have it so,
But what will you do when the end comes?
- 5 Flee for safety, O sons of Benjamin,
From the midst of Jerusalem!
In Tekoa blow the trumpet,
And on Beth-haccherem raise a signal!
For trouble is looming from the north,
Even dire destruction.
- 2 O the fair and luxuriant height
Of the daughter of Zion!
3 Against her shepherds will come,
They and their flocks;
They will pitch their tents around her,
And pasture each his plot.
- 4 "Prepare you war against her;
Up! let us storm her at noon!"
"Ah me! the day declines,
The shadows of evening lengthen."
5 "Up! let us storm her by night,
And destroy her palaces!"
- 6 For thus says the LORD of hosts:
"Hew down trees,
And cast up a siege-mound against Jerusalem!
For she is a city of falsehood,
In whose midst there is nought but oppression.
- 7 As a fountain wells up its water,
So she wells up her wickedness.
Sounds of violence and robbery are heard in her,
Sickness and wounds are ever before me.
- 8 Take warning, O Jerusalem,
Lest I be alienated from you,

And make you a desolation,
An uninhabited land."

9 Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"Glean out as a vine

The remnant of Israel;

Pass your hand, like a grape-gatherer,

Over its tendrils!"

10 But to whom shall I speak and give warning,

That they may hear?

See! their ears are sealed,

And they cannot give heed;

See! the word of the LORD has become to them scorn,

They find no pleasure in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD,

I am weary of holding it in.

"Pour it out on the children in the street,

And on the gatherings of young men also;

Both husband and wife shall be taken,

The old and the full-aged.

12 Their homes shall be turned over to others,

Their fields and their vineyards also;

For I will stretch out my hand against the inhabitants of the land,"

Is the oracle of the LORD;

13 "Because from the least to the greatest of them

Each one traffics in ill-gotten gain;

And from prophet to priest

Each one deals in falsehood.

14 The wound of the daughter of my people

They lightly heal,

Saying, 'All is well, all is well,'

When nought is well.

15 Were they ashamed when they did their vile deeds?

They were not at all ashamed, they knew not how to blush.

Therefore they shall fall among those who fall,

They shall stumble in the hour when I punish them,"

Says the LORD.

16 Thus says the LORD:

“Stand by the ways, and look,
And ask for the ancient paths—
Where is the good way, and walk in it;
And you shall find rest for yourselves.
But they said, ‘We will not walk in it!’

17 So I set watchmen over them, saying,
‘Give heed to the sound of the trumpet!’
But they said, ‘We will not give heed!’

18 Therefore hear, O heavens, and learn well
What shall befall them!

19 Hear, O earth; for behold! I am bringing trouble upon this people,

The fruit of their own devices,
Because they have not given heed to my words,
And have spurned my instruction.

20 What care I for the frankincense that comes from Sheba,
Or the sweet cane from a distant land?
Your burnt-offerings are not acceptable to me,
And your sacrifices bring me no pleasure.

21 Therefore thus says the LORD:
‘Behold! I am laying stumblingblocks before this people,
And they shall stumble against them, fathers and sons together,
And shall perish, both neighbor and friend.’ ”

22 Thus says the LORD:

“Behold! a people is coming from the north-land,
A mighty nation is stirring from the ends of the earth;
23 They lay hold on bow and javelin,
They are cruel and pitiless;
The sound of them is like that of the sea when it roars,
And they ride upon horses—
Arrayed as a man for the battle
Against you, O daughter of Zion!”

24 We have heard the report of them,
And our hands fall helpless;
Anguish lays hold on us,
Pain like that of a woman in travail.

- 25 Go not out to the fields,
 Nor walk on the way!
 For there is the sword of the enemy,
 Terror all around.
- 26 O daughter of my people, gird on sackcloth,
 And wallow in ashes;
 Take up mourning, as for an only son,
 Wailing most bitter!
 For suddenly will come
 The spoiler upon us.

THE PROPHET AS ASSAYER, 6:27—30

- 27 “I have made you an assayer and tester among my people,
 That you may prove and assay their ways.
- 28 For they are all of them hardened rebels,
 Dealers in slander;
 29 They are all of them bronze and iron,
 Wholly corrupt.
- 29 The bellows are scorched with the fire,
 The lead is consumed;
 But in vain does the smelter keep on smelting—
 The dross is not drawn out.
- 30 ‘Refuse silver,’ are they called,
 For the LORD has refused them.”

INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING THE TEMPLE ADDRESS, 7:1—8:13

- 7 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD:
- 2 “Stand in the court of the house of the LORD, and there proclaim this message: ‘Hear the word of the LORD, all you men of Judah, who 3 enter by these gates to worship the LORD! Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Amend your ways and your doings, that I 4 may establish your home in this place. Trust not in deceptive words, such as ‘The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple
 5 of the LORD is this!’ For only if you amend your ways and your 6 doings—if you practice strict justice one toward another, if you keep from oppressing the resident alien, the orphan, and the widow, from shedding innocent blood in this place, and from following other gods 7 to your own hurt—will I establish your home in this place, in the 8 land which I gave to your fathers for all time. But, as it is, you

9 trust in deceitful words, that are of no avail. What? Steal, murder, and commit adultery, swear falsely, offer sacrifices to Baal, and follow other gods, whom you do not know, and then come and stand before me in this house which bears my name, and say, 'We are safe'—
10 in order, forsooth, that you may practice all these abominations! Has this house which bears my name become a robbers' cave in your eyes?
11 I have my own thoughts about it," is the oracle of the LORD. "Go, then, to my sanctuary that was at Shiloh, where I formerly established my name, and see what I did to it because of the wickedness of my people Israel! So now, because you have done all these deeds," is the oracle of the LORD, "and I spoke to you early and late, but you would not
12 listen, and I called you, but you would not answer, I will do to this house which bears my name, in which you trust, and to the place which 13 I gave to you and your fathers, as I did to Shiloh; and I will cast you out of my sight, as I cast out all your kinsmen, even the whole race of Ephraim." ' ' "

14 "As for you, intercede not for this people, nor lift up cry nor prayer on their behalf, nor plead with me, for I will not listen to you. Do you not see what they are doing in the cities of Judah and in the streets
15 of Jerusalem? The children are gathering wood, and the fathers are kindling fires, and the women are kneading dough, to make cakes for the queen of the heavens; and they are pouring libations to other gods,
16 in order to vex me. But is it me they are vexing?" is the oracle of the LORD. "Is it not their own selves, bringing a blush on their own
17 faces?" Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "My anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place—upon man and beast, upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruits of the ground—and it shall burn with an unquenchable fire."

18 Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:

"Add your burnt-offerings to your sacrifices, and eat the flesh of 19 them! For on the day that I brought your fathers out of the land of Egypt, I did not speak to them, nor give them any command, regarding burnt-offering or sacrifice; but this one command I gave them,
20 'Listen to my voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be my people; and walk consistently in the way that I command you, that 21 you may prosper!' Yet they neither listened nor bent their ears to me, but followed the stubborn promptings of their own evil minds, and 22 went backward instead of forward. And though I sent all my servants the prophets, early and late, from the day that your fathers came out

26 of the land of Egypt even to this day, they neither listened nor bent their ears to me, but stiffened their necks, and behaved worse than 27 their fathers. Even though you speak all these words to them, they will not listen to you; though you call to them, they will not answer 28 you. Therefore you shall say to them:

‘This is the nation that would not listen
 To the voice of the LORD its God,
 The nation that took no warning,
 And from whose mouth honesty has clean gone.

29 Shear off your locks, and cast them away,
 Raise a dirge on the bare heights;
 For the LORD has spurned and cast off
 The race that has roused him to wrath.’

30 “For the children of Judah have done what is evil in my sight,” is the oracle of the LORD; “they have set up their detestable things in the 31 house which bears my name, to defile it, and have built the high place of Topheth, in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire—a thing which I never commanded, and 32 which never entered my mind. Therefore, behold! days are coming,” is the oracle of the LORD, “when Topheth shall no longer be called ‘The valley of the son of Hinnom,’ but ‘The valley of Slaughter,’ for 33 they shall bury in Topheth till there is no more room; and the dead bodies of this people shall be food for the birds of the air and the beasts 34 of the field, with none to scare them away; and I will banish from the cities of Judah and from the streets of Jerusalem the sound of mirth and the sound of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of 8 the bride, for the land shall become a desolation. At that time,” is the oracle of the LORD, “the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of its princes, the bones of the priests, the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the citizens of Jerusalem, shall be taken out of their 2 graves and spread before the sun, the moon, and all the host of the heavens, which they loved and served, followed, consulted, and worshipped; they shall not be gathered nor buried, but shall be left as 3 dung upon the face of the ground. And death shall be preferable to life for all the remnant that is left of this evil race, in all the places to which I have driven them,” is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.

4 “You shall also say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD:

“If a man fall, does he not rise?
 If he turn, does he not return?”

- 5 Why, then, has this people of mine fallen into a perpetual apostasy?
They cling to deceit, they will not return!
- 6 I have given heed and listened, but none speaks the truth,
None repents of his wickedness, saying, 'What have I done?'
Each runs his own wayward course,
Like a horse plunging headlong in battle.
- 7 Even the stork in the heavens knows her seasons,
The turtle-dove, swift, and swallow keep the time of their coming;
But my people know not the ordinance of the LORD.
- 8 How can you say, 'We are wise,
And the law of the LORD is with us'?
When lo! the lying pen of the scribes
Has turned it into a lie!
- 9 So the wise shall be put to the blush,
They shall be dumbfounded and taken;
For lo! they have spurned the word of the LORD—
And what wisdom, then, have they?
- 10 I will give their wives to others,
Their fields to the conquerors;
Because from the least to the greatest of them
Each one traffics in ill-gotten gain;
From prophet to priest
Each one deals in falsehood.
- 11 The wound of the daughter of my people
They lightly heal,
Saying, 'All is well, all is well,'
When nought is well.
- 12 Were they ashamed when they did their vile deeds?
They were not at all ashamed, they knew not how to blush.
Therefore they shall fall among those who fall,
They shall stumble in the hour when I punish them,"'
Says the LORD.
- 13 "If I seek to gather a harvest of them,"
Is the oracle of the LORD,
"There is not a grape on the vine,
Nor a fig on the fig tree,
Even the leaves are withered—
All that I gave them is gone from them."

THE PEOPLE'S DESPAIR, 8:14—17

- 14 Why are we sitting still?
 Gather and let us go to the fortified cities,
 And there let us meet our doom!
 For the LORD our God has doomed us to death,
 And has given us poisoned water to drink;
 Because we have sinned against the LORD.
- 15 We looked for prosperity, but no good has come,
 For a time of healing, but lo! disaster.
- 16 "From Dan is heard the snorting of their horses,
 At the neighing of their stallions the whole land quakes.
 They come and devour the land and its produce,
 The city and its inhabitants.
- 17 For behold! I am sending among you serpents, Adders which cannot be charmed,
 And they shall bite you,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD.

THE PROPHET'S INCONSOLABLE GRIEF, 8:18—9:16

- 18 My pain is incurable,
 My heart is sick within me.
- 19 Hark! the cry of the daughter of my people
 Far and wide through the land:
 "Is not the LORD in Zion?
 Is not her King in her?"
 "Yes! but why have they vexed me with their images,
 With their foreign futilities?"
- 20 "The harvest is past, the summer is over,
 And we are not saved."
- 21 For the wound of the daughter of my people I am wounded with grief,
 I walk in mourning, horror has seized me.
- 22 Is there no balm in Gilead?
 Is there no physician there?
 Why, then, is there no recovery
 For the health of the daughter of my people?
- 9 Oh that my head were waters,
 And my eyes a fountain of tears,

- That I might weep day and night
For the slain of the daughter of my people!
- 2 Oh that I had in the desert
A traveller's inn,
That I might leave my people,
And be quit of them!
For they are all adulterers,
A company of traitors.
- 3 They stretch their tongue
Like a treacherous bow;
Through falsehood, and not through truth,
They go on from crime to crime,
They win power in the land.
"And me they know not," is the oracle of the LORD.
- 4 Be on guard each one against his neighbor,
And let no one trust his brother!
For each brother is a sheer supplanter,
And each neighbor is a slanderer.
- 5 They cheat each one his neighbor,
And no one speaks the truth.
They have trained their tongue to speak lies,
They do wrong till they are weary.
- 6 They heap violence on violence, fraud on fraud,
"And me they refuse to know," is the oracle of the LORD.
- 7 Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts:
"Behold! I will smelt them, and test them,
For what else can I do—
In face of the wickedness of the daughter of my people?"
- 8 Their tongue is a deadly arrow,
It speaks deceit;
With his mouth one speaks fair to his neighbor,
But in his mind he lays a trap for him.
- 9 For these things shall I not punish them?" is the oracle of the
LORD;
"On a nation such as this shall I not take vengeance?"
- 10 "Over the mountains raise weeping and wailing,
Over the pastures of the steppe a dirge!

- Because they are laid waste, so that none passes through,
 And none hears the lowing of cattle.
 Both birds of the air and beasts have fled and gone.
- 11 I will make Jerusalem a heap of ruins,
 A lair of jackals;
 And the cities of Judah will I make a desolation,
 Without an inhabitant.
- 12 Who is the wise man, that he may understand this?
 And who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD has spoken,
 That he may tell it?
 Why is the land ruined and laid waste like a desert,
 So that none passes through?"
- 13 The LORD says:
 "It is because they have forsaken my law, which I set before them,
 And have not listened to my voice, nor walked by it;
 14 But have followed the promptings of their own stubborn minds,
 And have gone after the Baals, which their fathers taught them to worship."
- 15 Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:
 "Behold! I will feed them with wormwood,
 And will give them poisoned water to drink;
 16 And I will scatter them among the nations,
 Whom neither they nor their fathers have known;
 And after them will I send the sword,
 Until I have consumed them."

THE DIRGE OF DEATH, 9:17-26

- 17 Thus says the LORD of hosts:
 "Consider and call for the mourning women, that they may come,
 And send for the skilful women, that they may make haste,
 18 And raise a lament over us,
 Till our eyes run down with tears,
 And our eyelids gush with water!
 19 For hark! a wail is heard from Zion:
 'Ah! how we are ruined!
 We are covered with shame, because we have had to leave our land,
 To give up our dwellings.'

20 "Hear, you women, the word of the LORD,
Let your ears receive the word of his mouth;
And teach your daughters a lamentation,
Each one her neighbor a dirge:
21 'Death has climbed through our windows,
Has entered our halls,
Cutting off the children from the streets,
The young men from the squares;
22 And the dead bodies of men shall fall
Like dung on the open field,
Like sheaves behind the reaper,
With none to gather them.' "

23 Thus says the LORD:
"Let not the wise man boast of his wisdom,
Nor the strong man boast of his strength,
Nor the rich man boast of his riches!
24 But if one must boast, let him boast of this,
That he understands and knows me—
How I, the LORD, am he who practices kindness,
Justice, and righteousness on the earth;
For in these things I delight," is the oracle of the LORD.

25 "Behold! days are coming," is the oracle of the LORD, "when I
26 will punish all who are uncircumcised in any way, Egypt and Edom, Ammon and Moab, together with all the desert peoples who have the corners of their hair clipped, for all these nations are uncircumcised in the flesh, while all the household of Israel is uncircumcised in heart."

THE FOLLY OF IDOLATRY, 10:1-16

10 Hear the word which the LORD has spoken against you, O household
2 of Israel! Thus says the LORD:
"Follow not the way of the nations,
Nor be dismayed at the signs of the heavens,
When the nations are dismayed at them!
3 For the cults of the peoples are a futility—
They are but a stock which one cuts from the forest,
Which the carpenter's hands have wrought with the axe.
4 Men deck it with silver and gold,
Fasten it with hammer and nails,

And set it up, so that it cannot move.

5 They stand like scarecrows in a garden of cucumbers, and cannot speak;

They have to be carried, for they cannot walk.

Be not afraid of them! for they cannot do harm,

And also to do good is not in their power.”

6 There is none like thee, O LORD!

Thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 Who would not reverence thee, O King of the nations?

For this is thy due, and there is none like thee

Among all the wise ones of the nations, and among all their royalties.

8 They are altogether stupid and senseless,

The core of their idols is but a stock,

9 Overlaid with beaten silver brought from Tarshish

And gold from Ophir,

The work of the carpenter and the goldsmith,

While their clothing is violet and purple,

All of it the work of skilled men.

11 [Thus shall you say of them: “The gods that did not make the heavens and the earth shall vanish from the earth and from under the heavens!”].

10 But the Lord God is the true God,

He is the living God, the everlasting King;

At his wrath the earth quakes,

And his fury no nation can bear.

12 It is he who made the earth by his power,

Who established the world by his wisdom,

And stretched out the heavens by his skill.

13 When he thunders, there is a storm of waters in the heavens,

And he causes vapors to rise from the ends of the earth;

He makes lightnings for the rain,

And brings out the wind from his storehouses.

14 Every man is stupid and senseless,

Every goldsmith is put to shame through his images;

For his idols are frauds, which have no breath in them,

15 They are a mockery, a futility,

Which will break down in their time of trial.

16 Not such is the Portion of Jacob,

But he is the framer of all things,
And Israel is the tribe of his inheritance—
The LORD of hosts is his name.

THE APPROACHING DOOM, 10:17-25

- 17 Pick up your baggage from the land,
You who sit under siege!
- 18 For thus says the LORD:
"Behold! I am slinging out the inhabitants of the land
At a single shot;
And will put them to sore distress,
So that they may pay for their guilt."
- 19 Ah me! how hurt I am!
How sore is my wound!
While I thought, "This is only a sickness,
Which I can bear."
- 20 My tent is despoiled, and all my cords are snapped;
My children have gone from me, and are no more;
There is none to spread my tent again,
To set up my curtains.
- 21 For the shepherds are stupid,
And consult not the LORD;
Therefore they have had no success,
And their flock is all scattered.
- 22 Hark! a rumor! See! it comes!
A great commotion out of the north-land!
To make the cities of Judah a desolation,
A lair of jackals.
- 23 I know, O LORD, that man's way is not his own,
That it is not in man's power as he walks to control his steps
- 24 Correct me, O LORD, but in just measure,
Not in thy wrath, lest thou bring me to nothing.
- 25 Pour out thy wrath on the nations that know thee not,
On the families that invoke not thy name;
For they have devoured Jacob, and have consumed him,
And they have laid waste his homestead.

THE PREACHING OF THE COVENANT, 11:1-17

11 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD:

2 "Hear the words of this covenant, and declare them to the men of 3 Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem, saying to them, 'Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Cursed be the man who hears not the words
4 of this covenant, which I enjoined upon your fathers on the day that I brought them out of that iron furnace, the land of Egypt, saying,
'Listen to my voice, and do just as I command you! So shall you 5 be my people, and I will be your God,' in confirmation of the oath which I swore to your fathers, when I promised to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as you have it this day.'"

I answered, saying,

"Yes, indeed, O LORD!"

6 And the LORD said to me,

"Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah and in the streets 7 of Jerusalem, saying, 'Hear the words of this covenant, and obey them! For I earnestly appealed to your fathers on the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, and have appealed to them 8 early and late, even to this day, saying, "Listen to my voice!" Yet they neither listened nor bent their ears, but followed each one the stubborn promptings of his own evil mind; so I brought upon them all the threats contained in this covenant which I commanded them to observe, but which they did not observe.'"

9 The LORD further said to me,

"There is open treason among the men of Judah and the citizens of 10 Jerusalem. They have returned to the sins of their forefathers, who refused to hear my words; and they have gone after other gods, to serve them. Both the household of Israel and the household of Judah 11 have broken the covenant which I made with their fathers. Therefore thus says the LORD: 'Behold! I am bringing upon them a disaster 12 which they shall not be able to escape. They may cry to me, but I will not listen to them; the townsmen of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem may likewise go and cry to the gods to whom they offer sac-13 rifice, but they shall be utterly powerless to help them in their time of trouble. For as many in number as your cities are your gods, O Judah; and as many in number as the streets of Jerusalem are the altars which you have set up to the shameful thing—altars to offer sacrifices to 14 the Baal.' And as for you, intercede not for this people, nor lift up cry nor prayer on their behalf; for I will not listen when they call to me in their time of trouble."

- 15 "What right has my loved one in my house,
When she has done such vile deeds?
Can vows and holy flesh avert your doom from you,
Or through these things can you escape?
- 16 The LORD called you a green olive tree,
Fair in appearance;
But to the roar of a mighty hurricane he has set fire to it,
And its branches are burned."
- 17 "For the LORD of hosts, who planted you, has pronounced evil against you, because of the evil by which the household of Israel and the household of Judah have vexed me—offering sacrifice to the Baal!"

A PLOT AGAINST JEREMIAH, 11:18-23

- 18 The LORD informed me, and I knew—
I saw what they were doing.
- 19 But I had been like an innocent lamb
That is led to the slaughter;
I knew not that they had plotted against me, saying,
"Let us destroy the tree with its sap,
Let us cut him off from the land of the living,
That his name may be remembered no more!"
- 20 O LORD of hosts, thou who judgest righteously,
Who testest the heart and the conscience,
Let me see thy vengeance upon them,
For to thee have I confided my cause!
- 21 Therefore thus says the LORD regarding the men of Anathoth who seek your life, saying, "You shall not prophesy in the name of the LORD, lest you die by our hands!"—thus says the LORD of hosts:
- 22 "Behold! I will punish them;
Their young warriors shall die by the sword,
And their sons and their daughters shall die by famine.
- 23 No remnant shall be left to them,
For I will bring trouble upon the men of Anathoth,
Even their year of reckoning."

THE PROPHET'S EXPOSTULATION, AND THE LORD'S REPLY, 12:1-6

- 12 Thou must be in the right, O LORD,
 If I take issue with thee;
 Yet would I lay my case before thee:
 Why does the way of the wicked prosper?
 Why do all the faithless live in comfort?
- 2 Thou plantest them, and they take root;
 They grow, and they bring forth fruit;
 Near art thou in their mouths,
 But far from their thoughts.
- 3 Yet thou, O LORD, knowest me,
 Thou seest me, and testest my mind toward thee.
 Pull them out like sheep for the shambles,
 And devote them to the day of slaughter!
- 4 How long must the land mourn,
 And all the herbs of the field wither?
 Through the wickedness of those who dwell in it
 Beast and bird are swept away;
 For they say, "God is blind to our ways."
- 5 "If you have raced with men on foot, and they have beaten you,
 How will you compete with horses?
 And if you take to flight in a safe land,
 How will you do in the jungle of Jordan?"
- 6 For even your brothers, those of your father's household—
 Even they have played you false,
 Even they are in full cry after you;
 Trust them not, though they speak fair words to you!"

THE DESOLATION OF JUDAH, 12:7-13

- 7 "I have forsaken my house,
 Have abandoned my heritage;
 I have given over my loved one
 To the hand of her enemies.
- 8 My heritage has become to me
 Like a lion in the forest;
 She has lifted up her voice against me—
 Therefore I hate her.
- 9 My heritage has become to me like a speckled vulture,
 With vultures circling against her;

- Go, gather all beasts of the field,
 Bring them to devour!
- 10 Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard,
 Have trampled down my portion;
 They have made my pleasant lot
 A desolate waste.
- 11 They have made it a desolation,
 In its desolation it mourns to me;
 The whole land is made desolate,
 Yet no man lays it to heart.
- 12 Over all the bare heights in the desert
 Spoilers have come;
 For the sword of the LORD has devoured
 From end to end of the land—
 So that no flesh is safe.
- 13 They have sown wheat, and have reaped thorns;
 They have worn themselves out, but gained no profit;
 They are disappointed of their harvests
 Because of the glowing anger of the LORD.”

WARNING AND HOPE FOR THE NEIGHBORS OF JUDAH, 12:14—17

- 14 Thus says the LORD concerning all my bad neighbors, who encroach upon the heritage which I gave to my people Israel:
 “Behold! I am plucking them up from their land, and will pluck 15 up from their midst the household of Judah. But after I have plucked them up, I will once more have pity upon them, and will restore them 16 each to his own heritage, and each to his own land. And if they learn the ways of my people—to swear by my name, ‘As the LORD lives!’— as thoroughly as they taught my people to swear by the Baal, they shall 17 be built up in the midst of my people. But if any nation will not listen, I will pluck it clean up,” is the oracle of the LORD.

PARABLE OF THE WAISTCLOTH, 13:1—11

- 13 The LORD spoke to me as follows:
 “Go and buy a linen waistcloth, and put it on your loins, without passing it through water.”
- 2 So I bought the waistcloth, in accordance with the word of the LORD, and put it on my loins.
- 3 And the word of the LORD came to me a second time, saying,

- 4 "Take the waistcloth which you bought, which is on your loins, and arise! go to the Euphrates, and hide it there in a crevice of the rock."
 5 So I went and hid it by the Euphrates, as the LORD had bidden me.
 6 After a number of days the LORD said to me,
 "Arise! Go to the Euphrates, and bring thence the waistcloth which I bade you hide there."
 7 So I went to the Euphrates, and dug, and got the waistcloth from the place where I had hidden it. And lo! the waistcloth was ruined, and good for nothing.
 8 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 9 "Thus says the LORD: So will I ruin the swollen pride of Judah 10 and Jerusalem. This evil people, who will not hear my words, but follow the stubborn promptings of their own minds, and walk after other gods, to serve and worship them, shall be like this waistcloth, 11 which is good for nothing. For, as a waistcloth clings to the loins of a man, so did I make the whole household of Israel and the whole household of Judah cling to me," is the oracle of the LORD, "that they might become for me a people of honor and praise and glory; but they did not listen."

PARABLE OF THE JARS, 13:12-14

- 12 "Speak this word to them:
 "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'Every jar should be filled with wine.' And if they say to you, 'Do we not know quite well that 13 every jar should be filled with wine?' you shall say to them: 'Thus says the LORD, Behold! I am filling with drunkenness all the inhabitants of this land—the kings who sit on David's throne, the priests, 14 the prophets, and all the citizens of Jerusalem—and I will dash them against each other, fathers and sons together,' is the oracle of the LORD. 'No pity, nor mercy, nor compassion, shall prevent me from destroying them.'"

A SOLEMN WARNING, 13:15-17

- 15 Hear, and give ear! be not haughty;
 For the LORD has spoken.
 16 Give glory to the LORD your God,
 Before it grow dark,
 Before your feet stumble
 On the twilight mountains—

And while you look for light, he turn it to gloom,
He make it thick darkness.

- 17 But if you will not listen,
I must weep in secret because of your pride;
My eyes must weep much, they must run down with tears,
Because the flock of the LORD has been taken captive.

LAMENT FOR THE KING AND THE QUEEN-MOTHER, 13:18-19

- 18 Say to the king and the queen-mother:
"Sit in the depths!
For down from your head has come
Your beautiful crown."
19 The cities of the south are closed up,
With none to open them;
All Judah is swept into exile,
Swept wholly into exile.

LAMENT FOR JERUSALEM, 13:20-27

- 20 "Lift up your eyes, and see—
How they come from the north!
Where is the flock that was given you,
Your beautiful flock?
21 What will you say when they set
As heads over you
Those whom you yourself have trained
To be friends to you?
Will not pangs lay hold on you,
Like those of a woman in travail?
22 And if you say to yourself,
'Why have these things befallen me?'
It is for your many sins that your skirts are stripped off,
That your person is outraged.
23 Can the Ethiopian change his skin,
Or the leopard his spots?
Then may you also do good,
Who are trained to do evil.
24 I will scatter you like drifting stubble
Before the wind of the desert.
25 This is your lot, your portion assigned by me,"
Is the oracle of the LORD;

"Because you have forgotten me,
 And have trusted in lies.
 26 I will draw your skirts over your face,
 And your shame shall be seen;
 27 For I have seen your adulteries,
 And your lustful neighings,
 Your lewd intrigues, and your infamous deeds,
 On the hills in the open field.
 Woe to you, O Jerusalem! how long will it be Till you are made clean?"

PROPHECIES ON THE DROUGHT, 14:1—15:9

14 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah in regard to the drought:
 2 "Judah mourns, and her gates languish;
 Men cower in black to the ground, and the cry of Jerusalem goes up.
 3 Her nobles send their menials for water;
 They come to the cisterns, they find no water—
 They return with their pitchers empty;
 Abashed and dejected, they cover their heads.
 4 The tillers of the soil are dismayed,
 Because there is no rain in the land;
 The plowmen are abashed, they cover their heads.
 5 Even the hind in the field calves and abandons her young,
 Because there is no grass;
 6 And the wild asses stand on the bare heights,
 They gasp for air like crocodiles, their eyes lose their luster,
 Because there is no green thing.
 7 "Though our sins bear witness against us,
 Act, O LORD, for thy name's sake!
 For many are our backslidings,
 Against thee have we sinned.
 8 O thou who art the hope of Israel,
 Its savior in time of trouble,
 Why shouldst thou be like a stranger in the land,
 Like a traveler who turns aside to lodge for a night?
 9 Why shouldst thou be like a man overcome by sleep,
 Like a warrior who is powerless to help?

Yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us,
And thy name we bear—abandon us not!”

10 Thus says the LORD of this people:

“So do they love to wander,
Their feet they restrain not;
And the LORD cannot accept them—
Now will he remember their guilt,
And punish their sins.”

11 The LORD said to me,

12 “Intercede not for the good of this people! Though they fast, I will not listen to their cry; and though they offer up burnt-offering and cereal-offering, I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence.”

13 Then said I,

“Ah, Lord GOD! the prophets keep saying to them, ‘You shall not see the sword, nor shall famine visit you; but assured peace will I give to you in this place.’”

14 And the LORD said to me,

“It is lies which the prophets prophesy in my name. I neither sent them, nor commissioned them, nor spoke to them. What they prophesy to you is a lying dream, an empty superstition, a deceptive invention of their own minds.”

15 Therefore thus says the LORD:

“As regards the prophets who prophesy in my name—though I did not send them—saying, ‘Sword and famine shall not visit this land,’
16 by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed, while the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem, victims of famine and sword, with none to bury them—themselves, their wives, their sons, and their daughters—for I will pour out upon 17 them the trouble which they deserve. And you shall speak this word to them:

‘Let my eyes run down with tears, and let them not cease
By day or by night!

For the virgin daughter of my people is smitten with a sore wound,

A deadly blow.

18 If I go out to the field, lo! those slain by the sword;
And if I enter the city, lo! the horrors of famine.

Both prophet and priest go begging through the land—
 They know not where.' ”

- 19 Hast thou utterly rejected Judah?
 Hast thou a loathing for Zion?
 Why, then, hast thou smitten us
 Beyond all healing?
 We looked for prosperity, but no good has come,
 For a time of healing, but lo! disaster.
- 20 We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the guilt of our fathers—
 How we have sinned against thee.
- 21 Yet spurn us not, for thy name's sake,
 Debase not thy glorious throne;
 Remember, and break not thy covenant with us!
- 22 Are there any among the futilities of the nations that can bring rain?
 Or can the heavens of themselves give showers?
 Is it not thou, O LORD our God, on whom we set our hope?
 For thou doest all these things.

- 15 Then the LORD said to me,
 “Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, I would show no favor toward this people. Send them out of my sight, and let them
 2 go! And if they ask you, ‘Where shall we go?’ you shall say to them,
 ‘Thus says the LORD:
 “Those who are destined for death, to death;
 And those who are destined for the sword, to the sword;
 And those who are destined for famine, to famine;
 And those who are destined for exile, to exile.” ’ ”
- 3 “I will set over them four kinds of fate,” is the oracle of the LORD:
 “the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, the birds of the air to devour,
 4 and the beasts of the earth to destroy. And I will make them a horror to all the kingdoms of the earth, because of what Manasseh, the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, did in Jerusalem.”
- 5 “Who, then, will pity you, O Jerusalem?
 Who will bemoan you?
 Who will go out of his way
 To give you greeting?

- 6 You have cast me off," is the oracle of the LORD,
 "You have gone ever backward;
 So I stretch out my hand to destroy you,
 For I am weary of relenting.
- 7 I will winnow you with a winnowing-fork
 In the gates of the land;
 I will make my people childless, I will destroy them,
 Because of their perverse ways.
- 8 I will make their widows more numerous
 Than the sand of the sea;
 I will bring on their mothers of young men
 The spoiler at noonday;
 I will cause to fall on them suddenly Terror and anguish.
- 9 The mother of seven shall languish
 And swoon away;
 Her sun shall set while yet it is daytime
 Through shame and confusion.
 And the rest of them will I give to the sword
 Before their enemies,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD.

THE PROPHET'S LONELINESS AND DESPONDENCY, 15:10—16:18,21

- 10 Ah me, my mother! that you bore me
 As a man of strife and a man of contention to all the earth!
 I have neither lent nor borrowed,
 Yet all of them curse me.
- 11 So be it, O LORD, if I have failed to entreat thee,
 Or to plead with thee for the good of my enemies,
 In their time of trouble and trial!
- 12 Have I an arm of iron,
 Or a brow of bronze?
- 13 [Your riches and all your treasures will I give for a spoil,
 As the price of your sin, through all your borders;
- 14 And I will make you serve your enemies
 In a land which you know not;
 For a fire is kindled in my wrath
 Which shall burn against you forever.]¹

¹ Vss. 13-14 are repeated, more fully, in their true context in 17:3-4.

- 15 Thou knowest, O LORD!
 Think of me, and visit me;
 Avenge me on my persecutors,
 Through thy forbearance put me not off.
 Know that for thy sake I have borne reproach
- 16 From those who despise thy words.
 As for me, thy word is my joy and delight;
 For I bear thy name, O LORD, God of hosts!
- 17 I sat not in the company of the sportive,
 Nor made merry with them;
 Under thy mighty power I sat alone,
 For thou didst fill me with indignation.
- 18 Why is my pain unceasing, my wound incurable,
 Refusing to be healed?
 Wilt thou really be to me like a treacherous brook,
 Like waters that are not sure?
- 19 Therefore thus says the LORD:
 “If you turn, I will restore you,
 And you shall stand in my presence;
 And if you bring forth what is precious, without anything base,
 You shall be my mouthpiece.
 They may turn to you,
 But you shall not turn to them.
- 20 And I will make you toward this people
 A fortified wall of bronze;
 They may fight against you,
 But they shall not overcome you;
 For I am with you to help you,
 And to deliver you,” is the oracle of the LORD.
- 21 “I will deliver you from the hand of the wicked,
 And will redeem you from the clutch of the cruel.”
- 16 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 “You shall not take a wife, nor have sons and daughters in this 3 place! For thus says the LORD regarding the sons and daughters that are born in this place, and regarding the mothers that bore them and the fathers that begot them in this land:
 4 ‘Of morbid deaths shall they die,
 And shall be neither lamented nor buried,

But shall lie like dung on the face of the ground.
They shall perish by sword and famine,
And their dead bodies shall be food
For the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth.' ”

5 Thus says the LORD:

“Do not enter the house of mourning, nor go to lament,
Nor bemoan them;
For I have withdrawn from this people my good will,
My kindness and pity,”
Is the oracle of the LORD.

6 “Both high and low shall die in this place,
And shall not be buried;

None shall lament for them, nor gash himself,
Nor make himself bald for them;

7 None shall break bread for the mourner,
To comfort him for the dead;
And none shall give him the cup of consolation to drink,
For his father or mother.

8 Nor shall you enter the house of feasting, to sit down with them,
To eat and to drink”;

9 For thus says the LORD of hosts,
The God of Israel:

“Behold! I am banishing from this place,
Before your eyes, and in your days,
The sound of mirth and the sound of gladness,
The voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride.

10 “And when you tell this people all these things, and they ask you, ‘Why has the LORD pronounced all this great evil upon us? And 11 what offense or sin have we committed against the LORD our God?’
you shall say to them, ‘Because your fathers forsook me,’ is the oracle of the LORD, ‘and followed other gods, and served and worshipped 12 them, while they forsook me, and did not obey my law; and because you have behaved worse than your fathers, following each one the 13 stubborn promptings of his own evil mind, without listening to me, therefore I will hurl you out of this land into a land which neither you nor your fathers have known, and there day and night shall you serve other gods, who will show you no favor.’ ”

14]“Therefore behold! days are coming,” is the oracle of the LORD,
 “when it shall no longer be said, ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up
 15 the children of Israel from the land of Egypt,’ but ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up the children of Israel from the north-land and from all the other lands to which I had driven them, and settled them on their own land, which I had given to their fathers.’”]¹

16 “Behold! I am sending for many fishers,” is the oracle of the
 LORD,

“And they shall fish for them;
 And afterwards I will send for many hunters,
 And they shall hunt them—
 Out of every mountain and every hill,
 Even from the crevices of the rocks.

17 For my eyes are upon all their ways,
 They are not concealed from me,
 Nor is their guilt wrapped up from my sight,
 18 And I will doubly repay their guilt and their sin,
 For with the lifeless bodies of their detestable things have they profaned my land,
 And with their abominations have they filled my sanctuary.
 21 Therefore behold! I will show them,
 Once for all will I show them,
 My power and my might—
 And they shall know that the LORD is my name.”

CONVERSION OF THE NATIONS, 16:19—20

19 “O LORD, my strength and my stronghold,
 My refuge in time of trouble,
 To thee shall the nations come
 From the ends of the earth, saying,
 ‘Our fathers inherited nought but lies,
 Vain superstitions, which are good for nothing;
 20 Can a man make gods for himself?
 But such are no gods!’ ”

SIN AND DOOM, 17:1—4

17 “The sin of Judah is written
 With an iron pen;

¹ Vss. 14—15 are repeated, with slight changes, in 23:7—8.

- It is engraved with the point of a diamond
 On the tablet of their heart;
 It appears on the horns of their altars,
 2 On their pillars and sacred poles,
 Under every green tree, and on every high hill,
 3 On the mountains in the open field.
 So your riches and all your treasures will I give for a spoil,
 As the price of your sin, through all your
 borders;
 4 I will make you loosen your grip of the heritage
 Which I have given you,
 And will make you serve your enemies
 In a land which you know not;
 For you have kindled my wrath to a fire
 Which shall burn forever."

TRUST IN MAN AND TRUST IN GOD, 17:5-8

- 5 Thus says the LORD:
 "Cursed is the man who trusts in man,
 And makes flesh his arm of strength,
 His mind being turned from the LORD!
 6 He shall be like a scrub in the desert,
 Unable to see the coming of good;
 He shall dwell in the scorched lands of the wilderness,
 In an uninhabited salt land.
 7 "Blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD,
 To whom the LORD is his confidence!
 8 He shall be like a tree planted by waters,
 That sends out its roots to the stream;
 And is not afraid when heat comes,
 For its leaves remain green;
 Nor is anxious in a year of drought,
 For it ceases not to bear fruit."

WORDS OF WISDOM, 17:9-18

- 9 The heart is treacherous above all things, and desperately sick—
 Who can understand it?
 10 "I the LORD am a searcher of the heart,
 A tester of the conscience;

That I may give to every man according to his ways,
According to the fruit of his doings."

- 11 Like a partridge hatching eggs which she has not laid,
Is the man who amasses wealth which he has not justly earned;
In the midst of his days he must leave it,
And at the end he will prove himself a fool.
- 12 A glorious throne, set on high from of old,
Is the site of our sanctuary.
- 13 O LORD, thou hope of Israel,
All who forsake thee shall be put to shame,
Those who prove faithless to thee in the land shall be brought to confusion,
Because they have forsaken the LORD,
The fountain of living water.
- 14 Heal me, O LORD, that I may be healed;
Save me, that I may be saved;
For thou art my praise.
- 15 Lo! they continue saying to me,
'Where is the word of the LORD?
Pray, let it come!'
- 16 Yet I never urged thee to bring trouble upon them,
Nor longed for the fatal day—
Thou knowest!
That which came out of my lips was open before thee.
- 17 Be not a terror to me,
Thou who art my refuge on the day of trouble!
- 18 Let them be put to shame that persecute me,
But let me not be put to shame;
Let them be confounded,
But let me not be confounded;
Bring upon them the day of trouble,
With double destruction destroy them!"

THE SANCTITY OF THE SABBATH, 17:19-27

- 19 Thus said the LORD to me:

"Go and stand at the Benjamin Gate, by which the kings of Judah pass in and out, and at all the other gates of Jerusalem, by which the

²⁰ children of your people pass in and out, and say to them: 'Hear the word of the LORD, you kings of Judah, and all you people of Judah
²¹ and citizens of Jerusalem, who enter by these gates! Thus says the LORD: As you value your lives, be careful to carry no load on the sabbath day. You shall bring no load through the gates of Jerusalem, ²² nor carry one out of your houses, on the sabbath day. And you shall do no work at all on it, but shall keep the sabbath day sacred, as I
²³ commanded your fathers, though they neither listened nor bent their
²⁴ ears, but stiffened their necks, refusing to listen or to take warning. If you listen attentively to me,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'and refrain from bringing any load through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, and if you keep the sabbath day sacred, and refrain from doing
²⁵ any work on it, then shall there enter by the gates of this city kings that sit on the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they and their princes, together with the people of Judah and the citizens
²⁶ of Jerusalem; and this city shall be inhabited for ever. And people shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the districts round Jerusalem, from the land of Benjamin, and from the Shephelah, from the hill country, and from the Negeb, bringing burnt-offering and sacrifice, cereal-offering, frankincense, and thank-offering to the ²⁷ house of the LORD. But if you do not listen to me, in regard to keeping the sabbath day sacred, and refraining from carrying a load or bringing it through the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day, then will I kindle in its gates an unquenchable fire, which shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.' "

PARABLE OF THE POTTER, 18:1-17

18 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD:

² "Arise, and go down to the potter's house; and there will I give you my message."

³ So I went down to the potter's house, and found him engaged in a
⁴ piece of work on the wheels. And whenever the vessel at which he was working became spoiled, as clay is apt to do in the potter's hand, he would turn it into another vessel, such as seemed suitable in the potter's own eyes.

⁵ Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

⁶ "Cannot I deal with you like this potter, O household of Israel?" is the oracle of the LORD. "As the clay in the potter's hand, so are you
⁷ in my hand, O household of Israel! If at one moment I issue an ⁸ order concerning a nation or kingdom to pluck up, to tear down, and to destroy, and if that nation against which I issued the order turn from its evil conduct, I will repent of the evil which I planned to inflict upon it. And if at another moment I issue an order concerning a nation or kingdom to build and to plant, and if it do what is evil in my sight, by refusing to listen to my voice, I will repent of the good which I intended to do to it. So now, speak to the men of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem, saying, 'Thus says the LORD: Behold! I am framing evil against you, and am planning a scheme against you. Turn, therefore, every man from his evil course, and amend your ways and your doings!' But they will say, 'It is hopeless! for we will follow our own plans, and will act each one according to the stubborn promptings of his own evil mind.' Therefore thus says the LORD:

"Inquire among the nations!

Who has heard the like of this?

The virgin daughter of Israel has done

A very dreadful thing.

Does the white snow vanish

From the crest of Sirion?

Does the cold flowing water

Of the mountains run dry?

Yet my people have forgotten me,

And offer sacrifice to idols;

They stumble off their ways,

Off the ancient tracks,

To walk in bypaths,

That have not been graded up—

Making their land a horror,

A perpetual scorn—

Everyone who passes by it is horrified,

And shakes his head.

Like the east wind will I scatter them

Before the enemy;

I will show them my back, and not my face,

On the day of their doom."

A FURTHER PLOT AGAINST JEREMIAH, 18:18-23

Then said they,

"Come and let us hatch a plot against Jeremiah,

For instruction shall not pass from the priest,

Nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet;

Come and let us smite him for his speech,
And let us pay no more heed to any of his words!"

- 19 Pay thou heed to me, O LORD;
And listen to my plea!
- 20 Shall evil be repaid for good,
That they have dug a pit for my life?
Remember how I stood before thee
To intercede in their favor,
To avert thy wrath from them!
- 21 Therefore give up their children to famine,
And hand them over to the sword;
Let their wives become childless widows,
And their men be slain by pestilence,
And their young men smitten by the sword in battle!
- 22 Let a cry be heard from their houses,
When of a sudden thou bringest a troop of raiders against them;
For they have dug a pit to catch me,
And have hidden snares for my feet.
- 23 But thou, O LORD, knowest
All their deadly scheme against me;
Therefore pardon not their guilt,
Nor blot out their sin from thy sight;
Let them be laid prostrate before thee,
Deal with them in thy time of anger!

PARABLE OF THE BROKEN FLASK, 19:1-13

19 Thus said the LORD:

"Go and get a potter's earthenware flask, and take with you certain 2 of the elders and priests, and go out to the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is at the entrance to the Potsherd Gate, and there proclaim the 3 message that I will give you. Say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, you men of Judah and citizens of Jerusalem! Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold! I am bringing disaster upon this place—such that the ears of everyone who hears of it shall tingle—
+ because they have forsaken me, and have desecrated this place by offering sacrifice to other gods whom neither they nor their fathers have known, and because the kings of Judah have filled this place 5 with the blood of innocent persons, and have built high places to the Baal, in order to burn their sons in the fire as burnt-offerings to the Baal—a thing which I never commanded, nor spoke of, nor allowed to enter my mind. Therefore behold! days are coming,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'when this place shall no longer be called "Topheth," nor "The valley of the son of Hinnom," but "The valley of Slaught-

 7 ter," and when I shall break up the plans of the men of Judah and Jerusalem in this place, and cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies—by the hand of those who seek their life—and give their
 8 dead bodies as food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth, and make this city a horror and a scorn—everyone who passes by it shall be horrified and shall hiss in scorn because of all the blows that
 9 have fallen upon it—and when I shall compel them to eat the flesh of their sons and daughters, and they shall eat each other's flesh, through the stress of the siege which their enemies—even those who seek their
 10 life—shall press upon them.' Then break the flask before the eyes of the men who accompany you, and say to them, 'Thus says the LORD
 11 of hosts: As the potter's vessel is broken and cannot be mended again, so will I break this people and this city; and they shall be buried in 12 Topheth till there is no more room to bury. For I will so act toward this place and its inhabitants,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'as to turn 13 this city into a Topheth; and the houses of Jerusalem, including the houses of the kings of Judah—even all the houses on whose roofs they have offered sacrifice to all the host of the heavens, and have poured libations to other gods—shall be defiled like the site of Topheth.' "

JEREMIAH IN THE STOCKS, 19:14—20:6

- 14 Then Jeremiah returned from Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy, and stood in the court of the house of the LORD, and said to all the people, 15 "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 'Behold! I am bringing upon this city and upon all its towns the full disaster that I pronounced against it, because its people have stiffened their necks so as not to listen to my words.' "
- 20 Now when Pashhur, the son of Immer the priest, who was chief
 2 overseer in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things, Pashhur beat Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks
 3 at the upper Benjamin Gate of the house of the LORD. The next morning Pashhur released Jeremiah from the stocks. Thereupon Jeremiah said to him,

- 4 "The LORD calls you not Pashhur, but 'Terror all around.' For thus says the LORD: 'Behold! I am making you a center of terror, to yourself and to all your friends. You shall see them fall by the sword of their enemies; and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, who shall carry them captive to Babylon and shall slay
5 them by the sword. And I will give all the wealth, all the gains, and all the goods of this city, with all the treasures of the kings of Judah, into the hand of their enemies, who shall spoil them, and take them,
6 and carry them to Babylon. And you, Pashhur, and all who live in your house, shall go into exile. To Babylon shall you go, and there shall you die, and there shall you be buried, yourself and all your friends, to whom you have prophesied falsely.' "

THE PROPHETIC IMPULSE, 20:7-13

- 7 Thou hast duped me, O LORD, and I let myself be duped;
Thou hast been too strong for me, and hast prevailed.
I have become a laughing-stock all day long,
Everyone mocks me.
- 8 As often as I speak, I must cry out,
I must call, "Violence and spoil!"
For the word of the LORD has become to me
A reproach and derision all day long.
- 9 If I say, "I will not think of it,
Nor speak any more in his name,"
It is in my heart like a burning fire,
Shut up in my bones;
I am worn out with holding it in—
I cannot endure it.
- 10 For I hear the whispering of many,
Terror all around.
"Denounce him! let us denounce him!"
Say all my intimate friends, who watch for my tripping;
"Perhaps he will be duped, and we shall prevail over him,
And shall take our revenge on him."
- 11 But the LORD is with me as a dreaded warrior,
Therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and shall not prevail,
They shall be put to bitter shame, because they have not succeeded,
To everlasting confusion, which shall not be forgotten.
- 12 O LORD of hosts, thou who testest the right,

- Who searchest the heart and the conscience,
 Let me see thy vengeance on them,
 For to thee have I confided my cause.
- 13 Sing to the LORD, praise the LORD;
 For he has saved the life of the needy
 From the hand of the wicked.

JEREMIAH CURSES HIS DAY, 20:14—18

- 14 Cursed be the day on which I was born,
 The day on which my mother bore me—
 Let it not be blessed!
- 15 Cursed be the man who brought the good news to my father,
 "A son is born to you"—
 Wishing him much joy!
- 16 Let that man be like the cities
 Which the LORD overthrew without mercy;
 Let him hear a cry in the morning,
 And an alarm at noon;
- 17 Because he let me not die in the womb,
 That my mother might have been my grave,
 And her womb have remained pregnant forever!
- 18 Why came I out of the womb,
 To see trouble and sorrow,
 That my days might be spent in shame?

THE WARNING TO KING ZEDEKIAH, 21:1—12

- 21 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur, the son of Malchiah, and Zephaniah, the son
 2 of Maaseiah the priest, saying, "Pray, inquire of the LORD on our behalf; for Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, has opened hostilities against us. Perhaps the LORD will deal with us in accordance with all his wonderful works, and will compel him to withdraw from us."
- 3 Then Jeremiah said to them,
- 4 "Thus shall you say to Zedekiah, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: "Behold! I will turn the edge of the weapons of war which are in your hands, with which you fight against the king of Babylon and the Chaldeans who are besieging you outside the wall; and I will 5 bring them into the midst of this city. And I myself will fight against 6 you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, in anger, in fury, and in great wrath. And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast, with a great pestilence, of which they shall die. And afterwards," is the oracle of the LORD, "I will give Zedekiah, king of Judah, his servants, and the people that are left in this city from pestilence, sword and famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies—into the hand of those who seek their lives—and they shall smite them with the edge of the sword, and shall have neither mercy nor pity nor compassion upon them."

8 "And to this people say, 'Thus says the LORD: "Behold! I set before you the way of life and the way of death. He who stays in this city shall die by sword, famine and pestilence; but he who goes out and surrenders to the Chaldeans who are besieging you shall escape, and shall have his life as a prize of war. For I have set my face against this city for evil and not for good," is the oracle of the LORD; "it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, who shall burn it with fire."'

11 "And to the household of the king of Judah say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O House of David! Thus says the LORD:

"Morning by morning give righteous judgment,
And deliver the spoiled from the hand of the oppressor;
Lest my fury go forth like fire,
And burn with none to quench it,
Because of your evil doings."'

THE PENALTY OF FALSE PRIDE, 21:13-14

13 "Behold! I am against you, O dweller in the valley,
On the rock of the plain," is the oracle of the LORD;
"You who say, 'Who shall come down against us?
Who shall enter our haunts?'

14 I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings,"
Is the oracle of the LORD;
"I will kindle a fire in her forest,
Which shall devour all that is round about her."

PROPHECIES AGAINST THE KINGS OF JUDAH, 22:1-30

22 Thus says the LORD:

"Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and there speak this word! Say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, who sit on

- 14 That says, 'I will build me a roomy house,
With spacious chambers,'
And cuts out windows for it,
Panels it with cedar, and paints it with vermilion!
- 15 Would you play the king, forsooth, by vying with others in cedar?
Did not your father, as he ate and drank,
Do justice and righteousness?
Then all went well with him.
- 16 He defended the cause of the poor and needy—
Then all went well.
Is not that how to know me?"
- Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 17 "But your eyes and your thoughts
Are set on nought but your ill-gotten gain,
On the shedding of innocent blood, -
And the practice of outrage and violence."
- 18 Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah:
"None shall lament for him,
'Ah my brother!' or 'Ah his brotherliness!'
None shall lament for him,
'Ah lord!' or 'Ah his highness!'
- 19 With the burial of an ass shall he be buried, Dragged and flung out beyond the gates of Jerusalem."
- 20 "Go up Lebanon and cry,
In Bashan lift up your voice;
Cry from Abarim
That all your friends are exiled.
- 21 I spoke to you in your time of prosperity,
But you said, 'I will not listen!'
Such has been your way from your youth,
That you listened not to my voice.
- 22 All your neighbors shall be driven like sheep before the wind,
And your friends shall go into exile;
Then shall you be ashamed and disappointed
Over all your friends.
- 23 You who dwell in Lebanon, nestled among the cedars,

How you shall groan when pangs come upon you,
Pain as of a woman in travail!"

24 "As I live," is the oracle of the LORD, "though Jechoniah, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, be the signet ring on my right hand, I will 25 pluck you off, and put you into the hand of those who seek your life—
those of whom you stand in dread—into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, 26 king of Babylon, and the hand of the Chaldeans. And I will hurl you, together with the mother who bore you, into another land, where 27 you were not born; and there shall you die. And to the land to which you long to return, you shall not return."

28 Is this man Jechoniah a contemptible, common utensil?
Is he an article that no one cares for?
Why, then, have he and his race been hurled and cast off
To a land that they know not?

29 O land, land, land,
Hear the word of the LORD!

30 Thus says the LORD:
"Write this man down as childless,
As a man who has no success with his sons;
For none of his race shall succeed
In sitting on the throne of David,
And ruling any more in Judah."

THE COMING OF THE TRUE KING, 23:1-8

23 "Ah! the shepherds who ruin and scatter
The sheep of my pasture," is the oracle of the LORD.

2 Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the shepherds that tend my people:

"You have scattered my flock, you have driven them away, and have not taken care of them. Behold! I am taking care of you, to punish you for the evil you have done," is the oracle of the LORD.

3 "Then will I gather the remnant of my flock from all the lands to which I have driven them, and will bring them back to their fold, 4 where they shall be fruitful and multiply. And I will raise up shepherds over them, who shall tend them; and they shall no more be a afraid, nor dismayed, nor troubled," is the oracle of the LORD.

5 "Behold! days are coming," is the oracle of the LORD,
"When I will raise up for David a righteous shoot;

- And he shall reign as king with success,
Doing justice and righteousness in the land.
- 6 In his days shall Judah be saved,
And Israel shall live in security;
And this is the name they shall give him—
'The LORD is our vindicator.'
- 7 "Therefore behold! days are coming," is the oracle of the LORD,
"when men shall no longer say, 'As the LORD lives, who brought up
8 the children of Israel from the land of Egypt,' but 'As the LORD lives, who brought up and led the family of Israel from the northland and from all the other lands to which he had driven them, and settled them on their own land.'"

JUDGMENT ON THE PROPHETS OF JUDAH, 23:9-40

- 9 Concerning the prophets:
"My heart is broken within me,
All my bones are unstrung;
I am like a drunken man,
Like a man overcome by wine;
From before the presence of the LORD,
And before his glorious majesty.
- 10 For the land is full of adulterers,
Because of whom the land mourns,
And the pastures of the steppe are parched;
Their course is evil,
And their might is not right.
- 11 Both prophet and priest are ungodly;
Even in my house have I met with their villainy,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 12 "Therefore their way shall be to them
Like slippery ground in the dark,
Along which they shall be thrust till they fall.
For I will bring trouble upon them,
Their year of reckoning," is the oracle of the LORD.
- 13 "In the prophets of Samaria I saw an offensive thing—
They prophesied by the Baal, and misled my people Israel.
- 14 But in the prophets of Jerusalem have I seen a horrible thing—
They commit adultery, and walk in lies;
They strengthen the hands of evil-doers,

- So that I cannot see him?" is the oracle of the LORD.
 "Do not I fill the heavens and the earth?"
 Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 25 "I have heard what the prophets say,
 Who prophesy lies in my name, saying,
 'I have dreamed, I have dreamed, I have dreamed!'
- 26 Will the mind of the prophets ever turn,
 Who prophesy lies, who prophesy the delusion of their own minds,
- 27 Thinking to make my people forget my name—
 Through their dreams which they tell one another—
 As their fathers forgot my name for the Baal?
- 28 The prophet who has a dream,
 Let him tell his dream!
 And he who has my word,
 Let him speak my word in sincerity!
 What has the straw to do with the wheat?"
 Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 29 "Is not my word like fire,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD;
 "Or like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces?"
- 30 "Therefore behold! I am against the prophets," is the oracle of 31 the LORD, "who steal my words one from another. Behold! I am against the prophets," is the oracle of the LORD, "who use their own 32 tongues, and utter an oracle. Behold! I am against the prophets who deal in lying dreams," is the oracle of the LORD, "and tell them, and mislead my people by their lies and their bombast—when I neither sent them nor commissioned them—and are of no use at all to this people," is the oracle of the LORD.
- 33 "And if anyone of this people, layman, or prophet, or priest, ask you, 'What is the burden of the LORD?' you shall say to them, 'You are the burden, and I will cast you off, is the oracle of the LORD.'
- 34 And if anyone, prophet, or priest, or layman, mention 'The burden 35 of the LORD,' I will punish that man and his household. Thus shall you ask, each one of his neighbor, and each one of his brother, 'What 36 has the LORD answered?' or 'What has the LORD spoken?' But 'The burden of the LORD' you shall mention no more; for every man takes his own word as the burden, and thus you distort the words of the 37 living God, the LORD of hosts, our God! So you shall ask the prophet, 'What has the LORD answered?' or 'What has the LORD spoken?'

 38 But if you mention 'The burden of the LORD,' thus says the LORD,
 'Because you have used this phrase, "The burden of the LORD," when I sent to you, saying, "You shall not mention the burden of the LORD,"' 39 therefore behold! I will lift you up, and will hurl you out of my presence—you and the city that I gave to you and your fathers—40 and I will lay upon you everlasting reproach and everlasting disgrace, that shall not be forgotten.' "

PARABLE OF THE FIGS, 24:1-10

24 After Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, had carried Jehoniah, the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, together with the princes of Judah, the artisans, and the smiths, into exile from Jerusalem, and brought them to Babylon, the LORD showed me two baskets of figs placed in 2 front of the temple of the LORD. One basket had very good figs, like first-ripe ones, while the other basket had very bad figs, so bad that 3 they could not be eaten. And the LORD said to me,

"What do you see, Jeremiah?"

And I said,

"Figs—the good figs very good, and the bad ones very bad, so bad that they cannot be eaten."

4 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 5 "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Like these good figs will
 I estimate as good the exiles of Judah, whom I sent from this place 6 to the land of the Chaldeans. I will look with friendly eyes upon them, and will restore them to this land; I will build them, and not 7 tear them down; I will plant them, and not pluck them up. And I will give them a heart to know me as the LORD; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God; for they shall turn to me with all 8 their heart. But like the bad figs, which are so bad that they cannot be eaten," thus says the LORD, "will I treat Zedekiah, king of Judah, his princes, and the remnant of Jerusalem which remains in this land, 9 together with those who live in the land of Egypt. I will make them a horror and offense to all the kingdoms of the earth, a reproach and a byword, a taunt and a curse, in all the places to which I have driven 10 them. And I will send among them sword, famine, and pestilence, till they are wiped off the land which I gave to them and their fathers."

WARNING TO JUDAH, 25:1-14

- 25 The word which came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah—that was the first year of the reign of Nebuchadrezzar, king
2 of Babylon—which Jeremiah the prophet delivered to all the people of Judah and all the citizens of Jerusalem:
- 3 “For these twenty-three years, from the thirteenth year of Josiah, the son of Amon, king of Judah, even to this day, the word of the LORD has come to me, and I have delivered it to you early and late,
4 but you did not listen—as in days gone by the LORD sent all his servants the prophets to you early and late, but you neither listened nor
5 bent your ears to listen—saying, ‘Turn, I pray you, each from his evil way and from his evil doings, that you may live in the land which the 6 LORD gave to you and your fathers forever and ever. And do not follow other gods, to serve them and worship them, nor vex me with 7 the work of your hands, that I may do you no harm.’ But you did not listen to me,” is the oracle of the LORD, “but deliberately vexed me
8 with the work of your hands, to your own harm. Therefore thus says
9 the LORD of hosts: ‘Because you have not listened to my words, behold! I am sending for a family from the north, and will bring them against this land and its people, and against all these nations round about; and I will utterly destroy them, and will make them a horror,
10 a scorn, and an everlasting reproach; and I will banish from them the sound of mirth and the sound of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones and the 11 light of the lamp. And all this land shall be a waste and a horror; and 12 these nations shall serve the king of Babylon for seventy years. But when seventy years are completed, I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation for their guilt,’ ” is the oracle of the LORD, “ ‘and also the land of the Chaldeans, and will make it an everlasting desolation.
13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it—all that is written in this book which Jeremiah
14 prophesied against all the nations. For they also shall serve mighty nations and great kings, and I will repay them according to their deeds and according to the work of their hands.’ ”

THE CUP OF WRATH, 25:15-38

- 15 Thus said the LORD, the God of Israel, to me:
16 “Take from my hand this wine cup of wrath, and make all the 16 nations to whom I am sending you drink it. And when they drink it, let them reel, and behave like madmen, because of the sword which I am sending among them.”

17 So I took the cup from the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to 18 whom the LORD had sent me drink it—Jerusalem and all the cities of Judah, its kings and its princes, making them a desolation, a horror, 19 a hissing, and a curse, as it is this day; Pharaoh, king of Egypt, his 20 servants, his princes, and all his people, together with all the foreign population; all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, of Askelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the remnant 21 of Ashdod; Edom, Moab, and the Ammonites; all the kings of Tyre
 22 and all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the coast-land across the 23 sea; Dedan, Tema, Buz, and all those who have the corners of their 24 hair clipped; all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the foreign 25 population that live in the desert; all the kings of Zimri, all the kings 26 of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes; all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms that are on the face of the earth.

And the LORD said to me:

27 “The king of Sheshach shall drink after them. And you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink yourselves drunk, till you vomit, and fall to rise no more, because of the 28 sword which I am sending among you.’ And if they refuse to take the cup from your hand to drink, you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the 29 LORD of hosts: Drink you shall! For if I begin my work of destruction with the city which bears my name, how can you go unpunished?
 You shall not go unpunished; for I am summoning a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth,’ is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.

30 “As for you, prophesy all these words to them, and say to them:

‘The LORD shall roar from on high,
 From his holy abode shall he lift up his voice;
 With a mighty voice shall he roar against his fold,
 He shall raise a huzzah, like those who tread the grapes,
 Against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The noise shall reach to the ends of the earth,
 For the LORD has a case against the nations,
 He has brought an indictment against all flesh;
 And the wicked shall be put to the sword,
 Is the oracle of the LORD.”

- 32 Thus says the LORD of hosts:
 "Behold! trouble is spreading
 From nation to nation,
 A mighty tempest is stirring
 From the ends of the earth.
- 33 "And those who are slain by the LORD on that day shall extend from one end of the earth to the other; they shall not be mourned, nor gathered, nor buried, but shall lie like dung upon the face of the ground.
- 34 "Wail, you shepherds, and cry,
 Wallow in ashes, you lords of the flock!
 For your time for slaughter is ripe,
 And you shall fall down slain like choice lambs.
- 35 There shall be no means of flight for the shepherds,
 No escape for the lords of the flock.
- 36 Hark! the cry of the shepherds,
 The wail of the lords of the flock!
 For the LORD is despoiling their pasture,
 And the peaceful folds are destroyed,
 Because of the glowing anger of the LORD.
- 37 The lions have left their covert,
 For their land has become a waste,
 Because of the sword of the LORD,
 And because of his glowing anger."

THE TEMPLE ADDRESS, AND ITS CONSEQUENCES, 26:1-24

- 26 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word from the LORD:
- 2 "Thus says the LORD: Stand in the court of the house of the LORD, and speak to all the people of Judah who come to worship in the house
- 3 of the LORD all the words that I command you to speak to them—keep not back one word! Perhaps they may listen, and turn each from his evil way, so that I may repent of the evil which I am planning to
- 4 bring upon them because of their evil doings. Say to them, "Thus says the LORD: If you do not listen to me—following my law which I
- 5 have set before you, and listening to the words of my servants the prophets whom I have been sending to you early and late, but to whom
- 6 you have not listened—I will make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.' "
- 7 Now the priests and the prophets, together with all the people,

8 heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD. So when Jeremiah had finished speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak to all the people, the priests and the prophets laid hold on him, saying,

9 "You shall die! How dare you prophesy in the name of the LORD, saying, 'This house shall become like Shiloh, and this city shall become an uninhabited waste?'"

Thereupon all the people crowded round Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

10 When the princes of Judah heard the news, they came up from the palace to the house of the LORD, and took their seats at the entrance
11 to the new gate of the house of the LORD. Then the priests and the prophets addressed the princes and all the people, saying,

"This man deserves to die; for he has prophesied against this city in the terms which you have heard."

12 Then Jeremiah addressed the princes and all the people, saying,
13 "The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and this city all the words which you have heard. But now, if you amend your ways and your doings, and listen to the voice of the LORD your God, the LORD will repent of the evil which he has pronounced against you.
14 As for myself, see! I am in your hands. Do to me as you think right
15 and proper. Only be well assured of this, that, if you put me to death, you will be bringing innocent blood upon yourselves, upon this city, and upon its people; for the LORD has truly sent me to you, to speak all these words in your hearing."

16 Then the princes and all the people said to the priests and the prophets,

"This man does not deserve to die; for he has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God."

17 And certain of the elders of the land rose and addressed the whole assembly of the people, saying,

18 "Micah of Moresheth prophesied in the days of Hezekiah, king of Judah; and he said to all the people of Judah,

"Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"Zion shall be plowed like a field,

And Jerusalem shall become a ruin,

And the temple hill a high place in a forest."

19 "Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all the people of Judah go the length of putting him to death? Did they not rather reverence the LORD, and entreat the favor of the LORD, with the result that the LORD repented of the evil which he had pronounced against them? We, on the contrary, are in the act of bringing great evil upon ourselves.”

- 20 Now there was another man prophesying in the name of the LORD—Uriah, the son of Shemaiah, from Kirjath-jearim—who prophesied
21 against this city and this land just as Jeremiah had done. And when King Jehoiakim, with all his guardsmen and princes, heard what he had said, the king sought to put him to death. When Uriah heard of 22 it, he took fright, and fled to Egypt. But King Jehoiakim dispatched men to Egypt—Elnathan, the son of Achbor, and some other men
23 with him—who brought Uriah from Egypt, and led him to King Jehoiakim. And he slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body
24 into the public burying-ground. But Jeremiah had the support of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, who saved him from being handed over to the people for execution.

THE YOKE OF THE KING OF BABYLON, 27:1-22

- 27 In the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word to Jeremiah from the LORD.
- 2 Thus said the LORD to me:
- “Make you a yoke of thongs and bars, and put it on your neck.
3 And send to the king of Edom, the king of Moab, the king of the Ammonites, the king of Tyre, and the king of Sidon, through their ambassadors who have come to Jerusalem on a mission to Zedekiah,
4 king of Judah, charging them with this message to their masters, “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Say to your masters,
5 “I made the earth, with the men and beasts that are upon the face of the earth, by my great power and by my outstretched arm; and I give
6 it to whom I please. Now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, my servant, and I have likewise
7 given him the beasts of the field to serve him. And all the nations shall serve him, his son, and his grandson, until the time of his own land shall come, when he shall serve mighty nations and great kings.
8 And if any nation or kingdom will not serve Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and will not put its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, I will punish that nation by sword, famine, and pestilence,” 9 is the oracle of the LORD, “until I have given it into his hand. Do not listen, then, to your prophets and diviners, your dreamers, soothsayers, and sorcerers, who keep on saying to you, ‘You shall not serve the 10 king of Babylon!’ For it is a lie which they are prophesying to you, with the result that you shall be removed far from your land, and I shall have to drive you away to perish. But if any nation will bring its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and will serve him, I will leave it on its own land," is the oracle of the LORD; "and it shall till the land, and live in it." ' "

12 To Zedekiah, king of Judah, I also spoke in the same terms, saying, "Bring your neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, that you may live! Why should you and your people die by sword, famine, and pestilence, as the LORD has warned the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? Do not listen to the words of the prophets who say to you, 'You shall not serve the king of Babylon!' For it is a lie which they are prophesying to you. I did not send them," is the oracle of the LORD, "but they prophesy falsely in my name, so that I shall have to drive you away to perish, you and the prophets who are prophesying to you."

16 And to the priests and to all this people I spoke, saying, "Thus says the LORD: Do not listen to the words of your prophets who prophesy to you, saying, 'Lo! the vessels of the LORD's house are very soon to be brought back from Babylon'; for it is a lie which they are prophesying to you. Do not listen to them, but serve the king of Babylon, that you may live. Why should this city become a desolation? If they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them entreat the LORD of hosts to prevent the vessels that are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem, from going to Babylon. For thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, the sea, the stands, and the rest of the vessels that are left in this city—those which Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, did not take away when he carried Jeconiah, the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, with all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem, into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon—thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem: 'To Babylon shall they be brought, and there shall they remain, until the day that I visit them,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'when I will bring them up and restore them to this place.' "

JEREMIAH AND HANANIAH, 28:1-17

28 Now that same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah, king of Judah—in the fourth year, the fifth month—Hananiah, the son of Azzur, the prophet, who belonged to Gibeon, spoke to me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and all the people, saying,

2 "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 'I have broken
3 the yoke of the king of Babylon. Within two years will I bring back to this place all the vessels of the house of the LORD which Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, took away from this place and carried to 4 Babylon. I will also bring back to this place Jeconiah, the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, with all the exiles of Judah who went to Babylon,' is the oracle of the LORD; 'for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.'"

5 Then Jeremiah the prophet answered Hananiah the prophet, in the presence of the priests and all the people who stood in the house of 6 the LORD, saying,

"Amen! The LORD do so! The LORD fulfil the words which you have prophesied, by bringing back the vessels of the LORD's house, to-7 gether with all the exiles, from Babylon to this place! Listen, however, to this word which I speak in your hearing, and in the hearing of 8 all the people! The prophets who preceded you and me, from the very earliest times, when they prophesied against mighty lands and 9 great kingdoms, prophesied of war, famine, and pestilence. So when a prophet prophesies of peace, that prophet can be proved to be one whom the LORD has truly sent only when the word of the prophet is fulfilled."

10 Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke from the neck of Jere-11 miah the prophet, and broke it. And Hananiah said in the presence of all the people,

"Thus says the LORD: 'So will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, from the neck of all the nations within two years.'"

Then Jeremiah the prophet went on his way.

12 But after Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from the neck of Jeremiah the prophet, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah,
saying,

13 "Go and say to Hananiah, 'Thus says the LORD: You have broken 14 the bars of wood, but I will replace them by bars of iron. For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: I will put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon—and serve him they shall—and I will give him also the beasts of the field.'"

15 Then Jeremiah the prophet said to Hananiah the prophet,

“Hear now, Hananiah! The LORD has not sent you, but you are 16 making this people put their trust in a lie. Therefore thus says the LORD: ‘Behold! I am sending you off the face of the ground. This very year shall you die; for you have spoken disloyalty toward the LORD.’ ”

17 So Hananiah the prophet died that very year, in the seventh month.

THE LETTER TO THE EXILES, 29:1-23

29 These are the words of the letter which Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to the elders among the exiles, and to the priests, the prophets, and all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried into 2 exile from Jerusalem to Babylon—after King Jeconiah, with the queen-mother, the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, the 3 artisans, and the smiths, had left Jerusalem—by the hand of Elasah, the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah, the son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah, king of Judah, sent to Babylon on a mission to Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon:

4 “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, to all the exiles
 5 whom I carried into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon: ‘Build houses, 6 and live in them; plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them; take wives, and beget sons and daughters; take wives also for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and 7 daughters; so let your numbers increase, and not diminish. And seek the welfare of the land to which I have carried you into exile, and pray to the LORD on its behalf; for in its welfare shall you find your 8 welfare.’ For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Do not be deluded by the prophets and diviners who are in the midst of 9 you, nor listen to the dreams which they dream; for they are prophesying falsely to you in my name—I did not send them,’ is the oracle of 10 the LORD. For thus says the LORD: ‘As soon as Babylon has finished seventy years, I will visit you, and will fulfil my gracious promise to 11 you, by restoring you to this place. For I know the thoughts I cherish toward you,’ is the oracle of the LORD, ‘thoughts of good and not of 12 evil, directed toward giving you a future and a hope. Then you shall call me, and I will answer you; you shall pray to me, and I will listen 13 to you; you shall seek me, and you shall find me; for when you seek 14 me with all your heart, I will let myself be found by you,’ is the oracle of the LORD, ‘and I will restore your fortune, and will gather you from all the nations and places to which I have driven you away,’ is the oracle of the LORD, 'and I will bring you back to the place from which I carried you into exile.'

- 16 ["For thus says the LORD concerning the king who sits on the throne of David, and concerning all the people who live in this city—
- 17 your brothers who have not gone out with you to exile—thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Behold! I am sending among them sword, famine, and pestilence, and will make them like the bad figs which were so
- 18 bad that they could not be eaten; I will pursue them with sword, famine, and pestilence, and will make them a horror to all the kingdoms of the earth—a curse and a consternation, a scorn and a derision,
- 19 among all the nations to which I have driven them—because they did not listen to my words,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'which I sent my servants the prophets early and late to convey to them, but they did
- 20 not listen,' is the oracle of the LORD. 'Therefore hear the word of the LORD, all you exiles whom I sent from Jerusalem to Babylon:]
- 21 "Because you say, 'The LORD has raised us up prophets in Babylon,' thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab, the son of Kolaiah, and Zedekiah, the son of Maaseiah, who prophesy falsely to you in my name: 'Behold! I am handing them over to Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, who shall slay them before your
- 22 eyes; and from their fate shall all the Jewish exiles in Babylon take a curse—"May the LORD make you like Zedekiah and Ahab, whom
- 23 the king of Babylon roasted in the fire!"—because they have done godless deeds in Israel, have committed adultery with their neighbors' wives, and have spoken in my name lying words which I did not command them—I know it, and I bear witness to it,' is the oracle of the LORD."

THE MESSAGE TO SHEMAIAH, 29:24-32

- 24 To Shemaiah of Nehelam you shall speak, saying,
- 25 "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 'Because you have sent a letter in your own name to Zephaniah, the son of Maaseiah,
- 26 the priest, saying, "The LORD has made you priest instead of Jehoiada the priest, to exercise oversight in the house of the LORD over every madman who plays the prophet, and to put such a person into the
- 27 stocks and the collar. Now, then, why have you not put a check on Jeremiah of Anathoth, who has been playing the prophet among you?
- 28 For he has actually sent a message to us in Babylon, saying, 'Your exile shall be prolonged; therefore build houses, and live in them; plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.' " " "

29 And Zephaniah the priest having read this letter in the hearing of 30 Jeremiah the prophet, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, say-31 ing, "Send a message to all the exiles, saying, 'Thus says the LORD concerning Shemaiah of Nehelam: Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you, when I did not send him, and has made you put your trust in a 32 lie, therefore thus says the LORD: Behold! I will punish Shemaiah of Nehelam and his family; not one man shall he have living in the midst of this people to see the good fortune which I am bringing to my people,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'for he has spoken disloyalty against the LORD.' "

THE HEALING OF THE WOUND, 30:1-22

30 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, as follows:

2 "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Write in a book all the 3 words that I have spoken to you. For behold! days are coming,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'when I will restore the fortune of my people Israel and Judah,' says the LORD, 'and will bring them back to possess the land which I gave to their fathers.' "

4 Now these are the words that the LORD spoke concerning Israel and Judah.

5 "Thus says the LORD:

'I hear a sound of terror,
 Of dread and disaster.

6 Ask, now, and see

If a male may bear a child!
 Why, then, do I see every man with his hand on his loins,
 Like a woman in travail,

And every face turned to a pallor?

7 Ah! for that day is great—

None is like it;
 It is a time of distress for Jacob—
 Yet out of it shall he be saved.

8 On that day,' is the oracle of the LORD of hosts,

'I will break the yoke from their neck,
 And will burst their bonds;

And they shall serve aliens no more,

9 But shall serve the LORD their God,

And David their king, whom I will raise up for them.

10 So fear not, O Jacob my servant,'

Is the oracle of the LORD,

- 'Nor be dismayed, O Israel!
For behold! I will save you from afar,
And your race from the land of their exile.
'Then shall Jacob have once more quiet and ease,
With none to make him afraid.
- 11 For I am with you to save you,'
Is the oracle of the LORD;
'And I will make a full end of all the nations
Among whom I scattered you;
But of you will I not make a full end—
I will correct you in just measure,
Not leaving you wholly unpunished.'
- 12 "For thus says the LORD:
'Your wound is incurable,
Your affliction sore;
- 13 There is no medicine for your wound,
No healing plaster.
- 14 All your friends have forgotten you,
They care no more for you;
For I have dealt you the blow of an enemy,
The chastisement of a ruthless foe;
Because your guilt is great,
Your sins are flagrant.
- 15 Why do you cry out over your wound,
That your hurt is incurable?
It is because your guilt is great, your sins are flagrant,
That I have done these things to you.
- 16 Therefore all who devour you shall be devoured,
And all your enemies shall go into exile;
Those who spoil you shall become a spoil,
And all who prey on you will I give as a prey.
- 17 For I will bring recovery to you,
And will heal you of your wounds,' is the oracle of the LORD;
'Because they have called you "Outcast," O Zion, for whom none cares.' "
- 18 "Thus says the LORD:
'Behold! I am restoring the tents of Jacob,
And will have pity upon his homes;

- The city shall be built over its own mound,
 And the palace shall stand upon its rightful site.
 19 Out of them shall go songs of thanksgiving,
 And the voices of those who make merry.
 I will multiply them, and they shall not diminish;
 I will increase them, and they shall not dwindle away.
 20 Their children shall be as in days of old,
 And their congregation shall be established before me,
 While I will punish all those who oppress them.
 21 Their prince shall be one of themselves,
 Their ruler shall come from the midst of them;
 And I will allow him to draw near and approach me,
 For who else would dare to approach me?’
 Is the oracle of the LORD.
 22 ‘And you shall be my people,
 And I will be your God.’ ”

THE STORM OF VENGEANCE, 30:23-24

- 23 See! the storm of the LORD has gone out in fury,
 A sweeping storm, that will whirl on the head of the wicked.
 24 The glowing anger of the LORD will not turn back,
 Until he has fully accomplished the designs of his mind—
 In the end of the days you will understand what it means.

THE RESTORATION OF ISRAEL AND JUDAH, 31:1-26

- 31 “At that time,” is the oracle of the LORD, “I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.”
 2 Thus says the LORD:
 “The people that escapes from the sword
 Shall find grace in the wilderness;
 When Israel goes to seek rest,
 3 The LORD from afar shall appear to him.
 With an everlasting love have I loved you,
 Therefore with kindness will I draw you to me.
 4 Once more will I build you, and you shall be built,
 O virgin of Israel!
 Once more shall you take your timbrels,
 And go out in the dances of those who make merry.
 5 Once more shall you plant your vineyards
 On the hills of Samaria;

- The planters shall plant, and shall raise their praises—
6 A day shall come when the vintagers shall call
 On the hills of Ephraim:
‘Arise, and let us go up to Zion,
 To the LORD our God!’ ”
- 7 For thus says the LORD:
“Raise a peal of gladness for Jacob,
And shout on the top of the mountains;
Publish, praise, and say,
‘The LORD has saved his people,
 The remnant of Israel.’
- 8 Behold! I am bringing them out of the north land,
And will gather them from the uttermost parts of the earth,
Among them the blind and the lame,
The woman with child, and her that is about to give birth—
A great company shall they return hither.
- 9 With weeping they went away, but with consolation will I bring them back;
I will lead them to streams of water,
By a level way on which they shall not stumble;
For I have become a father to Israel,
And Ephraim is my first-born.
- 10 “Hear the word of the LORD, O you nations,
And announce it through the coast lands afar;
Say, ‘He who scattered Israel shall gather him,
And shall keep him as a shepherd keeps his flock.’
- 11 For the LORD has ransomed Jacob,
He has redeemed him from the hand of those that were stronger than he.
- 12 They shall come and be jubilant on the height of Zion,
They shall be radiant at the goodness of the LORD—
At the corn, the wine, and the oil,
At the young of the flock and the herd.
They shall be like a well-watered garden,
And they shall languish no more.
- 13 Then shall the maiden rejoice in the dance,
And the young men and the old shall make merry;
For I will turn their mourning to joy,

- I will comfort them, and will give them gladness instead of grief.
- 14 I will satisfy the priests with fat things,
And my people shall have their fill of my goodness,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 15 Thus says the LORD:
"Hark! in Ramah is heard lamentation,
Bitter weeping!
It is Rachel weeping for her children,
Refusing to be comforted for her children,
Because they are not."
- 16 Thus says the LORD:
"Restrain your voice from weeping,
Your eyes from tears!
For your labor shall have its reward,"
Is the oracle of the LORD;
"And they shall return from the land of the enemy.
17 There is hope for your future,"
Is the oracle of the LORD;
"And your children shall return to their own domain.
- 18 "Truly have I heard Ephraim bemoaning:
'Thou hast chastened me, and I let myself be chastened,
Like an untrained calf;
O restore me, that I may be restored!
For thou art the LORD my God.
- 19 Since I was exiled, I have repented,
And since I was disciplined, I have smitten upon my thigh;
I am ashamed and confounded,
For I bear the disgrace of my youth.'
- 20 "Is Ephraim my precious son?
Is he my darling child?
For as often as I speak of him,
I cherish his memory still.
Therefore my heart yearns for him,
I must have pity upon him,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.

- 21 "Set you up waymarks,
Make you guideposts;
Pay heed to the highway,
The way by which you went.
Return, O virgin of Israel,
Return to these your cities!
- 22 How long will you hesitate,
O backturning daughter?
For the LORD has created a new thing on the earth—
The woman woos the man!"
- 23 Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:
"Once more shall they use this speech,
In the land and the cities of Judah,
When I have restored their fortune:
'The LORD bless you, O home of righteousness,
O holy mountain!'"
- 24 And the people of Judah shall dwell there—
People from all its cities together—
The plowmen, and those who wander with flocks.
- 25 For I shall have satisfied the weary spirit,
And every drooping spirit I shall have filled."
- 26 Thereupon I awoke, and looked up; and my dream was pleasant to me.

THE NEW COVENANT, 31:27-34

- 27 "Behold! days are coming," is the oracle of the LORD, "when I will sow the household of Israel and the household of Judah with the 28 seed of men and with the seed of cattle; and as once I watched over them to root up and to pull down, to wreck, to ruin, and to harm, so will I watch over them to build and to plant," is the oracle of the 29 LORD. "In those days shall they say no more,
'The fathers have eaten sour grapes,
And the children's teeth are set on edge';
30 but everyone shall die for his own guilt—everyone who eats the sour grapes shall have his own teeth set on edge.
- 31 "Behold! days are coming," is the oracle of the LORD, "when I
32 will make a new covenant with the household of Israel and with the 32 household of Judah, not like the covenant which I made with their fathers on the day that I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt—that covenant of mine which they broke, so that 33 I had to reject them—but this is the covenant which I will make with the household of Israel after those days,” is the oracle of the LORD: “I will put my law within them, and will write it on their hearts;

 34 and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. And they shall teach no more every one his neighbor, and every one his brother, saying, ‘Know the LORD;’ for all of them shall know me, from the least of them to the greatest of them,” is the oracle of the LORD; “for I will pardon their guilt, and their sin will I remember no more.”

THE CERTAINTY OF ISRAEL'S REDEMPTION, 31:35-37

35 Thus says the LORD,
 Who gives the sun for a light by day,
 And the fixed orbs of moon and stars for a light by night,
 Who stirs up the sea till its waters roar—
 The LORD of hosts is his name:
 36 “If these fixed orbs remove from my sight,”
 Is the oracle of the LORD,
 “Then shall the race of Israel cease from being a nation
 Before me forever.”

37 Thus says the LORD:
 “If the heavens above can be measured,
 Or the foundations of the earth below can be fathomed,
 Then will I too cast off all the race of Israel
 For all that they have done,” is the oracle of the LORD.

THE REBUILDING OF JERUSALEM, 31:38-40

38 “Behold! days are coming,” is the oracle of the LORD, “when the city shall be rebuilt for the LORD from the tower of Hananel to the 39 corner-gate. And the line shall go straight on from there to the hill.
 40 Gareb, and shall then turn round to Goah. And all the valley of Hinnom, with its dead bodies and ashes, and all the fields extending to the valley of Kidron, as far as the corner of the horse-gate on the east, shall be sacred to the LORD—it shall not be pulled up nor torn down any more forever.”

JEREMIAH'S PURCHASE OF THE FAMILY INHERITANCE, 32:1-44

32 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah, king of Judah—which was the eighteenth year of

- ² Nebuchadrezzar—at the time when the king of Babylon’s army was besieging Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the ³ guard-court of the palace of the king of Judah, because Zedekiah, king of Judah, had shut him up, saying, “Why have you prophesied, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD: Behold! I am giving this city into the
⁴ hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; and Zedekiah, king of Judah, shall not escape from the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall most certainly be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and ⁵ shall speak with him face to face, and shall see him eye to eye; and to Babylon shall Zedekiah be led, and there shall he remain until I visit him,’ is the oracle of the LORD; ‘though you fight against the Chaldeans, you shall have no success.’ ”
- ⁶ Jeremiah said,
⁷ “The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ‘Behold! Hanamel, the son of your uncle Shallum, is coming to you, saying, “Buy my field which is at Anathoth, for as the nearest of kin you have the first right
⁸ of purchase.” ’ According to the word of the LORD, then, Hanamel, my uncle’s son, came to me in the guard-court, and said to me, ‘Pray, buy my field which is at Anathoth, in the land of Benjamin, for you are the nearest of kin, and have the first right of succession to it; buy it for yourself.’ So I recognized that this was the word of the LORD.
⁹ And I bought the field which was at Anathoth from Hanamel, my uncle’s son, and weighed him out the money—seventeen silver shek-
¹⁰ els. And I signed the deed, and sealed it, got witnesses, and weighed the money with the scales. Then I took the sealed deed of purchase, containing the terms and conditions, together with an open copy of it,
¹¹ and handed them over to Baruch, the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in presence of Hanamel, my uncle’s son, and of the witnesses who had signed the deed of purchase, and of all the Jews who were ¹² seated in the guard-court. And I charged Baruch in their presence,
¹³ saying, “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Take these deeds—this deed of purchase which is sealed, and this copy of it which is open—and place them in an earthenware jar, so that they may last ¹⁴ for a long time to come.” For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Houses and fields and vineyards shall once more be bought in this land.” ’ ”
- ¹⁵ Now after I had handed over the deed of purchase to Baruch, the son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD, saying, ¹⁶ “Ah Lord GOD! Thou hast made the heavens and the earth by thy great power and by thine outstretched arm—nothing is too hard for 18 thee. Thou showest kindness to thousands, and repayest the guilt of fathers upon the bosom of their children after them. Thou art the 19 great and mighty God, whose name is the LORD of hosts—great in counsel and mighty in deed, whose eyes are open to all the ways of the children of men, rewarding each according to his ways and ac-

20 cording to the fruit of his doings. Thou didst perform signs and wonders in the land of Egypt both toward Israel and toward other men, which are remembered to this day, and so thou didst win for 21 thyself the renown which thou hast this day. Thou didst bring thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs and wonders, with 22 strong hand, with outstretched arm, and with great terror; and thou gavest them this land which thou didst swear to their fathers to give
23 them—a land flowing with milk and honey. But after they had entered into possession of it, they neither listened to thy voice, nor followed thine instruction; they did nothing that thou didst command
24 them to do, and so thou hast brought all this trouble upon them. Lo! the siege-mounds for storming the city have reached it; and through stress of sword, famine, and pestilence the city is as good as given into the hand of the Chaldeans who are fighting against it. What thou
25 didst threaten has come, as thou seest. Yet thou, O Lord GOD, hast said to me: ‘Buy the field for money, and get witnesses,’ when the city is as good as given into the hand of the Chaldeans!”

26 Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,
27 “I am the LORD, the God of all flesh—is anything too hard for me?
28 Therefore thus says the LORD: ‘Behold! I am giving this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar,
29 king of Babylon; and he shall take it. And the Chaldeans who are fighting against this city shall come and set this city on fire, and they shall burn it, with the houses on whose roofs men have burned sacri-
30 fice to Baal and poured libations to other gods, so as to vex me. For the children of Israel and the children of Judah, from their youth up, have been doing nothing but what was evil in my sight—they have been doing nothing but vexing me with the work of their hands,’ is 31 the oracle of the LORD. ‘For this city, from the day that they built it, even to this day, has roused my anger and my fury to the pitch of 32 removing it out of my presence, because of all the evil which the children of Israel and the children of Judah have done to vex me—they, their kings and their princes, their priests and their prophets, the 33 men of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem. They have turned to me their back, and not their face; and though I taught them early

34 and late, they would not listen and take warning, but have set up their 35 detestable things in the house which bears my name, to defile it, and have built the high places of the Baal which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to offer up their sons and their daughters as burnt-offerings to Molech, though I neither commanded nor thought of their doing 36 this abomination and causing Judah to sin. Now, therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city of which you say, “Through stress of sword, famine, and pestilence it is as good as given 37 into the hand of the king of Babylon”: Behold! I will gather them from all the lands to which I have driven them in my anger, my fury, and my great wrath, and will bring them back to this place, and will 38 settle them in security; and they shall be my people, and I will be 39 their God; and I will give them a new heart and a new way, so that they may revere me always, for their own good, and for the good of 40 their children after them; and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, never to swerve from doing them good; and I will put awe of me in their hearts, so that they may not turn aside from me;
41 I will take a delight in doing them good, and will plant them on this 42 land with all the loyalty of my mind and heart.’ For thus says the LORD: ‘As I have brought upon this people all this great trouble, so 43 will I bring upon them all the good that I promise them. And fields shall be bought in this land of which you say, “It is a desolation, aban-44 doned by man and beast, given into the hand of the Chaldeans.” Yes, men shall buy fields for money, and shall sign the deeds, seal them, and get witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, in the neighborhood of Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah—in the cities of the hill-country, the cities of the Shephelah, and the cities of the Negeb—for I will restore their fortune,’ is the oracle of the LORD.”

FURTHER PROMISES OF RESTORATION, 33:1-26

33 A second time the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, while he was still shut up in the guard-court, saying,
2 “Thus says the LORD, who made the earth and formed it to stand
3 fast—the LORD is his name: ‘Call to me, and I will answer you, and 4 will tell you great and secret things, which you know not.’ For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city and the houses of the kings of Judah, which have been broken down 5 to form bulwarks and ramparts against the Chaldeans who are coming to fight against them, and to fill them with the dead bodies of the men whom I will slay in my anger and my fury, and for whose mani-

6 fold wickedness I will hide my face from this city: 'Behold! I will bring them complete recovery and healing, and will reveal to them
7 abundance of peace and security. And I will restore the fortune of Judah and the fortune of Israel, and will build them up as at first;
8 and I will cleanse them from all the guilt of their sin against me, and will pardon all the guilt of their sin and rebellion against me.
9 And this city shall be to me a joy and praise and glory among all the nations of the earth who shall hear of all the good that I will bring to her; and they shall fear and tremble because of all the good and all the prosperity that I will bring to her.'

10 "Thus says the LORD: 'In this place of which you say, "It is a ruin, abandoned by man and beast"—even in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, which are made a desolation, abandoned
11 by man and beast—there shall once more be heard the sound of mirth and the sound of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of those who say, as they bring thank-offerings to the house of the LORD,

"Give thanks to the LORD of hosts,
For the LORD is good,
For his kindness endures forever."

For I will restore the fortune of the land to its former state,' says the LORD.

12 "Thus says the LORD of hosts: 'In this place which is a ruin, abandoned by man and beast, and in all its cities, there shall once more be 13 homesteads of shepherds, resting their flocks. In the cities of the hill-country, the cities of the Shephelah, and the cities of the Negeb, in the land of Benjamin, in the neighborhood of Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, flocks shall once more pass under the hands of those who count them,' says the LORD.

14 "Behold! days are coming," is the oracle of the LORD, "when I will fulfil the gracious promise which I made concerning the household of Israel and the household of Judah.

15 "In those days, and at that time,
I will raise up for David a righteous shoot,
Who shall do justice and righteousness in the land.

16 In those days shall Judah be saved,
And Jerusalem shall live in security;
And this is the name they shall give him—
'The LORD is our Vindicator.'

17 "For thus says the LORD: 'David shall never want a man to sit on

- 18 the throne of the household of Israel; nor shall the Levitical priests want a man to offer up burnt-offerings, to burn cereal-offerings, or to make sacrifices in my presence for all time to come.' ”
- 19 Again the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,
- 20 “Thus says the LORD: ‘If you can break my covenant with the day and my covenant with the night—so that day and night shall no longer
- 21 come at their appointed time—then also shall my covenant be broken with David my servant—so that a son of his shall no longer reign
- 22 upon his throne—and with the Levitical priests my ministers. Like the host of the heavens which cannot be numbered, and the sand of the sea which cannot be measured, so will I multiply the race of David my servant and the Levites who minister to me.’ ”
- 23 Again the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,
- 24 “Have you not observed what this people have said, that ‘the LORD has cast off the two families whom he chose, and has spurned his people so as to be no longer a nation before him’? Therefore thus says the LORD: ‘If I fail to maintain my covenant with the day and the night, or to uphold the fixed ordinances of the heavens and the earth,
- 26 then also will I cast off the race of Jacob, and of David my servant—so as to take none of his race to be rulers over the race of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; but I will restore their fortune, and will have pity upon them.’ ”

JEREMIAH WARNS ZEDEKIAH OF HIS FATE, 34:1-7

- 34 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and all his army, with all the kingdoms and nations of the earth that were under his sway, were fighting against Jerusalem and all its cities:
- 2 “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Go to Zedekiah, king of Judah, and say to him, ‘Thus says the LORD: Behold! I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it
- 3 with fire; and you yourself shall not escape from his hand, but shall most certainly be seized and given into his hand, and shall see the king of Babylon eye to eye, and shall speak with him face to face; and to
- 4 Babylon shall you go. Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah, king of Judah! Thus says the LORD concerning you: You shall not
- 5 die by the sword, but shall die in peace; and they shall burn sweet spices for you, as they burned them for your fathers, the former kings that were before you; and they shall lament for you with “Ah lord!” for I have spoken the word,’ is the oracle of the LORD.”

6 So Jeremiah the prophet spoke all these words to Zedekiah, king of 7 Judah, in Jerusalem, when the king of Babylon's army was fighting against Jerusalem and all the cities of Judah that were left, namely, Lachish and Azekah, for these were the only cities of Judah that remained as fortified cities.

ON THE BROKEN PLEDGE TO THE SLAVES, 34:8-22

8 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after King
Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people that were in Jeru-9 salem to make a proclamation of liberty—to the effect that each of them should liberate his Hebrew slaves, both male and female, so that 10 none should hold his fellow-Jew in slavery—and after all the princes and people who had entered into the covenant to liberate their slaves, both male and female, so that none should hold them any longer in 11 slavery, had obeyed the covenant and liberated them, but afterward turned round and brought back the slaves they had liberated, both male and female, and reduced them once more to slavery.

12 Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,

13 “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: ‘On the day that I brought your fathers out of the land of Egypt, that house of slavery, 14 I made a covenant with them, saying, “At the end of six years you shall liberate each one his fellow-Hebrew who has sold himself to you, and has served you for six years—you shall liberate him from your service.” But your fathers neither listened nor bent their ears to 15 me. Just now you turned round, and did what was right in my sight, by making a proclamation of liberty one to another, and entering into a covenant to this effect before me in the house which bears my name.
16 But you have again turned round and dishonored my name by bringing back the slaves you had liberated, both male and female, and re-17 ducing them once more to slavery.’ Therefore thus says the LORD: ‘Since you have not listened to me in regard to the proclamation of liberty one to another, behold! I am making for you,’ is the oracle of the LORD, ‘a proclamation of liberty to sword, pestilence, and famine; and I will make you a horror to all the kingdoms of the 18 earth. And as for the men who have broken my covenant—the men who have not carried out the terms of the covenant which they made in my presence, when they cut the calf in two and passed between the 19 parts of it—even the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, the eunuchs, the priests, and all the people of the land, who passed between the 20 parts of the calf—I will give them into the hand of their enemies, into the hand of those who seek their lives, and their dead bodies shall 21 be food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth. And Zedekiah, king of Judah, and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, into the hand of those who seek their lives—into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which has meanwhile gone away from 22 you. Behold! I am issuing orders,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'and will bring them back to this city; and they shall fight against it, and shall take it, and shall burn it with fire; and the cities of Judah will

 I make a desolation, without an inhabitant.' "

THE FIDELITY OF THE RECHABITES, 35:1-19

35 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, as follows:

2 "Go to the household of the Rechabites, and talk with them, and bring them to one of the chambers in the house of the LORD, and offer them wine to drink."

3 So I took Jaazaniah, the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, with his brothers and all his sons, even the whole household of the 4 Rechabites, and brought them to the house of the LORD, to the chamber of the sons of Hanan, the son of Igdaliah, the man of God, which adjoined the chamber of the princes, above the chamber of Maaseiah, 5 the son of Shallum, the keeper of the threshold; and I set before the Rechabites a bowl full of wine, with drinking cups, and said to them,
 "Drink wine!"

6 But they said,

"We will drink no wine; for Jonadab, the son of Rechab, our ancestor, laid a charge upon us, saying, 'You shall drink no wine, neither 7 you nor your sons forever; and you shall build no house, nor sow seed, nor plant nor own a vineyard, but shall live in tents all your days, so that you may live long in the land where you pass your days.'

8 And we have obeyed in every respect the charge which Jonadab, the son of Rechab, our ancestor, laid upon us, drinking no wine all our lives—neither we, nor our wives, nor our sons, nor our daughters—9 building no houses to live in, nor owning vineyard, field, nor seed, 10 but living in tents, acting in entire obedience to the charge which 11 Jonadab our ancestor laid upon us. It was only when Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, invaded the land that we said, 'Come and let us go up to Jerusalem before the advance of the Chaldean and Syrian armies'; and so we are living in Jerusalem."

12 Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,

13 “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Go and say to the men of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem, Will you not learn
 14 the lesson of obedience to my words?’ is the oracle of the LORD. ‘The charge which Jonadab, the son of Rechab, laid upon his sons, to drink no wine, has been loyally kept; and in obedience to their ancestor’s charge they have drunk no wine to this day. But though I spoke to 15 you early and late, you have not listened to me; and though I sent all my servants the prophets to you early and late, saying, “Turn, I pray you, each from his evil way, and amend your doings, and follow not other gods, to serve them, that you may live in the land which I gave to you and your fathers,” you have neither listened nor bent your ears
 16 to me. Therefore, because the sons of Jonadab, the son of Rechab, have loyally kept the charge which their father laid upon them, while 17 this people has not listened to me, thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold! I am bringing upon Judah and upon all the citizens of Jerusalem all the evil which I pronounced against them, because I spoke to them, but they did not listen, and I called to them, but they did not answer.’ ”

18 But to the household of the Rechabites, Jeremiah said,
 “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Because you have been obedient to the charge of Jonadab your ancestor, and have kept all his instructions, and have acted in entire loyalty to that which 19 he charged you to do, thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab, the son of Rechab, shall not want a man to stand in my presence forever.’ ”

THE BURNING OF THE SCROLL, 36:1-32

36 In the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word to Jeremiah from the LORD:

2 “Take a scroll, and write on it all the words that I have spoken to you against Israel, and Judah, and all the other nations, from the day
 3 that I first spoke to you in the days of Josiah even to this day. Perhaps when the household of Israel hears of all the evil that I am planning to bring upon them, they will turn each from his evil way, and will receive my pardon for their guilt and their sin.”

4 So Jeremiah called Baruch, the son of Neriah; and at Jeremiah’s dictation Baruch wrote on a scroll all the words that the LORD had
 5 spoken to him. Then Jeremiah instructed Baruch, saying,

6 “I am debarred from going to the house of the LORD. Go you, then, and from the scroll which you have written at my dictation read the words of the LORD in the hearing of the people gathered in the house of the LORD on a fast day, as well as in the hearing of all the 7 people of Judah who come from their different cities. Perhaps, as they present their supplication before the LORD, they will turn each from his evil way, when they realize how great is the anger and fury which the LORD has expressed against this people."

8 And Baruch, the son of Neriah, carried out to the full the instructions which Jeremiah the prophet gave him, reading from the 9 book the words of the LORD in the house of the LORD. It was in the fifth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, the ninth month, the first day of the month, when all the people in Jerusalem and all those who came to Jerusalem from the different cities of Judah had proclaimed a fast before the LORD, that Baruch in the hearing of all the people read from the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, from the chamber of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, the secretary, which was in the upper court, at the entrance to the new gate of the house of the LORD.

11 Now when Micaiah, the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had 12 heard all the words of the LORD read from the book, he went down to the palace, to the secretary's chamber, where he found all the princes seated—Elishama the secretary, Delaiah, the son of Shemaiah, Elnathan, the son of Achbor, Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, Zedekiah, the 13 son of Hananiah, and all the other princes. And Micaiah reported to them all the words that he had heard Baruch read from the book in 14 the hearing of the people. Then all the princes sent Jehudi, the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cush, to Baruch with this message,

"Take with you the scroll from which you have read in the hearing of the people, and come to us."

So Baruch, the son of Neriah, took the scroll with him, and went to 15 them. And they said to him,

"Read it once more in our hearing."

16 So Baruch read it in their hearing. And when they had heard all the words, they turned in alarm to one another, and said to Baruch,

"We must certainly report all this to the king."

17 Then they asked Baruch,

"Pray, tell us! How did you write all these words? Was it at his dictation?"

18 And Baruch answered them,

“Yes! He dictated all these words to me, and I wrote them with ink in the scroll.”

19 Then the princes said to Baruch,

“Go into hiding, you and Jeremiah, and let no one know where you are.”

20 And after they had deposited the scroll in the chamber of Elishama the secretary, they went to the king in his court, and reported the 21 whole matter in his hearing. The king then sent Jehudi to bring the scroll; and when he had brought it from the chamber of Elishama the secretary, Jehudi read it in the hearing of the king and of all the 22 princes who stood in attendance upon the king. It being the ninth month, the king was seated in the winter house, with a fire burning in 23 a brazier before him. And every three or four columns that Jehudi read, the king cut up with his penknife and flung into the fire that was in the brazier, until the whole scroll was consumed in the fire that was 24 in the brazier. And neither the king nor any of his servants showed any alarm, nor did they tear their clothes, as they heard all these 24 words. Even though Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gemariah entreated the 26 king not to burn the scroll, he did not listen to them. The king then ordered Jerahmeel the royal prince, Seraiah, the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah, the son of Abdeel, to arrest Baruch the secretary and Jeremiah the prophet. But the LORD kept them concealed.

27 Now after the king had burned the scroll containing the words that Baruch had written at Jeremiah's dictation, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,

28 “Take another scroll, and write on it all the words that were on 29 the first scroll, which Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, burned. And to Jehoiakim, king of Judah, you shall send this message, ‘Thus says the LORD: You have burned this scroll, asking, “Why have you written on it these words, “The king of Babylon will certainly come and destroy this land, and will wipe from it man and beast?”’ ” Therefore 30 thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim, king of Judah: “No descendant of his shall sit on the throne of David; and his dead body
31 shall be flung out to the heat by day and to the cold by night. And I will punish him, his race, and his servants, for their guilt; and I will bring upon them, and upon the citizens of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I pronounced against them, though they did not listen.” ’ ”

32 So Jeremiah took another scroll, and gave it to Baruch, the son of Neriah, the secretary, who wrote on it at Jeremiah's dictation all the words of the book which Jehoiakim, king of Judah, had burned in the fire; and many words of a like nature were added to them.

A FURTHER WARNING TO ZEDEKIAH, 37:1-10

37 Zedekiah, the son of Josiah, whom Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon had made king in the land of Judah, reigned as king in the place of
2 Jechoniah, the son of Jehoiakim. But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, listened to the words of the LORD which he
3 spoke through Jeremiah the prophet. King Zedekiah, however, sent Jehucal, the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah, the son of Maaseiah the priest, to Jeremiah the prophet, saying, "Pray, intercede on our behalf
4 with the LORD our God." (For Jeremiah had not yet been put in
5 prison, but was still coming and going freely among the people; and when Pharaoh's army advanced out of Egypt, the Chaldeans who were besieging Jerusalem, on hearing the news, raised the siege of Je-
6 rusalem.) Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

7 "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Thus shall you say to the king of Judah, who has sent you to consult me: Behold! Pharaoh's army, which is advancing to your aid, shall return to the land
8 of Egypt; and the Chaldeans shall come back to fight against this city,
9 and shall take it, and shall burn it with fire.' Thus says the LORD: 'Do not delude yourselves, saying, "The Chaldeans are leaving us
10 for good"; for they shall not leave you. Even if you defeated the whole Chaldean army that is fighting against you, leaving but a few wounded men of them in their several tents, they would rise up and burn this city with fire.' "

JEREMIAH ARRESTED AND IMPRISONED, 37:11-21

11 Now when the Chaldean army had raised the siege of Jerusalem,
12 because of the advance of Pharaoh's army, Jeremiah set out from Jerusalem on a journey to the land of Benjamin, to take possession of 13 the property that belonged to him among the people there. But just as he reached the Benjamin Gate, a sentry who was posted there, named Irijah, the son of Shemeliah, the son of Hananiah, arrested Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

"You are deserting to the Chaldeans."

14 Jeremiah replied,

"It is false; I am not deserting to the Chaldeans."

But he would not listen to him. So Irijah arrested Jeremiah, and

- 15 brought him to the princes. And the princes were so angry with Jeremiah that they beat him and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan 16 the secretary, which had been turned into a prison. Having thus come to the dungeon-cells, Jeremiah remained there for a number of days.
 17 Then King Zedekiah sent for him, and received him; and the king asked him secretly in his palace, "Is there any word from the LORD?"
 And Jeremiah said,
 "There is. You shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon."
 18 Then Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah,
 "What wrong have I done to you, or to your servants, or to this 19 people, that you have put me in prison? Where are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, 'The king of Babylon shall not come 20 against you, nor against this land?' So now, pray, listen to me, O my lord the king; and give a favorable hearing to my supplication, that I may not be sent back to the house of Jonathan the secretary, and left to die there!"
 21 King Zedekiah then gave orders, and Jeremiah was committed to the guard-court, and given a loaf of bread daily from the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city was consumed. So Jeremiah remained in the guard-court.

JEREMIAH RESCUED BY EBEDMELECH, 38:1-13

- 38 Now Shephatiah, the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah, the son of Pashhur, and Jucal, the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur, the son of Malchiah, heard Jeremiah addressing all the people in these terms,
 2 "Thus says the LORD: 'He who remains in this city shall die by sword, famine, and pestilence; but he who surrenders to the Chal-
 3 deans shall have his life given to him as a prize of war.' For thus says the LORD: 'This city shall certainly be given into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, and they shall take it.'"
 4 So they said to the king,
 "Pray, have this man put to death; for he is disheartening the soldiers that are left in this city, and all the people as well, by addressing such words to them; for this man is seeking not the welfare of this people, but their ruin."
 5 And King Zedekiah said,
 "See! he is in your hand; for the king can do nothing against you."
 6 So they took Jeremiah, and cast him into the cistern of Malchiah, the royal prince, which was in the guard-court, letting Jeremiah down with ropes. And as there was no water in the cistern, but only mud, Jeremiah sank in the mud.

- 7 But Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, a eunuch in the service of the palace, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the cistern. The king being 8 seated at the Benjamin Gate, Ebedmelech set out from the palace, and addressed the king, saying,
9 "My lord the king, these men have done wrong in treating Jeremiah as they have done, casting him into the cistern, to die on his feet of famine, because there is no more bread in the city."
10 The king then gave orders to Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, saying,
"Take with you three men from here, and draw Jeremiah the prophet out of the cistern, before he die."
11 So Ebedmelech took the men with him, and went to the wardrobe of the palace, and took from there some torn and tattered rags, and let 12 them down by ropes to Jeremiah in the cistern. And Ebedmelech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah,
"Pray, put these torn and tattered rags below your armpits under the ropes."
13 And Jeremiah did so. And they drew Jeremiah by the ropes, and brought him up from the cistern. And Jeremiah remained in the guard-court.

THE SECRET MEETING WITH ZEDEKIAH, 38:14-23a

- 14 Then King Zedekiah sent for Jeremiah the prophet, and received him at the third entrance to the house of the LORD; and the king said to Jeremiah,
"I am going to ask you a question, and you must conceal nothing from me."
15 And Jeremiah said to Zedekiah,
"If I tell you the truth, are you not sure to put me to death? And if I give you advice, you will not listen to me."
16 So King Zedekiah swore an oath in secret to Jeremiah, saying,
"As the LORD lives, who made this life of ours, I will neither put you to death, nor hand you over to these men who are seeking your life."
17 Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah,
"Thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: 'If you surrender freely to the officers of the king of Babylon, your life shall be spared, and this city shall not be burned with fire; both yourself 18 and your household shall be spared. But if you do not surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, this city shall be handed over to the Chaldeans, who shall burn it with fire; and you yourself shall not escape from their hand."

19 Then King Zedekiah said to Jeremiah,

"I am afraid of the Jews who have gone over to the Chaldeans, lest I be handed over to them, and they subject me to indignity."

20 But Jeremiah said,

"You shall not be handed over. Pray, then, listen to the voice of the LORD, as I declare it to you, that your life may be spared, and all 21 may be well with you. But if you refuse to surrender, this is the word
22 that the LORD has revealed to me. All the women who are left in the palace of the king of Judah shall be led out to the officers of the king of Babylon, saying,

'Your bosom friends have deceived you,
And have overreached you;
They have sunk your feet in the mire,
And have turned away from you.'

23 All your wives and children shall be led out to the Chaldeans, while you yourselves shall not escape from their hand, but shall be captured by the king of Babylon; and this city shall be burned with fire."

24 Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah,

25 "Let no one know of this conversation, on pain of death. And if the princes hear that I have been talking with you, and come and say to you, 'Pray, tell us what you said to the king, and what the king said 26 to you; conceal nothing from us, on pain of death,' you shall say to them, 'I was presenting my petition to the king, that he would not send me back to Jonathan's house, to die there.' "

27 So when all the princes came to Jeremiah, and questioned him, he answered them in strict accordance with the king's instructions; and they pressed him no further, for the conversation had not been over-28 heard. Jeremiah then remained in the guard-court till the day that Jerusalem was taken.

THE CAPTURE OF JERUSALEM, 39:1-2, 4-10¹

39 In the ninth year of Zedekiah, king of Judah, the tenth month, Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, and all his army advanced against
2 Jerusalem and besieged it; and in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was breached.

¹ 38:28b and 39:3 will be found in the next section.

4 And when Zedekiah, king of Judah and all the soldiers saw what had happened, they left the city by night, and fled by way of the king's garden, through the gate between the two walls, and made for the
5 Jordan valley. But the Chaldean army pursued them, and overtook Zedekiah in the steppes of Jericho; and they arrested him, and brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, at Riblah in the land of 6 Hamath, where he pronounced judgment against him. And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah at Riblah before his eyes. The 7 king of Babylon likewise slew all the nobles of Judah. Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with chains, to carry him to 8 Babylon. The Chaldeans also burned the house of the king and the houses of the people with fire, and demolished the walls of Jerusalem.
9 Then Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, carried captive to Babylon the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the deserters who had surrendered to him, together with the artisans that were 10 left. But Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, left in the land of Judah a number of the poor people, who had nothing, and at the same time gave them vineyards and fields.

THE RELEASE OF JEREMIAH, 38:28b, 39:3, 11-14

38:28^b After Jerusalem had been taken, all the officials of the king of 39:3 Babylon—Nergal-sharezer, the chief councillor, Nebushazban, the chief eunuch, and all the rest of the officials of the king of Babylon—
11 came and took their seats at the middle gate. Now Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, had given orders regarding Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, saying, "Take him, and look well 12 after him; do him no harm, but treat him as he tells you." So Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, issued orders, and Nebushazban, the chief eunuch, Nergal-sharezer, the chief councillor, and all the chief officials of the king of Babylon sent and took Jeremiah out of the guard-court, and handed him over to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, to have him conveyed to his home. So he stayed among the people.

THE PROMISE TO EBEDMELECH, 39:15-18

15 While Jeremiah was still shut up in the guard-court, the word of the LORD came to him, saying,
16 "Go and say to Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold! I am about to fulfil the words I have spoken concerning this city—for evil and not for good—and you

17 shall see them fulfilled on that day. But I will deliver you on that day,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'and you shall not be handed over to 18 the men of whom you stand in dread. For I will most certainly save you from falling by the sword, and your life shall be given to you as a prize of war, because you have put your trust in me,' is the oracle of the LORD."

JEREMIAH WITH GEDALIAH, 40:1-12

40 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after his release from Ramah by Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, who had found him bound with chains among all the exiles of Jerusalem and Judah who were being carried captive to Babylon.

2 Now the commander of the guard had taken Jeremiah and said to him,

3 "The LORD your God pronounced this doom upon this place, and the LORD has fulfilled his word, and has done as he said, because you sinned against the LORD, and did not listen to his voice—therefore this
 + thing has come upon you. But now, see! I release you this day from the chains that are upon your hands. If you are disposed to come with me to Babylon, come, and I will look well after you; but if you are not disposed to come with me to Babylon, think no more of it. See! the whole land is before you. Go wherever you think right and 5 proper. Go back, if you wish, to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has appointed governor over the cities of Judah, and stay with him among the people; or go wherever else you please."

The commander of the guard then gave him an allowance of victu-
 6 als and released him. And Jeremiah came to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, at Mizpeh, and stayed with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the commanders of the forces that were in the field, together with their men, heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, governor of the land, and that he had intrusted to his charge the men, women, and children, of the poorest classes of the land, who had not been carried captive to Bab-
 8 ylon, they came to Gedaliah at Mizpeh—Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, Johanan, the son of Kareah, Seraiah, the son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ephai of Netophah, and Jezaniah, the son of the Maacathite—
 9 together with their men. And Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, swore an oath to them and their men, saying,

“Do not be afraid of the Chaldean officials. If you stay in the 10 land, and serve the king of Babylon, all shall be well with you. As for myself, I intend to stay at Mizpeh, to represent your interests before the Chaldeans who may come to visit us; but you may gather wine, fruit, and oil, store them in your vessels, and stay in the cities which you choose to occupy.”

11 Likewise, all the Jews who were in Moab, Ammon, Edom, and all the other countries, when they heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah, and that he had appointed Gedaliah, the son of 12 Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, governor over them, returned from all the places to which they had been driven, and came to the land of Judah—to Gedaliah at Mizpeh—and gathered wine and fruit in great abundance.

MURDER OF GEDALIAH, 40:13—41:18

13 Now Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the 14 forces that were in the field, came to Gedaliah at Mizpeh, and said to him,

“Are you at all aware that Baalis, king of the Ammonites, has sent Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, to take your life?”

But Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, did not believe them.

15 Then Johanan, the son of Kareah, spoke to Gedaliah in a secret audience at Mizpeh, saying,

“Pray, let me go and slay Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, without anyone knowing it. Why should he take your life, and cause all the Jews who are gathered round you to be scattered, and the remnant of Judah to perish?”

16 But Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, said to Johanan, the son of Kar-eah,

“You shall do no such thing. For you are speaking falsely of Ishmael.”

41 In the seventh month, however, Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, a member of the royal family, accompanied by ten men, came to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, at Mizpeh. As they dined 2 together at Mizpeh, Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men who were with him arose, and smote with the sword, and slew Ged-aliah, the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had appointed 3 governor over the land. Ishmael also smote all the Jews who were with him at Mizpeh, as well as the Chaldean soldiers who happened to be there.

4 The day after the murder of Gedaliah, before anyone was aware
5 of it, certain men from Shechem, Shiloh, and Samaria—eighty in all —with their beards shaved, their clothes rent, and their bodies gashed, came bearing meal-offerings and frankincense, to present them in the 6 house of the LORD. Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, went out from Mizpeh to meet them, as they came along weeping; and when he met them, he said to them,

“Come to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam.”

7 When they reached the middle of the city, Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, and the men who were with him slew them, and cast them
8 into a cistern. There were ten of their number, however, who said to Ishmael,

“Do not put us to death; for we have stores of wheat, barley, oil, and honey, buried in the fields.”

So he let them alone, and did not put them to death with their fellows.

9 Now the cistern into which Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain was a great cistern which King Asa had made as a means of defense against Baasha, king of Israel; this cistern Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, filled with the slain.

10 Ishmael then carried captive all the rest of the people that were at Mizpeh—the king’s daughters, and all the people that remained at Mizpeh, whom Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, had committed to the charge of Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam—all these Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, carried captive, and started to cross over to 11 the Ammonites. But when Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces that were with him, heard of all the crimes 12 that Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, had committed, they took all their men, and set out to fight with Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, over-13 taking him by the great waters that are at Gibeon. And when all the people that were with Ishmael saw Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces that were with him, they were filled 14 with joy; and all the people whom Ishmael had carried captive from Mizpeh turned round and went back to Johanan, the son of Kareah.
15 But Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, with eight men, escaped from Johanan, and made his way to the Ammonites.

16 Then Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces that were with him, took all the remnant of the people whom Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, had carried captive from Mizpeh, after he had slain Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam—men, women, chil-

- 17 dren, and eunuchs, whom he had brought back from Gibeon—and they went and stayed at Chimham's Inn, in the neighborhood of Beth-lehem, intending to go on to Egypt, through fear of the Chaldeans; 18 for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, had slain Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had appointed governor over the land.

THE MIGRATION TO EGYPT, 42:1—43:13

- 42 Then all the commanders of the forces, including Johanan, the son of Kareah, and Azariah, the son of Hoshai, with all the people from 2 the least to the greatest, approached Jeremiah the prophet, and said to him,

“Give a favorable hearing to our supplication, and pray to the LORD your God for us, even for all this remnant—for we are left but a 3 few out of many, as you can see with your own eyes—that the LORD your God may show us the way we should go and the thing we should do.”

- 4 Jeremiah the prophet answered them,

“I have heard your petition. I will pray to the LORD your God, as you request; and whatever answer the LORD may give you, I will tell you—I will hold nothing back from you.”

- 5 And they said to Jeremiah,

“The LORD be a true and faithful witness against us, if we do not act in perfect accordance with the word which the LORD your God 6 may send you to us! Whether it be pleasant or unpleasant, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we are sending you, that we may prosper through obeying the voice of the LORD our God.”

- 7 At the end of ten days the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah.

8 So he summoned Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces that were with him, and all the people from the least to 9 the greatest; and he said to them,

- “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to whom you sent me to 10 present your supplication before him: ‘If you stay on in this land, I will build you up and not tear you down, and I will plant you and not 11 uproot you; for I regret the harm I have done to you. Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom you are afraid; do not be afraid of him,’ is the oracle of the LORD; ‘for I am with you to save you, and to 12 deliver you out of his hand. I will have pity upon you, and will inspire him with pity for you, so that he may allow you to stay in your own 13 land. But if you say, “We will not stay in this land,” refusing to obey

14 the voice of the LORD your God, and saying, "No, we will go to the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, and shall hear no sound of trumpet, and shall have no hunger for bread; and there will we stay,"
 15 then hear the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah! Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 'If you are determined to go to 16 Egypt, and if you go to settle there, the sword which you fear shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine which you dread shall cling to your heels there in Egypt; and there shall you
 17 die. All the men who are determined to go to Egypt, to settle there, shall die by sword, famine, and pestilence; not one of them shall survive or escape from the doom that I am bringing upon them.' For 18 thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 'As my anger and my fury have been poured out upon the citizens of Jerusalem, so shall my 19 fury be poured out upon you when you enter Egypt; and you shall be an execration and a horror, a curse and a scorn; and you shall see this
 20 place no more.' So this is the word that the LORD has spoken to you, O remnant of Judah: 'Do not go to Egypt!' And be certain of 21 this—for I forewarn you this day that you will wrong your own selves if, after sending me to the LORD your God, saying, 'Pray to the LORD
 22 our God for us; and whatever the LORD our God may say, tell us, and we will do it,' and if, after I have told it to you this day, you do not listen to the voice of the LORD your God in regard to anything that he
 23 has sent me to tell you—now be certain of this, that you shall die by sword, famine, and pestilence, in the place where you desire to go and settle."

43 When Jeremiah had finished speaking to all the people all the words of the LORD their God, even all these words which the LORD their
 2 God had sent him to speak to them, Azariah, the son of Hoshaiah, Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the proud and defiant men said to Jeremiah,

"You are telling a lie. The LORD our God did not send you to say,
 3 'You shall not go to Egypt to settle there'; but Baruch, the son of Neriah, has been egging you on against us, with the object of delivering us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, or carry us captive to Babylon."

4 So Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces, and all the people, did not listen to the voice of the LORD, bidding them stay in the land of Judah; but Johanan, the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah
 5 that had returned from all the nations to which they had been driven,

- 6 to settle in the land of Judah—the men, women, and children, the king's daughters, every person whom Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, had left with Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, including Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch, the son of Ne-7 riah—and, not listening to the voice of the LORD, went to the land of Egypt, and arrived at Daphne.
- 8 Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah at Daphne, saying, 9 “Take some large stones, and bury them among the mortar under the pavement in the gateway of Pharaoh's palace at Daphne, in the 10 sight of certain of the Jews. And say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold! I am sending for Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, my servant, who shall set his throne above these stones which you have buried, and shall spread his royal pavilion over 11 them. And he shall come and smite the land of Egypt, devoting to death those who are doomed to death, to exile those who are doomed to 12 exile, and to the sword those who are doomed to the sword. And he shall kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and shall burn them and carry them captive; and he shall purge the land of Egypt as a shepherd purges his mantle of vermin, and shall go from it unmo-
13 lested. And he shall break in pieces the obelisks at Heliopolis, in the land of Egypt, and shall burn the houses of the gods of Egypt with fire.’”

JEREMIAH'S LAST APPEAL TO HIS PEOPLE, 44:1-30

- 44 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews living in the land of Egypt—at Migdol, Daphne, Memphis, and in the land of Pathros—as follows:
- 2 “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘You have seen all the trouble that I have brought upon Jerusalem and all the other
3 cities of Judah, so that they are now an uninhabited waste, because of the wickedness by which they vexed me, going to offer sacrifice and render worship to other gods, whom neither they nor you nor your
4 fathers knew. Though I sent all my servants the prophets to you early and late, saying, “Pray, do not do this abominable thing which I hate,”
5 they neither listened nor bent their ears, to turn from their wicked-
6 ness and refrain from offering sacrifice to other gods, so that my fury and my anger were poured out and kindled into a flame which de-
7 voured the cities of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem, making them a waste and a desolation, as they are this day.’ And now thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Why are you doing yourselves a great wrong, cutting off man and woman, child and suckling, from the midst of Judah, leaving not a remnant behind you, through your persistence in vexing me with the work of your hands, offering sacrifice to other gods in the land of Egypt, where you have gone to settle, and so making yourselves a curse and a scorn among all the nations of the earth? Have you forgotten the crimes of your fathers, the crimes of the kings of Judah, the crimes of your princes, the crimes of yourselves, and the crimes of your wives, committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? To the present day they have neither humbled themselves, nor been afraid, nor followed my law and my statutes which I set before you and your fathers.' Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 'I am determined to bring ruin upon you, and to cut off the whole of Judah. So I will take the remnant of Judah that were determined to go to the land of Egypt to settle there, and they shall all be consumed in the land of Egypt—they shall fall by the sword and be consumed by famine—from the least to the greatest shall they die by sword and famine, and shall be an execration and a horror, a curse and a scorn. I will punish those who live in the land of Egypt, as I punished Jerusalem, by sword, famine, and pestilence, so that none of the remnant of Judah that have gone to the land of Egypt to settle there shall escape or survive to return to the land of Judah where they long to return and live; for none shall return but a handful of fugitives.' "

Then all the men who knew that their wives were offering sacrifice to other gods, and all the women who stood by—even all the people who lived in the land of Egypt and in Pathros, a great multitude—answered Jeremiah, saying,

"As regards the word that you have spoken to us in the name of the LORD, we will not listen to you, but will assuredly carry out to the full the word that has gone from our own mouths, to offer sacrifice to the queen of the heavens, and to pour libations to her, as we did, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. For then we had plenty to eat, and were well, and met with no trouble; but since we gave up offering sacrifice to the queen of the heavens, and pouring libations to her, we have been destitute of all things, and have been consumed by sword and famine."

The women also said,

"And when we were offering sacrifice to the queen of the heavens, and pouring libations to her, was it without the approval of our husbands that we made for her cakes stamped with her image, and poured libations to her?"

20 Then Jeremiah addressed all the people, both men and women—all the people that had given him this answer—saying,

21 "As regards the sacrifices that you offered in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, you and your fathers, your kings and your princes, as well as your common people, did they not rankle in 22 the mind and thought of the LORD, till the LORD could no longer bear your wicked and abominable deeds, and so your land became an 23 uninhabited waste, horror, and curse, as it is this day? It is just because you offered these sacrifices, and sinned against the LORD, not listening to the voice of the LORD, nor following his law, his statutes, and his testimonies, that this present trouble has befallen you."

24 Jeremiah further said to all the people, and to all the women,

"Hear the word of the LORD, all you people of Judah who are in 25 the land of Egypt! Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 'You and your wives have pledged your word, and have fulfilled it in actual deed, saying, "We will assuredly carry out the vows we have taken, to offer sacrifice to the queen of the heavens, and to pour libations to her." By all means keep your word, and carry out your vows!

26 Hear, however, the word of the LORD, all you people of Judah who live in the land of Egypt! I have sworn by my great name,' says the LORD, 'that never more shall my name be invoked by any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, "As the Lord God lives!" Behold! I am watching over them for evil and not for good; and all the men of Judah who are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by 28 sword and famine, until an end is made of them. And those who escape from the sword—few in number—shall return from the land of Egypt to the land of Judah. Then all the remnant of Judah, who 29 came to the land of Egypt to settle there, shall know whose word shall stand—mine, or theirs! And this is the sign for you,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'that I will punish you in this place, so that you may know 30 that my words shall stand against you for evil. Thus says the LORD: Behold! I am giving Pharaoh Hophra, king of Egypt, into the hand of his enemies, into the hand of those who seek his life, just as I gave Zedekiah, king of Judah, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, his enemy, who sought his life.' "

THE ORACLE TO BARUCH, 45:1-5

45 The word that Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch, the son of Neriah, after he had written these words in a book at the dictation of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah.

2 Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning you, O Baruch:

3 "You have said, 'Ah me!

For the LORD has added sorrow to my pain;

I am weary with my groaning,

I can find no rest.'

4 Say to him, 'Thus says the LORD:

Behold! I am tearing down what I have built,

And am rooting up what I have planted.

[That is the whole earth.]

5 Do you seek great things for yourself?

Seek them not; for behold! I am bringing trouble

Upon all flesh,' is the oracle of the LORD.

'But your life will I give to you as a prize of war

In every place where you go.' "

ORACLES ON EGYPT, 46:1-28

46 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the nations.

2 On Egypt: concerning the army of Pharaoh Necho, king of Egypt, encamped at Carchemish by the River Euphrates, which was defeated by Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, the son of Josiah, king of Judah.

3 "Set buckler and shield in array,

Advance to battle;

4 Harness the steeds, and mount, you horsemen,

Stand forth with your helmets;

Unsheathe your spears, don your breastplates!

5 Why do I see them dismayed, turned back,

Their warriors beaten?

Why have they fled apace, without looking back,

Beset by terror?"

Is the oracle of the LORD.

6 "The swift cannot flee, nor the strong man escape;

To the north, by the River Euphrates, they stumble and fall.

- 7 "Who is this rising up like the Nile,
Like rivers whose waters toss?
- 8 Egypt rises up like the Nile,
Like rivers whose waters toss.
He says, 'I will rise up, I will cover the earth,
I will destroy its inhabitants.'
- 9 Up, you steeds; rage, you chariots;
March, you warriors—
Cush and Put, that handle the shield,
And the Lydians, that bend the bow.
- 10 "But that day shall be for the Lord, the GOD of hosts,
A day of vengeance, to avenge himself on his enemies;
And the sword shall devour till it is sated,
And shall drink its fill of their blood.
For the Lord, the GOD of hosts, shall hold a sacrifice
In the north land, by the River Euphrates.
- 11 Go up to Gilead, and take balm,
O virgin daughter of Egypt!
In vain do you multiply medicines—
For you there is no healing.
- 12 The nations have heard your cry,
The earth is full of your wailing;
For warrior stumbles on warrior,
Both of them fall together."
- 13 The word that the LORD spoke to Jeremiah the prophet, in regard to the coming of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, to smite the land of Egypt:
- 14 "Tell it in Migdol,
And publish it in Memphis;
Say, 'Stand to arms, and make ready,
For the sword devours round about you.'
- 15 Why has Apis fled, and your bull god not held his ground?
Because the LORD has thrust him down.
- 16 The foreigners among you stumble and fall,
They say to one another,
'Up, and let us return to our people,
To the land of our birth, before the deadly sword.'

- 17 "Call Pharaoh, king of Egypt, 'Blusterer,
Who has let the hour go by!'
18 As I live," is the oracle of the King,
Whose name is the LORD of hosts,
"One shall come like Tabor among the mountains,
Or like Carmel by the sea.
19 Get ready your baggage for exile,
O daughter that dwells in Egypt!
For Memphis shall become a desolation,
An uninhabited waste.
- 20 "A graceful heifer is Egypt;
But a wasp from the north has attacked her.
21 Even the hired soldiers within her are like calves of the stall—
Even they have turned and fled together,
Without making a stand;
For their day of doom has come upon them,
Their time of reckoning.
22 She hisses like a serpent,
As her enemies advance in force;
With axes they come against her,
Like fellers of trees.
23 They shall cut down her forest," is the oracle of the LORD,
"Although it is impenetrable;
For they are more in number than locusts,
They cannot be counted.
- 24 "Put to shame is the daughter of Egypt,
Handed over to the people of the north.
25 Says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:
'Behold! Amon of Thebes will I punish,
And Pharaoh, and those who trust in him.
26 I will hand them over to those who seek their lives,
To Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, and his servants;
Though afterwards she shall be inhabited,
As in the days of old,' " is the oracle of the LORD.
- 27 "So fear not, O Jacob my servant,
Nor be dismayed, O Israel!
For behold! I will save you from afar,

- And your race from the land of their exile.
 Then shall Jacob have once more quiet and ease,
 With none to make him afraid.
 28 Fear not, O Jacob my servant," is the oracle of the LORD,
 "For I am with you;
 And I will make a full end of all the nations
 Among whom I drove you away,
 But of you will I not make a full end—
 I will correct you in just measure,
 Not leaving you wholly unpunished."

ON THE PHILISTINES, 47:1-7

- 47 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before Pharaoh smote Gaza.
 2 Thus says the LORD:
 "Behold! waters rise up from the north,
 And shall become a raging torrent;
 They shall overflow the land and all that fills it,
 The cities and those who dwell in them.
 Men shall cry out,
 All the inhabitants of the land shall wail.
 3 At the noise of the gallop of the hoofs of his steeds,
 At the rush of his chariots, the rumble of his wheels,
 The fathers look not back to their children—
 So slack are their hands;
 4 Because of the day that is coming
 To spoil all the Philistines,
 To cut off from Tyre and Zidon
 Every helper that remains;
 For the LORD is about to spoil the Philistines,
 The remnant of the coast-land of Caphtor.
 5 Baldness has come upon Gaza,
 Ruined is Askelon;
 How long must you gash yourselves,
 O remnant of the Anakim?
 6 Ah, sword of the LORD! when will you be at peace?
 Get you back to your scabbard; rest and be still!
 7 But how can it be at peace,
 Since the LORD has given it a charge,

Has made it an appointment
Against Askelon and the seashore?"

48 ON MOAB, 48:1-46

Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:

"Alas for Nebo! because it is spoiled;
Kirjathaim is shamed, is taken;
The bulwark is shamed, is discomfited.

2 No more is the fame of Moab,
In Heshbon they plotted her ruin:
'Come, let us cut her off from her place among nations!'
You also, O Madmen, shall be silenced;
The sword shall pursue you.

3 "Hark! a cry from Horonaim,
'Flavoc and dire destruction!'

4 Moab is ruined;
As far as Zoar they send out the cry.
5 For up the ascent of Luhith weeping they go;
And down the pass to Horonaim the cry of ruin they raise:
6 'Flee, save yourselves,
Though you be like a scrub in the desert!'

7 "Because you trusted in your works and in your treasures,
You also shall be taken;
And Chemosh shall go into exile,
Along with his priests and his princes.
8 The spoiler shall come upon every city,
And no city shall escape;
The valley shall perish, and the plateau shall be destroyed,
As the LORD has said.

9 "Give wings to Moab,
For fain would she fly away,
While her cities become a desolation,
With none dwelling in them.
10 Cursed be he who does the work of the LORD with slackness,
And cursed be he who holds back his sword from bloodshed!

11 "Moab has been at ease from his youth,
He has settled on his lees—

He has not been emptied from vessel to vessel,
Nor has he gone into exile;
So his taste remains in him,
And his scent is unchanged.

- 12 "Therefore behold! days are coming," is the oracle of the LORD,
"When I will send tilters to him, who shall tilt him,
And shall empty his vessels, and shall dash his jars in pieces.
13 Then shall Moab be put to the blush through Chemosh,
As the household of Israel was put to the blush
Through Bethel, in whom they trusted.

- 14 "How can you say, 'We are heroes,
And mighty men of war,'
15 When the spoiler of Moab has come up against him,
And the flower of his youth has gone down to the slaughter?"
Is the oracle of the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.
16 "Near at hand is the doom of Moab,
And his fate speeds on apace.
17 Bemoan him, all you who are round about him,
All you who know his name;
Say, 'How is the strong staff broken,
The beautiful rod!'

- 18 "Come down from your throne of glory, and sit in the mire,
O daughter that dwells in Dibon;
For the spoiler of Moab has come up against you,
Has destroyed your fortresses.

- 19 Stand by the wayside, and watch,
You who dwell in Aroer;
Ask him that flees, and her that escapes,
'What has happened?'

- 20 Moab is shamed, is discomfited;
Wail and cry!

Tell the news in Arnon
That Moab is spoiled.

- 21 And judgment has come on the table-land: on Holon, Jahzah, and 22 Mephaath; on Dibon, Nebo, and Beth-diblathaim; on Kirjathaim, 23 Beth-gamul, and Beth-meon; on Kerioth and Bozrah, and on all the 24 cities of the land of Moab, far and near.

- 25 "Hewn off is the horn of Moab,
And broken is his arm," is the oracle of the LORD.
- 26 "Make him drunk, for against the LORD has he magnified himself;
Moab has clapped his hands,
So he too shall be held in derision.
- 27 Was not Israel a derision to you?
Was he found in the company of thieves,
That as often as you speak of him, you shake your head?
- 28 Leave the cities, and occupy the crags,
You who dwell in Moab;
Be like the doves that nest
In the sides of the cavern's mouth!
- 29 "We have heard of the pride of Moab—
How very proud he is—
Of his haughtiness and pride and arrogance—
The lordliness of his mind.
- 30 I know his insolence," is the oracle of the LORD,
"How baseless are his boastings, accomplishing nothing.
- 31 Therefore I wail for Moab,
I cry for all Moab,
I moan for the men of Kir-heres.
- 32 "With Jazer I weep for you,
O vine of Sibmah!
Your branches passed over the sea,
Reached as far as Jazer;
Now on your fruits and your vintage
The spoiler has fallen,
- 33 And joy and gladness vanish
From the garden land of Moab,
The wine have I stopped from the winepresses,
No grape-treader treads them,
The shout is the shout of battle,
Not the shout of joy.
- 34 "Heshbon and Elealeh cry out,
As far as Jahaz they send forth their voice,
From Zoar to Horonaim and the third Eglath;

- For even the waters of Nimrim are a desolation.
35 . And I will bring to an end in Moab," is the oracle of the LORD,
"Him that goes up to the high place, and offers sacrifice to his god.
36 Therefore my heart for Moab moans like a flute,
My heart for the men of Kir-heres moans like a flute,
Because the gain they have gotten has perished.
- 37 "Every head is bald, and every beard is clipped;
On every hand are gashes, and on every loin is sackcloth.
38 On all the housetops of Moab, and on all its squares,
There is universal mourning;
For I have broken Moab like a worthless vessel,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 39 "How is Moab discomfited! how he wails!
How he turns his back in shame!
So shall Moab become a derision and a horror
To all who are round about him."
- 40 For thus says the LORD:
"One like a vulture shall swoop,
And shall spread his wings against Moab.
41 The cities shall be taken, and the strongholds be seized;
And the heart of the warriors of Moab on that day
Shall be like the heart of a woman in travail.
42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people,
Because he has magnified himself against the LORD.
43 Terror, and pit, and snare,
Are upon you, O inhabitants of Moab,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 44 "And he who flees from the terror shall fall into the pit,
And he who escapes from the pit shall be caught in the snare;
For these things will I bring upon Moab
In their year of reckoning," is the oracle of the LORD.
- 45 "In the shadow of Heshbon there stand
Fugitives without strength;
For a fire has gone out of Heshbon,
A flame from the city of Sihon;
It devours the brow of Moab,
The crown of the sons of tumult.
46 Woe to you, O Moab!

The people of Chemosh is perished.
 Your sons have been taken captive,
 And your daughters have been led into exile;
 47 Though I will restore the fortune of Moab
 In the end of the days," is the oracle of the LORD.
 Here ends the judgment on Moab.

49 ON THE AMMONITES, 49:1-6

Thus says the LORD:

"Has Israel no sons?

Has he no heir?

Why, then, has Milcom taken over the inheritance of Gad?

And why do his people dwell in its cities?

2 Therefore behold! days are coming," is the oracle of the LORD,

"When I will cause the shout of battle to be heard Against Rabbah of the children of Ammon;

And she shall become a desolate mound,

And her daughter cities shall be burned with fire;

Then shall Israel take over the inheritance of those who took over his inheritance,"

Says the LORD.

3 "Wail, O Heshbon!

For the city has been spoiled.

Cry, O daughters of Rabbah!

Gird on sackcloth, lament,

And lacerate yourselves with gashes;

For Milcom shall go into exile,

Along with his priests and princes.

4 "Why do you boast of your valleys,

O daughter that lives at ease,

Trusting in your treasures, and saying,

'Who shall come against me?'

5 Behold! I am bringing terror upon you,"

Is the oracle of the Lord, the God of hosts,

"From all who are round about you;

And you shall be driven each one in headlong flight,

With none to rally the fugitives;

- 6 Though afterwards I will restore the fortune of the children of Ammon,"

Is the oracle of the LORD.

ON EDOM, 49:7-22

- 7 Thus says the LORD of hosts:

“Is wisdom no more in Teman?
Is the counsel of the sages gone?
Is their wisdom scattered to the winds?”

- 8 Flee, hide yourselves in inaccessible haunts,
 You who live in Dedan!
For the doom of Esau am I bringing upon him,
 His time of reckoning.

- 9 If grape-gatherers came to you,
They would leave no gleanings behind;
If robbers came by night,
They would destroy to their heart's content.

- 10 So I strip Esau bare,
His retreats I uncover,
That he cannot conceal himself.
He is spoiled by the arm of his brothers and neighbors,
 With none to help him.

- 11 Leave your orphans to me, I will keep them alive;
And your widows—let them put their trust in me!”

- 12 For thus says the LORD:

- “If those who did not deserve to drink the cup must yet drink it, shall you go unpunished? No! You shall not go unpunished, but 13 drink you shall. For by myself have I sworn,” is the oracle of the LORD, “that Bozrah shall become a horror and a scorn, a waste and a curse, and all her daughter cities shall become perpetual wastes.”

- 14 A message have I heard from the LORD,
And an envoy is sent through the nations:

“Gather, and go against her,
 Advance to the battle!

- 15 For behold! I make you small among the nations,
 Despised among men.

- 16 The terror you inspired has deceived you,
 Your pride of heart—

- You who dwell in the clefts of the crags,
Who hold the heights of the hills!
Though you build your nest high as the eagle,
Even thence will I bring you down," is the oracle of the LORD.
- 17 "Then shall Edom become a horror—
Everyone who passes by her shall hiss with horror
At all her wounds.
- 18 As when Sodom and Gomorrah were overthrown,
Along with their neighbors," says the LORD,
"No man shall dwell there,
No mortal man shall stay in her.
- 19 Like a lion coming up from the jungle of Jordan
Against the peaceful sheepfold,
So will I chase them in a moment from their place,
And whom I choose I will set upon it.
For who is like me? and who will challenge me?
What shepherd is there who will face me?
- 20 Therefore hear the purpose that the LORD has formed against Edom,
And the plans that he has laid against the inhabitants of Teman!
Even the youngest of the flock shall be dragged away,
And their fold shall be shocked at their fate.
- 21 At the sound of their fall the earth shall quake,
And the noise of their crying shall be heard as far as the Red Sea.
- 22 Behold! one like a vulture shall mount up and swoop,
And shall spread his wings against Bozrah;
And the heart of the warriors of Edom on that day
Shall be like the heart of a woman in travail."

23 ON DAMASCUS, 49:23-27

- Hamath and Arpad are put to the blush,
For bad news have they heard;
They melt in fear, they are in turmoil like the sea,
Which cannot rest.
- 24 Damascus is unstrung, she turns to flee,
Trembling seizes her;
Anguish and pangs lay hold on her,
Like a woman in travail.
- 25 Ah! how forlorn is the famous city,
The joyous town!

- 26 So her choice young men shall fall in her squares,
And all her warriors shall be silenced on that day,"
Is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.
- 27 "And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus,
Which shall devour the palaces of Benhadad."

28 ON KEDAR AND THE KINGDOM OF HAZOR,
WHICH NEBUCHADREZZAR KING OF BABYLON SMOTE, 49:28-33

Thus says the LORD:

- "Arise, go up against Kedar,
And spoil the sons of the east.
- 29 Their tents and their flocks shall be taken,
Their curtains and all their goods;
Their camels also shall be borne away,
While men shout at them, "Terror all around!"
- 30 Scatter in flight to inaccessible haunts, -
You inhabitants of Hazor," is the oracle of the LORD;
"For Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, has formed a purpose against you,
And has laid a plan against you.
- 31 "Arise, go up against a nation at ease,
That dwells in security," is the oracle of the LORD,
"A nation that has neither gates nor bars,
That lives alone.
- 32 Their camels shall fall a prey,
And their throngs of cattle shall be a spoil;
I will scatter to all the winds those who have the corners of their hair clipped,
And from every side of them will I bring doom upon them;"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 33 "And Hazor shall become a haunt of jackals,
A desolation forever;
No man shall dwell there,
No mortal man shall stay in her."

ON ELAM, 49:34-39

- 34 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah, king of Judah.

- 5 They shall ask the way to Zion,
With their faces turned to it,
And shall come and join themselves to the LORD
In an everlasting covenant that shall not be forgotten.
- 6 "Lost sheep have my people been,
Their shepherds have misled them,
They have turned them astray on the mountains;
From mountain to hill have they gone,
Forgetting their fold.
- 7 All who found them devoured them—
While their enemies said, 'We are guiltless'—
Because they sinned against the LORD, the fold of righteousness,
Against the LORD, the hope of their fathers.
- 8 "Flee from the midst of Babylon,
Go out of the land of the Chaldeans, -
Like he-goats before the flock.
- 9 For behold! I am rousing and raising against Babylon
A muster of mighty nations from the north land,
Who shall set themselves in array against her,
Till she be taken from her place.
Their arrows shall be like those of a skilful warrior,
Who returns not with empty hands;
- 10 And Chaldea shall be a spoil—
All who spoil her shall have their fill,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 11 "Though you rejoice and exult,
You who plunder my heritage,
Though you gambol like calves at grass,
And neigh like stallions,
- 12 Your mother shall be sorely ashamed,
She who bore you shall be put to the blush—
Behold! the last of the nations shall become a wilderness,
A dry land, and a desert;
- 13 Through the wrath of the LORD she shall not be inhabited,
But shall become an utter desolation;
Everyone who passes by Babylon shall hiss in horror
At all her wounds.

- 14 "Set yourselves in array against Babylon round about,
 All you who bend the bow;
 Shoot at her, spare not your arrows,
 For she has sinned against the LORD.
- 15 Shout against her round about,
 'She gives way,
 Her buttresses have fallen, her walls are torn down!' ¹
 It is the vengeance of the LORD, therefore take vengeance upon her,
 Do to her as she has done.
- 16 Cut off from Babylon both him that sows
 And him that handles the sickle in time of harvest;
 While before the deadly sword they turn everyone to his people,
 And flee everyone to his land.
- 17 "A scattered flock is Israel,
 Chased away by lions.
 First the king of Assyria devoured him,
 And now at the last Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, has gnawed his bones."
- 18 Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:
 "Behold! I am punishing the king of Babylon and his land,
 As I punished the king of Assyria;
 And I will bring back Israel to his fold,
 And he shall pasture on Carmel and Bashan,
 And shall browse to his heart's content on Mount Ephraim and Gilead.
- 20 In those days, and at that time,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD,
 "Men shall search for the guilt of Israel, but shall find none,
 And for the sins of Judah, but shall discover none;
 For I will pardon those whom I leave as a remnant.
- 21 "Go up against the land of Merathaim,
 And against the people of Pekod;
 Slay and destroy them utterly,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD;
 "Do to them all that I have commanded you.
- 22 Hark! the sound of battle in the land,
 The sound of dire destruction!

- 23 Ah! how the hammer of all the earth
Is hewn and broken in pieces!
Ah! how Babylon is become
A horror among the nations!
- 24 I set a snare for you, O Babylon,
And you have been taken unawares;
You have been found, you have been caught,
Because you have challenged the LORD.
- 25 The LORD has opened his armory,
And has brought forth his weapons of wrath;
For the Lord, the GOD of hosts,
Has a work to do in the land of the Chaldeans.
- 26 "Come upon her from every quarter, throw open her granaries, Pile her up like heaps of grain, destroy her utterly—
Let nothing of her be left!
- 27 Slay all her bullocks, let them go down to the slaughter;
Woe to them! for their day has come,
Their time of reckoning.
- 28 Hark! they flee, they escape from the land of Babylon,
To tell in Zion of the vengeance which the LORD our God has taken,
The vengeance he has taken for his temple.
- 29 "Summon against Babylon archers,
All who bend the bow;
Encamp against her round about,
Let none of her escape!
Repay her for her deeds,
Do to her as she has done;
For she has been insolent to the LORD,
The Holy One of Israel.
- 30 Therefore her choice young men shall fall in the squares,
And all her warriors shall be silenced on that day,"
Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 31 "Lo! I am against you, O Insolence!"
Is the oracle of the Lord, the GOD of hosts;
"For your day has come, your time of reckoning.
- 32 Insolence shall stumble and fall,
With none to lift him up;

And I will kindle a fire in his cities,
Which shall devour all who are round about
him."

33 Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"The children of Israel are crushed,
Along with the children of Judah;
And all who took them captive hold them fast,
They refuse to let them go.

34 But their Champion is strong,
He whose name is the LORD of hosts;
He will surely defend their cause,
That he may bring rest to the earth,
But unrest to the people of Babylon.

35 "A sword upon the Chaldeans," is the oracle of the LORD,
"Upon the people of Babylon, upon her princes and her sages;
36 A sword upon her soothsayers, that they may become fools,
A sword upon her soldiers, that they may be discomfited:
37 A sword upon her horses, and upon her chariots,
And upon all the foreign people in the midst of her, that they may be turned into women;
A sword upon her treasures, that they may be plundered,
38 A sword upon her waters, that they may be dried up;
For she is a land of images,
And upon idols they are mad.

39 "Therefore wild cats and wolves shall dwell there,
And ostriches shall inhabit her;
She shall be peopled no more forever,
Nor occupied from generation to generation.
40 As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah,
Along with their neighbors," is the oracle of the LORD,
"No man shall dwell there,
No mortal man shall stay in her.

41 "Behold! a people is coming from the north,
A great nation and mighty kings are stirring from the ends of
earth;
42 They lay hold on bow and javelin,
They are cruel and pitiless;

- The sound of them is like that of the sea when it roars,
And they ride upon horses—
Arrayed as a man for the battle
Against you, O daughter of Zion!
- 43 The king of Babylon has heard the report of them,
And his hands fall helpless;
Anguish lays hold on him,
Pain like that of a woman in travail.
- 44 "Behold! like a lion coming up from the jungles of Jordan,
Against the peaceful sheepfold,
So will I chase them in a moment from their place,
And whom I choose I will set upon it.
For who is like me? and who will challenge me?
What shepherd is there who will face me?
- 45 Therefore hear the purpose that the LORD has formed against Babylon,
And the plans that he has laid against the land of the Chaldeans!
Even the youngest of the flock shall be dragged away,
And their fold shall be shocked at their fate.
- 46 At the sound of the capture of Babylon the earth shall quake,
And her cry shall be heard through the nations."
- 51 Thus says the LORD:
"Behold! I am rousing against Babylon,
And against the people of Leb-kamai,
The spirit of a destroyer;
- 2 And I will send to Babylon winnowers who shall winnow her,
And shall clean her land bare;
Then woe betide her on every side
On her day of trouble!
- 3 Let the archer bend his bow,
And stand up in his coat of mail;
Spare not her choice young men,
But utterly destroy all her host;
- 4 Let them lie down slain in the land of the Chaldeans,
Thrust through in her streets!
- 5 For their land is full of guilt
Against the Holy One of Israel;
But Israel and Judah have not been left widows
By their God, the LORD of hosts.

- 6 "Flee from the midst of Babylon,
Save everyone his life;
Perish not through her guilt,
For this is the LORD's time of vengeance—
Due recompense is he repaying to her.
- 7 Babylon was a cup of gold in the hand of the LORD,
That made all the earth drunk;
Of her wine the nations drank,
So that the nations went mad.
- 8 Suddenly Babylon falls and is broken—
Wail over her!
Take balm for her wound—
Perhaps she may be healed!
- 9 We would fain have healed Babylon,
But she is not healed.
Leave her, and let us go
Each to his land;
For her judgment touches the heavens,
Reaches the skies.
- 10 The LORD has vindicated our rights;
Come, and let us recount in Zion
What the LORD our God has done.
- 11 "Polish the arrows, prepare the shields;
For the LORD has roused the spirit of the king of the Medes,
He has formed a design against Babylon, to destroy it;
For such is the vengeance the LORD will take,
The vengeance he will take for his temple.
- 12 Against the walls of Babylon raise a signal,
Strengthen the blockades, set blockaders,
Prepare the ambushes;
For the LORD has both designed and done
What he spoke concerning the people of Babylon.
- 13 O you who dwell by many waters,
And are rich in treasures,
Your end has come, your ill-gotten gains are gone;
- 14 For the LORD of hosts has sworn by himself:
'I will fill you with men, swarming like locusts,
Who shall raise against you the shout of victory.'

- 15 "It is he who made the earth by his power,
Who established the world by his wisdom,
And stretched out the heavens by his skill.
- 16 When he thunders, there is a storm of waters in the heavens,
And he causes vapors to rise from the ends of the earth;
He makes lightnings for the rain,
And brings out the wind from his storehouses.
- 17 Every man is stupid and senseless,
Every goldsmith is put to shame through his images;
For his idols are frauds, which have no breath in them,
- 18 They are a mockery, a delusion,
Which will break down in their time of trial.
- 19 Not such is the Portion of Jacob,
But he is the framer of all things,
And Israel is the tribe of his inheritance—
The LORD of hosts is his name.
- 20 "You are my maul, my weapon of war,
With you I shatter nations,
With you I destroy kingdoms;
- 21 With you I shatter horse and rider,
With you I shatter chariot and driver;
- 22 With you I shatter man and woman,
With you I shatter old man and boy,
With you I shatter young man and maiden;
- 23 With you I shatter shepherd and flock,
With you I shatter plowman and team,
With you I shatter governor and deputy.
- 24 And I will requite Babylon and all the people of Chaldea, before your eyes, for all the wrong that they have done in Zion," is the oracle of the LORD.
- 25 "Behold! I am against you, O destroying mountain,
That destroyed all the earth," is the oracle of the LORD;
"I will stretch out my hand against you,
And will roll you down from the crags,
And will make you a burning mountain.
- 26 No cornerstone shall be taken from you,
No foundation stone;

- But you shall be a perpetual desolation,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 27 "Raise a signal on the earth,
 Blow a trumpet among the nations;
 Prepare the nations for war against her,
 Summon against her the kingdoms of Ararat,
 Minni and Ashkenaz;
 Appoint a field marshal against her,
 Bring up horses like bristling locusts.
- 28 Prepare the nations for war against her,
 The king of the Medes, his governors, and all his deputies,
 With all the land which he rules.
- 29 The earth quakes and writhes in pain,
 For the purposes of the LORD against Babylon stand—
 To make the land of Babylon a desolation,
 Without an inhabitant.
- 30 "The warriors of Babylon have ceased to fight,
 They stay in their strongholds;
 Their strength is exhausted, they are turned into women,
 Her dwellings are ablaze, her bars are broken.
- 31 Runner runs to meet runner,
 Messenger to meet messenger,
 To tell the king of Babylon
 That his city is taken from end to end,
- 32 That the fords have been seized,
 That the outworks are burned with fire,
 And that the men of war are discomfited.
- 33 For thus says the LORD of hosts,
 The God of Israel:
 "The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor
 After it has been trodden,
 And in a little while the time of harvest
 Shall come for her."
- 34 "Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, has devoured me,
 He has consumed me;
 He has set me down as an empty vessel,
 He has swallowed me like a monster;
 He has filled his maw with my dainties,

- He has rinsed me out.
35 'The violence done to my flesh be upon Babylon!
Let the inhabitants of Zion say;
'My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea!'
Let Jerusalem say.
- 36 Therefore thus says the LORD:
'Behold! I am defending your cause,
And will take vengeance for you;
I will dry up her sea,
And will drain her fountain.
37 And Babylon shall become a heap of ruins,
A haunt of jackals,
A horror and a hissing,
Without an inhabitant.'
- 38 "Though they roar together like young lions,
And growl like lions' whelps,
39 With poison will I prepare them a feast,
And will make them drunk till they swoon away,
And sleep a perpetual sleep,
And never awake," is the oracle of the LORD.
- 40 "I will bring them down to the slaughter like lambs,
Like rams and he-goats.
- 41 "Ah! how is Sheshach taken,
The praise of the whole earth seized!
Ah! how has Babylon become
A horror among the nations!
42 The sea has come up on Babylon,
With the surge of its waves is she covered;
43 Her cities have become a waste,
A dry land, and a desert,
A land where no man dwells,
Through which no mortal passes.
- 44 Bel also will I punish in Babylon,
And out of his mouth will I bring forth what he has swallowed;
Then no more shall the nations stream to him,
For the wall of Babylon is fallen.
- 45 "Go out of the midst of her, O my people!
Save everyone his life

- From the glowing wrath of the LORD.
 46 Be not downhearted nor fearful
 At the rumors heard in the land,
 When one rumor comes in one year,
 And another in the next,
 When violence reigns in the land,
 And ruler stands against ruler.
- 47 Therefore behold! days are coming,
 When I will punish the images of Babylon,
 And all her land shall be put to shame,
 And all her slain shall lie in the midst of her.
- 48 Then the heavens and the earth, and all that is in them,
 Shall ring out their joy over Babylon;
 For out of the north shall the spoilers come to her,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD;
- 49 "And Babylon also must fall for the slain of Israel,
 As for Babylon have fallen the slain of all the earth.
- 50 "You that escape from the sword,
 Go, stand not still;
 Remember the LORD from afar,
 And think of Jerusalem:
- 51 "We are put to the blush, for reproach have we heard—
 Confusion has covered our faces,
 For strangers have entered the sanctuary
 Of the house of the LORD."
- 52 Therefore behold! days are coming,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD,
 "When I will punish her images,
 And all through her land the slain shall lie.
- 53 Though Babylon scale the heavens,
 And fortify her stronghold on high,
 Yet from me shall spoilers come to her,"
 Is the oracle of the LORD.
- 54 "Hark! a cry from Babylon,
 The sound of dire destruction from the land of the Chaldeans!
 55 For the LORD is spoiling Babylon,
 And stills her mighty voice.
 They roar like many waters,

the LORD burned against Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out of his presence.

4 Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. Accordingly, in the ninth year of his reign, the tenth month, the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, with all his army advanced against Jerusalem, encamped against it, and built a siege-wall against it round about; and the city remained under siege till the eleventh year of King Zedekiah. In the fourth month of that year, the ninth day of the month, when the famine in the city was so severe that there was no food for the common people, the city was breached, and the king and all the soldiers left the city by night, through the gate between the two walls, by the king's garden—the Chaldeans being all round the city—and made for the Jordan valley. But the Chaldean army pursued them, and overtook Zedekiah in the steppes of Jericho, his whole army having scattered from him; and they arrested the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he pronounced judgment against him. And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes. He likewise slew all the princes of Judah at Riblah. Then the king of Babylon put out the eyes of Zedekiah, bound him with chains, carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison, where he remained till the day of his death.

12 In the fifth month, the tenth day of the month—this was the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon—Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, a minister in attendance on the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem, and burned the house of the LORD and the king's house; and every other house in Jerusalem, every great house, he burned with fire. And the Chaldean army that was with the commander of the guard broke down all the walls of Jerusalem round about. Then Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, carried captive the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the deserters who had surrendered to the king of Babylon, together with the artisans that were left. But some of the poorest of the land Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, left as vinedressers and plowmen. The Chaldeans also broke in pieces the bronze pillars, the stands, and the bronze sea that were in the house of the LORD, carrying all the bronze parts of them to Babylon. And they took away the pots, the shovels, the snuffers, the basons, the pans, and all the other bronze vessels that were used in worship. The commander of the guard also took away the cups, the fire pans, the basons, the pots, the lamp stands,

- ²⁰ the pans, and the bowls—of gold and silver respectively—besides the two pillars, the sea, the twelve bronze bulls that were under the sea, and the stands, which King Solomon had made for the house of the
- ²¹ LORD, of all of which vessels the bronze was beyond weight. The pillars were each eighteen cubits in height, twelve cubits in circum-
- ²² ference, and four fingers in diameter, the center being hollow. Each was surmounted by a bronze capital, five cubits in height, with network and pomegranates of solid bronze round about the capital. Both pillars were similar in every respect, including network and pome-
- ²³ granates. On the network round about each capital there were ninety-six pomegranates visible on the outside, and one hundred in all.
- ²⁴ And the commander of the guard took Seraiah, the chief priest, and Zephaniah, the second priest, with the three keepers of the threshold;
- ²⁵ he took also from the city a eunuch who had charge of the soldiers, and seven of the king's privy councillors who were found in the city, the secretary of the commander in chief, who kept the army roll, and
- ²⁶ sixty of the country people who were found within the city. Having taken them, Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, brought them
- ²⁷ to the king of Babylon at Riblah. And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. Thus was Judah carried captive from its land.
- ²⁸ This is the sum-total of the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried captive: in the seventeenth year, three thousand and twenty-three men
- ²⁹ of Judah; in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar, eight hundred
- ³⁰ and thirty-two persons from Jerusalem; in the twenty-third year of Nebuchadrezzar, seven hundred and forty-five men of Judah, carried captive by Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard; in all, four thousand six hundred persons.

THE DELIVERANCE OF JEHOIACHIN, 52:31-34

- ³¹ In the thirty-seventh year of the exile of Jehoiachin, king of Judah, the twelfth month, the twenty-fifth day of the month, Evil-Merodach, king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, extended clem-
- ³² ency to Jehoiachin, summoned him from prison, spoke kindly to him, and gave him a seat above that of the other kings who were with him
- ³³ in Babylon. So he changed his prison dress, and dined in the king's
- ³⁴ presence all the days of his life. And for his provision, a perpetual allowance was made for him by the king of Babylon, a suitable portion for each day, all the days of his life, till the day of his death.

THE BOOK OF LAMENTATIONS

THE DESOLATION AND MISERY OF CONQUERED JERUSALEM, 1:1-22

כ

1 How lonely the city sits,
 once so crowded with people!
 She has become like a widow,
 once so great among the nations;
 She that was a princess among the cities
 has become a vassal.

כ

2 She weeps bitterly by night,
 with her tears upon her cheeks;
 She has no comforter
 out of all her lovers;
 All her friends have betrayed her;
 they have become her enemies.

ג

3 Judah has been carried into exile,
 to suffer tribulation and hard servitude;
 She has to live among the nations,
 she can find no home;
 Her pursuers have all overtaken her,
 in the midst of her troubles.

ד

4 The roads to Zion mourn,
 without pilgrims to the feasts;
 All her gates are desolate;
 her priests moan;
 Her maidens have been dragged off,
 while she is left disconsolate.

ה

5 Her oppressors have become supreme;
 her enemies have triumphed;

For the LORD has afflicted her for the multitude of her sins;
Her children have gone forth,
as captives before the oppressor.

7

6 Gone too from the daughter of Zion is all her splendor;
Her princes have become like stags,
that can find no pasture,
But flee exhausted
before the hunter.

7

7 Jerusalem recalls,
in the time of her affliction and misery,
All her glory,
which she had in days of old,
Now that her people have fallen at the hands of the oppressor,
with none to help her;
The oppressors gaze at her,
they laugh at her downfall.

8

8 Jerusalem sinned greatly,
and so has become filthy;
All her admirers despise her,
because they see her condition;
Whereas she herself moans,
and turns away.

9

9 Her uncleanness clung to her skirts;
she took no thought of her future;
So she has fallen most horribly,
with none to comfort her.
"See, O LORD, my affliction, how the enemy triumphs."

10

10 The oppressor has laid his hand
upon all her treasures;

For she has seen the nations
 enter her sanctuary,
 Those whom thou didst command
 not to enter thy assembly place.

‡

11 Her people are all moaning,
 in their search for bread;
 They give of their treasures for food,
 to keep themselves alive.
 "See, O LORD, and behold,
 how abased I am."

12 Ho, all you who pass along the road,
 look and see,
 If there is any pain like my pain,
 which has been dealt to me,
 With which the LORD has afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

13 "From above he has hurled fire;
 into my bones he has made it descend;
 He has spread a net for my feet;
 he has tripped me up;
 He has made me desolate,
 miserable all the time.

14 "Watch has been kept over my transgressions;
 by his hand they are bound together;
 They have come upon my neck;
 he has shattered my strength;
 The Lord has delivered me into the power of those that I cannot withstand.

‡

15 "The Lord in my midst
 has set at nought all my warriors;

He has called an assembly against me,
to crush my young men;
The Lord has trodden as in a wine-press
the virgin daughter of Judah.

- 16 “For all these things I weep;
my eyes shed tears;
For a comforter is far from me,
someone to console me;
My children are distraught,
for the enemy has prevailed.”

D

- 17 Zion spreads out her hands,
with none to comfort her;
The LORD has given command regarding Jacob,
that his neighbors are to be his oppressors;
Jerusalem has become abhorrent to them.

- 18 “The LORD is right,
for I have rebelled against his word;
Yet hear, all you peoples,
and look at my pain:
How my youths and maidens
have gone into captivity.

P

- 19 “I called on my lovers,
but they repudiated me;
My priests and elders
perished in the city,
When they sought food
to keep themselves alive.

- 20 “See, O LORD, how I am in distress,
how my spirits are troubled;
How my heart is upset within me,
because I have been so rebellious.

On the street the sword has caused bereavement,
even as death in the house.

ו

- 21 "They hear how I moan,
with none to comfort me;
All my enemies have heard of my plight;
they rejoice that thou hast done it;
That thou hast brought the day which thou didst announce;
but they are like me.

נ

- 22 "Let all their wickedness come before thee,
and do unto them,
As thou hast done unto me
for all my transgressions;
For my sorrow is great,
and my heart is miserable."

GOD'S JUDGMENT ON JERUSALEM, 2:1-22

ס

- 2 How the Lord in his anger has brought disgrace
upon the daughter of Zion!
He has cast down from heaven to earth
the glory of Israel;
And has given no heed to his footstool
in the day of his anger.

ז

- 2 The Lord has consumed without mercy
all the habitations of Jacob;
He has thrown down in his wrath
the strongholds of the daughter of Judah;
He has struck to the ground,
he has degraded her king and princes.

ח

- 3 He has cut off in fierce anger
all of Israel's strength;
He has drawn back their right hand
from the enemy;

And has burned throughout Jacob,
like a flaming fire which consumes the neighborhood.

4 He has bent his bow like an enemy,
with his right hand set like an adversary;
And he has slain all the notables
in the tents of the daughter of Zion;
He has vented his fury like fire.

7

5 The Lord has become like an enemy;
he has consumed Israel;
He has consumed all his palaces;
he has demolished his fortresses;
And he has heaped on the daughter of Judah mourning and moaning.

7

6 He has torn down his pavilion like that of a garden;
he has demolished his meeting place;
The LORD has abolished in Zion
festival and sabbath;
And he has repudiated in the heat of his anger
king and priest.

7

7 The Lord has spurned his altar;
he has rejected his sanctuary;
He has surrendered into the power of the enemy
the walls of her palaces;
There was shouting in the temple of the LORD,
as on a day of festival.

7

8 The LORD had determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion;
He stretched out a line;
he did not restrain his hand from consuming;
So rampart and wall mourn;
they lament together.

- 9 Her gates are sunk to the ground;
 he has destroyed and broken her bars;
 Her king and princes are among the nations;
 government has ceased;
 Neither do her prophets receive any visions from the LORD.

- 10 Silent on the ground sit
 the elders of the daughter of Zion;
 They have thrown dust on their heads;
 they have put on sackcloth;
 The maidens of Jerusalem
 hang their heads to the ground.

- 11 My eyes are spent with tears;
 my spirits are troubled.
 My grief is poured out on the ground,
 over the downfall of the daughter of my people;
 Because of the swooning of babes and sucklings
 in the city squares.

- 12 To their mothers they keep saying,
 "Where are there grain and wine?"
 While they swoon like one wounded
 in the city squares;
 While their lives ebb away
 on their mothers' bosoms.

- 13 To what can I liken you;
 what can I compare with you, O daughter of Jerusalem?
 What can I liken to you,
 that I may comfort you, O virgin daughter of Zion?
 For your ruin is as vast as the sea;
 who can heal you?

J

- 14 Your prophets have divined for you stuff and nonsense;
And instead of denouncing your iniquity,
to restore your fortune,
They have divined for you oracles,
vain and misleading.

D

- 15 All who pass along the road
clap their hands at you;
They hiss and wag their heads
at the daughter of Jerusalem:
“Is this the city
that was called perfect in beauty, the joy of all the earth?”

E

- 16 All your enemies
revile you;
They hiss and gnash their teeth;
they say, “We have consumed her;
This is indeed the day that we looked for;
we have found it; we see it.”

F

- 17 The LORD has done what he planned;
he has carried out his word,
Which he decreed long ago;
he has devastated without mercy,
And he has let the enemy rejoice over you;
he has exalted the strength of your oppressors.

G

- 18 Cry unto the Lord;
wail, O daughter of Zion;
Weep tears like a torrent,
day and night;
Give yourself no respite;
let your tears cease not.

P

- 19 Rise, cry out in the night,
 at the beginning of the watches;
 Pour out your heart like water in the presence of the Lord;
 Lift up your hands to him
 for the life of your children,
 Who faint for hunger
 at the head of every street.

Q

- 20 See, O LORD, and behold;
 to whom else hast thou done thus:
 Whether it be women devouring their own offspring,
 their petted children;
 Or priest and prophet
 slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

W

- 21 Prostrate on the ground in the streets lie
 both the young and the old;
 My youths and maidens
 have fallen by the sword;
 Thou hast slain them in the day of thy anger;
 thou hast slaughtered them without mercy.

R

- 22 Thou didst invite them as though it were a feast day,
 to my guest chamber from the neighborhood;
 But in the day of the LORD's anger there was none
 that escaped or survived;
 Those whom I fondled and reared,
 my enemy exterminated.

JERUSALEM'S LAMENT AND PRAYER, 3:1-66

S

- 3 "I am a person who has seen affliction
 by the rod of his wrath;
 2 He has led me and made me walk
 in darkness and not light.

3 Against me alone he has repeatedly turned his hand all the time.

כ

4 “He has wasted my flesh and my skin;
 he has broken my bones.

5 He has fenced me in,
 and encompassed me with bitterness and hardship.

6 He has made me live in the dark,
 like those long dead.

כ

7 “He has walled me in so that I cannot get out;
 he has loaded me with chains.

8 Also, whenever I have cried, and called for help,
 he has ignored my prayer.

9 He has walled up my ways with hewn stones;
 he has made my paths crooked.

ד

10 “He has been a lurking bear to me,
 a lion in ambush.

11 He has waylaid me, and mangled me;
 he has made me desolate.

12 He has bent his bow,
 and set me up as a target for his arrows.

ה

13 “He has driven into my vitals
 the shafts of his quiver;

14 I have become the butt of all peoples,
 their taunt-song all the time.

15 He has filled me with bitterness;
 he has sated me with anguish.

ו

16 “He has broken my teeth with gravel stones;
 he has made me cower in ashes;

17 And he has robbed me of happiness;
 I have forgotten what prosperity is;

18 So I said, 'Gone is my strength, and my hope in the LORD.'

†

19 "The thought of my affliction and bitterness is anguish and misery.
20 I am indeed thinking of it, and I am crushed in spirit.
21 But this I call to mind,
and so I have hope:

‡

22 "That the mercies of the LORD never cease;
his compassion never fails;
23 They are fresh every morning;
great is his faithfulness.
24 'The LORD is my heritage,' I said;
'therefore will I hope in him.'

‡

25 "The LORD is good to him who craves him,
to the person who seeks him.
26 It is good that one should wait quietly
for help from the LORD;
27 It is good for a man,
that he should bear the yoke in his youth.

28 "Let him sit alone in silence,
since it has been laid upon him.
29 Let him lay his mouth in the dust;
perhaps there may be hope.
30 Let him offer his cheek to the smiter;
let him be sated with disgrace;

‡

31 "For the Lord forever will not spurn him.
32 Though he cause grief, he will have compassion according to the abundance of his grace;

33 For he does not willingly afflict,
nor grieve mankind.

5

34 "To crush under foot
all prisoners in the world, 35 To deprive a man of his rights,
in the face of the Almighty, 36 To subvert man in his cause,
the Lord does not countenance.

7

37 "Who is there that can order anything into being,
when the Lord has not decreed it?
38 Is it not by decree of the Most High,
that good and evil come?
39 Of what can living man complain,
each one because of his sins?

9

40 "Let us search, and examine our ways,
and return to the LORD;
41 Let us lift up our hearts with our hands
to God in the heavens:
42 'We have transgressed and rebelled;
but thou hast not pardoned.

11

43 "Thou hast enveloped thyself in anger, and pursued us;
thou hast slain without mercy;
44 Thou hast enveloped thyself in a cloud,
so that no prayer can pass through;
45 Thou hast made us scum and refuse
among the peoples.

13

46 "All our enemies
have reviled us;
47 Desolation and destruction
have become terror and calamity to us.'

48 My eyes shed torrents of water, over the downfall of the daughter of my people.

י

49 "My eyes will flow unceasingly,
 without any respite,
 50 Until the LORD from the heavens looks down, and sees.

51 My eyes give me pain,
 because of all the maidens of my city.

ז

52 "They who had no reason to be my enemies
 hunted me like a bird;
 53 They threw me into a pit to die,
 and cast stones on me.

54 Water flowed over my head;
 I said, 'I am lost.'

פ

55 "I called on thy name, O LORD, out of the depths of the pit.

56 Thou didst hear my cry,
 'Close not thy ear to my supplication, to my cry';

57 Thou didst draw near when I called on thee;
 thou didst say, 'Fear not.'

ק

58 "O Lord, thou didst plead my cause, thou didst redeem my life.

59 O LORD, thou hast seen the wrong done me;
 give me justice.

60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance,
 all their plots against me.

ש

61 "Thou hast heard their insults, O LORD,
 all their plots against me,

62 The utterances of my assailants,
 and their muttering against me all day long.

63 Whether they are idle or busy,
see how I am their taunt-song.

ן

64 "Repay them, O LORD,
as their deeds deserve;
65 Give them blindness of heart,
let thy curse be on them;
66 Pursue them in anger,
and destroy them from under thy heavens, O
LORD!"

THE CONTRAST BETWEEN JERUSALEM'S PAST AND PRESENT,
4:1-22

ס

4 How dim the gold has become,
how changed the finest gold!
The sacred stones are being thrown out
at the head of every street.

ב

2 The precious children of Zion,
comparable to fine gold,
Count, alas, as earthen pots,
the work of a potter's hands!

ג

3 Even the jackals bare their breasts,
they suckle their young;
But the daughter of my people has become cruel,
like the ostriches of the desert.

ד

4 The tongue of the suckling child cleaves
to his palate for thirst;
The children are begging bread,
with none to offer it to them.

ה

5 They that did feast on dainties are perishing in the streets;

They that were reared amid purple have to take to dunghills.

7

6 So the iniquity of the daughter of my people must be greater than the sin of Sodom,
That was overthrown as in a moment,
without any hands being laid on her.

8

7 Her princes were purer than snow;
they were whiter than milk;
They were ruddier in body than corals;
a sapphire was their form.

9

8 But their appearance has become blacker than coal;
they are not recognized on the streets;
Their skin has shrivelled on their bones;
it has become as dry as a stick.

10

9 Better off are those stricken by the sword than those stricken by hunger;
For they can eat, even though wounded,
of the fruits of the field.

11

10 Tender-hearted women with their own hands have cooked their children;
They became their food,
at the downfall of the daughter of my people.

12

11 The LORD has spent his fury;
he has vented his fierce anger;
And he has kindled a fire in Zion,
that has consumed her foundations.

13

12 No kings of the earth believed,
nor any of the inhabitants of the world,

That the oppressor and enemy could enter the gates of Jerusalem.

מ

- 13 It was for the sins of her prophets,
the iniquities of her priests,
Who shed in her midst
the blood of the righteous.

נ

- 14 They stagger blindly through the streets;
they are defiled with blood;
That which they should not,
they touch with their clothes.

ד

- 15 "Away! Unclean!" they cry of themselves;
"Away! Away! Touch not!"
For they are fugitives, wanderers among the nations;
they no longer have a home.

ה

- 16 Those whose heritage was the LORD,
he no longer notices;
He does not honor the priests;
he does not respect the prophets.

ו

- 17 Our eyes still strain
after help for us that is vain;
In our watching we have watched for a nation that will not save.

ז

- 18 Men dog our footsteps,
so that we cannot walk in our public squares;
Our end is near; our days are finished;
for our end has come.

ח

- 19 Our pursuers were swifter
than the eagles of the heavens;

They chased us on the mountains;
they lay in wait for us in the wilderness.

7

20 Our breath of life, the LORD's anointed, was captured in their pits,
Of whom we had said,
"Under his protection we shall live among the nations."

8

21 Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, living in the land of Uz!
To you also shall the cup pass;
you shall become drunk, and be stripped naked.

9

22 Your iniquity is absolved, O daughter of Zion;
he will no longer keep you in captivity.
He will punish your iniquity, O daughter of Edom;
he will lay bare your sins.

THE NATION'S PRAYER FOR COMPASSION, 5:1-22

5 "Mark, O LORD, what has befallen us;
Look, and see our disgrace.
2 Our heritage has been turned over to aliens,
Our homes to foreigners.
3 We have become orphans, without a father;
Our mothers are like widows.
4 Our drinking-water we have to buy;
Our wood comes only by purchase.
5 With a yoke on our necks we are persecuted;
We toil without rest.
6 We have stretched out our hands to Egypt,
To Assyria in order to get food enough.
7 Our fathers sinned, and are no more;
While we have to bear their guilt.
8 Slaves rule over us,
With none to free us from their power;
9 At the peril of our lives we win our bread,
Because of the sword in the wilderness.

- 10 Our skin glows like a fire pot,
With the fever heat of famine.
- 11 Women are ravished in Zion;
Girls in the cities of Judah.
- 12 Princes are hanged by their hands;
Elders are not respected.
- 13 Young men have to carry the mill,
And youths stumble under loads of wood.
- 14 The elders have left the gate,
The young men their music.
- 15 Our joy of heart has vanished;
Our dance has been turned into mourning.
- 16 The crown has fallen from our head;
Woe to us! for we have sinned.
- 17 For this our heart has become faint;
For these things our eyes have grown dim;
- 18 Because of Mount Zion which lies desolate,
With jackals prowling upon it.
- 19 But thou, O LORD, art enthroned forever;
Thy throne endures from age to age.
- 20 Why wilt thou forget us forever,
Forsake us for life?
- 21 Restore us, O LORD, to thyself, so that we may return;
Renew our days as of old;
- 22 For if thou wert to reject us completely,
Thou wouldst be going too far in thy anger against us."

THE BOOK OF EZEKIEL

THE CALL OF THE PROPHET, 1:1—3:15

1 In the thirtieth year, the fourth month, the fifth day of the month, as I was among the exiles by the river Chebar, the heavens opened, 2 and I saw visions of God. [It was on the fifth day of the month, in 3 the fifth year of the exile of King Jehoiachin, that the word of the LORD came to Ezekiel, the son of Buzi, the priest, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar, and the hand of the LORD was upon him there.]

4 I looked, and lo! there came from the north a violent gale, accompanied by a great cloud, with fire flashing through it, and a radiance round about it, while out of the midst of it gleamed something with 5 a luster like that of shining metal. Out of the midst of it emerged the semblance of four living creatures, and this was their appearance: 6 Their form was like that of a man. Each, however, had four faces 7 and four wings. Their legs, too, were straight, while the soles of their feet resembled the sole of a calf's foot; and they sparkled like 8 burnished bronze. Under their wings, on their four sides, were the 9 hands of a man. The wings of the four of them were linked one to another; and their faces turned not as they went, but each went 10 straight forward. As for the form of their faces, the four of them had the face of a man and the face of a lion on the right, and the face 11 of an ox and the face of an eagle on the left. The wings of the four of them were outstretched, one pair being linked to those of the next 12 creature, and the other pair covering the body. Each went straight forward; wherever the spirit wished to go, they went, not turning as 13 they went. And in the midst of the creatures was an appearance like burning coals of fire, resembling torches, moving to and fro among 14 the creatures; and the fire had a radiance, while out of the fire went lightning, running to and fro.

15 As I looked at the creatures, lo! there was a wheel on the ground 16 beside each of the four of them. The color of the wheels was like topaz; and the four of them had the same shape, their construction 17 being as if one wheel were within another. When they went, they 18 went on their four sides, not turning as they went. The wheels had felloes; and as I looked at them, lo! the felloes of the four of them 19 were full of eyes round about. When the creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the creatures rose from the earth, the 20 wheels also rose. Wherever the spirit wished to go, they went; for 21 the spirit of the creatures was in the wheels. When these went, they went; and when these stood still, they stood still; and when these rose from the earth, the wheels rose along with them; for the spirit of the creatures was in the wheels.

22 Over the heads of the creatures was the semblance of a firmament, 23 glittering like transparent ice, stretched above their heads. Under the firmament one pair of their wings touched those of the next creature, 24 while the other pair covered the body. And when they went, the sound of their wings sounded to me like the sound of mighty waters, or like the voice of the Almighty—it was a sound of tumult like that 25 of an armed camp—and when they stood still, they let down their 26 wings. Above the firmament that was over their heads was the semblance of a throne, colored like sapphire; and upon the semblance of 27 the throne was a semblance like that of a man sitting above it. From the appearance of his loins upward I saw something with a luster like that of shining metal; and from the appearance of his loins downward I saw something resembling fire, with a radiance round about it, 28 resembling the bow that appears in the clouds on a rainy day.

Such was the semblance of the glory of the LORD, as it appeared to me. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face. Then I heard the 2 voice of someone speaking. And he said to me,

“O mortal man, stand upon your feet, that I may speak with you!”

2 As he spoke to me, a spirit entered me, and set me upon my feet.

3 And I heard him that spoke to me saying,

“O mortal man, I am sending you to the household of Israel, that nation of rebels who have rebelled against me—they and their fathers 4 have sinned against me to this very day, the children also are hard-faced and stubborn—I am sending you to them, and you shall say to 5 them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD!’ And whether they listen or decline to listen—for they are a rebellious household—they shall know that 6 there is a prophet among them. And you, O mortal man, fear them not, nor be dismayed at them—even when thistles and thorns are round about you, and you dwell among scorpions—fear not their words, nor be dismayed at their looks—for they are a rebellious house-7 hold. You shall speak what I say to them, whether they listen or de-

8 cline to listen—for they are a rebellious household. And you, O mortal man, hear what I say to you; be not rebellious like that rebellious household. Open your mouth, and eat what I give you!”

9 Then I looked, and lo! there was a hand stretched out to me; and 10 lo! there was in it a scroll. And he unrolled it before me; and it was covered with writing on both sides—words of lamentation, mourning, and woe were written on it. And he said to me,

“O mortal man, eat what you find here; eat this scroll, then go and speak to the household of Israel!”

2 So I opened my mouth, and he gave me the scroll to eat, saying to
3 me,

“O mortal man, eat and digest this scroll which I am giving you!”

And when I ate the scroll, it was as sweet as honey in my mouth.

4 Then he said to me,

“O mortal man, go to the household of Israel, and speak what I
5 say to them. For it is not to a people of unintelligible speech or difficult language that you are sent, but to the household of Israel—not to many peoples of unintelligible speech or difficult language, whose words you cannot understand. If I sent you to them, they would certainly listen to you. But the household of Israel will not listen to you; for they will not listen to me; for the whole household of Israel
8 is hard-faced and stubborn. But I will make you as hard-faced and 9 stubborn as they; I will make you like adamant harder than flint. Fear them not, nor be dismayed before them—for they are a rebellious household.”

10 He said further to me,

“O mortal man, all the words that I shall speak to you receive and 11 attend to. Then go to the exiles, your fellow-countrymen, and speak to them, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord God!’ whether they hear or decline to hear.”

12 Then a spirit lifted me up (and as the glory of the LORD rose from 13 its place, I heard behind me the sound of a great rustling; it was the sound of the wings of the creatures as they touched one another, and the sound of the wheels beside them, that caused the great rustling)
14 a spirit lifted me up and carried me away, and I went with my spirit
15 in a fierce glow,—the hand of the LORD pressing hard upon me—and came to the exiles who lived at Tel-abib, by the River Chebar, and stayed with them there for seven days in a state of stupor.

THE PROPHET AS WATCHMAN, 3:16-21

16 At the end of seven days the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 17 "O mortal man, I appoint you a watchman to the household of Israel; and whenever you hear a word from my mouth, you shall 18 warn them from me. If I say to the wicked, 'You shall surely die,' and you fail to warn him—if you say nothing to warn the wicked man from his wicked way, in order to save his life—he being wicked shall 19 die for his iniquity, but his blood will I require at your hand. If, however, you warn the wicked man, and he turn not from his wicked conduct and his wicked way, he shall die for his iniquity, but you will 20 have saved yourself. Or if a righteous man turn from his righteousness, and do what is wrong, and I make that the occasion for bringing about his downfall, he shall die—because you did not warn him, he shall die for his sin, and the righteous deeds which he has done shall 21 not be remembered—but his blood will I require at your hand. If, however, you warn the righteous man not to sin, and he do not sin, he shall live, because he took warning; and you will have saved yourself."

THE SEALING OF THE PROPHET'S LIPS, 3:22-27

22 Then the hand of the LORD laid hold on me, and he said to me,
"Arise, go out to the plain, and there will I speak with you."
23 So I arose, and went out to the plain; and lo! there stood the glory of the LORD, like the glory which I had seen by the River Chebar; 24 and I fell upon my face. But a spirit entered me, and set me upon my feet; and he spoke with me, and said to me, 25 "Go, shut yourself up in your house. And behold! O mortal man,
I will place cords upon you, and will bind you with them, so that you 26 cannot go out in public. And I will make your tongue cleave to your palate, so that you shall be dumb, and unable to reprove them—for 27 they are a rebellious household. But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth, and you shall say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD!'—let him hear who will, and let him decline to hear who will
—for they are a rebellious household."

SYMBOLS OF THE SIEGE AND FALL OF JERUSALEM, 4:1—5:17

4 "And you, O mortal man, take a brick, and place it before you, and 2 trace upon it a city—Jerusalem—and lay entrenchments against it, build a siege-wall against it, throw up a mound against it, pitch camps

3 against it, and set battering-rams against it round about. And take an iron griddle, and place it as an iron wall between you and the city; and set your face toward it, bringing it under a state of siege, and press on the siege against it. This is a sign for the household of Israel.

4 "Then lie upon your left side, and bear upon it the guilt of the household of Israel—as many days as you lie upon it you shall bear
5 their guilt. For the years of their punishment I assign you an equal number of days—three hundred and ninety days—during all of 6 which you shall bear the guilt of the household of Israel. And when you have completed these, you shall next lie upon your right side, and shall bear the guilt of the household of Judah—forty days I assign
7 you, each day representing a year. And you shall set your face and your bared arm toward the siege of Jerusalem, and shall prophesy
8 against it. And behold! I will place cords upon you, and you shall not turn from side to side until you have completed the days of your siege.

9 "And take you wheat and barley, beans and lentils, millet and spelt, put them into a pot, and make them into bread; and during all the days that you are lying upon your side—three hundred and ninety
10 days—you shall eat it. And the food you eat shall be weighed out,
11 twenty shekels a day, to be eaten at a fixed hour each day. Water also shall you drink by measure, a sixth of a hin a day, to be drunk at a 12 fixed hour each day. And your food shall be in the form of barley-cakes, which you shall bake on human excrement in the presence of the people."

13 And the LORD said,

"So shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean among the nations to which I will drive them."

14 And I said,

"Ah Lord God! I have never yet defiled myself with uncleanness; from my boyhood up till now I have not eaten what died a natural death or was torn by wild beasts, nor has unclean flesh entered my mouth."

15 So he said to me,

"See! I allow you cow's dung instead of human excrement, on which to prepare your food."

16 He further said to me,

"O mortal man, behold! I am breaking the staff of bread in Jerusalem; and they shall eat bread by weight, in anxious fear, and shall 17 drink water by measure, in dire dismay, till from want of bread and water they fall together into a stupor, and pine away under their punishment.

- 5 "And you, O mortal man, take a sharp sword, and use it as a barber's razor, passing it over your head and beard; then take scales for
2 weighing, and divide the hair. One-third you shall burn in the fire that will rage within the city when the days of the siege are over; one-third you shall smite with the sword round about the city; and
3 one-third you shall scatter to the wind. But take a few of these, and 4 wrap them in the skirts of your robe; and take some of these again, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; and say to the whole household of Israel,
- 5 "Thus says the LORD: 'This is a symbol of the fate of Jerusalem.
6 I set her in the midst of the nations, with lands round about her. Yet she has wickedly rebelled against my ordinances and statutes more than the nations and lands that are round about her; for her people have scorned my ordinances and have not followed my statutes.'
7 Therefore thus says the Lord God: 'Because you have been more rebellious than the nations that are round about you—not following my statutes, nor obeying my ordinances, nor even conforming to the practices of the nations that are round about you'—therefore thus says the 8 Lord God: 'Behold! I am against you—even I—and will execute 9 judgments in the midst of you in the sight of the nations. Because of all your abominable deeds I will do among you what I have never 10 done before, and the like of which I will never do again. On this account fathers shall eat their sons and sons shall eat their fathers in the midst of you; and I will execute judgments among you, and will
11 scatter to all the winds all who remain of you. As I live,' is the oracle of the Lord God, 'because you have defiled my sanctuary with all your detestable and abominable deeds, I will cut you down without 12 mercy or pity. One-third of you shall die of pestilence or perish with famine in the midst of you; one-third shall fall by the sword round about you; and one-third will I scatter to all the winds, and after 13 them will I draw the sword. So shall my anger spend itself, and my fury will I satisfy upon you, and be appeased; and you shall know that I the LORD have spoken—through the zeal I show when I spend 14 my fury upon you. I will make you also a waste among the nations that are round about you, and a reproach in the sight of every passer-
15 by. You shall be a reproach and contempt, a warning and a horror, to the nations that are round about you, when I execute judgments among you with furious chastisements—I the LORD have spoken.

16 And I will send my deadly arrows against you—the arrows intended for destruction which I will send to destroy you—and will bring repeated attacks of famine upon you, and break your staff of bread. I will send against you famine and wild beasts to rob you of your children; and pestilence and bloodshed shall pass through you; and I will bring the sword upon you—I the LORD have spoken.’ ”

A PROPHECY AGAINST THE MOUNTAINS OF ISRAEL, 6:1-14

6 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 “O mortal man, set your face toward the mountains of Israel, and
 3 prophecy against them, and say, ‘O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD! Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains and the hills, the ravines and the valleys: Behold! I am bringing a sword
 4 upon you, and will destroy your high places; your altars shall be demolished, and your sun-pillars broken; and I will bring down your
 5 slain before your idols—I will lay the dead bodies of the children of Israel before their idols—and will scatter your bones round about 6 your altars. In all your settlements the cities shall be laid waste and the high places demolished, so that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, your idols broken and annihilated, your sun-pillars cut
 7 down, and your works blotted out. Your slain also shall fall in the 8 midst of you; and you shall know that I am the LORD, when I leave but a few of you who escape from the sword among the nations, scattered through the lands. Then those of you who escape shall remember me among the nations to which they are carried captive, after I have broken their heart which has gone whoring away from me, and blinded their eyes which have gone whoring after their idols; and they shall loathe themselves for the evil deeds they have done—even 10 for all their abominations—and shall know that it was not without purpose that I the LORD threatened to do all this evil to them.’ ”

11 Thus says the Lord GOD:

“Clench your fists, stamp your feet, and say, ‘Alas!’ over all the vile abominations of the household of Israel, for which they shall fall
 12 by sword, famine, and pestilence. He who is far off shall die of pestilence; he who is near at hand shall fall by the sword; and he who remains under siege shall perish with famine—so will I spend my
 13 fury upon them. And they shall know that I am the LORD, when their slain lie among their idols round about their altars, on every high hill, and on every mountain top, under every green tree, and under every leafy terebinth—the sanctuaries where they offered sweet fragrance

14 to all their idols. And I will stretch out my hand against them, and will make the land a desolation and a waste, through the whole extent of their settlements, from the desert to Riblah; and they shall know that I am the LORD."

THE DAY OF DOOM, 7:1-27

7 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 "And you, O mortal man, say, 'Thus says the Lord God to the land of Israel: An end has come—the end has come—upon the four corners of the land. Now has the end come upon you; and I will send my anger against you, and will judge you in accordance with your ways, and repay you for all your abominations. My eye shall not spare you, nor will I pity; but I will repay you for your ways, while your abominations are right in the midst of you; and you shall know that I the LORD am smiting.'

5 "Thus says the Lord God: 'Woe upon woe! See, it comes! An end has come—the end has come—it awakes against you. See, it comes! Doom comes upon you, O inhabitants of the land! The time has come, the day is near—it shall not tarry, nor delay. Soon will I pour out my fury upon you, and spend my wrath upon you; I will judge you in accordance with your ways, and repay you for all your abominations. My eye shall not spare you, nor will I pity; but I will repay you for your ways, while your abominations are right in the midst of you; and you shall know that I the LORD am smiting.'

10 "Behold, the day! See, it comes! Doom advances. Pride has blossomed, insolence has budded, violence has grown into a shoot of wickedness; yet nothing comes of them, their tumult, or their turmoil—there is no commanding power among them.

12 "The time has come, the day draws near! Let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller lament; for wrath falls upon all their teeming multitude. The seller shall not recover what he has sold, nor the buyer secure what he has bought. They have sounded the trumpet, they have made all ready; but none advances to the battle, for my wrath falls upon all their teeming multitude. Without is the sword, and within are pestilence and famine; he who is in the open field shall die by the sword, and he who is in the city shall be devoured by famine and pestilence; and if any survivors escape, they shall be like doves of the valleys upon the mountains, all of them moaning over their guilt.

17 All hands shall fall helpless, and all knees shall run with water. They shall gird on sackcloth, and be covered with dismay; shame shall be on 19 every face, and baldness on every head. Their silver shall they fling into the streets, and their gold shall become to them as an unclean thing; for their silver and their gold shall not be able to save them on the day of the LORD's wrath; it shall neither satisfy their craving, nor stay their hunger, because it was the temptation that led them into sin.

 20 They prided themselves on its beauty, and made of it images of their abominable and detestable things, on which account I will make it an 21 unclean thing to them. And I will hand it over to aliens as a prey, to the most godless of the earth as a spoil; and they shall make a common
 22 chain of it. And I will turn my face from them, and my treasured
 23 place shall be profaned; robbers shall enter it, and profane it. For the country is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.
 24 Therefore I will bring in the worst of the nations, and they shall take possession of their houses; I will also silence the stronghold on which
 25 they prided themselves, and their sanctuaries shall be profaned. Panic
 26 shall come; and they shall seek peace, but in vain. Woe upon woe shall come, rumor upon rumor; and they shall seek a vision from the prophet, but in vain. Instruction also shall pass from the priest, and 27 counsel from the aged. The king shall go into mourning, and the prince shall clothe himself with garments of despair, while the hands of the common people shall be palsied with terror; for in accordance with their ways will I treat them, and in accordance with their practices will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD."

VISIONS OF IDOLATRY IN JERUSALEM, 8:1-18

8 In the sixth year, the sixth month, the fifth day of the month, as I was sitting in my house, with the elders of Judah sitting before me,
 2 the hand of the Lord GOD fell upon me there. I looked, and lo! there was a form of the appearance of a man, from his loins downward of the appearance of fire, and from his loins upward of the ap-
 3 pearance of a luster like that of shining metal. He reached out the form of a hand, and caught me by a lock of my hair; and a spirit lifted me up between earth and heaven, and brought me in visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the north gate leading into the inner court, where stood the image of resentment, that arouses resentment.
 4 And lo! there was the glory of the God of Israel, in the same appear-
 5 ance as I had seen it in the plain. And he said to me,
 "O mortal man, raise your eyes to the north."

So I raised my eyes to the north, and lo! north of the altar-gate, at 6 the entrance, stood this image of resentment. And he said to me,

“O mortal man, do you see what they are doing? Do you see the great abominations which the household of Israel are doing here, forcing me away from my sanctuary? You shall see still greater abominations than these.”

7 So he brought me to the door of the court. And I looked, and lo!
8 there was a hole in the wall. And he said to me,

“O mortal man, dig through the wall.”

9 So I dug through the wall. And lo! there was a door. And he said to me, “Go in, and see the vile abominations which they are doing here.”

10 So I went in, and looked, and lo! there were all sorts of loathsome forms of reptiles and beasts, together with all the idols of the household of Israel, depicted upon the wall round and round. And there were seventy of the elders of Israel, with Jaazaniah, the son of Shaphan, in the midst of them, standing in front of the pictures, each with his censer in his hand, from which rose the odor of a cloud of incense.

12 And he said to me,

“O mortal man, do you see what the elders of the household of Israel are doing in the dark, each in his picture-chamber, thinking, ‘The LORD cannot see us, for the LORD has forsaken the land?’ ”

13 Then he said to me,

“You shall see still greater abominations which they are doing.”

14 So he brought me to the door of the northward gate of the house
15 of the LORD. And lo! there sat women weeping for Tammuz. And he said to me,

“Do you see this, O mortal man? You shall see still greater abominations than these.”

16 So he brought me to the inner court of the house of the LORD. And lo! at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the vestibule and the altar, there were about twenty-five men, with their backs to the temple of the LORD, and their faces to the east, worshipping the sun
17 in the east. And he said to me,

“Do you see this, O mortal man? Is it too slight a thing for the household of Judah to do the abominations which they are doing here, that they must needs fill the land with lawlessness, and vex me still more? See! they are thrusting their obscenity against my very nostrils.

18 Therefore will I on my part act in fury. My eye shall not spare, nor will I pity; even though they call aloud in my hearing, I will not listen to them.”

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE IDOLATERS, 9:1-11

- 9 Then he called aloud in my hearing, and said,
 "Come forward, you officers of the city, armed each with his weapon of destruction!"
- 2 And lo! there came from the direction of the upper gate, facing the north, six men armed each with his weapon for slaughter, and in the midst of them another man clothed in linen, with a writer's inkhorn at his side. And they came and stood beside the bronze altar.
- 3 Now the glory of the God of Israel had gone up from the cherubs on which it rested to the threshold of the house. And he called to the
- 4 man clothed in linen, with the writer's inkhorn at his side, and said to him,
 "Pass through the city—through Jerusalem—and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men who sigh and cry for all the abominations that are done in the midst of it."
- 5 And to the others he said in my hearing,
 "Pass through the city after him, and slay without mercy or pity. Old men, young men and maidens, little children and women—strike them all dead! But touch no one on whom is the mark. And begin at my sanctuary!"
- 7 So they began with the elders in front of the house. And he said to them,
 "Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain. Then go out, and slay in the city!"
- 8 As they went on slaying, and I was left alone, I fell upon my face, and cried out, saying,
 "Ah Lord God! wilt thou destroy all that remains of Israel, in this outpouring of thy fury upon Jerusalem?"
- 9 And he said to me,
 "The guilt of the household of Israel and Judah is immeasurable. The land is full of bloodshed, and the city is full of oppression; for they think, 'The LORD has forsaken the land, and the LORD does not see us.' Therefore I on my part will show no mercy or pity; I will requite their doings upon their heads."
- 11 And lo! the man clothed in linen, with the inkhorn at his side, brought back the report,
 "I have done as thou didst command me."

THE DEPARTURE OF THE GLORY OF THE LORD, 10:1-22

- 10 Then I looked, and lo! upon the firmament that was over the head of the cherubs there appeared the semblance of a throne, colored like
2 sapphire. And he spoke to the man clothed in linen, and said,
“Go in among the wheelwork under the cherubs, and fill both your hands with blazing coals from between the cherubs, and scatter them over the city.”
- 3 And he went in before my eyes. Now, as the man went in, the cherubs were standing on the right side of the house, and the cloud
4 filled the inner court; for after the glory of the LORD had gone up from the cherubs to the threshold of the house, the house was filled with the cloud, while the court was filled with the radiance of the
5 glory of the LORD. And the sound of the wings of the cherubs was heard as far as the outer court, as loud as the voice of God Almighty
6 when he speaks. So, when he had commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, “Take fire from among the wheelwork, from between 7 the cherubs,” the man went and stood beside a wheel. And he reached out his hand to the fire that was between the cherubs, and took some
8 of it, and went out. (And there appeared among the cherubs the form
9 of a man’s hand under their wings.) And I looked, and lo! there were four wheels beside the cherubs—one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub—and the color of the wheels
10 was like topaz. The four of them were similar in appearance, as if 11 one wheel were within another. When they went, they went upon their four sides, not turning as they went; for they followed the direc-
12 tion where their front faced, not turning as they went. And the whole bodies of the four of them, their backs and hands and wings, 13 together with the wheels, were full of eyes round about. And their 14 wheels were called wheelwork in my hearing. And each of the cherubs had four faces: the first face that of an ox, the second that of a man, the third that of a lion, and the fourth that of an eagle.
15 They were the same creatures as I had seen by the River Chebar.
16 And when the cherubs went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubs lifted their wings to rise from the earth, the wheels never 17 left their side; when these stood still, they stood still; and when these rose, they rose with them; for the spirit of the creatures was in them.
18 Then the glory of the LORD left the threshold of the house, and 19 stood over the cherubs. And the cherubs lifted their wings, and rose from the earth before my eyes, the wheels remaining beside them as they went on their way. And they stood at the door of the east gate of the house of the LORD, the glory of the God of Israel resting²⁰ above them. They were the same creatures as I had seen underneath the God of Israel by the River Chebar; and I recognized them as²¹ cherubs. Each had four faces and four wings; and underneath their²² wings was the semblance of human hands. And as for the semblance of their faces, they were the same faces as I had seen by the River Chebar; and each went straight forward.

DENUNCIATION OF THE FALSE COUNSELLORS OF ISRAEL, 11:1-12

11 Then a spirit lifted me up, and brought me to the east gate of the house of the LORD, looking east; and lo! at the door of the gate there were twenty-five men, among whom I saw Jaazaniah, the son of² Azzur, and Pelatiah, the son of Benaiah, princes of the people. And the LORD said to me,

“O mortal man, these are the men who are planning mischief and³ offering evil counsel in this city, saying, ‘Is it not full time for us to⁴ build houses? This city is the pot, and we are the flesh.’ Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O mortal man!”

5 Then the spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and he said to me,

“Say, Thus says the LORD: ‘So you think, O household of Israel,⁶ and I know your thoughts. You have slain many a man in this city,⁷ and have filled its streets with the slain.’ Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Your slain men whom you have laid in the midst of it —they are the flesh, and it is the pot; but as for you, I will take you⁸ out of the midst of it. You are afraid of the sword, and the sword⁹ will I bring upon you,’ is the oracle of the Lord God. ‘I will take you out of the midst of it, and will hand you over to strangers, and¹⁰ execute judgments upon you. By the sword shall you fall, and over all the borders of Israel will I execute judgments upon you; and you¹¹ shall know that I am the LORD. This city shall be no pot for you, and you shall be no flesh in the midst of it. Over all the borders of Israel¹² will I execute judgments upon you; and you shall know that I am the LORD, whose statutes you have not followed, and whose ordinances you have not obeyed, but have conformed to the practices of the nations that are round about you.’ ”

A PROMISE OF RESTORATION, 11:13-21

13 As I was delivering this prophecy, Pelatiah, the son of Benaiah, dropped dead. And I fell upon my face, and cried aloud, saying,

“Ah Lord GOD, wilt thou make a complete end of the remnant of Israel?”

- 14 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 15 “O mortal man, the citizens of Jerusalem say of your kinsmen, your fellow-exiles, even the whole household of Israel, ‘They are far
 16 from the LORD; to us the land is given as a possession.’ Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: Though I have sent them afar among the nations, and though I have scattered them over the lands, and have been but little of a sanctuary to them among the lands where they have 17 gone, yet will I gather them from the peoples, and assemble them from the lands where they have been scattered; I will give them the 18 land of Israel, and they shall return there, and shall remove from it
 19 all its loathsome and abominable impurities; and I will give them a new heart, and will put a new spirit within them; I will remove the heart of stone from their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh,
 20 so that they may follow my statutes, and may keep my ordinances, and obey them; then shall they be my people, and I will be their God.
 21 But as for those whose heart is set upon their loathsome and abominable impurities, I will requite their doings upon their heads,’ is the oracle of the LORD.”

THE GLORY OF THE LORD LEAVES THE CITY, 11:22–25

- 22 Then the cherubs lifted their wings—the wheels remaining beside 23 them, and the glory of the LORD resting above them—and the glory of the LORD rose from the midst of the city, and stood upon the moun-
 24 tain east of the city. And the spirit lifted me up, and brought me in visions of God back to the exiles in Chaldea. So the vision that I had 25 seen passed from me. And I told the exiles all that the LORD had shown me.

SYMBOLS OF EXILE, 12:1–20

- 12 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 “O mortal man, you are living in the midst of the rebellious household, who have eyes to see but see not, and have ears to hear but hear
 3 not—for they are a rebellious household. Therefore, O mortal man, prepare you baggage for exile in the daytime before their eyes; then go like an exile from your own place to another before their eyes—
 4 perhaps they will see that they are a rebellious household. Carry out your baggage, as though it were real baggage for exile, in the daytime before their eyes; then go out yourself, as though you were really

5 going into exile, in the evening before their eyes. Dig a hole through 6 the wall before their eyes, and go out by it; carry your baggage upon your shoulders before their eyes, and take it out in the dark; cover your face, so that you may not see the ground—for I am making you an omen to the household of Israel.”

7 So I did as I had been commanded. I brought out my baggage, as though it were real baggage for exile, in the daytime; then in the evening I dug a hole through the wall with my hand, and went out in the dark, carrying my baggage upon my shoulders before their eyes.

8 Next morning the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

9 “O mortal man, has not the household of Israel—that rebellious
10 household—been asking you, ‘What are you doing?’ Say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord God: This sign applies to Jerusalem and the 11 whole household of Israel who are in the midst of it.’ Say, ‘I am an omen to them. As I have done, so shall they have to do; they shall go 12 into exile—into captivity. And the prince who is in the midst of them shall carry his baggage upon his shoulders, and go out in the dark;
he shall dig a hole through the wall, to go out by it; he shall cover his 13 face, so that he may not see the ground with his eyes. And I will spread a net for him, and he shall be caught in my toils; and I will bring him to Babylon, in the land of the Chaldeans—though he shall not see it—and there shall he die. And all his retinue, his supporters, 14 and all his troops, will I scatter to every wind; and after them will I 15 draw the sword. And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have scattered them among the nations, and dispersed them over the 16 lands. But a few of them will I save from sword, famine, and pestilence, that they may recount all their abominable deeds among the nations where they go; and they shall know that I am the LORD.’”

17 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 “O mortal man, eat your bread with quaking, and drink your water 19 with trembling and anxiety; and say to the people of the land, ‘Thus says the Lord God concerning the citizens of Jerusalem, in the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with anxiety, and shall drink their water with dismay; for the land shall be stripped bare of all that 20 it contains, because of the lawlessness of all those who live in it, and the inhabited cities shall be laid waste, and the land become a desolation; and you shall know that I am the LORD.’”

PROPHECY AND FULFILMENT, 12:21—28

- 21 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
22 "O mortal man, what is this proverb which you have in the land of 23 Israel, 'The days go on, and every vision comes to nothing'? Therefore say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: I will put an end to this proverb, and they shall no longer repeat it in Israel.' Instead of it, say to them, 'The days are at hand when every vision shall be fulfilled.
24 No longer shall there be any empty vision nor any flattering divination
25 in the midst of the household of Israel. For I the LORD will speak a word, and it shall be fulfilled—it shall no longer be delayed—for in your days, O rebellious household, I will both speak a word and fulfil it,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD."
26 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
27 "O mortal man, the household of Israel keep saying to themselves, 'The vision which he sees is for many days hence; he is prophesying of times far off.' Therefore say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: None of my words shall be any longer delayed; when I speak a word, it shall be fulfilled,' is the oracle of the Lord God."

PROPHECIES AGAINST THE PROPHETS OF ISRAEL, 13:1—23

- 13 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 "O mortal man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel, prophesy
3 and say to them, 'Hear the word of the LORD! Thus says the Lord GOD: Woe to the fools of prophets who follow the promptings of 4 their own spirits, without seeing a vision! O Israel, your prophets are 5 like jackals among ruins. They have not mounted the breaches, nor 6 built a wall for the household of Israel, that they may stand fast in 7 battle on the day of the LORD. They see empty visions and lying
8 divinations, who say, "It is the oracle of the LORD," when the LORD
9 has not sent them. Yet they expect the word to be fulfilled! Is it not 10 an empty vision which you see, and a lying divination which you
11 speak, when you say, "It is the oracle of the LORD," and I have not 12 spoken? Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Because you have spoken 13 empty words, and have seen lying visions, therefore behold! I am 14 against you,' is the oracle of the LORD, 'and my hand shall be against 15 the prophets who see empty visions and utter lying divinations; they 16 shall have no place in the council of my people, nor be enrolled in 17 the register of the household of Israel, nor be allowed to enter the 18 land of Israel; so shall you know that I am the Lord God. Because 19 they mislead my people, saying, "All is well," when nought is well—and if anyone build a flimsy wall, they daub it with whitewash—11 therefore say to those who daub the wall with whitewash, “A lashing rain shall come, and hailstones shall fall, and a violent gale shall 12 break out; and lo! the wall shall fall, and then you shall be asked, 13 Where is the daubing with which you daubed it?” Therefore thus says the Lord God: I will let loose a violent gale in my wrath, and there shall come a lashing rain in my anger, and hailstones shall fall 14 in my fury; and I will break down the wall which you daubed with whitewash, and will bring it to the ground, so that its foundations may be laid bare; and when it falls, you shall perish in the midst of 15 it; so shall you know that I am the LORD. Thus will I spend my fury upon the wall, and upon those who daubed it with whitewash; and you shall be asked, “Where is the wall? And where are those who 16 daubed it, the prophets of Israel who prophesied of Jerusalem, and who saw for her visions of welfare when nought was well?” is the oracle of the LORD.

17 “Likewise, O mortal man, set your face against the daughters of your people, who prophesy out of their own imagination, prophesy 18 against them, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord God: Woe to the women who sew bands on everyone’s wrists, and make veils for the heads of people of every stature—hunting for lives! Would you hunt for the 19 lives of my people to make a living for yourselves—profaning my name among my people for handfuls of barley and morsels of bread —bringing death to those who ought not to die, and life to those who ought not to live, through the lies which you tell to my people who 20 listen to your lies? Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold!
 I am against your bands with which you hunt for lives, and I will tear them from their arms, and will set free the lives for which you hunt; 21 I will likewise tear off your veils, and will rescue my people from your hands, that they may no longer remain in your hands to be 22 hunted; so shall you know that I am the LORD. Because with your lies you have disheartened the righteous, when I did not dishearten him, and have encouraged the wicked, that he might not turn from 23 his evil way and be saved alive, therefore you shall no longer see empty visions nor utter lying divinations; and I will rescue my people from your hands; so shall you know that I am the LORD.’”

THE PUNISHMENT OF IDOLATERS, 14:1-11

14 Then certain of the elders of Israel came to me, and sat down in 2 front of me. And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

3 "O mortal man, these men have set up idols in their minds, and have placed temptations to sin directly in front of them; what right 4 have they to consult me? Therefore speak with them, and say to them, "Thus says the LORD GOD: If anyone of the household of Israel who sets up idols in his mind, and places temptations to sin directly in front of him, go to a prophet, that he may consult me through him,
I the LORD will oblige him by an answer in person according to the 5 number of his idols, that I may catch the household of Israel through the inclination of their minds, because they have all become estranged 6 from me by their idols.' Therefore say to the household of Israel,
'Thus says the LORD GOD: Repent, and turn from your idols, and 7 from all your abominations! For if anyone of the household of Israel, or of the aliens residing in Israel, who severs himself from allegiance to me, and sets up idols in his mind, and places temptations to sin directly in front of him, go to a prophet, that he may consult me through him, I the LORD will oblige him by an answer in person;
8 I will set my face against that man, and make him a sign and a by-word, and cut him off from the midst of my people; so shall you 9 know that I am the LORD. And if the prophet be enticed into speaking a word, I the LORD have enticed that prophet; and I will stretch out my hand against him, and destroy him from the midst of my peo-10 ple Israel. They shall both suffer for it—the punishment of the prophet shall be like the punishment of the man who consulted him—11 that the household of Israel may no longer go astray from me, nor any longer defile themselves with all their transgressions, but may become my people, and I their God,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD."

THE INEXORABLE DOOM OF JERUSALEM, 14:12-23

12 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
13 "O mortal man, if a land sin against me by acting faithlessly, and I stretch out my hand against it, and break its staff of bread, and send 14 famine upon it, and cut off from it man and beast, even though these three men were in the midst of it—Noah, Daniel, and Job—they should by their righteousness save but themselves," is the oracle of the Lord God.
15 "Or if I send wild beasts over the land, and they depopulate it, so that it becomes a desolation, with none passing through it because of 16 the wild beasts, even though these three men were in the midst of it, as I live," is the oracle of the Lord GOD, "they should save neither sons nor daughters—they should save but themselves alone—and the land should be left a desolation.

17 “Or if I bring a sword upon that land, saying, ‘Let the sword pass
18 through the land!’ and cut off from it man and beast, even though these three men were in the midst of it, as I live,” is the oracle of the Lord GOD, “they should save neither sons nor daughters—they should save but themselves alone.

19 “Or if I send pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon 20 it in bloodshed, cutting off from it man and beast, even though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in the midst of it, as I live,” is the oracle of the Lord GOD, “they should save neither son nor daughter—they should by their righteousness save but themselves.

21 “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: How much more when I send against Jerusalem my four deadly judgments—sword, famine, wild 22 beasts, and pestilence—to cut off from it man and beast! Nevertheless, if there be any survivors left in it, sons and daughters who shall make good their escape to you, you shall be consoled for the trouble that I have brought upon Jerusalem—even for all that I have brought 23 upon it—when you see their ways and their doings; they shall console you when you see their ways and their doings, and you shall know that it was not without cause that I did all that I have done in it,” is the oracle of the Lord GOD.

THE ALLEGORY OF THE WORTHLESS VINE, 15:1-8

15 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “O mortal man, in what respect is the wood of the vine better than
3 the rank growth from any other tree of the forest? Is timber taken from it to make anything? Is even a peg taken from it to hang any
4 kind of vessel on? No! It is thrown into the fire as fuel; and when its two ends are devoured by the fire, and the middle of it is burned
5 black, is it good for anything? Even when it was whole, it was no good for anything; how much less when the fire has devoured it, and
6 it is burned black! Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: As the wood of the vine is that of one of the trees of the forest which I give up to 7 to the fire as fuel, so do I give up the citizens of Jerusalem. I will set my face against them; and though they have already passed through the fire, the fire shall consume them; and they shall know that I am
8 the LORD, when I set my face against them. And I will make the land a desolation, because they have acted faithlessly,” is the oracle of the Lord GOD.

THE ALLEGORY OF THE FAITHLESS WIFE, 16:1-63

- 16 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 "O mortal man, acquaint Jerusalem with her abominable deeds,
3 and say, "Thus says the Lord God to Jerusalem: By origin and birth
4 you belong to the land of the Canaanites. Your father was an Amo-
5 rite, and your mother a Hittite. And as for your birth, on the day you
6 were born your navel-string was not cut, nor were you washed with 7 water to cleanse you, nor were you salted nor wrapped in swaddling
8 clothes—no eye had pity enough upon you to do any of these things;
9 out of compassion for you—but you were cast upon the open field,
10 with no regard for your life, on the day you were born. Then I passed 11 by you, and saw you weltering in your blood; and I said to you, as 12 you lay weltering in your blood, 'Live, and grow like a plant of the 13 field!' So you grew big and strong, till you reached the time of your 14 maturity. Your breasts were formed, and your hair appeared; yet 15 you remained naked and bare. Again I passed by you, and saw that 16 you had reached the age of love; and I spread the skirts of my robe
17 over you, and covered your nakedness; and I plighted my troth to 18 you, and entered into a covenant with you," is the oracle of the Lord 19 God. "So you became mine. Then I bathed you with water, and 20 washed your blood from you; and I anointed you with oil. I clothed 21 you with embroidered robes, shod you with shoes of badger-skin,
22 wrapped you in fine linen, and swathed you in silk. I adorned you
23 with ornaments, putting bracelets upon your arms, and a chain round
24 your neck, a ring upon your nose, pendants upon your ears, and a 25 splendid crown upon your head. Thus were you adorned with gold
26 and silver, and clothed with fine linen, silk, and embroidery; you 27 lived on choice flour, honey, and oil; you grew very, very beautiful, 28 and became fit for a throne; and your reputation for beauty went out
29 through the nations, for your beauty was perfect because of the splen-
30 dor that I had bestowed upon you," is the oracle of the Lord God.
31 "But you trusted in your beauty, and played the harlot on your 32 reputation; you lavished your harlotries on everyone who passed by.
33 You took off your garments, and made you gaily decked shrines, on 34 which you played the harlot. You took also your splendid ornaments 35 of gold and silver, which I had given you, and made you images of 36 men, with which you played the harlot. And you took your embroid-
37 ered robes, and wrapped them in these. My oil and my incense you 38 set before them; my bread which I had given you—the choice
39 flour, oil, and honey with which I had fed you—you set before them

²⁰ as a sweet savor," is the oracle of the Lord God. "And you took your sons and daughters, whom you had borne to me, and offered them as sacrifices to be devoured by them. Was your harlotry, forsooth, so ²¹ slight a thing that you must needs also slaughter my children, and ²² offer them up as burnt-offerings to them? And with all your abominable harlotries you did not remember your youthful days, when you were naked and bare, and lay weltering in your blood.

²³ "To crown all your wickedness—woe, woe to you!" is the oracle of ²⁴ the Lord God—"you built yourself a shrine, and made you a public ²⁵ resort, in every street; you built your resorts at every street corner, and there you prostituted your beauty, offering yourself to every pass- ²⁶ er-by, and multiplying your harlotries. You played the harlot with your gross neighbors, the Egyptians, multiplying your harlotries to vex ²⁷ me. So I stretched out my hand against you, reduced your allowance, and handed you over to the will of your enemies, the daughters of the ²⁸ Philistines, who were ashamed of your lewd conduct. But you played the harlot with the Assyrians, being still unsated; and after you had ²⁹ played the harlot with them, you were still unsated. So you multiplied your harlotries with that land of traders, Chaldea, and even ³⁰ then you were unsated. What name can I find to describe your conduct," is the oracle of the Lord God, "in doing all these things, acting ³¹ like an abandoned harlot, building your shrines at every street corner, and making your resorts in every open space, though you were not like ³² a harlot in collecting hire—adulterous wife that you are, preferring ³³ strangers to your husband! To every harlot men give a gift; but you gave your gifts to all your lovers, bribing them to come from every ³⁴ quarter to indulge in harlotry with you. In this respect, then, you were in contrast to other women, that you solicited men to harlotry, while you were not solicited, and that you paid hire to them, while no hire was paid to you—in this respect you were a contrast.

³⁵ "Therefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD! Thus says the ³⁶ Lord God: For the pouring out of your effrontery, and for the exposing of your nakedness in harlotry with your lovers, for the worship of all your abominable idols, and for the bloodshed of your children ³⁷ whom you gave to them, behold! I am assembling all your lovers, whose embraces you have enjoyed—all whom you loved, as well as all for whom you cared nothing—I will assemble them against you from ³⁸ every quarter, and will expose your nakedness for them to gaze at. I will judge you, as women are judged who break wedlock and shed blood, and will make you the object of my bloody fury and indigna-

39 tion; I will hand you over to your lovers, and they shall tear down your shrines and demolish your resorts; they shall strip you of your clothing, and take away your splendid ornaments, leaving you naked
40 and bare; they shall bring an assemblage of people against you, who
41 shall stone you with stones and slash you with their swords; and they shall burn your houses with fire, and execute judgments upon you in the sight of many women; so will I put a stop to your harlotry, and
42 you shall no longer pay hire to your lovers; then I will stay my fury against you, and my indignation shall pass from you—I will be quiet,
43 and no longer angry. Because you did not remember your youthful days, but roused me to wrath with all these things, I on my part will requite your doings upon your head,” is the oracle of the Lord God, “because you have added lewdness to all your other abominations.
44 “Behold! everyone who quotes proverbs shall quote this proverb
45 against you, ‘As the mother, so her daughter!’ You are the daughter of a mother who loathed her husband and her children; and you are the sister of sisters who loathed their husbands and their children.
46 Your mother was a Hittite, and your father an Amorite; your elder sister was Samaria, who lived with her daughters to the north of you; and your younger sister was Sodom, who lived with her daughters to 47 the south of you. And you were not content to follow their ways, nor to copy their abominations—that were too slight a thing for you!—
48 but you acted more corruptly in all your ways than they. As I live,” is the oracle of the Lord God, “your sister Sodom and her daughters
49 have not done as you and your daughters have done. Behold! this was the sin of your sister Sodom: she and her daughters lived in pride, plenty, and thoughtless ease; they supported not the poor and needy;
50 they grew haughty, and committed abomination before me; so I
51 swept them away, as you have seen. Nor was Samaria guilty of half your sins. You have committed more abominations than they; and through all the abominations which you have committed you have 52 placed your sisters in the right. In thus giving judgment in favor of your sisters, you must bear the burden of your shame; through the more abominable sins which you have committed, they are more in the right than you; and because you have placed your sisters in the right, you must bear the burden of your ignominy and shame.
53 “But I will restore their fortunes—the fortunes of Sodom and her daughters, and the fortunes of Samaria and her daughters—and I will 54 restore your fortune along with theirs, that you may feel ashamed and 55 abashed for all that you did to rouse me to wrath. Then your sisters,

Sodom with her daughters, and Samaria with her daughters, shall return to their former state; and you with your daughters shall return to 56 your former state. As the name of your sister Sodom was never heard 57 on your lips in your heyday of pride—before your nakedness was exposed—so have you now become the reproach of the daughters of Edom, and all who are round about her, together with the daughters of the Philistines, and all those round about them who hold you in con-
 58 tempt. You are bearing the consequences of your abominable lewd-
 59 ness,” is the oracle of the Lord GOD. “But thus says the Lord GOD: Though I must needs repay you for what you have done—in scorning
 60 the oath and breaking the covenant with me—yet will I remember the covenant which I made with you in the days of your youth, and will 61 establish an everlasting covenant with you. Then shall you also remember your ways, and shall feel ashamed when I take your sisters, the elder and the younger, and give them to you as daughters—a priv-
 62 ilege quite beyond the terms of your covenant with me. And I will establish my covenant with you; and you shall know that I am the 63 LORD, so that you may remember, and feel ashamed, and never again open your mouth for shame, when I forgive you for all that you have done,” is the oracle of the Lord GOD.

THE ALLEGORY OF THE EAGLES AND THE VINE, 17:1–24

17 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 “O mortal man, put a riddle, and propound an allegory, to the 3 household of Israel; and say, “Thus says the LORD:
 “A great eagle, with great wings,
 And long pinions,
 In full plumage, of diverse colors,
 Came to Lebanon;
 He took the tip of a cedar,
 4 Plucked the topmost of its twigs,
 And carried it to a land of traders,
 Set it in a city of merchants;
 5 He took also of the seed of the land,
 And planted it in a fertile field—
 He placed it by many waters,
 Set it as a slip,
 6 That it might sprout, and become a spreading vine
 Of lowly height,

Whose tendrils might turn toward him,
And its roots be under him.
So it became a vine, and put forth branches,
And sent out boughs.

- 7 "But there was another great eagle, with great wings,
And thick plumage;
And lo! this vine bent its roots
In his direction—
It sent out its tendrils for him to water,
From the bed in which it was planted;
- 8 Yet it was planted on good soil,
By many waters,
That it might put forth branches, and bear fruit,
And become a noble vine."
- 9 Say, then, "Thus says the Lord GOD:
Can it prosper?
Shall he not pluck up its roots,
And strip off its fruit,
That all its sprouting leaves may wither?
Nor will it require much strength nor many people
To heave it from its roots.
- 10 It is planted, indeed, but can it prosper?
As soon as the east wind strikes it, shall it not wither away—
Wither away on the bed in which it grows?" "

- 11 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 12 "Say to the rebellious house, 'Do you not know what these things mean?' Then say, 'Lo! the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took its king and its princes, and carried them home with him to Bab-13 ylon. And he took one of the royal family, and made a covenant with him, and put him under an oath—while he carried away the leading 14 men of the land—so that the kingdom might be a lowly one, not daring to lift up its head, but holding its ground by keeping the covenant.
15 But he rebelled against him, and sent ambassadors to Egypt, asking for horses and a strong army. Now can a man who does these things prosper?
Can he escape his doom? Can he break a covenant, and yet es-16 cape? As I live,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD, 'in the land of the king who made him king—of the king whose oath he scorned and 17 whose covenant he broke—at his home in Babylon shall he die. And Pharaoh with his great army and strong force shall do nothing for him on the day of battle, when mounds are thrown up and siege-walls built to cut off many a life. He scorned the oath, and broke the covenant; he pledged his word, and yet did all these things. Therefore he can not escape.' Thus says the Lord God: 'As I live, my oath which he scorned, and my covenant which he broke—I will requite upon his own head. I will spread my net for him, and he shall be taken in my toils; I will carry him to Babylon, and there will I take proceedings against him for the treason which he has committed against me. And all the flower of all his ranks shall fall by the sword, and those who remain shall fly to every wind; so shall you know that I the LORD have spoken.

22 "Thus says the Lord God:

'I too will take from the tip of the cedar,
From its topmost twigs will I pluck a tender one,
And will plant it on a high and commanding mountain—

23 On the lofty mountain of Israel will I plant it;
And it shall put forth branches, and bear fruit,
And shall become a noble cedar;

Under it shall nestle birds of every feather,
In the shadow of its branches shall they nestle.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD
Bring down the tall tree, raise up the low tree,
Dry up the green tree, bring blossom to the dry tree—
I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it.' "

THE PRINCIPLE OF PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY, 18:1-32

18 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 "What mean you by quoting this proverb in the land of Israel:
'The fathers eat sour grapes,
And the children's teeth are set on edge'?

3 As I live," is the oracle of the Lord God, "you shall have no more + occasion to quote this proverb in Israel. Behold! all men are mine—the son is mine equally with the father—he who sins shall die.

§ "If a man be righteous, and do what is lawful and right—if he eat no flesh with the blood in it, nor lift up his eyes to the idols of the household of Israel; if he defile not his neighbor's wife, nor approach 7 a woman in her time of uncleanness; if he oppress no one, but conscientiously restore the debtor's pledge; if he commit no robbery, but share his bread with the hungry, and cover the naked with a garment;

- 8 if he lend no money at interest, nor take increase for himself; if he withhold his hand from crime, observe strict justice between man and 9 man, follow my statutes, and keep my ordinances to obey them—he is righteous, and shall surely live,” is the oracle of the Lord God.
- 10 “If he beget a son, a violent man, and a shedder of blood, who does 11 none of these things—but eats flesh with the blood in it, defiles his 12 neighbor’s wife, oppresses the poor and needy, commits robbery, does not restore the debtor’s pledge, lifts up his eyes to the idols, commits 13 abomination, lends on interest, and takes increase—that son shall by no means live; because he commits all these abominations, he shall surely die, and his blood shall be upon his own head.
- 14 “But if this man beget a son who sees all the sins that his father has 15 done, and is afraid, and does not act likewise—does not eat flesh with the blood in it, nor lift up his eyes to the idols of the household of
16 Israel, does not defile his neighbor’s wife, oppresses no one, exacts no pledge, commits no robbery, shares his bread with the hungry, and cov-
17 ers the naked with a garment, withholds his hand from crime, takes no interest nor increase, obeys my ordinances, and follows my statutes—that son shall not die for the iniquity of his father, but shall surely live.
18 His father died for his iniquity, because he practised oppression, robbed
19 his fellow-man, and did what was evil among his people; and you ask, ‘Why should not the son bear the consequences of his father’s iniquity?’ If the son do what is lawful and right—if he keep my stat-20 utes, and do them—he shall surely live. He who sins shall die; the son shall not bear the consequences of the father’s iniquity, nor the father bear the consequences of the son’s iniquity; the righteousness of the righteous shall be put to his own account, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be put to his.
- 21 “Or if the wicked man turn from all the sins which he has committed, and keep all my statutes, and do what is lawful and right, he 22 shall surely live, and not die. None of the transgressions which he has committed shall be remembered against him; for the righteousness
23 which he has done he shall live. Have I any pleasure at all in the death of the wicked?” is the oracle of the Lord God; “and not rather in this, that he turn from his way and live?
- 24 “But if the righteous man turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, acting in accordance with all the abominations which the wicked man practices, none of the righteous deeds which he has done shall be remembered; for the treason which he has committed, and the 25 sin which he has done, he shall die. Yet you say, ‘The way of the Lord is not fair.' Hear, then, O household of Israel! Is my way not 26 fair? Is it not your ways that are not fair? If a righteous man turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, he shall die—for the 27 iniquity which he has committed he shall die. And if a wicked man turn from the wickedness which he has committed, and do what is 28 lawful and right, he shall save his life; because he is afraid, and turns from all the transgressions which he has committed, he shall surely live, 29 and not die. Yet the household of Israel says, "The way of the Lord is not fair.' Are my ways not fair, O household of Israel? Is it not 30 your ways that are not fair? Therefore, O household of Israel, I will judge you each in accordance with his ways," is the oracle of the Lord GOD. "Repent, then, and turn from all your transgressions, lest your 31 iniquity bring you to ruin. Cast away from you all the transgressions which you have committed against me; and get you a new heart and a 32 new spirit. Why should you die, O household of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone who dies," is the oracle of the Lord

 GOD. "Turn, then, and live!"

LAMENT FOR THE ROYAL PRINCES, 19:1-9

19 And you, raise a dirge over the princes of Israel, and say,

2 "Ah! your mother was a lioness

In the midst of lions;

She couched among young lions,

She reared her whelps.

3 She brought up one of her whelps—

A young lion he became;

He learned to catch the prey,

Mankind he devoured.

4 The nations raised a clamor against him,

In their pit was he taken;

They led him away with hooks

To the land of Egypt.

5 "When she saw that she was foiled,

That her hope was gone,

She took another of her whelps,

A young lion she made him.

6 He stalked among lions,

A young lion he became;

And she has no strong branch
As a royal scepter."

This is a dirge, and it became current as a dirge.

PUNISHMENT AND PARDON, 20:1-44

20 In the seventh year, the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, certain of the elders of Israel came to consult the LORD, and sat down
2 before me. Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
3 "O mortal man, speak to the elders of Israel, and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God: Have you come to consult me? As I live, I
4 will not be consulted by you,' is the oracle of the Lord God. Would you pass judgment upon them, O mortal man? Would you pass judgment upon them? Then acquaint them with the abominable deeds of
5 their fathers, and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God: On the day that I chose Israel, and swore an oath to the family of Jacob—revealing myself to them in the land of Egypt, and swearing an oath to 6 them, saying, "I am the LORD your God"—on that day I swore an oath to them, that I would bring them out of the land of Egypt to a land that I had given to them, a land flowing with milk and honey, a
7 land which is the glory of all lands; and I said to them, "Cast away each one the detestable things which you love, and do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the LORD your God." But they rebelled against me, and would not listen to me; they did not cast away each one the detestable things which they loved, nor did they forsake the idols of Egypt. So I resolved to pour out my fury upon them, to vent my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.
9 But in dealing with them I had regard for my honor, that it might not be profaned in the sight of the nations among whom they lived, and in whose sight I had revealed myself to them, promising to bring 10 them out of the land of Egypt. So I brought them out of the land of 11 Egypt, and led them into the desert. And I gave them my statutes, and taught them my ordinances, by obedience to which a man may 12 enjoy life. I gave them also my sabbaths, as a sign between me and them, that they might know that it was I the LORD that set them apart
13 for myself. But the household of Israel rebelled against me in the desert; they did not follow my statutes, but scorned my ordinances, by obedience to which a man may enjoy life; my sabbaths also they grossly profaned. So I resolved to pour out my fury upon them in the 14 desert, to make a complete end of them. But in dealing with them I had regard for my honor, that it might not be profaned in the sight 15 of the nations in whose sight I had brought them out. I did, however, swear an oath to them in the desert, that I would not bring them to the land that I had given to them—a land flowing with milk and 16 honey, a land which is the glory of all lands—because they had scorned my ordinances, and did not follow my statutes, but profaned 17 my sabbaths; for their hearts were set upon their idols. But through pity upon them I refrained from destroying them, and did not make 18 a complete end of them in the desert. And I said to their children in the desert, “Do not follow the statutes of your fathers, nor keep their 19 ordinances, nor defile yourselves with their idols! I am the LORD your God; follow my statutes, keep my ordinances, and obey them;

20 hallow also my sabbaths, and let them be a sign between me and you, 21 that you may know that I am the LORD your God.” But the children rebelled against me; they did not follow my statutes, nor keep my ordinances to obey them—these ordinances by obedience to which a man may enjoy life—and my sabbaths they profaned. So I resolved to pour out my fury upon them, to vent my anger against them in the 22 desert. But I withdrew my hand, and in dealing with them I had regard for my honor, that it might not be profaned in the sight of the 23 nations in whose sight I had brought them out. I did, however, swear an oath to them in the desert, that I would scatter them among the na-24 tions, and disperse them over the lands, because they had not obeyed my ordinances, but had scorned my statutes, and profaned my sab-25 baths, and kept their eyes fixed upon the idols of their fathers. I gave them also statutes that were not good, and ordinances by which they 26 could not enjoy life; and I made them defile themselves by their very gifts—the sacrifice of their first-born children as burnt-offerings—that I might destroy them, and they might know that I am the LORD.’ 27 “Therefore, O mortal man, speak to the household of Israel, and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord God: By this further act of treason 28 against me your fathers blasphemed my name. No sooner had I brought them to the land that I had sworn an oath to give to them, than as often as they saw a high hill or a leafy tree, there they offered their sacrifices, and there they presented their offensive gifts, there they set forth their sweet savors, and there they poured out their liba-29 tions. And I said to them, “What kind of high place is this to which you go?” So it has been called “high place” to this day.’
30 “Therefore say to the household of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord
God: When you pollute yourselves as your fathers did—whoring a f-

31 ter their detestable things, and polluting yourselves with all your idols by the choicest of your gifts, the sacrifice of your sons as burnt-offerings, to this very day—shall I be consulted by you, O household of Israel? As I live,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD, 'I will not be con-
32 sulted by you. And when you say, "We will be like the nations, the races of the lands, in serving wood and stone," what you have in mind
33 shall not be. As I live,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD, 'with a strong hand, with an outstretched arm, and with outpoured fury, will I be 34 king over you. And with a strong hand, with an outstretched arm, and with outpoured fury, will I bring you out of the peoples, and gather
35 you from the lands over which you are scattered; and I will bring you into the desert of the peoples, and there take proceedings against you
36 face to face. As I took proceedings against your fathers in the desert of the land of Egypt, so will I take proceedings against you,' is the 37 oracle of the Lord GOD. 'I will make you pass under the rod, and 38 bring you into the purging-trough; and I will purge from among you the rebels, and those who transgress against me. I will bring them out of the land where they sojourn, but they shall not enter the land of 39 Israel; so shall you know that I am the LORD. And as for you, O household of Israel, thus says the Lord GOD: Go, destroy each one his idols; and afterwards you shall surely listen to me, and no longer pro-
40 fane my holy name by your gifts and your idols. But on my holy mountain, on the mountain of the height of Israel,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD, 'there shall all the household of Israel worship me in the land; there will I accept you, and there will I ask for your offerings,
41 and for the choicest of your gifts, in all your sacred things. As a sweet savor will I accept you when I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you from the lands over which you are scattered; and through 42 you will I reveal my holiness in the sight of the nations. And you shall know that I am the LORD, when I bring you to the land of Is-
43 rael, to the land which I swore an oath to give to your fathers. And there shall you remember your ways, and all those doings of yours by which you have polluted yourselves; and you shall loathe yourselves 44 for all the evil things you have done. And you shall know that I am the LORD, when I have dealt with you for my name's sake, and not in accordance with your evil ways and your corrupt doings, O household of Israel,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD."

FIRE AND SWORD, 20:45—21:32

- 45 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
46 "O mortal man, set your face toward the south, and inveigh against 47 the south; prophesy against the forest land of the south, and say to the forest of the south, 'Hear the word of the LORD! Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold! I am kindling a fire in you, which shall devour every green tree and every dry tree in you; the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and every face from south to north shall be scorched by 48 it. And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it, so that it may not be quenched.' "
- 49 Then said I,
"Ah Lord GOD! they say of me, 'Is he not a maker of allegories?'"
- 21 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 "O mortal man, set your face toward Jerusalem, and inveigh
3 against her sanctuaries; prophesy against the land of Israel, and say to the land of Israel, 'Thus says the LORD: Behold! I am against you, and will draw my sword from its sheath, and will cut off from 4 you righteous and wicked alike. And because I cut off from you righteous and wicked alike, my sword shall go out from its sheath 5 against all flesh from south to north; and all flesh shall know that I the LORD have drawn my sword from its sheath, to return no more.'
6 Sigh, therefore, O mortal man; sigh before them with heartbreaking, 7 bitter grief. And when they ask you, 'Why do you sigh?' say, 'Because of news, at the coming of which every heart shall melt, every hand shall fall helpless, every spirit shall be faint, and every knee shall run with water; lo! it comes, and it shall be fulfilled,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD."
- 8 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
9 "O mortal man, prophesy, and say, 'Thus says the LORD:
"A sword, a sword,
Is whetted and polished;
10 It is whetted for slaughter,
It is polished to flash as lightning.
[Or shall we make mirth, O rod of my son, despising every tree?]
11 It is given to the slayer,
To grasp with the hand;
The sword is whetted and polished,
To be put in the hand of the slayer.' "

- 12 "Cry, and wail, O mortal man!
For it has fallen upon my people,
And upon all the princes of Israel—
Together with my people have they been handed over to the sword.
Smite, therefore, upon your thigh,
- 13 For there is a trial in store;
And who can despise the rod of my wrath?"
Is the oracle of the Lord God.
- 14 "Prophecy, therefore, O mortal man,
And clench your fists;
Let the sword come down a second time, let it come down a third time,
The sword of the slain, the great sword of the slain!
- 15 Bring terror upon them, till their hearts melt,
And many of them fall dead at all their gates,
Given over to the point of the sword,
Which is made to flash as lightning, and is whetted for slaughter!
ter!
- 16 Turn, O sword, to the rear, to the right, to the front, to the left,
Wherever your face is set!
- 17 I also will clench my fists,
And will sate my fury:
I the LORD have spoken."
- 18 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 19 "And you, O mortal man, set two roads for the sword of the king of Babylon to take—both of them starting from the same country—20 and make a signpost, to guide the sword on its way, at the fork of the roads leading on the one hand to Rabbah of the children of Ammon, 21 and on the other to Jerusalem in the heart of Judah. For the king of Babylon stands at the parting of the ways, at the fork of the two roads, practising divination; he shakes the arrows, he consults the 22 teraphim, he inspects the liver. Into his right hand falls the lot marked 'Jerusalem,' calling for slaughter, for the shout of battle, for the planting of battering-rams against the gates, for the throw-23 ing up of mounds, for the building of a siege-wall. To them, indeed, it will seem a false divination—for they count on weeks upon weeks—but it keeps me in remembrance of their guilt, so that they may be taken.

- 24 “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you keep me in remembrance of your guilt—through your flagrant transgressions, and the sins that are manifest in all your doings—because you are kept in
- 25 remembrance through them, you shall be taken by main force.’ And as for you, who are destined to be slain, you wicked one, the prince of
- 26 Israel, whose hour has come, on the final day of doom, thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Away with the diadem; off with the crown! Leave
- 27 nothing alone; lift up what is low, bring down what is high! A ruin, a ruin, a ruin, will I make it; and nothing shall be changed until he come to whom it rightfully belongs—to him will I give it.’
- 28 “And you, O mortal man, prophesy, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD concerning the Ammonites and their reviling:
- “A sword, a sword,
 Is unsheathed for slaughter,
 Is polished to flash as lightning;
- 29 Because men showed you false visions, gave you lying divinations,
 Commanding you to wield it on the necks of wicked men destined to be slain,
 Whose hour had come, on the final day of doom.
- 30 Return it to its sheath!
 For in the place of your birth,
 In the land of your origin will I judge you.
- 31 I will pour out my fury upon you,
 With the fire of my wrath will I blow upon you;
 And I will hand you over to barbarous men,
 Who are forgers of destruction.
- 32 You shall be food for the fire,
 And your blood shall fill the land;
 You shall be remembered no more,
 For I the LORD have spoken.””

THE CITY OF BLOOD, 22:1-31

- 22 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
- 2 “O mortal man, would you pass judgment, would you pass judgment, upon the city of blood? Then acquaint her with all her abominable deeds, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: O city, that sheds blood in the midst of her, so that her time of doom may come upon
- 4 her, and that makes idols for herself, so that she may be defiled! You have become guilty of the blood which you have shed, and have become defiled through the idols which you have made; you have brought near your day of doom, and have drawn forward your time of reckoning; therefore I make you a reproach to the nations, and a ridicule to all the lands. Both those who are near you and those who are far from you shall ridicule you, O infamous one, rank with disorder. Behold! the princes of Israel within you give all their strength to the shedding of blood; father and mother within you men despise, the resident alien within you they treat oppressively, the orphan and widow they wrong. My holy things you despise, and my sabbaths you profane. There are those within you who slander in order to shed blood, those within you who eat flesh with the blood in it, those within you who commit lewdness; within you men take their fathers' concubines, within you they lie with women in their time of uncleanness; within you they commit abomination each with his neighbor's wife, within you they lewdly defile each his daughter-in-law, and lie each with his sister, his father's daughter; within you men take bribes in order to shed blood; they take interest and increase; they oppress their neighbors by extortion. And me you forget!'" is the oracle of the Lord God.

"Behold! I clench my fists in anger at the extortion which you practise, and at the bloodshed which is in the midst of you. Will your heart remain firm, and your hands keep strong, in the days when I deal with you? I the LORD have spoken the word, and I will do it. I will scatter you among the nations, and disperse you over the lands; I will consume your uncleanness out of you, and you shall be dishonored in the sight of the nations; so shall you know that I am the LORD."

Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

"O mortal man, the household of Israel has become dross to me; they are all of them bronze and tin, iron and lead, in the midst of the furnace—dross of silver they are. Therefore thus says the Lord God: Because you have all become dross, behold! I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. As one gathers silver, bronze, iron, lead or tin, into the midst of the furnace, to blow fire upon it, and melt it, so will I gather you in my anger and fury, and will cast you in, and melt you; I will gather you together, and will blow upon you with the fire of my wrath, and you shall be melted in the midst of the city. As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall you be melted in the midst of it; and you shall know that I the LORD have poured out my fury upon you."

23 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
24 "O mortal man, say to her: 'You are a land on which no rain nor 25 shower shall fall on the day of my indignation. For the rulers in the midst of the land are like a roaring lion that rends his prey; they de-26 vour men's lives, they seize treasure and wealth, they make many widows in the midst of her. Her priests also violate my law, and pro-27 fane my holy things; they make no difference between sacred and secular, and teach no difference between unclean and clean; they shut 28 their eyes to my sabbaths, so that I am profaned among them. The princes in the midst of her are like wolves that rend the prey, shedding 29 blood, and destroying lives, to get dishonest gain. Her prophets also daub their walls with whitewash, showing them empty visions, and 30 giving them lying divinations, saying, "Thus says the Lord God," when the LORD has not spoken. The common people practise oppres-31 sion, and commit robbery; they wrong the poor and needy, and treat the resident alien with injustice. When I sought among them for a man who should build up the wall, and hold the breach before me in defense of the land, to prevent my destroying it, I found no one.
Therefore I pour out my indignation upon them; with the fire of my wrath I consume them; their ways I requite upon their heads!' " is the oracle of the Lord God.

THE ALLEGORY OF THE TWO SISTERS, 23:1-49

23 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 "O mortal man, there were two women, daughters of one mother.
3 In their girlhood they played the harlot, they played the harlot in Egypt. There men pressed their bosoms, there men bruised their vir-4 gin breasts. Their names were Oholah, the elder, and Oholibah, her sister. They became my wives, and bore sons and daughters. The name Oholah signifies Samaria, and Oholibah Jerusalem.
5 "Although she was my wife, Oholah played the harlot, and doted
6 on her lovers the Assyrians—lords clothed in purple, governors and deputies, all of them handsome young men, knights riding on horse-7 back—she bestowed her favors on them, the flower of the Assyrians all of them, and defiled herself with all the idols of all on whom she 8 doted, not giving up the harlotries she committed in Egypt, since in her girlhood men lay with her, and bruised her virgin breasts, and lav-9 ished their lust upon her. So I handed her over to her lovers the As-10 syrians, on whom she doted. They uncovered her nakedness, they took away her sons and daughters, her own self they slew with the sword;

and by reason of the judgments which they executed upon her, she became a byword among women.

11 "But although her sister Oholibah saw this, she carried on her dot-
12 ing and her harlotries worse than her sister. She doted on the Assy-13 rians, governors and deputies, lords clothed in purple, knights riding on 14 horseback, all of them handsome young men. And although I saw 15 how she defiled herself—how both of them took the same way—she 16 went still further in her harlotries. For she saw portraits of men on 17 the wall—figures of Chaldeans portrayed in vermilion, with girdles
18 round their loins, and flowing turbans upon their heads, all of them
19 looking like officers—portraits of Babylonians, whose native land was 20 Chaldea; and when she saw them, she doted on them, and sent mes-21 sengers to them in Chaldea. And the Babylonians came to visit her on 22 the bed of love, and defiled her with their lust, till she was sated, and 23 became disgusted with them. And because she flaunted her harlotries, 24 and exposed her nakedness, I became disgusted with her, as I had be-
25 come disgusted with her sister. Yet she went on with her harlotries, 26 remembering the days of her girlhood, when she played the harlot in 27 the land of Egypt. She doted on her paramours, whose lust was as gross as that of asses or stallions, repeating the lewdness of her youth, when the Egyptians bruised her breasts, and pressed her girlish bosom.

"Therefore, O Oholibah, thus says the Lord God: 'Behold! I am rousing your lovers against you—the lovers with whom you became disgusted—and will bring them against you from every side: the Babylonians, and all the Chaldeans, men of Pekod, Shoa, and Koa, together with all the Assyrians, handsome young men, all of them governors and deputies, officers and councillors, all of them riding on horseback. And they shall come against you with an army of chariots and wheels, and with a host of men on foot; they shall array themselves against you on every side with buckler, shield, and helmet; I will intrust to them the execution of judgment, and they shall execute their judgments upon you. I will stamp you with the seal of my indignation, and they shall deal with you in fury; they shall cut off your nose and ears, and what remains of you shall fall by the sword; they shall take away your sons and daughters, and what remains of you shall be devoured by fire; they shall strip you of your clothes, and shall take away your splendid jewels. Thus will I put a stop to your lewd harlotries, committed ever since you were in the land of Egypt, so that you may no longer set your eyes upon them, nor remember Egypt any more.'

28 "For thus says the Lord God: 'Behold! I am handing you over to 29 those whom you hate—those with whom you became disgusted—and they shall deal with you in hatred, and shall take away all the fruits of your labor, leaving you naked and bare. So shall the shame of your 30 harlotry be exposed—your lewd harlotry. It shall bring these things upon you, because you have played the harlot with the nations in de-31 filing yourself with their idols. You have gone the same way as your sister; so I will hand her cup over to you.'

32 "Thus says the Lord God:

'You shall drink your sister's cup,
Which is deep and large;
You shall become a scorn and derision,
For it is full to the brim.

33 You shall be filled with pain and sorrow,
For a cup of horror and awe
Is the cup of your sister Samaria.

34 You shall drink it, and drain it—
You shall drain it to the dregs;
And your breasts you shall tear,
For I have spoken,'

Is the oracle of the Lord God.

35 "Therefore thus says the Lord God: 'Because you have forgotten me, and cast me behind your back, you must bear the consequences of your lewd harlotries.' "

36 The LORD further said to me,

"O mortal man, would you pass judgment upon Oholah and Oho-37 libah? Then acquaint them with their abominable deeds! For they have committed adultery, and there is bloodshed upon their hands;
with their idols have they committed adultery, and to them have they 38 sacrificed as burnt-offerings the sons whom they bore to me. This also have they done to me: they have defiled my sanctuary, and have 39 profaned my sabbaths. For after they had sacrificed their sons to their idols, they went that same day to my sanctuary to profane it. This was 40 what they did within my house. Still worse, you sent for men from a far country—you sent a messenger to them, and they came—and for them you bathed yourself, painted your eyes, adorned yourself with 41 ornaments, and sat on a stately couch, with a table spread in front of 42 it, on which you set my incense and my oil. Sounds of revelry were heard there, the revelry of thoughtless men, including drunkards from the desert, who had been brought together in hosts, and who had bracelets placed upon their arms, and splendid crowns upon their heads. I said, 'Now will they commit adultery and play the harlot with them.' And they went in to them, as one goes in to a harlot: so they went in to those lewd women, Oholah and Oholibah. But honest men shall condemn them to the punishment due to adulterous women, and such as shed blood; for they have committed adultery, and there is bloodshed upon their hands.

"For thus says the Lord God: 'Bring up an assemblage against them, and give them over to pillage and spoil. Let the assemblage stone them with stones, and cut them off with the sword; let them slay their sons and daughters, and burn their houses with fire. Thus will I put a stop to lewdness in the land; and all women shall take warning, and not follow your lewd example. Your lewdness shall be brought home to you, and you shall bear the consequences of your sinful idolatry; so shall you know that I am the Lord God.'"

THE ALLEGORY OF THE RUSTY POT, 24:1-14

24 In the ninth year, the tenth month, the tenth day of the month, the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

"O mortal man, write down the name of this day; for on this very day the king of Babylon has invested Jerusalem. And propound an allegory to the rebellious house, and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God:

"Set on the pot, set it on,
And pour water into it;

Put into it the pieces,
All the good pieces, the thigh and the shoulder;
Fill it with the choicest bones,

Taken from the choicest of the flock;
Pile wood under it, let it boil well,

That the bones also may be seethed in the midst of it."

"Therefore thus says the Lord God: 'Ah, bloody city, pot full of filth, whose filth never leaves her! On each of her pieces she sets her stain, without a lot falling upon them. For she has blood in the midst of her; and on the bare rock she places it, instead of pouring it upon the ground, so that it may be covered with dust; to stir up fury, to bring on vengeance, she has put blood on the bare rock, so that it may not be covered.'

"Therefore thus says the Lord God: 'Ah, bloody city! I myself will make the pile great; I will heap on the wood, and kindle the fire;

I will cook the flesh, and brew the broth, till the bones are burned.
11 Then I will set it empty upon the embers, so that it may be heated, and its bottom may glow, that its impurity may be melted in the midst of it,
12 and its filth may be consumed. But however hotly it burns, its thick
13 filth will not leave it. Therefore, O filthy one, defiled by impurity, because I sought to cleanse you, and you would not be cleansed, you shall no more be cleansed from your impurity till I have spent my fury
14 upon you. I the LORD have spoken the word, and I will do it. I will not hold back, nor pity, nor relent; in accordance with your ways and your doings will I punish you,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD."

DEATH OF THE PROPHET'S WIFE, 24:15-27

15 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
16 "O mortal man, behold! I am taking away from you the delight of your eyes by a sudden stroke; but you shall neither lament, nor 17 weep, nor drop a tear. Sigh in silence; make no mourning for the dead; wind your turban round your head, and put your sandals upon your feet; cover not your beard, and eat no mourning bread."
18 That evening my wife died; and in the morning I did as I had 19 been commanded. The same morning I spoke to the people; and the people said to me,
"Will you not tell us what these things mean? Is it for us that you are acting so?"
20 And I said to them,
21 "The word of the LORD came to me, saying, 'Say to the household of Israel, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold! I am about to profane my sanctuary, the pride of your strength, the delight of your eyes, and the pride of your heart; and the sons and daughters whom you leave
22 behind you shall fall by the sword. Then shall you do as I have done:
23 you shall not cover your beards, nor eat mourning bread; your turbans shall remain upon your heads, and your sandals upon your feet; you shall not lament, nor weep, but shall pine away in your sins, and
24 shall moan to one another. Ezekiel shall be a sign to you: just as he has done shall you do when the time comes; so shall you know that I am the Lord GOD.
25 "And as for you, O mortal man, on the day when I take from them their stronghold, their proud joy, the delight of their eyes, that upon which their heart is set, together with their sons and daughters,
26 on that day shall a fugitive come to you with news, and on the same
27 day that the fugitive comes your mouth shall be opened, and you shall

25: 1-15 speak, and shall no longer be dumb. So shall you be a sign to them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.' ”

ORACLES AGAINST AMMON, MOAB, EDOM, AND THE PHILISTINES, 25:1-17

25 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “O mortal man, set your face toward the Ammonites, and prophesy
3 against them, and say to the Ammonites, ‘Hear the word of the Lord
4 GOD!’ Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you cried “Aha!” over my
5 sanctuary when it was profaned, and over the land of Israel when it
6 was made desolate, and over the household of Judah when it went into 7 exile, behold! I am handing you over as a possession to the sons of the 8 east, and they shall pitch their camps and make their settlements in you,
9 they shall eat your fruit and drink your milk. And I will make Rab-
10 bah a pasture for camels, and the cities of Ammon a fold for flocks;
11 so shall you know that I am the LORD.’ For thus says the Lord GOD:
12 ‘Because you clenched your fists and stamped your feet in malicious 13 joy over the land of Israel, behold! I stretch my hand over you, and 14 will give you as a spoil to the nations, I will cut you off from the peo-15 ples, and will blot you out from the lands—I will destroy you utterly;
and you shall know that I am the LORD.’

8 “Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because Moab said, “Behold! the 9 household of Judah has become like other nations,” behold! I am lay-10 ing open the flank of Moab, from the cities on its frontier to Beth-11 jeshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kirjathaim, the glory of the land, and I 12 will give Moab along with Ammon as a possession to the sons of the 13 east, so that it may no longer be remembered among the nations. Thus 14 will I execute judgments upon Moab; and they shall know that I am
15 the LORD.’

12 “Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because Edom acted revengefully
13 against the household of Judah, and incurred grievous guilt by taking 14 revenge upon them, therefore thus says the Lord GOD: I will stretch 15 my hand over Edom, and will cut off from it man and beast, I will make it a waste from Teman, and to Dedan shall they fall by the 14 sword. I will execute my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my 15 people Israel, and they shall deal with Edom in accordance with my anger and fury; and they shall know my vengeance,” is the oracle of the Lord GOD.

15 “Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because the Philistines acted revenge-fully against the household of Judah, and took malicious revenge upon

- ¹⁶ them, seeking to destroy them by a perpetual enmity, therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold! I am stretching my hand over the Philistines, and will cut off the Cherethites, and destroy the people of the ¹⁷ seacoast to the last remnant; I will execute upon them sore vengeance, by acts of furious chastisement; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I carry out my vengeance upon them.' ”

ORACLE AGAINST TYRE, 26:1-21

- ²⁶ In the eleventh year, the eleventh month, the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
- ² “O mortal man, because Tyre has said against Jerusalem, ‘Aha! the gate of the peoples is broken,
She is thrown open to me;
I shall be filled, while she is laid waste,’
- ³ therefore thus says the Lord God:
‘Behold! I am against you, O Tyre,
And will bring up many nations against you,
As the sea brings up its waves;
- ⁴ They shall destroy the walls of Tyre,
And shall tear down her towers.
I will scrape her very dust from her,
And will make her a bare rock;
- ⁵ She shall be a place for the spreading of nets
In the heart of the sea;
For I have spoken it,’ is the oracle of the Lord God,
‘And she shall become a spoil to the nations.
- ⁶ Her daughters also on the mainland shall be slain by the sword.
And they shall know that I am the LORD.’
- ⁷ “For thus says the Lord God:
‘Behold! I am bringing upon Tyre from the north Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, king of kings,
With horses and chariots, horsemen, and a host of men on foot.
- ⁸ Your daughters on the mainland shall he slay by the sword;
And a siege wall shall he place against you,
And a mound shall he throw up against you,
And a buckler shall he set up against you;
- ⁹ His battering-rams shall he place against your walls,
And with his axes shall he break down your towers.
- ¹⁰ From the multitude of his horses the dust shall cover you,

- And with the noise of his horsemen, his wheels, and his chariots,
 Your walls shall shake when he enters your gates,
 As one enters a city that is breached.
- 11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he trample all your streets,
 Your people shall he slay by the sword,
 And your strong pillars shall he bring to the ground.
- 12 Your wealth shall be plundered, and your merchandise made a prey;
 Your walls shall be torn down, and your happy homes destroyed;
 Your stones and timber and dust shall be sunk in the heart of the waters.
- 13 I will silence the noise of your songs,
 And the sound of your harps shall be heard no more.
- 14 I will make you a bare rock,
 You shall be a place for the spreading of nets,
 You shall be built no more;
 For I the LORD have spoken it,
 Is the oracle of the Lord GOD.
- 15 "Thus says the Lord GOD to Tyre: 'Shall not the coast lands quake at the sound of your downfall, when the wounded groan, and 16 slaughter is rife in the midst of you? Then shall all the princes of the sea come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and strip off their embroidered garments; they shall clothe themselves in mourning weeds; they shall sit upon the ground, and tremble every 17 moment, and shudder over you. And they shall raise a dirge over you, and say to you:
- "Ah! how you have perished, have vanished from the sea,
 O city renowned,
 That was strong upon the sea,
 Herself and her people,
 That struck the terror of her might
 Upon all who dwelt there!
- 18 Now the coast-lands quake
 On the day of your downfall,
 The coast-lands by the sea
 Are dismayed at your passing.' "
- 19 "For thus says the Lord GOD: 'When I make you a desolate city, like the cities that are uninhabited, when I bring the deep over you, and the 20 mighty waters cover you, then will I thrust you down, with those who go down to the Pit, to the people of ancient times, and will make you dwell in the underworld, in the primeval wastes, with those who go down to the Pit, so that you may remain uninhabited, and may no more take your place in the land of the living; I will bring you to an awful end, and you shall be no more; though you be sought for, you shall be found no more,' is the oracle of the Lord God."

LAMENT OVER TYRE, 27:1-36

- 27 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 "And you, O mortal man, raise a dirge against Tyre, and say to 3 Tyre, that sits at the gateway of the sea, the merchant of the peoples along many a coast land, "Thus says the Lord God:
 "O Tyre, you have said,
 'I am perfect in beauty';
 4 Your domain was in the heart of the seas,
 Your builders made you perfect in beauty.
 5 Of cypresses from Senir
 They fashioned all your planks;
 A cedar they took from Lebanon
 To make you a mast.
 6 Of oaks from Bashan they made your oars;
 Your deck they made of larch from the coasts of Cyprus.
 7 Of fine linen from Egypt, richly embroidered, was your sail,
 Serving you as an ensign;
 Your awning was of blue and purple
 From the coasts of Elishah.
 8 The men of Sidon and Arvad were rowers for you;
 Your skilled men, O Tyre, were in you—
 They were your steersmen.
 9 The elders of Gebal and her skilled men were in you,
 Repairing your leaks;
 All the ships of the sea with their sailors were in you,
 To handle your wares.
 10 Men of Persia, Lud, and Put were in your army,
 Serving as your soldiers;
 Shield and helmet they hung on you,
 They displayed your glory.
 11 The sons of Arvad and Helech manned your walls round about,
 And the men of Gammad defended your towers;

They hung their shields upon your walls round about,
They made perfect your beauty.

12 "Tarshish traded with you because of your abundant wealth of 13 every kind; she bartered you silver, iron, tin, and lead. Javan, Tubal, and Meshech traded with you; they supplied you with slaves and 14 bronze utensils. Those of the household of Togarmah gave you in 15 exchange horses, horsemen, and mules. The men of Rhodes traded with you; the people of many a coast land were at your service; ivory 16 tusks and ebony they brought you as tribute. Edom traded with you because of your abundant resources; she gave you in exchange garnets, 17 purple dyes, embroidered work, fine linen, coral, and rubies. Judah and the land of Israel traded with you; they supplied you with wheat 18 from Minnith, wax, honey, oil, and balsam. Damascus traded with you because of your abundant resources, your abundant wealth of every kind; she gave you in exchange wine from Helbon and white wool.
19 The men of Uzal supplied you with wrought iron, cassia, and calamus.
20 Dedan sold you saddlecloths for riding. Arabia and all the chiefs of 21 Kedar were at your service; they sold you lambs, rams, and goats. The merchants of Sheba and Raamah traded with you; they gave you in exchange the finest of all kinds of spices, and the finest of all kinds of 23 precious stones and gold. Haran, Canneh and Eden, Assyria, and all 24 the Medes traded with you; they sold you choice fabrics, richly embroided mantles of blue, stuffs of various colors, and strongly twisted 25 skeins. Ships of Tarshish carried your merchandise.

"So you were filled, and became heavily laden,
In the heart of the seas.

26 Your rowers brought you
Into deep waters;
The east wind wrecked you
In the heart of the seas.
27 Your wealth, your wares, and your merchandise,
Your sailors and your steersmen,
Your caulkers, your traders, and all your soldiers aboard you—
Even all the crowd within you—
Shall sink in the heart of the seas
On the day of your downfall.
28 At the sound of your steersmen's cry
The uplands shall quake;

- 29 And all oarsmen and sailors,
 All steersmen of the deep,
 Shall come down from their ships,
 And shall stand upon the shore;
- 30 They shall raise their voices over you,
 And shall cry out bitterly;
 They shall cast up dust on their heads,
 They shall wallow in ashes;
- 31 They shall shave their heads for you,
 And shall gird on sackcloth;
 They shall weep for you in bitterness of heart,
 With bitter lamentation;
- 32 Their daughters shall raise a dirge for you,
 And shall lament over you:
 'Who has been ruined like Tyre
 In the heart of the sea?
- 33 When your merchandise came from the seas,
 You supplied many peoples;
 With the abundance of your wealth and your wares
 You enriched the kings of the earth.
- 34 Now you are wrecked in the seas,
 In the depths of the waters;
 Your cargo and all your crew
 Are sunk in the heart of you.
- 35 All the people along the coasts
 Are appalled at your fate;
 Their kings are aghast with horror,
 Their faces are convulsed;
- 36 The merchants among the peoples hiss you to scorn,
 For you have come to an awful end,
 And shall be no more forever.' ” ” ” ”

ORACLE AGAINST THE KING OF TYRE, 28:1-10

- 28 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 "O mortal man, say to the prince of Tyre, 'Thus says the Lord
 GOD:
 "Because you are puffed up with pride,
 And have said, 'I am a god,
 I sit in the seat of the gods
 In the heart of the seas,'

When you are but a man, and no god,
 Though you count yourself wise as a god—
 3 You are wiser, forsooth, than Daniel,
 No secret thing can they hide from you!
 4 By your shrewdness and your skill you have won yourself wealth,
 You have gathered gold and silver into your treasuries;
 5 By your great shrewdness in trade you have increased your wealth,
 And because of your wealth you are puffed with pride”—
 6 Therefore thus says the Lord God:
 “Because you count yourself wise as a god,
 7 Behold! I am bringing aliens against you,
 The most ruthless of nations;
 And they shall draw their swords against your subtle beauty,
 And shall stain your splendor.
 8 They shall bring you down to the Pit,
 And you shall die the death of the slain
 In the heart of the seas.
 9 Will you then venture to say, ‘I am a god,’
 In the presence of those who slay you,
 When you are but a man, and no god,
 In the hands of those who pierce you?
 10 You shall die the death of the uncircumcised
 By the hands of aliens;
 For I have spoken it,”
 Is the oracle of the Lord God.”

DIRGE OVER THE KING OF TYRE, 28:11-19

11 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 12 “O mortal man, raise a dirge over the king of Tyre, and say of him, ‘Thus says the Lord God: You were the seal of perfection, full 13 of wisdom, and complete in beauty. You dwelt in Eden, the garden of God. You had a shield of every kind of precious stone, the ruby, topaz, and emerald, the beryl, onyx, and jasper, the sapphire, garnet, chrysolite, and gold; and on your clothing was a wealth of fine gold.
 14 On the day when you were created, I placed you with the guardian cherubs on the holy hill of God; and you walked amidst stones of 15 fire. You were perfect in your ways from the day when you were 16 created, till guilt was discovered in you. Through the greatness of your trade you filled your mind with lawlessness, and you fell into sin; therefore I cast you out as a profane thing from the hill of God, and the guardian cherubs drove you from the midst of the stones of 17 fire. You were puffed up with pride through your beauty, you ruined your wisdom by reason of your splendor, therefore I flung you to 18 the ground, and exposed you for kings to gaze at. Through the greatness of your guilt, through the sins of your trade, you profaned your sacredness; therefore I brought forth fire from the midst of you—and I reduced you to ashes upon the ground in the sight of all

 19 who saw you. And all who knew you among the nations are appalled at your fate; for you have come to an awful end, and shall be no more forever.’ ”

ORACLE AGAINST ZIDON, 28:20-26

- 20 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 21 “O mortal man, set your face toward Zidon, and prophesy against 22 her, and say, “Thus says the Lord God:
 “Behold! I am against you, O Zidon, -
 And will reveal my glory in the midst of you;
 Then shall you know that I am the LORD,
 When I execute judgments in the midst of you,
 And reveal my holiness through you.
 23 For I will send pestilence into you,
 And bloodshed into your streets;
 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you,
 By the sword that descends upon you from every side;
 And you shall know that I am the LORD.
 24 “Then the household of Israel shall no more find a pricking brier or a piercing thorn among all the malicious peoples that surround them on every side; and they shall know that I am the Lord God.”
 25 “Thus says the Lord God: “When I have gathered the household of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and have revealed my holiness through them in the sight of the nations, then shall they live in their own land, which I gave to my servant Jacob;
 26 they shall live securely in it, and shall build houses and plant vineyards; they shall live securely in it, when I have executed judgments upon all the malicious peoples that surround them on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.” ’ ”

ORACLE AGAINST PHARAOH, 29:1-16

- 29 In the tenth year, the tenth month, the twelfth day of the month,
the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
- 2 "O mortal man, set your face against Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and 3 prophesy against him, and against Egypt as a whole; speak, and say,
"Thus says the Lord God:
- "Behold! I am against you, O Pharaoh,
King of Egypt,
The great crocodile that lies
In the midst of its streams,
That says, 'This stream of mine is mine own—
It was I that made it.'
- 4 I will put hooks in your jaws,
And will make the fish of your streams cleave to your scales;
And I will draw you out of the midst of your streams,
With all the fish of your streams that cleave to your scales.
- 5 And I will cast you into the desert,
Yourself and all the fish of your streams;
On the open field shall you lie,
Ungathered and unburied;
To the beasts of the earth and the birds of the air
Will I leave you for food.
- 6 Then all the people of Egypt shall know
That I am the LORD,
Because you have been a staff of reed
To the household of Israel—
- 7 When they grasped you by the hand, you snapped,
And tore all their hand;
And when they leaned upon you, you broke,
And made all their loins quake."
- 8 "Therefore thus says the Lord God: "Behold! I am bringing a 9 sword upon you, and will cut off from you man and beast. And the land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD. Because you have said, 'The stream is my own; 10 it was I that made it,' therefore behold! I am against you, and against your stream; and I will make the land of Egypt a waste and a deso-11 lation, from Migdol to Syene, even to the border of Ethiopia. No foot of man shall cross it, no foot of beast shall cross it—for forty 12 years shall it remain uninhabited. I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the midst of lands that are made desolate, and for forty years shall her cities remain a desolation in the midst of cities that are laid waste; and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them over the lands."

- 13 "Thus says the Lord GOD: "At the end of forty years I will gather 14 the Egyptians from the peoples among whom they are scattered; and I will restore the fortune of Egypt, and will bring them back to their 15 native land of Pathros, and there shall they form a lowly kingdom. It shall be the lowliest of all kingdoms, and shall no more raise its head above the nations; for I will keep them so small that they shall not be 16 able to rule over the nations. And they shall no more be a ground of confidence to the household of Israel, a means of recalling their sin to my mind when they turn to them for help; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD." " "

EGYPT AS WAGES FOR NEBUCHADREZZAR, 29:17-21

- 17 In the twenty-seventh year, the first month, the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 18 "O mortal man, Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, engaged his army in a great campaign against Tyre. Every head was rubbed bald, and every shoulder was peeled bare; yet neither he nor his army won 19 any return from the campaign which he directed against Tyre. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: 'Behold! I am giving the land of Egypt to Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon; and he shall carry off her abundance, and shall spoil her and prey upon her, to pay his army. As a return for the campaign which he directed against Tyre, I am giving him the land of Egypt, because they rendered a service to me,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD.
 21 "On that day will I cause a horn to sprout for the household of Israel; and I will enable you to speak freely in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the LORD."

THE DESOLATION OF EGYPT, 30:1-26

- 30 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 "O mortal man, prophesy, and say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD:
 "Wail, 'Woe for the day!
 3 For the day is near,
 The day of the LORD is near,
 A day of clouds, the time of doom for the nations.

- 4 A sword shall descend upon Egypt,
And there shall be writhing in Ethiopia,
When the slain fall in Egypt,
And her abundance is carried off,
And her foundations are torn up.³
- 5 [Ethiopia, Put, and Lud, all the Arabians, the Lybians, and the Cherethites with them, shall fall by the sword.]
- 6 "Thus says the LORD:
"Those who uphold Egypt shall fall,
And her proud strength shall come down;
From Migdol to Syene shall they fall by the sword in her,"
Is the oracle of the Lord GOD.
- 7 "She shall be desolate in the midst of lands that are made desolate,
And her cities shall lie in the midst of cities that are laid waste.
- 8 And they shall know that I am the LORD,
When I have kindled a fire in Egypt,
And all her helpers are shattered.
- 9 On that day shall messengers go forth at my prompting, in ships,
To strike terror upon Ethiopia in its security;
And writhing shall seize them on the day of Egypt's doom—
For lo! it comes."
- 10 'Thus says the Lord GOD:
'I will make an end of the abundance of Egypt
By the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon.
- 11 He and his people with him, the most ruthless of nations,
Shall be brought in to destroy the land;
They shall draw their swords against Egypt,
And shall fill the land with the slain.
- 12 I will make the streams a waste,
And will sell the land to evil men;
I will make the land and all that is in it a desolation,
By the hand of aliens—
I the LORD have spoken it."
- 13 'Thus says the Lord GOD:
'I will destroy the magnates of Memphis,
And no more shall there be a prince in the land of Egypt;
I will put fear on the land of Egypt,
And will make Pathros a desolation,
And will kindle a fire in Zoan,
And will execute judgments upon Thebes;

- 15 I will pour out my fury on Pelusium, the stronghold of Egypt,
And will cut off the teeming multitude of Thebes;
- 16 I will kindle a fire in Egypt,
And Pelusium shall writhe in anguish,
Thebes shall be split asunder, and Memphis reduced to gravel;
- 17 The young men of On and Bubastis shall fall by the sword,
And their maidens shall go into exile;
- 18 At Daphne the day shall be dark,
When I break there the scepter of Egypt;
And her proud strength shall fail her,
A cloud shall cover her,
While her daughters go into exile.
- 19 Thus will I execute judgments upon Egypt;
And they shall know that I am the LORD.” ” ”

THE BREAKING OF PHARAOH'S ARMS, 30:20-26

- 20 In the eleventh year, the first month, the seventh day of the month,
the word of the LORD came to me, saying, -
- 21 “O mortal man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and behold! it shall not be bound up, so that healing applications may be used and bandages put on, to make it strong enough to grasp the sword.
- 22 “Therefore thus says the Lord God: ‘Behold! I am against Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and will break his arms, both the strong one and
- 23 the broken one, and will make the sword fall from his hand. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them over
- 24 the lands. And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and will put my sword in his hand, while I break the arms of Pharaoh, making him groan before him like a man mortally wounded.
- 25 I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, while the arms of Pharaoh fall; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he stretches it over
- 26 the land of Egypt. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them over the lands; and they shall know that I am
the LORD.’ ”

THE CEDAR OF EGYPT, 31:1-18

- 31 In the eleventh year, the third month, the first day of the month,
the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

- 2 "O mortal man, say to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and to his teeming multitude:
 'Whom are you like in your greatness?
3 Like a stately cedar in Lebanon,
 With graceful branches, and a thick shade of foliage,
 Lofty in height, with its top among the clouds.
4 Waters nourished it, the deep made it grow,
 Pouring her streams round its plantation,
 And sending her channels to all the trees of the field.
5 So it towered aloft above all the trees of the field,
 Its boughs increased in number, and its branches in length,
 Through the wealth of water in its rills.
6 Among its boughs all the birds of the air made their nests,
 And under its branches all the beasts of the field bore their young,
 While within its shadow all mighty nations lived.
7 It was fair in its greatness, with the length of its branches;
 For its root was by many waters.
8 The cedars in the garden of God could not eclipse it,
 The cypresses could not match it in boughs,
 Nor the plane-trees compare with it in branches—
 There was no tree in the garden of God to match it in beauty.
9 By the wealth of its branches I made it fair,
 So that all the trees of Eden, in the garden of God, envied it.'
- 10 "Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: 'Because it towered aloft, and 11 raised its top to the clouds, and prided itself on its height, I am hand-12 ing it over to the mightiest of the nations, who shall surely deal with 13 it in accordance with its wickedness; and aliens, the most ruthless of the nations, shall cut it down, and cast it upon the mountains; and its branches shall fall into all the valleys, and its boughs shall lie broken in all the ravines of the land; and all the peoples of the earth 13 shall depart from its shadow in terror. Upon its fallen trunk shall all the birds of the air nestle, and upon its branches shall all the beasts of 14 the field be found, in order that no trees nourished by water may tower aloft, or raise their tops to the clouds—that no trees feeding on water may rival them in height—for all of them are doomed to death, doomed to descend to the underworld, in the midst of the children of men, with those who go down to the Pit.'
- 15 "Thus says the Lord GOD: 'On the day when it goes down to Sheol,
I will darken the deep, and will check its streams till the mighty waters are stayed; I will clothe Lebanon in black for it, and all the trees

- 16 of the field shall droop in sorrow for it. I will make the nations quake at the sound of its downfall, when I bring it down to Sheol with those who go down to the Pit. And all the trees of Eden, the choicest and best trees of Lebanon—all that feed on water—shall be comforted
- 17 in the underworld: they also shall go down with it to Sheol, to those who are slain by the sword, while those who lived under its shadow among the nations shall likewise perish.
- 18 “Whomsoever, then, among the trees of Eden you may resemble in glory and greatness, you shall be brought down to the underworld with the trees of Eden, and shall lie in the midst of the uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword. Such shall be the fate of Pharaoh and all his teeming multitude,’ is the oracle of the Lord God.”

DIRGE OVER PHARAOH, 32:1-16

32 In the eleventh year, the twelfth month, the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “O mortal man, raise a dirge over Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and say to him:

‘To a young lion of the nations you likened yourself,
When you are nought but a dragon in the seas,
Spouting water from your nostrils,
Troubling the waters with your feet,
And fouling their streams.’

3 “Thus says the Lord God:

‘I will spread my net over you,
With a host of mighty peoples,
And will draw you up in my seine,

4 And will cast you on the ground—
On the open field will I toss you.

I will cause all the birds of the air to settle upon you,
And with you will I glut all the beasts of the earth;

5 I will lay out your flesh on the mountains,
And with your bones will I fill the valleys;

6 I will drench the earth, to the mountain tops, with your flowing blood,
And the ravines shall be full of you.

7 And when I have done with you, I will veil the heavens,
And will darken their stars;
I will veil the sun with a cloud,

- And the moon shall not give her light;
 8 All the shining lights of the heavens will I darken over you,
 And will throw blackness upon your land,[']
 Is the oracle of the Lord God.
- 9 "I will trouble the hearts of many peoples when I announce your 10 downfall among the nations, to lands which you never knew. I will make many peoples appalled at your fate; and their kings shall shudder with terror over you, when I brandish my sword in their sight. They shall tremble every moment, each one for his own life, on the day of your downfall.
- 11 "For thus says the Lord God:
 'The sword of the king of Babylon shall descend upon you, 12 And your teeming multitude will I cause to fall by the swords of warriors,
 All of them the most ruthless of nations.
 They shall spoil the pride of Egypt,
 And all her teeming multitude shall be destroyed.
 13 I will destroy likewise all her beasts
 From beside many waters;
 And no foot of man shall trouble them any more,
 Nor shall hoof of cattle trouble them.
 14 Then will I cause their waters to settle,
 And their rivers to flow with oil,[']
 Is the oracle of the Lord God.
- 15 'And when I have made the land of Egypt a desolation,
 When the land has been stripped of all that fills it.
 When I have smitten all who dwell in it,
 They shall know that I am the LORD.
 16 This is the dirge which they shall chant,
 Which the daughters of all the nations shall chant,
 Which they shall chant over Egypt and all her teeming multitude,[']
 Is the oracle of the Lord God."

DIRGE OVER EGYPT, 32:17-32

- 17 In the twelfth year, the first month, the fifteenth day of the month,
 the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 18 "O mortal man, wail over the teeming multitude of Egypt, and with this dirge send them down, you and the daughters of mighty nations, to the underworld, with those who go down to the Pit:

- 19 'Though you are incomparable in beauty,
Go down, and be laid with the uncircumcised;
- 20 In the midst of those who are slain by the sword
Lie down, you and all your teeming multitude!'
- 21 Then out of the midst of Sheol shall the mightiest of warriors speak of her and her helpers:
'They have come down, and lie with the uncircumcised
In the midst of those who are slain by the sword.'
- 22 There is Assyria, with all her company round about her grave, all of
- 23 them slain, fallen by the sword: her grave was made in the recesses of the Pit, and her company is round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who struck terror into the land of the living.
- 24 There is Elam, with all her teeming multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, gone down uncircumcised to the underworld, who struck terror into the land of the living; and they bear the burden of their shame with those who go down to the Pit.
- 25 In the midst of the slain a bed was made for her and all her teeming multitude round about her grave, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, because they struck terror into the land of the living; and they bear the burden of their shame with those who go down to the Pit—in the midst of the slain are they placed. There are Meshech and Tubal, with all their teeming multitude round about their graves, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, because
- 27 they struck terror into the land of the living. They lie not with the fallen warriors of old, who went down to Sheol with their weapons of war, whose swords were laid under their heads, and their shields upon their bodies, because the terror of their might was on the land of
- 28 the living. So shall you also lie among the uncircumcised, with those
- 29 who are slain by the sword. There is Edom, her kings and all her princes, who for all their might are laid with those who are slain by the sword: they lie with the uncircumcised, with those who go down
- 30 to the Pit. There are all the princes of the north, and all the Zidonians, who have gone down with the slain, in shame, for all the terror of their might, and lie uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword, and bear the burden of their shame with those who go down
- 31 to the Pit. These shall Pharaoh see, and shall be comforted for all his teeming multitude who are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and
- 32 all his army," is the oracle of the Lord God. "Because he struck terror into the land of the living, he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised, with those who are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his teeming multitude," is the oracle of the Lord God.

THE PROPHET AS WATCHMAN, 33:1-20

33 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 "O mortal man, speak to your fellow-countrymen, and say to them: 'If, when I bring the sword upon a land, the people of the land
3 take one of their number, and appoint him their watchman; and if, when he sees the sword coming upon the land, he blow the trumpet,
4 and warn the people; then whosoever hears the sound of the trumpet but does not take warning—when the sword comes and takes him
5 away—his blood shall be upon his own head. He heard the sound of the trumpet but did not take warning, therefore his blood shall be upon his own head; whereas, if he had taken warning, he would have
6 saved himself. But if the watchman, when he sees the sword coming, blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned—when the sword comes and takes away one of their number—that man is taken away for his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's
7 hand. So you, O mortal man, I appoint a watchman to the household of Israel; and whenever you hear a word from my mouth, you shall
8 warn them from me. If I say to the wicked, 'O wicked man, you shall surely die,' and you say nothing to warn the wicked man from his way, that wicked man shall die for his iniquity, but his blood will 9 I require at your hand. If, however, you warn the wicked man to turn from his way, and he turn not from his way, he shall die for his iniquity, but you shall have saved yourself.'

10 "Therefore, O mortal man, say to the household of Israel: 'Because you say, "Our transgressions and our sins lie upon us, and under 11 them we waste away; how then can we live?" as I live,' is the oracle of the Lord God, 'I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but rather in this, that the wicked man turn from his way and live. Turn, O turn, from your evil ways! Why should you die, O household of Israel?'

12 "And you, O mortal man, say to your fellow-countrymen: 'The righteousness of the righteous man shall not save him on the day of his transgression; and the wickedness of the wicked man shall not bring about his downfall on the day when he turns from his wickedness. The righteous man shall not be able to save himself by his 13 righteousness on the day when he falls into sin. If I say to the righteous man, "You shall surely live," and he trust in his righteousness, and do wrong, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered, but 14 for the wrong which he has done he shall die. And if I say to the wicked man, "You shall surely die," and he turn from his sin, and 15 do what is lawful and right—if the wicked man restore the pledge, repay what he has taken by robbery, follow the statutes that lead to 16 life, and do no wrong—he shall surely live, and not die. None of the sins which he has committed shall be remembered against him; be-

17 cause he has done what is lawful and right, he shall surely live. Yet your fellow-countrymen say, "The way of the Lord is not fair,"
18 when it is their way which is not fair! If the righteous man turn 19 from his righteousness, and do wrong, he shall die for it. And if the wicked man turn from his wickedness, and do what is lawful and 20 right, he shall live by it. Yet you say, "The way of the Lord is not fair." O household of Israel, I will judge you each one according to his ways.' "

NEWS OF THE CAPTURE OF JERUSALEM, 33:21-33

21 In the eleventh year of our exile, the tenth month, the fifth day of the month, a fugitive from Jerusalem came to me, saying,
"The city is smitten."
22 Now the hand of the LORD had been upon me the evening before the fugitive came; but he opened my mouth at the moment when he came to me in the morning, and after my mouth was opened I was no
23 longer dumb. Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
24 "O mortal man, those who inhabit these ruins in the land of Israel keep on saying, 'Abraham was but one man, yet he received possession of the land; now, we being many, the land will surely be given to us
25 as a possession.' Therefore say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God: You eat flesh with the blood in it, you lift up your eyes to your idols,
26 you shed blood—and shall you have possession of the land? You resort to the sword, you commit abominations, you defile each other's 27 wives—and shall you have possession of the land?' Say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God: As I live! those in the ruins shall fall by the sword, and those in the open field will I give to the beasts as food, and 28 those in the fastnesses and caves shall die of pestilence. And I will make the land a desolation and a waste; its proud strength shall fail, and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, with none to cross them.
29 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I make the land a desolation and a waste, because of all the abominations which they have committed.'

- 30 "As for you, O mortal man, your fellow-countrymen who talk of you by the walls and at the doors of the houses say to each other,
 31 'Come and hear what the word is that comes from the LORD!' They come to you, as my people used to come; and they sit before you, as if they were still my people: they listen to your words, but they will not obey them; for with their mouths they make a show of love, but 32 their minds are set upon their own selfish gain. You are to them like a singer of love songs, with a beautiful voice, and able to play well on the instrument: they listen to your words, but they will not obey 33 them. Only when the hour comes—and it is coming—they shall know that a prophet has been in the midst of them."

PROPHECY AGAINST THE SHEPHERDS OF ISRAEL, 34:1-31

- 34 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 "O mortal man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy, and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God: Woe to the shepherds of Israel, who have attended to themselves! Should not shepherds attend
 3 to the flock? But you have fed on the milk, and have clothed yourselves with the wool; you have slaughtered the fatlings, and have not
 4 tended the flock. You have neither strengthened the weak, nor healed the sick, nor bound up the wounded, nor brought back the strayed, nor
 5 sought out the lost; and with rigor have you ruled the strong. So my flock was scattered for want of a shepherd, and became food to all the
 6 beasts of the field; my flock wandered over all the mountains, and over every high hill; my flock was scattered over all the face of the earth, with none to seek or search for them.'
 7 "Therefore, O shepherds, hear the word of the LORD! 'As I live,' is the oracle of the Lord God, 'since my flock has become a prey, and my flock has become food to all the beasts of the field, for want of a shepherd—because the shepherds did not care for my flock, but attended to themselves, and did not attend to my flock'—therefore, O
 9 shepherds, hear the word of the LORD! 'Thus says the Lord God: Behold! I am against the shepherds, and will require my flock at their hand; I will stop them from attending to my flock, so that the shepherds may no longer attend to themselves; and I will save my flock from their mouths, so that they may not be food to them.'
 11 "For thus says the Lord God: 'Behold! here am I, and I will seek 12 and search for my flock. As a shepherd searches for his flock on a day of whirlwind, when his sheep are scattered, so will I search for my flock, and rescue them from all the places to which they have been scattered on the day of clouds and thick darkness. I will lead them out of the nations, and gather them from the lands; and I will bring them to their own country, and tend them on the mountains of Israel, in the valleys, and in all the best places of the land. In good pasture will I tend them, and on the high mountains of Israel shall be their fold; there shall they lie down in a good fold, and on rich pasture shall they graze on the mountains of Israel. I myself will tend my flock, and I myself will lead them to their pasture,' is the oracle of the Lord God. 'I will seek out the lost, I will bring back the strayed, I will bind up the wounded, I will strengthen the sick; and I will watch over the fat and strong ones, tending them rightly.' And as for you, O my flock, thus says the Lord God: 'Behold! I will judge between sheep and sheep. But as for the rams and he-goats, is it not enough for you to graze on the good pasture, that you must needs trample the rest of the pasture beneath your feet; and to drink of the clear water, that you must needs foul the rest with your feet—compelling my flock to graze on that which you have trampled beneath your feet, and to drink that which you have fouled with your feet?'

"Therefore thus says the Lord God to them: 'Behold! here am I, and I will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep. Because you push with side and shoulder, and butt at all the weak ones with your horns, till you have scattered them abroad, I will save my sheep, so that they may no longer be a prey, and I will judge between sheep and sheep. And I will set up one shepherd over them, to tend them, even my servant David, who shall tend them, and be a shepherd to them. I the Lord will be their God, and my servant David shall be prince among them—I the Lord have spoken it. I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will remove wild beasts out of the land, so that they may live securely in the steppes, and may sleep in the woods. And I will bless them round about my hill, and will send down the showers in their season—showers of blessing shall they be. Then the trees of the field shall yield their fruit, and the earth shall yield her produce; they shall live securely on their land; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I break the bars of their yoke, and rescue them from the hands of those who enslaved them. And they shall no longer be a prey to the nations, nor shall the beasts of the earth devour them; but they shall live securely, with none to make them afraid. I will provide for them a soil renowned for fruitfulness, and they shall no longer be consumed with hunger in the land, 30 and no longer bear the reproach of the nations. And they shall know that I, the LORD, am their God, and that they, the household of Israel, 31 are my people,' is the oracle of the Lord God. 'And you my flock are the flock of my pasture, and I the LORD am your God,' is the oracle of the Lord God."

PROPHECY AGAINST MOUNT SEIR, 35:1-15

35 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 2 "O mortal man, set your face against Mount Seir, and prophesy
 3 against it, and say to it, 'Thus says the Lord God: Behold! I am against you, O Mount Seir; and I will stretch out my hand against 4 you, and make you a desolation and a waste; your cities will I lay waste, and you shall be a desolation—so shall you know that I am 5 the LORD. Because you kept up a perpetual enmity against the children of Israel, and handed them over to the sword at the time of their 6 calamity—the time of their final doom—therefore as I live,' is the oracle of the Lord God, 'I will hold you guilty of bloodshed, and 7 blood shall pursue you. I will make Mount Seir a desolation and a 8 waste; I will cut off from it him that comes and him that goes, and will fill its mountains with its slain—over your hills and valleys, and 9 over all your ravines, shall men fall slain by the sword. I will make you a perpetual desolation, and your cities shall remain uninhabited—10 so shall you know that I am the LORD. Because you said, "The two nations and the two lands shall be mine, and I will take possession of 11 them"—when the LORD was in them—therefore as I live,' is the oracle of the Lord God, 'I will treat you in accordance with the anger and indignation with which you treated them in your hatred against them, and I will reveal my character among you when I pun-12 ish you. And you shall know that I the LORD have heard all the insults which you have uttered against the mountains of Israel, say-13 ing, "They are our possession; they are given to us as food." And because you spoke many boastful words against me with your mouth—14 and I heard them—therefore thus says the Lord God: As you rejoiced over the inheritance of the household of Israel, because it was a deso-15 lation, so will I deal with you. A desolation shall you be, O Mount Seir, and the whole of Edom a ruin—so shall they know that I am the LORD.' "

THE RESTORATION OF THE LAND OF ISRAEL, 36:1-15

36 “And you, O mortal man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel, and 2 say, ‘O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD! Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because the enemy jeered over you, saying, ‘Aha!
3 the ancient heights have become our possession,’ ”’ therefore prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: Because you have been snarled and snapped at from every side, taken over as a possession by the rest of the nations, and made the subject of talk and gossip to the people, 4 therefore, O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD!
Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains and the hills, the ravines and the valleys, the desolate wastes and the deserted cities, which have become a prey and derision to the rest of the nations that are round 5 about: In the fire of my indignation I speak against the rest of the nations, and especially against Edom—the whole of it—who with malicious glee and bitter contempt took over my land as a possession 6 for themselves, to hold it as a prey.’ Therefore prophesy over the land of Israel, and say to the mountains and the hills, the ravines and the valleys, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold! I speak in my indignation and fury, because you have borne the reproach of the nations.
7 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: With my uplifted hand I swear that the nations which are round about you shall bear their reproach.
8 But you, O mountains of Israel, shall put forth your branches and bear your fruit for my people Israel, because they shall shortly come.
9 For behold! I am for you, and will look to you, and will see that 10 you are tilled and sown. And I will plant upon you a large population, even the whole household of Israel, so that the cities may be 11 re-peopled and the waste places rebuilt. I will plant upon you a large population of men and beasts, who shall increase and be fruitful; and I will settle you as in former days, and treat you better than at first—12 so shall you know that I am the LORD. And I will cause men to be born upon you—even my people Israel—and they shall have possession of you, and you shall be their inheritance, and shall no longer 13 make them childless. Thus says the Lord GOD: Because men keep saying to you, ‘You are a devourer of men, you make your people 14 childless,’ therefore you shall no longer devour men, and shall no
15 longer make your people childless,”’ is the oracle of the Lord GOD;
‘and I will no longer permit the taunts of the nations to be heard against you, and no longer shall you have to bear the reproach of the peoples, for no longer shall you make your people childless.’ is the
oracle of the Lord GOD.”

THE REGENERATION OF THE PEOPLE, 36:16-38

16 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
17 "O mortal man, when the household of Israel lived in their own land, they defiled it by their ways and their doings; like the foulness of a woman in her time of uncleanness were their ways in my sight.
18 So I poured out my fury upon them for the blood which they had shed upon the land, and for the defilement which they had brought upon 19 it through their idols. I scattered them among the nations, and dispersed them over the lands: in accordance with their ways and their 20 doings I punished them. But when they arrived among the nations to which they came, and caused my holy name to be profaned, in that men said of them, 'These are the people of the LORD, and they have 21 gone out of his land,' I was grieved for my holy name which the household of Israel had caused to be profaned among the nations to 22 which they came. Therefore say to the household of Israel, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: It is not for your sake that I am about to act, O household of Israel, but for my holy name which you have caused to 23 be profaned among the nations to which you came. I will restore the holiness of my great name which has been profaned among the nations—the name which you have caused to be profaned in the midst of them—and when I restore my holiness in their sight, through my dealings with you, the nations shall know that I am the LORD,' is the 24 oracle of the Lord GOD. 'For I will take you out of the nations, and gather you from all the lands; and I will bring you to your own land.
25 I will sprinkle pure water over you, and you shall be pure: from all 26 your impurities, and from all your idolatries, will I purify you. I will give you a new heart, and will put within you a new spirit; I will remove the heart of stone out of your flesh, and will give you a heart
27 of flesh; and I will put my spirit within you, and will make you fol-28 low my statutes and keep my ordinances and obey them. You shall live in the land which I gave to your fathers; and you shall be my 29 people, and I will be your God. I will save you from all your impurities. And I will call to the grain, and will make it abundant, 30 allowing no famine to come upon you. I will also make the fruit of the trees and the produce of the fields abundant, so that you may no 31 longer bear among the nations the reproach of famine. Then shall you remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good;
and you shall loathe yourselves for your sinful and abominable deeds.
32 But be it known to you, it is not for your sake that I am doing this,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD; 'therefore be ashamed and abashed for your ways, O household of Israel!'

33 "Thus says the Lord GOD: On the day when I purify you from all your iniquities, I will have the cities re peopled, and the waste places
34 rebuilt. And the land that was desolate shall be tilled once more, instead of lying a desolation under the eyes of every passer-by; and
35 men shall say, 'Yonder land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden; and the cities that were waste, desolate, and ruined
36 are now fortified and inhabited.' Then the nations that are left round about you shall know that I the LORD have rebuilt the ruined cities, and replanted the desolate wastes. I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 "Thus says the Lord GOD: This also will I let the household of Israel ask me to do for them—to make their people as numerous as a 38 flock. Like the flock for a sacrifice, like the flock at Jerusalem during her festivals, so shall the cities that were laid waste be filled with a flock of men; and they shall know that I am the LORD."

THE VISION OF THE VALLEY, 37:1-14

37 The hand of the LORD was upon me; and the LORD carried me out by the spirit, and set me down in the midst of a valley which was full
2 of bones. He led me all round them, and lo! there were very many of them on the surface of the valley, and lo! they were very dry.
3 And he said to me,

"O mortal man, can these bones live?"

And I answered,

"O Lord GOD, thou knowest."

4 Then he said to me,

"Prophesy over these bones, and say to them, 'O dry bones, hear the 5 word of the LORD! Thus says the Lord GOD to these bones: Behold!
6 I am causing breath to enter you, and you shall live. I will put sinews upon you, and will clothe you with flesh, and cover you with skin; then I will put breath into you, and you shall live; and you shall know that I am the LORD.'"

7 So I prophesied as I had been commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a sound; and lo! there followed a rustling; and the bones
8 came together, bone to its bone. And as I looked, lo! there were sinews upon them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them over;
9 but there was no breath in them. Then he said to me,

"Prophesy to the breath; prophesy, O mortal man, and say to the breath, 'Thus says the Lord God: Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe into these slain men, that they may live!' "

10 So I prophesied as he had commanded me; and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood upon their feet—an exceedingly 11 great host. Then he said to me,

"O mortal man, these bones are the whole household of Israel. Behold! they keep saying, 'Our bones are dried up, and our hope is 12 lost; we are clean cut off.' Therefore prophesy, and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God: Behold! I am opening your graves, and will raise you out of your graves, O my people, and will bring you 13 into the land of Israel. And when I open your graves, and raise you out of your graves, O my people, you shall know that I am the LORD.
14 And I will put my spirit into you, and you shall live; and I will settle you on your own land; and you shall know that I am the LORD. I have spoken it, and I will do it,' is the oracle of the LORD."

THE ALLEGORY OF THE TWO STICKS, 37:15-28

15 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

16 "O mortal man, take a stick, and write on it, 'Of Judah and the children of Israel associated with him'; then take another stick, and write on it, 'Of Joseph and all the household of Israel associated 17 with him.' Join them together, so as to form a single stick in your 18 hand. And when your fellow-countrymen ask you, 'Will you not tell 19 us what you mean by these things?' say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God: Behold! I am taking the stick of Joseph (which is in the hand of Ephraim) and the tribes of Israel associated with him, and will unite it with the stick of Judah, making them a single stick in my 20 hand.' And, keeping the sticks on which you have written in your 21 hand before their eyes, say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God: Behold! I am taking the children of Israel from the midst of the nations to which they have gone, and will gather them from every side,
22 and bring them into their own land; and I will make them a single nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel; and a single king shall be king over them all—they shall no longer be two nations, and
23 shall no longer be divided into two kingdoms. And they shall no longer defile themselves with their idolatries, their foul practices, and all their other transgressions; for I will save them from all their sinful apostasies, and will keep them pure; so shall they be my people,
24 and I will be their God. And my servant David shall be king over them—there shall be a single shepherd for all of them—and they

25 shall follow my ordinances and keep my statutes and obey them. And they shall live on the land that I gave to Jacob my servant, the land in which their fathers lived; they and their children and their children's children shall live on it forever, and David my servant shall be their prince forever. And I will make with them a covenant of peace—
26 an everlasting covenant shall it be with them—and will bless them and multiply them. And I will set my sanctuary in the midst of them
27 forever, and my dwelling-place shall be with them; and I will be 28 their God, and they shall be my people. And when my sanctuary is set in the midst of them forever, the nations shall know that I the LORD am setting Israel apart for myself.' ”

THE OVERTHROW OF GOG, 38:1—39:29

38 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 “O mortal man, set your face toward Gog, of the land of Magog, the great prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him,
3 and say, ‘Thus says the Lord God: Behold! I am against you, O
4 Gog, the great prince of Meshech and Tubal; I will turn you round, and put hooks in your jaws; and I will lead you out, with all your army, horses and horsemen, all of them in full panoply, a mighty host, equipped with buckler and shield, all of them wielding the 5 sword—Persia, Cush, and Put, all of them equipped with shield and 6 helmet, together with Gomer and all his hordes, the household of Togarmah and all their hordes, from the farthest north—many a
7 people with you. Be ready, and keep ready, you and all your host mustered about you; keep yourself in reserve for me. For after many
8 days you shall be called up for service, in the end of the years you shall march against a land restored from desolation, and inhabited by a people gathered from many a nation—against the mountains of Israel that were once a perpetual waste, but are now inhabited by a people brought home from the nations, all of them living in security
9—you shall advance like a storm, you shall come like a cloud covering the land, you and all your hordes, and many a people with you.
10 “Thus says the Lord God: On that day shall thoughts come into
11 your mind, and you shall plan a mischievous scheme, saying, ‘I will march against this land of open villages, I will fall upon these quiet people who live in security, all of them undefended by wall or bar
12 or gates,’ to spoil them, and prey upon them, to bring down your hand against the re-inhabited wastes, and against the people gathered from the nations, who are peacefully acquiring cattle and goods, as they live

- 13 at the center of the earth. Sheba and Dedan, the merchants of Tarsish, and all her magnates, shall say to you, 'Was it to spoil them that you came? Was it to prey upon them that you mustered your host? Was it to carry off silver and gold, to seize cattle and goods, 14 to take great spoil?' Therefore prophesy, O mortal man, and say to Gog, 'Thus says the Lord God: On that day when my people Israel are living in security, shall you not bestir yourself and come from 15 your place in the farthest north—you and many a people with you, 16 all of them riding on horseback, a great host, a mighty army—and fall upon my people Israel like a cloud covering the land? Yes, this is what shall happen in the end of the days: I will bring you against my land, so that the nations may know me, when I reveal my holiness in their sight, through my dealings with you, O Gog.'
- 17 "Thus says the Lord God: 'You are the one whom in former days —through my servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those 18 days—I threatened to bring against them. But on that day when Gog shall invade the land of Israel,' is the oracle of the Lord God, 'my 19 fury shall rise in my nostrils. And in my indignation, in the fire of my wrath, I swear: On that day shall there be an earthquake in the 20 land of Israel, so great that the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the beasts of the field, all the reptiles that creep upon the ground, and every human being upon the surface of the earth, shall tremble at my presence, the mountains shall be torn down, the cliffs shall tumble, 21 and every wall shall fall to the ground. I will summon against him every kind of terror,' is the oracle of the Lord God, 'and every man's 22 sword shall be against his brother; I will proceed against him also with pestilence and bloodshed; and I will rain upon him and his hordes, and upon the many peoples that are with him, a lashing rain, 23 accompanied by hailstones, fire, and brimstone. So will I reveal my greatness and my holiness, and will make myself known in the sight of many nations; and they shall know that I am the LORD.'
- 39 "And you, O mortal man, prophesy against Gog, and say, 'Thus says the Lord God: Behold! I am against you, O Gog, the great 2 prince of Meshech and Tubal; I will turn you round, and drive you on; I will bring you up from the farthest north, and lead you against 3 the mountains of Israel; then I will strike your bow from your left 4 hand, and spill your arrows from your right hand. You shall fall upon the mountains of Israel, you and all your hordes, and the peoples that are with you; to ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts 5 of the field, will I leave you as food. On the open field shall you lie;

⁶ for I have spoken it,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD. 'And I will send fire against Magog, and against those who live securely along the ⁷ coasts; so shall they know that I am the LORD. I will reveal my holy name in the midst of my people Israel, and no longer allow my holy name to be profaned; so shall the nations know that I am the LORD,
⁸ the Holy One of Israel. Behold; it comes, and it shall be,' is the ⁹ oracle of the Lord GOD: 'this is the day of which I spoke. Then shall those who live in the cities of Israel go out and make firewood of the weapons—the shields and bucklers, the bows and arrows, the hand-pikes and spears—for seven years shall they make firewood of them,
¹⁰ and shall not require to take wood from the fields, nor to cut it from the forests, because they shall make firewood of the weapons; so shall they spoil those who spoiled them, and prey upon those who preyed upon them,' is the oracle of the Lord GOD.

¹¹ "And on that day will I give Gog a burial place that shall bear his name in Israel, even the valley of Abarim, east of the Dead Sea: men shall stop up the valley of Abarim, and there shall they bury Gog and ¹² all his mob; and they shall call it, 'The valley of Gog's mob.' For seven months shall the household of Israel be engaged in burying
¹³ them, in order to purify the land—all the people of the land shall be engaged in burying them—and it shall bring them fame on the day
¹⁴ when I reveal my glory," is the oracle of the Lord GOD. "And they shall set apart a standing commission of men who shall pass through the land, searching for those who remain unburied on the surface of the land, to purify it. At the end of seven months shall they begin
¹⁵ the search. And when they pass through the land, and one of them sees a man's body, he shall set up a mark beside it, till the burial parties
¹⁶ have buried it in the valley of Gog's mob. There shall they bury the whole mob, and thus purify the land.

¹⁷ "And as for you, O mortal man, thus says the Lord GOD: Say to the birds of every sort, and to all the beasts of the field, 'Assemble and come, gather from every quarter, to the sacrificial feast which I am preparing for you upon the mountains of Israel, a great sacrificial
¹⁸ feast, at which you shall eat flesh and drink blood; you shall eat the flesh of warriors, and drink the blood of princes of the earth, all of
¹⁹ them rams, lambs, and he-goats, bullocks, and fatlings of Bashan; you shall eat fat till you are glutted, and drink blood till you are drunk,
²⁰ at the sacrificial feast which I prepare for you; at my table you shall be glutted with horses and horsemen, warriors and soldiers of every

21 sort,' is the oracle of the Lord God. 'Thus will I manifest my glory among the nations; and all the nations shall see the judgments that 22 I execute, and the hand that I lay upon them. And from that day onward the household of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their 23 God. The nations also shall know that the household of Israel went into exile for their iniquity—because they broke faith with me—for which reason I hid my face from them, and handed them over to 24 their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword: in accordance with their uncleanness and their transgressions I dealt with them,
 25 and hid my face from them. Therefore thus says the Lord God: Now will I restore the fortune of Jacob, and will have pity upon the whole household of Israel, and will be zealous for my holy name.
 26 And they shall forget their shame, and all the unfaithfulness of which they have been guilty toward me, when they live securely on their
 27 own land, with none to make them afraid, once I have brought them back from the peoples, and have gathered them out of the lands of their enemies, and have revealed my holiness in the sight of many
 28 nations through my dealings with them. And they shall know that I am the LORD their God from the fact that I sent them into exile among the nations, but now have gathered them into their own land, 29 and will no longer leave any of them in exile, nor any longer hide my face from them—for I have poured out my spirit upon the household of Israel,' is the oracle of the Lord God."

THE NEW TEMPLE, 40:1—42:20

40 In the twenty-fifth year of our exile, the first month of the year, the tenth day of the month—this was the fourteenth year after the city had been smitten—on that very day the hand of the LORD was
 2 upon me, and he brought me in visions of God to the land of Israel, and set me on a very high mountain, on which was a building laid out
 3 like a city over against me. He brought me thither, and lo! there was a man whose appearance was like bronze, with a line of flax and a 4 measuring rod in his hand, standing at the gate. And the man said to me,

"O mortal man, look, listen, and attend to all that I show you—for you were brought hither in order that I might show them to you—then tell the household of Israel all that you see."

5 And lo! there was a wall running all round the outside of the building. And the man measured it with the measuring-rod in his hand, which was six cubits long, each cubit being equivalent to a cubit and a handbreadth; and he found it one rod in breadth and one rod in height.

6 Then he brought me to the gate looking east; and when he had climbed the steps of it, he measured the threshold of the gate, which
7 was one rod broad. Each of the guard-rooms was one rod long, and one rod broad; and between the guard-rooms was a space of five 8 cubits. The threshold also of the gate at the vestibule leading into the 9 building was one rod. Then he measured the vestibule, which was 10 eight cubits broad, with its jambs each two cubits broad. The guard-rooms of the east gate were three on each side, all of the same size;
11 while the jambs on each side were also of the same size. Then he measured the breadth of the gateway, ten cubits; and the length of 12 the gateway, thirteen cubits. In front of each guard-room was a platform, one cubit square, the guard-rooms themselves being six 13 cubits square. Then he measured the gate from the back of one guard-room to the back of the other, a breadth of twenty-five cubits, 14 from door to door. Then he measured the length of the vestibule,
15 twenty cubits, where the inner court abutted on the vestibule. Thus from the outside front of the gate to the inside front of the vestibule
16 were fifty cubits. And the guard-rooms had latticed windows on the inside of the gateway round about; the vestibule also had windows on the inside round about; while on each jamb were palm trees.

17 Then he brought me to the outer court; and lo! there was a pavement round about the court, with thirty chambers fronting on it. The pavement ran along the sides of the gates, and was as broad as they
18 were long—this was the lower pavement. And he measured the breadth from the inside front of the outer gate to the outside front of the inner court, a hundred cubits.

20 Then he brought me to the north gate of the outer court, and 21 measured its length and its breadth. This gate had three guard-rooms on each side, with jambs and vestibule, of the same size as those of the first gate. It was fifty cubits in length, and twenty-five cubits in 22 breadth. It had windows, vestibule, and palm trees, of the same size as those of the east gate. It was reached by a stairway of seven steps;
23 and its vestibule was on the inside. And the inner court had a gate opposite this north gate, corresponding to the gate on the east; and he measured from gate to gate, a hundred cubits.

24 Then he led me southward; and lo! there was a gate looking south. He measured its jamb and vestibule, and found them of the 25 same size as the others. The gate and its vestibule had windows round about, of the same size as the others. It was fifty cubits in length, 25 and twenty-five cubits in breadth. It also had a stairway of seven steps; and its vestibule was on the inside. It had palm trees on its 27 jambs, one on each side. And the inner court had a gate opposite this south gate; and he measured from gate to gate, a hundred cubits.

28 Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate; and he 29 measured the south gate, with its guard-rooms, jambs, and vestibule, and found them of the same size as the others. The gate and its vestibule had windows round about; and it was fifty cubits in length, and 30 twenty-five cubits in breadth. Its vestibule was twenty cubits long, 31 and five cubits broad; and the vestibule faced the inner court. Palm trees were on its jambs; and its stairway had eight steps.

32 Then he brought me to the inner court on the east side; and he 33 measured the gate, with its guard-rooms, jambs, and vestibule, and found them of the same size as the others. The gate and its vestibule had windows round about; and it was fifty cubits in length, and 34 twenty-five cubits in breadth. Its vestibule faced the outer court; and palm trees were on its jambs, on either side; and its stairway had eight steps.

35 Then he brought me to the north gate, and measured it, with its 36 guard-rooms, jambs, and vestibule, and found them of the same size as the others. It also had windows round about. It was fifty cubits in 37 length, and twenty-five cubits in breadth. Its vestibule faced the outer court; and palm trees were on its jambs, on either side; and its stairway had eight steps.

38 There was a chamber opening into the vestibule of the gate, in 39 which they were to wash the burnt-offerings. And in the vestibule of the gate there were two tables on each side, for the purpose of slaughtering the burnt-offerings, the sin-offerings, and the guilt-offerings;
40 and outside the vestibule, as one approached the entrance of the north 41 gate, there were two tables on each side—that is, four tables inside, and four tables outside the gateway—eight tables in all, on which 42 they were to slaughter the sacrifices. In addition, there were four tables of hewn stone, each a cubit and a half long, a cubit and a half broad, and a cubit high, on which they were to lay the instruments for 43 slaughtering the burnt-offerings and the sacrifices. And pegs, a hand-breadth long, were fastened on the walls round about, on which to hang the flesh of the sacrifices.

44 Then he brought me through the gate to the inner court; and lo!
there were two chambers in the inner court, one by the north gate,

45 facing south, and the other by the south gate, facing north. And he said to me,

“This chamber, facing south, is for the priests who have charge of 46 the house; and the other chamber, facing north, is for the priests who have charge of the altar, that is, for the sons of Zadok, who alone among the sons of Levi may approach the LORD, to minister to him.”

47 Then he measured the court, and found it a hundred cubits long, and a hundred cubits broad—an exact square. And the altar stood in front of the house.

48 Then he brought me to the vestibule of the house, and measured the jambs of the vestibule, which were five cubits broad on each side. The gate was fourteen cubits broad, and the sides of the gate were 49 each three cubits broad. The length of the vestibule was twenty cubits, and the breadth twelve cubits. It was reached by a stairway of ten steps. And pillars stood beside the jambs, one on each side.

41 Then he brought me to the nave of the house, and measured the
2 jambs, which were six cubits broad on each side. The breadth of the door was ten cubits, the leaves of the door being five cubits each. Then he measured the nave, which was forty cubits long, and twenty cubits broad.

3 Then he entered the inner room, and measured the jambs of the door, which were two cubits each; while the breadth of the door was
4 six cubits, the leaves of the door being three cubits each. Then he measured the room, which was twenty cubits long, and twenty cubits broad, in front of the nave. And he said to me,

“This is the most sacred place.”

5 Then he measured the wall of the house, which was six cubits broad, with side chambers four cubits broad all round the house.

6 These side chambers were in three stories, thirty in each story; and there were rebatements in the wall, all round the house, for the chambers to rest on, so that they might not rest on the flat wall of the 7 house. The side chambers increased in breadth as they rose upward; for the rebatements round about the house increased in depth as they rose upward, causing the wall of the house to contract in breadth as it rose upward. From the lowest story one rose through the middle

8 story to the upper. And round about the house ran a raised platform, a full rod of six cubits and six handbreadths high, which formed the 9 foundation of the side chambers. The outside wall of the side cham-

10 bers was five cubits broad; and between the side chambers of the house and the row of chambers in the court lay a yard, twenty cubits

¹¹ broad, all round the house. The doors of the side chambers opened on a free space, one door to the north, and another to the south; and ¹² the free space was five cubits broad round about. On the west side of the yard was a building seventy cubits broad; and the wall surrounding the building was five cubits broad, and ninety cubits long.

¹⁶ The nave, the inner room, and the vestibule were roofed over; and all three had latticed windows round about. The inside walls of the house were panelled with wood round about, from the floor to the ¹⁷ windows, and from the windows to the roof, as well as over the door leading to the inner room, within and without. And on all the walls ¹⁸ round about, in the inner room and in the nave, there were carved cherubs and palm trees, a palm tree between each cherub, and each ¹⁹ cherub with two faces, a man's face looking to the palm tree on one side, and a lion's face to the palm tree on the other side. These were ²⁰ carved all round the house—from the floor to the roof there were ²¹ carved cherubs and palm trees. The wall of the shrine was a perfect ²² square; and in front of the shrine was something resembling an altar of wood, three cubits high, two cubits long, and two cubits broad—its corners, base, and sides being all of wood. And he said to me,

²³ The nave and the shrine had each a double door, each door having ²⁴ two swinging leaves, one pair for each door. Cherubs and palm trees were carved on these, as they were carved on the walls. There ²⁵ was also a canopy of wood outside in front of the vestibule. And there were cherubs and palm trees on both side walls of the vestibule, and on the canopy.

⁴² Then he led me to the inner court on the north, and brought me to a row of chambers facing the yard and its buildings on the north. ² Their length was a hundred cubits, and their breadth fifty cubits. ³ On opposite sides of the row—facing respectively the yard of twenty cubits in the inner court, and the pavement in the outer court—⁴ galleries rose in three stories. In front of the chambers was a passage, ten cubits broad, and a hundred cubits long; and the doors of the ⁵ chambers opened on it to the north. The chambers in the upper story were narrower than the others; for the galleries took from their size as compared with those in the lower and middle stories of the building. For they were built in three stories, and had no pillars like those in the outer court; hence more room was taken from the chambers in the upper and middle stories than from those on the ground floor. The outer wall, bounding the chambers along the side of the outer court, was fifty cubits in length; for the length of the row of chambers in the outer court was fifty cubits, while in front of the temple it was a hundred cubits. And below these chambers, as one approached them from the outer court, was the eastward entrance, at the head of the outer wall.

On the south side, in front of the yard and its buildings, was another row of chambers, with a passage in front of them, similar to the chambers on the north, of the same length and breadth, with the same exits and arrangements, and with doors corresponding to theirs, only facing the south. There was likewise a door at the head of the passage, in front of the outer wall, as one approached it on the east.

And he said to me,

“The north and the south chambers facing the yard are the sacred chambers where the priests who approach the LORD shall eat the most sacred things, and where they shall lay the most sacred things, the cereal-offerings, the sin-offerings, and the guilt-offerings; for the place is sacred. When the priests enter the sacred place, they shall not pass from it to the outer court without laying there the robes in which they have ministered—for they are sacred—and putting on other garments in which they shall approach the part of the building that is open to the people.”

When he had finished measuring the inner house, he brought me out by the gate looking east, and measured the whole building round about. First he measured the east side, five hundred cubits by the measuring-rod. Then he turned to the north side, and measured it, five hundred cubits by the measuring-rod. Then he turned to the south side, and measured it, five hundred cubits by the measuring-rod. Then he turned to the west side, and measured it, five hundred cubits by the measuring-rod. On all four sides he measured the building, which had a wall round about it, five hundred cubits in length, and five hundred cubits in breadth, to make a separation between the sacred and the secular.

THE RETURN OF THE GLORY OF THE LORD, 43:1-4

43: Then he brought me to the gate looking east; and lo! the glory of the God of Israel came from the direction of the east. The sound of his coming was like the sound of many waters; and the earth shone with his glory. The appearance which I saw was like the appearance which I had seen when he came to destroy the city, or like the appearance which I had seen by the River Chebar; and I fell upon my face. And the glory of the LORD entered the house by the gate looking east.

REGULATIONS FOR THE TEMPLE AND ITS WORSHIP, 43:5—46:24

5 Then a spirit raised me up, and brought me into the inner court; and lo! the glory of the LORD filled the house. And while the man still stood beside me, I heard one speaking to me from the house, and saying to me,

“O mortal man, this is the place of my throne, and this is the place for the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel forever. And the household of Israel shall no longer defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their idolatry, and by the dead bodies of their kings—placing their threshold against my threshold, and their doorpost beside my doorpost, with only a wall between me and them—defiling my holy name by the abominations which they have committed, and on account of which I have devoured them in my anger. Now let them put far from me their idolatry, and the dead bodies of their kings; and I will dwell in the midst of them forever.

“And you, O mortal man, show the household of Israel the house, its plan and its pattern, that they may be ashamed of all that they have done; acquaint them with the form and structure of the house, its exits and entrances, and all its forms, regulations, and rules; and write it all down in their sight, so that they may observe all its forms and regulations, and follow them.

“This is the rule for the house: The whole territory round about the top of the mountain shall be most sacred. Lo! this is the rule for the house.

“And these are the dimensions of the altar in cubits of a cubit and a handbreadth: Its pedestal shall be one cubit high, and one cubit broad, with a rim round its edge one span broad—this shall be the base of the altar. And from the top of the pedestal to the lower ledge shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the smaller ledge to the greater ledge shall be four cubits, and the breadth one 15 cubit. And the altar-hearth shall be four cubits high; and above the 16 altar-hearth shall be four horns, each one cubit long. The altar-hearth shall be square on all four sides—twelve cubits long by twelve 17 cubits broad. The upper ledge also shall be square on all four sides—fourteen cubits long by fourteen cubits broad—with a rim round it half a cubit broad. And the pedestal shall be one cubit square. And the steps of the altar shall look east.”

18 Then he said to me,

“O mortal man, thus says the Lord GOD: ‘These are the regulations for the altar: On the day when it is erected, for the purpose of 19 offering burnt-offerings and splashing blood upon it, you shall give a young bullock as a sin-offering to the Levitical priests who belong to the family of Zadok, and who alone may approach my presence to 20 minister to me,’ is the oracle of the Lord GOD. ‘You shall take some of the blood, and apply it to the four horns of the altar, to the four corners of the ledge, and to the rim round about it—so shall you 21 cleanse and purify the altar. Then you shall take the bullock for the sin-offering, and have it burned at the proper place in the temple 22 grounds, outside the sanctuary. Then on the second day you shall offer an unblemished he-goat as a sin-offering—so shall the altar be 23 cleansed as it was cleansed by the bullock. And when you have finished cleansing it, you shall offer an unblemished bullock and an un-24 blemished ram from the flock. And when you offer them before the LORD, the priests shall sprinkle salt upon them, and offer them up as 25 a burnt-offering to the LORD. For seven days shall you provide daily a he-goat as a sin-offering, also an unblemished bullock and an un-26 blemished ram from the flock. Thus for seven days shall they continue purifying and cleansing the altar, consecrating it for worship.
27 And at the end of these days, from the eighth day onward, the priests shall offer your burnt-offerings and your thank-offerings upon the altar; and I will accept you,’ is the oracle of the Lord GOD.”

44 Then he brought me back to the outer gate of the sanctuary, look-
2 ing east, which was closed. And the LORD said to me,

“This gate shall remain closed: it shall not be opened, nor shall any man enter by it; for the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered by 3 it—therefore it shall remain closed. The prince alone may sit in it, to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by way of the vestibule of the gate, and shall depart the same way.”

4 Then he brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the house; and I looked, and lo! the glory of the LORD filled the house of 5 the LORD; and I fell upon my face. And the LORD said to me,

“O mortal man, mark, see, and hear all that I say to you regarding all the rules and regulations of the house of the LORD; mark also the 6 entrances and exits of the sanctuary. And say to these rebels of the household of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: Let us have no more of the abominations which you have committed, O household of 7 Israel, in introducing to my sanctuary aliens uncircumcised in heart and flesh, to profane my house, when you offered me the fat and blood that are my food! You have broken my covenant with all your 8 abominations, and have not kept charge of my sacred things, but have 9 introduced these aliens to keep charge in my sanctuary. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: No alien, uncircumcised in heart and flesh, of all the aliens that are in the midst of the children of Israel, shall 10 enter my sanctuary. And the Levites, who went far from me when Israel went astray—who went astray from me after their idols—shall 11 bear the consequences of their guilt by being ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house, slaughtering the burnt-offerings and sacrifices for the people, 12 and standing before the people to minister to them. Because they ministered to them before their idols, and thus caused the household of Israel to fall into sin, I have sworn an oath concerning them,’ is the oracle of the Lord GOD, ‘that they shall bear the consequences of 13 their guilt by no longer approaching me, to act as priests to me, or to touch any of my sacred things, my most sacred things—so shall they bear the burden of their shame for the abominations which they have 14 committed—but I will give them charge of the house, to do all the 15 service and all the work that is to be done in it. But the Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall approach me to minister to me, and shall stand before me to offer me the fat and 16 the blood,’ is the oracle of the Lord GOD; ‘they shall enter my sanctuary, and shall approach my table to minister to me, and shall keep 17 my charge. And when they enter the gates of the inner court, they shall wear linen garments—they shall have no wool upon them while they are ministering within the gates of the inner court, or anywhere 18 in the sanctuary; they shall have linen turbans upon their heads, and linen breeches upon their loins—they shall cover themselves with 19 nothing that causes sweat. And when they go out to join the people in the outer court, they shall put off the garments in which they have been ministering, and lay them in the sacred chambers; and they shall put on other garments, lest they make the people taboo by their garments. And they shall neither shave their heads, nor let their hair grow long—they shall only clip their hair. No priest shall drink wine when he enters the inner court. And none shall marry a layman's widow, or a divorced woman, but only a virgin of the pure stock of Israel, or the widow of a priest. They shall teach my people the difference between the sacred and the secular, and show them how to distinguish between the unclean and the clean. In a case at court they shall act as judges, and shall decide the case according to my laws; and they shall observe my rules and regulations at all my festivals, and shall maintain the sacredness of my sabbaths. No priest shall defile himself by approaching a dead person, except in the case of a father or mother, a son or daughter, a brother or unmarried sister; and if he suffer defilement in this way, he shall let a term of seven days elapse, after which he shall be clean; and when he enters the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer a sin-offering for himself,' is the oracle of the Lord God. 'And the priests shall have no inheritance—I am their inheritance—and no property shall be given to them in Israel—I am their property. The cereal-offerings, the sin-offerings, and the guilt-offerings shall be their food; and everything devoted to the LORD in Israel shall go to them. The best of all the firstfruits of everything, and all the contributions of everything which you offer, shall be for the priests; and the best of your groats shall you give to the priest, so that a blessing may rest on your homes. But of nothing that dies a natural death, or has been torn to pieces, whether bird or beast, shall the priests eat.

45 " 'And when you allot the land for inheritance, you shall set apart as an allotment to the LORD a sacred portion of the land, twenty-five thousand cubits long, and twenty thousand cubits broad, which shall be sacred through its whole extent. And from this area you shall measure off a section, twenty-five thousand cubits long, and ten thousand cubits broad, as the most sacred portion of the land: it shall be for the priests who minister in the sanctuary, and approach the LORD to minister to him, providing room for their houses and grounds. Of this section there shall be reserved for the sanctuary a square block, five hundred cubits in length by five hundred cubits in breadth, with an open space of fifty cubits round about it. Another section, twenty-five thousand cubits long, and ten thousand cubits broad, shall be for the Levites who minister in the sanctuary—it

6 shall be theirs for houses to live in. And alongside of the sacred allotment you shall provide the city property, five thousand cubits broad and twenty-five thousand cubits long, which shall belong to the whole household of Israel. And the prince shall have the land on both sides of the sacred allotment and the city property—facing the sacred allotment and the city property west and east—along a length equal to that of one of the tribal lots, from the west to the east border of the land: this shall be his property in Israel. And my princes shall no longer oppress my people, but shall assign the land to the household of Israel according to their tribes.’ ”

9 Thus says the Lord God:

“Enough, O princes of Israel! Have done with violence and spoil; practice justice and right; cease evicting my people from their homes,” is the oracle of the Lord God. “You shall have just scales, a just ephah, and a just bath. The ephah and the bath shall be of the same measure—the bath containing the tenth of a homer, and the ephah the tenth of a homer—the homer being the standard of measurement. And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs—five shekels shall be five shekels, and ten shekels shall be ten shekels—and your maneh shall be twenty shekels.

“This is the contribution which you shall offer: the sixth of an ephah out of every homer of wheat, and the sixth of an ephah out of every homer of barley; a proportion of oil amounting to the tenth of a bath out of every cor, ten baths making a cor; and one sheep out of every flock of two hundred—from all the families of Israel—to provide for the cereal-offering, the burnt-offering, and the thank-offerings, that atonement may be made for them,” is the oracle of the Lord God. “All the people of the land shall offer this contribution to the prince in Israel. And it shall be the prince’s duty to provide the burnt-offering, the cereal-offering, and the libation, at the various festivals—the new moons, the sabbaths, and all the other festival seasons of the household of Israel—at which he shall provide the sin-offering, the cereal-offering, the burnt-offering, and the thank-offerings, to make atonement for the household of Israel.”

18 Thus says the Lord God:

“In the first month, on the first day of the month, you shall take an unblemished bullock, and purify the sanctuary. And the priest shall take part of the blood of the sin-offering, and apply it to the doorposts of the house, the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and the 20 posts of the gate of the inner court. In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, you shall do the same for anyone who has sinned through error or ignorance, and purify the house. And in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the month, you shall hold the festival of Passover; and for seven days you shall eat unleavened bread. 22 On that day the prince shall provide for himself and all the people of the land a bullock as a sin-offering; and during the seven days of the festival he shall provide seven unblemished bullocks and seven unblemished rams daily as a burnt-offering to the LORD, with a he-goat daily as a sin-offering. And as a cereal-offering he shall provide an ephah for each bullock, and an ephah for each ram, with a hin of oil for each ephah. In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month, and during the seven days of the festival, he shall make the same provision, alike for the sin-offering, the burnt-offering, the cereal-offering, and the oil."

46 Thus says the Lord GOD:

"The gate of the inner court looking east shall remain closed during the six working days; but it shall be opened on the sabbath day and the day of the new moon. And the prince shall enter from without by way of the vestibule of the gate, and shall remain standing by the post of the gate, while the priests offer his burnt-offering and his thank-offerings: he shall worship at the threshold of the gate, and then go out, though the gate shall not be closed till evening. The common people also shall worship before the LORD at the door of the same gate on the sabbaths and at the new moons. The burnt-offering which the prince shall offer to the LORD on the sabbath day shall be six unblemished lambs and one unblemished ram, cereal-offering being an ephah for the ram, and as much as he can afford for the lambs, with a hin of oil for each ephah. And on the day of the new moon it shall be an unblemished bullock, six unblemished lambs, and one unblemished ram; and as a cereal-offering he shall provide an ephah for the bullock, an ephah for the ram, and as much as he can afford for the lambs, with a hin of oil for each ephah. When the prince enters, he shall do so by way of the vestibule of the gate; and he shall go out the same way. But when the common people enter the presence of the LORD, at the festival seasons, he who enters for worship by way of the north gate shall go out by the south gate, while he who enters by way of the south gate shall go out by the north gate: he shall not return by way of the gate by which he entered, but shall go straight

¹⁰ ahead of him. When they enter, the prince shall enter in the midst ¹¹ of them; and when they go out, he shall go out with them. And at the feasts and festivals the cereal-offering shall be an ephah for the bullock, an ephah for the ram, and as much as he can afford for the ¹² lambs, with a hin of oil for each ephah. And when the prince offers a voluntary offering—a burnt-offering or thank-offerings as a voluntary offering to the LORD—the eastward gate shall be opened for him, and he shall offer his burnt-offering or his thank-offerings as he does on the sabbath day; then he shall go out, and the gate shall be ¹³ closed after him. And each day he shall provide an unblemished lamb, one year old, as a burnt-offering to the LORD: morning by ¹⁴ morning shall he provide it. And as a cereal-offering he shall provide with it morning by morning the sixth of an ephah of fine flour, with the third of a hin of oil to moisten it, as a cereal-offering to the LORD.
¹⁵ This shall be a standing order for the continual burnt-offering: he shall provide the lamb, the cereal-offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for the continual burnt-offering.”

¹⁶ Thus says the Lord God:

“If the prince make a gift of part of his inheritance to one of his sons, it shall belong to that son—it is his property by right of inheri-¹⁷ tance. But if he make a gift of part of his inheritance to one of his servants, it shall remain in his possession till the year of release, when it shall return to the prince—whereas the inheritance that goes to a ¹⁸ son shall belong to him. And the prince shall not rob the people of their property, by taking any part of their inheritance: out of his own property shall he endow his sons, so that none of my people may be driven out of his property.”

¹⁹ Then he brought me, through the entrance beside the gate, to the north row of the priests' sacred chambers; and lo! there was a place ²⁰ at the extreme west of it. And he said to me,

“This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt-offering and the sin-offering, and where they shall bake the cereal-offering, to prevent their bringing them into the outer court, and thus making the people taboo.”

²¹ Then he brought me to the outer court, and led me past the four corners of the court; and lo! at each corner of the court there was ²² another court—at the four corners of the court four small courts—all four of the same size, each forty cubits long, and thirty broad.
²³ Round each of the four of them ran a row of masonry, with boiling-

24 ranges built under each of the rows round about. And he said to me, “These are the boilers where the ministers of the temple shall boil the sacrifices for the people.”

THE STREAM FROM THE TEMPLE, 47:1-12

47 Then he brought me back to the door of the house; and lo! there was water flowing from under the threshold of the house eastward—for the front of the house was eastward—and the water came down 2 on the south side of the house, south of the altar. Then he brought me out by way of the north gate, and led me round the outside of the building to the outer gate looking east; and lo! the water was trick-3 ling down on the south side. Passing eastward, with the measuring-line in his hand, the man measured a thousand cubits, and made me 4 cross the water, which came up to my ankles. Again he measured a thousand, and made me cross the water, which came up to my knees.
Again he measured a thousand, and made me cross the water, which 5 came up to my loins. Again he measured a thousand, and it was a stream which I could not cross; for the water had risen deep enough 6 to swim in—it was a stream which could not be crossed. And he said to me,

“Do you see this, O mortal man?”

7 Then he led me back along the bank of the stream; and as I went back, lo! on the bank of the stream, along both sides of it, there were 8 very many trees. And he said to me,

“These waters are going out to the eastward region of the land, and shall descend upon the valley of the Dead Sea; and when they enter the Sea, with its brackish water, the water shall become fresh.
9 And wherever the stream goes, all sorts of swarming creatures shall live in it, and fish shall be there in very great numbers; for this stream goes there for the very purpose that, wherever it goes, the 10 water may become fresh, and creatures may live in it. And fishermen shall stand on its shore, all the way from Engedi to En-eglaim, and shall spread their nets on it; and its fish of all sorts shall be very 11 plentiful—like those of the Great Sea. Only its marshes and swamps 12 shall not become fresh; they shall be left for the supply of salt. And on the bank of the stream, along both sides of it, there shall grow all sorts of food-trees, the leaves of which shall not wither, nor their fruit fail, but they shall bear fresh fruit every month, because the water that feeds them flows from the sanctuary; and their fruit shall serve for food, and their leaves for healing.”

THE DIVISION OF THE LAND, 47:13—48:35

13 Thus says the Lord God:

“These are the boundaries along which you shall divide the land for inheritance among the twelve tribes of Israel. Except that a double portion shall go to Joseph, you shall divide it equally. As I swore to give this land to your fathers, it shall fall to you as an inheritance. These, then, are the boundaries of the land:

“On the north: from the Great Sea, by way of Hethlon, to the pass of Hamath, as far as Zedad, thence to Berothah, Sibraim, on the border between Damascus and Hamath, and Hazer-enon, on the border of Hauran. The boundary-line, then, shall run from the sea to Hazer-enon, on the border of Damascus, and to Ziphron on the north and the border of Hamath. This is the northern border.

“On the east: the Jordan, from the border between Hauran and Damascus, and along between Gilcad and Israel, that is, from the northern border to the Eastern Sea, as far as Tamar. This is the eastern border.

“On the south: from Tamar to the waters of Meribath-kadesh, thence along the Brook to the Great Sea. This is the southern border.

“On the west: the Great Sea, from the southern border to a point opposite the pass of Hamath. This is the western border.

“So shall you divide this land among you according to the tribes of Israel. And you shall allot it as an inheritance for yourselves, and for the aliens who reside among you and have begotten children among you—they are to be treated by you like native-born children of Israel, and are to be allotted an inheritance along with you among the tribes of Israel. In whatever tribe the alien resides, there shall you assign him his inheritance,” is the oracle of the Lord God.

48 “These are the names of the tribes:

“On the northern border, from the Sea, by way of Hethlon, to the pass of Hamath, as far as Hazer-enon, bordering on the territory of Damascus, near Hamath, on the north, running from east to west, Dan—one portion.

2 “Bordering on Dan, from east to west, Asher—one portion.

3 “Bordering on Asher, from east to west, Naphtali—one portion.

4 “Bordering on Naphtali, from east to west, Manasseh—one portion.

5 “Bordering on Manasseh, from east to west, Ephraim—one portion.

- 6 "Bordering on Ephraim, from east to west, Reuben—one portion.
7 "Bordering on Reuben, from east to west, Judah—one portion.
8 "Bordering on Judah, from east to west, shall be the allotment which you shall set apart—twenty-five thousand cubits broad, and in length equal to one of the tribal portions, from east to west—with 9 the sanctuary in the midst of it. The allotment which you shall set apart for the LORD shall be twenty-five thousand cubits in length,
10 and twenty thousand cubits in breadth. Of this sacred allotment the priests shall have a section, twenty-five thousand cubits in length from east to west, and ten thousand cubits in breadth from north to south,
11 with the sanctuary of the LORD in the midst of it: this section shall be for the holy priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept my charge, and did not go astray, as the Levites did, when the children of Israel went 12 astray—it shall be a special allotment to them, out of the total allotment of the land, a most sacred place, adjoining the border of the 13 Levites. And alongside the border of the priests, the Levites shall have a section, twenty-five thousand cubits in length, and ten thousand cubits in breadth. Thus the whole shall be twenty-five thousand cubits
14 in length, and twenty thousand cubits in breadth. And none of this choice portion of the land shall be sold, or exchanged, or alienated;
15 for it is sacred to the LORD. The five thousand cubits, which remain in breadth of the twenty-five thousand, shall be common land—for the city, its houses, and grounds—the city lying in the midst of it.
16 And these shall be the dimensions of the city: four thousand and five hundred cubits on the north, four thousand and five hundred on the south, four thousand and five hundred on the east, and four thousand
17 and five hundred on the west. And the city shall have grounds extending two hundred and fifty cubits to the north, two hundred and fifty to the south, two hundred and fifty to the east, and two hundred
18 and fifty to the west. The remaining length of ten thousand cubits to the east, and ten thousand to the west, alongside the sacred allotment, shall belong to the city; its produce shall supply food for the workers
19 in the city, and it shall be cultivated by the workers in the city from 20 all the tribes of Israel. The whole allotment—that is, the sacred allotment, together with the city property—you shall make twenty-21 five thousand cubits square. What remains shall belong to the prince: that is, the land on either side of the sacred allotment and the city property, extending east of the allotment of twenty-five thousand cubits as far as the eastern border, and west of the allotment of twenty-five thousand cubits as far as the western border, parallel to the tribal portions, shall belong to the prince. Thus the sacred allotment—that is, the temple sanctuary and the Levites' property—together with the city property shall be in the midst of the prince's portion. And the prince's portion shall be between the borders of Judah and Benjamin.

23 "And the rest of the tribes:

"From east to west, Benjamin—one portion.

24 "Bordering on Benjamin, from east to west, Simeon—one portion.

25 "Bordering on Simeon, from east to west, Issachar—one portion.

26 "Bordering on Issachar, from east to west, Zebulun—one portion.

27 "Bordering on Zebulun, from east to west, Gad—one portion.

28 "And to the south of Gad the border shall run from Tamar to the waters of Meribath-kadesh, thence along the Brook to the Great Sea.

29 This is the land which you shall allot as an inheritance to the tribes of Israel; and these are their portions," is the oracle of the Lord God.

30 "And these shall be the gates of the city, each gate being named after one of the tribes of Israel:

31 "On the north side, four thousand and five hundred cubits by measure, three gates—the gate of Reuben, the gate of Judah, and the gate of Levi.

32 "On the east side, four thousand and five hundred cubits, three gates—the gate of Joseph, the gate of Benjamin, and the gate of Dan.

33 "On the south side, four thousand and five hundred cubits, three gates—the gate of Simeon, the gate of Issachar, and the gate of Zebulun.

34 "On the west side, four thousand and five hundred cubits, three gates—the gate of Gad, the gate of Asher, and the gate of Naphtali.

35 "The circumference shall be eighteen thousand cubits. And the name of the city from that day onward shall be 'The LORD is there.'"

THE BOOK OF DANIEL

THE FOUR JEWISH YOUTHS, 1:1-21

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem, and besieged it.
2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim, king of Judah, into his hand, with the choicest of the vessels of the house of God; and he brought them to the land of Shinar, to the house of his god, and placed the vessels in
3 the treasury of his god. Then the king instructed Ashpenaz, the chief of his eunuchs, to bring certain of the Israelites, who belonged to the
4 royal family and the nobility—youths who had no defect in them, but were handsome in appearance, and skilled in all branches of learning, equipped with knowledge, and endowed with intelligence, such as were capable of standing in the palace of the king—and to 5 teach them the literature and language of the Chaldeans. And the king assigned them a daily portion of the king's delicacies, and of the wine which he drank. For three years they were to be trained, and at the end of that time they were to stand in the presence of the king.
6 Among them were certain Jews, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and 7 Azariah. And the chief of the eunuchs gave names to them, naming Daniel Belteshazzar, Hananiah Shadrach, Mishael Meshach, and Azariah Abednego.

8 Now Daniel determined that he would not defile himself with the king's delicacies, nor with the wine which he drank; so he asked permission of the chief of the eunuchs not to defile himself. But though God had given Daniel favor and sympathy in the eyes of the chief of 9 the eunuchs, the chief of the eunuchs said to Daniel,

“I am afraid of my lord, the king, who has assigned your food and your drink, lest he find you looking more haggard than the youths of your own age, in which case you would forfeit my head to the king.”

11 Then Daniel said to the steward, whom the chief of the eunuchs had placed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, 12 “Pray, try your servants for ten days, letting us have vegetables to 13 eat, and water to drink; then compare our appearance with the appearance of the youths who eat of the king's delicacies, and deal with your servants in accordance with what you see."

- 14 So he listened to them in this regard, and tried them for ten days.
 15 And at the end of ten days they were better in appearance, and fatter 16 in flesh, than all the youths who ate of the king's delicacies. So the steward removed their delicacies, and the wine they were to drink;
 and he gave them vegetables.
 17 As for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all branches of literature and learning, while Daniel was accom-18 plished in all kinds of visions and dreams. Now at the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the chief of the 19 eunuchs brought them in to the presence of Nebuchadnezzar; and when the king conversed with them, he found none among them all like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. So they stood in the 20 presence of the king. And in all matters of learning and knowledge, about which the king questioned them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters that were in all his kingdom.
 21 And Daniel retained his position till the first year of King Cyrus.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR'S DREAM, 2:1-49

- 2 In the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed a dream; and his spirit was disturbed, and his sleep left 2 him. Then the king gave orders to summon the magicians, the enchanters, the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, that they might tell the 3 king his dream. So they came and stood before the king. And the king said to them,
 "I have dreamed a dream; and my spirit is disturbed, till I know the dream."
 4 Then the Chaldeans spoke to the king in Aramaic,
 "O king, live forever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will give the interpretation."
 5 The king answered the Chaldeans, saying,
 "I am fully resolved that, if you do not make known to me the dream and its interpretation, you shall be hewn limb from limb, and 6 your houses shall be made a dunghill. But if you tell me the dream and its interpretation, you shall receive from me gifts and rewards and great honor. So tell me the dream and its interpretation."
 7 A second time they answered, saying,
 "Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will give the interpretation."

8 The king answered, saying,

“I know quite well that you are trying to gain time, because you see how fully resolved I am that, if you do not make known to me the dream, there is but one fate for you; and you have conspired together to speak false and deceitful words to me, hoping that a change may come. So tell me the dream, and I shall know that you can give me its interpretation.”

10 The Chaldeans answered the king, saying,

“There is not a man on the earth who can tell the king what he asks; for no king, however great and mighty, has asked such a thing of any magician, enchanter, or Chaldean. The king is asking a hard thing, and none can tell the king what he asks, except the gods whose dwelling is not with mortal flesh.”

12 At this answer the king became so angry and so very furious that he gave orders to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. So the decree went forth that the wise men were to be slain; and Daniel and his companions would have been slain.

14 Then Daniel made a wise and tactful answer to Arioch, the captain of the king's guard, who had gone to slay the wise men of Babylon; he answered Arioch, the king's captain, saying,

“Why is the king's decree so harsh?”

16 When Arioch had explained the matter to Daniel, Daniel went in, and asked the king to grant him time, and he would give the king the interpretation. Then Daniel went home, and explained the matter to his companions, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, in order that they might ask mercy of the God of the heavens concerning this secret, and so Daniel and his companions might not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. Then the secret was revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of the heavens, Daniel spoke, saying,

“Blessed be the name of God from everlasting to everlasting,
For wisdom and might are his!

21 He changes the seasons and times,
He removes kings, and he sets up kings;
He gives wisdom to the wise,
And knowledge to those who are endowed with understanding.
22 He reveals things deep and secret,
He knows what is in the darkness,

And with him dwells the light.

23 I thank thee, and praise thee, O God of my fathers,
Who hast given me wisdom and might,
And hast now made known to me what we asked of thee,
For thou hast made known to me the concern of the king."

24 So Daniel went to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon; he went and spoke to him as follows,

"Do not destroy the wise men of Babylon; bring me before the king, that I may give the king the interpretation."

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in haste, and spoke to him as follows,

"I have found a man, among the exiles of Judah, who can make known the interpretation to the king."

26 The king spoke to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, saying,
"Are you able to make known to me the dream that I have seen, and its interpretation?"

27 Daniel answered the king, saying,

"No wise men, enchanters, magicians, or astrologers are able to 28 tell the king the secret which the king has asked; but there is a God in the heavens who reveals secrets, and he makes known to King Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the end of the days. Your dream, and the visions of your head on your bed, were as follows:

29 "You, O king, lay in bed, wondering what should be in the future;
30 and he who reveals secrets makes known to you what shall be. As for myself, this secret has not been revealed to me by virtue of any wisdom that I possess more than any other living man, but in order that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may understand the thoughts of your mind.

31 "You, O king, looked, and lo! there was a great image. This image, which was of vast size and surpassing brightness, stood before 32 you; and its appearance was terrible. As for that image, its head was of fine gold, its breast and arms were of silver, its belly and thighs of 33 bronze, its legs of iron, its feet partly of iron, and partly of clay. You 34 looked till you saw a stone hewn from a mountain without hands, which smote the image on its feet of iron and clay, breaking them in 35 pieces. Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold were broken in pieces together, and became like chaff from summer threshing-floors, and were carried away by the wind, so that no trace of them could be found; while the stone that smote the image became 36 a great mountain, filling all the earth. This was the dream, and we will tell the king the interpretation of it.

37 “You, O king, the king of kings, to whom the God of the heavens
38 has given the kingdom, the power, the strength, and the glory, and into whose hand he has put the children of men, the beasts of the field, and the birds of the air, wheresoever they dwell, making you
39 rule over them all—you are the head of gold. After you shall arise another kingdom, inferior to you; then a third kingdom, of bronze,
40 which shall rule over all the earth. And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron; for as iron breaks in pieces and beats down all things, and as iron crushes all things, so shall it break in pieces and crush.
41 And as you saw the feet and toes partly of potter’s clay, and partly of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom: there shall be something of the 42 firmness of iron in it, as you saw iron mixed with muddy clay; but as the toes of the feet were partly iron, and partly clay, the kingdom
43 shall be partly strong, and partly brittle. As you saw iron mixed with muddy clay, they shall mix together in marriage; but they shall not
44 hold together, as iron does not mix with clay. In the days of those kings the God of the heavens shall set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the kingdom be left to another people; it shall break in pieces and annihilate all these kingdoms, but it shall stand
45 forever, as you saw how a stone was hewn from a mountain without hands, which broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold. A great God makes known to the king what shall be in the future; the dream is certain, and its interpretation sure.”

46 Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and prostrated himself before Daniel, and commanded sacrifice and sweet odors to 47 be offered to him. And the king spoke to Daniel, saying,

“Truly, your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings; and he is a revealer of secrets, inasmuch as you have been able to reveal this secret.”

48 Then the king promoted Daniel, and gave him many great gifts; he made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief 49 prefect over all the wise men of Babylon. At Daniel’s request, the king appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in charge of the affairs of the province of Babylon; but Daniel remained at the gate of the king.

THE FURNACE OF FIRE, 3:1—30

3 King Nebuchadnezzar made an image of gold, sixty cubits in height, and six cubits in breadth, which he set up on the plain of Dura,

2 in the province of Babylon. Then King Nebuchadnezzar sent to assemble the satraps, the prefects, the governors, the councillors, the treasurers, the judges, the justices, and all the officials of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which King Nebuchadnezzar
3 had set up. And when the satraps, the prefects, the governors, the councillors, the treasurers, the judges, the justices, and all the officials of the provinces were assembled for the dedication of the image
4 which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up, the herald called aloud,

5 "To you is given a command, O peoples, nations, and tongues, that as soon as you hear the sound of the horn, the pipe, the lyre, the trigon, the harp, the bagpipe, and every other kind of musical instrument, you shall fall down and prostrate yourselves before the image of gold
6 which King Nebuchadnezzar has set up; and whosoever does not fall down and prostrate himself shall forthwith be cast into the midst of a furnace of flaming fire."

7 As soon, then, as all the peoples heard the sound of the horn, the pipe, the lyre, the trigon, the harp, and every other kind of musical instrument, all the peoples, nations, and tongues fell down and prostrated themselves before the image of gold which King Nebuchadnezzar
8 had set up. Thereupon certain Chaldeans came forward, and 9 laid an accusation against the Jews, saying to King Nebuchadnezzar,
10 "O king, live for ever! You, O king, have made a decree that every man who hears the sound of the horn, the pipe, the lyre, the trigon, the harp, the bagpipe, and every other kind of musical instrument, shall fall down and prostrate himself before the image of gold;
11 and whosoever does not fall down and prostrate himself shall be cast
12 into the midst of a furnace of flaming fire. Now there are certain Jews whom you have appointed in charge of the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego; these men, O king, pay no regard to you—they do not serve your gods, nor do they prostrate themselves before the image of gold which you have set up."

13 Then Nebuchadnezzar, in rage and fury, ordered Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego to be brought; and when these men were brought 14 before the king, Nebuchadnezzar addressed them, saying,

"Is it true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you do not serve my gods, nor prostrate yourselves before the image of gold 15 which I have set up? If, then, you are ready, as soon as you hear the sound of the horn, the pipe, the lyre, the trigon, the harp, the bagpipe, and every other kind of musical instrument, to fall down and prostrate yourselves before the image which I have made, well and good;

but if you will not prostrate yourselves, you shall forthwith be cast into the midst of a furnace of flaming fire; and what god is there who shall deliver you out of my hands?"

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered the king, saying,

"O Nebuchadnezzar, we need not waste any words in discussing this matter with you. If our God, whom we serve, is in a position to deliver us, he will deliver us out of the furnace of flaming fire, and out of your hand, O king; but if not, be it known to you, O king, we will not serve your gods, nor prostrate ourselves before the image of gold which you have set up."

19 At these words Nebuchadnezzar was filled with fury, and his face was distorted with rage against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. He ordered the furnace to be heated seven times more than it was usual for it to be heated; then he ordered certain of the strongest men in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the furnace of flaming fire. Thereupon, these men were bound in their cloaks, their tunics, their hats, and their other clothes, and were cast into the midst of the furnace of flaming fire. So sharp was the king's order, and so very hot was the furnace, that the flame of the fire slew the men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. But these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell down bound into the midst of the furnace of flaming fire.

24 Then King Nebuchadnezzar became alarmed; and he rose up hastily, and addressed his ministers, saying,

"Did we not cast three men bound into the midst of the fire?"

They answered the king, saying,

"Certainly, O king."

25 He answered, saying,

"Well, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, quite unscathed; and the appearance of the fourth resembles one of the gods."

26 Then King Nebuchadnezzar approached the mouth of the furnace of flaming fire, and spoke, saying,

"O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, servants of the Most High God, come out, and come here!"

Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out of the midst of the fire; and when the assembled satraps, prefects, governors, and king's ministers saw that the fire had had no effect on the persons of these men, that the hair of their heads had not been singed, nor their cloaks damaged, and that no smell of burning had settled on them, 28 Nebuchadnezzar spoke, saying,

“Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent his angel to deliver his servants who trusted in him, and frustrated the king’s order, by surrendering their own persons, rather than 29 serve and worship any god, except their own God! Therefore I make a decree that any people, nation, or tongue, that speaks a word against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be hewn limb from limb, and their houses made a dunghill; for there is no other god who is able to deliver in this manner.”

10 Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR'S MADNESS, 4:1-37

4 King Nebuchadnezzar to all the peoples, nations, and tongues, that
 2 live in all the earth: Peace be multiplied to you! It is my pleasure to tell of the signs and wonders that the Most High God has wrought toward me.

3 How great are his signs,
 And how mighty his wonders!
 His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom,
 And his dominion endures to all generations.

4 I, Nebuchadnezzar, was living at ease in my house, enjoying prosperity in my palace, when I saw a dream that alarmed me, fancies
 5 upon my bed and visions of my head that upset me. So I made a decree that all the wise men of Babylon should be brought before me,
 6 to make known to me the interpretation of the dream. Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers; but when I told them the dream, they could not make known to me
 7 the interpretation of it. At last there came in before me Daniel, whose name is Belteshazzar—after the name of my god—a man in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and I told him my dream, as follows:

9 “O Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, inasmuch as I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you, and that no secret is a trouble to you, I will tell you the visions that I have seen in my dream, and you
 10 shall give me the interpretation of them. As for the visions of my head that I saw in bed,

“I looked, and lo! there was a tree in the midst of the earth,
 And its height was great;

11 The tree had grown great and strong,

- Till the height of it reached to the heavens,
And its bound of vision to the very end of the earth.
- 12 Its leaves were fair, and its fruit was abundant,
Providing food for all;
The beasts of the field were sheltering under its shadow,
And the birds of the air were nestling among its branches,
And all flesh was fed from it.
- 13 "In the visions of my head on my bed I looked, and lo! there was 14 a guardian, a holy one, who came down from the heavens, and called aloud, saying,
'Hew down the tree, and lop off its branches,
Shake off its leaves, and scatter its fruit;
Drive away the beasts from under its shadow,
And the birds from among its branches.
- 15 Yet leave the stump of its roots in the earth,
Secured by a band of iron and bronze,
Among the tender grass of the field;
Let him be drenched by the dew of the heavens,
And let him have his share with the beasts of the field;
- 16 Let his mind be changed from a man's,
And the mind of a beast be given to him,
And let seven years pass over him.
- 17 By the decision of the guardians is the decree,
And through the instruction of the holy ones is the sentence,
In order that all who live may know
That the Most High rules the kingdom of men,
Giving it to whomsoever he will,
And setting up over it the lowliest of men.'
- 18 "I, King Nebuchadnezzar, saw this dream; and you, O Belteshazzar, tell me the interpretation of it, inasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are unable to make known to me the interpretation of it, but you are able, because the spirit of the holy gods is in you."
- 19 Then Daniel, whose name is Belteshazzar, was stunned for a moment, as his thoughts upset him. But the king addressed him, saying,
"O Belteshazzar, let not the dream and its interpretation upset you!"
Belteshazzar answered, saying,
"My lord, may the dream be for those who hate you, and its interpretation for your enemies! The tree which you saw, which grew great and strong; whose height reached to the heavens, and its bound

21 of vision to the very end of the earth; whose leaves were fair, and whose fruit was abundant, providing food for all; under whose shadow the beasts of the field were sheltering, and among whose
22 branches the birds of the air were nestling—it is yourself, O king, who have grown so great and strong, that your greatness reaches to
23 the heavens, and your dominion to the very end of the earth. And as the king saw a guardian, a holy one, coming down from the heavens, and saying, 'Hew down the tree, and destroy it; yet leave the stump of its roots in the earth, secured by a band of iron and bronze, among the tender grass of the field; and let him be drenched by the dew of the heavens, and let him share with the beasts of the field, till seven years
24 pass over him'—this is the interpretation, O king, that there is a decision of the Most High, which has gone out against my lord the king,
25 that you shall be driven from among men, and shall have your dwelling with the beasts of the field, and shall be forced to eat grass like an ox, and shall be drenched by the dew of the heavens, till seven years pass over you, and you learn that the Most High rules the king-
26 dom of men, giving it to whomsoever he will. And as instructions were given to leave the stump of the roots of the tree, your kingdom shall be assured to you from the moment you learn that it is the 27 Heavens who rule. Therefore, O king, be pleased to accept my advice, and break off your sins by practising almsgiving, and your guilt by showing mercy to the poor—then perhaps your prosperity may be prolonged."

28 Now all this befell King Nebuchadnezzar. At the end of twelve 29 months, as he was walking on the roof of the royal palace of Babylon, 30 the king said to himself,

"Is not this great Babylon, which I have built as a royal residence, by my own mighty power, and for my own glorious majesty?"

31 While the words were yet in the king's mouth, a voice fell from the heavens:

32 "O King Nebuchadnezzar, sentence is passed upon you; the kingdom is gone from you! You shall be driven from among men, and shall have your dwelling with the beasts of the field; you shall be forced to eat grass like an ox, and seven years shall pass over you, till you learn that the Most High rules the kingdom of men, giving it to whomsoever he will."

33 Forthwith the sentence upon King Nebuchadnezzar was executed. He was driven from among men, and had to eat grass like an ox; his

- person was drenched by the dew of the heavens, till his hair grew as long as the feathers of an eagle, and his nails as the claws of a bird.
- 34 At the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted my eyes to the heavens, and my reason returned to me; then I blessed the Most High, praising and honoring him who lives forever:
- “For his dominion is an everlasting dominion,
And his kingdom endures to all generations;
- 35 All the inhabitants of the earth are persons of no account to him—
He does what he will among the host of the heavens,
And among the inhabitants of the earth;
And there is none who can stay his hand,
Or say to him, ‘What doest thou?’ ”
- 36 No sooner had my reason returned to me than—for the glory of my kingdom—my majesty and my splendor returned to me, my ministers and my lords came to consult me, I was established in my kingdom, and surpassing greatness was added to me. Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and exalt and honor the King of the heavens; for all his works are right, and his ways are just; and those who walk in pride he is able to abase.

BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST, 5:1-31

- 5 King Belshazzar made a great feast for a thousand of his lords,
2 and drank wine before the thousand. Inflamed by the taste of the wine, Belshazzar gave orders to bring in the vessels of gold and silver, which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken away from the temple at Jerusalem, that the king and his lords, his consorts and his concubines,
3 might drink out of them. So they brought in the vessels of gold and silver, which had been taken away from the temple at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his consorts and his concubines, drank out
4 of them. As they drank the wine, they praised the gods of gold and silver, bronze, iron, wood, and stone. Forthwith there appeared the fingers of a man's hand, which wrote on the plaster of the wall of the king's palace, opposite the lampstand; and the king saw the palm of 6 the hand as it wrote. Then the king's face changed color, as his thoughts upset him; the joints of his loins relaxed, and his knees
7 knocked one against another. The king called aloud for the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers to be brought in; and the king addressed the wise men of Babylon, saying, “Whosoever reads this writing, and gives me the interpretation of it, shall be clothed with purple, and shall have a chain of gold round his neck, and shall be third ruler in the kingdom."

8 But when all the king's wise men came in, they could not read the 9 writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation of it. Then was King Belshazzar greatly upset, and he changed color; his lords 10 also were thrown into consternation. At the cries of the king and his lords, the queen-mother came into the banquetting-hall; and the queen-mother addressed him, saying,

"O king, live forever! Let not your thoughts upset you, nor your 11 face change color. There is in your kingdom a man in whom is the spirit of the holy gods. In the days of your father there was found in him light, and understanding, and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, so that King Nebuchadnezzar, your father, made him chief of 12 the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and astrologers, because there was found in this Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar, surpassing ability, knowledge, understanding, and skill in interpreting dreams, solving riddles, and unravelling knots. Let Daniel be called in, then, and he will give the interpretation."

13 So Daniel was brought in before the king; and the king addressed
Daniel, saying,

"You are Daniel, of the exiles of Judah, whom my father the king 14 brought from Judah! I have heard of you, that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that light, and understanding, and surpassing wisdom 15 are found in you. Now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they might read this writing, and make known to me the interpretation of it; but they could not give the in-16 terpretation of the thing. I have heard of you, however, that you can give interpretations, and unravel knots. Now, if you can read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation of it, you shall be clothed with purple, and shall have a chain of gold round your neck,
and shall be third ruler in the kingdom."

17 Then Daniel answered the king, saying,

"Keep your gifts for yourself, and give your rewards to another;
but I will read the writings to the king, and make known to him the 18 interpretation of it. O king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father the kingdom, with its greatness, its glory, and its 19 majesty; and because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and tongues trembled in fear before him—whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive, whom he would he 20 raised up, and whom he would he put down. But when his mind was

- lifted up, and his spirit became obstinate, so that he bore himself proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and deprived of his glory, he was driven from among men, and his mind was made like that of the beasts, his dwelling was with the wild asses, he was given grass to eat like an ox, and his person was drenched by the dew of the heavens, till he learned that the Most High God rules the kingdom of men, setting over it whom he will. And you his son, O Belshazzar, have not humbled yourself, though you knew all this, but have lifted yourself up against the Lord of the heavens, in that you have had the vessels of his house brought in before you, and have drunk wine out of them—you and your lords, your consorts and your concubines—and have praised the gods of silver and gold, bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which can neither see nor hear nor understand, and have not glorified the God in whose hand your breath is, and to whom belong all your ways. From him, then, has the palm of the hand been sent, and this writing inscribed. This is the writing that has been inscribed: Mene, Tekel, and Peres. And this is the interpretation of the thing: Mene—God has numbered your kingdom, and brought it to an end; Tekel—you have been weighed in the scales, and found wanting; Peres—your kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.”
- Then Belshazzar gave orders, and Daniel was clothed with purple, and had a chain of gold put round his neck, while a proclamation was made concerning him, that he should be third ruler in the kingdom.
- That night Belshazzar, the king of Chaldea, was slain; and Darius, the Mede, received the kingdom, being then about sixty-two years of age.

THE DEN OF LIONS, 6:1-28

- It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom a hundred and twenty satraps, to administer the whole kingdom, and over them three presidents, of whom Daniel was one, that the satraps might be responsible to them, and the king might suffer no loss. And Daniel distinguished himself above all the presidents and satraps, because surpassing ability was in him; and the king was disposed to set him over the whole kingdom.
- Then the presidents and satraps sought to find some ground of complaint against Daniel in connection with his administration of the kingdom; but they could find no ground of complaint or fault, because he was faithful, and no error or fault was to be found in him.

5 So these men said,

“We shall find no ground of complaint against this Daniel, unless we find it in connection with the law of his God.”

6 Then these presidents and satraps thronged to the king, and addressed him as follows:

7 “O King Darius, live forever! All the presidents of the kingdom, the prefects and the satraps, the ministers and the governors, have agreed in council that the king should lay down a statute, and pass a strict interdict, to the effect that whosoever shall offer a petition to any god or man for thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be cast
8 into the den of lions. Now, O king, lay down the interdict, and sign the document, so that it may not be changed, in accordance with the law of the Medes and Persians, which is unalterable.”

9 Accordingly, King Darius signed the document containing the interdict. Now, when Daniel learned that the document had been 10 signed, he went to his house—which had windows in its upper chamber open toward Jerusalem—and three times a day he continued kneeling upon his knees, praying, and giving thanks before his God,
11 as he used formerly to do. Then these men thronged in, and found
12 Daniel offering petitions and supplications before his God. So they approached the king, and questioned him concerning the king’s interdict,

“Did you not sign an interdict, to the effect that whosoever should offer a petition to any god or man for thirty days, except to you, O king, should be cast into the den of lions?”

The king answered, saying,

“The thing stands fast, in accordance with the law of the Medes and Persians, which is unalterable.”

13 Then they answered the king, saying,

“This Daniel, of the exiles of Judah, pays no regard to yourself, O king, nor to the interdict which you have signed, but three times a day he continues offering his own petitions.”

14 When the king heard these words, he was deeply grieved, and applied his mind to saving Daniel; till sunset he exerted himself to res-
15 cue him. Then these men thronged to the king, and said to the king,

“You are aware, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians that no interdict or statute which the king lays down can be changed.”

16 So the king gave orders, and Daniel was brought forward, and cast into the den of lions. And the king addressed Daniel, saying,

"May your God, whom you worship consistently, save you!"

- 17 Then a stone was brought forward, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, as well as with the signet of his lords, so that no change might be made in respect
 18 to Daniel. Then the king went to his palace, and spent the night fasting; no diversions were brought to him, and his sleep fled from him.
 19 Then at dawn, as soon as it was light, the king arose, and went in haste
 20 to the den of lions. When he came near the den, where Daniel was, the king cried out with a sorrowful voice, and spoke to Daniel, saying,

"O Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you worship consistently, been able to save you from the lions?"

- 21 Then Daniel answered the king, saying,
 22 "O king, live forever! My God has sent his angel, and has shut the mouths of the lions, so that they have not injured me; because I was found innocent before him, and before you also, O king, have I done no injury."

- 23 At these words the king was exceedingly glad, and gave orders that Daniel should be taken out of the den. And when Daniel was taken out of the den, no kind of injury was found on him, because he had 24 trusted in his God. Then the king gave orders, and the men who had accused Daniel were brought forward—they, and their children, and their wives—and cast into the den of lions; and before they had reached the bottom of the den, the lions fell upon them, and crushed
 25 all their bones to pieces. Then King Darius wrote as follows to all the peoples, nations, and tongues, that live in all the earth:

- 26 "Peace be multiplied to you! I hereby make a decree that throughout all the kingdom which I rule men shall tremble in reverence before the God of Daniel;

For he is the living God,

Immutable forever;

His kingdom is one that shall never be overthrown,

And his dominion is one that shall endure to the end;

- 27 He saves, and he delivers,

He does signs and wonders

In the heavens and in the earth;

It is he who has saved Daniel

From the power of the lions."

- 28 So this Daniel prospered during the reign of Darius, and during the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

THE VISION OF THE FOUR BEASTS, 7:1-28

7 In the first year of Belshazzar, king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream and visions of his head on his bed; then he wrote down the
 2 dream, and told the gist of the matter, as follows:

“In my visions by night I saw the four winds of the heavens stirring up the great sea. Then out of the sea rose four great beasts, different from one another. The first was like a lion, with the wings of an eagle; I watched till its wings were plucked off, and it was raised from the earth, and made to stand on two feet like a man, while the
 5 mind of a man was given to it. And lo! there was a second beast, like a bear, raised up on one side, with three ribs in his mouth between its teeth; and this order was given to it, ‘Arise, devour much flesh!’
 6 Then I looked, and lo! there was another beast, like a leopard, with four wings of a bird on its sides; the beast had also four heads, and
 7 dominion was given to it. Then, in the visions of the night, I looked, and lo! there was a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, exceedingly strong, with great iron teeth, which devoured and tore in pieces, trampling what remained under its feet. It was different from all
 8 the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns. As I watched the horns, lo! there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots; and lo! in this horn there were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a
 9 mouth speaking great things. I watched

Till thrones were placed,
 And a Venerable One took his seat;
 His clothing was white as snow,
 And the hair of his head like pure wool;
 His throne was a flame of fire,
 Its wheels were blazing fire;
 10 A stream of fire went forth,
 And flowed from before him;
 A thousand thousands ministered to him,
 And ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him;
 The court took its seat,
 And the books were opened.

11 “I watched till—on account of the great words that the horn had spoken—the beast was slain, and its body destroyed, and handed over 12 to be burned by fire. As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was

- ¹³ taken away, but their lives were spared for a season and a time. Then in the visions of the night I looked,
And lo! with the clouds of the heavens
There came one like a man,
Who advanced toward the Venerable One,
And was brought near his presence.
- ¹⁴ To him was given dominion, and glory, and kingly power,
That all peoples, and nations, and tongues should serve him;
His dominion was to be an everlasting dominion, that should not pass away,
And his kingdom one that should not be overthrown.
- ¹⁵ "As for me, Daniel, my spirit was distressed by these things; for ¹⁶ the visions of my head upset me. So I approached one of those who stood by, and asked him to tell me the truth regarding all this. And he answered me, and made known to me the interpretation of the things, as follows:
- ¹⁷ 'These great beasts, four in number, are four kings,
Who shall arise out of the earth;
¹⁸ But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom,
And shall retain the kingdom forever, even forever and ever.'
- ¹⁹ "Then I desired to know the truth regarding the fourth beast, which was different from all the others, exceedingly dreadful, with iron teeth and bronze claws, which devoured and tore in pieces, tramping what remained under its feet; as well as regarding the ten horns which were on its head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three of them fell, the horn which had eyes, and a mouth
²⁰ speaking great things, which appeared greater than its fellows, the horn which I saw waging war with the saints, and prevailing against ²² them, till the Venerable One came, and the court took its seat, and dominion was given to the saints of the Most High, and the time came ²³ for the saints to have possession of the kingdom. And he answered as follows:
- 'The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom on the earth,
Which shall be different from all the other kingdoms;
It shall devour the whole earth,
And shall trample it down, and tear it in pieces.
- ²⁴ As for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall arise ten kings,
And after them shall arise another king,
Who shall be different from the former kings,
And shall put down three of them.

- 25 He shall speak words against the Most High,
 And shall wear out the saints of the Most High;
 He shall plan to change the sacred seasons and the law,
 And they shall be handed over to him for a year, two years, and half a year.
- 26 Then the court shall take its seat, and his dominion shall be taken away,
 To be consumed and destroyed for all time;
- 27 And the kingdom, the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heavens
 Shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High—
 Their kingdom shall be an everlasting kingdom,
 And all dominions shall serve and obey them.’
- 28 “This was the end of the matter. As for me, Daniel, my thoughts greatly upset me, and my face changed color; but I kept the matter in my mind.”

THE VISION OF THE RAM AND THE HE-GOAT, 8:1-27

- 8 In the third year of the reign of King Belshazzar a vision appeared to me, Daniel, of the same nature as that which had previously appeared to me. In my vision I found myself at the citadel of Susa, in the province of Elam, beside the stream Ulai. I raised my eyes, and looked, and lo! standing in front of the stream there was a ram with two horns, both of them high, though one was higher than the other, and the higher came up behind the other. I saw the ram butting westward, northward, and southward; none of the beasts could stand before him, nor could anyone rescue from his power; he did as he pleased, and accomplished great exploits.
- 5 As I was considering the matter, lo! a he-goat from the west advanced over the whole face of the earth, without touching the earth; and the goat had a conspicuous horn between his eyes. When he came to the ram with the two horns, which I had seen standing in front of the stream, he ran at him in the impetus of his might. As I saw him come close to the ram, he was moved by fierce rage against him, and he smote the ram, and broke his two horns; and as the ram had no power to stand before him, he cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him, there being none to rescue the ram from his power. Then the he-goat accomplished very great exploits; but when he had reached the height of his power, the great horn was broken, and in its place there came up four other horns, facing the four winds of the heavens.

9 Out of one of them there emerged another horn, a little one, which
10 grew very great toward the south, the east, and the glorious land. It became as great as the host of the heavens; and some of the starry
11 host it cast down to the ground, and trampled under foot. It made itself even as great as the Prince of the host, whose continual offering was taken away from him, and the site of whose sanctuary was pro-
12 faned. Thus was the continual offering treated with criminal violence, and the truth cast down to the ground, while it worked its 13 will, and prospered. Then I heard a holy one speak; and another holy one asked this one who spoke,

“How long shall be the vision of the continual offering taken away, the desolating crime put in its place, and the sanctuary and the host of the heavens trampled under foot?”

14 And he answered him,

“For two thousand, three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the wrongs of the sanctuary be righted.”

15 Now when I Daniel had seen the vision, and was seeking to understand it, lo! there stood before me a human-like form, while from between the banks of the Ulai I heard a human voice, calling, and saying,

“O, Gabriel, make this man understand the vision.”

17 So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was terrified, and fell upon my face. But he said to me,

“Understand, O mortal man! for the vision relates to the time of the end.”

18 As he spoke with me, I remained in a swoon with my face to the 19 ground. But he touched me, and set me upon my feet. Then he said, “Behold! I am making known to you what shall be at the end of the time of wrath; for the vision relates to the appointed end of all.

20 The ram which you saw, with the two horns, is the king of Media and 21 Persia. The he-goat is the king of Greece; and the great horn between his eyes is the first king. As the horn was broken, and four 22 others arose in its place, so four kingdoms shall arise from his nation, though not with a power like his. And at the close of these kingdoms,
23 when crimes have reached their height, there shall arise a king of 24 fierce countenance, with an understanding of secret wiles. He shall attain to great power, though not by his own power; he shall cause fearful destruction, and shall prosper in what he does, destroying

- 25 powerful rivals. He shall form designs against the saints, and shall cause treachery to prosper under his hand; he shall devise great things in his own mind, and shall destroy many unawares; he shall even rise up against the Prince of princes, but shall be broken by no human
- 26 hand. The vision which has been told of the mornings and evenings is true; but keep the vision a secret, for it relates to the distant future.”
- 27 Thereupon I Daniel was faint and sick for a number of days; then I rose up, and carried on the king's business. But I was disquieted by the vision, for I did not understand it.

THE PROPHECY OF THE SEVENTY WEEKS, 9:1-27

- 9 In the first year of Darius, the son of Xerxes, of the race of the
- 2 Medes, who had been made king over the realm of the Chaldeans, in the first year of his reign, I Daniel observed in the Scriptures the number of the years which the word of the LORD had revealed to Jeremiah, the prophet, for the full accomplishment of the desolations of Jerusalem, namely, seventy years. So I turned my face toward the
- 3 Lord God, applying myself to prayer and supplications, with fasting,
- 4 sackcloth, and ashes; and I interceded with the LORD my God, and made confession, saying,

- “Ah now, O Lord, the great and revered God, who keeps the covenant of kindness with those who love him and keep his command-
- 5 ments, we have sinned, we have acted wrongfully and wickedly, we
- 6 have rebelled and turned aside from thy commandments and ordinances, and we have not listened to thy servants, the prophets, who
- 7 spoke in thy name to our kings and princes, our leaders, and all the common people. To thee, O Lord, pertains the right, but to us confusion of face, as at this day—to the men of Judah and the citizens of
- 8 Jerusalem, as well as to all Israel, near and far, in all the lands to
- 8 which thou hast driven them, because of their acts of disloyalty toward thee. To us, O Lord, pertains confusion of face—to our kings, our
- 9 princes, and our leaders, because we have sinned against thee. But to the Lord our God pertain the graces of compassion and forgiveness,
- 10 because we have rebelled against him, and have not listened to the voice of the LORD our God in following the laws which he set before
- 11 us by his servants the prophets. All Israel, indeed, has broken thy law, and turned aside from listening to thy voice; therefore thou hast poured out upon us the curse embodied in the oath which is written in
- 12 the law of Moses, the servant of God. Because we have sinned against him, he has fulfilled his word, which he spoke against us, and against our rulers who ruled us, by bringing upon us a disaster so great that under the whole heavens there has not been done the like of what has 13 been done in Jerusalem. All this disaster has come upon us, as it is written in the law of Moses; yet we have not sought the favor of the LORD our God, in turning from our offenses and gaining discernment

14 in thy truth. Therefore the LORD has been vigilant in bringing this disaster upon us; for the LORD our God is righteous in all the works
15 that he has done, while we have not listened to his voice. And now, O Lord our God, who didst bring thy people out of the land of Egypt by a mighty hand, and didst gain for thyself the renown which thou hast
16 this day, we have sinned, we have done wickedly. O LORD, in accordance with all thy righteous deeds, pray, let thine anger and fury turn from Jerusalem thy city, thy holy hill, because for our sins, and for the offenses of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people have become a reproach to all who are round about us. And now, O our God, listen to the prayer and supplications of thy servant, and for thine own sake, O
17 Lord, make thy face shine upon thy sanctuary which is desolate. O my 18 God! Bend thine ear, and listen. Open thine eyes, and see our desolations—the city which bears thy name—for it is not on account of our own righteousness that we present our supplications before thee, but on 19 account of thy great compassions. O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, attend, and act—do not delay—for thine own sake, O my God, because thy city and thy people bear thy name.”

20 While I was yet speaking, and praying, confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the 21 LORD my God for the holy hill of my God, while I was yet speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the previous vision, being sped in swift flight, approached me about the time of the evening sacrifice; and he came and spoke with me, saying,

23 “O Daniel, I have come expressly to enlighten you. While you were at the beginning of your supplications, a word went forth, and I have come to make it known to you; for you are a man greatly beloved. Therefore pay heed to the word, and give attention to the vision:

24 ‘Seventy weeks of years are destined for your people and for your holy city,
To finish the crime, to end the sin, to expiate the guilt,
To bring in everlasting righteousness, to confirm prophetic vision,
And to consecrate the most sacred place.’

- 25 “Learn, therefore, and understand:
 ‘From the going forth of the word to restore and rebuild Jerusalem,
 Till there comes a prince, an anointed one, there shall be seven weeks;
 Then for sixty-two weeks it shall stay rebuilt, with its squares and streets;
 26 And at the end of the times, after the sixty-two weeks,
 The anointed one shall be cut off, leaving none to succeed him,
 The city and the sanctuary shall be destroyed along with the prince,
 And the end shall come in a flood, with war raging to the end;
 27 Then for one week the covenant shall be abandoned by many,
 And for half of the week sacrifice and offering shall cease,
 While in their place there shall be a desolating abomination,
 Till at the end the doom that is determined shall be poured out upon the desolating thing.’ ”

THE CONFLICT OF KINGDOMS, 10:1—12:13

- 10 In the third year of Cyrus, king of Persia, a word was revealed to Daniel whose name was Belteshazzar—a true word concerning a great warfare—and he paid heed to the word, and gave attention to the vision.
- 2 In those days I, Daniel, continued in mourning for three whole
 3 weeks; I ate no appetizing food, no flesh or wine entered my mouth, nor did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were ended.
 4 Then, on the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I stood on the
 5 bank of the great river, the Tigris, I raised my eyes, and looked, and lo! there was a man clothed in linen, his loins girt with fine gold of
 6 Ophir, his body flashing like a topaz, his face like lightning, and his eyes like torches of fire, his arms and legs gleaming like burnished
 7 bronze, and the sound of his words like the sound of a multitude. I, Daniel, alone saw the vision; for the men who were with me did not see the vision, but a great trembling had fallen upon them, so that
 8 they fled to hide themselves. So I was left alone to see this great vision, and no strength was left in me; my complexion was disfigured, 9 and I retained no strength. I heard the sound of his words; but as I heard the sound of his words, I fell in a swoon, with my face to 10 the ground. And lo! a hand touched me, and set me tottering upon 11 my knees and the palms of my hands. Then he said to me,

“O Daniel, greatly beloved, stand upright, and pay heed to the words that I speak to you; for I have been sent expressly to you.”

So when he had spoken this word to me, I stood up trembling.

12 Then he said to me,

“Fear not, O Daniel! for ever since you applied your mind to gain understanding, and to humble yourself before your God, your prayers have been heard, and I have come in answer to your prayers. For 13 twenty-one days, indeed, the guardian angel of the kingdom of Persia opposed me; but Michael, one of the archangels, came to help me, 14 so I left him there with the angel of the kingdom of Persia, and have come to enlighten you as to what shall befall your people in the end of the days; for the vision relates to the still distant future.”

15 When he had spoken to me in these terms, I bent my face to the 16 earth, and remained dumb. Then lo! one like a man touched my lips; and I opened my mouth, and spoke to him who stood before me, saying,

“O my lord, by reason of the vision my pangs have come with- 17 ing upon me, and I retain no strength. So how can such a servant of my lord as I talk with such a one as my lord? As it is, no strength remains in me, and no breath is left in me.”

18 Then the one like a man touched me again, and put strength into 19 me. And he said,

“Fear not, O greatly beloved! Peace be with you! Be strong, and be brave!”

When he had spoken to me, I felt strengthened, and said,

“Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.”

20 Then he said,

“Do you know why I have come to you? Presently I must return to fight with the angel of Persia; and when I have done with him, the 21 angel of Greece will come. There is none to support me against these, except your angel Michael, who stands up to support and de- 11 fend me. However, I will tell you what is inscribed in the book of 2 truth—here and now I will tell you the truth:

“There shall arise three more kings in Persia, then a fourth, who shall be far richer than all of them; and when he has grown strong through his riches, he shall set all his forces in motion against the 3 kingdom of Greece. Then a warlike king shall arise, who shall rule 4 with great power, and shall do as he pleases. But when he has grown strong, his kingdom shall be broken up, and divided toward the four winds of the heavens; it shall not pass to his posterity, nor shall it retain the power with which he ruled; but his kingdom shall be plucked up, and given to others than these.

- 5 "Then the king of the south shall be strong; but one of his captains shall be stronger than he, and shall rule over a kingdom greater 6 than his. After a number of years they shall form an alliance; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north, to seal the treaty of peace. But her influence shall be of no avail, nor shall her influence last; for she shall be given up, together with her suite, her son, and her husband.
- 7 "In those days there shall arise in his place a scion from her roots, who shall come with an army, and shall enter the stronghold of the king of the north, and shall throw him and his people into a panic,
8 and shall overcome them, and shall carry captive to Egypt their gods, their molten images, and their precious vessels of silver and gold. For a number of years he shall refrain from attacking the king of the 9 north. Then the latter shall invade the kingdom of the king of the 10 south, though he shall return to his own country. But his son shall bestir himself, and shall muster an array of great forces, and shall advance against him, sweeping along like an overwhelming flood, and in 11 his turn shall press forward to his stronghold. Then the king of the south, moved by fierce rage, shall march out and fight with him—that is, with the king of the north—who shall raise a great army. But the army shall be given into his hand, and shall be carried away captive.
12 Then his heart shall be lifted up, and he shall put down tens of 13 thousands, though he shall not make good his success. For the king of the north shall raise another army, greater than the former one, and after a number of years he shall advance against him in great force
14 and with abundant supplies. In those days many shall rise up against the king of the south, and violent men among your own people shall lift themselves up—in order to fulfil the vision—but they shall fall
15 to the ground. Then the king of the north shall come, and throw up a mound, and take a well-fortified city; and the forces of the south shall make no stand against him—even their picked troops shall have
16 no strength to stand. The invader shall do as he pleases, with none to stand against him; he shall stand in the glorious land, holding it
17 all in his hand. Then he shall set his face to advance against the king of the south with the full strength of his kingdom, but shall have to make terms with him; and he shall give him his daughter in marriage, so as to gain control of the land; but this also shall not stand,
18 nor succeed with him. Then he shall turn his face toward the coast-

- lands, and shall take many of them; but a certain commander shall put an end to his insolence, and shall repay his insolence sevenfold.
- ¹⁹ Then he shall turn his face toward the strongholds of his own land; but he shall stumble and fall, and shall be found no more.
- ²⁰ "In his place there shall arise one who shall send an exactor of tribute through the most glorious part of the kingdom; but within a few days he shall be broken, though not by open violence, nor in battle.
- ²¹ "In his place there shall arise a contemptible person, on whom the royal dignity has not been conferred, but who shall come by stealth,
- ²² and shall win the kingdom by intrigues. Armed forces shall be utterly overwhelmed before him, and the prince of the covenant shall
- ²³ also be broken. And as soon as one makes an alliance with him, he shall practice treachery, and shall rise to great power, though he has
- ²⁴ but a handful of people, by means of stealth. Then he shall assail the richest men of the provinces, and shall do what neither his fathers nor his fathers' fathers have done—he shall lavish among them plunder, and spoil, and goods; and he shall hatch his plots against fort-
- ²⁵ resses, though only for a time. By means of a great army he shall raise his might and courage against the king of the south; and the king of the south shall bestir himself to battle against him with a very great and powerful army, but shall not make a stand, for plots shall be
- ²⁶ hatched against him—even those who eat of his delicacies shall break him, and his army shall be swept away, and many shall fall down
- ²⁷ dead. Each of the kings shall have his mind bent on mischief, and shall speak lies at a common table; but it shall not avail, for an end
- ²⁸ awaits them at the time appointed. Then he shall return to his own land laden with goods; and his mind being set against the holy covenant, he shall work his will, and return to his own land.
- ²⁹ "At the time appointed he shall again invade the south; but this
- ³⁰ time it shall not be as in former times, for Roman ships shall come against him, and he shall be cowed. Then he shall be inflamed once more with rage against the holy covenant; and having come to an understanding with those who have forsaken the holy covenant, he shall
- ³¹ once more work his will. Armed forces shall be raised by him, and they shall desecrate the stronghold of the sanctuary, and shall abolish the continual offering, and shall put in its place the desolating abomi-
- ³² nation. By his intrigues he shall corrupt those who have violated the covenant; but the people who know their God shall be steadfast, and
- ³³ shall accomplish exploits. Such as are wise among the people shall bring understanding to the multitude, though for many days they shall 34 fall victims to sword and flame, to captivity and plunder. While they fall, they shall receive a little help; and many shall attach themselves 35 to them in hypocrisy. But those of the wise who fall shall do so in order to be refined, and purified, and made white, with a view to the 36 time of the end—for the time appointed is still to come. And the king shall do as he pleases: he shall uplift and exalt himself above every god, and shall speak monstrous things against the God of gods;

and he shall prosper till the time of wrath is ended, for what is de-37 termined shall be done. He shall have no regard even for the gods of his fathers—no regard for the Delight of women, nor for any 38 other god—for he shall exalt himself above all. Instead of them, he shall honor the god of strongholds: a god whom his fathers did not know he shall honor with gold and silver, precious stones and costly 39 gifts. He shall man his strongest fortresses with worshippers of an alien god; and on those who acknowledge this god he shall bestow great honor, making them rulers over many, and allotting them land as a reward.

40 “At the time of the end the king of the south shall thrust at him;
but the king of the north shall burst upon him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and horsemen, and many ships, and shall sweep through 41 many lands like an overwhelming flood. He shall invade the glorious land, and myriads shall fall; but these shall escape from his hand—42 Edom, and Moab, and the remnant of the Ammonites. As he stretches his hand over the countries, the land of Egypt shall not es-43 cape, but he shall lay his hand upon the treasures of gold and silver, and upon all the precious things of Egypt—the Lybians and Ethi-44 opians following in his steps. Then news from the east and the north shall upset him, and he shall withdraw in great fury to destroy and 45 annihilate many, and shall pitch his royal pavilion between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; and he shall come to his end, with none to help him.

12 “At that time shall Michael arise—the archangel who stands on guard over your fellow-countrymen—and there shall be a time of trouble such as there has never been since there was a nation; but at that time your people shall be delivered, even everyone whose name 2 is found written in the book. And many of those who sleep in the land of dust shall awake, some to everlasting life, and others to everlasting 3 reproach and contempt. Then those who are wise shall shine like the brightness of the firmament, those who have led the multitude to 4 righteousness like the stars forever and ever. And now, O Daniel, bind up the words, and seal the book, till the time of the end; for many shall prove disloyal, and troubles shall be many.”

5 Then I, Daniel, looked, and lo! two others were standing, one on this bank of the river, and one on that bank of the river. And I said to the man clothed in linen, who appeared above the waters of the river,

“How long shall it be till the end of these wonders?”

7 Then I heard the man clothed in linen, who appeared above the waters of the river—as he raised his right hand and his left hand toward the heavens—swear by him who lives forever, that it should be for a year, years, and half a year, and that after the power of him who shattered the holy people should be ended, all these things should

8 be ended. I heard, but I did not understand. So I said,

“O my lord, what shall be the latter end of these things?”

9 But he said,

“Go your way, O Daniel! for the words are bound up and sealed

10 till the time of the end. Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined; but the wicked shall carry on their wickedness, and none of the wicked shall understand—only the wise

11 shall understand. From the time that the continual offering is abolished, and the desolating abomination put in its place, there shall be a

12 thousand, two hundred and ninety days. Happy is he who waits till 13 he reaches the thousand, three hundred and thirty-five days! So go your way, and rest till the end comes; then you shall rise to enjoy your portion at the end of the days.”

THE BOOK OF HOSEA

THE SUPERScription, 1:1

1 The word of the LORD that came to Hosea, the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, son of Joash, king of Israel.

THE MARRIAGE OF HOSEA, 1:2-9

2 In the beginning, when the LORD spoke through Hosea, then the LORD said to Hosea,

“Go, and take to yourself a harlotrous wife, and harlotrous children;

For the land has committed great harlotry, turning from following the LORD.”

3 So he went and took Gomer, the daughter of Diblaim, and she became pregnant and bore him a son. And the LORD said to him, “Call him Jezreel; for but a little while,

And I will demand the blood of Jezreel from the house of Jehu;

And I will bring to an end the dominion of the house of Israel.

5 And it shall come to pass in that day,

That I will break the bow of Israel, in the valley of Jezreel.”

6 When she became pregnant again and bore a daughter, he said to him,

“Call her ‘She-who-is-unpities’; for I will not again

Have pity upon the house of Israel, that I should ever forgive them.

7 But upon the house of Judah I will have pity;

And I will deliver them through the LORD, their God;

And I will not deliver them by bow,

Nor by sword, nor by war,

Nor by horses and horsemen.”

8 Then she weaned “She-who-is-unpities,” and became pregnant, and bore a son. And he said,

“Call him, ‘Not-my-people’;

For you are not my people,

And I am not your God.”

GLIMPSES OF FUTURE GLORY, 1:10—2:1

- 10 "Then the number of the children of Israel shall be like the sands of the sea,
Which can be neither measured nor numbered;
And whereas it was said to them, 'You are not my people,'
It shall be said to them, 'Sons of the living God.'
- 11 Then the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together,
And they shall appoint over themselves one head;
And they shall go up from the land, for great shall be the day of Jezreel.
- 2 Say to your brother, 'My-people,'
And to your sister, 'She-that-is-pitied.' "

DENUNCIATION OF ISRAEL AS A FAITHLESS WIFE, 2:2-13

- 2 "Reason with your mother, reason
(For she is not my wife,
And I am not her husband)
That she put away her harlotry from before her,
And her adultery from between her breasts;
- 3 Lest I strip her naked,
And place her as in the day she was born,
And make her like the desert,
And set her like a parched land,
And slay her with thirst.
- 4 And upon her children I will have no pity,
Because they are harlot's children.
- 5 For their mother played the harlot;
She who bore them acted shamelessly.
For she said, 'I will go after my lovers,
Who give me my bread and my water,
My wool and my flax, my oil and my drink.'
- 6 Therefore, lo, I am going to hedge up her way with thorns;
And I will erect a wall against her,
So that she cannot find her paths.
- 7 And she shall pursue after her lovers,
But not overtake them,
And seek them, but not find them.
And she shall say, 'I will go back to my first husband,
For it was better with me then than now.'

- 8 And she did not know
That it was I who gave her
The corn and the wine and the oil.
But the silver, which I multiplied for her,
And the gold, worked for the Baal.
- 9 Therefore I will hold back my grain in its time,
And my wine in its season;
And I will snatch away my wool and my flax,
So that she cannot cover her nakedness.
- 10 And now I will lay bare her shame to the eyes of her lovers,
And none shall rescue her from my hand.
- 11 And I will bring to an end all her mirth,
Her festival, her new moon, her sabbath and all her stated feasts.
- 12 And I will lay waste her vine and her fig tree of which she said,
‘They are my hire,
Which my lovers have given me.’
And I will make them a wilderness,
And the beasts of the field shall devour them.
- 13 So I will punish her for the days of the Baalim to whom she offered sacrifice,
And decked herself with nose-ring and necklace,
And went after her lovers,
But forgot me.” It is the oracle of the LORD.

PICTURES OF RESTORATION AND BLESSING, 2:14-23

- 14 “Therefore I am going to persuade her,
And lead her to the wilderness,
And speak to her heart.
- 15 Then I will give back her vineyards there,
And the valley of Achor as a door of hope.
And she shall respond there as in the days of her youth,
And as in the day when she came up from the land of Egypt.
- 16 In that day, it shall come to pass,” it is the oracle of the LORD,
“That you will call me, ‘My husband,’
And you will no longer call me, ‘My Baal.’
- 17 For I will put away the names of the Baalim from her mouth,
And they shall no longer be remembered by their name.
- 18 In that day, I will make a league for them With the beasts of the field, the fowl of the heavens, and the creeping things of the ground;

And the bow, the sword, and war I will break off from the land;
And I will make them lie down in security."

- 19 And I will betroth you to myself forever;
I will betroth you to myself in righteousness, and in justice,
And in kindness and mercy.
- 20 And I will betroth you to myself in faithfulness;
And you shall know the LORD.
- 21 It shall come to pass, in that day," it is the oracle of the LORD,
"That I will answer the heavens,
And they shall answer the earth;
- 22 And the earth shall answer the grain, and the wine, and the oil;
And they shall answer Jezreel;
- 23 And I will sow her for myself in the land,
And I will pity 'Her-who-is-unpited';
And I will say to 'Not-my-people,' 'You are my people';
And he shall say, 'My God.' "

HOSEA'S OWN ACCOUNT OF HIS MARRIAGE AND ITS MEANING,
3:1-5

- 3 "The LORD said to me again,
'Go, love a woman that is beloved of a paramour, and is an adulteress; even as the LORD loves the Israelites, though they turn to other gods and are lovers of raisin-cakes.'
- 2 "So I bought her for myself for fifteen pieces of silver and a homer
3 and a half of barley. Then I said to her,
'Many days you must dwell as mine;
You must not play the harlot, nor have a husband; nor will I myself come near you.'
- 4 "For the Israelites shall abide many days with no king, no prince, 5 no sacrifice, no pillar, no ephod, and no teraphim. Afterward, the Israelites shall return and seek the LORD, their God, and David their king; and they shall hasten eagerly toward the LORD, and his goodness in the days to come."

THE IDOLATROUS APOSTASY OF ISRAEL, 4:1-19

- 4 "Hear the word of the LORD, O Israelites!
For the LORD has a quarrel with the inhabitants of the land;

Because there is no fidelity, no kindness and no knowledge of God in the land.

- 2 Cursing, lying, murder, theft and adultery—
They break out, and one crime follows hard upon another.
3 Therefore, the land mourns, and everything that dwells therein languishes,
Even to the beast of the earth, and the fowl of the heavens;
And the fish of the sea also are swept away.

- 4 “Yet, let no one make charges, and let no one accuse;
For with you is my quarrel, O priest;
5 And you shall stumble by day,
The prophet also shall stumble with you by night;
And I will destroy your people.

- 6 My people are destroyed for want of knowledge— *
Because you have rejected knowledge,
I will reject you from being my priest.
Since you have forgotten the law of your God,
I likewise will forget your children.

- 7 “The more they increased, the more they sinned against me.
They have exchanged their glory for shame.
8 They feed on the sin of my people,
And for their guilt they whet their appetite.
9 So it has become ‘like people, like priest’;
And I will visit his ways upon him,
And requite his deeds to him.
10 And they shall eat, but not be satisfied;
They shall play the harlot, but not be fruitful;
Because they have forsaken the LORD, to practice harlotry.

- 11 “Wine and liquor take away the understanding.
12 My people inquire of their wood,
And their staff instructs them.
For a harlotrous spirit has led them astray,
And they have become apostates from their God.
13 Upon the tops of the mountains they sacrifice,
And upon the hills they make offerings,
Beneath oak, poplar and terebinth,
Because their shade is good.

- “Therefore your daughters play the harlot,
 And your sons’ wives commit adultery.
 14 I will not punish your daughters when they play the harlot,
 Nor your sons’ wives when they commit adultery;
 For they themselves go apart with harlots,
 And sacrifice with temple-prostitutes,
 And a people without insight must come to ruin.
 15 “Though you play the harlot, O Israel,
 Let not Judah incur guilt.
 Do not come to Gilgal,
 Nor go up to Beth-Aven,
 Nor take oath at Beersheba, ‘As the LORD lives.’
 16 But like a wild heifer, Israel is wild.
 Can the LORD feed them, now, like a lamb at large?”
 17 “A maker of images is Ephraim;
 He has set up for himself a fat bull!
 18 They have grossly apostatized;
 They love shame more than their glory.
 19 A wind shall carry them away in its wings,
 And they shall be ashamed of their altars.”

THE GUILT OF ISRAEL AND JUDAH AND ITS PUNISHMENT, 5:1-14

- 5 “Hear this, O priests!
 Give heed, O house of Israel!
 Listen, O house of the king!
 For the judgment pertains to you;
 For you have been a snare at Mizpeh,
 And a net spread out upon Tabor.
 2 And they have dug deep the pit of Shittim;
 But I am a restraint to them all.
 3 “I know Ephraim,
 And Israel is not hidden from me.
 For you have played the harlot, Ephraim;
 Israel is defiled.
 4 Their deeds will not permit them
 To return to their God.
 For an apostate spirit is within them,
 And they do not know the LORD.

- 5 "The pride of Israel shall testify to his face;
And Israel and Ephraim shall stumble in their guilt.
Judah, also, shall stumble with them.
- 6 With their flocks and their herds, they shall go
To seek the LORD, but shall not find him—
He has departed from them.
- 7 They have been faithless to the LORD;
For they have borne illegitimate children.
Now he will devour them,
The plowmen and their fields.
- 8 "Blow the horn in Gibeah,
the trumpet in Ramah;
Sound the alarm at Beth Aven;
startle Benjamin!
- 9 Ephraim shall become a ruin,
in the day of punishment.
Among the tribes of Israel,
I announce what is reliable.
- 10 "The princes of Judah have become
Like those who move a boundary line.
Upon them I will pour out
My wrath like water.
- 11 Ephraim is oppressed, crushed in judgment,
Because Israel went after idols.
- 12 But I am like a moth unto Ephraim,
And like rottenness unto the house of Judah.
- 13 "When Ephraim saw his sickness,
And Judah his wound,
Then Ephraim went to Assyria,
And sent to the great king.
But he is not able to heal you;
Nor can he relieve you of your wound.
- 14 For I will be like a lion unto Ephraim,
And like a young lion to the house of Judah.
I will rend and be gone,
I will carry off and none shall rescue "

ISRAEL'S DEEP DEPRAVITY BELIES HER FACILE REPENTANCE,
5:15—6:11a

- 15 "I will go back to my place,
Until they realize their guilt, and seek my face;
In their trouble they will seek me:
- 6 'Come, let us return unto the LORD;
For he has torn, and he will heal us.
He smote, and he will bind us up.
- 2 He will revive us after two or three days;
He will raise us up that we may live before him.
- 3 Let us know, let us press on to know the LORD;
As soon as we seek him, we shall find him;
He will come to us like the winter rain,
Like the early rain that waters the land.'
- 4 "What shall I do with you, O Ephraim?
What shall I do with you, O Judah?
For your piety is like a morning cloud,
And like the dew that goes early away.
- 5 Therefore will I hew them by the prophets;
I will slay them by the words of my mouth.
And my judgment will go forth like the light.
- 6 For I delight in piety, not sacrifice;
And in the knowledge of God, rather than burnt-offerings.
- 7 "But they broke the agreement at Admah;
there they dealt faithlessly with me.
- 8 Gilead is a city of wrong-doers,
tracked with bloody footprints.
- 9 Like troops of men lying in wait,
so the priests hid themselves;
On the way to Shechem they committed murder,
they practiced vice.
- 10 In Bethel, I saw a horrible thing;
there Ephraim played the harlot,
Israel was defiled.
- 11^a For you too, O Judah, a harvest is appointed."

ISRAEL'S INTERNAL CORRUPTION, 6:11b—7:7

- 11^b "When I would change the fortune of my people,
7 When I would heal Israel,

- The guilt of Ephraim is revealed,
And the sin of Samaria;
For they have wrought falsehood,
And the thief comes in,
Gangs prowl about.
- 2 But they never realize
That I shall remember all their wickedness,
That now their deeds encircle them,
That they are before my face.
- 3 Through their wickedness they rejoice the king,
And through their treachery princes.
- 4 They are all adulterers.
They are like a burning oven,
Whose baker ceases stirring,
From the time the dough is kneaded until it is leavened.
- 5 From the day he became king, the princes have made him sick with the heat of wine,
Worthless men have made him drunk.
- 6 For their heart glows like an oven, with their trickery;
All night through their anger sleeps;
In the morning it blazes like a flaming fire.
- 7 They are all hot like an oven,
And they devour their rulers.
All their kings have fallen;
There is no one among them who calls upon me."

ISRAEL'S DISLOYAL FOREIGN POLICY, 7:8-16

- 8 "Ephraim wastes away among the peoples.
Ephraim is a cake unturned.
- 9 Strangers devour his strength, without his knowledge;
Gray hairs are scattered upon him, without his knowledge.
- 10 And the pride of Israel witnesses against him,
But they do not return to the LORD, their God;
Nor seek him for all this.
- 11 "For Ephraim has become like a silly dove, without sense;
They call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.
- 12 As they go, I will spread my net over them;
Like a bird of the heavens, I will bring them down.
I will bind them on account of their wickedness.

- 13 Woe to them that they have wandered away from me!
 Ruin to them that they have rebelled against me!
 Can I redeem them,
 While they speak lies against me?
- 14 "They do not cry unto me from their hearts,
 But wail upon their couches for grain and wine;
 They cut themselves and rebel against me.
- 15 Yet it was I who trained and strengthened their arms,
 While against me they plan wickedness.
- 16 They turn to the Baal;
 They are like a treacherous bow.
 Their princes shall fall by the sword,
 Because of their stumbling speech in the land of Egypt."

IDOLATRY AND DISLOYALTY SPELL DESTRUCTION, 8:1-14

- 8 "Set the trumpet to your lips,
 Like a watchman, against the house of the LORD!
 Because they have broken my covenant,
 And sinned against my law.
- 2 To me they shall cry, 'My God; we, Israel, know thee.'
- 3 Israel has abhorred the good;
 An enemy shall pursue him.
- 4 "They made kings; but it was not of my doing;
 They made princes; but without my knowledge.
 Of their silver and their gold they made
 Idols for themselves, that they might be cut off.
- 5 I loathe your bull, O Samaria.
 My anger blazes against them;
 How long will they be incapable of innocence?
- 6 For from Israel is it;
 A mechanic made it;
 And it is not God.
 Indeed, Samaria's bull
 Shall become splinters;
- 7 "For they sowed the wind;
 And they shall reap the whirlwind.
 The standing grain which has no sprout shall yield no meal;
 If it should yield, foreigners would devour it.

- 8 Israel shall be devoured;
 Soon shall they be among the nations
 Like a worthless thing.
- 9 For they have gone up to Assyria,
 Like a wild ass wandering by itself;
 Ephraim gives love-gifts.
- 10 But though they hire among the nations,
 I will soon gather them up;
 And they shall cease a while from anointing a king and princes.
- 11 "Though Ephraim has multiplied altars,
 They have become to him altars for sinning.
- 12 I will write him down as an opponent of my law;
 He shall be considered as a foreigner.
- 13 They love sacrifice and they sacrifice
 Flesh, and they eat it.
 The LORD is not pleased with them;
 Soon will he remember their guilt,
 And punish their sin.
 They shall return to Egypt.
- 14 For Israel forgot his maker and built palaces;
 And Judah multiplied fortified cities;
 But I will send a fire upon his cities,
 And it shall devour his palaces."

ISRAEL MUST GO INTO EXILE, 9:1-9

- 9 Do not rejoice, O Israel!
 Do not exult, like the peoples!
 For you have apostatized from your God,
 You have loved a harlot's hire
 Upon all threshing-floors for grain.
- 2 But threshing-floor and wine-vat shall not know them,
 And wine shall fail them.
- 3 They shall not remain in the land of the LORD,
 But Ephraim shall return to Egypt,
 And in Assyria they shall eat unclean food.
- 4 They shall not pour out libations of wine to the LORD;
 Nor shall they prepare their sacrifices for him.
 Their food shall be like mourners' food,

In that all who eat of it will defile themselves;
 For their food is for themselves only,
 It may not come into the house of the LORD.

- 5 What will you do on the festival day;
 And on the day of the feast of the LORD?
 6 For lo, they shall go to Assyria;
 Egypt shall gather them,
 Memphis shall bury them.
 Their desirable places nettles shall possess;
 Thorns shall be in their tents.
 7 The days of punishment will come;
 The days of requital will come;
 Israel shall know.

The prophet is distracted,
 The man of the spirit is crazed,
 Because of your great guilt.

- 8 Great is the opposition to the watchman-of Ephraim, the people of my God.
 The prophet—the fowler's snare is upon all his ways;
 Opposition is in the house of his God.
 9 They have dug a deep pit for him
 As in the days of Gibeah.
 He will remember their guilt,
 He will punish their sins.

IRREPARABLE RUIN, 9:10-17

- 10 "Like grapes in the wilderness,
 I found Israel.
 Like the first ripe fig on the fig tree, in its first season,
 I saw your fathers.
 But they came to Baal-peor;
 And separated themselves to the Baal,
 And became an abhorrence like the thing which they loved.
 11 "Ephraim's glory flies away like a bird;
 So that there will be no births, no motherhood, no conception.
 12 Even if they do rear their children,
 I will bereave them to a man.
 But woe, indeed, to them when I depart from them!

- 13 As I foresaw, Ephraim's sons must become a prey, Ephraim must bring out his sons to the slaughter.”
- 14 Give them—O LORD, what canst thou give?
Give them a miscarrying womb,
And dry breasts.
- 15 “All their wickedness is in Gilgal,
For there I conceived hatred for them. .
Because of their wicked deeds,
I will drive them out of my house.
I will no longer love them,
All their princes being rebels.
- 16 “Ephraim is stricken;
Their root is dried up.
They shall bear no fruit.
Even if they do have children,
I will slay the darlings of their womb.”
- 17 “My God will reject them,
Because they have not listened to him;
And they shall become wanderers among the nations.”

IDOLATRY AND ITS PUNISHMENT, 10:1-8

- 10 Israel is a spreading vine;
His fruit renders him confident;
The more his fruit increased,
The more altars he made;
The more prosperous his land became,
The finer did he make his sacred pillars.
- 2 Their heart is false; soon must they atone.
Their altars shall be desecrated,
And their sacred pillars destroyed.
- For they will soon be saying,
“We have no king;
For we do not revere the LORD;
And as for that, what could the king do for us?”
- 4 They speak mere words; they swear false oaths;
They make leagues; and judgment will blossom forth,
Like weeds in the furrows of the field.

- 5 For the calf of Beth-aven,
The inhabitants of Samaria shall be anxious;
His people and his priestlings shall mourn for him;
They shall wail for his honour,
Because it has gone into exile from him.
- 6 He himself, too, shall be carried to Assyria,
As tribute to the great king.
Israel shall receive disgrace
And Ephraim shall be ashamed of its idol.
- 7 The king of Samaria shall be destroyed,
Like a chip upon the surface of the water.
- 8 And the high places of Aven shall be destroyed,
The sin of Israel;
Thorn and thistle shall spring up upon their altars;
And they shall say to the mountains, "Cover us";
And to the hills, "Fall upon us."

MORAL FAILURE IS POLITICAL RUIN, 10:9-15

- 9 "From the days of Gibeah, you have sinned, O Israel.
There they said that war would not overtake them in Gibeah.
- 10 I will come against the wicked people and punish them;
And peoples shall be gathered together against them
When they are chastened for their two crimes.
- 11 Ephraim was a trained heifer that loved to thresh;
But I put a yoke upon her fair neck.
I harnessed Ephraim; Judah ploughed;
Jacob harrowed for himself.
- 12 "Sow for yourselves righteousness;
Reap the fruit of piety;
Break up your fallow ground;
For it is time to seek the LORD,
Till he come and rain righteousness upon you.
- 13 You have ploughed wickedness, you have harvested wrong,
You have eaten the fruit of lies,
In that you trusted in your chariots, and in your great might.
- 14 "But revolt shall arise among your peoples,
And all your fortresses will be destroyed,
As Shalman destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battle;

The mother was dashed in pieces with the children.

- 15 Thus will I do to you, O house of Israel, because of your wickedness!
In the storm, the king of Israel shall be utterly destroyed.”

GOD'S LOVE FOR ISRAEL SPURNED BUT TRIUMPHANT, 11:1-11

- 11 “When Israel was a child, I came to love him,
And from Egypt I called him.
2 The more I called them,
The more they went away from me;
They sacrificed to the Baals,
And made offerings to idols.
3 “But it was I who taught Ephraim to walk;
I took them up in my arms;
But they did not know that I cared for them.
4 With human lines I led them,
With loving cords;
And I became for them like him who lifts the yoke from their jaws;
And I bent toward them and fed them.
5 “Ephraim shall return to Egypt
And Assyria shall be his king,
Because they have refused to return to me.
6 The sword shall begin upon his cities,
And make an end of his fields,
And shall devour his fortresses.
7 For my people are dependent upon a change in me;
And if they call upon me because of the yoke,
Will I not, nevertheless, raise it up?
8 “How can I give you up, O Ephraim!
How surrender you, O Israel!
How can I treat you like Admah!
How make you like Zeboim!
My mind turns against me;
My sympathies also grow hot.
9 I will not carry out my hot anger;
Nor will I again destroy Ephraim;
For I am God and not man,

The holy one in the midst of you;
But I will not destroy.

- 10 "They shall go after the LORD.
Like a lion he will roar;
Yes, he will roar;
And his sons shall come trembling from the west,
11 They shall come fluttering like a bird from Egypt,
And like a dove from the land of Assyria.
And I will bring them back to their homes."
It is the oracle of the LORD.

ISRAEL'S FAITHLESSNESS AND ITS PUNISHMENT, 11:12—12:14

- 12 "Ephraim surrounds me with lies,
And the house of Israel with deceit;
But Judah still seeks after God,
And is loyal to the holy one.
12 Ephraim feeds upon wind,
And pursues the East wind all the time;
They multiply lies and falsehood;
They make a treaty with Assyria,
And carry oil to Egypt.
2 "The LORD has a quarrel with Judah;
And he will punish Jacob according to his ways;
According to his deeds will he requite him.
3 In the womb he seized his brother's heel;
And in his full vigour he strove with God.
4 Then he fought against an angel and prevailed;
He wept and entreated him for mercy.
At Bethel he found him,
And there he talked with him.
12 Then Jacob fled to the field of Aram,
And Israel worked for a wife,
And for a wife he watched sheep.
5 "And the LORD, the God of hosts,
The LORD, is his name.
6 But do you return to your God,
Practice kindness and justice,
And wait for your God constantly.

- 7 "A Canaanite, in whose hands are false balances,
He loves to oppress.
- 8 But Ephraim says, 'Indeed, I am rich;
I have found power for myself.'
All his gain will not suffice
For the guilt which he has incurred.
- 9 I am the LORD, your God,
From the land of Egypt;
I will again make you dwell in tents,
As in the days of old.
- 10 "I spoke to the prophets
And I gave many visions.
And through the prophets I gave parables.
- 11 Gilead, indeed, is wickedness; yea, they are falsehood;
In Gilgal they sacrifice to demons;
Their altars, also, are like heaps,
Upon the furrows of the field.
- 12 And by a prophet the LORD brought Israel up from Egypt,
And by a prophet he was kept.
- 14 Ephraim has provoked him bitterly;
So he will hurl his blood upon him;
And his disgrace his Lord will requite to him."

ISRAEL'S DESTRUCTION NOTWITHSTANDING IDOLS AND KINGS.

13:1-16

- 13 Whenever Ephraim spoke there was awe;
He was a prince in Israel.
Then he transgressed through the Baal, and died.
- 2 And now they sin more and more,
In that they make for themselves molten images,
And of their silver, through their skill, idols,
Wholly the product of mechanics.
- "To such," they say, "sacrifice."
Men kissing calves!
- 3 Therefore they shall be like a morning cloud,
Or like the dew which leaves early;
Like the chaff that whirls up from the threshing-floor,
Or like the smoke from the window.

- 4 "But I am the LORD, your God
From the land of Egypt;
And you know no God but me;
And there is no deliverer, except me.
- 5 I fed you in the wilderness,
In the land of drought;
6 But when they had fed themselves full,
Their heart was enlarged,
And so they forgot me.
- 7 So I will be unto them like a lion,
Or like a leopard by the road I will lurk.
8 I will rend them like a bear robbed of its cubs;
And I will tear off the covering of their chest,
And I will devour them there like a lion,
And the beast of the field shall mangle them.
- 9 "I am your destruction, O Israel;
Who can help you?
10 Where now is your king, that he may deliver you?
And all your princes that they may rule you,
Of whom you said,
'Give me a king and princes?'
- 11 I gave you a king in my anger,
And I took him away in my wrath.
12 The guilt of Israel is bound up;
His sin is stored away.
13 The pangs of a woman in child-birth shall come upon him,
But he is a foolish son;
For at this time he should not stand
In the mouth of the womb.
- 14 "Shall I rescue them from the power of Sheol?
Shall I redeem them from death?
Where are your plagues, O death?
Where is your destruction, O Sheol?
Repentance is hid from my eyes.
- 15 It indeed shall separate brothers;
The east wind, a wind of the LORD, shall come from the wilderness;
It shall come up and his fountain shall dry up,
And his spring shall be parched.

He shall spoil the treasury
 Of every desirable thing.
 16 Samaria must bear her guilt;
 For she has rebelled against her God;
 They must fall by the sword,
 Their children be dashed in pieces,
 And their pregnant women be ripped open.”

AN INVITATION AND A PROMISE, 14:1-9

14 Return, O Israel, to the LORD, your God;
 For you have stumbled in your guilt.
 2 Take with you words,
 And return to the LORD.
 Say to him, “Wholly forgive guilt;
 And we will take what is good,
 And requite thee with the fruits of our lips.
 3 Assyria shall not deliver us;
 Nor will we ride upon war-horses;
 Nor will we say any longer, ‘Our God,’
 To the work of our own hands.
 For in thee the fatherless finds mercy.”
 4 “I will heal their backsliding;
 I will love them voluntarily;
 For my anger has turned away from them.
 5 I will be like the dew to Israel,
 So that he will blossom like the lily,
 And his roots will spread like the poplar;
 6 His tendrils will spread out;
 And his beauty will be like the olive tree,
 And his fragrance like that of Lebanon.
 7 Those who shall again dwell beneath his shadow,
 Shall raise grain,
 And they shall blossom like a vine,
 Whose fragrance shall be like the wine of Lebanon.
 8 “What more has Ephraim any need of idols?
 I am his Anath and his Asherah;

I am like a green fir-tree;
From me is his fruit found.”

- 9 Whoso is wise, let him understand these things,
Whoso is discerning, let him know them;
That the ways of the LORD are right,
And the righteous walk in them,
While sinners stumble in them.

THE BOOK OF JOEL

THE LOCUST PLAGUE AND THE DROUGHT, 1:1-19

- 1 The word of the LORD, which came to Joel, the son of Pethuel:
2 Hear this, O elders;
And listen, all you dwellers in the land!
Has such a thing ever been in your days,
Or in the days of your fathers?
3 Tell of it to your sons;
And your sons to their sons in turn;
And their sons to the next generation.
- 4 What the shearer left, the locust ate;
And what the locust left, the hopper ate;
And what the hopper left, the destroyer ate.
5 Rouse yourselves, you topers, and weep;
And wail, all you drinkers of wine,
For the new wine; because it is cut off from your mouth.
- 6 For a nation has come up against my land,
Strong and innumerable;
His teeth are a lion's teeth,
And the fangs of a lioness are his.
- 7 He has made my vine a waste,
And blighted my fig tree;
He has stripped off its bark and thrown it away;
Its branches are whitened.
- 8 Wail, like a virgin girded with sackcloth,
For the bridegroom of her youth.
- 9 Cut off are the sacrifice and the libation,
From the house of the LORD.
The priests mourn,
The ministers of the LORD.
- 10 The field is devastated;
The ground mourns;
Because the grain is laid waste,

- The new wine is dried up,
The fresh oil fails.
- 11 The farmers are disappointed,
The vine-dressers lament,
For the wheat and the barley;
Because the harvest of the field is lost.
- 12 The vine withers,
And the fig tree wilts.
The pomegranate, palm, and apple—
All the trees of the field dry up;
So that mirth has withered away
From the sons of men.
- 13 Gird yourselves with sackcloth and mourn, O priests;
Wail, O ministers of the altar!
Come, spend the night in sackcloth,
O ministers of my God!
Because the sacrifice and libation are withheld
From the house of your God.
- 14 Sanctify a fast;
Call a convocation!
Gather, O elders,
All the inhabitants of the land
Into the house of the LORD your God;
And cry unto the LORD.
- 15 Alas for the day!
For the day of the LORD is near,
And as destruction from the Almighty it comes.
- 16 Has not food been cut off
From before our eyes?
From the house of our God,
Gladness and joy?
- 17 The mules stamp at their stalls;
The granaries are devastated;
The barns are ruined;
Because the grain has failed.
- 18 What can we put in them?
The herds of cattle wander about,

Because they have no pasture,
The flocks of sheep, also, are dismayed.

- 19 Unto thee, O LORD, do I cry,
Because fire has consumed
 the pastures of the wilderness,
And flame has scorched
 all the trees of the field.
The beasts of the field, also,
 cry out unto thee;
Because the streams of water are dry,
And fire has consumed the pastures of the steppe.

THE LOCUSTS AND THE DAY OF THE LORD, 2:1-11

- 2 Blow the trumpet in Zion;
Raise the alarm on my holy mountain!
Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble;
For the day of the LORD comes!
2 For near is the day of darkness and gloom,
The day of clouds and deep darkness.

Like blackness spread over the mountains,
Is the great and powerful people.
The like of them has not been from of old;
Nor will there be any again after them,
For years of successive generations.

- 3 Before them a fire devours,
And after them a flame scorches.
Like the garden of Eden was the land before them,
And after them it is a desert waste;
And nothing escapes them.
- 4 They look like horses,
And they run like war-horses.
- 5 Like the rattle of chariots,
They leap on the tops of the mountains;
Like the crackling of a flame of fire,
That devours the stubble;
Like a mighty people,
Arrayed for battle.

- 6 Before them peoples are in anguish,
All faces grow pale.
- 7 Like warriors they run;
Like men of war they climb the wall.
They go each his own way,
And do not entangle their paths.
- 8 They do not push one another.
Each goes his own road.
And though they fall into a stream,
They do not sink.
- 9 They rush upon the city;
They run upon the wall;
They go up into the houses;
Through the windows they enter like a thief.
- 10 Before them the land trembles;
The heavens quake;
Sun and moon grow dark,
And the stars withhold their brightness.
- 11 The LORD thunders at the head of his army;
For very great is his host.
Surely he that executes his command is powerful.
For great is the day of the LORD,
And exceedingly terrible; and who can withstand it?

A CALL TO PENITENCE, 2:12-17

- 12 "Yet even now," it is the oracle of the LORD,
"Return to me with your whole heart,
And with fasting, and weeping, and mourning."
13 And rend your heart and not your garments,
And return to the LORD, your God;
For he is gracious and merciful,
Slow to anger, and abounding in grace,
And relenting of evil.
- 14 Who knows but that he will again relent,
And leave behind him a blessing,
An offering and a libation
To the LORD, your God?
- 15 Blow the trumpet in Zion;
Order a sacred fast; call a holy assembly;

- 16 Assemble the people; order a holy congregation;
 Gather in the elders; collect the children,
 And the infants at the breast!
 Let the bridegroom go forth from his chamber,
 And the bride from her pavilion!
- 17 Between the porch and the altar,
 Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep;
 And let them say, "Spare thy people, O LORD,
 And make not thy heritage a reproach,
 That they should become a by-word among the nations.
 Wherefore should they say among the peoples,
 'Where is their God?'"

FORGIVENESS AND PROMISE, 2:18-27

- 18 Then the LORD became solicitous for his land,
 And had pity upon his people.
- 19 And the LORD answered and said to his people,
 "Lo, I am going to send you
 The grain, the wine, and the fresh oil,
 And you will be satisfied therewith;
 And I will no more make you a reproach among the nations.
- 20 And I will remove the Northerner far from you;
 And I will drive him out into a parched and waste land;
 His van into the eastern sea,
 And his rear into the western sea;
 And the stench of him will arise and the foul smell of him will ascend;
 Though he has done great things.
- 21 "Fear not, O land;
 Exult and rejoice;
 For the LORD has done great things!
- 22 Fear not, O beasts of the field;
 For the pastures of the steppe are green,
 The tree bears its fruit,
 The fig tree and the grape-vine yield their increase.
- 23 "And do you, O sons of Zion, exult,
 And rejoice in the LORD, your God;

For he gave you a warning,
Teaching righteousness;
And he has sent down to you rain,
The early and the later rains as of old.

- 24 "And the threshing-floors shall be full of grain;
And the wine-vats shall overflow with wine and fresh oil;
25 And I will repay you for the years
Which the locust devoured,
The hopper, the destroyer, and the shearer,
My great army, which I sent upon you.
- 26 "And you shall eat to the full and be satisfied,
And you shall praise the name of the LORD, your God,
Who has done wonders for you;
And my people shall never again be put to shame,
27 For you will know that I am in the midst of Israel.
I, the LORD, am your God, and there is none else.
My people shall never again be put to shame."

THE DAY OF THE LORD AND ITS MANIFESTATIONS, 2:28-32

- 28 "It shall come to pass afterward,
That I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh;
Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy;
Your old men shall dream dreams;
And your young men shall see visions.
- 29 Furthermore, upon the menservants and the handmaids,
In those days I will pour out my spirit.
- 30 "And I will set portents in the heavens and on the earth,
Blood, and fire, and columns of smoke.
- 31 The sun shall be changed to darkness and the moon to blood,
Before the coming of the day of the LORD, great and terrible.
- 32 But everyone that calls upon the name of the LORD shall be delivered;
For in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape;"
- As the LORD has said.
And the escaped will be those whom the LORD proclaims.

JUDGMENT UPON THE NATIONS, 3:1-8

- 3² “For behold, in those days and at that time, when I restore the fortunes of Judah and Jerusalem, then I will gather all the nations, and bring them down to the valley of Jehoshaphat; and I will enter into judgment with them there, on account of my people and my heritage,
 3 Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations. They have divided my land, and cast lots upon my people, and given a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine, and drunk it.
 4 “Moreover, what are you to me, O Tyre, and Sidon, and all the districts of Philistia? Are you paying me back for something I have done? Or are you doing something to me? Right speedily will I requite your deed upon your own head! For you have taken my silver and my gold; and my goodly treasures you have brought into your palaces. The people of Judah, and the people of Jerusalem, you have sold to the Greeks, so as to remove them far from their own territory.
 7 Behold, I am going to rouse them up from the place into which you have sold them; and I will bring back your deed upon your own head.
 8 For, I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the people of Judah, and they will sell them to the Sabeans, to a distant nation.” For the LORD has spoken.

THE WORLD-JUDGMENT, 3:9-13

- 9 Proclaim this among the nations:
 Hallow war! Arouse the warriors!
 Let the fighting men approach and ascend!
 10 Beat your plowshares into swords,
 And your pruning hooks into lances!
 Let the weakling say, “I am a warrior.”
 11 Haste and come, all you nations,
 And gather yourselves there from every side.
 Bring down thy warriors, O LORD!
 12 Let the nations rouse themselves and come up
 To the valley of Jehoshaphat;
 For there I will sit to judge
 All the nations from every side.
 13 Put in the sickle,
 For the harvest is ripe!
 Go in, tread;
 For the wine-press is full!

The vats overflow!
For their wickedness is great.

THE GOLDEN AGE, 3:14-21

- 14 Multitudes upon multitudes are in the valley of decision,
For the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.
- 15 The sun and the moon are darkened
And the stars withhold their brightness.
- 16 For the LORD roars from Zion,
And from Jerusalem he utters his voice;
And the heavens and the earth quake.
But the LORD is a refuge to his people,
And a stronghold to the children of Israel.
- 17 "And you shall know that I, the LORD, your God,
Am dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain.
And Jerusalem shall be holy,
And aliens shall not again pass through her.
- 18 "And it shall be in that day,
That the mountains shall drip sweet wine,
And the hills shall flow with milk,
And all the river-beds of Judah shall flow with water;
And a spring shall go forth from the house of the LORD,
And water the valley of Shittim.
- 19 "Egypt shall become a waste,
And Edom shall be a barren steppe;
Because of the wrong done to the children of Judah,
In that they shed innocent blood in their land.
- 20 But Judah shall abide forever,
And Jerusalem for generation after generation.
- 21 And I will avenge their blood; I will not leave it unpunished."
For the LORD dwells in Zion.

THE BOOK OF AMOS

THE TITLE AND PURPOSE OF THE BOOK 1:1-2

1 The words of Amos, who was among the shepherds of Tekoa, which he prophesied regarding Israel, in the days of Uzziah, king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, the son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the earthquake; saying,

2 "The LORD roars from Zion,
And from Jerusalem he utters his voice;
And the pastures of the shepherds mourn,
And the top of Carmel withers."

DOOM UPON THE SURROUNDING NATIONS, 1:3-2:5

3 Thus says the LORD,
"For three transgressions of Damascus,
And for four, I will not turn it back;
Because they have threshed Gilead
With threshing-tools of iron.
4 So I will send a fire upon the house of Hazael,
And it shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad.
5 And I will break the bar of Damascus,
And cut off the inhabitants from the valley of Aven,
And the holder of the scepter from Beth Eden;
And the people of Syria shall go captive to Kir."
Says the LORD.

6 Thus says the LORD,
"For three transgressions of Gaza,
And for four, I will not turn it back;
Because they carried into exile a whole people,
To hand them over to Edom.
7 So I will send a fire upon the wall of Gaza,
And it shall devour her palaces.
8 And I will cut off the inhabitants from Ashdod,
And the holder of the scepter from Askelon,
And I will turn my hand against Ekron,

And the remnant of the Philistines shall perish."
Says the Lord God.

9 Thus says the LORD,
"For three transgressions of Tyre,
And for four, I will not turn it back;
Because they handed over a whole people as captives to Edom,
And did not remember the agreement between brothers.
10 So I will send a fire upon the wall of Tyre,
And it shall devour her palaces."

11 Thus says the LORD,
"For three transgressions of Edom,
And for four, I will not turn it back;
Because he pursued his brother with the sword,
And did violence to his feelings,
And kept his anger perpetually,
And cherished his wrath forever.
12 So I will send a fire upon Teman,
And it shall devour the palaces of Bozrah."

13 Thus says the LORD,
"For three transgressions of the Ammonites,
And for four, I will not turn it back;
Because they ripped up the pregnant women of Gilead,
That they might enlarge their boundary.
14 So I will kindle a fire upon the wall of Rabbah,
And it shall devour her palaces;
With shouting in the day of battle,
With a storm in the day of tempest.
And their king shall go into exile,
He and his princes also."

Says the LORD.

2 Thus says the LORD,
"For three transgressions of Moab,
And for four, I will not turn it back;
Because he burned the bones
Of the king of Edom to lime.
2 So I will send a fire against Moab,
And it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth.

And Moab shall die with uproar,
 With shouting and the sound of the trumpet.
 3 And I will cut off the chieftain from the midst of her,
 And slay all her princes with him."
 Says the LORD.

4 Thus says the LORD,
 "For three transgressions of Judah,
 And for four, I will not turn it back;
 Because they have rejected the instruction of the LORD,
 And have not kept his decrees;
 But their lies have led them astray,
 After which their fathers walked.
 5 So I will send a fire against Judah,
 And it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem."

THE SIN AND DOOM OF ISRAEL, 2:6-16

6 Thus says the LORD,
 "For three transgressions of Israel,
 And for four, I will not turn it back;
 Because they have sold the innocent for silver,
 And the needy for the sake of a pair of sandals.
 7 And they trample upon the heads of the poor,
 And they turn the humble from the way.
 A man and his father go to the harlots,
 So that they profane my holy name.
 8 Garments taken in pledge they spread out
 Beside every altar;
 And the wine of those who have been fined they drink
 In the houses of their gods.
 9 "Yet it was I who destroyed the Amorite from before them,
 Whose height was like that of the cedars,
 And he was strong as the oaks;
 But I destroyed his fruit above,
 And his roots below.
 10 And it was I who brought you up from the land of Egypt,
 And led you through the wilderness for forty years,
 That you might seize the land of the Amorites.
 11 And I raised up some of your sons as prophets,

And some of your young men as Nazirites.
Is this not so, indeed, O Israelites?"

An oracle of the LORD.

12 "But you made the Nazirites drink wine;
And you laid command upon the prophets, saying, 'You shall not prophesy.'

13 "I am going to make a groaning under you,
As a wagon groans that is loaded with sheaves.

14 Flight shall perish from the swift;
And the strong shall not exert his strength;
And the warrior shall not save himself.

15 And he who handles the bow shall not stand firm,
Nor shall the swift of foot save himself;
And he who rides upon horseback shall not save himself.

16 And the stoutest of heart among the warriors
Shall flee away naked in that day."

An oracle of the LORD.

THE CATEGORICAL IMPERATIVE, 3:1-8

3 Hear this word which the LORD speaks against you, O Israelites, against the whole family that I brought up from the land of Egypt,
saying,

2 "You only have I known,
Of all the families of the earth";
Therefore, will I punish you
For all your wrongdoing.

3 Do two men walk together,
unless they have made an appointment?

4 Does a lion roar in the forest,
unless he has prey?
Does a young lion send forth his voice from his lair,
unless he has seized something?

5 Does a bird fall to the ground,
unless there be a snare for it?
Does a trap spring from the ground,
when it has taken nothing at all?

6 If a trumpet be blown in a city,
do the people not tremble?

If there be disaster in a city,
has not the LORD caused it?

7 Surely, the Lord GOD will do nothing,
Except he reveal his purpose
To his servants the prophets.

8 When the lion roars,
Who does not fear?
When the Lord GOD speaks,
Who will not prophesy?

THE DOOM OF SAMARIA, 3:9—4:3

9 Proclaim upon the palaces in Assyria,
And upon the palaces in the land of Egypt
And say, "Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria
And see the great confusion in the midst of her,
And the oppression within her."
10 For they do not know how to do right (an oracle of the LORD),
Who treasure up violence and robbery in their palaces.

11 "Therefore," thus says the Lord GOD,
"The foe shall surround the land,
And strip you of your strength;
And your palaces shall be plundered."

12 Thus says the LORD,
"Just as the shepherd rescues from the mouth of the lion two shank-bones or a scrap of an ear, so will the Israelites be rescued, who dwell in Samaria, along with the corner of a couch, and the leg of a bed."

13 "Hear and testify against the house of Jacob,"
(an oracle of the Lord GOD, the God of hosts)

14 "That on the day when I punish Israel for its offenses,
I will inflict punishment upon the altars of Bethel,
And the horns of the altar shall be cut off and shall fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite both winter house and summer house,
And the ivory houses shall be ruined;
And many houses shall come to an end."
An oracle of the LORD.

- 4 "Hear this word, you cows of Bashan,
 You who are in the mountain of Samaria,
 Who oppress the weak, who crush the needy,
 Who say to their lords, 'Bring that we may drink.'
- 2 "The Lord GOD has sworn by his holiness,
 That there are days coming upon you,
 When they will drag you away with hooks,
 And what is left of you with fish-hooks.
- 3 And through the breaches you will go, each one straight ahead,
 And you will be cast upon the refuse heap."
 An oracle of the LORD.

THE SACRILEGE OF SACRIFICE, 4:4, 5

- 4 "Come to Bethel, and—transgress!
 In Gilgal, multiply your transgressions!
 Bring your sacrifices every morning,
 And every three days, your tithes.
- 5 Burn a thank-offering of leavened bread,
 And proclaim voluntary offerings; publish them!
 For so you love to do, O Israelites."
 An oracle of the Lord GOD.

REPEATED CHASTISEMENTS ARE FUTILE, 4:6-11

- 6 "Indeed, it was I that gave you
 Cleanness of teeth in all your cities,
 And lack of bread in all your places.
 But you did not return to me." An oracle of the LORD.
- 7 "Still further, it was I that withheld from you the rain,
 While there were yet three months till harvest;
 And I sent rain upon one city,
 But upon another I sent no rain;
 One field was rained upon,
 But the field upon which there was no rain dried up.
- 8 So that two or three towns went begging to one town
 That they might get water to drink, and were not satisfied.
 But you did not return to me." An oracle of the LORD.
- 9 "I smote you with blight and mildew;
 I laid waste your gardens and your vineyards;

And your fig trees and olive trees the locust devoured.
But you did not return to me." An oracle of the LORD.

- 10 "I sent forth a pestilence among you after the manner of Egypt;
I slew your young men with the sword,
Together with the captivity of your horses.
And I brought up the stench of your camp into your nostrils.
But you did not return to me." An oracle of the LORD.
- 11 "I overturned among you, as when God
Overturned Sodom and Gomorrah;
And you were like a brand snatched from the burning.
But you did not return to me." An oracle of the LORD.
- 12 "Therefore, thus will I do to you, O Israel.
Because I shall do this to you,
Prepare to meet your God, O Israel."
- 13 For, behold, he who formed the mountains and created the wind;
He who tells man what is his thought,
He who makes dawn and darkness,
And treads upon the heights of the earth;
The LORD, God of hosts, is his name.

ISRAEL'S DESTRUCTION AND ITS CAUSES, 5:1-17

- 5 "Hear this word that I am taking up concerning you, a dirge, O house of Israel:
"Fallen, not to rise again,
2 is the virgin Israel;
Prostrate on her own soil,
with none to raise her up."
- 3 For thus says the Lord God: "The city that sent forth a thousand shall have but a hundred left; and the one that sent forth a hundred shall have but ten left, for the house of Israel."
- 4 For thus says the LORD to the house of Israel:
"Seek me, that you may live;
5 And seek not Bethel.
You shall not go to Gilgal,
Nor cross over to Beersheba.

For Gilgal shall go into galling captivity,
And Bethel shall become a delusion."

6 Seek the LORD, that you may live;
Lest he set the house of Joseph on fire,
And it devour, with no one to quench it for Bethel;
7 You who turn judgment to gall,
And cast down righteousness to the earth.

8 He who made the Pleiades and Orion,
Who turns dense darkness to dawn,
And darkens day into night;
Who calls for the waters of the sea,
And pours them out upon the face of the earth;
(The LORD is his name).

9 He who causes ruin to burst forth upon the strong,
And brings destruction upon the fortress.

10 They hate him who reproves in the gate,
And loathe him who speaks the truth.
11 Therefore because you trample upon the weak,
And take from him tribute of his wheat,
Though you have built houses of hewn stone,
You shall not dwell in them;
Though you have planted pleasant vineyards,
You shall not drink their wine.

12 For I know that your transgressions are many,
And your sins countless,
You who oppress the innocent, take bribes,
And put aside the needy in the gate.
13 Therefore he who perceives at that time will be silent;
For it will be a bad time.

14 Seek good and not evil that you may live, and that thus the LORD,
God of hosts, may be with you, as you have said.

15 Hate evil, and love good
And establish justice in the gate;
Perhaps, the LORD, the God of hosts,
Will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph.

- 16 Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord:
 "In all squares shall be lamentation;
 And in all the streets, they shall say, 'Woe! Woe!'
 17 And they shall call the plowman to mourning,
 And to lamentation, all who know how to wail.
 And in all vineyards there shall be lamentation,
 When I pass through the midst of you," says the LORD.

THE TERRORS OF THE DAY OF THE LORD, 5:18-27

- 18 "Woe to you who desire the day of the LORD!
 What, then, does the day of the LORD mean to you?
 It is darkness, and not light.
 19 As though a man were fleeing from a lion,
 And a bear should meet him!
 Or as if he entered his house and rested his hand upon the wall,
 And a serpent bit him!
 20 Is not the day of the LORD darkness and not light,
 And blackness, with no brightness in it?
 21 "I hate, I spurn your feasts,
 And I take no pleasure in your festal gatherings.
 22 Even though you bring me your burnt-offerings,
 And your meal-offerings, I will not accept them;
 And the peace-offerings of your fatted beasts I will not look upon.
 23 "Take away from me the noise of your songs,
 And to the melody of your lyres I will not listen.
 24 But let justice roll down like waters,
 And righteousness like a perennial stream.
 25 Was it sacrifices and offerings that you brought me
 In the wilderness for forty years, O house of Israel?
 26 But you have carried around Sakkuth, your king,
 And Kaiwan, the star of your god,
 Your images which you have made for yourselves.
 27 So I will carry you into exile beyond Damascus,"
 Says the LORD, whose name is God of hosts.

DESTRUCTION TO SAMARIA, 6:1-14

- 6 "Woe to them who are at ease in Zion,
 And self-confident in the mountain of Samaria.

- Name the chief of the nations,
And enter in to them, O house of Israel!
- 2 Pass over to Calneh and see;
And go thence to Hamath, the great;
And go down to Gath of the Philistines!
Are they any better than these kingdoms?
Or is their territory greater than yours,
3 O, you who put the evil day far off,
And bring near the seat of violence?
- 4 "They, who lie upon ivory couches,
And stretch themselves out upon divans;
And eat rams from the flock,
And calves from the midst of the stall;
5 They who sing to the accompaniment of the lyre,
Composing songs for themselves like David;
6 They who drink chalices of wine,
And anoint themselves with the finest oils;
But they are not heart-sick for the ruin of Joseph.
7 Therefore they shall soon go into exile, at the head of the exiles;
And the shout of the revellers shall pass away."
- 8^b An oracle of the LORD, the God of hosts.
- 8^a The Lord God has sworn by himself:
8^c "I abhor the pride of Jacob,
And his palaces I hate;
So I will deliver up the city and everything in it."
- 9 And it shall be that if there be left ten men in one house, and they 10 die, one being left over; then his uncle, who is to burn him, will take him up, when bringing forth the bones from the house, and will say to whosoever may be in the rear of the house, "Is there still anybody with you?" and he will say, "Nobody"; and he will say, "Silence," for one must not mention the name of the LORD.
- 11 For behold the LORD commands
That the great house be smitten into ruins,
And the small house into fragments.
- 12 Can horses run upon the rock?
Or can one plow the sea with oxen,
That you turn justice into poison,

- And the fruit of righteousness into wormwood?
 13 You who delight in that which is not,
 Who say, "Have we not, by our own strength,
 Taken horns for ourselves?"
 14 "For, lo, I am raising up against you, O house of Israel,"
 (It is the oracle of the LORD, God of hosts), "a nation;
 And they shall crush you from the entrance of Hamath
 Unto the brook of the Arabah."

THREE VISIONS OF DESTRUCTION, 7:1-9

- 7 Thus the Lord GOD showed me; and, lo, he was forming locusts, in the beginning of the coming up of the aftermath (now it was the 2 aftermath after the king's mowings); and when they had finished eating the grass of the earth, I said,
 "O Lord GOD, forgive, I pray;
 How can Jacob stand?
 For he is so small."
 3 The LORD relented of this.
 "It shall not be," said the LORD.
- 4 Thus the Lord GOD showed me; and, lo, the Lord GOD was summoning to a trial by fire; and it had devoured the great deep, and was about to devour the plough-land.
- 5 Then I said,
 "O Lord GOD, cease, I pray;
 How can Jacob stand?
 For he is so small."
 6 The LORD relented of this.
 "Neither shall it be,"
 Said the Lord GOD.
- 7 Thus he showed me; and, lo, the Lord was standing upon a wall, with a plumb-line in his hand. And the LORD said to me,
 "What do you see, Amos?"
 And I said,
 "A plumb-line."
 And the LORD said,
 "Behold I am setting a plumb-line,
 In the midst of my people Israel.
 I will never again pass them by.

- 9 And the high places of Isaac shall be laid waste;
 And the sanctuaries of Israel shall be ruined;
 And I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword."

PRIEST AGAINST PROPHET, 7:10-14

- 10 Then Amaziah, the priest of Bethel, sent to Jeroboam, king of Israel, saying,
 "Amos has conspired against you in the midst of the house of Is-11 rael. The land is unable to endure all his words. For thus says Amos,
 'By the sword shall Jeroboam die,
 And Israel shall surely be carried into exile away from its soil.' "
- 12 Then Amaziah said to Amos,
 "O seer, take your flight to the land of Judah,
 And there eat bread, and there prophesy;
 13 And never again come to Bethel to prophesy,
 For this is the king's sanctuary, and the royal palace."
- 14 Then Amos replied to Amaziah, saying,
 "I am no prophet, nor am I a member of a prophetic order;
 But I am a shepherd and a dresser of sycamores.
 15 And the LORD took me from behind the flock,
 And the LORD said to me,
 'Go, prophesy to my people Israel.'
 16 And now hear the word of the LORD.
 You are saying, 'You shall not prophesy against Israel
 Nor drop a word against the house of Isaac.'
 17 Therefore, thus says the LORD,
 'Your wife shall practice harlotry in the city,
 Your sons and your daughters shall fall by the sword,
 Your land shall be parcelled out by measure,
 And you yourself shall die upon unclean soil,
 And Israel shall surely be carried into exile away from its soil.' "

SOCIAL WRONGS SPELL NATIONAL RUIN, 8:1-14

- 8 Thus did the Lord God show me,
 And lo, a basket of summer fruit!
 2 And he said, "What do you see, Amos?"
 And I said, "A basket of summer fruit."
 Then the LORD said to me,
 "The end has come to my people Israel;
 I will never again pass them by.

- 3 And the songs of the palace shall become dirges in that day.
 (An oracle of the Lord God)
 A mass of carcasses; in every place I will hurl them forth.”
- 4 Hear this, you who trample upon the needy,
 And would bring the poor of the land to an end.
- 5 Saying, “When will the new moon pass
 That we may sell grain,
 And the Sabbath that we may offer corn for sale,”
 Making the measure small and the price great,
 And changing false scales;
- 6 Buying the poor for silver,
 And the needy for the sake of a pair of sandals,
 And selling the worst of the grain.
- 7 The LORD has sworn by the pride of Jacob,
 “I will never forget all their deeds!”
- 8 Shall not the land tremble because of this,
 And all who dwell therein mourn;
 And all of it rise up like the Nile,
 And be shaken and sink like the Nile of Egypt?
- 9 “And it shall be in that day,”
 (An oracle of the Lord God)
 “That I will cause the sun to set at noon,
 And I will darken the earth in broad daylight;
 10 And I will turn your festivals into mourning,
 And all your songs to dirges;
 And I will put sackcloth upon all loins,
 And baldness on every head;
 And I will make it like the mourning for an only son,
 And the end of it like a bitter day.”
- 11 “Behold days are coming”
 (An oracle of the Lord God)
 “When I will send famine upon the land;
 Not a famine of bread,
 Nor a thirst for water,
 But for hearing the words of the LORD.
 12 And they shall wander from sea to sea,
 And run from north to east,

To seek the word of the LORD;
But shall not find it.

- 13 "In that day they shall faint,
The maidens fair and choicest men, for thirst;
14 They who swear by Ashimah of Samaria,
And say, 'As thy god lives, O Dan,'
And 'As thy Dod lives, O Beersheba';
They shall fall, not to rise up again."

A VISION OF TOTAL DESTRUCTION, 9:1-8

- 9 I saw the Lord, standing upon the altar,
And he said, "If the capitals be smitten, the thresholds will shake.
Just so I will cut off the chiefs of them all,
And what may be left of them I will slay by the sword.
No single one of them shall escape,
Nor shall a single one be delivered.
- 2 "Though they dig into Sheol, thence shall my hand take them:
And though they mount up to the heavens, thence will I bring them down.
- 3 And though they hide themselves on the top of Carmel,
Thence will I search them out and take them.
Though they be concealed from my eyes on the floor of the sea,
There will I command the serpent, and it shall bite them,
- 4 Though they go into captivity before their foes,
There will I command the sword, and it shall slay them.
And I will set my eye upon them
For evil, and not for good."
- 5 For the Lord God of hosts
Is he who touches the earth and it melts,
And all who live therein mourn;
And it rises up like the Nile,
And sinks like the Nile of Egypt.
- 6 The one who builds his chambers in the heavens,
And founds his vault upon the earth,
Who calls for the waters of the sea,
And pours them out upon the surface of the earth,
The LORD is his name.

- 7 "Are you not like the Ethiopians in my sight, O Israelites"; it is an oracle of the LORD.
"Did I not bring up Israel from the land of Egypt,
Also the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?
8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom;
And I will destroy it from upon the surface of the ground,
Except that I will not wholly destroy the house of Jacob."
An oracle of the LORD.

ULTIMATE RESTORATION, 9:9-15

- 9 "For, behold, I will command,
And shake the house of Israel among all the nations;
Just as one shakes the sieve,
And not a kernel shall fall to the ground.
10 By the sword all the sinners of my people shall die,
Those who say, 'Disaster shall not reach nor overtake us.'
- 11 "In that day I will raise up the fallen hut of David,
And I will wall up its ruins,
And raise up its breaches,
And rebuild it as in the days of old;
12 In order that they may possess the remnant of Edom and all the nations,
Over whom my name is called."
An oracle of the LORD, who does this.
- 13 "Behold the days are coming," an oracle of the LORD,
"When the plowman shall overtake the reaper,
And the treader of grapes him who sows the seed;
And the mountains shall drip new wine,
And all the hills shall melt;
14 And I will restore the fortune of my people Israel,
And they shall rebuild the ruined cities,
And dwell in them and plant vineyards,
And drink their wine,
And make gardens, and eat their fruit,
15 And I will plant them upon their soil;
And they shall not again be plucked up
From upon their soil which I have given them."
Says the LORD, your God.

THE BOOK OF OBADIAH

DIRE VENGEANCE UPON EDMOM

THE VISION OF OBADIAH

- 1 Thus says the Lord God regarding Edom:—
“We have heard a message from the Lord,
And a messenger has been sent forth among the nations:
‘Arise and let us rise up against her to battle.’
- 2 Behold, I have set you as the least among the nations,
Contemptible are you among men.
- 3 The pride of your heart has deceived you,
You who dwell in the clefts of the cliff,
And set your dwelling on high,
And say to your self,
‘Who can bring me down to the earth?’
- 4 Though you build your nest high like the eagle,
And set your nest even among the stars,
From there I will bring you down”; it is the oracle of the Lord.
- 5 “If robbers came to you,
(Or burglars by night—how you are ruined!)
Would they not steal only what they could handle?
If grape gatherers came to you,
Would they not leave some gleanings?
- 6 How Esau is ransacked,
And his treasures plundered!
- 7 They have cast you forth to the boundary,
All those who were in league with you have betrayed you.
The men who were at peace with you have overpowered you.
Your associates have put a foreign people in your place.”
(There is no meaning in it.)
- 8 “In that day,” it is the oracle of the Lord,
“I will certainly destroy the wise men from Edom,
And intelligence from Mount Esau.
- 9 And your warriors will be appalled, O Teman,
So that every fighting man shall be cut off from Mount Esau.

- 10 For the violence done to your brother Jacob,
Shame shall cover you and you shall be cut off forever.
- 11 In the day when you stood by,
While aliens carried off his goods,
And foreigners entered his gates,
And cast lots upon Jerusalem,
You, too, were as one of them."
- 12 "You should not have gloated over your brother,
in the day of his adversity.
You should not have rejoiced over the Judeans,
in the day of their ruin.
You should not have made a wide mouth,
in the day of trouble.
- 13 You should not have entered the gate of my people,
in the day of their calamity.
You should not have gloated over his misfortune,
in the day of his calamity.
You should not have put forth your hand upon his goods,
in the day of his calamity.
- 14 Nor should you have stood at the breach,
to cut off his fugitives,
Nor have delivered up his refugees,
in the day of his trouble.
- 15 "For the day of the LORD is near,
Upon all the nations.
As you have done, it shall be done to you,
Your deed shall return upon your own head.
- 16 For just as you have drunk upon my holy mountain,
So all the nations shall drink wine;
They shall drink and gulp down and become as though they had not existed.
- 17 "But in Mount Zion there shall be a group of fugitives,
And it shall be holy;
And the house of Jacob shall possess their own possessions.
- 18 And the house of Jacob shall be a fire,
And the house of Joseph a flame;
And the house of Esau shall be stubble,
And they shall lick them up and devour them;

And there shall be no survivor to the house of Esau."
For the LORD has spoken.

- 19 They shall possess the southland (the hills of Esau) and the Shephelah (the Philistines); and they shall possess the fields of Ephraim 20 (the fields of Samaria and Benjamin) and Gilead; and the exiles from Halah and Habor shall possess the land of the Canaanites as far as Zarephath; and the exiles of Jerusalem, who are in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the southland; and conquerors shall go up into Mount Zion to rule over the hill country of Esau. For the LORD shall have dominion.

THE BOOK OF JONAH

THE GREAT REFUSAL, 1:1-16

1 The word of the LORD came to Jonah, the son of Amittai, as follows:

2 "Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach against it; for their wickedness has come up before me."

3 Then Jonah arose to flee to Tarshish, from the presence of the LORD. So he went down to Joppa, where he found a ship, bound for Tarshish. He paid his fare, and went aboard, to go with them to Tarshish, from the presence of the LORD.

4 But the LORD hurled a great wind upon the sea, so that there was a great storm on the sea; and it was thought that the ship would be broken up. Then the sailors were frightened, and they cried each one to his god; and they threw overboard the stuff that was in the ship, in order to lighten her.

5 But Jonah had gone down into the hold of the ship, and was lying fast asleep. So the captain approached him, and said to him,

"Why are you sleeping? Get up; call upon your god. Perhaps that god will bethink himself of us, that we perish not."

6 Then they said, one to another,

"Come, let us cast lots, that we may know upon whose account this disaster has befallen us."

7 So they cast lots; and the lot fell upon Jonah. Then they said to him,

"Tell us, now, for what reason this disaster has befallen us. What is your business? Whence do you come? What is your country? And from what people are you?"

8 So he said to them,

"I am a Hebrew; and I stand in awe of the LORD, the God of the heavens, who made both the sea and the dry land."

9 Then the men were exceedingly terrified, and said to him,

"What a wicked thing you have done!"

10 For the men knew that he was fleeing from the presence of the LORD; because he had told them. Whereupon, they said to him,

11 "What shall we do with you, that the sea may become calm for us?"

- 12 For the sea was running higher and higher. Then he said to them, “Pick me up, and cast me into the sea, so that the sea may be calm for you; for I know that this great storm is upon you because of me.”
- 13 But the men rowed hard to bring the ship back to the dry land, yet could not; for the sea was running higher and higher against them.
- 14 Wherefore, they cried unto the LORD, saying, “O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man’s life;
and lay not up against us innocent blood; for thou, O LORD, dost do as thou dost please.”
- 15 Then they picked up Jonah and threw him overboard; and the sea ceased from its raging.
- 16 Thereupon the men feared the LORD profoundly; and they sacrificed to the LORD and made vows.

JONAH'S REPENTANCE, 1:17—2:10

- 17 Now, the LORD had assigned a great fish to swallow up Jonah; and 2 Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights. Then
3 Jonah prayed to the LORD, his God, from the belly of the fish, saying,
“Out of my trouble I called unto the LORD, and he answered me.
From the heart of Sheol I called for help; thou didst hear my voice.
- 3 For thou hadst cast me into the depths, into the heart of the sea,
And a flood encompassed me.
All thy breakers and thy waves passed over me.
- 4 And I said, ‘I am cast out of thy sight;
How shall I ever again look upon thy holy temple?’
- 5 The waters closed in over my life; the deep surrounded me.
Sea-weed was wound around my head.
- 6 To the roots of the hills I went down.
The earth with its bars was against me forever.
But thou didst bring up my life from the pit, O LORD, my God!
- 7 When I was losing consciousness, I remembered the LORD;
And my prayer unto thee entered thy holy temple.
- 8 Those who heed false futilities forsake their piety,
9 But I will sacrifice to thee with the voice of thanksgiving.
What I have vowed, I will pay.
Deliverance belongs to the LORD.”
- 10 Then the LORD commanded the fish, and it vomited Jonah forth upon the dry land.

JONAH'S MISSION AND ITS RESULT, 3:1-10

3 Then the word of the LORD came to Jonah a second time, as follows:

2 "Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and proclaim unto it the proclamation which I shall tell you."

3 So Jonah arose, and went to Nineveh, as the LORD had said. Now Nineveh was an exceedingly great city, the walk through it requiring 4 three days. And Jonah had gone a day's journey into the city, when he made proclamation, saying,

"Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown."

5 Whereupon the men of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and clothed themselves in sackcloth, from the greatest unto the 6 least of them. When the thing reached the King of Nineveh, he rose from his throne, put off his robe, put on sackcloth, and sat upon the 7 ash heap. He also sent messengers through Nineveh, saying,

"By decree of the king and his nobles, namely, let neither man nor beast, cattle nor sheep, taste a thing; let them not feed, and let them
8 not drink water. But let them put on sackcloth, both man and beast, and let them call aloud unto God; and let each one turn from his 9 wicked way, and from whatsoever violence he has in hand. Who knows but that God will turn and relent, turning from his fierce anger, so that we perish not."

10 Then God saw their actions, that they had turned from their wicked way. So God relented of the evil which he had said he would do unto them, and he did it not.

JONAH REBUKED, 4:1-11

42 But Jonah was greatly displeased and very angry. So he prayed to the LORD, saying,

"O LORD, is not this what I said while I was still upon my own soil? Therefore, I hastened to flee to Tarshish. For I knew that thou wast a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and abounding in 3 grace, and relenting of evil. Now, therefore, O LORD, take my life, I pray thee, from me. For I am better off dead, than alive!"

4 Then the LORD said,
"Are you so very angry?"

5 Then Jonah went forth from the city, and sat down to the east of the city; and he made a booth for himself there, and sat under it in 6 the shade, until he should see what would happen in the city. So the LORD, God, gave orders to a gourd, and it grew up above Jonah so as to be a shade over his head, to save him from his discomfort; and 7 Jonah was very glad over the gourd. Then God ordered a worm, when the dawn came up on the morrow, to smite the gourd, so that 8 it wilted. And when the sun arose, God ordered a burning east wind; and the sun smote down upon Jonah's head so that he fainted, and asked that he might die, and said,

"I am better off dead than alive!"

9 Then God said to Jonah,

"Are you so very angry over the gourd?"

And he replied, '

"I am angry enough to die!"

10 Then the LORD said,

"You have had pity on the gourd, for which you did not toil; nor 11 did you raise it; which grew in a night, and perished in a night! And should not I, indeed, have pity on Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than a hundred and twenty thousand infants, that cannot distinguish between their right hand and their left, and much cattle?"

THE BOOK OF MICAH

THE SUPERScription, 1:1

- 1 The word of the LORD which came to Micah, the Morashtite, in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he prophesied against Samaria and Jerusalem.

THE DOWNFALL OF ISRAEL, 1:2-9

- 2 Hear, O peoples, all of you!
Give heed, O earth, and everything in it!
And let the Lord GOD be a witness against you,
The Lord from his holy temple.
- 3 For, lo, the LORD is coming forth from his place;
And he will descend and tread upon the heights of the earth;
4 And the mountains shall melt under him,
And the valleys be cloven asunder,
Like wax before the fire,
Like waters poured down a precipice.
- 5 For the transgression of Jacob is all this,
And for the sin of the house of Judah.
What is Jacob's transgression?
Is it not Samaria?
And what is Judah's sin?
Is it not Jerusalem?
- 6 So I will turn Samaria into a ruin of the field,
Into a planted vineyard.
And I will pour down her stones into the valley,
And lay bare her foundations.
- 7 All her carved images shall be smashed to pieces;
And all her images shall be burned with fire;
And all her idols I will lay waste.
For from the harlot's hire they were gathered,
And unto the harlot's hire they shall return.

8 For this let me lament and wail;
 Let me go barefoot and stripped.
 Let me make lamentation like the jackals,
 And mourning like the ostriches.

9 For her stroke is incurable;
 For it has come even to Judah;
 It reaches the gate of my people,
 Even to Jerusalem.

A DIRGE FOR ISRAEL, 1:10-16

10 Tell it not in Gath!
 Weep bitterly in Bethel;
 Roll yourselves in dust.
 11 They sound the trumpet abroad for you,
 O inhabitant of Shaphir.
 From her city she comes not forth,
 The inhabitant of Zaanān.
 Beth-ezel is taken from its foundations,
 From the site where it stood.
 12 How can she hope for good,
 The inhabitant of Maroth?
 For disaster will come down from the LORD,
 To the gate of Jerusalem.
 13 Harness the steed to the chariot,
 O inhabitant of Lachish;
 (The beginning of sin was she
 To the daughter of Zion.)
 For in you are found
 The transgressions of Israel.
 14 Therefore you shall give parting gifts
 To Moresheth Gath.
 Beth Achzib has become a snare
 To the kings of Israel.
 15 I will again bring the conqueror to you,
 O inhabitant of Mareshah.
 Unto Adullam shall come
 The glory of Israel.
 16 Make yourself bald, tear out your hair,
 For the children you delight in;

Enlarge your baldness like the eagle's,
For they will go into exile from you.

RICH OPPRESSORS SHALL BE OPPRESSED, 2:1-11

- 2 Woe to them who devise wrong,
And work out wickedness upon their beds.
In the morning light they do it,
Because it is in their power.
- 2 They covet fields and seize them,
And houses, and carry them off.
So they crush a yeoman and his house,
A man and his possessions.
- 3 Therefore, thus says the LORD,
"Behold, I am planning disaster against this family,
Which you will be unable to remove from your necks,
Nor will you be able to walk erect;
For it will be a disastrous time."
- 4 In that day a taunt-song shall be sung over you,
And a lamentation shall be wailed, as follows:
"The possession of my people is parcelled out,
With none to restore it;
To our captors our soil is allotted;
We are utterly ruined."
- 5 Therefore, you shall have no one stretching the line,
Or casting the lot, in the assembly of the LORD.
- 6 "Do not keep on harping," they harp;
"One should not be harping upon such things;
Shame will not overtake us,"
- 7 Says the house of Jacob.
"Is the LORD's spirit impatient,
Or are such things his deeds?
Do not his words mean good
To his people Israel?"
- 8 But you are my people's foe;
You rise against those who are at peace.
You strip off from those who pass through in confidence
Spoils of war.
- 9 The women of my people you expel

From their comfortable homes.
 From their children you take away
 My glory forever.

- 10 Arise, and go!
 For this is not your resting place!
 For the sake of a mere trifle,
 You take a heavy mortgage.
- 11 If a man, walking in a false spirit, should lie,
 "I will prophesy to you of wine and strong drink,"
 He would be this people's prophet!

A WORD OF PROMISE, 2:12, 13

- 12 I will completely assemble Jacob, all of him;
 I will fully gather the remnant of Israel.
 Moreover, I will make them like a flock of Bozrah,
 Like a herd in the midst of the pasture;
 And they shall go forth from Edom.
- 13 The breaker shall go up before them;
 They shall break through the gate and go forth thereby;
 Their king shall pass on before them,
 With the LORD at their head.

THE DOWNFALL OF PROPHETS, PRIESTS AND PRINCES, 3:1-12

- 3 And I said,
 "Hear now, you heads of Jacob,
 And rulers of the house of Israel,
 Is it not your place to know justice,
 2 You who hate the good, and love wickedness,
 Snatching their skin from upon them,
 And their flesh from upon their bones?"
- 3 They eat the flesh of my people,
 And strip them of their flesh,
 And lay bare their bones and break them,
 Like meat in the pot and flesh within the cauldron."
- 4 Then shall they cry unto the LORD,
 And he will not answer them,
 But will hide his face from them, at that time,
 Inasmuch as they have done wicked deeds.

- 5 Thus has the LORD said,
 Regarding the prophets who lead my people astray,
 Who preach prosperity when their mouth is filled;
 But if one does not put something in their mouths,
 They declare war against him!
- 6 "Therefore, it shall be night for you, without vision,
 And darkness for you, without divination.
 For the sun shall set upon the prophets,
 And the day shall become dark over them.
- 7 "The seers shall be abashed,
 And the diviners shall blush;
 And they shall all cover the upper lip,
 Because there is no answer from God."
- 8 But I am full of power,
 The spirit of the LORD, justice, and strength,
 To declare to Jacob his crimes,
 And to Israel his sins.
- 9 Hear this, now, you heads of the house of Jacob,
 And rulers of the house of Israel,
 Who abhor justice,
 And distort everything that is right;
- 10 Who build Zion with blood,
 And Jerusalem with guilt.
- 11 Her chiefs pronounce judgment for a bribe,
 And her priests declare oracles for hire,
 And her prophets divine for cash.
 Yet they lean upon the LORD, saying,
 "Is not the LORD in the midst of us?
 No misfortune can befall us."
- 12 Therefore, because of you,
 Zion shall be plowed like a field,
 And Jerusalem shall become a ruin,
 And the temple hill a high place in a forest.

THE GOLDEN AGE, 4:1-5

- 4 It shall come to pass in the coming days,
 That the mountain of the house of the LORD will be

- Established as the highest mountain,
And elevated above the hills.
Peoples will flow unto it,
2 And many nations will come, saying,
“Come, let us go up to the mount of the LORD,
And to the house of the God of Jacob;
That he may teach us of his ways,
So that we may walk in his paths.”
For from Zion shall the law go forth,
And the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.
- 3 And he shall judge between many peoples,
And arbitrate for great nations, at a distance.
And they will beat their swords into plowshares,
And their spears into pruning-hooks.
Nation shall not lift up sword against nation,
Nor shall they learn war any more.
- 4 And they shall sit each one under his vine,
And under his fig tree, with none to alarm them.
For the mouth of the LORD of hosts has spoken.
- 5 For all the peoples walk,
Each in the name of his god;
But we will walk in the name of the LORD,
Our God, forever and ever.

EXILE AND RESTORATION, 4:6-10

- 6 “In that day,” it is the oracle of the LORD,
“I will gather the lame,
And assemble the outcast,
And her whom I have afflicted.
7 And I will make the lame a remnant;
And the sick, a strong nation.
And the LORD shall rule over them in Mount Zion,
From now on and forever.
- 8 And you, O tower of the flock,
Height of the daughter of Zion,
To you shall come the former dominion,
And there shall come the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.

- 9 Wherefore, now, do you cry so loud?
Is there no king among you?
Or, has your counsellor perished,
That agony has laid hold of you like a woman in travail?
- 10 Writhe and bring forth,
O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail;
For soon you must go forth from the city,
And dwell in the field,
And go to Babylon.
There you shall be rescued;
There the LORD will ransom you,
From the power of your foes.

THE DOWNFALL OF THE NATIONS, 4:11-14

- 11 Soon there shall be gathered against you
Many nations, saying, 'Let her be desecrated,
And let our eyes fasten upon Zion.'
- 12 But they know not the purposes of the LORD,
Nor do they understand his plan,
That he has gathered them like grain to the threshing-floor.
- 13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion;
For I will make your horn iron,
And your hoofs will I make bronze.
You shall crush many peoples,
And devote their spoil to the LORD,
And their wealth to the Lord of all the earth.
- 14 Now you will cut yourselves deeply;
They will lay siege against us;
With the rod they will strike upon the cheek,
The ruler of Israel.

THE MESSIANIC KING, 5:1-3

- 5 And you, O Bethlehem Ephrathah,
Too little to be among the clans of Judah,
From you, one shall come forth for me,
Who shall be ruler over Israel,
Whose origins are from of old,
From ancient days.

- 2 Therefore he will give them up
 Until the time when she who is with child shall have borne;
 And the rest of his brothers shall return to the Israelites.
- 3 But he shall stand fast and feed his flock in the strength of the
 LORD,
 In the majesty of the name of the LORD, his God.
 And they shall endure;
 For now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

ISRAEL'S PROTECTORS AGAINST INVASION, 5:4, 5

- 4 And this shall be our protection from Assyria:
 When he comes into our land,
 And treads upon our soil,
 Then we will raise up against him seven shepherds
 And eight princes of men;
- 5 And they shall shepherd the land of Assyria with the sword,
 And the land of Nimrod with the drawn sword;
 And they shall rescue us from Assyria
 When he comes into our land,
 And treads upon our border.

THE DIVINE ORIGIN AND IRRESISTIBLE POWER OF THE REMNANT, 5:6-8

- 6 The remnant of Jacob shall be,
 In the midst of many peoples,
 Like the dew from the LORD,
 Like the showers upon the grass,
 Which waits not for man,
 Nor tarries for the children of men.
- And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations,
 In the midst of many peoples,
 Like the lion among the beasts of the forest,
 Like the young lion among the flocks of sheep,
 Who, if he passes through,
 Tramples and tears, with none to deliver.
- 8 Your hand shall be high above your foes,
 And all your enemies shall be cut off.

PUNITIVE PURIFICATION, 5:9-14

- 9 "It shall come to pass in that day,"
It is the oracle of the LORD,
"That I will cut off your horses from the midst of you,
And destroy your chariots.
10 And I will cut off the cities of your land,
And lay waste all your fortresses.
11 I will cut off the sorceries from your hand,
And you shall have no soothsayers.
12 And I will cut off your images
And your pillars from the midst of you;
And you shall bow down no more
To the work of your hands.
13 And I will uproot your Asherahs from the midst of you,
And destroy your cities.
14 And I will execute vengeance in anger and wrath,
Upon the nations which have not hearkened."

THE CASE OF THE LORD AGAINST ISRAEL, 6:1-5

- 6 Hear, now, what the LORD says,
"Arise, present your case before the mountains,
And let the hills hear your voice!
2 Hear, O mountains, the argument of the LORD,
And give ear, O foundations of the earth.
For the LORD has an argument with his people,
And a controversy with Israel.
3 "My people, what have I done to you?
And how have I wearied you? Answer me!
4 For I brought you up from the land of Egypt;
And delivered you from the prison house;
And I sent before you Moses,
Aaron, and Miriam.
5 "My people, remember, now, what Balak, king of Moab, planned;
And what Balaam, son of Beor, answered him,
From Shittim to Gilgal;
That you may understand the righteous deeds of the LORD."

TRUE RELIGION, 6:6-8

- 6 Wherewith shall I come before the LORD,
And bow myself before God most high?
Shall I come before him with burnt-offerings,
With calves a year old?
- 7 Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams,
With myriads of streams of oil?
Shall I give my first-born for my transgression,
The fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?
- 8 You have been told, O man, what is good:
Yet what does the LORD require of you,
But to do justice, and to love kindness,
And to walk humbly with your God?

THE CITY'S SIN AND ITS PUNISHMENT, 6:9-16

- 9 Hark! the LORD calls to the city:
(And "success" is fearing thy name!)
"Hear, O tribe, and assembly of the city:
- 12 Whose rich men are full of violence;
And her inhabitants speak falsehood;
And their tongue is deceit in their mouths.
- 10 "Can I forget the wicked treasures in the house of the wicked,
And the short measure that is accursed?
- 11 Can I treat as pure him with the wicked scales,
And with the bag of false weights?
- 13 "So I will begin to smite you,
To lay you in ruins because of your sins.
- 14 You shall eat, but not be satisfied.
You shall conceive, but not bear;
And what you may bear, I will give to the sword.
- 15 You shall sow, but not reap.
You shall trample the olives, but not anoint yourselves with oil;
And tread out the grapes, but drink no wine.
- 16 "For you have kept the decrees of Omri,
And all the doings of the house of Ahab,
And you have walked by their counsels,
So that I may give you over to ruin,

And your inhabitants to scorn.
The mockery of the peoples you shall bear."

THE MORAL COLLAPSE OF ISRAEL, 7:1-6

- 7 Woe is me! For I am become Like those that gather summer fruit,
In the gleanings of the vintage,
When there is not a cluster to eat,
Nor an early fig that my appetite craves.
- 2 The godly has perished from the land,
And there is none righteous among men.
They all lie in wait for blood;
Each one hunts his brother with a net.
- 3 They solemnly swear that bad is good;
The prince and the judge demand a bribe;
And the great man expresses his desire;
And they pervert justice.
- 4 The best of them are like a brier;
The most upright of them are like a hedge.
The day of their watchmen, their punishment, is come;
Soon shall be their havoc.
- 5 Put no confidence in a friend;
Trust not an intimate.
From her who lies in your bosom
Guard the doors of your mouth.
- 6 For the son insults his father;
The daughter rises up against her mother;
The daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.
A man's foes are the members of his own household.

THE OVERTHROW OF ISRAEL'S ENEMIES, 7:7-10

- 7 I, indeed, shall wait confidently for the LORD;
I shall hope for the God of my deliverance;
My God will hear me.
- 8 Rejoice not, O my foe, over me!
Though I have fallen, I shall arise.

Though I sit in darkness,
The LORD will be my light.

- 9 The anger of the LORD I must bear—
For I have sinned against him—
Until he shall take up my case,
And do me justice.

He will bring me forth to the light;
I shall see his vindication.

- 10 My foe shall see,
And shame shall cover her.

She that said unto me,
"Where is the LORD, your God?"
My eyes will gaze upon her;
Soon shall she be trampled upon,
Like the mud of the streets.

JERUSALEM RESTORED, 7:11-13

- 11 There shall be a day for rebuilding your walls;
In that day the frontier shall be far distant.
12 A day there shall be when unto you they will come
From Assyria even unto Egypt,
From Egypt even to the river,
From sea to sea,
And from mountain to mountain.
13 But the earth shall become a waste,
Because of its inhabitants,
On account of the fruit of their deeds.

A PRAYER FOR THE HELP OF THE LORD, 7:14-20

- 14 Shepherd thy people with thy staff,
The flock of thy inheritance,
That dwells alone, a jungle
In the midst of a garden.
May they feed in Bashan and in Gillead,
As in the days of old.
15 As in the days when thou didst come forth from the land of Egypt,
Show us wonderful things.

- 16 May the nations see, and be ashamed
 Of all their power.
 May they lay their hand upon their mouths,
 And may their ears be deaf.
- 17 May they lick the dust like the serpent,
 Like crawling things of the earth.
 May they come trembling from their dens unto the LORD, our
 God;
 May they quake and fear because of thee.
- 18 Who is a god like thee, forgiving guilt,
 And passing by transgression to the remnant of his inheritance?
 He will not hold his anger forever,
 For he delights in kindness.
- 19 He will again show us mercy,
 He will tread down our iniquities.
 Thou wilt cast into the depths of the sea,
 All their sins.
- 20 Thou wilt show faithfulness to Jacob,
 Grace toward Abraham,
 As thou hast sworn to our fathers,
 From days of old.

THE BOOK OF NAHUM

THE SUPERScription, 1:1

- 1 An oracle on Nineveh: the book of the vision of Nahum, the Elkoshite.

THE AVENGING WRATH OF THE LORD, 1:2-10

- 2 A jealous and avenging God is the LORD;
The LORD is avenging and full of wrath.
The LORD takes vengeance upon his enemies,
And lays up wrath for his foes.
- 3 The LORD is slow to anger and great in power,
And the LORD will by no means leave unpunished.
In storm and tempest is his way;
And clouds are the dust of his feet.
- 4 He rebukes the sea, and dries it up;
And all the rivers he makes dry.
Bashan and Carmel wither;
And the bud of Lebanon languishes.
- 5 The mountains quake at him,
And the hills melt.
The earth is laid waste before him,
The world with all its inhabitants.
- 6 Who can stand before his wrath?
Who can endure his hot anger?
His fury is poured out like fire;
And the rocks are burst open by him.
- 7 The LORD is good to those that wait for him,
A stronghold in the day of trouble.
He knows those that take refuge in him.
- 8 And with an overflowing flood
He will make an end of his adversaries;
And his foes he will pursue into the darkness.
- 9 What are you planning against the LORD?
For he will work unto complete destruction;
He will not take vengeance twice upon his enemies.

- 10 They are thorns cut down and dried out;
They will be consumed like dry stubble.

THREATS AND PROMISES, 1:11—2:2

- 11 Did not one go forth from you plotting evil against the LORD, Counselling rascality?
12 Thus says the LORD,
“When many days are fulfilled,
They shall be cut off and shall pass away.
I have afflicted you, but I will never again afflict you.
13 And now I will break his rod from upon you,
And burst asunder your bonds.”
14 For the LORD has given command regarding you,
“There shall be sown of your name no longer.
From the house of your gods I will cut off the graven and the molten images.
I will make your grave a disgrace.”
- 15 Behold, upon the mountains, the feet of a herald,
One proclaiming prosperity.
Celebrate your feasts, O Judah,
Fulfil your vows.
For not again will ruin pass through you;
He will be wholly cut off.
- 22 For the LORD will restore the vine of Jacob,
Likewise, the vine of Israel;
Though devastators have devastated them,
And laid waste their branches.

THE SACK OF NINEVEH, 2:1, 3—13

- 1 The shatterer has come up against you;
Keep the rampart;
Watch the road; brace your loins.
Strengthen your forces to the utmost.
- 3 The shield of his warriors is reddened.
The mighty men are clothed in scarlet,
Like the flame of torches.
They will make ready the chariot in that day;
And the chargers will prance.

- 4 The chariots will rage in the streets,
Dashing to and fro in the open spaces.
Their appearance will be like that of torches,
Darting about like lightning.
- 5 He summons his nobles; they stumble as they go.
They hasten to the wall,
And the battering ram is set up.
- 6 The gates of the rivers are opened,
And the palace melts away.
- 7 Its mistress is brought forth; she goes into captivity,
While her maidens mourn,
Moaning like the sound of doves,
Beating upon their breasts.
- 8 And Nineveh is like a pool of water,
Whose water escapes.
“Halt, halt!” they cry,
But no one turns back.
- 9 “Plunder silver, plunder gold;
For there is no end to the equipment,
An abundance of all sorts of valuable articles.”
- 10 There is emptiness, and desolation, and waste,
And a melting heart and trembling knees;
And anguish is in all loins,
And the faces of all of them become livid.
- 11 Where is the den of the lions,
And the cave of the young lions,
Whither the lion went bringing in spoil,
The lion’s cub, with none to disturb?
- 12 Where the lion tore enough prey for his cubs,
And rended for his lionesses,
Filling his den with prey,
And his lair with booty?
- 13 “Behold, I am against you”;
It is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.
“And I will burn up your chariots with smoke,
And the sword shall devour your young lions,
And I will cut off your prey from the land,
And the voice of your messengers shall be heard no more.”

THE IMMINENT AND INEVITABLE END, 3:1-19

- 3 Oh city, bloody throughout,
Full of lies and booty!
Prey ceases not.
- 2 The crack of the whip, and the noise of the rumbling wheel;
And the galloping horse, and the jolting chariot.
- 3 The charging horseman, and the flashing sword,
And the glittering spear, and a multitude of slain,
And a mass of bodies, and no end to the corpses!
They stumble over the corpses!
- 4 Because of the many harlotries of a harlot
Of goodly favor and a mistress of spells,
Who sells nations by her harlotries,
And clans by her spells.
- 5 "Behold, I am against you";
It is the oracle of the LORD of hosts,
"And I will strip off your skirts to your face,
And I will show nations your nakedness,
And kingdoms your shame.
- 6 And I will throw vile things at you,
And treat you with contempt, and make you a horror;
7 So that everyone that sees you will flee from you,
Saying, 'Nineveh is destroyed;
Who will mourn for her?
Whence can I seek comforters for her?'
- 8 "Are you any better than Thebes,
That sat by the great Nile,
(Water was around her)
Whose rampart was the sea,
Whose wall was water?
- 9 Ethiopia was her strength, and Egypt,
And there was no end.
Put and the Libyans were her help.
- 10 Yet even she became an exile;
She went into captivity.
Even her children were dashed in pieces at the head of every street;

And upon her honored ones they cast lots,
And all her great men were bound in chains.

- 11 "You too shall reel and swoon;
You too shall seek refuge from the foe.
- 12 All your fortresses shall be fig trees with the first ripe figs,
If they be shaken they fall into the mouth of the eater.
- 13 Behold your people shall be but women in the midst of you;
To your foes the gates of your land will be opened wide.
Fire will devour your barriers.
- 14 "Draw yourself waters for the siege; strengthen your forts.
Plunge into the mud; and trample the clay;
Lay hold of the brick-mold!
- 15 But there fire shall devour you,
The sword shall cut you off.
It shall devour you as the locust does.
Multiply yourselves like the locust;
Multiply yourselves like the locust-swarm.
- 16 "Increase your merchants more than the stars of the heavens!
(Locusts spread the wing and fly away!)
- 17 Your watchers are like locust-swarms;
Your scribes like clouds of locusts,
That settle in the hedges in the cool of the day.
When the sun arises, they flee;
And their location is unknown.
- 18 "Your shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria;
Your nobles sleep!
Your people are scattered upon the hilltops,
With none to gather them.
- 19 There is no healing for your wound;
Your hurt is incurable.
Everyone who shall hear the news about you,
Will clap his hands over you.
For against whom has your malice not continually gone forth?"

THE BOOK OF HABAKKUK

THE SUPERScription, 1:1

- 1 The message which Habakkuk, the prophet, prophesied.

THE PROPHET'S PROBLEM AND ITS ANSWER, 1:2—2:20

- 2 How long, O LORD, must I cry for help,
And thou not hear?
And call out to thee, "Violence,"
And thou not save?
- 3 Wherefore dost thou show me wrongdoing,
And make me look upon trouble?
Destruction and violence are before me,
And there is strife, and opposition arises.
- 4 Therefore the law is paralyzed,
And judgment never goes forth.
But the wicked circumvent the innocent;
And so judgment goes forth perverted.
- 5 "Look out upon the nations and see,
And be utterly amazed!
For a deed is being done in your days
That you would not believe, were it told you.
- 6 For behold I am raising up the Chaldeans,
That savage and impetuous nation,
That marches through the breadth of the earth,
To seize habitations that are not his own.
- 7 "Terrible and dreadful is he;
Judgment and destruction go forth from him.
- 8 Swifter than leopards are his horses,
And keener than wolves of the desert.
His horses prance;
And his horsemen come from afar.
They swoop down like a vulture hasting to devour.
- 9 "Wholly for violence does he come;
Terror marches before him;

- And he gathers up captives like sand.
10 He makes scorn of kings;
And rulers are a joke to him!
He laughs at all fortresses;
And heaps up dirt and captures them.
11 Then he changes like the wind and passes on.
And he makes strength his god.”
- 12 Art not thou from of old,
O LORD, my holy God?
Thou diest not!
O LORD, thou hast made him for judgment!
And thou, O Rock, hast established him for chastisement!
13 Too pure of eyes art thou to look upon wickedness,
And thou canst not gaze upon wrongdoing.
Wherefore then dost thou gaze upon faithless men,
And keep silent when the wicked swallows up
Him that is more righteous than himself?
14 For thou makest men like fish of the sea,
Like crawling things, with no ruler.
- 15 He brings them all up with the hook,
He drags them away with his net,
And he gathers them up in his seine.
So he rejoices and exults;
16 So he sacrifices to his net,
And makes offerings to his seine;
For through them his portion is fat,
And his food is abundant.
- 17 Shall he keep on emptying his net forever,
And never cease slaying the nations?
- 2 I will take my stand upon my watch-tower,
And station myself upon the rampart;
And watch to see what he will say to me,
And what answer he will make to my complaint.
2 Then the LORD answered me, saying,
“Write the vision clearly upon the tablets,
That one may read it on the run.
3 For the vision is a witness for the appointed time,
And speaks of the end, and does not lie.

If it tarry wait for it;
For it will surely come without delay.

4 "Verily, the wicked man—I take no pleasure in him;
But the righteous lives by reason of his faithfulness.

5 How much less shall the faithless man live,
And the arrogant man who is restless,
Who enlarges his appetite like Sheol,
And is as insatiable as death;
For he gathers to himself all nations,
And assembles to himself all peoples.

6 "Shall not all these take up a taunt-song against him,
And a sharp satire against him, saying,
'Woe to him who enriches himself with what is not his own,—
How long?—and loads himself with debts!'
7 Will not your creditors rise up suddenly,
And those awake who will make you quake?
And you will become spoil for them.
8 Because you have spoiled many nations,
All the rest of the peoples shall spoil you;
Because of human bloodshed, and the violence done to the land,
The city and all that dwelt therein."

9 Woe to him who acquires unjust gain for his household, Setting his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the power of disaster.

10 You have devised disgrace for your household,
By cutting off many peoples; so forfeiting your life.
11 For the stone from the wall cries out,
And the beam from the woodwork answers it.

12 Woe to him who builds a city by bloodshed,
And establishes a town by wrong.

13 Are not these things from the LORD of hosts,
That peoples exhaust themselves for the fire,
And nations wear themselves out for naught?

14 But the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of
the LORD,
As the waters cover the sea.

- 15 Woe to him who makes his friend drink
From the cup and the wineskin, till he makes him drunk,
So as to gaze upon his shame!
- 16 You shall be sated with shame rather than honor.
Drink yourself and be disgraced!
The cup of the right hand of the LORD shall come round to you,
And disgrace upon your glory.
- 17 For the violence done to Lebanon shall cover you;
And the destruction wrought upon Hamath shall terrify you;
Because of human bloodshed, and the violence done to the land,
The city and all that dwelt therein.
- 18 Of what use is an idol when its designer has designed it,
Or a molten image, and a teacher of lies?
For he who designed his own image trusts in it,
So that he makes dumb nonentities!
- 19 Woe to him who says to wood, "Wake up,"
To a dumb stone, "Arise."
Can it give oracles?
It, indeed, is encased with gold and silver;
And there is no breath within it!
- 20 But the LORD is in his holy temple;
Be silent before him, all the earth!

A PSALM, 3:1-19

- 3 A prayer of Habakkuk, the prophet, upon Shigionoth.
- 2 O LORD, I have heard the report of thee;
I have seen thy work, O LORD.
In the midst of the years, declare it!
In the midst of the years, make it known!
In wrath, remember to be merciful!
- 3 God went forth from Teman,
And the Holy One from Mount Paran. Selah
His glory covered the heavens,
And his praise filled the earth.
- 4 A brilliance like light was under him;
Rays of light were at his side;
And he made them the veil of his majesty.

- 5 Before him went the pestilence,
And the plague ran at his heels.
- 6 He stood firm, and shook the earth;
He looked, and made the nations quake.
And the everlasting mountains were shattered,
And the ancient hills bowed low.
Such were his ways of old.
- 7 The tent-hangings of Cushan were torn to shreds;
The hangings of the land of Midian fluttered wildly.
- 8 Did thine anger burn against the rivers, O LORD,
Or against the mountains,
Or thy rage against the sea,
When thou didst ride upon thy steeds,
Upon thy victorious chariots?
- 9 Thou didst wholly uncover thy bow;
Thou didst fill thy quiver full of arrows.
Thou didst split the earth with rivers;
- 10 The mountains saw thee; they writhed with pain.
The clouds poured down water.
The abyss uttered its voice.
The sun forgot his appointments,
- 11 The moon stood still in its dwelling,
At the light of thine arrows as they flew,
At the glittering flash of thy spear.
- 12 Thou didst bestride the earth in fury;
Thou didst trample the nations in anger.
- 13 Thou didst go forth to deliver thy people,
To deliver thine anointed.
Thou didst smite the head from the house of the wicked,
Laying bare the foundation even to the rock. Selah
- 14 Thou didst pierce his head with thine arrows;
His chargers were routed.
(The violent set nets so as to devour the lowly in secret.)
- 15 Thou didst tread the sea with thy horses,
The turmoil of great waters.
- 16 I have heard and my body trembles;
My lips quiver at the sound.

Decay enters my bones;
And my steps totter beneath me.
I will wait for the day of trouble
To come upon the people that oppresses us.

- 17 Though the fig tree do not flourish,
And there be no fruit on the vines;
Though the product of the olive fail,
And the fields yield no food;
Though the flock be cut off from the fold,
And there be no cattle in the stalls;
18 Yet I will exult in the LORD;
I will rejoice in my victorious God!
19 GOD, the Lord, is my strength;
And he makes my feet like the feet of hinds,
And makes me walk upon my heights.

[FOR THE DIRECTOR. ON MY STRINGED INSTRUMENTS]

THE BOOK OF ZEPHANIAH

THE SUPERScription, 1:1

- 1 The word of the LORD which came to Zephaniah, the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah, the son of Amon, king of Judah.

A DAY OF DOOM UPON THE WORLD, 1:2-6

- 2 "I will utterly sweep away everything
From upon the face of the ground"; it is the oracle of the LORD.
- 3 "I will sweep away man and beast;
I will sweep away the fowl of the heavens, and the fish of the sea.
And I will cause the wicked to stumble,
And I will cut off mankind from upon the face of the ground."
It is the oracle of the LORD.
- 4 "And I will stretch out my hand against Judah,
And against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
And from this place I will cut off Baal to the last remnant;
The name of the priestlings, with the priests;
- 5 And those who prostrate themselves upon the roofs
To the host of the heavens;
And those who prostrate themselves before the LORD
And swear by Milcom;
- 6 And those who have withdrawn from following the LORD,
And those who have not sought the LORD,
Nor inquired after him."

THE TERRORS OF THE DAY OF THE LORD, 1:7-18

- 7 Silence before the Lord God,
For the day of the LORD is near at hand!
For the LORD has prepared a sacrifice,
He has sanctified his guests!
- 8 It shall come to pass in the day of the sacrifice of the LORD,
That I will punish the princes and the king's sons,

- And everyone that clothes himself in foreign garments.
9 And I will punish everyone that leaps over the threshold in that day,
Those filling their master's house with violence and deceit.
- 10 "It shall come to pass in that day," it is the oracle of the LORD,
"That a voice will cry from the Fish-Gate,
And will utter a wail from the New Town;
And there will be a great crash from the hills.
- 11 Wail, O inhabitants of the Mortar!
For all the people of Canaan shall be ruined;
All who weigh out silver shall be cut off.
- 12 "At that time I will search Jerusalem with lamps,
And will punish those who are at ease,
Thickened upon their lees, who say to themselves,
'The LORD does neither good, nor bad.'
- 13 And their property shall become a ruin,
And their houses a desolation.
And they shall build houses, but not inhabit them;
And plant vineyards, but not drink their wine."
- 14 Near at hand is the great day of the LORD;
Near and speeding fast!
Near at hand is the bitter day of the LORD.
Then the warrior will cry in terror!
- 15 A day of wrath is that day;
A day of trouble and distress,
A day of desolation and waste,
A day of darkness and gloom,
A day of cloud and thundercloud;
- 16 A day of the trumpet and battle-cry,
Against the fortified cities,
And against the lofty battlements.
- 17 "And I will bring trouble upon mankind so that they shall walk like blind men";
Because they have sinned against the LORD.
And their blood shall be poured out like dust,
And their flesh like dung.
- 18 Neither their silver nor their gold

Will be able to rescue them.
 In the day of the wrath of the LORD, and in the fire of his zeal,
 All the earth shall be consumed;
 For a complete destruction, indeed a frightful one, will he make
 Of all the inhabitants of the earth.

THE DAY OF DOOM UPON PHILISTIA, 2:1-7

- 2 Gather yourselves in crowds,
 O nation without shame;
 2 Before you move far off,
 Like the chaff which passes away;
 Before there come upon you,
 The hot wrath of the LORD;
 Before there come upon you,
 The day of the anger of the LORD!
- 3 Seek the LORD, all you meek of the earth,
 Who do his will.
 Seek righteousness, seek humility;
 Perhaps you may be hidden in the day of the anger of the LORD.
- 4 For Gaza shall be deserted,
 And Askelon a waste.
 Ashdod—at noon they shall expel her,
 And Ekron shall be uprooted.
- 5 Woe to those who dwell by the sea-coast,
 The nation of the Cherethites!
 The word of the LORD is against you,
 O Canaan, land of the Philistines!
 And I will destroy you so that there shall be no inhabitant.
- 6 And the sea-coast shall become pastures (with cisterns) for shepherds,
 And folds for flocks;
 7 (And the sea-coast will belong to the remnant of the house of Judah.)
 By the sea shall they feed;
 In the houses of Askelon at evening shall they lie down.
 For the LORD, their God, shall visit them,
 And restore their fortune.

VENGEANCE UPON MOAB AND AMMON, 2:8-11

- 8 "I have heard the taunts of Moab,
And the revilings of the Ammonites,
Wherewith they have taunted my people,
And vaunted themselves against their territory.
- 9 Therefore, as I live," it is the oracle of the LORD of hosts,
The God of Israel,
"Moab shall become like Sodom,
And the Ammonites like Gomorrah;
A land overrun by weeds and salt-pits,
And a desolation forever.
The remnant of my people shall prey upon them,
And the survivors of my nation shall possess them."
- 10 This shall be their lot in return for their arrogance,
Because they taunted and vaunted themselves
Against the people of the LORD of hosts.
- 11 The LORD will be terrible against them;
For he will famish all the gods of the earth,
So that there shall bow down to him, each from its place,
All the shores of the nations.

DOOM UPON ETHIOPIA AND ASSYRIA, 2:12-15

- 12 You, too, O Ethiopians,
Shall be slain by my sword!
- 13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north,
And destroy Assyria.
And he will make Nineveh a desolation,
A drought like the desert.
- 14 And herds shall lie down in the midst of her,
Every beast of the field.
Both screech owl and porcupine
Shall lodge in her capitals.
The owl shall hoot in the window,
The bustard on the threshold.
For I will destroy her city.
- 15 This is the exultant city,
That dwelt in security!
That said to itself,
"I am, and there is none else."

How has she become a ruin,
 A lair for wild beasts.
 Everyone that passes by her hisses,
 And shakes his fist!

SIN AND JUDGMENT, 3:1-7

- 3 Woe to the defiant and defiled one, the oppressing city!
 2 She has listened to no voice;
 She has accepted no correction!
 In the LORD she has not trusted;
 To her God she has not drawn near!
- 3 Her princes within her are roaring lions;
 Her judges are wolves of the night,
 Who long not for the morning.
- 4 Her prophets are reckless, treacherous men;
 Her priests profane holy things;
 They do violence to the law.
- 5 The LORD is righteous within her;
 He will do no wrong.
 Every morning he brings his judgment to light;
 He does not fail.
 But the wicked knows no shame.
- 6 I have cut off nations; their battlements are destroyed.
 I have made their streets desolate, with none passing by.
 Their cities have been laid waste, without a man, without an inhabitant.
- 7 I said, "Surely she will fear me; she will accept correction;
 And there shall not be cut off from her sight,
 Anything which I have laid upon her.
 But they have zealously made
 All their doings corrupt."

JERUSALEM DELIVERED, 3:8-13

- 8 "Therefore, wait for me," it is the oracle of the LORD,
 "For the day when I arise as a witness.
 For it is my decision to gather nations,
 To assemble kingdoms,

- That I may pour out my wrath upon them,
All the heat of my anger.
For in the fire of my zeal,
All the earth shall be consumed.
- 9 "For then I will turn unto the peoples,
A purified speech;
So that all of them may call upon the name of the LORD,
And serve him unanimously.
- 10 From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia, to the farthest regions of the north,
They shall bring offerings to me.
- 11 "In that day you shall not be put to shame
By any of your deeds wherein you have rebelled against me.
For then I will remove from the midst of you
Your proudly exulting ones;
And you shall no more be haughty
In my holy mountain;
- 12 For I will leave in the midst of you
A people humble and poor.
- 13 "And in the name of the LORD shall they seek refuge,—
The remnant of Israel.
They shall do no wrong,
Nor shall they tell lies.
Nor shall there be found in their mouth
A deceitful tongue.
For they shall feed and lie down,
With none to disturb them."
- ISRAEL'S WORLD-WIDE RENOWN, 3:14-20
- 14 Cry aloud, O daughter of Zion;
Shout, O Israel!
Be glad and rejoice with your whole heart,
O daughter of Jerusalem!
- 15 The LORD has routed your opponents,
He has removed your foes.
The king of Israel, the LORD, is in the midst of you;
You shall see disaster no more.

- 16 In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, "Fear not, O Zion;
Let not your hands relax.
- 17 The LORD, your God, is in the midst of you,
A victorious warrior.
He will rejoice over you with gladness,
He will renew you in his love.
He will exult over you with a shout,
As in the days of a festival.
- "I will gather up those that smite you,
And those bringing reproach upon you.
- 19 Lo, I will deal with all your oppressors
At that time.
And I will deliver the lame,
And gather the outcast.
And I will make them a praise and renown
In all the earth.
- 20 "At that time I will bring you,
And at that time I will gather you;
For I will make you a praise and renown
Among all the peoples of the earth;
When I turn your captivity before your eyes,"
Says the LORD.

THE BOOK OF HAGGAI

THE BEGINNING OF THE REBUILDING OF THE TEMPLE, 1:1-15a

- 1 In the second year of Darius, the king, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came through Haggai, the prophet, to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the chief priest, saying:
- 2 "Thus says the LORD of hosts, namely, "This people say, "The time has not yet come to rebuild the house of the LORD." "
- 3 The word of the LORD came through Haggai, the prophet, saying,
- 4 "Is it a time for you yourselves to live in your panelled houses, while this house lies waste?"
- 5 "But now," thus says the LORD of hosts, "Give thought to your
- 6 ways. You have sown much, but reaped little; you have eaten, but not to repletion; you have drunk, but not your fill; you have put on clothes, but there was no warmth in them; and he who earned wages put it into a bag with a hole in it."
- 7 Thus says the LORD of hosts,
- 8 "Give thought to your ways. Go up to the hills, and fetch lumber, and rebuild the house, that I may be pleased with it and be honored"; says the LORD. "You expected much, and it was but little; and you brought it home, and I blew it away! For what reason?" It is the oracle of the LORD of hosts. "Because of my house which lies waste,
- 10 while you yourselves run each one to his own house. Therefore, the
- 11 heavens above you withhold their dew, and the earth withholds its increase. For I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the hills, upon the corn and the wine and the oil, and upon everything that the ground yields; and upon man and beast, and every product of labor."
- 12 So Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the chief priest, and all the remnant of the people, listened to the voice of the LORD, their God, and to the words of the prophet Haggai, inasmuch as the LORD, their God, had sent him; and the people
- 13 were afraid because of the LORD. Whereupon, Haggai, the messenger of the LORD, with the message of the LORD to the people, spoke, saying,

“I am with you’; it is the oracle of the LORD.”

- 14 So the LORD aroused the spirit of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the chief priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, so 15^a that they came and went to work upon the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, on the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month.

WORDS OF ENCOURAGEMENT TO THE BUILDERS, 1:15^b—2:9

- 15^b2 In the second year of Darius, the king, in the seventh month, on the twenty-first day of the month, the word of the LORD came through Haggai, the prophet, saying,
2 “Say, now, to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the governor of Judah, and to Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the chief priest, and to the remnant of this people, thus:
3 ‘Who is there left among you that saw this house in its ancient
4 splendor? And how it looks to you now! Does it not seem to you like nothing at all? But now, be strong, O Zerubbabel,’ it is the oracle of the LORD, ‘and be strong, O Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the chief priest, and be strong, all the people of the land,’ it is the oracle
5 of the LORD, ‘and work; for I am with you,’ says the LORD of hosts; ‘it is the promise I made you when you came forth from Egypt; and my spirit is standing in the midst of you; fear not.’”
6 For thus says the LORD of hosts,
“Yet a little while, and I will shake the heavens and the earth,
7 the sea and the dry land. And I will shake all the nations, and the treasures of all the nations shall come in, and I will fill this house
8 with splendor”; says the LORD of hosts. “Mine is the silver and mine
9 is the gold,” says the LORD of hosts. “The future splendor of this house shall be greater than the past,” says the LORD of hosts; “and upon this place I will bestow prosperity.” It is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.

PROMISES OF AN IMMEDIATE CHANGE FOR THE BETTER, 2:10—23

- 10 On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came through Haggai, the prophet, as follows, 11 “Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘Ask the priests, now, for a deci-12 sion, saying, “If a man carrying holy flesh in the skirt of his clothing touch with his skirt bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any kind of food, will it become holy?”’”

And the priests answered, saying, "No!"

- 13 Then said Haggai, the prophet,
"If one who is unclean through contact with a corpse touch any one of these, will it become unclean?"

And the priests replied, saying, "It will!"

- 14 Then Haggai responded, saying,
"So is this people, and so is this nation before me," it is the oracle of the LORD, "and so is all the work of their hands; and what they offer there is unclean.

- 15 "But, now, pray, give attention, from this day and henceforth. Since the time when one stone was not yet laid upon another in the temple of the LORD, how have you fared? When one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were but ten; and when one came to a wine-vat to draw off fifty measures from the wine-press, there were 16 only twenty. I smote you with blight and with mildew, and all the products of your hands with hail. And yet you did not return unto me"; it is the oracle of the LORD.

- 18 "Pray, give your attention; from this day forward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, from the day when the temple of the LORD was founded; give attention. Is the seed yet in the barn? And do the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree, still yield nothing? From this day on I will bless you."

- 20 Then the word of the LORD came a second time to Haggai, on the twenty-fourth of the month, saying,

- 21 "Say unto Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, as follows, 'I will shake the heavens and the earth. And I will overturn the throne of the kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overturn the chariot with its riders; and the horses 22 and their riders shall go down each by the sword of his fellow.' In that day," it is the oracle of the LORD of hosts, "I will take you, O Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, my servant," it is the oracle of the LORD, "and I will make you like a seal ring; for I have chosen you"; it is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.

THE BOOK OF ZECHARIAH

A LESSON FROM THE PAST, 1:1-6

1 In the eighth month in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying,

2 "The LORD was very angry at your fathers. Say to them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Return to me," it is the oracle of the LORD of hosts, "that I may return to you"; says the LORD of hosts.' Be not like your fathers, to whom the former prophets preached, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Turn now from your wicked ways and from your wicked deeds."' But they did not hearken, nor did they give heed to me"; it is the oracle of the LORD. "Your fathers— where are they? And the prophets—do they live forever? Yet did not my words and my statutes with which I charged my servants, the prophets, overtake your fathers? So they turned and said, 'Even as the LORD of hosts had purposed to do to us, in accordance with our ways and our deeds, so has he treated us.'"

A VISION OF RESTORATION, 1:7-17

7 On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month (namely, the month of Shebat), in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying,

8 "I saw by night, and there was a man riding upon a red horse, and he was standing among the myrtle trees which are in the hollow, and behind him were red, sorrel, and white horses. And I said, 'What are these, sir?' Then the angel that was talking with me said to me, 'I will show you what these are.' And the man who was standing among the myrtles answered, saying, 'These are those whom the LORD sent forth to patrol the earth.' Then they answered the angel of the LORD, who was standing among the myrtle trees, saying, 'We have patrolled the earth; and lo, the whole earth is resting peacefully.' Then the angel of the LORD spoke, saying, 'O LORD of hosts, for how long wilt thou have no mercy upon Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, with which thou hast been angry now for seventy years?'

- 13 Then the LORD answered the angel who was talking with me, with 14 gracious words, comforting words. So the angel who was talking with me said to me, 'Proclaim as follows, "Thus says the LORD of hosts, 'I am very greatly moved with reference to Jerusalem and 15 Mount Zion. And I am exceedingly angry at the easy-going nations.
For while I was angry but a little, they furthered the disaster.'
16 "Therefore," thus says the LORD,
"I will return to Jerusalem in mercy;
My house shall be rebuilt therein";
It is the oracle of the LORD of hosts;
"And a line shall be stretched over Jerusalem."
17 "Again proclaim, saying,
"Thus says the LORD of hosts,
"My cities shall again overflow with prosperity,
And the LORD will again have pity upon Zion
And again choose Jerusalem." ' ' "

A VISION OF FOUR HORNS AND THEIR DESTROYERS, 1:18-21

- 18 I raised my eyes and looked; there were four horns! Then I said 19 to the angel who was talking with me,
"What are these?"
And he said to me,
"These are the horns which dispersed Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem."
20 Then the LORD showed me four blacksmiths. And I said,
21 "What are these going to do?"
And he spoke, saying,
"Those are the horns which dispersed Judah, so that not a man raised his head; and these have come to terrify them, to cast down the horns of the nations, who lifted up the horn against the land of Judah in order to scatter it."

A VISION OF A MAN WITH A MEASURING-LINE, 2:1-5

- 2 I raised my eyes and looked, and there was a man with a measur-
2 ing-line in his hand! And I said,
"Where are you going?"
He replied to me,
"To measure Jerusalem, to see how broad and how long it should be."

3 And, lo, as the angel who was talking with me was standing still,
4 another angel came forth to meet him. And he said to him,

“Run, speak to that young man yonder, saying, ‘Jerusalem shall be inhabited like unwalled villages, because of the mass of men and
5 beasts within her.’ And I will be unto her,” it is the oracle of the LORD, “a wall of fire round about her, and I will be the splendor within her.”

A SUMMONS TO THE EXILES, 2:6-13

6 “Ho, ho, flee from the land of the north.”

It is the oracle of the LORD.

“For like the four winds of the heavens, I will make you fly.”

It is the oracle of the LORD.

7 “Ho! O Zion! Escape, O inhabitants of Babylon.”

8 For thus says the LORD of hosts (hereafter he will send me forth with honor) regarding the nations that have plundered you (he who touches you touches the apple of his eye!),

9 “Verily I will wave my hand over them, and they shall become plunder for their slaves.”

And you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me.

10 “Shout with joy, and rejoice, O daughter of Zion!

For lo, I am coming to dwell in the midst of you.”

It is the oracle of the LORD.

11 Many nations will attach themselves to the LORD, in that day;

And they will become his people,

And he will dwell in the midst of you;

And you will know that the LORD of hosts has sent me unto you.

12 And the LORD will take possession of Judah,

His portion upon the holy land;

And he will again choose Jerusalem.

13 Silence, all flesh, in the presence of the LORD!

For he arouses himself from his holy dwelling.

JOSHUA ACCUSED BY SATAN AND VINDICATED BY THE LORD,

3:1-10

3 Then he showed me Joshua, the chief priest, standing before the angel of the LORD; and the Satan was standing at his right hand in 2 order to oppose him. And the angel of the LORD said to the Satan,

"The LORD rebuke you, O Satan! May the LORD who has chosen Jerusalem rebuke you! Is not this a brand snatched from the fire?"

3 Now, Joshua was dressed in dirty clothes, as he stood before the 4 angel. So he spoke, and told those standing before him, as follows,

"Take away the dirty clothes from upon him."

Then he said to him,

"See! I have removed your guilt from upon you; and have clothed you with festal garments."

5 Then he said,

"Let them put a clean turban upon his head."

So they clothed him with clean garments while the angel of the 6 LORD stood by. Then the angel of the LORD warned Joshua thus,

7 "Thus says the LORD of hosts, 'If you will walk in my ways, and if you keep my charge, then you shall rule my house and have charge of my courts; and I will give you free access among those who stand here.'

8 "Hear now, O Joshua, the chief priest, you, and all your friends who sit in your presence, are men of good omen; for lo, I will bring 9 in my servant, the scion. For, behold the stone which I have set before Joshua; upon a single stone with seven facets I will engrave its inscription"; it is the oracle of the LORD of hosts. "And I will remove the guilt of that land in one day."

10 "In that day," it is the oracle of the LORD of hosts, "everyone of you will invite his friend under the vine and under the fig tree."

THE VISION OF THE LAMP AND THE OLIVE TREES, 4:1-14

4 Then the angel who was talking with me roused me again like a
2 man who is aroused from his sleep. Then he said to me,

"What do you see?"

And I said,

"I see, and lo a lamp stand that is all gold; and a bowl upon the top of it; and seven lights upon it, and seven pipes to the lights which are 3 upon its top. And there are two olive trees upon it, one on the right of the bowl, and one on its left."

4 And I spoke again to the angel who was talking with me, saying, "What are these, sir?"

5 So the angel who was talking with me answered me, saying,

"You do not know what these are?"

And I said,

"No, sir."

- 6^a Then he replied again, saying to me,
 10^b "These seven are the eyes of the LORD which range over the whole earth."
 11 Then I replied, saying to him,
 "What are these two olive trees, upon the right of the lampstand, and upon its left?"
 12 And I spoke a second time, and said to him,
 "What are the two olive branches which are held by the two golden pipes which empty into the golden bowl?"
 13 Then he said to me this,
 "Do you not know what these are?"
 And I said,
 "No, sir."
 14 So he said,
 "These are the two anointed ones who stand by the LORD of all the earth."

SPIRITUAL DELIVERANCE, 4:6b-10

- 6^b This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabel, saying,
 "Not by arms, nor by force, but by my spirit," says the LORD of hosts.
 7 "What are you, O great mountain?
 Before Zerubbabel, become a plain!
 And he shall bring forth the top-stone
 With shouts of 'Grace, grace, to it.'"
 8 The word of the LORD came to me thus,
 9 "The hands of Zerubbabel founded this house, and his hands shall complete it."
 So you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me unto you.
 10 For who has despised a day of small things? They shall rejoice when they see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel.

VISIONS OF THE FLYING ROLL AND THE WOMAN IN THE MEASURE, 5:1-11

- 5 I raised my eyes again and looked, and there was a flying roll'
 2 He said to me,
 "What do you see?"
 I answered,

"I see a flying roll, the length of which is twenty cubits and its width ten cubits."

3 He also said to me,

"This is the curse that is going forth over all the surface of the land. For how long now have all thieves remained unpunished?

4 And how long now have those forsworn remained unpunished? I will send it forth," it is the oracle of the LORD of hosts, "and it shall enter the house of the thief and the house of him who swears falsely by my name, and it shall settle in the midst of his house and consume it with its woodwork and its stonework."

5 The angel that was talking with me went forth, and he said to me, "Raise your eyes now and see what this is that goes forth."

6 And I said,

"What is it?"

Then he said,

"This is the bushel-measure that is going forth."

He also said,

"This is their guilt throughout the earth."

7 Then a leaden lid was raised, and there sat a woman within the 8 measure! Then he said,

"This is Wickedness!"

And he pushed her down into the middle of the measure, and cast
9 the leaden weight upon its opening. Then I raised my eyes and looked, and there were two women coming out, with the wind in their wings. They had wings like those of a stork. And they lifted 10 the measure up between the earth and the sky. Then I said to the angel that was talking with me,

"Where are they taking the measure?"

11 And he answered me,

"To build a house for it in the land of Shinar. And when it is erected, they will set it down there upon its base."

THE VISION OF THE FOUR CHARIOTS, 6:1-8

6 I raised my eyes again, and looked; and there were four chariots coming out from between the two mountains; and the mountains
2 were mountains of copper. In the first chariot, there were bay horses; 3 in the second, black horses; in the third, white horses; and in the 4 fourth, dappled horses. So I said again to the angel that was talking with me,

“What are these, sir?”

5 The angel answered me, saying,

“These are for the four winds of the heavens that are going out 6 after standing before the LORD of all the earth. That wherein are the black horses will go to the north-land; the white will go to the 7 west; the dappled will go to the south-land; and the bays will go to the land of the east.”

They were striving to go to patrol the earth. So he said,

“Go, patrol the earth.”

8 So they patrolled the earth. Then he called me, and spoke to me saying,

“Look at those going forth to the north-land; they will give rest to the spirit of the LORD in the north-land.”

THE CORONATION OF ZERUBBABEL, 6:9-15

9 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

10 “Take the offering from the exiles, from Heldai, Tobiah and Jedaiah, who have come from Babylon; and do you go in on that 11 day, and enter the house of Josiah, the son of Zephaniah. And take silver and gold and make a crown and place it upon the head of Ze-12 rubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the governor. And speak to them, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, saying, “Behold a man whose name is Branch; and he shall branch forth from his place and shall 13 rebuild the temple of the LORD. And he shall rebuild the temple of the LORD; and he shall bear the honor, and shall sit and reign upon his throne. And Joshua, the priest, shall be on his right hand; and there shall be peaceful counsel between them both.”’

14 “The crown shall be for Heldai and for Tobiah and for Jedaiah and for Josiah, the son of Zephaniah, as a memorial in the temple of 15 the LORD. And those from afar shall come and rebuild the temple of the LORD, that you may know that the LORD of hosts has sent me unto you. And it shall come to pass if you hearken closely to the voice of the LORD your God. . . .”

A LESSON FROM THE PAST, 7:1-14

7 In the fourth year of Darius, the king, on the fourth day of the ninth month, in Chislev, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah.
2 Now Bethel-sar-ezer had sent Regem-melek and his men to propitiate
3 the LORD; saying to the priests that belonged to the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets thus,

“Shall I weep in the fifth month and abstain, as I have done now for many years?”

4 The word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,

5 “Speak to all the people of the land and to the priests, saying, ‘When you have fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh months now these seventy years, was it for me that you fasted so strictly? And when you eat, and when you drink, do you not yourselves eat and yourselves drink? Are not these the words which the LORD proclaimed through the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and prosperous, with her towns round about her, and the Negeb and the Shephelah were inhabited?’”

8 And the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, saying, “Thus spoke the LORD of hosts, saying, ‘Render true judgments, and practice kindness and mercy each toward his brother. Do not oppress the widow and the fatherless, the stranger and the poor; and let none of you devise in your heart wickedness against your brother.’ But they refused to give heed, and turned a stubborn shoulder, and made their ears dull so that they could not hear; and they made their minds insensate so that they could not hear the teaching and the words which the LORD of hosts sent by his spirit, through the former prophets. So there was great wrath on the part of the LORD of hosts. And as he called and they did not listen, so ‘they shall call and I will not listen,’ said the LORD of hosts. And he scattered them among all the nations that they had not known; and the land was desolate after them, so that none passed by and none returned; and they made the lovely land a ruin.”

WORDS OF PROMISE, 8:1-17

8:2 The word of the LORD of hosts is as follows; thus says the LORD of hosts:

“I have been very indignant over Zion;
I have been aroused to great wrath over her.”

3 Thus says the LORD,

“I will return to Zion
And I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem;
And Jerusalem shall be called, ‘The faithful city,’
And the mountain of the LORD of hosts, ‘The holy mountain.’”

4 Thus says the LORD of hosts,

“Aged men and women shall again dwell in the streets of Jerusalem,
Each with his staff in his hand by reason of his great age;

- 5 And the streets of the city shall be filled
With boys and girls, playing in its streets.”
- 6 Thus says the LORD of hosts,
“If it seem incredible in the sight of the remnant of this people in those days,
In my sight also will it seem incredible?”
It is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.
- 7 Thus says the LORD of hosts,
“Behold I am going to deliver my people
From the land of the rising, and the land of the setting sun.
- 8 And I will bring them in, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem.
And they shall be my people, and I will be their God,
In faithfulness and righteousness.”
- 9 Thus says the LORD of hosts,
“Let your hands be strong, you who are listening in these days to these words from the mouth of the prophets that were on the day when the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts, the temple, 10 was laid that it might be built. For before those days there was no wages for man or beast; nor was there safety from the foe either for him who went out or for him who came in; for I had sent forth 11 every man, each against his fellow. But now, I am not as in the former days toward the remnant of this people”; it is the oracle of the 12 LORD of hosts. “For I will sow prosperity; the vine shall yield its fruit, and the land shall yield its increase, and the heavens shall yield their dew; and I will make the remnant of this people possess all 13 these things. And it shall come to pass that even as you have been a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, just so will I deliver you and you shall become a blessing. Fear not; let your hands be strong!”
- 14 For thus says the LORD of hosts,
“Even as I purposed to do harm to you, when your fathers angered 15 me, and I did not relent; so likewise will I purpose again in these days to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah; fear not!
- 16 “These are the things that you must do. Speak truth one with 17 another. Give true and just decisions in your courts. Let none of you devise evil in your thoughts against your friend. And do not love perjury. For all these things I loathe.” It is the oracle of the LORD.

THE WORLD-WIDE RENOWN OF THE JEWS, 8:18-23

- ¹⁸ The word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, "Thus says the ¹⁹ LORD of hosts, "The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall become for the house of Judah occasions of joy and gladness, and ²⁰ goodly festivals. So, love faithfulness and peace.' Thus says the LORD of hosts, 'Peoples shall yet come, even the citizens of many ²¹ cities. And the citizens of one city will go to another, saying, "Let us go at once to propitiate the LORD and to seek the LORD of hosts!" "I ²² certainly will go." And many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to propitiate the LORD.'
²³ Thus says the LORD of hosts, 'In those days, ten men, from nations of every language, shall lay hold of him who is a Jew, saying, "Let us go with you; for we have heard that God is with you!"' "

THE COMING DESTRUCTION OF JUDAH'S NEIGHBORS, 9:1-8

9 An Oracle.

- The word of the LORD is against the land of Hadrach,
 And Damascus will be its resting-place.
 For the cities of Syria belong to the LORD,
 As well as all the tribes of Israel;
² And Hamath, too, which borders thereon;
 Tyre and Sidon, though they be very clever.
³ But Tyre built herself a stronghold,
 And heaped up silver like dust,
 And gold like the mud of the streets.
⁴ The LORD, however, will dispossess her,
 And smite her wealth into the sea,
 And she shall be consumed by fire.
⁵ Askelon shall see and be afraid;
 Gaza too, and shall be in great anguish;
 Ekron also, because her hope has been put to shame;
 And the king shall perish from Gaza.
 Askelon shall be uninhabited;
⁶ And mongrels shall dwell in Ashdod;
 And I will cut down the pride of the Philistines.
⁷ And I will take away its blood from its mouth,
 And its hateful things from between its teeth;
 It, too, shall remain for our God,

And shall be like a family in Judah,
And Ekron shall be like the Jebusites.

- 8 Then I will encamp by my house as a guard, that none pass to and fro;
So that an oppressor shall not pass over them again.
For now have I seen with my own eyes.

THE MESSIAH AND HIS DOMINION, 9:9-17

- 9 Exult greatly, O daughter of Zion,
Shout with joy, O daughter of Jerusalem.
Lo, your king comes to you;
Vindicated and victorious is he;
Humble, and riding upon an ass,
Even upon a colt, the foal of an ass.
- 10 He shall cut off the chariot from Ephraim,
And the horse from Jerusalem;
And the bow of war shall be cut off;
And he shall command peace upon the nations.
His dominion shall be from sea to sea,
And from the river to the ends of the earth.
- 11 You, also—because of the blood of your covenant,
I will send forth your captives from the waterless pit.
- 12 Return to the stronghold, you prisoners of hope.
This very day do I announce that I will restore double to you.
- 13 For I will bend me Judah as a bow;
I will fill it with Ephraim.
And I will stir up your sons, O Zion, against your sons, O
Greece;
And I will make you like a warrior's sword.
- 14 And the LORD shall be manifested over you;
And his arrow shall go forth like lightning.
For the Lord GOD will blow the trumpet,
And will march forth amid the storms of the south.
- 15 The LORD of hosts will protect them;
And they shall devour and trample down the stone-slingers;
And they shall drink their blood like wine;
And they shall be filled, like the sacrificial basin, like the corners of the altar.

- 16 For the LORD their God will deliver them in that day;
Like a flock will he shepherd them upon his own land;
For they shall be conspicuous like the stones of a diadem.
- 17 For how good and how fair it shall be!
Grain shall make the young men flourish,
And wine the maidens.

THE TRIUMPHANT RESTORATION OF ISRAEL AND JUDAH,
10:1—11:3

- 10 "Ask rain from the LORD, in the season of the spring rains,
From the LORD who makes the lightning,
And gives them showers of rain,
To everyone grass in the field.
- 2 For the teraphim speak nonsense;
The soothsayers prophesy lies;
And the dreamers speak unrealities,
And give empty consolation.
Therefore they move on like sheep;
They roam about because there is no shepherd.
- 3 "My wrath shall blaze forth against the shepherds;
And I will punish the leaders.
For the LORD of hosts will visit his flock, the house of Judah;
And will make them like his splendid steed in battle.
- 4 From them shall come the cornerstone, from them the tent-pin,
From them the bow for war,
And from them the officers.
- 5 And they shall be like warriors trampling in the mire of the streets in battle;
And they shall fight because the LORD is with them,
And shall put to shame those riding upon horses.
- 6 "I will strengthen the house of Judah,
And deliver the house of Joseph.
And I will bring them back because I have pity on them;
And they shall be as though I had not spurned them.
For I am the LORD, their God, and I will answer them.
- 7 And Ephraim shall be like a warrior;
And their hearts shall exult as with wine.
Their children shall see and rejoice;
And their hearts shall exult in the LORD.

- 8 "I will whistle for them and gather them in;
For I will rescue them, and they shall be as numerous as ever.
- 9 Though I sowed them among the peoples,
Yet in far away places they shall remember me,
And shall rear their children and return.
- 10 For I will bring them back from the land of Egypt;
And from Assyria, I will gather them;
And to the land of Gilead and Lebanon I will bring them in,
Till there be no more room for them.
- 11 "And they shall pass over the sea of Egypt,
And he will smite the waves in the sea.
And all the depths of the Nile shall be dried up,
And the pride of Assyria shall be brought low,
And the sceptre shall depart from Egypt.
- 12 I will strengthen them in the LORD,
And they shall praise his name."
It is the oracle of the LORD.
- 11 Open your doors, O Lebanon,
That the fire may devour your cedars!
2 Wail, O cypress, for the cedar has fallen;
For the glorious ones are laid low!
Wail, O oaks of Bashan,
For the impenetrable forest has fallen!
- 3 Hark! the cry of the shepherds,
Because their glory is ruined!
Hark! the roar of the young lions,
Because the pride of the Jordan is ruined!

THE FOOLISH SHEPHERDS, 11:4-17 and 13:7-9

- 4 Thus said the LORD, my God, 5 "Become a shepherd of the flock to be slaughtered. For those who buy them slay them, and are not condemned; and those who sell them say, 'Blessed be the LORD, for I have become rich!' And their shep-6 herd has no mercy on them. For I will have no mercy any more upon the inhabitants of the land"; it is the oracle of the LORD; "for indeed I will cause men to come each into the power of his shepherd, and each into the power of his king; and they shall subdue the land,
and I will not deliver it from their power."

7 So I became a shepherd of the flock to be slaughtered for the merchants of the flock; and took for myself two rods. The one I called, Delight; and the other I called, Union. So I became shepherd of the 8 flock. (Then I destroyed the three shepherds in one month.) And 9 my wrath burned against them; and they loathed me. Then I said,
“I will not be your shepherd. What is to die, may die; what is to be lost, may be lost; and those that are left shall devour each one the flesh of her neighbor.”

10 So I took my rod, Delight, and I broke it, so breaking the contract
11 I had made with all the peoples. So it was broken in that day. Then the merchants of the flock who were watching me knew that it was 12 the word of the LORD. Then I said to them,

“If it seem good to you, pay me my wages, but if not, let it go!”

13 So they weighed out my wages, thirty pieces of silver. But the LORD said to me,

“Cast it into the treasury, that fine price at which you have been valued by them.”

So I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast it into the treasury in 14 the house of the LORD. Then I broke my second rod, Union, to signify the breaking of the brotherhood between Judah and Israel. Then the LORD said to me, 16 “Take to yourself again the tools of a foolish shepherd. For I am going to raise up in the land a shepherd; for that which is lost he will not search; that which is scattered, he will not seek; that which is wounded, he will not heal; and that which is vigorous, he will not nourish. But the flesh of the fatling he will devour, and their hoofs he will break off.

17 “Woe upon my foolish shepherd,
Who forsakes the flock!

A sword upon his arm,
And his right eye!
May his arm utterly wither,
And his right eye become wholly blind!

137 “Up, sword, against my shepherd,
And against the man, my associate!”
It is the oracle of the LORD of hosts.
“I will smite the shepherd, so that the sheep be scattered;
And I will turn my hand against the little ones.
8 And it shall come to pass in all the land,”

- It is the oracle of the LORD,
 "Two-thirds shall be cut off therein, and die,
 And one-third shall survive therein.
 9 And I will bring that third through fire,
 And I will refine them as silver is refined,
 And test them as gold is tested.
 They will, then, call upon my name,
 And I will answer them.
 I will say, 'They are my people';
 And they will say, 'The LORD is my God.' "

ASPECTS OF JUDAH'S FUTURE, 12:1-14 and 13:1-6

- 12 An oracle of the word of the LORD against Israel.

An oracle of the LORD who spread out the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth and formed the spirit of mankind within them:

- 2 "Lo, I am going to make Jerusalem an intoxicating bowl unto all the peoples around. Moreover, the cities of Judah will be under siege
 3 together with Jerusalem. And it will come to pass, in that day, that I shall make Jerusalem a heavy stone for all the peoples. All who try to lift it will hurt themselves seriously; and all the nations of the 4 earth will be gathered against it. In that day," it is the oracle of the LORD, "I will smite every horse with the staggers, and its rider with madness. But I will open the eyes of the house of Judah, while I smite all the horses of the peoples with blindness.
 5 "Then the families of Judah shall say in their hearts, 'There is strength for the occupants of Jerusalem in the LORD of hosts, their
 6 God.' In that day I will make the families of Judah like a pot of fire in the woods, and like a lighted torch among sheaves; and they shall devour upon the right hand and upon the left all the peoples around; while Jerusalem shall again be inhabited on its own site,
 7 namely, in Jerusalem. And the LORD will deliver the households of Judah first, in order that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem over Judah be not too great.
 8 "In that day, the LORD will protect the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he who stumbles among them shall be, in that day, like David; and the house of David shall be like God, like the angel of the LORD before them.
 9 "It shall come to pass, in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the 10 nations that come against Jerusalem. And I will pour out upon the house of David and upon the inhabitant of Jerusalem a spirit of favor and of prayer; and they shall look at him whom they have stabbed to death; and they shall mourn for him like the mourning for an only child, and they shall weep bitterly for him, like the bitter weeping over the first-born.

¹¹ "In that day, there shall be a great mourning in Jerusalem, like the ¹² mourning for Hadadrimmon in the plain of Megiddo. The clans shall mourn, each clan apart; the clan of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the clan of the house of Nathan apart, and their ¹³ wives apart; the clan of the house of Levi apart, and their wives
¹⁴ apart; the clan of Shimei apart, and their wives apart; all the clans that are left, each one apart, and their wives apart.

¹³ "In that day a fountain shall be opened for the house of David and for the dwellers in Jerusalem for the cleansing of sin and uncleanness. And it shall come to pass in that day," it is the oracle of the LORD of hosts, "that I will cut off the names of the idols from the land, so that they will no longer be named. I will drive away the ³ prophets and the spirit of uncleanness from the land. So it shall come to pass that if anybody still prophesies, his father and his mother who bore him will say to him, 'You shall not remain alive, for you have spoken lies in the name of the LORD.' And his father and his mother who bore him will stab him to death as he prophesies.

⁴ "It shall come to pass, in that day, that the prophets, each one, will be ashamed of his vision when he prophesies; nor will he clothe himself with a hairy mantle in order to deceive people. And he will say, 'No prophet am I! I am a tiller of the soil. The land has been my ⁶ occupation from my youth.' And when someone says to him, 'What mean these scars on your hands?' He will say, 'I was wounded in the house of my lovers.'"¹

JERUSALEM AND THE NATIONS, 14:1-21

¹⁴ Lo, a day is coming for the LORD, when your spoil will be shared in ² the midst of you. For I will gather all the nations against Jerusalem to battle, and the city shall be taken, and the houses plundered, and the women violated; and one-half of the city shall go into exile; but
³ the rest of the people shall not be cut off from the city. And the LORD shall go forth and fight against those nations, as in the day when he
⁴ fought, in the day of battle. His feet shall stand, in that day, on the mount of Olives (which is in front of Jerusalem on the east); and

¹ For 13:7-9 see pp. 1608 f.

- the mount of Olives shall be split in two from East to West by a very wide valley; and half of the mountain shall move northward, and the other half southward. And the valley of Hinnom shall be blocked, for the valley of Hinnom shall touch its side. And you shall flee, just as you fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah, king of Judah. And the LORD, your God, shall come, and all the holy ones with him.
- 6 It shall come to pass, in that day, that there shall be neither heat, 7 nor cold, nor frost. And there shall be continuous day (it is understood of the LORD!), not day and night; but there shall be light at night-time.
- 8 It shall come to pass, in that day, that living waters shall go forth from Jerusalem, half of them toward the eastern sea, and half toward 9 the western sea. Both in summer and in winter shall they be. And the LORD shall become king over all the earth. In that day, the LORD shall be one; and his name, one.
- 10 All the land shall be turned like the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon, south of Jerusalem. It, however, shall be high and be inhabited upon its site, from the gate of Benjamin unto the place of the former gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel as far as 11 the royal wine-press. And they shall live there; and there shall be no more curse; but Jerusalem shall be inhabited in security.
- 12 This shall be the kind of plague with which the LORD will plague all the peoples who made war upon Jerusalem. Their flesh he will cause to rot, as they stand upon their feet; their eyes shall rot in their sockets; and their tongues shall rot in their mouths.
- 13 So also just like this plague shall be the plague upon the horse, the mule, the camel, and the ass, and whatsoever beasts may be in those camps.
- 14 It shall come to pass in that day, that there will be a great terror from the LORD among them; and they will lay hold each of the hand of his fellow; and the hand of one will be lifted against the hand of 15 another. (Even Judah will fight against Jerusalem.) And the wealth of all the nations around shall be gathered together, gold, silver, and clothing in great abundance.
- 16 And it shall come to pass that any that are left of all the nations that went up against Jerusalem, shall go up from year to year to worship the king, the LORD of hosts, and to celebrate the feast of booths.
- 17 And it shall come to pass, that if anyone of the clans of the earth does not go up to Jerusalem to worship the king, the LORD of hosts,

- ¹⁸ there shall be no rain upon them. But if the clan of Egypt does not go up nor enter, then upon them there shall fall the plague with which the LORD will plague the nations who do not go up to celebrate the
- ¹⁹ feast of booths. This shall be the punishment of Egypt and the punishment of all the nations that go not up to celebrate the feast of booths.
- ²⁰ In that day, there shall be upon the bells of the horses, "Holy to the LORD." And the pots in the house of the LORD shall be like the
- ²¹ sacrificial bowls before the altar. And every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holy to the LORD of hosts. And all who sacrifice shall come and take of them to boil the flesh in them. And there shall no longer be a trafficker in the house of the LORD of hosts, in that day.

THE BOOK OF MALACHI

THE SUPERScription, 1:1

- 1 The oracle of the word of the LORD to Israel through Malachi.

A PROOF OF GOD'S LOVE FOR ISRAEL, 1:2-5

- 2 "I have loved you," says the LORD.
 But you say, "How hast thou loved us?"
 "Was not Esau the brother of Jacob?"
 It is the oracle of the LORD.
- 3 "Yet I loved Jacob, but Esau I hated;
 And I have made his mountains a waste,
 And his heritage, dwellings in the wilderness.
- 4 If Edom says, 'We are laid prostrate,
 But we will rebuild the ruins'";
 Thus says the LORD of hosts,
 "They may build, but I will tear down;
 And they shall be called 'the wicked region,'
 And 'the people with whom the LORD is angry perpetually.'
- 5 And your eyes shall see and you yourselves shall say,
 "The LORD is great beyond the region of Israel.' "

THE LORD HONORS THOSE WHO HONOR HIM, 1:6—2:9

- 6 "A son honors his father, and a servant his master.
 But if I be a father, where is my honor?
 And if I be a master, where is my reverence?"
 Says the LORD of hosts to you,
 O priests, who despise my name.
- 7 "But you say, 'How have we despised thy name?'
 You bring upon my altar polluted food.
 And you say, 'How have we polluted it?'
 In that you say, 'The table of the LORD is contemptible.'
- 8 "And when you bring the blind for sacrifice, is there no harm?
 And when you bring the lame and the sick, is there no harm?
 Bring it, now, to your governor, will he accept you,
 Or receive you graciously?" says the LORD of hosts.

- 9 "And now seek the favor of God that he may be gracious to us.
(From your hand has this come to be.)
Will he be gracious toward you?"
Says the LORD of hosts.
- 10 "O that there were one among you that would close the doors,
That you might not kindle my altar in vain.
I have no pleasure in you,"
Says the LORD of hosts;
"And I will accept no offering from your hands.
- 11 "For from the rising of the sun, even to its setting,
My name is great among the nations;
And in every place an offering is made, is brought near to my name,
And a pure offering.
For my name is great among the nations,"
Says the LORD of hosts;
- 12 "But you are defiling it,
In that you say, "The table of the LORD is defiled,
And his food, its product, is despicable."
- 13 "And you say, "What a weariness it is!"
And you sniff at it"; says the LORD of hosts.
"And you bring the mangled, the lame and the sick;
You bring it as an offering!
Can I accept it from your hand?"
Says the LORD.
- 14 "Cursed be the cheat, in whose flock there is a male,
And he vows it, but sacrifices a damaged thing to the LORD.
For a great king am I," says the LORD of hosts.
"And my name is feared among the nations.
- 2 "Now this command is for you, O priests,
2 If you do not hearken, nor lay it to heart,
To give honor to my name,"
Says the LORD of hosts;
"Then I will send the curse upon you,
And I will turn your blessing into a curse.
I will indeed make it a curse, because you pay no heed.

- 3 "Lo, I will rebuke the seed for you;
And I will strew dung upon your faces, the dung of your feasts;
And I will carry you away from beside me;
- 4 That you may know that I sent forth this law unto you;
Seeing that my covenant was with Levi";
Says the LORD of hosts.
- 5 "My covenant was with him;
Life and prosperity—I gave them to him,
Fear, and he feared me,
And in the presence of my name he was overawed.
- 6 True instruction was in his mouth,
And no wrong was upon his lips.
In peace and uprightness he walked with me;
And many did he turn from guilt.
- 7 "For the lips of a priest should preserve knowledge;
And instruction should they seek at his mouth.
For he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.
- 8 But you have turned aside from the way.
You have made many stumble through the instruction.
You have violated the covenant of Levi";
Says the LORD of hosts.
- 9 "So I too will make you
Despised and low before all the people;
Inasmuch as you are not keeping my ways,
But are showing partiality through the oracle."

A PROTEST AGAINST DIVORCE, 2:10-16

- 10 Have we not all one father?
Did not one God create us?
Why then do we play one another false,
By violating the covenant of our fathers?
- 11 Judah has played false, and an abominable thing
Has been done in Israel and in Jerusalem.
For Judah has profaned the sanctuary of the LORD which he loved,
And has married the daughter of an alien god.
- 12 May the LORD cut off for the man who does this,
Awaker and answerer from the tents of Jacob,

- And him who brings an offering to the LORD of hosts.
13 And this again you do:
You cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping and groaning,
Because there is no longer any looking toward the offering,
Or any receiving of favor at your hands.
- 14 And you say, "For what reason?"
Because the LORD is a witness between you,
And the wife of your youth,
Whom you have played false,
Though she is your comrade and the wife of your youth.
- 15 And not one has done this
Who had a remnant of spirituality.
And what was that one seeking,
Godly seed?
So take heed to your spiritual life,
And let nobody be faithless to the wife of his youth.
- 16 "For one who hates and divorces,"
Says the LORD God of Israel,
"Covers his clothing with violence";
Says the LORD of hosts.
"So take heed to your spiritual life, and do not be faithless."

THE NEAR APPROACH OF THE DAY OF JUDGMENT, 2:17—3:5

- 17 You have wearied the LORD with your statements.
Yet you say, "How have we wearied him?"
In that you say, "Everyone who does evil
Is good in the eyes of the LORD,
And he takes pleasure in them";
Or "Where is the God of justice?"
- 3 "Behold, I will send forth my messenger,
And he shall prepare the way before me!
And suddenly to his temple shall come
The LORD whom you are seeking!
And the messenger of the covenant in whom you delight—
Behold, he comes," says the LORD of hosts.

- 2 "And who can endure the day of his coming?
And who can stand when he appears?
For he shall be like a refiner's fire,
And like fullers' soap.
- 3 And he shall sit down as a refiner and cleanser of silver,
And shall cleanse the sons of Levi.
- "He shall purify them like gold and silver;
So that they shall become for the LORD men who bring him offerings in righteousness.
- 4 Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem will be pleasing to the LORD,
As in days of old and as in former years.
- 5 "And I will draw near to you for judgment;
And I will be a swift witness
Against the sorcerers and adulterers,
And against those who swear to falsehood,
And against those who oppress the hireling in his wages,
Also the widow and the fatherless,
And those who defraud the stranger,
And do not fear me," says the LORD of hosts.

THE PAYMENT OF TITHES WINS THE FAVOR OF GOD, 3:6-12

- 6 "Though I, the LORD, change not,
You, O sons of Jacob, are not destroyed.
- 7 From the days of your fathers you have revolted
From my statutes, and have not kept them.
Return unto me, that I may return to you";
Says the LORD of hosts.
- "But you say, 'How shall we return?'"
- 8 Should man rob God?
Yet you are robbing me!
But you say, 'How have we robbed you?'"
In the tithe, and the offering!
- 9 With a curse are you accursed;
For you are robbing me; this whole nation!
- 10 Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse
That there may be food in my house,
And test me now herein," says the LORD of hosts.

“And see if I will not open for you the windows of the heavens
And pour out for you a blessing until there is no more need.

11 “And I will rebuke the devourer for you,
So that he shall not destroy for you the products of the soil.
Nor shall the vine in the field cast its grapes for you,”
Says the LORD of hosts.

12 “And all the nations shall call you blessed,
For you shall be a land of delight,”
Says the LORD of hosts.

THE FINAL TRIUMPH OF THE RIGHTEOUS, 3:13—4:6

13 “Your words have been stout against me”; says the LORD.
“But you say, ‘How have we spoken against you?’

14 You say, ‘It is useless to serve God;
And what profit is it that we have kept his charge,
And that we have walked in mourning before the LORD of hosts?’

15 And now we are deeming the arrogant fortunate;
The doers of wickedness, indeed, are built up;
They test God, also, and they escape!’ ”

16 Thus did those who reverence the LORD talk each with his fellow.

So the LORD gave heed and listened;
And a book of remembrance was written before him,
Concerning those who revere the LORD and think upon his name.

17 “And they shall be mine,” said the LORD of hosts,
“On the day which I am going to make, a special treasure.
And I will spare them even as a man spares his son who serves
him.

18 And you shall again distinguish between the righteous and the wicked,
Between him who serves God, and him who serves him not.

4 “For, behold, the day will come burning like an oven,
And all the arrogant and every doer of wickedness shall be stubble,
And the day that comes shall burn them up,”
Says the LORD of hosts, “so that it will leave them neither root nor branch.

- 2 But for you who revere my name, there will arise
The sun of righteousness, with healing in its wings.
And you shall go forth skipping like calves from the stall,
- 3 And you shall trample upon the wicked,
For they shall be dust under the soles of your feet,
In the day that I am going to make"; says the LORD of hosts.
- 4 "Remember the law of Moses, my servant,
Which I commanded him in Horeb for all Israel;
Statutes and judgments.
- 5 Behold I will send you Elijah the prophet,
Before the coming of the great and terrible day of the LORD.
And he shall turn the hearts of fathers toward their sons,
And the hearts of sons toward their fathers,
Lest I come and smite the land with a curse."

THE NEW TESTAMENT
AN AMERICAN TRANSLATION

By

EDGAR J. GOODSPEED

PREFACE

The New Testament was written not in classical Greek, nor in the "biblical" Greek of the Greek version of the Old Testament, nor even in the literary Greek of its own day, but in the common language of everyday life. This fact has been fully established by the Greek papyrus discoveries and the grammatical researches of the last twenty-five years. It follows that the most appropriate English form for the New Testament is the simple, straightforward English of everyday expression.

The invitation of the University Press to provide such a translation was accepted by the present translator in the hope that it might result in a version with something of the ease, boldness, and unpretending vigor which mark the original Greek. The writers of the New Testament had for the most part little use for literary art. The principal figure among them, the apostle Paul, said this in so many words. They put their message in the simplest and most direct terms they could command, so that it spoke directly to the common life of their day. The great passages in the New Testament owe their greatness more to the trenchant vigor of their thought, or the moral sublimity of their ideas, than to the graces of rhetoric.

The translation of such a book demands first, the understanding of what the several writers meant to say, and second, the casting of their thought in the simplest and clearest of present-day English. It is the meaning, not the dress, of the New Testament that is of principal importance. For many of us the familiar expressions of the Authorized Version are richly freighted with memories and associations. But few indeed sit down and read the New Testament in that version continuously and understandingly, a book at a time, as it was written to be read. The antique diction, the mechanical method of translation, and the disturbing verse division retard and discourage the reader. The aim of the present translation has been to present the meaning of the different books as faithfully as possible, without bias or prejudice, in English of the same kind as the Greek of the original, so that they may be continuously and understandingly read. There is no book in the New Testament that cannot easily be read at a sitting. For American readers, especially, who have had to depend so long upon versions made in Great Britain, there is room for a New Testament free from expressions which, however familiar in England or Scotland, are strange to American ears.

PREFACE

The progress of recent years in the study of the text, grammar, lexicography, and interpretation of the New Testament, together with the discoveries of Greek papyri made chiefly since 1897, offers a wealth of material to the translator. The grammatical works of Blass, Burton, Moulton, and Robertson, and the new lexicons of Preuschen (1910), Zorell (1911), Ebeling (1913), Souter (1916), and Abbott-Smith (1922), with the lexical studies of Moulton and Milligan (1914—) greatly facilitate the work of the interpreter.

I have closely followed the Greek text of Westcott and Hort, now generally accepted. Every scholar knows its great superiority to the late and faulty Greek texts from which the early English translations from Tyndale to the Authorized Version were made. In a few instances, I have accepted the emendations suggested by Dr. Hort himself in his Notes on Select Readings. Under the influence of more recent investigations, I have departed from Westcott and Hort in John 19:29; Acts 19:28, 34; James 1:17; and Revelation 13:1; and I have adopted the striking suggestion of Rendel Harris, that by an error of the eye the name of Enoch has dropped out of the text in I Peter 3:19. The passages marked by Westcott and Hort as interpolations have been omitted from this translation, as being no part of the original text.

The generous co-operation of the University Press has made it possible to print the translation as one would a modern book, with all those aids of quotation marks and paragraphing which make an open and inviting page, and so facilitate reading, reference, and understanding. The translator has not interspersed the text with footnotes or captions of his own devising, preferring to leave it to make its own impression upon the reader. Nor has he prefaced the several books with historical introductions, which might aid in their understanding. For such aids, he would refer to his Story of the New Testament, which the studious reader may find a helpful companion to the present translation.

It has been truly said that any translation of a masterpiece must be a failure, but if this translation can in any measure bring home the great, living messages of the New Testament a little more widely and forcibly to the life of our time, the translator will be well content.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

1 The ancestry of Jesus Christ, who was descended from David, who was descended from Abraham.

2 Abraham was the father of Isaac, and Isaac of Jacob, and Jacob of 3 Judah and his brothers, and Judah of Perez and Zerah, whose mother was Tamar. And Perez was the father of Hezron, and Hezron of 4 Aram, and Aram of Aminadab, and Aminadab of Nahshon, and 5 Nahshon of Salmon, and Salmon of Boaz, whose mother was Rahab. And Boaz was the father of Obed, whose mother was Ruth. And 6 Obed was the father of Jesse, and Jesse of King David.

David was the father of Solomon, whose mother was Uriah's wife.

7 And Solomon was the father of Rehoboam, and Rehoboam of Abijah,
8 and Abijah of Asa, and Asa of Jehoshaphat, and Jehoshaphat of Joram,
9 and Joram of Uzziah, and Uzziah of Jotham, and Jotham of Ahaz,
10 and Ahaz of Hezekiah, and Hezekiah of Manasseh, and Manasseh of 11 Amon, and Amon of Josiah, and Josiah of Jeconiah and his brothers, at the period of the Babylonian Exile.

12 After the Babylonian Exile, Jeconiah had a son named Shealtiel, 13 and Shealtiel was the father of Zerubbabel, and Zerubbabel of Abiud, 14 and Abiud of Eliakim, and Eliakim of Azor, and Azor of Zadok, and 15 Zadok of Achim, and Achim of Eliud, and Eliud of Eleazar, and 16 Eleazar of Matthan, and Matthan of Jacob, and Jacob of Joseph, the husband of Mary, who was the mother of Jesus called Christ.

17 So the whole number of generations from Abraham to David is fourteen, and from David to the Babylonian Exile, fourteen, and from the Babylonian Exile to the Christ, fourteen.

18 Now these were the circumstances of the birth of Jesus Christ. Mary, his mother, was engaged to Joseph, but before they were married it was found that she was about to become a mother through the 19 influence of the holy Spirit. But her husband, Joseph, was an upright man and did not wish to disgrace her, and he decided to break off the 20 engagement privately. But while he was thinking of doing this, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, and said,

“Joseph, descendant of David, do not fear to take Mary, your wife, to your home, for it is through the influence of the holy Spirit that she

- 21 is to become a mother. She will have a son, and you are to name him Jesus, for it is he who is to save his people from their sins.”
- 22 All this happened in fulfilment of what the Lord said through the prophet,
- 23 “The maiden will be pregnant and will have a son,
And they will name him Immanuel”
- 24 —a word which means “God with us.” So when Joseph awoke from his sleep, he did as the angel of the Lord had directed him, and took his
- 25 wife to his home. But he did not live with her as a husband until she had had a son, and he named the child Jesus.
- 2 Now after the birth of Jesus at Bethlehem in Judea, in the days of
- 2 King Herod, astrologers from the east arrived at Jerusalem, and asked, “Where is the newly born king of the Jews? For we have seen his star rise and we have come to do homage to him.”
- 3 When King Herod heard of this, he was troubled, and all Jeru-
- 4 salem with him. So he called together all the high priests and scribes
- 5 of the people and asked them where the Christ was to be born. They said,
- “At Bethlehem in Judea, for this is what the prophet wrote:
- 6 “‘And you, Bethlehem in Judah’s land,
You are by no means least important among the leading places of Judah,
For from you will come a leader
Who will be the shepherd of my people Israel.’”
- 7 Then Herod secretly sent for the astrologers, and found out from
- 8 them the exact time when the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said to them,
- “Go and inquire particularly about the child, and when you have found him, bring me word, so that I may go and do homage to him too.”
- 9 So they obeyed the king and went, and the star which they had seen rise led them on until it reached the place where the child was, and
- 10 stopped above it. When they saw the star, they were very glad,
- 11 and they went into the house and saw the child with his mother, Mary, and they threw themselves down and did homage to him. They opened their treasure boxes and presented the child with gifts of gold,
- 12 frankincense, and myrrh. Then, as they had been divinely warned in a dream not to go back to Herod, they returned to their own country by another way.

13 When they were gone, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, and said,

“Wake up! Take the child and his mother and make your escape to Egypt, and stay there until I tell you to leave. For Herod is going to look for the child in order to make away with him.”

14 Then he awoke and took the child and his mother by night and took 15 refuge in Egypt, to fulfil what the Lord said by the prophet, “I called my son from Egypt.”

16 Then Herod saw that he had been tricked by the astrologers, and he was very angry, and he sent and made away with all the boys in Bethlehem and in all that neighborhood who were two years old or under, for that was the time he had learned from the astrologers by his 17 inquiries. Then the saying was fulfilled which was uttered by the prophet Jeremiah, 18 “A cry was heard in Ramah!

Weeping and great lamenting!
Rachel weeping for her children,
And inconsolable because they were gone.”

19 But when Herod died, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to 20 Joseph in Egypt and said,

“Wake up! Take the child and his mother and go to the land of Israel, for those who sought the child’s life are dead.”

21 Then he awoke, and took the child and his mother and went to the 22 land of Israel. But hearing that Archelaus was reigning over Judea in the place of his father, Herod, he was afraid to return there; and being 23 warned in a dream, he took refuge in the region of Galilee, and he went and settled in a town called Nazareth, in fulfilment of the saying of the prophets,

“He shall be called a Nazarene.”

3 In those days John the Baptist appeared, and preached in the desert of Judea.

2 “Repent!” he said, “for the Kingdom of Heaven is coming!”

3 It was he who was spoken of by the prophet Isaiah, when he said,
“Hark! Someone is shouting in the desert,
‘Get the Lord’s way ready!
Make his paths straight!’”

4 John wore clothing made of hair cloth, and he had a leather belt
5 around his waist, and he lived on dried locusts and wild honey. Then Jerusalem and all Judea and the whole Jordan valley went out to him,

6 and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River, in acknowledgment of their sins. But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming for baptism, he said to them,

8 “You brood of snakes! Who warned you to escape from the wrath that is coming? Then produce fruit that will be consistent with your professed repentance! Do not suppose that you can say to yourselves, ‘We have Abraham for our forefather,’ for I tell you God can produce descendants for Abraham right out of these stones! But the axe is already lying at the roots of the trees. Any tree that fails to produce good fruit is going to be cut down and thrown into the fire. I am baptizing you in water in token of your repentance, but he who is coming after me is stronger than I am, and I am not fit to carry his shoes. He will baptize you in the holy Spirit and in fire. His winnowing fork is in his hand, and he will clean up his threshing-floor, and store his wheat in his barn, but he will burn up the chaff with inextinguishable fire.”

13 Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan, to John, to be baptized by him. But John dissuaded him, and said,

14 “I need to be baptized by you, and do you come to me?”

15 But Jesus answered,

16 “Let it be so this time, for it is right for us to do everything that God requires.”

16 Then John consented. And when Jesus was baptized, he went right up out of the water, and the heavens opened, and he saw the Spirit of God come down like a dove and light upon him, and a voice from heaven said,

17 “This is my Son, my Beloved! This is my Chosen.”

4 Then Jesus was guided by the Spirit into the desert, to be tempted by the devil. And he fasted forty days and nights, and after it he was famished. And the tempter came up and said to him,

4 “If you are God’s son, tell these stones to turn into bread!”

But he answered,

5 “The Scripture says, ‘Not on bread alone is man to live, but on every word that comes from the mouth of God!’”

5 Then the devil took him to the holy city, and made him stand on the summit of the Temple, and said to him,

6 “If you are God’s son, throw yourself down, for the Scripture says,

“He will give his angels orders about you,

And they will lift you up with their hands

So that you may never strike your foot against a stone!”

- 7 Jesus said to him,
"The Scripture also says, 'You shall not try the Lord your God.'"
- 8 Again the devil took him to a very high mountain, and he showed 9 him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendor, and said to him,
"I will give all this to you, if you will fall on your knees and do homage to me."
- 10 Then Jesus said to him,
"Begone, Satan! For the Scripture says, 'You must do homage to the Lord your God, and worship him alone!'"
- 11 Then the devil left him, and angels came and waited on him.
- 12 But when Jesus heard that John had been arrested, he retreated to 13 Galilee. And he left Nazareth and went and settled in Capernaum, 14 by the sea, in the district of Zebulon and Naphtali, in fulfilment of what was said by the prophet Isaiah,
15 "Zebulon's land, and Naphtali's land,
Along the road to the sea, across the Jordan,
Galilee of the nations!
16 The people that were living in darkness
Have seen a great light,
And on those who were living in the land of the shadow of death
A light has dawned!"
- 17 From that time Jesus began to preach and say,
"Repent! for the Kingdom of Heaven is coming!"
- 18 As he was walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon, who was afterward called Peter, and his brother, Andrew, cast-19 ing a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. He said to them,
"Come and follow me, and I will make you fish for men!"
- 20 They immediately dropped their nets and went with him. And he 21 went on a little farther and saw two other men who were brothers, James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother, John, in the boat with Zebedee, their father, putting their nets in order, and he called them.
- 22 And they immediately left the boat and their father, and went with him.
- 23 Then he went all over Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the good news of the kingdom, and curing any disease or 24 sickness among the people. Word went all through Syria about him, and people brought to him all who were suffering with any kind of disease, or who were in great pain—demoniacs, epileptics, and para-25 lytics—and he cured them. Great crowds followed him about, from Galilee and the Ten Towns and Jerusalem and Judea and from the other side of the Jordan.

- 5 When he saw the crowds of people he went up on the mountain. There he seated himself, and when his disciples had come up to him, he
2 opened his lips to teach them. And he said,
3 "Blessed are those who feel their spiritual need, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them!
4 "Blessed are the mourners, for they will be consoled!
5 "Blessed are the humble-minded, for they will possess the land!
6 "Blessed are those who are hungry and thirsty for uprightness, for they will be satisfied!
7 "Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy!
8 "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God!
9 "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called God's sons!
10 "Blessed are those who have endured persecution for their uprightness, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them!
11 "Blessed are you when people abuse you, and persecute you, and 12 falsely say everything bad of you, on my account. Be glad and exult over it, for you will be richly rewarded in heaven, for that is the way they persecuted the prophets who went before you!
13 "You are the salt of the earth! But if salt loses its strength, how can it be made salt again? It is good for nothing but to be thrown away 14 and trodden underfoot. You are the light of the world! A city that is 15 built upon a hill cannot be hidden. People do not light a lamp and put it under a peck-measure; they put it on its stand and it gives light to 16 everyone in the house. Your light must burn in that way among men so that they will see the good you do, and praise your Father in heaven.
17 "Do not suppose that I have come to do away with the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to do away with them but to enforce them.
18 For I tell you, as long as heaven and earth endure, not one dotting of an i or crossing of a t will be dropped from the Law until it is all observed. Anyone, therefore, who weakens one of the slightest of these commands, and teaches others to do so, will be ranked lowest in the Kingdom of Heaven; but anyone who observes them and teaches
20 others to do so will be ranked high in the Kingdom of Heaven. For I tell you that unless your uprightness is far superior to that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never even enter the Kingdom of Heaven!
21 "You have heard that the men of old were told 'You shall not murder,' and 'Whoever murders will have to answer to the court.' But I tell you that anyone who gets angry with his brother will have to answer to the court, and anyone who speaks contemptuously to his brother will have to answer to the great council, and anyone who says to his brother 'You cursed fool!' will have to answer for it in the fiery 23 pit! So when you are presenting your gift at the altar, if you remem-24 ber that your brother has any grievance against you, leave your gift right there before the altar and go and make up with your brother; 25 then come back and present your gift. Be quick and come to terms with your opponent while you are on the way to court with him, or he may hand you over to the judge, and the judge may hand you over to 26 the officer, and you will be thrown into prison. I tell you, you will never get out again until you have paid the last penny!

27 "You have heard that men were told 'You shall not commit adul-
28 tery.' But I tell you that anyone who looks at a woman with desire 29 has already committed adultery with her in his heart. But if your right eye makes you fall, tear it out and throw it away, for you might better lose one part of your body than have it all thrown into the pit!
30 If your right hand makes you fall, cut it off and throw it away, for you might better lose one part of your body than have it all go down to the pit!

31 "They were told, 'Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a 32 certificate of divorce.' But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife on any ground, except unfaithfulness, makes her commit adultery, and anyone who marries her after she is divorced commits adultery.

33 "Again, you have heard that the men of old were told, 'You shall 34 not swear falsely, but you must fulfil your oaths to the Lord.' But I tell you not to swear at all, either by heaven, for it is God's throne, 35 or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city
36 of the great king. You must not swear by your own head, for you 37 cannot make one single hair white or black. But your way of speaking must be 'Yes' or 'No.' Anything that goes beyond that comes from the evil one.

38 "You have heard that they were told, 'An eye for an eye and a 39 tooth for a tooth.' But I tell you not to resist injury, but if anyone 40 strikes you on your right cheek, turn the other to him too; and if any-41 one wants to sue you for your shirt, let him have your coat too. And if 42 anyone forces you to go one mile, go two miles with him. If anyone begs from you, give to him, and when anyone wants to borrow from you, do not turn away.

43 “You have heard that they were told, ‘You must love your neighbor
44 and hate your enemy.’ But I tell you, love your enemies and pray for 45 your persecutors, so that you may show yourselves true sons of your Father in heaven, for he makes his sun rise on bad and good alike, and 46 makes the rain fall on the upright and the wrongdoers. For if you love only those who love you, what reward can you expect? Do not the 47 very tax-collectors do that? And if you are polite to your brothers and no one else, what is there remarkable in that? Do not the very heathen 48 do that? So you are to be perfect, as your heavenly Father is.

6 “But take care not to do your good deeds in public for people to see,
for, if you do, you will get no reward from your Father in heaven.
2 So when you are going to give to charity, do not blow a trumpet before yourself, as the hypocrites do, in the synagogues and the streets, to make people praise them. I tell you, that is all the reward they will get!
3 But when you give to charity, your own left hand must not know what 4 your right hand is doing, so that your charity may be secret, and your Father who sees what is secret will reward you.

5 “When you pray, you must not be like the-hypocrites, for they like to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the squares, to let people see them. I tell you, that is the only reward they will get!
6 But when you pray, go into your own room, and shut the door, and pray to your Father who is unseen, and your Father who sees what is 7 secret will reward you. And when you pray, do not repeat empty phrases as the heathen do, for they imagine that their prayers will be 8 heard if they use words enough. You must not be like them. For God, 9 who is your Father, knows what you need before you ask him. This, therefore, is the way you are to pray:

‘Our Father in heaven,
Your name be revered!
10 Your kingdom come!
Your will be done on earth as it is done in heaven!
11 Give us today bread for the day,
12 And forgive us our debts, as we have forgiven our debtors.
13 And do not subject us to temptation,
But save us from the evil one.’

14 For if you forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father 15 will forgive you too. But if you do not forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father will not forgive you for your offenses.

16 “When you fast, do not put on a gloomy look, like the hypocrites, for they neglect their personal appearance to let people see that they

17 are fasting. I tell you, that is all the reward they will get. But when 18 you fast, perfume your hair and wash your face, so that no one may see that you are fasting, except your Father who is unseen, and your Father who sees what is secret, will reward you.

19 “Do not store up your riches on earth, where moths and rust destroy 20 them, and where thieves break in and steal them, but store up your riches in heaven, where moths and rust cannot destroy them, and where 21 thieves cannot break in and steal them. For wherever your treasure is,
22 your heart will be also. The eye is the lamp of the body. If then your 23 eye is sound, your whole body will be light, but if your eye is unsound, your whole body will be dark. If, therefore, your very light is dark-24 ness, how deep the darkness will be! No slave can belong to two masters, for he will either hate one and love the other, or stand by one and make light of the other. You cannot serve God and money.
25 Therefore, I tell you, do not worry about life, wondering what you will have to eat or drink, or about your body, wondering what you will have to wear. Is not life more important than food, and the body 26 than clothes? Look at the wild birds. They do not sow or reap, or store their food in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them.
27 Are you not of more account than they? But which of you with all his 28 worry can add a single hour to his life? Why should you worry about clothing? See how the wild flowers grow. They do not toil or spin, 29 and yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his splendor was never dressed 30 like one of them. But if God so beautifully dresses the wild grass, which is alive today and is thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will he 31 not much more surely clothe you, you who have so little faith? So do not worry and say, ‘What shall we have to eat?’ or ‘What shall we 32 have to drink?’ or ‘What shall we have to wear?’ For these are all things the heathen are in pursuit of, and your heavenly Father knows 33 well that you need all this. But you must make his kingdom, and uprightness before him, your greatest care, and you will have all these 34 other things besides. So do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will have worries of his own. Let each day be content with its own ills.

7 “Pass no more judgments upon other people, so that you may not
2 have judgment passed upon you. For you will be judged by the standard you judge by, and men will pay you back with the same measure 3 you have used with them. Why do you keep looking at the speck in your brother’s eye, and pay no attention to the beam that is in your 4 own? How can you say to your brother, ‘Just let me get that speck out

5 of your eye,' when all the time there is a beam in your own? You hypocrite! First get the beam out of your own eye, and then you can see to get the speck out of your brother's eye.

6 "Do not give what is sacred to dogs, and do not throw your pearls before pigs, or they will trample them under their feet and turn and
7 tear you in pieces. Ask, and what you ask will be given you. Search, and you will find what you search for. Knock, and the door will open
8 to you. For it is always the one who asks who receives, and the one who searches who finds, and the one who knocks to whom the door
9 opens. Which of you men when his son asks him for some bread will 10 give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will he give him a snake?
11 So if you, bad as you are, know enough to give your children what is good, how much more surely will your Father in heaven give what is 12 good to those who ask him for it! Therefore, you must always treat other people as you would like to have them treat you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets.

13 "Go in at the narrow gate. For the road that leads to destruction is 14 broad and spacious, and there are many who go in by it. But the gate is narrow and the road is hard that leads to life, and there are few that find it.

15 "Beware of the false prophets, who come to you disguised as sheep
16 but are ravenous wolves underneath. You can tell them by their fruit.
17 Do people pick grapes off thorns, or figs off thistles? Just so any sound 18 tree bears good fruit, but a poor tree bears bad fruit. No sound tree can 19 bear bad fruit, and no poor tree can bear good fruit. Any tree that does 20 not bear good fruit is cut down and burned. So you can tell them by 21 their fruit. It is not everyone who says to me 'Lord! Lord!' who will get into the Kingdom of Heaven, but only those who do the will of my 22 Father in heaven. Many will say to me on that Day, 'Lord! Lord! Was it not in your name that we prophesied, and by your name that we drove out demons, and by your name that we did many mighty
23 acts?' Then I will say to them plainly, 'I never knew you! Go away from me, you who do wrong!'

24 "Everyone, therefore, who listens to this teaching of mine and acts
25 upon it, will be like a sensible man who built his house on rock. And the rain fell, and the rivers rose, and the winds blew, and beat about that house, and it did not go down, for its foundations were on rock.
26 And anyone who listens to this teaching of mine and does not act upon 27 it, will be like a foolish man who built his house on sand. And the rain fell and the rivers rose, and the winds blew and beat about that house, and it went down, and its downfall was complete.”

28 When Jesus had finished this discourse, the crowds were astounded
29 at his teaching, for he taught them like one who had authority and not like their scribes.

8 When Jesus came down from the mountain, great crowds of people
2 followed him. And a leper came up to him and fell on his knees before him, saying,

“If you only choose, sir, you can cure me!”

3 So he stretched out his hand and touched him, saying,

“I do choose! Be cured!”

4 And his leprosy was immediately cured. Then Jesus said to him,
“See that you tell nobody, but go! Show yourself to the priest, and in proof of your cure, offer the gift that Moses prescribed.”

5 When he got back to Capernaum, a Roman captain came up and 6 appealed to him, saying,

“My servant, sir, is lying sick with paralysis at my house, in great distress.”

7 He said to him,

“I will come and cure him.”

8 But the captain answered,

“I am not a suitable person, sir, to have you come under my roof,
9 but simply say the word, and my servant will be cured. For I am myself under the orders of others and I have soldiers under me, and I tell one to go, and he goes, and another to come, and he comes, and my slave to do something, and he does it.”

10 When Jesus heard this he was astonished, and said to his followers,
“I tell you, I have not found anyone in Israel with such faith as this.

11 And I tell you, many will come from the east and from the west and take their places at the feast with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, in the 12 Kingdom of Heaven, while the heirs to the kingdom will be driven into the darkness outside, there to weep and grind their teeth!”

13 Then Jesus said to the captain,

“Go! You shall find it just as you believe!”

And the servant was immediately cured.

14 Jesus went into Peter’s house, and there he found Peter’s mother-
15 in-law sick in bed with fever. And he touched her hand and the fever left her, and she got up and waited on him.

16 In the evening they brought to him many who were possessed by demons, and he drove the spirits out with a word, and cured all who

17 were sick, in fulfilment of the words of the prophet Isaiah, "He took our sickness and carried away our diseases."

18 Then Jesus, seeing a crowd about him, gave orders to cross to the 19 other side. And a scribe came up and said to him,

"Master, I will follow you wherever you are going!"

20 And Jesus said to him,

"Foxes have holes and wild birds have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head!"

21 And another of his disciples said to him,

"Let me first go, sir, and bury my father."

22 But Jesus said to him,

"Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead!"

23 And he got into the boat, and his disciples went with him. And 24 suddenly a terrific storm came up on the sea, so that the waves broke

25 over the boat, but he remained asleep. And they came and woke him up, saying,

"Save us, sir! We are lost!"

26 And he said to them,

"Why are you afraid? You have so little faith!"

Then he got up and reprov'd the wind and the sea, and there was 27 a great calm. And the men were amazed and said,

"What kind of man is this? For the very winds and sea obey him!"

28 When he reached the other side, in the region of Gadara, two men possessed by demons came out of the tombs and confronted him; they 29 were so extremely violent that nobody could go along that road. And they suddenly screamed out,

"What do you want of us, you Son of God? Have you come here before the appointed time to torture us?"

30 Now at some distance from them there was a great drove of pigs
31 feeding. And the demons entreated him, saying,

"If you are going to drive us out, send us into the drove of pigs."

32 And he said to them,

"Begone!"

And they came out and went into the pigs. And suddenly the whole drove rushed over the steep bank into the sea, and perished in the 33 water. And the men who tended them ran away and went off to the town and told it all, and the news about the men possessed by demons.

34 And the whole town came out to meet Jesus, and when they saw him they begged him to go away from their district.

9 So he got into the boat and crossed the sea, and returned to his own city.

2 Some people came bringing to him on a bed a man who was paralyzed. Seeing their faith, Jesus said to the man, “Courage, my son! Your sins are forgiven.”

3 Some of the scribes said to themselves,
“This man is talking blasphemy!”

4 Jesus knew what they were thinking, and he said,

5 “Why do you have such wicked thoughts in your hearts? For which is easier, to say ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to say, ‘Get up and walk’?

6 But I would have you know that the Son of Man has authority to forgive sins on earth.” Then he said to the paralytic,
“Get up, pick up your bed and go home!”

7 And he got up and went home. And when the crowd saw it, they were filled with awe, and praised God for giving such power to men.

9 Afterward, as Jesus was passing along, he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tollhouse, and he said to him,
“Follow me!”

And he got up and followed him.

10 While Jesus was at home at table, a number of tax-collectors and irreligious people came in and joined Jesus and his disciples at table.

11 And the Pharisees observed it, and they said to his disciples,
“Why does your master eat with tax-collectors and irreligious people?”

12 But he heard it, and said,

“It is not well people but the sick who have to have the doctor!

13 You must go and learn what the saying means, ‘It is mercy, not sacrifice, that I care for.’ I did not come to invite the pious but the irreligious.”

14 Then the disciples of John came up to him and said,

“Why is it that we and the Pharisees are keeping the fast, while your disciples are not keeping it?”

15 Jesus said to them,

“Can wedding guests mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? But a time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them, and they will fast then. But no one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old coat, for the patch will tear away from the coat, and make the hole worse than ever. And people do not put new wine into old wine-skins, or if they do, the skins burst, and the wine runs out and the skins are spoiled. But people put new wine into fresh wine skins, and so both are saved."

18 Just as he said this to them, an official came up and bowing low before him said to him,

"My daughter has just died. But come! Lay your hand on her and she will come to life!"

19 And Jesus got up and followed him, with his disciples. And a 20 woman who had had a hemorrhage for twelve years came up behind
21 him and touched the tassels of his cloak. For she said to herself, "If I 22 can just touch his cloak, I will get well." And Jesus turned and saw her, and he said,

"Courage, my daughter! Your faith has cured you!"

And from that time the woman was well.

23 When Jesus reached the official's house, and saw the flute-players 24 and the disturbance the crowd was making, he said,

"You must go away, for the girl is not dead; she is asleep." And 25 they laughed at him. But when he had driven the people out, he went 26 in and grasped her hand, and the girl got up. And the news of this spread all over that part of the country.

27 As Jesus was passing along from there, two blind men followed him, calling out,

"Take pity on us, you Son of David!"

28 When he had gone indoors, the blind men came up to him, and he said to them,

"Do you believe that I can do this?"

They said to him,

"Yes, sir."

29 Then he touched their eyes and said,

"You shall have what your faith expects."

30 And their sight was restored. Jesus warned them sternly not to let 31 anyone hear of it. But they went out and spread the news about him all over that part of the country.

32 But just as they were going out, some people brought to him a dumb
33 man who was possessed by a demon, and as soon as the demon was driven out, the dumb man was able to speak. And the crowds were amazed, and said,

"Nothing like this was ever seen in Israel!"

34 But the Pharisees said,

"It is by the aid of the prince of the demons that he drives them out."

35 Jesus went round among all the towns and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and proclaiming the good news of the kingdom, and curing any disease or illness.

36 But the sight of the crowds of people filled him with pity for them, because they were bewildered and dejected, like sheep that have no shepherd. Then he said to his disciples,

38 "The harvest is abundant enough, but the reapers are few. So pray to the owner of the harvest to send reapers to gather it."

10 Then he called his twelve disciples to him, and gave them power over the foul spirits so that they could drive them out, and so that they could heal any disease or illness.

2 These are the names of the twelve apostles: first, Simon, who was called Peter, and his brother Andrew, and James the son of Zebedee and his brother John, Philip and Bartholomew, Thomas and Matthew the tax-collector, James the son of Alphaeus and Thaddeus, Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot who afterward betrayed him.

5 Jesus sent these twelve out, after giving them these directions:

6 "Do not go among the heathen, or to any Samaritan town, but proceed instead to the lost sheep of Israel's house. And as you go about, preach and say, 'The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand!' Cure the sick, raise the dead, heal lepers, drive out demons. Give without payment, just as you received without payment. Do not accept gold or silver or copper money to put in your pockets, and do not take a bag for your journey, nor two shirts, nor shoes, nor a staff, for the workman deserves his food! Whatever town or village you come to, inquire for some suitable person, and stay with him till you leave the place. And as you go into his house, wish it well. If the house deserves it, the peace you wish it will come over it, but if it does not deserve it, your blessing will come back upon yourselves. And where no one will welcome you, or listen to you, leave that house or town and shake off its very dust from your feet. I tell you, the land of Sodom and Gomorrah will fare better on the Day of Judgment than that town.

16 "Here I am sending you out like sheep among wolves. So you must be wise like serpents, and guileless like doves. But be on your guard against men, for they will give you up to their courts, and have you flogged in their synagogues, and you will be brought before governors and kings on my account, to bear your testimony before them and the heathen. But when they give you up, you must have no anxiety about how to speak or what to say, for you will be told at the very moment what you ought to say, for it is not you who will speak, it is the Spirit

21 of your Father that will speak through you. One brother will give up another to death, and a father his child, and children will turn against 22 their parents, and have them put to death. You will be hated by everybody on my account, but the man who holds out to the very end will 23 be saved. But when they persecute you in one town, make your escape to another, for I tell you, you will not have gone through all the towns
24 of Israel before the Son of Man arrives. A pupil is not better than his 25 teacher, nor a slave better than his master. A pupil should be satisfied to come to be like his teacher, or a slave to come to be like his master. If men have called the head of the house Beelzebub, how much worse
26 names will they give to the members of his household! So do not be afraid of them. For there is nothing covered up that is not going to 27 be uncovered, nor secret that is not going to be known. What I tell you in the dark you must say in the light, and what you hear whispered
28 in your ear, you must proclaim from the housetops. Have no fear of those who kill the body, but cannot kill the soul. You had better
29 be afraid of one who can destroy both soul and body in the pit. Do not sparrows sell two for a cent? And yet not one of them can fall to 30 the ground against your Father's will! But the very hairs on your 31 heads are all counted. You must not be afraid; you are worth more 32 than a great many sparrows! Therefore everyone who will acknowledge me before men I will acknowledge before my Father in heaven, 33 but anyone who disowns me before men, I will disown before my Father in heaven.

34 "Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have 35 not come to bring peace but a sword. For I have come to turn a man against his father and a daughter against her mother and a daughter-
36 in-law against her mother-in-law, and a man's enemies will be in his 37 own household. No one who loves father or mother more than he loves me is worthy of me, and no one who loves son or daughter more
38 than he loves me is worthy of me, and no one who will not take up
39 his cross and follow me is worthy of me. Whoever gains his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will gain it.

40 "Whoever welcomes you welcomes me, and whoever welcomes me
41 welcomes him who has sent me. Whoever welcomes a prophet because he is a prophet will have the same reward as a prophet, and whoever welcomes an upright man because he is upright will have the same 42 reward as an upright man. And no one who will give the humblest of my disciples even a cup of cold water because he is my disciple, I tell you, can ever fail of his reward."

11 When Jesus had finished giving his twelve disciples these instructions, he went on from there to teach and preach in their towns.

2 Now when John heard in prison of what the Christ was doing, he sent by his disciples and said to him,

"Are you the one who was to come, or should we look for someone else?"

4 Jesus answered,

5 "Go and report to John what you hear and see. The blind are regaining their sight and the lame can walk, the lepers are being cured and the deaf can hear, the dead are being raised and good news is being preached to the poor. And blessed is the man who finds nothing that repels him in me."

7 But as they were going away, Jesus began to speak to the crowds about John.

"What was it that you went out into the desert to look at? A reed swaying in the wind? Then what did you go out there to see? A man luxuriously dressed? Men who dress in that way you find in the palaces of kings. Then why did you go out there? Was it to see a prophet? Yes, I tell you, and far more than a prophet! This is the man of whom the Scripture says,

"Here I send my messenger on before you;
He will prepare the road ahead of you."

11 "I tell you, among men born of women no one greater than John the Baptist has ever appeared. And yet those who are of little importance in the Kingdom of Heaven are greater than he. But from the time of John the Baptist until now men have been taking the Kingdom of Heaven by storm and impetuously crowding into it. For up to the time of John all the Prophets and the Law itself prophesied about it, and, if you are ready to accept the idea, he is himself Elijah who was to come. Let him who has ears listen! But to what can I compare this present age? It is like children sitting about in the bazaars and calling out to their playmates, 17 "We have played the flute for you, and you would not dance!

We have wailed and you would not beat your breasts!"

18 For when John came, he neither ate nor drank, and people said, 'He has a demon!' Now that the Son of Man has come, he does eat and drink, and people say, 'Look at him! A glutton and a drinker, the companion of tax-collectors and irreligious people!’ And yet Wisdom is vindicated by her actions!”

20 Then he began to reproach the towns in which his numerous wonders had been done, because they did not repent.

21 “Alas for you, Chorazin! Alas for you, Bethsaida! For if the wonders that have been done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, 22 they would have repented in sackcloth and ashes long ago! But I tell you, Tyre and Sidon will fare better on the Day of Judgment 23 than you will! And you, Capernaum! Are you to be exalted to the skies? You will go down among the dead! For if the wonders that have been done in you had been done in Sodom, it would have stood 24 until today. But I tell you that the land of Sodom will fare better on the Day of Judgment than you will!”

25 At that same time Jesus said,

“I thank you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, for hiding all this 26 from the learned and intelligent and revealing it to children. Yes, I 27 thank you, Father, for choosing to have it so. Everything has been handed over to me by my Father, and no one understands the Son but the Father, nor does anyone understand the Father but the Son and 28 anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal him. Come to me, all of 29 you who toil and are burdened, and I will let you rest. Let my yoke be put upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble- 30 minded, and your hearts will find rest, for the yoke I offer you is a kindly one, and the load I ask you to bear is light.”

12 At that same time Jesus walked one Sabbath through the wheat fields, and his disciples became hungry and began to pick the heads of 2 wheat and eat them. But the Pharisees saw it and said to him,

“Look! Your disciples are doing something which it is against the Law to do on the Sabbath!”

3 But he said to them,

“Did you never read what David did, when he and his companions 4 were hungry? How is it that he went into the House of God and that they ate the Presentation Loaves which it was against the Law for him 5 and his companions to eat, or for anyone except the priests? Or did you never read in the Law how the priests in the Temple are not guilty 6 when they break the Sabbath? But I tell you, there is something 7 greater than the Temple here! But if you knew what the saying means, ‘It is mercy, not sacrifice, that I care for,’ you would not have 8 condemned men who are not guilty. For the Son of Man is master of the Sabbath.”

9 And he left the place and went into their synagogue. There was a 10 man there with one hand withered. And in order to get a charge to bring against him, they asked him,

“Is it right to cure people on the Sabbath?”

11 But he said to them,

“Who among you if he has even a single sheep and it falls into a 12 hole on the Sabbath, will not take hold of it and lift it out? And how much more a man is worth than a sheep! Therefore, it is right to do people good on the Sabbath.”

13 Then he said to the man,

“Hold out your hand!”

And he held it out, and it was restored and became as well as 14 the other. But the Pharisees left the synagogue and consulted about him, with a view to putting him to death.

15 But Jesus knew of this, and he left that place. And numbers of 16 people followed him about, and he cured them all, and warned them 17 not to say anything about him—in fulfilment of what was said by the prophet Isaiah,

18 “Here is my servant whom I have selected,

My beloved, who delights my heart!

I will endow him with my Spirit,

And he will announce a judgment to the heathen.

19 He will not wrangle or make an outcry,

And no one will hear his voice in the streets;

20 He will not break off a bent reed,

And he will not put out a smoldering wick,

Until he carries his judgment to success.

21 The heathen will rest their hopes on his name!”

22 At that time some people brought to him a man blind and dumb, who was possessed by a demon, and he cured him, so that the dumb 23 man could speak and see. And all the crowds of people were astounded, and said,

“Can this be the Son of David?”

24 But when the Pharisees heard of it they said,

“This man cannot drive out demons except by the aid of Beelzebub, the prince of the demons.”

25 But he knew what they were thinking, and he said to them,

“Any kingdom that is disunited is on the way to destruction, and 26 any city or household that is disunited cannot last. If Satan is driving 27 Satan out, he is disunited, and so how can his kingdom last? And if I am driving the demons out by Beelzebub's aid, by whose aid do your 28 sons drive them out? Therefore let them be your judges. But if I am driving the demons out by the aid of God's Spirit, then the Kingdom 29 of God has overtaken you. How can anyone get into a strong man's house and carry off his property unless he first binds the strong man?

30 After that he can plunder his house. Anyone who is not with me is against me, and anyone who does not join me in gathering, scatters.
31 Therefore, I tell you, men will be forgiven for any sin or abusive 32 speech, but abusive speech about the Spirit cannot be forgiven. And whoever speaks against the Son of Man will be forgiven for it, but whoever speaks against the holy Spirit cannot be forgiven for it, either in this world or in the world to come.

33 "You must either make the tree sound and its fruit sound, or make 34 the tree bad and its fruit bad; a tree is judged by its fruit. You brood of snakes! how can you, bad as you are, utter anything good? For 35 the mouth says only what the heart is full of. A good man, out of the good he has accumulated, brings out things that are good, and a bad man, out of what he has accumulated that is bad, brings out things 36 that are bad. But I tell you, for every careless word that men utter 37 they will have to answer on the Day of Judgment. For it is by your words that you will be acquitted, or by your words that you will be condemned."

38 Then some of the scribes and Pharisees addressed him, saying,
"Master, we would like to have you show us some sign."

39 But he answered,

"Only a wicked and faithless age insists upon a sign, and no sign 40 will be given it but the sign of the prophet Jonah. For just as Jonah was in the maw of the whale for three days and nights, the Son of 41 Man will be three days and nights in the heart of the earth. Men of Nineveh will rise with this age at the judgment and condemn it, for when Jonah preached they repented, and there is more than Jonah 42 here! The queen of the south will rise with this age at the judgment and condemn it, for she came from the very ends of the earth to listen to Solomon's wisdom, and there is more than Solomon here!

43 "When a foul spirit goes out of a man, it roams through deserts in 44 search of rest and can find none. Then it says, 'I will go back to my house that I left,' and it goes and finds it unoccupied, cleaned, and all 45 in order. Then it goes and gets seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they go in and live there, and in the end the man is worse off than he was before. That is the way it will be with this present wicked age.”

46 While he was still speaking, his mother and his brothers came up
48 and stood outside the crowd, wanting to speak to him. But he said to the man who told him,

“Who is my mother, and who are my brothers?”

49 And he pointed to his disciples and said,

50 “Here are my mother and my brothers! For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother!”

13 That same day Jesus went out of his house and was sitting on the 2 seashore. And such great crowds gathered about him that he got into a boat and sat down in it, while all the people stood on the shore.
3 And he told them many things in figures, and said to them,

4 “A sower went out to sow, and as he was sowing, some of the seed
5 fell by the path and the birds came and ate it up, and some fell on rocky ground where there was not much soil and it sprang up at once,
6 because the soil was not deep, but when the sun came up it was scorched
7 and withered up, because it had no root. And some of it fell among 8 the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it out. And some fell on good soil, and yielded some a hundred, some sixty, and some thirty-9 fold. Let him who has ears listen!”

10 His disciples came up and said to him,
“Why do you speak to them in figures?”

11 He answered,

“You are permitted to know the secrets of the Kingdom of Heaven,
12 but they are not. For people who have will have more given to them, and will be plentifully supplied, and from people who have nothing
13 even what they have will be taken away. This is why I speak to them in figures, because though they look they do not see, and though they 14 listen they do not hear or understand. They are a fulfilment of Isaiah’s prophecy,

“You will listen and listen, and never understand,

And you will look and look, and never see!

15 For this nation’s mind has grown dull,

And they hear faintly with their ears,

And they have shut their eyes,

So as never to see with their eyes,

And hear with their ears,

And understand with their minds, and turn back,

And let me cure them!”

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they do see, and your ears, for they do 17 hear. For I tell you, many prophets and upright men have longed to see what you see, and could not see it, and to hear what you hear,
and could not hear it.

18 "You must listen closely then to the figure of the sower. When 19 anyone hears the teaching of the kingdom and does not understand it, the evil one comes and robs him of the seed that has been sown in his 20 mind. That is what was sown along the path. And what was sown upon the rocky soil means the man who hears the message and at once 21 accepts it joyfully, but it takes no real root in him, and lasts only a little while, and when trouble or persecution comes because of the 22 message, he gives it up at once. And what was sown among the thorns means the man who listens to the message, and then the worries of the time and the pleasure of being rich choke the message out, and it yields 23 nothing. And what was sown in good ground means the man who listens to the message and understands it, and yields one a hundred, and another sixty, and another thirty-fold."

24 Another figure which he used in speaking to them was this:

"The Kingdom of Heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in 25 his field, but while people were asleep his enemy came and sowed
26 weeds among the wheat, and went away. And when the wheat came 27 up and ripened, the weeds appeared too. And the owner's slaves came to him and said, 'Was not the seed good that you sowed in your field, 28 sir? So where did these weeds come from?' He said to them, 'This is some enemy's doing.' And they said to him, 'Do you want us to go 29 and gather them up?' But he said, 'No, for in gathering up the weeds 30 you may uproot the wheat. Let them both grow together until harvest time, and when we harvest I will direct the reapers to gather up the weeds first and tie them up in bundles to burn, but get the wheat into my barn.'"

31 Another figure which he used in speaking to them was this:

"The Kingdom of Heaven is like a mustard seed which a man took 32 and sowed in his field. It is the smallest of all seeds, but when it is grown it is the largest of plants and grows into a tree, so that the wild birds come and roost in its branches."

33 Another figure which he used with them was this:

"The Kingdom of Heaven is like yeast, which a woman took and buried in a bushel of flour until it had all risen."

34 Jesus said all this to the crowds in figures, and told them nothing 35 except in figures, to fulfil what was said by the prophet,

"I will open my mouth in figures,

I will utter things that have been hidden since the creation."

36 Then he left the crowds and went into his house. And his disciples came up to him and said,

"Explain to us the figure of the weeds in the field."

37 He answered,

38 "The sower who sows the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world. The good seed is the people of the kingdom. The weeds are the wicked. The enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. So just as the weeds are gathered up and burned, this is what will happen at the close of the age; the Son of Man will send out his angels, and they will gather up out of his kingdom all the causes of sin and the wrongdoers and throw them into the blazing furnace; there they will wail and grind their teeth. Then the upright will shine out like the sun, in their Father's kingdom. Let him who has ears listen!

44 "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a hoard of money, buried in a field, which a man found, and buried again. And he was overjoyed, and went and sold everything he had and bought the field.

45 "Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like a dealer in search of fine pearls. He found one costly pearl, and went and sold everything he had, and bought it.

47 "Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like a net that was let down into the sea, and inclosed fish of all kinds. When it was full, they dragged it up on the beach, and sat down and sorted the good fish into baskets and threw the bad away. That is what will happen at the close of the age. The angels will go out and remove the wicked from among the upright, and throw them into the blazing furnace. There they will wail and grind their teeth.

51 "Do you understand all this?"

They said to him,

"Yes."

52 He said to them,

"Then remember that every scribe who has become a disciple of the Kingdom of Heaven must be like a householder who can supply from his storeroom new things as well as old."

53 When Jesus had finished these figures, he left that place, and went to his own part of the country. And he taught the people in their synagogue in such a way that they were astonished, and said,

"Where did he get this wisdom, and the power to do these wonders?"

55 Is he not the carpenter's son? Is not his mother named Mary, and are 56 not his brothers named James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas? And do not all his sisters live here among us? Then where did he get all this?"

57 And they took offense at him. But Jesus said to them,

"A prophet is treated with honor everywhere except in his native place and at his home."

58 And he did not do many wonders there, because of their want of faith.

14 At that time, Herod the governor heard the reports about Jesus,
2 and he said to his attendants,

"This man must be John the Baptist. He has risen from the dead, and that is why wonderful powers are working through him."

3 For Herod had seized John and bound him and put him in prison,
4 on account of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, for John said to him,
"It is not right for you to be living with her."

5 And while he wanted him killed, he was afraid of the people; for 6 they considered him a prophet. But when Herod's birthday came, Herodias' daughter danced before the company. And Herod was de-
7 lighted with her, and swore that he would give her anything she asked 8 for. But she, at her mother's instigation, said,

"Give me John the Baptist's head here on a platter!"

9 And the king was sorry, but because he had sworn to do it, and because of the guests who were present, he ordered it to be given to her.

10 And he sent and had John beheaded in the prison. And his head was 11 brought back on a platter and given to the girl, and she took it to her 12 mother. John's disciples came and took his body away, and buried him, and then they went and reported it to Jesus.

13 When Jesus heard it, he quietly retired by boat to a secluded place.

And the crowds heard of it and followed him on foot from the towns.

14 So when he got out of the boat he found a great crowd gathered, and his heart was touched at the sight of them, and he cured those of them

15 that were sick. And when it was evening, the disciples came up to him and said,

"This is a lonely place and the day is over. Send the crowds off to the villages to buy themselves food."

16 But Jesus said to them,

"They do not need to go away. Give them food yourselves."

17 They said to him,

"We have nothing here but five loaves and two fish."

18 He said,

“Bring them here to me.”

19 Then he ordered the crowds to sit down on the grass, and he took the five loaves and the two fish and looked up to heaven and blessed them, and he broke the loaves in pieces and gave them to the disciples
20 and they gave them to the people. And they all ate and had enough. And the pieces left over that they gathered up filled twelve baskets.
21 There were about five thousand men who were fed, besides women and children.

22 And he immediately made his disciples get into the boat and cross
23 before him to the other side while he dismissed the crowds. After he had dismissed them he went up the hill by himself to pray. And when 24 evening came on he was there alone, but the boat was by this time a long way from shore, struggling with the waves, for the wind was 25 against them. Toward morning he went out to them, walking on the 26 sea. And the disciples saw him walking on the sea, and they were terrified and said,

“It is a ghost!”

27 And they screamed with fear. But Jesus immediately spoke to them and said,

“Take courage! It is I. Do not be afraid.”

28 Peter answered,

“If it is you, Master, order me to come to you on the water.”

29 And he said,

“Come!”

And Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water and went 30 to Jesus. But when he felt the wind he was frightened, and beginning to sink, he cried out,

“Master, save me!”

31 Jesus immediately stretched out his hand and caught hold of him, and said to him,

“Why did you waver? You have so little faith!”

32 When they got into the boat, the wind went down. And the men 33 in the boat fell down before him and said,

“You are certainly God’s Son!”

34 And they crossed over to the other side and came to Gennesaret.
35 And the men of the place recognized him, and sent all over that district
36 and brought to him all who were sick, and they begged him to let them touch just the tassel of his cloak, and all who touched it were cured.

- 15 Then some Pharisees and scribes came to Jesus from Jerusalem, and said to him,
- 2 "Why do your disciples break the rules handed down by our ancestors? For they eat their bread without first washing their hands."
- 3 But he answered,
- 4 "Why do you too break God's command for the sake of what has been handed down to you? For God said, 'Honor your father and mother,' and 'He who abuses his father or mother must be put to death.'
- 5 But you say, 'Whoever tells his father or mother, "Anything of mine
- 6 that might have been of use to you is given to God," does not have to provide for his father.' So you have nullified what God has said,
- 7 for the sake of what has been handed down to you. You hypocrites! Isaiah prophesied finely about you when he said,
- 8 "This people honor me with their lips,
Yet their hearts are far away from me.
- 9 But their worship of me is all in vain,
For the lessons they teach are but human precepts.' "
- 10 And he called the people to him and said to them,
- 11 "Listen to this, and grasp it! It is not what goes into a man's mouth that pollutes him; it is what comes out of his mouth that pollutes a man."
- 12 Then his disciples came up to him and said to him,
"Do you know that the Pharisees were shocked to hear you say that?"
- 13 But he answered,
"Any plant that my heavenly Father did not plant must be up-
- 14 rooted! Leave them alone. They are blind guides! But if one blind man leads another, they will both fall into the ditch!"
- 15 Peter said to him,
"Explain the figure for us."
- 16 He said,
- 17 "Have even you no understanding yet? Can you not see that whatever goes into the mouth passes into the stomach and then is disposed of?
- 18 But the things that come out of the mouth come from the heart, and
- 19 they pollute a man. For out of the heart come wicked designs, murder,
- 20 adultery, immorality, stealing, false witness, impious speech. It is these things that pollute a man, but not eating with unwashed hands!"
- 21 And Jesus left that place and retired to the neighborhood of Tyre
- 22 and Sidon. And a Canaanite woman of that district came out and screamed,

- “Son of David, take pity on me, sir! My daughter is dreadfully possessed by a demon!”
- 23 But he would not answer her a word. And his disciples came up and urged him, saying, “Send her away, for she keeps screaming after us.”
- 24 But he answered,
“I am sent only to the lost sheep of Israel’s house.”
- 25 And she came and fell down before him, and said, “Help me, sir!”
- 26 He said,
“It is not right to take the children’s bread and throw it to the dogs!”
- 27 But she said,
“O yes, sir! For even dogs eat the scraps that fall from their masters’ table!”
- 28 Then Jesus answered,
“You have great faith! You shall have what you want.”
And her daughter was cured from that time.
- 29 Jesus left that place and went along the shore of the Sea of Galilee, 30 and went up on the hillside and sat down there. Then great crowds came to him bringing with them those who were lame, crippled, blind, or dumb, and many others. And they laid them down at his feet, and 31 he cured them, so that the people were astonished to see the dumb speak, the lame walk and the blind see. And they praised the God of Israel.
- 32 Then Jesus called his disciples to him and said to them,
“I pity these people for they have been staying with me three days now and they have nothing left to eat, and I do not mean to send them away hungry, for they may give out on the way.”
- 33 The disciples said to him,
“Where can we get bread enough in this solitude to feed such a crowd?”
- 34 Jesus said to them,
“How many loaves have you?”
They said,
“Seven, and a few small fish.”
- 35 Then he ordered the people to take their places on the ground, 36 and he took the seven loaves and the fish and gave thanks and he broke them in pieces and gave them to his disciples, and the disciples gave 37 them to the people. And they all ate and satisfied their hunger. And 38 the pieces that they left that were picked up filled seven baskets. There

- were four thousand men who were fed, besides women and children.
- 39 And he dismissed the people and got into the boat and went to the district of Magadan.
- 16 The Pharisees and Sadducees came up and to test him asked him to 2 show them a sign from heaven. He answered,
4 "It is a wicked and faithless age that insists on a sign, and no sign will be given it but the sign of Jonah."
And he left them and went away.
- 5 When the disciples went across the lake, they forgot to take any 6 bread. And Jesus said to them,
"Look out, and be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees!"
- 7 But they were discussing something with one another, and saying,
"We have not brought any bread!"
- 8 Jesus noticed it and said,
"Why are you discussing with one another your being without 9 bread? You have so little faith! Do you not understand yet? Do you not remember the five loaves for the five-thousand, and how many 10 baskets full you gathered up? Nor the seven loaves for the four thousand, and how many baskets full you gathered up? Why do you not see that I was not talking to you about bread? But be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees!"
- 12 Then they understood that he was warning them not against yeast but against the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.
- 13 When Jesus reached the district of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples,
"Who do people say that the Son of Man is?"
- 14 They said,
"Some say John the Baptist, others Elijah, and still others Jeremiah or one of the prophets."
- 15 He said to them,
"But who do you say that I am?"
- 16 Simon Peter answered,
"You are the Christ, the Son of the living God!"
- 17 Jesus answered,
"Blessed are you, Simon, son of Jonah, for human nature has not 18 disclosed this to you, but my Father in heaven! But I tell you, your name is Peter, a rock, and on this rock I will build my church, and the 19 powers of death shall not subdue it. I will give you the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven, and whatever you forbid on earth will be held in heaven to be forbidden, and whatever you permit on earth will be held in heaven to be permitted.”

20 Then he warned the disciples not to tell anyone that he was the Christ.

21 It was then that Jesus Christ for the first time explained to his disciples that he had to go to Jerusalem and endure great suffering there at the hands of the elders, high priests, and scribes, and be killed, and 22 be raised to life on the third day. And Peter took him aside and began to reprove him for it, saying,

“God bless you, Master! that can never happen to you!”

23 But he turned and said to Peter,

“Get out of my sight, you Satan! You hinder me, for you do not side with God, but with men!”

24 Then Jesus said to his disciples,

“If anyone wants to go with me, he must disregard himself and 25 take his cross and follow me. For whoever wants to preserve his own
26 life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for me will find it. For what good will it do a man if he gains the whole world but parts with 27 his life? What can a man give to buy back his life? For the Son of Man is going to come with his angels in his Father’s glory, and then 28 he will repay everyone for what he has done. I tell you, some of you who stand here will certainly live to see the Son of Man come to reign!”

17 Six days after this, Jesus took Peter and James and his brother John,
2 and led them up on a high mountain, by themselves. And his appearance underwent a change in their presence and his face shone like the
3 sun, and his clothes became as white as light. And Moses and Elijah
4 appeared to them, talking with him. And Peter spoke, and said to Jesus, “Master, how good it is that we are here! If you wish, I will make three huts here, one for you, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah.”

5 As he spoke a bright cloud overshadowed them and a voice from the cloud said,

“This is my Son, my Beloved. He is my Chosen. Listen to him!”

6 When the disciples heard it, they were dreadfully frightened and 7 fell upon their faces. And Jesus came and touched them, and said,

“Get up and do not be afraid.”

8 When they looked up, they saw no one but Jesus himself. And as 9 they were going down the mountain, Jesus cautioned them, saying,

“Do not tell anyone of the vision you have seen until the Son of Man is raised from the dead.”

¹⁰ The disciples asked him,

“Then why do the scribes say that Elijah has to come first?”

¹¹ He answered,

¹² “Elijah does come and is to reform everything, but I tell you, Elijah has come already, and they would not recognize him, but treated him just as they pleased. It is in just that way that the Son of Man is going to be treated by them!”

¹³ Then the disciples understood that he was speaking to them of John the Baptist.

¹⁴ When they came to the people again, a man came up to him and fell on his knees, saying,

¹⁵ “Master, take pity on my son, for he has epilepsy and is very ¹⁶ wretched; he often falls into the fire or into the water. And I brought him to your disciples and they have not been able to cure him.”

¹⁷ Jesus answered,

“O you unbelieving, obstinate people! How long must I be with you? How long must I put up with you? Bring him here to me!”

¹⁸ And Jesus reproved the demon and it came out of him, and from ¹⁹ that moment the boy was cured. Afterward, when he was alone, the disciples went to Jesus and said to him,

“Why could we not drive it out?”

²⁰ He said to them,

“Because you have so little faith. For I tell you, if you have faith the size of a grain of mustard, you can say to this mountain ‘Move from here over to there!’ and it will move, and nothing will be impossible for you.”

²² As they were going about in Galilee, Jesus said to them,

²³ “The Son of Man is going to be handed over to men, and they will kill him, but on the third day he will be raised to life again.” And they were greatly distressed.

²⁴ When they reached Capernaum, the collectors of the temple-tax came and said to Peter,

“Does not your Master pay the temple-tax?”

²⁵ He said,

“Yes.”

But when he went home, Jesus spoke of it first and said,

“What do you think, Simon? From whom do earthly kings collect duties and taxes? From their own people, or from aliens?”

- 26 He said,
"From aliens."
Jesus said to him,
- 27 "Then their own people are exempt. But rather than give offense to them, go down to the sea and throw in a hook. Take the first fish that comes up, open its mouth and you will find in it a dollar. Take that and pay the tax for us both."
- 18 Just at that time the disciples came up and asked Jesus,
"Who is really greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven?"
- 2 He called a child to him and had him stand among them, and he said,
"I tell you, unless you change and become like children, you will 4 never get into the Kingdom of Heaven at all. Anyone, therefore, who is as unassuming as this child is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven,
5 and anyone who welcomes one child like this on my account welcomes
6 me. But whoever hinders one of these children who believe in me might better have a great millstone hung around his neck and be sunk
7 in the open sea. Alas for the world for such hindrances! They have to come, but alas for the man who causes them!
- 8 "But if your own hand or your own foot makes you fall, cut it off and throw it away. You might better enter upon life maimed or crippled than keep both hands and feet but be thrown into the ever-9 lasting fire. And if your own eye makes you fall, dig it out and throw it away. You might better enter upon life with only one eye than be thrown with both eyes into the fiery pit.
- 10 "Beware of feeling scornful of one single little child, for I tell you that in heaven their angels have continual access to my Father in 12 heaven. What do you think? If a man has a hundred sheep and one of them strays away, will he not leave the ninety-nine on the hills,
13 and go in search of the one that is astray? And if he happens to find it, I tell you he rejoices more over it than he does over the ninety-
14 nine that did not stray. In just that way, it is the will of my Father in heaven that not a single one of these children be lost.
- 15 "But if your brother wrongs you, go to him and show him his fault while you are alone with him. If he listens to you, you have won back 16 your brother. But if he will not listen, take one or two others with you, so that everything may be supported by the testimony of two or 17 three witnesses. If he refuses to listen to them, tell the congregation. And if he refuses to listen to it, treat him as a heathen or a tax-collector.
- 18 "I tell you, whatever you forbid on earth will be held in heaven to be forbidden, and whatever you permit on earth will be held in heaven 19 to be permitted. Again, I tell you, if even two of you here on earth agree about what they shall pray for, it will be given them by my 20 Father in heaven. For wherever two or three are gathered as my followers, I am there among them.”

21 Then Peter came to him and said,

“Master, how many times am I to forgive my brother when he wrongs me? Seven times over?”

22 Jesus said to him,

“Not seven times over, I tell you, but seventy-seven times over!
23 For this reason the Kingdom of Heaven may be compared to a king, 24 who resolved to settle accounts with his slaves. And when he set about doing so, a man was brought in who owed him ten million dollars.
25 And as he could not pay, his master ordered him to be sold, with his 26 wife and children and all he had, in payment of the debt. So the slave threw himself down before him and implored him, ‘Give me time, and 27 I will pay you all of it.’ And his master’s heart was touched, and he let 28 the slave go and cancelled the debt. But when the slave went out he met a fellow-slave of his who owed him twenty dollars, and he caught him by the throat and began to choke him, saying, ‘Pay me what you 29 owe!’ So his fellow-slave threw himself down before him, and begged 30 him, ‘Give me time, and I will pay you.’ But he refused and went and 31 had him put in prison until he should pay the debt. When his fellow-slaves saw what had happened, they were greatly distressed, and they 32 went to their master and reported the whole matter to him. Then his master called him in and said to him, ‘You wicked slave! I cancelled 33 all that debt of yours when you entreated me. Ought you not to have 34 taken pity on your fellow-slave, as I did on you?’ So his master in his anger handed him over to the jailers, until he should pay all he owed 35 him. That is what my heavenly Father will do to you, if you do not each forgive your brothers from your hearts!”

19 When Jesus had finished this discourse, he left Galilee and went to 2 the part of Judea that is on the other side of the Jordan. Great crowds followed him about and he cured them there.

3 And some Pharisees came up to him to test him, and they said,

“Is it right for a man to divorce his wife for any cause?”

4 But he answered,

“Did you never read that the Creator at the beginning made them
5 male and female, and said, ‘For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two of them shall be-

- 6 come one'? So they are no longer two but one. Therefore, what God has joined together, man must not try to separate."
- 7 They said to him,
"Then why did Moses command us to draw up a written divorce-notice and give it to her?"
- 8 He said to them,
"It was on account of your perversity that Moses permitted you to divorce your wives, but it was not so at the beginning. I tell you that whoever divorces his wife on any ground but her unfaithfulness, and marries another woman, commits adultery."
- 10 The disciples said to him,
"If that is a man's relation to his wife, it is better not to marry!"
- 11 He said to them,
"It is not everyone who can accept that, but only those who have a special gift. For some are incapable of marriage from their birth, and some have been made so by men, and some have made themselves so for the sake of the Kingdom of Heaven. Let him accept it who can."
- 13 Then some children were brought up to him so that he might lay his hands on them and pray, but his disciples reproved the people for it. But Jesus said,
"Let the children alone, and do not try to keep them from coming to me, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to such as they are."
- 15 And he laid his hands on them and went on.
- 16 A man came up to him and said,
"Master, what good deed must I do to obtain eternal life?"
- 17 But he said to him,
"Why do you ask me about what is good? There is only one who is good. But if you want to enter that life, keep the commandments."
- 18 He said to him,
"Which ones?"
- Jesus said,
"These: 'You shall not murder, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not steal, You shall not bear false witness, Honor your father and mother,' and 'You shall love your neighbor as you do yourself.'"
- 20 The young man said to him,
"I have obeyed all these commandments. What do I still lack?"
- 21 Jesus said to him,
"If you want to be perfect, go! Sell your property and give the money to the poor, and you will have riches in heaven. Then come back and be a follower of mine."

22 But when the young man heard that, he went away much cast down, for he had a great deal of property.

23 Jesus said to his disciples,

“I tell you, it will be hard for a rich man to get into the Kingdom of Heaven! And again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to get through a needle’s eye than for a rich man to get into the Kingdom of God!”

25 But when the disciples heard this, they were completely astounded and said,

“Then who can be saved?”

26 But Jesus looked at them and said,

“For men it is impossible, but anything is possible for God!”

27 Then Peter spoke and said to him,

“Here we have left all we had and followed you. What are we to have?”

28 Jesus said to them,

“In the new world, I tell you, when the Son of Man takes his seat on his glorious throne, you who have followed me will also sit upon twelve thrones, and judge the twelve tribes of Israel! And anyone who has given up houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or children or land for my sake will receive many times as much, and share eternal life. But many who are first now will be last then, and many who are now last will be first. For the Kingdom of Heaven is like an employer who went out early in the morning to hire laborers for his vineyard.

2 He agreed with the laborers to pay them a dollar a day, and sent them to his vineyard. He went out about nine o’clock and saw others standing in the bazaar with nothing to do. And he said to them, ‘You go to my vineyard, too, and I will pay you whatever is right.’ So they went.

5 He went out again about twelve and about three, and did the same.

6 About five he went out and found others standing about and he said to them, ‘Why have you been standing about here all day doing nothing?’

7 They said to him, ‘Because nobody has hired us.’ He said to them, 8 ‘You go to my vineyard, too.’ When evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, ‘Call the laborers and pay them their wages, beginning with the last and ending with the first.’ When those who were hired about five o’clock came they received a dollar apiece.

10 And when those who were hired first came they expected to get more, but they too got a dollar apiece. And when they received it they grumbled

12 at their employer, and said, ‘These men who were hired last worked only one hour, and you have put them on the same footing with us who have done the heavy work of the day and have stood the mid-

13 day heat.' But he answered one of them, 'My friend, I am doing you 14 no injustice. Did you not agree with me on a dollar? Take what belongs to you to go. I wish to give the last man hired as much as I give 15 you. Have I no right to do what I please with what is mine? Or do 16 you begrudge my generosity?' So those who are last now will be first then, and those who are first will be last."

17 When Jesus was about to go up to Jerusalem, he took the Twelve off by themselves, and said to them as they were on the way,

18 "We are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be handed over to the high priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to 19 death, and hand him over to the heathen to be mocked and flogged and crucified, and on the third day he will be raised to life."

20 Then the mother of Zebedee's sons came up to him with her sons, 21 bowing low, to ask a favor of him. He said to her,

"What do you want?"

She said to him,

"Give orders that these two sons of mine sit one at your right and one at your left, when you are king!"

22 But Jesus answered,

"You do not know what you are asking for! Can you drink what I am going to drink?"

They answered,

"Yes, we can."

23 He said to them,

"Then what I drink you shall drink, but as for sitting at my right or my left, that is not mine to give, but belongs to those for whom it is destined by my Father."

24 When the other ten heard of this, they were very indignant at the 25 two brothers. But Jesus called them to him and said,

"You know that the rulers of the heathen lord it over them, and 26 their great men tyrannize over them. It is not to be so among you, but 27 whoever wants to be great among you must be your servant, and who-28 ever wants to hold the first place among you must be your slave, just as the Son of Man has come not to be waited on, but to wait on other people, and to give his life to ransom many others."

29 As they were going out of Jericho, a great crowd followed him.
30 And two blind men sitting by the roadside, hearing that it was Jesus who was passing, called out,

"You Son of David! Take pity on us, sir!"

31 The crowd told them to be still, but they called all the louder,

“You Son of David! Take pity on us, sir!”

32 And Jesus stopped and called them, and said,
“What do you want me to do for you?”

33 They said to him,
“Sir, have our eyes opened!”

34 And Jesus took pity on them and touched their eyes, and they immediately regained their sight, and followed him.

21 When they were near Jerusalem and had come to Bethphage and
2 the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two disciples on ahead, saying to them, “Go to the village that lies in front of you, and you will at once find an ass tied there, and a colt with her. Untie her and bring them to me.
3 If anyone says anything to you, you are to say ‘The Master needs them’; then he will send them at once.”

4 Now this happened in fulfilment of what was said by the prophet,
5 “Tell the daughter of Zion,
‘Here is your king coming to you,
Gentle, and riding on an ass,
And on the foal of a beast of burden.’”

6 So the disciples went and did as Jesus had directed them; they
7 brought the ass and the colt, and laid their coats upon them, and Jesus
8 seated himself upon them. And most of the crowd spread their coats in his way, and others cut branches from the trees and scattered them 9 before him. And the crowds that went in front of him and that followed him shouted,

“God bless the Son of David!
Blessed be he who comes in the Lord’s name.
God bless him from on high!”

10 When he came into Jerusalem, the whole city was stirred, and everyone asked,

“Who is he?”

11 The crowd answered,
“It is Jesus, the prophet of Nazareth in Galilee!”

12 And Jesus went into the Temple and drove out all who were buying or selling things in it, and he upset the money-changers’ tables and the 13 pigeon-dealers’ seats, and he said to them,

“The Scripture says ‘My house shall be called a house of prayer,’ but you make it a robbers’ cave.”

14 And blind and lame people came up to him in the Temple, and he 15 cured them. But when the high priests and the scribes saw the wonders that he did and saw the boys shouting in the Temple, "God bless the 16 Son of David!" they were indignant, and said to him,

"Do you hear what they are saying?"

Jesus said to them,

"Yes. Did you never read, 'You have drawn praise from the mouths of children and infants'?"

17 And he left them, and went out of the city to Bethany, and spent the night there.

18 In the morning as he went back to the city, he grew hungry, and see-19 ing a fig tree by the roadside, he went up to it, but found nothing on it but leaves. And he said to it,

"No more fruit shall ever grow on you!"

20 And the fig tree withered up at once. When the disciples saw it, they were amazed and said,

"How did the fig tree come to wither up immediately?"

21 Jesus answered,

"I tell you, if you have faith and have no doubt, you will not only do what I have done to the fig tree, but even if you say to this mountain, 22 'Get up and throw yourself into the sea,' it will be done. And everything that you pray for with faith, you will obtain."

23 When he had entered the Temple, and was teaching, the high priests and the elders of the people came up to him, and said,

"What authority have you for doing as you do, and who gave you this authority?"

24 Jesus answered,

"Let me ask you one question, and if you answer it, I will tell you 25 what authority I have for doing as I do. Where did John's baptism come from? Was it from heaven, or from men?"

And they argued with one another,

26 "If we say, 'It was from heaven,' he will say to us, 'Then why did you not believe him?' But if we say, 'From men,' we have the people to fear, for they all consider John a prophet."

27 And they answered Jesus,

"We do not know."

He said to them,

28 "Nor will I tell you what authority I have for doing as I do. But what do you think? There was a man who had two sons. He went to 29 the first and said, 'My son, go and work in the vineyard today.' And he 30 answered, 'I will, sir,' but he did not go. Then the man went to the second son, and told him the same thing. And he answered 'I will 31 not!’ But afterward he changed his mind and went. Which of the two did what his father wanted?”

They said,

“The second one.”

Jesus said to them,

32 “I tell you, the tax-collectors and prostitutes are going into the Kingdom of God ahead of you. For John came to you with a way of uprightness, and you would not believe him. The tax-collectors and prostitutes believed him, but even after seeing that, you would not change your minds and believe him!

33 “Listen to another figure. There was a land owner who planted a vineyard and fenced it in, and hewed out a wine-vat in-it, and built a watch-tower, and leased it to tenants, and left the neighborhood. 34 When the time for the vintage approached he sent his slaves to the 35 tenants to receive his share. But the tenants took his slaves and beat one 36 and killed another and stoned a third. Again he sent other slaves and more of them than he had sent at first, and they treated them in the 37 same way. Finally he sent his son to them, thinking, ‘They will re- 38 spect my son.’ But when the tenants saw his son, they said to one another, ‘This is his heir! Come on, let us kill him, and get his inherit- 39 ance!’ So they took him and drove him out of the vineyard and killed 40 him. When the owner of the vineyard comes back, therefore, what will he do to these tenants?”

41 They said to him,

“He will put the wretches to a miserable death, and let the vineyard to other tenants who will give him his share of the vintage when it is due.”

42 Jesus said to them,

“Did you never read in the Scriptures,

“That stone which the builders rejected

Has become the cornerstone;

This came from the Lord,

And seems marvelous to us?”

43 “That, I tell you, is why the Kingdom of God will be taken away from you, and given to a people that will produce its proper fruit. 44 Whoever falls on that stone will be shattered, but whoever it falls upon will be pulverized.”

45 When the high priests and the Pharisees heard his figures, they knew 46 that he was speaking about them, and they wanted to have him arrested, but they were afraid of the people, for the people considered him a prophet.

22 And Jesus spoke to them again in figures, and said,

2 "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a king, who gave a wedding banquet for his son. And he sent his slaves to summon those who had been
3 invited to the banquet, and they would not come. He sent other slaves
4 a second time, and said to them, 'Tell those who have been asked,
5 "Here I have my banquet all ready, my bullocks and fat cattle are 6 killed, and everything is ready. Come to the banquet!"' But they 7 took no notice of it, and went off, one to his estate, and another to his 8 business, and the rest seized his slaves, and ill treated them and killed 9 them. This made the king angry, and he sent his troops and put those 10 murderers to death and burned their city. Then he said to his slaves, 11 'The banquet is ready, but those who were invited have proved un-12 worthy of it. So go out where the roads leave the city and invite every-13 one you find to the banquet.' So his slaves went out on the roads, and 14 got together all the people they could find, good or bad, and the hall
15 was filled with guests. But when the king came in to view the guests, 16 he saw among them a man who did not have on wedding clothes. And 17 he said to him, 'My friend, how did you happen to come here without 18 wedding clothes?' But he had nothing to say. Then the king said to 19 his attendants, 'Bind him hand and foot and throw him out into the 20 darkness, there to weep and grind his teeth.' For many are invited but 21 few chosen."

22 Then the Pharisees went and made a plot to entrap him in argument. So they sent their disciples to him with the Herodians, to say to him,

"Master, we know that you tell the truth, and teach the way of God with sincerity, regardless of the consequences, for you are impartial.
23 So give us your opinion: Is it right to pay the poll-tax to the emperor, or not?"

24 But he saw their malice, and said,

25 "Why do you put me to such a test, you hypocrites? Show me the poll-tax coin!"

26 And they brought him a denarius. And he said to them,

"Whose head and title is this?"

27 They answered,

"The emperor's."

28 Then he said to them,

“Then pay the emperor what belongs to the emperor, and pay God what belongs to God!”

22 And when they heard it they were amazed, and they went away and left him.

23 On the same day some Sadducees came up to him, claiming that there is no resurrection, and they asked him this question:

24 “Master, Moses said, ‘If a man dies without children his brother shall marry his widow, and raise up a family for him.’ Now there were seven brothers among us. The first of them married and died, and as he had no children, he left his wife to his brother; so did the second, 27 and the third, and the rest of the seven. After them all the woman 28 died. At the resurrection which one’s wife will she be? For they all married her.”

29 Jesus answered them,

“You are wrong, because you do not understand the Scriptures nor 30 the power of God. For after the resurrection there is no marrying or 31 being married, but they live as angels do in heaven. But as to the resurrection of the dead, did you never read what was said to you by God, ‘I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob’? He is not the God of dead men but of living!”

33 When the crowd heard this, they were astounded at his teaching.

34 And when the Pharisees heard that he had silenced the Sadducees, 35 they gathered together, and one of them, an expert in the Law, to test him, asked,

36 “Master, what command is greatest in the Law?”

37 And he said to him,

“‘You must love the Lord your God with your whole heart, your 38 whole soul, and your whole mind.’ That is the great, first command. 39 There is a second like it: ‘You must love your neighbor as you do your- 40 self.’ These two commands sum up the whole of the Law and the Prophets.”

41 While the Pharisees were still gathered there, Jesus asked them, 42 “What do you think about the Christ? Whose son is he?”

They said to him,

“David’s.”

43 He said to them,

“How is it then that David under the Spirit’s influence calls him lord, and says,

44 “‘The Lord has said to my lord, “Sit at my right hand,
Until I put your enemies under your feet”’?”

45 So if David calls him lord, how can he be his son?"

46 And no one could make him any answer, and from that day no one ventured to ask him any more questions.

23 Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples,

3 "The scribes and Pharisees have taken Moses' seat. So do everything they tell you, and observe it all, but do not do as they do, for they 4 talk but do not act. They tie up heavy loads and have them put on 5 men's shoulders, but they will not lift a finger to move them. They do everything they do to have men see it. They wear wide Scripture
6 texts as charms, and they wear large tassels, and they like the best places
7 at dinners and the front seats in the synagogues, and to be saluted with 8 respect in public places, and to have men call them 'Rabbi.' But you must not let people call you 'Rabbi,' for you have only one teacher, and 9 you are all brothers. And you must not call anyone on earth your 10 father, for you have only one father, your heavenly Father. And you must not let men call you master, for you have only one master, the 11 Christ. But he who is greatest among you must be your servant. Who-12 ever exalts himself will be humbled and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.

14 "But alas for you, you hypocritical scribes and Pharisees, for you lock the doors of the Kingdom of Heaven in men's faces, for you will neither go in yourselves nor let those enter who are trying to do so.
15 Alas for you, you hypocritical scribes and Pharisees, for you scour land and sea to make one convert, and when he is converted you make him 16 twice as fit for the pit as you are. Alas for you, you blind guides, who say, 'If anyone swears by the sanctuary, it does not matter, but if any-17 one swears by the gold of the sanctuary, it is binding.' Blind fools!
which is greater, the gold, or the sanctuary that makes the gold sacred?
18 You say, 'If anyone swears by the altar, it does not matter, but if any-19 one swears by the offering that is on it, it is binding.' You blind men!
Which is greater, the offering, or the altar that makes the offering 20 sacred? Anyone who swears by the altar is swearing by it and by every-21 thing that is on it, and anyone who swears by the sanctuary is swearing 22 by it and by him who dwells in it; and anyone who swears by heaven is swearing by the throne of God and by him who sits upon it.

23 "Alas for you, you hypocritical scribes and Pharisees, for you pay tithes on mint, dill, and cummin, and you have let the weightier matters of the Law go—justice, mercy, and integrity. But you should 24 have observed these, without overlooking the others. You blind
25 guides! straining out the gnat, and yet swallowing the camel! Alas for you, you hypocritical scribes and Pharisees, for you clean the outside of the cup and the dish, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence. You blind Pharisee! You must first clean the inside of the cup and the dish, so that the outside may be clean too. Alas for you, you hypocritical scribes and Pharisees, for you are like white-washed tombs! They look well on the outside, but inside they are full of the bones of the dead, and all that is unclean. So you outwardly appear to men to be upright, but within you are full of hypocrisy and wickedness.

“Alas for you, you hypocritical scribes and Pharisees, for you build tombs for the prophets, and decorate the monuments of the upright, and say, ‘If we had been living in the times of our fathers, we would not have joined them in the murder of the prophets.’ So you bear witness against yourselves that you are descended from the murderers of the prophets. Go on and fill up the measure of your forefathers’ guilt. You serpents! You brood of snakes! How can you escape being sentenced to the pit? This is why I am going to send you prophets, wise men and scribes, some of whom you will kill and crucify, and some you will flog in your synagogues and hunt from one town to another; it is that on your heads may come all the righteous blood shed on the earth from the blood of Abel the upright to the blood of Zechariah, Barachiah’s son, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar! I tell you, all this will come upon this age!

“O Jerusalem, Jerusalem! murdering the prophets, and stoning those who are sent to her, how often I have longed to gather your children around me, as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, but you refused! Now I leave you to yourselves. For I tell you, you will never see me again until you say, ‘Blessed be he who comes in the Lord’s name!’ ”

And Jesus left the Temple and was going away, when his disciples came up to him to call his attention to the Temple buildings. But he answered,

“Do you see all this? I tell you, not one stone will be left here upon another but shall be torn down.”

As he was sitting on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came up to him by themselves, and said to him,

“Tell us when this is to happen, and what will be the sign of your coming, and of the close of the age.”

Jesus answered,

“Take care that no one misleads you about this. For many will come under my name, and say, ‘I am the Christ,’ and many will be mis-

6 led by them. You will hear of wars and rumors of war; do not let 7 yourselves be alarmed. They have to come, but that is not the end. For 8 nation will rise in arms against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, 9 and there will be famines and earthquakes here and there. All this is 10 only the beginning of the sufferings. Then they will hand you over to 11 persecution and they will put you to death, and you will be hated by 12 all the heathen because you bear my name. Then many will fall away 13 and betray one another and hate one another. Many false prophets will 14 appear, and many will be misled by them, and because of the increase 15 of wickedness, most men's love will grow cold. But he who holds out 16 to the end will be saved. And this good news of the kingdom will be 17 preached all over the world, to testify to all the heathen, and then the 18 end will come.

19 "So when you see the dreadful desecration, of which the prophet 20 Daniel spoke, set up in the Holy Place"—the reader must take note of 21 this—"then those who are in Judea must fly to the hills; a man on the 22 roof of his house must not go down to get things out of it, and a man in 23 the field must not turn back to get his coat. But alas for women who 24 are with child at that time or who have babies! And pray that you may 25 not have to fly in winter or on the Sabbath, for there will be greater 26 misery then than there has ever been from the beginning of creation
27 until now, or ever will be again. If those days had not been cut short,
28 nobody would have escaped, but for the sake of God's people those days
29 will be cut short.

30 "If anyone says to you at that time, 'Look! here is the Christ!' or 31 'There he is!' do not believe it, for false Christs and false prophets will 32 appear, and they will show great signs and wonders to mislead God's 33 chosen people if they can. Here I have told you beforehand. So if they 34 say to you, 'There he is, in the desert!' do not go out there; 'Here he is, 35 in a room in here!' do not believe it. For just as the lightning starts in 36 the east and flashes to the west, so the coming of the Son of Man will be.
37 Wherever there is a dead body, the vultures will flock.

38 "But immediately after the misery of those days, the sun will be 39 darkened, and the moon will not shed its light, and the stars will fall 40 from the sky, and the forces of the sky will shake. Then the sign of the 41 Son of Man will appear in the sky, and all the nations of the earth will 42 lament when they see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of the sky, 43 in all his power and splendor. And he will send out his angels with a 44 loud trumpet-call, and they will gather his chosen people from the four 45 winds, from one end of the sky to the other.

32 "Let the fig tree teach you the lesson. As soon as its branches grow 33 soft and put forth leaves, you know that summer is coming. So when 34 you see all these things, you must know that he is just at the door. I tell you, these things will all happen before the present age passes away.
35 Earth and sky will pass away but my words will never pass away.
36 But about that day or hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven
37 nor the Son, but only the Father. For just as it was in the time of 38 Noah, it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. For just as in those days before the flood people were eating and drinking, marrying and 39 being married, until the very day Noah entered the ark, and knew nothing about it until the flood came and destroyed them all, so it will 40 be at the coming of the Son of Man. Two men will be in the field;
41 one will be taken and one left. Two women will be grinding with the 42 handmill; one will be taken and one left. So you must be on the watch, 43 for you do not know on what day your Master is coming. But you may be sure of this, that if the master of the house had known in what part of the night the thief was coming, he would have been on the watch, 44 and would not have let his house be broken into. Therefore you must be ready too, for the Son of Man is coming at a time when you do not expect him.

45 "Who then will be the faithful, thoughtful slave whom his master put in charge of his household, to give the members of it their supplies 46 at the proper time? Blessed is that slave if his master when he returns
47 finds him doing it. I tell you, he will put him in charge of all his prop-
48 erty. But if he is a bad slave and says to himself, 'My master is going 49 to stay a long time,' and begins to beat the other slaves, and eats and 50 drinks with drunkards, that slave's master will come back some day when he does not expect him, and at some time of which he does not 51 know and will cut him in two, and put him with the hypocrites, to weep and gnash his teeth.

25 "Then the Kingdom of Heaven will be like ten bridesmaids who 2 took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom. Now five of 3 them were foolish and five were sensible. For the foolish ones brought 4 their lamps but brought no oil with them, but the sensible ones with 5 their lamps brought oil in their flasks. As the bridegroom was slow in 6 coming, they all grew drowsy and fell asleep. But in the middle of the night there was a shout 'Here is the bridegroom! Come out and meet 7 him!' Then all the bridesmaids awoke, and trimmed their lamps.
8 And the foolish ones said to the sensible ones, 'Give us some of your oil, 9 for our lamps are going out.' But the sensible ones answered, 'There may not be enough for us and you. You had better go to the dealers 10 and buy yourselves some.' But while they were gone to buy it, the bridegroom arrived, and the ones that were ready went in with him to 11 the wedding banquet, and the door was closed. Afterward the other 12 bridesmaids came and said, 'Sir! Sir! Open the door for us!' But he 13 answered, 'I tell you, I do not know you!' So you must be on the watch, for you do not know either the day or the hour.

14 "For it is just like a man who was going on a journey, and called in 15 his slaves, and put his property in their hands. He gave one five thousant dollars, and another two thousand, and another one thousand; to 16 each according to his ability. Then he went away. The man who had received the five thousand dollars immediately went into business with 17 the money, and made five thousand more. In the same way the man 18 who had received the two thousand made two thousand more. But the man who had received the one thousand went away and dug a hole in 19 the ground and hid his master's money. Long afterward, their master 20 came back and settled accounts with them. And the man who had received the five thousand dollars came up bringing him five thousand more, and said, 'Sir, you put five thousand dollars in my hands; here 21 I have made five thousand more.' His master said to him, 'Well done, my excellent, faithful slave! you have been faithful about a small amount; I will put a large one into your hands. Come, share your 22 master's enjoyment!' And the man who had received the two thousant came up and said 'Sir, you put two thousand dollars into my 23 hands; here I have made two thousand more.' His master said to him,
'Well done, my excellent, faithful slave! you have been faithful about a small amount; I will put a large one into your hands. Come! share 24 your master's enjoyment.' And the man who had received the one thousand came up and said, 'Sir, I knew you were a hard man, who reaped where you had not sown, and gathered where you had not 25 threshed, and I was frightened, and I went and hid your thousand dol-26 lars in the ground. Here is your money!' His master answered, 'You wicked, idle slave! You knew that I reaped where I had not sown and 27 gathered where I had not threshed? Then you ought to have put my money in the bank, and then when I came back I would have gotten 28 my property with interest. So take the thousand dollars away from 29 him, and give it to the man who has the ten thousand, for the man who has will have more given him, and will be plentifully supplied, and from the man who has nothing even what he has will be taken away.

30 And put the good-for-nothing slave out into the darkness outside, to weep and grind his teeth there.'

31 "When the Son of Man comes in his splendor, with all his angels
32 with him, he will take his seat on his glorious throne, and all the nations will be gathered before him, and he will separate them from one
33 another, just as a shepherd separates his sheep from his goats, and he
34 will put the sheep at his right hand and the goats at his left. Then the king will say to those at his right, 'Come, you whom my Father has blessed, take possession of the kingdom which has been destined for you
35 from the creation of the world. For when I was hungry, you gave me food, when I was thirsty you gave me something to drink, when I was 36 a stranger, you invited me to your homes, when I had no clothes, you gave me clothes, when I was sick, you looked after me, when I was in 37 prison, you came to see me.' Then the upright will answer, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry and give you food, or thirsty, and give 38 you something to drink? When did we see you a stranger, and invite 39 you home, or without clothing, and supply you with it? When did
40 we see you sick or in prison, and go to see you?' The king will answer, 'I tell you, in so far as you did it to one of the humblest of these 41 brothers of mine, you did it to me.' Then he will say to those at his left, 'Begone, you accursed people, to the everlasting fire destined 42 for the devil and his angels! For when I was hungry, you gave me nothing to eat, and when I was thirsty you gave me nothing to drink,
43 when I was a stranger, you did not invite me home, when I had no clothes, you did not supply me, when I was sick and in prison, you
44 did not look after me.' Then they in their turn will answer, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or in need of 45 clothes, or sick, or in prison, and did not wait upon you?' Then he will answer, 'I tell you, in so far as you failed to do it for one of these 46 people who are humblest, you failed to do it for me.' Then they will go away to everlasting punishment, and the upright to everlasting life."

26 When Jesus had finished this discourse he said to his disciples,

2 "You know that in two days the Passover Festival will come, and the Son of Man will be handed over to be crucified."

3 Then the high priests and the elders of the people gathered in the 4 house of the high priest, whose name was Caiaphas, and plotted to 5 arrest Jesus by stealth and put him to death. But they said,

"It must not be during the festival, or there may be a riot."

6 When Jesus got back to Bethany, to the house of Simon the leper,
7 a woman came up to him with an alabaster flask, of very expensive

- 8 perfume and poured it upon his head, while he was at table. When his disciples saw it, they said indignantly,
- 9 "What was the use of wasting it like that? It might have been sold for a large sum, and the money given to the poor."
- 10 But Jesus observed this and said to them,
"Why do you bother the woman? It is a fine thing that she has done to me. For you always have the poor among you, but you will not always have me. In pouring this perfume on me she has done something to prepare me for burial. I tell you, wherever this good news is preached all over the world, what she has done will also be told, in memory of her."
- 14 Then one of the Twelve, named Judas Iscariot, went to the high priests, and said,
"What will you give me if I hand him over to you?"
- 16 And they counted him out thirty silver pieces. And from that time he watched for a good opportunity to hand him over to them.
- 17 On the first day of the festival of Unleavened Bread, the disciples came to Jesus and said,
"Where do you wish us to make the preparations for you to eat the Passover supper?"
- 18 And he said,
"Go into the city, to a certain man, and say to him, 'The Master says, "My time is near. I am going to keep the Passover at your house with my disciples." ' "
- 19 So the disciples did as Jesus directed them, and prepared the Passover supper.
- 20 When evening came, he took his place at table with the twelve disciples. And as they were eating, he said,
"I tell you, one of you will betray me!"
- 22 They were deeply hurt and began to say to him one after another,
"Can it be I, Master?"
- 23 He answered,
"The man who just dipped his hand in the same dish with me is going to betray me. The Son of Man is to go away as the Scriptures say of him, but alas for the man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would have been better for that man if he had never been born!"
- 25 Judas, who betrayed him, said,
"Can it be I, Master?"
He said to him,
"You are right!"

- 26 As they were eating Jesus took a loaf and blessed it, and he broke it in pieces and gave it to his disciples, saying,
"Take this and eat it. It is my body!"
- 27 And he took the wine-cup and gave thanks and gave it to them, saying,
28 "You must all drink from it, for this is my blood which ratifies the agreement, and is to be poured out for many people, for the forgiveness
29 of their sins. And I tell you I will never drink this product of the vine again till the day when I shall drink the new wine with you in my Father's kingdom!"
- 30 After singing the hymn, they went out of the city and up the Mount of Olives.
- 31 Then Jesus said to them,
"You will all desert me tonight, for the Scriptures say, 'I will strike 32 the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.' But after I am raised to life again, I will go back to Galilee before you."
- 33 Peter answered,
"If they all desert you, I will never do it!"
- 34 Jesus said to him,
"I tell you, tonight, before a cock crows, you will disown me three times!"
- 35 Peter said to him,
"Even if I have to die with you, I will never disown you!" All the disciples said so too.
- 36 Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane, and he said to the disciples,
"Sit down here while I go over yonder and pray."
- 37 And he took Peter and Zebedee's two sons with him, and he began 38 to show grief and distress of mind. Then he said to them,
"My heart is almost breaking. You must stay here and keep watch with me."
- 39 And he went on a little way, and threw himself on his face, and prayed, saying,
"My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass by me. Yet not as I please but as you do!"
- 40 When he went back to the disciples he found them asleep. And he said to Peter,
41 "Then were you not able to watch with me for one hour? You must all watch, and pray that you may not be exposed to trial! One's spirit is eager, but flesh and blood are weak!"

42 He went away again a second time and prayed, saying,
"My Father, if it cannot pass by me without my drinking it, your will be done!"

43 When he came back he found them asleep again, for they could 44 hardly keep their eyes open. And he left them and went away again 45 and prayed a third time, in the same words as before. Then he came back to the disciples and said to them,

"Are you still sleeping and taking your rest? See, the time has 46 come for the Son of Man to be handed over to wicked men! Get up!
Let us be going! Look! Here comes my betrayer!"

47 Just as he was speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, came up, and with him a great crowd with swords and clubs, from the high priests 48 and the elders of the people. Now the man who betrayed him gave them a signal, saying

"The one I kiss is the man. Seize him!"

49 And he went straight up to Jesus and said,
"Good evening, Master!" and kissed him affectionately.

50 Jesus said to him,

"My friend, what are you here for?"

51 Then they came up and laid hands on Jesus and secured him. One of the men with Jesus put out his hand and drew his sword, and strik-52 ing at the high priest's slave, cut his ear off. Then Jesus said to him,

"Put your sword back where it belongs! For all who draw the 53 sword will die by the sword. Do you suppose I cannot appeal to my Father, and he would at once furnish me more than twelve legions of 54 angels? But then how are the Scriptures to be fulfilled, which say that this must happen?"

55 At that same time Jesus said to the crowd,

"Have you come out to arrest me with swords and clubs, as though
I were a robber? Day after day I have sat in the Temple preaching, 56 and you never seized me. But this has all taken place in fulfilment of the writings of the prophets."

Then all the disciples left him and made their escape.

57 The men who had seized Jesus took him away to Caiaphas, the high 58 priest, at whose house the scribes and elders had gathered. And Peter followed him at a distance as far as the courtyard of the high priest's house, and he went inside and sat down among the attendants to see 59 how it came out. Now the high priests and the whole council were trying to get false testimony against Jesus, so that they might put him

- 60 to death. And they could not, although many false witnesses presented 61 themselves. But finally two came forward and said,
 "This man said, 'I can tear down the sanctuary of God, and build it up in three days.' "
- 62 And the high priest got up and said to him,
 "Have you no answer to make? What about their evidence against you?"
- 63 But Jesus was silent. And the high priest said to him,
 "I charge you, on your oath, by the living God, tell us whether you are the Christ, the son of God."
- 64 Jesus said to him,
 "It is true. But I tell you you will soon see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Almighty and coming upon the clouds of the sky!"
- 65 Then the high priest tore his clothing and said,
 "He has uttered blasphemy! What do we want of witnesses now?"
- 66 Here you have heard his blasphemy! What is your decision?"
 They answered,
 "He deserves death."
- 67 Then they spat in his face and struck him, and others slapped him, 68 saying,
 "Show us you are a prophet, you Christ! Who was it that struck you?"
- 69 Now Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard, and a maid came up to him, and said,
 "You were with Jesus the Galilean, too!"
- 70 But he denied it before them all, and said,
 "I do not know what you mean."
- 71 And he went out into the gateway, and another maid saw him, and said to the men there,
 "This fellow was with Jesus the Nazarene!"
- 72 He denied it again, with an oath, and said,
 "I do not know the man!"
- 73 A little while after the bystanders came up to Peter and said,
 "You are certainly one of them too, for your accent shows it!"
- 74 Then he started to swear with the strongest oaths,
 "I do not know the man!"
- 75 And at that moment a cock crowed. And Peter remembered Jesus' words when he had said,
 "Before a cock crows, you will disown me three times!"

And he went outside and wept bitterly.

27 When it was morning, all the high priests and elders of the people held a consultation about Jesus, with a view to putting him to death.
2 And they bound him and led him away and handed him over to Pilate the governor.

3 Then Judas who had betrayed him, when he saw that he had been condemned, in his remorse brought back the thirty silver pieces to the 4 high priests and elders, and said,

“I did wrong when I handed an innocent man over to death!”

They said,

“What is that to us? You see to it yourself.”

5 And he threw down the silver and left the Temple and went off
6 and hung himself. The high priests gathered up the money, and they said,

“It is not legal to put this into the Temple treasury, for it is blood money.”

7 So after consultation they bought with it the Potter’s Field as a
8 burial ground for strangers. For this reason that piece of ground has 9 ever since been called the Field of Blood. So the words spoken by the prophet Jeremiah were fulfilled: “They took the thirty silver pieces, the price of the one whose price had been fixed, on whom some of the 10 Israelites had set a price, and gave them for the Potter’s Field as the Lord directed me.”

11 Now Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor asked him,
“Are you the king of the Jews?”

Jesus said,

“Yes.”

12 And while the high priests and elders were making their charges
13 against him, he made no answer. Then Pilate said to him,

“Do you not hear what evidence they are bringing against you?”

14 And he made him no reply to even a single accusation, so that the 15 governor was greatly surprised. Now at festival time the governor was accustomed to release for the people any prisoner whom they chose,
16 and at this time there was a notorious prisoner named Barabbas.
17 So when they gathered to ask this, Pilate said to them,

“Which one do you want me to release for you, Barabbas, or Jesus, the so-called Christ?”

18 For he knew that they had handed him over to him out of envy.
19 Now while he was on the bench his wife sent to him to say,

“Do not have anything to do with that upright man, for I have just had a painful experience in a dream about him.”

20 But the high priests and the elders prevailed on the crowd to ask 21 for Barabbas, and to have Jesus put to death. And the governor answered,

“Which of the two do you want me to release for you?”

They said,

“Barabbas!”

22 Pilate said to them,

“Then what am I to do with Jesus, the so-called Christ?”

They all said,

“Have him crucified!”

23 He said,

“Why, what has he done that is wrong?”

But they shouted all the louder,

“Have him crucified!”

24 When Pilate saw that he was gaining nothing but that riot was beginning instead, he took some water and washed his hands in the presence of the crowd, saying,

“I am not responsible for this man’s death; you must see to it yourselves.”

25 And all the people answered,

“His blood be on us and on our children!”

26 Then he released Barabbas for them, and he had Jesus flogged and handed him over to be crucified.

27 Then the governor’s soldiers took Jesus into the barracks, and got 28 the whole battalion together about him. And they stripped him and

29 put a red cloak on him, and made a wreath of thorns and put it on his head, and they put a stick in his hand, and knelt down before him in mockery, saying,

“Long live the king of the Jews!”

30 And they spat at him, and took the stick and struck him on the head.

31 And when they had finished making sport of him, they took off the cloak, and put his own clothes on him, and led him away to be crucified.

32 As they went out of the city they came upon a Cyrenian named

33 Simon, and they forced him to carry Jesus’ cross. When they came to 34 a place called Golgotha, which means the Place of the Skull, they offered him a drink of wine mixed with gall, and when he tasted it

35 he would not drink it. And they crucified him and divided up his

36 clothes among them by drawing lots, and sat down there to keep watch 37 of him. They put above his head the charge against him, which read,
“This is Jesus, the king of the Jews.”

38 There were two robbers crucified with him at the time, one at his 39 right and one at his left. And the passers-by jeered at him, shaking 40 their heads and saying,

“You who would tear down the sanctuary, and build one in three days, save yourself! If you are the Son of God, come down from the cross!”

41 And the high priests, too, made sport of him with the scribes and elders, and said,

42 “He saved others, but he cannot save himself! He is King of Israel; let him come down from the cross now, and we will believe 43 in him. He trusts in God; let God deliver him if he cares for him, for he said he was God’s son.”

44 Even the robbers who were crucified with him abused him in the same way.

45 Now from noon there was darkness over the whole country until 46 three o’clock. And about three, Jesus called out loudly, “Eloi, Eloi, lema sabachthani?” that is, “My God! My God!

Why have you forsaken me?”

47 Some of the bystanders when they heard it said,
“The man is calling for Elijah!”

48 And one of them ran off at once and got a sponge and soaked it in sour wine and put it on the end of a stick and held it up to him to 49 drink. But the others said,

“Let us see whether Elijah will come to save him.”

50 But Jesus cried out again loudly, and gave up his spirit. And at 51 once the curtain of the sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom.
52 The earth shook, the rocks split, the tombs opened, and many of the 53 saints who had fallen asleep rose and left their tombs and after his resurrection went into the holy city and showed themselves to many 54 people. And the captain and the men with him who were watching Jesus, when they saw the earthquake and all that was happening, were dreadfully frightened and said,

“He surely must have been a son of God!”

55 There were several women there watching from a distance who 56 had followed Jesus from Galilee to wait upon him, among them Mary of Magdala, Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of Zebedee’s sons.

57 In the evening a rich man named Joseph, from Arimathea, who had 58 himself been a disciple of Jesus, came. He went to Pilate and asked 59 him for Jesus' body. Then Pilate ordered it to be given to him. And 60 Joseph took the body and wrapped it in a piece of clean linen, and laid it in a new tomb that belonged to him, that he had cut in the rock, and he rolled a great stone over the doorway of the tomb, and 61 went away. And Mary of Magdala and the other Mary remained there, sitting before the tomb.

62 On the next day, that is, the day after the Preparation Day, the 63 high priests and Pharisees went in a body to Pilate and said,

“Sir, we remember that when this impostor was alive he said, ‘After 64 three days I will rise again!’ Give orders, therefore, to have the tomb closely guarded till the third day, so that his disciples cannot come and steal him, and then tell the people that he is risen from the dead, and that delusion be worse than the other was.”

65 Pilate said to them,

“Take a guard of soldiers, and go and make it as secure as you can.”

66 And they went and set the guard and put a seal on the stone.

28 After the Sabbath, as the first day of the week was dawning, Mary
2 of Magdala and the other Mary went to look at the tomb. And there was a great earthquake. For an angel of the Lord came down from 3 heaven and went and rolled the stone back and sat upon it. His appearance was like lightning and his clothing was as white as snow.
4 The men on guard trembled with fear of him, and became like dead
5 men. And the angel said to the women,

“You need not be afraid. I know that you are looking for Jesus
6 who was crucified. He is not here, he has risen, as he said he would 7 do. Come and see the place where he was lying. Now go quickly and tell his disciples, ‘He has risen from the dead, and is going back to Galilee before you. You will see him there.’ Now I have given you my message.”

8 And they hurried away from the tomb frightened and yet over-9 joyed, and ran to tell the news to his disciples. And Jesus himself met them, and said,

“Good morning!”

And they went up to him and clasped his feet, and bowed to the 10 ground before him. Jesus said to them,

“You need not be afraid. Go and tell my brothers to go to Galilee and they will see me there.”

11 While they were on their way, some of the guard went into the

¹² city and reported to the high priests all that had happened. And they got together and consulted with the elders, and gave the soldiers a
¹³ large sum of money, and said to them,

“Tell people that his disciples came in the night and stole him away
¹⁴ while you were asleep. And if news of it reaches the governor, we will satisfy him, and see that you do not get into trouble.”

¹⁵ So they took the money and did as they were told. And this story has been current among the Jews ever since.

¹⁶ And the eleven disciples went to Galilee to the mountain to which ¹⁷ Jesus had directed them. There they saw him and bowed down before him, though some were in doubt about it.

¹⁸ And Jesus came up to them and said,

“Full authority in heaven and on the earth has been given to me.
¹⁹ Therefore go and make disciples of all the heathen, baptize them in ²⁰ the name of the Father, the Son, and the holy Spirit, and teach them to observe all the commands that I have given you. I will always be with you, to the very close of the age.”

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK

- 1 The beginning of the good news of Jesus Christ.
2 As it is written in the prophet Isaiah,
 "Here I send my messenger on before you;
 He will prepare your way;
3 Hark! Someone is shouting in the desert,
 'Get the Lord's way ready,
 Make his paths straight,'"
4 John the baptizer appeared in the desert, and preached repentance and 5 baptism in order to obtain the forgiveness of sins. And all Judea and everybody in Jerusalem went out to him there, and accepted baptism 6 from him in the Jordan River, acknowledging their sins. John's clothing was made of hair cloth, and the belt around his waist was 7 leather, and he lived on dried locusts and wild honey. And this was his message:
 "After me there is coming one stronger than I am, one whose shoes 8 I am not fit to stoop down and untie. I have baptized you in water, but he will baptize you in the holy Spirit."
- 9 It was in those days that Jesus came from Nazareth in Galilee, 10 and was baptized by John in the Jordan. And just as he was coming up out of the water he saw the heavens torn open and the Spirit coming 11 down like a dove to enter into him, and out of the heavens came a voice:
 "You are my Son, my Beloved! You are my Chosen!"
12 The spirit immediately drove him out into the desert. And he re-13 mained in the desert for forty days, and Satan tried to tempt him there;
and he was among the wild animals; but the angels waited on him.
14 After John was arrested, Jesus went into Galilee proclaiming the 15 good news from God, saying,
 "The time has come and the reign of God is near; repent, and believe this good news."
16 As he was passing along the shore of the Sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and his brother Andrew casting their nets in the sea, for they 17 were fishermen. Jesus said to them,
 "Come, follow me, and I will make you fish for men."

18 They immediately abandoned their nets and followed him. He 19 went on a little farther and saw James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother John; they too were in their boat putting their nets in order.
20 He immediately called them. And they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired men and went off after him.

21 They proceeded to Capernaum, and on the very first Sabbath he 22 went to the synagogue and taught. And they were amazed at his teaching, for he taught them like one who had authority, and not like 23 the scribes. Just then there was in their synagogue a man under the control of a foul spirit, and he cried out,

24 "What do you want of us, Jesus, you Nazarene? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are, you are God's holy One!"

25 Jesus reproved him, and said,
"Silence! Get out of him!"

26 The foul spirit convulsed the man and gave a loud cry and went 27 out of him. And they were all so amazed that they discussed it with one another, and said,

"What does this mean? It is a new teaching! He gives orders with authority even to the foul spirits, and they obey him!"

28 And his fame immediately spread in all directions through the whole neighborhood of Galilee.

29 As soon as they left the synagogue, they went with James and 30 John to the house of Simon and Andrew. Simon's mother-in-law was in bed, sick with a fever, and they immediately told him about her.
31 And he went up to her, and grasping her hand, he made her rise. And the fever left her, and she waited on them.

32 In the evening, after sunset, they brought to him all who were 33 sick or possessed by demons, and the whole town was gathered at the 34 door. And he cured many who were sick with various diseases, and drove out many demons, and he would not let the demons speak, because they knew that he was Christ.

35 Early in the morning, long before daylight, he got up and left 36 the house and went off to a lonely spot, and prayed there. And Simon 37 and his companions sought him out and found him, and said to him,
"They are all looking for you!"

38 He said to them,

"Let us go somewhere else, to the neighboring country towns, so that I may preach in them, too, for that is why I came out here."

39 So he went all through Galilee, preaching in their synagogues and driving out the demons.

- 40 There came to him a leper appealing to him on his knees, saying to him, “If you only choose, you can cure me.”
- 41 And he pitied him and stretched out his hand and touched him, and said to him,
“I do choose! Be cured!”
- 42 And the leprosy immediately left him, and he was cured. And 43 Jesus immediately drove him away with stern injunctions, saying to him,
“See that you say nothing about this to anybody, but begone! show yourself to the priest, and in proof of your cure make the offerings for your purification which Moses prescribed.”
- 45 But he went off and began to talk so much about it, and to spread the story so widely, that Jesus could no longer go into a town openly, but stayed out in unfrequented places, and people came to him from every direction.
- 2 Some days later he came back to Capernaum, and people heard that 2 he was at home, and such a crowd gathered that after a while there was no room even around the door, and he was telling them his
3 message. And some people came bringing to him a man who was 4 paralyzed, four of them carrying him. As they could not get him near Jesus on account of the crowd, they broke open the roof just over his head, and through the opening they lowered the mat with the paralytic
5 lying on it. When Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralytic,
“My son, your sins are forgiven.”
- 6 There were some scribes sitting there pondering and saying to themselves, 7 “Why does this man talk so? This is blasphemy. Who can forgive sins but God alone?”
- 8 Jesus, at once perceiving by his spirit that they were pondering over this, said to them,
9 “Why do you ponder over this in your minds? Which is easier, to say to this paralytic, ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to say to him, 10 ‘Get up and pick up your mat and walk’? But to let you know that the Son of Man has authority to forgive sins on earth,” turning to the 11 paralytic he said, “I tell you, get up, pick up your mat, and go home!”
- 12 And he got up, and immediately picked up his mat and went out before them all, so that they were all astonished and acknowledged the power of God, saying,
“We never saw anything like this before.”

13 He went out of the town again and along the shore, and all the 14 people came to him and he taught them. And as he was passing along he saw Levi, the son of Alphaeus, sitting at the tollhouse, and he said
to him,

“Follow me.”

And he got up and followed him.

15 He was at table in his house, with many tax-collectors and irreligious people who were at table with him and his disciples, for there were 16 many of them among his followers. And when the scribes who were of the Pharisees' party saw that he was eating with irreligious people and tax-collectors, they said to his disciples,

“Why does he eat with tax-collectors and irreligious people?”

17 Jesus heard it, and said to them,

“It is not well people but the sick who have to have the doctor. I did not come to invite the pious but the irreligious.”

18 Now John's disciples and the Pharisees were keeping a fast. And people came and asked him,

“Why is it that when John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees are keeping the fast, yours are not keeping it?”

19 Jesus said to them,

“Can wedding guests fast while the bridegroom is with them?

As long as they have the bridegroom with them they cannot fast.

20 But a time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them, 21 and when that day comes, they will fast. No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old coat; or if he does, the patch tears away, 22 the new from the old, and makes the hole worse than ever. And no one pours new wine into old wine-skins; or if he does, the wine bursts the skins, and the wine is lost, and the skins too. New wine has to be put into fresh skins.”

23 He happened to be passing through the wheat fields on the Sabbath, and his disciples began to pick the heads of wheat as they made their 24 way through. And the Pharisees said to him,

“Look! Why are they doing what it is against the law to do on the Sabbath?”

25 He said to them,

“Did you never read what David did, when he was in need and 26 hungry, he and his men? How is it that he went into the house of God when Abiathar was high priest, and ate the Presentation Loaves, which it is against the law for anyone but the priests to eat, and gave some to his companions too?”

27 And he said to them,

28 "The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath, and so the Son of Man is master even of the Sabbath."

3 He went again to a synagogue, and there was a man there with one 2 hand withered. And they were watching him closely, to see whether he would cure him on the Sabbath, in order to get a charge to bring 3 against him. He said to the man with the withered hand,

"Get up and come forward."

4 And he said to them,

"Is it allowable to do people good on the Sabbath, or to do them 5 harm? To save life or kill?" But they made no answer. And he looked around at them with anger, hurt by their obstinacy, and he said to the man,

"Hold out your hand!"

6 And he held it out, and his hand was cured. Then the Pharisees left the synagogue and immediately consulted with the Herodians about Jesus, with a view to putting him to death.

7 So Jesus retired with his disciples to the seashore, and a great many 8 people from Galilee followed him, and from Judea and Jerusalem and Idumea and from the other side of the Jordan and from the neighborhood of Tyre and Sidon a great many who had heard of the 9 things he was doing came to him. He told his disciples to have a boat always ready for his use, to prevent his being crushed by the 10 crowd. For he cured so many people that all who had any ailments 11 pressed up to him to touch him. And whenever the foul spirits saw him, they fell down before him and screamed out,

12 "You are the Son of God!" And he warned them repeatedly not to tell who he was.

13 And he went up the hillside and summoned to him those whom 14 he wanted, and they went to him. He appointed twelve of them, whom he called apostles, to be with him and to be sent out to preach, 15 with power to drive out the demons. These were the twelve he 16 appointed: Peter, which was the name he gave to Simon, James the son of Zebedee, and John, James's brother (he named them Boanerges, 17 that is, Sons of Thunder), Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, 18 Thomas, James the son of Alpheus, Thaddeus, Simon the Zealot, and 19 Judas Iscariot, who betrayed him.

20 Then he went home. And again the crowd gathered in such num-21 bers that there was no chance for them even to have their meals. His relatives heard of it and came over to stop him, for they said that he

22 was out of his mind. And the scribes who had come down from Jerusalem said that he was possessed by Beelzebub and drove out
23 demons by the help of the prince of demons. So he called them to him and spoke to them in figures, saying,

24 "How can Satan drive Satan out? If a kingdom is disunited, that 25 kingdom cannot last. And if a household is disunited, that household 26 cannot last. And if Satan has rebelled against himself and become 27 disunited, he cannot last but is coming to his end. But no one can go into a strong man's house and carry off his property unless he first 28 binds the strong man; after that he can plunder his house. I tell you, men will be forgiven for everything, for all their sins and all the 29 abusive things they say. But whoever reviles the holy Spirit can never be forgiven, but is guilty of an unending sin."

30 This was because they said, "He is possessed by a foul spirit."

31 And his mother and his brothers came. And they stood outside the 32 house and sent word in to him to come outside to them. There was a crowd sitting around him when they told him,

"Your mother and your brothers are outside asking for you."

33 He answered,

"Who are my mother and my brothers?"

34 And looking around at the people sitting about him, he said,

35 "Here are my mother and my brothers! Whoever does the will of God is my brother and sister and mother."

4 Then he began again to teach by the seashore. And a crowd gathered around him so great that he got into a boat and sat in it, a little way from the shore, while all the people were on the land close to 2 the water. He taught them many lessons in figures, and said to them in the course of his teaching,

3 "Listen: A sower went out to sow, and as he was sowing, some 4 of the seed chanced to fall by the path, and the birds came and ate it up.
5 Some of it fell on rocky ground, and where there was not much soil, 6 and it sprang up at once because the soil was not deep, but when the sun came up, it was scorched, and withered up, because it had no root.
7 Some of the seed fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up and 8 choked it out, and it yielded no grain. And some fell on good soil, and came up and grew and yielded thirty, sixty, even a hundredfold."

9 And he said,

"Let him who has ears be sure to listen!"

10 When he was by himself, those who stayed about him with the 11 Twelve asked him about the figures he had used. And he said to them,

“To you has been intrusted the secret of the reign of God, but to 12 those outsiders everything is offered in figures, so that “They may look and look and yet not see,

And listen and listen and yet not understand,
Lest possibly they should turn and be forgiven.’ ”

13 And Jesus said,

“If you do not understand this figure, then how will you under-14 stand my other figures? What the sower sows is the message. The 15 ones by the path are those into whose hearts the message falls, and as soon as they hear it Satan comes and carries off the message that has 16 been sown in their hearts. It is so too with the ones sown on the rocky 17 ground; they gladly accept the message as soon as they hear it, but it takes no real root in them and they last only a little while; then when trouble or persecution comes because of the message they give 18 it up at once. It is different with those sown among the thorns. They 19 are people who listen to the message, but the worries of the time and the pleasure of being rich and passions for other things creep in and 20 choke the message out and it yields nothing. And the ones sown in good ground are the people who listen to the message and welcome it and yield thirty, sixty, even a hundredfold.

21 “Do people get out the lamp,” he said to them, “and then put it under the peck-measure, or under the bed, instead of putting it up 22 where it belongs? For no one hides anything except for the purpose of sometime bringing it to light again, and people keep things secret 23 only to reveal them some day. If anyone has ears let him be sure to listen.

24 “Take care what you hear,” he said to them. “The measure you 25 give will be given to you, and even more besides. For people who have will have more given them, and from people who have nothing, even what they have will be taken away.

26 “The reign of God,” he said, “is like a man scattering seed on the 27 ground, and then sleeping at night and getting up by day, while the 28 seed sprouts and comes up, without his knowing it. The ground of itself is productive, putting forth first a blade, then a head, then fully 29 developed wheat in the head. But as soon as the crop will let him, the man goes in with his sickle, for the harvest time has come.

30 “How can we find any comparison,” he said, “for the reign of 31 God, or what figure can we use to describe it? It is like a mustard seed, which, when sown in the ground, though it is the smallest of all 32 the seeds in the world, yet once sown, comes up and grows to be the largest of all the plants, and produces branches so large that the wild birds can roost under the shelter of it.”

33 With many such figures he told them the message, as far as they 34 were able to receive it. He said nothing to them except in figures, but in private he explained everything to his own disciples.

35 That same day when it was evening he said to them,
“Let us cross to the other side.”

36 So they left the crowd and took him away in the boat in which he 37 was sitting. There were other boats with him. And a heavy squall of wind came on and the waves dashed into the boat, so that it was 38 beginning to fill. He was in the stern, asleep on the cushion. And they woke him up and said to him,

“Master, does it make no difference to you that we are sinking?”

39 Then he awoke and reprimanded the wind, and said to the sea,
“Hush! Silence!”

40 And the wind went down and there was a great calm. And he said to them,

“Why are you afraid? Have you still no faith?”

41 And they were very much frightened, and said to one another,
“Who can he be? For even the wind and the sea obey him.”

5 So they reached the other side of the sea, and landed in the region
2 of Gerasa. As soon as he got out of the boat, a man possessed by a 3 foul spirit came out of the burial places near by to meet him. This man lived among the tombs, and no one could any longer secure him 4 even with a chain, for he had often been fastened with fetters and chains and had snapped the chains and broken the fetters; and there 5 was no one strong enough to master him, and night and day he was always shrieking among the tombs and on the hills and cutting himself
6 with stones. And catching sight of Jesus in the distance he ran up
7 and made obeisance to him and screamed out,

“What do you want of me, Jesus, son of the Most High God? In 8 God’s name, I implore you, do not torture me.” For he was saying
to him,

“You foul spirit, come out of this man.”

9 He asked him,

“What is your name?”

He said,

“My name is Legion, for there are many of us.”

10 And they begged him earnestly not to send them out of that country.

- 11 Now there was a great drove of pigs feeding there on the hillside.
12 And they implored him,
 "Send us among the pigs, let us go into them."
13 So he gave them permission. And the foul spirits came out and went into the pigs, and the drove of about two thousand rushed over 14 the steep bank into the sea and were drowned. And the men who tended them ran away and spread the news in the town and in the 15 country around, and the people came to see what had happened. When they came to Jesus and found the demoniac sitting quietly with his clothes on and in his right mind—the same man who had been pos-16 sessed by Legion—they were frightened. And those who had seen it told them what had happened to the demoniac, and all about the 17 pigs. And they began to beg him to leave their district. As he was 18 getting into the boat, the man who had been possessed begged to be 19 allowed to go with him. And he would not permit it, but said to him,
 "Go home to your own people, and tell them all the Lord has done 20 for you and how he took pity on you." And he went off and began to tell everybody in the Ten Towns all Jesus had done for him; and they were all astonished.
- 21 When Jesus had crossed again in the boat to the other side, a great 22 crowd gathered about him as he stood on the shore. And a man named Jairus, the leader of a synagogue, came up and seeing him 23 threw himself at his feet and appealed to him, saying,
 "My little daughter is at the point of death. Come, lay your hands on her, so that she may get well and live!"
24 So he went with him. And a great crowd followed him and 25 pressed around him. And a woman who had had a hemorrhage for 26 twelve years and had had a great deal of treatment from various doctors and had spent all that she had and had not been benefited at all 27 but had actually grown worse, had heard about Jesus. And she came 28 up in the crowd behind him and touched his coat, for she said,
 "If I can only touch his clothes, I shall get well."
29 The hemorrhage stopped at once, and she felt in her body that she 30 was cured. Jesus instantly perceived that healing power had passed from him, and he turned around in the crowd and said,
 "Who touched my clothes?"
31 His disciples said to him,
 "You see the crowd pressing around you, and yet you ask, 'Who touched me?'"
- 32 But he still looked around to see the person who had done it. The 33

woman, knowing what had happened to her, came forward frightened and trembling, and threw herself down at his feet and told him the whole truth. And he said to her,

“My daughter, it is your faith that has cured you. Go in peace and be free from your disease.”

Even as he spoke people came from the house of the leader of the synagogue and said,

“Your daughter is dead. Why should you trouble the Master any further?”

But Jesus paid no attention to what they said, but said to the leader of the synagogue,

“Do not be afraid, just have faith.”

He let no one go with him but Peter, James, and James’s brother John. They came to the house of the leader of the synagogue, and there he found everything in confusion, and people weeping and wailing. And he went into the house and said to them,

“What is the meaning of all this confusion and crying? The child is not dead, she is asleep.” And they laughed at him. But he drove them all out, and took the child’s father and mother and the men who were with him and went into the room where the child was lying. And he grasped her hand and said to her,

And the little girl immediately got up and walked about, for she was twelve years old. The moment they saw it they were utterly amazed. And he strictly forbade them to let anyone know of it, and told them to give her something to eat.

Leaving there he went, followed by his disciples, to his own part of the country. When the Sabbath came he began to teach in the synagogue. And the people were astonished when they heard him, and said,

“Where did he get all this? How does he come to have such wisdom? How are such marvelous things done through him? Is he not the carpenter, Mary’s son, and the brother of James, Joses, Judas, and Simon? And do not his sisters live here among us?”

And they took offense at him. Jesus said to them,

“A prophet is treated with honor everywhere except in his native place and among his relatives and at his home.”

He could not do any wonder there, except that he put his hands on a few sick people and cured them. And he wondered at their want of faith.

7 Then he went around among the villages teaching. And he called the Twelve to him and sent them off two by two, giving them power 8 over the foul spirits. He forbade them to take anything for the journey except a staff—no bread, no bag, no small change even in their girdles; 9 they were to go in sandals, and not to wear two shirts. And he said to them,

“Whenever you go to stay at a house, remain in it till you leave 11 that place. If any place refuses to receive you or to listen to you, when you leave it shake off the very dust from the soles of your feet as a warning to them.”

12 So they went out and preached that men should repent, and drove out many demons, and cured many sick people by anointing them with oil.

14 King Herod heard of him, for his name was now well known, and people were saying that John the baptizer had risen from the dead, and that that was why he was endowed with these extraordinary 15 powers. But others said he was Elijah, and still others that he was 16 a prophet of the old prophetic kind. But when Herod heard of him
he said,

“John, whom I beheaded, has risen from the dead.”

17 For it was Herod who had sent and seized John and bound him and put him in prison, on account of Herodias, his brother Philip’s 18 wife, because Herod had married her. John said to Herod,

“It is not right for you to be living with your brother’s wife.”

19 Herodias felt bitterly toward him and wanted him killed. But she 20 could not bring it about, for Herod stood in awe of John, knowing that he was an upright and holy man, and he protected him. And when he heard him talk he was very much disturbed, and yet he liked 21 to hear him. When a holiday came and Herod on his birthday gave a banquet to his courtiers and officers and to the leading men of Galilee, 22 Herodias’ own daughter came in and danced for them. And Herod and his guests were delighted, and the king said to the girl,

23 “Ask me for anything you like and I will give it to you.” And he made oath to her,

“I will give you whatever you ask me for, up to half my kingdom.”

24 When she had left the room she said to her mother,

“What shall I ask him for?”

But she said,

“The head of John the baptizer.”

25 And she hurried back at once to the king and asked him for it, saying,

"I want you right away to give me John the Baptist's head on a platter."

²⁶ The king was exceedingly sorry, but on account of his oath and his ²⁷ guests he did not like to break his word to her, and he immediately sent one of his guard with orders to get John's head. And he went ²⁸ off and beheaded him in the prison and brought back his head on a ²⁹ platter and gave it to the girl, and the girl gave it to her mother. When his disciples heard of it they came and took his body away and put it in a tomb.

³⁰ The apostles rejoined Jesus and reported to him all they had done
³¹ and taught. And he said to them,

"Come away by yourselves to some quiet place, and rest a little while."

For people were coming and going in large numbers, and they had ³² no time even for meals. So they set off by themselves in their boat for ³³ a secluded place. And many people saw them start and knew of it, and hurried around by land from all the neighboring towns, and got ahead ³⁴ of them. So when he got out of the boat, he found a great crowd gathered, and his heart was touched at the sight of them, because they were like sheep that have no shepherd; and he proceeded to teach them a ³⁵ great deal. When it grew late his disciples came up to him and said, ³⁶ "This is a lonely place and it is getting late. Send the people off to the farms and villages around to buy themselves something to eat."

³⁷ But he answered,

"Give them food yourselves."

They said to him,

"Can we go and buy forty dollars' worth of bread and give it to them to eat?"

³⁸ But he said to them,

"How many loaves have you? Go and see."

They looked, and told him,

"Five, and two fish."

³⁹ And he directed them all to sit down in parties on the fresh grass.
⁴⁰ And they threw themselves down in groups, in hundreds and in fifties.
⁴¹ Then he took the five loaves and the two fish and looked up to heaven and blessed the loaves and broke them in pieces and gave them to the disciples to pass to the people; and he divided the two fish among them ⁴² all. And they all ate and had enough. And the pieces they gathered ⁴³
⁴⁴ up filled twelve baskets, besides the pieces of the fish. There were five thousand men who ate the loaves.

45 He immediately had his disciples get into the boat and cross before him to the other side toward Bethsaida, while he was dismissing the 46 crowd. When he had taken leave of the people he went up the hill to 47 pray. When evening came on, the boat was in the middle of the sea, 48 and he was alone on shore. And he saw that they were straining at the oars, for the wind was against them, and toward morning he went out 49 to them, walking on the sea, and was going to join them. They saw him walking on the sea, and thought it was a ghost and screamed aloud, 50 for they all saw him and were terrified. But he immediately spoke to them and said,

“Take courage, it is I. Do not be afraid.”

51 Then he went up to them and got into the boat. And the wind fell.
52 And they were perfectly beside themselves, for they had not understood about the loaves, but their minds were blinded.

53 They crossed over to the other side and came to Gennesaret and 54 moored the boat. As soon as they came ashore, the people recognized 55 Jesus, and they hurried all over the countryside and began to bring the 56 sick to him on their mats, wherever they heard he was. And whatever village or town or farm he went to, they would lay their sick in the market-place and beg him to let them touch just the tassel of his cloak, and all who touched it were cured.

7 The Pharisees gathered about him with some scribes who had 2 come from Jerusalem. They had noticed that some of his disciples ate their food without first giving their hands a ceremonial washing to 3 purify them. For the Pharisees and all the Jews observe the rules handed down from their ancestors, and will not eat until they have 4 washed their hands in a particular way, and they will not eat anything from the market without first purifying it by sprinkling it, and they have a number of other observances which have come down to them, 5 in the way of washing cups, pitchers, and basins. And the Pharisees and the scribes asked him,

“Why do your disciples not observe the rules handed down by our ancestors, but eat food without purifying their hands?”

6 But he said to them,

“It was about you hypocrites that Isaiah prophesied so finely, in the words,

“This people honor me with their lips,
Yet their hearts are far away from me.

7 But their worship of me is all in vain,
For the lessons they teach are but human precepts.’

- 8 "You give up what God has commanded and hold fast to what men have handed down.
- 9 "How skilful you are," he said to them, "in nullifying what God has commanded in order to observe what has been handed down to you.
- 10 For Moses said, 'Honor your father and your mother,' and again, 11 'Whoever abuses his father or mother must be put to death.' But you say, 'If a man says to his father or mother, "Anything of mine that might have been of use to you is Korban,"' that is, consecrated to God, 12 you let him off from doing anything more for his father or mother, 13 and so you nullify what God has said by what you have handed down. You have many such practices."
- 14 He called the people to him again and said to them, 15 "Listen to me, all of you, and understand this. Nothing that goes into a man from outside can pollute him. It is what comes out of a man that pollutes him."
- 17 When he had left the crowd and gone home, his disciples asked him 18 what he meant by this figure. And he said to them, "Have not even you any understanding then? Do you not see that 19 nothing that goes into a man from outside can pollute him, since it does not go into his heart but into his stomach and then is disposed of?" So 20 he declared all food clean. He went on to say, 21 "It is what comes out of a man that pollutes him. For it is from inside, from men's hearts, that designs of evil come; immorality, stealing, murder, adultery, greed, malice, deceit, indecency, envy, abusiveness, arrogance, folly—all these evils come from inside, and they pollute a man."
- 24 He left that place and went to the neighborhood of Tyre and Sidon. And he went into a certain house, and wanted no one to know of it. 25 And he could not keep it secret, but a woman whose little daughter was possessed by a foul spirit immediately heard about him and came and 26 threw herself at his feet. Now the woman was a Greek, of Syrophenician birth. And she begged him to drive the demon out of her daughter. He said to her, "Let the children first eat all they want, for it is not right to take the children's bread and throw it to the dogs."
- 28 But she answered, "True, sire! and still the dogs under the table eat what the children leave!"
- 29 He said to her, "If you can say that, go home; the demon has left your daughter."

30 And she went home and found the child lying on the bed, and the demon gone.

31 He left the neighborhood of Tyre again and went by way of Sidon
32 to the Sea of Galilee, crossing the district of the Ten Towns. And they brought to him a man who was deaf and hardly able to speak, and 33 they begged him to lay his hand on him. He took him off by himself away from the crowd, and put his fingers in the man's ears, and touched 34 his tongue with saliva. And he looked up to heaven and sighed, and said to him, “Ephphatha!”—which means “Open.”

35 And his ears were opened and his tongue was released and he talked 36 plainly. And Jesus forbade them to tell anyone about it, but the more 37 he forbade them the more they spread the news far and wide. And people were utterly amazed, and said,

“How well he has done everything! He even makes the deaf hear and the dumb speak!”

8 In those days when a great crowd had gathered again and they had nothing to eat, he called his disciples to him and said to them,

2 “I pity these people, for they have been staying with me three days
3 now, and they have nothing left to eat. And if I send them home hungry they will give out on the way, for some of them come from a distance.”

4 His disciples replied,

“Where can anyone get bread enough, here in this solitude, to satisfy these people's hunger?”

5 “How many loaves have you?” he asked.

“Seven,” they said.

6 Then he ordered the people to take their places on the ground. And he took the seven loaves and gave thanks and broke them in pieces and gave them to his disciples to pass, and they passed them to the people.
7 They had a few small fish, and he blessed them and told the disciples
8 to pass them also to the people. And they ate and satisfied their hunger. And the pieces that they left, that were picked up, filled seven baskets.
9 There were about four thousand of the people. And he dismissed them.
10 Then he immediately got into the boat with his disciples and went to the district of Dalmanutha.

11 The Pharisees came out and began a discussion with him, testing
12 him by asking him how to show them a sign from heaven. And he sighed deeply and said,

“Why do the men of this day ask for a sign? I tell you, no sign will be given them.”

13 And he left them and got into the boat again and crossed to the other side.

14 Now they had forgotten to bring any bread, and they had only one 15 loaf with them in the boat. And he warned them, saying,

“Look out! Be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and the yeast of Herod!”

16 They were discussing with one another their being without bread.

17 And he noticed it and said to them,

“Why do you discuss your being without bread? Do you not yet 18 see nor understand? Are your minds so dull? When you have eyes can you not see, and when you have ears can you not hear? Do you not 19 remember how many baskets of pieces you picked up when I broke the five loaves in pieces for those five thousand men?”

They said to him,

“Twelve.”

20 “When I broke the seven loaves in pieces for the four thousand, how many baskets of pieces did you pick up?”

They said to him,

“Seven.”

21 He said to them,

“Do you not understand yet?”

22 And they came to Bethsaida. And people brought a blind man to 23 him and begged him to touch him. He took him by the hand and led him outside of the village, and spitting in his eyes he laid his hands on him and asked him,

“Do you see anything?”

24 He looked up and said,

“I can see people, for they look to me like trees, only they are moving about.”

25 Then he laid his hands on his eyes again, and he looked steadily and 26 was cured, and saw everything plainly. And he sent him home and said to him,

“Do not even go into the village.”

27 Then Jesus and his disciples went away to the villages around Caesarea Philippi. On the way he questioned his disciples and said to them,

“Who do people say that I am?”

28 They said to him,

“John the Baptist; others say Elijah, and others that you are one of the prophets.”

- 29 And he asked them,
“But who do you say that I am?”
Peter answered and said to him,
“You are the Christ.”

30 And he warned them not to say this about him to anyone.

- 31 Then he explained to them for the first time that the Son of Man must go through much suffering, and be refused by the elders and the high priests and the scribes, and be killed, and rise again three days after. He told them this plainly. And Peter took him aside, and began to reprove him for it. But turning and seeing his disciples he reprov-
32 ed Peter, and said,

“Get out of my sight, you Satan! for you do not side with God, but with men.”

- 34 And he called the people and his disciples to him and said to them,
“If anyone wants to go with me, he must disregard himself, and 35 take his cross and follow me. For whoever wants to preserve his own life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for me and for the good news
36 will preserve it. For what good does it do a man to gain the whole
37 world and yet part with his life? For what can a man give to buy
38 back his life? For if anyone is ashamed of me and my teaching in this unfaithful and sinful age, then the Son of Man will be ashamed of him, when he comes back in his Father’s glory, with the holy angels.”
9 And he said to them, “I tell you, some of you who stand here will certainly live to see the reign of God come in its might.”

- 2 Six days after this Jesus took Peter, James, and John with him, and led them up on a high mountain, off by themselves. And his appearance underwent a change in their presence, and his clothes shone
3 whiter than any earthly bleaching could make them. And Elijah appeared to them, accompanied by Moses, and they talked with Jesus.
5 Then Peter spoke, and said to Jesus,

“Master, how good it is that we are here! Let us put up three huts,
6 one for you and one for Moses and one for Elijah.” For he did not
7 know what to say, they were so frightened. And a cloud came and overshadowed them, and from the cloud came a voice,

“This is my Son, my Beloved. Listen to him.”

- 8 And suddenly, on looking around, they saw that there was now no
9 one with them but Jesus alone. As they were going down the mountain, he cautioned them to let no one know what they had seen, until

10 the Son of Man should rise from the dead. And they did not forget what he said, but discussed with one another what he meant by the 11 rising from the dead. And they asked him,

“Why do the scribes say that Elijah has to come first?”

12 He said to them,

“Elijah does come first, and reforms everything, and does not the Scripture say of the Son of Man that he will suffer much and be refused? Why, I tell you, not only has Elijah come, but people have treated him just as they pleased, as the Scripture says about him.”

14 When they came to the disciples, they saw a great crowd around them, and some scribes arguing with them. And all the people were amazed when they saw him, and they ran up to him and greeted him.

16 And he asked them,

“What are you discussing with them?”

17 One of the crowd answered,

“Master, I brought my son to you, for he is possessed by a dumb spirit, and wherever it seizes him it convulses him, and he foams at the mouth and grinds his teeth; and he is wasting away. I told your disciples to drive it out, and they could not do it.”

19 He answered them and said,

“O you unbelieving people, how long must I be with you? How long must I put up with you? Bring him here to me!”

20 And they brought the boy to him. As soon as the spirit saw him, it convulsed the boy, and he fell down on the ground and rolled about,

21 foaming at the mouth. Jesus asked the boy's father,

“How long has he been like this?”

And he said,

22 “From his childhood, and many a time it has thrown him into the fire or into the water, to put an end to him. But if there is anything you can do, take pity on us and help us!”

23 Jesus said to him,

“‘If there is anything I can do!’ Everything is possible for one who has faith!”

24 The boy's father immediately cried out,

“I have faith! Help my want of faith!”

25 Then Jesus, seeing that a crowd was rapidly gathering, reproved the foul spirit and said to it,

“You deaf and dumb spirit, get out of him, I charge you, and never enter him again!”

26 And it gave a cry and convulsed him terribly, and went out of him.

And the boy was like a corpse, so that most of them said that he was 27 dead. But Jesus grasped his hand and made him rise, and he stood up.
28 When he had gone home, and his disciples were alone with him, they asked him,

“Why could not we drive it out?”

29 He said to them,

“This kind of thing can only be driven out by prayer.”

30 And they left that place and made their way through Galilee, and 31 he did not wish anyone to know it; for he was teaching his disciples, saying to them,

“The Son of Man is to be handed over to men, and they will kill him, and three days after he is killed he will rise again.”

32 But they did not understand what he meant, and they were afraid to ask him about it.

33 And they reached Capernaum. When he reached home, he asked them,

“What was it that you were discussing on the way?”

34 But they made no answer, for on the way they had been discussing 35 with one another which of them was the greatest. And he sat down and called the Twelve in, and said to them,

“If anyone wishes to be first, he must be the last of all and the servant of all.”

36 And he took a child and made him stand among them, and he put his arms around him, and said to them,

37 “Whoever welcomes one child like this on my account is welcoming me, and whoever welcomes me, welcomes not me but him who has sent me.”

38 John said to him,

“Master, we saw a man driving out demons with your name, and we told him not to do so, for he was not one of our followers.”

39 But Jesus said,

“Do not tell him not to do so, for there is no one who will use my 40 name to do a mighty act, and be able soon after to abuse me. For the 41 man who is not against us is for us. For whoever gives you a cup of water to drink, on the ground that you belong to Christ, I tell you, 42 will certainly not fail to be repaid. And whoever causes one of these humble believers to fall might better have a great millstone hung 43 around his neck and be thrown into the sea. If your hand makes you fall, cut it off. You might better enter upon life maimed, than go with both your hands to the pit, into the fire that cannot be put out.

45 And if your foot makes you fall, cut it off. You might better enter upon life crippled, than be thrown with both your feet into the pit.
47 And if your eye makes you fall, tear it out. You might better get into the Kingdom of God with only one eye than be thrown with both your 48 eyes into the pit, where the worm that feeds upon them never dies and 49 the fire is never put out. Everyone must be seasoned with fire. Salt is 50 a good thing, but if salt loses its strength, what will you use to season it? You must have salt within you, and live in peace with one another."

10 And he left that place and went into the district of Judea and crossed the Jordan, and crowds of people again gathered about him, and again
2 he taught them as he was accustomed to do. Some Pharisees came up, and in order to test him asked him whether a man should be allowed
3 to divorce his wife. But he answered,

"What has Moses commanded you to do?"

4 They said,

"Moses permits a man to divorce his wife by drawing up a written divorce-notice."

5 But Jesus said to them,

"It was on account of your perversity that he laid down that law
6 for you. But from the beginning of the creation, 'God made them
7 male and female. Therefore a man must leave his father and mother,
8 and he and his wife must become one,' and so they are no longer two 9 but one. Therefore what God has joined together man must not try to separate."

10 When they reached the house the disciples asked him about this 11 again. And he said to them,

"Anyone who divorces his wife and marries another woman com-12 mits adultery against his former wife, and if a woman divorces her husband and marries another man, she is an adulteress."

13 And people brought children to him to have him touch them, but 14 the disciples reprov'd them for it. When Jesus saw it, he was indignant, and said to them,

"Let the children come to me; do not try to stop them, for the King-15 dom of God belongs to such as they. I tell you, whoever does not accept the Kingdom of God like a child shall not enter it at all."

16 And he took the children in his arms and laid his hands on them and blessed them.

17 As he was starting again on his journey, a man came running up to him, and knelt at his feet and asked him,

- “Good master, what must I do to make sure of eternal life?”
- 18 But Jesus said to him,
- 19 “Why do you call me good? No one is good but God himself. You know the commandments—‘Do not murder, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother.’”
- 20 But he said to him,
“Master, I have obeyed all these commandments ever since I was a child.”
- 21 And Jesus looked at him and loved him, and he said to him,
“There is one thing that you lack. Go, sell all you have, and give the money to the poor, and then you will have riches in heaven; and come back and be a follower of mine.”
- 22 But his face fell at Jesus’ words, and he went away much cast down, for he had a great deal of property.
- 23 And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, “How hard it will be for those who have money to enter the Kingdom of God!”
- 24 But the disciples were amazed at what he said. And Jesus said to them again,
- 25 “My children, how hard it is to enter the Kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to get through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to get into the Kingdom of God!”
- 26 They were perfectly astounded and said to him,
“Then who can be saved?”
- 27 Jesus looked at them and said,
“For men it is impossible, but not for God, for anything is possible for God.”
- 28 Peter started to say to him,
“Well, we have left all we had, and have followed you.”
- 29 Jesus said,
“I tell you, there is no one who has given up home or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or land for me and for the good
- 30 news, but will receive now in this life a hundred times as much in homes, brothers, sisters, mothers, children, and lands, though not with-
- 31 out persecution—and in the coming age eternal life. But many who are first now will be last then, and the last will be first.”
- 32 As they went on their way up to Jerusalem, Jesus walked ahead of them, and they were in dismay, and those who still followed were afraid. And he took the Twelve aside again and began to tell them what was going to happen to him.

33 "See!" he said, "we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be handed over to the high priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death and hand him over to the heathen and they will ridicule him and spit on him and flog him and kill him; and three days after he will rise again."

35 And Zebedee's two sons, James and John, came up to him and said, "Master, we want you to do for us whatever we ask."

36 He said to them, "What do you want me to do for you?"

37 They said to him, "Let us sit one at your right hand and one at your left, in your triumph."

38 Jesus said to them, "You do not know what you are asking for. Can you drink what I am drinking, or undergo the baptism that I am undergoing?"

39 They said to him, "Yes, we can."

Jesus said to them,

40 "Then you shall drink what I am drinking, and you shall undergo the baptism that I am undergoing; but as for sitting at my right or at my left, that is not mine to give, but belongs to those for whom it is destined."

41 When the other ten heard of this they were at first very indignant at James and John. And Jesus called them to him, and said to them,

42 "You know that those who are supposed to rule the heathen lord it over them, and their great men tyrannize over them; but it is not to be so among you. Whoever wants to be great among you must be your servant, and whoever wants to hold the first place among you must be everybody's slave. For the Son of Man himself has not come to be waited on, but to wait on other people, and to give his life to free many others."

46 And they came to Jericho. As he was leaving the town with his disciples and a great crowd, Timaeus' son Bartimaeus, a blind beggar, was sitting at the roadside. When he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth he began to cry out,

"Jesus, you son of David, take pity on me!"

48 Many of the people rebuked him and told him to be still. But he cried out all the louder,

"You son of David, take pity on me!"

- 49 Jesus stopped and said,
"Call him here."

And they called the blind man and said to him,
"Courage now! Get up, he is calling you!"

- 50 And he threw off his coat and sprang to his feet and went up to Jesus.

- 51 Jesus spoke to him and said,
"What do you want me to do for you?"

The blind man said to him,
"Master, let me regain my sight!"

- 52 Jesus said to him,
"Go your way. Your faith has cured you."

And he immediately regained his sight and followed Jesus along the road.

- 11 When they were getting near Jerusalem, and had come to Bethphage and Bethany near the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two of his 2 disciples on ahead, and said to them,

"Go to the village that lies in front of you, and as soon as you enter it you will find tied there a colt that has never been ridden. Untie it
3 and bring it here. And if anybody says to you, 'Why are you doing that?' say, 'The Master needs it, and will send it back here directly.'"

- 4 And they set off and found a colt tied in the street at the door of a 5 house, and they untied it. Some of the bystanders said to them,

"What are you doing, untying the colt?"

- 6 But they answered them as Jesus had told them to do, and the men
7 let them take it. So they brought the colt to Jesus, and they threw their 8 coats over it and Jesus mounted it. And many of the people spread their coats in the road, and others cut straw from the fields and scattered it in 9 his path. And those in front and those behind shouted,

"God bless him!"

Blessed be he who comes in the Lord's name!

- 10 Blessed be the reign of our father David which is coming!
God bless him from on high!"

- 11 And he came into Jerusalem and into the Temple, and looked it all over; then, as it was already late, he went out with the Twelve to Bethany.

- 12 On the next day, after they had left Bethany, he felt hungry. And 13 he saw in the distance a fig tree covered with leaves, and he went up to it to see if he could find any figs on it. When he reached it he found

·4 nothing but leaves, for it was not the time for figs. And he spoke to the tree and said to it,

“May no one ever eat fruit from you any more!”

And his disciples heard it.

15 When they reached Jerusalem, he went into the Temple, and began to drive out of it those who were buying or selling things in it, and he 16 upset the money-changers’ tables and the pigeon-dealers’ seats, and he
17 would not allow anyone to carry anything through the Temple. And he taught them, and said,

“Does not the Scripture say, ‘My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations?’ But you have made it a robbers’ cave.”

18 The high priests and the scribes heard of this, and they cast about for a way of destroying him, for they were afraid of him, for all the people
19 were amazed at what he taught. So when evening came, he and his disciples used to go out of the city.

20 In the morning as they were passing along, they saw that the fig tree
21 was withered, to its very roots. And Peter remembered about it and said to him,

“Look, Master! The fig tree that you cursed is withered up!”

-2 Jesus answered and said to them,

23 “Have faith in God! I tell you, whoever says to this mountain, ‘Get up and throw yourself into the sea!’ and has no doubt in his mind, but
24 has faith that what he says will happen, shall have it. Therefore I tell you, whenever you pray or ask for anything, have faith that it has been 25 granted you, and you shall have it. And whenever you stand up to pray, if you have a grievance against anyone, forgive him, so that your Father in heaven too may forgive you your offenses.”

27 Then they went into Jerusalem again. And as Jesus was walking 28 about in the Temple, the high priests, scribes, and elders came up and said to him,

“What authority have you for doing as you do? And who gave you a right to do as you are doing?”

29 Jesus said to them,

“Let me ask you one question, and if you answer me, I will tell you
30 what authority I have for doing as I do. Was John’s baptism from heaven or from men? Answer me.”

31 And they argued with one another,

“If we say, ‘It was from heaven,’ he will say, ‘Then why did you 12 not believe him?’ Yet can we say, ‘It was from men?’” For they were afraid of the people, because all the people thought John was really a 33 prophet. So they answered Jesus,

“We do not know.”

Jesus said to them,

“Nor will I tell you what authority I have for doing as I do.”

12 Then he began to speak to them in figures.

“A man once planted a vineyard and fenced it in and hewed out a wine-vat and built a watch tower, and he leased it to tenants and left 2 the neighborhood. At the proper time he sent a slave to the tenants to 3 get from them a share of the vintage. And they took him and beat him 4 and sent him back empty-handed. And again he sent another slave to them. And they beat him over the head and treated him shamefully.
5 And he sent another; and him they killed; and so with many others,
6 some they beat and some they killed. He still had one left to send, a dearly loved son. He sent him to them last of all, thinking, ‘They will 7 respect my son.’ But the tenants said to one another, ‘This is his heir!
8 Come on, let us kill him, and the property will belong to us!’ So they took him and killed him, and threw his body outside of the vineyard.
9 What will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come back and put 10 the tenants to death and give the vineyard to others. Did you never read this passage of Scripture:

“That stone which the builders rejected

Has become the cornerstone;

11 This came from the Lord

And seems marvelous to us?’”

12 And they tried to have him arrested, but they were afraid of the people, for they knew that the illustration was aimed at them. And they left him and went away.

13 They sent some Pharisees and Herodians to him to entrap him in 14 argument. And they came up and said to him,

“Master, we know that you tell the truth regardless of the consequences, for you are not guided by personal considerations, but teach the way of God with sincerity. Is it right to pay the poll tax to the emperor or not? Should we pay it, or refuse to pay it?”

But he saw through their pretense, and said to them,

“Why do you put me to such a test? Bring me a denarius to look at.”

16 And they brought him one. He said to them,

“Whose head and title is this?”

And they told him,

“The emperor’s.”

17 And Jesus said,

“Pay the emperor what belongs to the emperor, and pay God what belongs to God!”

And they were astonished at him.

18 Some of the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, came to him and asked him a question.

19 “Master,” they said, “Moses made us a law that if a man’s brother died, leaving a wife but no child, the man should marry the widow and 20 raise up a family for his brother. There were once seven brothers. And 21 the eldest married a wife and died, leaving no child. And the second married her, and died without leaving any child, and so did the third.
22 And none of the seven left any child. Finally, the woman died too.
23 At the resurrection, which one’s wife will she be? For all seven of them married her.”

24 Jesus said to them,

“Does not this show that you are wrong, and do not understand
25 either the Scriptures or the power of God? For when people rise from the dead, there is no marrying or being married, but they live as angels
26 do in heaven. But as to the dead being raised, have you never read in the Book of Moses, in the passage about the bush, how God said to him,
‘I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?’
27 He is not God of dead men but of living! You are entirely wrong.”

28 One of the scribes came up and heard them arguing. He saw that Jesus had answered them well, and he asked him,

“Which is the first of all the commands?”

29 Jesus answered,

30 “The first one is, ‘Hear, Israel! The Lord our God is one lord, and you must love the Lord your God with your whole heart, your whole 31 soul, your whole mind, and your whole strength.’ And this is the second: ‘You must love your neighbor as you do yourself.’ No other command is greater than these.”

32 The scribe said to him,

“Really, Master, you have finely said that he stands alone, and there 33 is none but he, and to love him with one’s whole heart, one’s whole understanding, and one’s whole strength, and to love one’s neighbor as one’s self is far more than all these burnt-offerings and sacrifices.”

34 And Jesus saw that he answered thoughtfully, and he said to him,
“You are not far from the Kingdom of God!”

And no one ventured to ask him any more questions.

35 As Jesus was teaching in the Temple, he answered them and said,

- 36 "How can the scribes say that the Christ is a son of David? David himself, under the influence of the holy Spirit, said,
"The Lord has said to my lord, "Sit at my right hand
Until I put your enemies under your feet.""
- 37 David himself calls him lord, and how can he be his son?"
- 38 The mass of the people liked to hear him. And in the course of his teaching he said to them,
"Beware of the scribes who like to go about in long robes and to be 39 saluted with respect in public places, and to have the front seats in the 40 synagogues and the best places at dinners—men that eat up widows' houses and to cover it up make long prayers! They will get a far heavier sentence!"
- 41 And he sat down facing the treasury and watched the people dropping money into it; and many rich people were putting in large sums.
42 A poor widow came up and dropped in two little copper coins which 43 make a cent. And he called his disciples to him and said,
"I tell you that this poor widow has put in more than all these others 44 who have been putting money into the treasury. For they all gave of what they had to spare, but she in her want has put in everything she possessed—all she had to live on."
- 13 As he was leaving the Temple, one of his disciples said to him,
"Look, Master! What wonderful stones and buildings!"
- 2 Jesus said to him,
"Do you see these great buildings? Not one stone shall be left here upon another that shall not be torn down."
- 3 As he was sitting on the Mount of Olives opposite the Temple, Peter, James, John, and Andrew asked him, apart from the others,
4 "Tell us when this is to happen, and what the sign will be when it is all just going to be carried out."
- 5 And Jesus said to them,
6 "Take care that no one misleads you about this. Many will come under my name and say 'I am he,' and many will be misled by them.
7 But when you hear of wars and rumors of war, you must not be 8 alarmed. They have to come, but it is not yet the end. For nation will rise in arms against nation and kingdom against kingdom; there will be earthquakes here and there, there will be famines. This is only the 9 beginning of the sufferings. But you must be on your guard; they will hand you over to courts and you will be taken into synagogues and beaten, and you will be brought before governors and kings on my account, to testify to them. For before the end the good news must be

11 preached to all the heathen. When they are taking you off to trial do not worry beforehand about what you ought to say, but say whatever is given you when the time comes, for it is not you that will speak, but the 12 holy Spirit. Brother will give up brother to be put to death, and the father his child, and children will turn against their parents and have 13 them put to death. You will be hated by everyone, because you bear my 14 name. But he who holds out to the end will be saved. But as soon as you see the dreadful desecration standing where he has no right to stand”
(the reader must take note of this), “then those who are in Judea must 15 fly to the hills; a man on the roof of his house must not go down or go
16 into the house to get anything out of it, and a man in the field must not 17 turn back to get his coat. Alas for women who are with child at that 18 time, or who have babies! Pray that it may not be winter when it 19 comes, for there will be such misery in those days as there has never been since the beginning of God’s creation until now, and never will 20 be again. If the Lord had not cut those days short, nobody would have escaped, but for the sake of his own chosen people he has cut the days 21 short. If anyone says to you at that time, ‘Look! Here is the Christ!’
22 or ‘Look! There he is!’ do not believe it. For false Christs and false prophets will appear, and they will show signs and wonders to mislead 23 God’s chosen people if they can. But you must be on your guard; I 24 have told you all about it beforehand. But in those days, when that misery is over, the sun will be darkened and the moon will not shed its 25 light and the stars will fall from the sky and the forces in the sky will 26 shake. Then they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds with 27 great power and glory, and then he will send out the angels and gather his chosen people from the four winds, from one end of the world to the other.

28 Let the fig tree teach you the lesson. As soon as its branches grow 29 soft and put forth leaves you know that summer is coming. So when you see these things happening, you must know that he is just at the 30 door. I tell you, these things will all happen before the present age 31 passes away. Earth and sky will pass away, but my words will not.
32 But about that day or hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven,
33 nor the Son; only the Father. You must look out and be on the alert, 34 for you do not know when it will be time; just as a man when he leaves home to go on a journey, and puts his slaves in charge, each with his 35 duties, gives orders to the watchman to keep watch. So you must be on the watch, for you do not know when the master of the house is coming—in the evening or at midnight or toward daybreak or early in the 36 morning—for fear he should come unexpectedly and find you asleep.

37 And what I am telling you I mean for all—Be on the watch!”

14 It was now two days before the festival of the Passover and of Unleavened Bread. And the high priests and scribes were casting about 2 for a way to arrest him by stealth and put him to death, for they said,
“It must not be during the festival, or there may be a riot.”

3 Jesus was in Bethany, at the house of Simon the leper, and as he was at table, a woman came in, with an alabaster flask of pure nard perfume, very expensive; she broke the flask and poured the perfume on his head.
4 But there were some who said indignantly to themselves,

5 “What was the use of wasting the perfume like that? It might have been sold for more than sixty dollars, and the money have been given to the poor.”

6 And they grumbled at her. But Jesus said,

“Leave her alone. Why do you bother her? It is a fine thing that
7 she has done to me. For you always have the poor among you, and whenever you please you can do for them, but you will not always have 8 me. She has done all she could; she has perfumed my body in preparation for my burial. I tell you, wherever the good news is preached all 9 over the world, what she has done will also be told, in memory of her.”

10 Then Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve, went to the high priests to 11 betray Jesus to them. They were delighted to hear it and promised to pay him for it. So he was watching for an opportunity to betray him to them.

12 On the first day of the festival of Unleavened Bread, on which it was customary to kill the Passover lamb, Jesus' disciples said to him,
“Where do you wish us to go and make the preparations for you to eat the Passover supper?”

13 So he sent away two of his disciples, saying to them,

“Go into the city, and you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of 14 water. Follow him, and whatever house he goes into, say to the man of the house, ‘The Master says, “Where is my room where I can eat
15 the Passover supper with my disciples?’” And he will show you a large room upstairs, furnished and ready. Make your preparations for us there.”

16 So the disciples started and went into the city, and found everything just as he had told them; and they prepared the Passover supper.

18 When it was evening he came with the Twelve. And when they were at the table eating, Jesus said,

"I tell you, one of you is going to betray me—one who is eating with me."

19 And they were hurt, and said to him one after another,
"Can it be I?"

20 He said to them,

"It is one of the Twelve, who is dipping his bread in the same dish with me. For the Son of Man is indeed to go away as the Scriptures say of him, but alas for the man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would have been better for that man if he had never been born."

22 As they were eating, he took a loaf and blessed it, and he broke it in pieces and gave it to them saying,

"Take this. It is my body."

23 And he took the wine cup and gave thanks and gave it to them and they all drank from it. And he said to them,

"This is my blood which ratifies the agreement, and is to be poured out for many people. I tell you, I will never drink the product of the vine again till the day when I shall drink the new wine in the Kingdom of God."

26 After singing the hymn they went out of the city and up the Mount of Olives. And Jesus said to them, "You will all desert me, for the Scriptures say, 'I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered.' But after I am raised to life again I will go back to Galilee before you."

29 But Peter said to him,

"Even if they all desert you, I will not!"

30 Jesus said to him,

"I tell you, this very night before the cock crows twice you yourself will disown me three times!"

31 But he persisted vehemently,

"If I have to die with you, I will never disown you."

And they all said the same thing.

32 They came to a place called Gethsemane, and he said to his disciples,
"Sit down here while I pray."

33 And he took Peter, James, and John along with him, and he began to feel distress and dread, and he said to them,

"My heart is almost breaking. You must stay here and keep watch."

35 And he went on a little way and threw himself on the ground and prayed that if it were possible he might be spared the hour of trial; and he said,

“Abba!” that is, Father, “anything is possible for you! Take this cup away from me! Yet not what I please but what you do!”

37 When he went back he found them asleep and he said to Peter, “Simon, are you asleep? Were you not able to watch for one hour?

38 You must all watch, and pray that you may not be subjected to trial. One’s spirit is eager, but human nature is weak.”

39 He went away again and prayed in the same words as before. When he came back he found them asleep again, for they could hardly keep their eyes open; and they did not know what answer to make to him.

41 When he came back for the third time, he said to them,

“Are you still sleeping and taking your rest? Enough of this! The time has come. See! the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of 42 wicked men. Get up, let us be going. Look! here comes my betrayer!”

43 Just at that moment, while he was still speaking, Judas, who was one of the Twelve, came up, and with him a crowd of men with swords
44 and clubs, from the high priests, scribes, and elders. Now the man who betrayed him had given them a signal, saying,

“The one I kiss is the man. Seize him and take him safely away.”

45 So when he came he went straight up to Jesus and said, “Master!” and kissed him affectionately.

46 And they laid hands on him and seized him. But one of the by-47 standers drew his sword and struck at the high priest’s slave and cut his 48 ear off. And Jesus spoke and said to them,

“Have you come out to arrest me with swords and clubs, as though
49 I were a robber? I have been among you day after day in the Temple teaching, and you never seized me. But let the Scriptures be fulfilled!”

50 Then all the disciples left him and made their escape.

51 And a young man followed him with nothing but a linen cloth about 52 his body; and they seized him, but he left the cloth behind and ran away naked.

53 They took Jesus away to the high priest, and all the high priests,
54 elders, and scribes came together. And Peter followed him at a distance, right into the courtyard of the high priest and sat down with 55 the attendants and warmed himself at the fire. The high priests and the whole council tried to get evidence against Jesus in order to put him
56 to death, and they could find none, for while many gave false testimony
57 against him their evidence did not agree. Some got up and gave false testimony against him to this effect:

58 “We ourselves have heard him say, ‘I will tear down this sanctuary built by men's hands, and in three days I will build another, made without hands.' ”

59 And even then their evidence did not agree. Then the high priest got up and came forward into the center and asked Jesus,

“Have you no answer to make? What about their evidence against you?”

61 But Jesus was silent and made no answer. The high priest again questioned him and said to him,

“Are you the Christ, the son of the Blessed One?”

62 But Jesus said,

“I am! and you will all see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Almighty and coming in the clouds of the sky!”

63 Then the high priest tore his clothing, and said,

64 “What do we want of witnesses now? Did you hear his blasphemy? What is your decision?”

65 And they all condemned him as deserving to be put to death. And some started to spit at him and to blindfold him and strike him, and say to him,

“Now show that you are a prophet!”

And the attendants slapped him as they took charge of him.

66 While Peter was down in the courtyard, one of the high priest's

67 maids came up, and seeing Peter warming himself, she looked at him and said,

“You were with this Jesus of Nazareth too!”

68 But he denied it, saying,

“I do not know or understand what you mean.”

69 He went out into the gateway. And the maid saw him there and began again to tell the bystanders,

“This fellow is one of them!”

70 But he denied it again. And again a little while after, the bystanders said to Peter,

“You certainly are one of them, for you are a Galilean!”

71 But he began to swear with the strongest oaths,

“I do not know this man that you are talking about!”

72 At that moment for the second time a cock crowed. And Peter remembered how Jesus had said to him, “Before the cock crows twice, you will disown me three times!” And at that, he wept aloud.

15 As soon as it was daylight, the high priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes, and they and the whole council bound Jesus and took him away and handed him over to Pilate. Pilate asked him,

“Are you the king of the Jews?”

He answered,

“Yes.”

3 And the high priests kept heaping accusations upon him. But Pilate
4 again asked him,

“Have you no answer to make? See what charges they are making against you.”

5 But Jesus made no further answer at all, so that Pilate wondered.

6 Now at festival time he used to set free for them one prisoner, whom 7 they petitioned for. There was in prison a man called Barabbas, among some revolutionaries who in their outbreak had committed murder.

8 And a crowd of people came up and started to ask him for the usual
9 favor. Pilate asked them,

“Do you want me to set the king of the Jews free for you?”

10 For he knew that the high priests had handed him over to him out
11 of envy. But the high priests stirred up the crowd to get him to set 12 Barabbas free for them instead. And Pilate again said to them,

“Then what shall I do with the man you call the king of the Jews?”

13 They shouted back,

“Crucify him!”

14 And Pilate said to them,

“Why, what has he done that is wrong?”

But they shouted all the louder,

“Crucify him!”

15 And as Pilate wanted to satisfy the crowd, he set Barabbas free for them, and after having Jesus flogged handed him over to be crucified.

16 Then the soldiers took him inside the courtyard, that is, of the gov-17 ernor’s residence, and they called the whole battalion together. And they dressed him up in a purple cloak, and made a wreath of thorns and 18 crowned him with it, and they began to acclaim him,

“Long live the king of the Jews!”

19 And they struck him on the head with a stick and spat at him, and 20 they knelt down and did homage to him. When they had finished making sport of him, they took off the purple cloak and put his own clothes on him.

21 Then they took him out of the city to crucify him. And they forced a passer-by, who was coming in from the country, to carry his cross—22 one Simon, a Cyrenian, the father of Alexander and Rufus. And they took him to the place called Golgotha, which means the Place of the 23 Skull. They offered him drugged wine, but he would not take it.

24 Then they crucified him, and divided up his clothes, drawing lots for 25 them to see what each of them should have. It was nine in the morn-
26 ing when they crucified him. And the notice of the charge against him 27 read, "The king of the Jews." They crucified two robbers along with 29 him, one at his right and one at his left. And the passers-by jeered at him, shaking their heads and saying,

"Aha! you who would tear down the sanctuary and build one in 30 three days! Come down from the cross and save yourself!"

31 The high priests too made sport of him to one another with the scribes and said,

32 "He saved others, but he cannot save himself! Let this Christ, the king of Israel, come down from the cross now, so that we may see it and believe!" And the men who were crucified with him abused him.

33 At noon darkness spread over the whole country, and lasted until 34 three in the afternoon. And at three o'clock Jesus called out loudly,
"Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?" which means, "My God, my God,
why have you forsaken me?"

35 Some of the bystanders, when they heard it, said,
"See! He is calling for Elijah!"

36 One man ran off and soaked a sponge in common wine, and put it on the end of a stick and held it up to him to drink, saying,
"Let us see whether Elijah does come to take him down!"

37 But Jesus gave a loud cry, and expired. And the curtain of the 38 sanctuary was torn in two, from top to bottom. And when the captain 39 who stood facing him saw how he expired he said,
"This man was certainly a son of God!"

40 There were some women also watching from a distance, among them Mary of Magdala, Mary the mother of the younger James and 41 of Joses, and Salome, who used to accompany him and wait on him when he was in Galilee—besides many other women who had come up to Jerusalem with him.

42 Although it was now evening, yet since it was the Preparation Day, 43 that is, the day before the Sabbath, Joseph of Arimathea, a highly respected member of the council, who was himself living in expectation of the reign of God, made bold to go to Pilate and ask for Jesus' body.
44 Pilate wondered whether he was dead already, and he sent for the 45 captain and asked whether he was dead yet, and when he learned from the captain that he was, he gave Joseph permission to take the body.
46 And he bought a linen sheet and took him down from the cross and wrapped him in the sheet, and laid him in a tomb that had been hewn out of the rock, and rolled a stone against the doorway of the tomb.

47 And Mary of Magdala and Mary, Jose's mother, were looking on and saw where he was put.

16 When the Sabbath was over, Mary of Magdala, Mary, James' mother, and Salome bought spices, in order to go and anoint him.

2 Then very early on the first day of the week they went to the tomb, 3 when the sun had just risen. And they said to one another,

"Who will roll the stone back from the doorway of the tomb for us?"

4 And they looked up and saw that the stone had been rolled back, 5 for it was very large. And when they went into the tomb they saw a young man in a white robe sitting at the right, and they were utterly 6 amazed. But he said to them,

"You must not be amazed. You are looking for Jesus of Nazareth who was crucified. He has risen, he is not here. See! This is where 7 they laid him. But go and say to his disciples and to Peter, 'He is going before you to Galilee; you will see him there, just as he told you.'"

8 And they fled out of the tomb, for they were all trembling and bewildered, and they said nothing about it to anyone, for they were afraid to do so.

AN ANCIENT APPENDIX

But they reported briefly to Peter and his companions all they had been told. And afterward Jesus himself sent out by them from the east to the west the sacred and incorruptible message of eternal salvation.

ANOTHER ANCIENT APPENDIX

9 Now after he had risen, early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary of Magdala, from whom he had driven out seven 10 evil spirits. She went and told it to his old companions, while they were 11 mourning and weeping. When they heard that he was alive and that 12 she had seen him, they would not believe it. Afterward he showed himself in a different form to two of them as they were walking along, 13 on their way into the country. They went back and told the rest, but 14 they would not believe them. Still later he appeared to the Eleven themselves when they were at table, and reproached them for their obstinacy and want of faith, because they had not believed those who 15 had seen him after he had been raised from the dead. And he said to them,

"Go to the whole world and proclaim the good news to all the

- ¹⁶ creation. He who believes it and is baptized will be saved, but he ¹⁷ who does not believe it will be condemned. And signs like these will attend those who believe: with my name they will drive out demons; ¹⁸ they will speak in foreign tongues; they will take snakes in their hands, and if they drink poison it will not hurt them; they will lay their hands on the sick, and they will get well.”
- ¹⁹ So the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken to them, was caught up into ²⁰ heaven and took his seat at God's right hand. And they went out and preached everywhere, while the Lord worked with them and confirmed their message by the signs that attended it.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE

1 Many writers have undertaken to compose accounts of the move-
2 ment which has developed among us, just as the original eye-witnesses 3 who became teachers of the message have handed it down to us. For that reason, Theophilus, and because I have investigated it all carefully from the beginning, I have determined to write a connected account 4 of it for Your Excellency, so that you may be reliably informed about the things you have been taught.

5 In the days when Herod was king of Judea, there was a priest named Zechariah who belonged to the division of Abijah. His wife 6 was also a descendant of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. They were both upright in the sight of God, blamelessly observing all the 7 Lord's commands and requirements. They had no children, for Elizabeth was barren; and they were both advanced in life.

8 Once when he was acting as priest before God, when his division
9 was on duty, it fell to his lot, according to the priests' practice, to go 10 into the sanctuary of the Lord and burn the incense, while all the throng of people was outside, praying at the hour of the incense offer-11 ing. And an angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing at the right 12 of the altar of incense. When Zechariah saw him he was startled and 13 overcome with fear. And the angel said to him,

"Do not be afraid, Zechariah, for your prayer has been heard. Your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, and you are to name him John.
14 This will bring gladness and delight to you, and many will rejoice 15 over his birth. For he will be great in the sight of the Lord. He will drink no wine or strong drink, but he will be filled with the holy 16 Spirit from his very birth, and he will turn many of Israel's descend-17 ants to the Lord their God. He will go before him with the spirit and the power of Elijah, to reconcile fathers to their children, and to bring the disobedient back to the wisdom of upright men, to make a people perfectly ready for the Lord."

18 Zechariah said to the angel,

"How am I to know that this is so? For I am an old man, and my wife is advanced in life."

19 The angel answered,

“I am Gabriel. I stand in the very presence of God. I have been 20 sent to speak to you and to tell you this good news. Now you will keep silent and be unable to speak until the day when this happens, because you have not believed what I have said, for it will all be fulfilled in due time.”

21 The people were waiting for Zechariah, and wondering that he 22 stayed so long in the sanctuary. But when he came out he could not speak to them, and they knew that he had seen a vision in the sanctuary.
23 For his part, he kept making signs to them, and remained dumb. And when his period of service was over, he went back to his home.

24 Soon afterward his wife Elizabeth began to expect a child, and she kept herself in seclusion for five months.

25 “This is what the Lord has done for me,” she said, “now that he has deigned to remove the disgrace I have endured.”

26 In the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent by God to a town 27 in Galilee called Nazareth, to a maiden there who was engaged to be married to a man named Joseph, a descendant of David. The maiden’s 28 name was Mary. And the angel went into the town and said to her,

“Good morning, favored woman! The Lord be with you!”

29 But she was startled at what he said, and wondered what this greet-30 ing meant. And the angel said to her,

“Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have gained God’s approval.

31 You are to become a mother and you will give birth to a son, and 32 you are to name him Jesus. He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his 33 forefather David, and he will reign over Jacob’s house forever; his reign will have no end.”

34 Mary said to the angel,

“How can this be, when I have no husband?”

35 The angel answered,

“The holy Spirit will come over you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. For that reason your child will be called 36 holy, and the Son of God. And your relative, Elizabeth, although she is old, is going to give birth to a son, and this is the sixth month with 37 her who was said to be barren. For nothing is ever impossible for God.”

38 And Mary said,

“I am the Lord’s slave. Let it be as you say.”

Then the angel left her.

39 In those days Mary set out and hurried to the hill-country, to a 40 town in Judah, and she went to Zechariah's house and greeted Eliza-41 beth. When Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the babe stirred within 42 her. And Elizabeth was filled with the holy Spirit and she gave a great cry, and said,

"You are the most favored of women,
And blessed is your child!

43 Who am I,
To have the mother of my Lord come to me?

44 "For the moment your greeting reached my ears,
The child stirred with joy within me!

45 Blessed is she who has believed,
For what the Lord has promised her will be fulfilled!"

46 And Mary said,

"My heart extols the Lord,
47 My spirit exults in God my Savior.
48 For he has noticed his slave in her humble station,
For from this time all the ages will think me favored!

49 "For the Almighty has done wonders for me,
How holy his name is!

50 He shows his mercy age after age
To those who fear him.

51 "He has done mighty deeds with his arm,
He has routed the proud-minded,
52 He has dethroned monarchs and exalted the poor,
53 He has satisfied the hungry with good things, and sent the rich away empty-handed.

54 "He has helped his servant Israel,
Remembering his mercy,
55 As he promised our forefathers
To have mercy on Abraham and his descendants forever!"

56 So Mary stayed with her about three months, and then returned home.

57 Now the time came for Elizabeth's child to be born, and she gave 58 birth to a son. Her neighbors and relatives heard of the great mercy 59 the Lord had shown her, and they came and congratulated her. On the eighth day they came to circumcise the child, and they were going 60 to name him Zechariah, after his father. But his mother said,

“No! He is to be named John.”

61 They said to her,

“There is no one among your relatives who bears that name.”

62 But they made signs to the child’s father and asked him what he 63 wished to have the child named. He asked for a writing tablet, and wrote,

“His name is John.”

64 And they were all amazed. Then his voice and the use of his tongue 65 were immediately restored, and he blessed God aloud. And all their neighbors were overcome with fear, and all over the hill-country of 66 Judea all these stories were told, and everyone who heard them kept them in mind, and said,

“What is this child going to be?” For the Lord’s hand was with him.

67 And his father Zechariah was filled with the holy Spirit and he uttered a divine message, saying,

68 “Blessings on the Lord, the God of Israel, Because he has turned his attention to his people, and brought about their deliverance,
69 And he has produced a mighty Savior for us
In the house of his servant David.

70 “By the lips of his holy prophets he promised of old to do this—71 To save us from our enemies and from the hands of all who hate us,
72 Thus showing mercy to our forefathers,
And keeping his sacred agreement,

73 “And the oath that he swore to our forefather Abraham,
74 That we should be delivered from the hands of our enemies,
75 And should serve him in holiness and uprightness, unafraid,
In his own presence all our lives.

76 “And you, my child, will be called a prophet of the Most High,
For you will go before the Lord to make his way ready,
77 Bringing his people the knowledge of salvation
Through the forgiveness of their sins.

78 "Because the heart of our God is merciful,
And so the day will dawn upon us from on high,
79 To shine on men who sit in darkness and the shadow of death,
And guide our feet into the way of peace."

80 And the child grew up and became strong in the Spirit, and he lived in the desert until the day when he proclaimed himself to Israel.

2 In those days an edict was issued by the Emperor Augustus that a
2 census of the whole world should be taken. It was the first census, 3 taken when Quirinius was governor of Syria. So everyone went to his 4 own town to register. And Joseph went up from Galilee from the town of Nazareth to Judea to the city of David called Bethlehem, 5 because he belonged to the house and family of David, to register with Mary, who was engaged to him and who was soon to become a mother.
6 While they were there, the time came for her child to be born, and 7 she gave birth to her first-born son; and she wrapped him up, and laid him in a manger, for there was no room for them at the inn.

8 There were some shepherds in that neighborhood keeping watch 9 through the night over their flock in the open fields. And an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, 10 and they were terribly frightened. The angel said to them,

"Do not be frightened, for I bring you good news of a great joy
11 that is to be felt by all the people, for today, in the town of David, a 12 Savior for you has been born who is your Messiah and Lord. And this will prove it to you: You will find a baby wrapped up and lying in a manger."

13 Suddenly there appeared with the angel a throng of the heavenly army, praising God, saying,

14 "Glory to God in heaven and on earth!
Peace to the men he favors!"

15 When the angels left them and returned to heaven, the shepherds said to one another,

"Come! Let us go over to Bethlehem, and see this thing that has happened, that the Lord has told us of!"

16 And they hurried there, and found Mary and Joseph, with the baby 17 lying in the manger. When they saw this, they told what had been 18 said to them about this child. And all who heard it were amazed at 19 what the shepherds told them, but Mary treasured up all they had said, 20 and pondered over it. And the shepherds went back glorifying God and praising him for all that they had heard and seen in fulfilment of what they had been told.

21 When he was eight days old and it was time to circumcise him, he was named Jesus, as the angel had named him, before his birth was first expected.

22 When their purification period under the Law of Moses was over,
23 they took him up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord, in fulfilment of the requirement of the Law of the Lord, "Every first-born male
24 shall be considered consecrated to the Lord," and to offer the sacrifice prescribed in the Law of the Lord, "A pair of turtle-doves or two young pigeons."

25 Now there was a man in Jerusalem named Symeon, an upright, devout man, who was living in expectation of the comforting of Israel,
26 and under the influence of the holy Spirit. It had been revealed to him by the holy Spirit that he should not die without seeing the Lord's 27 Messiah. And under the Spirit's influence he went into the Temple, and when Jesus' parents brought him there to do for him what the 28 Law required, Symeon also took him in his arms and blessed God, and said,

29 "Now, Master, you will let your slave go free
In peace, as you promised,
30 For my eyes have seen your salvation
31 Which you have set before all the nations,
32 A light of revelation for the heathen,
And a glory to your people Israel!"

33 The child's father and mother were astonished at what Symeon
34 said. And he gave them his blessing, and said to Mary, the child's mother,

"This child is destined to cause the fall and rise of many in Israel, 35 and to be a portent that will be much debated—you yourself will be pierced to the heart—and so the thoughts of many minds will be revealed."

36 There was also a prophetess there named Hannah, the daughter of Phanuel, who belonged to the tribe of Asher. She was very old, for 37 after her girlhood she had been married for seven years, and she had been a widow until she was now eighty-four. She never left the 38 Temple, but worshiped night and day with fasting and prayer. She came up just at that time and gave thanks to God and spoke about the child to all who were living in expectation of the liberation of Jerusalem.

39 When they had done everything that the Law of the Lord required, they returned to Galilee, to their own town of Nazareth.

40 And the child grew up and became strong and thoughtful, with God's blessing resting on him.

41 His parents used to go to Jerusalem every year at the Passover Festival. And when he was twelve years old, they went up as usual to the festival and made their customary stay. When they started back the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem without his parents' knowledge. They supposed that he was somewhere in the party, and traveled until the end of the first day's journey, and then they looked everywhere for him among their relatives and acquaintances. As they could not find him, they went back to Jerusalem in search of him. 46 And on the third day they found him in the Temple, sitting among the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions, and everyone who heard him was astonished at his intelligence and at the answers 48 he made. When his parents saw him they were amazed, and his mother said to him,

"My child, why did you treat us like this? Here your father and I have been looking for you, and have been very anxious."

49 He said to them,

"How did you come to look for me? Did you not know that I must be at my Father's house?"

50 But they did not understand what he told them. And he went back with them to Nazareth and obeyed them. And his mother treasured all these things up in her mind.

52 As Jesus grew older he gained in wisdom and won the approval of God and men.

3 In the fifteenth year of the reign of the Emperor Tiberius, when Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, and Herod governor of Galilee, while his brother Philip was governor of the territory of Iturea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias was governor of Abilene, in the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, a message from God came to Zechariah's son John in the desert. And he went all through the Jordan Valley preaching repentance and baptism in order to obtain the forgiveness 4 of sins, as the book of the sermons of the prophet Isaiah says,

"Hark! Someone is shouting in the desert,

Get the Lord's way ready!

Make his paths straight.

5 Every hollow must be filled up,

And every mountain and hill leveled.

What is crooked is to be made straight,

And the rough roads are to be made smooth,

6 And all mankind is to see how God can save!"

7 So he would say to the crowds that came out there to be baptized by him,

"You brood of snakes! Who warned you to fly from the wrath that 8 is coming? Then produce fruit that will be consistent with your professed repentance! And do not begin to say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham for our forefather,' for I tell you, God can produce de- 9 scendants for Abraham right out of these stones! But the axe is already lying at the roots of the trees. Any tree that fails to produce good fruit is going to be cut down and thrown into the fire."

10 The crowds would ask him,

"Then what ought we to do?"

11 And he answered,

"The man who has two shirts must share with the man who has none, and the man who has food must do the same."

12 Even tax-collectors came to be baptized, and they said to him,

"Master, what ought we to do?"

13 He said to them,

"Do not collect any more than you are authorized to."

14 And soldiers would ask him,

"And what ought we to do?"

He said to them,

"Do not extort money or make false charges against people, but be satisfied with your pay."

15 As all this aroused people's expectations, and they were all wonder- 16 ing in their hearts whether John was the Christ, John said to them all,

"I am only baptizing you in water, but someone is coming who is stronger than I am, whose shoes I am not fit to untie. He will baptize 17 you in the holy Spirit and in fire. He has his winnowing fork in his hand, to clean up his threshing-floor, and store his wheat in his barn, but he will burn up the chaff with inextinguishable fire."

18 So with many varied exhortations he would preach the good news 19 to the people, but Herod the governor, whom he condemned because of Herodias, his brother's wife, and all the wicked things Herod had 20 done, crowned them all by putting John in prison.

21 Now when all the people were baptized and when Jesus also after 22 his baptism was praying, heaven opened and the holy Spirit came down upon him in the material shape of a dove, and there came a voice from heaven,

“You are my Son, my Beloved! You are my Chosen!”

- 23 Jesus himself was about thirty years old when he began his work.
24 He was the son, it was supposed, of Joseph, the son of Eli, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannai, the son of Joseph, the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum,
26 the son of Esli, the son of Naggai, the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semein, the son of Josech, the son of Joda, the son of Johanan, the son of Resa, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Salathiel,
28 the son of Neri, the son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam,
29 the son of Elmadam, the son of Er, the son of Jesus, the son of Eliezer, 30 the son of Jorim, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Symeon, the son of Judah, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonam, the 31 son of Eliakim, the son of Melea, the son of Menna, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of David, the son of Jesse, the son of 33 Obed, the son of Boaz, the son of Sala, the son of Nahshon, the son of Admin, the son of Arni, the son of Hezron, the son of Perez, the 34 son of Judah, the son of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham,
35 the son of Terah, the son of Nahor, the son of Serug, the son of Ragau, 36 the son of Peleg, the son of Heber, the son of Shelah, the son of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad, the son of Shem, the son of Noah, the son of 37 Lamech, the son of Methuselah, the son of Enoch, the son of Jared, 38 the son of Maleleel, the son of Cainan, the son of Enosh, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God.

- 4 Jesus returned from the Jordan full of the holy Spirit, and he was 2 led about in the desert for forty days by the Spirit, and was tempted by the devil. In all those days he ate nothing, and when they were over
3 he was famished. And the devil said to him,

“If you are God’s son, tell this stone to turn into bread!”

- 4 Jesus answered,

“The Scripture says, ‘Not on bread alone is man to live!’ ”

- 5 And he took him up and showed him in an instant all the kingdoms
6 of the world. And the devil said to him,

- “I will give you all this power and their splendor, for it has been 7 turned over to me, and I can give it to anyone I please. If you will do homage before me, it shall all be yours.”

- 8 Jesus answered,

“The Scripture says, ‘You must do homage before the Lord your God, and worship him alone.’ ”

9 And he took him to Jerusalem, and made him stand on the summit of the Temple, and said to him,

10 “If you are God’s son, throw yourself down from here, for the Scripture says, ‘He will give his angels orders about you, to protect you,’ and, ‘They will lift you up with their hands, so that you may never strike your foot against a stone.’ ”

12 Jesus answered,

“We have been told, ‘You shall not try the Lord your God.’ ”

13 When the devil had tried every kind of temptation he left him till another time.

14 Under the power of the Spirit Jesus returned to Galilee, and news of him went all over that region. And he taught in their synagogues, and was honored by them all.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up, and on the Sabbath he went to the synagogue, as he was accustomed to do, and stood up to read the Scriptures. And the roll of the prophet Isaiah was handed to him, and he unrolled it and found the place where it says,

18 “The spirit of the Lord is upon me,

For he has consecrated me to preach the good news to the poor,
He has sent me to announce to the prisoners their release and to the blind the recovery of their sight,

To set the down-trodden at liberty,

19 To proclaim the year of the Lord’s favor!”

20 And he rolled up the roll and gave it back to the attendant and sat down. The eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fixed upon him.

21 And he began by saying to them,

“This passage of Scripture has been fulfilled here in your hearing today!”

22 And they all spoke well of him and were astonished at the winning words that fell from his lips, and they said,

“Is he not Joseph’s son?”

23 He said to them,

“No doubt you will quote this proverb to me: ‘Doctor, cure yourself! Do the things here in your own country that we hear you did at

24 Capernaum.’ I tell you,” said he, “no prophet is welcome in his own

25 country. But, I tell you, there were plenty of widows in Israel in Elijah’s time, when the sky was closed for three years and a half, and

26 there was a great famine all over the land, and Elijah was not sent 27 to one of them, but to a widow at Zarephath in Sidon. And there were plenty of lepers in Israel in the time of the prophet Elisha, and none of them was cured, but Naaman the Syrian."

28 And when the people in the synagogue heard this, they were all very 29 angry, and they got up and drove him out of the town and took him to the brow of the hill on which their town was built, intending to 30 throw him down from it. But he made his way through the midst of them and went on.

31 And he came down to Capernaum, a town in Galilee. And he 32 taught them on the Sabbath, and they were amazed at his teaching, for 33 he spoke with authority. There was a man in the synagogue who was possessed by the spirit of a foul demon and he cried out loudly,

34 "Ha! What do you want of us, Jesus, you Nazarene? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are! You are God's Holy One!"

35 Jesus reproved him and said,
"Silence! Get out of him!"

And the demon threw the man down in the midst of them, and 36 came out of him, without doing him any harm. And they were all amazed and said to one another,

"What is the meaning of this teaching? For he gives orders authori-37 tatively and effectually to the foul spirits, and they come out." And news of him spread to every place in that region.

38 When he got up and left the synagogue, he went to Simon's house.
And Simon's mother-in-law was suffering with a severe attack of 39 fever, and they asked him about her. And he stood over her and reproved the fever and it left her, and she got up and waited on them.

40 As the sun went down all who had friends sick with various diseases brought them to him, and he laid his hands on every one of them and 41 cured them. And demons came out of many people, crying out,

"You are the Son of God!"

But he reproved them and forbade them to speak, because they knew he was the Christ.

42 When it was day, he left the house and made his way to a lonely spot, and crowds of people went in search of him, and overtook him 43 and tried to keep him from leaving them. But he said to them,

"I must preach the good news of the Kingdom of God to the other towns also, for that is what I was sent to do."

44 So he went about Judea, preaching in the synagogues.

5 Once as the crowd was pressing about him to hear God's message,
2 he happened to be standing by the Lake of Gennesaret, and he saw two boats on the shore of the lake, for the fishermen had gotten out of 3 them and were washing their nets. And he got into one of the boats, which belonged to Simon, and asked him to push out a little from the shore. Then he sat down and taught the crowds of people from the 4 boat. When he stopped speaking, he said to Simon,

"Push out into deep water, and then put down your nets for a haul."

5 Simon answered,

"Master, we worked all night and caught nothing, but as you tell me to do it, I will put down the nets."

6 So they did so, and inclosed such a shoal of fish that their nets began 7 to break. And they signaled to their comrades in the other boat to come and help them. And they came, and they filled both boats so 8 full that they began to sink. When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' feet and said,

"Leave me, Master, for I am a sinful man."

9 For he and all the men with him were perfectly amazed at the haul 10 of fish they had made, and so were Zebedee's sons, James and John, who were Simon's partners. Jesus said to Simon,

"Do not be afraid. From now on you are to catch men!"

11 And they brought the boats to land and left everything and followed him.

12 When he was in one of the towns, he came upon a man covered with leprosy. And when he saw Jesus he fell down on his face, and begged him, saying,

"If you only choose, sir, you can cure me!"

13 And he stretched out his hand and touched him, saying,

"I do choose! Be cured!"

14 And the leprosy immediately left him. Then he warned him to tell nobody,

"But go," he said, "show yourself to the priest, and in proof of your cure make the offerings for your purification, just as Moses prescribed."

15 Yet the news about him spread more and more, and great crowds 16 gathered to hear him and to be cured of their diseases. But Jesus himself would retire into the desert and pray.

17 One day as he was teaching, there were some Pharisees and experts in the Law sitting near by, who had come from every village in Galilee and Judea and from Jerusalem. The power of the Lord was there, so 18 that he might cure people. Some men came up carrying on a bed a man who was paralyzed, and they tried to get him in and lay him before

19 Jesus. And as they could find no way to get him in, on account of the crowd, they went up on the roof and let him down with his mat through 20 the tiles, among the people in front of Jesus. When he saw their faith, he said,

“Friend, your sins are forgiven!”

21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to debate and say,
“Who is this man who talks blasphemy? Who can forgive sins but God alone?”

22 But Jesus saw what they were discussing, and said to them,
23 “What are you pondering over in your minds? Which is easier,
24 to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to say, ‘Get up and walk’? But to let you know that the Son of Man has authority to forgive sins on earth”—turning to the man who was paralyzed he said to him—“I tell you, get up, pick up your mat, and go home!”

25 And he got up at once before them all, and picked up what he had 26 been lying on, and went home, praising God. They were all seized with astonishment, and praised God, and filled with awe they said,

“We have seen something wonderful today!”

27 After this he went out, and he saw a tax-collector named Levi sitting at the tollhouse, and he said to him,

“Follow me!”

28 And he left everything and got up and followed him. Then Levi
29 gave a great entertainment for him in his house, and there was a great 30 throng of tax-collectors and others who were at table with them. And the Pharisees and their scribes grumbled about it to his disciples, and said,

“Why do you eat and drink with tax-collectors and irreligious people?”

31 Jesus answered them,
“It is not well people but the sick who have to have the doctor.
32 I have not come to invite the pious but the irreligious to repentance!”

33 They said to him,
“John’s disciples observe frequent fasts and offer prayers, and so do the disciples of the Pharisees, but your disciples eat and drink.”

34 Jesus said to them,
“Can you make wedding guests fast while the bridegroom is with 35 them? But other days will come, and when the bridegroom is taken away from them, in those days they will fast.”

36 He used this figure also in speaking to them :

“No one tears a piece from a new coat and sews it on an old one, or if he does, he will both tear the new one and the piece from the new one will not match the old one. And nobody puts new wine into old wine-skins, or if he does, the new wine will burst the skins and run out, and the skins will be spoiled. New wine has to be put into fresh skins. No one after drinking old wine wants new, for he says, ‘The old is better!’ ”

6 One Sabbath he happened to be passing through the wheat fields, and his disciples were picking the heads of wheat, and eating them, rubbing them in their hands. And some of the Pharisees said,

“Why do you do what it is against the Law to do on the Sabbath?”

3 Jesus answered,

“Have you not read even what David did, when he and his companions were hungry? How he went into the house of God and took the Presentation Loaves, which it was against the Law for anyone but the priests to eat, and ate them with his companions?” And he said to them, “The Son of Man is master of the Sabbath.”

6 On another Sabbath he happened to go to the synagogue and teach. 7 There was a man there whose right hand was withered. And the scribes and the Pharisees were on the watch to see whether he would cure people on the Sabbath, in order to find a charge to bring against him. But he knew what they were thinking, and he said to the man with the withered hand,

“Get up and stand in front.”

9 And he got up and stood there. Jesus said to them,

“I want to ask you, Is it allowable on the Sabbath to do people good or to do them harm? to save life or to destroy it?”

10 And he looked around at them all and said to the man,

“Hold out your hand!”

And he did so, and his hand was restored.

11 But they were perfectly furious, and discussed with one another what they could do to Jesus.

12 It was in those days that he went up on the mountain to pray, and passed the whole night in prayer to God. When day came, he called his disciples to him, and chose twelve of them whom he named apostles: 14 Simon, whom he named Peter, his brother Andrew, James, John, 15 Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James, the son of Alpheus, 16 Simon, who was called the Zealot, Judas, the son of James, and Judas 17 Iscariot, who turned out a traitor. And he came down with them and took his stand on a level place with a great throng of his disciples, and a large number of people from all over Judea and from Jerusalem and the seacoast district of Tyre and Sidon, who had come to hear 18 him and to be cured of their diseases. And those who were troubled 19 with foul spirits were cured. And all the people tried to touch him, 20 because power went forth from him and cured them all. Then he fixed his eyes on his disciples, and said, “Blessed are you who are poor, for the Kingdom of God is yours!

21 “Blessed are you who are hungry now, for you will be satisfied!

“Blessed are you who weep now, for you will laugh!

22 “Blessed are you when people hate you and exclude you and denounce you and spurn the name you bear as evil, on account of the 23 Son of Man. Be glad when that happens, and leap for joy, for you will be richly rewarded in heaven, for that is the way their forefathers treated the prophets.

24 “But alas for you who are rich, for you have had your comfort!

25 “Alas for you who have plenty to eat now, for you will be hungry!

“Alas for you who laugh now, for you will mourn and weep!

26 “Alas for you when everyone speaks well of you, for that is the way their forefathers treated the false prophets!

27 “But I tell you who hear me, love your enemies, treat those who 28 hate you well, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. To the man that strikes you on the cheek, offer the other also, and from the man who takes away your coat, do not keep back your shirt either.
29 Give to everyone that asks of you, and if anyone takes away what is 30 yours, do not demand it back. And treat men just as you wish them
31 to treat you. If you love only those who love you, what merit is there 32 in that? For even godless people love those who love them. And if 33 you help only those who help you, what merit is there in that? Even 34 godless people act in that way. And if you lend only to people from whom you expect to get something, what merit is there in that? Even 35 godless people lend to godless people, meaning to get it back again in 36 full. But love your enemies, and help them and lend to them, never despairing, and you will be richly rewarded, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind even to the ungrateful and the wicked.

37 You must be merciful, just as your Father is. Do not judge others, and they will not judge you. Do not condemn them, and they will 38 not condemn you. Excuse others and they will excuse you. Give, and they will give to you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over, they will pour into your lap. For the measure you use with others they in turn will use with you."

39 And he used a figure, saying,

"Can one blind man lead another? Will they not both fall into 40 a hole? A pupil is not better than his teacher, but every pupil when 41 he is fully trained will be like his teacher. Why do you keep looking at the speck in your brother's eye, and pay no attention to the beam 42 that is in your own? How can you say to your brother, 'Brother, just let me get that speck out of your eye,' when you cannot see the beam in your own eye? You hypocrite! First get the beam out of your own eye, and then you can see to get out the speck in your brother's eye.
43 For sound trees do not bear bad fruit, nor bad trees sound fruit.
44 Every tree is known by its fruit. They do not pick figs off thorns, 45 or gather grapes from brambles. A good man, out of the good he has accumulated in his heart, produces good, and a bad man, out of what he has accumulated that is bad, produces what is bad. For his mouth 46 says only what his heart is full of. Why do you call me: 'Lord!
47 Lord!' and not do what I tell you? If anyone comes to me and listens to this teaching of mine and acts upon it, I will show you whom he is 48 like. He is like a man who was building a house, who dug deep and laid his foundation upon the rock, and when there was a flood the torrent burst upon that house and could not shake it, because it was 49 well built. But the man who listens to it, and does not act upon it, is like a man who built a house on the ground without any foundation.
The torrent burst upon it, and it collapsed at once, and the wreck of that house was complete."

7 When he had finished saying all this in the hearing of the people, he went to Capernaum.

2 A Roman captain had a slave whom he thought a great deal of, and 3 the slave was sick and at the point of death. When the captain heard about Jesus, he sent some Jewish elders to him, to ask him to come 4 and save his slave's life. And they went to Jesus and urged him strongly to do it, and said,

5 "He deserves to have you do this for him, for he loves our nation, and it was he who built us our synagogue."

6 So Jesus went with them. But when he was not far from the house, the captain sent some friends to him, to say to him,

"Master, do not take any more trouble, for I am not a suitable per-7 son to have you under my roof. That is why I did not think I was fit to come to you. But simply say the word, and have my servant cured.

- 8 For I am myself under the orders of others, and I have soldiers under me, and I tell one to go, and he goes, and another to come, and he comes, and my slave to do something, and he does it.”
- 9 When Jesus heard this, he was astonished at him, and turning to the crowd that was following him, he said, “I tell you, I have not found such faith as this even in Israel!”
- 10 And when the messengers went back to the house, they found the slave well.
- 11 Soon afterward he happened to go to a town called Nain, and his 12 disciples and a great throng of people were with him. As he came up to the gate of the town, a dead man was being carried out; he was his mother’s only son, and she was a widow. A crowd of the townspeople
13 was with her. And when the Master saw her, he pitied her, and said to her,
“Do not weep.”
- 14 And he went up and touched the bier, and the bearers stopped. And he said, “Young man, I tell you, wake up!”
- 15 And the dead man sat up and began to speak, and he gave him back 16 to his mother. And they were all overcome with awe, and they praised God, and said,
“A great prophet has appeared among us!” and “God has not forgotten his people!”
- 17 This story about him spread all over Judea and the surrounding country.
- 18 John’s disciples told him of all this, and he called two of them to 19 him, and sent them to the Master to ask him,
“Are you the one who was to come, or should we look for someone else?”
- 20 And the men went to him and said,
“John the Baptist sent us to you to ask, ‘Are you the one who was to come, or should we look for someone else?’ ”
- 21 Just then he cured many of diseases and ailments and evil spirits, 22 and he gave sight to many who were blind. And he answered them, “Go and report to John what you have seen and heard. The blind are regaining their sight, the lame can walk, the lepers are being cured and the deaf can hear, the dead are being raised and good news is 23 being preached to the poor. And blessed is the man who finds nothing that repels him in me.”

24 When John's messengers were gone, he began to speak to the crowds about John.

"What was it that you went out into the desert to look at? A reed swaying in the wind? Then what did you go out there to see? A man luxuriously dressed? Men who wear fine clothes and live in luxury you find in palaces. Then what did you go out there to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and far more than a prophet! This is the man of whom the Scripture says,

"Here I send my messenger on before you,
He will prepare the road ahead of you!"

28 "I tell you, among men born of women there is none greater than John; and yet those who are of little importance in the Kingdom of God are greater than he. And all the people, even the tax-collectors, when they heard him, acknowledged the justice of God's demands, by accepting baptism from John, but the Pharisees and experts in the Law thwarted God's purpose for themselves, by refusing to be baptized by him. So what is there to which I can compare the men of this age? What are they like? They are like children sitting about in the bazaar and calling out to one another,

"We have played the flute for you, and you would not dance!
We have wailed and you would not weep!"

33 "For when John the Baptist came, he did not eat any bread or drink any wine, and you said, 'He has a demon!' Now that the Son of Man has come, he does eat and drink, and you say, 'Look at him! A glutton and a drinker, the companion of tax-collectors and irreligious people!' So wisdom is vindicated by all who are really wise."

36 One of the Pharisees asked him to have dinner with him, and he went to the Pharisee's house and took his place at the table. Now there was a woman in the town who was leading a sinful life, and when she learned that he was having dinner at the Pharisee's house, she got an alabaster flask of perfume, and came and stood behind him at his feet, weeping, and began to wet his feet with her tears, and she wiped them with her hair, and kissed them, and put the perfume on them. When the Pharisee who had invited him saw this, he said to himself,

"If this man were really a prophet, he would know who and what the woman is who is touching him, for she leads a wicked life."

40 Jesus answered him, and said to him,

"Simon, there is something I want to say to you."

He said,

“Proceed, Master.”

41 “Two men were in debt to a money-lender. One owed him a 42 hundred dollars and the other ten. As they could not pay him, he canceled what they owed him. Now which of them will be more attached to him?”

43 Simon answered,

“The one, I suppose, for whom he canceled most.”

44 “You are right,” he said. And turning to the woman, he said to Simon,

“Do you see this woman? I came to your house; you did not give me any water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with tears and 45 wiped them with her hair. You did not give me a kiss, but from the 46 moment I came in she has not stopped kissing my feet. You did not put any oil upon my head, but she has put perfume upon my feet.
47 Therefore, I tell you, her sins, many as they are, are forgiven, for she has loved me so much. But the man with little to be forgiven loves me but little.”

48 And he said to her,

“Your sins are forgiven!”

49 The men at table with him began to say to themselves,

“Who is this man, who even forgives sins?”

50 But he said to the woman,

“It is your faith that has saved you. Go in peace.”

8 Soon afterward he went about among the villages and towns preaching and telling the good news of the Kingdom of God. The Twelve 2 went with him, and some women who had been cured of evil spirits and sickness—Mary, who was called Mary of Magdala, out of whom 3 seven demons had been driven, and Joanna, the wife of Chuza, Herod’s manager, and Susanna, and many others, who provided for them with their means.

4 When a great throng was gathering and people were coming to him from one town after another, he said in his figurative way,

5 “A sower went out to sow his seed. As he was sowing, some of the seed fell by the path and was trodden on, and the wild birds ate it up.
6 And some of it fell upon the rock, and when it sprang up it withered,
7 because it had no moisture. And some fell among the thorns, and the 8 thorns grew up with it and choked it out. And some fell on good soil, and grew up and yielded a hundred fold!”

As he said this he called out,

“Let him who has ears to hear with, listen!”

- ⁹ His disciples asked him what this figure meant. And he said, ¹⁰ "You are permitted to know the secrets of the Kingdom of God, but they are given to others in the form of figures, so that they may ¹¹ look and yet not see, and hear and yet not understand. This is what ¹² the figure means. The seed is God's message. The ones by the path are those who hear, and then the devil comes and carries off the message from their hearts, so that they may not believe it and be saved.
¹³ The ones on the rock are those who receive the message joyfully when they first hear it, but it takes no real root. They believe for a little ¹⁴ while, and then in the time of trial they draw back. And what falls among the thorns means those who listen and pass on, and the worries and wealth and pleasures of life stifle them and they yield nothing.
¹⁵ But the seed in the good soil means those who listen to the message and keep it in good, true hearts, and yield unfaithfully.
- ¹⁶ "Nobody lights a lamp and then covers it with a dish or puts it under a bed, but he puts it on its stand, so that those who come in may ¹⁷ see the light. For there is nothing hidden that shall not be disclosed, ¹⁸ nor kept secret that shall not be known and come to light. So take care how you listen. For people who have will have more given to them, and from people who have nothing, even what they think they have will be taken away."
- ¹⁹ His mother and his brothers came to him, but they could not get ²⁰ near him, on account of the crowd. And the word came to him,
"Your mother and your brothers are standing outside; they want to see you."
- ²¹ He answered,
"My mother and my brothers are those who listen to God's message and obey it!"
- ²² It happened one day that he got into a boat with his disciples, and said to them,
"Let us cross to the other side of the lake."
- ²³ So they set sail. As they sailed along, he fell asleep. And a squall of wind came down upon the lake, and they were being swamped and ²⁴ were in peril. And they went to him and woke him up, and said to him,
"Master! Master! We are lost!"
Then he awoke and reproved the wind and the rough water, and ²⁵ they ceased, and there was a calm. And he said to them,
"Where is your faith?"
But they were frightened and amazed, and said to one another,

“Who can he be? For he gives orders even to the winds and the water, and they obey him!”

26 They made a landing in the neighborhood of Gerasa, which is just 27 across the lake from Galilee. And when he landed, he met a man possessed by demons, who was coming out of the town. He had worn no clothing for a long time, and did not live in a house but in the tombs.
28 When he saw Jesus he cried out and threw himself down before him,
and said in a loud voice,

“What do you want of me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beg you not to torture me!”

29 For he was commanding the foul spirit to get out of the man. For it had often seized him, and though he had been fastened with chains and fetters, and was closely watched, he would snap his bonds and 30 the demon would drive him away to the desert. And Jesus asked him,
“What is your name?”

He said,

31 “Legion!” For many demons had gone into him. And they 32 begged him not to order them off to the bottomless pit. Now there was a large drove of pigs feeding there on the hillside, and they begged 33 him to give them leave to go into them. And he did so. Then the demons came out of the man and went into the pigs, and the drove 34 rushed over the steep bank into the lake, and were drowned. When the men who tended them saw what had happened, they ran away 35 and spread the news in the town and in the country around. And the people came out to see what had happened, and they came to Jesus and found the man out of whom the demons had gone sitting there, at Jesus’ feet, with his clothes on and in his right mind, and they 36 were frightened. And those who had seen it told them how the 37 man who had been possessed was cured. Then all the people of the neighborhood of Gerasa asked him to go away from them, for they 38 were terribly frightened. And he got into a boat and went back. The man out of whom the demons had gone begged to go with him, but Jesus sent him away, and said,

39 “Go back to your home, and tell all that God has done for you.”

And he went and told all over the town what Jesus had done for him.

40 When Jesus returned, the people welcomed him, for they were all 41 watching for him. And a man named Jairus came up—he was leader of the synagogue—and he fell down at Jesus’ feet and begged him 42 to come to his house, because he had an only daughter, about twelve years old, and she was dying. As he was going, the crowds of people 43 almost crushed him. And a woman who had had a hemorrhage for 44 twelve years, and whom nobody had been able to cure, came up behind him and touched the tassel of his cloak, and the hemorrhage stopped 45 at once. Jesus said,

“Who was it who touched me?”

And as everyone denied having done so, Peter said,

“Master, the people are all around you and they are crowding you.”

46 But Jesus said,

“Somebody touched me, for I know that power passed from me.”

47 When the woman saw that she had not escaped his notice, she came forward trembling, and fell down before him, and before all the people told why she had touched him, and how she had been cured at once.

48 And he said to her,

“My daughter, it is your faith that has cured you. Go in peace.”

49 Even as he spoke someone came from the house of the leader of the synagogue and said,

“Your daughter is dead. Do not trouble the Master any more.”

50 But Jesus heard it and said to him,

“Do not be afraid; just have faith, and she will get well.”

51 When he got to the house, he let no one go in with him but Peter, 52 John, and James, and the child's father and mother. And they were all wailing and beating their breasts for her. But he said,

“Stop wailing! For she is not dead, she is asleep.”

53 And they laughed at him, for they knew that she was dead. But 54 he grasped her hand and called out,

“Get up, my child!”

55 And her spirit returned and she stood up immediately, and he 56 directed them to give her something to eat. And her parents were amazed, but he ordered them not to tell anyone what had happened.

9 Then he called the Twelve together, and gave them power and
2 authority over all the demons, and to cure diseases, and he sent them
3 out to proclaim the Kingdom of God and to cure the sick. He said to them,

“Do not take anything for your journey, no staff nor bag nor bread
4 nor money, nor an extra shirt. Whatever house you go to stay in,
5 remain there, and start on again from it. And where they will not welcome you, leave that town and shake off the very dust from your feet as a protest against them.”

6 And they set forth and went from village to village, telling the good news and curing people everywhere.

7 Herod the governor heard of all that was happening, and he was perplexed because some people said that John had risen from the dead, 8 and some that Elijah had appeared, and others that one of the ancient 9 prophets had come back to life. But Herod said,

“John I have beheaded, but who can this be about whom I hear such reports?”

And he endeavored to see him.

10 Then the apostles came back and told Jesus what they had done. And he took them and quietly retired to a town called Bethsaida. 11 But the crowds learned of it and followed him, and he welcomed them and spoke to them about the Kingdom of God, and he cured those 12 who needed to be cured. When the day began to decline, the Twelve came up and said to him,

“Send the crowd away to the villages and farms around to find food and shelter, for we are in a lonely place here.”

13 But he said to them,

“Give them food yourselves!”

And they said,

14 “We have only five loaves and two fish, unless we go ourselves and buy food for all these people.” For there were about five thousand men.

But he said to his disciples,

“Have them sit down in groups of about fifty each.”

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down. Then he took the 16 five loaves and the two fish and looked up to heaven and blessed them, and he broke them in pieces and gave them to the disciples to pass to 17 the people. And they all ate and had enough, and the pieces left over that were gathered up filled twelve baskets.

18 Once when he was praying by himself, with only the disciples near him, he asked them,

“Who do the people say that I am?”

19 They answered,

“John the Baptist, though others say Elijah, and others that one of the old prophets has come back to life.”

20 And he said to them,

“But who do you say that I am?”

Peter answered,

“The Christ of God!”

²¹ But he warned them particularly not to tell this to anyone, and said,
²² "The Son of Man must endure great suffering and be refused by the elders, the high priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and be raised to life on the third day."

²³ And he said to everyone,

"If anyone wants to go with me, he must disregard himself, and ²⁴ take his cross day after day and follow me. For whoever wants to preserve his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for me will ²⁵ preserve it. What good does it do a man to gain the whole world and ²⁶ lose or forfeit himself? For if anyone is ashamed of me and my teaching the Son of Man will be ashamed of him, when he comes ²⁷ with all the glory of his Father and of the holy angels. I tell you, some of you who stand here will certainly live to see the Kingdom of God!"

²⁸ It was about eight days after Jesus said this that he took Peter,
²⁹ John, and James, and went up on the mountain to pray. And as he was praying, the look of his face changed and his clothes turned daz-³⁰ zling white. And two men were talking with him. They were Moses
³¹ and Elijah, and they appeared in glory and spoke of his departure ³² which he was to go through with at Jerusalem. Peter and his companions had been overcome by sleep, but waking up they saw his ³³ glorious appearance and the two men standing by him. Just as they were parting from him, Peter said to Jesus,

"Master, how good it is that we are here! Let us put up three huts, one for you and one for Moses and one for Elijah!" For he did not know what he was saying.

³⁴ But as he said it, a cloud came and overshadowed them, and they ³⁵ were frightened as they passed under the cloud. And from the cloud came a voice that said,

"This is my Son, my Chosen! Listen to him!"

³⁶ At the sound of the voice, they saw that Jesus was alone. And they kept silence, and said nothing about it to anyone at that time.

³⁷ The next day, when they had come down from the mountain, it ³⁸ happened that a great crowd met him. And a man in the crowd shouted,

"Master, I beg you to look at my son, for he is my only child,
³⁹ and all at once a spirit seizes him, and he suddenly cries out, and it convulses him until he foams at the mouth, and it leaves him, after a ⁴⁰ struggle, badly bruised. And I begged your disciples to drive it out, and they could not."

⁴¹ Jesus answered,

"O you unbelieving, obstinate people! How long must I be with you and put up with you? Bring your son here!"

42 Even while the boy was coming, the demon threw him down and convulsed him, but Jesus reprov^ed the foul spirit and cured the boy
43 and gave him back to his father. And they were all amazed at the power of God.

While everybody was full of wonder at all that he was doing, he said to his disciples,

44 "You must store up these teachings in your minds, for the Son of Man is going to be handed over to men."

45 But they did not understand what he meant, indeed it was concealed from them, in order that they might not comprehend it, and they were afraid to ask him what he meant.

46 A discussion arose among them as to which of them would be the 47 greatest. But Jesus knew the question that was in their minds and 48 he took a child and made him stand by his side, and said to them,

"Whoever welcomes this child on my account is welcoming me, and whoever welcomes me, welcomes him who has sent me. For it is the lowliest among you all who is really great."

49 John answered,

"Master, we saw a man driving out demons with your name, and we told him not to do so, for he does not go with us."

50 Jesus said to him,

"Do not try to stop him, for the man who is not against you is for you."

51 As the time approached when he was to be taken up to heaven, he 52 set his face toward Jerusalem, and sent messengers before him. They started out and went into a Samaritan village, to make preparations 53 for him. And the people there would not receive him, because he 54 was going to Jerusalem. When the disciples, James and John, saw this, they said,

"Master, will you have us order fire to come down from heaven and consume them?"

55 But he turned and reprov^ed them. And they went on to another 56 village.

57 As they were going along the road, a man said to him,

"I will follow you wherever you go."

58 Jesus said to him,

"Foxes have holes, and wild birds have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head!"

- 59 He said to another,
"Follow me."
But he said,
"Let me first go and bury my father."
- 60 Jesus said to him,
"Leave the dead to bury their own dead; you must go and spread the news of the Kingdom of God!"
- 61 Yet another man said to him,
"Master, I am going to follow you, but let me first say goodbye to my people at home."
- 62 Jesus said to him,
"No one who puts his hand to the plough, and then looks back, is fitted for the Kingdom of God."
- 10 After this the Master appointed seventy-two others, and sent them on before him, two by two, to every town or place to which he intended 2 to come. And he said to them,
"The harvest is abundant enough, but the reapers are few. So pray
3 to the owner of the harvest to send reapers to gather it. Now go.
4 Here I send you out like lambs among wolves. Carry no purse nor wallet nor shoes, and do not stop to exchange civilities with anyone 5 on the way. Whenever you go to stay at a house, first say, 'Peace to 6 this household!' If there is anyone there who loves peace, your blessing
7 will rest upon him, but if there is not, it will come back to you. Stay at the same house, eating and drinking what they offer you, for the workman deserves his pay. Do not change from one house to another.
8 Whenever you come to a town and they welcome you, eat what is 9 offered you, and cure the sick there, and say to them, 'The Kingdom
10 of God is close upon you!' But whenever you come to a town and 11 they do not welcome you, go out into the open streets and say, 'The very dust of your town that sticks to our feet we wipe off in protest.
12 But understand this: the Kingdom of God is at hand!' I tell you, 13 on that Day Sodom will fare better than that town! Alas for you, Chorazin! Alas for you, Bethsaida! For if the wonders that have been done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have 14 repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes! But Tyre and Sidon 15 will fare better than you at the Judgment! And you, Capernaum!
Are you to be exalted to the skies? You will go down among the 16 dead! Whoever listens to you listens to me, and whoever disregards you disregards me, and whoever disregards me disregards him who sent me."

- 17 The seventy-two came back delighted, and said,
"Master, when we use your name the very demons submit to us!"
- 18 He said to them,
- 19 "I saw Satan fall from heaven like a flash of lightning! Here I have given you the power to tread on snakes and scorpions, and to trample on all the power of the enemy. Nothing will hurt you at all.
- 20 But do not be glad that the spirits submit to you, but be glad that your names are enrolled in heaven."
- 21 At that moment he was inspired with joy, and said,
"I thank you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, for hiding all this from the learned and intelligent, and revealing it to children! Yes,
- 22 I thank you, Father, for choosing to have it so! Everything has been handed over to me by my Father, and no one knows who the Son is but the Father, nor who the Father is but the Son, and anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal him."
- 23 And he turned to his disciples when they were alone, and said,
- 24 "Blessed are the eyes that see what you see! For I tell you, many prophets and kings have wished to see what you see, and could not see it, and to hear what you hear, and could not hear it!"
- 25 Then an expert in the Law got up to test him and said,
"Master, what must I do to make sure of eternal life?"
- 26 Jesus said to him,
"What does the Law say? How does it read?"
- 27 He answered,
"You must love the Lord your God with your whole heart, your whole soul, your whole strength, and your whole mind,' and 'your neighbor as you do yourself.'"
- 28 Jesus said to him,
"You are right. Do that, and you will live."
- 29 But he, wishing to justify his question, said,
"And who is my neighbor?"
- 30 Jesus replied,
"A man was on his way down from Jerusalem to Jericho, when he fell into the hands of robbers, and they stripped him and beat him
- 31 and went off leaving him half dead. Now a priest happened to be going that way, and when he saw him, he went by on the other side
- 32 of the road. And a Levite also came to the place, and when he saw him, he went by on the other side. But a Samaritan who was traveling
- 33 that way came upon him, and when he saw him he pitied him, and he went up to him and dressed his wounds with oil and wine and bound them up. And he put him on his own mule and brought him to an 35 inn and took care of him. The next day he took out a dollar and gave it to the innkeeper and said, 'Take care of him, and whatever more 36 you spend I will refund to you on my way back.' Which of these three do you think proved himself a neighbor to the man who fell into the robbers' hands?"

37 He said,

"The man who took pity on him."

Jesus said to him,

"Go and do so yourself!"

38 As they continued their journey, he came to a certain village, and a 39 woman named Martha welcomed him to her house. She had a sister named Mary, who seated herself at the Master's feet, and listened to 40 what he was saying. But Martha was worried with all she had to do for them, and she came up and said,

"Master, does it make no difference to you that my sister has left me to do all the work alone? Tell her to help me."

41 The Master answered,

"Martha, Martha, you are worried and anxious about many things, 42 but our wants are few, indeed there is only one thing we need. For Mary has chosen the right thing, and it must not be taken away from her."

11 Once as he was praying in a certain place, when he stopped, one of his disciples said to him,

"Master, teach us to pray, as John taught his disciples."

2 He said to them,

"When you pray, say, 'Father, your name be revered! Your king-
3 dom come! Give us each day our bread for the day, and forgive us our 4 sins, for we ourselves forgive anyone who wrongs us; and do not subject us to temptation.' "

5 And he said to them,

"Suppose one of you has a friend, and goes to him in the middle of 6 the night, and says to him, 'Friend, lend me three loaves, for a friend of mine has just come to my house after a journey, and I have nothing 7 for him to eat,' and he answers from inside, 'Do not bother me; the door is now fastened, and my children and I have gone to bed; I can-8 not get up and give you any.' I tell you, even if he will not get up and give him some because he is his friend, yet because of his persistence he 9 will rouse himself and give him all he needs. So I tell you, ask, and what you ask will be given you. Search, and you will find what you ¹⁰ search for. Knock, and the door will open to you. For it is always the one who asks who receives, and the one who searches who finds, and ¹¹ the one who knocks to whom the door opens. Which of you fathers, if ¹² his son asks him for a fish will give him a snake instead? Or if he asks ¹³ for an egg, will give him a scorpion? So if you, bad as you are, know enough to give your children what is good, how much more surely will your Father in heaven give the holy Spirit to those who ask him for it!" ¹⁴ Once he was driving out a dumb demon, and when the demon was ¹⁵ gone the dumb man spoke. And the people were amazed. But some of them said,

"It is with the aid of Beelzebub, the prince of the demons, that he drives the demons out."

¹⁶ Others to test him asked him for a sign from heaven. But he knew ¹⁷ what they were thinking, and he said to them,

"Any kingdom that is disunited is on the way to destruction, and one ¹⁸ house falls after another. And if Satan is disunited, how can his kingdom last? Because you say that I drive out demons with Beelzebub's ¹⁹ aid. But if it is with his aid that I drive out demons, by whose do your ²⁰ sons drive them out? Therefore, they shall be your judges. But if it is with the finger of God that I am driving the demons out, then the ²¹ Kingdom of God has overtaken you. When a strong man fully armed ²² guards his own dwelling, his property is undisturbed. But when somebody stronger than he attacks him and overcomes him, he strips him of ²³ the arms that he relied on, and divides up the spoils. Anyone who is not with me is against me, and anyone who does not join me in gather- ²⁴ ing, scatters. When a foul spirit goes out of a man, it roams through deserts in search of rest, and when it finds none, it says, 'I will go back ²⁵ to my house that I left.' And it goes and finds it unoccupied, cleaned, ²⁶ and all in order. Then it goes and gets seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they go in and live there, and in the end the man is worse off than he was before."

²⁷ As he said this, a woman in the crowd raised her voice and said to him,

"Blessed is the mother who bore you and nursed you!"

²⁸ But he said,

"You might better say, 'Blessed are those who hear God's message and observe it!'"

²⁹ As the crowds pressed around him, he went on to say,

³⁰ "This is a wicked age! It demands a sign, and no sign will be given it but the sign of Jonah. For just as Jonah became a sign to the people

31 of Nineveh, so the Son of Man will be a sign to this age. The queen of the south will rise with the men of this generation at the Judgment and will condemn them, for she came from the very ends of the earth to listen to Solomon's wisdom, and there is more than Solomon here!
32 Men of Nineveh will rise with this generation at the Judgment and will condemn it, for they repented at Jonah's preaching, and there is 33 more than Jonah here. No one lights a lamp and puts it in the cellar or under a peck measure; he puts it on its stand, so that people who 34 come in can see the light. Your eye is the lamp of your body. When your eye is sound, your whole body is light, but when it is unsound, 35 your body is dark. So take care! Your very light may be darkness!
36 If, therefore, your whole body is light with no darkness in it at all, it will all be as light as a lamp makes things for you by its light."

37 When he said this, a Pharisee asked him to lunch with him, and he 38 went to his house and took his place at table. The Pharisee noticed that 39 he did not wash before the meal, and he was surprised. But the Master said to him,

"You Pharisees clean the outside of cups and dishes, but inside you 40 are full of greed and wickedness. You fools! Did not the Creator of 41 the outside make the inside too? But give your inmost life as charity,
42 and you will immediately find everything clean. But alas for you Pharisees! For you pay tithes on mint, rue, and every tiny herb, and disregard justice and the love of God. But you should have observed
43 these, without neglecting the others. Alas for you Pharisees! For you love to have the front seat in the synagogues and to be saluted with re-
44 spect in public places. Alas for you! For you are like unmarked graves which men tread upon without knowing it."

45 At this, one of the experts in the Law said to him,
"Master, when you say that, you affront us too."

46 But he said,

"Yes, alas for you experts in the Law too! For you load men with burdens they can hardly carry, and you will not touch them yourselves 47 with a single finger. Alas for you! For you build monuments for the 48 prophets, whom your forefathers killed. So you testify to what your fathers did and approve it, for they killed them and you build their 49 monuments. This is why the Wisdom of God said, 'I will send prophets and apostles to them, and some of them they will kill and some they
50 will persecute'—so that this age may be charged with the blood of all 51 the prophets that has been shed since the creation of the world, from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah, who perished between the

- altar and the sanctuary. Yes, I tell you! This age will be charged 52 with it all! Alas for you experts in the Law! For you have taken the key to the door of knowledge, but you have not entered it yourselves, and you have kept out those who tried to enter.”
- 53 After he left the house, the scribes and the Pharisees began to watch 54 him closely and to try to draw him out on many subjects, plotting to entrap him in something he might say.
- 12 Meanwhile as the people gathered in thousands, until they actually trod on one another, he proceeded to say to his disciples first of all, 2 “Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees, that is, hypocrisy. There is nothing covered up that is not going to be uncovered, nor secret that is 3 not going to be known. For what you say in the darkness will be heard in the light, and what you whisper in someone’s ear, behind closed 4 doors, will be proclaimed from the housetops. I tell you, who are my friends, have no fear of those who kill the body, and after that can do
5 no more. I will show you whom to fear: fear him who, after killing 6 you, has power to hurl you into the pit. Yes, fear him, I tell you. Do not sparrows sell five for two cents? And yet not one of them is for-7 gotten in God’s sight. But the very hairs on your heads are all counted!
You must not be afraid; you are worth more than a great many spar-
8 rows! I tell you, everyone who will acknowledge me before men, the 9 Son of Man will acknowledge before the angels of God, but anyone who disowns me before men will be disowned before the angels of God.
10 And anyone who speaks against the Son of Man will be forgiven for it, 11 but no one who reviles the holy Spirit will be forgiven. When they bring you before the synagogues or the magistrates or the authorities, you must have no anxiety about how to defend yourselves or what to 12 say, for at the very moment the holy Spirit will teach you what you ought to say.”
- 13 Someone in the crowd said to him,
“Master, tell my brother to give me my share of our inheritance.”
- 14 But he said to him,
“Who made me a judge or arbitrator of your affairs?”
- 15 And he said to them,
“Take care! You must be on your guard against any form of greed, for a man’s life does not belong to him, no matter how rich he is.”
- 16 And he told them this story:
17 “A certain rich man’s lands yielded heavily. And he said to himself, 18 ‘What am I going to do, for I have nowhere to store my crops?’ Then he said, ‘This is what I will do; I will tear down my barns and build

¹⁹ larger ones, and in them I will store all my grain and my goods. And I will say to my soul, "Soul, you have great wealth stored up for years ²⁰ to come. Now take your ease; eat, drink, and enjoy yourself." But God said to him, "You fool! This very night your soul will be de- ²¹ manded of you. Then who will have all you have prepared?" That is the way with the man who lays up money for himself, and is not rich with God."

²² And he said to his disciples,

"Therefore, I tell you, do not worry about life, wondering what you will have to eat, or about your body, wondering what you will ²³ have to wear. Life is more important than food, and the body than ²⁴ clothes. Think of the crows! They do not sow or reap, and they have no storehouses or barns, and God feeds them. How much more you are ²⁵ worth than the birds! Which of you with all his worry can add a single ²⁶ hour to his life? So if you cannot do the least good, why should you ²⁷ worry about the rest? See how the lilies grow. They do not toil or spin, but, I tell you, even Solomon in all his splendor was never dressed ²⁸ like one of them. But if God so dresses the wild grass, which is alive today, and is thrown into the furnace tomorrow, how much more surely ²⁹ will he clothe you, who have so little faith? So you must not ask what you are to have to eat or drink, and you must not be anxious about it. ³⁰ For these are all things the nations of the world are in pursuit of, and your Father knows well that you need them. But you must strive to ³¹ find his kingdom, and you will have these other things besides. Do not be afraid, little flock, for your Father has chosen to give you the king- ³² dom. Sell what belongs to you, and give away the money! Get yourselves purses that will never wear out, inexhaustible riches in heaven, ³³ where thieves cannot get near nor moths destroy. For wherever your ³⁴ treasure is, your heart will be too. You must be ready with your lamps ³⁵ burning, like men waiting for their master to come home from a wed- ³⁶ ding, so that when he comes and knocks, they can open the door for ³⁷ him at once. Blessed are the slaves whom their master will find on the watch when he comes. I tell you, he will gird up his robe and make ³⁸ them take their places at table, and go around and wait on them. ³⁹ Whether he comes late at night or early in the morning and finds them ³⁹ on the watch, they are blessed. But you may be sure of this, that if the master of the house had known what time the thief was coming, he ⁴⁰ would have been on the watch, and would not have let his house be ⁴⁰ broken into. You must be ready too, for the Son of Man is coming at a time when you do not expect him."

41 Peter said to him,

“Master, do you mean this figure for us, or is it for everybody?”

42 And the Master said,

“Who then will be the faithful, thoughtful manager, whom his master will put in charge of his household, to give the members of it
43 their supplies at the proper time? Blessed is that slave if his master when 44 he returns finds him doing it. I tell you, he will put him in charge of 45 all his property. But if the slave says to himself, ‘My master is not coming back for a long time,’ and begins to beat the men and women slaves 46 and to eat and drink and get drunk, that slave’s master will come back some day when he does not expect him, and at some time of which he does not know, and will cut him in two, and put him with the unbe-47 lievers. The slave who knows his master’s wishes, but does not get 48 ready or act upon them, will be severely punished. But one who does wrong without knowing them will be lightly punished. From anyone who has been given much, much will be required, and of the man to 49 whom people have intrusted much, they will demand even more. I have come to bring fire down to the earth, and how I wish it were 50 kindled already! I have a baptism to undergo, and how distressed I 51 am till it is over! Do you think I have come to bring peace to the earth?
52 Not peace, I tell you, but discord! For from now on if there are five people in a house they will be divided three against two and two against 53 three. Father will be against son, and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.”

54 And he said to the crowds,

“When you see a cloud rise in the west, you say at once, ‘It is going 55 to rain,’ and it does. And when you see the south wind blowing, you 56 say, ‘It is going to be very hot,’ and it is. You hypocrites! You know how to interpret the look of the earth and sky; and why can you not 57 interpret this present time? Why do you not decide what is right your-58 selves? For when you are going before the magistrate with your opponent, do your best on the way to get rid of him, or he may hurry you off to the judge and the judge hand you over to the constable and the 59 constable throw you into prison. I tell you, you will never get out again until you have paid the last cent!”

13 Just then some people came up to bring him word of the Galileans 2 whose blood Pilate had mingled with that of their sacrifices. And he answered,

“Do you think, because this happened to them, that these Galileans

3 were worse sinners than any other Galileans? No, I tell you; unless 4 you repent, you will all perish as they did! Or those eighteen people at Siloam who were killed when the tower fell upon them—do you think they were worse offenders than all the other people who live in 5 Jerusalem? No, I tell you; unless you repent, you will all perish as they did!”

6 He used this figure:

“A man had a fig tree growing in his garden, and he went to look
7 for fruit on it, and could not find any. And he said to the gardener, ‘Here I have come three years to look for fruit on this fig tree, without 8 finding any. Cut it down. Why should it waste the ground?’ He answered, ‘Let it stand this one year more, sir, till I dig around it and 9 manure it; perhaps it will bear fruit next year. But if it does not, you can have it cut down.’”

10 One Sabbath he was teaching in one of the synagogues, and there 11 was a woman there who for eighteen years had had a sickness caused by a spirit. She was bent double and could not straighten herself up at 12 all. When Jesus saw her he called to her,

“You are freed from your sickness!”

13 And he laid his hands on her, and she instantly became erect, and 14 praised God. But the leader of the synagogue, in his vexation because Jesus had cured her on the Sabbath, spoke out and said to the crowd,

“There are six days on which it is right to work. Come on them and be cured, but not on the Sabbath day.”

15 But the Master answered,

“You hypocrites! Does not every one of you untie his ox or his donkey from the stall on the Sabbath and lead him away to water him?

16 And did not this woman, who is a descendant of Abraham, whom Satan has kept bound for eighteen years, have to be released from those bonds on the Sabbath day?”

17 When he said this, all his opponents were humiliated, and all the people were delighted at all the splendid things that he did.

18 He said, therefore,

“What is the Kingdom of God like, and to what can I compare it?

19 It is like a mustard seed that a man took and dropped in his garden, and it grew and became a tree, and the wild birds roosted on its branches.”

20 And he went on,

21 “To what can I compare the Kingdom of God? It is like yeast that a woman took and hid in a bushel of flour, till it all rose.”

22 So he went about among the towns and villages, teaching and making his way toward Jerusalem. And someone said to him,

“Are only a few to be saved, Master?”

He said to them,

24 “You must strain every nerve to get in through the narrow door, for I tell you many will try to get in, and will not succeed, when the master of the house gets up and shuts the door, and you begin to stand outside and to knock on the door, and say, ‘Open it for us, sir! Then he will answer you and say, ‘I do not know where you come from.’”
26 Then you will go on to say, ‘We have been entertained with you, and you have taught in our streets!’ And he will say to you, ‘I do not know where you come from. Get away from me, all you wrongdoers!’”
28 There you will weep and gnash your teeth when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the Kingdom of God, while you are put outside. People will come from the east and west and the north and south, and take their places in the Kingdom of God. There are those now last who will then be first, and there are those now first who will be last.”

31 Just then some Pharisees came up and said to him,

“Go! Get away from here, for Herod wants to kill you!”

32 He said to them,

“Go and say to that fox, ‘Here I am, driving out demons and performing cures, today and tomorrow, and on the third day I will be through. But I must go on today and tomorrow and the next day, for it is not right for a prophet to die outside Jerusalem.’ O Jerusalem! Jerusalem! murdering the prophets, and stoning those who are sent to her, how often I have longed to gather your children around me, as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, but you refused! Now I leave you to yourselves. And I tell you, you will never see me again until you say, ‘Blessed be he who comes in the Lord’s name!’”

14 One Sabbath, when he went to take a meal at the house of a member of the council who was a Pharisee, they were watching him closely.
2 There was a man in front of him who had dropsy. And Jesus said to the Pharisees and the experts in the Law,

“Is it right to cure people on the Sabbath or not?”

4 But they made no answer. And he took hold of the man and cured him and sent him away. Then he said to them,

6 “Who among you, if his child or his ox falls into a well, will not pull him out at once on the Sabbath?” And they could make no reply to this.

7 He noticed that the guests picked out the best places, and he gave them this illustration:

8 "When someone invites you to a wedding supper, do not take the best place, for someone more distinguished than you are may have been invited, and your host will come and say to you 'Make room for this man,' and then you will proceed in confusion to take the poorest place.
9 But when you are invited anywhere, go and take the poorest place, so that when your host comes in, he will say to you, 'My friend, come to a better place.' So you will be shown consideration before all the other
10 guests. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the man who humbles himself will be exalted."

12 And he said to the man who had invited him,

"When you give a luncheon or a dinner, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relatives or your rich neighbors, for then they 13 will invite you in return and you will be repaid. But when you give an entertainment, invite people who are poor, maimed, lame, or blind.
14 Then you will be blessed, because they cannot repay you; for you will be repaid at the resurrection of the upright."

15 One of the other guests heard this, and said to him,

"Blessed is the man who shall be at the banquet in the Kingdom of God!"

16 He said to him,

"A man once gave a great dinner, and invited a large number to it,
17 and when the dinner hour came, he sent around his slave, to say to those who were invited, 'Come! for it is now ready!' And they all immediately began to excuse themselves. The first one said to him, 'I have bought a piece of land, and I must go and look at it. Please have
18 me excused.' Another said, 'I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I am going to examine them. Please have me excused.' Another said, 'I
19 have married, and so I cannot come.' So the slave went back, and reported this to his master. Then the master of the house was angry and said to his slave, 'Hurry out into the streets and squares of the city, and 20 bring the poor, the maimed, the blind, and the lame in here!' And the slave said, 'What you ordered, sir, has been done, and there is still 21 room.' And the master said to the slave, 'Go out on the roads, and among the hedges, and make them come in, so that my house may be 22 full. For I tell you that none of those men who were invited shall have any of my dinner!'"

25 There were great crowds accompanying him, and once he turned and said to them,

26 “If anyone comes to me without hating his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, and his very life too, he 27 cannot be a disciple of mine. For no one who does not take up his own 28 cross and come after me can be a disciple of mine. What man among you if he wishes to build a tower does not first sit down and estimate 29 the cost of it, to see whether he has enough to complete it? Or else when he has laid his foundation and cannot finish the building, every-30 one who sees it will begin to ridicule him, and say, ‘This man started 31 to erect a building, and could not finish it!’ Or what king, if he is going to meet another king in battle, does not sit down first and consider whether he is able with ten thousand men to meet the other who is 32 coming against him with twenty thousand? And if he cannot, while the other is still far away, he sends envoys to him and asks on what 33 terms he will make peace. In just that way, no one of you who does 34 not say goodbye to all he has can be a disciple of mine. Salt is good;
35 but if salt loses its strength, what can it be seasoned with? It is fit neither for the ground nor the manure heap; people throw it away.
Let him who has ears to hear with, listen!”

15 All the tax-collectors and irreligious people were crowding up to 2 hear him. And the Pharisees and scribes grumbled, and said,

“This man welcomes irreligious people, and even eats with them!”

3 So in speaking to them he used this figure:

4 “What man among you, if he has a hundred sheep, and loses one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness, and go in search 5 of the one that is lost, until he finds it? And when he finds it, he puts 6 it on his shoulders with joy, and when he reaches home, he calls in his friends and neighbors, and says to them, ‘Congratulate me, for I have 7 found my lost sheep!’ I tell you, in just that way there will be more joy in heaven over one sinful person who repents, than over ninety-nine 8 upright people who do not need any repentance. Or what woman who has ten silver coins and loses one, does not light the lamp and sweep 9 the house and look carefully until she finds it? And when she finds it, she calls in her friends and neighbors, and says to them, ‘Congratulate 10 me, for I have found the coin that I lost!’ In just that way, I tell you, there is joy among the angels of God over one sinful person who repents!”

11 And he said,

12 “A man had two sons. The younger of them said to his father,
‘Father, give me my share of the property.’ So he divided his property 13 between them. Not many days later, the younger son gathered up all he had, and went away to a distant country, and there he squandered 14 his property by fast living. After he had spent it all, a severe famine 15 arose in that country, and he began to be in want. And he went and hired himself out to a resident of the country, and he sent him into his 16 fields to tend pigs. And he was ready to fill himself with the pods the 17 pigs were eating, and no one would give him anything. When he came to himself he said, 'How many hired men my father has, who have more 18 than enough to eat, and here I am, dying of hunger! I will get up, and go to my father, and say to him, "Father, I have sinned against 19 heaven and in your eyes; I no longer deserve to be called your son; 20 treat me like one of your hired men!"' And he got up and went to his father. But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him, 21 and pitied him, and ran and fell on his neck, and kissed him. His son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in your eyes;

I no longer deserve to be called your son; treat me like one of your 22 hired men!' But his father said to his slave, 'Make haste and get out the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes 23 on his feet; and get the calf we are fattening, and kill it, and let us
24 feast and celebrate, for my son here was dead, and he has come to life;
25 he was lost, and he is found!' So they began to celebrate. But his elder son was in the field. When he came in and approached the house, he 26 heard music and dancing, and he called one of the servants to him and 27 asked him what it meant. He said to him, 'Your brother has come, and your father has killed the calf he has been fattening, because he has 28 gotten him back alive and well.' But he was angry, and would not go 29 into the house. And his father came out and urged him. And he said to his father, 'Here I have served you all these years, and have never disobeyed an order of yours, and you have never given me a kid, so that 30 I could entertain my friends. But when your son here came, who has eaten up your property with women of the streets, for him you killed 31 the calf you have been fattening!' But he said to him, 'My child, you 32 have been with me all the time, and everything I have is yours. But we had to celebrate and be glad, because your brother was dead, and has come to life, and was lost and is found!' "

16 And he said to his disciples,

"There was a rich man who had a manager, and it was reported to 2 him that this man was squandering his property. So he called him in and said to him, 'What is this that I hear about you? Make an accounting for your conduct of my affairs, for you cannot be manager any 3 longer!' Then the manager said to himself, 'What am I going to do, because my master is going to take my position away from me? I cannot dig; I am ashamed to beg. I know what I will do, so that when I am removed from my position people will take me into their homes.' Then he called in each of his master's debtors, and he said to the first one, 'How much do you owe my master?' He said, 'Eight hundred gallons of oil.' And he said to him, 'Here is your agreement; sit right down and write four hundred!' Then he said to another, 'And how much do you owe?' He answered, 'Fifteen hundred bushels of wheat.' He said to him, 'Here is your agreement; write twelve hundred.' And his master praised the dishonest manager, because he had acted shrewdly. For the sons of this age are shrewder in their relation to their own age than the sons of the light. So I tell you, make friends for yourselves with your ill-gotten wealth, so that when it fails, they may take you into the eternal dwellings. The man who can be trusted in a very small matter can be trusted in a large one, and the man who cannot be trusted in a very small matter cannot be trusted in a large one. So if you have proved untrustworthy in using your ill-gotten wealth, who will trust you with true riches? And if you have been untrustworthy about what belonged to someone else, who will give you what belongs to you? No servant can belong to two masters, for he will either hate one and love the other, or he will stand by one and make light of the other. You cannot serve God and money!"

The Pharisees, who were avaricious, heard all this, and they ridiculed him. And he said to them,

"You are the men who parade your uprightness before people, but God knows your hearts. For what men consider great is detestable in the sight of God. Until John came, it was the Law and the Prophets. From that time the Kingdom of God has been proclaimed, and everyone has been crowding into it. But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one dotting of an i in the Law to go unfulfilled. Anyone who divorces his wife and marries another woman commits adultery, and whoever marries a woman who has been divorced from her husband commits adultery.

"There was once a rich man, who used to dress in purple and fine linen, and to live in luxury every day. And a beggar named Lazarus was put down at his gate covered with sores and eager to satisfy his hunger with what was thrown away from the rich man's table. Why, the very dogs came and licked his sores. And it came about that the beggar died and was carried away by the angels to the companionship of Abraham, and the rich man too died and was buried. And in Hades

he looked up, tormented as he was, and saw Abraham far away, with 24 Lazarus beside him. And he called to him and said, 'Father Abraham!
 take pity on me, and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water 25 and cool my tongue, for I am in torment, here in the flames!' And Abraham said, 'My child, remember that you received your blessings in your lifetime, and Lazarus had his misfortunes in his; and now he 26 is being comforted here, while you are in anguish. Besides there is a great chasm set between you and us, so that those who want to go over from this side to you cannot, and they cannot cross from your side to 27 us.' And he said, 'Then I beg you, father, to send him to my father's 28 house, for I have five brothers; let him warn them so that they will not 29 also come to this place of torture.' Abraham answered, 'They have 30 Moses and the prophets; let them listen to them.' But he said, 'No!
 Father Abraham, but if someone will go to them from the dead, they 31 will repent!' He answered, 'If they will not listen to Moses and the prophets, they will not be convinced even if someone rises from the dead!'"

17 And he said to his disciples,

"It is inevitable that hindrances should arise, but alas for the man 2 who causes them! He might better have a millstone hung around his neck, and be thrown into the sea, than be a hindrance to one of these 3 humble people. Look out for yourselves! If your brother wrongs you, 4 take it up with him, and if he repents, forgive him. And if he wrongs you seven times a day, and seven times turns to you and says, 'I am sorry,' you must forgive him."

5 The apostles said to the Master,
 "Give us more faith."

6 And the Master said,

"If your faith is as big as a mustard seed, you might have said to this mulberry tree, 'Be pulled up by the roots and planted in the sea,' and it would have obeyed you!

7 "What man among you, if he has a servant ploughing or keeping sheep, will say to him when he comes in from the field, 'Come at once 8 and sit down at the table,' instead of saying to him, 'Get my supper ready, and dress yourself, and wait on me while I eat and drink, and 9 you can eat and drink afterward'? Is he grateful to the slave for doing 10 what he has been ordered to do? So you also, when you do all you have been ordered to do, must say, 'We are good-for-nothing slaves! We have done only what we ought to have done!'"

11 It happened that, on his way to Jerusalem, he passed through Sama-

- 12 ria and Galilee. And as he was going into one village he met ten lepers, 13 and they stood at some distance from him, and raising their voices, said,
 "Jesus, Master, take pity on us!"
- 14 And when he saw them, he said to them,
 "Go and show yourselves to the priests."
- 15 And as they went they were cured. But one of them, when he saw 16 that he was cured, came back, loudly praising God, and fell on his face
17 at Jesus feet, and thanked him. He was a Samaritan. And Jesus said, 18 "Were not all ten cured? Where are the other nine? Was no one found to return and give thanks to God except this foreigner?"
- 19 And he said to him,
 "Stand up and go! Your faith has cured you."
- 20 He was once asked by the Pharisees when the Kingdom of God would come, and he answered, 21 "The Kingdom of God is not coming visibly, and people will not say, 'Look! Here it is!' or 'There it is!' for the Kingdom of God is within you."
- 22 And he said to his disciples,
 "The time will come when you will long to see one of the days of 23 the Son of Man, and you will not be able to do so. Men will say to you, 'Look! There he is!' or, 'Look! Here he is!' Do not go off in 24 pursuit of him, for just as when the lightning flashes, it shines from one end of the sky to the other, that will be the way with the Son of Man.
25 But first he must go through much suffering, and be refused by this 26 age. In the time of the Son of Man it will be just as it was in the time 27 of Noah. People went on eating, drinking, marrying, and being married up to the very day that Noah got into the ark and the flood came 28 and destroyed them all. Or as it was in Lot's time; they went on eat-29 ing, drinking, buying, selling, planting, and building, but the day Lot left Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven and destroyed 30 them all. It will be like that on the day when the Son of Man appears.
31 A man who is on the roof of his house that day, with his goods in the house, must not go down to get them, and a man in the field, too, must 32 not turn back. Remember Lot's wife! Whoever tries to preserve his 33 life will lose it, and whoever loses his life will preserve it. I tell you,
34 there will be two men in the same bed that night; one will be taken 35 and the other left. There will be two women grinding together; one will be taken and the other left!"
- 37 They said to him,
 "Where will this be, Master?"

And he said to them,

“Wherever there is a dead body the vultures will flock!”

18 He gave them an illustration to show that they must always pray and 2 not give up, and he said,

3 “There was once in a city a judge who had no fear of God and no
4 respect for men. There was a widow in the city and she came to him
5 and said, ‘Protect me from my opponent.’ And he would not for a
6 time, but afterward he said to himself, ‘Though I have no fear of God
7 nor respect for men, yet because this widow bothers me, I will protect 8 her, so that she may not finally wear me out with her coming.’”

9 And the Master said,

10 “Listen to what this dishonest judge said! Then will not God provide 11 protection for his chosen people, who cry out to him day and night?
12 I tell you, he will make haste to provide it! But when the Son of Man 13 comes, will he find faith on earth?”

14 To some who were confident of their own uprightness, and thought 15 nothing of others, he used this illustration:

16 “Two men went up to the Temple to pray; one was a Pharisee and 17 the other a tax-collector. The Pharisee stood up and uttered this prayer
18 to himself: ‘O God, I thank you that I am not like other men, greedy, 19 dishonest, or adulterous, like that tax-collector. I fast two days in the 20 week; I pay tithes on everything I get.’ But the tax-collector stood at 21 a distance and would not even raise his eyes to heaven, but struck his 22 breast, and said, ‘O God, have mercy on a sinner like me!’ I tell you,
23 it was he who went back to his house with God’s approval, and not 24 the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the 25 man who humbles himself will be exalted.”

26 People brought babies to him to have him touch them, but the dis-
27 ciples, when they saw it, reproved them for it. But Jesus called them
28 up to him and said,

29 “Let the children come to me and do not try to stop them, for the 30 Kingdom of God belongs to such as they. I tell you whoever does not 31 accept the Kingdom of God like a child will not enter it at all.”

32 A member of the council asked him,

33 “Good master, what must I do to make sure of eternal life?”

34 Jesus said to him,

35 “Why do you call me good? No one is good but God himself.
36 You know the commandments, ‘Do not commit adultery, Do not 37 kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honor your father and 38 mother.’”

- 21 And he said,
"I have obeyed all these commandments ever since I was a child."
- 22 When Jesus heard this, he said to him,
"There is one thing that you still lack. Sell all that you have, and divide the money among the poor, and then you will have riches in heaven; and come back and be a follower of mine."
- 23 But when he heard that, he was much cast down, for he was very 24 rich. And when Jesus saw it, he said,
"How hard it will be for those who have money to get into the 25 Kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to get through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to get into the Kingdom of God!"
- 26 And those who heard it said,
"Then who can be saved?"
- 27 And he said,
"The things that are impossible for men are possible for God!"
- 28 Peter said,
"Here we have left home and followed you."
- 29 And he said to them,
"I tell you, there is no one who has given up home or wife or 30 brothers or parents or children for the Kingdom of God who will not receive many times more in this time, and in the coming age eternal life."
- 31 And he took the Twelve aside and said to them,
"See! we are going up to Jerusalem, and everything written in 32 the prophets about the Son of Man will be fulfilled. For he will be handed over to the heathen, and ridiculed and insulted and spat upon,
33 and they will flog him and kill him, and on the third day he will rise again."
- 34 And they did not understand any of this; the words were obscure to them, and they did not know what he meant.
- 35 As he approached Jericho, a blind man happened to be sitting by 36 the roadside begging. And hearing a crowd going by he asked what it meant. They told him that Jesus of Nazareth was coming by.
- 37 And he shouted,
"Jesus, you Son of David, take pity on me!"
- 38 And those who were in front reprov'd him and told him to be quiet, but he cried out all the louder,
"You Son of David, take pity on me!"
- 39 And Jesus stopped and ordered the man to be brought to him. When he came up, Jesus asked him,

- 41 "What do you want me to do for you?"
He answered,
"Master, let me regain my sight!"
- 42 And Jesus said to him,
"Regain your sight! Your faith has cured you!"
- 43 And he regained his sight immediately, and followed Jesus, giving thanks to God. And all the people saw it and praised God.
- 19² And he went into Jericho and was passing through it. Now there was a man named Zaccheus, the principal tax-collector, a rich man, who wanted to see who Jesus was, and he could not because of the crowd, for he was a small man. So he ran on ahead and climbed up into a sycamore tree, to see him, for Jesus was coming that way. When Jesus reached the place, he looked up and said to him,
"Zaccheus, come down quickly! for I must stay at your house today."
- 6
7 And he came down quickly and welcomed him gladly. And when they saw this, everyone complained, and said,
"He has gone to stay with an irreligious man!"
- 8 But Zaccheus stopped and said to the Master,
"See, Master! I will give half my property to the poor, and if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I will pay him four times as much."
- 9 Jesus said to him,
"Salvation has come to this house today, for he too is a descendant of Abraham. For the Son of Man has come to search for what was lost and to save it."
- 11 As they were listening to this, Jesus went on to give them an illustration, because he was near Jerusalem and they supposed that the Kingdom of God was immediately going to appear. So he said,
"A nobleman once went to a distant country to secure his appointment to a kingdom and then return. And he called in ten of his slaves and gave them each twenty dollars and told them to trade with it while he was gone. But his countrymen hated him, and they sent a delegation after him to say, 'We do not want this man made king over us.' And when he had secured the appointment and returned, he ordered the slaves to whom he had given the money to be called in, so that he could find out how much they had made. The first one came in and said, 'Your twenty dollars has made two hundred, sir!'"
- 17 And he said to him, 'Well done, my excellent slave! You have proved trustworthy about a very small amount, you shall be governor of ten

18 towns.' The second came in and said, 'Your twenty dollars has made 19 a hundred, sir!' And he said to him, 'And you shall be governor of 20 five towns!' And the other one came in and said, 'Here is your twenty 21 dollars, sir. I have kept it put away in a handkerchief, for I was afraid
22 of you, for you are a stern man. You pick up what you did not lay 23 down, and reap what you did not sow.' He said to him, 'Out of your 24 own mouth I will convict you, you wretched slave! You knew, did
25 you, that I was a stern man, and that I pick up what I did not lay 26 down, and harvest what I did not sow? Then why did you not put 27 my money in the bank, so that when I came back I could have gotten 28 it with interest?' And he said to the bystanders, 'Take the twenty 29 dollars away from him, and give it to the man who has the two hun-
30 dred!' They said to him, 'He has two hundred, sir!'—'I tell you, 31 the man who has will have more given him, and from the man who 32 has nothing, even what he has will be taken away! But bring those 33 enemies of mine here who did not want me made king over them,
34 and slaughter them in my presence!'"

35 With these words he went on ahead of them, on his way to Jeru-36 salem.

37 When he was near Bethphage and Bethany by the hill called the 38 Mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples and said to them,

39 "Go to the village that lies in front of you, and as you enter it you 40 will find tied there a colt that has never been ridden. Untie it and 41 bring it here. And if anyone asks you why you are untying it, you are 42 to say, 'The Master needs it.'"

43 And the messengers went and found it just as he had told them.

44 And as they were untying the colt, its owners said to them,

45 "Why are you untying the colt?"

46 And they said,

47 "The Master needs it!"

48 And they brought it to Jesus. And they threw their coats on the 49 colt and mounted Jesus on it. And as he went on, people spread their 50 coats in the road. Just as he was coming down the Mount of Olives 51 and approaching the city, the whole throng of his disciples began to 52 praise God loudly and joyfully, for all the wonders they had seen,
53 and to say,

54 "Blessed is the king who comes in the Lord's name,

55 Peace be in heaven and glory on high!"

56 Some Pharisees in the crowd said to him,

57 "Master, reprove your disciples!"

40 And he answered,

“I tell you, if they keep silence, the stones will cry out!”

41 As he approached the city and saw it, he wept over it, and said, 42 “If you yourself only knew today the conditions of peace! But as 43 it is, they are hidden from you. For a time is coming upon you when your enemies will throw up earthworks about you and surround you 44 and shut you in on all sides, and they will throw you and your children within you to the ground, and they will not leave one stone upon another within you because you did not know when God visited you!”

45 Then he went into the Temple and proceeded to drive out those

46 who were selling things there, and he said to them,

“The Scripture says, ‘And my house shall be a house of prayer,’ but you have made it a den of robbers!”

47 Every day he taught in the Temple, and the high priests and scribes

48 and the leading men of the people were trying to destroy him, but they could not find any way to do it, for all the people hung upon his words.

20 One day as he was teaching the people in the Temple, and preaching

2 the good news, the high priests and scribes came up with the elders and said to him,

“Tell us what authority you have for doing as you do, or who gave you any such authority?”

3 He said to them,

4 “I will ask you a question too. Tell me, did John’s baptism come from heaven or from men?”

5 And they argued with one another, and said,

“If we say ‘From heaven,’ he will say, ‘Why did you not believe 6 him?’ But if we say, ‘From men,’ all the people will stone us to death, for they are convinced that John was a prophet.”

7 So they answered that they did not know where it came from. And
Jesus said to them,

“Nor will I tell you what authority I have for doing as I do.”

9 Then he went on to give the people this illustration:

“A man once planted a vineyard, and leased it to tenants, and went 10 away for a long absence. And at the proper time he sent a slave to the tenants to have them give him a share of the vintage, but the 11 tenants beat him, and sent him back empty-handed. And again he sent another slave, and they beat him also and mistreated him and 12 sent him back empty-handed. And again he sent a third, but they 13 wounded him too, and threw him outside. Then the owner of the vineyard said, 'What can I do? I will send them my dear son; perhaps they will respect him.' But when the tenants saw him, they argued with one another, 'This is his heir! Let us kill him, so that the property will belong to us!' So they drove him out of the vineyard and killed him. Now what will the owner of the vineyard do to them? He will come and put those tenants to death, and give the vineyard to others."

When they heard this they said,
"Heaven forbid!"

He looked at them and said,
"Then what does this saying of Scripture mean,
"That stone which the builders rejected
Has become the cornerstone?"

Whoever falls on that stone will be shattered, but whoever it falls upon will be pulverized."

And the scribes and high priests wanted to arrest him then and there, but they were afraid of the people, for they knew that he had aimed this illustration at them. So they kept watch of him and set some spies who pretended to be honest men to fasten on something that he said, so that they might hand him over to the control and authority of the governor. And they asked him,

"Master, we know that you are right in what you say and teach, and that you show no favor, but teach the way of God in sincerity.

Is it right for us to pay taxes to the emperor, or not?"

But he detected their trickery, and said to them,

"Show me a denarius. Whose head and title does it bear?"

They said,
"The emperor's."

He said to them,

"Then pay the emperor what belongs to the emperor, and pay God what belongs to God!"

So they could not fasten on what he said before the people, and they were amazed at his answer, and said nothing more.

Then some of the Sadducees, who say that there is no resurrection, came up and asked him,

"Master, Moses made us a law that if a man's brother die leaving a wife but no children, the man should marry the widow and raise up a family for his brother. Now there were seven brothers. And the eldest married a wife and died childless. And the second married her, and the third, and all the seven married her and died without leaving

³² any child. Afterward the woman died too. Now at the resurrection, ³³ which one's wife will the woman be? For all seven of them married her."

³⁴ Jesus said to them,

³⁵ "The people of this world marry and are married, but those who are thought worthy to attain that other world and the resurrection
³⁶ from the dead, neither marry nor are married. For they cannot die again; they are like the angels, and through sharing in the resurrection, ³⁷ they are sons of God. But that the dead are raised to life, even Moses indicated in the passage about the bush, when he calls the Lord 'the ³⁸ God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.' He is not the God of dead men but of living, for all men are alive to him."

³⁹ Some of the scribes replied,

"Master, that was a fine answer!"

⁴⁰ For they did not dare to ask him any more questions.

⁴¹ But he said to them,

⁴² "How can the scribes say that the Christ is a son of David? For David himself says in the Book of Psalms,

"The Lord has said to my lord, 'Sit at my right hand,

⁴³ Until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet!'"

⁴⁴ David then calls him lord. So how can he be his son?"

⁴⁵ While all the people were listening, he said to his disciples,

⁴⁶ "Beware of the scribes who like to go about in long robes, and love to be saluted with respect in public places, and to have the front seats
⁴⁷ in the synagogues and the best places at banquets—men who eat up widows' houses and to cover it up make long prayers! They will get all the heavier sentence!"

²¹ And looking up, he saw the rich people dropping their gifts into ² the treasury. And he saw a poor widow drop in two coppers. And he said,

"I tell you, this poor widow has put in more than all the rest.
⁴ For they all gave from what they had to spare, but she in her want has put in all she had to live on."

⁵ When some spoke about the Temple and its decoration with costly stone and votive offerings, he said,

⁶ "As for all this that you are looking at, the time is coming when not one stone will be left here upon another that will not be torn down!"

⁷ Then they asked him,

“Master, when will this happen, and what will be the sign that it is going to take place?”

8 And he said,

“Take care not to be misled. For many will come under my name, and say, ‘I am he,’ and ‘The time is at hand.’ Do not follow them.

9 But when you hear of wars and outbreaks, do not be alarmed. These have to come first, but the end does not follow immediately.”

10 Then he said to them,

“Nation will rise in arms against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be great earthquakes, and pestilence and famine here and there. There will be horrors and great signs in the sky. But before all this, men will arrest you and persecute you, and hand you over to synagogues and prisons and have you brought before kings and governors on my account. It will all lead to your testifying.

14 So make up your minds not to prepare your defense, for I will give you such wisdom of utterance as none of your opponents will be able to resist or dispute. You will be betrayed even by your parents and brothers and kinsmen and friends and they will put some of you to death, and you will be hated by everyone because you bear my name.

18 Yet not a hair of your head will perish! It is by your endurance that you will win your souls. But when you see Jerusalem being surrounded by armies, then you must understand that her devastation is

21 at hand. Then those who are in Judea must fly to the hills, those who are in the city must get out of it, and those who are in the country must not go into it, for those are the days of vengeance, when all that is written in the Scriptures will be fulfilled. But alas for women who are with child at that time, or who have babies, for there will be

24 great misery in the land and anger at this people. They will fall by the edge of the sword, and be carried off as prisoners among all nations, and Jerusalem will be trampled under foot by the heathen, until the time of the heathen comes. There will be signs too in sun, moon, and stars, and on earth dismay among the heathen, bewildered at the roar of the sea and the waves. Men will swoon with fear and foreboding of what is to happen to the world, for the forces in the sky will shake. Then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with great power and glory. But when this begins to happen, look up and raise your heads, for your deliverance will be at hand.”

29 And he gave them an illustration:

30 “See the fig tree and all the trees. As soon as they put out their leaves, you see them and you know without being told that summer

31 is coming. So when you see these things happen, you must know that 32 the Kingdom of God is at hand. I tell you, it will all happen before 33 the present generation passes away. Earth and sky will pass away, 34 but my words will not. But take care that your hearts are not loaded down with self-indulgence and drunkenness and worldly cares, and 35 that day takes you by surprise, like a trap. For it will come on all who 36 are living anywhere on the face of the earth. But you must be vigilant and always pray that you may succeed in escaping all this that is going to happen, and in standing in the presence of the Son of Man."

37 He would spend the days teaching in the Temple, but at night he would go out of the city and stay on the hill called the Mount of 38 Olives. And in the morning all the people would come to him in the Temple to listen to him.

22 The festival of Unleavened Bread, which is called the Passover,
2 was approaching. And the high priests and the scribes were casting about for a way to put him to death, for they were afraid of the people.

3 But Satan entered into Judas, who was called Iscariot, a member
4 of the Twelve. And he went off and discussed with the high priests
5 and captains of the Temple how he could betray him to them. And 6 they were delighted and agreed to pay him for it. And he accepted their offer, and watched for an opportunity to betray him to them without a disturbance.

7 When the day of Unleavened Bread came, on which the Passover
8 lamb had to be sacrificed, Jesus sent Peter and John, saying to them,
"Go and make preparations for us to eat the Passover."

9 They said to him,
"Where do you want us to prepare it?"

10 He said to them,
"Just after you enter the city, you will meet a man carrying a 11 pitcher of water. Follow him to the house to which he goes, and say to the man of the house, 'Our Master says to you, "Where is the 12 room where I can eat the Passover supper with my disciples?"' And he will show you a large room upstairs with the necessary furniture.
Make your preparations there."

13 So they went and found everything just as he had told them, and they prepared the Passover supper.

14 When the time came, he took his place at the table, with the apostles
15 about him. And he said to them,

"I have greatly desired to eat this Passover supper with you before 16 I suffer. For I tell you, I will never eat one again until it reaches its fulfilment in the Kingdom of God."

17 And when he was handed a cup, he thanked God, and then said,
18 "Take this and share it among you, for I tell you, I will not drink the product of the vine again until the Kingdom of God comes."

19 And he took a loaf of bread and thanked God, and broke it in pieces, and gave it to them, saying,

21 "This is my body. Yet look! The hand of the man who is betraying me is beside me on the table! For the Son of Man is going his way, as it has been decreed, but alas for the man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed!"

23 And they began to discuss with one another which of them it was 24 who was going to do this. A dispute also arose among them, as to 25 which one of them ought to be considered the greatest. But he said to them,

"The kings of the heathen lord it over them, and their authorities
26 are given the title of Benefactor. But you are not to do so, but whoever is greatest among you must be like the youngest, and the leader like 27 a servant. For which is greater, the man at the table, or the servant who waits on him? Is not the man at the table? Yet I am like a 28 servant among you. But it is you who have stood by me in my trials.
29 So just as my Father has conferred a kingdom on me, I confer on you 30 the right to eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and to sit on 31 thrones and judge the twelve tribes of Israel! O Simon, Simon!
32 Satan has obtained permission to sift all of you like wheat, but I have prayed that your own faith may not fail. And afterward you yourself must turn and strengthen your brothers."

33 Peter said to him,

"Master, I am ready to go to prison and to death with you!"

34 But he said,

"I tell you, Peter, the cock will not crow today before you deny three times that you know me!"

35 And he said to them,

"When I sent you out without any purse or bag or shoes, was there anything you needed?"

They said,

"No, nothing."

36 He said to them,

"But now, if a man has a purse let him take it, and a bag too. And 37 a man who has no sword must sell his coat and buy one. For I tell you that this saying of Scripture must find its fulfilment in me: 'He was rated an outlaw.' Yes, that saying about me is to be fulfilled!"

38 But they said,

"See, Master, here are two swords!"

And he said to them,

"Enough of this!"

39 And he went out of the city and up on the Mount of Olives as he was 40 accustomed to do, and with his disciples following him. And when he reached the spot, he said to them,

"Pray that you may not be subjected to trial."

41 And he withdrew about a stone's throw from them, and kneeling 42 down he prayed and said,

"Father, if you are willing, take this cup away from me. But not my will but yours be done!"

45 When he got up from his prayer, he went to the disciples and found 46 them asleep from sorrow. And he said to them,

"Why are you asleep? Get up, and pray that you may not be subjected to trial!"

47 While he was still speaking, a crowd of people came up, with the man called Judas, one of the Twelve, at their head, and he stepped up 48 to Jesus to kiss him. Jesus said to him,

"Would you betray the Son of Man with a kiss?"

49 Those who were about him saw what was coming and said,

"Master, shall we use our swords?"

50 And one of them did strike at the high priest's slave and cut his right 51 ear off. But Jesus answered,

"Let me do this much!"

52 And he touched his ear and healed him. And Jesus said to the high priests, captains of the Temple, and elders who had come to take him,

53 "Have you come out with swords and clubs as though I were a robber? When I was among you day after day in the Temple you never laid a hand on me! But you choose this hour, and the cover of darkness!"

54 Then they arrested him and led him away and took him to the house
55 of the high priest. And Peter followed at a distance. And they kindled a fire in the middle of the courtyard and sat about it, and Peter 56 sat down among them. A maid saw him sitting by the fire and looked at him and said,

"This man was with him too."

57 But he denied it, and said,

“I do not know him.”

58 Shortly after, a man saw him and said,

“You are one of them too!”

But Peter said,

“I am not!”

59 About an hour later, another man insisted,

“This man was certainly with him too, for he is a Galilean!”

60 But Peter said,

“I do not know what you mean.”

61 And immediately, just as he spoke, a cock crowed. And the Master turned and looked at Peter, and Peter remembered the words the Master had said to him—“Before the cock crows today, you will 62 disown me three times!” And he went outside and wept bitterly.

63 The men who had Jesus in custody flogged him and made sport of 64 him, and they blindfolded him, and asked him,

“Show that you are a prophet! Who was it that struck you?”

65 And they said many other abusive things to him.

66 As soon as it was day, the elders of the people and the high priests and scribes assembled, and brought him before their council, and said to him,

67 “If you are the Christ, tell us so.”

But he said to them,

68 “If I tell you, you will not believe me, and if I ask you a question, 69 you will not answer me. But from this time on, the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of God Almighty!”

70 And they all said,

“Are you the Son of God then?”

And he said to them,

“I am, as you say!”

71 Then they said,

“What do we want of testimony now? We have heard it ourselves from his own mouth!”

23 Then they arose in a body and took him to Pilate, and they made
2 this charge against him:

“Here is a man whom we have found misleading our nation, and forbidding the payment of taxes to the emperor, and claiming to be an anointed king himself.”

3 And Pilate asked him,

“Are you the king of the Jews?”

He answered,

“Yes.”

4 And Pilate said to the high priests and the crowd,
“I cannot find anything criminal about this man.”

5 But they persisted and said,

“He is stirring up the people all over Judea by his teaching. He began in Galilee and he has come here.”

6 When Pilate heard this, he asked if the man were a Galilean and 7 learning that he belonged to Herod’s jurisdiction, he turned him over 8 to Herod, for Herod was in Jerusalem at that time. When Herod saw Jesus he was delighted, for he had wanted for a long time to see him, because he had heard about him and he hoped to see some wonder done
9 by him. And he questioned him at some length, but he made him no 10 answer. Meanwhile the high priests and the scribes stood by and 11 vehemently accused him. And Herod and his guards made light of him and ridiculed him, and they put a gorgeous robe on him and sent 12 him back to Pilate. And Herod and Pilate became friends that day, for they had been at enmity before.

13 Pilate summoned the high priests and the leading members of the 14 council and the people, and said to them,

“You brought this man before me charged with misleading the people, and here I have examined him before you and not found him 15 guilty of any of the things that you accuse him of. Neither has Herod, for he has sent him back to us. You see he has done nothing to call 16 for his death. So I will teach him a lesson and let him go.”

18 But they all shouted out,

“Kill him, and release Barabbas for us!”

19 (He was a man who had been put in prison for a riot that had taken 20 place in the city and for murder.) But Pilate wanted to let Jesus go, 21 and he called out to them again. But they kept on shouting,

“Crucify him! Crucify him!”

22 And he said to them a third time,

“Why, what has he done that is wrong? For I have found nothing about him to call for his death. So I will teach him a lesson and let him go.”

23 But they persisted with loud outcries in demanding that he be cruci-24 fied, and their shouting won. And Pilate pronounced sentence that 25 what they asked for should be done. He released the man they asked for, who had been put in prison for riot and murder, and handed Jesus over to their will.

26 As they led Jesus away, they seized a man named Simon, from Cyrene, who was coming in from the country, and put the cross on 27 his back, for him to carry behind Jesus. He was followed by a great crowd of people and of women who were beating their breasts and 28 lamenting him. But Jesus turned to them and said,

“Women of Jerusalem, do not weep for me but weep for yourselves
29 and for your children, for a time is coming when they will say, ‘Happy are the childless women, and those who have never borne or nursed 30 children!’ Then people will begin to say to the mountains, ‘Fall on 31 us!’ and to the hills, ‘Cover us up!’ For if this is what they do when the wood is green, what will happen when it is dry?”

32 Two criminals were also led out to execution with him.

33 When they reached the place called the Skull, they crucified him 34 there, with the criminals one at his right and one at his left. And they divided up his clothes among them by drawing lots for them, 35 while the people stood looking on. Even the leading councilors jeered at him, and said,

“He has saved others, let him save himself, if he is really God’s Christ, his Chosen One!”

36 The soldiers also made sport of him, coming up and offering him
37 sour wine, saying,

“If you are the king of the Jews, save yourself!”

38 For there was a notice above his head, “This is the king of the Jews!”

39 One of the criminals who were hanging there, abused him, saying,
“Are you not the Christ? Save yourself and us too!”

40 But the other reproved him and said,

“Have you no fear even of God when you are suffering the same 41 penalty? And we are suffering it justly, for we are only getting our deserts, but this man has done nothing wrong.”

42 And he said,

“Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom!”

43 And he said to him,

“I tell you, you will be in Paradise with me today!”

44 It was now about noon, and darkness came over the whole country, 45 and lasted until three in the afternoon, as the sun was in eclipse. And 46 the curtain before the sanctuary was torn in two. Then Jesus gave a loud cry, and said,

“Father, I intrust my spirit to your hands!”

With these words he expired.

47 When the captain saw what had happened he praised God, and said,
“This man was really innocent!”

48 And all the crowds that had collected for the sight, when they saw 49 what happened, returned to the city beating their breasts. And all his acquaintances and the women who had come with him from Galilee, stood at a distance looking on.

50 Now there was a man named Joseph, a member of the council, a 51 good and upright man, who had not voted for the plan or action of the council. He came from the Jewish town of Arimathea and lived in 52 expectation of the Kingdom of God. He went to Pilate and asked for 53 Jesus' body. Then he took it down from the cross and wrapped it in linen and laid it in a tomb hewn in the rock, where no one had yet been 54 laid. It was the Preparation Day, and the Sabbath was just beginning.
55 The women who had followed Jesus from Galilee followed and saw 56 the tomb and how his body was put there. Then they went home, and prepared spices and perfumes.

24 On the Sabbath they rested in obedience to the commandment, but on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they went to the tomb,
2 taking spices they had prepared. But they found the stone rolled back
3 from the tomb, and when they went inside they could not find the 4 body. They were in great perplexity over this, when suddenly two 5 men in dazzling clothing stood beside them. The women were frightened and bowed their faces to the ground, but the men said to them, 6 "Why do you look among the dead for him who is alive? Remem-
7 ber what he told you while he was still in Galilee, when he said that the Son of Man must be handed over to wicked men and be crucified and rise again on the third day."

8 Then they remembered his words, and they went back from the 9 tomb and told all this to the eleven and all the rest. They were Mary of Magdala and Joanna and Mary, James's mother; and the other 10 women also told this to the apostles. But the story seemed to them to 11 be nonsense and they would not believe them.

13 That same day two of them were going to a village called Emmaus,
14 about seven miles from Jerusalem, and they were talking together
15 about all these things that had happened. And as they were talking 16 and discussing them, Jesus himself came up and went with them, but 17 they were prevented from recognizing him. And he said to them,

"What is all this that you are discussing with each other on your way?"

18 They stopped sadly, and one of them named Cleopas said to him,
"Are you the only visitor to Jerusalem who does not know what has happened there lately?"

19 And he said,
"What is it?"

They said to him,

"About Jesus of Nazareth, who in the eyes of God and of all the 20 people was a prophet mighty in deed and word, and how the high priests and our leading men gave him up to be sentenced to death, and 21 had him crucified. But we were hoping that he was to be the deliverer 22 of Israel. Why, besides all this, it is three days since it happened. But some women of our number have astounded us. They went to the 23 tomb early this morning and could not find his body, but came back and said that they had actually seen a vision of angels who said that he 24 was alive. Then some of our party went to the tomb and found things just as the women had said, but they did not see him."

25 Then he said to them,

"How foolish you are and how slow to believe all that the prophets 26 have said! Did not the Christ have to suffer thus before entering upon his glory?"

27 And he began with Moses and all the prophets and explained to them the passages all through the Scriptures that referred to himself.
28 When they reached the village to which they were going, he acted as 29 though he were going on, but they urged him not to, and said,

"Stay with us, for it is getting toward evening, and the day is nearly over."

30 So he went in to stay with them. And when he took his place with them at table, he took the bread and blessed it and broke it in pieces 31 and handed it to them. Then their eyes were opened and they knew 32 him, and he vanished from them. And they said to each other,

"Did not our hearts glow when he was talking to us on the road,
and was explaining the Scriptures to us?"

33 And they got up immediately and went back to Jerusalem, and 34 found the eleven and their party all together, and learned from them 35 that the Master had really risen and had been seen by Simon. And they told what had happened on the road, and how they had known him when he broke the bread in pieces.

36 While they were still talking of these things, he himself stood among 37 them. They were startled and panic stricken, and thought they saw a 38 ghost. But he said to them,

"Why are you so disturbed, and why do doubts arise in your minds?
39 Look at my hands and feet, for it is I myself! Feel of me and see, for a ghost has not flesh and bones, as you see I have."

- 41 But they could not yet believe it for sheer joy and they were amazed.
And he said to them,
“Have you anything here to eat?”
- 42 And they gave him a piece of broiled fish, and he took it and ate it 43 before their eyes.
- 44 Then he said to them,
“This is what I told you when I was still with you—that everything that is written about me in the Law of Moses and the Prophets and the Psalms must come true.”
- 45 Then he opened their minds to the understanding of the Scriptures, 46 and said to them,
“The Scriptures said that Christ should suffer as he has done, and 47 rise from the dead on the third day, and that repentance leading to the forgiveness of sins should be preached to all the heathen in his name.
48 You are to be witnesses to all this, beginning at Jerusalem. And I will 49 send down upon you what my Father has promised. Wait here in the city until you are clothed with power from on high.”
- 50 And he led them out as far as Bethany. Then he lifted up his hands 51 and blessed them. And as he was blessing them, he parted from them.
- 52 And they went back with great joy to Jerusalem, and were constantly 53 in the Temple, blessing God.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO JOHN

- 1 In the beginning the Word existed. The Word was with God, and the Word was divine.
- 2 It was he that was with God in the beginning. Everything came into existence through him, and apart from him nothing came to be.
- 3 It was by him that life came into existence, and that life was the light of mankind. The light is still shining in the darkness, for the darkness has never put it out.
- 4 There appeared a man by the name of John, with a message from God. He came to give testimony, to testify to the light, so that every one might come to believe in it through him. He was not the light; he came to testify to the light.
- 5 The real light, which sheds light upon everyone, was just coming into the world. He came into the world, and though the world came into existence through him, the world did not recognize him. He came to his home, and his own family did not welcome him. But to all who did receive him and believe in him he gave the right to become children of God, owing their birth not to nature nor to any human or physical impulse, but to God.
- 6 So the Word became flesh and blood and lived for awhile among us, abounding in blessing and truth, and we saw the honor God had given him, such honor as an only son receives from his father. (John testified to him and cried out—for it was he who said it—“He who was to come after me is now ahead of me, for he existed before me!”)
- 7 For from his abundance we have all had a share, and received blessing after blessing. For while the Law was given through Moses, blessing and truth came to us through Jesus Christ. No one has ever seen God; it is the divine Only Son, who leans upon his Father’s breast, that has made him known.
- 8 Now this is the testimony that John gave when the Jews sent priests and Levites to him from Jerusalem to ask him who he was. He admitted—he made no attempt to deny it—he admitted that he was not the Christ. Then they asked him,
- 9 “What are you then? Are you Elijah?”
- 10 He said,
- 11 “No, I am not.”

“Are you the Prophet?”

He answered,

“No.”

22 Then they said to him,

“Who are you? We must have some answer to give those who sent us here. What have you to say for yourself?”

23 He said,

“I am a voice of one shouting in the desert, ‘Straighten the Lord’s way!’ as the prophet Isaiah said.”

24 Now the messengers were Pharisees. And they asked him,

25 “Then why are you baptizing people, if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet?”

26 “I am only baptizing in water,” John answered, “but someone is 27 standing among you of whom you do not know. He is to come after me, and I am not worthy to undo his shoe!”

28 This took place at Bethany, on the farther side of the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 The next day he saw Jesus coming toward him, and he said,

30 “There is God’s lamb, who is to remove the world’s sin! This is the man of whom I spoke when I said, ‘After me there is coming a 31 man who is even now ahead of me, for he existed before me.’ I did not know him, but it is in order that he may be made known to Israel that I have come and baptized people in water.”

32 And John gave this testimony:

33 “I saw the Spirit come down from heaven like a dove, and it remained upon him. I did not know him, but he who sent me to baptize in water said to me, ‘The one on whom you see the Spirit come down and remain, is the one who is to baptize in the holy Spirit.’
34 And I did see it, and I testify that he is the Son of God.”

35 Again the next day John was standing with two of his disciples,
36 and looking at Jesus as he passed, he said,

“There is God’s lamb!”

37 The two disciples heard him say this, and they followed Jesus.

38 But Jesus turned, and seeing them following him he said,

“What do you want?”

They said to him,

“Rabbi”—that is to say, Master—“Where are you staying?”

39 He said to them,

“Come and you will see.”

So they went and saw where he was staying, and they spent the rest of the day with him. It was about four in the afternoon.

40 Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, was one of the two who heard 41 what John said and followed Jesus. Andrew immediately sought out his own brother Simon and said to him,

"We have found the Messiah!"—that is to say, the Christ.

42 He took him to Jesus. Jesus looked at him and said,

"You are Simon, son of John. You shall be called Cephas"—that is, Peter, which means rock.

43 The next day Jesus determined to leave for Galilee. And he sought out Philip and said to him,

"Come with me."

44 Now Philip came from Bethsaida, the town of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip sought out Nathanael, and said to him,

"We have found the one about whom Moses wrote in the Law and about whom the prophets wrote; it is Jesus, the son of Joseph, who comes from Nazareth!"

46 Nathanael said to him,

"Can anything good come from Nazareth?"

Philip said to him,

"Come and see!"

47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward him, and he said of him,

"Here is really an Israelite without any deceit in him!"

48 Nathanael said to him,

"How do you know me?"

Jesus answered,

"While you were still under that fig tree, before Philip called you I saw you."

49 Nathanael answered,

"Master, you are the Son of God! You are king of Israel!"

50 Jesus answered,

"Do you believe in me because I told you that I had seen you under 51 that fig tree? You will see greater things than that!" And he said to him, "I tell you all, you will see heaven opened and God's angels going up, and coming down to the Son of Man!"

2 Two days later there was a wedding at Cana in Galilee, and Jesus' mother was present. Jesus and his disciples were also invited to the 3 wedding. The wine gave out, and Jesus' mother said to him,

"They have no more wine!"

4 Jesus said to her,

“Do not try to direct me. It is not yet time for me to act.”

5 His mother said to the servants,

“Do whatever he tells you.”

6 Now there were six stone water jugs there, for the ceremonial purification practiced by the Jews, each large enough to hold twenty or thirty gallons. Jesus said to them,

“Fill these jugs with water.”

8 So they filled them full. And he said to them,

“Now draw some out and take it to the master of the feast.”

9 And they did so. When the master of the feast tasted the water which had now turned into wine, without knowing where it had come from—though the servants who had drawn the water knew—
10 he called the bridegroom and said to him,

“Everyone else serves his good wine first, and his poorer wine after people have drunk deeply, but you have kept back your good wine till now!”

11 This, the first of the signs of his mission, Jesus showed at Cana in Galilee. By it he showed his greatness, and his disciples believed in him.

12 After this Jesus went down to Capernaum with his mother, his brothers, and his disciples, and they stayed there for a few days.

13 Now the Jewish Passover was approaching, and Jesus went up to 14 Jerusalem. In the Temple he found the dealers in cattle, sheep, and 15 pigeons, and the money-changers sitting at their tables. And he made a lash out of rope, and drove them all, sheep and cattle, out of the Temple, and scattered the money-changers' coins on the ground, 16 and overturned their tables. And he said to the pigeon-dealers,

“Take these things away! Do not turn my Father's house into a market!”

17 His disciples remembered that the Scriptures said, “My zeal for your house will consume me!”

18 Then the Jews addressed him and said,

“What sign have you to show us, for acting in this way?”

19 Jesus answered,

“Destroy this sanctuary, and I will raise it in three days!”

20 The Jews said,

“It has taken forty-six years to build this sanctuary, and are you going to raise it in three days?”

21 But he was speaking of his body as the sanctuary. So afterward 22 when he had risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this, and they believed the passage of Scripture and what Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was at Jerusalem, at the Passover Festival, many, when they saw the signs that he showed, came to believe in him.

24 But Jesus on his part would not trust himself to them, for he knew

25 them all, and had no need of anybody's evidence about men, for he knew well what was in their hearts.

3 Among the Pharisees there was a man named Nicodemus, a leader

2 among the Jews. This man went to Jesus one night, and said to him,

“Master, we know that you are a teacher who has come from God, for no one can show the signs that you do, unless God is with him.”

3 Jesus answered him,

“I tell you, no one can see the Kingdom of God unless he is born over again from above!”

4 Nicodemus said to him,

“How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter his mother's womb over again and be born?”

5 Jesus answered,

“I tell you, if a man does not owe his birth to water and spirit, he cannot get into the Kingdom of God. Whatever owes its birth to the physical is physical, and whatever owes its birth to the Spirit is spiritual. Do not wonder at my telling you that you must be born over again from above. The wind blows wherever it chooses, and you hear the sound of it, but you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. That is the way with everyone who owes his birth to the Spirit.”

9 Nicodemus said to him,

“How can that be?”

10 Jesus answered,

11 “Are you the teacher of Israel and yet ignorant of this? I tell you, we know what we are talking about and we have seen the things we testify to, yet you all reject our testimony. If you will not believe the earthly things that I have told you, how can you believe the heavenly things I have to tell? Yet no one has gone up into heaven except 13 the Son of Man who came down from heaven. And just as Moses in the desert lifted the serpent up in the air, the Son of Man must 14 be lifted up, so that everyone who believes in him may have eternal life.”

6 For God loved the world so much that he gave his only Son, so that no one who believes in him should be lost, but that they should

17 all have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to pass judgment upon the world, but that through him the world
18 might be saved. No one who believes in him has to come up for judgment. Anyone who does not believe stands condemned already,
19 for not believing in God's only Son. And the basis of the judgment is this, that the light has come into the world, and yet, because their actions were wicked, men have loved the darkness more than the light.
20 For everyone who does wrong hates the light and will not come to it, for fear his actions will be exposed. But everyone who is living the truth will come to the light, to show that his actions have been performed in dependence upon God.

22 After this Jesus went into the country of Judea with his disciples, and stayed there with them and baptized. John too was baptizing at Aenon, near Salim, for there was plenty of water there, and people
24 came there and were baptized. For John had not yet been put in prison. So a discussion arose between John's disciples and a man 26 from Judea, about purification. And they went to John and said to him,

"Master, the man who was with you across the Jordan, and to whom you yourself gave testimony, is baptizing, and everybody is going to him."

27 John answered,

"A man cannot get anything unless it is given to him from heaven. You will bear me witness that I said, 'I am not the Christ; I have 29 been sent in advance of him.' It is the bridegroom who has the bride; but the bridegroom's friend who stands outside and listens for his voice is very glad when he hears the bridegroom speak. So this
30 happiness of mine is now complete. He must grow greater and greater, but I less and less."

31 He who comes from above is above all others. A son of earth belongs to earth and speaks of earth. He who comes from heaven
32 is above all others. It is to what he has seen and heard that he gives testimony, and yet no one accepts his testimony. Whoever does accept 34 it has thereby acknowledged that God is true. For he whom God has sent speaks God's words, for God gives him his Spirit without measure.
35 The Father loves his Son, and has put everything in his hands. Whoever believes in the Son possesses eternal life, but whoever disobeys the Son will not experience life, but will remain under the anger of God.

4 So when the Lord learned that the Pharisees had been told that
2 he was gaining and baptizing more disciples than John—though it
3 was not Jesus himself who baptized them, but his disciples—he left
4 Judea and went back again to Galilee. Now he had to pass through 5 Samaria. So he came to a town in Samaria called Sychar, near the 6 field that Jacob gave to his son Joseph, and Jacob's spring was there.
So Jesus, tired with his journey, sat down just as he was by the spring.
7 It was about noon. A woman of Samaria came to draw water. Jesus said to her,

“Give me a drink.”

8 For his disciples had gone into the town to buy some food. So the 9 Samaritan woman said to him,

“How is it that a Jew like you asks a Samaritan woman like me 10 for a drink?” For Jews have nothing to do with Samaritans. Jesus answered,

“If you knew what God has to give, and who it is that said to you, ‘Give me a drink,’ you would have asked him, and he would have given you living water.”

11 She said to him,

“You have nothing to draw water with, sir, and the well is deep.
12 Where can you get your living water? Are you a greater man than our forefather Jacob, who gave us this well, and drank from it himself, with his sons and his flocks?”

13 Jesus answered,

14 “Anyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again, but anyone who drinks the water that I will give him will never be thirsty, but the water that I will give him will become a spring of water within him, bubbling up for eternal life.”

15 The woman said to him,

“Give me this water, sir, so that I may never be thirsty, nor have to come all this way to draw water.”

16 He said to her,

“Go and call your husband and come back here.”

17 The woman answered,

“I have no husband.”

Jesus said to her,

18 “You are right when you say you have no husband, for you have had five husbands and the man you are now living with is not your husband. What you say is true.”

19 The woman said to him,

20 "I see that you are a prophet, sir. Our forefathers worshiped God on this mountain, and yet you Jews say that the place where people must worship God is at Jerusalem."

21 Jesus said to her,

"Believe me, the time is coming when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain nor at Jerusalem. You worship something you know nothing about; we know what we worship, for salvation comes from the Jews. But a time is coming—it is already here!—when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and sincerity, for the Father wants such worshipers. God is spirit, and his worshipers must worship him in spirit and in sincerity."

25 The woman said to him,

"I know that the Messiah is coming—he who is called the Christ. When he comes, he will tell us everything!"

26 Jesus said to her,

"I who am talking to you am he!"

27 Just then his disciples came back, and they were surprised to find him talking with a woman, yet no one of them asked him what he wanted or why he was talking with her. So the woman left her pitcher and went back to the town, and said to the people,

29 "Come, here is a man who has told me everything I ever did! Do you suppose he is the Christ?"

30 The people went out of the town to see him.

31 Meanwhile the disciples urged him, saying,

"Master, eat something."

32 But he said to them,

"I have food to eat of which you do not know."

So the disciples said to one another,

"Do you suppose that someone has brought him something to eat?"

34 Jesus said to them,

"My food is doing the will of him who has sent me, and finishing his work. Are you not saying, 'Four months more and the harvest will come'? Look, I tell you! Raise your eyes and see the fields, for they are white for harvesting. The reaper is already being paid and gathering the harvest for eternal life, so that the sower may be glad with the reaper. For here the saying holds good, 'One sows, another reaps.' I have sent you to reap a harvest on which you have not worked. Other men have worked and you have profited by their work."

39 Many of the Samaritans in that town came to believe in him because of the testimony the woman gave when she said, "He has told 40 me everything I ever did!" So when the Samaritans came to Jesus, 41 they asked him to stay with them, and he did stay there two days. And 42 a great many more believed because of what he said, and they said to the woman,

"It is no longer because of your statement that we believe, for we have heard him ourselves, and we know that he is really the Savior of the world."

43 When the two days were over, Jesus went on to Galilee, for he 44 himself declared that a prophet is not honored in his own country.
45 So when he reached Galilee, the Galileans welcomed him, for they had seen everything he had done at Jerusalem, at the festival, for they too had gone to the festival.

46 So he came back to Cana in Galilee, where he had made the water into wine. There was at Capernaum one of the king's officials whose 47 son was sick. When he heard that Jesus had come back from Judea to Galilee, he went to him and begged him to come down and cure 48 his son, for he was at the point of death. Jesus said to him,

"Unless you see signs and marvels you will never believe!"

49 The official said to him,

"Come down, sir, before my child is dead!"

50 Jesus said to him,

"You can go home. Your son is going to live."

51 The man believed what Jesus said to him and went home. While he was on the way, his slaves met him and told him that his boy was 52 going to live. So he asked them at what time he had begun to get better, and they said to him,

"Yesterday at one o'clock the fever left him."

53 So the father knew that it was the very time when Jesus had said to him "Your son is going to live." And he and his whole household 54 believed in Jesus. This second sign Jesus showed after coming back from Judea to Galilee.

5 After this there was a festival of the Jews, and Jesus went up to 2 Jerusalem. Now there is in Jerusalem near the Sheepgate a pool
3 called in Hebrew Bethzatha, which has five colonnades. In these there used to lie a great number of people who were sick, blind, lame, or 5 paralyzed. There was one man there who had been sick for thirty-6 eight years. Jesus saw him lying there, and finding that he had been in this condition for a long time, said to him,

“Do you want to get well?”

7 The sick man answered,

“I have nobody, sir, to put me into the pool when the water stirs, but while I am getting down someone else steps in ahead of me.”

8 Jesus said to him,

“Get up, pick up your mat, and walk!”

9 And the man was immediately cured, and he picked up his mat and walked.

10 Now it was the Sabbath. So the Jews said to the man who had been cured,

“It is the Sabbath, and it is against the Law for you to carry your mat.”

11 But he answered,

“The man who cured me said to me, ‘Pick up your mat and walk.’”

12 They asked him,

“Who was it that said to you, ‘Pick it up and walk?’”

13 But the man who had been cured did not know who it was, for as 14 there was a crowd there, Jesus had left the place. Afterward Jesus found him in the Temple, and said to him,

“See! You are well again. Give up sin, or something worse may happen to you.”

15 The man went and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had cured
16 him. This was why the Jews used to persecute Jesus, because he did 17 things like this on the Sabbath. But he answered them,

“My Father is still at work, and I work too.”

18 On account of this the Jews were all the more eager to kill him, because he not only broke the Sabbath but actually called God his 19 Father, thus putting himself on an equality with God. So Jesus answered them,

“I tell you, the Son cannot do anything of his own accord, unless he sees the Father doing it. For whatever the Father does, the Son
20 also does. For the Father loves the Son and lets him see everything that he himself is doing, and he will let him see greater deeds than 21 these, to make you wonder. For just as the Father awakens the dead and makes them come to life, the Son makes anyone whom he chooses
22 come to life. For the Father passes judgment on no one, but he has 23 committed the judgment entirely to the Son, so that all men may honor the Son just as much as they honor the Father. Whoever refuses to honor the Son refuses to honor the Father who sent him.
24 I tell you, whoever listens to my message and believes him who has sent me, possesses eternal life, and will not come to judgment, but has 25 already passed out of death into life. I tell you, the time is coming—it is here already!—when those who are dead will listen to the voice 26 of the Son of God, and those who listen to it will live. For just as the Father is self-existent, he has given self-existence to the Son, 27 and he has given him the authority to act as judge, because he is a 28 son of man. Do not be surprised at this, for the time is coming when 29 all who are in their graves will listen to his voice, and those who have done right will come out to resurrection and life, and those who 30 have done wrong, to resurrection and judgment. I cannot do anything of my own accord. I pass judgment just as I am told to do, and my judgment is just, for I am not seeking to do what I please,

but what pleases him who has sent me.

31 “If I testify to myself, my testimony is not true. It is someone else 32 who testifies to me, and I know that the testimony that he gives about me is true. You yourselves sent to John, and he testified to the truth.
33 But the testimony that I accept is not from any man; I am only saying 34 this that you may be saved. He was the lamp that burned and shone, 35 and you were ready to be gladdened for a while by his light. But I have higher testimony than John’s, for the things that my Father has intrusted to me to accomplish, the very things that I am doing, are 37 proof that my Father has sent me, and my Father who has sent me has thus borne witness to me. You have never heard his voice or 38 seen his form, and you do not keep his message in your hearts, for 39 you do not believe the messenger whom he has sent. You pore over the Scriptures, for you think that you will find eternal life in them, 40 and these very Scriptures testify to me, yet you refuse to come to me
41 for life. I do not accept any honor from men, but I know well that 42 you have not the love of God in your hearts. I have come in my Father’s name, and you refuse to accept me. If someone else comes 44 in his own name you will accept him. Yet how can you believe in me, when you accept honor from one another, instead of seeking 45 the honor that comes from the one God? Do not suppose that I will accuse you to the Father. Moses is your accuser—Moses, on whom 46 you have fixed your hopes! For if you really believed Moses, you 47 would believe me, for it was about me that he wrote. But if you refuse to believe what he wrote, how are you ever to believe what I say?”

6 After this Jesus went to the other side of the Sea of Galilee, or 2 Tiberias, and a great crowd followed him, because they could see the

3 signs he showed in what he did for the sick. But Jesus went up on 4 the hill, and sat down there with his disciples. Now the Jewish 5 festival of the Passover was coming. So Jesus, raising his eyes and seeing that a great crowd was coming up to him, said to Philip,

“Where can we buy food for these people to eat?”

6 Now he said this to test him, for he knew what he meant to do.
7 Philip answered,

“Forty dollars’ worth of bread would not be enough for each of them to have even a little.”

8 Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother, another of his disciples, said to him,

9 “There is a boy here who has five barley loaves and a couple of fish, but what is that among so many people?”

10 Jesus said,

“Make the people sit down.”

There was plenty of grass there, so the men threw themselves 11 down, about five thousand of them. Then Jesus took the loaves, and gave thanks, and distributed them among the people who were resting on the ground, and in the same way as much of the fish as they wanted.

12 When they were satisfied, he said to his disciples,

“Pick up the pieces that are left, so that nothing may be wasted.”

13 So they picked them up, and they filled twelve baskets with pieces of the five barley loaves that were left after the people had eaten.

14 When the people saw the signs that he showed, they said,

“This is really the Prophet who was to come into the world!”

15 So Jesus, seeing that they meant to come and carry him off to make him king, retired again to the hill by himself.

16 But in the evening his disciples went down to the sea and got into 17 a boat and started across the sea for Capernaum. By this time it was 18 dark, and Jesus had not yet joined them; a strong wind was blowing and the sea was growing rough.

19 When they had rowed three or four miles, they saw Jesus walking 20 on the sea and approaching the boat, and they were terrified. But he said to them,

“It is I; do not be afraid!”

21 Then as soon as they consented to take him into the boat, the boat was at the shore they had been trying to reach.

22 Next day the people who had stayed on the other side of the sea saw that there had been only one boat there, and that Jesus had not embarked in it with his disciples, but that the disciples had gone away 23 by themselves. But some boats from Tiberias landed near the place where they had eaten the bread after Jesus had given thanks for it.

24 So when the people saw that neither Jesus nor his disciples were any longer there, they got into the boats and went to Capernaum in search
25 of him. And when they had crossed the sea and found him, they said to him,

“When did you get here, Master?”

26 Jesus answered,

“I tell you, it is not because of the signs you have seen that you have come in search of me, but because you ate that bread and had all 27 you wanted of it. You must not work for the food that perishes, but for that which lasts for eternal life, which the Son of Man will give you, for God the Father has authorized him to do so.”

28 Then they said to him,

“What must we do to carry out God’s work?”

29 Jesus answered them,

“The work God has for you is to believe in the messenger that he has sent to you.”

30 Then they said to him,

“Then what sign do you show for us to see and so come to believe 31 you? What work are you doing? Our forefathers in the desert had manna to eat; as the Scripture says, ‘He gave them bread out of heaven to eat!’”

32 Jesus said to them,

“I tell you, Moses did not give you the bread out of heaven, but 33 my Father gives you the bread out of heaven, for it is God’s bread that comes down out of heaven and gives life to the world.”

34 Then they said to him,

“Give us that bread always, sir!”

35 Jesus said to them,

“I am the bread that gives life. No one who comes to me will ever
36 be hungry, and no one who believes in me will ever be thirsty. But as I have told you, although you have seen me, you will not believe.
37 All that my Father gives to me will come to me, and I will never 38 refuse anyone who comes to me, for I have come down from heaven
39 not to do what I please but what pleases him who has sent me. And the purpose of him who has sent me is this, that I should lose nothing of all that he has given me, but should raise them to life on the Last 40 Day. For it is the purpose of my Father that everyone who sees the Son and believes in him shall have eternal life, and that I shall raise him to life on the Last Day.”

41 The Jews complained of him for saying, "I am the bread that 42 has come out of heaven," and they said,

"Is he not Joseph's son, Jesus, whose father and mother we know?
How can he now say, 'I have come down out of heaven'?"

43 Jesus answered,

44 "Do not complain to one another. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him to me; then I myself will raise 45 him to life on the Last Day. In the prophets it is written, 'And all men will be taught by God!' Everyone who listens to the Father 46 and learns from him will come to me. Not that anyone has ever seen 47 the Father, except him who is from God; he has seen the Father. I 48 tell you, whoever believes already possesses eternal life. I am the 49 bread that gives life. Your forefathers in the desert ate the manna
50 and yet they died. But here is bread that comes down out of heaven, 51 and no one who eats it will ever die. I am this living bread that has come down out of heaven. Whoever eats this bread will live forever, and the bread that I will give for the world's life is my own flesh!"

52 This led the Jews to dispute with one another. They said,
"How can he give us his flesh to eat?"

53 Then Jesus said to them,

"I tell you, if you do not eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink 54 his blood, you have no self-existent life. Whoever lives on my flesh and drinks my blood possesses eternal life, and I will raise him to life 55 on the Last Day. For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink.
56 Whoever lives on my flesh and drinks my blood remains united to 57 me and I remain united to him. Just as the living Father has sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who lives on me will live 58 because of me. This is the bread that has come down out of heaven—not like that which your forefathers ate and yet died. Whoever lives on this bread will live forever."

59 Jesus said all this while he was teaching in the synagogue at Capernaum.

60 Many of his disciples on hearing it said,

"This is a harsh teaching! Who can listen to it?"

61 But Jesus, knowing that his disciples were complaining about this,
said to them,

62 "Does this stagger you? Then what if you see the Son of Man 63 go up where he was before? The Spirit is what gives life; flesh is of no use at all. The things that I have said to you are spirit and they 64 are life. Yet there are some of you who will not believe." For Jesus knew from the first who would not believe, and who was going to 65 betray him. And he added,

“This is why I said to you, ‘No one can come to me unless he is enabled to do so by the Father.’”

66 In consequence of this many of his disciples drew back and would 67 not go about with him any longer. So Jesus said to the Twelve,

“Do you mean to go away too?”

68 Simon Peter answered,

“To whom can we go, sir? You have a message of eternal life, 69 and we believe and are satisfied that you are the Holy One of God.”

70 Jesus answered them,

“Did I not myself select all twelve of you? And even of you, one is an informer.” He meant Judas the son of Simon Iscariot, for he, though he was one of the Twelve, was going to betray him.

7 After this Jesus went from place to place in Galilee, for he would not do so in Judea, because the Jews were making efforts to kill him.

2³ But the Jewish camping festival was coming. So his brothers said to him,

“You ought to leave here and go to Judea, to let your disciples 4 also see the things you are doing. For no one acts in secret when he desires to be publicly known. If you are going to do these things, let 5 the world see you.” For even his brothers did not believe in him.

6 Then Jesus said to them,

“It is not yet time for me to act, but any time is suitable for you.
7 It is impossible for the world to hate you, but it does hate me for 8 testifying that its ways are wrong. As for you, go up to the festival;
I am not going up to this festival as yet, for it is not quite time for me to go.”

9 That was what he told them, and he stayed on in Galilee.

10 But after his brothers had gone up to the festival, then Jesus went up also, not publicly, but as though he did not wish to be observed.

11 Now the Jews were looking for him at the festival and asking where 12 he was, and there was a great deal of muttering about him among the crowds, some saying that he was a good man, and others that he was 13 not, but was imposing on the people. But no one spoke of him in public, for fear of the Jews.

14 But when the festival was half over, Jesus went up to the Temple
15 and began to teach. This astonished the Jews.

“How is it that this man can read?” they said, “when he has never gone to school?”

16 So Jesus answered,

“My teaching is not my own; it comes from him who has sent me. 17 Anyone who resolves to do his will will know whether my teaching 18 comes from God, or originates with me. Whoever speaks simply for himself is looking for honor for himself, but whoever looks for honor for the person who has sent him shows his sincerity; there is no dishonesty about him. Was it not Moses who gave you the Law? Yet 19 not one of you obeys the Law. Why are you trying to kill me?”

20 The crowd answered,

“You must be possessed! Who is trying to kill you?”

21 Jesus answered,

22 “I have done just one deed, and you are all astonished at it. Yet Moses gave you the rite of circumcision—not that it began with Moses but with your forefathers—and you practice it even on the Sabbath. 23 But if a person undergoes circumcision on a Sabbath, to avoid breaking the Law of Moses, are you angry at me for making a man perfectly 24 well on a Sabbath? You must not judge so externally; you must judge justly!”

25 Some of the people of Jerusalem said,

26 “Is not this the man they want to kill? And here he is speaking publicly, and they say nothing to him! Can the authorities really 27 have found that he is the Christ? But then, we know where this man comes from, but when the Christ comes, no one will know where he is from.”

28 So Jesus, as he was teaching in the Temple, cried out,

“You do know me and you do know where I come from, and I have not come of my own accord but someone who is very real, whom 29 you do not know, has sent me. I do know him, because I come from him, and he has sent me here.”

30 Then they tried to arrest him, and yet no one laid hands on him, 31 because he was not yet ready. But many of the people believed in him, and said,

“Will the Christ show more signs when he comes than this man has shown?”

32 The Pharisees heard the people saying these things about him in whispers, and the high priests and the Pharisees sent attendants to 33 arrest him. Jesus said,

“I am to be with you a little while longer, and then I am going

34 to him who has sent me. You will look for me and you will not find me, and you will not be able to go where I shall be.”

35 Then the Jews said to one another,

“Where is he going, that we shall not find him? Is he going to our people scattered among the Greeks, and will he teach the Greeks?”

36 What does he mean by saying “You will look for me and you will not find me, and you will not be able to go where I shall be?”

37 Now on the last day, the great day of the festival, Jesus stood up and cried out,

38 “If anyone is thirsty, let him come to me and drink. If anyone believes in me, streams of living water, as the Scripture says, shall flow forth from his heart.”

39 He meant by this the Spirit which those who believed in him were to receive—for the Spirit had not yet come, because Jesus had not

40 yet been glorified. So some of the people, when they heard these words, said,

“This is certainly the Prophet!”

41 Others said,

“This is the Christ!”

But they rejoined,

42 “What! Is the Christ to come from Galilee? Do not the Scriptures say that the Christ is to spring from the descendants of David and to come from the village of Bethlehem where David lived?”

43 So the people were divided about him, and some of them wanted
44 to arrest him, yet no one laid hands on him.

45 The attendants went back to the high priests and Pharisees, and they said to the attendants,

“Why have you not brought him?”

46 The attendants answered,

“No man ever talked as he does!”

47 The Pharisees answered,

48 “Have you been imposed upon too? Have any of the authorities
49 or of the Pharisees believed in him? But these common people who do not know the Law are doomed!”

50 One of them, Nicodemus, who had previously gone to Jesus, said to them,

51 “Does our Law condemn the accused without first hearing what he has to say, and finding out what he has done?”

52 They answered,

“Are you from Galilee too? Study and you will find that no prophet is to appear from Galilee.”

8¹² Then Jesus spoke to them again and said,

“I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will not have to walk in darkness but will have the light of life.”

13 The Pharisees said to him,

“You are testifying to yourself. Your testimony is not true.”

14 Jesus answered,

“Even if I am testifying to myself, my testimony is true, for I know where I have come from and where I am going; but you do not
15 know where I come from or where I am going. You judge by material 16 standards, but I am judging nobody. But even if I do judge, my 17 decision is just, because I am not by myself, but the Father who sent 18 of two persons is valid. Here I am testifying to myself, and the Father who has sent me testifies to me.”

19 Then they said to him,

“Where is your Father?”

Jesus answered,

“You do not know either me or my Father. If you knew me, you would know my Father too.”

20 He said these things in the treasury, as he was teaching in the Temple, and no one arrested him, because he was not yet ready.

21 Then he said to them again,

“I am going away, and you will look for me, but you will die in the midst of your sin. You cannot come where I am going.”

22 So the Jews said,

“Is he going to kill himself, and is that why he says, ‘You cannot come where I am going?’”

23 He said to them,

“You are from below; I am from above. You belong to this world; I do not belong to this world. That is why I said to you that you would die in the midst of your sins, for unless you believe that I am what I say, you will die in the midst of your sins.”

25 They said to him,

“Who are you?”

Jesus said to them,

26 “Why do I even talk to you at all? I have a great deal to say about you and to condemn in you, yet he who sent me is truthful, and the things that I say to the world are things that I have learned from him.”

27 They did not understand that he was speaking to them of the 28 Father. So Jesus said,

“When you lift the Son of Man up in the air, then you will know that I am what I say, and that I do nothing of my own accord, but 29 speak as the Father has instructed me. And he who has sent me is with me; he has not left me alone, for I always do what pleases him.”

30 As he said this, many believed in him.

31 So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed in him,

“If you abide by what I teach, you are really disciples of mine, 32 and you will know the truth and the truth will set you free.”

33 They answered,

“We are descended from Abraham, and have never been anyone’s slaves. How can you say to us, ‘You will be set free?’”

34 Jesus answered,

35 “I tell you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. Now a slave does not belong to a household permanently; but a son does.

36 So if the Son sets you free you will be really free. I know that you
37 are descended from Abraham, yet you want to kill me, because there 38 is no room in your hearts for my teaching. It is what I have seen in the presence of my Father that I tell, and it is what you have heard from your father that you do.”

39 They answered,

“Our father is Abraham.”

Jesus said to them,

40 “If you are Abraham’s children, then do what Abraham did. But instead you are trying to kill me, a man who has told you the truth 41 he has heard from God. Abraham would not have done that. You are doing as your father does.”

They said to him,

“We are not illegitimate children. We have one father, God himself.”

42 Jesus said to them,

“If God were your father, you would love me, for I have come from God. I have not come of my own accord, but he has sent me.
43 Why is it that you do not understand what I say? It is because you 44 cannot bear to listen to my message. The devil is the father you are sprung from, and you want to carry out your father’s wishes. He was a murderer from the first, and he has nothing to do with the truth, for there is no truth in him. When he tells a lie, he speaks in 45 his true character, for he is a liar and the father of them. But because 46 I tell the truth you will not believe me. Who among you can prove me guilty of sin? But if I tell you the truth, why do you refuse to 47 believe me? Whoever is sprung from God listens to God's words.

The reason you refuse to listen is that you are not sprung from God."

48 The Jews answered,

"Are we not right in saying that you are a Samaritan and are possessed?"

49 Jesus answered,

"I am not possessed, but I have respect for my Father, and you
50 have no respect for me. But I do not seek honor for myself; there 51 is someone who seeks it for me, and is the judge of it. I tell you, if anyone observes my teaching, he will never experience death."

52 The Jews said to him,

"Now we are sure that you are possessed! Abraham is dead and so are the prophets, and yet you say, 'If anyone observes my teaching, 53 he will never know what death is!' Are you a greater man than our forefather Abraham? Yet he is dead and the prophets are dead.
What do you claim to be?"

54 Jesus answered,

"If I show special honor to myself, such honor counts for nothing.
55 It is my Father who shows me honor. You say he is your God, yet you have never come to know him. But I know him. If I say I do not know him, I will be a liar like yourselves. No! I do know him, 56 and I am faithful to his message. Your forefather Abraham exulted at the thought of seeing my coming. He has seen it, and it has made him glad."

57 The Jews said to him,

"You are not fifty years old, and have you seen Abraham?"

58 Jesus said to them,

"I tell you, I existed before Abraham was born!"

59 At that, the Jews picked up stones to throw at him, but he disappeared and made his way out of the Temple.

9 As he passed along, he saw a man who had been blind from his
2 birth. His disciples asked him,

"Master, for whose sin was this man born blind? For his own, or for that of his parents?"

3 Jesus answered,

"It was neither for his own sin nor for that of his parents, but to

- 4 let what God can do be illustrated in his case. We must carry on the work of him who has sent me while the daylight lasts. Night is coming, 5 when no one can do any work. As long as I am in the world, I am a light for the world.”
- 6 As he said this he spat on the ground and made clay with the saliva, 7 and he put the clay on the man's eyes, and said to him, “Go and wash them in the Pool of Siloam”—a name which means One who has been sent. So he went and washed them, and went home able to see.
- 8 Then his neighbors and people who had formerly seen him begging, said,
“Is not this the man who used to sit and beg?”
- 9 Some said,
“Yes! It is he!”
Others said,
“No! but he looks like him.”
He himself said,
“I am the man.”
- 10 So they said to him,
“Then how does it happen that you can see?”
- 11 He answered,
“The man they call Jesus made some clay and rubbed it on my eyes, and said to me, ‘Go to Siloam and wash them.’ So I went and when I had washed them I could see.”
- 12 They said to him,
“Where is he?”
He answered,
“I do not know.”
- 13 They took the man who had been blind to the Pharisees. Now it 14 was on the Sabbath that Jesus had made the clay and made him able 15 to see. So once more the Pharisees asked him how he had become able to see, and he said to them, “He put some clay on my eyes, and I washed them, and I can see.”
- 16 Then some of the Pharisees said,
“This man does not come from God, for he does not keep the Sabbath.”
But others said,
“How can a sinful man show such signs as this?”
- 17 And there was a division of opinion among them. So they asked the blind man again,

“What have you to say about him, because he has made you able to see?”

He said,

“He is a prophet!”

18 But the Jews would not believe that he had been blind and had become able to see until they summoned the parents of the man who 19 had been given his sight, and asked them,

“Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How is it that he can see now?”

20 His parents answered,

21 “We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind. But we do not know how it is that he can see now, or who has made him able to see. You must ask him. He is grown up. Let him tell you about himself.”

22 His parents said this because they were afraid of the Jews, for the Jews had already made an agreement that if anyone acknowledged
23 Jesus as the Christ, he should be excluded from the synagogues. That 24 was why his parents said, “He is grown up; you must ask him.” So they again summoned the man who had been blind, and they said to him,

“Give God the praise. This man we know is a sinful man.”

25 He answered,

“I do not know about his being a sinful man. All I know is that I was blind before and now I can see.”

26 They said to him,

“What did he do to you? How did he make you able to see?”

27 He answered,

“I have already told you and you would not listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you want to become disciples of his too?”

28 Then they sneered at him, and said,

29 “You are a disciple of his yourself, but we are disciples of Moses. We know that God spoke to Moses, but we do not know where this man came from.”

30 The man answered,

31 “There is something very strange about this! You do not know where he came from, and yet he has made me able to see! We know that God does not listen to sinful people, but if a man is devout and 32 obeys God, God will listen to him. It was never heard of in this 33 world that anyone made a man born blind able to see. If this man were not from God, he could not do anything.”

- 34 They answered,
"You were born in utter sin, and are you trying to teach us?"
So they excluded him from the synagogue.
- 35 Jesus learned that they had excluded him, and he found the man and said to him,
"Do you believe in the Son of Man?"
- 36 The man answered,
"Who is he, sir? Tell me, so that I may believe in him."
- 37 Jesus said to him,
"You have seen him already, and it is he who is now talking to you."
- 38 And he said,
"I believe, sir!" and he fell on his knees before him.
- 39 And Jesus said,
"I have come into this world to judge men, that those who cannot see may see, and that those who can see may become blind."
- 40 Some Pharisees who were present heard this, and they said to him,
"Then are we blind too?"
- 41 Jesus said to them,
"If you were blind, you would be guilty of no sin, but as it is, you say 'We can see'; so your sin continues.
- 10 "I tell you, any man who does not enter the sheepfold by the door,
2 but climbs over at some other place, is a thief and robber. But the 3 man who enters by the door is the shepherd of the flock. The watchman opens the door to him, and the sheep obey his voice, and he calls 4 to his own sheep and leads them out. When he gets his own flock all out, he goes in front of them, and the sheep follow him, because 5 they know his voice. But they will never follow a stranger but will run away from him, because they do not know the voices of strangers."
- 6 This was the figure Jesus used in speaking to them, but they did not understand what he meant by it.
- 7 So Jesus said again,
8 "I tell you, I am the door of the sheepfold. All who have come before me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep would not obey them.
9 I am the door. Whoever enters through me will be saved, and will 10 pass in and out and find pasture. A thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy; I have come to let them have life, and to let them 11 have it in abundance. I am the good shepherd. A good shepherd will 12 give his life for his sheep. A hired man who is not a shepherd and does not own the sheep, when he sees a wolf coming, will leave the sheep and run away, and the wolf will carry them off and scatter the 13 flock. For he is only a hired man, and does not care about the sheep.

14 I am the good shepherd. I know my sheep and my sheep know me,
15 just as the Father knows me and I know the Father, and I am giving 16 my life for my sheep. I have other sheep too that do not belong to this fold. I must lead them too, and they will obey my voice, and 17 they will all become one flock, with one shepherd. This is why the Father loves me, because I am giving my life, but giving it to take 18 it back again. No one has taken it from me, but I am giving it of my own accord. I have power to give it, and I have power to take it back again. These are the orders I have received from my Father.”

19 These words caused a fresh division of opinion among the Jews.

20 Many of them said,

“He is possessed and mad! Why do you listen to him?”

21 Others said,

“These are not the words of a man who is possessed. Can a madman make blind men see?”

22 That was the time of the Rededication Festival at Jerusalem. It 23 was winter time and Jesus was walking up and down inside the 24 Temple, in Solomon’s Colonnade. So the Jews gathered around him and said to him,

“How much longer are you going to keep us in suspense? If you are really the Christ, tell us so frankly!”

25 Jesus answered,

“I have told you so, and you will not believe it. The things I have 26 been doing by my Father’s authority are my credentials, but you do
27 not believe it because you do not belong to my sheep. My sheep listen 28 to my voice, and I know them and they follow me, and I give them eternal life, and they shall never be lost, and no one shall tear them 29 out of my hands. What my Father has intrusted to me is of more importance than everything else, and no one can tear anything out 30 of the Father’s hands. The Father and I are one.”

31 The Jews again picked up stones to stone him with. Jesus answered,

“I have let you see many good things from the Father; which of them do you mean to stone me for?”

33 The Jews answered,

“We are not stoning you for doing anything good, but for your impious talk, and because you, a mere man, make yourself out to be God.”

34 Jesus answered,

35 “Is it not declared in your Law, ‘I said, “You are gods”’? If those to whom God’s message was addressed were called gods—and 36 the Scripture cannot be set aside—do you mean to say to me whom the Father has consecrated and made his messenger to the world,
37 ‘You are blasphemous,’ because I said, ‘I am God’s Son’? If I am
38 not doing the things my Father does, do not believe me. But if I am doing them, then even if you will not believe me, believe the things I do, in order that you may realize and learn that the Father is in union with me, and I am in union with the Father.”

39 In consequence of this they again tried to arrest him, and he withdrew out of their reach.

40 He went across the Jordan again to the place where John used to 41 baptize at first, and there he stayed. And people came to him in great numbers, and they said of him,

“John did not show any sign in proof of his mission, but all that he said about this man was true.”

42 And many became believers in him in that place.

11 Now a man named Lazarus was sick; he lived in Bethany, the
2 village of Mary and her sister Martha. It was the Mary who poured perfume upon the Master and wiped his feet with her hair, whose 3 brother Lazarus was sick. So the sisters sent this message to Jesus:
4 “Master, your friend is sick.” When Jesus received it he said,

“This sickness is not to end in death, but is for the honor of God, that through it the Son of God may be honored.”

5 Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. So when he heard that Lazarus was sick, he stayed on for two days in the place where 7 he was, and then afterward said to his disciples,

“Let us go back to Judea.”

8 The disciples said to him,

“Master, the Jews have just been trying to stone you, and are you going back there again?”

9 Jesus answered,

“Is not the day twelve hours long? If a man travels by day he will 10 not stumble, for he can see the light of this world; but if he travels at night he will stumble because he has no light.”

11 He told them this, and then he added,

“Our friend Lazarus has fallen asleep, but I am going there to wake him.”

12 The disciples said to him,

“Master, if he has fallen asleep he will recover.”

13 Now Jesus had referred to his death. But they supposed that he 14 meant a natural falling asleep. So Jesus then told them plainly,

15 "Lazarus is dead, and for your sake I am glad that I was not there, so that you may learn to believe in me. But let us go to him."

16 So Thomas the Twin said to his fellow-disciples,
"Let us go also, and die with him."

17 When Jesus arrived he found that Lazarus had been buried for 18 four days. Now Bethany is only about two miles from Jerusalem, 19 and a number of Jews had come out to see Mary and Martha, to 20 condole with them about their brother. When Martha heard that Jesus was coming she went out to meet him, but Mary remained at 21 home. Martha said to Jesus,

"Master, if you had been here, my brother would not have died!
22 Even now I know that anything you ask God for, he will give you."

23 Jesus said to her,
"Your brother will rise."

24 Martha said to him,
"I know that he will rise at the resurrection, on the Last Day."

25 Jesus said to her,
"I myself am Resurrection and Life. He who believes in me will 26 live on, even if he dies, and no one who is alive and believes in me will ever die. Do you believe that?"

27 She said to him,
"Yes, Master, I do indeed believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who was to come into the world."

28 With these words she went and called her sister Mary, whispering to her,

"Here is the Master, asking for you."

29 When she heard it she sprang up and went to him, for Jesus had 30 not yet come into the village, but was still at the place where Martha 31 had met him. The Jews who were sitting with her in the house, con-doling with her, when they saw Mary spring up and go out, supposed 32 that she was going to weep at the tomb, and followed her. When Mary came where Jesus was and saw him, she fell at his feet, and said,

"Master, if you had been here, my brother would not have died!"

33 When Jesus saw her weep and the Jews who had come with her 34 weeping too, repressing a groan, and yet showing great agitation, he said,

"Where have you laid him?"

They answered,

"Come and see, Master."

35 Jesus shed tears. So the Jews said,

36 "See how much he loved him!"

37 But some of them said,

"Could not this man, who opened the eyes of that blind man, have kept Lazarus from dying?"

38 Again repressing a groan, Jesus went to the tomb. It was a cave 39 with a stone laid against the mouth of it. Jesus said,

"Move the stone away."

The dead man's sister, Martha, said to him,

"Master, by this time he is decaying, for he has been dead four days."

40 Jesus said to her,

"Have I not promised you that if you will believe in me you will see the glory of God?"

41 So they moved the stone away. And Jesus looked upward and said,

42 "Father, I thank you for listening to me, though I knew that you always listen to me. But I have said this for the sake of the people that are standing around me that they may believe that you have made me your messenger."

43 After saying this he called out in a loud voice,

"Lazarus, come out!"

44 The dead man came out, bound hand and foot with wrappings, and with his face muffled with a handkerchief. Jesus said to them,

"Unbind him and let him move."

45 So it came about that many of the Jews who had come to visit Mary 46 and saw what Jesus did, came to believe in him, but some of them went back to the Pharisees and told them what he had done.

47 Then the high priests and the Pharisees called a meeting of the council, and they said,

"What are we to do about the fact that this man is showing so 48 many signs? If we let him go on, everybody will believe in him, and then the Romans will come and put an end to our holy place and our people."

49 But one of them, Caiaphas, who was high priest that year, said to them,

50 "You know nothing about it. You do not realize that it is to your interest that one man should die for the people, instead of the whole nation being destroyed."

51 Now he was not self-moved in saying this, but as high priest for that year he was inspired to say that Jesus was to die for the nation—

52 and not only for the nation but also for the purpose of uniting the 53 scattered children of God. So from that day they planned to kill Jesus.

54 In consequence of this, Jesus did not appear in public among the Jews any longer, but he left that neighborhood and went to the district near the desert, to a town called Ephraim, and stayed there with his 55 disciples. Now the Jewish Passover Festival was approaching and many people went up to Jerusalem from the country, to purify them-56 selves before the Passover. So they were looking for Jesus there, and asking one another as they stood in the Temple,

“What do you think? Do you think he will not come to the festival at all?”

57 For the high priests and the Pharisees had given orders that anyone who found out where he was should let them know, so that they might arrest him.

12 Six days before the Passover Jesus came to Bethany, where Lazarus, 2 whom he had raised from the dead, was living. They gave a dinner for him there, and Martha waited on them, while Lazarus was at the 3 table with him. And Mary took a pound of choice perfume, very costly, and poured it on Jesus' feet, and then wiped his feet with her hair, and the whole house was filled with the fragrance of the per-4 fume. But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples, who was going to betray him, said,

5 “Why was this perfume not sold for sixty dollars, and the money given to the poor?”

6 But he did not say this because he cared about the poor, but because he was a thief and when he had charge of the purse he used to take 7 what was put in it. Jesus said,

8 “Let her alone; let her keep it for the day of my funeral, for you always have the poor among you, but you will not always have me.”

9 A great many of the Jews found out that he was there, and they came to Bethany not only to see Jesus but also to see Lazarus, whom 10 he had raised from the dead. But the high priests planned to kill 11 Lazarus also, for because of him many of the Jews were leaving them and becoming believers in Jesus.

12 On the following day the crowds that had come up to the festival, 13 hearing that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, got palm branches and went out to meet him, shouting,

“God bless him!

God bless him who comes in the Lord's name!

Blessings on the king of Israel!"

14 And Jesus found a young ass and mounted it, in accordance with the Scripture, 15 "Do not be afraid, Daughter of Zion!

See, your king is coming mounted on an ass's colt!"

16 His disciples did not understand this at the time but after Jesus was glorified they remembered that this was said of him in Scripture
17 and that it had happened to him. The crowd that had been with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him from the 18 dead was telling about it. That was why the crowd went out to meet 19 him, because they heard that he had showed that sign. So the Pharisees said to one another,

"You see, you cannot do anything! The whole world has run after him!"

20 There were some Greeks among those who had come up to worship
21 at the festival, and they went to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and made this request of him:

"Sir, we want to see Jesus."

22 Philip went and told Andrew, and Andrew and Philip went to 23 Jesus and told him. Jesus answered,

24 "The time has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. I tell you, unless a grain of wheat falls on the ground and dies, it remains just 25 one grain. But if it dies, it yields a great harvest. Whoever loves his life loses it, and whoever hates his life in this world will preserve it
26 for eternal life. If anyone serves me, he must follow me, and wherever I am found, my servant must be also. If anyone serves me, my Father
27 will show him honor. Now my heart is troubled; what am I to say? Father, save me from this trial! And yet it was for this very purpose
28 that I have come to this trial. Father, honor your own name!"

Then there came a voice from the sky,

"I have honored it, and I will honor it again!"

29 The crowd of bystanders heard it and said it was thunder. Others said,

"It was an angel speaking to him!"

30 Jesus answered,

31 "It was not for my sake that the voice came, but for yours. The judgment of this world is now in progress. Its evil genius is now to 32 be expelled, and if I am lifted up from the ground, I will draw all men to myself."

³³ He said this to show the kind of death he was going to die. The ³⁴ crowd answered,

“We have learned from the Law that the Christ is to remain here forever. So how can you say that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of Man?”

³⁵ Jesus said to them,

“You will have the light only a little while longer. Go on while you still have the light, so that darkness may not overtake you, for those who go about in the dark do not know where they are going.

³⁶ While you have the light believe in the light, that you may become sons of light.”

With these words Jesus went away, and disappeared from them.

³⁷ But for all the signs he had shown among them, they refused to

³⁸ believe in him, in fulfilment of the saying of the prophet Isaiah,

“Lord, who has believed our account?

And to whom has the Lord’s mighty arm been unveiled?”

³⁹ So they could not believe; for Isaiah says again,

⁴⁰ “He has made their eyes blind and their minds dull,

To keep them from seeing with their eyes, and understanding with their minds,

And turning to me to be cured.”

⁴¹ Isaiah said this because he saw his glory; it was of him that he

⁴² spoke. Yet for all that, even among the leading men, many came to believe in him, but on account of the Pharisees they would not

⁴³ acknowledge it, for fear of being excluded from the synagogues, for they cared more for the approval of men than for the approval of God.

⁴⁴ But Jesus cried loudly,

“Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who has

⁴⁵ sent me; and whoever sees me, sees him who has sent me. I have come into the world as a light, so that no one who believes in me

⁴⁶ may have to remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and disregards them, it is not I that judge him, for I have not come to

⁴⁷ judge the world but to save the world. Whoever rejects me and refuses to accept my teachings is not without his judge; the very mes-

⁴⁸ sage I have given will be his judge on the Last Day, for I have not spoken on my own account, but the Father who has sent me has himself

⁴⁹ given me orders what to tell and what to say. And I know his orders mean eternal life. So whatever I say, I say only as the Father has

⁵⁰ told me.”

13 Before the Passover Festival began, Jesus knew that the time had come for him to leave this world and go to the Father, but he had loved those who were his own in the world, and he loved them to
2 the last. So at supper—the devil having by this time put the thought of betraying Jesus into the mind of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son—
3 Jesus, fully aware that the Father had put everything into his hands, and that he had come from God and was going back to God, rose from the table, took off his outer clothing, and fastened a towel about 5 his waist. Then he poured water into the basin and began to wash the disciples' feet, wiping them with the towel that was about his 6 waist. So he came to Simon Peter. He said to him,

"Master, are you going to wash my feet?"

7 Jesus answered,

"You cannot understand now what I am doing, but you will learn by and by."

8 Peter said to him,

"I will never let you wash my feet!"

Jesus answered,

"You will have no share with me unless I wash you."

9 Simon Peter said to him,

"Master, wash not only my feet but my hands and my face too!"

10 Jesus said to him,

"Anyone who has bathed only needs to have his feet washed to be altogether clean. And you are already clean—though not all of you."

11 For he knew who was going to betray him; that was why he said, "You are not all of you clean."

12 When he had washed their feet and put on his clothes and taken his place, he said to them again,

13 "Do you understand what I have been doing to you? You call me 14 Teacher and Master, and you are right, for that is what I am. If I then, your Master and Teacher, have washed your feet, you ought to 15 wash one another's feet too. For I have set you an example, in order
16 that you may do what I have done to you. I tell you, no slave is superior to his master, and no messenger is greater than the man
17 who sends him. Now that you have this knowledge, you will be 18 blessed if you act upon it. I do not mean all of you; I know whom I have chosen; but let the Scripture be fulfilled:

"He who is eating my bread
Has raised his heel against me."

19 From now on I will tell you things before they happen, so that wher

20 they do happen you may believe that I am what I say. I assure you, whoever welcomes any messenger of mine welcomes me and whoever welcomes me welcomes him who has sent me."

21 After Jesus had said this he was greatly moved and said solemnly, "I tell you, it is one of you that will betray me!"

22 The disciples looked at one another in doubt as to which of them
23 he meant. Next to Jesus, at his right at the table, was one of his dis-24 ciples whom Jesus especially loved. So Simon Peter nodded to him and said to him,

"Tell us whom he means."

25 He leaned back from where he lay, on Jesus' breast, and said to him, "Master, who is it?"

26 Jesus answered,

"It is the one to whom I am going to give this piece of bread when I have dipped it in the dish." So he dipped the piece of bread and 27 took it and gave it to Judas, Simon Iscariot's son. After he took the bread, Satan took possession of him. Then Jesus said to him,

"Be quick about your business."

28 But no one else at the table knew what he meant by telling him
29 this, for some of them thought that as Judas had the purse Jesus meant to say to him, "Buy what we need for the festival," or to have him
30 give something to the poor. So immediately after taking the piece of bread he went out. It was then night.

31 When he was gone, Jesus said,

"Now the Son of Man has been honored, and God has been hon-32 ored through him, and God will through himself honor him; he will 33 honor him immediately. My children, I am to be with you only a little longer. You will look for me, but, as I said to the Jews, where 34 I am going you cannot follow. I give you a new command: Love one 35 another. Just as I have loved you, you must love one another. By this they will all know that you are my disciples—by your love for one another."

36 Simon Peter said to him,

"Master, where are you going?"

Jesus answered,

"I am going where you cannot follow me now, but you will follow me later."

37 Peter said to him,

"Master, why cannot I follow you now? I will lay down my life for you."

38 Jesus answered,

“You will lay down your life for me? I tell you, before a cock crows, you will disown me thrice over!

14 “Your minds must not be troubled; you must believe in God, and
2 believe in me. There are many rooms in my Father’s house; if there were not, I would have told you, for I am going away to make ready
3 a place for you. And if I go and make it ready, I will come back
4 and take you with me, so that you may be where I am. You know the way to the place where I am going.”

5 Thomas said to him,

“Master, we do not know where you are going; how can we know the way?”

6 Jesus said to him,

“I am Way and Truth and Life. No one can come to the Father
7 except through me. If you knew me, you would know my Father also. From now on you do know him and you have seen him.”

8 Philip said to him,

“Master, let us see the Father, and it will satisfy us.”

9 Jesus said to him,

“Have I been with you so long, and yet you, Philip, have not recognized me? Whoever has seen me has seen the Father. How 10 can you say, ‘Let us see the Father’? Do you not believe that I am in union with the Father and the Father is in union with me? I am not the source of the words that I say to you, but the Father who is 11 united with me is doing these things himself. You must believe that I am in union with the Father and that the Father is in union with 12 me, or else you must believe because of the things themselves. I tell you, whoever believes in me will do such things as I do, and things
13 greater yet, because I am going to the Father. Anything you ask for as followers of mine I will grant, so that the Father may be 14 honored through the Son. I will grant anything you ask me for as my followers.

16 “If you really love me, you will observe my commands. And I
15 will ask the Father and he will give you another Helper to be with 17 you always. It is the Spirit of Truth. The world cannot obtain that Spirit, because it does not see it or recognize it; you recognize it
18 because it stays with you and is within you. I am not going to leave 19 you friendless. I am coming back to you. In a little while the world will not see me any more, but you will still see me, because I shall 20 live on, and you will live on too. When that day comes you will

- know that I am in union with my Father and you are with me and ²¹ I am with you. It is he who has my commands and observes them that really loves me, and whoever loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and show myself to him.”
- ²² Judas (not Judas Iscariot), said to him,
 “Master, how does it happen that you are going to show yourself to us and not to the world?”
- ²³ Jesus answered,
 “Anyone who loves me will observe my teaching, and my Father
²⁴ will love him and we will come to him and live with him. No one who does not love me will observe my teaching, and yet the teaching you are listening to is not mine but is that of him who has sent me.
- ²⁵ “I have told you this while I am still staying with you, but the ²⁶ Helper, the holy Spirit which the Father will send in my place, will teach you everything and remind you of everything that I have told
²⁷ you. I leave you a blessing; I give you my own blessing. I do not give it to you as the world gives. Your minds must not be troubled
²⁸ or afraid. You have heard me say that I am going away and am coming back to you; if you loved me you would be glad that I am
²⁹ going to the Father, for the Father is greater than I. And I have told you of it now before it happens, in order that when it happens
³⁰ you may believe in me. I shall not talk much more with you, for the evil genius of the world is coming. He has nothing in common with ³¹ me, but he is coming that the world may know that I love the Father and am doing what he has commanded me to do. Come, let us go away.
- ¹⁵ (“I am the true vine, and my Father is the cultivator. Any branch
² of mine that does not bear fruit he trims away, and he prunes every ³ branch that bears fruit, to make it bear more.) You are pruned already ⁴ because of the teaching that I have given you. You must remain united to me and I will remain united to you. Just as no branch can bear fruit by itself unless it remains united to the vine, you cannot ⁵ unless you remain united to me. I am the vine, you are the branches. Anyone who remains united to me, with me united to him, will be
⁶ very fruitful, for you cannot do anything apart from me. Anyone who does not remain united to me is thrown away like a branch and withers up, and they gather them and throw them into the fire and
⁷ burn them. If you remain united to me and my words remain in ⁸ your hearts, ask for whatever you please and you shall have it. When you are very fruitful and show yourselves to be disciples of mine, my 9 Father is honored. I have loved you just as the Father has loved me.

10 You must retain my love. If you keep my commands you will retain 11 my love, just as I have observed the Father's commands and retain his love. I have told you all this so that you may have the happiness 12 that I have had, and your happiness may be complete. The command 13 that I give you is to love one another just as I have loved you. No one 14 can show greater love than by giving up his life for his friends. You 15 are my friends if you do what I command you to do. I do not call you slaves any longer, for a slave does not know what his master is doing, but now I call you friends, for I have made known to you 16 everything that I have learned from my Father. It was not you who chose me, it is I that have chosen you, and appointed you to go and bear fruit—fruit that shall be lasting, so that the Father may grant you whatever you ask him for as my followers.

17 18 "What I command you to do is to love one another. If the world 19 hates you, remember that it hated me first. If you belonged to the world, the world would love what was its own. But it is because you do not belong to the world, but I have selected you from the world, 20 that the world hates you. Remember what I said to you: No slave is greater than his master. If they have persecuted me they will persecute you too. If they have observed my teaching, they will 21 observe yours too. But they will do all this to you on my account, 22 because they do not understand him who sent me. If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but as it is, 23 they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father 24 also. If I had not done things before them that no one else ever did they would not be guilty of sin. But as it is, they have seen both me 25 and my Father, and they have hated us both. But the saying of their 26 Law, 'They hated me without cause,' must be fulfilled. When the Helper comes whom I will send to you from the Father—that Spirit of Truth that comes from the Father—he will bear testimony to me, 27 and you must bear testimony too, because you have been with me from the first.

16 "I have told you this to keep you from faltering. They will exclude
2 you from their synagogues; why, the time is coming when anyone
3 who kills you will think he is doing religious service to God. They 4 will do this because they do not know the Father or me. But I have told you about these things in order that when the time comes for them to happen, you may remember that I told you of them. I did not 5 tell you this at first because I was still staying with you. But now I am going away to him who sent me, and not one of you asks me where 6 I am going, but your minds are full of sorrow because I have told you

7 this. Yet it is only the truth when I tell you that it is better for you that I should go away. For if I do not go, the Helper will not come 8 to you, but if I go I will send him to you. When he comes, he will bring conviction to the world about sin and uprightness and judg-9 ment; about sin, as shown in their not believing in me; about 10 uprightness, as shown by my going away to the Father, where 11 you can no longer see me; and about judgment, as shown by the 12 condemnation of the evil genius of this world. I have much more 13 to tell you, but you cannot take it in now, but when the Spirit of Truth comes, he will guide you into the full truth, for he will not speak for himself but will tell what he hears, and will announce to 14 you the things that are to come. He will do honor to me, for he will 15 take what is mine and communicate it to you. All that the Father has belongs to me. That is why I said that he will take what is mine and communicate it to you.

16 “In a little while you will not see me any longer, and a little while after, you will see me again.”

17 Then some of his disciples said to one another,

“What does he mean when he tells us, ‘In a little while you will not see me any longer, and a little while after, you will see me again,’ 18 and ‘Because I am going away to the Father?’” So they kept saying “What does he mean by ‘In a little while’? We do not know what he is talking about.”

19 Jesus saw that they wanted to ask him a question, and he said to
them,

“Are you asking one another about my saying ‘In a little while you will not see me any longer, and a little while after, you will see 20 me again’? I tell you, you will weep and wail while the world will be happy; you will grieve, but your grief will change to happiness.
21 When a woman is in labor she is sorrowful, for her time has come;
but when the child is born, she forgets her pain in her joy that a human 22 being has been brought into the world. So you, too, are sorrowful now; but I will see you again, and your hearts will be happy, and no 23 one will rob you of your happiness. When that time comes, you will not ask me any questions; I tell you, whatever you ask the Father for, 24 he will give you as my followers. Hitherto you have not asked for anything as my followers, but now ask, and you will receive, so that your happiness may be complete.

25 “I have said all this to you in figurative language, but a time is coming when I shall not do so any longer, but will tell you plainly 26 about the Father. When that time comes you will ask as my followers, 27 and I do not promise to intercede with the Father for you, for the Father loves you himself because you love me and believe that I have 28 come from the Father. I did come from the Father and enter the world. Now I am leaving the world again and going back to the Father.”

29 His disciples said,

“Why, now you are talking plainly and not speaking figuratively 30 at all. Now we know that you know everything and do not need to have anyone ask you questions. This makes us believe that you have really come from God.”

31 Jesus answered,

32 “Do you believe that now? Why, a time is coming—it has already come!—when you will all be scattered to your homes and will leave 33 me alone. And yet I am not alone, for the Father is with me. I have told you all this, so that through me you may find peace. In the world you have trouble; but take courage! I have conquered the world.”

17 When Jesus had said all this he raised his eyes to heaven and said, “Father, the time has come. Do honor to your son, that your son

2 may do honor to you, just as you have done in giving him power over all mankind, so that he may give eternal life to all whom you have 3 given him. And eternal life means knowing you as the only true God, 4 and knowing Jesus your messenger as Christ. I have done honor to you here on earth, by completing the work which you gave me to do.
5 Now, Father, do such honor to me in your presence as I had done me there before the world existed.

6 “I have revealed your real self to the men you gave me from the world. They were yours and you gave them to me, and they have 7 obeyed your message. Now at last they know that all that you have 8 given me comes from you, for I have given them the truths that you gave me, and they have accepted them and been convinced that I 9 came from you, and they believe that you sent me. I have a request to make for them. I make no request for the world, but only for those 10 whom you have given me, for they are yours—all that is mine is yours
11 and what is yours is mine—and they have done me honor. Now I am to be no longer in this world, but they are to remain in the world, while I return to you. Holy Father, keep them by your power which 12 you gave me, so that they may be one just as we are. As long as I was with them I kept them by your power which you gave me, and I protected them, and not one of them was lost (except the one who was destined to be lost), so that what the Scripture says might come true.

13 But now I am coming to you, and I say this here in this world in order that they may have the happiness that I feel fully realized in

14 their own hearts. I have given them your message, and the world has come to hate them, for they do not belong to the world any more

15 than I belong to the world. I do not ask you to take them away from 16 the world, but to keep them from evil. They do not belong to the 17 world any more than I belong to the world. Consecrate them by

18 truth. Your message is truth. Just as you sent me to the world, I

19 have sent them to the world. And it is for their sake that I consecrate myself, that they also may be consecrated by truth.

20 ("It is not for them only that I make this request. It is also for those

21 who through their message come to believe in me. Let them all be one. Just as you, Father, are in union with me and I am with you, let them be in union with us, so that the world may believe that you

22 sent me. I have given them the glory that you gave me, so that they

23 may be one just as we are, I in union with them and you with me, so that they may be perfectly unified, and the world may recognize that

24 you sent me and that you love them just as you loved me.) Father, I wish to have those whom you have given me with me where I am, to see my glory that you have given me, for you loved me before the

25 creation of the world. Righteous Father, though the world did not

26 know you, I knew you, and these men knew that you had sent me. I have made your self known to them and I will do so still, so that the love which you have had for me may be in their hearts, and I may be there also."

18 When Jesus had said this, he went out with his disciples to the other side of the Ravine of the Cedars where there was a garden, and

2 he went into it with his disciples. Judas who betrayed him also knew

3 the place, for Jesus often met his disciples there. So Judas got out the garrison and some attendants from the high priests and Pharisees, and

4 came there with lanterns, torches, and weapons. Then Jesus, as he knew everything that was going to happen to him, came forward and said to them,

"Who is it you are looking for?"

5 They answered,

"Jesus of Nazareth."

He said to them,

“I am he.”

6 Judas who betrayed him was standing among them. When Jesus 7 said to them, “I am he,” they drew back and fell to the ground. Then he asked them again,

“Who is it you are looking for?”

“Jesus of Nazareth.”

8 Jesus answered,

“I have told you that I am he, so if you are looking for me, let 9 these men go.” This was to fulfil the saying he had uttered, “I have not lost one of those whom you have given me.”

10 Then Simon Peter, who had a sword with him, drew it and struck at the high priest’s slave and cut off his right ear. The slave’s name 11 was Malchus. Then Jesus said to Peter,

“Put your sword back into the sheath. Shall I not drink the cup which the Father has offered me?”

12 So the garrison and the colonel and the attendants of the Jews 13 seized Jesus and bound him, and they took him first to Annas. For he was the father-in-law of Caiaphas, who was high priest that year.
14 Now it was Caiaphas who had advised the Jews that it was for their interest that one man should die for the people.

15 But Simon Peter and another disciple followed Jesus. This other disciple was an acquaintance of the high priest, and he went on with 16 Jesus into the high priest’s courtyard, while Peter stood outside at the door. So this other disciple, the acquaintance of the high priest, went 17 out and spoke to the woman at the door and brought Peter in. The maid at the door said to Peter,

“Are you also one of this man’s disciples?”

He said,

“No, I am not.”

18 As it was cold the slaves and attendants had made a charcoal fire, and stood about it warming themselves. And Peter also was among them, standing and warming himself.

19 Then the high priest questioned Jesus about his disciples and his 20 teaching. Jesus answered,

“I have spoken openly to the world. I have always taught in synagogues or in the Temple where all the Jews meet together, and I 21 have said nothing in secret. Why do you question me? Ask those who have heard me what it was that I said to them. They will know what I have said.”

- 22 When he said this, one of the attendants who stood near struck him and said,
"Is that the way you answer the high priest?"
- 23 Jesus replied,
"If I have said anything wrong, testify to it; but if what I have said is true, why do you strike me?"
- 24 So Annas sent him over still bound to Caiaphas the high priest.
- 25 But Simon Peter still stood warming himself. So they said to him,
"Are you also one of his disciples?"
He denied it and said,
"No, I am not."
- 26 One of the high priest's slaves, a relative of the man whose ear Peter had cut off, said,
"Did I not see you with him in the garden?"
- 27 Peter again denied it, and at that moment a cock crowed.
- 28 Then they took Jesus from Caiaphas to the governor's house. It was early in the morning, and they would not go into the governor's house themselves, to avoid being ceremonially defiled and to be able
- 29 to eat the Passover supper. So Pilate came outside to them, and said,
"What charge do you make against this man?"
- 30 They answered,
"If he were not a criminal, we would not have turned him over to you."
- 31 Pilate said to them,
"Take him yourselves, and try him by your law."
The Jews said to him,
"We have no authority to put anyone to death."
- 32 This was to fulfil what Jesus said when he declared how he was to die.
- 33 So Pilate went back into the governor's house and called Jesus and said to him,
"Are you the king of the Jews?"
- 34 Jesus answered,
"Did you think of that yourself, or has someone else said it to you about me?"
- 35 Pilate answered,
"Do you take me for a Jew? Your own people and the high priests handed you over to me. What offense have you committed?"
- 36 Jesus answered,
"My kingdom is not a kingdom of this world. If my kingdom were a kingdom of this world, my men would have fought to keep me from being handed over to the Jews. But as it is, my kingdom has no such origin."

37 Pilate said to him,
"Then you are a king?"

Jesus answered,
"As you say, I am a king. It was for this that I was born and for this that I came to the world, to give testimony for truth. Everyone who is on the side of truth listens to my voice."

38 Pilate said to him,
"What is truth!"

With these words he went outside again to the Jews, and said to them,

39 "I can find nothing to charge him with. But it is your custom to have me release one man for you at Passover time. Do you want me therefore to release the king of the Jews for you?"

40 Then they shouted back,
"No! Not him, but Barabbas!"

Now Barabbas was a robber.

19 Then Pilate took Jesus and had him flogged. And the soldiers
2 made a wreath out of thorns and put it on his head, and put a purple
3 coat on him, and they marched up to him, saying,

"Long live the king of the Jews!"

4 each one giving him a blow. And Pilate went outside again and said to the Jews,

"See! I will bring him out to you, to show you that I can find nothing to charge him with."

5 So Jesus came out, still wearing the wreath of thorns and the purple coat. And Pilate said to them,

"Here is the man!"

6 When the high priests and their attendants saw him, they shouted,
"Have him crucified! Have him crucified!"

Pilate said to them,

"Take him yourselves and have him crucified, for I can find nothing to charge him with."

7 The Jews answered,

"We have a law, and by our law he deserves death, for declaring himself to be a son of God."

8 When Pilate heard that, he was more frightened than before and 9 he went back into the governor's house and said to Jesus,

“Where do you come from?”

10 But Jesus made no answer. Then Pilate said to him,

“Do you refuse to speak to me? Do you not know that it is in my power to release you or to have you crucified?”

11 Jesus answered him,

“You would have no power at all over me, if it were not given to you from above. So you are less guilty than the man who betrayed me to you.”

12 This made Pilate try to find a way to let him go, but the Jews shouted,

“If you let him go, you are no friend of the emperor’s! Anyone who calls himself a king utters treason against the emperor!”

13 When Pilate heard that, he had Jesus brought out and had him sit in the judge’s seat in the place they call the Stone Platform, or in 14 Hebrew, Gabbatha. It was the day of Preparation for the Passover, and it was about noon. And Pilate said to the Jews,

“There is your king!”

15 At that they shouted,

“Kill him! Kill him! Have him crucified!”

Pilate said to them,

“Am I to crucify your king?”

The high priests answered,

“We have no king but the emperor!”

16 Then Pilate handed him over to them to be crucified.

17 So they took Jesus, and he went out carrying the cross by himself
18 to a spot called the Place of the Skull, or in Hebrew, Golgotha. There they crucified him, with two others, one on each side and Jesus in the 19 middle. Pilate had written a placard and had it put on the cross;
20 it read “Jesus the Nazarene, the king of the Jews.” Many of the Jews read this placard, for the place where Jesus was crucified was 21 near the city, and it was written in Hebrew, Latin, and Greek. So the Jewish high priests said to Pilate,

“Do not write ‘The king of the Jews,’ but write ‘He said, I am the king of the Jews.’”

22 Pilate answered,

“What I have written, I have written!”

23 When the soldiers had crucified Jesus, they took his clothes and divided them into four parts, one for each soldier, besides his shirt. Now his shirt had no seam; it was woven in one piece from top to 24 bottom. So they said to one another,

“Let us not tear it, but let us draw for it, to see who gets it.” This was to fulfil what the Scripture says:

“They divided my garments among them,
And for my clothing they cast lots.”

25 This was what the soldiers did. Near Jesus’ cross stood his mother and her sister Mary, the daughter of Clopas, and Mary of Magdala.

26 So Jesus, seeing his mother and the disciple whom he loved standing near, said to his mother,

“There is your son!”

27 Then he said to his disciple,

“There is your mother!”

And from that time his disciple took her into his home.

28 After that, Jesus, knowing that everything was now finished, to fulfil the saying of Scripture, said,

“I am thirsty.”

29 A bowl of sour wine was standing there. So they put a sponge soaked in the wine on a pike and held it to his lips. When Jesus had taken the wine, he said,

“It is finished!”

Then bowing his head he gave up his spirit.

31 As it was the day of Preparation for the Passover, in order that the bodies might not be left on the crosses over the Sabbath, for that Sabbath was an especially important one, the Jews asked Pilate to have

32 the men’s legs broken and the bodies removed. So the soldiers went and broke the legs of the first man and then of the other who had been

33 crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus they saw that he

34 was dead already, and they did not break his legs, but one of the soldiers thrust a lance into his side, and blood and water immediately

35 flowed out. The man who saw it testifies to it—his testimony is true;

36 he knows that he is telling the truth—to lead you also to believe. For this happened to fulfil what the Scripture says:

“Not one of its bones will be broken.”

37 Moreover, it says in another place,

“They shall look at the man whom they pierced.”

38 After this, Joseph, of Arimathea, who was a disciple of Jesus, but a secret one, because of his fear of the Jews, asked Pilate to let him remove Jesus’ body, and Pilate gave him permission. So Joseph went

39 and took the body down. And Nicodemus also, who had first come to Jesus at night, went, taking a roll of myrrh and aloes weighing

40 about a hundred pounds. So they took Jesus’ body, and wrapped it with the spices in bandages, in the Jewish way of preparing bodies for 41 burial. There was a garden at the place where Jesus had been crucified, and in the garden was a new tomb in which no one had yet been laid.

42 So because it was the Jewish Preparation day, and the tomb was close by, they put Jesus there.

20 On the day after the Sabbath, very early in the morning while it was still dark, Mary of Magdala went to the tomb, and she saw that 2 the stone had been removed from it. So she ran away and went to Simon Peter and the other disciple who was dear to Jesus, and said
to them,

“They have taken the Master out of the tomb, and we do not know where they have put him.”

3 So Peter and the other disciple went out of the city and started for 4 the tomb. And they both ran, and the other disciple ran faster than 5 Peter and got to the tomb first. And he stooped down and saw the 6 bandages lying on the ground, but he did not go in. Then Simon
Peter came up behind him, and he went inside the tomb, and saw 7 the bandages lying on the ground, and the handkerchief that had been over Jesus' face not on the ground with the bandages, but folded up 8 by itself. Then the other disciple who had reached the tomb first 9 went inside too, and saw and was convinced. For they did not yet understand the statement of Scripture that he must rise from the dead.
10 So the disciples went home again.

11 But Mary stood just outside the tomb, weeping. And as she wept
12 she looked down into the tomb, and saw two angels in white sitting 13 where Jesus' body had been, one at his head and one at his feet. And they said to her,

“Why are you weeping?”

She said to them,

“They have taken my Master away, and I do not know where they have put him.”

14 As she said this she turned around and saw Jesus standing there, 15 but she did not know that it was he. Jesus said to her,

“Why are you weeping? Who are you looking for?”

She, supposing that he was the gardener, said to him,

“If it was you, sir, that carried him away, tell me where you have put him, and I will take him away.”

16 “Mary!” said Jesus.

She turned and said to him in Hebrew,

“Rabbouni!” which means Master.

- 17 Jesus said to her,
"You must not cling to me, for I have not yet gone up to my Father, but go to my brothers and say to them that I am going up to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God."
- 18 Mary of Magdala went and declared to the disciples,
"I have seen the Master!"
and she told them that he had said this to her.
- 19 When it was evening on that first day after the Sabbath, and the doors of the house where the disciples met were locked for fear of the Jews, Jesus came in and stood among them and said to them,
"Peace be with you!"
- 20 Then he showed them his hands and his side, and the disciples were 21 full of joy at seeing the Master. Jesus said to them again,
"Peace be with you! Just as my Father sent me forth so I now send you."
- 22 As he said this he breathed upon them, and said, 23 "Receive the holy Spirit! If you forgive any men's sins, they are forgiven them, and if you fix any men's sins upon them, they will remain fixed."
- 24 But Thomas, one of the Twelve, who was called the Twin, was 25 not with them when Jesus came in. So the rest of the disciples said to him,
"We have seen the Master!"
But he said to them,
"Unless I see the marks of the nails in his hands, and put my finger into them, and put my hand into his side, I will never believe it!"
- 26 A week after, the disciples were again in the house, and Thomas was with them. Although the doors were locked, Jesus came in and stood among them, and said,
"Peace be with you!"
- 27 Then he said to Thomas,
"Put your finger here and look at my hands, and take your hand and put it in my side, and be no longer unbelieving, but believe!"
- 28 Thomas answered him,
"My Master and my God!"
- 29 Jesus said to him,
"Is it because you have seen me that you believe? Blessed be those who believe without having seen me!"
- 30 There were many other signs that Jesus showed before his disciples 31 which are not recorded in this book. But these have been recorded so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and through believing you may have life as his followers.

21 After this Jesus again showed himself to the disciples at the Sea
2 of Tiberias, and he did so in this way. Simon Peter, Thomas called the Twin, Nathanael, of Cana in Galilee, the sons of Zebedee, and 3 two other disciples of Jesus were all together. Simon Peter said to them,

“I am going fishing.”

They said to him,

“We will go with you.”

They went out and got into the boat, and that night they caught
4 nothing. But just as day was breaking, Jesus stood on the beach,
5 though the disciples did not know that it was he. So Jesus said to them,

“Children, have you any fish?”

They answered,

“No.”

6 “Throw your net in on the right of the boat,” he said to them, “and you will find them.”

They did so, and they could not haul it in for the quantity of fish
7 in it. Then the disciple who was dear to Jesus said to Peter,

“It is the Master!”

When Simon Peter heard that it was the Master, he put on his 8 clothes, for he had taken them off, and sprang into the sea. The rest of the disciples followed in the boat, for they were not far from land, 9 only about a hundred yards, dragging in the net full of fish. When they landed they saw a charcoal fire burning, with a fish on it, and 10 some bread. Jesus said to them,

“Bring some of the fish you have just caught.”

11 So Simon Peter got into the boat, and hauled the net ashore, full of large fish, a hundred and fifty-three of them, and though there 12 were so many, the net was not torn. Jesus said to them,

“Come and have breakfast.”

None of the disciples dared to ask him who he was, for they knew 13 it was the Master. Jesus went and got the bread and gave it to them, 14 and the fish also. This was the third time that Jesus showed himself to his disciples, after he had risen from the dead.

15 When they had finished breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, “Simon, son of John, are you more devoted to me than these others are?”

- Peter said to him,
"Yes, Master, you know that I love you."
Jesus said to him,
"Then feed my lambs!"
- 16 Again Jesus said to him a second time,
"Simon, son of John, are you devoted to me?"
He said to him,
"Yes, Master, you know that I love you."
Jesus said to him,
"Then be a shepherd to my sheep!"
- 17 Jesus said to him a third time,
"Simon, son of John, do you love me?"
Peter was hurt because the third time Jesus asked him if he loved him, and he answered,
"Master, you know everything, you can see that I love you."
Jesus said to him,
- 18 "Then feed my sheep! I tell you, when you were young, you used to put on your own girdle and go where you pleased, but when you grow old, you will stretch out your hands and someone else will put a girdle on you and take you where you have no wish to go."
- 19 He said this to show the kind of death by which Peter was to honor God; and after he had said it he said to Peter,
"Follow me!"
- 20 Peter turned and saw following them the disciple who was very dear to Jesus, who at the supper leaned back on Jesus' breast and said,
- 21 "Master, who is it that is going to betray you?" When Peter saw him, he said to Jesus,
"But, Master, what about him?"
- 22 Jesus said to him,
"If I wish him to wait till I come, what does it matter to you? You must follow me."
- 23 So the story spread among the brothers that this disciple was not going to die. But Jesus did not tell him that he was not going to die; he said, "If I wish him to wait till I come, what does it matter to you?"
- 24 It is this disciple who testifies to these things and who wrote them down, and we know that his testimony is true.
- 25 There are many other things that Jesus did, so many in fact that if they were all written out, I do not suppose that the world itself would hold the books that would have to be written.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES

1 In my first volume, Theophilus, I dealt with all that Jesus did and 2 taught from the beginning until the day when through the holy Spirit he gave the apostles he had chosen their instructions, and was taken 3 up to heaven. He had shown himself alive to them after he had suffered, in many convincing ways, appearing to them through forty 4 days, and telling them about the Kingdom of God. And once when he ate with them, he instructed them not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait for what the Father had promised.

5 "You have heard me speak of it," he said, "for John baptized people in water, but in a few days you will be baptized in the holy Spirit."

6 So those who were present asked him,

"Master, is this the time when you are going to re-establish the kingdom for Israel?"

7 He said to them,

"It is not for you to know times and dates which the Father has 8 fixed by his own authority, but you will be given power when the holy Spirit comes upon you, and you will be witnesses for me in Jerusalem and all over Judea and Samaria and to the very ends of the earth."

9 As he said this, he was caught up before their eyes and a cloud took 10 him up from their sight. And while they were gazing after him into 11 the sky, two men dressed in white suddenly stood beside them, and said to them,

"Men of Galilee, why do you stand looking up into the sky? This very Jesus who has been caught up from you into heaven will come in just the way that you have seen him go up to heaven."

12 Then they went back to Jerusalem from the hill called the Olive-orchard, which is near Jerusalem, half a mile away.

13 When they entered the city they went to the upstairs room where they were staying. There were Peter, John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James, the son of 14 Alpheus, Simon the Zealot, and Judas, the son of James. They were all devoting themselves with one mind to prayer, with the women and Mary, Jesus' mother, and his brothers.

15 It was at that time that Peter got up among the brothers—there were about a hundred and twenty persons present—and said,

16 “Brothers, the prediction of the Scriptures had to come true that 17 the holy Spirit uttered by the lips of David, about Judas, who acted 18 as guide for the men that arrested Jesus—for he was one of our num-19 ber and a share in this ministry of ours fell to his lot.” (This man bought a piece of land with the money paid him for his treachery, and his body swelled up and burst open in the middle and all his vitals 20 poured out. This fact was well known to all the residents of Jerusalem, so that the piece of land came to be called in their language Akeldama-21 ch, the bloody field.) “For in the Book of Psalms it is written, “Let his estate be desolate, with no one to live on it,’
and

“Let someone else take his position.”

21 “So one of the men who has been associated with us all the time 22 that the Lord Jesus moved about among us, from his baptism by John to the time when he was caught up from us, must join us as a witness to his resurrection.”

23 Then they proposed two men, Joseph called Barsabbas, who was 24 known as Justus, and Matthias. And they prayed, saying,

“Lord, you who know all hearts, show us which one of these two 25 you have chosen to take this place of service as an apostle which Judas left to go where he belonged.”

26 Then they drew lots between them, and the lot fell on Matthias, and he was added to the eleven apostles.

2 On the day of the Harvest Festival, they were all meeting together,
2 when suddenly there came from the sky a sound like a violent blast
3 of wind, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting. And they saw tongues like flames separating and settling one on the head 4 of each of them, and they were all filled with the holy Spirit and began to say in foreign languages whatever the Spirit prompted them to utter.

5 Now there were devout Jews from every part of the world living
6 in Jerusalem. And when this sound was heard, the crowd gathered in great excitement, because each one heard them speaking in his 7 own language. They were perfectly amazed and said in their astonishment,

8 “Are not all these men who are speaking Galileans? Then how 9 is it that each of us hears his own native tongue? Parthians, Medes, Elamites, residents of Mesopotamia, of Judea and Cappadocia, of 10 Pontus and Asia, of Phrygia and Pamphylia, of Egypt and the district of Africa about Cyrene, visitors from Rome, Jews and proselytes,

11 Cretans and Arabs—we all hear them tell in our native tongues the mighty deeds of God.”

12 And they were all amazed and bewildered and said to one another, “What can this mean?”

13 But others said derisively, “They have had too much new wine!”

14 Then Peter stood up with the eleven around him, and raising his voice addressed them.

“Men of Judea,” he said, “and all you residents of Jerusalem, let me explain this to you, and pay attention to what I say. These men are not drunk as you suppose, for it is only nine in the morning. But this is what was predicted by the prophet Joel,

17 “It will come about in the last days, God says,
That I will pour out my Spirit upon all mankind;
Your sons and daughters will become prophets,
Your young men will have visions,
And your old men will have dreams.

18 Even on my slaves, both men and women,
I will pour out my Spirit in those days,
And they will become prophets.

19 I will show wonders in the sky above,
And signs on the earth below,
Blood and fire and thick smoke.

20 The sun will turn to darkness,
And the moon to blood,
Before the coming of the great, splendid Day of the Lord.

21 Then everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved.”

22 “Men of Israel, listen to what I say. Jesus of Nazareth, as you know, was a man whom God commended to you by the wonders, portents, and signs that God did right among you through him. But you, by the fixed purpose and intention of God, handed him over to wicked men, and had him crucified. But God set aside the pain of death and raised him up, for death could not control him. For David says of him,

“I constantly regarded the Lord before me,
For he is at my right hand, so that I may not be displaced.

26 Therefore my heart is glad, and my tongue rejoices,
And my body will still live in hope.

27 For you will not desert my soul in death,
You will not let your Holy One be destroyed.

- 28 You have made the ways of life known to me,
And you will fill me with joy in your presence.’
- 29 “Brothers, one may say to you confidently of the patriarch David that he died and was buried, and his grave is here among us to this 30 very day. But as he was a prophet, and knew that God had promised him with an oath that he would put one of his descendants upon his 31 throne, he foresaw the resurrection of the Christ and told of it, for 32 he was not deserted in death and his body was not destroyed. He is Jesus, whom God raised from the dead, and to whose resurrection
33 we are all witnesses. So he has been exalted to God’s right hand, and has received from his Father and poured over us the holy Spirit that had been promised, as you see and hear.
- 34 “For David did not go up to heaven, but he said,
“The Lord said to my lord, Sit at my right hand,
35 Until I make your enemies your footstool.’
- 36 “Therefore the whole nation of Israel must understand that God has declared this Jesus whom you crucified both Lord and Christ.”
- 37 When they heard this, they were stung to the heart, and they said to Peter and the rest of the apostles, “Brothers, what shall we do?”
- 38 Peter said to them,
“You must repent, and every one of you be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, in order to have your sins forgiven; then you will 39 receive the gift of the holy Spirit, for the promise of it belongs to you and your children, as well as to all those far away whom the Lord our God calls to him.”
- 40 He said much more besides in giving his testimony, and urged 41 them to save themselves from that crooked age. So they welcomed his message and were baptized, and about three thousand people joined 42 them that day. And they devoted themselves to the teaching and the society of the apostles, the breaking of bread, and prayer.
- 43 Everyone felt a sense of awe, and many wonders and signs were 44 done by the apostles. The believers all shared everything they had 45 with one another, and sold their property and belongings, and divided
46 the money with all the rest, according to their special needs. Day after day they all went regularly to the Temple, they broke their bread together in their homes, and they ate their food with glad and 47 simple hearts, constantly praising God and respected by all the people. And every day the Lord added people who were saved to their number.

3 Peter and John were on their way up to the Temple for the three 2 o'clock hour of prayer, when a man who had been lame from his birth was carried by. He used to be placed every day at what was known as the Beautiful Gate of the Temple, to beg from the people 3 on their way into the Temple, and when he saw Peter and John on the point of going into the Temple he asked them to give him some-4 thing. Peter fixed his eyes on him, as John did also, and said to him,
"Look at us!"

5 He looked at them, supposing that they were going to give him
6 something. But Peter said,

"I have no silver or gold, but I will give you what I have. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk!"

7 And he took him by the right hand and raised him up, and his feet 8 and ankles immediately became strong, and he sprang to his feet and began to walk, and he went into the Temple with them, walking, 9 leaping, and praising God. When all the people saw him walking 10 about, praising God, and recognized him as the man who used to sit and beg at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple, they were perfectly astonished and amazed at what had happened to him.

11 And as he still clung to Peter and John, all the people crowded about them in the utmost astonishment in what was known as Solo-12 mon's Colonnade. When Peter saw this, he said to the people.

"Men of Israel, why are you so surprised at this? Why do you stare so at us, as though it were some power or some piety of ours that 13 had made him able to walk? The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our forefathers, has done this honor to his servant Jesus, whom you betrayed and disowned before Pilate, when he had decided 14 to let him go. But you disowned the Holy, Righteous One. You 15 asked to have a murderer released for you, and killed the very source 16 of life. But God raised him from the dead, as we can testify. It is by his power and through faith in him that this man whom you see and recognize has been made strong again, and it is faith inspired 17 by him that has given him the perfect health you all see. Yet I know, brothers, that you did not know what you were doing, any more than 18 your leaders did; it was in this way that God fulfilled what he by all 19 the prophets foretold that his Christ must suffer. So repent and turn to God, to have your sins wiped out, and happier times will come from 20 the presence of the Lord, and he will send Jesus, your destined Christ.
21 Yet he must remain in heaven till the time for the universal reformation of which God told in ancient times by the lips of his holy prophets.

22 Moses said, "The Lord God will raise up a prophet for you from among your brothers, as he raised me up. You must listen to everything
23 that he tells you. Anyone that will not listen to that prophet will be 24 annihilated from among the people." Why, all the prophets from 25 Samuel down, who have spoken, have also foretold these days. You are the descendants of the prophets and the heirs of the agreement that God made with your forefathers when he said to Abraham, "Through your posterity all the families of the earth will be blessed." It was to you that God first sent his servant after he had raised him from the dead, to bless you by making every one of you turn from his wickedness."

4 As they were talking in this way to the people, the high priests, the commander of the Temple, and the Sadducees came up to them,
2 greatly disturbed because they were teaching the people and declaring that in the case of Jesus there had been a resurrection from the dead.
3 They arrested them, and as it was already evening, they shut them
4 up until next morning. But many of those who had heard what they said believed it, and their number grew to be about five thousand.

5 On the next day the leading members of the council, the elders,
6 and the scribes met in Jerusalem, with Annas the high priest, Caiaphas, John, Alexander, and all who belonged to the high priest's family.
7 They had the apostles brought before them and demanded of them,
"By what power or authority have men like you done this?"

8 Then Peter, filled with the holy Spirit, said to them,

9 "Leaders of the people and members of the council, if it is for a benefit conferred upon a helpless man, and as to how he was cured,
10 that we are called to account here today, you and the people of Israel must all know that it is through the power of Jesus Christ of Nazareth whom you crucified but whom God raised from the dead, that he
11 stands here before you well. He is the stone that you builders rejected, which has become the cornerstone. There is no salvation through anyone else, for there is no one else in the world who has been named to men as their only means of being saved."

13 They were amazed to see how outspoken Peter and John were, and to find that they were uneducated men with no advantages. They 14 recognized them as companions of Jesus, and seeing the man who 15 had been cured standing beside them, they had nothing to say. But they ordered them out of the presence of the council and conferred 16 together. They said,

"What are we to do with these men? For it is plain to everyone in Jerusalem that an extraordinary wonder has been done by them.

17 We cannot deny that. But to keep it from spreading farther among the people, let us warn them to say nothing to anyone else at all about this person."

18 So they called them in and ordered them not to speak or teach at 19 all about the name of Jesus. But Peter and John answered them,
"You must decide whether it is right in the sight of God to obey 20 you instead of him, for we cannot help telling of what we have seen and heard."

21 But after further threats they let them go, as they could find no way to punish them, on account of the people, who were all giving
22 honor to God for what had happened, for the man on whom this wonder of healing had been done was more than forty years old.

23 After being released, the apostles went back to their friends, and told them what the high priests and members of the council had said
24 to them. When they heard it, with one impulse they all raised their voices to God and said,

"Master, it was you who made heaven, earth, and sea, and every-25 thing that is in them, and who said through the holy Spirit by the lips of our forefather David, your slave,

" 'Why did the heathen rage,
And the peoples form vain designs?
26 The kings of the earth stood by,
And the rulers assembled
Against the Lord and against his Christ.'"

27 For they have assembled here in this city against your holy servant Jesus, whom you had consecrated—Herod and Pontius Pilate, with 28 the heathen and the peoples of Israel, to carry out what your hand and will had destined should happen. And now, Lord, take note of 29 their threats, and give your slaves the power to utter your message
30 fearlessly, when you stretch out your hand to heal, and signs and wonders are done by the power of your holy servant Jesus."

31 When they had prayed, the place where they were meeting shook, and they were all filled with the holy Spirit, and fearlessly uttered God's message.

32 There was but one heart and soul in the multitude who had become believers, and not one of them claimed anything that belonged to him as his own, but they shared everything they had with one
33 another. The apostles gave their testimony to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus with great power, and God's favor rested richly upon

34 them. No one among them was in any want, for any who owned lands or houses would sell them and bring the proceeds of the sale 35 and put them at the disposal of the apostles; then they were shared 36 with everyone in proportion to his need. Joseph, a Levite, and a native of Cyprus, whom the apostles had named Barnabas, which means 37 Son of Encouragement, sold a piece of land that belonged to him, and brought the proceeds and put them at the disposal of the apostles.
5 But a man named Ananias, who, with his wife Sapphira, had sold 2 a piece of property, with his wife's connivance appropriated some of the price received, and brought only a part of it to put at the disposal 3 of the apostles. And Peter said,

"Ananias, why has Satan taken such possession of your heart that you should lie to the holy Spirit, by appropriating part of the price 4 of your land? As long as it was unsold was it not yours, and after it was sold was not the money under your control? How could you think of doing such a thing? You did not lie to men but to God!"

5 When Ananias heard these words he fell down and expired, and 6 everyone who heard them spoken was appalled. The younger men
7 got up and wrapping his body up carried it out and buried it. About three hours later, his wife came in, without having learned what had 8 happened. Peter said to her,

"Tell me, did you sell the land for such and such a sum?"

"Yes," she said, "that was it."

9 Peter said to her,

"How could you two agree to test the Spirit of the Lord? There at the door are the footsteps of the men who buried your husband, and they will carry you out also."

10 She instantly fell down at his feet and expired. When the young men came in they found her dead, and they carried her out and buried 11 her beside her husband. And the whole church and all who heard
12 this were appalled. They would all meet together in Solomon's 13 Colonnade. None of the others dared to associate with them, but the 14 people made much of them, and men and women in increasing numbers believed in the Lord and joined them.

Signs and wonders in great numbers continued to be done among 15 the people by the apostles, so that people would carry their sick out into the streets, and lay them down on beds and mats, to have at least 16 Peter's shadow fall on some of them as he went by. Even from the towns around Jerusalem crowds would come in bringing sick people and those who were troubled with foul spirits, and they were all cured.

17 This aroused the high priest and all his supporters, the party of 18 the Sadducees, and filled them with jealousy, and they had the apostles 19 arrested and put in the common jail. But an angel of the Lord opened the jail doors in the night and let them out, and said to them, 20 "Go, take your stand in the Temple, and tell the people all about this new life."

21 And they obeyed, and about daybreak went into the Temple and began to teach. The high priest and his party came over and called together the council and indeed the whole senate of the Israelites, and 22 sent to the prison to have the apostles brought in. But the attendants who went for them could not find them in the jail, and they came 23 back and reported,

"We found the prison securely locked up, with the sentries on duty at the doors, but on opening the doors we found no one inside."

24 When the commander of the Temple and the high priests heard this report, they were very much at a loss as to what would come of it.
25 Someone came over and reported to them,

"The men that you put in jail are standing right here in the Temple, teaching the people!"

26 Then the commander and his men went and brought them back, but without using violence, for they were afraid of being stoned by 27 the people. So they brought them before the council. The high priest called on them for an explanation.

28 "We strictly forbade you," he said, "to teach on this authority, and here you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and propose to hold us responsible for this man's death!"

29 Peter and the apostles answered,

30 "We must obey God rather than men. The God of our forefathers raised Jesus to life when you had hung him on a cross and killed him.
31 God took him up to his right hand as our leader and savior, in order
32 to give repentance and forgiveness of sins to Israel. We and the holy Spirit which God has given to those who obey him are witnesses to these things."

33 When they heard this, they were furious, and wanted to kill them.
34 But a Pharisee named Gamaliel, a teacher of the Law highly regarded by all the people, got up in the council and ordered the men to be re-35 moved for a while, and then said,

"Men of Israel, take care what you propose to do with these men.
36 For some time ago Theudas appeared, claiming to be a person of importance, and a group of men numbering some four hundred joined him. But he was killed and all his followers were dispersed and dis-37 appeared. After him, at the time of the census, Judas of Galilee appeared, and raised a great following, but he too perished, and all 38 his followers were scattered. So in the present case, I tell you, keep away from these men and let them alone, for if this idea or movement 39 is of human origin, it will come to naught, but if it is from God, you will not be able to stop it. You may actually find yourselves fighting

God!”

40 They were convinced by him, and they called the apostles in and had them flogged, and warned them not to speak about the name of 41 Jesus, and then let them go. So they went out from before the council, glad that they had been thought worthy to bear disgrace for the 42 sake of Jesus, and they did not for a single day stop teaching and preaching in the Temple and in private houses the good news of Jesus, the Christ.

6 In those days, as the number of the disciples was increasing, complaints were made by the Greek-speaking Jews against the native Jews that their widows were being neglected in the daily distribution of 2 food. So the Twelve called in the whole body of disciples and said to them,

“It is not desirable that we should give up preaching the word of 3 God to keep accounts. You, brothers, must pick out from your number seven men of good standing, who are wise and full of the Spirit, 4 and we will put them in charge of this matter, while we devote ourselves to prayer and to delivering the message.”

5 This plan met the approval of the whole body, and they selected
Stephen, a man full of faith and of the holy Spirit, with Philip,
Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicholas of Antioch,
6 who had been a convert to Judaism. They brought these men before the apostles, and they prayed and laid their hands upon them.

7 So God’s message continued to spread; the number of the disciples in Jerusalem increased rapidly, and a great many priests accepted the faith.

8 Stephen, greatly strengthened by God’s favor, did remarkable signs 9 and wonders among the people. But members of the synagogue known as that of the Libyans, Cyreneans, and Alexandrians, and men from 10 Cilicia and Asia undertook to debate with Stephen, but they could not 11 meet his wisdom and the inspiration with which he spoke. So they instigated people to say,

“We have heard him use abusive language about Moses and about God.”

12 They aroused the people, the elders, and the scribes, and they set 13 upon him and seized him, and brought him before the council. Then they brought forward false witnesses, who said,

“This man is constantly saying things against this holy place and 14 against the Law, for we have heard him say that Jesus of Nazareth will tear this place down and change the customs that have been handed down to us by Moses.”

15 Everyone who sat in the council fixed his eyes on him, and they
7 saw that his face was like that of an angel. The high priest said,

“Is this statement true?”

2 He answered,

“Brothers and fathers, listen. The glorious God appeared to our forefather Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he settled
3 in Haran, and he said to him, ‘Leave your country and your relatives
4 and come to the country that I will show you.’ So he left the country of the Chaldeans and went to live in Haran, and from there after the death of his father, God caused him to move into this country where
5 you now live. He gave him no property in it, not a single foot, but he promised to give it to him and his posterity after him permanently,
6 though he had no children at that time. This was what God said: ‘His descendants will be strangers, living in a foreign land, and they
7 will be enslaved and misused for four hundred years, and I will sentence the nation that has enslaved them,’ God said, ‘and afterward
8 they will leave that country and worship me on this spot.’ And he made the agreement of circumcision with him, and so Abraham became the father of Isaac and circumcised him on the eighth day, and Isaac became the father of Jacob, and Jacob of the 9 twelve patriarchs. The patriarchs became jealous of Joseph and sold him
10 into slavery in Egypt. But God was with him, and rescued him from all his troubles, and enabled him to win favor and to show wisdom when he stood before Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and he appointed him
11 governor of Egypt and of his whole household. Then a famine spread all over Egypt and Canaan, and there was great suffering, and our 12 forefathers could not find any food. But Jacob heard that there was food in Egypt, and he sent our forefathers on their first visit there.
13 On their second visit, Joseph made himself known to his brothers, 14 and Pharaoh learned of Joseph’s parentage. Then Joseph sent and 15 invited his father Jacob and all his relatives, seventy-five in all, and

16 Jacob came down to Egypt. There he and our forefathers died, and they were carried back to Shechem, and laid in the tomb that Abraham had bought for a sum of money from the sons of Hamor in Shechem.

17 As the time drew near for the fulfilment of the promise God had made to Abraham, the people became more and more numerous in

18 Egypt, until another king, who knew nothing about Joseph, became

19 ruler of Egypt. He took advantage of our people and oppressed our forefathers, making them abandon their infant children, so that they

20 should not live. It was at this time that Moses was born. He was a wonderfully beautiful child, and for three months he was taken care

21 of in his father's house. When he was abandoned, the daughter of 22 Pharaoh adopted him and brought him up as her own son. So Moses was educated in all the Egyptian culture; he was strong in speech

23 and action. When he was forty years old, it occurred to him to visit

24 his brothers, the descendants of Israel. Seeing one of them being imposed upon, he interfered and defended the man who was being

25 ill treated, striking down the Egyptian. He supposed that his brothers would understand that God was using him as the means of delivering 26 them, but they did not. The next day, he came across two of them fighting and tried to pacify them. He said to them, 'You are brothers.

27 Why should you injure each other?' But the aggressor thrust him

28 off, saying, 'Who made you our ruler and judge? Do you mean to

29 kill me as you did that Egyptian yesterday?' At those words Moses fled, and went and lived for a time in Midian, and two sons were 30 born to him there. When forty years had passed, an angel appeared to him in the desert of Mount Sinai, in the flame of a burning bush.

31 When Moses saw it he wondered at the sight, and when he went up

32 to see what it was, the voice of the Lord said, 'I am the God of your forefathers, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.' Moses was

33 terrified and did not dare to look at it. Then the Lord said to him, 'Take off your shoes, for the place where you are standing is holy

34 ground. I have seen all the oppression of my people in Egypt, and I have heard their groans, and I have come down to save them. So

35 come! I will make you my messenger to Egypt!' The Moses whom they had refused, saying to him, 'Who made you our ruler and judge?' God sent both to rule and to deliver them, with the help of the angel

36 who had appeared to him in the bush. It was he who brought them out of Egypt, and did wonders and signs there, and at the Red Sea,

37 and for forty years in the desert. This was the Moses who said to the descendants of Israel, 'God will make a prophet rise from among

38 your brothers to teach you, just as he made me rise.' It was he who with the congregation in the desert went between the angel who spoke to him on Mount Sinai and our forefathers, and received and
 39 communicated to you utterances that still live. Yet our forefathers would not listen to him, but thrust him off, and their hearts turned 40 back to Egypt, for they said to Aaron, 'Make us gods to march in front of us, for as for this Moses, who brought us out of Egypt, we do
 41 not know what has become of him!' They even made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice to their idol, and held a celebration over 42 what their own hands had made. So God turned his back on them and left them to worship the starry host, just as the Book of the Prophets says,

"Was it victims and sacrifices that you offered to me, O house of Israel,

Those forty years in the desert?

43 You offered me the tent of Moloch and the star of your god Rompha,

The images you had made to worship!

So I will deport you beyond Babylon.'

44 In the desert our forefathers had the Tent of the Testimony built like the model Moses had seen, just as he who spoke to him told him
 45 to make it. This tent was handed down to our forefathers and they brought it here with them when under Joshua they dispossessed the nations that God drove out before them, and it existed until the time 46 of David. He won the approval of God and begged to be allowed to 47 provide a dwelling for the God of Jacob, and Solomon actually built 48 a house for him. But the Most High does not live in buildings made by human hands. As the prophet says,

49 "The sky is my throne,

And the earth a footstool for my feet.

What house can you build for me? says the Lord,

Or what place is there where I can rest?

50 Was it not my hand that made it all?'

51 You stubborn people, with heathen hearts and ears, you are always 52 opposing the holy Spirit, just as your forefathers did! Which of the prophets did your forefathers not persecute? They killed the men who foretold the coming of the Righteous One, whom you have now
 53 betrayed and killed—you who had the Law given to you by angels, and did not obey it!"

54 When they heard that, they were enraged and ground their teeth

55 at him. But he, full of the holy Spirit, looked up to heaven and saw 56 God's glory and Jesus standing at God's right hand. And he said, "Look! I can see heaven open, and the Son of Man standing at God's right hand!"

57 But they uttered a great shout and stopped their ears, and they 58 rushed upon him all together, and dragged him out of the city and stoned him, the witnesses throwing down their clothes at the feet of 59 a young man named Saul. As they stoned Stephen, he prayed,

"Lord Jesus, receive my spirit!"

60 Then falling on his knees, he cried out,

"Lord, do not lay this sin up against them!"

8 With these words he fell asleep. And Saul entirely approved of his being put to death.

A great persecution of the church in Jerusalem broke out that day, and they were all scattered over Judea and Samaria except the apostles.

² Some pious men buried Stephen and loudly lamented him. But Saul ³ harassed the church. He went into one house after another, and dragging out men and women, put them in prison.

⁴ Those who were scattered went from place to place preaching the ⁵ good news of the message. Philip reached the city of Samaria, and ⁶ proclaimed the Christ to them. When the people heard Philip and saw the signs that he showed they were all interested in what he had ⁷ to say, for with loud cries foul spirits came out of many who had been possessed by them, and many paralytics and lame people were cured.
⁸ So there was great rejoicing in that city.

⁹ There was a man named Simon in the town, who had been amazing the Samaritan people by practicing magic there, and who made ¹⁰ great pretensions. Everyone there, high and low, made much of him,
and said,

"He must be what is known as the Great Power of God!"

¹¹ They made much of him because for a long time he had amazed ¹² them with his magic. But when they believed Philip's message of the good news of the Kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, ¹³ men and women alike accepted baptism. Even Simon himself believed and after his baptism devoted himself to Philip, and he was amazed at seeing such signs and great wonders taking place.

¹⁴ When the apostles at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had accepted
¹⁵ God's message, they sent Peter and John there. When they came, ¹⁶ they prayed that the Samaritans might receive the holy Spirit, for it had not yet come upon any of them; they had simply been baptized

17 in the name of the Lord Jesus. Then they laid their hands on them, 18 and they received the holy Spirit. But when Simon saw that the holy Spirit was imparted through the laying on of the apostles' hands, he 19 offered them money, saying,

"Give me also this power to communicate the holy Spirit to anyone
I place my hands upon."

20 But Peter said to him,

"Go to destruction with your money, for thinking you could buy 21 God's gift with it! You have no share or part in this movement, for 22 your heart is not honest in the sight of God. So repent of this wickedness of yours, and pray to the Lord, to see if you may not be forgiven 23 for thinking of such a thing. For I see that you are a bitter poison and a bundle of iniquity!"

24 Simon answered,

"You must pray to the Lord for me, that none of the things you have said may happen to me!"

25 After they had given their testimony and delivered the Lord's message, they went back to Jerusalem, telling the good news in many Samaritan villages on the way.

26 But an angel of the Lord said to Philip,

"Get up and go south, by the road that runs from Jerusalem to Gaza." (The town is now deserted.)

27 So he got up and went. Now there was an Ethiopian eunuch, a member of the court of Candace, queen of Ethiopia, her chief treas-28 urer, who had come up to Jerusalem to worship, and was on his way 29 home. He was sitting in his car, reading the prophet Isaiah. Then the Spirit said to Philip,

"Go up and stay by that car."

30 Philip ran up and heard him reading the prophet Isaiah, and he said to him,

"Do you understand what you are reading?"

31 "Why, how can I," he answered, "unless someone explains it to 32 me?" And he invited Philip to get in and sit beside him. This was the passage of Scripture that he was reading:

"Like a sheep he was led away to be slaughtered,
And just as a lamb is dumb before its shearer,
He does not open his mouth.

33 His sentence ended in his humiliation.
Who will tell the story of his posterity?
For his life is perished from the earth."

34 "Tell me, of whom is the prophet speaking?" said the eunuch to Philip, "Of himself, or of someone else?"

35 Then Philip began, and starting from this passage, he told him the 36 good news about Jesus. As they went on along the road, they came to some water, and the eunuch said,

"Here is some water! What is there to prevent my being baptized?"

38 So he ordered the car to stop, and Philip and the eunuch went down
39 into the water, and Philip baptized him. When they came out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord hurried Philip away, and the eunuch saw nothing more of him. Full of joy, he went on with his journey, 40 while Philip found himself at Ashdod and went on telling the good news in all the towns all the way to Caesarea.

9 Now Saul, still breathing murderous threats against the Lord's
2 disciples, went to the high priest and asked him for letters to the synagogues in Damascus, so that if he found any men or women there who belonged to the Way, he might bring them in chains to 3 Jerusalem. But on his journey, as he was approaching Damascus,
4 a sudden light flashed around him from heaven, and he fell to the ground. Then he heard a voice saying to him,

"Saul! Saul! Why do you persecute me?"

5 "Who are you, sir?" he asked.

6 "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting," said the voice. "But get up and go into the city, and there you will be told what you ought to do."

7 Saul's fellow-travelers stood speechless, for they heard the voice
8 but could not see anyone. When he got up from the ground and opened his eyes he could see nothing. They had to take him by the 9 hand and lead him into Damascus, and for three days he could not see, and neither ate nor drank.

10 There was at Damascus a disciple named Ananias, and the Lord said to him in a vision,

"Ananias!"

And he answered,

"Yes, Lord!"

11 The Lord said to him,

"Get up and go to the street called the Straight Street, and ask at the house of Judas for a man named Saul, from Tarsus, for he is there 12 praying. He has had a vision and seen a man named Ananias come in and lay his hands on him, to restore his sight."

13 But Ananias answered,

“Lord, I have heard many people tell of this man, and the harm
14 he has done to your people in Jerusalem. He is here with authority to arrest everyone who calls upon your name.”

15 The Lord said to him,

“Go! This man is the means I have chosen for carrying my name among the heathen and their kings, and among the descendants of 16 Israel. For I am going to show him what he will have to endure for my sake.”

17 Ananias set out and went to the house, and there he laid his hands upon Saul, and said to him,

“Saul, my brother, I have been sent by the Lord Jesus, who appeared to you on your journey, so that you may regain your sight and be filled with the holy Spirit.”

18 Something like scales immediately dropped from his eyes, and his 19 sight was restored, and he got up and was baptized, and, after taking some food, regained his strength.

20 Saul stayed for some time with the disciples at Damascus, and began at once to declare in the synagogues that Jesus was the Son of God.

21 Everyone was astonished, and said,

“Is not he the man who made such havoc of the people in Jerusalem who call upon that name, and who came here especially for the purpose of arresting such persons and taking them before the high priests?”

22 But Saul grew more and more powerful, and bewildered the Jews who lived in Damascus by his proofs that Jesus was the Christ.

23 After some time had passed, the Jews made a plot to kill him,
24 but Saul found out about the plot. They watched the city gates day 25 and night, in order to kill him, but his disciples took him one night and let him down over the wall, lowering him in a basket.

26 When he reached Jerusalem he tried to join the disciples, and they were all afraid of him, for they could not believe that he was 27 really a disciple. But Barnabas got hold of him and introduced him to the apostles, and he told them how on his journey he had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken to him, and how boldly he had spoken 28 for the cause of Jesus at Damascus. After that, he associated with 29 them freely in Jerusalem, and spoke boldly for the Lord's cause, talking and debating with the Greek-speaking Jews. But they tried 30 to kill him. When the brothers found this out, they took him down to Caesarea, and sent him away to Tarsus.

31 So the church all over Judea, Galilee, and Samaria was at peace and became established. It lived in reverence for the Lord and, stimulated by the holy Spirit, it grew steadily in numbers.

32 As Peter was traveling about among them all, he happened to visit
33 God's people at Lydda. There he found a man named Aeneas, a 34 paralytic who had been bedridden for eight years. Peter said to him,
"Aeneas, Jesus Christ cures you! Get up, and make your bed!"

35 And he got up immediately. And everybody who lived in Lydda or in Sharon saw him, and they turned to the Lord.

36 Among the disciples at Joppa there was a woman named Tabitha, which is in Greek Dorcas, that is, gazelle. She had devoted herself to 37 doing good and to acts of charity. Just at that time it happened that she had been taken ill and had died, and they had washed her body 38 and laid her out in a room upstairs. As Joppa was near Lydda, the disciples heard that Peter was there, and they sent two men to him, 39 urging him to come over without delay. Peter went with them at once.

When he arrived, they took him up to the room and all the widows stood around him crying and showing him the shirts and coats that 40 Dorcas had made when she was still with them. But Peter put them all out of the room. Then he knelt down and prayed, and then turning to the body he said,

"Tabitha, stand up!"

41 She opened her eyes, and seeing Peter, she sat up. He gave her his hand and raised her to her feet, and calling in the believers and the 42 widows, he gave her back to them alive. This became known all 43 over Joppa, and many came to believe in the Lord. So it came about that Peter stayed for some time in Joppa, at the house of a tanner named Simon.

10 There was at Caesarea a man named Cornelius, a captain in what
2 was known as the Italian regiment. He was a devout man, who feared God, as did all the members of his household. He was liberal in 3 charities to the people, and always prayed to God. One afternoon, about three o'clock, he had a vision, and distinctly saw an angel of God come into his room and say to him,

"Cornelius!"

4 He stared at him in terror, and said,

"What is it, sir?"

"Your prayers and charities," the angel answered, "have gone up
5 and been remembered before God. Now send men to Joppa, for a 6 man named Simon, who is also called Peter. He is being entertained at the house of a tanner named Simon, which is close to the sea."

7 When the angel who had spoken to him was gone, Cornelius called two of his servants, and a devout soldier who was one of his personal
8 attendants, and after telling them the whole story, sent them to Joppa.

9 The next day, while they were still on their way, and were just getting near the town, Peter went up on the housetop about noon to 10 pray. He got very hungry, and wanted something to eat. While they 11 were getting it ready, he fell into a trance, and saw the sky opened and a thing like a great sheet coming down, lowered to the ground
12 by the four corners, with all kinds of quadrupeds, reptiles, and wild
13 birds in it. And a voice came to him,

“Get up, Peter! Kill something and eat it!”

14 But Peter said,

“Never, sir! For I have never eaten anything that was not ceremonially cleansed.”

15 The voice came to him again a second time,

“Do not call what God has cleansed unclean.”

16 This happened three times; then the thing was taken right up into the sky.

17 While Peter was still wondering what the vision he had had could mean, the men whom Cornelius had sent had asked the way to 18 Simon’s house and reached the door, and they called out to ask if 19 Simon who was called Peter was staying there. As Peter was pondering over his vision, the Spirit said to him,

20 “There are two men looking for you. Get up and go down, and go with them without any hesitation, for I have sent them.”

21 Then Peter went down to see the men, and said to them,

“I am the man you are asking for. What is the reason for your coming?”

22 They answered,

“Cornelius, who is a captain, and an upright and God-fearing man, and who has a good reputation with the whole Jewish nation, was directed by a holy angel to send for you to come to his house, and to listen to what you have to say.”

23 So Peter invited them in and entertained them. The next day he started off with them, accompanied by some of the brothers from 24 Joppa, and the day after, he reached Caesarea. Cornelius had invited in his relatives and his intimate friends and was waiting for them.
25 When Peter actually came in, Cornelius met him and fell at his feet
26 and made obeisance to him. But Peter lifted him to his feet, and said,

“Get up! I am only human myself.”

27 So they went in talking together, and Peter found that many 28 people had gathered, and he said to them,

“You know that it is against the Law for a Jew to associate with a foreigner or to visit one; but God has taught me not to call anyone 29 vulgar or unclean. That was why, when I was sent for, I came without any hesitation. And now I want to ask why you sent for me.”

30 Cornelius answered,

“Three days ago, just at this time of day, I was praying in my house about three o’clock, when a man in dazzling clothing stood
31 before me, and said, ‘Cornelius, your prayer has been heard, and your 32 charities have been recalled to mind by God. So send to Joppa and invite Simon who is called Peter to come here. He is staying at the 33 house of a tanner named Simon, close to the sea.’ So I sent for you immediately, and you have very kindly come. Now we are all here in God’s presence, to hear everything that the Lord has instructed you to say.”

34 Then Peter began and said,

35 “Now I really understand that God shows no partiality, but welcomes the man of any nation who reveres him and does what is right.
36 He has sent his message to Israel’s descendants, and made the good news of peace known to them through Jesus Christ. He is Lord of 37 us all. You know the story that has gone all over Judea, starting from Galilee after the baptism that John proclaimed, about Jesus of 38 Nazareth, and how God endowed him with the power of the holy Spirit, and he went about doing good and curing all who were in the 39 power of the devil, because God was with him. We are witnesses of everything that he did in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem.
40 Yet they put him upon a cross and killed him. But God raised him
41 to life on the third day and caused him to be plainly seen, not by all the people, but by witnesses whom God had designated beforehand, that is, by us, who ate and drank with him after he had risen from
42 the dead. He also directed us to announce to the people and bear solemn testimony that he is the one whom God has appointed to be 43 the judge of the living and the dead. It is of him that all the prophets bear witness that everyone that believes in him will have his sins forgiven in his name.”

44 Before Peter had finished saying these words, the holy Spirit fell
45 on all who were listening to his message. The Jewish believers who had come with Peter were amazed because the gift of the holy Spirit 46 had been showered upon the heathen too, for they heard them speaking in foreign languages and declaring the greatness of God. Then Peter said,

47 "Can anyone refuse the use of water to baptize these people when they have received the holy Spirit just as we did?"

48 And he directed that they should be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then they asked him to stay on there a few days.

11 The apostles and brothers all over Judea heard that the heathen had also accepted God's message, and when Peter returned to Jerusalem, the advocates of circumcision took him to task, charging him with having visited and eaten with men who were not Jews. Then Peter explained the matter to them from beginning to end. He said,

5 "I was praying in the town of Joppa, and while in a trance I had a vision. Something like a great sheet came down out of the sky, lowered by its four corners. It came right down to me, and when I looked

6 at it, I saw in it quadrupeds, wild animals, reptiles, and wild birds.

7 And I heard a voice say to me, 'Get up, Peter! Kill something and eat it!' But I said, 'Never, sir! For nothing that was not ceremonially

8 cleansed has ever passed my lips.' Then the voice from heaven answered again, 'Do not call what God has cleansed unclean!' This

9 happened three times; then it was all drawn back again into the sky.

10 Just at that moment three men, who had been sent from Caesarea to find me, reached the house where we were staying, and the Spirit

11 told me not to hesitate to go with them. These six brothers here also went with me, and we went to the man's house. Then he told us

12 how he had seen the angel stand in his house and say, 'Send to Joppa for a man named Simon who is also called Peter, and he will tell

13 you things that will save you and your whole household.' When I began to speak to them, the holy Spirit fell upon them just as it did

14 upon us at the beginning, and I remembered the saying of the Lord, 'John baptized in water, but you will be baptized in the holy Spirit.'

15 So if God had given them the same gift that we received when we believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, to be able to interfere with God?"

16 When they heard this, they made no further objection, but they gave honor to God, and said,

"Then God has given even the heathen repentance and the hope of life!"

17 The fugitives from the persecution that had broken out over Stephen went all the way to Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch, but

18 they told the message to none but Jews. There were some men from

Cyprus and Cyrene among them, however, who when they reached Antioch spoke to the Greeks also, and told them the good news about the Lord Jesus. The Lord's hand was with them, and there were a great many who believed and turned to the Lord. The news about them came to the ears of the church in Jerusalem, and they sent Barnabas all the way to Antioch. When he reached there and saw the favor God had shown them, he was delighted, and encouraged them all to be resolute and steadfast in their devotion to the Lord, for he was an excellent man, full of the holy Spirit and faith. So a considerable number of people came over to the Lord. Then Barnabas went over to Tarsus to seek out Saul, and found him and brought him to Antioch. The result was that for a whole year they met with the church, and taught large numbers of people, and it was at Antioch that the disciples first came to be known as Christians.

About that time some prophets from Jerusalem came down to Antioch, and one of them named Agabus got up and under the influence of the Spirit revealed the fact that there was going to be a great famine all over the world. This was the famine that occurred in the reign of Claudius. The disciples determined to make up a contribution, each according to his ability, and send it to the brothers who lived in Judea, and this they did, sending it to the elders by Barnabas and Saul.

About that time King Herod laid violent hands upon some who belonged to the church. He had John's brother, James, beheaded, and when he saw that this gratified the Jews, he proceeded to arrest Peter too, at the time of the festival of Unleavened Bread. He had him seized and put in jail, with four squads of soldiers to guard him, meaning after the Passover to bring him out before the people. So Peter was kept in the jail, but the church was praying earnestly to God for him. The night before Herod was going to bring him out, Peter was asleep between two soldiers, and fastened with two chains, and watchmen were at the door, guarding the jail, when an angel of the Lord stood at his side, and a light shone in the room, and striking Peter on the side, he woke him, and said to him,

"Get up quickly!"

The chains dropped from his hands, and the angel said to him,

"Put on your belt and your sandals!"

And he did so. Then he said to him,

"Put on your coat and follow me!"

So he followed him out without knowing that what the angel was

¹⁰ doing was real, for he thought he was having a vision. They passed the first guard and then the second, and came to the iron gate that led into the city. It opened to them of itself, and they passed out and ¹¹ went along one street, when suddenly the angel left him. Then Peter came to himself, and he said,

“Now I am certain that the Lord sent his angel and rescued me from the power of Herod and all that the Jewish people were expecting.”

¹² When he realized his situation, he went to the house of Mary, the mother of John who was also called Mark, where a number of people
¹³ were gathered, praying. When he knocked at the outer door, a maid ¹⁴ named Rhoda came to answer it, and when she recognized Peter’s voice, in her joy she did not stop to open the door, but ran in and ¹⁵ told them that Peter was standing outside. But they said to her,
“You are crazy!”

But she insisted that it was so. Then they said,

“Then it is his guardian angel!”

¹⁶ But Peter kept on knocking. And when they opened the door and ¹⁷ saw him they were amazed. He motioned to them to be quiet, and then related to them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison.

“Tell all this to James and the brothers,” he said.

¹⁸ Then he left them and went somewhere else. But when morning came, there was no little commotion among the soldiers as to what ¹⁹ could have become of Peter. Herod had inquiries made for him, and when he could not find him, he examined the guards and ordered them to be put to death. Then he left Judea for Caesarea, and stayed there.

²⁰ Herod was very angry with the people of Tyre and Sidon. So they came before him in a body, and after winning over Blastus, the king’s chamberlain, they asked for a reconciliation, because their ²¹ country depended upon the king’s dominions for its food supply. So a day was fixed and on it Herod, dressed in his robes of state, took his ²² seat on his throne in the theater, and made them an address, and the people shouted in applause,

“It is a god’s voice, not a man’s!”

²³ But the angel of the Lord struck him down immediately, because he did not give the honor to God; and he was eaten by worms and ²⁴ died. But the Lord’s message continued to grow and spread.

²⁵ When Barnabas and Saul had performed their mission to Jerusalem, they went back, taking John who was called Mark with them.

13 There were at Antioch in the church there a number of prophets and teachers—Barnabas, Symeon who was called Niger, Lucius the Cyrenian, Manaen, who had been brought up with Herod the governor, and Saul. As they were engaged in worshipping the Lord and in fasting, the holy Spirit said,

“Set Barnabas and Saul apart for me, for the work to which I have called them.”

3 So after fasting and prayer, they laid their hands upon them and let them go.

4 Being sent out in this way by the holy Spirit, they went down to Seleucia and sailed from there to Cyprus. When they reached Salamis, they proclaimed God’s message in the Jewish synagogues. They had John with them as their assistant.

6 They went through the whole island as far as Paphos, and there they came across a Jewish magician and false prophet named Barjesus.

7 He was attached to the governor, Sergius Paulus, who was an intelligent man. He sent for Barnabas and Saul and asked them to let him

8 hear God’s message. But Elymas the magician—for that is the meaning of his name—opposed them, and tried to keep the governor from 9 accepting the faith. But Saul, who was also called Paul, was filled

10 with the holy Spirit, and looked at him and said,

“You monster of underhandedness and cunning! You son of the devil! You enemy of all that is right! Will you never stop trying to 11 make the Lord’s straight paths crooked? The Lord’s hand is right upon you, and you will be blind and unable even to see the sun for a time.”

Instantly a mist of darkness fell upon him, and he groped about 12 for someone to lead him by the hand. Then the governor, seeing what had happened, believed, and was thunderstruck at the Lord’s teaching.

13 Paul and his companions sailed from Paphos and went to Perga in Pamphylia. There John left them and returned to Jerusalem,

14 but they went on from Perga and reached Antioch in Pisidia. On 15 the Sabbath they went to the synagogue there and took seats. After the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the synagogue authorities sent to them, saying,

“Brothers, if you have any appeal to make to the people, proceed.”

16 Then Paul got up, and motioning with his hand, said,

17 “Men of Israel, and you who reverence God, listen! The God of this people of Israel chose our forefathers, and made the people great during their stay in Egypt, and then with uplifted hand led them out 18 of Egypt. Then after he had taken care of them for forty years in 19 the desert, he destroyed seven nations in Canaan, and settled them 20 upon their land for about four hundred and fifty years. After that 21 he gave them judges, down to the time of the prophet Samuel. Then they demanded a king and for forty years God gave them Saul, the 22 son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin. Then he removed him and raised David up to be their king, bearing this testimony to him:

'I have found in David the son of Jesse a man after my own heart,
23 who will do all that I desire.' It is from his descendants that God 24 has brought to Israel as he promised to do, a savior in Jesus, in preparation for whose coming John had preached to all the people of Israel 25 baptism in token of repentance. Toward the end of his career, John said, 'What do you suppose that I am? I am not he! No! Someone is coming after me, the shoes on whose feet I am not fit to untie!'
26 Brothers! Descendants of the house of Abraham, and those others among you who reverence God! It is to us that this message of 27 salvation has been sent. For the people of Jerusalem and their leaders refused to recognize him, and condemned him, thus fulfilling the very 28 utterances of the prophets which are read every Sabbath, and though they could find no ground for putting him to death, they demanded 29 of Pilate that he be executed. When they had carried out everything that had been said about him in the Scriptures, they took him down 30 from the cross and laid him in a tomb. But God raised him from 31 the dead, and for many days he appeared to those who had come up to Jerusalem with him from Galilee, and they are now witnesses 32 for him to the people. So we now bring you the good news that 33 God has fulfilled to us, their children, the promise that he made to our forefathers, by raising Jesus to life, just as the Scripture says in the second psalm, 'You are my Son! Today I have become your 34 Father!' Now as evidence that he has raised him from the dead, never again to return to decay, he said this: 'I will fulfil to you my 35 sacred promises to David.' For in another psalm he says, 'You will 36 not let your Holy One undergo decay.' Now David, after serving God's purposes in his own generation, fell asleep and was laid among 37 his forefathers and did undergo decay, but he whom God raised to 38 life did not undergo it. You must understand therefore, my brothers, 39 that through him the forgiveness of your sins is announced to you, and that through union with him everyone who believes is cleared of 40 every charge of which the Law of Moses could not clear you. Take care, therefore, that what is said in the prophets does not prove true of you:

41 “‘Look, you scoffers! Then wonder and begone!
For I am doing something in your times
Which you will never believe even when it is related to you!’”

42 As they were going out, the people begged to have all this said
43 to them again on the following Sabbath, and after the congregation had broken up, many of the Jews and the devout converts to Judaism went away with Paul and Barnabas, and they talked with them, and urged them to rely on the favor of God.

44 The next Sabbath almost all the town gathered to hear God’s 45 message. But when the Jews saw the crowd, they were very jealous, 46 and they contradicted what Paul said and abused him. Then Paul and Barnabas spoke out plainly, and said,

“God’s message had to be told to you first, but since you thrust it off and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, we now turn to 47 the heathen. For these are the orders the Lord has given us:

“I have made you a light for the heathen,
To be the means of salvation to the very ends of the earth!”

48 When the heathen heard this they were delighted, and praised God’s message, and all who were destined for eternal life believed, 49 and the Lord’s message spread all over the country. But the Jews 50 stirred up the well-to-do religious women and the leading men of the town, and they started a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, 51 and drove them out of their district. They shook off the dust from 52 their feet in protest, and went to Iconium. But the disciples continued to be full of joy and of the holy Spirit.

14 At Iconium in the same way, they went to the Jewish synagogue and spoke with such power that a great number of both Jews and 2 Greeks believed. But the Jews who refused their message stirred up 3 the heathen and poisoned their minds against the brothers. They spent some time there, speaking fearlessly and relying upon the Lord, who bore witness to his gracious message by letting signs and wonders 4 be done by them. But the people of the town were divided, some 5 siding with the Jews and some with the apostles. And when there was a movement on the part of both the heathen and the Jews with 6 the authorities to insult and stone them, and they became aware of it, they made their escape to the Lycaonian towns of Lystra and Derbe

7 and the country around, and there they went on preaching the good news.

8 In the streets of Lystra a man used to sit who had not the use of his feet. He had been lame from his birth, and had never been able 9 to walk. He was listening to Paul as he talked, when Paul looked 10 at him and, seeing that he had faith that he would be cured, said to him loudly,

“Stand on your feet!”

11 And he sprang up and began to walk. The crowds, seeing what Paul had done, shouted in the Lycaonian language,

“The gods have come down to us in human form!”

12 They called Barnabas Zeus, and Paul, because he was the principal 13 speaker, Hermes. The priest of the temple of Zeus that stood at the entrance to the town came with crowds of people to the gates, bringing 14 bulls and garlands, meaning to offer sacrifice to them. But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they rushed into the crowd, 15 tearing their clothes and shouting,

“Friends, why are you doing this? We are only human beings like you, and we bring you the good news that you should turn from these follies to a living God, who made heaven and earth and sea and all
16 that they contain. In ages past he let all the heathen follow their own
17 ways; though he did not fail to give some evidence about himself, through his kindnesses to you, in sending you rain from heaven and fruitful seasons, giving you food and happiness to your heart’s content.”

18 Even with these words they could hardly restrain the people from offering sacrifice to them.

19 But some Jews came from Antioch and Iconium, and won the people over, and they stoned Paul and dragged him out of the town,
20 thinking that he was dead. But the brothers gathered about him, and he got up and re-entered the town. The next day he went on with 21 Barnabas to Derbe. They proclaimed the good news in that town and made a number of disciples. Then they returned to Lystra, Iconium,
22 and Antioch, reassuring the disciples and encouraging them to stand by the faith and reminding them that we have to undergo many hard-
23 ships to get into the Kingdom of God. They appointed elders for them in each church, and with prayer and fasting they committed them to 24 the Lord in whom they had believed. Then they crossed Pisidia and 25 entered Pamphylia. They told their message in Perga, then went on 26 to Attalia, and from there they sailed back to Antioch, where they had first been commended to God’s favor for the work which they had now

27 finished. When they arrived there, they called the church together, and reported how God had worked with them, and how he had opened 28 the way to faith for the heathen. There they stayed for a long time with the disciples.

15 Some people came down from Judea and began to teach the brothers that unless they were circumcised as Moses prescribed, they could not
2 be saved. This created a disturbance and a serious discussion between Paul and Barnabas and them, and it was agreed that Paul and Barnabas and some others of their number should go up to Jerusalem to confer with the apostles and elders about this question.

3 The church saw them off upon their journey, and as they traveled through Phoenicia and Samaria they told of the conversion of the 4 heathen, and caused great rejoicing among all the brothers. When they reached Jerusalem, they were welcomed by the church, the apostles, and the elders, and they reported how God had worked with them.
5 But some members of the Pharisees' party who had become believers got up and said that such converts ought to be circumcised and told to obey the Law of Moses.

6 The apostles and elders had a meeting to look into this matter.
7 After a long discussion, Peter got up and said to them,

“Brothers, you know that in the early days God chose that of you all I should be the one from whose lips the heathen should hear the 8 message of the good news and believe it. And God who knows men's hearts testified for them by giving them the holy Spirit just as he had
9 done to us, making no difference between us and them, but cleansing
10 their hearts by faith. Then why do you now try to test God, by putting on the necks of these disciples a yoke that neither our forefathers nor 11 we have been able to bear? Why, we believe that it is by the mercy of the Lord Jesus that we are saved just as they are.”

12 This quieted the whole meeting, and they listened while Barnabas and Paul told of the signs and wonders which God had done among 13 the heathen through them. When they finished James made this response:

14 “Brothers, listen to me. Symeon has told how God first showed an interest in taking from among the heathen a people to bear his name.

15 And this agrees with the predictions of the prophets which say,

16 “‘Afterward I will return, and rebuild David's fallen dwelling.

I will rebuild its very ruins, and set it up again,

17 So that the rest of mankind may seek the Lord,

And all the heathen who are called by my name,

18 Says the Lord, who has been making this known from of old.'

19 In my opinion, therefore, we ought not to put obstacles in the way of 20 those of the heathen who are turning to God, but we should write to them to avoid anything that has been contaminated by idols, immorality, 21 the meat of strangled animals, and the tasting of blood. For Moses for generations past has had his preachers in every town, and has been read aloud in the synagogues every Sabbath."

22 Then the apostles and elders with the whole church resolved to select representatives and send them with Paul and Barnabas to Antioch.
They were Judas who was called Barsabbas, and Silas, both 23 leading men among the brothers. They were the bearers of this letter:
"The apostles and the brothers who are elders send greeting to the 24 brothers of heathen birth in Antioch, Syria, and Cilicia. As we have heard that some of our number, without any instructions from us, have 25 disturbed you by their teaching and unsettled your minds, we have unanimously resolved to select representatives and send them to you 26 with our dear brothers Barnabas and Paul, who have risked their lives 27 for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ. So we send Judas and Silas to 28 you, to give you this same message by word of mouth. For the holy Spirit and we have decided not to lay upon you any burden but this 29 indispensable one, that you avoid whatever has been sacrificed to idols, the tasting of blood and of the meat of animals that have been strangled, and immorality. Keep yourselves free from these things and you will get on well. Goodbye."

30 So the delegates went down to Antioch and gathered the congregation together and delivered the letter; and when they read it they were 32 delighted with the encouragement it gave them. Judas and Silas were themselves prophets, and gave the brothers much encouragement and 33 strength by their words. After they had stayed some time, the brothers let them go, with a greeting to those who had sent them.

35 But Paul and Barnabas stayed on in Antioch and taught, and with many others preached the good news of the Lord's message.

36 Some time after, Paul said to Barnabas,

"Come, let us go back and revisit the brothers in each of the towns where we made the Lord's message known, to see how they are doing."

37 Now Barnabas wanted to take John who was called Mark with 38 them. But Paul did not approve of taking with them a man who had deserted them in Pamphylia instead of going on with them to their 39 work. They differed so sharply about it that they separated, and Barna-

40 bas took Mark and sailed for Cyprus. But Paul selected Silas and set 41 out, the brothers commending him to the Lord's favor. He traveled through Syria and Cilicia and strengthened the churches.

16 He went to Derbe and Lystra also. At Lystra there was a disciple named Timothy whose mother was a Jewish Christian while his father
2 was a Greek, and who was highly thought of by the brothers in Lystra
3 and Iconium. Paul wished to take this man on with him, and so on account of the Jews in that district he had him circumcised, for they 4 all knew that his father was a Greek. As they traveled on from one town to another, they passed on to the brothers for their observance the decisions that had been reached by the apostles and elders at Jerusalem.
5 So the churches became stronger and stronger in the faith, and their numbers increased from day to day.

6 Thus they crossed Phrygia and Galatia. The holy Spirit prevented
7 them from delivering the message in Asia, and when they reached
Mysia they tried to get into Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus would not 8 permit it, and they passed Mysia and came down to Troas. There 9 Paul had a vision one night; a Macedonian was standing appealing to him and saying,

“Come over to Macedonia and help us.”

10 As soon as he had this vision, we made efforts to get on to Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to tell them the good news.

11 So we sailed from Troas, and ran a straight course to Samothrace, 12 and next day to Neapolis. From there we went to Philippi, a Roman garrison town, and the principal place in that part of Macedonia.

13 In this town we stayed for some days. On the Sabbath we went outside the gates, to the bank of the river where we supposed there was a praying place, and we sat down and talked with the women who 14 gathered there. One of our hearers was a woman named Lydia, a dealer in purple goods, from the town of Thyatira. She was a believer in God, and the Lord touched her heart, and led her to accept Paul's 15 teaching. When she and her household were baptized, she appealed to us, and said,

“If you are really convinced that I am a believer in the Lord, come and stay at my house.” And she insisted upon our coming.

16 Once as we were on our way to the praying place a slave-girl met us who had the gift of ventriloquism and made her masters a great deal 17 of money by her fortune-telling. This girl would follow Paul and the rest of us, crying out,

“These men are slaves of the Most High God, and they are making known to you a way of salvation.”

18 She did this for a number of days, until Paul, very much annoyed, turned and said to the spirit in her,

“In the name of Jesus Christ I order you to come out of her!” And it came out instantly.

19 But when her masters saw that their hopes of profits were gone, they seized Paul and Silas, dragged them to the public square, to the 20 authorities, and brought them before the chief magistrates.

“These men,” they said, “are Jews, and they are making a great 21 disturbance in our town. They are advocating practices which it is against the law for us as Romans to adopt or observe.”

22 The crowd also joined in the attack on them, and the magistrates
23 had them stripped and beaten. After beating them severely, they put them in jail, and gave the jailer orders to keep close watch of them.
24 He, having had such strict orders, put them into the inner cell, and 25 fastened their feet in the stocks. But about midnight, as Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns of praise to God, and the prisoners
26 were listening to them, suddenly there was such an earthquake that the jail shook to its foundations; all the doors flew open, and everybody’s
27 chains were unfastened. It woke up the jailer, and when he saw that the doors of the jail were open, he drew his sword and was just going 28 to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. But Paul shouted out,

“Do not do yourself any harm! We are all here!”

29 Then he called for lights and rushed in, and fell trembling at the 30 feet of Paul and Silas. He led them out of the jail and said to them,

“Gentlemen, what must I do to be saved?”

31 “Believe in the Lord Jesus,” they said, “and you and your household will be saved!”

32 Then they told God’s message to him and to all the members of 33 his household. And right then in the night, he took them and washed their wounds, and he and all his household were baptized immediately.

34 Then he took them up to his house and offered them food, and he and 35 all his household were very happy over their new faith in God. In the morning the magistrates sent policemen with instructions to let the 36 men go. The jailer reported this message to Paul, saying,

“The magistrates have sent orders that you are to be released. So you can take your leave and go unmolested.”

37 But Paul said to them,

“They had us beaten in public without giving us a trial, and put us in jail, although we are Roman citizens! And now are they going to dismiss us secretly? By no means! Have them come here themselves and take us out!”

38 The policemen delivered this message to the magistrates, and they 39 were alarmed when they heard that they were Roman citizens, and came and conciliated them, and took them out of the jail, and begged 40 them to leave the town. After leaving the jail they went to Lydia’s house, and saw the brothers and encouraged them. Then they left the town.

17 After passing through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they reached 2 Thessalonica, where the Jews had a synagogue. Paul went to it as he was accustomed to do, and for three Sabbaths he discussed the 3 Scriptures with them, explaining them and showing that the Christ had to suffer and rise from the dead.

“Jesus,” he said, “of whom I am telling you, is the Christ!”

4 He convinced some of them, and they joined Paul and Silas, along with a great many devout Greeks and a number of the principal 5 women. This offended the Jews and they gathered some unprincipled loafers, formed a mob and started a riot in the town. They attacked 6 Jason’s house, to find them and bring them out among the people. As they could not find them, they dragged Jason and some of the brothers before the town magistrates, shouting,

“The men who have made trouble all over the world have come
7 here too, and Jason has taken them in. They all disobey the emperor’s decrees, and claim that someone else called Jesus is king.”

8 The crowd and the magistrates were very much excited at hearing 9 this, and they put Jason and the others under bonds before they let them go.

10 The brothers sent Paul and Silas away immediately, in the course of the following night, to Berea. On arriving there they went to the 11 Jewish synagogue. The Jews there were more high-minded than those at Thessalonica, and received the message with great eagerness and 12 studied the Scriptures every day, to find out whether it was true. Many of them became believers and so did no small number of Greek women 13 of position, and men too. But when the Jews at Thessalonica found out that God’s message had been delivered at Berea by Paul, they came 14 there too, to excite and stir up the populace. Then the brothers immediately sent Paul off to the coast, while Silas and Timothy stayed 15 behind. The men who went with Paul took him all the way to Athens, and came back with instructions for Silas and Timothy to rejoin them as soon as possible.

16 While Paul waited for them at Athens, he was exasperated to see 17 how idolatrous the city was. He had discussions at the synagogue with the Jews and those who worshiped with them, and every day in the 18 public square with any whom he happened to find. Some of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers debated with him. Some of them said, “What is this rag-picker trying to make out?”

Others said,

“He seems to be preaching some foreign deities.”

This was because he was telling the good news of Jesus and the 19 resurrection. So they took him and brought him to the council of the Areopagus and said,

20 “May we know just what this new teaching of yours is? Some of the things you tell us sound strange to us, and we want to know just what they mean.”

21 For all Athenians and all visitors there from abroad used to spend all their time telling or listening to something new.

22 Then Paul stood up in the middle of the council and said,

“Men of Athens, from every point of view I see that you are 23 extremely religious. For as I was going about and looking at the things you worship, I even found an altar with this inscription: ‘To an Unknown God.’ So it is what you already worship in ignorance 24 that I am now telling you of. God who created the world and all that is in it, since he is Lord of heaven and earth, does not live in 25 temples built by human hands, nor is he waited on by human hands as though he were in need of anything, for he himself gives all men 26 life and breath and everything. From one forefather he has created every nation of mankind, and made them live all over the face of the 27 earth, fixing their appointed times and the limits of their lands, so that they might search for God, and perhaps grope for him and find him, 28 though he is never far from any of us. For it is through union with him that we live and move and exist, as some of your poets have said,

“‘For we are also his offspring.’”

29 So if we are God’s children we ought not to imagine that the divine nature is like gold or silver or stone, wrought by human art and thought.
30 While God overlooked those times of ignorance, he now calls upon all 31 men everywhere to repent, since he has fixed a day on which he will justly judge the world through a man whom he has appointed, and whom he has guaranteed to all men by raising him from the dead.”

32 When they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some of them sneered, but others said,

“We should like to hear you again on this subject.”

33 So Paul left the council. Some persons joined him, however, and 34 became believers, among them Dionysius, a member of the council, and a woman named Damaris, and some others.

18 After this he left Athens and went to Corinth. There he found
2 a Jew named Aquila, a native of Pontus, who had recently come from Italy with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had ordered all Jews to
3 leave Rome. Paul went to see them, and as they practiced the same trade, he stayed with them, and they worked together, for they were 4 tent-makers. Every Sabbath he would preach in the synagogue, and try to convince both Jews and Greeks.

5 By the time Silas and Timothy arrived from Macedonia, Paul was absorbed in preaching the message, emphatically assuring the Jews
6 that Jesus was the Christ. But as they contradicted and abused him, he shook his clothes in protest, and said to them,

“Your blood be on your own heads! I am not to blame for it! After this I will go to the heathen.”

7 So he moved to the house of a devout proselyte named Titius Justus,
8 which was next door to the synagogue. But Crispus, the leader of the synagogue, believed in the Lord, and so did all his household, and many of the people of Corinth heard Paul and believed and were bap-
9 tized. One night the Lord said to Paul in a vision,

10 “Do not be afraid! Go on speaking and do not give up, for I am with you, and no one shall attack you or injure you, for I have many people in this city.”

11 So he settled there for a year and a half, and taught them God’s message.

12 While Gallio was governor of Greece the Jews made a concerted attack upon Paul, and brought him before the governor.

13 “This fellow,” they said, “is trying to induce people to worship God in ways that are against the law.”

14 Before Paul could open his lips, Gallio said to the Jews,

“If some misdemeanor or rascality were involved, Jews, you might 15 reasonably expect me to listen to you. But as it is only a question of words and titles and your own law, you must look after it yourselves. I refuse to decide such matters.”

16 And he drove them away from the court. Then they all seized
17

Sosthenes, the leader of the synagogue, and beat him in front of the court. But Gallio paid no attention to it.

18 Paul stayed some time longer, and then bade the brothers goodbye and sailed for Syria, with Priscilla and Aquila. At Cenchreae he had 19 his hair cut, because of a vow he had been under. When they reached Ephesus he left them there. He went to the synagogue there and had 20 a discussion with the Jews. They asked him to stay longer, but he 21 would not consent. He bade them goodbye, saying,

“I will come back to you again if it is God’s will.”

22 Then he sailed from Ephesus. When he reached Caesarea, he went up to Jerusalem and paid his respects to the church, and then went on 23 to Antioch. After spending some time there, he started out again, and traveled systematically through Galatia and Phrygia, reassuring all the disciples.

24 A Jew named Apollos, a native of Alexandria, came to Ephesus.
25 He was an eloquent man, skilful in the use of the Scriptures. He had had some instruction about the Way of the Lord, and he talked with burning zeal and taught painstakingly about Jesus, though he knew of 26 no baptism but John’s. He spoke very confidently in the synagogue at first, but when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him home
27 and explained the Way of God to him more correctly. As he wanted to cross Greece, the brothers wrote to the disciples there, urging them to welcome him. On his arrival there he was of great service to those 28 who through God’s favor had become believers, for he vigorously refuted the Jews in public, and showed from the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

19 It was while Apollos was in Corinth that Paul, after passing through
2 the interior, reached Ephesus. Finding some disciples there, he said to them,

“Did you receive the holy Spirit when you became believers?”

“No,” they said to him, “we never even heard that there was a holy Spirit.”

3 “How then were you baptized?” he asked.

“With John’s baptism,” they answered.

4 “John’s baptism was a baptism in token of repentance,” said Paul, “and he told the people to believe in him who was to follow him, that is, in Jesus.”

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord
6 Jesus, and when Paul laid his hands on them, the holy Spirit came on them, and they spoke in foreign tongues and with prophetic inspiration.

7 There were about twelve of them in all.

8 He went to the synagogue there, and for three months spoke confidently, holding discussions and trying to persuade them about the 9 Kingdom of God. But as some of them were obstinate and refused to believe, finding fault with the Way before the people, he left them, and withdrew the disciples, and held daily discussions in the lecture-
10 room of Tyrannus. This went on for two years, so that everyone who lived in Asia, Greeks as well as Jews, heard the Lord's message.

11 God did such extraordinary wonders by means of Paul that people
12 took to the sick handkerchiefs or aprons he had used, and they were 13 cured of their diseases, and the evil spirits went out of them. Some Jews who went from place to place casting out demons tried to use the name of the Lord Jesus in the cases of people who had evil spirits in them, saying,

"I command you in the name of Jesus whom Paul preaches!"

14 A Jewish high priest named Sceva had seven sons who were doing 15 this. But the evil spirit answered,

"I know Jesus, and I know of Paul, but who are you?"

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was sprang at them, and overpowered them all, with such violence that they ran out of the house 17 tattered and bruised. This came to be known to everyone who lived in Ephesus, Greeks as well as Jews, and great awe came over them all,
18 and the name of the Lord Jesus came to be held in high honor. Many who became believers would come and openly confess their former 19 practices. A number of people who had practiced magic brought out their books and burned them publicly. The value of these was esti-
20 mated and found to be ten thousand dollars. So the Lord's message went on growing wonderfully in influence and power.

21 After these events, Paul, under the Spirit's guidance, resolved to go to Jerusalem, and to revisit Macedonia and Greece on the way.

"After I have gone there," he said, "I must see Rome also."

22 He sent two of his assistants, Timothy and Erastus, to Macedonia, while he stayed on for a while in Asia.

23 Just at that time a great commotion arose about the Way. A silver-
24 smith named Demetrius was making large profits for his workmen by 25 the manufacture of silver shrines of Artemis. He got the workmen in that and similar trades together, and said to them,

"Men, you know that this business is the source of our prosperity, 26 and you see and hear that not only in Ephesus but almost all over Asia, this man Paul has persuaded and drawn away numbers of people, telling them that gods made by human hands are not gods at all. There is danger, therefore, not only that this business of ours will be discredited, but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis will be neglected and the magnificence of her whom all Asia and the world worship will be a thing of the past!"

28 When they heard this, they became very angry, and cried, "Great Artemis of Ephesus!"

29 So the commotion spread all over the city, and by a common impulse the people rushed to the theater, dragging with them two Macedonians, 30 Gaius and Aristarchus, Paul's traveling companions. Paul wanted to 31 go before the people himself, but the disciples would not allow it. Some of the religious authorities also, who were friends of his, sent to him 32 and begged him not to venture into the theater. Meanwhile the people were shouting, some one thing and some another, for the meeting was in confusion, and most of them had no idea why they had come together. Some of the crowd called upon Alexander, as the Jews had 33 pushed him to the front, and he made a gesture with his hand and was 34 going to speak in defense of them to the people. But when they saw that he was a Jew, a great shout went up from them all, and they cried for two hours,

"Great Artemis of Ephesus!"

35 At last the recorder quieted the mob and said,

"Men of Ephesus, who in the world does not know that the city of Ephesus is the guardian of the temple of the great Artemis, and of the 36 image that fell down from the sky? So as these facts are undeniable, 37 you must be calm, and not do anything reckless. For you have brought these men here, though they have not been guilty of disloyalty nor 38 uttered any blasphemy against our goddess. If Demetrius and his fellow-craftsmen have a charge to bring against anyone, there are the 39 courts and the governors; let them take legal action. But if you require anything beyond that, it must be settled before the regular assembly. 40 For we are in danger of being charged with rioting in connection with today's events, though there is really nothing about this commotion that we will not be able to explain."

41 With these words he dismissed the assembly.

20 When the confusion was over, Paul sent for the disciples and encouraged them. Then he bade them goodbye and started for Macedonia. After traveling through those districts and giving the people a 3 great deal of encouragement, he went on to Greece where he stayed for three months. Just as he was going to sail for Syria, the Jews made a plot against him, and he made up his mind to return by way of 4 Macedonia. He was accompanied by Sopater of Berea, the son of Pyrrhus, Aristarchus and Secundus, from Thessalonica, Gaius of 5 Derbe, Timothy, and Tychicus and Trophimus, from Asia. They

6 went on to Troas and waited for us there, while we sailed from Philippi after the festival of Unleavened Bread, and joined them at Troas five days later. There we stayed a week.

7 On the first day of the week, when we had met for the breaking of bread, Paul addressed them, as he was going away the next morn-
8 ing, and he prolonged his address until midnight. There were a
9 great many lamps in the upstairs room where we met and a young man named Eutychus, who was sitting at the window, became very drowsy as Paul's address grew longer and longer, and finally went fast asleep and fell from the third story to the ground, and was picked 10 up for dead. But Paul went downstairs, and threw himself upon him, and put his arms around him.

"Do not be alarmed," he said, "he is still alive."

11 Then he went upstairs again, and broke the bread, and ate, and after a long talk with them that lasted until daylight, he went away.

12 They took the boy home alive, and were greatly comforted.

13 We had already gone on board the ship and sailed for Assos, intending to take Paul on board there, for that was the arrangement
14 he had made, as he intended to travel there by land. So when he met us at Assos, we took him on board and went on to Mitylene.
15 Sailing from there, we arrived off Chios on the following day. On the next we crossed to Samos, and on the next we reached Miletus.
16 For Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus, so that he would not have to lose any time in Asia, for he was hurrying to reach Jerusalem, if possible, by the day of the Harvest Festival.

17 From Miletus he sent to Ephesus for the elders of the church.

18 When they came, he said to them,

"You know well enough how I lived among you all the time from 19 the first day I set foot in Asia, and how I served the Lord most humbly and with tears, through all the trials that I encountered
20 because of the plots of the Jews. I never shrank from telling you anything that was for your good, nor from teaching you in public
21 or at your houses, but earnestly urged Greeks as well as Jews to turn
22 to God in repentance and to believe in our Lord Jesus. I am here now on my way to Jerusalem, for the Spirit compels me to go there,

23 though I do not know what will happen to me there, except that in every town I visit, the holy Spirit warns me that imprisonment and 24 persecution are awaiting me. But my life does not matter, if I can only finish my race and do the service intrusted to me by the Lord
25 Jesus, of declaring the good news of God's favor. Now I know perfectly well that none of you among whom I went about preaching
26 the Kingdom of God will ever see my face again. Therefore I declare to you today that I am not responsible for the blood of any of you,
27 for I have not shrunk from letting you know God's purpose without 28 reserve. Take care of yourselves and of the whole flock, of which the holy Spirit has made you guardians, and be shepherds of the church of 29 God, which he got at the cost of his own life. I know that after I am gone savage wolves will get in among you and will not spare the 30 flock, and from your own number men will appear and teach perversions of the truth in order to draw the disciples away from them.
31 So you must be on your guard and remember that for three years, night and day, I never stopped warning any one of you, even with 32 tears. Now I commit you to the Lord, and to the message of his favor, which will build you up and give you a place among those 33 whom God has consecrated. I have never coveted anyone's gold or 34 silver or clothes. You know well enough that these hands of mine 35 provided for my needs and my companions. I showed you in every way that by hard work like that we must help those who are weak and remember the words of the Lord Jesus, for he said, 'It makes one happier to give than to be given to.'

36 With these words, he knelt down with them all and prayed. They 37 all wept aloud, and throwing their arms about Paul's neck they kissed him affectionately, for they were especially saddened at his saying that they would never see his face again. Then they accompanied him to the ship.

21 When the parting was over and we had sailed, we made a straight run to Cos and the next day to Rhodes and from there to Patara.
2 There we found a ship bound for Phoenicia, and we went on board
3 and sailed on it. After sighting Cyprus and leaving it on our left, we sailed for Syria, and put in at Tyre, for the ship was to unload
4 her cargo there. So we looked up the disciples there and stayed a week with them. Instructed by the Spirit, they warned Paul not to set foot
5 in Jerusalem. But when our time was up, we left there and went on, and all of them with their wives and children escorted us out of the 6 town. There we knelt down on the beach and prayed; then we bade one another goodbye, and we went on board the ship, and they went home.

7 After making the run from Tyre, we landed at Ptolemais, where 8 we greeted the brothers and spent a day with them. The next day we left there and went on to Caesarea, where we went to the house of Philip the missionary, who was one of the Seven, and stayed with 9 him. He had four unmarried daughters who had the gift of prophecy.
10 We spent a number of days there, and in the course of them a prophet 11 named Agabus came down from Judea. He came to see us and took Paul's belt and bound his own feet and hands with it, and said,

"This is what the holy Spirit says: 'The Jews at Jerusalem will bind the man who owns this belt like this, and will hand him over to the heathen!'"

12 When we heard this, we and the people there all begged him not 13 to go up to Jerusalem. Then Paul answered,

"What do you mean by crying and breaking my heart? I am ready not only to be bound at Jerusalem but to die there for the sake of the Lord Jesus."

14 So as he would not yield, we gave up urging him, and said,
"The Lord's will be done!"

15 After this we made our preparations and started for Jerusalem.
16 Some of the disciples from Caesarea went with us and took us to the house of Mnason, a man from Cyprus, one of the early disciples, to 17 spend the night. When we reached Jerusalem, the brothers there 18 gave us a hearty welcome. On the next day we went with Paul to 19 see James, and all the elders came in. Paul greeted them warmly and gave a detailed account of what God had done among the heathen 20 through his efforts. They praised God when they heard it, and they said to him,

"You see, brother, how many thousand believers there are among 21 the Jews, all of them zealous upholders of the Law. They have been told that you teach all Jews who live among the heathen to turn away from Moses, and that you tell them not to circumcise their children 22 nor to observe the old customs. What then? They will be sure to 23 hear that you have come. So do what we tell you. We have four 24 men here who are under a vow. Join them, undergo the rites of purification with them, and pay their expenses so that they can have their heads shaved. Then everybody will understand that there is no truth in the stories about you, but that you yourself observe the 25 Law. As for the heathen who have become believers, we have written them our decision that they must avoid anything that has been contaminated by idols, the tasting of blood, the meat of strangled animals, and immorality."

26 Then Paul joined the men and went through the rites of purification with them and the next day went to the Temple to give notice of the time when, upon the offering of the sacrifice for each one of them, their days of purification would be over.

27 The seven days were almost over when the Jews from Asia caught sight of him in the Temple, and stirred up all the crowd and seized 28 him, shouting,

"Men of Israel, help! This is the man who teaches everybody everywhere against our people and the Law and this place, and besides he has actually brought Greeks into the Temple and desecrated this sacred place."

29 For they had previously seen Trophimus of Ephesus with him in the city, and they supposed that Paul had brought him into the Temple.

30 The whole city was thrown into confusion, and the people hurried together, and seized Paul and dragged him outside of the Temple,

31 the gates of which were immediately shut. They were trying to kill him when the news reached the colonel of the regiment that all

32 Jerusalem was in a tumult. He immediately got some officers and men and hurried down among them, and when they saw the colonel

33 and the soldiers they stopped beating Paul. Then the colonel came up and seized him, and ordered him to be bound with two chains,

34 and then inquired who he was and what he had been doing. Some of the crowd shouted one thing and some another, and as he could

35 not find out the facts on account of the confusion, he ordered him to be taken into the barracks. When Paul got to the steps, he was actually

36 carried by the soldiers, on account of the violence of the mob, for the mass of people followed them shouting,

"Kill him!"

37 Just as they were going to take him into the barracks, Paul said to the colonel,

"May I say something to you?"

38 "Do you know Greek?" the colonel asked. "Are you not the Egyptian who some time ago raised the four thousand cut-throats and led them out into the desert?"

39 "I am a Jew," Paul answered, "from Tarsus, in Cilicia, a citizen of no insignificant city. I beg you to let me speak to the people."

40 He gave him permission, and Paul standing on the steps made a gesture to the people, and when they had become quiet he spoke to them in Hebrew.

22 "Brothers and fathers," he said, "listen to what I have to say in my defense."

2 When they heard him speak to them in Hebrew, they became even more quiet, and he said,

3 "I am a Jew, and I was born in Tarsus in Cilicia, but was brought up here in this city, and thoroughly educated under the teaching of Gamaliel in the Law of our forefathers. I was zealous for God, just 4 as all of you are today. I persecuted this Way even to the death, and 5 bound both men and women and put them in prison, as the high priest and the whole council will bear me witness. In fact, they gave me letters to the brothers in Damascus and I went there to bind those who were there and bring them back to Jerusalem to be punished.

6 But on my way, as I was approaching Damascus, suddenly about 7 noon, a blaze of light flashed around me from heaven, and I fell upon the ground and heard a voice say to me, 'Saul! Saul! Why do you

8 persecute me?' I answered, 'Who are you, sir?' 'I am Jesus of 9 Nazareth,' he said, 'whom you are persecuting.' The men who were with me saw the light, but they did not hear the voice of the one

10 who was speaking to me. Then I said, 'What am I to do, sir?' The Lord said to me, 'Get up and go into Damascus. There you will be 11 told of all you are destined to do.' As I could not see, because of the dazzling light, my companions had to lead me by the hand, and

12 so I reached Damascus. There a man named Ananias, a devout observer of the Law, highly respected by all the Jews who lived there,
13 came to see me, and standing by my side, said to me, 'Saul, my brother, regain your sight!' Then instantly I regained my sight and

14 looked at him, and he said, 'The God of our forefathers has appointed you to learn his will and to see his Righteous One and hear him
15 speak, for you shall be his witness before all men of what you have 16 seen and heard. And now, why do you delay? Get up and be baptized,

17 and wash out your sins, calling on his name.' After I had returned to Jerusalem, one day when I was praying in the Temple, I fell
18 into a trance, and saw him saying to me, 'Make haste and leave
19 Jerusalem at once, for they will not accept your evidence about me.'

19 And I said, 'Lord, they know that I used to go through one synagogue after another, and to imprison and flog those who believed in you,
20 and when the blood of your witness Stephen was being shed, I stood 21 by and approved it, and took charge of the clothes of the men who

20 and when the blood of your witness Stephen was being shed, I stood by and approved it, and took charge of the clothes of the men who

- 21 killed him.' But he said to me, 'Go! I will send you far away to the heathen.'"
- 22 They had listened to him until he said that, but then they shouted, "Kill him and get him out of the world! A creature like that ought not to be allowed to live!"
- 23 As they were shouting and throwing their clothes about and flinging dust into the air, the colonel ordered Paul brought into the barracks, and gave directions that he should be examined under the lash, so that he might find out why they made such an outcry against him.
- 25 But when they had strapped him up, Paul said to the officer who was standing near,
"Is it legal for you to flog a Roman citizen, and without giving him a trial?"
- 26 Upon hearing this, the officer went to the colonel and reported it. "What do you propose to do?" he said. "This man is a Roman citizen."
- 27 Then the colonel came to Paul and said,
"Tell me, are you a Roman citizen?"
"Yes," he said.
- 28 "I had to pay a large sum for my citizenship," said the colonel. "But I am a citizen by birth," said Paul.
- 29 Then the men who had been going to examine him immediately left him, and the colonel himself was alarmed to find that Paul was a Roman citizen and that he had had him bound.
- 30 The next day, as he wished to find out the real reason why the Jews denounced him, he had him unbound and ordered the high priests and the whole council to assemble, and took Paul down and brought 23 him before them. Paul looked steadily at the council and said,
"Brothers, I have done my duty to God with a perfectly clear conscience up to this very day."
- 2 At this the high priest Ananias ordered the people who were standing nearest to him to strike him on the mouth. Then Paul said to him,
"God will strike you, you white-washed wall! Do you sit there to try me by the Law, and order them to strike me in violation of the Law?"
- 4 But the people who stood near him said,
"Do you mean to insult God's high priest?"
- 5 "I did not know, brothers," said Paul, "that he was high priest, for the Scripture says, 'You shall not say anything against any ruler of your people.'"

6 Knowing that part of them were Sadducees and part of them Pharisees, Paul called out in the council,

"Brothers, I am a Pharisee, and the son of Pharisees! It is for my hope for the resurrection of the dead that I am on trial!"

7 When he said that, a dispute arose between the Pharisees and the 8 Sadducees, and the meeting was divided. For the Sadducees hold that there is no resurrection and that there are no angels or spirits, while 9 the Pharisees believe in all three. So there was a great uproar, and some scribes of the Pharisees' party got up and insisted,

"We find nothing wrong with this man. Suppose some spirit or angel really spoke to him!"

10 As the dispute was becoming violent, the colonel began to be afraid that they would tear Paul in pieces, and ordered the soldiers to go down and get him away from them and bring him into the barracks.

11 On the following night the Lord stood beside him and said,

"Courage! For just as you have testified for me in Jerusalem, you must testify in Rome also."

12 In the morning, the Jews made a conspiracy and took an oath not 13 to eat or drink till they had killed Paul. There were more than forty 14 of them involved in this plot, and they went to the high priests and elders and said to them,

"We have taken a solemn oath not to touch anything to eat till 15 we have killed Paul. Now you and the council must suggest to the colonel that he should have Paul brought down to you, as you mean to look into his case more carefully, and we will be ready to kill him before he gets down."

16 But Paul's nephew heard of the plot, and he came and got into 17 the barracks, and told Paul. Paul called one of the officers and said to him,

"Take this young man to the colonel, for he has something to tell him."

18 So he took him to the colonel, and said,

"The prisoner Paul called me to him and asked me to bring this young man to you, as he has something to say to you."

19 So the colonel took him by the arm and stepping aside where they could be alone, asked,

"What is it that you have to tell me?"

20 "The Jews," he answered, "have agreed to ask you to bring Paul down to the council tomorrow, on the ground that you mean to have 21 a fuller inquiry made into his case. But do not let them persuade you, for more than forty of them are lying in wait for him, and they have taken an oath not to eat or drink till they have killed him. They are all ready now, and are only waiting to get your promise.”

22 So the colonel sent the youth away, directing him not to tell anyone 23 that he had given him this information. Then he called in two of his officers and said to them,

“Get two hundred men ready to march to Caesarea, with seventy mounted men and two hundred spearmen, by nine o’clock tonight.”
24 They were also to provide horses for Paul to ride, so that they might 25 take him in safety to Felix, the governor, to whom he wrote a letter to this effect:

26 “Claudius Lysias sends greetings to his Excellency Felix, the gov-27 ernor. This man had been seized by the Jews and they were just going to kill him when I came upon them with my men and rescued 28 him, as I had learned that he was a Roman citizen. As I wanted to learn what charge they made against him, I had him brought before 29 their council, and found that their accusations had to do with questions about their Law, but that he was not charged with anything 30 that would call for his death or imprisonment. As I have been informed that a plot against him is brewing, I am sending him on to you at once, and directing his accusers to present their charges against him before you.”

31 Then the soldiers took Paul, as they had been ordered to do, and 32 escorted him as far as Antipatris that night. The next day, they returned to the barracks, leaving the mounted men to go on with him, 33 and they on reaching Caesarea delivered the letter to the governor
34 and handed Paul over to him. After reading the letter, he asked Paul what province he belonged to, and when he learned that he was 35 from Cilicia, he said,

“I will hear your case as soon as your accusers arrive.”

And he gave orders that he should be kept in Herod’s palace.

24 Five days later, the high priest Ananias came down with some of the elders and an attorney named Tertullus, and they presented their 2 case against Paul before the governor. When Paul had been summoned, Tertullus began the prosecution.

“Your Excellency Felix,” he said, “since through your efforts we enjoy perfect peace, and through your foresight this nation is 3 securing needed reforms, we always and everywhere acknowledge

4 this with profound gratitude. But—not to detain you too long—I
5 beg you to be kind enough to give us a brief hearing. For we have 6 found this man a pest and a disturber of the peace among Jews all
7 over the world. He is a ringleader of the Nazarene sect, and actually 8 tried to desecrate the Temple, but we caught him. If you will examine him yourself you will be able to find out from him all about the things we charge him with.”

9 The Jews also joined in these charges, and said that the statement 10 was true. The governor made a sign to Paul to speak, and he answered,

“As I know that for many years you have acted as judge for this 11 nation, I cheerfully undertake my defense, for it is not more than twelve days ago, as you can easily satisfy yourself, that I went up to 12 worship at Jerusalem, and they have never found me debating with anyone in the Temple, or creating a disturbance among the people
13 in the synagogues or about the city, and they cannot sustain the charges 14 they have just made against me. I admit that in worshipping the God of my forefathers I follow the way of life that they call a sect, but I believe everything that is taught in the Law or written in the prophets, 15 and I have the same hope in God that they themselves hold, that there
16 is to be a resurrection of the upright and the wicked. Therefore I 17 strive always to have a clear conscience before God and men. After an absence of several years, I had come to bring charitable donations for my nation, and to offer sacrifice. I had undergone the rites of purification and was occupied with these matters when they found me 18 in the Temple, with no crowd or disturbance at all. But there were 19 some Jews from Asia who ought to be here before you and to present 20 their charges if they have any to make against me. Or let these men themselves tell what they found wrong in me when I appeared before 21 the council—unless it was the one thing I shouted out as I stood among them—“It is on the question of the resurrection of the dead that I am here on trial before you today!””

22 Then Felix, who was somewhat well informed about the Way, adjourned the trial, saying to the Jews,

“When Lysias, the colonel, comes down here, I will decide your case.”

23 He ordered the officer to keep Paul in custody, but to allow him some freedom, and not to prevent his friends from looking after him.

24 Some days later Felix came with his wife Drusilla, who was Jewish, and sent for Paul and heard what he had to say about faith in Christ

25 Jesus. But as he talked of uprightness, self-control, and the coming judgment, Felix became alarmed, and said,

“You may go for the present. I will find time later to send for you.”

26 At the same time he hoped to get money from Paul, and for that reason he used to send for him very often and talk with him.

27 But when two whole years had passed, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus, and as he wanted to gratify the Jews, Felix left Paul in prison.

25 Three days after his arrival in the province, Festus went up from
2 Caesarea to Jerusalem, and the high priests and Jewish leaders pre-
3 sented their charges against Paul, and begged him as a favor to order
4 Paul to come to Jerusalem, plotting to kill him on the way. Festus answered that Paul was being kept in custody at Caesarea, and that he himself was going there soon.

5 “So have your principal men go down with me,” he said, “and present charges against the man, if there is anything wrong with him.”

6 After staying only eight or ten days there, he went down to Caesarea, and the next day took his place in the judge’s chair, and ordered Paul 7 brought in. When he came, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem surrounded him, and made a number of serious charges
8 against him, which they could not substantiate. Paul said in his own defense,

“I have committed no offense against the Jewish Law or the Temple or the emperor.”

9 Then Festus, wishing to gratify the Jews, said to Paul,

“Will you go up to Jerusalem and be tried there before me on these charges?”

10 But Paul said,

“I am standing before the emperor’s court, where I ought to be 11 tried. I have done the Jews no wrong, as you can easily see. If I am guilty and have done anything that deserves death, I do not refuse to die; but if there is no truth in the charges that these men make against me, no one can give me up to them; I appeal to the emperor.”

12 Then Festus after conferring with the council answered,

“You have appealed to the emperor, and to the emperor you shall go!”

13 Some time after, King Agrippa and Bernice came to Caesarea on 14 a state visit to Festus, and as they stayed there several days, Festus laid Paul’s case before the king.

—“There is a man here,” he said, “who was left in prison by Felix,

15 and when I was at Jerusalem the Jewish high priests and elders pre-16 sented their case against him, and asked for his conviction. I told them that it was not the Roman custom to give anybody up until the accused met his accusers face to face and had a chance to defend 17 himself against their accusations. So they came back here with me and the next day without losing any time I took my place in the 18 judge's chair and ordered the man brought in. But when his accusers got up, they did not charge him with any such crimes as I had ex-19 pected. Their differences with him were about their own religion and about a certain Jesus who had died but who Paul said was alive.
20 I was at a loss as to how to investigate such matters, and I asked him if he would like to go to Jerusalem and be tried on these charges there.
21 But Paul appealed to have his case reserved for his Majesty's decision, and I have ordered him kept in custody until I can send him to the emperor."

22 "I should like to hear the man myself," Agrippa said to Festus.

"You shall hear him tomorrow," Festus answered.

23 So the next day, Agrippa and Bernice came with great pomp and went into the audience-room attended by officers and the leading citizens of the town, and at the command of Festus Paul was brought in.

24 Then Festus said,

"King Agrippa and all who are present, you see here the man about whom the whole Jewish people have applied to me both at Jerusalem 25 and here, clamoring that he ought not to live any longer. I could not find that he had done anything for which he deserved death, but as 26 he appealed to his Majesty I decided to send him to him. Yet I have nothing definite to write to our sovereign about him. So I have brought him before you all, and especially before you, King Agrippa, in order 27 to get from your examination of him something to put in writing. For it seems to me absurd to send a prisoner on, without stating the charges against him."

26 Then Agrippa said to Paul,

"You are at liberty to speak in your own defense."

So Paul stretched out his hand and began his defense.

2 "I think myself fortunate, King Agrippa," said he, "that it is before you that I am to defend myself today against all the things the Jews 3 charge me with, especially because you are so familiar with all the Jewish customs and questions. I beg you, therefore, to listen to me 4 with patience. The way I lived from my youth up, spending my early life among my own nation and at Jerusalem, is well known to all

5 Jews, for they have known from the first, if they are willing to give evidence, that I was a Pharisee and my life was that of the strictest sect
6 of our religion. Even now it is for my hope in the promise that God 7 made to our forefathers that I stand here on trial, the promise in the hope of seeing which fulfilled our twelve tribes serve God zealously night and day. It is about this hope, your Majesty, that I am accused 8 by some Jews. Why do you all think it incredible that God should 9 raise the dead? I once thought it my duty vigorously to oppose the 10 cause of Jesus of Nazareth. That was what I did at Jerusalem when on the authority of the high priests I put many of God's people in prison.
11 When they were put to death, I cast my vote against them, and many a time in all the synagogues I had them punished, and tried to force them to say impious things. In my extreme rage against them I even 12 pursued them to distant towns. I was once going to Damascus on this 13 business, authorized and commissioned by the high priests, when on the road at noon, your Majesty, I saw a light from heaven brighter 14 than the sun flash around me and my fellow-travelers. We all fell to the ground, and I heard a voice say to me in Hebrew, 'Saul! Saul!
15 Why do you persecute me? You cannot kick against the goad!' 'Who are you, sir?' said I. The Lord said, 'I am Jesus, whom you are per-16 secuting. But get up and stand on your feet, for I have appeared to you for the express purpose of appointing you to serve me and to testify 17 to what you have seen and to the visions you will have of me. I will save you from your people and from the heathen, to whom I will send 18 you to open their eyes and turn them from darkness to light and from Satan's control to God, so that they may have their sins forgiven and have a place among those who are consecrated through faith in me.'
19 Therefore, King Agrippa, I did not disobey that heavenly vision, but 20 first to the people of Damascus and Jerusalem and then all over Judea, and even to the heathen I preached that they must repent and 21 turn to God and live as men who have repented should. That is why 22 the Jews seized me in the Temple and tried to kill me. To this day
I have had God's help, and I stand here to testify to high and low alike, without adding a thing to what Moses and the prophets declared 23 would happen, if the Christ was to suffer and by being the first to rise from the dead was to proclaim the light to our people and to the heathen."

24 As he said this in his defense, Festus called out,

"You are raving, Paul! Your great learning is driving you mad!"

25 "I am not raving, your Excellency Festus," said Paul, "I am tell-

26 ing the sober truth. The king knows about this, and I can speak to him with freedom. I do not believe that he missed any of this, for it 27 did not happen in a corner! King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know that you do!”

28 “You are in a hurry to persuade me and make a Christian of me!” Agrippa said to Paul.

29 “In a hurry or not,” said Paul, “I would to God that not only you, but all who hear me today, might be what I am—except for these chains!”

30 Then the king rose, with the governor and Bernice and those who 31 had sat with them, and after leaving the room, in talking the matter over together, they said,

“This man has not done anything to deserve death or imprisonment.”

32 “He might have been set at liberty,” said Agrippa to Festus, “if he had not appealed to the emperor.”

27 When it was decided that we were to sail for Italy, Paul and some other prisoners were turned over to an officer of the Imperial regiment, named Julius. We went on board an Adramyttian ship bound for the ports of Asia, and put to sea. We had a Macedonian from 3 Thessalonica, named Aristarchus, with us. The next day we put in at Sidon, and Julius kindly allowed Paul to go and see his friends and
4 be taken care of. Putting to sea from there, we sailed under the lee
5 of Cyprus, as the wind was against us, and after traversing the Cilician
6 and Pamphylian waters, we reached Myra in Lycia. There the officer found an Alexandrian ship bound for Italy, and put us on board her.
7 For a number of days we made slow progress and had some difficulty in arriving off Cnidus. Then as the wind kept us from going on, we
8 sailed under the lee of Crete, off Cape Salmone, and with difficulty coasted along it and reached a place called Fair Havens, near the town of Lasea.

9 As a great deal of time had now passed, and navigation had become dangerous, for the autumn fast was already over, Paul began to warn them.

10 “Gentlemen,” he said, “I see that this voyage is likely to end in disaster and heavy loss, not only to ship and cargo but to our own lives also.”

11 But the officer was more influenced by the pilot and the captain 12 than by what Paul had to say, and as the harbor was not fit to winter in, the majority favored putting to sea again, in the hope of being able to reach and winter in Phoenix, a harbor in Crete facing west-south-13 west and west-north-west. When a moderate south wind sprang up, thinking their object was within reach, they weighed anchor, and ran 14 close along the coast of Crete. But very soon a violent wind which 15 they call a Northeaster rushed down from it. The ship was caught by it and could not face the wind, so we gave way and let her run before 16 it. As we passed under the lee of a small island called Cauda, we man-17 aged with great difficulty to secure the ship's boat. After hoisting it on board, they used ropes to brace the ship, and as they were afraid of being cast on the Syrtis banks, they lowered the sail, and let the 18 ship drift. The next day, as the storm continued to be violent, they 19 began to throw the cargo overboard, and on the next, they threw the 20 ship's tackle overboard with their own hands. For a number of days neither the sun nor the stars were visible, and the storm continued to 21 rage, until at last we gave up all hope of being saved. Then, when they had gone a long time without food, Paul got up among them, and said,

"Gentlemen, you ought to have listened to me and not to have 22 sailed from Crete and incurred this disaster and loss. Even now, I beg you to keep up your courage, for there will be no loss of life among 23 you, but only of the ship. For last night an angel of the God I belong 24 to and serve stood before me, and said, 'Do not be afraid, Paul! You must stand before the emperor, and see! God has given you the lives 25 of all the people who are on the ship with you.' So keep up your courage, gentlemen! For I have faith in God that it will be just as I was 26 told. But we are to be stranded on some island."

27 It was the fourteenth night of the storm, and we were drifting through the Adriatic when about midnight the sailors began to suspect 28 that there was land ahead. On taking soundings, they found a depth of twenty fathoms, and a little later, taking soundings again, they 29 found a depth of fifteen. Then as they were afraid we might go on the rocks, they dropped four anchors from the stern and waited anx-30 iously for daylight. The sailors wanted to escape from the ship, and actually lowered the boat into the sea, pretending that they were going 31 to run out anchors from the bow, but Paul said to the officers and the soldiers,

"You cannot be saved unless these men stay on board."

32 Then the soldiers cut the ropes that held the boat and let it drift 33 away. Until daybreak Paul kept urging them all to take something to eat.

“For fourteen days,” he said, “you have been constantly on the watch, without taking anything to eat. I beg you to eat something; it is necessary for your safety. For not one of you will lose even a hair of his head.”

With these words he took some bread and after thanking God for it before them all, he broke it in pieces and began to eat it. This raised the spirits of all of them, and they took something to eat. There were about seventy-six of us on board. When they had had enough to eat, they threw the wheat into the sea, in order to lighten the ship. When daylight came they could not recognize the coast, but they saw a bay with a beach and determined to run the ship ashore there if possible. So they cast off the anchors and left them in the sea, at the same time they undid the lashings of the steering oars, and hoisting the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. But they struck a shoal and ran the ship aground. The bow struck and could not be moved, while the stern began to break up under the strain. The soldiers proposed to kill the prisoners, for fear some of them might swim ashore and escape, but the officer wanted to save Paul, and so he prevented them from doing this, and ordered all who could swim to jump overboard first and get to land, and the rest to follow on planks or other pieces of wreckage. So they all got safely to land.

After our escape we learned that the island was called Malta. The natives showed us remarkable kindness, for they made a fire and welcomed us, because of the rain that had come on and the cold. Paul gathered a bundle of sticks and put them on the fire, when a viper crawled out of them because of the heat and fastened on his hand. When the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand, they said to one another,

“This man is undoubtedly a murderer, for though he has been saved from the sea, justice will not let him live.”

But he only shook the creature off into the fire and was unharmed. They expected to see him swell up or suddenly fall dead, but after waiting a long time and seeing nothing unusual happen to him, they changed their minds and said that he was a god.

The governor of the island, whose name was Publius, had estates in that part of the island, and he welcomed us and entertained us hospitably for three days. Publius' father happened to be sick in bed with fever and dysentery, and Paul went to see him and after praying laid his hands on him and cured him. After that, the other sick people on 10 the island came and were cured. They made us many presents, and when we sailed, they provided us with everything that we needed.

11 Three months later, we sailed on an Alexandrian ship named the Dioscuri, which had wintered at the island. We put in at Syracuse 12 and stayed there three days, then we weighed anchor and reached Rhegium. A day later, a south wind sprang up and the following day 13 we arrived at Puteoli. There we found some of the brothers, and they urged us to spend a week with them. Then we went on to Rome. 14 The brothers there had had news of our coming, and came as far as Appius' Forum and Three Taverns to meet us, and when Paul saw them he thanked God and was greatly encouraged. 15

16 When we reached Rome, Paul was given permission to live by himself, with a soldier to guard him.

17 Three days later, he invited the leading Jews to come to see him, and when they came he said to them,

“Brothers, I have done nothing against our people, or the customs of our forefathers, yet I was turned over to the Romans as a prisoner 18 at Jerusalem. They examined me and were ready to let me go, as I was innocent of any crime that deserved death. But the Jews objected, 19 and I was obliged to appeal to the emperor—not that I had any charge to make against my own nation. That is why I asked to see you and 20 speak with you, for it is on account of Israel's hope that I have to wear this chain.”

21 “We have had no letters about you from Judea,” they answered, “and none of the brothers who have come here has reported or said 22 anything against you. But we want to hear you state your views, for as far as this sect is concerned, we understand that everywhere it is denounced.”

23 So they fixed a day, and came in even larger numbers to the place where he was staying, and from morning till night he explained to them the Kingdom of God and gave his testimony, trying to convince 24 them about Jesus from the Law of Moses and the Prophets. Some of them were convinced by what he said, but others would not believe. 25 As they could not agree among themselves, they started to leave, when Paul added one last word.

“The holy Spirit put it finely,” he said, “when it said to your forefathers through the prophet Isaiah,

26 “Go to this Nation and say to them,

“You will listen, and listen, and never understand,
And you will look, and look, and never see!

- 27 For this nation's mind has grown dull,
And they hear faintly with their ears,
And they have shut their eyes,
So as never to see with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And understand with their minds, and turn back,
And let me cure them!"
- 28 "Understand then that this message of God's salvation has been sent to the heathen. They will listen to it!"
- 29 So he stayed for two full years in rented lodgings of his own, and 30 welcomed everybody who came to see him, preaching the Kingdom of 31 God to them and teaching about the Lord Jesus Christ openly and unhindered.

THE LETTER TO THE ROMANS

1 Paul, a slave of Jesus Christ, called as an apostle, set apart to de-
2 clare God's good news which he promised long ago through his proph-
3 ets in the holy Scriptures, about his Son, who was physically descended 4 from David, and decisively declared Son of God in his holiness of 5 spirit, by being raised from the dead—Jesus Christ our Lord, through whom we have received God's favor and been commissioned in his 6 name to urge obedience and faith upon all the heathen, including you
7 who have been called to belong to Jesus Christ—to all those in Rome whom God loves, who are called to be his people; God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ bless you and give you peace.

8 First I thank my God through Jesus Christ about you all, because 9 the news of your faith is spreading all over the world. As God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in spreading the good news of his 10 Son, I never fail to mention you when I pray, and to ask that somehow by God's will I may some day at last succeed in reaching you.
11 For I long to see you, to convey to you some spiritual gift that will 12 strengthen you; in other words, that you and I may be mutually en-13 couraged by one another's faith. I want you to understand, brothers, that I have often intended to come to see you (though thus far I have been prevented) in order to produce some results among you, as well 14 as among the rest of the heathen. I owe a debt both to Greeks and to 15 foreigners, to the cultivated and the uncultivated. So, for my part, 16 I am eager to preach the good news to you at Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the good news, for it is God's power for the salvation 17 of everyone who has faith, of the Jew first and then of the Greek. In it God's way of uprightness is disclosed through faith and for faith, just as the Scripture says, "The upright will have life because of his faith."

18 For God's anger is breaking forth from heaven against all the impiety and wickedness of the men who in their wickedness are suppress-19 ing the truth. For all that can be known of God is clearly before them; 20 God has shown it to them. Ever since the creation of the world, his invisible nature—his eternal power and divine character—have been clearly perceptible through what he has made. So they have no ex-21 cuse, for, though they knew God, they have not honored him as God or given thanks to him, but they have indulged in futile speculations,

²² until their stupid minds have become dark. They called themselves
²³ wise, but they have turned into fools, and for the splendor of the immortal God they have substituted images in the form of mortal man, birds, animals, and reptiles.

²⁴ So God abandoned them, with their heart's cravings, to impurity,
²⁵ and let them degrade their own bodies. For they had exchanged the truth of God for what was false, and worshiped and served what he had created, instead of the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen!

²⁶ That is why God has abandoned them to degrading passions. Their women have exchanged their natural function for one that is unnatural, and men too in the same way have disregarded the natural function of women and been consumed with passion for one another, men for men, acting indecently, and experiencing in their own persons the ²⁸ inevitable penalty of what they have done. And just as they refused to recognize God any longer, God has abandoned them to unworthy
²⁹ impulses and indecent conduct. They revel in every kind of wrongdoing, wickedness, greed, and depravity. They are full of envy, murder, quarreling, deceit, and ill-nature. They are gossips, slanderers, abhorrent to God, insolent, overbearing, boastful, ingenious in evil, ³¹ undutiful, conscienceless, treacherous, unloving, and unpitiful. They ³² know God's decree that those who act in this way deserve to die, yet they not only do it, but applaud any who do.

2 Therefore you have no excuse, whoever you are, if you pose as a judge, for when you pass judgment on someone else, you are condemning yourself, for you, who sit in judgment, do the very same things
² yourself. We know that God's judgment rightfully falls upon those ³ who do such things as these. And do you suppose, when you sit in judgment upon those who do such things and yet do them yourself, that you
⁴ will escape the judgment of God? Do you think so lightly of his wealth of kindness, forbearance, and patience, and fail to see that God's ⁵ kindness ought to induce you to repent? But in your obstinacy and impenitence you are storing up wrath for yourself on the Day of Wrath,
⁶ when the justice of God will burst forth. For he will pay every man
⁷ for what he has done. Those who by persistently doing right strive for ⁸ glory, honor, and immortality will have eternal life, but self-seeking people who are disloyal to the truth and responsive only to what is ⁹ wrong will experience anger and fury, crushing distress and anguish, every human soul of them that actually does what is wrong—the Jew
¹⁰ first, and the Greek also; but there will be glory, honor, and peace for

- 11 everyone who does right, the Jew first, and the Greek also, for God shows no partiality.
- 12 All who sin without having the Law will perish without regard to the Law, and all who sin under the Law will be judged by the Law.
- 13 For merely hearing the Law read does not make a man upright in the sight of God; men must obey the Law to be made upright. When heathen who have no Law instinctively obey what the Law demands, even though they have no law they are a law to themselves, for they show that what the Law demands is written on their hearts, and their consciences will testify for them, and with their thoughts they will either accuse or perhaps defend themselves, on that Day when, as the good news I preach teaches, God through Christ Jesus judges what men have kept secret.
- 17 Suppose you call yourself a Jew, and rely on law, and boast about God, and can understand his will, and from hearing the Law read can tell what is right, and you are sure that you can guide the blind, enlighten people who are in the dark, train the foolish, teach the young, since you have knowledge and truth formulated in the Law—why, then, will you teach others and refuse to teach yourself? Will you preach against stealing, and yet steal yourself? Will you warn men against adultery, and yet practice it yourself? Will you pretend to detest idols, and yet rob their temples? Will you boast of the Law and yet dishonor God by breaking it? For, as the Scripture says, the very name of God is abused among the heathen, because of you! Circumcision will help you only if you observe the Law; but if you are a law-breaker, you might as well be uncircumcised. So if people who are uncircumcised observe the requirements of the Law, will they not be treated as though they were circumcised? And if, although they are physically uncircumcised, they obey the Law, they will condemn you, who break the Law, although you have it in writing, and are circumcised. For the real Jew is not the man who is one outwardly, and the real circumcision is not something physical and external. The real Jew is the man who is one inwardly, and real circumcision is a matter of the heart, a spiritual, not a literal, thing. Such a man receives his praise not from men, but from God.
- 3 What advantage is there then in being a Jew, and what is the use of circumcision? A great deal, from every point of view. In the first place, the Jews were intrusted with the utterances of God. What if some of them have shown a lack of faith? Can their lack of it nullify

4 the faithfulness of God? By no means! God must prove true, though every man be false; as the Scripture says,

“That you may be shown to be upright in what you say,
And win your case when you go into court.”

5 But if our wrongdoing brings out the uprightness of God, what are we to say? Is it wrong in God (I am putting it in ordinary human terms) to inflict punishment? By no means, for then how could he judge the world? But, you say, if a falsehood of mine has brought great honor to God by bringing out his truthfulness, why am I tried for being a sinner? And why not say, as people abuse us for saying and charge us with saying, “Let us do evil that good may come out of it”? Such people will be condemned as they deserve!

9 What does this mean? Are we Jews at a disadvantage? Not at all. We have already charged Jews and Greeks all alike with being under the control of sin. As the Scripture says,

“There is not a single man who is upright,

11 No one understands, no one searches for God.

12 All have turned away, they are one and all worthless,
No one does right, not a single one!

13 Their throats are like open graves,
They use their tongues to deceive;
The venom of asps is behind their lips,

14 And their mouths are full of bitter curses.

15 Their feet are swift when it comes to shedding blood,

16 Ruin and wretchedness mark their paths,

17 They do not know the way of peace.

18 There is no reverence for God before their eyes!”

19 Now we know that everything the Law says is addressed to those under its authority, so that every mouth may be shut, and the whole world be made accountable to God. For no human being can be made upright in the sight of God by observing the Law. All that the Law can do is to make men conscious of sin. But now God's way of uprightness has been disclosed without any reference to law, though the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it. It is God's way of uprightness and comes through having faith in Jesus Christ, and it is for all who have faith, without distinction. For all men sin and come short of the glory of God, but by his mercy they are made upright for nothing, by the deliverance secured through Christ Jesus. For God showed him publicly dying as a sacrifice of reconciliation to be taken advantage of through faith. This was to vindicate his own justice (for in his 26 forbearance, God passed over men's former sins)—to vindicate his justice at the present time, and show that he is upright himself, and that he makes those who have faith in Jesus upright also.

27 Then what becomes of our boasting? It is shut out. On what principle? What a man does? No, but whether a man has faith. For we hold that a man is made upright by faith; the observance of the Law has nothing to do with it. Does God belong to the Jews alone? Does he not belong to the heathen too? Of course he belongs to the heathen too; there is but one God, and he will make the circumcised upright on the ground of their faith and the uncircumcised upright because of theirs. Is this using faith to overthrow law? Far from it. This confirms the Law.

4 Then what are we to say about our ancestor Abraham? For if he was made upright by what he did, it is something to be proud of. But not to be proud of before God, for what does the Scripture say? "Abraham had faith in God, and it was credited to him as uprightness." Now paying a workman is not considered a favor, but an obligation, but a man who has no work to offer, but has faith in him who can make the ungodly upright, has his faith credited to him as uprightness. So David himself says of the happiness of those whom God merits uprightness without any reference to their actions,

7 "Happy are they whose violations of the Law have been forgiven, whose sins are covered up!

8 Happy is the man whose sin the Lord will take no account of!" Does this happiness apply to those who are circumcised, or to those who are uncircumcised as well? What we say is, Abraham's faith was credited to him as uprightness. In what circumstances? Was it after he was circumcised or before? Not after he was circumcised, but before; and he was afterward given the mark of circumcision as the stamp of God's acknowledgment of the uprightness based on faith that was his before he was circumcised, so that he should be the forefather of all who, without being circumcised, have faith and so are credited with uprightness, and the forefather of those circumcised persons who not only share his circumcision but follow our forefather Abraham's example in the faith he had before he was circumcised.

13 For the promise made to Abraham and his descendants that the world should belong to him did not come to him or his descendants through the Law, but through the uprightness that resulted from his faith. For if it is the adherents of the Law who are to possess it, faith is nullified and the promise amounts to nothing! For the Law only brings down God's wrath; where there is no law, there is no violation of it. That is why it all turns upon faith; it is to make it a matter of God's favor, so that the promise may hold good for all Abraham's descendants, not only those who are adherents of the Law, but also those who share the faith of Abraham. For he is the father of all of us; as the Scripture says, "I have made you the father of many nations." The promise is guaranteed in the very sight of God in whom he had faith, who can bring the dead to life and call into being what does not exist. Abraham, hoping against hope, had faith, and so became the father of many nations, in fulfilment of the Scripture, "So countless shall your descendants be." His faith did not weaken, although he realized that his own body was worn out, for he was about a hundred years old, and that Sarah was past bearing children. He did not incredulously question God's promise, but his faith gave him power and he praised God in the full assurance that God was able to do what he had promised. That was why it was credited to him as uprightness. It was not on his account alone that these words, "it was credited to him," were written, but also on ours, for it is to be credited also to us who have faith in him who raised from the dead our Lord Jesus, who was given up to death to make up for our offenses, and raised to life to make us upright.

So as we have been made upright by faith, let us live in peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have been introduced through faith to the favor of God that we now enjoy, and let us glory in our hope of sharing the glory of God. More than that, we ought to glory in our troubles, for we know that trouble produces endurance, and endurance, character, and character, hope, and hope will not disappoint us. For, through the holy Spirit that has been given us, God's love has flooded our hearts. For when we were still helpless, at the decisive moment Christ died for us godless men. Why, a man will hardly give his life for an upright person, though perhaps for a really good man some may be brave enough to die. But God proves his love for us by the fact that Christ died for us when we were still sinners. So if we have already been made upright by his death, it is far more certain that through him we shall be saved from God's anger! If, when we were God's enemies, we were reconciled to him through the death of his Son, it is far more certain that now that we are reconciled we shall be saved through sharing in his life! More than that, we actually glory in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, to whom we owe our reconciliation.

12 It is just like the way in which through one man sin came into the world, and death followed sin, and so death spread to all men, because 13 all men sinned. It is true sin was in the world before the Law was 14 given, and men are not charged with sin where there is no law. Still death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those who had not sinned as Adam had, in the face of an express command. So Adam
15 foreshadowed the one who was to come. But there is no comparison between God's gift and that offense. For if one man's offense made the mass of mankind die, God's mercy and his gift given through the favor of the one man Jesus Christ have far more powerfully affected
16 mankind. Nor is there any comparison between the gift and the effects of that one man's sin. That sentence arose from the act of one man, and was for condemnation; but God's gift arose out of many offenses
17 and results in acquittal. For if that one man's offense made death reign through that one man, all the more will those who receive God's overflowing mercy and his gift of uprightness live and reign through the one individual Jesus Christ.

18 So as one offense meant condemnation for all men, just so one
19 righteous act means acquittal and life for all men. For just as that one man's disobedience made the mass of mankind sinners, so this one's 20 obedience will make the mass of them upright. Then law slipped in, and multiplied the offense. But greatly as sin multiplied, God's mercy
21 has far surpassed it, so that just as sin had reigned through death, mercy might reign through uprightness and bring eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6 Then what shall we conclude? Are we to continue to sin to increase the spread of mercy? Certainly not! When we have died to
2 sin, how can we live in it any longer? Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into union with Christ Jesus have been baptized into his death? Through baptism we have been buried with him in death, so that just as he was raised from the dead through the
3 Father's glory, we too may live a new life. For if we have grown into union with him by undergoing a death like his, of course we shall do so
4 by being raised to life like him, for we know that our old self was crucified with him, to do away with our sinful body, so that we might not
5 be enslaved to sin any longer; for when a man is dead he is free from the claims of sin. If we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall
6 also live with him, for we know that Christ, once raised from the dead, 7 will never die again; death has no more hold on him. For when he died, he became once for all dead to sin; the life he now lives is a life

¹¹ in relation to God. So you also must think of yourselves as dead to sin but alive to God, through union with Christ Jesus.

¹² So sin must not reign over your mortal bodies, and make you obey
¹³ their cravings, and you must not offer the parts of your bodies to sin as the instruments of wrong, but offer yourselves to God as men brought back from death to life, and offer the parts of your bodies
¹⁴ him as instruments of uprightness. For sin must no longer control you, for you live not under law but under mercy.

¹⁵ What follows, then? Are we to sin, because we live not under law
¹⁶ but under mercy? Certainly not! Do you not know that when you submit to being someone's slaves, and obeying him, you are the slaves of the one whom you obey, whether your slavery is to sin, and leads to ¹⁷ death, or is to obedience, and leads to uprightness? But, thank God! though you were once slaves of sin, you have become obedient from ¹⁸ your hearts to the standard of teaching that you received, and so you ¹⁹ have been freed from sin, and made slaves of uprightness. I use these familiar human terms because of the limitations of your nature. For just as you before gave up the parts of your bodies in slavery to vice and greater and greater license, you must now give them up in slavery to ²⁰ uprightness, which leads to consecration. For when you were slaves
²¹ of sin, you were free as far as uprightness was concerned. What good did you get from doing the things you are now ashamed of? Why,
²² they result in death! But now that you have been freed from sin and have become slaves of God, the benefit you get is consecration, and the ²³ final result is eternal life. For the wages sin pays is death, but the gift God gives is eternal life through union with Christ Jesus our Lord.

⁷ Do you not know, brothers—for I am speaking to men who know
² what law is—that law governs a man only as long as he lives? For a married woman is bound by law to her husband while he lives, but
³ if he dies, the marriage law no longer applies to her. So if she marries another man while her husband is alive, she is called an adulteress, but if her husband dies, she is free from that law, and can marry someone
⁴ else without being an adulteress. So you, in turn, my brothers, in the body of Christ have become dead as far as the Law is concerned, so that you may belong to another husband, who was raised from the dead
⁵ in order that we might bear fruit for God. For when we were living mere physical lives the sinful passions, awakened by the Law, operated ⁶ through the organs of our bodies to make us bear fruit for death. But now the Law no longer applies to us; we have died to what once controlled us, so that we can now serve in the new Spirit, not under the old letter.

7 Then what shall we conclude? That the Law is sin? Certainly not! Yet, if it had not been for the Law, I should never have learned what sin was; I should not have known what it was to covet if the Law
8 had not said, "You must not covet." That command gave sin an opening, and it led me to all sorts of covetous ways, for sin is lifeless without 9 law. I was once alive and without law, but when the command came,
10 sin awoke and then I died; and the command that should have meant 11 life in my case proved to mean death. The command gave sin an opening and sin deceived me and killed me with it. So the Law itself is 12 holy, and each command is holy, just, and good.

13 Did what was good, then, prove the death of me? Certainly not! It was sin that did so, so that it might be recognized as sin, because even through something that was good it effected my death, so that through 14 the command it might appear how immeasurably sinful sin was. We know that the Law is spiritual, but I am physical, sold into slavery to 15 sin. I do not understand what I am doing, for I do not do what I want 16 to do; I do things that I hate. But if I do what I do not want to do, I 17 acknowledge that the Law is right. In reality, it is not I that do these 18 things; it is sin, which has possession of me. For I know that nothing 19 good resides in me, that is, in my physical self; I can will, but I cannot 20 do what is right. I do not do the good things that I want to do; I do
21 the wrong things that I do not want to do. But if I do the things that 22 I do not want to do, it is not I that am acting, it is sin, which has possession of me. I find the law to be that I who want to do right am 23 dogged by what is wrong. My inner nature agrees with the divine law,
24 but all through my body I see another principle in conflict with the law of my reason, which makes me a prisoner to that law of sin that runs
25 through my body. What a wretched man I am! Who can save me from this doomed body? Thank God! it is done through Jesus Christ our Lord! So mentally I am a slave to God's law, but physically to the law of sin.

8 So there is no condemnation any more for those who are in union
2 with Christ Jesus. For the life-giving law of the Spirit through Christ
3 Jesus has freed you from the Law of sin and death. For though it was impossible for the Law to do it, hampered as it was by our physical limitations, God, by sending his own Son in our sinful physical form, as a sin-offering put his condemnation upon sin through his physical 4 nature, so that the requirement of the Law might be fully met in our

5 case, since we live not on the physical but on the spiritual plane. People
6 who are controlled by the physical think of what is physical, and people
7 who are controlled by the spiritual think of what is spiritual. For to 8 be physically minded means death, but to be spiritually minded means 9 life and peace. For to be physically minded means hostility to God, 10 for it refuses to obey God's law, indeed it cannot obey it. Those 11 who are physical cannot please God. But you are not physical but 12 spiritual, if God's Spirit has really taken possession of you; for unless 13 a man has Christ's spirit, he does not belong to Christ. But if Christ 14 is in your hearts, though your bodies are dead in consequence of sin, 15 your spirits have life in consequence of uprightness. If the Spirit of 16 him who raised Jesus from the dead has taken possession of you, he who 17 raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give your mortal bodies life
18 through his Spirit that has taken possession of you.

19 So, brothers, we are under obligations, but not to the physical nature, 20 to live under its control, for if you live under the control of the physical 21 you will die, but if, by means of the Spirit, you put the body's doings to 22 death, you will live. For all who are guided by God's Spirit are God's 23 sons. It is not a consciousness of servitude that has been imparted to 24 you, to fill you with fear again, but the consciousness of adoption as 25 sons, which makes us cry, "Abba!" that is, Father. The Spirit itself
26 testifies with our spirits that we are God's children, and if children, 27 heirs also; heirs of God, and fellow-heirs with Christ, if we really 28 share his sufferings in order to share his glory too.

29 For I consider what we suffer now not to be compared with the 30 glory that is to burst upon us. For creation is waiting with eager long-31 ing for the sons of God to be disclosed. For it was not the fault of 32 creation that it was frustrated; it was by the will of him who con-
33 demned it to that, and in the hope that creation itself would be set free
34 from its bondage to decay, and have the glorious freedom of the chil-
35 dren of God. We know that all creation has been groaning in agony 36 together until now. More than that, we ourselves, though we have in 37 the Spirit a foretaste of the future, groan to ourselves as we wait to be 38 declared God's sons, through the redemption of our bodies. It was in 39 this hope that we were saved. But a hope that can be seen is not a hope, 40 for who hopes for what he sees? But when we hope for something that 41 we do not see, we wait persistently for it.

42 In the same way the Spirit helps us in our weakness, for we do not 43 know how to pray as we should, but the Spirit itself pleads for us with 44 inexpressible yearnings, and he who searches our hearts knows what the Spirit means, for it pleads for God's people in accordance with his will. We know that in everything God works with those who love him, whom he has called in accordance with his purpose, to bring about what is good. For those whom he had marked out from the first he predestined to be made like his Son, so that he should be the eldest of many brothers; and those whom he has predestined he calls, and those whom he calls he makes upright, and those whom he makes upright he glorifies.

Then what shall we conclude from this? If God is for us, who can be against us? Will not he who did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for us all, with that gift give us everything? Who can bring any accusation against those whom God has chosen? God pronounces them upright; who can condemn them? Christ Jesus who died, or rather who was raised from the dead, is at God's right hand, and actually pleads for us. Who can separate us from Christ's love? Can trouble or misfortune or persecution or hunger or destitution or danger or the sword? As the Scripture says,

"For your sake we are being put to death all day long,
We are treated like sheep to be slaughtered."

But in all these things we are more than victorious through him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death nor life nor angels nor their hierarchies nor the present nor the future nor any supernatural forces either of height or depth will be able to separate us from the love God has shown in Christ Jesus our Lord!

I am telling the truth as a Christian, it is no falsehood, for my conscience under the holy Spirit's influence bears me witness in it, when I say that I am greatly pained and my heart is constantly distressed, for I could wish myself accused and cut off from Christ for the sake of my brothers, my natural kindred. For they are Israelites, and to them belong the rights of sonship, God's glorious presence, the divine agreements and legislation, the Temple service, the promises, and the patriarchs, and from them physically Christ came—God who is over all be blessed forever! Amen. Not that God's message has failed. For not everybody who is descended from Israel really belongs to Israel, nor are they all children of Abraham because they are descended from him, but he was told, "The line of Isaac will be called your descendants." That is to say, it is not his physical descendants who are children of God, but his descendants born in fulfilment of the promise who are considered his true posterity. For this is what the promise said: "When I come back at this time next year, Sarah will have a son." And that is not all, for there was Rebecca too, when she was about to bear twin 11 sons to our forefather Isaac. For before the children were born or had done anything either good or bad, in order to carry out God's purpose of selection, which depends not on what men do but on his calling 12 them, she was told, "The elder will be the younger's slave." As the 13 Scripture says, "I loved Jacob, but I hated Esau."

14 What do we conclude? That God is guilty of injustice? By no 15 means. He said to Moses, "I will have mercy on the man on whom
I choose to have mercy, and take pity on the man on whom I choose 16 to take pity." So it depends not on human will or exertion, but on the 17 mercy of God. The Scripture says to Pharaoh, "I have raised you to your position for the very purpose of displaying my power in dealing 18 with you, and making my name known all over the world." So he has mercy on anyone he pleases, and hardens the heart of anyone he pleases.

19 "Why, then," you will ask, "does he still find fault? For who can 20 resist his will?" On the contrary, who are you, my friend, to answer back to God? Can something a man shapes say to the man who shaped 21 it, "Why did you make me like this?" Has not the potter with his clay the right to make from the same lump one thing for exalted uses and 22 another for menial ones? Then what if God, though he wanted to display his anger and show his power, has shown great patience toward 23 the objects of his anger, already ripe for destruction, so as to show all the wealth of his glory in dealing with the objects of his mercy, whom 24 he has prepared from the beginning to share his glory, including us whom he has called not only from among the Jews but from among the 25 heathen? Just as he says in Hosea,

"I will call a people that was not mine, my people,

And her who was not beloved, my beloved,

26 And in the very place where they were told, 'You are no people of mine,'

They shall be called sons of the living God."

27 And Isaiah cries out about Israel, "Although the sons of Israel are as numerous as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will be 28 saved, for the Lord will execute his sentence rigorously and swiftly on 29 the earth." As Isaiah foretold,

"If the Lord of Hosts had not left us children,

We would have been like Sodom, and have resembled Gomor-rah!"

30 Then what do we conclude? That heathen who were not striving for uprightness attained it, that is, an uprightness which was produced

31 by faith; while Israel, straining after a law that should bring upright-32 ness, did not come up to it. And why? Because they did not seek it through faith, but through doing certain things. They stumbled over 33 that stone that makes people stumble, as the Scripture says,

“See, I will put a stone on Zion to make people stumble, and a rock to trip over,

But no one who has faith in it will be disappointed.”

10 Brothers, my heart is full of good will toward them; my prayer to 2 God is that they may be saved. I can testify to their sincere devotion to 3 God, but it is not an intelligent devotion. For in their ignorance of God’s way of uprightness and in the attempt to set up one of their own, 4 they refused to conform to God’s way of uprightness. For Christ marks the termination of law, so that now anyone who has faith may 5 attain uprightness. Moses said that anyone who carried out the up-6 rightness the Law prescribed would find life through it. But this is what the uprightness that springs from faith says: “Do not say to your-7 self, ‘Who will go up to heaven?’ ” that is, to bring Christ down; or “ ‘Who will go down into the depths?’ ” that is, to bring Christ up 8 from the dead. No! This is what it says: “God’s message is close to you, on your lips and in your mind”—that is, the message about faith 9 that we preach. For if with your lips you acknowledge the message that Jesus is Lord, and with your mind you believe that God raised him 10 from the dead, you will be saved. For with their minds men believe and are made upright, and with their lips they make the acknowledg-11 ment and are saved. For the Scripture says, “No one who has faith 12 in him will be disappointed.” There is no distinction between Jew and Greek, for they all have the same Lord, and he is generous to all who 13 call upon him. For everyone who calls upon the name of the Lord will 14 be saved. But how are they to call upon him if they have not believed in him? And how are they to believe him if they have never heard him? And how are they to hear unless someone preaches to them?
 15 And how are men to preach unless they are sent to do it? As the Scripture says, “How welcome is the coming of those who bring good news!”

16 It is true, they have not all accepted the good news, for Isaiah says, 17 “Lord, who has believed what we have told?” So faith comes from hearing what is told, and that hearing comes through the message 18 about Christ. But I ask, had they no opportunity to hear it? On the contrary,

“Their voices have gone all over the earth,
And their words to the ends of the world.”

¹⁹ But I ask again, did Israel fail to understand? Why, to begin with, Moses said,

“I will make you jealous of what is no nation at all,
I will exasperate you at a senseless nation.”

²⁰ Then Isaiah broke out boldly and said,

“I have been found by men who were not looking for me,
I have shown myself to men who were not asking what my will was.”

²¹ But of Israel he said,

“All day long I have held out my hands to a disobedient and obstinate people.”

¹¹ I ask then, has God repudiated his people? By no means. Why, I am an Israelite myself, I am descended from Abraham, and I belong

² to the tribe of Benjamin. God has not repudiated his people, which he had marked out from the first. Do you not know what the Scripture says in speaking of Elijah, how he appealed to God against Israel?

³ “Lord, they have killed your prophets, they have demolished your

⁴ altars, I am the only one left and they are trying to take my life.” But what is God’s reply? “I have left myself seven thousand men who

⁵ have never knelt to Baal!” So too at the present time there is a rem-

⁶ nant selected by God’s mercy. But if it is by his mercy, it is not for anything they have done. Otherwise, his mercy would not be mercy at

⁷ all. What follows? Israel failed to get what it sought, but those whom

⁸ God selected got it. The rest became callous; as the Scripture says,

“God has thrown them into a state of spiritual insensibility, with eyes that cannot see and ears that cannot hear, that has lasted down to this

⁹ day.” And David said,

“Let their feasting prove a snare and a trap to them,
Their ruin and their retribution.

¹⁰ Let their eyes be darkened, so that they cannot see;

Make their backs bend forever under their burden!”

¹¹ I ask then, has their stumbling led to their absolute ruin? By no means. Through their false step salvation has gone to the heathen, so

¹² as to make the Israelites jealous. But if their false step has so enriched the world, and their defeat has so enriched the heathen, how much more good the addition of their full number will do!

¹³ But it is to you who are of the heathen that I am speaking. So far then as I am an apostle to the heathen, I make the most of my ministry,

14 in the hope of making my countrymen jealous, and thus saving some 15 of them. For if their rejection has meant the reconciling of the world, 16 what can the acceptance of them mean but life from the dead? If the first handful of dough is consecrated, the whole mass is, and if the root of a tree is consecrated, so are its branches.

17 If some of the branches have been broken off, and you who were only a wild olive shoot have been grafted in, in place of them, and 18 made to share the richness of the olive's root, you must not look down upon the branches. If you do, remember that you do not support the root; the root supports you.

19 "But," you will say, "branches were broken off so that I could be grafted in!"

20 That is true; but it was for their want of faith that they were broken off, and it is through your faith that you stand where you do.
 21 You ought not to feel proud; you ought to be afraid, for if God did not 22 spare the natural branches, he will not spare you. Observe then the goodness and the severity of God—severity to those who have fallen, but goodness to you, provided you abide by his goodness, for otherwise, 23 you in your turn will be pruned away. Those others too, if they do not cling to their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to 24 graft them in again. For if you were cut from a wild olive and unnaturally grafted upon a cultivated one, how much easier it will be to graft them upon the olive to which they properly belong!

25 For to keep you from thinking too well of yourselves, brothers, I do not want you to miss this secret, that only partial insensibility has come 26 upon Israel, to last until all the heathen have come in, and then all Israel will be saved, just as the Scripture says,

"The deliverer will come from Zion,
 He will drive all ungodliness away from Jacob,
 27 And this will be my agreement with them,
 When I take away their sins."

28 From the point of view of the good news they are treated as enemies of God on your account; but from the point of view of God's choice, 29 they are dear to him because of their forefathers, for God does not change his mind about those to whom he gives his blessings or sends 30 his call. For just as you once disobeyed God, but now have had mercy
 31 shown you because they disobeyed, so they are now disobedient in order 32 that they in turn may experience the same mercy as you. For God has made all men prisoners of disobedience so as to have mercy upon them

- 33 all. How inexhaustible God's resources, wisdom, and knowledge are!
How unfathomable his decisions are, and how untraceable his ways!
- 34 "Who has ever known the Lord's thoughts, or advised him?"
- 35 "Or who has advanced anything to him, for which he will have to be repaid?"
- 36 For from him everything comes; through him everything exists; and in him everything ends! Glory to him forever! Amen.
- 12 I appeal to you, therefore, brothers, by this mercy of God, to offer your bodies in a living sacrifice that will be holy and acceptable to 2 God; that is your rational worship. You must not adopt the customs of this world but by your new attitude of mind be transformed so that you can find out what God's will is—what is good, pleasing, and perfect.
- 3 By the favor that God has shown me, I would tell every one of you not to think too highly of himself, but to think reasonably, judging
4 himself by the degree of faith God has allowed him. For just as there are many parts united in our human bodies, and the parts do not all
5 have the same function, so, many as we are, we form one body through
6 union with Christ, and we are individually parts of one another. We have gifts that differ with the favor that God has shown us, whether it
7 is that of preaching, differing with the measure of our faith, or of practical service, differing in the field of service, or the teacher who exer-
8 cises his gift in teaching, the speaker, in his exhortation, the giver of charity, with generosity, the office-holder, with devotion, the one who
9 does acts of mercy, with cheerfulness. Your love must be genuine.
10 You must hate what is wrong, and hold to what is right. Be affectionate in your love for the brotherhood, eager to show one another honor,
11 not wanting in devotion, but on fire with the Spirit. Serve the Lord.
12 Be happy in your hope, steadfast in time of trouble, persistent in prayer.
13 Supply the needs of God's people, be unfailing in hospitality. Bless 14 your persecutors; bless them; do not curse them. Rejoice with those 15 who rejoice, weep with those who weep. Live in harmony with one another. Do not be too ambitious, but accept humble tasks. Do not be 17 conceited. Do not pay anyone back with evil for evil. See that you are 18 above reproach in the eyes of everyone. If possible, for your part, live
19 peaceably with everybody. Do not take your revenge, dear friends, but leave room for God's anger, for the Scripture says, "Vengeance belongs 20 to me; I will pay them back, says the Lord." No! If your enemy is hungry, feed him! If he is thirsty, give him something to drink! For 21 if you do, you will heap burning coals upon his head! Do not be conquered by evil, but conquer evil with good.

13 Everyone must obey the authorities that are over him, for no authority can exist without the permission of God; the existing authorities have been established by him, so that anyone who resists the authorities sets himself in opposition to what God has ordained, and those who oppose him will bring down judgment upon themselves. The man who does right has nothing to fear from the magistrates, as the wrongdoer has. If you want to have no fear of the authorities, do right, and they will commend you for it, for they are God's agents to do you good. But if you do wrong you may well be afraid, for they do not carry swords for nothing. They are God's servants, to execute his wrath upon wrongdoers. You must obey them, therefore, not only to escape God's wrath, but as a matter of principle, just as you pay your taxes; they are God's ministers, devoting themselves to this service. Pay them all what is due them—tribute to the man entitled to receive it, taxes to the man entitled to receive them, respect to the man entitled to it, and honor to the man entitled to it. Owe nobody anything—except the duty of mutual love, for whoever loves his fellow-men has fully satisfied the Law. For the commandments, "You must not commit adultery, You must not murder, You must not steal, You must not covet," and any other commandments there are, are all summed up in one saying, "You must love your neighbor as you do yourself." Love never wrongs a neighbor, and so love fully satisfies the Law.

11 All this especially, because you know this critical time and that it is time for you to wake from your sleep, for our salvation is nearer to us now than when we first believed. The night is nearly over; the day is at hand. So let us throw aside the deeds of darkness, and put on the armor of light. Let us live honorably, as in the light of day, not in carousing and drunkenness, or in immorality and indecency, or in quarreling and jealousy. But clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ, and do not think about gratifying your physical cravings.

14 Treat people who are overscrupulous in their faith like brothers; do not criticize their views. One man's faith allows him to eat anything, while the overscrupulous man eats nothing but vegetables. The man who will eat anything must not look down on the man who abstains from some things, and the man who abstains from them must not criticize the one who does not, for God has accepted him. Who are you to criticize someone else's servant? It is for his own master to say whether he succeeds or fails; and he will succeed, for the Master can

5 make him do so. One man thinks one day better than another, while another thinks them all alike. Everybody must be fully convinced in 6 his own mind. The man who observes the day does it in the Lord's honor. The man who eats does it in the Lord's honor, for he gives God thanks, and the man who abstains does it in the Lord's honor, and gives 7 him thanks. None of us lives only to himself, and none of us dies only 8 to himself; if we live, we are responsible to the Lord, and if we die, we are responsible to him; so whether we live or die, we belong to the 9 Lord. For Christ died and returned to life for the very purpose of 10 being Lord of both the dead and the living. What business have you to criticize your brother? What business have you to look down upon your brother? We shall all have to stand before God for judgment.
11 For the Scripture says,

"As surely as I live, says the Lord, every knee will bend before me,
And every tongue will make its confession to God."

12 So each one of us must give an account of himself to God.

13 Therefore let us not criticize one another any more. You must resolve instead never to put any hindrance or obstacle in your brother's 14 way. I know and as a follower of the Lord Jesus I am convinced that nothing is unclean in itself; a thing is unclean only to the man who 15 regards it as unclean. For if your brother's feelings are hurt by what you eat, your life is not governed by love. You must not, by what you 16 eat, ruin a man for whom Christ died. The thing you have a right to 17 do must not become a cause of reproach. The Kingdom of God is not a matter of what we eat or drink, but of uprightness, peace, and happi-
18 ness through the possession of the holy Spirit. Whoever serves Christ 19 in that way pleases God and gains the approval of men. Let us, therefore, keep before us whatever will contribute to peace and the develop-20 ment of one another. You must not, just for the sake of food, undo the work of God. It is true, everything is clean, but it is wrong for a 21 man to hurt the consciences of others by what he eats. The right thing to do is to eat no meat at all and to drink no wine or do anything else 22 if it hurts your brother's conscience. For your part, you must keep the faith you have to yourself, as between God and you. He is a happy man who has no fault to find with himself in following the course that 23 he approves, but the man who has misgivings about eating, and then eats, is thereby condemned, for he is not following his convictions, and anything that does not rest on conviction is wrong.

15 It is the duty of us who are strong to put up with the weaknesses of 2 those who are immature, and not just suit ourselves. Everyone of us must try to please his neighbor, to do him good, and help in his development. Christ did not please himself, but as the Scripture says, 4 "The reproaches of those who reproach you have fallen on me." For everything that was written in earlier times was written for our instruction, so that by being steadfast and through the encouragement 5 the Scriptures give, we might hold our hope fast. May God, from whom steadfastness and encouragement come, give you such harmony 6 with one another, in following the example of Christ Jesus, that you may praise the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ with one accord and one voice.

7 Therefore, treat one another like brothers, in God's honor, just as 8 Christ has treated you. I hold that Christ has become an agent of circumcision to show God's truthfulness in carrying out the promises made 9 to our forefathers, and causing the heathen to praise God for his mercy; as the Scripture says,

"I will give thanks to you for this among the heathen,
And sing in honor of your name."

10 And again,

"Rejoice, you heathen, with his people!"

11 And again,

"Praise the Lord, all you heathen,
And let all nations sing his praises."

12 Again Isaiah says,

"The descendant of Jesse will come,
The one who is to rise to rule the heathen;
The heathen will set their hopes on him."

13 May God, the source of hope, fill you with perfect happiness and peace in your faith, so that you may have overflowing hope through the power of the holy Spirit.

14 For my part, as far as you are concerned, my brothers, I am convinced that you are already full of goodness of heart, endowed with 15 perfect knowledge, and well qualified to instruct one another. But, just to refresh your memories, I have written you pretty boldly on some 16 points, because of the favor God has shown men in making me a minister of Christ Jesus among the heathen, to act as a priest of God's good news, to see that the heathen are an acceptable sacrifice, consecrated 17 by the holy Spirit. So as a follower of Christ Jesus I have reason to be 18 proud of my work for God. For I will venture to speak only of what Christ has accomplished through me in winning the heathen to obe-

19 dience, by word and action, by the force of signs and marvels, and by the power of the holy Spirit, with the result that I have completed the preaching of the good news of Christ all the way from Jerusalem 20 around to Illyricum. In all this it has been my ambition to preach the good news only where Christ's name was unknown, so as not to build 21 on foundations other men had laid. As the Scripture says,

“They who have never been told of him will see,
And they who have never heard will understand!”

22 This is why I have so often been prevented from coming to see you.
23 But now there is no more work for me in this part of the world, and 24 as I have had a great desire for many years to come to see you, when I go to Spain I hope to see you on my way there, and to have you see me off on my journey, after I have enjoyed being with you for a while.
25 Just now I am starting for Jerusalem, to take help to God's people.
26 For Macedonia and Greece have determined to make a contribution 27 for the poor among God's people in Jerusalem. They determined to do it, and they really are indebted to them, for if the heathen have shared their spiritual blessings, they ought to do them a service in mate-28 rial ways. So when I have finished this matter, and seen this contribution safely into their possession, I will start for Spain, and come to 29 you on the way, and I know that when I do come to see you, I will come with Christ's fullest blessing.

30 I beg you, brothers, for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of the love that the Spirit inspires, join me in most earnest prayer to God 31 for me. Pray that I may escape from those in Judea who are disobedient, and that the help I am taking to Jerusalem may be well received 32 by God's people, so that, if it is God's will, I may come with a glad 33 heart to see you and enjoy a visit with you. God who gives peace be with you all! Amen.

16 I want to introduce to you our sister Phoebe, who is a helper in the 2 church at Cenchreae. Welcome her as a Christian, as God's people should welcome one another, and give her whatever help she may need from you. For she has herself been a protection to many, including myself.

3 Remember me to Prisca and Aquila, my fellow-workers in the cause
4 of Christ Jesus, who risked their necks to save my life. Not only I but 5 also all the churches among the heathen thank them. Remember me also to the church that meets at their house. Remember me to my dear 6 Epænetus, who was the first man in Asia to turn to Christ. Remem-
7 ber me to Mary, who has worked so hard for you. Remember me to Andronicus and Junias, my fellow-countrymen, who went to prison with me. They are noted men among the missionaries, and they became Christians before I did. Remember me to Ampliatus, my dear Christian friend. Remember me to Urbanus, our fellow-worker in Christ's cause, and to my dear Stachys. Remember me to that veteran Christian, Apelles. Remember me to those who belong to the household of Aristobulus. Remember me to my fellow-countryman, Herodion. Remember me to the Christians in the household of Narcissus. Remember me to Tryphaena and Tryphosa, those hard workers in the Lord's cause. Remember me to my dear Persis, who has worked so hard for the Lord. Remember me to Rufus, that eminent Christian, and to his mother, who has been a mother to me. Remember me to Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and the brothers who meet with them. Remember me to Philologus and Julia, to Nereus and his sister, and to Olympas, and all God's people who meet with them. Greet one another with a sacred kiss. All the churches of Christ wish to be remembered to you.

I beg you, brothers, to be on the watch for those who introduce divisions and difficulties, in opposition to the instruction that you were given, and to avoid them. Such men are not serving our Lord Christ, but their own base passions, and with their plausible and flattering talk they deceive simple-minded people. Everyone has heard of your obedience, and I am very happy about you, but I want you to be wise about what is good and guileless about what is bad. And God, who is the source of peace, will soon crush Satan under your feet.

The blessing of our Lord Jesus be with you.

My fellow-worker, Timothy, wishes to be remembered to you, and so do Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater, my fellow-countrymen. I, Tertius, who write this letter, wish to be remembered to you as a fellow-Christian. My host, Gaius, the host of the whole church, wishes to be remembered to you. Erastus, the city-treasurer, and our brother Quartus wish to be remembered to you.

To him who can make you strong by the good news I bring and the preaching about Jesus Christ, through the disclosure of the secret kept back for long ages but now revealed, and at the command of the eternal God made known through the writings of the prophets to all the heathen, to lead them to obedience and faith—to the one wise God be glory forever through Jesus Christ. Amen.

THE FIRST LETTER TO THE CORINTHIANS

1 Paul, by the will of God called as an apostle of Jesus Christ, and our 2 brother Sosthenes, to the church of God at Corinth, to those who are consecrated by union with Christ Jesus, and called as God's people, like all those anywhere who call on the name of Jesus Christ, their Lord 3 as well as ours; God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ bless you and give you peace.

4 I am always thanking God about you, for the blessing God has given 5 you through Christ Jesus. For you have grown rich in everything through union with him—in power of expression and in capacity for 6 knowledge. So your experience has confirmed the testimony that I
7 bore to Christ, and there is no gift that you lack even while you are 8 waiting for our Lord Jesus Christ to reappear, and at the Day of our 9 Lord Jesus Christ he will insure your complete vindication. God can be depended on, and it was he who called you to this fellowship with his Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 But I urge you all, brothers, for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ, to agree in what you say, and not to allow factions among you, but to 11 be perfectly united in mind and judgment. For I have been informed, my brothers, by Chloe's people, that quarrels are going on among you.
12 What I mean is this, that one of you says, "I am a follower of Paul," another, "And I, of Apollos," another, "And I, of Cephas," and an-13 other, "And I, of Christ!" Christ has been divided up! But was it Paul who was crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of 14 Paul? I am thankful that I never baptized any of you except Crispus
15 and Gaius, so that no one could say that you were baptized in my name.
16 And I did baptize the members of the household of Stephanas too; I do 17 not know whether I baptized anyone else besides. For Christ did not send me to baptize, but to preach the good news—but not with fine language, or the cross of Christ might seem an empty thing.

18 For to those who are on the way to destruction, the story of the cross is nonsense, but to us who are to be saved, it means all the power of 19 God. For the Scripture says,

"I will destroy the wisdom of the wise,
And I will thwart the shrewdness of the shrewd!"

20 Where now is your philosopher? Your scribe? Your reasoner of today? Has not God made a fool of the world's wisdom?

21 For since in God's providence the world with all its wisdom did not come to know God, God chose, through the folly of the gospel message, to save those who had faith in him. For Jews insist upon miracles, 22 and Greeks demand philosophy, but we proclaim a Christ who was crucified—an idea that is revolting to Jews and absurd to the heathen, 23 but to those whom God has called, whether they are Jews or Greeks, a Christ who is God's power and God's wisdom. For God's folly is beyond the wisdom of men, and God's weakness is beyond their strength.

24 For consider, brothers, what happened when God called you. Not many of you were what men call wise, not many of you were influential, not many were of high birth. But it was what the world calls foolish that God chose to put the wise to shame with, and it was what the world calls weak that God chose to shame its strength with, and it was what the world calls low and insignificant and unreal that God 25 chose to nullify its realities, so that in his presence no human being might have anything to boast of. But you are his children, through your union with Christ Jesus, whom God has made our wisdom— 26 our uprightness and consecration and redemption, so that, as the Scripture says, "Let him who would boast, boast of the Lord!"

2 So when I came to you, brothers, I did not come and tell you the secret purpose of God in superior, philosophical language, for I resolved, while I was with you, to forget everything but Jesus Christ and his crucifixion. For my part, I came among you in weakness and with a great deal of fear and trembling, and my teaching and message were not put in plausible, philosophical language, but they were attended 3 with convincing spiritual power, so that your faith might rest, not on human philosophy, but on the power of God.

4 Yet there is a wisdom that we impart when we are with people who have a mature faith, but it is not what this world calls wisdom, nor what the authorities of this world, doomed as they are to pass away, would call so. But it is a mysterious divine wisdom that we impart, hitherto kept secret, and destined by God before the world began for 5 our glory. It is a wisdom unknown to any of the authorities of this world, for otherwise they would never have crucified our glorious 6 Lord. But, as the Scripture says, there are things

"Which no eye ever saw and no ear ever heard,
And never occurred to the human mind,
Which God has provided for those who love him."

10 For God revealed them to us through his Spirit, for the Spirit fathoms 11 everything, even the depths of God himself. For what human being can understand a man's thoughts except the man's own spirit within him? Just so no one understands the thoughts of God but the spirit of 12 God. But the Spirit we have received is not that of the world, but the Spirit that comes from God, which we have to make us realize the 13 blessings God has given us. These disclosures we impart, not in the set phrases of human philosophy, but in words the Spirit teaches, giving 14 spiritual truth a spiritual form. A material man will not accept what the Spirit of God offers. It seems mere folly to him, and he cannot 15 understand it, because it takes spiritual insight to see its true value. But the spiritual man is alive to all true values, but his own true value no 16 unspiritual man can see. For who has ever known the Lord's thoughts, so that he can instruct him? But we share the thoughts of Christ.

3 So, for my part, brothers, I could not treat you as spiritual persons; I had to treat you just as creatures of flesh and blood, as babies in Chris-2 tian living. I fed you with milk, not solid food, for you were not ready for it.

3 Why, you are not ready for it now, for you are still worldly. For when there are still jealousy and quarrels among you, are you not 4 worldly and living on a merely human level? For when one man says,
"I am a follower of Paul," and another, "I am a follower of Apollos," 5 are you not simply human? What is Apollos? Or what is Paul? Just servants through whom you came to have faith, as the Lord gave each 6 of us opportunity. I did the planting, Apollos the watering, but it was 7 God who made the plants grow. So neither the planter nor the waterer 8 counts for anything, but only God who makes the plants grow. The planter and the waterer are all one, though each of us will be paid for 9 his own work. For we are fellow-laborers for God, and you are God's farm, God's building.

10 Like an expert builder, I laid a foundation, as God commissioned me to do, and now someone else is building upon it. But let everyone 11 be careful how he does so. For no one can lay any other foundation 12 than the one that is laid, that is, Jesus Christ himself. And whether one uses gold or silver or costly stone in building on the foundation, or 13 wood or hay or straw, the quality of everyone's work will appear, for the Day will show it. For the Day will break in fire, and the fire will 14 test the quality of everyone's work. If what a man has built on the 15 foundation stands the test, he will have his pay. If a man's work is burned up, he must stand the loss, though he himself will be saved, but as one who has passed through the fire. X

16 Do you know that you are God's temple and that God's Spirit makes 17 its home in you? If anyone destroys the temple of God, God will destroy him. For the temple of God is sacred, and that is what you are.

18 Let no one of you deceive himself. If any one of you imagines that he is wiser than the rest of you, in what this world calls wisdom, he had 19 better become a fool, so as to become really wise. For this world's wisdom is foolishness to God. For the Scripture says, "He who catches 20 the wise with their own cunning," and "The Lord knows that the 21 deliberations of the wise are fruitless." So no one should boast about 22 men. For it all belongs to you—Paul, Apollos, Cephas, the world, life, 23 death, the present, the future—all of it belongs to you. But you belong to Christ, and Christ belongs to God.

4 The right way for a man to think of us is as Christ's servants, and 2 managers authorized to distribute the secret truths of God. Now further, what is always demanded of managers is that they can be de-3 pended on. I for my part care very little about being examined by you or by any human court. I do not even offer myself for investigation.
4 For while my conscience does not trouble me at all, that does not prove 5 that I am innocent. It is the Lord who must examine me. Do not form any premature judgments, therefore, but wait until the Lord comes back. For he will light up the darkness that now hides things and show what the motives in people's minds are, and then everyone will get from God the praise he deserves.

6 Now, brothers, for your benefit I have applied all this only to Apollos and myself, by using us as illustrations to teach you the old lesson, "Never go beyond the letter," and to keep any of you from 7 boasting of one teacher at the expense of another. For who sees anything special in you? And what have you got that you have not been given? But if it has been given you, why do you boast as though it had 8 not been? Are you satisfied already? Have you become rich already?
Have you entered your kingdom without waiting for us? I wish you 9 had entered it, so that we might share it with you! For it seems to me, God has exhibited us apostles at the very end of the procession, like the men condemned to die in the arena. For we have become a spectacle to 10 the whole universe, angels as well as men. We are made fools of,
for the sake of Christ, while you are men of sense, through being united with him. We are weak, you are strong. You are distinguished, we 11 are despised. To this day we have gone hungry, thirsty, and ill-clad;

¹² we have had rough usage, we have had no home, we have worked with our hands for a living. When people abuse us, we bless them, ¹³ when they persecute us, we put up with it, when they slander us, we try to conciliate them. We have come to be like the scum of the earth, the dregs of the world, and we are so now.

¹⁸ Some of you seem to think that I am not coming to visit you, and ¹⁹ are putting on airs about it. But I am coming very soon to see you, if the Lord is willing, and then I will find out, not what these conceited people have to say, but what they can actually do. For the reign ²⁰ of God is not a matter of words but of power. Which will you have? ²¹ Shall I come to you with a stick, or in a loving and gentle spirit?

⁵ Immorality is actually notorious among you, and immorality of a kind unknown even among the heathen—that a man has taken his ² father's wife. And can you put on airs, instead of being overwhelmed with grief at having to expel from your number the man who has ³ done this? For my part, though I have been absent from you in person, I have been present with you in spirit, and as thus present I ⁴ have already passed judgment upon the man who has done this, and meeting with you, in spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus, by the ⁵ authority of our Lord Jesus I have handed the man over to Satan, for his physical destruction, in order that his spirit may be saved on ⁶ the Day of the Lord. Certainly this is nothing for you to boast of. ⁷ Do you not know that a little yeast will affect all the dough? You must clean out the old yeast and become fresh dough, free from the old as you really are. For our Passover lamb is already sacrificed; ⁸ it is Christ himself. So let us keep the festival, not with old yeast nor with the yeast of vice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of purity and truth.

⁹ I wrote you in my letter not to associate with immoral people— ¹⁰ not that you are to have nothing whatever to do with the immoral people of the world, any more than with its greedy and grasping people or its idolaters, for then you would have to leave the world 11 altogether. What I meant was that you are not to associate with anyone who is supposed to be a Christian brother, and yet is immoral or greedy or idolatrous or abusive or drunken or grasping—with 12 such a person you must not even eat. For what have I to do with judging outsiders? Is it not your part to judge those who are inside 13 the church, and God's, to judge those who are outside? You must drive the wrongdoer out from among you.

6 When one of you has a disagreement with his neighbor, does he dare to bring the matter before a heathen court, instead of laying 2 it before his Christian brothers? Do you not know that the Christians are to be the judges of the world? And if the world is to come before 3 you for judgment, are you unfit to decide the most trivial cases? Do you not know that we are to be the judges of angels, to say nothing 4 of ordinary matters? If then you have ordinary matters to be settled, will you submit them for judgment to men who are nothing in the 5 church? I ask it to shame you. Has it come to this, that there is not a single wise man among you who could settle a disagreement between 6 one brother and another, but one Christian has to go to law with 7 another, and before unbelievers too? Having lawsuits with one another at all means your utter failure, to begin with. Why not rather 8 be wronged? Why not rather be robbed? But it is you who wrong 9 and rob others, and your own brothers at that! Do you not know that wrongdoers will not have any share in God's kingdom? Do not let anyone mislead you. People who are immoral or idolaters or 10 adulterers or sensual or given to unnatural vice or thieves or greedy —drunkards, abusive people, robbers—will not have any share in 11 God's kingdom. Some of you used to be like that; but you have washed it all away, you have been consecrated, you have become upright, by the power of our Lord Jesus Christ and through the Spirit of our God.

12 I may do anything I please, but not everything I may do is good for me. I may do anything I please; but I am not going to let any-13 thing master me. It is true, food is meant for the stomach, and the stomach for the food, but God will put an end to both of them. But the body is not meant for immorality, but for the service of the Lord, 14 and the Lord is for the body to serve. And as God raised the Lord to life, he will raise us also by his power. Do you not know that your 15 bodies are parts of Christ's body? Am I then to take away from Christ parts of his body and make them parts of a prostitute's? Never!

¹⁶ Or do you not know that a man who has to do with a prostitute makes one body with her? For "The two," says the Scripture, "shall be-¹⁷ come physically one." But whoever is united with the Lord is one ¹⁸ with him in spirit. Fly from immorality! Any other sin a man commits is something outside his body, but the immoral man sins
¹⁹ against his own body. Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the holy Spirit that is within you, which you have received from ²⁰ God? Besides, you are not your own; you have been bought and paid for. Therefore, honor God with your bodies.

⁷ As to the matters of which you wrote me, it is an excellent thing
² for a man to remain unmarried. But there is so much immorality that every man had better have a wife of his own, and every woman
³ a husband of her own. The husband must give his wife what is due
⁴ her, and the wife must do the same by her husband. A wife cannot do as she likes with her own person; it is her husband's; and in the same way a husband cannot do as he likes with his own person; it is ⁵ his wife's. You must not refuse each other what is due, unless you agree to do so for a while, to devote yourselves to prayer, and then to come together again, so that Satan may not tempt you through your
⁶ lack of self-control. But I mean this as a concession, not a command.
⁷ I should like to have everyone be just as I am myself; but each one has his own special gift from God, one of one kind, and one of another.

⁸ To all who are unmarried and to widows, I would say this: It is
⁹ an excellent thing if they can remain single as I am. But if they cannot control themselves, let them marry. For it is better to marry
¹⁰ than to be on fire with passion. To those already married my instructions are—and they are not mine, but the Lord's—that a wife
¹¹ is not to separate from her husband. If she does separate, she must remain single or else become reconciled to him. And a husband must ¹² not divorce his wife. To other people I would say, though not as Christ's command, if a Christian has a wife who is not a believer,
¹³ and she is willing to live with him, he must not divorce her, and a woman who has a husband who is not a believer, but is willing to ¹⁴ live with her, must not divorce her husband. For the husband who is not a believer is consecrated through union with his wife, and the woman who is not a believer is consecrated through union with her
Christian husband, for otherwise your children would be unblessed, ¹⁵ but, as it is, they are consecrated. But if the one who is not a believer wishes to separate, let the separation take place. In such cases the ¹⁶ brother or sister is not a slave; God has called you to live in peace. For how do you wives know whether you will save your husbands? Or how do you husbands know whether you will save your wives?

17 Only, everyone must continue in the station which the Lord has appointed for him, and in which he was when God's call came to him.
18 This is the rule I make in all the churches. If a man was circumcised when he was called, he must not try to alter it. If a man was uncircumcised when he was called, he must not have himself circumcised.
19 Being circumcised or being uncircumcised does not make any difference; all that matters is keeping God's commands. Everyone ought 20 to remain in the station in which he was called. If you were a slave when you were called, never mind. Even if you can gain your freedom, make the most of your present condition instead. For a slave
21 who has been called to union with the Lord is a freedman of the Lord, just as a free man who has been called is a slave of Christ. You have 22 been bought and paid for; you must not let yourselves become slaves to men. Brothers, everyone must remain in fellowship with God in 23 the station in which he was called.

24 About unmarried women I have no command of the Lord to give you, but I will give you my opinion as that of one on whom through the Lord's mercy you can depend.

25 This, then, is my opinion in view of the present distress—that it
26 is a good thing for a man to remain just as he is. If you are united to a wife, do not seek to be released. If you are not, do not seek a wife.
27 But if you do marry, there is no sin in that. And if a girl marries, it is no sin. But those who marry will have worldly trouble, which I
28 would like to spare you. But this I do say, brothers. The appointed time has grown very short. From this time on those who have wives
29 should live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they did not mourn, and those who are glad as though they were not
30 glad, and those who buy anything as though they did not own it, and those who mix in the world, as though they were not absorbed in it.
31 For the present shape of the world is passing away. I want you to be free from all anxiety. An unmarried man is concerned about the 32 Lord's work, and how he can please the Lord. A married man is concerned about worldly affairs, and how he can please his wife, and 33 so his interests are divided. An unmarried woman or a girl is concerned about the Lord's work, so as to be consecrated in body and 34 spirit, but the woman who marries is concerned with worldly affairs, and how she can please her husband. It is for your benefit that I say this, not to put a halter on you, but to promote good order, and to secure your undivided devotion to the Lord.
35

36 But if a man thinks he is not acting properly toward the girl to whom he is engaged, if his passions are too strong, and that is what ought to be done, let him do as he pleases; it is no sin; let them be 37 married. But a man who has definitely made up his mind, under no constraint of passion but with full self-control, and who has decided in his own mind to keep her as she is, will be doing what is right.
38 So the man who marries her does what is right, and the man who refrains from doing so does even better.

39 A wife is bound to her husband as long as he lives. If her husband dies, she is free to marry anyone she pleases so long as he is a Christian.

40 But she will be happier, in my judgment, if she remains as she is, and I think I have God's spirit as well as other people.

8 About food that has been offered to idols, it is true, as you say, that we all have some knowledge on that matter. Knowledge gives people
2 airs; love is what builds up character. If a man thinks he has acquired some knowledge, he does not yet know it as well as he ought to know
3 it. But if a man loves God, God is known by him. As to eating things, 4 then, that have been offered to idols, we all know that no idol has
5 any real existence, and that there is no God but one. For supposing there are so-called gods in heaven or on earth—and indeed there are
6 plenty of such gods and lords—yet for us there is just one God, the Father, who is the source of all things, and for whom we live, and just one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom everything was made and
7 through whom we live. But it is not everyone that has this knowledge; for some, through being long accustomed to idols, still eat meat that has been sacrificed to them as really offered to an idol, and their
8 consciences, being oversensitive, are troubled. But food is not going to affect our standing with God. We are none the worse if we do
9 not eat it, and none the better if we do. But you must take care that this right of yours does not prove a hindrance to the overscrupulous.
10 For if somebody sees you, who are intelligent about this matter, attending a dinner in an idol's temple, will not he, with his sensitive con-
11 science, be led to eat meat that is offered to idols? For this overscrupulous brother, for whom Christ died, is ruined by what you call
12 your knowledge. But in sinning against your brothers in this way and wounding their too scrupulous consciences, you are really sinning
13 against Christ. Therefore, if what I eat makes my brother fall, I will never eat meat again, rather than make my brother fall.

9 Am I not free? Am I not an apostle? Have I not seen Jesus our Lord? Are you not the product of my work in the Lord's service?
2 If I am not an apostle to other people, I certainly am one to you, for you yourselves, in your relation to the Lord, are the certificate of my apostleship.

3 My answer to those who want to investigate me is this: Have we
4 not a right to our food and drink? Have we not a right to take a
5 Christian wife about with us, like the rest of the apostles and the 6 Lord's brothers and Cephas? Or is it only Barnabas and I that have 7 no right to give up working for a living? What soldier ever pays
8 his expenses out of his own pay? Who plants a vineyard and does 9 not eat any of the grapes? Who tends a flock and does not get any 10 of the milk? Am I saying only what men say? Does not the Law
11 say so too? For in the Law of Moses it reads, "You shall not muzzle 12 an ox that is treading out the grain." It is about the oxen that God
13 is concerned? Is he not clearly speaking in our interest? Of course 14 this law was written in our interest, because the plowman ought to 15 plow, and the thresher to thresh, in the expectation of sharing in the 16 crop. If it was we who sowed the spiritual seed among you, is it too 17 much if we reap material benefits from you? If others enjoy such 18 rights over you, have we not a still better claim? But, you say, we 19 have never availed ourselves of this right. No, we will stand any-20 thing rather than put any hindrance in the way of the good news of the Christ. Do you not know that those who do the work about the Temple get their living from the Temple, and those who attend to the altar divide the sacrifices with the altar? In just that way the Lord directed that those who preach the good news should get their living from it. But I have not availed myself of any of these rights.
And I am not writing this now so that I may become an illustration of this; I had rather die than do that. No one shall deprive me of this boast of mine. As far as preaching the good news is concerned, that is nothing for me to boast of, for I cannot help doing it. For I am ruined if I do not preach. For if I do it of my own accord, I have my pay, but if I do it because I must, it is still a responsibility that I am charged with. What pay then do I get? Why, that in my preaching I can offer the good news without cost, and so not take full advantage of my rights as a preacher.

Though I am free from anyone's control, I have made myself everyone's slave, so as to win over all the more. To the Jews I have become like a Jew, to win Jews over; to men under the Law I have become like a man under the Law, though I am not myself under 21 the Law, so as to win over those who are under the Law. To those who have no law I have become like a man without any law—though

I am not without the law of God, but under the law of Christ—so as 22 to win over those who are without any law. To the overscrupulous
I have become overscrupulous, so as to win the overscrupulous; I have become everything to everybody, so as by all means to save some 23 of them. And I do it all for the sake of the good news, so that I may share in its blessings along with the rest.

24 Do you not know that in a race the runners all compete, but only one wins the prize? That is the way you must run, so as to win.
25 Any man who enters an athletic contest goes into strict training, to win a wreath that will soon wither, but the one we compete for will 26 never wither. So that is the way I run, unswervingly. That is the 27 way I fight, not punching the air. But I beat and bruise my body and make it my slave, so that after I have called others to the contest
I may not be disqualified myself.

10 For I would not have you forget, brothers,—that though our forefathers were all protected by the cloud, and all passed safely through 2 the sea, and in the cloud and the sea all, as it were, accepted baptism
3 as followers of Moses, and all ate the same supernatural food and 4 drank the same supernatural drink—for they used to drink from a supernatural rock which attended them, and the rock was really 5 Christ—still most of them disappointed God, for they were struck down in the desert.

6 Now these things happened to warn us, so that we should not long 7 for what is evil as they did. You must not become idolaters, like some 8 of them, for the Scripture says, “The people sat down to eat and 9 drink and got up to dance.” Let us not practice immorality, like some of them, twenty-three thousand of whom fell dead in one day.
9 Let us not try the Lord’s patience too far, as some of them did, for 10 they were killed for it by the snakes. You must not grumble, as some of them did, for they were destroyed for it by the destroying angel.
11 These things happened to them as a warning to others, but they were written down to instruct us, in whose days the ages have reached their climax.

12 So the man who thinks he can stand must be on his guard against 13 a fall. It is no superhuman temptation that you have had. And God can be depended on, not to let you be tried beyond your strength, but when temptation comes, to give you a way out of it, so that you can withstand it.

¹⁴ Therefore, my dear brothers, have nothing to do with the worship
¹⁵ of idols. I appeal to your good sense. Make up your minds about ¹⁶ what I say. Does not the consecrated cup which we bless mean that in drinking it we share in the blood of Christ? Does not the bread that we break mean that in eating it we share in the body of Christ?
¹⁷ Because there is one loaf, we, many as we are, are one body, for we all ¹⁸ share the one loaf. Think of the Israelites' practices. Do not those who eat what is sacrificed have divine fellowship at the sacrificial altar?
¹⁹ What am I saying then? That there is any such thing as being offered ²⁰ to an idol, or any such thing as an idol? No, but that what the heathen sacrifice they offer to demons and not to God, and I do not want you ²¹ to have fellowship with demons. You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons. You cannot eat at the table of the Lord ²² and at the table of demons. Or are we trying to arouse the Lord to jealousy? Are we stronger than he is?

²³ We are free to do anything, but not everything is good for us. We ²⁴ are free to do anything, but not everything builds up character. No one should look after his own advantage but after that of his neighbor.

²⁵ Eat anything for sale in the meat market without raising any ²⁶ question, as far as conscience is concerned, for the earth and every-²⁷ thing in it belong to the Lord. If one of the heathen invites you to his house, and you wish to go, eat whatever is served, without raising ²⁸ any question, as far as conscience is concerned. But if someone says to you, "This meat has been offered in sacrifice," let it alone, on ²⁹ account of the man who told you and his conscientious scruples; his scruples, I say, not yours. For why should my liberty of action be ³⁰ limited by another's scruples? If I give thanks for what I eat, why should I be denounced for eating what I give thanks over?

³¹ So whether you are eating or drinking or doing anything else, do ³² it all to the honor of God. You must not be hindrances to Jews or ³³ Greeks or to the church of God either, just as I for my part try to please everyone in all I do, not aiming at my own advantage, but ¹¹ at that of people generally, in order that they may be saved. You must follow my example in this, as I am following Christ's.

² I appreciate your always remembering me, and your standing by ³ the things I passed on to you, just as you received them. But I want you to understand that Christ is the head of every man, while a ⁴ woman's head is her husband, and Christ's head is God. Any man

5 who offers prayer or explains the will of God with anything on his 6 head disgraces his head, and any woman who offers prayer or explains
7 the will of God bareheaded disgraces her head, for it is just as though
8 she had her head shaved. For if a woman will not wear a veil, let her 9 cut off her hair too. But if it is a disgrace for a woman to have her 10 hair cut off or her head shaved, let her wear a veil. For a man ought 11 not to wear anything on his head, for he is the image of God and 12 reflects his glory; while woman is the reflection of man's glory. For 13 man was not made from woman, but woman from man, and man
14 was not created for woman, but woman was for man. That is why 15 she ought to wear upon her head something to symbolize her subjection, 16 out of respect to the angels, if to nobody else. But in union with the 17 Lord, woman is not independent of man nor man of woman. For 18 just as woman was made from man, man is born of woman, and both 19 like everything else really come from God. Judge for yourselves.
20 Is it proper for a woman to offer prayer to God with nothing on her 21 head? Does not nature itself teach you that for a man to wear his 22 hair long is degrading, but a woman's long hair-is her pride? For her
23 hair is given her as a covering. But if anyone is disposed to be con-
24 tentious about it, I for my part recognize no other practice in worship
25 than this, and neither do the churches of God.

26 But while I am on this subject, I cannot approve of your meetings, 27 because they are doing you more harm than good. For, in the first 28 place, when you meet as a congregation, I hear that you divide into 29 sets, and in a measure I believe it. Doubtless there must be parties 30 among you, if those who are right are to be recognized among you.
31 So when you hold your meetings it is not the Lord's Supper that 32 you eat, for each of you hurries to get his own supper and eat it, and 33 one goes hungry while another gets drunk. Have you no houses to 34 eat and drink in? Or do you mean to show your contempt for the 35 church of God, and to humiliate those who have none? What can I 36 say to you? Can I approve of you? Not in this matter certainly. For 37 I myself received from the Lord the account that I passed on to you, 38 that the Lord Jesus the night he was betrayed took some bread and 39 gave thanks for it and then broke it in pieces, saying, "This is my 40 body which takes your place. Do this in memory of me." He took 41 the cup, too, after supper, in the same way, saying, "This cup is the 42 new agreement ratified by my blood. Whenever you drink it, do so 43 in memory of me." For until the Lord comes back, every time you 44 eat this bread and drink from the cup, you proclaim his death. Hence anyone who eats the bread or drinks from the Lord's cup in a way that is unworthy of it will be guilty of profaning the body and the blood of the Lord. A man should examine himself, and only when he has done so should he eat any of the bread or drink from the cup. For anyone who eats and drinks, eats and drinks a judgment upon himself if he does not recognize the body. This is why many of you are sick and ill and a number have fallen asleep. But if we recognized our own condition, we would not incur this judgment. But since we do incur it, we are disciplined by the Lord, so that we may not be condemned along with the world. So, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait for one another. If anyone is hungry, let him eat at home, so that your meetings may not bring down a judgment upon you. The details I will settle when I come.

12 About spiritual gifts, brothers, I do not want you to be misinformed. You know that when you were heathen you would stray off, as impulse directed, to idols that could not speak. Therefore, I must tell you that no one who is speaking under the influence of the Spirit of God ever says, "Curse Jesus!" and no one can say, "Jesus is Lord!" without being under the influence of the holy Spirit.

4 Endowments vary, but the Spirit is the same, and forms of service vary, but it is the same Lord who is served, and activities vary, but God who produces them all in us all is the same. Each one is given his spiritual illumination for the common good. One man receives through the Spirit the power to speak wisely, another, by the same Spirit, receives the power to express knowledge, another, from his union with the same Spirit receives faith, another, by one and the same Spirit, the ability to cure the sick, another, the working of wonders, another, inspiration in preaching, another, the power of distinguishing the true Spirit from false ones, another, various ecstatic utterances, and another, the ability to explain them. These are all produced by one and the same Spirit, and apportioned to each of us just as the Spirit chooses.

12 For just as the body is one and yet has many parts, and all the parts of the body, many as they are, form one body, so it is with Christ. For we have all—Jews or Greeks, slaves or free men—been baptized in one spirit to form one body, and we have all been saturated with one Spirit. For the body does not consist of one part but of many. If the foot says, "As I am not a hand, I am not a part of the body," that does not make it any less a part of the body. And if the ear says, "As I am not an eye, I am not a part of the body," that does not make ¹⁷ it any less a part of the body. If all the body were eye, how would we hear? If it were all ear, how could we have a sense of smell?

¹⁸ As it is, God has arranged the parts, every one of them in the body ¹⁹ as he wished them to be. If they were all one part, where would the ²⁰ body be? As it is, there are many parts, but one body. The eye cannot ²¹ say to the hand, "I do not need you," or the head to the feet, "I do ²² not need you." On the contrary, the parts of the body that are con-²³ sidered most delicate are indispensable, and the parts of it that we think common, we dress with especial care, and our unrepresentable ²⁴ parts receive especial attention which our presentable parts do not need. God has so adjusted the body and given such especial distinction ²⁵ to its inferior parts that there is no clash in the body, but its parts ²⁶ all alike care for one another. If one part suffers, all the parts share its sufferings. If a part has honor done it, all the parts enjoy it too.
²⁷ Now you are Christ's body, and individually parts of it.) And God has ²⁸ placed people in the church, first as apostles, second as inspired preachers, third as teachers, then wonder-workers; then come ability to cure ²⁹ the sick, helpfulness, administration, ecstatic speaking. Is everyone an apostle? Is everyone an inspired preacher? Is everyone a teacher?
³⁰ Is everyone a wonder-worker? Is everyone able to cure the sick?
Can everyone speak ecstatically? Can everyone explain what it means?
³¹ But you must cultivate the higher endowments.

13 I will show you a far better way. If I can speak the languages of men and even of angels, but have no love, I am only a noisy gong ² or a clashing cymbal. If I am inspired to preach and know all the secret truths and possess all knowledge, and if I have such perfect faith that I can move mountains, but have no love, I am nothing.
³ Even if I give away everything I own, and give myself up, but do it
⁴ in pride, not love, it does me no good. Love is patient and kind.
⁵ Love is not envious or boastful. It does not put on airs. It is not rude. It does not insist on its rights. It does not become angry. It is ⁶ not resentful. It is not happy over injustice, it is only happy with ⁷ truth. It will bear anything, believe anything, hope for anything, ⁸ endure anything. Love will never die out. If there is inspired preaching, it will pass away. If there is ecstatic speaking, it will cease. If ⁹ there is knowledge, it will pass away. For our knowledge is imperfect ¹⁰ and our preaching is imperfect. But when perfection comes, what ¹¹ is imperfect will pass away. When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child. When I became ¹² a man, I put aside my childish ways. For now we are looking at a dim reflection in a mirror, but then we shall see face to face. Now my knowledge is imperfect, but then I shall know as fully as God knows me. So faith, hope, and love endure. These are the great three, and the greatest of them is love.

14 You must pursue love, while you are cultivating the spiritual endowments, and especially inspired preaching. For anyone who speaks ecstatically is speaking not to men but to God, for no one can understand him, though he is uttering secret truths. But the inspired preacher does his fellow-men good and encourages and comforts them. Anyone who speaks ecstatically does himself good, but the inspired preacher does a congregation good. I want you all to speak ecstatically, but I especially want you to be inspired to preach. The man who is inspired to preach is more useful than the one who speaks ecstatically—unless he can explain what he says so that it may do the church some good.

6 But as it is, brothers, if I come back to you and speak ecstatically, what good will I do you, unless I have some revelation or special knowledge or message or teaching to give you? Even inanimate things, like the flute or the harp, may produce sound, but if there is no difference in the notes, how can you tell what is being played? If the bugle does not sound a clear call, who will prepare for battle? So if you in your ecstatic speaking utter words no one can understand, how will people know what you are saying? You will be talking to the empty air! There are probably ever so many different languages in the world, each with its own meaning. So if I do not know the meaning of the language, I shall seem to the man who is speaking to be a foreigner, and he will seem to me to be one too. So since you are ambitious for spiritual endowments, you must try to excel in them in ways that will do good to the church. Therefore, the man who can speak ecstatically should pray for the power to explain what he says. For if I pray ecstatically, it is my spirit that prays, but my mind is helping nobody. Then what am I to do? I will pray ecstatically, but I will pray intelligently too. I will sing ecstatically but I will sing intelligently too. For if you utter blessings in ecstatic speech, how is an ordinary man to say Amen to your thanksgiving? For he does not know what you are saying. You are giving thanks well enough, but it is doing him no good. Thank God, I speak in ecstasy more than any of you. But in public worship I would rather say five words with my understanding so as to instruct others also than ten thousand words in an ecstasy.

20 Brothers, you must not be children mentally. In evil be babies, 21 but mentally be mature. In the Law it says, "By men of strange languages and by the lips of foreigners I will speak to this nation, 22 and not even then will they listen to me, says the Lord." So this ecstatic speaking is meant as a sign not to those who believe but to unbelievers, but inspired preaching is a sign not to unbelievers but 23 to those who believe. Hence, if the whole church assembles and they all speak ecstatically, and ordinary people or unbelievers come in, 24 will they not say that you are crazy? But if they are all inspired to preach and some unbeliever or outsider comes in, he is convinced of 25 his sin by them all, he is called to account by them all, the secrets of his heart are exposed, and he will fall down on his face and worship God, and declare that God is really among you.

26 Then what is the right course, brothers? When you meet together, suppose every one of you has a song, a teaching, a revelation, an ecstatic utterance, or an explanation of one; it must all be for the good of all. 27 If there is any ecstatic speaking, let it be limited to two or three people at the most, and have one speak at a time and someone explain what 28 he says. But if there is no one to explain it, have him keep quiet in 29 church, and talk to himself and to God. And let two or three who 30 are inspired to preach speak, while the rest weigh what is said; and if anything is revealed to another who is seated, the one who is speaking 31 must stop. For in this way you can all preach one after another, as you are inspired to, so that everyone may be instructed and stimulated, 32 for the spirits of prophets will give way to prophets, for God is not a 33 God of disorder but of peace. This is the rule in all Christian churches.

34 Women are to keep quiet in church, for they are not allowed to speak. They must take a subordinate place, just as the Law says. 35 If they want to find out about anything, they should ask their husbands 36 at home, for it is disgraceful for a woman to speak in church. Did God's message start from you Corinthians? Or are you the only people it has reached?

37 If anyone claims to be inspired to preach, or to have any other spiritual endowment, let him understand that what I am now writing 38 you is a command from the Lord. If anyone pays no attention to it, 39 pay no attention to him. So, my brothers, set your hearts on being inspired to preach, and yet do not hinder people from speaking ecstat- 40 ically. But let everything be done in a proper and orderly way.

15 Now I want to remind you, brothers, of the form in which I presented to you the good news I brought, which you accepted and have 2 stood by, and through which you are to be saved, if you hold on,

3 unless your faith has been all for nothing. For I passed on to you, as of first importance, the account I had received, that Christ died 4 for our sins, as the Scriptures foretold, that he was buried, that on the third day he was raised from the dead, as the Scriptures foretold, 5 and that he was seen by Cephas, and then by the Twelve. After that he was seen by more than five hundred brothers at one time, most of 7 whom are still alive, although some of them have fallen asleep. Then 8 he was seen by James, then by all the apostles, and finally he was 9 seen by me also, as though I were born at the wrong time. For I am the least important of the apostles, and am not fit to be called an 10 apostle, because I once persecuted God's church. But by God's favor
I have become what I am, and the favor he showed me has not gone for nothing, but I have worked harder than any of them, although 11 it was not really I but the favor God showed me. But whether it was I or they, this is what we preach, and this is what you believed.

12 Now if what we preach about Christ is that he was raised from the dead, how can some of you say that there is no such thing as a 13 resurrection of the dead? If there is no resurrection of the dead, then 14 Christ was not raised, and if Christ was not raised, there is nothing 15 in our message; there is nothing in our faith either, and we are found guilty of misrepresenting God, for we have testified that he raised Christ, when he did not do it, if it is true that the dead are never 16 raised. For if the dead are never raised, Christ was not raised; and 17 if Christ was not raised, your faith is a delusion; you are still under 18 the control of your sins. Yes, and those who have fallen asleep in 19 trust in Christ have perished. If we have centered our hopes on Christ in this life, and that is all, we are the most pitiable people in the world.

20 But the truth is, Christ was raised from the dead, the first to be 21 raised of those who have fallen asleep. For since it was through a man that we have death, it is through a man also that we have the 22 raising of the dead. For just as because of their relation to Adam all men die, so because of their relation to Christ they will all be 23 brought to life again. But each in his own turn; Christ first, and 24 then at Christ's coming those who belong to him. After that will come the end, when he will turn over the kingdom to God his Father, 25 bringing to an end all other government, authority, and power, for he must retain the kingdom until he puts all his enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy to be overthrown will be death, for everything is to 27 be reduced to subjection and put under Christ's feet. But when it says that everything is subject to him, he is evidently excepted who 28 reduced it all to subjection to him. And when everything is reduced to subjection to him, then the Son himself will also become subject to him who has reduced everything to subjection to him, so that God may be everything to everyone.

29 Otherwise, what do people mean by having themselves baptized on behalf of their dead? If the dead do not rise at all, why do they have 30 themselves baptized on their behalf? Why do we ourselves run such 31 risks every hour? By the very pride I take in you, brothers, through 32 our union with Christ Jesus our Lord, I face death every day. From the human point of view, what good is it to me that I have fought wild animals here in Ephesus? If the dead do not rise at all, "Let us 33 eat and drink, for we will be dead tomorrow!" Do not be misled.
34 Bad company ruins character. Return to your sober sense as you ought, and stop sinning, for some of you are utterly ignorant about God. To your shame I say so.

35 But someone will say, "How can the dead rise? What kind of a 36 body will they have when they come back?" You foolish man, the 37 very seed you sow never comes to life without dying first; and when you sow it, it has not the form it is going to have, but is a naked kernel, 38 perhaps of wheat or something else; and God gives it just such a form 39 as he pleases, so that each kind of seed has a form of its own. Flesh is not all alike; men have one kind, animals another, birds another, 40 and fish another. There are heavenly bodies, and there are earthly bodies, but the beauty of the heavenly bodies is of one kind, and the 41 beauty of the earthly bodies is of another. The sun has one kind of beauty, and the moon another, and the stars another; why, one star 42 differs from another in beauty. It is so with the resurrection of the 43 dead. The body is sown in decay, it is raised free from decay. It is sown in humiliation, it is raised in splendor. It is sown in weakness, 44 it is raised in strength. It is a physical body that is sown, it is a spiritual body that is raised. If there is a physical body, there is a spiritual body 45 also. This is also what the Scripture says: "The first man Adam became a living creature." The last Adam has become a life-giving 46 Spirit. It is not the spiritual that comes first, but the physical, and 47 then the spiritual. The first man is of the dust of the earth; the 48 second man is from heaven. Those who are of the earth are like him who was of the earth, and those who are of heaven are like him who 49 is from heaven, and as we have been like the man of the earth, let us 50 also try to be like the man from heaven. But I can tell you this, brothers: flesh and blood cannot share in the Kingdom of God, and 51 decay will not share in what is imperishable. I will tell you a secret.

52 We shall not all fall asleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the sound of the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised free from decay, and 53 we shall be changed. For this perishable nature must put on the 54 imperishable, and this mortal nature must put on immortality. And when this mortal nature puts on immortality, then what the Scripture says will come true—"Death has been triumphantly destroyed.
55 Where, Death, is your victory? Where, Death, is your sting?" Sin 56 is the sting of death, and it is the Law that gives sin its power. But 57 thank God! He gives us victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. So, my dear brothers, be firm and unmoved, and always devote yourselves to the Lord's work, for you know that through the Lord your labor is not thrown away.

16 About the collection for God's people, I want you to do as I told
2 the churches of Galatia to do. On the first of every week each of you is to put aside and store up whatever he gains, so that money will not 3 have to be collected after I come. When I come I will send whatever persons you authorize with credentials, to carry your gift to Jerusalem.
4 And if it seems worth while for me to go myself, they can go with me.
5 I will come to you after passing through Macedonia, for I am going 6 through Macedonia, and I will probably stay some time with you, or even pass the winter, so that you may start me off for wherever I may 7 be going. For I do not want to see you now just in passing, for I hope
8 to spend some time with you if the Lord permits it. But I shall stay 9 in Ephesus until the Harvest Festival, for I have a great and promising opportunity here, as well as many opponents.

10 If Timothy reaches you, put him at his ease among you, for he is 11 devoted to the Lord's work, just as I am. So no one is to slight him.
But see him off cordially when he comes back to me, for I am expecting him with the other brothers.

12 As for our brother Apollos, I have often urged him to visit you with the other brothers, and he is quite unwilling to come now, but he will come when he has a good opportunity.

13 Be on the watch. Stand firm in your faith. Act like men. Show
14 yourselves strong. Do everything with love.

15 Now I urge you, brothers—you know that the family of Stephanas was the first to be converted in Greece, and that they have devoted 16 themselves to the service of God's people—I want you to enlist under

- such leaders, and under anyone who joins with you and works hard.
- ¹⁷ And I am glad that Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus have come
- ¹⁸ here, for they have made up for your absence. They have cheered my heart, and yours too. You should appreciate such men.
- ¹⁹ The churches of Asia wish to be remembered to you. Aquila and Prisca, with the congregation that meets at their house, send you their
- ²⁰ special Christian greetings. All the brothers wish to be remembered to you. Greet one another with a sacred kiss.
- ²¹ This farewell I, Paul, add in my own hand. A curse upon anyone
- ²² who has no love for the Lord. Lord, come quickly! The blessing of
- ²³ the Lord Jesus be with you! My love be with you all through Christ
- ²⁴ Jesus.

THE SECOND LETTER TO THE CORINTHIANS

1 Paul, by God's will an apostle of Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother, to the church of God that is at Corinth, and all God's people 2 all over Greece; God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ bless you and give you peace.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the 4 merciful Father, and the God always ready to comfort! He comforts me in all my trouble, so that I can comfort people who are in any trouble with the comfort with which I myself am comforted by God.
5 For if I have a liberal share of Christ's sufferings, through Christ I 6 have a liberal share of comfort too. If I am in trouble, it is to bring you comfort and salvation, and if I am comforted, it is for the sake of the comfort which you experience when you steadfastly endure
7 such sufferings as I also have to bear. My hopes for you are unshaken.
For I know that just as surely as you share my sufferings, just so surely 8 you will share my comfort. For I do not want you, brothers, to misunderstand the distress that I experienced in Asia, for I was so utterly and unendurably crushed, that I actually despaired of life itself.
9 Why, I felt in my heart that the end must be death. That was to keep me from relying on myself instead of on God, who can even raise 10 the dead. So deadly was the peril from which he saved me, as he will save me again! It is on him that I have set my hope that he will 11 save me again. You must help me by your prayers, so that many will give thanks to God on my behalf for the blessing granted me in answer to many prayers.

12 For my boast is what my conscience tells me, that my relations to the world and still more to you have been marked by pure motives and godly sincerity, not by worldly shrewdness but by the favor of 13 God. For what I am writing to you is only what you can read and 14 understand, and I hope that you will understand it fully, as some of you have come to understand me, and that you will understand that you have a right to be proud of me, as I have of you, on the Day of our Lord Jesus.

15 It was because I was sure of this that I wanted to come to see you 16 before going anywhere else, to give you a double pleasure; I was going to visit you on my way to Macedonia, and then to come back 17 to you from Macedonia and have you see me off for Judea. Was it vacillating of me to want to do that? Do I make my plans like a 18 worldly man, ready to say "Yes" and "No" in the same breath? As surely as God can be relied on, there has been no equivocation about 19 our message to you. The Son of God, Christ Jesus, whom we proclaimed among you, Silvanus, Timothy, and I, you have not found wavering between "Yes" and "No." With him it has always been 20 "Yes," for to all the promises of God he supplies the "Yes" that confirms them. That is why we utter the "Amen" through him, when 21 we give glory to God. But it is God who guarantees us and you to 22 Christ; he has anointed us and put his seal upon us and given us his Spirit in our hearts, as earnest-money.

23 But upon my soul I call God to witness that it is simply to spare 24 you that I have stayed away from Corinth. Not that we are the masters of you and your faith; we are working with you to make you happy, for in your faith you stand firm enough.

2 For I made up my mind not to make you another painful visit.
2 For if I hurt your feelings, who is there to cheer me up but the man
3 whose feelings I hurt? This is what I said in my letter, so that I might avoid coming and having my feelings hurt by the very people who might have been expected to make me happy, for I felt sure about you all, that what made me happy would make you all happy.
4 For I was in great trouble and distress of mind when I wrote you, and I shed many tears as I did it, yet it was not to hurt your feelings, but to make you realize the extraordinary affection I have for you.

5 But if anyone has hurt anybody's feelings, it is not so much mine, as yours, or at least those of some of you, not to be too hard upon you all.
6 For that individual, this censure by the majority of you is punishment
7 enough, and so you must now turn around and forgive and comfort
8 him, or he may be overwhelmed by his remorse. So I beg you to 9 restore him to his place in your affections. For that is why I wrote you—to find out how you would stand the test, and see if you would 10 obey me absolutely. When you forgive a man, I forgive him too. For anything I had to forgive has been forgiven on your account, and as 11 in the very presence of Christ, to keep Satan from getting the better of us. For we know what he is after.

12 When I went to Troas to preach the good news of the Christ there, 13 I found a good opening for the Lord's work, but my mind could not rest because I did not find my brother Titus there. So I said goodbye

¹⁴ to them and went on to Macedonia. But thank God! he always leads me in his triumphal train, through Christ, and spreads the perfume of knowledge of him everywhere through me as his censer-bearer. ¹⁵ Yes, I am the fragrance of Christ to God, diffused among those who ¹⁶ are being saved and those who are perishing alike; to the one, a deathly, deadly odor, to the other a vital, life-giving one. Who is qualified ¹⁷ for this task? I am! For I am no peddler of God's message, like most men, but like a man of sincerity, commissioned by God and in his presence, in union with Christ I utter his message.

³ Am I falling into self-recommendation again? Do I, like some ² people, need letters of recommendation to you or from you? You are my recommendations, written on my heart, for everybody to read ³ and understand. You show that you are a letter from Christ delivered by me, written not in ink, but in the Spirit of the living God, and not on tablets of stone, but on the human heart.

⁴ Such is the confidence that I have through Christ in my relations ⁵ to God. Not that I am of myself qualified to claim anything as originating with me. My qualification is from God, and he has qualified ⁶ me to serve him in the interests of a new agreement, not in writing but of spirit. For what is written kills, but the Spirit gives life.

⁷ But if the religion of death, carved in letters of stone, was ushered in with such splendor, so that the Israelites could not look at Moses' ⁸ face on account of the brightness that was fading from it, why should not the religion of the Spirit be attended with much greater splendor? ⁹ If there was splendor in the religion of condemnation, the religion of ¹⁰ uprightness must far surpass it in splendor. For in comparison with its surpassing splendor, what was splendid has come to have no splendor ¹¹ at all. For if what faded away came with splendor, how much more splendid what is permanent must be!

¹² So since I have such a hope, I speak with great frankness, not like ¹³ Moses, who used to wear a veil over his face, to keep the Israelites ¹⁴ from gazing at the fading of the splendor from it. Their minds were dulled. For to this day, that same veil remains unlifted, when they read the old agreement, for only through union with Christ is it ¹⁵ removed. Why, to this day, whenever Moses is read, a veil hangs ¹⁶ over their minds, but "whenever a man turns to the Lord, the veil is ¹⁷ removed." Now the Lord here means the Spirit, and wherever the ¹⁸ Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. And all of us, reflecting the splendor of the Lord in our unveiled faces, are being changed into likeness to him, from one degree of splendor to another, for this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit.

4 So since by the mercy of God I am engaged in this service, I never 2 lose heart. I disown disgraceful, underhanded ways. I refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God's message. It is by the open statement of the truth that I would commend myself to every human 3 conscience in the sight of God. If the meaning of my preaching of the good news is veiled at all, it is so only in the case of those who are 4 on the way to destruction. In their case, the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, to keep the light of the good news of the glorious Christ, the likeness of God, from dawning upon 5 them. For it is not myself but Christ Jesus that I am proclaiming 6 as Lord; I am only a slave of yours for Jesus' sake. For God who said, "Let light shine out of darkness," has shone in my heart, to give me the light of the knowledge of God's glory, that is on the face of Christ.

7 But I have this treasure in a mere earthen jar, to show that its 8 amazing power belongs to God and not to me. I am hard pressed on every side, but never cut off: perplexed, but not driven to despair;
9 routed, but not abandoned; struck down, but not destroyed; never 10 free from the danger of being put to death like Jesus, so that in my 11 body the life of Jesus also may be seen. For every day I live I am being given up to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may 12 be visible in my mortal nature. So it is death that operates in my case, 13 but life that operates in yours. In the same spirit of faith as his who 14 said, "I believed, and so I spoke," I too believe, and so I speak, sure that he who raised the Lord Jesus from the dead will raise me also 15 like Jesus, and bring me side by side with you into his presence. For it is all for your benefit, in order that as God's favor reaches greater and greater numbers, it may result in more and more thanksgiving in praise of God.

16 So I never lose heart. Though my outer nature is wasting away, 17 my inner is being renewed every day. For this slight, momentary trouble is piling up for me an eternal blessedness beyond all com-18 parison, because I keep my eyes not on what is seen but what is unseen.
5 For what is seen is transitory, but what is unseen is eternal. For I know that if this earthly tent that I live in is taken down, God will provide me a building in heaven to live in, not built by human hands
2 but eternal. This makes me sigh with longing to put on my heavenly

³ dwelling, for if I do, I shall never find myself disembodied. For I who am still in my tent sigh with anxiety, because I do not want to be stripped of it, but to put on the other over it, so that what is only ⁵ mortal may be absorbed in life. It is God himself who has prepared me for this change, and he has given me the Spirit as his guaranty.

⁶ So I am confident. I know well that as long as I am at home in ⁷ the body I am away from the Lord (for I have to guide my steps ⁸ by faith, not by what is seen)—yet I am confident, and I prefer to ⁹ leave my home in the body and make my home with the Lord. So whether I am at home or away from it, it is my ambition to please him. ¹⁰ For we must all appear in our true characters before the tribunal of the Christ, each to be repaid with good or evil for the life he has lived in the body.

¹¹ It is with this knowledge of what the fear of the Lord means that I appeal to men. My true character is perfectly plain to God, and I ¹² hope to your consciences too. I am not trying to recommend myself to you again. I am giving you cause to be proud of me, to use in answering men who pride themselves on external advantages and ¹³ not on sincerity of heart. For if I was out of my senses, as they say, it was between God and me; and if I am in my right mind, it is for ¹⁴ your good. It is Christ's love that controls me, for I have become ¹⁵ convinced that as one has died for all, all have died, and he died for all that those who live might no longer live for themselves, but for him who died for them and rose again.

¹⁶ So from that time on, I have estimated nobody at what he seemed to be outwardly; even though I once estimated Christ in that way, ¹⁷ I no longer do so. So if anyone is in union with Christ, he is a new being; the old state of things has passed away; there is a new state ¹⁸ of things. All this comes from God, who through Christ has reconciled me to himself, and has commissioned me to proclaim this reconciliation—how God through Christ reconciled the world to himself, refusing to count men's offenses against them, and intrusted me with the message of reconciliation.

²⁰ It is for Christ, therefore, that I am an envoy, seeing that God makes his appeal through me. On Christ's behalf I beg you to be ²¹ reconciled to God. He made him who knew nothing of sin to be sin, for our sake, so that through union with him we might become God's uprightness.

⁶ As God's fellow-worker, I appeal to you, too, not to accept the ² favor of God and then waste it. For he says,

“I have listened to you at a welcome time,
And helped you on a day of deliverance!”

Now the welcome time has come! This is the day of deliverance!

3 I put no obstacles in anyone’s path, so that no fault may be found
4 with my work. On the contrary, as a servant of God I try in every 5 way to commend myself to them, through my great endurance in 6 troubles, difficulties, hardships, beatings, imprisonments, riots, labors,
7 sleepless nights, and hunger, through my purity of life, my knowledge,
8 my patience, my kindness, my holiness of spirit, my genuine love, the 9 truth of my teaching, and the power of God; with the weapons of 10 uprightness for the right hand and the left, in honor or dishonor, in 11 praise or blame; considered an impostor, when I am true, obscure,
12 when I am well known, at the point of death, yet here I am alive, 13 punished, but not dead yet, pained, when I am always glad, poor, when 14 I make many others rich, penniless, when really I own everything.

11 I have kept nothing back from you, men of Corinth; I have opened 12 my heart to you. It is not that I am cramping you, it is your own 13 affections. To pay me back, I tell you, my children, you must open your hearts too.

14 Do not get into close and incongruous relations with unbelievers.
What partnership can uprightness have with iniquity, or what can 15 light have to do with darkness? How can Christ agree with Belial?
16 Or what has a believer in common with an unbeliever? What bargain can a temple of God make with idols? For we are a temple of the living God, just as God said,

“I will live in them and move among them,
And I will be their God and they will be my people.”

17 Therefore,

“Come out from them,
And separate from them, says the Lord,
And touch nothing that is unclean.
Then I will welcome you,

18 I will become a father to you,
And you shall become my sons and daughters,
Says the Lord Almighty.”

7 So since we have promises like these, dear friends, let us cleanse ourselves of everything that can defile body or spirit, and by reverence for God make our consecration complete.

2 Make room for me in your hearts. I have not wronged or harmed
3 or got the better of anybody. I do not mean this as a reflection upon you, for as I said before, you will always have a place in my heart 4 whether I live or die. I have the greatest confidence in you. I take the greatest pride in you. I am fully comforted. After all my trouble,

I am overjoyed.

5 For even when I reached Macedonia, my poor human nature could get no relief—there was trouble at every turn; fighting without,
6 and fear within. But God, who comforts the downcast, comforted
7 me by the coming of Titus, and not only by his coming, but by the comfort you had given him, for he told me how you longed to see me, how sorry you were, and how you took my part, which made me
8 happier still. For even if I did hurt your feelings with that letter,
I cannot regret it; even if I did regret it, when I saw that the letter 9 had hurt your feelings perhaps for a while, I am glad of it now; not because you had your feelings hurt, but because having them hurt led you to repent, for you took it as God meant you to do, so that 10 you should not lose anything at all through me. For the pain that God approves results in a repentance that leads to salvation and leaves 11 no regrets; but the world's pain results in death. See how earnest this God-given pain has made you! how eager to clear yourselves, how indignant, how alarmed, how eager to see me, how zealous, how avenging! At every point you have proved that you are clear 12 of this matter. So although I did write to you, it was not on account of the offender, nor of the injured man, but in the sight of God to 13 reveal to you your devotion to me. That is why I am so comforted.

With all my own comfort, I was still more overjoyed at the glad-14 ness of Titus, for his mind has been set at rest by you all. If I did express some pride in you to him, I have had no reason to be ashamed of it, but just as all I said to you was true, my boasting before Titus 15 has also proved true. His heart goes out all the more to you, as he recalls how you all obeyed him, and with what reverence and trem-16 bling you received him. I am glad that I can feel perfect confidence in you.

8 I must tell you, brothers, how the favor of God has been shown
2 in the churches of Macedonia, for in spite of a severe ordeal of trouble, their extraordinary gladness, combined with their extreme poverty, 3 has overflowed in a wealth of generosity. For they have given to the utmost of their ability, as I can bear them witness, and beyond it, 4 and begged me most earnestly, of their own accord, to let them share
5 in the support of their fellow-Christians. They did far more than
I hoped, for first in obedience to God's will, they gave themselves to 6 the Lord, and to me. This has led me to urge Titus to complete the arrangements he had formerly begun among you for this gracious undertaking. Just as you excel in everything else—faith, expression, knowledge, perfect devotion, and the love we have awakened in you—you must excel in this generous undertaking too.

8 I do not mean this as a command. I only want to test the genuineness of your love by the devotion of others. You know how gracious the Lord Jesus Christ was. Though he was rich, he became poor for your sake, in order that by his poverty you might become rich. 10 But I will tell you what I think about it. For this is the best way to deal with you, for you were the first not only to do anything about this, but to want to do anything, and that was last year. Now finish doing it, so that your readiness to undertake it may be equaled by the way you finish it up, as well as your means permit. If a man is willing to give, the value of his gift is in its proportion to what he has, not to what he has not. I do not mean to be easy upon others and hard upon you, but to equalize the burden, and in the present situation to have your plenty make up for what they need, so that some day their plenty may make up for what you need, and so things may be made equal—as the Scripture says, “The man who got much did not have too much, and the man who got little did not have too little.”

16 Thank God, he puts the same devotion to you that I feel into Titus’ heart, for he has responded to my appeal, but he goes to you really of his own accord, he is so devoted to you. I am sending with him his brother, who is famous in all the churches for his work in spreading the good news. What is more, he has been appointed by the churches to travel with me in the interests of this generous undertaking, which I am superintending to honor the Lord and to show our readiness to help. I mean to have no one able to find any fault with the way I handle this munificence. I intend to do what is right not only in the Lord’s sight but in the eyes of men. I send with them another brother of ours whose devotion we have often tested in many ways, which is now greater than ever, because of his perfect confidence in you. So as far as Titus is concerned, he is my partner and comrade in my work for you, while these brothers of ours represent the churches, and are a credit to Christ. So you must give proof to them before all the churches of your love, and justify my pride in you.

9 It is really unnecessary for me to write to you about this fund for your fellow-Christians, for I know how willing you are to help in it; I boast of you for it to the people in Macedonia, telling them that

Greece has been ready since last year, and your enthusiasm has been 3 a stimulus to most of them. But I send the brothers so that our pride in you may not have a fall in this matter, but you may be all ready 4 as I have told them you will; for if some people from Macedonia come with me, and find that you are not ready, it will humiliate me—to 5 say nothing of you—for having expressed such confidence. So I have thought it necessary to ask these brothers to go on to you ahead of me, to arrange in advance for this gift you have promised, so as to have it ready, like an expression of your good-will, not of your avarice.

6 Remember this: The man who sows sparingly will reap sparingly,
7 and the man who sows generously will reap generously. Everyone must give what he has made up his mind to give, not reluctantly or 8 under compulsion; God loves a man who is glad to give. God is able to provide you with every blessing in abundance so that you will always have enough for every situation, and ample means for every 9 good enterprise: as the Scripture says,

“He scatters his gifts to the poor;
His uprightness will never be forgotten.”

10 He who supplies the sower with seed and so with bread to eat will supply you with seed, and multiply it and enlarge the harvest of your 11 uprightness. You will grow rich in every way, so that through me you can show perfect liberality that will make men thank God for it.
12 For the rendering of this service does more than supply the wants 13 of God’s people; it results in a wealth of thanksgiving to God. The way you stand the test of this service must do honor to God, through your fidelity to what you profess as to the good news of Christ, and through the liberality of your contributions for them and for all others;
14 then they will long for you and pray for you, because of the extraordi-
15 nary favor God has shown you. Thank God for his indescribable gift!

10 I appeal to you personally, by the gentleness and forbearance of Christ—the Paul who is so humble when face to face with you, but 2 so bold in dealing with you when he is far away! I beg you not to make me take as bold an attitude when I come, as I count on taking toward some people who suspect me of acting from worldly motives.
3 For though I do live an earthly life, I am not carrying on an earthly 4 war, for the weapons I use are not earthly ones, but divinely strong 5 for destroying fortresses. I destroy arguments and every obstacle that is raised against the knowledge of God, and I take captive every thought 6 and make it obey Christ, and am prepared to punish any trace of disobedience when you have made your obedience perfectly clear.

7 You look at things externally. If anyone is sure he belongs to Christ, let him think again and understand that I belong to Christ just as
8 much as he. For suppose I do boast a little too much of my authority—which the Lord gave me to build you up, not to pull you down—
9 I will not have to blush for it. I do not want to seem to scare you
10 with my letters. For they say, “His letters are impressive and telling, but his personal appearance is insignificant and as a speaker he amounts 11 to nothing.” Such people had better understand that when I arrive and take action I will do just as I say I will in my letters when I
12 am far away. I do not indeed venture to class or compare myself with certain individuals who approve of themselves. But when they 13 measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one
14 another, they do not show good sense. But my boasting will not be extravagant, nor exceed the limits God has allowed me, which reach
15 all the way to you. It is no strain for me to do this, as it might be for people who had never got so far, for I was the first to come all 16 the way to you with the good news of the Christ. I do not indulge in extravagant boasts over work done by others, but I do hope that 17 as your faith increases, my influence may be immensely enlarged
18 through you, and I may preach the gospel in the lands beyond you without having to boast over work already done in another’s field.
19 But let the man who boasts, boast about the Lord. For it is not the man who approves of himself who is really approved; it is the man of whom the Lord approves.

11 I wish you would put up with a little folly from me. Do put
2 up with it! I feel a divine jealousy about you, for I betrothed you
3 to Christ, to present you as a pure bride to her one husband. But I am afraid that just as the serpent by his cunning deceived Eve, your thoughts will be led astray from their single-hearted fidelity to Christ.
4 For when somebody comes along and preaches another Jesus than the one I preached, or you receive a different spirit from the one you received or a different gospel from the one you accepted, you put up
5 with it well enough! For I think that I am not in the least inferior
6 to these superfine apostles of yours. Even if I have no particular gifts in speaking, I am not wanting in knowledge. Why, I have always made that perfectly clear in my dealings with you.

7 Do you think that I did wrong in degrading myself to uplift you, because I preached God’s good news to you without any compensation?
8 I robbed other churches, letting them pay me so that I could work 9 for you! And when I was with you and wanted money, I did not burden any of you, for when the brothers came from Macedonia they supplied what I needed. So I kept myself, as I shall always do, from being a burden to you in any way. By the truth of Christ that is in me, this boast of mine shall not be silenced anywhere in Greece. And why? Because I do not love you? God knows I do. And I shall go on doing as I do, so as to cut the ground from under those who want to make out that in their boasted apostleship they work on the same terms that I do. Such men are sham apostles, dishonest workmen, masquerading as apostles of Christ. And no wonder, for even Satan himself masquerades as a shining angel. So it is nothing strange if his servants also masquerade as servants of uprightness. But their doom will fit their actions. I repeat, no one should think me a fool, but if you do, show me at least the patience you would show a fool, and let me have my little boast like the others. When I boast in this reckless way, I do not say what I am saying for the Lord, but as a fool would talk. Since many are so human as to boast, I will do it also. For you like to put up with fools, you are so wise yourselves! For you put up with it if a man makes you his slaves, or lives on you, or takes you in, or puts on airs, or gives you a slap in the face. To my shame I must admit that I was too weak for that sort of thing. But whatever anyone else dares to boast of—I am playing the part of a fool—I will dare to boast of too. If they are Hebrews, so am I! If they are Israelites, so am I! If they are descended from Abraham, so am I! If they are Christian workers—I am talking like a madman!—I am a better one! with far greater labors, far more imprisonments, vastly worse beatings, and in frequent danger of death. Five times I have been given one less than forty lashes, by the Jews. I have been beaten three times by the Romans, I have been stoned once, I have been shipwrecked three times, a night and a day I have been adrift at sea; with my frequent journeys, in danger from rivers, danger from robbers, danger from my own people, danger from the heathen, danger in the city, danger in the desert, danger at sea, danger from false brothers, through toil and hardship, through many a sleepless night, through hunger and thirst, often without food, and exposed to cold. And besides everything else, the thing that burdens me every day is my anxiety about all the churches. Who is weak without my being weak? Whose conscience is hurt without my being fired with indignation? If there must be boasting, I will boast of the things that show my weakness! The God and Father of the Lord Jesus Christ, 32 he who is forever blessed, knows that I am telling the truth. When I was at Damascus, the governor under King Aretas had the city gates watched in order to catch me, but I was lowered in a basket from an opening in the wall, and got out of his clutches.

12 I have to boast. There is nothing to be gained by it, but I will go on to visions and revelations given me by the Lord. I know of a man fourteen years ago—whether in the body or out of it, I do not know, God knows—being actually caught up to the third heaven. And I know that this man—I do not know whether it was in the body or out of it, God knows—was caught up into Paradise, and heard things that must not be told, which no human being can repeat. On this man's account I am ready to boast, but about myself I will boast only of my weaknesses. Though if I do choose to boast, I will not be such a fool, for I will only be telling the truth. But I will refrain from it, for I do not want anyone to be influenced by the wonderful character of these revelations to think more of me than is justified by my words or conduct. So to keep me from being too much elated a bitter physical affliction was sent to me, a very messenger of Satan, to harass me, to keep me from being too much elated. Three times I have prayed to the Lord about this, begging that it might leave me, and he said to me, "My favor is enough for you, for only where there is weakness is perfect strength developed."

So I am perfectly willing to boast of all my weakness, so that the strength of Christ may shelter me. That is why I am pleased with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and difficulties, when they are endured for Christ's sake, for it is when I am weak that I am strong.

11 I have been making a fool of myself, but you forced me to do it, when you ought to have been expressing your approval of me. For I am not a bit inferior to your superfine apostles, even if I am nobody! 12 The signs that mark a true apostle were most patiently shown when I was among you, in signs, wonders, and marvels. For what is there in which the other churches had the better of you, except in the fact that I would not permit myself to be a burden to you? You must forgive me that wrong!

14 Here it is the third time that I have been ready to come to see you, and I do not intend to be a burden to you now; for it is not your money but yourselves that I want; for children are not expected to lay up money for their parents, but parents for their children. And

I will be glad to spend all I have and all I am for your sake. Are 16 you going to love me the less for loving you so intensely? But granting that I did not burden you myself, I was clever about it, you say, and 17 took you in by a trick. Yet did I make anything out of you by any-18 body that I sent to you? I asked Titus to go and I sent his brother with him. Did Titus make anything out of you? Did not he and I act in the same spirit, and take the very same steps?

19 Have you been supposing all along that it is before you I have been defending myself? It is in the sight of God and as a follower of Christ that I have been speaking. But it is all to do you good, dear 20 friends, for I am afraid that perhaps when I come I may find you not as I want to find you, and that you may find me not as you want to find me. I am afraid that perhaps there may be quarreling, jealousy, 21 bad feeling, rivalry, slander, gossip, conceit, and disorder, and that when I come back my God may humiliate me before you, and I may have to mourn over many who have kept on in their old sins and have never repented of the impurity, immorality, and sensuality in which they have indulged.

13 This will be my third visit to you. Any charge must be sustained 2 by the evidence of two or three witnesses. Those who have kept on in their old sins and all the rest I have warned, and I warn them now while I am still away, as I did on my second visit, that if I come back 3 I will spare nobody—since you demand proof that Christ really speaks through me. He is not weak in dealing with you. On the contrary, 4 right among you he exhibits his power. Even if he was crucified through weakness, by the power of God he is alive. For we are weak as he was, but you will find that by the power of God we will be alive 5 as he is. It is yourselves you must test, to see whether you are holding to the faith. It is yourselves you must examine. Do you not know that Jesus Christ is within you? Unless you fail to stand the test!
6 I hope you will see that I do not fail to stand it. But I pray to God
7 that you may not do wrong—not to prove me equal to the test, but 8 that you should do right even if I fail to stand it. For I cannot do 9 anything against the truth, but only for it. I am glad to be weak, if you are strong! That is what I pray for—the perfecting of your 10 characters. That is why I write this while I am away from you, so that when I come, I may not have to be harsh in my use of the authority the Lord has given me, for it was to build you up, not to pull you down.

- ¹¹ Now brothers, goodbye! Be what you ought to be, listen to my appeal, agree with one another, live in peace, and God the source of ¹² love and peace will be with you. Greet one another with a sacred ¹³ kiss. All God's people wish to be remembered to you.
¹⁴ The blessing of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God and the participation in the holy Spirit be with you all.

THE LETTER TO THE GALATIANS

- 1 Paul, an apostle not from men nor sent by any man, but by Jesus
2 Christ and God the Father who raised him from the dead—and all
3 the brothers who are here with me, to the churches of Galatia; blessing and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ, 4 who to save us from the present wicked world gave himself for our 5 sins at the will of our God and Father. To him be glory forever and ever! Amen.
- 6 I am amazed that you are so quickly turning away from him who 7 called you by the mercy of Christ, to some different good news—not that there is any other, only that there are some people who are trying to unsettle you and want to turn the good news of the Christ around.
8 But even if we or an angel from heaven preach to you good news that contradicts the good news we have preached to you, a curse upon 9 him! We have said it before, and I repeat it now—if anyone is preaching to you good news that contradicts the good news you have already received, a curse upon him!
- 10 Is that appealing to men's weaknesses, or to God? Is that trying to suit men? If I were still doing that, I would be no slave of Christ.
11 For I tell you plainly, brothers, that the good news that I preached 12 is not a human affair. I did not receive it from any man, and I was not taught it, but it came to me through a revelation of Jesus Christ.
- 13 You have heard of my former conduct when I was attached to the Jewish religion—how furiously I used to persecute the church 14 of God and ravage it, and how I surpassed many of my own age among my people in my devotion to Judaism, I was so fanatically 15 devoted to what my forefathers had handed down. And when God, who had set me apart from my birth and had called me in his mercy, 16 saw fit to reveal his Son to me, so that I might preach the good news about him to the heathen, immediately, instead of consulting with 17 any human being, or going up to Jerusalem to see those who had been apostles before me, I went off to Arabia, and on my return came 18 back to Damascus. Then three years later I went up to Jerusalem, to become acquainted with Cephas, and I spent two weeks with him;
19 but I did not see any other apostle, except James, the Lord's brother.
20 (In writing you this, I call God to witness that I am telling the truth!)

²¹ After that, I went to the districts of Syria and Cilicia. I was still ²² personally unknown to the Christian churches of Judea; they only
²³ heard people say, "The man who once persecuted us is now preaching
²⁴ the good news of the faith he tried to destroy," and they praised God
2 for me. Then, fourteen years later, I went up to Jerusalem again, 2 with Barnabas, and took Titus also with me. It was in obedience to a revelation that I went. I laid before them the good news that I preach to the heathen, presenting it privately to the leaders, for fear 3 my efforts might be or might have been futile. But they did not insist that even my companion Titus, although he was a Greek, should 4 be circumcised, to gratify the false brothers who had been smuggled in, who sneaked in to spy upon the freedom we enjoy in Christ Jesus, 5 so as to reduce us to slavery again. But we did not submit to them for a moment, in order that the truth of the good news might remain 6 yours. Those who were regarded as the leaders—what they once were makes no difference to me; God takes no account of external 7 differences—the leaders contributed nothing new to me. On the contrary, when they saw that I had been intrusted with the good news for the heathen, just as Peter had been intrusted with it for the Jews—
8 for he who actuated Peter to be an apostle to the Jews also actuated
9 me to be one to the heathen—and when they recognized the favor God had shown me, James, Cephas, and John, who were regarded as pillars of the church, pledged Barnabas and me their co-operation, with the understanding that we should work among the heathen and 10 they among the Jews. Only, we were to remember the poor, and that 11 I have taken pains to do. But when Cephas came to Antioch, I 12 opposed him to his face, for his own conduct condemned him. For until some people came from James, he used to eat with the heathen, but after they came, he began to draw back and hold aloof, for fear 13 of the party of circumcision. The other Jewish Christians followed his example in concealing their real views, so that even Barnabas was 14 carried away by their pose. But when I saw that they were not straightforward about the truth of the good news, I said to Cephas, right before them all, "If you live like a heathen and not like a Jew, though you are a Jew yourself, why should you try to make the heathen live like Jews?"

¹⁵ We who are Jews by birth, and not sinful heathen, but who know
¹⁶ that a man is not made upright by doing what the Law commands, but by faith in Christ Jesus—even we believed in Christ Jesus, so as to be made upright by faith in Christ and not by doing what the Law commands—for by doing what the Law commands no one can be 17 made upright. If through our efforts to be made upright through Christ, we have ourselves been proved as much “sinners” as the 18 heathen, does that make Christ encourage sin? By no means. I really convict myself of wrongdoing when I start to rebuild what I tore 19 down. For it is through the Law that I have become dead to the 20 Law, so that I may live for God. I have been crucified with Christ, and it is no longer I that live, but Christ that lives in me. The life

I am now living in the body I am living by faith in the Son of 21 God who loved me and gave himself for me. I refuse to nullify the mercy of God. For if uprightness could be secured through law, then Christ died for nothing!

3 - You senseless Galatians! Who has bewitched you, when you had 2 Jesus Christ shown crucified right before your eyes? This is all I want to ask you: Did you receive the Spirit through doing what the 3 Law commands, or through believing the message you heard? Are you so senseless? Did you begin with the Spirit only to end now with 4 the flesh? Have you gone through so much, all for nothing?—if it
5 really is for nothing! When he supplies you with the Spirit and works wonders among you, is it because you do what the Law commands, 6 or because you believe the message you heard? Just as Abraham had faith in God and it was credited to him as uprightness.

7 So you see, the real descendants of Abraham are the men of faith.
8 The Scripture foresaw that God would accept the heathen as upright in consequence of their faith, and preached the good news in advance to Abraham in the words, “All the heathen will be blessed through 9 you.” So the men of faith share the blessing of Abraham and his faith.

10 For there is a curse upon all who rely on obedience to the Law, for the Scripture says, “Cursed be anyone who does not stand by 11 everything that is written in the Book of the Law and obey it.” That no one is accepted as upright by God for obeying the Law is evident 12 because the upright will have life because of his faith, and the Law has nothing to do with faith; it teaches that it is the man who does 13 these things that will find life by doing them. Christ ransomed us from the Law’s curse by taking our curse upon himself (for the Scrip-14 ture says, “Cursed be anyone who is hung on a tree”) in order that the blessing given to Abraham might through Jesus Christ reach the heathen, so that through faith we might receive the promised Spirit.

15 To take an illustration, brothers, from daily life: even a human 16 agreement, once ratified, no one annuls or alters. Now the promises were made to Abraham and his line. It does not say, "and to your lines," in the plural, but in the singular, "and to your line," that is, ¹⁷ Christ. My point is this: An agreement already ratified by God cannot be annulled and its promise canceled by the Law, which arose ¹⁸ four hundred and thirty years later. If our inheritance rests on the Law, it has nothing to do with the promise. Yet it was as a promise that God bestowed it upon Abraham.

¹⁹ Then what about the Law? It was a later addition, designed to produce transgressions, until the descendant to which the promise was made should come, and it was enacted by means of angels, through ²⁰ an intermediary; though an intermediary implies more than one party, ²¹ while God is but one. Is the Law then contrary to God's promises? By no means. For if a law had been given that could have brought ²² life, uprightness would really have come through law. But the Scripture describes all mankind as the prisoners of sin, so that the promised blessing might on the ground of faith in Jesus Christ be given to those who have faith.

²³ But before this faith came, we were kept shut-up under the Law, ²⁴ in order to obtain the faith that was to be revealed. So the Law has been our attendant on our way to Christ, so that we might be made ²⁵ upright through faith. But now that faith has come, we are no longer in the charge of the attendant.

²⁶ For in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God through your faith. ²⁷ For all of you who have been baptized into union with Christ have ²⁸ clothed yourselves with Christ. There is no room for "Jew" and "Greek"; there is no room for "slave" and "freeman"; there is no room for "male" and "female"; for in union with Christ Jesus you ²⁹ are all one. And if you belong to Christ, then you are true descendants of Abraham and his heirs under the promise.

⁴ I mean this: As long as the heir is a minor, he is no better than a ² slave, although he is the owner of all the property, but he is under ³ guardians and trustees until the time fixed by his father. So when we were minors, we were slaves to material ways of looking at things, ⁴ but when the proper time came, God sent his Son, born of a woman, ⁵ and made subject to law, to ransom those who were subject to law, so that we might receive adoption.

⁶ And because you are sons, God has sent into our hearts the spirit ⁷ of his Son, with the cry, "Abba!" that is, Father. So you are no longer a slave, but a son; and if a son, then an heir, made so by God.

⁸ But formerly, in your ignorance of God, you were slaves to gods

9 that really did not exist, but now that you know God, or rather have come to be known by him, how can you turn back to the old, crude notions, so poor and weak, and wish to become slaves to them again?

¹⁰ You are observing days, months, seasons, and years! I began to be afraid that perhaps the labor I spent on you was wasted.

¹¹ Take my position, I beg you, brothers, just as I once took yours!
¹² You took no advantage of me then; though you know that it was because of an illness that I preached the good news to you that first
¹³ time; and yet what must have tried you in my physical condition, you did not scorn and despise, but you welcomed me like an angel of God,
¹⁴ like Christ Jesus himself. What has become of that satisfaction of yours? For I can bear witness that you would have torn out your ¹⁵ very eyes, if you could, and given them to me! Have I turned into ¹⁶ an enemy to you, by telling you the truth? These men are making much of you, but not with honorable intentions. They want to shut
¹⁷ you out, so that you will have to make much of them. But it is a finer thing to be made much of honestly and constantly—not just when I
¹⁸ can be with you, my children—you for whom I am enduring a mother's ¹⁹ pains again, until Christ is formed in you. I wish I could be with you now, and use a different tone with you, for I do not know which way to turn about you.

²⁰ Tell me this, you who want to be subject to law: Will you not ²¹ listen to the Law? For the Scripture says that Abraham had two ²² sons, one by the slave-girl, and one by the free woman. But the child of the slave-girl was born in the ordinary course of nature, while the ²³ child of the free woman was born in fulfilment of the promise. This is an allegorical utterance. For the women are two agreements, one coming from Mount Sinai, bearing children that are to be slaves;
²⁴ that is, Hagar (and Hagar means Mount Sinai, in Arabia), and corresponds to the present Jerusalem, for Jerusalem is in slavery with ²⁵ her children. But the Jerusalem above is free, and she is our mother.
²⁶ For the Scripture says,

“Rejoice, childless woman, who bear no children,
 Break into shouting, you who have no birthpains!

For the desolate woman has more children than the married one!”

²⁷ Now we, brothers, are like Isaac, children born in fulfilment of ²⁸ the promise. But just as then the child born in the ordinary course of nature persecuted the one born through the influence of the Spirit, so ²⁹ it is today. Yet what does the Scripture say? “Drive the slave-girl ³⁰ out!”

and her son away, for the slave-girl's son shall not share the inheritance with the son of the free woman." So, brothers, we are children not of a slave but of one who is free.

5 This is the freedom with which Christ has freed us. So stand firm in it, and do not get under a yoke of slavery again.

2 Why, I, Paul, tell you that if you let yourselves be circumcised, 3 Christ can do nothing for you. I insist again to any man who lets himself be circumcised, that he is under obligation to obey the whole 4 Law. You people who propose to be made upright by law have finished with Christ; you have lost your hold upon God's favor. But 5 we, by the Spirit, through faith wait for the uprightness we hope for. 6 For in union with Christ Jesus, neither circumcision nor the want of it counts for anything, but only faith acting through love.

7 You were making such progress! Who has stopped your obeying 8 the truth? That kind of persuasion never came from him who called 9 you! A little yeast will make all the dough rise. I am confident in 10 the Lord that you will not take a different view. The man who is unsettling you will have to pay the penalty for it, no matter who he is. 11 And I, brothers, if I am still preaching circumcision, why am I still being persecuted? If that is the case, the cross has ceased to be an 12 obstacle, I suppose! I wish the people who are upsetting you would go on, and have themselves emasculated!

13 For you, brothers, have been called to freedom; only do not make your freedom an excuse for the physical, but in love be slaves to one 14 another. For the whole Law is summed up in one saying: "You 15 must love your neighbor as you do yourself." But if you bite one another and eat one another, take care, or you will be destroyed by one another.

16 I mean this: Live by the Spirit, and then you will not indulge your 17 physical cravings. For the physical cravings are against the Spirit, and the cravings of the Spirit are against the physical; the two are 18 in opposition, so that you cannot do anything you please. But if you are 19 guided by the Spirit, you are not subject to law. The things our physical nature does are clear enough—immorality, impurity, licentiousness, 20 idolatry, sorcery, enmity, quarreling, jealousy, anger, selfishness, 21 dissension, party-spirit, envy, drunkenness, carousing, and the like. I warn you as I did before that people who do such things will have no 22 share in the Kingdom of God. But what the Spirit produces is love, 23 joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self- 24 control. There is no law against such things! Those who belong to Jesus the Christ have crucified the physical nature with its propensities and cravings.

²⁵₂₆ If we live by the Spirit, let us be guided by the Spirit. Let us not 6 in our vanity challenge one another or envy one another. But if a man is caught doing something wrong, brothers, you are spiritual, and you must set him right, in a spirit of gentleness. Think of yourself,
2 for you may be tempted too. Bear one another's burdens, and in that 3 way carry out the law of the Christ. For if anyone thinks he is 4 somebody when he is really nobody, he is deceiving himself. Every man ought to test his own work, and then whatever satisfaction he has will be with reference to himself, and not in comparison with 5 someone else. For everyone will have to carry his own load.

6 Those who are taught the message must share all their goods with 7 their teacher. Do not be deceived. God is not to be sneered at. A 8 man will reap just what he sows. The man who sows to gratify his physical cravings will reap destruction from them, and the man who 9 sows to benefit the spirit will reap eternal life from the Spirit. Let us not get tired of doing right, for at the proper time we shall reap, 10 if we do not give out. So then whenever we have an opportunity, let us do good to all men, especially to those who belong to the family of the faith.

11 See what large letters I make, when I write to you with my own 12 hand! These men who are trying to force you to let yourselves be circumcised want to present a good appearance externally, to save themselves from having to stand persecution for the cross of Jesus 13 the Christ. Why, even those who let themselves be circumcised do not observe the Law themselves! But they want you to let yourselves be circumcised so that they can boast of that physical fact about you!
14 But I never want to boast of anything but the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, on which the world has been crucified to me and I have been 15 to the world. For neither circumcision nor the want of it is of any 16 importance, but only a new creation. Peace and mercy be on all who will follow this rule, and on the true Israel of God.

17 Let nobody interfere with me after this, for I bear on my body
the scars that mark me as a slave of Jesus.

18 The blessing of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brothers.
Amen.

THE LETTER TO THE EPHESIANS

1 Paul, by God's will an apostle of Christ Jesus, to God's people
2 who are steadfast in Christ Jesus; God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ bless you and give you peace.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who through Christ has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the 4 heavenly realm. Through him he chose us out before the creation of the world, to be consecrated and above reproach in his sight in love.
5 He foreordained us to become his sons through Jesus Christ, in ful-
6 filment of his generous purpose, so that we might praise the splendid 7 blessing which he has given us through his beloved Son. It is through union with him and through his blood that we have been delivered 8 and our offenses forgiven, in the abundance of his mercy which he has 9 lavished upon us. He has given us perfect insight into his secret purpose and understanding of it, in following out the design he planned 10 to carry out in Christ, and in arranging, when the time should have fully come, that everything in heaven and on earth should be unified 11 in Christ—the Christ through whom it is our lot to have been predestined by the design of him who in everything carries out the purpose 12 of his will, to win praise for his glory, by having been the first to 13 believe in Christ. You also have heard the message of the truth, the good news of your salvation, and believed in him, and through union with him you have been marked with the seal of the holy Spirit that 14 was promised, which is the advance instalment of our inheritance, so that we may get full possession of it, and praise his glory for it.

15 This is why I, for my part, since I have heard of the faith in the 16 Lord Jesus that prevails among you and among all God's people, never 17 cease to thank God for you when I mention you in my prayers. The God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the glorious Father, grant you the Spirit 18 of wisdom and revelation through the knowledge of himself, enlightening the eyes of your mind so that you may know what the hope is to which he calls you, and how gloriously rich his inheritance is among 19 God's people, and how surpassingly great his power is for us who believe; like the mighty strength he exerted in raising Christ from 20 the dead, and seating him at his right hand in heaven, far above all
21 hierarchies, authorities, powers, and dominions, and all titles that can

22 be bestowed not only in this world but in the world to come. He has put everything under his feet and made him the indisputable head of 23 the church, which is his body, filled by him who fills everything every- 2 where. You also were dead because of the offenses and sins in the 2 midst of which you once lived under the control of the present age of the world, and the master-spirit of the air, who is still at work among 3 the disobedient. We all lived among them once, indulging our physical cravings and obeying the impulses of our lower nature and its thoughts, and by nature we were doomed to God's wrath like other 4 men. But God is so rich in mercy that because of the great love he 5 had for us, he made us, dead as we were through our offenses, live 6 again with the Christ. It is by his mercy that you have been saved. And he raised us with Christ, and through our union with Christ Jesus 7 made us sit down with him in heaven, to show the incomparable wealth of his mercy throughout the ages to come by his goodness to us through 8 Christ Jesus. For it is by his mercy that you have been saved through 9 faith. It is not by your own action, it is the gift of God. It has not 10 been earned, so that no one can boast of it. For he has made us, creating us through our union with Christ Jesus for the life of goodness which God had predestined us to live.

11 So remember that you were once physically heathen, and called uncircumcised by those who called themselves circumcised, though 12 only physically, by human hands. At that time you had no connection with Christ, you were aliens to the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers to the agreements about God's promise; with no hope and 13 no God in all the world. But now through your union with Christ Jesus you who were once far away have through the blood of Christ 14 been brought near. For he is himself our peace. He has united the two 15 divisions, and broken down the barrier that kept us apart, and through his human nature put an end to the feud between us, and abolished the Law with its rules and regulations, in order to make peace and create out of the two parties one new man by uniting them with 16 himself, and to kill the feud between them with his cross and in one 17 body reconcile them both to God with it. He came with the good news of peace for you who were far away and for those who were 18 near; for it is through him that we both with one Spirit are now able 19 to approach the Father. So you are no longer foreigners or strangers, but you are fellow-citizens of God's people and members of his family. 20 You are built upon the apostles and prophets as your foundation, and 21 Christ Jesus himself is the cornerstone. Through him every part of the building is closely united and grows into a temple sacred through 22 its relation to the Lord, and you are yourselves built up into a dwelling for God through the Spirit.

3 This is why I, Paul, whom Jesus the Christ has made a prisoner for 2 the sake of you heathen—if at least you have heard how I dealt with 3 the mercy of God that was given me for you, and how the secret was made known to me by revelation, as I have just briefly written.
4 As you read that, you will be able to understand the insight I have 5 into the secret of the Christ (which in past ages was not disclosed to mankind as fully as it has now been revealed through the Spirit to 6 his holy apostles and prophets) that through union with Christ Jesus the heathen are fellow-heirs with the Jews, belong to the same body 7 and share the promise with them, through the good news for which I became a worker by virtue of the gift of God's mercy which by the 8 exercise of his power he has given me. To me, the very least of all his people, this favor has been given, of preaching to the heathen the 9 inexhaustible wealth of the Christ, and making clear how the secret purpose is to be worked out which has been hidden away for ages in 10 God the creator of all things, so that the many-sided wisdom of God may now through the church be made known to the rulers and 11 authorities in heaven, fulfilling the eternal purpose which God carried 12 out in Christ Jesus our Lord. Through union with him and through 13 faith in him, we have courage to approach God with confidence. So I ask that what I am having to suffer for your sake may not make me lose heart, for it does you honor.

14 For this reason I kneel before the Father from whom every family 15 in heaven or on earth takes its name, and beg him out of his wealth of glory to strengthen you mightily through his Spirit in your inner 17 nature and through your faith to let Christ in his love make his home in your hearts. Your roots must be deep and your foundations strong, 18 so that you and all God's people may be strong enough to grasp what 19 breadth, length, height, and depth mean, and to understand Christ's love, so far beyond our understanding, so that you may be filled with 20 the very fulness of God. To him who by the exertion of his power 21 within us can do unutterably more than all we ask or imagine, be glory through the church and through Christ Jesus through all generations forever and ever. Amen.

4 So I, the prisoner for the Lord's sake, appeal to you to live lives
2 worthy of the summons you have received; with perfect humility and 3 gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another lovingly. Make every effort to maintain the unity of the Spirit through the tie of 4 peace. There is but one body and one Spirit, just as there is but one

5 hope that belongs to the summons you received. There is but one 6 Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is 7 above us all, pervades us all, and is within us all. But each one of 8 us has been given mercy in Christ's generous measure. So it says,

"When he went up on high, he led a host of captives,
And gave gifts to mankind."

9 What does "he went up" mean, except that he had first gone down
10 to the under parts of the earth? It is he who went down who has also 11 gone up above all the heavens, to fill the universe. And he has given 12 us some men as apostles, some as prophets, some as missionaries, some 13 as pastors and teachers, in order to fit his people for the work of 14 service, for building the body of Christ, until we all attain unity in 15 faith, and in the knowledge of the Son of God, and reach mature 16 manhood, and that full measure of development found in Christ. We 17 must not be babies any longer, blown about and swung around by every 18 wind of doctrine through the trickery of men with their ingenuity in 19 inventing error. We must lovingly hold to the truth and grow up 20 into perfect union with him who is the head—Christ himself. For 21 it is under his control that the whole system, adjusted and united by 22 each ligament of its equipment, develops in proportion to the func-
23 tioning of each particular part, and so builds itself up through love.

24 So what I mean and insist upon in the Lord's name is this: You
25 must no longer live like the heathen, with their frivolity of mind 26 and darkened understanding. They are estranged from the life of 27 God because of the ignorance that exists among them and their ob-
28 stinacy of heart, for they have become callous, and abandoned them-29 selves to sensuality, greedily practicing every kind of vice. That is 30 not the way you have been taught what Christ means, at least if you 31 have really become acquainted with him and been instructed in him, 32 and in union with him have been taught the truth as it is found in 33 Jesus. You must lay aside with your former habits your old self 34 which is going to ruin through its deceptive passions. You must adopt 35 a new attitude of mind, and put on the new self which has been 36 created in likeness to God, with all the uprightness and holiness that 37 belong to the truth.

38 So you must lay aside falsehood and each tell his neighbor the 39 truth, for we are parts of one another. Be angry, but do not sin. The 40 sun must not go down upon your anger; you must not give the devil

28 a chance. The man who stole must not steal any more; he must work with his hands at honest toil instead, so as to have something to share 29 with those who are in need. No bad word must ever pass your lips, but only words that are good and suited to improve the occasion, so 30 that they will be a blessing to those who hear them. You must not offend God's holy Spirit, with which you have been marked for the 31 Day of Redemption. You must give up all bitterness, rage, anger, 32 and loud, abusive talk, and all spite. You must be kind to one another, you must be tender-hearted, and forgive one another just as God
5 through Christ has forgiven you. So follow God's example, like his 2 dear children, and lead loving lives, just as Christ loved you and gave himself for you, as a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God.

3 But immorality or any form of vice or greed must not be so much as mentioned among you; that would not be becoming in God's 4 people. There must be no indecency or foolish or scurrilous talk—5 all that is unbecoming. There should be thanksgiving instead. For you may be sure that no one who is immoral, or greedy for gain (for that is idolatry) can have any share in the Kingdom of Christ and God.

6 Whatever anyone may say in the way of worthless arguments to deceive you, these are the things that are bringing God's anger down 7 upon the disobedient. Therefore have nothing to do with them. For once you were sheer darkness, but now, as Christians, you are light 9 itself. You must live like children of light, for light leads to perfect
10 goodness, uprightness, and truth; you must make sure what pleases 11 the Lord. Have nothing to do with the profitless doings of the 12 darkness; expose them instead. For while it is degrading even to 13 mention their secret practices, yet when anything is exposed by the light, it is made visible, and anything that is made visible is light.

14 So it says,

“Wake up, sleeper!

Rise from the dead,

And Christ will dawn upon you!”

15 Be very careful, then, about the way you live. Do not act thought-16 lessly, but like sensible men, and make the most of your opportunity, 17 for these are evil times. So do not be foolish, but understand what 18 the Lord's will is. Do not get drunk on wine, for that is profligacy, 19 but be filled with the Spirit, and speak to one another in psalms, hymns, and sacred songs. Sing praise to God with all your hearts;
20 always give thanks for everything to God our Father, as followers

²¹ of our Lord Jesus Christ, and subordinate yourselves to one another out of reverence to Christ.

²² You married women must subordinate yourselves to your husbands, as you do to the Lord, for a husband is the head of his wife, just as Christ is the head of the church, which is his body, and is saved by him. Just as the church is in subjection to Christ, so married women must be, in everything, to their husbands. You who are husbands must love your wives, just as Christ loves the church and gave himself for her, to consecrate her, after cleansing her with the bath in water through her confession of him, in order to bring the church to himself in all her beauty, without a flaw or a wrinkle or anything of the kind, but to be consecrated and faultless. That is the way husbands ought to love their wives—as if they were their own bodies; a man who loves his wife is really loving himself, for no one ever hates his own person, but he feeds it and takes care of it, just as Christ does with the church, for we are parts of his body. Therefore a man must leave his father and mother and attach himself to his wife, and they must become one. This is a great secret, but I understand it of Christ and the church. But each one of you must love his wife just as he loves himself, and the wife, too, must respect her husband.

⁶ Children, as Christians obey your parents, for that is right. “You must honor your father and mother”—that is the first commandment accompanied with a promise—“so that you may prosper and have a long life on earth.” You fathers, too, must not irritate your children, but you must bring them up with Christian training and instruction.

⁵ You who are slaves, obey your earthly masters, in reverence and awe, with sincerity of heart, as you would the Christ, not with mere external service, as though you had only men to please, but like slaves of Christ, carrying out the will of God. Do your duties heartily and willingly, as though it were for the Lord, not for men, for you know that everyone, slave or free, will be rewarded by the Lord for his good conduct. You who are masters, too, must treat your slaves in the same way, and cease to threaten them, for you know that their Master and yours is in heaven, and that he will show no partiality.

¹⁰ Henceforth you must grow strong through union with the Lord and through his mighty strength. You must put on God’s armor, so as to be able to stand up against the devil’s stratagems. For we have to struggle, not with enemies of flesh and blood, but with the hierarchies, the authorities, the master-spirits of this dark world, the spirit-forces of evil on high. So you must take God’s armor, so that

- when the evil day comes you will be able to make a stand, and when 14 it is all over to hold your ground. Stand your ground, then, with the belt of truth around your waist, and put on uprightness as your 15 coat of mail, and on your feet put the readiness the good news of peace
16 brings. Besides all these, take faith for your shield, for with it you 17 will be able to put out all the flaming missiles of the evil one, and take salvation for your helmet, and for your sword the Spirit, which is 18 the voice of God. Use every kind of prayer and entreaty, and at every opportunity pray in the Spirit. Be on the alert about it; devote your-19 selves constantly to prayer for all God's people and for me, that when I open my lips I may be given a message, so that I may boldly make 20 known the secret of the good news, for the sake of which I am an envoy, and in prison. Pray that, when I tell it, I may have the courage to speak as I ought.
- 21 In order that you also may know how I am, our dear brother
Tychicus, a faithful helper in the Lord's service, will tell you all 22 about it. That is the very reason I am sending him, to let you know how I am, and to cheer your hearts.
- 23 God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ give the brothers peace 24 and love, with faith. God's blessing be with all who have an unfailing love for our Lord Jesus Christ.

THE LETTER TO THE PHILIPPIANS

1 Paul and Timothy, slaves of Christ Jesus, to all the devoted adherents of Christ Jesus who are in Philippi, with the superintendents and 2 assistants; God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ bless you and give you peace.

3 I never think of you without thanking my God, and always when-
4 ever I pray for you all I do it with joy, over your co-operation in 5 the good news from the day you first received it until now. For I
6 am certain that he who has begun the good work in you will finish
7 it for the Day of Jesus Christ. And I have a right to feel in this way
8 about you all, because both when I am in prison and when I am
9 defending and vindicating our right to preach the good news, I have 10 you in my heart as all sharing that privilege with me. For God is 11 my witness how I yearn for you all with the affection of Christ Jesus 12 himself. And it is my prayer that your love may grow richer and 13 richer in knowledge and perfect insight, so that you may have a sense 14 of what is vital, and may be men of transparent character and blame-
15 less life, in preparation for the Day of Christ, with your lives filled 16 with the fruits which uprightness produces through Jesus Christ, to 17 the honor and praise of God.

18 Now I want to assure you, brothers, that what has happened to 19 me has actually resulted in furthering the preaching of the good news.
20 Thus it is generally known throughout the Imperial Guard and 21 elsewhere that it is for the sake of Christ that I am in prison, and so 22 most of the Christian brothers have been exceedingly encouraged by 23 my example to declare God's message without any fear of the conse-24 quences.

25 Some of them, it is true, are actually preaching the Christ from 26 jealousy and partisanship, but there are others who are doing it out
27 of good-will. These latter do it from love for me, for they know 28 that God has put me where I am to defend our right to preach the 29 good news. But the others are preaching the Christ not sincerely 30 but for their own ends, imagining that they are making my imprison-31 ment harder to bear.

32 But what difference does it make? All that matters is that, in one 33 way or another, from false motives or honest ones, Christ is being

19 made known; I am glad of that. Yes, and I expect to be glad, for I know that through your prayers and the help of the Spirit of Jesus
20 Christ, all this will turn out for my highest welfare, for I eagerly and confidently hope that I shall never disgrace myself but that this time as always hitherto, living or dying, I shall do Christ credit by my unflinching courage.

21 For, as I see it, living means Christ and dying something even 22 better. But if living on here means having my labor bear fruit, I 23 cannot tell which to choose. I am undecided between the two, for 24 I long to depart and be with Christ, for that is far, far better, and 25 yet your needs make it very necessary for me to stay on here. I am convinced of this, and so I know that I shall stay on and serve you all,
26 to help you to develop and to be glad in your faith. So you will find in me fresh cause for Christian exultation, through having me with you again.

27 Whatever happens, show yourselves citizens worthy of the good news of the Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am kept away and only hear news of you, I may know that you are standing firm with one spirit, one purpose, fighting side by side for faith in the 28 good news. Never for a moment falter before your opponents, for your fearlessness will be a sure sign for them of their coming destruction, but to you it will be an omen, from God himself, of your deliverance. For you have been granted the privilege not only of trusting
29 in Christ but of suffering for him. Take your part in the same struggle that you have seen me engage in and that you hear I am still keeping up.

2 So by whatever appeal there is in our relation to Christ, by whatever incentive there is in love, by whatever participation there is in the
3 Spirit, whatever affection and sympathy, make me perfectly happy by living in harmony, with the same attitude of love, with the same feeling
4 and purpose. Do not act for selfish ends or from vanity, but modestly
5 treat one another as your superiors. Do not take account of your own
6 interests, but of the interests of others as well. Have the same attitude 7 that Christ Jesus had. Though he possessed the nature of God, he 8 did not grasp at equality with God, but laid it aside to take on the 9 nature of a slave and become like other men. When he had assumed
10 human form, he still further humbled himself and carried his obedience
11 so far as to die, and to die upon the cross. That is why God has so
12 greatly exalted him, and given him the name above all others, so that in the name of Jesus everyone should kneel, in heaven and on

¹² So, my dear friends, as you have always been obedient, with reverence and awe make every effort to insure your salvation, not simply ¹³ as though I were with you, but all the more because I am away. For it is God who in his good-will is at work in your hearts, inspiring ¹⁴ your will and your action. Do everything without any grumbling ¹⁵ or disputing, so that you will be blameless and honest, faultless children of God in the midst of a crooked and perverted age, in which ¹⁶ you appear like stars in a dark world, offering men the message of life. Then I will have reason to boast of you on the Day of Christ, ¹⁷ because my exertion and labor have not been wasted. Even if my life is to be poured out as a libation as you offer your faith in a service of sacrifice to God, I am glad to have it so, and I congratulate you ¹⁸ upon it, just as you must be glad and congratulate me.

¹⁹ I hope, with the help of the Lord Jesus, to send Timothy to you ²⁰ soon, so that I, too, may be cheered by having news about you. For I ²¹ have no one like him who would take such a real interest in you. For they are all looking out for their own interests, not for those of Jesus ²² Christ. But you know his character, and how like a son helping his father he has worked like a slave with me in preaching the good news. ²³ So I hope to send him to you just as soon as I can see how my case is ²⁴ going to turn out. I trust the Lord to enable me to come to you myself ²⁵ before long. But I feel that I must send back to you Epaphroditus, my brother, fellow-laborer, and fellow-soldier, whom you sent to ²⁶ look after my needs. For he has been longing to see you all, and has ²⁷ been greatly distressed because you heard that he was sick. For he was sick, and nearly died, but God took pity on him, and not only on him, but on me, to save me from having one sorrow after another. ²⁸ So I am all the more eager to send him, so that you may have the ²⁹ pleasure of seeing him again, and I may feel more relieved. So give him a hearty Christian welcome, and value men like him very highly, ³⁰ for he came near dying for the Lord's work, and risked his life to make up for what was lacking in the service you have done me.

³ Now, my brothers, goodbye, and the Lord be with you. I do not mind writing the same thing over and over to you; it is necessary for your safety.

² Look out for those dogs, those mischief-makers, with their amputation! We are the true circumcision, who worship God by his Spirit, priding ourselves only on Christ Jesus, and not relying on physical 4 advantages, though I at least am entitled to rely on them.

If anyone thinks he can rely on his physical advantages, still more 5 can I! I was circumcised when I was eight days old. I am a descendant of Israel. I belong to the tribe of Benjamin. I am a Hebrew, and the 6 son of Hebrews. As to the Law, I was a Pharisee; as to my zeal, I was a persecutor of the church; and by the Law's standard of upright-7 ness, no fault could be found with me. But for the sake of Christ I 8 have come to count my former gains as loss. Why, I count everything as loss compared with the supreme advantage of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have lost everything, and think it rubbish, 9 in order to gain Christ and be known to be united to him, with any uprightness I may have not based on law but coming through faith 10 in Christ—the uprightness that comes from God through faith. I want to know him in the power of resurrection, and to share his 11 sufferings and even his death, in the hope of attaining resurrection 12 from the dead. Not that I have secured it yet, or already reached perfection, but I am pressing on to see if I can capture it, because I 13 have been captured by Jesus Christ. Brothers, I do not consider that I have captured it yet, only, forgetting what is behind me, and straining
14 toward what lies ahead, I am pressing toward the goal, for the prize 15 to which God through Christ Jesus calls us upward. Let as many of us therefore as are mature have this attitude. If you have any 16 different attitude, God will make this clear to you. Only, we must live up to what we have already attained.

17 Follow my example, brothers, all of you, and notice those who 18 follow the pattern we have set you. For there are many who live, as I have often told you, and tell you now with tears, like enemies 19 of the cross of Christ. They are doomed to destruction: their appetites are their god; they glory in their shame; they are absorbed in earthly 20 matters. But the commonwealth to which we belong is in heaven, and from it we are eagerly awaiting the coming of a savior, the Lord 21 Jesus Christ. He will make our poor bodies over to resemble his glorious body, by exerting the power he has to subject everything to himself.

4 So, my dear brothers whom I so long to see, my joy and pride, stand firm in the Lord, dear friends.

2 I appeal to Euodia and I appeal to Syntyche to agree together, as 3 Christians. And I beg you, my true comrade, help them, for they toiled at my side in spreading the good news, with Clement and the rest of my fellow-workers, whose names are in the book of life.

4 Goodbye, and the Lord be with you always. Again I say, goodbye.

5 Let all men see your forbearing spirit. The Lord is coming soon.

6 Have no anxiety about anything, but make all your wants known to

7 God in prayer and entreaty, and with thanksgiving. Then, through your union with Christ Jesus, the peace of God, so far above any human thought, will guard your minds and thoughts.

8 Now, brothers, let your minds dwell on what is true, what is worthy, what is right, what is pure, what is amiable, what is kindly—

9 on everything that is excellent or praiseworthy. Do the things that you learned, received, and heard from me, and that you saw me do. Then God who gives peace will be with you.

10 I was very glad, as a Christian, to have your interest in me revive again after so long; for you have always been interested, but you

11 have had no opportunity to show it. Not that I have anything to complain of, for I have learned how to be contented with the condition

12 I am in. I know how to live humbly and I know how to enjoy plenty.

I have learned the secret, in any and all conditions, of being well-fed

13 and of going hungry, of having plenty and of going without. I can

14 do anything through him who gives me strength. But it was very 15 kind of you to share my difficulties. And you at Philippi know as well as I do, that in the early days of the good news, after I left Macedonia, no church but yours went into partnership and opened an account

16 with me. Even when I was at Thessalonica you sent money more

17 than once for my needs. Not that I want your gifts, but I want you

18 to have the profits that will accumulate to your credit. You have paid me in full, and more too. I am fully supplied with what I have received from you through Epaphroditus. It is like fragrant incense, 19 just such a sacrifice as God welcomes and approves. My God will gloriously supply all your needs with his wealth, through your union

20 with Christ Jesus. Glory to our God and Father forever and ever.

Amen.

21 Remember me to all my fellow-Christians. The brothers who are 22 with me wish to be remembered to you. All God's people wish to be remembered to you, especially those who belong to the emperor's household.

23 The blessing of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirits.

THE LETTER TO THE COLOSSIANS

¹ Paul, by God's will an apostle of Christ Jesus, and our brother
² Timothy, to the devoted and steadfast Christian brothers in Colossae;
God our Father bless you and give you peace.

³ We never pray for you without thanking God, the Father of our ⁴ Lord Jesus Christ, for what we have heard of your faith in Christ
⁵ Jesus, and of the love you have for all God's people, and for the hope of what is stored up for you in heaven. You first heard of it long ⁶ ago when the true message of the gospel came among you, to thrive and bear its fruit among you, as it does all over the world, from the time when you first heard about the mercy of God, and really came ⁷ to know it, in the form in which Epaphras, my dear fellow-slave, taught it to you. He is my faithful representative as a servant of ⁸ Christ, and it is he who has told me of the love the Spirit has awakened ⁹ in you. That is why, from the day I first heard of it, I have never given up praying for you and asking God to fill you, through full spiritual wisdom and insight, with a clear knowledge of what his will ¹⁰ is, so that the lives you live may be worthy of your Master and wholly pleasing to him, and you may be fruitful in all kinds of good deeds, ¹¹ and may grow into fuller knowledge of God. Then, so mighty is his majesty, he will nerve you perfectly with strength for the cheerful ¹² exercise of endurance and forbearance in every situation, and you will thank the Father who has entitled you to share the lot of God's ¹³ people in the realm of light. He has rescued us from the dominion of darkness, and has transferred us into the realm of his dear Son, ¹⁴ by whom we have been ransomed from captivity through having our ¹⁵ sins forgiven. He is a likeness of the unseen God, born before any ¹⁶ creature, for it was through him that everything was created in heaven and on earth, the seen and the unseen, angelic thrones, dominions, principalities, authorities—all things were created through him ¹⁷ and for him. He existed before all things and he sustains and embraces ¹⁸ them all. He is the head of the church, it is his body; for he is the beginning, the firstborn from among the dead—that he might come ¹⁹ to stand first in everything. For all the divine fulness chose to dwell ²⁰ in him and through him to reconcile to God all things on earth or in ²¹ heaven, making this peace through his blood shed on the cross. And it has brought you, who were once estranged from him, hostile in attitude and engaged in doing wrong (though now he has reconciled you through dying in his human body) in holiness, and free from reproach or blame, into God's presence—if at least you continue firm and steadfast in the exercise of faith, and never shift from the hope held out in the good news to which you listened, which has been preached all over the world, and for which I, Paul, became a worker.

At present I am glad to be suffering in your interest, and I am making up in my own person what is lacking in Christ's sufferings for the church, which is his body. In it, by divine appointment, I became a worker, that I might preach among you the message of God in its fulness—that secret, hidden from the ages and generations, but now disclosed to those who are consecrated to him, to whom God has chosen to make known among the heathen how glorious this mystery of Christ in you, the promise of glorification, really is. And in spreading the news of him, we warn everyone and teach everyone all our wisdom, in order to bring everyone to Christian perfection. That is what I am working for, fighting with all the energy with which he so mightily endows me.

2 For I want you to know what a fight I am putting up for you and for our brothers in Laodicea, and for all who do not know me personally, that your hearts may be cheered. I want you to be united by love, and to have all the benefit of assured knowledge in coming to know Christ—that divine mystery in which all treasures of wisdom and knowledge are to be found. What I mean is, let nobody mislead you by specious arguments. For though I am absent from you in person I am with you in spirit, and I am glad to observe your harmony and the solidity of your faith in Christ.

3 So just as you once accepted the Christ, Jesus, as your Lord, you must live in vital union with him. You must be rooted and built up in him and made strong in faith, just as you were taught to be, overflowing with it in your gratitude.

4 Take care that nobody exploits you through the pretensions of philosophy, guided by human tradition, following material ways of looking at things, instead of following Christ. For it is in him that all the fulness of God's nature lives embodied, and in union with him you too are filled with it. He is the head of all your principalities and dominions. Through your relation to him you have received, not a physical circumcision, but a circumcision effected by Christ, in stripping you of your material nature, when in your baptism you were buried with him, and raised to life with him through your faith in 13 the power of God who raised him from the dead. Yes, you who were dead through your misdeeds and physically uncircumcised, God raised 14 to life with Christ. He forgave us all our misdeeds, canceled the bond which stood against us, with its requirements, and put it out 15 of our way when he nailed it to the cross. He disarmed the principalities and dominions and displayed them openly, triumphing over them through him.

16 So no one can call you to account for what you eat or drink, or 17 do about annual or monthly feasts or Sabbaths. That was all only the shadow of something that was to follow; the reality is found in Christ.
18 No one can put you in the wrong by persisting in studied humility and the worship of angels being absorbed in the visions he has seen, 19 and groundlessly conceited over his mere human mind. Such people lose their connection with the head, from which the whole body through its ligaments and sinews must be governed and united if it is to grow in the divine way.

20 If you have died with Christ to material ways of looking at things, why do you act as though you still belonged to the world, and submit 21 to rules like "You must not handle," "You must not taste," "You 22 must not touch"—referring to things that are all meant to be used up and destroyed? This is to follow mere human rules and regula-23 tions. Such practices pass for wisdom, with their self-imposed devotions, their self-humiliation, and their ascetic discipline, but they carry with them no real distinction, they are really only a catering to the flesh.

3 If, then, you have been raised to life with Christ, set your hearts on the things that are where Christ is, above, seated at God's right 2 hand. Fix your thoughts on the things that are above, not on those 3 that are on earth. For you have died, and your life now lies hidden 4 with Christ in God. When Christ, who is our true life, shall make his appearance, then you also will appear glorified with him.

5 So treat as dead your physical nature, as far as immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and greed are concerned; for it is really idolatry.
6 It is on account of these things that God's anger is coming. And you once practiced them as others do, when you lived that old earthly life.
8 But now you too must put them all aside—anger, rage, spite, rough, 9 abusive talk—these must be banished from your lips. You must not lie to one another. For you have stripped off your old self with its 10 ways and have put on that new self newly made in the likeness of its

- 11 Creator, to know him fully. Here, what matters is not “Greek” and “Jew,” the circumcised and the uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian, slave, freeborn, but Christ is everything and in us all.
- 12 As persons chosen by God, then, consecrated and dearly loved, you must clothe yourselves with tenderness of heart, kindness, humility, 13 gentleness, forbearance. You must bear with one another and forgive one another, if anyone has reason to be offended with anyone else. 14 Just as the Lord has forgiven you, so you must forgive. And over all these put on love, which completes them and fastens them all together. 15 Let the ruling principle in your hearts be Christ’s peace, for in becoming members of one body you have been called under its sway. And 16 you must be thankful. Let the message of Christ live in your hearts in all its wealth of wisdom. Teach it to one another and train one another in it with thankfulness, with psalms, hymns, and sacred songs, 17 and sing to God with all your hearts. And whatever you have to say or do, do it all as followers of the Lord Jesus, and offer your thanksgiving to God the Father through him.
- 18 You married women must subordinate yourselves to your husbands, 19 for that is your duty as Christians. You who are husbands must love your wives and not be harsh to them.
- 20 Children, always obey your parents, for that is commendable in 21 Christians. Fathers, do not irritate your children, or they may lose heart.
- 22 You who are slaves must always obey your earthly masters, not with mere external service, as though you had only men to please, but 23 with sincerity of heart, because you fear the Lord. Work at everything you do with all your hearts, as work done not for men only but 24 for the Lord, for you know that it is from him that you are to receive that inheritance which is to be your reward. Think of Christ as the 25 master you are working for. For the man who wrongs anyone will be paid back for the wrong he has done; there will be no exceptions.
- 4 You who are masters must treat your slaves justly and fairly, and remember that you have a Master too, in heaven.
- 2 Be persistent in prayer and wide awake about it when you give 3 thanks. Pray for me too, that God may give me an opening for the message, and let me tell the secret of Christ on account of which I 4 am kept in prison until I can make clear to the authorities why I 5 cannot help telling it. Use wisdom in dealing with outsiders, making 6 the most of your opportunities. Always put your message attractively, and yet pointedly, and be prepared to give every inquirer a fitting answer.

- 7 Our dear brother Tychicus, my faithful helper and fellow-servant
8 in the Lord's work, will tell you all about me. I am sending him
9 to you for the express purpose of letting you know my circumstances,
10 and of cheering your hearts. And with him I send my dear, faithful 11 brother Onesimus, who is one of your own number. They will tell 12 you all about matters here.
- 10 Aristarchus, my fellow-prisoner, wishes to be remembered to you, and so does Barnabas' cousin Mark. (About him you have had in-11 structions; if he comes to see you, make him welcome.) So also does 12 Jesus who is called Justus. They are the only ones among the converts 13 from Judaism who have worked with me for the reign of God who 14 have proved a comfort to me. Epaphras, one of your own number, a slave of Christ Jesus, wishes to be remembered to you. He is always 15 standing up for you in his prayers that you may stand fast, like men
16 of mature convictions, whatever God's will for you may be. I can 17 testify how anxious he is about you and the brothers in Laodicea and 18 Hierapolis. Our dear Luke, the doctor, and Demas wish to be remembered to you. Remember me to the brothers in Laodicea and to 16 Nympha and the church that meets at her house. When this letter has been read to you, have it read to the church at Laodicea also, and 17 see that you read the letter that is coming from there. And tell Archippus, "See that you perform the Christian service you have been assigned."
- 18 This farewell is in my own hand, from Paul. Remember that I am in prison. God bless you.

THE FIRST LETTER TO THE THESSALONIANS

1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy to the Thessalonian church in union with God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; God bless you and give you peace.

2 We always thank God for you all when we mention you in our
3 prayers, for we can never forget before our God and Father your energetic faith, your loving service, and your unwavering expectation
4 of our Lord Jesus Christ. For we know, brothers whom God so loves,
5 that he has chosen you, for our preaching of the good news did not come to you as mere words but with power and the holy Spirit and full conviction—you know the kind of life we lived among you for 6 your good. And you followed the example set by us and by the Lord, for though our message brought you great trouble, you welcomed it
7 with joy inspired by the holy Spirit, so that you set an example to all
8 the believers in Macedonia and Greece. For the Lord's message has rung out from you not only over Macedonia and Greece, but the story of your belief in God has gone everywhere, so that we never need to 9 mention it. For when people speak of us, they tell what a welcome you gave us, and how you turned from idols to God, to serve a true
10 and living God, and to wait for the coming from heaven of his Son, whom he raised from the dead—Jesus, our deliverer from God's coming wrath.

2 You know yourselves, brothers, that our visit to you was far from
2 ineffectual. We had just been through ill-treatment and insults at Philippi, as you remember, but, in the face of great opposition, we took courage by the help of our God, and told you God's good news.
3 For our appeal does not rest on a delusion, nor spring from any impure
4 motive; there is no fraud about it. God has thought us fit to be intrusted with the good news, and so we tell it, making no effort to
5 please men, but to please God, who tests our hearts. We never used flattery, as you know, or found pretexts for making money, as God is 6 our witness. We never sought praise from men, either from you or anyone else, though as Christ's apostles we might have stood on our 7 dignity. We were children when we were with you; we were like 8 a mother nursing her children. That was the kind of affection we had for you, which made us ready to share with you not only God's good news but our own lives too, because you were so dear to us.

9 You remember, brothers, how we toiled and labored. We worked night and day, when we preached the good news to you, in order not 10 to be a burden to any of you. You will testify, and God will, how pure and upright and irreproachable our relations were with you who 11 believed. You know how, like a father with his children, we used to 12 urge, encourage, and implore you to make your lives worthy of God who invites you into his kingdom and his glory.

13 We for our part constantly thank God for another reason too—because when you received God's message from our lips, you welcomed it not as the message of men but as the message of God, as it really is, 14 which does its work in the hearts of you believers. For you, brothers, followed the example of God's churches in Judea that are in union with Christ Jesus, for you in your turn had to bear the same ill-treat-15 ment from your neighbors as they did from the Jews, who killed the Lord Jesus and persecuted the prophets and us; who displease God, 16 and in their hostility to all mankind try to keep us from speaking to the heathen so that they may be saved, so as always to fill up the measure of their sins. But God's wrath has overtaken them at last!

17 For our part, brothers, when we were separated from you for a little while—in person, though not in spirit—we were extremely 18 eager and longed intensely to see you. For we resolved to come to see you—I, Paul, did so again and again—but Satan held us back.
19 For what hope or happiness shall we have or what prize to be proud 20 of in the presence of our Lord Jesus when he comes, except you? You are our pride and our joy.

3 So when I could not bear it any longer, I made up my mind to stay
2 behind alone at Athens, and I sent my brother Timothy, a servant of God in preaching the good news of the Christ, to strengthen you 3 in your faith and encourage you not to be led astray, any of you, in all these troubles. You know yourselves that this is what we must expect, 4 for when we were with you, we told you beforehand that we were 5 going to have trouble, and it came true, as you know. That was why, when I could not bear it any longer, I sent to find out about your faith, for I was afraid that the tempter might have tempted you and 6 all our labor might be lost. But now that Timothy has just come back to me from you, and brought me good news of your faith and love, and told me how kindly you think of me and that you long to 7 see me just as much as I long to see you, I feel encouraged, brothers,
8 about you, in spite of all my distress and trouble, at your faith, for

9 now I can really live, since you are standing firm in the Lord. For how can I thank God enough for you, for all the happiness you make 10 me feel in the presence of our God, as I pray night and day with intense earnestness that I may see your faces and supply what is lacking in your faith?

11 May our God and Father himself and our Lord Jesus open my 12 way to you! May the Lord make your love for one another and for 13 all men wide and full like my love for you, so that your hearts may be strong and faultlessly pure in the sight of our God and Father, when our Lord Jesus appears with all his saints!

4 Now, brothers, we ask and entreat you, in the name of the Lord Jesus, to live as you learned from us that you must live, to please
2 God—as indeed you are doing, only do it more and more. For you remember what instructions we gave you on the authority of the Lord Jesus.

3 It is God's will that you should be consecrated, that you abstain
4 from immorality, that each of you learn to take a wife for himself
5 from pure and honorable motives, not to gratify his passion, like the 6 heathen who know nothing of God. No one is to wrong or defraud his brother in this matter, for the Lord avenges all such things, as 7 we told you before, in the most solemn terms. God has not called
8 us to an unclean life, but to a pure one. So whoever disregards this is not disregarding man, but God, who gives you his holy Spirit.

9 You do not need to have anyone write to you about brotherly love, for you have yourselves been taught by God to love one another,
10 and you are doing it to all the brothers all over Macedonia.

11 But we do entreat you, brothers, to surpass yourselves in striving to live quietly and mind your own affairs, and work with your hands,
12 as we directed you, so that you may have the respect of the outsiders, and not be dependent upon anybody.

13 We do not want you to be under any misapprehension, brothers, about those who are falling asleep. You must not grieve for them,
14 as others do who have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, then by means of Jesus God will bring back with him those 15 who have fallen asleep. For we can assure you, on the Lord's own authority, that those of us who will still be living when the Lord comes 16 will have no advantage over those who have fallen asleep. For the Lord himself, at the summons, when the archangel calls and God's trumpet sounds, will come down from heaven, and first those who 17 died in union with Christ will rise; then those of us who are still living will be caught up with them on clouds into the air to meet the Lord, 18 and so we shall be with the Lord forever. Therefore, encourage one another with this truth.

5 But as to times and dates, brothers, you do not need to have anyone
2 write to you, for you yourselves know perfectly well that the Day
3 of the Lord is to come like a thief in the night. When people say, “What peace and security!” then suddenly destruction will be upon them, like birth-pains upon a woman about to give birth to a child, 4 and there will be no escape. But you are not in darkness, brothers, 5 so that that Day should surprise you like thieves. You all belong to the light and the day. We have nothing to do with night or with 6 darkness. So we must not sleep like other men, but we must be vigilant
7 and composed. For those who sleep sleep at night and those who get 8 drunk do so at night, but we who belong to the day must be composed, wearing faith and love for a coat of mail, and helmeted with the hope 9 of salvation. For God has not destined us for his wrath, but to gain 10 salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us so that 11 whether we are still alive or fall asleep we may live with him. Therefore encourage one another and strengthen one another, just as you are doing.

12 We beg you, brothers, to respect those who work with you and 13 who lead you in the service of the Lord, and teach you. Hold them in the highest esteem and affection for what they do. Live at peace 14 with one another. We beg you, brothers, warn the idlers, cheer up the despondent, keep hold of the weak, be patient with everybody.
15 Take care that none of you ever pays back evil for evil, but always 16 try to treat one another and everybody with kindness. Always be 17 joyful. Never give up praying. Thank God whatever happens. For 18 this is what God through Christ Jesus wants you to do. Do not stifle
19 the Spirit. Do not disregard the utterances it inspires, but test them 20 all, retaining what is good and avoiding every kind of evil.

23 May God himself, the giver of peace, consecrate you through and through. Spirit, soul, and body, may you be kept sound, and be found 24 irreproachable when our Lord Jesus Christ comes. He who calls you can be relied on, and he will do this.

25 Brothers, pray for us.

26 Greet all the brothers with a sacred kiss. I charge you in the Lord's 27 name to have this letter read to all the brothers.

28 The blessing of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

THE SECOND LETTER TO THE THESSALONIANS

1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy to the Thessalonian church in union
2 with God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ bless you and give you peace.

3 We always have to thank God for you, brothers, as it is right that we should, because your faith is growing so wonderfully and the love 4 of every one of you for one another is increasing. As a result, we ourselves speak of you with pride in the churches of God for your steadfastness and faith in the face of all the persecutions and troubles 5 you are having to endure. This is a proof of God's justice in judging, and it is to prove you worthy of the Kingdom of God, for the sake of 6 which you are suffering, since God considers it only just to repay 7 with suffering those who are making you suffer and to give rest to you who are suffering and to us, when our Lord Jesus appears from 8 heaven, with his mighty angels in a blaze of fire, and takes vengeance on the godless who will not listen to the good news of our Lord Jesus.
9 They will be punished with eternal ruin and exclusion from the 10 presence of the Lord and his glorious might, when on that Day he comes to be honored in his people, and wondered at in all who believe in him—because our testimony has been confirmed in you.

11 To this end we always pray for you too, asking our God to find you worthy of the call he has given you, and by his power to fulfil every desire you may have for goodness, and every effort of your faith, 12 so that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you and you in him, by the blessing of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 As to the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, brothers, and our 2 assembling to meet him, we beg you not to let your minds be too easily unsettled or wrought up, by any message of the Spirit or any utterance or letter purporting to be from me, to the effect that the Day of the 3 Lord has already come. You must not let anyone deceive you at all.
For that is not until the rebellion takes place and the embodiment of disobedience makes his appearance—he who is doomed to destruction, 4 the adversary of every being that is called a god or an object of worship, and so overbearing toward them as to enter God's sanctuary and take 5 his seat there, proclaiming himself to be God—do you not remember

6 that when I was with you, I used to tell you this? So now you know
7 what it is that is holding him back from making his appearance before 8 the appointed time arrives. For disobedience is already secretly at 9 work, but only until he who is now holding it in check is gotten out 10 of the way. Then the embodiment of disobedience will make his 11 appearance, and the Lord Jesus will destroy him with the breath of 12 his mouth and annihilate him by his appearance and arrival. The 13 other's appearance, by the contrivance of Satan, will be full of power 14 and pretended signs and wonders, and full of wicked deception for 15 men who are going to destruction, because they refused to love the 16 truth and be saved. This is why God sends upon them a misleading 17 influence, to make them believe what is false, so that all who have 18 refused to believe the truth but have preferred disobedience may be 19 condemned.

20 We always have to thank God for you, brothers whom the Lord
21 so loves, because God chose you from the beginning to be saved through 22 consecration by the Spirit and through faith in the truth, and called 23 you to it through our preaching of the good news, so that you may 24 share in the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. So stand firm, brothers, 25 and hold fast to the instructions you have received from us, whether 26 by letter or by word of mouth. May our Lord Jesus Christ himself
27 and God our Father, who has loved us and kindly given us unfaill-28 ing encouragement and a well-founded hope, encourage you and 29 strengthen you to do and say everything that is right.

30 Now, brothers, pray for us, that the Lord's message may spread
31 rapidly and gloriously as it did among you, and that we may be saved
32 from unjust and wicked men; for not everybody has faith.

33 But the Lord is to be relied on, and he will give you strength and 34 protect you from the evil one. We have faith in you through the 35 Lord that you are doing and will keep doing what we direct you to do.
36 May the Lord guide your hearts into a sense of God's love and into 37 a steadfastness like Christ's.

38 We charge you, brothers, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ,
39 to keep away from any brother who lives in idleness, instead of fol-
40 lowing the teaching you received from us. For you know yourselves
41 what you must do to follow my example, for I was not idle when I
42 was with you; I did not eat anybody's bread without paying for it,
43 but with toil and labor I worked night and day, in order not to be a 44 burden to any of you. Not that I had not a right to my support, but 45 to give you in my own conduct an example to imitate. When I was with you, I gave you this rule: "If anyone refuses to work, give 11 him nothing to eat!" For we hear that some of you are living in 12 idleness, mere busybodies, not doing any work. Now with the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ we charge and exhort such people to keep 13 quiet and do their work and earn their own living. But you, brothers, 14 must not get tired of doing right. If anyone refuses to obey what we have said in this letter, mark the man and do not have anything to 15 do with him, to make him feel ashamed. Do not look upon him as 16 an enemy but warn him as a brother. And may the Lord of peace himself always give you peace in every way. The Lord be with you all.

17 This greeting is in my own hand, Paul's; it is the mark in every 18 letter of mine. This is the way I write. The blessing of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

THE FIRST LETTER TO TIMOTHY

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by order of God our Savior and of 2 Jesus Christ our hope, to Timothy, my true child in faith; God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord bless you and be merciful to you,
and give you peace.

3 As I asked you to do when I was on my way to Macedonia, stay on in Ephesus in order to warn certain people there not to teach strange 4 views nor to devote themselves to fictions and interminable pedigrees; such things lead to controversy instead of the divine system which 5 operates through faith. The aim of your instruction must be love that springs from a pure heart and from a good conscience and from 6 a sincere faith. Some people have failed in these things and been 7 diverted into fruitless talk. They would like to be teachers of law although they do not understand the words they use or the matters they insist upon.

8 I agree that the Law is excellent—provided it is legitimately used, 9 with the understanding that law is not intended for upright men but for the lawless and disorderly, the godless and irreligious, the irreverent and profane, men who kill their fathers or mothers, murderers, 10 immoral people, men sexually perverted, kidnapers, liars, perjurers, 11 or whatever else is contrary to sound teaching, as set forth in the glorious good news of the blessed God with which I have been intrusted.

12 I thank Christ Jesus our Lord who has given me the strength for 13 it, for thinking me trustworthy and putting me into his service, though
I once used to abuse, persecute, and insult him. But he had mercy 14 on me, because I had acted in ignorance and unbelief, and the blessing of our Lord has been given me in the greatest abundance, together 15 with faith and love that union with Christ Jesus brings. It is a trustworthy saying, entitled to the fullest acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners. And I am the foremost of them, 16 but God had mercy on me in order that in my case as the foremost, Christ Jesus might display his perfect patience, as an example to those 17 who would later believe in him and find eternal life. To the eternal King, immortal and invisible, the one God, be honor and glory forever and ever! Amen.

18 These are the instructions that I intrust to you, my son Timothy, and they are in accordance with the predictions made long ago about 19 you. Fight the good fight with their aid, keeping hold of faith and a good conscience. For some people have let that go and have had 20 their faith ruined, like Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I turned over to Satan, to be taught not to blaspheme.

2 First of all, then, I urge that entreaties, prayers, petitions, and
2 thanksgivings be offered for all men, for emperors and all who are in authority, so that we may live tranquil, quiet lives, with perfect
3 piety and probity. It is right to do this, and it pleases God our Savior,
4 who wants all men to be saved and to come to know the truth.

5 For there is but one God, and one intermediary between God and 6 men—the man Christ Jesus, who gave himself as a ransom for all
7 men. This is what was testified to at the proper times, and I was appointed a herald and apostle of it—I am telling the truth, I am not lying—to teach the heathen faith and truth.

8 I want the men everywhere to offer prayer, lifting to heaven hands
9 that are holy, without any angry disputes. Women for their part are to dress modestly and sensibly in proper clothes, not adorning themselves by braiding their hair or with gold or pearls or expensive 10 clothing, but, as is appropriate for women who profess to be religious, with good actions.

11 Women must listen quietly in church and be perfectly submissive.
12 I do not allow women to teach or to domineer over men; they must 13 keep quiet. For Adam was formed first, and then Eve; and it was 14 not Adam who was deceived, it was the woman who was deluded
15 and fell into sin. But they will be saved through motherhood, if they continue to have faith and to be loving and holy, and sensible as well.

3 This is a trustworthy saying.

Whoever aspires to the office of superintendent sets his heart on 2 a fine work. A superintendent must be a man above reproach, only once married, temperate, sensible, a man of good behavior, hospitable,
3 able to teach; not addicted to drink or pugnacious, but a man of 4 moderation and peace, not avaricious, managing his own house well, and keeping his children under control and perfectly respectful—
5 for if a man does not know how to conduct his own household, how 6 can he look after a church of God? He must not be a new convert, or he may grow conceited and incur criticism from slanderous people.
7 He must also be a man of good standing with outsiders, or he may 8 get into disgrace and be entrapped by the slanderers. Assistants, in turn, must be serious, straightforward men, not addicted to wine or 9 dishonest gain, but holding the divine truth of the faith with a clear

10 conscience. They should first be tested, and afterward, if there is no 11 fault to be found with them, they can serve as assistants. Their wives too must be serious, not gossips; they must be temperate, and perfectly 12 trustworthy. The assistants must be only once married, and manage 13 their children and their households well. For those who do good service as assistants gain a good standing for themselves and great confidence in their faith in Christ Jesus.

14 I hope to come to you soon, but I am writing you all this so that if 15 I am delayed, you may know how we are to conduct ourselves in the household of God, for it is the church of the living God, the pillar 16 and foundation of the truth. No one can deny the profundity of the divine truth of our religion!

“He was revealed in flesh,
He was vindicated by the Spirit,
He was seen by the angels,
He was proclaimed among the heathen,
He was believed in throughout the world,
He was taken up into glory.”

4 The Spirit distinctly says that in later times some will turn away from the faith, and devote their attention to deceitful spirits and the 2 things that demons teach through the pretensions of liars—men with 3 seared consciences who forbid people to marry and insist on abstinence from certain kinds of food that God created for men who believe and 4 understand the truth to enjoy and give thanks for. For everything God has created is good, and nothing need be refused, provided it is 5 accepted with thanksgiving, for then it is consecrated by prayer and the Scripture used in it.

6 If you point this out to the brothers, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, living on the principles of the faith and the excellent
7 teaching you have had. But let worldly fictions and old wives' tales 8 alone. Train yourself for the religious life. Physical training is of some service, but religion is of service in every way, for it carries with 9 it the promise of life here and hereafter. This is a trustworthy saying, 10 entitled to the fullest acceptance. It is for this that we toil and struggle, for we have fixed our hopes on the living God, the Savior of all men, especially those who believe.

11 This is what you must urge and teach. Let no one look down on 12 you because you are young, but set those who believe an example in 13 speech, conduct, love, faith, and purity. Until I come, devote your-14 self to the public reading of Scripture, preaching, and teaching. Do not neglect the gift you have, that was given you with predictions of 15 your work, when the elders laid their hands upon you. Cultivate these things, devote yourself to them, so that everyone will see your progress.

16 Look out for yourself and for your teaching. Persevere in your work, for if you do you will save both yourself and those who listen to you.

5 Never reprove an older man, but appeal to him as to a father. Treat
2 younger men like brothers, older women like mothers, younger ones
3 like sisters, with absolute purity. Look after widows who are really 4 dependent. If a widow has children or grandchildren, let them learn first to show piety in the treatment of their own families, and to return the care of those who brought them up, for that is what God 5 approves. But a woman who is really a widow, and has no children, has fixed her hope on God, and devotes herself to prayers and entreaties
6 night and day. A widow who gives herself up to pleasure is dead
7 while she is still alive. Insist upon these points, so that people may 8 be irreproachable. Whoever fails to provide for his own relatives, and particularly for members of his own family, has disowned the 9 faith and is worse than an unbeliever. No one under sixty years of age should be put on the list of widows. A widow must have been 10 married but once, and have a good reputation for Christian service, such as bringing up children, being hospitable to strangers, washing the feet of God's people, helping people in distress, or devoting herself 11 to any form of doing good. Do not put young women on the list of widows, for when their youthful vigor comes between them and 12 Christ, they want to marry, and become guilty of breaking their 13 previous pledge. Besides, as they go about from house to house they learn to be idle, and not only idle but gossips and busybodies, and 14 talk of things they ought not to mention. So I would have young women marry and have children and keep house and avoid giving 15 our opponents any excuse for abusing us. For some widows have 16 already turned aside to follow Satan. Any Christian woman who has widowed relatives should look after them, and relieve the church, so that it can look after widows who are really dependent.

17 Elders who do their duties well should be considered as deserving twice as much as they get, particularly those who work at preaching 18 and teaching. For the Scripture says, "You must not muzzle an ox when it is treading out the grain," and the workman deserves his 19 wages. Do not listen to an accusation made against an elder, unless

20 it is supported by two or three witnesses. Those who are found guilty 21 you must reprove publicly, as a warning to others. I charge you before God and Christ Jesus and the chosen angels to observe these 22 rules without any discrimination, and to be perfectly impartial. Never ordain anyone hastily; do not make yourself responsible for the sins 23 of others; keep your life pure. Stop drinking nothing but water; take a little wine for the good of your digestion and for your frequent 24 attacks of illness. Some men's sins are perfectly evident, and lead them right on to judgment, but there are others whose sins only dog their 25 steps. Good deeds too are evident enough, or when they are not, they cannot be wholly concealed.

6 All who are under the yoke of slavery must treat their masters with the greatest respect, so that the name of God and our teaching 2 may not be abused. Those who have Christian masters must not think lightly of them because they are brothers; they must serve them all the more faithfully, because those who benefit by it are believers and hence dear to them.

3 These are the things you must teach and preach. Anyone who teaches different views and does not agree with the wholesome instruction which comes from our Lord Jesus Christ and with religious 4 teaching is a conceited, ignorant person, with a morbid craving for speculations and arguments which result only in envy, quarreling, 5 abuse, base suspicions, and mutual irritation between people of depraved minds, who are lost to the truth and think of religion only 6 as a means of gain. And religion with contentment is a great means
7 of gain. For we bring nothing into the world, and we can take nothing
8 out of it. If we have food and clothing we will be satisfied. But men
9 who want to get rich fall into temptations and snares and many foolish, 10 harmful cravings, that plunge people into destruction and ruin. For love of money is the root of all the evils, and in their eagerness to get rich, some men wander away from the faith and pierce themselves to the heart with many a pang.

11 But you, man of God, must fly from these things. Strive for upright-12 ness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness. Enter the great contest of faith! Take hold of eternal life, to which God called you, when before many witnesses you made the great profession of faith.
13 Before God who maintains all life, and before Christ Jesus who in testifying before Pontius Pilate made his great profession, I charge 14 you to keep his command stainless and irreproachable until the appear-15 ance of our Lord Jesus Christ, which will be brought about in his own time by the blessed, only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord 16 of lords, who alone possesses immortality and dwells in unapproachable light, whom no man has ever seen or can see. To him be honor and eternal dominion. Amen.

17 Charge the rich of this world not to be arrogant, nor to set their hopes on such an uncertain thing as riches, but on God who richly 18 provides us with everything for our enjoyment. Charge them to do 19 good, to be rich in good deeds, open-handed and generous, storing up a valuable treasure for themselves for the future, so as to grasp the life that is life indeed.

20 Timothy, guard what has been intrusted to you. Keep away from the worldly, empty phrases and contradictions of what they falsely 21 call knowledge, through professing which some people have made a failure of the faith. God bless you all.

THE SECOND LETTER TO TIMOTHY

- 1 Paul, by God's will an apostle of Christ Jesus in fulfilment of the 2 promise of that life which is found in union with Christ Jesus, to my dear child Timothy; God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord bless you and be merciful to you and give you peace.
- 3 I thank God, whom I, like my forefathers, worship with a clear conscience, when I remember you, as I constantly do, in my prayers.
4 When I remember the tears you shed I long night and day to see 5 you again, and have the perfect happiness of being reminded of your genuine faith, a faith that was seen first in your grandmother Lois and 6 in your mother Eunice; I am sure it is in you also. For this reason
I would remind you to rekindle the divine gift that you received when 7 I laid my hands upon you. For the Spirit God has given us is a spirit 8 not of timidity but of power, love, and self-discipline. So you must not be ashamed to testify to our Lord, nor be ashamed of me who am in prison for his sake, but join with me in suffering for the good 9 news, through the power of God. He saved us and called us to a consecrated life, not for anything we had done, but of his own accord and out of the mercy which he bestowed upon us ages ago through 10 Christ Jesus, which has now been revealed through the appearance of our Savior Christ Jesus. He has taken away the power of death and 11 brought life and immortality to light through the good news, of which 12 I have been appointed a herald, apostle and teacher. This is why I am suffering as I am, but I am not ashamed of it, for I know whom I have trusted and I am sure that he is able to guard what I have in-13 trusted to him for that Day. As your example in wholesome instruction, keep before you what you learned from me, in the faith and love 14 that come through union with Christ Jesus. Guard that splendid trust through the holy Spirit that lives in our hearts.
- 15 You know that everyone in the province of Asia has deserted me, 16 including Phygelus and Hermogenes. May the Lord show mercy to the household of Onesiphorus, for he often cheered me and was 17 not ashamed of my being in prison. Why, when he arrived in Rome, 18 he took pains to inquire for me and found me. The Lord grant that he may be shown mercy by the Lord on that Day! And you know well enough how he helped me at Ephesus.

2 So you, my son, must find strength in the blessing that comes through
3 Christ Jesus. The things you learned from me before many witnesses
4 you must commit to trustworthy men who will be capable of teaching 5 others. Share my hardships like a good soldier of Christ Jesus. Any-6 one who is in the army keeps from being involved in business affairs,
7 so as to please the officer who enlisted him. No one who competes
8 in the games is awarded a crown unless he obeys the rules. The farmer
9 who does the work ought to be the first to have some of the produce.
10 Think over what I say. For the Lord will help you to understand 11 it perfectly. Remember Jesus Christ as risen from the dead, and 12 descended from David, as I preach the good news, for the sake of 13 which I even suffer imprisonment as a criminal. But God's message
14 is not imprisoned! For that reason I am ready to submit to anything
15 for the sake of those whom God has chosen, so that they too may gain
16 the salvation that comes through Christ Jesus and brings eternal glory.
17 How true those words are! "If we have died with him, we will live
18 with him! If we endure, we will reign with him! If we disown him, 19 he will also disown us! If we are unfaithful, he will remain faithful,
20 for he cannot be false to himself!"

21 Remind men of these things. Charge them before God to avoid 22 idle arguments which do no one any good and only bring destruction 23 on those who listen to them. Do your best to win God's approval as 24 a workman who has nothing to be ashamed of, but rightly shapes
25 the message of truth. Leave worldly, empty phrases alone, for they 26 lead people deeper and deeper into godlessness, and their teaching 27 spreads like a cancer; men like Hymenaeus and Philetus, who have 28 missed the truth and say that the resurrection has taken place already,
29 thus undermining people's faith. Yet God's solid foundation stands
30 unshaken, bearing this inscription, "The Lord knows those who belong
31 to him," and "Everyone who uses the name of the Lord must give 32 up evil." In any large house there are not only gold and silver dishes 33 but also wooden and earthen ones, some for great occasions and some 34 for ordinary use. So if a man will cleanse himself from these things, 35 he will be put to great uses, consecrated and used by the master of the 36 house himself, and ready for any good use. Fly from the cravings 37 of youth, and go in pursuit of uprightness, faith, love, and peace, in 38 company with those who call upon the Lord with pure hearts. Avoid 39 foolish, crude speculations; you know they only lead to quarrels, and 40 a slave of the Lord must not quarrel, but treat everyone kindly; he 41 must be persuasive and unresentful, correcting his opponents with gentleness; for God may possibly let them repent and acknowledge the 26 truth, and they may yet return to their senses and escape from the toils of the devil, who has caught them to make them do his will.

3 Understand this, that in the last days there are going to be hard
2 times. People will be selfish, avaricious, boastful, arrogant, abusive,
3 undutiful, ungrateful, irreverent, unfeeling, irreconcilable, slanderous,
4 with no self-control, brutal, with no love for what is good, treacherous,
5 reckless, conceited, caring more for pleasure than for God, keeping up the forms of religion, but resisting its influence. Avoid such people.
6 They are the kind of men who make their way into people's houses and make captives of poor, weak women, loaded down with their sins
7 and under the control of all sorts of impulses, always ready to learn 8 but never able to comprehend the truth. Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, these people in turn oppose the truth; they are men 9 of depraved minds and counterfeit faith. But they will not make much progress, for everyone will perceive their folly, just as they 10 did that of those others. But you have closely followed my teaching, my conduct, my aim, my faith, my patience, my love, my steadfastness, 11 my persecutions, my sufferings—the things that happened to me at Antioch, Iconium, and Lystra, the persecutions I endured; yet the 12 Lord brought me safely out of them all. But everyone who wants to live a godly life as a follower of Christ Jesus will be persecuted, 13 and bad men and impostors will go on from bad to worse, deceiving 14 others and deceived themselves. But you must stand by what you have learned and been convinced of, and remember from whom you 15 learned it, and how from childhood you have known the Scriptures which can give you the wisdom that through faith in Christ Jesus 16 leads to salvation. All Scripture is divinely inspired, and useful in teaching, in reproof, in correcting faults, and in training in upright-17 ness, so that the man of God will be adequate, and equipped for any good work.

4 I charge you in the sight of God and Christ Jesus who is to judge
2 the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom, preach the message; be at it in season and out of season; convince, reprove, 3 exhort people, with perfect patience and willingness to teach. For a time will come when they will not listen to wholesome instruction, but will overwhelm themselves with teachers to suit their whims and 4 tickle their fancies, and they will turn from listening to the truth and 5 wander off after fictions. But you must always be composed; do not shrink from hardship; do your work as a missionary, and your whole duty as a minister.

⁶ My life is already being poured out, and the time has come for my ⁷ departure. I have had a part in the great contest, I have run my ⁸ race, I have preserved the faith. Now the crown of uprightness awaits me, which the Lord, the upright judge, will award me on that Day, and not only me but also all who have loved and hoped for his appearing.

⁹ Do your best to come to me soon, for Demas has deserted me for love of the present world, and has gone to Thessalonica. Crescens ¹¹ has gone to Galatia, and Titus to Dalmatia. No one but Luke is with me. Get Mark and bring him with you, for he is of great assistance ¹² to me, and I have sent Tychicus to Ephesus. When you come, bring ¹³ the cloak that I left with Carpus at Troas, and the books, especially ¹⁴ the parchments. Alexander, the metal-worker, did me a great deal ¹⁵ of harm. The Lord will repay him for what he did. You too must be on your guard against him, for he vehemently opposed my teaching.
¹⁶ At my first appearance in court no one came to help me; everybody ¹⁷ deserted me. May no one lay it up against them! But the Lord stood by me, and gave me strength, so that I might make a full presentation of the message and let all the heathen hear it. So I was saved from ¹⁸ the jaws of the lion. The Lord will rescue me from any harm and bring me safely to his heavenly kingdom. To him be glory forever and ever. Amen.

¹⁹ Remember me to Prisca and Aquila, and to the members of the ²⁰ household of Onesiphorus. Erastus stayed in Corinth. I left Trophi-²¹ mus sick at Miletus. Do your best to come before winter.

Eubulus wishes to be remembered to you, and so do Pudens, Linus,
Claudia, and all the brothers.

²² The Lord be with your spirit. God bless you all.

THE LETTER TO TITUS

1 Paul, a slave of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to arouse faith in those whom God has chosen, and the comprehension of religious 2 truth, in the hope of eternal life, which God who never lies promised 3 ages ago and revealed at the proper time in his message, through the preaching with which I have been intrusted at the command of God
4 our Savior, to Titus, my true child in our common faith; God our Father and Christ Jesus our Savior bless you and give you peace.

5 I left you behind in Crete expressly to correct what defects there
6 were, and to appoint elders in each town, as I directed you—men of irreproachable character, who have been married only once, whose children are Christians, free from any suspicion of profligacy or dis-7 obedience. For as God's overseer a superintendent must be irreproachable, not arrogant or quick-tempered or given to drink or pugnacious 8 or addicted to dishonest gain, but hospitable, a lover of goodness, 9 sensible, upright, of holy life, self-controlled, standing by the message that can be relied on, just as he was taught it, so that he may be qualified both to encourage others with wholesome teaching and to show the error of those who oppose him.

10 For there are many undisciplined people, who deceive themselves with their empty talk, especially those of the party of circumcision.
11 They must be silenced, for such men upset whole households by teaching things they ought not to teach, for the sake of dishonest gain.
12 It was a Cretan, a prophet of their own, who said,

“Cretans are always liars, savage brutes, lazy gluttons,”

13 and that statement is true. Therefore correct them rigorously, to 14 make them have a healthy faith and not study Jewish fictions or com-15 mands given by men who reject the truth. To the pure everything is pure, but to the evil-minded and unbelieving nothing is pure, but 16 their very minds and consciences are unclean. They profess to know God, but they disown him by what they do; they are detestable, disobedient men, worthless for any good purpose.

2 But you must teach people the things that properly belong to whole-
2 some teaching. Teach the older men to be temperate, serious, and 3 sensible—men of vigorous faith, love, and steadfastness. Teach the older women, too, to be reverent in their behavior, and not to gossip

4 or be slaves of drink, but to be teachers of what is right, so as to train
5 the younger women to be loving wives and mothers, and to be sensible, pure-minded, domestic, kind, and submissive to their husbands, so as 6 not to bring reproach on God's message. Urge the younger men, too,
7 to be sensible. In every way set them an example of good conduct 8 yourself. Teach with sincerity and seriousness, and present a wholesome, unobjectionable message, so that your opponent may be put to 9 shame at finding nothing bad to say about us. Tell slaves always to 10 obey their masters and try to please them, not to oppose them or steal from them, but to show such perfect good faith as to do credit to the teaching about God our Savior, by everything they do.

11 For God's mercy has appeared and brought salvation to all men,
12 training us to renounce godless ways and worldly passions, and live 13 serious, upright, and godly lives in this world, while we wait for the fulfilment of our blessed hope in the glorious appearing of our great 14 God and Savior Christ Jesus. He gave himself for us, to free us from all wickedness and purify for himself a people of his own, eager to do right.

15 This is what you must teach and urge and insist upon with full 3 authority. No one is to look down on you. Remind men to accept and obey the constituted authorities, to be ready for any useful service,
2 to abuse nobody, to be peaceable and reasonable, showing perfect 3 gentleness to everyone. For we ourselves were once without understanding, disobedient, deluded, enslaved to all kinds of passions and pleasures. Our minds were full of malice and envy. Men hated us
+ and we hated one another. But when the goodness and kindness of 5 God our Savior were revealed, he saved us, not for any upright actions we had performed, but from his own mercy, through the bath of 6 regeneration and renewal by the holy Spirit, which he has poured out 7 upon us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Savior, so that we might be made upright through his mercy and become possessors of 8 eternal life in fulfilment of our hope. This is a trustworthy teaching, and I want you to insist on these things, so that those who believe in God may make it their business to do good. All this is right and 9 beneficial to mankind. But have nothing to do with foolish controversies, pedigrees, strife, and wrangles about the Law, for they are profit-10 less and futile. If a man is inclined to a sect, after warning him once 11 or twice, have nothing more to do with him. You may be sure that a man of that kind is corrupt and sinful, for his own actions condemn him.

- ¹² When I send Artemas or Tychicus to you, do your best to come to ¹³ me at Nicopolis, for I have decided to settle there for the winter. Do all you can to help Zenas the expert in the Law and Apollos on with ¹⁴ their journey, and see that they have everything they need. Have our people learn to make it their business to do good, so as to meet these pressing demands and not live unfruitful lives.
- ¹⁵ All who are with me wish to be remembered to you. Remember me to all believers who love me. God bless you all.

THE LETTER TO THE PHILEMON

1 Paul, a prisoner for Jesus Christ, and brother Timothy, to our
2 dear fellow-worker Philemon, and our sister Apphia, and our fellow-
3 soldier Archippus, and the church that meets in your house; God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ bless you and give you peace.

4 I never mention you in my prayers without thanking my God
5 for what I hear of the love and faith you have in the Lord Jesus and 6 all his people, and I pray that through coming to know every good thing about us as Christians they may effectually share your faith.
7 I have been greatly pleased and encouraged over your love, for the hearts of God's people have been cheered, my brother, by you.

8 So although as a Christian I feel quite free to order you to do what 9 ought to be done, I prefer to appeal to you in the name of love, simply as what I am—Paul, no less an envoy of Christ Jesus, though now a 10 prisoner for him, I appeal to you for my child Onesimus, whose father
11 I have become here in prison. Once you found him useless, but now
12 he has become useful to you and to me, and now that I send him 13 back to you, it is like sending my very heart. I would have liked to keep him with me, to wait on me in your place while I am in prison 14 for the good news, but I do not wish to do anything without your consent, so that your kindness might be voluntary, and not have the 15 appearance of compulsion. For perhaps this is why you and he were 16 parted for a while, that you might have him back forever, not as a slave any longer but more than a slave, a dear brother—dear especially to me, but how much dearer to you, both as a man and as a 17 Christian! So if you regard me as a comrade, welcome him as you 18 would me. And if he has caused you any loss or owes you anything, 19 charge it to my account. I, Paul, write this with my own hand: I will repay it—not to mention the fact that you owe me your very self 20 besides. Come, brother, let me make something out of you, in a Christian sense! Cheer my heart as a Christian.

21 I write you in full reliance upon your obedience; I know that you 22 will do even more than I ask. And yet ready to entertain me too, for I hope that I shall be restored to you, in answer to your prayers.

23 Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner for Christ Jesus, wishes to be remem-24 bered to you, and so do my fellow-workers, Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke.

25 The blessing of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirits.

THE LETTER TO THE HEBREWS

1 It was little by little and in different ways that God spoke in old
2 times to our forefathers through the prophets, but in these latter days he has spoken to us in a Son, whom he had destined to possess every-3 thing, and through whom he had made the world. He is the reflection of God's glory, and the representation of his being, and bears up the universe by his mighty word. He has effected man's purification from sin, and has taken his seat on high at the right hand of God's Majesty, 4 showing himself to be as much greater than the angels as his title is 5 superior to theirs. For to what angel did God ever say,

"You are my Son! I have today become your Father"?

Or again,

6 "I will become his Father, and he shall become my Son"? But of the time when he is to bring his firstborn Son back to the world he says,
"And let all God's angels bow before him."

7 In speaking of the angels he says,

"He who changes his angels into winds,
And his attendants into blazing fire!"

8 But of the Son he says,

"God is your throne forever and ever!
And a righteous scepter is the scepter of his kingdom!

9 You have loved right and hated wrong!

That is why God, your God, has anointed you with exhilarating oil beyond all your comrades."

10 And

"You, Lord, in the beginning founded the earth,
And the sky is the work of your hands!

11 They will perish, but you continue!

And they will all wear out like a coat,

12 And you will fold them up like a mantle,

And change them as one changes his coat.

But you are always the same, and your years will have no end!"

13 But to what angel did he ever say,

"Sit at my right hand,

Until I make your enemies a footstool for you"?

14 Are not the angels all spirits in service, whom he sends on his errands for the good of those who are destined to possess salvation?

2 This is why we must give the very closest attention to the message
 2 we have heard, to keep from ever losing our hold upon it. For if the message delivered by angels proved to be authentic, and every violation
 3 or neglect of it led to a corresponding penalty, how can we escape if we pay no attention to such a salvation as this? It was first proclaimed by the Lord himself, and it was guaranteed to us by those who heard
 4 him, while God himself corroborated their testimony with signs, portents, and various wonders, and by impartations of the holy Spirit when he saw fit.

5 For it was not for angels that he destined the control of that world
 6 to be, that we are speaking of. For someone has somewhere solemnly declared,

“What is man? for you think of him;

Or any man? for you care for him.

7 You made him for a little while inferior to angels;

Yet you have crowned him with glory and honor,

And you have put him in charge of the works of your hands!

8 You have put everything under his feet!”

In thus making everything subject to man, God left nothing that was not subjected to him. But we do not as yet see everything made
 9 subject to him, but we do see Jesus, who was “made for a little while inferior to angels, crowned with glory and honor” because he suffered death, so that by the favor of God he might taste the bitterness of death
 10 on behalf of every human being. For it was appropriate that he who is the great First Cause of the universe should, in guiding his many children to his glorious salvation, make their leader in it fully qualified 11 through what he suffered. For both he who purifies them and they who are purified spring from one source. That is why he is not 12 ashamed to call them brothers, and say,

“I will tell your name to my brothers,

In the midst of the congregation I will sing your praise”;

13 and again

“I will put my trust in God”;

and again,

“Here I am with the children that God has given me.”

14 Therefore since these children referred to have the same mortal nature, Jesus also shared it, like them, in order that by his death he 15 might dethrone the lord of death, the devil, and free from their

- 16 slavery men who had always lived in fear of death. For of course it was not angels but the descendants of Abraham that he came to help.
- 17 And so he had to be made like his brothers in every respect, so that he might prove a compassionate high priest as well as one faithful in
- 18 his service to God, in order to forgive the people's sins. For because he has himself been tempted in what he has suffered he is able to help others who are in trial.
- 3 Therefore, my fellow-Christians, who have likewise heard the heavenly invitation, observe how faithful Jesus, the commissioner and
- 2 high priest of our religion, has been to the God who appointed him, just as Moses was, in all the house of God. For Jesus is entitled to
- 3 as much more honor than Moses as the builder of a house is than the
- 4 house he builds. For every house has a builder, and the builder of the
- 5 universe is God. Now the faithfulness of Moses in all the house of God was that of a servant, in faithfully repeating what he was told
- 6 to say; but Christ's faithfulness was that of a son set over the house of God. And we are that house, if we keep up our courage and our triumphant hope to the very end.
- 7 Therefore, as the holy Spirit says,
- 8 "If you hear his voice today,
Do not harden your hearts as your forefathers provoked me by doing,
As in that time of trial in the desert,
9 Where your forefathers put my doings to the proof for forty years,
Though they saw them all the time.
10 That was why I was angry with that generation,
And I said, 'Their minds are always wandering,
And they have never found my paths.'
11 But as I made oath in my anger,
They shall never be admitted to my Rest!"
- 12 See to it, my brothers, that no one of you has a wicked, unbelieving
- 13 heart, that turns away from the ever-living God, but encourage one another every day, as long as we can still speak of Today, so that no one of you may have his heart hardened by the pleasantness of sin.
- 14 For we are true partners with Christ if we really keep the conviction
- 15 that we had at first unshaken to the very end. So while we can still speak of Today, if you hear him speak, do not harden your hearts,
- 16 as they provoked him by doing. For who was it that heard him speak and yet provoked him? Was it not all those who had escaped from 17 Egypt under Moses' leadership? And who was it with whom God was angry forty whole years? Was it not with those who had sinned, 18 who dropped dead in the desert? And who was it to whom God made oath that they should not be admitted to his Rest, if it was not to those 19 who had disobeyed him? So we see that it was their unbelief that 4 kept them from being admitted to it. We ought therefore to fear that when the promise of admission to his Rest is still open, some one 2 of you may be found to have failed to reach it. For we have had good news preached to us, just as they did, but the message they heard did them no good because they did not agree through faith with what they 3 heard. For we who have believed are admitted to that Rest, of which he said,

“As I made oath in my anger,

They shall never be admitted to my Rest!”

4 And yet God's work was finished at the creation of the world, for he says somewhere of the seventh day,

“On the seventh day God rested after all his work,”

5 while here he says again,

“They shall never be admitted to my Rest!”

6 Since then it is still true that somebody will be admitted to it, and those who had a gospel preached to them before were not admitted 7 because of their disobedience, he again fixes a new Today, saying long afterward through David, as already quoted,

“If you hear his voice today,

Do not harden your hearts!”

8 For if Joshua had really brought them rest God would not afterward 9 have spoken of another day. So there must still be a promised Sabbath 10 of Rest for God's people. For all who are admitted to God's Rest 11 after their work, just as God did after his. Let us, therefore, make every effort to be admitted to that Rest, so that none of us may fail 12 through such disobedience as theirs. For the message of God is a living and active force, sharper than any double-edged sword, piercing through soul and spirit, and joints and marrow, and keen in judging 13 the thoughts and purposes of the mind. No being created can escape God's sight, but everything is bare and helpless before the eyes of him with whom we have to reckon.

14 Since then we have in Jesus, the Son of God, a great high priest who has gone up into heaven, let us keep firm hold of our religion. 15 For our high priest is not one who is incapable of sympathy with our weaknesses, but he has been tempted in every way just as we have,

16 without committing any sin. So let us come with courage to God's throne of grace to receive his forgiveness and find him responsive when we need his help.

5 For every high priest who is chosen from among men is appointed to represent his fellow-men in their relations with God, and to offer
2 gifts and sin-offerings. He can sympathize with the ignorant and
3 misguided because he is himself subject to weakness, and on this account he is obliged to offer sacrifices for sin, not only for the people
4 but for himself as well. And no one takes the office upon himself, but 5 men assume it only when called to it by God, as Aaron was. So even Christ did not claim for himself the dignity of the high priesthood, but he was appointed to it by him who said to him,

"You are my Son! I have today become your Father!"

6 For he says in another passage,

"You are a priest forever of the priesthood of Melchizedek."

7 For Jesus in his life on earth offered prayers and entreaties, crying aloud with tears, to him who was able to save him from death, and
8 because of his piety his prayer was heard. And although he was a
9 son, he learned to obey, through what he suffered, and when he was fully qualified, he became a source of unending salvation for all who 10 obey him, since God pronounced him a high priest of the priesthood of Melchizedek.

11 I have much to say to you about this, but it is difficult to make it
12 clear to you, because you have become so slow of apprehension. For although from the length of your Christian experience you ought to be teaching others, you actually need someone to teach you over again the very elements of Christian truth, and you have come to need milk
13 instead of solid food. For anyone who is limited to milk is unacquainted with Christian teaching, for he is only an infant. But full-grown men have a right to solid food, for their faculties are trained
6 by practice to distinguish right and wrong. Let us therefore leave elementary Christian teaching alone and advance toward maturity.

We must not be always relaying foundations, of repentance for wrongdoing, and of faith in God, with the teaching of baptism and the laying 3 of hands, the resurrection of the dead and final judgment. And we
4 will advance if God permits it. For it is impossible to arouse people to a fresh repentance when they have once for all come into the light and had a taste of the gift from heaven, and shared in the holy Spirit
5 and felt the goodness of the word of God and the strong influences of 6 the coming age, and yet have fallen back, for they crucify the Son of

7 God on their own account, and hold him up to contempt. Ground that drinks in frequent showers and produces vegetation that is of use to those for whom it is cultivated receives God's blessing. But if it yields thorns and thistles, it is thought worthless and almost cursed, and it will finally be burned.

9 But about you, dear friends, even though we say this, we are sure of better things that promise salvation. For God is not so unjust as to forget the work you have done and the love you have showed for his cause, in giving help to your fellow-Christians as you still do. But we want each of you to exhibit this same earnestness to the very end with regard to your confidence in your hope, so that you may never grow careless, but may learn to follow the example of those who through their faith and endurance are the possessors of God's promises.

13 For when God made his promise to Abraham, since there was no one greater for him to make oath by, he did so by himself, and said,

“I will certainly bless you richly, and greatly increase your numbers.” And so after waiting patiently, he received what God had promised him. For men make oath by something greater than themselves, and they accept an oath as settling finally any disagreement they may have. Therefore, God in his desire to make it perfectly clear to those to whom he made his promise, that his purpose was unalterable, bound himself with an oath, so that by these two unalterable things, which make it impossible for God to break his promise, we who have taken refuge with him may be greatly encouraged to seize upon the hope that is offered to us. This hope is like an anchor for our souls. It reaches up secure and strong into the sanctuary behind the heavenly curtain, where Jesus has gone ahead of us, and become forever a high priest of the priesthood of Melchizedek.

7 For this man Melchizedek, king of Salem and priest of the Most High God, who met Abraham as he was on his way back from defeating the kings, and gave him his blessing, to whom Abraham apportioned one tenth of all the spoil, who is first, as his name shows, king of righteousness and then king of Salem, which means king of peace—with no father or mother or ancestry, and with no beginning to his days nor end to his life, but like no one but the Son of God, continues as priest forever.

4 Now see how great this man must have been to have the patriarch Abraham give him a tenth of the spoil. Those of the descendants of Levi who are appointed to the priesthood are directed by the Law to collect tithes from the people, that is, from their own brothers, although

6 they are descended from Abraham like themselves. But this man, whose ancestry is not connected with theirs, collected tithes from Abraham himself, and gave his blessing to the man who had received 7 the promises from God. But, beyond any doubt, it is the inferior 8 that is blessed by the superior. In the one case, mortal men collect 9 tithes; but in the other, one who, it is intimated, lives on. In one way of putting it, Levi himself, the collector of the tithes, through 10 Abraham paid him tithes, for none of Abraham's posterity was yet begotten at the time of his meeting with Melchizedek.

11 Now if anything final had been really accomplished through the Levitical priesthood, for even the giving of the Law was based upon it, what further need would there have been of appointing a different priest of the priesthood of Melchizedek, instead of choosing one of the 12 priesthood of Aaron? For when there is a change in the priesthood, a 13 change necessarily takes place in the Law as well. For he of whom all this was said was related to a tribe no member of which ever 14 officiated at the altar. For it is perfectly clear that our Lord sprang from the tribe of Judah, with reference to which Moses said nothing 15 at all about priests. The point is still more clear in view of the fact that the appointment of the new priest resembles that of Melchizedek, 16 for he is appointed not for possessing any legal physical qualifications, 17 but by virtue of a life that cannot end. For the psalm bears witness,

"You are a priest forever, of the priesthood of Melchizedek!"

18 So an earlier regulation is abrogated because it was poor and ineffective 19 (for there was nothing final about the Law), and a better hope begins 20 to dawn, through which we may approach God. And in proportion as Jesus was not appointed priest without God's making oath to it, 21 the agreement which he guarantees is better than the old one, for 22 God took no oath in appointing the old priests, but he made oath to his appointment, when he said to him,

"The Lord has sworn it and he will not change:

You are a priest forever!"

23 The old priests too had to be numerous, because death prevented their 24 continuing in office. But he continues forever, and so his priesthood is 25 untransferable. Therefore, he is able to save forever all who come to God through him, because he lives and intercedes for them forever.

26 Such a high priest we needed—godly, blameless, unstained, removed 27 from sinful men and raised above the very heavens; who does not need, as the old high priests did, to offer sacrifices every day, first for his own sins and then for those of the people—for this last he has done

²⁸ once for all, in offering up himself. For the Law appoints to the high priesthood men full of imperfection; but this utterance about the making of the oath, which came long after the Law, appoints a son, fully qualified to be high priest forever.

8 Now the main point in what I am saying is this: We have such a high priest as this, and he has taken his seat in heaven at the right ² hand of God's Majesty, to officiate as priest in the sanctuary and in that true tent of worship which not man but the Lord himself set up. ³ But every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices, and so ⁴ this high priest also must have some sacrifice to offer. Further, if he were still on earth, he would not be a priest at all, for there are priests ⁵ enough provided to offer the gifts the Law prescribes—though the service they engage in is only a shadow and imitation of that in heaven. For when Moses was going to make the tent of worship he was warned, "Be sure to make it all just like the pattern you were shown on the ⁶ mountain." But, as it is, the priestly service to which Christ has been appointed is as much better than the old as the agreement established by him and the promises on which it is based are superior to ⁷ the former ones. For if that first agreement had been perfect, there ⁸ would have been no occasion for a second one. But in his dissatisfaction with them he says,

"See! the time is coming,' says the Lord,

'When I will conclude a new agreement with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah,

⁹ Not like the one that I made with their forefathers,
On the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out from the land of Egypt,

For they would not abide by their agreement with me,
So I paid no attention to them,' says the Lord.

¹⁰ 'For this is the agreement that I will make with the house of Israel,

In those later days,' says the Lord;

'I will put my laws into their minds,

And write them on their hearts,

And they will have me for their God,

And I will have them for my people.

¹¹ And they will not have to teach their townsmen and their brothers to know the Lord,

For they will all know me,

From the lowest to the highest.

- 12 For I will be merciful to their misdeeds,
And I will no longer remember their sins.' ”
- 13 Now when he speaks of a new agreement, he is treating the first one as obsolete; but whatever is obsolete and antiquated is almost ready to disappear.
- 9 Even the first agreement provided regulations for worship, and a 2 sanctuary that was fully equipped. For a tent was erected, with the lamp and the table and the presentation bread in the outer part, which 3 was called the sanctuary. And beyond the second curtain, in the part 4 called the inner sanctuary, stood the gold incense-altar and the chest that contained the agreement, entirely covered with gold, with the gold jar in it that held the manna, and Aaron's staff that budded, 5 and the tablets containing the agreement; and above the chest were the winged creatures of the Divine Presence overshadowing the lid on which the blood was sprinkled—of which I cannot now speak 6 in detail. With these arrangements for worship, the priests used constantly to go into the outer part of the tent, in the performance of 7 their rites, but only the high priest could enter the inner part, and he but once a year, and never without taking some victim's blood, to offer on his own behalf and for the sins committed through ignorance 8 by the people. In all this the holy Spirit was seeking to show that there was no free access to the sanctuary while the outer tent was still stand-9 ing. And all this looked toward the present time and was symbolic of the fact that the mere offering of material gifts and sacrifices cannot 10 inwardly qualify the worshiper to approach God, since they have to do only with food and drink and various washings—material regulations in force only until the time for the new order.
- 11 But when Christ came, as the high priest of the better system under which we live, he went once for all, through that greater, more perfect tent of worship not made by human hands nor a part of our material 12 creation, into the sanctuary, taking with him no blood of goats and 13 calves, but his own, and secured our permanent deliverance. For if sprinkling ceremonially defiled persons with the blood of bulls and 14 goats and with the ashes of a heifer purifies them physically, how much more surely will the blood of the Christ, who with the eternal Spirit made himself an unblemished offering to God, purify our consciences from the old wrongdoing for the worship of the ever-living
God?
- 15 And this is why he is the negotiator of a new agreement, in order that as someone has died to deliver them from the offenses committed under the old agreement, those who have been offered it may receive 16 the unending inheritance they have been promised. For where a will is involved, the death of the one who made it must be established, 17 for a will is valid only in the case of a person who is dead; it has no

 18 force as long as the testator is alive. So even the old agreement could 19 not be ratified without the use of blood. For when Moses had told all the regulations of the Law to all the people, he took calves' and goats' blood, along with water, crimson wool, and a bunch of hyssop, 20 and sprinkled the roll of the Law and all the people, saying, "This blood ratifies the agreement which God has commanded me to make 21 with you." The tent too and all the appliances used in the priestly 22 service he sprinkled with blood in the same way. In fact, under the Law, almost everything is purified with blood, and unless blood is poured out nothing is forgiven.

23 By such means, therefore, these things that were only copied from the originals in heaven had to be purified, but the heavenly originals 24 themselves required far better sacrifices than these. For it was not a sanctuary made by human hands and only copied after the true one that Christ entered, but he went into heaven itself, in order to appear 25 now on our behalf in the very presence of God. Nor does he go in to offer himself over and over again, like the high priest who enters the sanctuary year after year, taking with him blood that is not his 26 own, for then he would have had to suffer death over and over, ever since the creation of the world. But, as it is, once for all at the close 27 of the age he has appeared, to put an end to sin by his sacrifice. And 28 just as men are destined to die once and after that to be judged, so the Christ too, after being offered in sacrifice once for all to carry away the sins of many, will appear again but without any burden of sin, to those who are eagerly waiting for him to come and save them.

10 For while the Law foreshadowed the blessings that were to come, it did not fully express them, and so the priests by offering the same sacrifices endlessly year after year cannot wholly free those who come 2 to worship from their sins. Otherwise, would they not have ceased to offer these sacrifices, because those who offered them, having once been 3 purified, would have had no further consciousness of sin? They really only serve to remind the people annually of the sins they have com-4 mitted, for bulls' and goats' blood is powerless to remove sin. That 5 is why the Christ, when he was coming into the world, said,

"You have not wished sacrifice or offering, but you have provided a body for me.

- 6 You never cared for burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin!
7 So I said, 'See, I have come! as the Book of the Law says of me, O God, to do your will!' "
- 8 At first he says, "You never wished or cared for sacrifices or offerings, or burnt-offerings or sacrifices for sin"—all of which the Law pre-9 scribes—and then he adds, "See, I have come to do your will!" He 10 is taking away the old to put the new in its place. And it is through his doing of God's will that we have been once for all purified from 11 sin through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ in sacrifice. Every other priest stands officiating day after day, offering over and over again the same sacrifices, though they were powerless ever to remove 12 people's sins. But Christ has offered for all time one sacrifice for sin, 13 and has taken his seat at God's right hand, from that time waiting for 14 his enemies to be made his footstool. For by that one sacrifice he has forever qualified those who are purified from sin to approach God.
15 And we have the testimony of the holy Spirit to this, for after saying,
16 "This is the agreement that I will make with them
In those later days,' says the Lord,
'I will put my laws into their minds,
And write them upon their hearts,' "
- he goes on,
17 "And their sins and their misdeeds I will no longer remember.' "
- 18 But when these are forgiven, there is no more need of offerings for sin.
19 Since then, brothers, we have free access to the sanctuary through 20 the blood of Jesus, by the new, living way which he has opened for us, 21 through the curtain, that is, his physical nature, and since in him we 22 have a great priest set over the house of God, let us draw near to God in sincerity of heart and with perfect faith, with our hearts cleansed from the sense of sin, and our bodies washed with clean water.
23 Let us hold unwaveringly to the hope that we profess, for he who has 24 given us his promise may be trusted. By observing one another, let 25 us arouse ourselves to rival one another's love and good deeds. Let us not neglect meeting together as some do, but let us encourage one another, all the more as you can see that the great Day is coming nearer.
- 26 For if we choose to go on sinning after we have so fully learned 27 the truth, there is no sacrifice left to be offered for our sins, but only the dreadful prospect of judgment and that blazing indignation which 28 is to devour God's enemies. Anyone who breaks the Law of Moses is put to death without any show of pity, on the evidence of only two

29 or three witnesses. How much worse a punishment do you think will anyone deserve who tramples the Son of God underfoot, and treats as worthless the blood of the agreement by which he has been purified, 30 and outrages God's spirit of mercy? For we know who it is that has said, "Vengeance belongs to me! I will pay back!"

and in another place,

"The Lord will be the judge of his people!"

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God!

32 But you must remember those early days when after you had received the light you had to go through a great struggle with persecution, sometimes being actually exposed as a public spectacle to insults and violence, and sometimes showing yourselves ready to share the 33 lot of those in that condition. For you showed sympathy with those who were in prison, and you put up with it cheerfully when your property was taken from you, for you knew that you had in yourselves 34 a greater possession that was lasting. You must not lose your courage, 35 for it will be richly rewarded, but you will need endurance if you are to carry out God's will and receive the blessing he has promised.

37 For

"In a very little while

He who is to come will come and not delay,

38 And he whom I accept as righteous will find life through his faith.

But if a man draws back, my heart can take no pleasure in him."

39 But we will not draw back and perish, but we will have faith and save our souls.

11 Faith means the assurance of what we hope for; it is our conviction 2 about things that we cannot see. For it was by it that the men of old gained God's approval.

3 It is faith that enables us to see that the universe was created at the command of God, so that the world we see did not simply arise out 4 of matter. Faith made Abel's sacrifice greater in the sight of God than Cain's; through faith he gained God's approval as an upright man, for God himself approved his offering, and through faith even 5 when he was dead he still spoke. Faith caused Enoch to be taken up from the earth without experiencing death; he could not be found, because God had taken him up. For before he was taken up there is 6 evidence that he pleased God, but without faith it is impossible to please him; for whoever would approach God must have faith in his

- existence and in his willingness to reward those who try to find him.
- 7 Faith led Noah, when he was warned by God of things no one then saw, in obedience to the warning to build an ark in which to save his family, and by such faith he condemned the world, and came to possess
- 8 that uprightness which faith produces. Faith enabled Abraham to obey when God summoned him to leave his home for a region which he was to have for his own, and to leave home without knowing where
- 9 he was going. Faith led him to make a temporary home as a stranger in the land he had been promised, and to live there in his tents, with
- 10 Isaac and Jacob, who shared the promise with him. For he was looking forward to that city with the sure foundations, designed and built by
- 11 God. Faith made even Sarah herself able to have a child, although she was past the time of life for it, because she thought that he who
- 12 had made the promise would keep it. And so from one man, for any prospect of descendants as good as dead, there sprang a people in number like the stars in the heavens or the countless sands on the seashore.
- 13 All these people lived all their lives in faith, and died without receiving what had been promised; they only saw it far ahead and welcomed the sight of it, recognizing that they themselves were only
- 14 foreigners and strangers here on earth. For men who recognize that
- 15 show that they are in search of a country of their own. And if it had been the country from which they had come to which their thoughts turned back, they would have found an opportunity to return to it.
- 16 But, as it is, their aspirations are for a better, a heavenly country! That is why God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared a city to receive them.
- 17 Faith enabled Abraham, when he was put to the test, to offer Isaac as a sacrifice. He who had accepted God's promises was ready to
- 18 sacrifice his only son, of whom he had been told, "Your posterity is to
- 19 arise through Isaac!" For he believed that God was able to raise men even from the dead, and from the dead he did indeed, to speak figuratively, receive him back. Faith enabled Isaac to bequeath to Jacob
- 20 and Esau blessings that were still to be. Faith made Jacob when he was dying give a blessing to each of Joseph's sons, and bow in worship
- 22 even while leaning on his staff. Faith inspired Joseph when he was dying to tell of the future migration of the Israelites, and to give
- 23 instructions about his own body. Faith led Moses' parents to hide him for three months after his birth, because they saw that he was a beautiful
- 24 child and they would not respect the edict of the king. Faith made Moses, when he was grown up, refuse to be known as a son of Pharaoh's

25 daughter, for he preferred sharing the hardships of God's people to 26 a short-lived enjoyment of sin, and thought such contempt as the Christ endured was truer wealth than the treasures of Egypt, for he was 27 looking forward to the coming reward. Faith made him leave Egypt, unafraid of the king's anger, for he persevered as though he saw him 28 who is unseen. Faith made him institute the Passover and splash the blood upon the doorposts, to keep the angel that destroyed the firstborn 29 from touching them. Faith enabled them to cross the Red Sea as though it were dry land, although the Egyptians when they tried to 30 follow them across it were drowned. Faith made the walls of Jericho fall, after they had marched around them each day for seven days.
31 Faith saved Rahab the prostitute from being destroyed with those who disobeyed God, because she had given a friendly welcome to the scouts.

32 And why should I go on? For my time would fail me if I told of Gideon, Barak, Sampson, Jephthah, David, Samuel, and the prophets, 33 who by their faith conquered kingdoms, attained uprightness, received 34 new promises, shut the mouths of lions, put out furious fires, escaped death by the sword, found strength in their time of weakness, proved 35 mighty in war, put foreign armies to flight. Women had their dead restored to them by resurrection. Others endured torture, and refused 36 to accept release, that they might rise again to the better life. Still others had to endure taunts and blows, and even fetters and prison.
37 They were stoned to death, they were tortured to death, they were sawed in two, they were killed with the sword. Clothed in the skins of sheep or goats, they were driven from place to place, destitute, per-38 secuted, misused—men of whom the world was not worthy wandering in deserts, mountains, caves, and holes in the ground.

39 Yet though they all gained God's approval by their faith, they none 40 of them received what he had promised, for God had resolved upon something still better for us, that they might not reach the fulfilment of their hopes except with us.

12 Therefore, let us too, with such a crowd of witnesses about us, throw off every impediment and the entanglement of sin, and run with 2 determination the race for which we are entered, fixing our eyes upon Jesus, our leader and example in faith, who in place of the happiness that belonged to him, submitted to a cross, caring nothing for its shame, 3 and has taken his seat at the right hand of the throne of God. Think of the opposition that he encountered from those sinners against them-4 selves, if you would not grow weary and faint-hearted. You have

- 5 not yet resisted unto death in your struggle with sin, and you have forgotten the challenge addressed to you as God's sons,
"My son, do not think lightly of the Lord's discipline,
Or give up when he corrects you.
- 6 For it is those whom the Lord loves that he disciplines,
And he chastises every son that he acknowledged."
- 7 You must submit to it as discipline. God is dealing with you as his sons. For where is there a son whom his father does not discipline?
- 8 But if you have none of that discipline which all sons undergo, you are illegitimate children, and not true sons. When our earthly fathers disciplined us we treated them with respect; should we not far more
- 10 submit to the Father of our spirits, and so have life? For they disciplined us for a short time and as they thought proper, but he does
- 11 it for our good, to make us share his holiness. Discipline is never pleasant at the time; it is painful; but to those who are trained by it, it afterward yields the peace of character. So tighten your loosening
- 13 hold! Stiffen your wavering stand! And keep your feet in straight paths, so that limbs that are lame may not be dislocated but instead be cured.
- 14 Try to be at peace with everyone, and strive for that consecration
- 15 without which no one can see the Lord. Be careful that no one fails to gain God's favor, or some poisonous root may come up to trouble
- 16 and contaminate you all—some immoral or godless person like Esau, who sold his very birthright for one single meal. For you know how, when he afterward wished to claim the blessing, he was refused it, although he begged for it with tears, for he had no opportunity to repent of what he had done.
- 18 For it is no tangible blazing fire that you have come up to, no blackness and darkness and storm, no trumpet blast and voice whose
- 20 words made those who heard them beg to be told no more, for they could not bear the order, "Even a wild animal, if it touches the mountain, must be stoned to death," and so awful was the sight that Moses
- 22 said, "I am aghast and appalled!" But you have come up to Mount Zion, to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, to countless
- 23 angels, to the solemn gathering of all God's elder sons, enrolled as citizens in heaven, to a judge who is the God of all, to the spirits of
- 24 upright men now at last enjoying the fulfilment of their hopes, to Jesus the negotiator of a new agreement, and to sprinkle blood that
- 25 speaks more powerfully than even Abel's. Take care not to refuse to listen to him who is speaking. For if they could not escape because they would not listen to him who warned them here on earth, how 26 much less can we, who reject him who is from heaven! Then his voice shook the earth, but now his promise is, "But once more I will 27 make not only the earth but the very heaven to tremble!" Now the words "But once more" indicate the final removal of all that is shaken, as only created, leaving only what is unshaken to be permanent.

28 Let us, therefore, be thankful that the kingdom given to us cannot be shaken, and so please God by worshipping him with reverence and 29 awe; for our God is a consuming fire.

13² Your love for the brotherhood must continue. Do not forget to be hospitable to strangers, for by being so some, without knowing it, have 3 had angels as their guests. Remember those who are in prison as though you were in prison with them, and those who are ill-treated 4 as being yourselves liable to the same trials. Marriage should be respected by everyone, and the marriage relation kept sacred, for 5 vicious and immoral people God will punish. You must not be avaracious; you must be content with what you have, for God himself 6 has said, "I will never let go of you or desert you!" So that we can confidently say,

"The Lord is my helper; I will not be afraid.

What can men do to me?"

7 Do not forget your former leaders, the men who brought you God's message. Remember how they ended their lives and imitate their faith.
8 Jesus Christ is the same today that he was yesterday, and he will 9 be so forever. You must not be carried away with strange varieties of teaching. The true way to steadfastness of heart is through God's mercy, not through scruples about food, which have never done their 10 adherents any good. Our altar is one at which those who serve the 11 tent of worship have no right to eat. For the bodies of the animals whose blood is taken into the sanctuary by the high priest are burned 12 outside the camp. And so Jesus too, in order to purify the people by 13 his blood, suffered death outside the city gate. Let us, therefore, go out to him, outside the camp, sharing the contempt that he endured, 14 for we have no permanent city here on earth, but we are in search of 15 the city that is to come. In his name let us continually offer praise as our sacrifice to God—the utterance of lips that glorify God's name.
16 But do not forget to be helpful and generous, for that is the kind of sacrifice that pleases God.

17 Obey your leaders and give way to them, for they are keeping watch in defense of your souls, as men accountable for the trust. Make their work a joy and not a grief, for that would be the worse for you.

¹⁸ Pray for me, for I am sure I have a clear conscience, and I mean
¹⁹ in every way to live an upright life. I ask this of you more especially that I may be brought back to you the sooner.

²⁰ May God, the giver of peace, who brought back from the dead our Lord Jesus who through the blood by which he ratified the everlasting
²¹ agreement has become the great shepherd of the sheep, fit you by every blessing to do his will, and through Jesus Christ carry out in us what will please him. To him be glory forever and ever. Amen.

²² I beg you, brothers, to listen patiently to this appeal, for I have written you but briefly.

²³ You must know that our brother Timothy has been released from prison. If he comes here soon, we will see you together.

²⁴ Remember us to all your leaders and to all your fellow-Christians. The brothers from Italy wish to be remembered to you.

²⁵ God bless you all!

THE LETTER OF JAMES

1 James, a slave of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, sends greeting to the twelve tribes that are scattered over the world.

2 You must find the greatest joy, my brothers, in being involved in 3 various trials, for you know that the testing of your faith leads to 4 steadfastness, and steadfastness must have full play, so that you may be fully and perfectly developed without any defects.

5 If any one of you is deficient in wisdom, let him ask God who gives generously to everyone, and does not reproach one with it afterward, 6 and he will give it to him. But he must ask with faith, and without any doubt, for the man who doubts is like the billowing sea, driven 7 and blown about by the wind. Such a man must not expect to get 8 anything from the Lord—an irresolute person like him, who is uncer-9 tain about everything he does. A brother of low position ought to be 10 proud of his eminence, but one who is rich ought to rejoice at being reduced in circumstances, for the rich will disappear like the wild 11 flowers. For the sun comes up with its scorching heat and dries up the grass, and the flowers wither, and all their beauty is gone. That is the way rich men will fade and die in the midst of their pursuits.

12 Blessed is the man who endures trial, for when he stands the test, he will be given the crown of life, which God has promised to those 13 who love him. No one should think when he is tempted that his temptation comes from God, for God is incapable of being tempted 14 by what is evil, and he does not tempt anyone. When anyone is 15 tempted, it is by his own desire that he is enticed and allured. Then desire conceives and gives birth to sin, and when sin is mature, it 16 brings forth death. Do not be misled, my dear brothers. Every good 17 gift and every perfect present is from heaven, and comes down from the Father of the heavenly lights, about whom there is no variation 18 of changing shadow. Of his own accord he brought us into being through the message of truth, so that we might be a kind of first-fruits among his creatures.

19 You must understand this, my dear brothers. Everyone must be 20 quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to be angry, for men's anger does 21 not produce the uprightness God wishes. So strip yourselves of everything that soils you, and of every evil growth, and in a humble spirit

let the message that has the power to save your souls be planted in 22 your hearts. Obey the message; do not merely listen to it, and deceive 23 yourselves. For anyone who merely listens to the message without obeying it is like a man who looks in a mirror at the face that nature 24 gave him, and then goes off and immediately forgets what he looked 25 like. But whoever looks at the faultless law that makes men free and keeps looking, so that he does not just listen and forget, but obeys and 26 acts upon it, will be blessed in what he does. If anyone thinks he is religious, and does not bridle his tongue, but deceives himself, his 27 religious observances are of no account. A religious observance that is pure and stainless in the sight of God the Father is this: to look after orphans and widows in their trouble, and keep one's self unstained by the world.

2 My brothers, do you try to combine faith in our glorious Lord Jesus
2 Christ with acts of partiality? For if a finely dressed man with a gold ring comes into a meeting, and a poor man in shabby clothes comes 3 in also, and you pay attention to the man in the fine clothes and say to him, "Sit here; this is a good place!" and say to the poor man, "Stand 4 up, or sit on the floor at my feet," have you not wavered and shown 5 that your judgments are guided by base motives? Listen, my dear brothers. Has not God chosen the world's poor to be rich in faith, and to possess the kingdom that he promised to those who love him?
6 But you humiliate the poor. Are not the rich your oppressors? Is it
7 not they who drag you into court? Is it not they who slander the 8 noble name you bear? If you really obey the supreme law where the Scripture says, "You must love your neighbor as you do yourself," 9 you are doing right, but if you show partiality, you are committing 10 a sin, and stand convicted before the Law as law breakers. For anyone who obeys the whole of the Law but makes one single slip is guilty 11 of breaking it all. For he who said, "You must not commit adultery," said also, "You must not commit murder." Now if you abstain from adultery, but commit murder, you are still a violator of the Law.
12 You must talk and act like men who expect to be judged by the law
13 that treats men as free. For the merciless will be mercilessly judged;
but mercy will triumph over judgment.

14 My brothers, what is the good of a man's saying he has faith, if he 15 has no good deeds to show? Can faith save him? If some brother 16 or sister has no clothes and has not food enough for a day, and one of you says to them, "Goodbye, keep warm and have plenty to eat," with-17 out giving them the necessities of life, what good does it do? So faith

18 by itself, if it has no good deeds to show, is dead. But someone may say, "You have faith, and I good deeds." Show me your faith without any good deeds, and I will show you my faith by my good deeds. 19 Do you believe in one God? Very well! So do the demons, and 20 they shudder. But do you want proof, my senseless friend, that faith 21 without good deeds amounts to nothing? Was not our forefather Abraham made upright for his good deeds, for offering his son Isaac 22 on the altar? You see that in his case faith and good deeds worked 23 together; faith found its highest expression in good deeds, and so the Scripture came true that says, "Abraham had faith in God, and it was 24 credited to him as uprightness, and he was called God's friend." You see a man is made upright by his good deeds and not simply by having 25 faith. Was not even Rahab the prostitute made upright for her good deeds, in entertaining the scouts and sending them off by a different 26 road? Just as the body without the spirit is dead, faith is dead without good deeds.

3 Not many of you should become teachers, my brothers, for you 2 know that we who teach will be judged with greater strictness. For we all make many mistakes. Anyone who never makes a mistake in what he says has a character that is fully developed and is able to control 3 his whole body as well. If we put bridles into horses' mouths to make 4 them obey us, we can guide their whole bodies. Even ships, great as they are, and driven by strong winds, are steered with a very small 5 rudder wherever the pilot pleases. So the tongue is a little organ and 6 yet very boastful. What a great forest a spark will set on fire! And the tongue is a fire, a world of wrong the tongue proves in our bodies, soiling the whole body and setting fire to the whole round of nature, 7 and set on fire itself by hell. For every kind of animal and bird, reptile 8 and sea creature, can be tamed and has been tamed by man, but no human being can tame the tongue. It is an irreconcilable evil, full of 9 deadly poison. With it we bless the Lord our Father, and with it we 10 curse men made in God's likeness. Blessing and cursing issue from 11 the same mouth! This is not right, my brothers. Does a spring pour 12 forth fresh and brackish water from the same crevice? Can a fig tree produce olives, my brothers, or a grape vine figs? A salt spring cannot give fresh water.

13 What wise, intelligent man is there among you? Let him show by his good life that what he does is done in the humility of wisdom. 14 But if you cherish bitter feelings of jealousy and rivalry in your hearts, 15 do not pride yourselves on it and thus belie the truth. Such wisdom

¹⁶ does not come from above. It is earthly, animal, demon-like. For wherever jealousy and rivalry exist, there will be confusion and every ¹⁷ low action. The wisdom that is from above is first of all pure, then peaceable, considerate, willing to yield, full of compassion and good ¹⁸ deeds, whole-hearted, straightforward. The harvest uprightness yields must be sown in peace, by peacemakers.

⁴ What causes wars and fights among you? Is it not your cravings,
² which are at war within your bodies? You crave things, and cannot have them, and so you commit murder. You covet things, and cannot get them, and so you quarrel and fight. You do not have things be-
³ cause you do not ask for them. You ask and fail to get them because
⁴ you ask with wrong motives, to spend them on your pleasures. You renegades! Do you not know that the friendship of the world means enmity with God? So whoever wishes to be the world's friend declares
⁵ himself God's enemy. Do you suppose the Scripture means nothing when it says, "He yearns jealously over the Spirit he has put in our ⁶ hearts?" But he gives all the greater blessing. As the Scripture says, "God opposes haughty persons, but he blesses humble-minded ones."
⁷ Therefore, submit to God. Resist the devil and he will fly from you.
⁸ Approach God, and he will approach you. Wash your hands, you
⁹ sinners! Make your hearts pure, you doubters! Be miserable, grieve, and weep aloud! Turn your laughter into grief and your happiness
¹⁰ into gloom. Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will raise you up.

¹¹ Do not talk against one another, brothers. Whoever talks against a brother or condemns his brother talks against the Law, and condemns the Law. But if you condemn the Law you are not an observer of the ¹² Law but its judge. There is only one lawgiver and judge—he who has the power to save and to destroy; who are you, to judge your neighbor?

¹³ Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we are going to such and such a town, to stay a year and go into business and make ¹⁴ money," when you do not know what your life will be like tomorrow! You are just a mist, which appears for a little while and then disap-¹⁵ pears. This, instead of saying, "If it is the Lord's will, we shall live
¹⁶ to do this or that." But, as it is, you pride yourselves on your preten-
¹⁷ sions. All such pride is wrong. So when a man knows what is right and fails to do it, he is guilty of sin.

⁵ Come now, you rich people! weep aloud and howl over the miseries
² that are going to overtake you! Your wealth has rotted, your clothes

3 are moth-eaten, your gold and silver are rusted, and their rust will 4 testify against you and eat into your very flesh, for you have stored
5 up fire for the last days. Why, the wages you have withheld from 6 the laborers who have reaped your harvests cry aloud, and the cries
7 of the harvesters have reached the ears of the Lord of Hosts. You
8 have lived luxuriously and voluptuously here on earth; you have fat-9 tened your hearts for the day of slaughter. You have condemned and 10 murdered the upright. Will he make no resistance?

11 So be patient, brothers, until the coming of the Lord. The farmer 12 has to wait for the precious crop from the ground, and be patient with 13 it, until it gets the early and the late rains. You must have patience 14 too; you must keep up your courage, for the coming of the Lord is 15 close at hand. Do not complain of one another, brothers, or you will 16 be judged. The judge is standing right at the door! As an example, 17 brothers, of ill-treatment patiently endured, take the prophets, who 18 have spoken in the name of the Lord. Why, we call those who showed 19 such endurance happy! You have heard of the steadfastness of Job, 20 and you have seen what the Lord brought out of it, for the Lord is very kind and merciful.

12 Above all, my brothers, do not swear an oath, either by heaven or by the earth, or by anything else; let your "Yes" be a plain Yes, and your "No" a plain No, or you will fall under condemnation.

13 If any one of you is in trouble, he should pray. If any one is in 14 good spirits, he should sing a hymn. If any one is sick, he should call 15 in the elders of the church and have them pray over him, and pour
16 oil on him in the name of the Lord, and the prayer offered in faith
17 will save the sick man; the Lord will restore him to health, and if he 18 has committed sins, he will be forgiven. So confess your sins to one 19 another and pray for one another, so that you may be cured. An 20 upright man can do a great deal by prayer when he tries. Elijah was a man like us, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain, and for three years and six months there was no rain in the land. Then he prayed again, and the heavens yielded rain and the earth produced crops. My brothers, if any one of you is led astray from the truth, and someone brings him back, you may be sure that whoever brings a sinner back from his misguided way will save the man's soul from death, and cover up a host of sins.

THE FIRST LETTER OF PETER

- 1 Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to those who are scattered as foreigners over Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, 2 whom God the Father has chosen and predestined by the consecration of the Spirit to be obedient to Jesus Christ, and to be sprinkled with his blood; God bless you and give you perfect peace.
- 3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! In his great mercy he has caused us to be born anew to a life of hope through 4 Jesus Christ's resurrection from the dead, and to an imperishable, unsullied, and unfading inheritance, which is kept safe for you in 5 heaven, and you by God's power are being protected through faith to receive a salvation that is now ready to be disclosed at the last time.
- 6 Rejoice over this, although just now perhaps distressed by various 7 trials; they are to show that your faith when tested is found to be more precious than gold, which though it is perishable is tested with fire, and they will bring you praise, glory, and honor when Jesus 8 Christ is revealed. You must love him, though you have not seen him, but since you believe in him though you do not now see him, 9 rejoice with triumphant, unutterable joy to attain the goal of faith,
the salvation of your souls.
- 10 About this salvation the prophets who prophesied of the blessing 11 that was destined for you made the most careful investigation, trying to learn for what possible time the spirit of Christ within them in predicting the sufferings destined for Christ intended them and the 12 glories that were to follow them. It was disclosed to them that they were serving not themselves but you in dealing with these things, which have now been told you by those who through the holy Spirit sent from heaven brought you the good news; things into which angels long to look!
- 13 Therefore, prepare your minds for action, and with perfect calmness fix your hopes on the mercy that you are to experience when Jesus 14 Christ is revealed. Like obedient children, do not adapt yourselves to 15 the cravings you used to follow when you were ignorant, but like the holy Being who has called you, you must also prove holy in all your 16 conduct, for the Scripture says,

“You must be holy,
Because I am holy.”

17 And if you address him as Father who judges everyone impartially by what he does, you must live reverently all the time you stay here, 18 for you know that you have not been ransomed with anything perishable like silver or gold, from the futile way of living in which you 19 were brought up, but with precious blood, like that of an unblemished, 20 spotless lamb, the blood of Christ, who was predestined for this before the foundation of the world, but was revealed only at the end of the 21 ages, for the sake of you who through him trust in God, who raised him from the dead and showed him honor; and so your faith and hope rest on God.

22 Now that by obeying the truth you have purified your souls for sincere love of the brotherhood, you must love one another intensely 23 and heartily, for you have been born anew from a germ not perishable, but imperishable, through the message of the living, everlasting God.
24 For

“All flesh is like grass,
And all its glory like the flower of the grass.
The grass withers,
And the flower fades,

25 But the word of the Lord will last forever,”
that is, the good news that has been brought to you.

2 Free yourselves, therefore, from all malice, deceit, hypocrisy, envy, and slander of any kind, and like new-born babes crave the pure
3 spiritual milk that will make you grow up to salvation, since you have 4 tasted the Lord’s kindness. Come to him, as to a living stone rejected
5 by men, but chosen and prized in the sight of God, and build yourselves up as living stones into a spiritual house for a consecrated priesthood, so as to offer spiritual sacrifices that through Jesus Christ will be 6 acceptable to God. For it says in Scripture,

“Here I lay a choice stone in Zion, a costly cornerstone;
No one who believes in it will ever be disappointed!”

7 It is you, therefore, who believe who see its value, but for men who do not believe,

“The stone which the builders refused has been made a cornerstone,”

8 and

“A stone to stumble over, and a rock to trip them up.”
They stumble over the message because they will not obey it; that is

9 their destiny. But you are the chosen race, the royal priesthood, the consecrated nation, his own people, so that you may declare the virtues of him who has called you out of darkness into his wonderful light; 10 you who were once "no people" but are now "God's people"; once "unpitied" but now "pitied indeed."

11 Dear friends, I beg you, as aliens and exiles here, not to indulge 12 the physical cravings that are at war with the soul. Live upright lives among the heathen, so that even if they charge you with being evil-doers, they may from observing the uprightness of your conduct come to praise God on the Day of Judgment.

13 Submit to all human authority, for the Master's sake; to the em- 14 peror, as supreme, and to governors, as sent by him to punish evil-doers, 15 and to encourage those who do right. For it is the will of God that by doing right you should silence the ignorant charges of foolish people. 16 Live like free men, only do not make your freedom an excuse for doing 17 wrong, but be slaves of God. Treat everyone with respect. Love the brotherhood, be reverent to God, respect the emperor.

18 You servants must be submissive to your masters and perfectly respectful to them; not only to those who are kind and considerate, 19 but also to those who are unreasonable. For God approves a man if 20 from a sense of duty he endures suffering unjustly inflicted—for what credit is there in your enduring being beaten for doing wrong? But if you endure suffering for doing what is right, you have God's ap- 21 proval. That is the life to which you have been called, for Christ himself suffered for you, leaving you an example so that you might 22 follow his footsteps. He committed no sin, and deceit was never on 23 his lips. He was abused but he did not retort. He suffered but he did 24 not threaten, but committed his case to him who judges justly. He carried the burden of our sins in his own body on the cross, in order that we might die to sin and live for uprightness. By his wounds you 25 have been healed. For you were astray like sheep, but now you have returned to the shepherd and guardian of your souls.

3 You married women, in the same way, must be submissive to your husbands, so that any who refuse to believe the message may be won 2 over without argument through the behavior of their wives when 3 they see how chaste and submissive you are. You must not adopt the external attractions of arranging the hair and wearing jewelry and 4 dress; yours must be the inner beauty of character, the imperishable attraction of a quiet and gentle spirit, which has great value in the 5 sight of God. It was in that way in ancient times that those pious women who set their hopes on God made themselves attractive. They 6 were submissive to their husbands, like Sarah, who obeyed Abraham, and called him Master. You are true daughters of hers, if you do right and are unafraid.

7 You married men also must be considerate in living with your wives. You must show deference to women as the weaker sex, sharing the gift of life with you, so that there may be nothing to interfere with your prayers.

8 Finally, you must all be harmonious, sympathizing, loving, tender-9 hearted, modest, not returning evil for evil, or abuse for abuse. You must bless people instead. It is for this that you were called—to 10 obtain blessing. For

“Let him who would enjoy life

And see happy days,

Keep his tongue from evil,

And his lips from uttering deceit.

11 Let him turn away from evil and do right,

Let him seek peace and go after it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon upright men,

And his ears are open to their entreaty,

But the Lord's face is set against men that do wrong.”

13 And who is there that can hurt you if you are eager to do what is 14 right? Even if you should suffer for uprightness, you are blessed.
 15 But do not be afraid of them, nor be troubled, but reverence Christ in your hearts as Lord, and always be ready to make your defense to anyone who calls you to account for the hope that you have. But do 16 so gently and respectfully, and keep your conscience clear, so that those who abuse your upright Christian conduct may be made ashamed 17 of their slanders. For it is better to suffer for doing right, if that should 18 be God's will, than for doing wrong. For Christ himself died once for all, for sin, an upright man for unrighteous men, to bring us to God, and was physically put to death, but he was made alive in the 19 Spirit. In it Enoch went and preached even to those spirits that were 20 in prison, who had once been disobedient, when in Noah's time God in his patience waited for the ark to be made ready, in which a few 21 people, eight in all, were brought safely through the water. Baptism, which corresponds to it, now saves you also (not as the mere removing of physical stain, but as the craving for a conscience right with God)— 22 through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has gone to heaven and is at God's right hand, with angels, hierarchies, and powers made subject to him.

4 Since Christ therefore has suffered in our physical nature, you must also arm yourselves with the same resolve. For he who suffers in his
2 physical nature has done with sin, and no longer lives by what men
3 desire, but for the rest of his earthly life by what God wills. You have spent time enough in the past in doing as the heathen like to do, indulging in sensuality, passion, drunkenness, carousing, dissipation,
4 and detestable idolatry. They are amazed that you no longer join them in plunging into the flood of dissipation, and they abuse you for
5 it; but they will have to answer for it to him who is ready to judge
6 living and dead. This is why the good news was preached to the dead also, that though they are judged in their physical nature as men are, they may yet live, like God, in the Spirit.

7 But the end of all things is near. Be serious and collected, therefore,
8 and pray. Above all keep your love for one another strong, because 9 love covers up a host of sins. Be ungrudgingly hospitable to one
10 another. Whatever the endowment God has given you, use it in service to one another, like good dispensers of God's varied mercy.
11 If one preaches, let him do it like one who utters the words of God; if one does some service, let him do it as with strength which God supplies, so that in everything God may be glorified through Jesus Christ. To him belong glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen.

12 Dear friends, do not be surprised that a test of fire is being applied
13 to you, as though a strange thing were happening to you, but be glad that you are in a measure sharing the sufferings of the Christ, so that 14 when his glory is revealed you may be triumphantly happy. If you are being abused for the sake of Christ, you are blessed, because the 15 glorious Spirit of God is resting upon you. For no one of you must 16 suffer as a murderer or thief or criminal or revolutionist, but if a man suffers for being a Christian, he must not be ashamed of it, but must
17 do honor to God through that name. For the time has come for the judgment to begin with the household of God, and if it begins with 18 us, what will be the end of those who refuse God's good news? If it is hard for the upright man to be saved, what will become of the 19 godless and sinful? Therefore, those who suffer by the will of God must intrust their souls to a Creator who is faithful, and continue to do what is right.

5 I appeal therefore to those who are elders among you; I am their brother-elder and a witness to what the Christ suffered, and I am to

² share in the glory that is to be revealed—be shepherds of the flock of God that is among you, not as though it were forced upon you but of
³ your own free will, and not from base love of gain but freely, and not as tyrannizing over those in your charge but proving models for the ⁴ flock; and when the chief shepherd appears, you will receive the glorious wreath that will never fade. You younger men must show deference to the elders. And you must all clothe yourselves in humility toward one another, for God opposes the proud, but shows mercy to ⁶ the humble. Submit humbly, therefore, to God's mighty hand, so
⁷ that he may in due time raise you up. Throw all your anxiety upon ⁸ him, for he cares for you. Be calm and watchful. Your opponent the devil is prowling about like a roaring lion, wanting to devour you.
⁹ Resist him and be strong in the faith, for you know that your brotherhood all over the world is having the same experience of suffering.
¹⁰ And God, the giver of all mercy, who through your union with Christ has called you to his eternal glory, after you have suffered a little
¹¹ while will himself make you perfect, steadfast, and strong. His be the dominion forever. Amen.

¹² By Silvanus, our faithful brother, as I think him, I have written you this short letter to encourage you and bear my testimony that this ¹³ is what the true mercy of God means. Stand fast in it. Your sister-church in Babylon, chosen like you, and Mark my son wish to be ¹⁴ remembered to you. Greet one another with a kiss of love.

Peace to all of you that are in union with Christ.

THE SECOND LETTER OF PETER

1 Simon Peter, a slave and apostle of Jesus Christ, to those who through the uprightness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ have been 2 given a faith as privileged as ours; God bless you and give you perfect 3 peace through the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord. For his divine power has given us every requisite for life and piety, through our coming to know him who through his glory and excellence called 4 us to him. Thus he has given us his precious and splendid promises so that through them you may escape the corrupting influences that exist in the world through passion, and come to share in the divine 5 nature. For this very reason make every effort to supplement your 6 faith with goodness, goodness with knowledge, knowledge with self-7 control, self-control with steadfastness, steadfastness with piety, piety with a spirit of brotherhood, and the spirit of brotherhood with love.
8 For if you have these qualities in their fulness, they will make you neither idle nor unproductive when it comes to the understanding of 9 our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is blind or near-sighted, and has forgotten that he has been cleansed from his 10 former sins. Therefore, brothers, make all the greater efforts to make God's call and choice of you certain. For if you have these qualities, 11 you will never stumble, for then you will be triumphantly admitted to the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

12 Therefore I will always remind you of this, although you know 13 it and are firmly grounded in the truth that you have. Yet I think it right, as long as I live in my present tent, to arouse you by a reminder, 14 for I know that I must soon put it away, as our Lord Jesus Christ has 15 shown me. I will also take care that after I am gone you will be 16 able at any time to call these things to mind. For they were no fictitious stories that we followed when we informed you of the power of our Lord Jesus Christ and of his coming, but we had been eye-witnesses 17 of his majesty. For when he was so honored and glorified by God the Father and from the supreme glory there were borne to him such words as these: "This is my Son, my Beloved! He is my Chosen!"
18 —we heard these words borne from heaven when we were with him
19 on that sacred mountain. So we have the message of the prophets more fully guaranteed. Please pay attention to that message as to a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawns and the morning star 20 rises in your hearts. You must understand this in the first place, that no prophecy in Scripture can be understood through one's own powers, 21 for no prophecy ever originated in the human will, but under the influence of the holy Spirit men spoke for God.

2 There were false prophets too among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will introduce destructive sects and deny the Master who has bought them, thus bringing on themselves
2 swift destruction. Many people will follow their immoral ways, and 3 they will cause the true way to be maligned. In their greed they will exploit you with pretended arguments. From of old their condemna-4 tion has not been idle, and their destruction has not slumbered. For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but plunged them into Tartarus, and committed them to dark dungeons to await their doom, 5 and if he did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah, a preacher of righteousness, and seven others, when he brought the 6 flood upon the godless world; and if he condemned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, and overwhelmed them with ashes, as a warning to 7 ungodly men of what was to come, and saved the upright Lot who 8 was so distressed by the immoral conduct of unprincipled men—for as long as that upright man lived among them, day after day his upright soul was tormented by what he saw and heard of their lawless 9 actions—then the Lord knows how to rescue God-fearing people from trial and to punish wrongdoers while they are being kept for the Day 10 of Judgment, especially those who yield to their physical nature and indulge in passions that defile them, and despise authority. Rash, headstrong men! They stand in no awe of majesty, but deride beings 11 against whom even angels far superior to these beings in strength and 12 power bring no abusive charge before the Lord. These men, like un-reasoning animals, mere creatures of instinct created to be caught and killed, abuse what they do not understand and will be destroyed like 13 animals, suffering wrong as the reward for their wrongdoing. They find pleasure in the indulgence of the moment; they are a stain and a disgrace, and they revel in their deceit while they join in your re-14 ligious meals. They have eyes for nobody but adulterous women—eyes insatiable in sin. They lure unsteadfast souls. Their hearts are 15 trained in greed. They are accursed! They have left the straight path and gone astray. They have followed the path of Balaam, the 16 son of Beor, who set his heart on dishonest gain, but he was rebuked for his offense; a dumb animal spoke with a human voice and checked

17 the prophet's madness. Such men are dried-up springs, clouds driven 18 before the storm, and they are doomed to utter darkness. They utter arrogant nonsense and use physical cravings to lure into immorality men who are just escaping from among those who live in error;
19 promising them freedom when they are themselves slaves of destruc-20 tion; for a man is the slave of whatever overcomes him. For if after men have escaped the corrupting influences of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they again become entangled in them and are overcome by them, their final condition is 21 worse than their former one. For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of uprightness than after knowing it to have turned their backs upon the sacred command with which they 22 had been intrusted. What has happened to them shows the truth of the proverb, "A dog returns to what he has vomited up, and a sow that has washed goes back to wallow in the mire."

3 This is the second letter, dear friends, that I have now written to 2 you, in the effort to arouse your unsullied minds to remember the things foretold by the holy prophets, and the command of the Lord and 3 Savior through your apostles. First of all, you must understand this, that in the last days mockers will come with their mockeries, going 4 where their passions lead and saying, "Where is his promised coming?
For ever since our forefathers fell asleep everything has remained as it 5 was from the beginning of creation!" For they wilfully ignore the fact that long ago there existed heavens and an earth which had been 6 formed at God's command out of water and by water, by which also 7 that world was destroyed, through being flooded with water. But by the same command the present heavens and earth are stored up for fire, and are kept for the day when godless men are to be judged and destroyed.

8 But do not overlook this one fact, dear friends, that with the Lord one day is like a thousand years and a thousand years are like one day.
9 The Lord is not slow about his promise, in the sense that some men think; he is really showing his patience with you, because he does not want any to perish, but wishes all men to be brought to repentance.
10 The Day of the Lord will come like a thief; on it the heavens will pass away with a roar, the heavenly bodies will burn up and be destroyed, 11 and the earth and all its works will melt away. If all these things are to be dissolved in this way, what holy and pious lives you ought to lead, 12 while you await and hasten the coming of the Day of God, which will cause the heavens to burn up and dissolve and the heavenly bodies to

- ¹³ blaze and melt. In fulfilment of his promise we expect new heavens and a new earth, where uprightness will prevail.
- ¹⁴ Therefore, dear friends, while waiting for this, make every effort
- ¹⁵ to be found by him unstained, irreproachable, and at peace. Look upon our Lord's patience as salvation, just as our dear brother Paul, with
- ¹⁶ the wisdom that God gave him, wrote you to do, speaking of it as he does in all his letters. There are some things in them hard to understand, which ignorant, unsteadfast people twist to their own ruin, just
- ¹⁷ as they do the rest of the Scriptures. So you, dear friends, now that you are forewarned, must be on your guard against being led away by the errors of unprincipled men and losing your present firmness.
- ¹⁸ You must grow in the blessing and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Glory to him now and forever.

THE FIRST LETTER OF JOHN

1 It is what existed from the beginning, that we announce; what we have heard, what we have seen with our own eyes, what we have be-
2 held, and touched with our hands; it is the very message of life—for life has been revealed, and we have seen it and testify to it and announce to you that eternal life that was with the Father and has been
3 revealed to us—it is what we have seen and heard that we announce to you also, so that you may share our fellowship, for our fellowship
4 is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ, and we write this to you to make your happiness complete.

5 This is the message that we heard from him and announce to you: God is light; there is no darkness in him at all.

6 If we say, "We have fellowship with him," and yet live in darkness, we are lying and not living the truth. But if we live in the light, just as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the 8 blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from every sin. If we say, "We are without any sin," we are deceiving ourselves, and there is no truth in 9 our hearts. If we acknowledge our sins, he is upright and can be depended on to forgive our sins and cleanse us from everything wrong. If 10 we say, "We have not sinned," we are making him a liar, and his message is not in our hearts.

2 My dear children, I am writing you this so that you may not sin; yet if anyone does sin, we have in Jesus Christ one who is upright and
2 will intercede for us with the Father. He is himself an atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not only for ours but also for the whole world.
3 This is how we can be sure that we know him—by obeying his commands. Whoever says, "I know him," but does not obey his com-
4 mands, is a liar, and there is no truth in his heart; but whoever obeys his message really has the love of God in perfection in his heart. This
6 is the way we can be sure that we are in union with him; whoever says, "I am always in union with him" must live just as he lived.

7 Dear friends, it is no new command that I am writing you, but an old one that you have had from the beginning. That old command is 8 the same as the message you have heard. Yet it is a new command that I am writing you; it is newly realized in him and in yourselves, for the darkness is passing and the true light is already shining.

9 Whoever says, "I am in the light," and yet hates his brother, is still 10 in darkness. Whoever loves his brother is always in the light and puts 11 no hindrance in anyone's way. But whoever hates his brother is in darkness, and is living in darkness, and he does not know where he is going, for the darkness has blinded his eyes.

12 I am writing to you, dear children, because your sins have been 13 forgiven for his sake. I am writing to you, fathers, because you know him who has existed from the beginning. I am writing to you, young men, because you have been victorious over the evil one. I write to 14 you, children, because you know the Father. I write to you, fathers, because you know him who has existed from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because you are strong, and God's message is always 15 in your hearts, and you have been victorious over the evil one. Do not love the world or what is in the world. If anyone loves the world, 16 there is no love for the Father in his heart, for all that there is in the world, the things that our physical nature and our eyes crave, and the proud display of life—these do not come from the Father, but from the 17 world; and the world with its cravings is passing away, but whoever does God's will will endure forever.

18 Children, it is the last hour. You have heard that Antichrist is coming, and many Antichrists have indeed appeared. So we may be 19 sure that it is the last hour. They have gone out from our number, but they did not really belong to us. For if they had, they would have stayed with us. It was to make it clear that none of them really be-20 longed to us that they withdrew. But you have been anointed by the Holy One. You all know the truth; I do not write to you because you do not know it, but because you do know it, and because no lie can come from the truth.

22 Who is such a liar as the man who denies that Jesus is the Christ?
He is the real Antichrist—the man who disowns the Father and the 23 Son. No one who disowns the Son can have the Father. Whoever 24 acknowledges the Son has the Father too. Keep what you have heard from the beginning in your hearts; then you will always be in union 25 with the Son and the Father. And what he himself has promised us is eternal life.

26 I write you this with reference to those who are trying to mislead 27 you. You still retain in your hearts the anointing with the Spirit that you received from him, and you do not need to have anyone teach you.
But just as that anointing of his teaches you about everything, and as it is true and no falsehood, keep in union with him just as it has taught

²⁸ you to do. Now, dear children, keep in union with him, so that if he appears, we may have confidence and not shrink from him in shame
²⁹ when he comes. If you know that he is upright, you may be sure that everyone who acts uprightly is his child.

³ Think what love the Father has had for us, in letting us be called God's children, for that is what we are. This is why the world does
² not know what we are—because it has never come to know him. Dear friends, we are God's children now; it has not yet been disclosed what we are to be. We know that if he appears, we shall be like him, for ³ we shall see him as he is. And everyone who possesses this hope in him tries to make himself as pure as he is.

⁴ Whoever commits sin disobeys law; sin is disobedience to law.
⁵ You know that he appeared to take our sins away, and that there is no
⁶ sin in him. No one who keeps in union with him sins. Anyone who
⁷ sins has never seen him or come to know him. Dear children, let no one mislead you; whoever acts uprightly is upright, just as he is up-
⁸ right. Whoever commits sin is a child of the devil, for the devil has sinned from the beginning. This is why the Son of God appeared—to undo the devil's work.

⁹ No one who is a child of God commits sin, for God's nature remains ¹⁰ in his heart, and he cannot sin, because he is a child of God. This is how the children of God and those of the devil can be distinguished: No one who does not act uprightly or who does not love his brother is ¹¹ a child of God. For the message you have heard from the beginning ¹² is this: We must love one another. We must not be like Cain who was a child of the evil one, and butchered his brother. And why did he butcher him? Because his own actions were wicked and his brother's upright.

¹³ You must not be surprised, brothers, if the world hates you! We ¹⁴ know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love our ¹⁵ brothers. Anyone who does not love is still in death. Whoever hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer can have ¹⁶ eternal life remain in his heart. We know what love means from the fact that he laid down his life for us; so we also ought to lay down our ¹⁷ lives for our brothers. But if someone who is rich sees his brother in need and closes his heart against him, how can he have any love for ¹⁸ God in his heart? Dear children, let us love not with words or lips only but in reality and truth.

¹⁹ From that we can be sure that we are on the side of the truth, and ²⁰ satisfy our consciences in God's sight, if they condemn us for anything,

21 for God is greater than our consciences, and he knows all. Dear friends, if our consciences do not condemn us, we approach God with 22 confidence, and we obtain from him whatever we ask for, because we 23 are obeying his commands and doing the things that please him. His command is this—that we are to believe in his Son Jesus Christ, and 24 love one another, as he has commanded us to do. All who obey his commands keep in union with him, and he does with them; and this is how we know that he keeps in union with us—by the Spirit which he has given us.

4 Dear friends, do not believe every inspired utterance, but test the utterances to see whether they come from God, for many false prophets
2 have come out into the world. You can tell the Spirit of God in this way: all inspiration that acknowledges that Jesus Christ has come in
3 human form comes from God, and any inspired utterance that does not acknowledge Jesus does not come from God; it is the inspiration of the Antichrist. You have heard that it was coming, and here it is already in the world.

4 You are children of God, dear children, and you have been victorious over these men, for he who is in our hearts is greater than he
5 who is in the world. They are children of the world; that is why they
6 speak as the world directs, and the world listens to them. We are God's children. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not a child of God will not listen to us. In this way we can tell what is inspired by truth from what is inspired by error.

7 Dear friends, let us love one another, for love comes from God, and 8 everyone who loves is a child of God and knows God. Whoever does 9 not love does not know God, for God is love. God's love for us has been revealed in this way—that God has sent his only Son into the 10 world, to let us have life through him. The love consists not in our having loved God, but in his loving us and sending his Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins.

11 Dear friends, if God has loved us so, we ought to love one another.
12 No one has ever seen God; yet if we love one another, God keeps in 13 union with us and love for him attains perfection in our hearts. This is the way we know that we keep in union with him and he does with 14 us—because he has given us some of his Spirit. We have seen and can 15 testify that the Father has sent the Son to be Savior of the world. If anyone acknowledges that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, God keeps 16 in union with him and he with God. So we know and believe in the love God has for us.

God is love, and whoever continues to love keeps in union with 17 God, and God with him. Love attains perfection in us, when we have perfect confidence about the Day of Judgment, because here in this 18 world we are living as he lives. There is no fear in love, but perfect love drives out fear. For fear suggests punishment and no one who 19 feels fear has attained perfect love. We love because he loved us first.
20 If anyone says, "I love God," and yet hates his brother, he is a liar;
for whoever does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love 21 God whom he has not seen. This is the command that we get from him, that whoever loves God must love his brother also.

5 Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ is a child of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves those who are his children.
2 This is how we can be sure that we love the children of God: it is by 3 loving God and obeying his commands. For loving God means obey-4 ing his commands, and his commands are not burdensome, for every child of God is victorious over the world. Our faith is the victory that 5 has triumphed over the world. For who is there that is victorious over 6 the world except the man who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? It was he, Jesus Christ himself, who came in water and in blood; not in water only, but in water and in blood. The Spirit also testifies to this,
8 for the Spirit is truth. For there are three that testify to it, the Spirit, 9 the water, and the blood, and the three are at one. If we accept the testimony of men, the testimony of God is stronger still; for the value 10 of God's testimony lies in this, that he has testified to his Son. Whoever believes in the Son of God possesses that testimony in his heart. Anyone who will not believe God has made him a liar, for he has refused 11 to believe the testimony that God has borne to his Son. And that testimony is that God has given us eternal life, and that this life is found in 12 his Son. Whoever has the Son has life; whoever has not the Son has not life.

13 I have written this so that you who believe in the Son of God may 14 know that you have eternal life. And we have confidence in him, that if we ask him for anything that is in accordance with his will, he will 15 listen to us. And if we know that he listens to whatever we ask him 16 for, we know that the requests we have made of him are granted. If anyone sees his brother committing any sin except a deadly one, he will ask and obtain life for him—provided the sin is not a deadly one.
There is such a thing as deadly sin; I do not say that a man should 17 pray about that. Any wrongdoing is sin, but there are sins that are not deadly.

¹⁸ We know that no child of God commits sin, but the fact that he is ¹⁹ God's child protects him, and the evil one cannot touch him. We know that we are children of God, while the whole world is under the ²⁰ power of the evil one. And we know that the Son of God has come, and has given us power to recognize him who is true; and we are in union with him who is true, through his Son, Jesus Christ. He is the ²¹ true God and eternal life. Dear children, keep away from idols.

THE SECOND LETTER OF JOHN

- 1 The Elder to the chosen lady and her children, whom I truly love
2 and not only I but all who know the truth—because of the truth that 3 stays in our hearts and will be with us forever; blessing, mercy, and 4 peace be with us from God the Father and Jesus Christ, the Father's 5 Son, in truth and love.
- 6 It makes me exceedingly happy to find that some of your children
7 are guided by truth, just as we have been commanded to be by the 8 Father. And now I beg you, my lady—not as though I were writing
9 you any new command, but one which we have had from the beginning 10 —let us love one another. Love means this, that we be guided by his 11 commands. The command, as you have heard from the beginning, is 12 to be guided by love. For many impostors have gone out into the world
13 —men who do not acknowledge the coming of Jesus Christ in human 14 form. That is the mark of the impostor and the Antichrist. Look out 15 for yourselves, take care not to lose what we have worked for, but 16 make sure that you are paid for it in full. Anyone who goes too far 17 and does not keep to the teaching of Christ has not God. It is the man 18 who holds to the teaching who has both the Father and the Son. If 19 anyone comes to you without bringing this teaching, do not let him
20 come into the house or bid him good morning. For anyone who bids 21 him good morning shares in his wicked work.
- 22 Though I have a great deal to write to you, I would rather not 23 write it with paper and ink, but I hope to come to see you, and talk 24 with you face to face, so that your happiness may be complete. The 25 children of your chosen sister wish to be remembered to you.

THE THIRD LETTER OF JOHN

1 The Elder to my dear friend Gaius, whom I truly love.

2 Dear friend, it is my prayer that everything is going well with you
3 and that you are well; I know it is well with your soul. For it makes me exceedingly happy to have some brothers come and testify to the 4 truth of your life, for you are guided by truth. I know of no greater blessing than hearing that my children are being guided by the truth.

5 Dear friend, it is loyal of you to do anything you can for the broth-6 ers, especially as they are strangers; they have testified before the church to your love. Please see them off on their journey in a way
7 appropriate to God's service. For they have started out for the sake 8 of the cause, and they are accepting nothing from the heathen. So we ought to support such men, to show that we are ready to co-operate with the truth.

9 I have written briefly to the church, but Diotrophes who likes to be 10 their leader will not accept what I say. So if I come, I will bring up the things that he is doing, and how he is maliciously accusing me. Not content with that, he refuses to welcome the brothers himself, and he is interfering with those who want to do so, and has them put out of the church.

11 Dear friend, do not follow bad examples, but good ones. The man who does right is a child of God; the man who does wrong has never 12 seen God. Everybody testifies to Demetrius; the truth itself does; I testify to him too, and you know that my testimony to him is true.

13 I have a great deal to write to you, but I do not want to write it
14 with pen and ink; I hope to see you very soon and we will talk face to face. Goodbye. Our friends wish to be remembered to you. Remember me to our friends, every one.

THE LETTER OF JUDE

- 1 Jude, a slave of Jesus Christ, and the brother of James, to those who have been called, who are dear to God the Father and have been
- 2 kept through union with Jesus Christ; may mercy, peace, and love be granted you in abundance.
- 3 Dear friends, I was just on the point of writing to you about our common salvation, when it became necessary for me to write and appeal to you to come to the defense of the faith that has once for all been
- 4 intrusted to God's people. For some people have sneaked in among us—their doom was foretold long ago—godless persons, who turn the mercy of our God into an excuse for immorality, and disown our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.
- 5 Now I want to remind you, though you know it all already, that he who brought the people safely out of the land of Egypt afterward destroyed the ones who did not believe, and the angels who neglected their responsibilities and abandoned their homes he has put in everlasting chains to be kept in darkness for the judgment of the great Day,
- 7 just as Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighboring towns which like them indulged in immorality and unnatural vice stand as a warning, in undergoing the punishment of eternal fire.
- 8 In that same way these dreamers defile the body, make light of authority, and deride majesty. The archangel Michael himself, when he had the dispute with the devil about Moses' body, did not venture to condemn him for blasphemy; he only said, "May the Lord rebuke
- 10 you!" But these people deride anything they do not understand, and the things they know by instinct, like unreasoning animals, they use
- 11 for their own destruction. Alas for them, for they follow Cain's path, they plunge into Balaam's error for gain, and they perish in rebellious-
- 12 ness like Korah's. They are stains on your religious meals, where they carouse together, boldly attending to no one but themselves; rainless clouds driven before the wind; leafless trees without fruit, doubly dead,
- 13 and uprooted; wild sea waves foaming up their own shame; wandering stars doomed forever to utter darkness.
- 14 Of them also Enoch, in the seventh generation from Adam, prophesied, when he said, "See! The Lord comes with his holy myriads to execute judgment upon all, and to convict all the godless of all the godless deeds they have done, and of all the harsh things that godless sinners have said against him.”

16 These men are grumblers, dissatisfied with life. They go where their passions lead, their talk is arrogant and they cultivate people in the hope of gain.

17 But you, dear friends, must remember what was foretold by the 18 apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ, for they said to you, “In the last times there will be mockers who will go where their own godless passions 19 lead.” These are the men who create division; they are animal and 20 devoid of the Spirit. But you, dear friends, must build yourselves up on the foundation of your most holy faith and pray in the holy Spirit,
21 and keep in the love of God, and wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus
22 Christ, to bring you to eternal life. Those whom you pity in their un-
23 certainty, save, snatching them out of the fire, and look on others with pity mixed with fear, loathing even the clothes their animal nature has stained.

24 Now to him who is able to keep you from stumbling and to make 25 you stand in his presence irreproachable and triumphant—to the one God our Savior be glory, majesty, power, and authority through Jesus Christ our Lord now and forever and ever. Amen.

THE REVELATION OF JOHN

1 A revelation made by Jesus Christ which God gave him to disclose to his slaves of what must very soon happen. He sent and communicated it by his angel to his slave John, who testifies to what he saw—the message of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ. Blessed be the man who reads this prophecy and those who hear it read and heed what is written in it, for the time is near.

4 John to the seven churches in Asia, blessing and peace to you from him who is and was and is coming, and from the seven spirits before his throne, and from Jesus Christ the trustworthy witness, the firstborn of the dead, and the sovereign of the kings of the earth. To him who loves us and has released us from our sins by his blood—he has made us a kingdom of priests for his God and Father—to him be glory and power forever. Amen. See! He is coming on the clouds, and every eye will see him, even the men who pierced him, and all the tribes of the earth will lament over him. So it is to be. Amen.

8 “I am the Alpha and the Omega,” says the Lord God, who is and was and is coming, the Almighty.

9 I, John, your brother and companion in the distress, the kingdom, and the endurance that Jesus brings, found myself on the island called Patmos, for uttering God’s message and testifying to Jesus. On the Lord’s day I fell into a trance, and I heard a loud voice like a trumpet behind me say,

“Write what you see in a roll and send it to the seven churches—to Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia, and Laodicea.”

12 I turned to see whose voice it was that was speaking to me, and when I turned I saw seven gold lampstands, and among the lampstands a being like a man, wearing a long robe, with a gold belt around his breast. His head and hair were as white as white wool, as white as snow; his eyes blazed like fire; his feet were like bronze, refined in a furnace, and his voice was like the noise of mighty waters. In his right hand he held seven stars; from his mouth came a sharp double-edged sword, and his face shone like the sun at noonday. When I saw him,

I fell at his feet like a dead man. But he laid his right hand upon me, and said,

18 “Do not be afraid. I am the first and the last, the living one. I was dead, yet here I am alive forever and ever. I hold the keys of death
19 and the underworld. So write what you have seen, what is now and 20 what is to happen hereafter. The secret meaning of the seven stars that you saw in my right hand, and of the seven gold lampstands is this: The seven stars are the guardian angels of the seven churches and the seven lampstands are the seven churches.

2 “To the angel of the church in Ephesus write:

“He who holds the seven stars in his right hand and goes about
2 among the seven gold lampstands speaks thus: I know what you have done; your hard work and your endurance. I know that you cannot tolerate wicked men, and that you have tested those who claimed to be apostles when they were not, and have found them to be impostors.
3 You show endurance; you have undergone much for my sake, and you
4 have not grown weary. But I hold it against you that you do not love
5 as you did at first. So remember how far you have fallen, and repent and do as you did at first, or else I will come to you and take your
6 lampstand from its place, if you do not repent. But it is in your favor
7 that you hate the practices of the Nicolaitans, as I do. Let everyone who can hear listen to what the Spirit says to the churches. I will permit him who is victorious to eat the fruit of the tree of life that stands in the Paradise of God.’

8 “To the angel of the church in Smyrna write:

“The first and the last, who died and came to life again, speaks
9 thus: I know of your distress and poverty—though you are rich!—I know how you are slandered by those who claim to be Jews when they
10 are not so, but only a synagogue of Satan! Do not be afraid of what you are going to suffer. See! The devil is going to put some of you into prison to be tested there, and for ten days to endure persecution. Prove faithful even unto death and I will give you the crown of life.
11 Let everyone who can hear listen to what the Spirit says to the churches. He who is victorious will not be hurt by the second death.’

12 “To the angel of the church in Pergamum write:

13 “He who wields the sharp, double-edged sword speaks thus: I know where you live; where Satan has his throne! Yet you cling to my name and did not renounce your faith in me even in the days when my faithful Antipas, my witness, was put to death among you—where 14 Satan lives. Yet I hold it somewhat against you that you have among you some adherents of the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to entrap the children of Israel into eating meat that had been sacrificed

15 to idols, and into immoral practices. So you also have among you 16 some who hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans. So repent, or else I will come to you quickly and make war upon them with the sword that is 17 in my mouth. Let everyone who can hear listen to what the Spirit says to the churches. I will give him who is victorious some of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white pebble with a new name written on it which no one knows except the man who receives it.'

18 "To the angel of the church in Thyatira write:

"The Son of God, whose eyes blaze like fire, and whose feet are 19 like bronze, speaks thus: I know the things you do, your love and faithfulness and helpfulness and endurance, and I know that you are 20 now doing more than you did at first. But I hold it against you that you tolerate that Jezebel of a woman who claims to be inspired and who is misleading my slaves and teaching them to practice immorality
21 and to eat meat that has been sacrificed to idols. I have given her time
22 to repent, but she refuses to repent of her immorality. See! I am going to lay her on a sick bed, and to bring great distress upon those who 23 share her immorality, unless they repent of her practices, and I will strike her children dead. Then all the churches will know that I am he who searches men's hearts and minds, and I will repay each of you 24 for what you have done. But to the rest of you at Thyatira, who do not hold this teaching and have not learned the "deep things" of Satan, as 25 they call them—to you I say, I have no fresh burden to lay on you, but 26 keep hold of what you have, until I come. To him who is victorious and continues to the end to do the things that please me, I will give 27 authority over the heathen—just such authority as I received from my Father; he will shepherd them with an iron staff, and shatter them 28 like earthen jars!—and I will give him the morning star. Let every-29 one who can hear listen to what the Spirit says to the churches.'

3 "To the angel of the church in Sardis write:

"He who holds the seven spirits of God and the seven stars speaks thus: I know what you are doing; you are supposed to be alive, but
2 you are dead. Wake up, and strengthen what is left, although it is already on the point of death, for I have found nothing you have done
3 complete in the sight of my God. So remember what you received and heard, and obey it, and repent. If you do not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I am coming upon you.
4 Yet you have a few at Sardis who have not soiled their clothes. They

5 will walk with me clad in white, for they deserve to. He who is victorious will be clothed thus, in white clothing, and I will not erase his name from the book of life, but I will acknowledge him as mine in the 6 presence of my Father and his angels. Let everyone who can hear listen to what the Spirit says to the churches.'

7 "To the angel of the church in Philadelphia write:

" 'He who is holy and true, who carries the key of David, who opens
8 and no one shall shut, and shuts and no one shall open, speaks thus: I know what you are doing. See! I have put before you an open door that no one can close. I know that you have little strength, but you
9 have obeyed my message and you have not disowned my name. I will make some who belong to that synagogue of Satan and claim to be Jews when they are not so, but are lying—I will make them come and 10 bow down at your feet, and learn that I loved you. Because you have kept in mind the message of what I endured, I also will keep you safe in the time of testing that is going to come upon the whole world, to 11 test the inhabitants of the earth. I am coming soon. Keep hold of 12 what you have, so that no one may deprive you of your crown. I will make him who is victorious a pillar in the temple of my God; he shall never go out of it again. I will write on him the name of my God and the name of the city of my God—the new Jerusalem, which is to come
13 down out of heaven from my God—and my new name. Let everyone who can hear listen to what the Spirit says to the churches.'

14 "To the angel of the church in Laodicea write:

" 'The Amen, the true and faithful witness, the origin of God's 15 creation, speaks thus: I know what you are doing, and that you are 16 neither cold nor hot. I wish you were either cold or hot! As it is, since you are tepid and neither cold nor hot, I am going to spit you out of 17 my mouth! Because you say, "I am rich, I have become wealthy, I need nothing," and you do not know that it is you that are wretched,
18 pitiable, poor, blind, and naked, I advise you to buy of me gold that has been tested with fire, so that you may be rich, and white clothes to put on, to keep your shameful nakedness from being seen, and salve
19 to put on your eyes, to make you see. I remove and discipline all 20 whom I love. So be earnest and repent. Here I stand knocking at the door. If anyone listens to my voice and opens the door, I will be his 21 guest and dine with him, and he with me. I will permit him who is victorious to take his seat beside me on my throne, just as I have been 22 victorious and taken my seat beside my Father on his throne. Let everyone who can hear listen to what the Spirit says to the churches.'

4 Afterward I had another vision: There was a door standing open in the heavens and the first voice like a trumpet that I had heard speak to me, said,

“Come up here, and I will show you what must take place.”

2 Immediately after this I found myself in a trance, and there stood
3 a throne in heaven with a being seated on it. The one who was seated on it looked like jasper and sardius, and around the throne was a halo
4 of the color of an emerald. Around the throne were twenty-four thrones, with twenty-four elders seated on them, clothed in white and
5 with gold crowns on their heads. Out from the throne came flashes of lightning, rumblings, and peals of thunder. In front of the throne seven blazing lamps were burning; they are the seven spirits of God.
6 In front of the throne was what looked like a sea of glass, like crystal. Around the throne, in the middle of each side, were four animals
7 covered with eyes in front and behind. The first animal was like a lion, the second was like an ox, the third had a face like a man’s, and 8 the fourth was like an eagle flying. The four animals have each of them six wings, and they are covered with eyes all over and underneath their wings. And day and night they never cease to say,

“Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God, the Almighty, who was and is and is coming.”

9 And whenever the animals offer glory, honor, and thanksgiving
10 to him who is seated on the throne, who lives forever and ever, the twenty-four elders fall down before him who is seated on the throne, and worship him who lives forever and ever, and they throw down their crowns before the throne, and say,

11 “You are worthy, our Lord and God, to receive glory, honor, and power, for you created all things; by your will they existed and were created.”

5 Then I saw lying in the right hand of him who was seated on the
2 throne a roll with writing on both sides, sealed with seven seals. And I saw a mighty angel announcing in a loud voice,

“Who is fit to open the roll and break its seals?”

3 But no one in heaven or on earth or underneath the earth could open
4 the roll or look into it. Then I cried bitterly because no one could be
5 found fit to open the roll or look into it. But one of the elders said to me,

“Do not cry! See! The lion who is of the tribe of Judah, of the line of David, has been victorious so that he can open the roll and break its seals.”

6 Then I saw standing in the center of the throne and of the four animals and of the elders a Lamb which seemed to have been slaughtered. He had seven horns and seven eyes; these are the seven spirits
7 of God, which are sent on errands to all parts of the earth. He came and took the roll from the right hand of him who was seated on the 8 throne. When he took the roll, the four animals and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each with a harp and gold bowls full 9 of incense, that is, of the prayers of God's people. Then they sang a new song:

"You deserve to take the roll and open its seals, for you have been slaughtered, and with your blood have bought for God men from 10 every tribe, tongue, people, and nation, and have made them a kingdom of priests for our God, and they are to reign over the earth."

11 Then in my vision I heard the voices of many angels surrounding the throne, the animals, and the elders, numbering myriads of myriads 12 and thousands of thousands, saying in a loud voice,
"The Lamb that was slaughtered deserves to receive power, wealth, wisdom, might, honor, glory, and blessing."

13 Then I heard every creature in heaven, on earth, underneath the earth, and on the sea, and all that they contain, say,
"Blessing, honor, glory, and power to him who is seated on the throne and to the Lamb forever and ever!"

14 The four animals said,
"Amen!"

And the elders fell down and worshipped.

6 In my vision, when the Lamb broke the first of the seven seals, I heard the first of the four animals say with a voice like thunder,
"Come!"

2 Then I saw a white horse, and its rider carried a bow. He was 3 given a crown, and he rode forth as a victor to conquer. When he broke the second seal, I heard the second animal say,
"Come!"

4 And another horse came forth, bright red, and its rider was given power to take peace away from the earth, and make men slaughter one another; he was given a great sword.

5 When he broke the third seal, I heard the third animal say,
"Come!"

And there I saw a black horse, and its rider had a pair of scales in 6 his hand, and I heard a voice which seemed to come from the midst of the four animals say,

“Wheat at a dollar a quart, and barley three quarts for a dollar, but you must not injure the oil and wine!”

7 When he broke the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth animal say,

“Come!”

8 And there I saw a horse the color of ashes, and its rider’s name was Death, and Hades followed him. They were given power over one quarter of the earth, to kill the people with sword, famine, death, and the wild animals of the earth.

9 When he broke the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of those who have been slaughtered on account of God’s message and 10 for adhering to the testimony. They cried out in a loud voice,

“Holy and true Master, how long is it to be before you judge the inhabitants of the earth and avenge our blood?”

11 Then each of them was given a white robe and they were told to be quiet a little while longer, until the number of their fellow-slaves and their brothers, who were to be killed as they had been, should be complete.

12 When he broke the sixth seal I saw that there was a great earthquake. The sun turned black as sackcloth; the full moon became like 13 blood; the stars of the sky fell upon the earth just as a fig tree drops its
14 unripe figs when it is shaken by a strong wind; the sky was torn apart and rolled up like a roll; and every mountain and island was dislodged
15 from its place. The kings of the earth, the nobles, the officers, the rich, the strong—everybody, slave and free—hid themselves in the caves
16 and among the rocks of the mountains. And they said to the mountains and the rocks.

“Fall on us, and conceal us from the sight of him who is seated on 17 the throne, and from the anger of the Lamb, for the great day of their anger has come, and who can escape?”

7 After that I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth holding back the four winds of the earth, so that no wind should
2 blow on the earth or on the sea or on any tree. Then I saw another angel ascend from the east with the seal of the living God, and he cried out in a loud voice to the four angels who had it in their power to harm the earth and the sea,

3 “Do not harm the earth or the sea or the trees until we mark the slaves of our God on their foreheads.”

4 I heard that the number of those that were marked with the seal was 144,000. They were from every tribe of the children of Israel:

5 12,000 from the tribe of Judah that were marked; 12,000 from the 6 tribe of Reuben; 12,000 from the tribe of Gad; 12,000 from the tribe of Asher; 12,000 from the tribe of Naphtali; 12,000 from the tribe of 7 Manasseh; 12,000 from the tribe of Symeon; 12,000 from the tribe of 8 Levi; 12,000 from the tribe of Issachar; 12,000 from the tribe of Zebulun; 12,000 from the tribe of Joseph; 12,000 from the tribe of Benjamin.

9 After that I saw a great crowd which no one could count from every nation, tribe, people, and language, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, wearing white robes, with palm branches in their 10 hands, and they cried in a loud voice,

“Our deliverance is the work of our God who is seated on the throne, and of the Lamb!”

11 Then all the angels stood around the throne and the elders and the four animals, and fell on their faces before the throne and worshiped 12 God, saying,

“Amen! Blessing, glory, wisdom, thanksgiving, honor, power, and strength be to our God forever and ever. Amen!”

13 Then one of the elders addressed me and said,

“Who are these people dressed in white robes, and where do they come from?”

14 I said to him,

“You know, my lord.”

He said to me,

“They are the people who come through the great persecution, who 15 have washed their robes white in the blood of the Lamb. That is why they are before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his 16 temple, and he who is seated on the throne will shelter them. They will never be hungry or thirsty again, and never again will the sun or 17 any burning heat distress them, for the Lamb who is in the center of the throne will be their shepherd, and will guide them to springs of living water, and God will wipe every tear from their eyes.”

8 When he broke the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for 2 about half an hour. Then I saw the seven angels who stood before God, and seven trumpets were given to them.

3 Then another angel with a gold censer came and stood at the altar, and he was given a great quantity of incense so that he might mingle
it with the prayers of all the saints on the altar of gold that stood before 4 the throne. So the smoke of the incense went up before God from the 5 angel's hand for the prayers of his people. Then the angel took the censer and filled it with fire from the altar, and emptied it upon the earth, and there followed peals of thunder, rumblings, flashes of lightning, and an earthquake.

6 Then the seven angels with the seven trumpets prepared to blow them.

7 The first blew his trumpet, and there was a storm of hail and fire mixed with blood, and it fell upon the earth, and one third of the earth was burned up, and one third of the trees were burned up, and all the green grass was burned up.

8 Then the second angel blew his trumpet, and what looked like a great mountain ablaze with fire was thrown into the sea, and one third of the sea turned into blood, and one third of all the live creatures in the sea perished, and one third of the ships were destroyed.

10 Then the third angel blew his trumpet, and there fell from the sky a great star blazing like a torch, and it fell upon one third of the streams and the springs of water. The star is called Apsinthus, that is, Wormwood. Then one third of the waters turned to wormwood, and numbers of people died of the waters, for they had turned bitter.

12 Then the fourth angel blew his trumpet, and one third of the sun was blasted, and one third of the moon and one third of the stars, so that one third of them were darkened, and there was no light for one third of the day and of the night.

13 Then in my vision I heard an eagle flying in midair say in a loud voice,

“Alas! Alas! Alas for the inhabitants of the earth, because of the other blasts of the three angels who are going to blow their trumpets!”

9 Then the fifth angel blew his trumpet, and I saw a star that had fallen on the earth from the sky. He was given the key to the pit of the abyss, and he opened the pit of the abyss, and smoke like the smoke of a great furnace poured up out of the pit, and the sun and the air were darkened by the smoke from the pit. Out of the smoke locusts descended upon the earth, but with powers like those of earthly scorpions. They were told not to harm the grass of the earth or any plant or tree, but only the men who did not have the mark of God's seal upon their foreheads. They were not allowed to kill anyone, but only to torture them for five months, and the torture they inflicted was like that caused by a scorpion when it stings a man. In those days men will seek death and never find it. They will want to die, but death will fly from them. In appearance the locusts were like war-horses armed for battle; on their heads were what appeared to be crowns like gold; their

8 faces were like human faces; they had hair like a woman's; their teeth 9 were like those of lions; their breasts were like iron breastplates, and the noise of their wings was like the noise of a great number of chariots 10 and horses rushing into battle. They had tails and stings like scorpions; it was in their tails that their power lay to harm men for five months.
11 They had over them as king the angel of the abyss, whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon, but in Greek he is called Apollyon.

12 The first woe is past. See! Two woes are yet to come.

13 Then the sixth angel blew his trumpet, and I heard a voice from 14 the corners of the altar of gold that was before God say to the sixth angel who had the trumpet,

“Release the four angels that are bound at the great river Euphrates.”

15 Then the four angels who were held in readiness for that hour and day and month and year were let loose to kill one third of mankind.
16 The number of the hosts of horsemen was twice 10,000 times 10,000;
17 I heard their number. And this was how the horses and their riders looked in my vision: Their breast-plates were fire red, dark blue, and yellow. The horses' heads were like lions' heads, and fire, smoke, and 18 sulphur poured from their mouths. One third of mankind were killed by these three plagues—the fire, smoke, and sulphur that poured from 19 their mouths. For the power of the horses lay in their mouths and their tails; their tails were like snakes, and they had heads with which they 20 hurt people. Yet what was left of mankind, those who escaped being killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands and give up worshiping demons and gold, silver, bronze, stone, and wooden 21 idols, which cannot either see or hear or move, and they did not repent of their murders, or their magic arts, or their immorality, or their thefts.

10 Then I saw another mighty angel descend from heaven. He was clothed in a cloud, and a rainbow encircled his head. His face was 2 like the sun, his legs were like pillars of fire, and he had a little scroll open in his hand. He set his right foot on the sea and his left foot 3 on the land, and he uttered a great shout like the roar of a lion; and 4 when he shouted, the seven thunders raised their voices. When the seven thunders had spoken I was going to write it down, but I heard a voice from heaven say,

“Seal up what the seven thunders have said! Do not write it down!”

5 Then the angel, whom I had seen standing on the sea and on the

6 land, raised his right hand to heaven, and swore by him who lives forever and ever, who created the heavens and all that is in them, the earth and all that is in it, and the sea and all that is in it, that there
7 should be no more delay, but at the time when the seventh angel spoke, when he should blow his trumpet, then God's mysterious purpose, the good news of which he gave to his slaves the prophets, would be
8 accomplished. Then the voice that I had heard from heaven spoke to me again, and said,

"Go and take the little scroll that lies open in the hand of the angel who is standing on the sea and on the land."

9 So I went up to the angel and told him to give me the little scroll. And he said to me,

"Take it and eat it; it will be bitter in your stomach, but in your mouth it will taste as sweet as honey."

10 So I took the little scroll from the angel's hand and ate it, and it did taste as sweet as honey, but when I had eaten it, it made my 11 stomach bitter. Then they said to me,

"You must prophesy again about many peoples, nations, languages, and kings!"

11 Then I was given a measuring rod like a staff, and I was told,

"Rise and measure the temple of God and the altar, and count
2 those who worship there, but leave out the court outside the temple; do not measure that, for it has been given up to the heathen, and for
3 forty-two months they will trample on it. And I will permit my two witnesses, clothed in sackcloth, to prophesy for 1,260 days."

4 They are the two olive trees and the two lampstands that stand
5 before the Lord of the earth. If anyone tries to hurt them fire comes out of their mouths and consumes their enemies; if anyone tries to
6 hurt them, he will certainly be killed in that way. They have the power to shut up the sky, so that no rain will fall during the days when they are prophesying, and they have power to turn the waters into blood and to smite the earth with any plague whenever they please.
7 When they finish their testimony, the animal that comes up out of the abyss will make war on them and conquer them and kill them,
8 and their bodies will lie in the street of the great city that is figuratively
9 called Sodom and Egypt—where their Lord also was crucified. For three days and a half, men of all peoples, tribes, languages, and nations
10 will look at their bodies, and will not let them be buried. The inhabitants of the earth will gloat over them and celebrate by sending presents to one another, for these two prophets were a torment to the inhabitants

11 of the earth. After three days and a half, the breath of life from God entered them, and they stood on their feet, and terror seized those 12 who saw them. And they heard a loud voice from heaven say to them, "Come up here."

And they went up to heaven in a cloud, before the eyes of their 13 enemies. At that moment there was a great earthquake, and one tenth of the city was destroyed. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were filled with awe, and acknowledged the glory of the God of heaven.

14 The second woe is past. See! The third woe is soon to come.

15 Then the seventh angel blew his trumpet, and loud voices were heard in heaven, saying,

"The sovereignty of the world has passed into the possession of our Lord and his Christ, and he will reign forever and ever."

16 Then the twenty-four elders who were seated on their thrones
17 before God fell on their faces and worshiped God, saying,

"We give you thanks, Lord God Almighty, who are and were,
18 because you have assumed your great power and begun to reign. The heathen were enraged, but now your anger has come, and the time for the dead to be judged, and for rewarding your slaves the prophets and your people high and low who revere your name, and for destroying the destroyers of the earth!"

19 Then the temple of God in heaven was thrown open, and the chest containing his agreement was seen inside the temple, and there were flashes of lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder, an earthquake, and a great storm of hail.

12 Then a great portent appeared in the sky—a woman clothed in the sun, with the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of
2 twelve stars. She was soon to have a child, and she cried out with
3 pain and agony in giving birth to it. Another portent appeared in the sky—there was a great fire-red dragon with seven heads and ten
4 horns, with seven diadems on his heads. His tail swept away one third of the stars of heaven and flung them down upon the earth. The dragon stood in front of the woman who was about to give birth to 5 a child in order to devour her child as soon as it was born. She gave birth to a son, a male child, who is to shepherd all the heathen with a staff of iron; and her child was caught up to God, to his throne.
6 Then the woman fled into the desert, where there was a place prepared by God for her, where she was to be taken care of for 1,260 days.

7 Then war broke out in heaven, Michael and his angels fighting
8 with the dragon. The dragon and his angels fought but they were 9 defeated, and there was no place for them any longer in heaven. So the great dragon, the ancient serpent who is called the devil and Satan, who deceives the whole world, was hurled down to the earth, 10 and his angels were hurled down with him. Then I heard a loud voice in heaven say,

“The deliverance and power and reign of our God, and the authority of his Christ have now come, for the accuser of our brothers, who kept bringing charges against them day and night before our God, 11 has been hurled down. They have conquered him because of the Lamb’s blood, and the message to which they bore testimony, for they 12 did not cling to life even in the face of death. Therefore, rejoice, you heavens and you who live in them! But alas for the earth and the sea, for the devil has descended upon you in a great rage, for he knows that he has only a short time left.”

13 When the dragon saw that he had been hurled down to the earth, he went in pursuit of the woman who had given birth to the male child.
14 But the woman was given the two wings of a great eagle, so that she might fly to her place in the desert, where she is to be taken care of 15 for a time, times, and a half-time, on account of the serpent. Then the serpent poured water from his mouth after the woman like a river, 16 to sweep her away. But the earth helped the woman, for the earth opened its mouth and swallowed the river which the dragon had 17 poured out of his mouth. So the dragon was enraged at the woman, and he went off to make war on the rest of her children—those who obey God’s commands and adhere to the testimony of Jesus.

13 Then I stood on the sand of the seashore, and I saw an animal come up out of the sea with ten horns and seven heads, and with ten 2 diadems on its horns, and blasphemous titles on its heads. The animal
I saw was like a leopard, its feet were like a bear’s, and its mouth was like a lion’s mouth. The dragon gave it his own power and his 3 throne and great authority. One of its heads seemed to have received a mortal wound, but its mortal wound had been healed. And the 4 whole earth followed the animal in wonder, and worshiped the dragon for having given the animal his authority, and they worshiped the animal, and said,

“Who is there like the animal? Who can fight with it?”

5 It was allowed to utter great boasts and blasphemies, and to exert
6 authority for forty-two months. It opened its mouth in blasphemies against God, blaspheming his name and his dwelling-place, that is, those who live in heaven. It was allowed to make war on God's people and to conquer them, and it was given authority over every tribe, people, language, and nation. All the inhabitants of the earth whose names have not from the foundation of the world been written in the slain Lamb's book of life, will worship it. Let everyone who can hear listen. Whoever is destined for captivity will go into captivity; whoever kills with the sword must be killed with the sword. On this fact rests the endurance and fidelity of God's people.

Then I saw another animal come up out of the land. It had two horns like a lamb, but it spoke like a dragon. It exercises the full authority of the first animal on its behalf. It makes the earth and its inhabitants worship the first animal, whose mortal wound had been healed. It performs great wonders, even making fire come down from heaven to earth before men's eyes. It leads the inhabitants of the earth astray by the wonders it is allowed to do on behalf of the animal, telling the inhabitants of the earth to erect a statue to the animal that bears the mark of the sword-thrust and yet lives. It is also allowed to impart life to the animal's statue so that the animal's statue can speak, and to have all who do not worship the animal's statue killed. And it makes everyone, high and low, rich and poor, freemen and slaves, have a mark stamped on their right hands or on their foreheads, and permits no one to buy or sell anything unless he bears the mark, that is, the animal's name or the number corresponding to its name. There is wisdom hidden here! Let everyone of intelligence calculate the animal's number, for it indicates a certain man; its number is 666.

Then in my vision I saw the Lamb standing on Mount Zion, and with him 144,000 people who had his name and his Father's name written on their foreheads. And I heard a sound from heaven, like the sound of great waters, and loud peals of thunder. The sound I heard was like that of harpists playing on their harps. They were singing a new song before the throne and the four animals and the elders, and no one could learn the song except the 144,000 who had been ransomed from the earth. They are the men who have not been defiled by relations with women; they are celibates. It is they who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. They have been ransomed from among men as the first-fruits for God and the Lamb, and they have never been known to utter a lie; they are irreproachable.

Then I saw another angel flying in midair, with eternal good news to announce to the inhabitants of the earth, to every nation, tribe, 7 language, and people. He cried in a loud voice,

“Fear God and give him glory, for the hour for his judgment has come. Worship him who made heaven and earth and sea and the springs of water.”

8 A second angel followed, saying,

“She is fallen! Mighty Babylon is fallen, who made all the heathen drink the wine of the passion of her immorality!”

9 A third angel followed them, saying in a loud voice,

“Whoever worships the animal and its statue and lets its mark be 10 put on his forehead or on his hand shall drink the wine of God’s wrath, poured unmixed into the cup of his anger, and be tortured with fire and brimstone before the eyes of the holy angels and the Lamb.

11 The smoke of their torture will go up forever and ever, and they will have no rest night or day—these worshippers of the animal and 12 its statue, and any who bear the mark of its name.” On this fact rests the endurance of God’s people, who obey God’s commands and cling to their faith in Jesus.

13 Then I heard a voice from heaven say,

“Write: Blessed are the dead who from this time forth die as Christians!”

“Yes!” answers the Spirit, “Let them rest from their toil, for what they have done will go with them!”

14 Then I saw a white cloud, and seated on it a being like a man, with a gold crown on his head and a sharp sickle in his hand.

15 And another angel came out of the temple and cried in a loud voice to him who was seated on the cloud,

“Use your sickle and reap. The time has come to reap, for the earth’s harvest is ripe.”

16 So he who was seated on the cloud swung his sickle over the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 Another angel came out of the temple in heaven, and he too had 18 a sharp sickle. And another angel came forth from the altar, who presided over the fire, and he called in a loud voice to the one who had the sharp sickle.

“Use your sharp sickle and gather the bunches of grapes from the earth’s vine, for the grapes on it are ripe.”

19 So the angel swung his sickle on the earth and gathered the fruit of the earth’s vine, and flung them into the great winepress of God’s 20 wrath. The grapes were trodden in the winepress outside the city, and blood poured out of the winepress in a stream so deep that for 200 miles it came up to the horses' bridles.

15 Then I saw another great, marvelous portent in heaven. There were seven angels with seven plagues which are to be the last, for they complete the expression of God's wrath.

2 And I saw what looked like a sea of glass mixed with fire, and standing upon the sea of glass those who had come off victorious from the animal and its statue and the number corresponding to its name.
3 They had harps that God had given them, and they were singing the song of Moses, the slave of God, and the song of the Lamb:

"Great and marvelous are your doings, Lord God Almighty! Upright and true are your ways, King of the Ages! Who will not fear and give glory to your name, Lord? For you alone are holy. All the heathen will come and worship before you, for the justice of your sentences has now been shown."

5 Afterward I saw the temple, that is, the tent of the testimony,
6 thrown open in heaven, and the seven angels with the seven plagues came out of the temple. They were clothed in clean, glistening linen
7 and had gold belts around their breasts. Then one of the four animals gave the seven angels seven gold bowls full of the wrath of God who
8 lives forever and ever, and the temple was filled with smoke from the glory and power of God, and no one could go into the temple
16 until the seven plagues of the seven angels were over. Then I heard a loud voice from the temple say to the seven angels,

"Go and empty the seven bowls of God's wrath upon the earth!"

2 So the first angel went and emptied his bowl upon the earth, and loathsome, painful sores attacked the men who bore the mark of the animal and worshiped its statue.

3 The second emptied his bowl upon the sea, and it turned into blood like a dead man's, and every live thing in the sea died.

4 The third emptied his bowl upon the rivers and the springs of 5 water, and they turned into blood. Then I heard the angel of the waters say,

"You are just in pronouncing this sentence, you who are and were 6 the Holy One; for they shed the blood of your people and prophets, and you have given them blood to drink, as they deserve."

7 And I heard the altar answer,

"Yes, Lord God Almighty! Your sentences are true and just."

8 The fourth emptied his bowl upon the sun, and it was allowed 9 to scorch mankind with its heat, and they were dreadfully scorched,

but they reviled the name of God who had control of these plagues, and would not repent and give him glory.

10 The fifth emptied his bowl upon the animal's throne, and its kingdom was plunged in darkness, and men gnawed their tongues in 11 anguish and reviled the God of heaven for their sufferings and sores, but they would not repent of what they had done.

12 The sixth emptied his bowl upon the great river Euphrates, and its waters dried up to make the way ready for the kings from the east.

13 Then I saw three foul spirits like frogs emerge from the mouth of the dragon and from the mouth of the animal and from the mouth
14 of the false prophet. They are demon spirits that perform wonders, and they go out to the kings all over the world to muster them for 15 battle on the great Day of God Almighty. (See, I am coming like a thief! Blessed is he who keeps awake, and keeps hold of his clothes, 16 so that he will not have to go naked and be put to shame!) So they mustered the kings at the place called in Hebrew Armageddon.

17 The seventh emptied his bowl upon the air, and a loud voice came out of the temple from the throne, saying,
"It is all over!"

18 Then there were flashes of lightning, rumblings and peals of thunder, and there was a great earthquake; there has never been such an earthquake since man first existed upon the earth, it was so
19 great. The great city broke into three pieces, the cities of the heathen fell, and God remembered to give mighty Babylon the cup of the 20 wine of his fierce anger. Every island vanished, the mountains disappeared, huge hailstones of immense weight fell on mankind from 21 heaven, and men reviled God because of the plague of hail, the plague of it was so terrible.

17 Then one of the seven angels with the seven bowls came and spoke to me.

"Come," he said, "I will show you the doom of the great idolatress
2 who is seated on many waters, in whose idolatry the kings of the earth have joined, and with the wine of whose idolatry the inhabitants of the earth have been intoxicated."

3 So he carried me away in a trance to a desert, and I saw a woman seated on a scarlet animal all covered with blasphemous titles; it had 4 seven heads and ten horns. The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and glittered with gold, precious stones, and pearls. She had in her hand a gold cup full of accursed things, and the impurities of 5 her immorality. On her forehead there was written a name that was symbolic: "Mighty Babylon, mother of idolatresses and of earth's 6 abominations." I saw that the woman was drunk with the blood of God's people, and the blood of the witnesses of Jesus. When I saw 7 her I was perfectly amazed, but the angel said to me,

"Why are you amazed? I will explain to you what the woman and the animal with seven heads and ten horns that carries her sym-8 bolize. The animal that you saw was, and is no more; it is going to come up out of the abyss, but it is to go to destruction. The inhabitants of the earth, whose names from the foundation of the world have not been written in the book of life, will be amazed when they 9 see that the animal was, and is no more, and yet is to come. Here is a problem for a profound mind! The seven heads are seven hills, 10 on which the woman is seated. They are also seven kings; five have fallen, one is reigning, the other has not yet come, and when he does 11 his stay must be brief. So must it be with the animal that was, and is no more. It is also an eighth king, although it is one of the seven, and 12 it is to go to destruction. The ten horns that you saw are also ten kings, who have not yet begun to reign, but for a single hour they 13 receive authority as kings along with the animal. They have one 14 purpose, they give their power and authority to the animal. They will make war upon the Lamb, and the Lamb with his elect, chosen, and faithful followers with him will conquer them, for he is Lord of lords and King of kings.

15 "The waters that you saw," he said to me, "on which the idolatrous woman was seated, are peoples, multitudes, nations, and languages.
16 The ten horns that you saw and the animal will hate the idolatrous woman and make her desolate and naked, and eat her flesh and burn 17 her up with fire. For God has put it into their hearts to carry out his purpose by having a common purpose and giving up their authority 18 to the animal until God's decrees are carried out. And the woman that you saw is the great city that has dominion over the kings of the earth."

18 Afterward I saw another angel come down from heaven. He 2 possessed great authority and his splendor lighted up the earth. He cried out with a mighty voice,

"She is fallen! Mighty Babylon is fallen! She has become the haunt of demons, and a dungeon for every foul spirit and every unclean 3 and loathsome bird, for after drinking the wine of the passion of her immorality all the heathen have fallen; the kings of the earth have joined in her idolatry, and the traders of the earth have grown rich from her excessive luxury!"

4 Then I heard another voice from heaven say,

"Come out of her, my people, so that you may not share in her sins,

5 and suffer from her plagues. For her sins are piled up to the sky, and

6 God has remembered her crimes. Pay her back in her own coin, and give her double for what she has done. In the cup she mixed for others,

7 mix her a double draught. The more she has given herself to pride and luxury the more you must give her torture and grief. Because

8 she says to herself, 'I sit on a throne; I am not a widow, I shall never have any sorrow,' her plagues will overtake her in one day, death, grief, and famine, and she will be burned up with fire; for the Lord

9 God who has judged her is mighty. The kings of the earth who have joined in her idolatry and luxury will weep and lament over her

10 when they see the smoke from her burning. They will stand a long way off for fear of her torture and say, 'Alas! Alas for the great city, for Babylon the mighty city, for in a single hour your judgment has overtaken you!' The merchants of the earth will weep and mourn

12 over her, for no one will buy their cargoes any more—cargoes of gold, silver, precious stones, pearls, fine linen, purple, silk, and scarlet, all kinds of citron wood, all kinds of objects of ivory and costly wood,

13 bronze, iron, and marble, and cinnamon, spices, incense, perfume, frankincense, wine, olive oil, flour, wheat, cattle, sheep, horses, car-

14 riages, slaves—and human lives! The fruit of your soul's desire is gone, your luxury and splendor have perished, and people will never

15 find them again. The dealers in these things, who had grown rich from their trade with her, for fear of her torture will stand a long

16 way off, weeping and mourning, and say, 'Alas! Alas for the great city that was dressed in fine linen, purple, and scarlet, and glittered

17 with gold, precious stones, and pearls, for in a single hour this vast wealth has been destroyed!' All navigators and all who travel by

18 sea, sailors and sea-faring men, stood a long way off and cried out when they saw the smoke from her burning, 'What city was like the

19 great city?' They threw dust on their heads and wept and mourned, crying out, 'Alas! Alas for the great city, where all who had ships

20 on the sea grew rich through her extravagance! For in a single hour she has been destroyed!' Gloat over her, heaven! and all you people of God, apostles, and prophets, for God has avenged you upon her!"

21 Then a mighty angel caught up a stone like a great millstone and threw it into the sea, saying,

“With such violence will Babylon the great city be hurled to destruction and never be seen again! The sound of harpists and musicians, flute-players, and trumpeters will never be heard in you again. No craftsman of any kind will ever be found in you again, no sound of the millstone will ever be heard in you again; no light of any lamp will ever shine in you again; no voice of bride or bridegroom will ever be heard in you again. For your merchants were the great men of the earth; by your magic all the heathen have been led astray, and in you was found the blood of prophets, God’s people, and all who have been slaughtered on the earth.”

19 After that I heard what sounded like the loud shout of a great multitude in heaven saying,

“Praise the Lord! Salvation, glory, and power belong to our God, for his judgments are sound and upright. For he has passed judgment upon the great idolatress who corrupted the earth with her idolatry, and he has avenged the blood of his slaves upon her!”

3 Then they said again,

“Praise the Lord! For smoke will go up from her forever and ever!”

4 Then the twenty-four elders and the four animals fell down and worshipped God who was seated upon the throne.

“Amen!” they said, “Praise the Lord!”

5 And there came a voice from the throne, saying,

“Praise our God, all you slaves of his, high and low, who fear him!”

6 Then I heard what sounded like the shout of a great multitude and the noise of many waters and the sound of mighty thunders, saying, “Praise the Lord; for the Lord our God, the Almighty now reigns!

7 Let us be glad and triumphant and give him glory, for the marriage

8 of the Lamb has come, and his bride has made herself ready. She has been permitted to wear clean, glistening linen, for linen represents the upright deeds of God’s people.”

9 Then he said to me,

“Write: ‘Blessed are they who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb.’ These,” he said to me, “are the true words of God.”

10 I fell at his feet to worship him, but he said to me,

“You must not do that. I am only a fellow-slave of yours and of your brothers who have accepted the testimony of Jesus. Worship God! For the testimony of Jesus is what inspires prophecy.”

11 Then I saw heaven thrown open and there appeared a white horse. His rider was called Faithful and True, and he judges and wages

¹² war in uprightness. His eyes blazed like fire. There were many diadems on his head, and there was a name written on him which no
¹³ one knew but himself. The garment he wore was spattered with ¹⁴ blood, and his name was the Word of God. The armies of heaven followed him mounted on white horses and clothed in pure white
¹⁵ linen. From his mouth came a sharp sword with which he is to strike down the heathen. He will shepherd them with a staff of iron, and ¹⁶ will tread the winepress of the fierce anger of God Almighty. On his clothing and his thigh he has this title written: King of kings and Lord of lords.

¹⁷ Then I saw an angel standing on the sun, and shouting in a loud voice to all the birds that fly in midair,

¹⁸ "Come! Gather for God's great banquet, and eat the bodies of kings, commanders, and mighty men, of horses and their riders—the bodies of all men, slaves and freemen, high and low."

¹⁹ Then I saw the animal and the kings of the earth and their armies gather to make war on him who was mounted upon the horse and ²⁰ upon his army. And the animal was captured and with it the false prophet who performed wonders on its behalf by means of which he led astray those who had let the animal's mark be put on them and who worshiped its statue. Both of them were flung alive into the ²¹ fiery lake of burning brimstone. The rest were killed with the sword that came out of the mouth of him who sat on the horse, and all the birds gorged themselves upon their bodies.

²⁰ Then I saw an angel come down from heaven with the key of the ² abyss and a great chain in his hand. He seized the dragon, the ancient serpent, who is the devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand
³ years, and hurled him into the abyss and he closed it and sealed it over him, to keep him from leading the heathen astray any longer, until the thousand years are over; after that he has to be released for a little while.

⁴ Then I saw thrones with beings seated on them, who were empowered to act as judges. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded on account of the testimony of Jesus and the message of God, who refused to worship the animal and its statue, and would not have its mark put on their foreheads or on their hands. They were restored
⁵ to life and reigned with the Christ a thousand years. The rest of the dead were not restored to life until the thousand years were over.
⁶ This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy is the man who experiences the first resurrection! The second death has no power over them; they will be priests of God and the Christ, and reign with him for the thousand years.

7 When the thousand years are over, Satan will be released from his 8 prison, and will go out to lead astray the heathen in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, and to muster them for battle, in num-9 bers like the sand of the seashore. They came up on the broad plain of the earth and surrounded the encampment of God's people, and the beloved city. Then fire came down from heaven and consumed 10 them, and the devil who led them astray was flung into the fiery, sulphurous lake, where the animal and the false prophet were, there to be tortured day and night forever and ever.

11 Then I saw a great white throne with a being seated on it from whose presence earth and sky fled so far that they could not be found.
12 I saw the dead, high and low, standing before the throne, and books were opened. Then another book was opened; it was the book of life.
And the dead were judged by what was written in the books about 13 what they had done. The sea gave up the dead that were in it, and death and the underworld gave up the dead that were in them, and 14 they were all judged by what they had done. Then death and Hades were flung into the fiery lake. This is the second death—the fiery lake.
15 Anyone whose name was not found written in the book of life was flung into the fiery lake.

21 Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and there was no longer any sea.
2 And I saw the new Jerusalem, the holy city, come down out of heaven from God, like a bride dressed and ready to meet her husband.
3 I heard a loud voice from the throne say,

“See! God's dwelling is with men, and he will live with them.
4 They will be his people and God himself will be with them, and he will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no death any longer, nor any grief or crying or pain. The old order has passed away.”

5 Then he who sat upon the throne said,

“See! I am making everything new! Write this,” he said, “for 6 these words are trustworthy and true. It is all over!” he told me, “I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give anyone who is thirsty water without cost from the spring of the 7 water of life. He who is victorious will possess all this, and I will be 8 his God and he will be my son. But the cowardly, unfaithful, and polluted—murderers, immoral people, those who practice magic or idolatry, and all liars will find themselves in the burning lake of fire and brimstone. This is the second death.”

9 Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues came and spoke to me.

“Come,” he said, “I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb.”

10 He carried me away in a trance to a great, high mountain, and showed me Jerusalem, the holy city, coming down out of heaven from 11 God, in all the glory of God. It shone with a radiance like that of 12 some very precious stone, like jasper, clear as crystal. It had a great, high wall with twelve gates, and twelve angels at the gates, which had carved upon them the names of the twelve tribes of the children
13 of Israel. There were three gates on the east, three gates on the north,
14 three gates on the south, and three gates on the west. The wall of the city had twelve foundation stones, and on them were the twelve names
15 of the Lamb’s twelve apostles. The angel who talked with me had a gold measuring rod, with which to measure the city and its gates and 16 wall. The city was a square, its length the same as its breadth. He measured the city with his rod, and it was 12,000 furlongs. Its length,
17 breadth, and height were the same. He measured the wall and it was about 144 cubits (216 feet), as men measure, for that was the way
18 the angel measured. The material of the wall was jasper, but the 19 city was pure gold, as transparent as glass. The foundation stones of the wall of the city were ornamented with all kinds of precious stones. The first foundation stone was jasper, the second sapphire,
20 the third chalcedony, the fourth emerald, the fifth sardonyx, the sixth sardius, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the 21 tenth chrysoprase, the eleventh jacinth, the twelfth amethyst. The twelve gates were twelve pearls; each gate made of a single pearl. The principal street of the city was pure gold, as transparent as glass.
22 I saw no temple in it, for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb
23 are its temple. The city does not need the sun nor the moon to shine
24 in it, for the glory of God lighted it, and the Lamb is its lamp. The heathen will walk by its light. The kings of the earth will bring their 25 splendor to it. Its gates will never be shut by day—for there will be 26 no night there—and they will bring the splendor and the wealth
27 of the heathen into it. Nothing unclean will ever enter it, nor anyone who indulges in abominable practices and falsehoods, but only those 22 who are written in the Lamb’s book of life. Then he showed me a river of living water, clear as crystal, which issued from the throne of 2 God and of the Lamb, and ran through the middle of the principal street of the city. On both sides of the river grew the tree of life. It bore twelve kinds of fruit, yielding a different kind each month, and 3 its leaves were a cure for the heathen. There will no longer be anything that is accursed. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be 4 in the city, and his slaves will worship him; they will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads. There will no longer be any night and they will have no need of lamplight or sunlight, for the Lord God will shine on them, and they will reign forever and ever.

6 "These words are trustworthy and true," he said to me; "For the Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, sent his angel to show his 7 slaves what must happen very soon. See! I am coming very soon!
Blessed is he who heeds the words of prophecy that are in this book."

8 It was I, John, who heard and saw these things. When I heard and saw them, I fell at the feet of the angel who showed them to me, to 9 worship him. But he said to me,

"You must not do that. I am only a fellow-slave of yours and of your brothers the prophets and the men who heed the words of this book. Worship God!

10 "Do not seal up the words of prophecy that are in this book," he 11 said to me, "for the time of their fulfilment is very near. Let the evil-doer do worse and worse, let the base grow baser and baser, let the upright man be more and more upright, and the man who is holy be more and more holy."

12 "See! I am coming very soon, bringing with me my rewards, to 13 repay everyone for what he has done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, 14 the first and the last, the beginning and the end. Blessed are those who wash their robes, so as to have the right to approach the tree of 15 life and to enter the gates of the city. The dogs, those who practice magic or immorality, murderers, idolaters, and anyone who loves falsehood or tells lies will be shut out of it.

16 "I, Jesus, sent my angel to give you this testimony for the churches.
I am of the line and family of David, I am the bright morning star."

17 "Come," say the Spirit and the bride. Let everyone who hears this say,

"Come!"

Let everyone who is thirsty come. Let anyone who wants it come and take without cost living water.

- 18 I warn everyone who hears the message of prophecy in this book read, that if anyone adds anything to it, God will inflict upon him
- 19 the plagues that are described in this book; and if anyone removes from this book any of the prophetic messages it contains, God will remove from him his share in the tree of life and the holy city which are described in this book.
- 20 He who testifies to all this says,
"It is true! I am coming very soon!"
Amen! Come, Lord Jesus!
- 21 The blessing of the Lord Jesus Christ be with his people.
